

THE CARROLL RECORD.

Vol. 2., No. 4.

TANEYTOWN, MARYLAND, SATURDAY, JULY 27, 1895.

$1.00 Per Year.

LOCALS AND PERSONALS.

Miss G. May Forrest, who has been ill for several weeks, is improving slowly.

Mr. Joseph Englar of Linwood, is spending a vacation of two weeks at Atlantic City.

Read the Harney history, as it is to a certain extent an annex to the history of Taneytown.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hastings of Linwood, Delaware Co., Pa., are spending a week's vacation at Mr. Isaiah Hann's.

Mr. Geo. A. Shoemaker Jr., while making a bicycle trip to Woodsboro, had the misfortune to fall from his wheel, and break his wrist.

Miss Emma Ecker of New Windsor, who has been visiting relatives here for several weeks, returned home last Sunday. Miss Beulah Englar accompanied her.

We have received a copy of the very interesting report of the State Fire Marshal of Maryland, from which we will quote valuable information in next issue.

The Presbyterian Sabbath school had its annual outing along Pipe Creek, on Thursday. Teams were provided for all the children who wanted to go.

Mr. Jos. A. Goulden of New York city, spent several days of his busy life, this week, visiting his mother, and the family of Mr. Lewis Hemler, near Copperville.

Master Frank Miller, son of William Miller, fell and broke his arm while playing with his little sister, on Tuesday evening. Dr. C. W. Weaver reduced the fracture.

The cause of the RECORD not arriving on time at many offices last week, was an account of our Friday evening mail train being behind time, falling to connect with the W. M. mail east.

Mr. Jas. H. Koons of Middleburg, reports that he is gradually getting together the material for the history of Middleburg, and that he has secured assistants who will write up Double Pipe Creek, Bruceville and York Road.

Mr. Wm. H. Fleagle remembered the editor during the week, by making him a donation of a fine lot of apples. "You're all right," William; if you get into the look-up some time when you come to town, "we won't say nothin'."

Dr. M. M. Norris and wife of Union Bridge, are spending some time visiting friends at Salisbury and Ocean City. The Doctor will return about the 31st, but Mrs. Norris will remain for several weeks with an old school mate, Miss Annie Birkhead of Salisbury.

On Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, a meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church, at which Messrs Geo. H. Birnie and Maurice C. Dutta will make a report on the Boston C. E. Convention. The Lutheran and Reformed C. E. Societies are cordially invited to attend.

We will publish in the near future, a complete history of the principal criminal in the New Windsor Bank robbery, who has been recently caught. It will be from the pen of Mr. F. J. Devilbiss, and as interesting and remarkable as a fairy tale.

Mr. Chas. E. H. Shriner will prepare the large room over his store, as soon as possible, for a reading room, and for the meetings of the Taneytown Republican Club. A meeting of the latter will be called as soon as the room is ready, when all republicans of the district will be invited to become members of the organization.

The republican primaries will be held on Saturday, August 3rd, and the convention on Monday, August 5th. The latter will select delegates to represent the county at the state convention which convenes at Cambridge, August 15th. The attendance at the meeting of the County Central Committee on Monday, was full and harmonious.

Mr. W. Jesse Roberts left at this office on Monday, a small twig which broke off its own weight from a young apple tree in his lot in town. In a space of nine inches the twig contains thirteen large and perfect apples, the bunch weighing two and a half pounds. Many apple and pear trees are very heavily loaded this year, and care should be taken to prop or brace up the limbs, or they will break, thus not only wasting the fruit but injuring the trees.

The copy for the History of Linwood and section which will include the settlement of McKinsty's Mills and the Priestland Valley, is now in our hands. As has been previously stated, it is written by Mr. Jesse P. Garner, and it will fully preserve the high standard of our preceding articles. An important and valuable feature of the work will be separate sketches of the Englar, Shriner, Plaine, Senseney, Garner and McKinsty families, with their various connections.

At the P. O. S. of A. Picnic on next Wednesday. Rev. R. L. Patterson of Union Bridge will speak on the subject, "An American Patriot in 1895," and Dr. E. E. Taylor, of Littleton, "Our Country." Both of these addresses will be in the afternoon, one at 1.30, the other at 3 o'clock. The morning address has not yet been positively provided for. A contribution box will be on the grounds for the benefit of the Key Monument Fund. During the day three large balloons will be sent up. The parade to the grounds will leave the square at 10 a. m.

Mr. Chas. A. Elliot met with a severe accident on Wednesday afternoon while on his way from Emmitsburg to this place. On meeting a huckster wagon on the road, his horse became frightened, and in attempting to get out of the buggy to get better control of him, he was, by a sudden turn, thrown out from the ground and his right leg below the knee was stepped on by the horse, inflicting a very ugly wound about four inches long. On his arrival home, Dr. Motter dressed the wound and found it necessary to put several stitches in it.

NOTES HERE AND THERE.

The new Miss Cleveland will be called Marion. Imitators, please take notice!

Recent wind storms in Washington county have stripped many peach orchards of their fruit, and inflicted a heavy loss on their owners.

Some miscreant in Frederick is amusing himself by poisoning dogs and chickens. A large number have been killed in this way during the week.

During the thunder shower on Saturday afternoon, the barn of Robert Baust, near Tyrone, was struck by lightning and totally destroyed by fire.

It is said that the average yield of wheat to the acre in this section, will be from 16 to 20 bushels. There is a great bulk of straw, but it is not filled very well.

The construction of the electric railroad from Frederick to Middletown, now seems to rest with Frederick, as the Middletown end has raised its amount.

The Washington county School Board has decided not to furnish school books at cost, but to allow local dealers to handle them at a small margin of profit.

The ladies of Pipe Creek M. P. church will hold a festival on the afternoon of August 2nd, and on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, August 3rd, providence permitting.

The prospects for a fine corn crop in this section are now most excellent. Farmers certainly have little to complain of this year, as all crops are heavy, and prices promise to be fair.

The new yacht, Defender, will undoubtedly represent the America cup in the coming race with the best English boat, as she has repeatedly during the week, out sailed the Vigilant in trial contests.

Fire destroyed a large barn owned by C. Thomas Kemp, three miles northwest of Frederick, on Wednesday evening. A lot of wheat, hay, corn and implements were burned. There was a small insurance on barn but none on contents.

The farmer who has hay to sell this year will likely find it his most profitable crop, if reports are correct as to short crop in the west. It is said that grass in the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri valleys, has been unusually short, and this, together with the shortage of last year, should mean good prices this year.

Mr. David Forrey, of near town, has a hog that stands upon its hind legs and with its mouth takes hold of the branches of apple trees, that hang near the ground and gives them a vigorous shaking. After one limb is bare of the fruit the hog goes on to the next tree and so on until it gets its fill of the fruit.—Hagerstown Record.

The talk of building the Gettysburg-Washington electric road, via Littlestown and Westminster, is again becoming prominent, and it is asserted that work on the line will begin this fall, when all the stock is subscribed for in advance or not. Mr. Hoffer, it is stated, will transfer his interests to a syndicate as soon as a few legal complications can be settled.

The cigarmakers' strike in McSherrystown is still on with no immediate prospect of compromise or settlement. It was begun by five or six men in Busby's factory who refused to accept a reduction of wages from $9.00 to $5.30 per thousand, followed by a discharge of all the other employees who sympathized with the strikers. Mr. S. L. Johns closed his shops last Thursday, but whether merely for a temporary purpose or from sympathy with Mr. Busby is not known.

Very few hog-pens are maintained in Westminster, and these few are much complained of. If they are not kept cleaner the question of permitting them to be kept within the city limits will be raised, and if pushed to a vote the hog will have to go by a large majority. The County Health Officer, Dr. J. H. Billingslea, has been appealed to in one neighborhood, and he is of opinion that all hog-pens should be abolished in the city, after proper notice, so as not to entail loss.—Advocate.

What Next?—Under the head of "What Next" finds many exchanges among a county newspaper's exchanges. Few however give one the nervous shock that a Chronicle "want" gave us last week; an advertiser wants an adult female copperhead snake, he does not say whether dead or alive. It is to be delivered at the Chronicle office; that adv. on those terms, we notify all advertisers, will cost just one dollar a line in THE CLARION, unless it be specified that a dead snake is what is wanted.—Clarion.

Mr. Given Mullinix has on his farm near Ellicott City a curious hog. The animal has only three legs, two in front and a hind leg, which is nearly in the center of the two quarters. It now weighs eighty pounds, and is just four months old. For several weeks after its birth it had much difficulty, its owner says, in getting around, but now it seems to experience but little trouble in walking and can even scamper at a right good pace. Mr. Mullinix has refused an offer of $150 for the animal from a traveling showman.—Hagerstown Mail.

The Weather crop Bulletin just issued, says: "In Northern Central Maryland some large yields of wheat are reported, but the crop on the whole is giving returns below the average. Barley is yielding better than wheat. Oats are an excellent crop, and are being cut. Corn has grown rapidly under the influence of the recent high temperature, and the outlook is for a heavy crop. Some was blown down on the 20th, but it is believed that no extensive injury was done. Timothy hay is over, with good results. There is an increased use of crimson clover as a renovator. Tomatoes are now in good condition, and early potatoes are yielding well. Peaches, apples and grapes promise to be plenty. Some apples were blown off by the high winds of the 20th."

Patriotic Societies Denounced.

A circular has been recently distributed in Westminster, a copy of which is in our possession, which bitterly denounces the American Protective Association (A. P. A.), and states that the members of that organization are sworn "to prevent any citizen of foreign birth, or any Catholic, from obtaining office or any employment in the federal, state or county government, and not even to employ them in their business." It further charges that the "Junior Order Sons of America," and the "Patriotic Order Sons of America," are but branches of the "A. P. A.," and counsels organization on the part of foreigners and Catholics "to crush these organizations out of existence."

We do not consider it necessary to re-produce the circular in full, and, possibly no notice at all should be taken of it, as it was written by some one for some mischievous purpose, not necessary to discuss in the RECORD. No notice would be taken of it, were it not for the fact that it seeks to connect the "Patriotic Order Sons of America" with the "A. P. A.," which is wholly, emphatically, and likely maliciously, untrue. What the "A. P. A." is, we neither know, nor care, but we do know that the "P. O. S. of A." has no connection with, and does not endorse, any such principles expressed in the circular, and no charges of like kind have ever been, or ever will be, sustained against it. The principles of the Order are wholly non-secret, and may be known by any one who cares to know them.

Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone.

The second telephone line is now in operation at this place, the instrument having been placed in position on Thursday, in Davidson's Hardware store. The phone used is what is known as the long distance, Berliner patent, and as compared with those used by the Western Maryland Company, it is vastly superior in every particular.

The announcement even in long distance use is clear, and easy, and there is an entire absence of all confusing, cracking, or humming sounds. Those who patronize the line will have the satisfaction of a perfect service. Mr. J. F. Knobe completed the connection for the company.

Garbage to be Removed.

Mr. W. S. Clingan is willing to try the "position" advanced in the RECORD last week as to the removal of garbage, and will collect the same every Friday and Saturday morning, if a sufficient amount may be had to justify him to do it.

He will take away ashes, refuse vegetable, when free from water, and street sweepings as well as other matter of a like character, when it is placed at the curb in boxes or buckets for his removal. Those who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity may leave their names at the RECORD office, or see Mr. Clingan personally. This arrangement will be mutually beneficial if properly carried out, as it should be by our citizens.

The Democratic County Convention.

The Democratic county convention for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state convention, was held in Westminster on Monday, August 5th, all being fully represented. All the districts except Manchester, Mt. Airy and Woolery's, were represented by the wing of the party now called the Cleveland Democracy, and the convention was noted for its extreme harmony.

B. F. Crouse, chairman; Addison Morelock, Secretary; and Dr. Joseph T. Hering and Augustus Brown, were selected temporary, as well as permanent officers. Mr. Crouse made a conciliatory address, heartily endorsing the Chicago platform, and the committee on resolutions reported a set of resolutions in accordance with his sentiments, which were adopted without dissent.

The following delegates to the state convention were elected: B. F. Crouse, Sherrill Shriver, Nicholas Steele, Peter Buchman and James Slasman. All the delegates are identified with the "young Democracy," or Cleveland wing of the party, and, while unconstructed, it is understood that they will support State Senator Bennett for governor, in the state convention.

Geo. P. Bueckey distributes $100,000.

The New Windsor correspondent contributes the following to Friday's American: A wealthy banker and broker of Union Bridge, Mr. George P. Bueckey, with the evident desire of bestowing gifts in his own time, has recently distributed a portion of his amassed wealth to his nearest kindred. To his sister and brother, and to each of their descendants—twenty all told—he has handed his checks for $5,000, aggregating the round sum of $100,000, and this munificent act has not impaired his fortune. Mr. Bueckey is not yet an old man, and the financial success he has attained in a quiet business life is little less than phenomenal. He has no children.

There will be no preaching services in the Lutheran church on Sunday. The pulpit will be filled the following Sunday (August 4th.), by Mr. Charles P. Wiles, a Gettysburg Seminary.

REUNION OF LUTHERANS.

(Special to the American.)

Pen-Mar, Md., July 25.—The rainy damp weather which has continued here for several days, did not greatly affect the size of the crowd at the annual Lutheran reunion here to-day. At least eight thousand Lutherans gathered to attend the exercises. Express trains from all points in the Cumberland Valley, from Baltimore and the Shenandoah Valley brought the largest part of the crowd, but hundreds of carriages from the neighboring country brought large numbers of people here. The services opened with music by Prof. Ziegler's Pen-Mar Orchestra, which was followed by an anthem by the choir of St. John's church, Hagerstown. The choir consisted of thirty-five voices, and is one of the finest in the Cumberland Valley. The congregation sang the hymn, "Gloria in excelsis deo," by Dr. H. L. Baugher, of Pennsylvania. The choir then repeated the creed. After which Rev. W. C. Wire, chairman of the association made some remarks. Rev. W. C. Freas, D. D., of York, Pa., spoke on the "Necessity of Teaching the doctrines of the Church to the Young People." After a selection by the orchestra, Rev. Dr. Richard of the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, made an address on, "Higher Education." He said, among other things, that "the best place to learn the English language is in a German university. One of the greatest professors of English in this country is a German." He thinks there are too many Lutheran colleges and seminaries in this country. He says that in Saxony, where the Lutheran church has 3,500,000 members, there is but one university. But that at Gettysburg, Dr. Richard advocated a great Lutheran University in America, where all the sciences, but not theology, should be taught. He thought that a faculty of theologians who could agree on a subject could not be gotten together in America.

Rev. F. W. E. Peschan, D. D., of Greensburg, Pa., spoke on "Church Activities." After the hymn "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" was sung by the audience, Rev. A. R. Stork, of St. James Church, of Gettysburg, delivered an address. His topic was "Civil and Religious Liberties." The subject was well handled, and gave evidence of much thought. Rev. W. E. Main, of Brooklyn, N. Y., delivered an address on the "Luther League." A selection by the orchestra followed. The Rev. George C. Henry, of Shippenburg, Pa., read an original poem on "The Monk that Shook the World." The anthem by the choir, which followed, was exceptionally good, and was much applauded. Rev. J. J. Morris, D. D., of Baltimore, who was on the program for an address, did not speak, but in his place the Rev. Dr. J. A. Clutz, of Midland College, Atchison, Kansas, made some remarks on the benefits of his reunions, which were closed with the Lord's Prayer, Doxology and benediction, by Rev. Mr. Wise.

Brady and Squire Yount on the charge of conspiracy to compound a felony, came before Squire John L. The City and County bonds are, Dr. Edwin K. Forman for Mr. Yount; John Elmer for Mr. Hinkle; and Mrs. McDannel for Mr. Brady. These cases are the outcome of the settlement of the case based on an information laid before Squire Yount charging Augustus Knirring with sodomy.—Gettysburg Star.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE.

Pleasant Valley.

Mr. Wm. Bowers and son, Wm. H., claim they saw the big snake, the other cities in Illinois, is home on a two or three weeks visit to his parents, who reside near here. He is looking hale and hearty. When he left, he was paddling his own canoe, but it seems he came to the conclusion, that it were better that man were not alone, and has therefore taken to himself a life partner, and together they are paddling down the stream of time. May the waters on which they may be destined to go, ever be as tranquil as those of a calm and peaceful lake.

To all who may read this in time to do so, we would say, attend the C. E. re-union at this place, on (this) Saturday; it will be worth your while. It will be an all-day meeting.

The P. O. S. of A. Camp at this place is still growing; two applications were received on Tuesday night, when the officers for the present term were installed by District President Englar, of Taneytown. The picnic recently held came out financially about as well as was expected, as it was not intended to make money out of, but rather to reward the communiters for their liberal patronage at the festival. The free treat of the Sunday schools prevented money-making. This organization will succeed in Middleburg in spite of predictions to the contrary. A number of the members will attend the Taneytown picnic in re-alla.

ENTERED AT TANEYTOWN POSTOFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER

SATURDAY, JULY 27th., 1895.

WILL THE NAME OF Maryland's next governor be Dennis?

THE CARROLL RECORD, a strong and progressive newspaper published at Taneytown. It is just one year old and a lively infant.—Hagerstown Mail.

THE CARROLL RECORD, published at Taneytown, Carroll county, has entered upon its second year. THE RECORD is a bright and newsy weekly and is prospering. We wish it continued success.—Valley Register.

AND NOW, it is just as credibly stated that general Harrison "didn't say it." He said "something," and by the time a bright reporter got hold of it, he "wouldn't accept a nomination" under any consideration. He is now reported as saying that, "those who set the rabbit loose, can catch it."

THE COUNTY politician will soon be in season, and from the present outlook, the crop will be the heaviest we have had for years, and of a good quality. The people will not be satisfied with stunted, poorly filled, or imperfect specimens. As the market price rules high, they will insist on first quality only, and fair to middling, and rough grades will not be in even nominal demand.

THE CAMPAIGN against "harvest money" has been opened by the picnic contingent, and will be vigorously prosecuted by camp-meeting, excursion and county fair forces, for several months. What little cash escapes these onslaughts, will be scrambled for by the miscellaneous multitude of merchants, mechanics, creditors and the rabble in general. Before it is all over, there will be lots of people "sold," and many with "experience," while a very few will have the "currency."

THE BOSTON Watchman, has the following to say as to preachers and preaching: "The power of real preaching is not declining, but the power of what some men call preaching is becoming a rapidly vanishing quantity. The men who string together a lot of anecdotes, or if they prepare new sermons, do not put new thoughts into them, are everywhere finding that their congregations are becoming smaller; but the men who know how to preach are everywhere getting better congregations than ever. Our advice to ministers is, do not fly to any stereotyped or service of song to fill up your congregation, but learn to preach. In every community there are a great many people who are hungry for a Christian sermon, not a platform talk on ethics or political economy or sociology, and they are coming to your church, and cannot be kept away, if you show that you can preach such sermons. There never was such an opportunity for a man who knows how to preach as there is in this year of grace 1895."

How to Keep Posted.

As the season of political activity approaches, people naturally feel an increasing desire to know more about what is going on. When a first-class, eight page, New York daily can be had for only $1.50 a year, or 85c. for six months, no one who takes an active interest in politics and things, should be other than right up to the times. Such a paper is the Morning Advertiser, daily and Sunday. You can get it at $1.50 for the year, by paying that amount along with $1.00 for a year's subscription to the RECORD. Or, try it for six months at 85c. in addition to a subscription to our paper. No, it isn't all political, it's a newspaper first, with plenty of sharp editorials too.

There are lots of people who can't possibly find time to read a daily, and think they should not subscribe unless they do read all that's in it; and overlook the fact that just a leading article or two may be worth the cost of it, with the rest thrown in gratis. Well, how about the Twice a Week, N. Y. World? It's not as good as a daily, but for fresh news it beats a weekly. You get it through us for 50c. a year, by paying $1.00 for the RECORD at the same time. We lose money on this deal, but we want people to read, and want to make a variety of combination offers, so the World fits in very nicely right here. We don't know a semi-weekly at any price that is any better—certainly none at 50c. a year. All people do not want either a daily, or semi-weekly, and find that a good weekly fills the bill in a satisfactory manner, particularly when it gives a great variety of reading on a great variety of topics. Everybody knows the N. Y. Tribune, and even those who do not relish its political ideas, subscribe for it, because, aside from politics it is recognized as being a great and valuable journal on account of its many well edited departments for the household, workshop and farm, in addition to its quota of the world's news. We have handled a great number of Tribune subscriptions—and no wonder; when you can get it a whole year for 25c. it ought to be in every family; THE RECORD one year in advance at $1.00, and the Tribune for only 25c, will make you the owner of two papers for a year, which will give you lots of news, and please every member of the family. If you don't care who is the president, or whether Cuba gets her independence or not, or who dies, gets married, or does something else equally astonishing in the neighborhood, only so you find out how to raise more grain to the acre, and how to raise bigger hogs and make the chickens lay when eggs are thirty cents a dozen—then you want the Farm Journal for 15c. a year. The regular price is 50c but it goes with a prepaid subscription to the RECORD for 15c.

As stated before, we want the people to read—to be educated and up to the times. We don't want this community to furnish victims for the "banco" game, therefore these inducements are offered. Just think of it! Suppose you take the lot—only $3.40. You get, first, the RECORD, which you can't possibly do without, and live long and happy. Then a N. Y. Daily, a N. Y. Semi-Weekly, a N. Y. Weekly, and a monthly Farm Journal—585 papers a year, for only $3.40. It's wonderful, how cheap good reading matter is, and it's one of the blessings of our age. Consider the question, and decide that you can't afford to let these offers slip.

In connection with the above special offers, there is just one more, necessary to complete the variety of reading matter easily in reach of nearly all. Magazine reading is rapidly becoming general, first, because such publications furnish a fund of entertainment and valuable information not to be found elsewhere, and, second, because improvements in methods of producing high class magazines have so lessened the price, that they are now within the reach of all. The Cosmopolitan is deservedly among the leading American monthly journals, and a low price does not mean, in this offer, a low grade magazine. We offer it for $1.00 a year, with the RECORD. Try it, it is sure to please.

Facts about our Government.

Nothing, probably, is of greater interest to the body politic than accurate information as to the cost of running our government. It takes more than an expert statistician to learn our actual expenses and present them in a way which is perfectly clear to us. We are often confused, too, by the efforts of the great political parties to charge each other with extravagance.

Each party has been on one occasion, accused of making appropriations amounting to one billion dollars. In a way these charges, first made against the republican party, and recently against the democratic party, are true, and yet, in another sense, they are not true. In each case the billion dollars was made to include the gross cost of the United States postal service, the greater part of which is self-supporting from the sale of stamps. In each instance the appropriations included large sums for river and harbor improvements and other public works, as well as a large amount for the building of ships for the navy; and the work on these improvements, as well as the expenditures, would extend through a number of years.

The true annual cost of supporting the government from 1880 to 1894, a period of fourteen years, has averaged but a fraction over $238,000,000 a year, while the receipts during the same period were a fraction over $305,000,000 a year. This has left a surplus of $67,000,000 a year on an average, which has largely been applied to the reduction of our public debt.

Few of the younger readers will probably recall the fact that at the close of the war, August, 1865, our debt amounted to nearly $84.00 per head of population. At present our national debt, $1,400,000,000, amounts to about $30.00 per head. The government, however, has assets in the way of silver bullion, etc., which, if disposed of at the present value, would reduce the debt until it would not be more than $16.30 per head. Today, the tax at the rate of $31.00 per head would cover the entire cost of the government for the coming year, and pay every dollar of our net debt.

Mr. Edward Atkinson, who is responsible for the figures given, thinks that "it is fairly assured that the revenue under the existing tariff laws, even without the income tax, will meet fully all the expenditures during the next fiscal year, with a probable surplus." He thinks "that the next congress will be more capable than the last, and that the bitter lesson of disaster may lead to the application of common sense to the finances of the country," in the future.—(Condensed from Farm and Fireside.)

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Law and Custom.

It is a fundamental maxim in all jurisprudence that laws should, so far as possible, be the expression of customs. When we consider the utter helplessness of the philologists before such a comparatively simple matter as the reformation of our spelling, or the vain attempts of the men of science to introduce the metrical system, we cannot fail to be impressed with the inertia, the positive immobility, of a body of customs, and the futility of attempts to modify them by the brutum fulmen of legislation. Undoubtedly the wise lawgiver, by recognizing tendencies to change, may encourage the development of new customs and promote the extinction of those that are decaying. But that is generally the limit of his action, and the actual suppression of a well established and vigorous custom by legislative fiat is as rare as the extermination of a religion. The returns of the Internal Revenue Department of the general government furnish conclusive evidence of the failure of prohibitory legislation.

The reason of this lies on the surface. The mass of mankind are entirely ignorant of most of the laws under which they live. Very few educated men read the penal code; probably most educated men have never read a penal statute, and the volume of legislation is so enormous as to overtax legal digestion. The ordinary human being regulates his conduct according to his impulses, having greater or less regard for the dictates of his own conscience and the expressions of public opinion. He has a general idea that if he complies with this customary moral law, he is not likely to come in conflict with the statutes, and upon the whole it is hard to deny that he is right. So much at least is certain, that statutes which forbid acts condemned by customary or natural morality are honored and easily enforced, while statutes forbidding acts intrinsically harmless are apt to be violated and are enforced with difficulty. Such statutes tend to impair the sentiment of respect for law as law, one of the most important bulwarks of social order. It is especially true that law becomes odious when the attempt is made by one class in the community to impose its prejudices upon the rest by summary enactments.—N. Y. Evening Post.

Among the numerous persons who have been cured of rheumatism by Chamberlain's Pain Balm, mention should be made of Mrs. Emily Thorpe, of Toledo, Wash., who says: "I have never been able to procure any medicine that would relieve me of rheumatism like Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I have also used it for lame back with great success. It is the best liniment I have ever used, and I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends." For sale by R. S. McKinney, Druggist, Taneytown.

Exposition Notes.

Editor CARROLL RECORD, Dear Sir: In the June number of the Maryland Farmer we spoke of the vast publicity that has been given the Baltimore Centennial Exposition of 1897 since its inception in June, 1894. We also portrayed the good results of advertising, (stating that the Baltimore Centennial Exposition is known of and talked about in all quarters of the globe), and endeavored to picture the faith which the people of Baltimore have in the ultimate success of the undertaking. In this week's issue of the RECORD we desire to speak of the proposed electric railway for the Exposition grounds, landscape gardens, and the interest which is already being manifested by the Odd Fellows, in the enterprise; also concerning the Columbian automatic gate.

An agent of the Columbian automatic gate has visited the Centennial Exposition headquarters and urged the adoption of that gate for the use of the Exposition in 1897. This was the gate used at the World's Fair in Chicago. As a result of a test made upon it, it was found that, in one day, on one hour, 3800 people passed through a single gate. This gives an idea of the celerity with which the gate is worked, and suggests its adaptability to meet the demands of stupendous and naturally unruly crowds.

Investigations are being made as to the practicability of building an electric surface road in Clifton Park, for the use of the exposition. A preliminary line has been mapped out, two and one-fifth miles in length, starting at the entrance on Washington street south, skirting the B. & O. railroad running west, thence north nearly parallel with the Harford road until the high ground is reached near Erdman's Avenue; thence east alongside the wagon road until the farm buildings are reached; thence south and south-west, crossing Mine Bank lane near the entrance of the Park from said lane; thence skirting Lake Clifton until the point of beginning is reached.

It is believed that a road can be constructed over this route with but few elevations, the rails being laid on the surface for nearly the entire route. There will not be any objection to a surface road of this character, as it will cross but few of the principal entrances to the Park, which are at such a grade that viaducts can be erected over them without materially obstructing travel. It has been suggested that a road of this character can be devised and arranged in such a manner as to be kept for permanent use. People who do not own horses and carriages would thus be enabled to see all the beauties of the Park without being obliged to take long fatiguing walks.

The grade of this intra-mural railway would be the same as that of the present street railroads. A union switch would be established near the Washington street entrance, so that if necessary, cars could be run into the grounds just before the closing hour at night in order to facilitate the handling of the large crowds which are expected to attend the Exposition.

The Odd Fellow's Advocate published at Los Angeles, California, has the following to say of the Baltimore Exposition project: "The cradle of Odd Fellowship is rapidly getting ready for its great Exposition of 1897. The Exposition will be held in Clifton Park, and the city has voted to issue bonds to the amount of half a million dollars in beautifying the park. All Odd Fellows should be interested in this movement, as efforts are being made to have all the great organizations of the country meet in Baltimore that year, particularly our fraternity, and extraordinary pains will be taken to insure them a most enjoyable visit. General Manager Fred Brackett is an honored member of the Order, and the great work under his direction will be crowned with success."

The Exposition directors held a meeting on Tuesday afternoon, (July 9th), and discussed further plans for the raising of subscriptions. Joseph Forsyth Johnson, of New York City, consulting landscape gardener and garden architect, has written to the Exposition authorities, offering to make plans for the improvement of the grounds at Clifton Park. A. Macchi, who was commissioner-general to Europe for the Atlanta Exposition, writes that he is daily receiving inquiries from European exhibitors as to the Exposition to be held in Baltimore in 1897, and asks for circulars and printed matter concerning it.

William B. Severe, of this city, has suggested a novel scheme for raising funds for the Exposition. His plan is to have a series of drawings in the different sections of the city patterned after the so-called "watch club" system.

General Manager Brackett is again on duty at the Exposition office, having fully recovered from the effects of the surgical operation lately performed upon him.

It is said that since the introduction of the electric light, public performers are able to preserve their voices in better condition, being 50 per cent. more often in good voice. They are cooler, do not perspire, and don't get husky.

A Pioneer's Recommendation. Mr. J. W. Venable, of Downey, a pioneer of Los Angeles county, Cal., says: "Whenever I am troubled with a pain in the stomach or with diarrhoea, I use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used it for years, know it to be a reliable remedy, and recommend it to every one." For sale by R. S. McKinney, Druggist, Taneytown.

Church Statistics.

Some interesting statistics have been brought to light in regard to the churches in the United States in the census report now being printed. It embraces more than 800 pages, and contains colored maps illustrating the extent of the various organized religious bodies in the respective States. A study of it shows 143 distinct denominations, besides independent churches and miscellaneous congregations. The most cheering fact is found in the large number of communicants reported, the total being 20,612,805. These belong to 165,177 organizations or congregations. There are 142,521 edifices, with sittings for 43,564,863 persons. The church property used exclusively for purposes of worship is valued at $679,630,139. There are 111,056 regular ministers, not including lay preachers. As to membership, the leading denominations rank as follows: Protestant Episcopal, 540,000; Catholic, 6,250,000; Methodist, 4,600,000; Baptist, 3,725,000; Presbyterian, 1,280,332; Lutheran, 1,230,000. Among the more surprising results are the statements that "out of a total of 130,000 Jewish communicants the Reformed exceed the Orthodox by 15,000. There are 13,500 Russian Orthodox, 100 Greek Orthodox and 10,850 Greek Catholics." It is still more surprising that the Salvation Army has only 8,742 members enrolled, and the Christian Scientists, who talk so loudly and boastfully, have just 18 less than that number. Neither does the order of "Ethical Culture" make much showing, numbering only 1,064, and the latest of religious enlighteners, the Altruists can report but 25 followers. The Theosophical Society does a little better, having an aggregate of 695. It is also stated that "in number of communities and value of church property New York leads and Pennsylvania follows. But in number of organizations and church edifices Pennsylvania is first and Ohio second. The increase in the value of church property since 1870 has been $325,146,558, or nearly ninety-two per cent., while the number of churches has increased forty-two per cent., the increase in the number of organizations is one hundred and twenty-six per cent."

The Care of Farm Machines.

To get the most out of a machine care must be taken to keep it clean. Dust in the journals or working parts increases the wear very materially. Another thing about which care should be taken is not to strain a machine. A light wagon is not intended for heavy loads, neither is a light plow intended for deep, heavy plowing. Select machinery, advises the Farmer's Home, adapted to the kind of work required of it, and do not expect that it will do all that is to be done. Whenever a machine of any kind is working under a strain heavier than it was intended to do, there is an increased wear. Our rule is to bring an implement to the machine shed whenever the task for which it was taken out is completed, although we are aware that it will be needed again in a few days. In this way much exposure to storms and sun is avoided, and then when it is needed we know just where to find it, and no time need be lost. Then the machine is always in a better condition for use, and this is often no inconsiderable item.

Mending Milk Cans.

Milk cans often get very hard usage on carts and railway platforms, and it is no small part of the hardships of the owners to keep them in order. Bits of dough have been used at times to stop leaks discovered when it was too late to have solder application to the bad place, and cases have been known where soap has been used for such a purpose. But one is prone to ask if there are not other and more cleanly and durable means available for stopping leaks and coating over the rust spots which will appear on milk cans. Beeswax would cover the injured parts, and would not injure the milk. But soldering is such an easily learned accomplishment that every dairyman might be able to help himself in that way.

The following bill has passed both houses of the Michigan Legislature and been signed by the Governor: "A bill to provide for the purchase and display of United States flags in connection with the Public School buildings within this State. Section 1. The people of the State of Michigan enact, That the board of education or the board of school trustees in the several cities, townships, villages and school districts of this State shall purchase a United States flag of a size not less than four feet two inches by eight feet, and made of good flag bunting, flag staff, and the necessary appliances thereof, and shall display said flag upon or near the Public School building during school hours, and at such other times as to the said boards may seem proper; and that the necessary funds to defray the expenses to be incurred herein shall be assessed and collected in the same manner as moneys for public school purposes are assessed and collected by law."

A ton of good coal is said to yield about 8,000 feet of purified gas.
