St. Joseph's church is being beautified with a fresh coat of paint, which will very much add to its attractiveness, both inside and out. In the near future, six handsome memorial windows will be placed in the church, of which we will give a description later on. They are now being made in Baltimore. Two of them will be to the memory of the late Charles Mc-

Owners of traction engines should remember that the law compels them to send a man ahead of the engine, at least one hundred yards, to keep a lookout for teams and prevent accidents if possible. Also that on the approach of a team, the engine must stop, and an attendant assist team in passing safely. It is said that persons in running engines over the ublic roads, are not as careful as they should be.

Dr. Clotworthy Birnie of this place, who has been nominated on the re-publican ticket for the House of Delegates, is one of the best and most favorably known men, not only in this district, but in the county. While he has always taken an active interest in politics, he never has been, and is not now, an aspirant for political preferment, in the sense that he sought the nomination. His high character and eminent fitness for the position, should bring him strong support.

Dr. Robert Horner, of Gettysburg, hada thrilling experience Wednes-day. He got on board a train with a lady friend who was leaving for her nome in New York State, and the train had started when he attempted to get off. He slipped and fell under the car across the track, but the engineer, noticing the accident, stopped the train just as the car wheels were about passing over the doctor. It was a most narrow escape and all who beheld the accident were horrified at Dr. Horner's peril.-Hanover Herald.

Again the Baltimore club wins the Championship in the great base ball contest. Their record for the season is 87 games won, 43 lost, percentage. The Clevelands are second with 84 won, 46 lost, percentage .646. The two leaders now play a series of games for what is known as the Temple cup, a trophy given last year by a Mr Temple, and which was won then by the New York club. The series consists of seven games, and the Baltimore's have lost the first two played. On the close of the series, the club will be tendered a great reception in Baltimore, by local admirers.

OUR OLD PUBLIC WELL.

The old public well in this place, which some advocated filling up some years ago, is now a source of supply for many of our citizens, owing to the failure of a number of wells. That Even if its water is none of the best, and the iron force pump in it is a "force" pump in reality, it is water all thesame, and there is a surplus of force, so its lack of classic beauty is its praises. The old song "We never miss the water 'til the well runs dry" leads us straight to the thought that we do not fully appreciate this relic of the "old Taneytown" until we actually need its supposed inexhaust-ible supply.

While it is the one thing which everyone remembers of Taneytown, even if they have not been here for half a century, on account of its location in the center of the principal square, it was overlooked in the recent writing of the history of the town, and we now make amends by giving

The New York Sub-Treasury.

New York, Oct. 2.—There are so many strange sights for visitors to this city that many of the most interesting escape notice. Everybody knows about the sub-treasury, but few, even here in New York, know what kind of a building it is or even just where it is situated. It contains just where it is situated. It contains a vast treasure, and around it is a great population containing many desperate and lawless people. In the case of a sudden riot it would be especially to have the subject to the case. sential to have the public treasure securely protected. The protection is ample. Regarding the precautions which have been taken the N. Y. Sun has the following; A good deal has been written during the past year about the with-drawal of gold from the sub-treasury in Wall street, and it may be reassuring to know that there is no danger of any of this gold being withdrawn by men who cannot show a clear title to it. The sub-treasury people say that half a dozen of the finest cracks-men on earth could work undisturbed all night with the most improved burglar tools without getting in reach of anything valuable. The building itself is a perfect fortress. The work on it was begun fifty years ago, and not a stick of wood was put into the structure. J. Frazee was the architect, and he spared no expense in making it burglar-proof and fire-proof. The granite walls are eight feet thick and the floors are of steel and marble. Stone and iron were used for the interior walls, and the arches and ceiling are of solid mason-ry. Even the roof is of granite and so curved that a projectile from one of the new 12 inch guns would probably be deflected if it struck it. The granite roof is studded with armored Communion services will be held in the U. B. church of this place, on Sunday evening, October 6th.

Killing for Sport.

The "hunting season" is again with us, and what a world of physical pain and mental agony the phrase It means that myriads of harmless, even helpful, birds and animals will be maimed, tortured, slaughtered, for no purpose but to gratify a thoughtless but none the less barbarous and brutal human desire to kill something. What a pity that human keenness of sight, steadispent sveral days in Gettysburg, this ness of nerve and delicacy of touch cannot be devoted to the protection of weak, helpless, harmless birds and animals, instead of their destruction or torture! Or what a pity that the skill of the hunter cannot be satisfied with killing only the foes of man or the living things whose flesh is nec-essary to his life, or even the gratification of his desire for food of a certain kind. But killing simply for the sake of the sport (?) shows how 11:17 a. m. thoughtless and unconsciously cruel countless numbers of us are or what a great many wells and spring are an immeasurable distance yet remains between us and the civilization that the cubs of any animal caressing the body or vainly trying to suck nourheavy sea and high wind, which ishment from the unresponsive ud-ders of their slaughtered mother, the stiffening victim of pure human wantonness, and then derive satisfaction from the more taking of life, is incomprehensible to the humanitarian The murdered birds and animals have their homes, their families, their friendships, their loves, why and family on Wednesday last.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL.

Dr. Louis Pasteur, of Hydrophobia cure fame, died in Paris on the 28th.

A report is going the rounds of the papers that General Harrison is not a presidential candidate, and that he favors neither Reed or McKinley.

Lieutenant General Schofield has been placed on the retired list. It is supposed that the President has asked General Miles to assume command.

The monthly statement of the public debt issued by the Treasury Department shows the public debt on September 30, less cash in the treasury, to have been $941,089,636, an increase for the month of $1,834,687.

General Mahone, the well known Virginia politician, and ex senator of again running for governor of Ohio, is said to be a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, and his critics say that his campaign speeches have a tendency to intimate that he is much the kind of man that president Cleveland is, except a little better.

An immense gathering of Cuban sympathizers held a meeting in Chicago on Monday night, which will be followed by meetings in Philadelphia, New York, Brooklyn and Boston. These meetings are intended to arouse public sentiment in favor of the Revolutionists, which will compel Congress to act.

Both democrats and republicans nominated their municipal tickets in Baltimore on Thursday night. Henry Williams is the democratic, and Alcaeus Hooper the republican candidate for mayor. The friends of Mr. Yewell for the democratic nomination made considerable excitement in the convention, and there is talk of his being an independent candidate. Malster, republican, who was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination, was also defeated for the mayoralty, on a close vote.

> Western roads have brought down upon their heads the wrath of all lovers of the wheel. They have revived the proposition to charge excess baggage rates on the transporta-tion of all bicycles, tricycles and baby carriages in baggage cars, a minimum rate of 25 cents to be charged on each machine. A vote on the matter is being taken, and it bids fair to carry. It is proposed that the charge be imposed commencing November 1, when bicycles are not much used, so that riders will have become accustomed by the time the next season opens. The charge will be a great hardship to suburbanites who use their wheels once a day between their homes and places of business.

The progressive present has its sent an intelligent review of the subdrawbacks along with its advantages. ject. One of the most noticeable of the stability among young men; evidenseveral years to fulfil—as in learning a trade-and in the more or less uncertainty connected with their financial contracts and obligations.

It seems that real solid calculation for the future, and the determination | the long campaigns that have precedto work out a course decided onwhen at a sacrifice of several years of absolute freedom of personal action, is apt to be easily shaken and very often abandoned, for no good reason. There is too much of a desire to have a "good time," and too much waiting place at present. They have been for for a "snap." These are days of keen a long time. Not in the last twentycompetition everywhere, and, while five years has there been a presidenmany of the trades seem over crowded and do not present many attractions to a young man starting in life, nevertheless it is best to start out on were held. Nine out of dent is unbusinesslike." ten of such people will never be able to make more than a bare living, and he is lucky indeed if he can do that and remain honest-pay his debts and retain his credit.

On the other hand, the specialist, the fine mechanic, the expert operative, the good hand, is always in demand somewhere. Men, who are simply men, are a drug in the market. Some succeed through pure luck but the number as compared to the whole is insignficant. What wins in nearly every instance is, merit, backed up by a desire to go through the world honestly and honorably, and with a determination to win if pluck and hard work will do it.

Too many young men are diverted from the true way to a successful future, by weakly giving way to the attractions of the present. Like children who shirk going to school, and play "hookey," giving no thought or care for how they will get along with a limited education when they grow up, seeing only that the outside of the school room means freedom from study and a good time now, so, many young men who have possibly received a fair education and should know better, are acting in the matter of their life work.

The attractions of the age are largely responsible for this. The requirements (?) of fashion, and the keeping up with the prevailing customs of the community, which are usually set by a very few who can afford to follow them, and a few more whom it is to no one's credit to follow, are apt to lead one into an unhealthy channel, which, while it apparently leads to a desirable goal, in reality leads nowhere-certainly not to the

"pot of gold." Mistaken kindness on the part of parents often misleads the son. A complaint of "too hard work," or not being "treated right" by an employer, is often taken up seriously by a parent and encouragement given the son to "quit the job," when there is no real foundation or justice in the complaint. Unfortunately for the young, the old are often weak, and unsound in their reasoning, which makes their advice mischievous and injurious. Very few things of real value are ever won without hard work and sacrifice, and this is true on correct lines.

The excise, or liquor question, a young man of the present from his true course. A desire to stand well with his lady love will cause one to came out boldly for local option, or spend money on himself, or on her which should properly be applied to tive smiles which are exceedingly apt to be silly, and not worth the price. If the young ladies would signify that they care more for the man, than the coat, and discourage the expenditure of money-eyen when it means buggy rides-on the part of young men whom they care for, a power, greater, possibly, than any other in the world, would be set at work for the propagation of a superior manhood, truly in keeping with this progressive age.

The "new" young man, is not at all bad, or vicious; he is simply trying to effect the impossible, as much so as to change the laws of nature, or produce perpetual motion. He desires to live "on top of the pile" and wants to get there without climbing. How to show him the impossibility of the task, should be the aim of everyone interested in him. Some want to be shown-some do not. Some will make good citizens-some will not. Some will be honest, economical and industrious-some will not. One thing is sure, the day will come when the "new" young man will regret his lost opportunities, and when "wild oats" will appear simply as the weeds which they are.

Short Presidential Campaigns.

One of the questions which will be brought before the next meeting of the republican National Committee, which will take place within a few weeks, is the question of shorter presidential campaigns. It may be possible that, instead of holding the nominating convention in May or June, it may not be held until about September. The question is not a new one, but has been agitated for years, and, as the arguments for and against the change are well known, the decision of the committee will likely repre-

Pension Roll Decreasing.

That the pension list is rapidly decreasing, is shown by the death roll of the G. A. R., given among other reports at the late Louisville encampment. The list for the last ten years, shows that the death rate has more than doubled in that time. The figures given, are the deaths for each

If the payment for pensions is too large—which is likely not true, because, while there are likely cases of fraud and injustice among the large number, there are also many cases which have never been properly treated—the system is one which in time will cure itself. Knowing this, then, cannot those who designate the old veterans as "loafers and bums," withhold their criticism for the few years yet in which the pension roll will be large enough to be termed a scheme to "rob the treasury." Death If the payment for pensions is too scheme to "rob the treasury." Death is settling the question; let politicians and pension-haters desist.

elements opposed to Tammany Hall are trying to unite, but Ex-Senator Platt, the Republican leader of the state, will insist upon a straight Republican ticket, and no fusion with Democratic kickers. This will result in the election of the regular or Tammany Hall ticket by good majorities. Outside of this organization, there are the County Democracy, the O'Brien Democracy, the German-American Union, the Stecklerites, etc. Then we have the "Goo Goos," or Good Government Clubs, made up of all political shades, "holier than other people." So that your readers can readily understand that things are badly mixed politically. The wide range of charges made by the press during last year's campaign against Tammany Hall have fallen flat and are now put at their real value.

Americans are justly proud of the records of Defender and Ethelwynd, the two victorious yachts in these waters. It is surprising what excitement attended these races and the tens of thousand, who went to see them. It was a rich harvest for the steamboat men as the rates for passage ran from $1 to $5 each. The races were eminently fair ones, and our English friends have no reason to complain. They simply were "not in it" with our sailor boys, and John-

Bull-like, they do not wish to admit superiority of the Yankee people.

New York has recently annexed 14,000 acres from Westchester county with a population of 18,000, ten schools, and five villages ranging from 1500 to 5000 each. Speaking of schools 1500 to 5000 each. Speaking of schools, no city in the world has so complete a system of public schools as the nation's metropolis. The buildings, nearly two hundred in number, and capable of accomodating 225,000 pupils, are among the finest in the land. They include manual training, sewing, cooking, gymnasiums, drill rooms, kindergartens, etc. It is di-vided into kindergarten, six primary grades, eight grammar grades, and two colleges, male and female, each granting degrees; and all free, including supplies, books, stationery, tools, etc. The primary requires three years, the grammar four to six, and the colleges four or five. The girl's college accommodates twenty-two hundred, and has two departments, normal and academic; the boy's, fourteen hundred, with scientific, commercial, and academic departments. The cost for 1895 not counting land and buildings will reach $5,750,000, and new for 1896 will exceed $6,000,000. The reform administration promised some wonderful changes in the system, particularly of administration, though in power nearly nine months not a single change has occurred. Those attempted were defeated by a republican legislature at the unanimous request of the four thousand teachers. Mayor Strong is giving the city a business-like administration, as far as he is able, but he finds a vast difference between running a wholesale dry goods house and a great city government with two millions of peo-ple. Under the circumstances he has done better than his enemies expected, though he has not pleased the leaders of any of the political parties.

Commissioner Roosevelt, the President of the Police Board, and his three associates have raised quite a row over the liquor question, and have made New York a temperance town on Sunday. The Germans, about two-fifths of the population, are up in arms against the crusade, but at the Lowest Possible Cost, and if President Roosevelt is right. Laws we are able to save you a satisfactory are made for the protection and benefit of the whole people and not for any fraction thereof. #### HISTORY OF LINWOOD.

BY J. P. GARNER, 1895. PART VI.

THE ENGLAR'S.

Philip Englar, and David, two brothers, came into the Prlestland Valley, the former in 1798, and the latter in 1799. Their farms joined and came off of the Gillingham tract. The Philip Englar farm is now owned by Marshall Hartsock. The log house still standing, was built in 1799, and the present brick house in 1832. He married a daughter of John 1832. He married a daughter of John Stoner Sr. His family was large and widely connected by marriage.

They are Susanna, Ephraim father of the wife of Mordecai McKinstry, of the wife of mordecal mekhastry, Julia who married Isaac Slingluff, father of Judge Slingluff; Eliza, mar-ried Jos. Stouffer Sr., John, Hannah married David Rinehart of Union Bridge, Lavina already spoken of as marrying Hanson Senseney, and Mor-deai who married a Miss Paxten.

Philip Englar's second wife was a widow Hiteshue, daughter of Abram Crumbacker, mentioned in the history of Linwood. Her sons by Hiteshue, Ephraim and Charles have also been mentioned. Uriah Englar, only son by the second marriage, is a prosecond with the second marriage, is a prosecond marriage perous New Windsor farmer; his wife is a daughter of the late Captain Ecker.

David Englar was a preacher in the German Baptist Church, and was familiarly known as preacher Davie Englar. The difference in the dispositions of these two brothers, was very manifest. Philip was progressive, always in the lead to introduce improvements and modern machinery; David was more conservative, and slower to fall in line with newfangled ways. "Time makes ancient good uncouth." The luxuries of our age are the barest neccessities of the age are the barest necessities of the succeeding age.

When carriages first made their appearance, Philip Englar, true to his nature, purchased one; this created quite a stir among the members of his church who were noted for their plainness, and who considered this innovation too close an approach to the fashions of the world. But time has set us straight upon this, as it will upon many other vexed questions, if we will but patiently bide its time to merge the future into the present. David Englar was born in 1773 and married Elizabeth Stem in 1799. Their family consisted of eight children. Joseph, the oldest son married Susie Roop, daughter of John Roop; Some of their descendants live near New Windsor. Lydia married Abram Roop, the owner of the Senseney farm, Hannah married John Nicodemus, of near Frederick. Nathan married a Miss Kinzer, and resided on Beaver Josiah learned the tanning business and went to Cumberland where he superintended a large business until his removal to Linwood. He was married three times. The late Dr. James Englar was a son of the second marriage. His third wife was Caroline Ferne who survives him and line Fague who survives him and lives at Linwood. Of this marriage seven children are living, Joseph, Nathan, Fred, John, and Mrs. Jennie Rouzer reside at Linwood; Mollie, wife of Dr. John Buffington Jr., New Windows and Issue who lives in Rel. Windsor, and Jesse who lives in Bal-having discharged his duties faithfully for nearly three years. During David, and Philip Englar's father was a min ister and associated with the founding of the Pipe Creek German Baptist Church. The family is of German descent.

The following sketch is largely a transcript from the papers of the late Samuel Englar, of Paris, France, a grand son, who spent considerable time inquiring into the early history of the Englar family, and has been kindly furnished the writer by Samuel L. Englar, a great-grand-son of the subject of this sketch. Philip Englar Sr., was the parent-stock of the Englar's in America, also closely identified with the founders of the German Baptist church in America.

"It is supposed that our grand-father, Philip Englar, was born in Switzerland, and that he was taken to the United States when about 10 years of age, by his uncle, Adam Englar, in company with a brother a few years older named Daniel or Ja-cob. This uncle, Adam Englar, was captain of a sailing vessel, and was lost at sea on a voyage from Balti-more to the West Indies, perhaps between 1740 and 1750.

Having visited frequently, nearly all the Cantons of Switzerland, and seeing at many places the name of Englar, and having ever in mind tracing up the birth place of grandfather, I have arrived at the conclusion that it was at a proposition of the state of sion that it was at Appengill, near Saint Gall, Switzerland, from which he emigrated. His grave stone in Wolfe's grave-yard, Carroll Co., Md., reads as follows;

'In memory of PHILIP ENGLAR who departed this life the 15th. day of the 4th. month of the year 1817, aged 80 years, 3 months and 25 days. This would place the date of his birth

He is supposed to have landed in Philadelphia in 1748. In September nal Englar homestead, and has now descended to Samuel L. Englar, a great grand-son. His wife was also buried in the Wolfe's grave-yard. The inscription upon her tomb is:

'In memory of MARGARET ENGLAR, who departed this life the 15th. day of June, 1819, aged 76 years, 5 months and 18 days. There is also in the Winter grave yard near New Windsor a tombstone which reads as follows in German

'Here reposes in the ground, MARGARET ENGLAR. She died in the 75th. year of her life, on the 17th. of July, 1787.'

she the mother of grand-father Eng-lar? My opinion is that she was, and her age would confirm it."

Thilly Fred to find the part of the mother of grand-father Eng-lar Providence comes and with burning flames settles the matter

Philip Englar's family consisted of lowing order, David Englar, Philip Englar, Jacob Englar, Joseph Englar. The girls after marriage were Mary Snader, Susan Tigart, Betty Stoner, Peggy Plaine, and Katie Wampler. Joseph Englar was born in 1780, and married Esther Rinehart, who was born in Chester Co., Pa. He died in the fall of 1890, all had a right to be proud of the new handsome and comfortable church, which had been erected. During all this time, Rev. Heilman was not an idle man, but was kept busy looking after the work as it progressed at Mt. Joy and Harney.

wife of the late David Roop and Martha Ellen who died single.

Levi Englar married Hannah Foutz. They have three children living. Emma who married Dr. Jas. Gibbons of Baltimore, Maggie who married Dr. W. Whitehill, and Samuel Lee who married Sallie Nelson. Levi Englar succeeded his father on the homestead, and died in 1888, aged 75 years. His son Samuel is now the possessor of the Englar farm. Depossessor of the Englar farm. Deborah Englar married Joseph McKinstry in 1837, died in 1845 leaving two tains several hundred grayes. Several of the oldest were buried before the first church was completed.

HISTORY OF HARNEY.

BY J. W. RECK, 1895. PART XI.

The members of the congregation met on January, 31st., 1880, and after singing "Blest be the tie that binds," and having prayer and scripture reading by the pastor, Dr. Bush made the motion that Rev. Beard be called to the chair, and the object of the meeting stated, viz; to consider the resolution of the council in reference to the erection of a parsonage and other necessary buildings.

The subject was thoroughly discussed, and a vote taken which resulted as follows; 54 in favor, and 22 against. After which, a committee of five was appointed with instructions to give the dimensions of the house, and the kind of material to be used, to an architect, and ascertain the cost of

Said committee was to determine the amount of money to be subscribed, before the subscriptions should be binding, and then report the same, together with the dimensions and material of the house, to the members of the congregation, for their consideration and approval or disapproval.

March 2st., 1880, the committee reported that the house could be built ported that the house could be built for $1100.. and it was also suggested that $900, be raised before any subscription be binding, also that the subscriptions could be paid in three instalments, with the privilege of paying all at once if they so desired. An L. shaped house, was also recommended, but it was afterwards decided that the full amount necessary to build the house, with an addition-to build the house, with an additional amount of $300, for other buildings, should all be subscribed before any should all be subscribed before any subscription be considered binding, or before they proceed to build. It was also decided by motion of S. D. Reck, to build a house 24 by 44, and James A. Weikert and S. D. Reck were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions. The required amount was raised, and the parsonage, with all the other necessary buildings, were built near the church.

Rev. M. L. Beard resigned as pastor of the congregation about this time.

> On March 28th., 1881, the Rev. J. U. Asper was elected as a supply. He said "In the Providence of God this the Mt. Joy charge, is my first field of labor in the gospel ministry of Christ. As I had no acquaintance with this people, and no knowledge of the charge, except its name, and as I did not seek, but was sought by this people, I take the humble encouragement and pleasing satisfac-tion, that this, for the present, is the place assigned me by God."

He preached his first sermon in this church on the 13th. day of March 1881, from Phil. 3: 8., subject "Excellency of the knowledge of Christ." From this date he preached regularly every two weeks as a supply, until he became the regular pastor of the charge. On Saturday, April 23rd., he held preparatory services and on Sunday morning, April 24th., assisted by Dr. E. J. Wolf of the seminary at Gettysburg, administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. An election for pastor was duly announced and held on the 8th. day of May, v hich resulted as follows: 85 for and 1 against, but was afterward made unanimous. Rev. Asper receiv ed a call, accepted, and became the regular pastor on July 1st., 1881. After a ministry of nearly six years, Rev. J. U. Asper resigned the Mt. Joy charge on the 13th. day of March, 1887, resignation to take effect May 1st., 1887. During these three years the church enjoyed great prosperity, financially, numerically, and, it is to be hoped, spiritually. A comfortable parsonage had been completed at a cost of about $1900, including other improvements. On March 26th., the Mt. Joy council upon accepting Rev. Asper's resigna-1764, came from Chester Co., province of Pa., into the province of Md., and bought of Stephen Bowers a tract of land containing 107 acres for £185, near Uniontown. This is the origipastor eminently worthy of their highest regard.

Rev. H. M. Heilman became the next pastor of the congregation. During his pastorate, on March 2nd., 1889, just at the opening of preaching services. it was discovered that the church was on fire. Rev. Heilman camly picked up the bible, and walked out of the church, and the memed out of the church, and the members saved a considerable amount of the church furniture by hard work

Strange to say, the congregation was to meet on Monday to decide whether they would repair the old church, or tear it down and build a new one. It is supposed that there would have been some difficulty in on the 17th. of July, 1787.' deciding this question, and some hard This would give her birth 1712. Was feelings might have been caused a-

Everything connected with the church is in perfect condition, and all things seem to be provising beautiful. things seem to be working harmoniously together for the glory of God.

(With this instalment, the History of Harney and neighborhood closes. The citizens of the section have every reason to feel satisfied with the work, and the RECORD extends its hearty thanks to Mr. Reck for his labors, and to the many subscribers at Harney for their continued support.—Ed.)

He was Cool.

A gossiper in The Washington Post tells a story on Colonel William R. Morrison. The Colonel believes thoroughly in the efficacy of discipline. He has spent a great part of his event-ful career in hotels, and one of his theories has always been that the mind can be so trained that the biggest sort of a hotel fire is powerless to sidetrack the reasoning faculties on occasions when presence of mind is needed. He impressed his theory very strongly upon Mrs. Morrison by conjuring up a variety of critical exi-gencies and instructing her how to ct in given cases.

Fate would have it that the Colonel should be put to the test. He and his wife were aroused from their slumbers one night by an alarm of fire. The hotel in which they had their rooms was afire, and great confusion ensued among the guests. "Now is the time to put into practice "Now is the time to put into practice what I have always preached to you, my dear," said the Colonel. "Don't get excited. Put on all your indispensible apparel and take your time. Don't lose your head. Just watch me." He calmed Mrs. Morrison's anxiety, handed her the various articles necessary to her toilet, put on his collar and cuffs, took his watch from under his pillow and placed it in his vest pocket, put on his hat, packed his valise of valuables, and taking his cane walked with Mrs. Morrison out of the burning building into the street. "Now, my dear," he said, when they were safe, "don't you see what a grand thing it is to keep said, when they were safe, "don't you see what a grand thing it is to keep cool and act with a deliberate purpose in an emergency like this? Here you are completely dressed, as though you were going out for a walk, and over yonder are several ladies in complete dishabille." Just then Mrs. Morrison for the first time glanced at her husband. "You are right, William," she said, "it is a grand thing to keep cool and act deliberately, but if I had been you I would have stayed in the room long enough to put on my trousers."

The Ladies' Home Journal Invests.

What is generally conceded in Philadelphia to be one of the most desirable building sites in the city has just been purchased by the Ladies' Home Journal. The property is located at Sixth and Walnut streets, which means that it fronts on two of the most beautiful squares in Philadelphia, the famous Independence Square on the east and Washington Square on the south. The land acquired includes five properties. On May 1st. next, the houses thereon will be torn down to make room for a building costing $250,000, to be solely owned and exclusively occupied by the Journal. The building will require two years in its construction.

"While down in the southwestern says Mr. W. Chalmers, editor of the Chico (Cal.) Enterprise, "I had an attack of dysentery. Having heard of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy I bought a bottle. A couple of doses of it completely cured me. Now I am a champion of that remedy for all stomach and bowel complaints." For sale by R. S. McKinney, Druggist, Taneytown.
