

TANNEYTOWN RECORD.

Vol. 2., No. 19.

TANEYTOWN, MARYLAND, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1895.

$1.00 Per Year.

LOCALS AND PERSONALS.

Mrs. Dr. G. T. Motter and daughter Anna, are visiting in Baltimore.

Mr. Joseph A. Good, of Harney, has accepted a clerkship in S. L. Forrey's store in Johnsville.

Owing to the unusual press of matter this week, a number of communications are held over for next issue.

Democrats and republicans did not travel well together on Tuesday night. The former wanted to go home long before the latter.

A man that gets mad about what the newspapers say about him should give thanks three times a day for what they know about him and don't tell.

The republican demonstration will likely be either on Thursday or Friday night of next week. Attorney-General Clabaugh has been invited to be present.

Dr. Samuel Swope and Jacob Lambert of this district, have voted for nearly seventy years, and both are perfectly able to do it correctly and intelligently yet.

Lewis Elliot of York Springs, Pa., was in town on Sunday. He brought Milton H. Reindollar home, who had been the assistant in the store since the death of Mr. Elliot.

The post office at Trevanion, was entered on Friday night and robbed of a small amount of cash. Suspicion rests on a certain person who has left the neighborhood.

A merry party of old people took dinner at Samuel Slick's last Sunday. They were George W. Peagle, James Rodgers, and Mr. and Mrs. Slick, all over seventy years of age.

Revival services will begin in the Harney U. S. church, this Saturday evening. The Rev. W. R. K. will be present, as previously announced, on account of engagements elsewhere.

Jonas F. Harner, a son of Jonas S. Harner of this district, was home last week on a visit to his parents. He is a fireman on the W. M. & R. K. with headquarters at Baltimore. He is a brother of Robert A. Harner, an engineer on the same road.

Rev. Oliver Hemstreet spoke before a union meeting of the several churches, in the Reformed church, on Sunday night. His subject was, "Sunday observance." Mr. Hemstreet is secretary of the Maryland Sabbath Association.

Owing to the election returns occupying considerable space, the History of Keyville has been placed on the third instead of fourth page; the regular departments of the paper have also been somewhat interfered with, which could not be avoided.

A party consisting of Levi D. Reid, P. B. Englar, John A. Reid, B. K. Sionaker, C. O. Fuss and George E. Koutz, attended the institution of a Camp of the Sons of America in Hagerstown, this Friday evening, and participated in the ceremonies.

A noticeable feature of the late election, was the lack of betting. The result was sufficiently uncertain to induce all parties to keep their cash in their pockets. Of course, there are the usual number of "I told you so's," nevertheless there are but few bets to pay.

A soap company gave a stereopticon exhibition on our streets, Thursday night, which attracted a considerable crowd. A large number of beautiful scenes of a miscellaneous character were portrayed on a large canvass, and a very creditable music was rendered.

The Lutheran congregation, of Mechanicsburg, has decided to again call Dr. E. D. Weigle to that church. It was the result of a call which he refused at the request of the people of the charge which he is now serving in Altoona.

Prof. J. F. Springer, principal of Milton Academy, Baltimore, was in town last week, and is now engaged in curing a sufficient number of pupils to justify him in opening a branch school in this place. Let us hope that this is the beginning of a first-class school, which will be a permanent institution in our town.

The milk inspectors of the Baltimore Health Department spilled 122 lots of 453 gallons of milk during October, having examined 2,323 lots of 11,796 gallons. One arrest was made for the sale of impure milk, and a fine of $20 was imposed. The meat inspector condemned 9,019 pounds of meat and poultry, besides crabs, vegetables and fruit.

The election in Baltimore was comparatively quiet, though several persons were shot, and several stabbed, but no death has resulted there. The saloons were generally open; the police were too busy to interfere. It is probable that this was the fairest election ever held in the city; while repeaters were present, they did not risk the police, and very few attempted to get in their work. The Reform league had foot ball players and athletes, for watchers and challengers, in a number of the worst precincts.

The Western Maryland Telephone Company, has placed one of its new transmitters on the RECORD office phone as well as on several others in the town, and the improvement over the old is simply wonderful. The new transmitter will be placed on all the instruments as rapidly as possible. The carbon used is made after a formula furnished by Mr. Hazlett, the manager of the company, who manufactures the improved transmitter. A message can be distinctly heard when holding the receiver three feet from the ear, and in sending, the voice need only be audible, or in a very low ordinary tone, to be distinctly heard at the other end. The returns of the election were promptly and completely received over this line, on Tuesday night, from ten out of the thirteen districts in the county, and much credit is due the officials of the company for their efforts.

REUNION OF COMPANY C. Cole's Cavalry.

The annual re-union of Company C. Cole's Cavalry, was held here on Thursday night. A banquet was served at the Buffington House, which was attended by the survivors of the company present, as well as by many other old veterans and a large number of invited guests. Prior to the main meeting, which was held in P. O. S. of A. hall, a business meeting was held, at which officers were elected for the ensuing year, as follows: President, Silas M. Horner; vice president, Augustus H. McFarland; Hanover, Pa.; Secretary, O. D. McMillan; Gettysburg; Chaplain, Lient. W. A. McMillan; Gettysburg; Treasurer, J. E. Wible; Gettysburg; Executive committee, Major McNeil, York, Pa.; Major D. C. Birnie; Recitation; Sergeant Theodore McAllister; Geo. Gillelan, Emmitsburg; C. C. Currens, Taneytown; D. Starnor, Barlow, Pa.; Thomas Robinson, Aberdeen, Md.; and George Weikert, Greenmount, Pa.

The program in the hall was as follows: "My Country" singing by audience; Welcome, by P. B. Englar; "Blue and Grey" a recitation by Blanche Hess; "Now I lay me" singing by children; "Tom, the drummer boy" by Eddie Reid and Abbie Fogie; Address by Dr. C. Birnie; Recitation by Miss McMillan; Recitation, Maude Forward; Address, by Hon. Theo. McAllister; Singing, "Columbia"; Recitation, Margaret Currens; Address, H. K. W. Patterson; Recitation, Miss McMillan, and singing, "God be with you till we meet again."

After the rendering of the program, the old veterans held a "Camp Fire," and for a short time held a most pleasant fraternal re-union in which all were again the boon companions of old-better friends than ever, indeed, because of their rapidly lessening ranks. All expressed themselves as being well pleased with their reception, and the Taneytown re-union to be remembered with kindly feelings. Many old soldiers not connected with Company C, were present, as well as a large attendance of ladies and gentlemen invited by the Company.

NOTES HERE AND THERE.

Camp No. 13, of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, will be instituted in Hagerstown this Friday evening.

Hiteshue's hotel at Reisterstown caught fire on Friday night from a defective flue, but did not burn down, owing to prompt assistance from neighbors.

The Middle Conference of Maryland Synod of the Lutheran church will meet in the Lutheran church at Weaverville, Frederick county, on Monday evening, Nov. 11th.

Jennings, Kelley, Keeler and McGraw, the "Big Four" of the Baltimore Baseball Club, have come to an agreement with Manager Hanlon in regard to next season's salaries.

The much advertised wedding, by which Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt became the Duchess of Marlborough, came off in New York on Wednesday. It was a most magnificent affair, and eclipsed every former event of the kind ever held in America.

The great prize-fight has ended in a miserable failure to pull off the event. Both the principals accuse the other of not wanting to fight. While a public exhibition was prevented by various state authorities, a private contest could very easily have been arranged.

Near the bed of Prince Bismarck, in his room at Friedrichsruh, is a pair of scales, on which the ex-chancellor weighs himself every morning. He keeps an account of the changes in his avoirdupois in a note book attached to the machine. Recently he has weighed about 215 pounds.

As Mr. Daniel Koogle of J., a well-to-do farmer of this district, who had town valley, entered his stable to stop several cows from fighting, one of the animals suddenly threw up her head. One of her horns struck Mr. Koogle in the left eye destroying the sight of that member.

J. Calvin Middour, aged about forty years, was struck by a Western Maryland train at Waynesboro on Wednesday at noon, and was instantly killed. He was watching another train when he crossed the track, and did not see the approaching train. He was employed for fifteen years in the Erick Company shops as engine-tender, and leaves a widow and two children.

Mrs. Landis, wife of Wm. H. Landis, died at her home, near Bakles Mills, Washington county on Tuesday night, aged fifty-eight years. Her death was caused by a bullet wound inflicted in her head on a Sunday night a few weeks ago by her husband, who is charged, first shot at her after sitting upon her lap in a conciliatory manner and then shot, it is further charged, himself, fatally. Mrs. Landis threw up her head when the shot was fired and the bullet glanced from her skull. She walked half a mile to the house of a neighbor after the shooting. Blood poisoning was the immediate cause of her death. The husband and wife had been unhappy in their married life and quarreled frequently.

The pocketbook of Geo. F. Krug, of Kingsdale, with the notes, &c., stolen from his safe at I. a. m., Friday, Oct. 18th, has been found. Worthington O. Kohler, living on the old Hostetter farm, on the New Oxford and Littlestown road, 94 miles from Kingsdale, was threshing, Thursday, 24th., and had just begun work when the man on the mow found four whiskey bottles and soon after the four pocketbooks. Several pairs of old stockings were also found, and a new gallon camp kettle, containing stewed chicken and a spoon. One of the bottles was half full of whiskey and the others were empty. While threshing, a silver three-cent piece and four copper cents were found on the wind mill sieve. The notes and papers of value in the pocketbook amounted to about $7.00. The barn is full of rats and had not Mr. Kohler threshed when he did, the papers might have been destroyed or mutilated so as to be of no value.—Hanover Herald.

COOMBS-WILT.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized, Wednesday, November 6th., at the residence of Mr. Henry C. Wilt, near Taneytown, the contracting parties being his only daughter, Margaret, and Mr. Arthur Coombs of Gettysburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. McSherry, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, promptly at 1:30 p. m., the bridal couple entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's march, beautifully rendered by George W. Englar of Penna. College, Gettysburg.

The bride was attired in a traveling costume of green herietta cloth, with gloves to match, and carried a huge bouquet of Marechal Niel roses and white carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Maud Hans, was attired in a green olive cloth, with gloves to match those of the bride, and carried a bunch of La France roses. The groom wore the conventional black with tan colored gloves. G. Walter Wilt, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony those present were ushered into the dining room to a table laden with all the delicacies of the season, including cakes, confectioneries and tropical fruits. The happy couple left on the 6:15 train, amidst the best wishes of a host of friends for an extended trip to Baltimore and Washington. The presents received were both numerous and handsome. Among those present were persons from Baltimore, Westminster, New Windsor, Linwood and Gettysburg.

The Election in Taneytown.

Notwithstanding the immense vote polled in the district, the election passed off quietly, and there was not a single incident which in the slightest way marred the peace of the day. Both parties had for an extended trip to Baltimore and Washington. The presents received were both numerous and handsome. Among those present were persons from Baltimore, Westminster, New Windsor, Linwood and Gettysburg.

The news was received at the Republican Club and the Elliott House. The former had made arrangements with both telephone companies, as well as the Western Union telegraph, and received everything in the shape of news which was going. As the reports of the men in uniform faith, and that the Republican local organizations opposed to the fusion ticket were as in 1894 when their ticket won by nearly 50,000 majority, and with the brewers and liquor men passive, it is a great triumph for the Democracy. The Germans were not by any means united for the regular Democratic ticket, as represented by Tammany Hall won by good majorities. When the fact that the so-called independent newspapers, the "World," "Herald," "Times," and others, supported the fusion ticket, the various political organizations opposed to the fusion ticket were as in 1894 when their ticket won by nearly 50,000 majority, and with the brewers and liquor men passive, it is a great triumph for the Democracy. The Germans were not by any means united for the regular Democratic ticket, as represented by Tammany Hall won by good majorities.

The lessons taught by the election of yesterday, are of great importance to the people. The lessons taught by the election of yesterday, are of great importance to the people.

The election of Harry M. Clabaugh, for attorney general of the state, and of Dr. Clotworthy Birnie, to the House of delegates, is particularly gratifying to their numerous friends here, not only on account of their citizenship in Taneytown district, but because of their brilliant qualifications for the offices to which they have been elected. The republicans will, of course, be sure to have a big blow out in the banner district, and it is hoped that there will be a decent and creditable exhibition of joy over the result.

MARRIED.

BARNHART-BARNES.—Near Uniontown, October 31st., by Elder Solomon Stoner, Mr. John A. Barnhart to Miss Daisy C. Barnes, both of Linwood.

HAINES-HERR.—On the 5th., near Taneytown, by Rev. P. Rioscoe, Mr. James D. Haines to Miss Sallie Herr, both of this district.

COOMBS-WILT.—On the 6th., at the home of the bride near Taneytown, by Rev. G. W. McSherry, Mr. Arthur W. Coombs of Gettysburg, to Miss Maggie E. Wilt of this district.

PERKINS-BOWERS.—On November 6th., at Union Bridge, by Rev. K. O. Spessard, Mr. Edward W. Perkins, of Baltimore, to Miss Dessie Bowers of Union Bridge.

DIED.

OBITUARIES, poetry and resolutions charged for each notice. Regular notices, regular death notices published free of charge.

SHAPLEY.—In Uniontown, on the 4th., Mrs. Shapley, aged about 80 years. Interment at Mechanicsburg, Pa.

LYNN.—On the 31st., in Harney Henry Lynn aged 83 years, 8 months, 24 days.

HESSON.—Elizabeth Hesson, wife of Daniel Hesson, died at her home in Harney, November 4th., 1895, aged 63 years, 11 months and 30 days. She was born in Frederick Co., Md., and was married October 2nd., 1850. She leaves a husband and five children to mourn her loss, but they mourn not as those who have no hope. For thirty years she was an earnest and faithful member of the United Brethren church, and died in the triumphs of the Christian faith. For many months she was a sufferer, and anxiously awaited for the summons to her home above.

One by one earth's ties are broken,
As we see our loved ones
And the hopes so fondly cherished
Brighten, but to pass away.
One by one our hopes grow brighter,
As we near the shining shore.
For we know across the river,
Wait the loved ones gone before.
We miss them from this place, dear mother
We miss them from this place,
A shadow of our life is cast,
We miss the sunshine of this place,
We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without thee—
We miss thee everywhere.

Farewell, dear mother, sweet thy rest,
Weary with years and worn with pain,
Farewell, till in some happy place,
We shall behold thee again.
Thy days to me, all our years,
And thy memories of the deep,
Thine in the Lord rest, for so,
He giveth his beloved up.
By Her Husband and Children.

NEW YORK LETTER.

New York City, November 5th, 1895. Editor of "RECORD":

The great political landslide of 1894 throughout the country seems to have affected the parties this year in the same way. Democracy hoped for good reasons for the belief that like all sudden and violent upheavals in nature, the political revolution of 1894 would be of short duration and had ended its wild career. With the results before us in Maryland, Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and New York, it would seem that an error of judgment had been made. Even the Republicans in these states were agreeably disappointed. The defeated party is looking for reasons for the continuance of the landslide for the last year, but abouts they are disposed to place the responsibility upon the occupant of the White House in Washington.

As your readers perhaps know, President Cleveland was never a favorite in this city and is now less than ever. While on the other hand they were exercising the right of suffrage and performing a duty, the President was supposed to be hunting squirrels somewhere in Maryland adjoining the District of Columbia, instead of making his ballot for the regular nominee of the Republican party that three times honored him with their votes and confidences.

The only bright spot for the Democracy is the Metropolis. Here notwithstanding the fact that a fusion ticket, in which the disgruntled Democrats and Republicans united, was the regular Democratic ticket, as represented by Tammany Hall won by good majorities. When the fact that the so-called independent newspapers, the "World," "Herald," "Times," and others, supported the fusion ticket, the various political organizations opposed to the fusion ticket were as in 1894 when their ticket won by nearly 50,000 majority, and with the brewers and liquor men passive, it is a great triumph for the Democracy.

TWO HANDSOME TABLETS.

Mr. John B. Mullan, Baltimore, is making two handsome tablets for the Catholic church at Taneytown—one as a memorial to Rev. Father Delaney, a former pastor, and the other as a memorial to Father Zochel, who for six years pastor of the church. The Zochel tablet will be placed on the sanctuary wall, on the Epistle side of the altar, and the Delaney tablet on the Gospel side. The Zochel memorial will be a Gothic tablet of Italian marble. It will be three feet high and three feet wide, and will be supported by two brackets, and upon the base will rest two columns, holding an arch, surmounted by a cross. A chalice and host, in bold relief, will be chiseled in the arch. This tablet will be four feet high and three feet wide, and will be placed in position on Tuesday, December 17th, at which time solemn services will be held in connection with the unveiling.

The cost of the tablets will be $100. Mr. Mullan has completed a very handsome memorial tablet to Rev. Dwight E. Lyman, an uncle to Rev. Theo. D. Mead, of Taneytown.

Editor RECORD: Now for a few lines on silk culture. Silk culture is one of our great possibilities; the mulberry tree, in all its varieties, flourishes, some retaining their foliage ten months of the year. Most varieties will yield a year's crop of silk worms. With scientific treatment, silk worms may be hatched at any time. In this country silk worms may be reared for eight months of the year; namely, you can have a separate hatch, or crop, of silk for 240 consecutive days, the prerequisite being room enough, and food enough. Each of these separate crops may be from annual worms, which yield the best in quality and most abundant in quantity.

The countries from which we import silk count on but one crop of raw silk each year, and the season is over in forty-two or sixty days. Not only is the length of season in our favor, but freedom from all kinds of storms, especially electrical disturbances, so fatal to silk worm life. There are three ways of planting the mulberry tree and hedge, as a mulberry orchard and as a forest tree. The last may be planted ninety to one hundred and fifty to the acre. The orchard may have twelve hundred trees per acre. They should be pruned close every year, as the new growth yields the most silk-producing leaf.

The industry is being permanently established at Minneapolis Beach, a colony located a few miles north of San Diego city. Preparations are being made to establish on a firm manufacturing basis, the location is extremely favorable to every branch of the industry. Large groves of rooted mulberry trees of various kinds and ages, and still larger groves of mulberry slips are being planted by the colonists. Suitable buildings will be erected for the rearing of silkworms. The coming spring will begin the coming spring.

A number of ladies rear silk worms and produce beautiful silk in their own homes, and it is indeed an interesting study to watch a worm spinning his cocoon. The children of the public school are rearing silkworms several times for an object lesson and became very much interested in them.

I see by the RECORD that the first snow flakes of the season have fallen there, and it seemed strange to read that for here we are thinking of making a winter garden and planting trees and vines. The raisin crop is dried, packed, and partly shipped, and was not quite so large as last year. Apples are quite plentiful, also pears, guavas, and figs.

We celebrated admission day almost a week and a half ago, and one day was spent on the Bay rowing, boating and swimming. Then there were bicycle races, and one evening everybody appeared on the streets masked, which was very funny, for you will see among the masqueraders, kings, queens, and a new man, woman (in her bloomers) the new man, knights, lords and ladies; the streets were gaily decked, and everybody seemed to be enjoying themselves. There were a great many visitors present. One day there was an excursion to La Jolla to gather sea shells and all seemed well pleased.

MIDDLEBURG.

Quite a large crowd assembled at the M. E. church last Sunday evening, to listen to the new minister, Rev. H. C. Hall, of West Va., who has lately taken charge of the work here.

Election passed off here very quietly, with the exception of one small incident. On a week day in this vicinity was called upon by his younger brother to know what ticket he voted, and upon replying that he voted the democratic ticket, was colored by his minor brother and received a kicking.

Chas. E. Ott, proprietor of the Middleburg Hotel, is suffering from two large boils on his left hand, evidently caused by wearing a "Hurst" button, simply because he wished to tant some ladies, and then too, he thought it pretty, because it had the "Stars and Stripes" on it.

Harry E. Ott and Frank Hamber attended, on Tuesday evening, a series of meetings, which is being conducted in Emmitsburg, by Rev. Henry Mann of Thurmont, and Rev. H. C. Hall of Middleburg.

Miss Maggie Arnold is spending some time with friends and relatives, in Baltimore.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE.

TYRONE.

On Wednesday morning, October 30th, 1895, Miss J. Sell, third daughter of Mr. Henry Sell, a highly respected citizen of this community, died of consumption. Although she had been sick for a long while, yet her death was sudden and unexpected.

She was a quiet unassuming and industrious young lady. In early life she connected herself with the Reformed church, and remained a consistent member to the day of her death. But she shall not again join with us in prayers and praises in our earthly sanctuary, but by and by in God's Kingdom. We should prove faithful, we will, with her, swell that mighty chorus of thanksgiving and praise, for we sorrow not as those who have no hope, for does not Revelation assure us of a resurrection, and who dissipate our hearts the sweet promise of I. Mark 7: v. 37. He that took place on Friday morning, at Baust church in presence of a large and sorrowing congregation of relatives and friends.

Rev. K. O. Spessard improved the occasion from Phil. I: 31., "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." The pall bearers were Chas. Foglesong, Jonas Heltrabide, Arthur Master, Edward Winters, Edward Dotro and Pius Sponser. She was aged 34 years, 10 months and 25 days.

We extend to the family our heartfelt sympathy in this their sad bereavement.

The missionary society will meet next Sunday, 10th. inst., at Baust church at 2 o'clock p. m. Revs. Baten and Spessard will be present and make addresses. The officers of the society for the ensuing year are, president, W. U. Markey; vice president, Mrs. Jos. Formwalt; secretary, Geo. C. Harmon; treasurer, Wm. Formwalt; collectors, Mattie Sell, Maude Marker, Mollie Carbaugh and Minnie Sheets; Organist, B. May Harman.

Most of our farmers have finished husking corn, and have been rewarded with a bountiful crop.

UNION BRIDGE.

Luther day will be observed in the Lutheran church on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The Union C. E. prayer meeting will be held in the Lutheran church on Sunday evening.

The Indian Garden Manufacturing Co., began the foundation for making porcelain knobs and emery wheels. They will be built at the railroad on a lot adjoining Clemson's fertilizer house. The building will cost from $1,000 to $1,300.

The meeting at this place passed off very quietly on Tuesday, voters went off early to cast their ballots and remained out late at night to hear the pleasant returns of the successful party.

Mr. Edward Reiser and family removed from the residence bought by Mr. W. E. Gayler to Dr. E. O. Bernake's house, on East Broadway.

Mr. Jesse Morningstar, an aged citizen of this place, died in Johnsville (his former home) on Wednesday morning, of heart failure. He had been home with his son, J. K. Morningstar, and was taken to Johnsville on Tuesday to vote which was his last ballot. He was about 85 years old and leaves 7 children to mourn his loss. They are all married.

Mrs. F. L. Stoner of Frederick, spent several days this week in town.

The marriage of Miss Essie Bowers of Union Bridge and Edward W. Perkins, of Baltimore, took place at the Reformed parsonage on Wednesday, November 6th., at 5 p. m. Immediately after the marriage, the happy couple took the 5:45 p. m. train for Baltimore, at which place they will make their future home.

UNIONTOWN.

The protracted meeting is still in progress at the Bethel Church, of God. Miss Lydia Forney, the evangelist of Harrisburg, Pa. left last Tuesday. Rev. William Englar, of Middletown, Md., conducted the services on Tuesday evening. Rev. Seabrook, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., arriving on Wednesday to take charge of the meeting for the week.

Mr. T. Clyde Rounton, a student of the Maryland University, Baltimore, Md., spent a few days at his home this week.

Mr. Harry Stultz of Baltimore Md., came to cast his vote, returning again the same day to the city.

Miss Nannie Devibiss, of Baltimore Md., is the guest of Miss Mattie Devibiss.

Mrs. R. O. Fuss, of Union Bridge, Md., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Luther Hiteshue.

Mr. David Hiteshue, of the present writing is sick. The disease has not had time to develop.

Mrs. J. T. Shreve, invited a few of her friends one evening last week, to her home. The purpose of the social was to organize a Game Social to be held on a week day at the home of one of its members, and in this way encourage the interest in games. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Zollicoffer, Mr. Samuel Englar and wife, Mrs. Luther Kemp, Misses Maggie and Bettie Cover, and Messrs. William Zollicoffer and James Lassell.
