You can save the price of the RECORD each year, by simply keeping posted from reading the advertisements in it. Advertising pays, and this means that it pays to read advertisements.

The Westminster city council has refused to pass an ordinance prohibiting hog pens within the place, but has passed an ordinance imposing heavy penalties against uncleanliness of premises of every character.

It has been said for years that Taneytown should have a local Fire Insurance Company, therefore, let every one interested read our editorial on the subject, and take such steps as may suggest themselves.

Our friends will please remember that the RECORD does not publish the weights of hogs. This may seem very unaccommodating on our part, but it is a very old and a better feature of country journalism which we do not propose to perpetuate.

The Independent says that the Littlestown Savings Bank is again in a sound financial condition, better in fact, than for some years, because old losses are squared up. It has undivided profits of $10,135.55, a surplus fund $1269.07, and the stock is selling at $5.00 a share above par.

It is very likely that this will be the last issue of the RECORD of its present size. If the new material for the increased size comes in time, the next issue will be eight columns to the page instead of seven, and the columns will be no longer. Our contributors will please take notice, and try to send us more news.

The members of the Republican club, as well as others of this district who desire to attend the inauguration of Governor Lowndes, have been invited to participate, and are asked to hand in their names to the Secretary of the club, who will no doubt be able to give complete information regarding the trip.

If our advertisers are smart, they will contract for more space in the enlarged RECORD, particularly through the season before the Christmas holidays. If your ad is out of date, and time-worn you will make a mistake if you do not re-write it now. Others who do not advertise regularly, should not miss the coming month.

A country newspaper is not a banking institution for the purpose of lending out small sums of money for several years without interest. Publishers of country newspapers need their money the same as other business men do theirs, and no subscriber is allowed to get more than a year in arrears at any time.—Ex.

WEDDING RECEPTION.

[Special Cor. from Porters, Md.]

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McKinney presented a scene of unusual gaiety on Wednesday evening, November 20th, as a carriage after carriage arrived, containing the guests invited to the reception. A great number of Mr. and Mrs. George Flory, whose nuptials had just been celebrated at Messiah Lutheran church. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. McKinney with delightful cordiality, and conducted to the reception room, where the bride and groom, assisted by Miss Minnie McKinney and Mr. B. S. Garber, bridesmaid and groomsmen, again welcomed them.

Many and heart-felt were the congratulations and good wishes showered upon the newly-wedded pair. The bride is widely known and a great favorite with all in this, her native place, and the groom who is from Bridgewater, Va., has, during his visits to Maryland, made many warm and sincere friends.

In the midst of the lively conversation and gay repartee, the invitation to supper, which was prepared and served in real old Maryland style. Everything which could grace a table upon such an occasion was present in the greatest abundance. A slight interruption to the general merriment was caused by the arrival of the Calathumpian Band which discoursed loud, if not harmonious music, until a sight of the lovely bride and happy groom called forth their loudest cheers, and the dispensing of welcome refreshments caused their conversation to follow until a later hour, when all were once more invited to the reception room where an exquisitely arranged table loaded with fruits, cakes and confectionery once more tempted the appetite. After viewing the many useful and beautiful presents bestowed upon the bride, the guests once more paid their respects to Mr. and Mrs. Flory, wishing them a safe and pleasant bridal trip, and bidding good-by to their hospitable entertainers, Mr. and Mrs. McKinney, all departed, recollecting with pleasure the many incidents connected with this most happy occasion.

Those present at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. George Flory, Mr. John McKinney, Miss Minnie McKinney, Mrs. Maggie Shoemaker, Mr. S. Flory, brother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bushy, Mr. John Bushy, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Hess and Miss Nettie and Ollie Hess, Maurice Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Nalley, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hess, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Howard Hess and Miss Retta Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Ebbert, Mr. and Mrs. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Shoemaker, Miss Carrie and Mattie Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reaver, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brandenburg and Miss Lula Brandenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Mehring, Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Thomas, Rev. A. A. Kelley, Misses Annie Myers and Grace Frizzell, Millie Bushy, Nettie Ecker, Emma Bennett, Messrs B. S. Garber, John Wright, H. E. Gertler, John Bushy, Harry Bushy, Herbert Wampler, Mr. Thomas Fritz, Thomas Bennett, Mrs. Jane E. Ways, and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wallace.

Commissioner Goulden turned down.

Our respected friend, and one-time citizen of this district, Mr. Joseph A. Goulden, will not be re-appointed Commissioner of Education by Mayor Strong of New York, notwithstanding the fact that he was strongly endorsed for the position by many influential and prominent citizens. In commenting on the action of the Mayor, Dickinson's Weekly has the following to say: "Notwithstanding these endorsements and that of hundreds of teachers, coupled with a magnificent official record of three years in the schools, the fact that he entertains political views at variance with those of Mayor Strong seems to be a sufficient cause to be 'thrown down' by an executive who has boasted of his non-partisan administration. Our public schools have always been free from even the taint of politics up until this time, when a reform business man's Mayor introduces it. It is a double-edged sword that will do much to injure the schools."

Commissioner Goulden made but little or no effort to secure his retention as Commissioner, believing in the good old-fashioned doctrine that the office should seek the man, not the man the office. No man from this district has ever accomplished as much for the public schools and given more time to his official duties than the gentleman named. His retirement means pleasure to his family and himself, freedom from worry and labor, and peace and contentment, and that all men appreciate, and the loss is that of the people, who have good memories, and will repay the party in power in due course of time."

FLAG RAISING AT MIDDLEBURG.

Thursday was a gala day in the old town of Middleburg, and there has never been such a crowd there on any special occasion unless it was when the Hayes and Wheeler pole was raised in 1876. The occasion which brought the great crowd, was the presentation of a large flag to the public school of the place, by Camp No. 9, of the P. O. S. of A., located at Middleburg, and certainly this flourishing patriotic order has every reason to feel proud of the events of the day.

The affair had been very properly made of a somewhat general character, and a number of other Camps, as well as Councils of the Senior and Junior Order of American Mechanics, participated by invitation. The parade was composed of the following delegations and bands. Union Bridge Band, 26 men; Olive Council, O. U. A. M., of Union Bridge, 48 men on horseback; Fairmount Council, O. U. A. M., of Union Bridge, 14 men; Double Pipe Creek, 14 men; Taneytown Band, 17 men; Camp No. 2, P. O. S. of A., Taneytown, 60 men; Camp No. 5, Westminster, 10 men; Pleasant Valley Camp No. 7, and Mayberr Camp No. 12, 10 men.

On the arrival of the parade at the school house, the presentation address was eloquently delivered by Mr. H. K. W. Patterson, National Organizer of the P. O. S. of A., and the address of acceptance was made by Rev. Hall, of Middleburg, in a few well chosen words, after which the flag was hoisted, and then after the regulation salute, the parade formed a line and marched back to Walden's Hall, where the ceremonies were concluded by an excellent address by Mr. C. Harry Stein, of the O. U. A. M., and a number of very fine selections by the bands. Many accepted the opportunity of partaking of the refreshments furnished by Camp 9, at their festival which was held in their hall during the afternoon and night.

These flag raising events have become quite common of late years; they furnish beautiful lessons to the young who will some day assume the rights of citizenship, and teach them early in life to learn to honor and love the stars and stripes of their country. May this day have had a beneficial influence on the youth of Middleburg. The P. O. S. of A. in Taneytown, presented the first flag given to any school in Carroll county, having with appropriate ceremonies raised a large flag before the school building, October 21st, 1892. Olive Council, O. U. A. M., of Union Bridge, followed by presenting one to their local school on July 4th, 1893.

He served in the Potomac Home Brigade, in which he enlisted soon after its formation, and since his residence in Baltimore, has been prominent in G. A. R. affairs, and was elected Commander of William H. Emory Post.

The bride was becomingly attired in a brown novelty cloth, trimmed in ribbon, while that of the bridesmaid matched. The groom and best man wore the conventional black, with white tie. The floral decorations were smilax and potted plants. After the ceremony was over, congratulations were extended by all, and the doors of the dining room were thrown open, and all the guests seated. At 3 o'clock, all were again invited to a table of refreshments which consisted of all the delicacies of the season.

About 75 persons were present, comprising the near relatives and a few intimate friends. #### LINWOOD.

Time flies so rapidly that we can scarcely realize that Thanksgiving has come, and by the time this reaches the RECORD's readers, it will have passed and with it, many turkeys with a compliment of cranberry sauce. In reviewing the past year and finding much to be thankful for, beside our daily bread, and an abundance of the fruits of the season, we have a great store of reading matter, books, journals and newspapers, (and not the least among them the RECORD) to while away the long evenings by the lamp light. Then let us cease our croaking and be thankful for what we have received and trust Him for all that is to come.
