

THE CARROLL RECORD.

Vol. 3., No. 10.

TANEYTON, MARYLAND, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1896.

$1.00 Per Year.

Locals and Personals.

School opens on Monday.
A load of fine apples would likely find ready sale in this place.
Corn cutting has commenced. The dry weather is forcing the job ahead of time.
Mr. Charles E. Yount and family, of Harrisburg, are visiting at F. M. Yount's.
Milk advanced one cent a quart on September 1st—water is getting scarce.
Mr. Charles E. Sullivan has our thanks for a basket of very fine grapes.
And now the poor bass will starve, while the frisky squirrels are having fun dodging shot.
Charles W. Hess has been appointed election clerk in place of Harry L. Feeser, disqualified.
Mr. and Mrs. Dr. R. S. Seiss, of Littlestown, spent the day here on Thursday, with Dr. F. H. Seiss.
H. M. Clabaugh and family returned to Antrim from Spring Lake Beach, New Jersey, last Saturday.
The first fresh oysters of the season were sold here last Saturday. Considering the time, the quality was excellent.
Regular services will be held in the U. B. church, next Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock, instead of in the afternoon.
The contract for the steam heating plant for the Lutheran church, has been awarded to Milton Schaeffer, Westminster.
Misses Hennie and Rosa Hess and Bertie and Alice Hull spent Saturday and Sunday last in Thurmont visiting friends.
Several prominent democrats of this district are happy now—they have found a resting place "between the devil and the deep sea."
The registrars will sit in this district, at the residence of Thomas D. Thomson on York St. The first sitting will be on Tuesday, the 15th.
Harry L. Baumgardner has left for Baltimore in search of a position. He is a trustworthy and capable young man, and it is hoped that he may succeed.
What has Taneytown done? On Thursday evening, Harney had a heavy rain—like-wise Union Bridge. Is it the delay of the water-works question?
The Ladies Mite Society of the Lutheran church will hold a festival on Saturday, evening the 19th. The place for holding it has not been determined on.
Thomas D. Thomson has received from his brother in Ohio, the editor of the Delaware Gazette, a large picture of Hon. William McKinley which he has had handsomely framed.
Mrs. Dr. C. W. Weaver, who is ill in a hospital in Baltimore, was not so well the first of the week, but is now reported better. Her many friends would be glad to hear of her rapid improvement.
Our Band has been engaged to play at a picnic at Greenwood school house, beyond New Windsor, on Sept. 19th. Joseph Kelley, one of our citizens, and a former resident of that neighborhood, will act as pilot.
Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. Harry B. Huntington, formerly of this vicinity but now of New York City, to Miss Jennie Stambaugh, daughter of Dr. J. E. Stambaugh, of Woodsboro.
The public well needs a new floor, and needs it badly; some of the money saved by not keeping the street lamps burning through the summer, might very appropriately be spent on a new floor for this old dry weather friend.
The following were elected delegates from this district to the republican county convention on Monday: Dr. G. T. Motter, Jacob Newsome, Theodore Fair, E. O. Garner and W. E. O. Hiner. The latter was the only one in attendance.
On account of the opening of school, the public school building is no longer available as a place in which to hold the Lutheran Sunday school; therefore this service will be discontinued for the present. Notices will be given in the RECORD when and where the school will again be held.
Elmer W. Fleagle, of Yonkers, New York, formerly of this section, recently underwent a difficult surgical operation at the hospital of St. Johns, Riverside. His friends will be pleased to learn that the operation was a success; he will spend several weeks with his mother and relatives before resuming work with his brother Edward.
John McKellip, treasurer of the Lutheran church building fund, has received a very handsome contribution for a memorial window from a friend and an "old Taneytown boy," Alfred S. Reaver, of San Antonio, Texas. Mr. Reaver is a brother of E. K. Beaver of this place, and U. L. Reaver, Westminster, and the window will be a tribute to the memory of his parents. This leaves but two of the larger upper windows to be taken

NOTES FROM EVERYWHERE.

Items of current news boiled down, for busy readers.
Scarlet fever has broken out in a virulent form in Waynesboro, and the physicians have united in a petition to keep the schools closed until it subsides.
The Key Monument Association, Frederick, has on hand $8,689.97. When the fund reaches $10,000 a suitable monument will be placed over the grave of the author of "The Star Spangled Banner."
A glut in the peach market has caused a drop in the price among peach growers in Washington county. "The great quantities of Delaware and Eastern shore fruit marketed this season, is responsible for the fall in price."
The Governor has extended the time for Carroll county assessors to September 30th. In Frederick county the time has been extended to September 30th., and to various other dates up to November 15th., according to the districts.
The Maryland delegates to the commencement of the Grand Army of the Republic, which was held at St. Paul, Minn., during the week, left Baltimore, Sunday, in a special car on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. In the party were Major and Mrs. O. A. Horner, of Emmitsburg, and Capt. L. M. Zimmerman, formerly of Frederick.
Arrangements are being perfected for the great republican mass-meeting in the interest of sound money to be held at the Music Hall, Baltimore, on Monday night, at which Senator John M. Thurston, of Nebraska, will be the principal speaker. From present indications, it will be one of the biggest political meetings ever held in the city.
The sixth congressional district republican convention will likely be a lively affair. Allegany county is for Pearce, Garrett for Ravenscroft, Montgomery for McDonald, while Frederick is for either Motter or Haffner, and Washington for Hagner or Staka. Besides the above, there are at least that many more "dark horses."
The coroner's jury in Frederick to investigate the death of Mrs. Dugan on account of the trolley road accident, rendered the following verdict: "We believe that Mrs. Caroline Dugan's death was caused from shock from an unavoidable accident on the Frederick and Middletown Railway, and we hereby exonerate the railway company from all blame whatever."
Thomas T. Anderson, who sustained a compound fracture of the hip in the accident, has entered suit against the company for $20,000 damages.
A sharper from Baltimore visited Frederick this week, and succeeded in swindling a number of young men there out of a sum of money variously reported at from $60 to $138. He ingratiated himself into their favor by his clever manipulation of the pool cue and the dice box, and on Monday night showed them a loaded dice, and declared that with it he could win $200 for them at a neighborhood saloon. One man in the crowd gave him $35, another $15, another $10, and so on until he had accumulated a large sum. On the plea of waiting the return of a friend with an additional $10, he wandered to the door, hurried to Houck's stable, hired a hack, and drove hastily to Frederick Junction, where he boarded the first freight train that came along and left for parts unknown.

AN ASSESSOR RESIGNS.

Edwin G. Gilbert has been elected Cashier of the Uniontown Savings Bank, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Jesse T. H. Davis. He has also resigned his position as assessor for Uniontown District. J. Ham. Singer has been appointed in his stead by the County Commissioners.

DEATH OF MOSES SHAW.

Mr. Moses Shaw, one of the oldest and best known citizens of this county, died at his home in Union Bridge on Wednesday evening, aged eighty-eight years. Mr. Shaw had been in the mercantile business in Union Bridge for many years, but retired about twenty years ago. He held a commission as postmaster under several administrations, served a term in the legislature, and was identified in many ways with public affairs in his town. He was noted for uprightness of character and strict integrity. His early life was spent in Taneytown district on what is yet known as the "old Shaw place," now owned George K. Datters. His funeral occurred on Friday afternoon at the Friends' meeting house, Union Bridge.

STATE BAR ASSOCIATION.

A large number of delegates from the various counties in the state met at the Blue Mountain on Wednesday afternoon and formed a State Bar Association. Judge James M. Sherry, of Frederick, Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, was elected president, and a vice-president was taken from each county. Attorney-General Clabaugh is one of the vice-presidents.
The object is reform in the law; to obtain more uniformity among the states in the law upon such subjects as marriage and divorce, the execution of deeds and wills, and in certain branches of mercantile law; to facilitate the administration of justice; to promote a better acquaintance and feeling of friendship among members of the bar in the different parts of the state, and generally to elevate the standard of the profession and the regulation of admission to the bar.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Will be given a brilliant reception at "Antrim" on the 12th.
Attorney-General Clabaugh will entertain the following distinguished guests at "Antrim," on Saturday evening, the 12th: Governor Lowndes, Senator Geo. L. Wellington, Stevenson A. Williams, a prominent attorney of Harford county, and George E. Gaither, Jr., Mr. Clabaugh's Baltimore law partner. While the gentlemen will be here in the capacity of guests, a public reception will be tendered them, which will in all probability be a considerable demonstration, and a number of eloquent addresses are sure to form an important portion of the program.
The Westminster Republican Club, accompanied by the Westminster band will be on hand, as well as the "Taneytown band." The citizens of this district are particularly requested to attend, and aid in giving the noted visitors an old time Taneytown welcome.

REV. GARLAND ACCEPTS.

Rev. Dr. Frank Garland, who was recently elected pastor by Trinity Lutheran congregation of this place, tendered his resignation of his Baltimore city congregation last Sunday, and has formally accepted the call to this place. He will assume charge on October 1st, and may come here, or remove his furniture here, by the 15th, of September, providing the passage can be prepared for his reception by that date. Mr. Garland's congregation received his resignation very reluctantly, as he had the love and support of his whole people.

CLARENCE H. FORREST IN LUCK.

Clarence H. Forrest, son of Mrs. Emma Forrest, Taneytown, who has been the private secretary of Mayor Hooper of Baltimore, was on Friday elected to the honorable position of Secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association. He was not an applicant for the position, but was selected in preference to any of a large list of applicants. The position is worth $2300 a year, and is non-political; consequently it is probable that Mr. Forrest will retain the place for a considerable length of time, as he is eminently qualified.

DEATH OF BROTHER AND SISTER.

Mrs. Adam Motter whose illness was mentioned in the RECORD several weeks ago, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John D. Myers, near Union Bridge, last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Motter had been in failing health for some time, and her death was not unexpected. George W. Motter, the well known bucker of this place, and Mrs. David C. Ott are also children of the deceased. The funeral occurred on Sunday; interment in the Lutheran cemetery this place, Rev. G. W. McSherry officiating.
William Stansbury, of Keyville, a brother-in-law of Josiah Cluts, of this place, died on Saturday at an advanced age. Mr. Stansbury was a brother of Mrs. Adam Motter, who died one day before him; he was a man of sterling character, highly respected in his neighborhood. He was buried on Monday in the Keyville cemetery.

MEETING OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

The School Board was in session on Tuesday last, and was occupied until late in the day with a mass of miscellaneous business.
The contracts of the newly appointed teachers were confirmed. Petitions from the patrons of Union Bridge, Middleboro and Jenkins schools were presented, and the first two asking for the appointment of trustees for their respective schools, the latter for a change of trustees.
The following appointments of trustees were made: At Union Bridge, Messrs John H. Repp, Edward W. Leeds and John Eppley; at Middleboro, Messrs J. Albert Stansbury, J. D. Engel and Thomas O. Otto; at Jenkins, Messrs Columbus A. Conroy and Ambrose Strecker in place of Michael Cleannan and Samuel Flemming, failed to qualify; at Keyville, Messrs Peter Baumgardner, Samuel Fox and Alfred H. Forney.

HON. W. B. BAKER ENDORSED.

The republican county convention to elect delegates to the second district congressional convention met in Westminster on Monday. Dr. J. J. Weaver, of Uniontown, was elected chairman, and J. Edwin Murray, of Franklin, and Louis E. Shriver, of Myers' district, secretaries. Dr. Weaver made an eloquent address endorsing the St. Louis platform, and predicted the election of McKinley and Hobart, and a return to prosperity.
The following delegates were elected to represent Carroll county in the district convention which meets in Baltimore, Sept. 9th: James S. Baer, Nathan Englar, John W. Gill, Charles H. Smith and Marshal S. Selby.

CATCHY CAMPAIGN SONG.

"Gold Is the Standard to Win" is the caption of a patriotic and catchy new campaign song, the words of which were written by Miss Mary Bostwick Shellman, of Westminster, Md., and the music by her sister, Mrs. Fannie S. Pearson, the latter the author of the two step and march, "Cap and Gown," dedicated to the Maryland College class of '96. In her campaign song, Miss Shellman asks American workmen to come out on the side of their champion, and not be deceived by "silver tones." The chorus runs: "Gold, gold, gold, Gold is the standard to win, and the box that will hold American gold is made of American tin," and being repeated affords a good opportunity for enthusiasm for any number of voices.—American.

JEWETT NOMINATED.

Carroll County Falls to Secure the Congressional Nomination.
The second district democratic congressional convention met in Havre de Grace on Wednesday, and nominated George M. Jewett, of Harford county. The candidates before the convention were George M. Jewett, of Harford county; J. Fred C. Talbot, of Baltimore county; Benjamin F. Crouse, of Carroll county; Austin L. Crothers, of Cecil county, and Harold Scarborough, of Harford county.
The result of the convention was a distinct surprise, as it was generally supposed that either Mr. Talbot or Mr. Crouse would be nominated. The contest, although somewhat lengthy, was without any outward display of ill-feeling; and all the candidates except Mr. Crothers were in attendance.
Mr. Talbot had secured the delegates from Baltimore city and Baltimore county, twelve in number, but still lacked two votes of the required majority. Cecil county soon withdrew the name of Mr. Crothers and went to Jewett. The Harford delegation split its five votes, three being cast for Mr. Jewett and two for Mr. Scarborough, but when it was determined that the Talbot forces it abandoned Mr. Scarborough and stood solidly for Mr. Jewett. Carroll county clung to Mr. Crouse until the sixty-second ballot, when, at the request of Mr. Crouse, the five votes of the county were thrown to Mr. Jewett and insured his nomination.
The resolutions passed endorsed the candidacy of Bryan and Sewall, and "unequivocally favors the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 as the only means of restoring confidence and the return of prosperity to our merchants, farmers, manufacturers and laboring classes in this country." The convention adopted the emblem of Jackson and the hickory tree. Mr. Jewett is fifty-one years of age, and has for many years been in favor of free coinage; he is said to be an accomplished speaker and will stump the district.

WESTERN MARYLAND PEACHES.

The Western Maryland Railroad is now handling from twenty to twenty-five car loads of peaches each day, and the season has just gotten fairly under way. The crop in Western Maryland is quite large, of excellent quality, and fair prices are being realized. There are a number of growers in Washington county, and the late varieties, which are principally growing in that region, are just now ripening. The points from which the largest quantities are shipped over the Western Maryland Railroad are Edgemont, Smithsburg and Chewsville, Washington county, and Midvale, Franklin county, Pa.
So far this season, about 150 car loads of peaches have been hauled over the road, consigned about equally to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. Last season the company hauled about 700 car loads, of about 20,000 pounds to the car, and the quantity handled this year is expected to about equal that amount.
The Eastern Shore and Delware crop is about over, and this gives the Western Maryland peaches a good show on the market.

ORPHANS' COURT PROCEEDINGS.

MONDAY, August 31st, 1896.—The last will and testament of Jesse T. H. Davis, deceased, admitted to probate, and letters testamentary granted to Elizabeth Davis.
Samuel F. Bowers and William H. Bowers, executors of David H. Bowers, deceased, returned inventory of goods and chattels and received orders to sell goods and chattels, real estate and notify creditors.
The last will and testament of Sarah Yeilding, deceased, admitted to probate, and letters testamentary granted to Adam P. Yingling.
Frank P. Roof, executor of Alexander Fowble, deceased, settled first account.
TUESDAY, September 1st, 1896.—The last will and testament of Samuel Sellers, deceased, admitted to probate. Distribution among creditors of John T. Bond, deceased, filed.
Distribution among the creditors of Harvey E. Studt, deceased, filed.
(The Orphans' Court will not be in session on Monday next, being Labor Day and a legal holiday. The Court will be in session on Tuesday.)

RAILROAD CONTEST IN FREDERICK.

There has been quite a contest between the Pennsylvania Railroad and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in Frederick for the freight business, ever since the introduction of the excellent passenger service on the Frederick division, between Frederick and Baltimore, several weeks ago. The merchants have shown their appreciation to such an extent that it has become necessary for the Pennsylvania Railroad to put on an extra freight train. The Baltimore and Ohio Company on Tuesday abrogated an agreement which has been in force between the two companies in Frederick for a number of years. Each company had agreed to transfer the other's cars from one company's tracks to the other for one dollar for every car hauled. Now the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad refuses to transfer the cars at all. This proves of great inconvenience to the coal and lumber men who are located along the Baltimore and Ohio tracks, and who receive their coal from Pennsylvania.
The republicans carried Vermont on Tuesday by the largest majority ever given in the state. The republican vote was out in full, while many democrats staid at home, and others voted the republican ticket on account of dissatisfaction with the Chicago platform. The majority is nearly 40,000.
Assistant Atty-General Thomas of the Postoffice Department, holds that it is unlawful to send a letter by express or otherwise outside of the postal route was out in full, while many democrats staid at home, and others voted the republican ticket on account of dissatisfaction with the Chicago platform. The majority is nearly 40,000.

BRIDGEPORT.

The long continued drought has caused many wells and springs to be short in their supply of water; Cattle Branch, a stream that crosses the plank road a short distance west of this place, is totally dry.
Mrs. S. Clinegan, of Taneytown, and Mrs. M. Jerome, Myers, of near Taneytown, were the guests of Mrs. J. Oliver Kootz this week.
Mr. John Fuss and his aunt, Mrs. Peeser, of Thurmont, spent Wednesday with A. Smith and family.
Mrs. M. E. Correll, and Mrs. Emma Baumgardner and daughter, Annie, spent Thursday with Mrs. Fleming, near Pops Hill.
The public school at the Ridge, taught by E. F. Smith, opened on September 1st, with 23 pupils.

DIED.

Obituaries, poetry and resolutions charged for at the rate of five cents per line. The regular death notices published free of charge.
STANBURY.—On August 29th, at Keyville, William Stanbury, aged 78 years, 3 months and 4 days.
MOTTER.—On August 28th, near Union Bridge, Mrs. Rebecca A. Motter in her 81st year.
SHAW.—On Sept. 2nd, in Union Bridge, Mr. Moses Shaw, aged 88 years.
MYERS.—On August 31, at Pleasant Valley, Mr. E. Jerome Myers, aged 37 years, 7 months and 28 days.

PALMER AND BUCKNER.

Nominated by the Gold Democrats at Indianapolis.
The convention of the National Democratic party met in Indianapolis on Wednesday, and was called to order at noon by United States Senator Palmer of Illinois. Ex Governor Flower, of New York, was made temporary chairman and made an address. At 4.30 the convention again assembled and the committees reported. Senator Carey, of Louisiana, was made permanent chairman, and made a speech. After further speaking the convention adjourned for the day.
Fourty-one states were represented, and while there was not the immense crowd, or the great enthusiasm expressed in the way of noise that characterized the St. Louis and Chicago conventions, yet it was an inspiring scene and very gratifying to the friends of the cause. The character of the delegates shows beyond question the great strength of the movement, and that those who are in it are not fighting for a mere dead end; namely, the reorganization of the democratic party upon what seems to them to be the teachings of the most beneficial use of both together can be ensured only by the adoption of the former as a standard of monetary measure and the maintenance of silver at a parity with gold by its limited coinage under such safeguards of law. * * * We insist upon the maintenance of the gold standard and of the parity there-with of every dollar issued by the government, and are firmly opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, or the compulsory purchase of silver bullion."
The second days attendance was much larger than the first, and when the nominating speeches were made the hall was packed to its utmost. The feature of the day was a speech by Ex-Congressman Win. D. Bynum who had charge of the campaign, and has been the most prominent man in the movement for the last several years. It was the universal sentiment that it was not the intention of the new party to elect McKinley, but that his election would mean the loss of the free silver doctrine committed the party to free coinage. The Maryland delegates are much elated over the work of the convention, and for putting up an electoral ticket in the state.

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Communications have been received from Kump and Keyville, which cannot be used. Neither of them contained anything objectionable, but we must adhere to our rule not to publish anything unless we know who it comes from. Unsigned letters invariably find their way to the waste basket.—Ed.)
COPPERVILLE.
The farmers are busily engaged in cutting off corn, which is dying away very fast on account of the very dry weather. In fact it is almost all that they can do, the ground not being in a condition to work. If this kind of weather continues long, it will be almost impossible to get the wheat crop sown in proper condition. The waters are getting very low, and some people are now hauling water.
The election officers of this place were summoned to Westminster on Tuesday last, for the purpose of qualifying and receiving instructions in regard to their duties on election day. Upon their arrival at Westminster they found that all the judges, clerks and registrars had also been summoned for the same purpose. Although there was quite a crowd it was a quiet and orderly one. The issues of the day were scarcely mentioned in our hearing, each one seeming to recognize the fact that about every other man belonged to the opposite political party. All who wished, carried with them to their homes a copy of the election laws and will no doubt be well posted by the day of election.
Your correspondent, in company with Mr. Samuel Galt, of Copperville, visited the Granger's Picnic, at William's grove, last week. The machinery department was not as full as usual, but we are sorry to say that the space left vacant by the absent exhibitors, was all occupied by fakirs. It is strange thing to us that people will economize in the necessities of life and at the same time encourage all kinds of fraud.
On our way to and from the picnic we stopped off at Harrisburg with Prof. Garner. We found him and his family all well. He was busily engaged in moving his school furniture with another building, which will be much better in every respect. His prospects for business the coming year are reasonably good. On our way home we met Henry Clay Dern, of Altoona, one of the proprietors of the weekly and daily Tribune of that place. He was on his way to Middleboro to attend to some business of his brother's, the late Major Dern. We found him quite good company and checked full of information on almost any subject.

EMMITSBURG.

The remains of Mrs. Harry Miller, daughter of Mr. Simon Roddy, were brought from Baltimore, on Tuesday morning, and interred in Mt. St. Mary's College cemetery.
On Wednesday afternoon, the dwelling house owned by Mr. Nicholas Baker, but occupied by Mr. McLane, was totally destroyed by fire; nothing in the house was saved. The origin of the fire was from sparks from a fire built in the yard. Mr. McLane is the cook at Mt. St. Mary's College. No insurance on house or furniture. Died at his home in St. Joseph, Mo., Mr. John Hundley, father of Mrs. Harry Beem, of this place.
Miss Bessie Motter, of Frederick, and Misses Anna and Virginia Motter, of Taneytown, are the guests of Mrs. E. R. Zimmerman.
Miss Amanda Gilson made a short visit to Mrs. E. R. Zimmerman.

LINWOOD.

September has come to us with cool nights, and days delightful, but so very dry. We hear the exclamation from every one, "Oh! if we could only have rain!" Wells are going dry, while creeks and brooks are very low; now and then we have a wind storm that whisks the accumulated dust in our eyes and on our noses.
Farmers are busy now cutting their corn off and preparing the ground, that is burnt through, for seeding. Garden vegetation is suffering severely from the continued drought.
City folks who have been spending the hot months in the country, are now returning to their homes; there is still a party of 12 lingering at "Linwood Shade," but a few more days and that pleasant company will have disappeared.
Mr. John E. Senseney and wife and Miss Adelle Senseney, spent a few days at Atlantic City.
Miss May Oiler, of Waynesboro, spent several days with her friend, Mrs. Elsie Griffin.
Linwood Sunday school will hold their festival in Winters' woods, on Saturday the 5th. A good time is expected, as they are always up-to-date in their undertakings.

BRIDGEPORT.

The long continued drought has caused many wells and springs to be short in their supply of water; Cattle Branch, a stream that crosses the plank road a short distance west of this place, is totally dry.
Mrs. S. Clinegan, of Taneytown, and Mrs. M. Jerome, Myers, of near Taneytown, were the guests of Mrs. J. Oliver Kootz this week.
Mr. John Fuss and his aunt, Mrs. Peeser, of Thurmont, spent Wednesday with A. Smith and family.
Mrs. M. E. Correll, and Mrs. Emma Baumgardner and daughter, Annie, spent Thursday with Mrs. Fleming, near Pops Hill.
The public school at the Ridge, taught by E. F. Smith, opened on September 1st, with 23 pupils.

Harney.

Mr. Samuel C. Shoemaker is making preparations to have a new cipher built, and also to have new pavements put down around his house.
Some time ago, when we had the subject of incorporation up, we received many promises that improvements would be made, and of course we supposed that every person who made these promises meant that they should be fulfilled, and we certainly expected it.
Remember citizens, that fall is coming on and winter will soon be here, with its mud and bad sidewalks, and it should be remembered that now is the time to work. We are waiting patiently to see who are going to make good their promises, or whether no man's word can be relied upon.
On Tuesday evening, Mr. Ed. Myers' horse ran away and badly damaged his buggy; the horse was hitched at the Central Hotel and how it got looseed no one knows. The horse and buggy was found on Wednesday morning, at Mr. Martin Hess's a short distance from this place.
Mr. Howard Stoner moved into Mr. A. Degroff's house, in this place. Mr. Degroff recently had the house remodeled, papered and painted, and it is now a very cosy little dwelling.
Mr. Charles Stonesifer will open up a cigar box factory in the near future; this will be a great convenience to our manufacturers in this place.
Mrs. Dr. Bush is visiting friends in this place. Mrs. Bush is always a welcome visitor in our town, and we are glad to notice that she is looking well.

GAMBER.

Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Peeling entertained the Ladies Aid society at their hospitable home near Gamber, on Thursday, August 27th. The devotional exercises were led by Mr. Wm. Harden. After the regular business of the society was transacted, those present engaged in social conversation until invited to the dining room, where a table laden with everything to tempt the appetite was found. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Peeling and family, Rev. S. W. Coe, wife and daughter, Mrs. Branning, Mrs. Mitchell, of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Barnes, Mrs. A. M. Gamber, Mrs. Stocksdale, Mrs. Lamotte, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Williams, Mr. Lemuel Ward, Mrs. Bush and daughter, and Miss Fannie Hill.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler and Mr. Joseph Parrish, who have been visiting friends in Ohio and Kansas, returned this week, much pleased with their trip.
Mrs. Alice Arnold, of Baltimore, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Haines, of this place.
Quite a number of persons in our village are suffering with Larrigue. There will be a class reunion at Providence church, next Sabbath morning. Everybody is invited to attend.
A couple of pugilistic young men of our town had quite a lively set on Saturday last, during a game of base ball. It is indeed a shame that young men will so forget themselves as to punch each other's heads about a game of ball.
Mrs. Ellen Grim, of Day, F. O., has been visiting the family of her brother, Mr. Thomas Paynter, also her aunt, Mrs. A. M. Gamber, and others.

DOUBLE PIPE CREEK.

There will be a festival held by the young people of this place, on Saturday evening, September 5th. Owing to the dampness of the former grounds, it will be held near the depot, which will be much more pleasant for all who may attend. The Double Pipe Creek and Graceland bands will be present, and furnish plenty of music. The proceeds are for the benefit of the band.
Mr. and Mrs. Kinler, of Williamsport, Md., are visiting Miss Clara Young.
Miss Lillie Birely, of Frederick, is visiting friends in this vicinity.
Miss Winters Diller spent several days visiting in Thurmont.
Mrs. James Warren is visiting Mr. Warren's parents, near Westminster.
Quite a number of our young folks attended a lawn party held near Woodsboro, on last Tuesday evening. Mr. David Whitmore and wife, of Westminster, who have been visiting here, have returned home.

SEVERAL OTHERS.

Secretary Hoke Smith retired from the cabinet on Tuesday, and has closed up all his affairs preparatory to the arrival of his successor, ex-Governor Francis.
The republican primary election for this district was held in town hall, on Saturday last, resulting in the election of Nathan Englar, Thos. Forney, W. S. Wolfe, H. D. Fowble and C. T. Hiltabide as delegates to the county convention at Westminster on Monday last.
Mr. Calvert Stein, of Baltimore is visiting his brother, Mr. C. H. Stein. The W. M. R. R. Co., has reduced its employees at this place to 8 hours per day, instead of 9 hours as formerly. Some of them are only allowed to work 5 hours per day.
Mr. H. L. Stein has moved his meat store to the Clary building on Main St.
Mr. Samuel Tyler has moved with his family to Hagerstown and Mr. Linwood Stephens has moved to the dwelling vacated by Mr. Tyler.
The Choral Society will resume meetings again next Tuesday evening, the 8th. Every member should be present.
Mr. M. F. Smith is opening a store in the Rinehart building on Elger St.
Mrs. L. A. Fowble, visited friends in Baltimore, this week.
Mr. Moses Shaw, an aged citizen of this place, quietly passed away on Wednesday evening. Funeral takes place on Friday afternoon, at 1 p. m. The Fire Company's fair and festival, which closed on Tuesday evening last, was quite a success in every way.

TYRONC.

The Reformed congregation of Baust church held its harvest home services on last Sunday, August 30th, at 10 o'clock a. m. Rev. K. O. Spess and preached an appropriate sermon on the occasion; the music was rendered by the Reformed church choir with May Harman at the organ, and G. C. Harman director; opening anthem, "The Master's Call," Hymns "Come ye thankful people, Come," "Sing to the Lord most high," and "Praise to God immortal, praise." The weather was all that could be desired and brought out a large congregation of persons; the church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and elicited praise for those who were instrumental in bringing it about.
There are a few silver bugs in this locality, but are the 2nd. of November. I am fearful they will be smothered by the gold bugs, who are numerically the strongest by considerable odds.

MAIDENSVILLE.

The remains of Guy, son of Samuel and Mary Pittinger, of Woodsboro, were interred in the graveyard at Winters' church, Sunday, Rev. G. W. Bachman officiated, assisted by a minister from Woodsboro.
The net proceeds of the Winters' Sunday school picnic was $15. The speaking was good, the music excellent and the crowd large. Linwood Sunday school holds their festival at the same place to day (Saturday).
Mr. Murray B. Fisher, of Waynesboro, Pa., is home on a visit.
Mr. S. M. Benedict had been supplying the neighborhood with excellent mountain peaches.
Mrs. Jesse Eckman and daughter, Carrie, were the guests of Mrs. G. Waltz, one day this week.
Mrs. Elizabeth Waltz spent Monday night at the home of her son, George H. Waltz.
Mrs. A. Warner and daughter, Grace, were visiting Mrs. E. Fisher on Wednesday.

SILVER RUN.

Some of our farmers have started to cut corn, which is an average fair crop.
Preparations for fall sowing are delayed on account of ground being too dry and hard to get in order.
Work on the new school house is being rapidly pushed ahead, and it will soon be finished.
Martin Baehle raised his new barn on Tuesday.
Mrs. Calvert Hawk, of Walkersville, was visiting at Lucy Erb's, several days last week.
Most of our sportsmen were out after squirrels on Tuesday.
By the filing with the civil service commission of detailed lists of employees under the War Department, about 10,000 of such employees on Tuesday passed under the protection of the civil service law. These include 5,000 employees in the engineering department now working on fortifications and river and harbor projects, and many hundred workmen in the employ of the quartermaster's department, all engaged outside of Washington. This action is taken in conformity with the presidential order of May 6 last. So broad is the extension of the rules that in the entire force of the Secretary's office but two confidential employes are excepted from appointment after competitive examination.

Union Bridge.

Mr. H. T. Holtz and two sons visited his parents this week.
Mrs. W. Devibiss, of Baltimore spent several days with her mother, this week.
Mr. W. J. Haines won the gun which our Fire company raffled this week.
The republican primary election for this district was held in town hall, on Saturday last, resulting in the election of Nathan Englar, Thos. Forney, W. S. Wolfe, H. D. Fowble and C. T. Hiltabide as delegates to the county convention at Westminster on Monday last.
Mr. Calvert Stein, of Baltimore is visiting his brother, Mr. C. H. Stein. The W. M. R. R. Co., has reduced its employees at this place to 8 hours per day, instead of 9 hours as formerly. Some of them are only allowed to work 5 hours per day.
Mr. H. L. Stein has moved his meat store to the Clary building on Main St.
Mr. Samuel Tyler has moved with his family to Hagerstown and Mr. Linwood Stephens has moved to the dwelling vacated by Mr. Tyler.
The Choral Society will resume meetings again next Tuesday evening, the 8th. Every member should be present.
Mr. M. F. Smith is opening a store in the Rinehart building on Elger St.
Mrs. L. A. Fowble, visited friends in Baltimore, this week.
Mr. Moses Shaw, an aged citizen of this place, quietly passed away on Wednesday evening. Funeral takes place on Friday afternoon, at 1 p. m. The Fire Company's fair and festival, which closed on Tuesday evening last, was quite a success in every way.

TYRONC.

The Reformed congregation of Baust church held its harvest home services on last Sunday, August 30th, at 10 o'clock a. m. Rev. K. O. Spess and preached an appropriate sermon on the occasion; the music was rendered by the Reformed church choir with May Harman at the organ, and G. C. Harman director; opening anthem, "The Master's Call," Hymns "Come ye thankful people, Come," "Sing to the Lord most high," and "Praise to God immortal, praise." The weather was all that could be desired and brought out a large congregation of persons; the church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and elicited praise for those who were instrumental in bringing it about.
There are a few silver bugs in this locality, but are the 2nd. of November. I am fearful they will be smothered by the gold bugs, who are numerically the strongest by considerable odds.

MAIDENSVILLE.

The remains of Guy, son of Samuel and Mary Pittinger, of Woodsboro, were interred in the graveyard at Winters' church, Sunday, Rev. G. W. Bachman officiated, assisted by a minister from Woodsboro.
The net proceeds of the Winters' Sunday school picnic was $15. The speaking was good, the music excellent and the crowd large. Linwood Sunday school holds their festival at the same place to day (Saturday).
Mr. Murray B. Fisher, of Waynesboro, Pa., is home on a visit.
Mr. S. M. Benedict had been supplying the neighborhood with excellent mountain peaches.
Mrs. Jesse Eckman and daughter, Carrie, were the guests of Mrs. G. Waltz, one day this week.
Mrs. Elizabeth Waltz spent Monday night at the home of her son, George H. Waltz.
Mrs. A. Warner and daughter, Grace, were visiting Mrs. E. Fisher on Wednesday.

SILVER RUN.

Some of our farmers have started to cut corn, which is an average fair crop.
Preparations for fall sowing are delayed on account of ground being too dry and hard to get in order.
Work on the new school house is being rapidly pushed ahead, and it will soon be finished.
Martin Baehle raised his new barn on Tuesday.
Mrs. Calvert Hawk, of Walkersville, was visiting at Lucy Erb's, several days last week.
Most of our sportsmen were out after squirrels on Tuesday.
By the filing with the civil service commission of detailed lists of employees under the War Department, about 10,000 of such employees on Tuesday passed under the protection of the civil service law. These include 5,000 employees in the engineering department now working on fortifications and river and harbor projects, and many hundred workmen in the employ of the quartermaster's department, all engaged outside of Washington. This action is taken in conformity with the presidential order of May 6 last. So broad is the extension of the rules that in the entire force of the Secretary's office but two confidential employes are excepted from appointment after competitive examination.

The Carroll Record.

A Weekly Newspaper. INDEPENDENT IN POLITICS.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY AT TANEYTOWN, MD.

BY THE CARROLL RECORD PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS: A. H. ZOLLICKOFFER, DR. G. T. MOTTER, DR. F. H. REISS, DR. C. BIRNIE, G. W. BIRNIE, C. A. ARNOLD, DR. C. BIRNIE, P. B. ENGLAR.

P. B. ENGLAR, EDITOR AND MANAGER.

TERMS $1.00 PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted under contract at the rate of $2.50 per inch per annum.

FIVE JOB WORK a specialty, at lowest rates. Samples and estimates furnished on request.

CORRESPONDENTS must avoid personal reflections, of a non-sensational character, and only make statements which can be easily verified.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be continued, as a rule, after the time for which the paper has been paid, has expired.

ADVERTISEMENTS and contributions for the issue of the paper should be sent in by Tuesday evening to be guaranteed insertion.

ENTERED AT TANEYTOWN POSTOFFICE AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 5th, 1896.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT contributes to the September Review of Reviews a characteristic study of "The Three Vice-Presidential Candidates and What They Represent."

This is an age in which the value of education is strikingly apparent. There is scarcely a single occupation in which mere muscular power is sufficient to produce prosperity, and not one in which an education would not more easily bring the same measure of prosperity.

THE SEPTEMBER Cosmopolitan, as if to show what a magazine can do, gives four complete stories in this single number, by such noted authors as Frances Courtenay Baylor, Maurice Thompson, Gertrude Hall, and John J. A. Beckel.

It is probable that our present system of voting will be amended before many years, as the multiplication of parties makes it cumbersome, as well as difficult for at least a considerable minority to understand.

Our System of Voting.

The official secret ballot—that is, a ballot to be had only within the polling room—is all right, and should not seem to be any good reason why a voter who desires to vote a straight ticket should be confused by being compelled to wrestle with a sheet of paper a yard square, when a single strip could contain the names of those for whom he desires to vote.

The Young Man as a Citizen.

The Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, D. D., treats of "The Young Man as a Citizen" in his article in September Ladies' Home Journal. In defining the duties of citizenship he says: "A citizen has no more right to be neglectful of the interests of the civic whole in which he is a member."

Whenever, under the guise of "fair elections," the voter is unnecessarily hampered with "red tape" and ceremony, it is time to halt and inquire whether the law is not taking something from that right of suffrage inalienably belonging to all American citizens.

The Improvement Association.

The time is coming for the revival of evening meetings of various kinds, among which is the "Taneytown Improvement Association." This association was formed late last spring—too late to do much good—but the members at least gained an idea of what might be done by and through it, and we hope to see it revived this fall, and carried successfully through the winter.

we feel sure that a closer acquaintance will reveal the fact that it is just what we want here.

The organization may, or may not, have great things to do, in a public way—that remains to be seen—but it can, and should, in a social way, be a great success.

These associations, as has been previously stated in the Record, have been formed in many towns like ours, and larger, and have been found to be of great benefit.

Education a Necessity.

The man who must gather all his information from overhearing street corner conversations, and must have his letters read and written by others, is poorly off indeed.

It is not wholly a matter of economy, but one of education, as well, which explains the reason why some persons get along well and some do not, and it is not simply watching the "back door," but all the doors.

An uneducated person is not even safe in these times in regard to the advice of his more scholarly neighbor, because scarcely a question of importance arises which is not hedged about with conditions almost impossible to fully explain.

In a recent letter to the manufacturers Mr. W. F. Benjamin, editor of the Spectator, Rushford, N. Y., says: "It may be a pleasure to you to know the high esteem in which Chamberlain's medicines are held by the people of your own state, where they must be best known."

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

All persons in need of dental work should give me a call as I will save them money. Teeth extracted with little or no pain. The very best sets of teeth only $10, and guaranteed for five years.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

ruffians. A husband's love has its sphere of service at all times and in all situations. So has patriotism. Shooting our National enemies is only a small and accidental part of the matter.

Lord Salisbury's Proposal about Venezuela.

The question discussed between Mr. Olney on one side and Lord Salisbury on the other divides itself naturally into two parts. The first is the question of the settlement of the dispute about the Venezuelan frontier.

HARNEY CIDER FACTORY!

Having just put in a new Hydraulic Cider Press, with a capacity of 100 barrels a day, I am prepared to Manufacture Cider, at reasonable rates, to all who will favor me with a call.

Andrew Stonesifer, 18,7,3m Harney, Md.

Sherman Gilds, HEADQUARTERS FOR Good Fresh CANDIES, and Fresh Groceries!

CANNED GOODS, such as Lima Beans, Corn, Peas and Tomatoes, 3 cans for 25c; also Canned Water Crackers, 5c.

Ladies' Friend Baking Powder 5c; with Teaspoon given with every can. Raisins, 5c; a pound; Syrup and Coal Oil always in stock.

ICE CREAM by the quart or gallon; also made to order in any flavor. All kinds of TEMPERANCE DRINKS.

Zollieckoffer's, Roberts', and Myers' Flour; Robert's Corn Meal.

BUTTERMILK SOAP, 10 Cents. I have now on hand a nice line of Cigars and Tobacco; also Lamp Chimneys.

SHERMAN GILDS, Near Railroad, TANEYTOWN, MD.

MODEL BAKERY, TANEYTOWN, MD. Koontz & Wagner, Prop'r's.

Look out for us; we are in the push, and can sell goods as low as the lowest; we defy competition.

FRESH BREAD, CAKES, ROLLS, PRETZELS, &c. MASON'S BEST CRACKERS! A Full Line of FRESH GROCERIES.

Confectioneries, Oranges, Bananas Lemons, Dried Fruits of all kinds Canned Goods, Soap of various kinds including the well known "Sunlight Soap" which has a wide reputation. Lamp Goods and Fixtures.

+ FLOURS + of all kinds, including the well known brands of Alpha, Rose, West's, Roberts', and two excellent brands of Spring wheat, known as the Wonder and Cyclone.

Rice, Salt, Tobacco, Cigars and Paper Cigarettes; Sardines, Salmon and Canned Oysters. We are again prepared to serve our patrons with MILK SHAKE, POP, LEMONADE, and other solid refreshments.

Eggs and Lard taken in exchange. Prices low and ever.

Thereby announce that I have recently located in Taneytown for the manufacture of CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, Daytons, Phaetons, and everything in this line. Factory work will also be kept on hand, and it shall be my aim to supply the demand for all classes of work.

All Work Guaranteed. Special attention given to Repairing.

Give me a trial and I will convince you that my Prices and Work will be found satisfactory.

James H. Reindollar, TANEYTOWN, MD. Shop back of Lutheran church. 8-149-ly

THE TANEYTOWN SAVINGS BANK.

Does a General Banking Business. Loans Money on Real or Personal Security. Discounts Notes. Collections and remittances promptly made.

INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS HENRY GALT, Treas.

W. W. CRAPSTER, Pres.

DIRECTORS: SAMUEL STONE, W. JESSE ROBERTS, JOSHUA KOTTZ, H. D. MEHRING, JAMES G. GALT, JOHN A. CRAPSTER, T. H. ECKENRODE, CALVIN T. FINGER, W. W. CRAPSTER, HENRY GALT.

8-15-ly G. W. DEMMITT, Dentist.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Grain, Lumber, Coal, Hay, Straw, Salt, Peas, Cement, FERTILIZERS.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

G. W. DEMMITT, DENTIST.

Taneytown, - - - Maryland

YOUNT'S 5 cents

for a 2-quart, Covered TIN SCHOOL BUCKET, worth 10c.

2 cents for the largest size JELLY TUMBLER, with Tin Lid; worth 8c.

5 cents for One Bottle of CROW SHOE DRESSING, worth 10c.

79 cents for a pair of Youth's Russet, Spring Heel LACE SHOES, worth $1.25.

$1.29 for a pair of Ladies' Russet High Cut Lace Shoes, worth $2.00 per pair.

We have more goods than we want—you may not have as many. Our low prices will help to equalize our possessions.

This month the whole store is a vast sea of Bargains—the advertised Prices are only the spray.

F. M. YOUNT, Taneytown, Md.

TANEYTOWN Roller Mills

Manufacture and have constantly on hand THEIR SUPERIOR BRANDS OF FLOUR made from selected wheat, and very choice

BRAN AND MIDDINGS. Highest cash prices paid for grain.

ZOLLIECKOFFER & BRO. 15, 9, 94, 1f

GENTS' Gold Filled Watch, Warranted, Only $9.00.

Gents' Nickel Watch, with Chain, complete only $2.50.

Have you seen them yet? H. E. SLAGENHAUP, Taneytown, Md. JEWELER

E. Kemper, BUTCHER AND DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF MEATS & LIVE STOCK.

TANEYTOWN, MD.

GEO. H. BIRNIE & CO, BANKERS, TANEYTOWN, MD.

Discount Business Notes. Receive Deposits subject to check. Make collections on all points.

Savings Bank Department. Interest paid on Time Deposits.

SPECIAL RATES— to Weekly and Monthly Depositors

Notice to Creditors. This is to give notice that the subscribers have obtained from the Orphan's Court of Carroll county, in Maryland, letters testamentary on the Estate of DAVID H. BOWERS.

late of Carroll county, deceased. All persons having claims against the deceased are warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof legally authenticated, to the subscribers on or before the 5th day of March, 1897; they may otherwise by law be excluded from all benefit of said estate.

Given under our hands this 5th day of September, 1896.

SAMUEL F. BOWERS, WILLIAM H. BOWERS, Executors.

Sept. 5-4t

Closing Out CASH SALE!

Johnnie, get your Gun

McC. Davidson's

A $2.25 Gun, for... $1.09

A $2.75 " " " " " " $1.87

A $3.50 " " " " " " $2.48

A $5.00 " " " " " " $3.39

A $6.00 " " " " " " $4.92

A $12.00 " " " " " " $8.62

A $15.00 " " " " " " $11.93

A $16.00 " " " " " " $12.13

A 38-caliber Winchester 16-shot Repeating Rifle, for... $33.00

10-caliber Loaded Shells... 25c a box.

14-caliber Loaded Shells... 25c a box.

Shot... 25c a pound.

Gun Wads, No. 10, 11, 14, per box, 8c

Loading Tools, 20c a set; worth 40c.

Nails! Nails! 16 to 1.

10d Wire Nails, per pound... 3c

13d " " " " " " " " 3c

30d Wire Nails, keg, $2.50; 2c a lb.

4d Slatting Nails, per pound... 3c

4d and larger, Wire Nails, per lb, 3c

Wrought Nails, per pound... 3c

Cut Nails, per pound... 3c

30d Cut Nails, per keg... $1.85

Mrs. Potts' Irons, 75cts. per Set.

LEATHER. Calfskin, per pound... 70c.

Upper, " " " " " " 40c.

Kip, " " " " " " 55c.

White Sole, per lb... 28c.

Harness, per lb... 26c.

Corn Hooks, 15, 18 and 23c

Rubber Drill Tubes, each, 15c

Drill Points or Shovels, 8c

Bar Iron, $1.60 per 100 lbs.

1 1/2 and 1 3/4 by 1/4 Steel Tire, 1 3/4cts per pound.

Sash Weights, licts. per lb.

All other goods sold at as Low Prices as above mentioned, in order to close out my entire Hardware Stock at once, for Cash, regardless of cost.

McC. Davidson, TANEYTOWN, MD.

Store for Rent!

Stock and Fixtures for Sale.

$3000 worth of Goods

Clothing, Dry Goods, Hats and Notions. Boots and Shoes, must be sold within the next thirty days, even if at HALF PRICE, on account of going out of business.

GOODS OF ALL KINDS, Light and Heavy Weights.

Remember, when we leave, you will have to pay the same old High Prices. Now is the time to save money, when you can. If you miss it now, you will miss it—you will never have such an opportunity again. Therefore, all should come in and buy what goods you may need, even if for the future, so that you will have something to make you think of the firm of

C. SILK & CO. TANEYTOWN, MD.

N. B. Parties who are indebted to the firm, or to whom the firm is indebted, must call at once and settle.

C. SILK & CO.

J. FRANK WEANT, COMMISSION MERCHANT.

Butter, Eggs, Potatoes Apples, Onions, Poultry, &c.

Potatoes in Car Lots a Specialty. Personal Attention to consignments.

C. & F. Telephone, No. 1396.

1006 HILLEN STREET, BALTIMORE, MD.

Near Hillen Station, W. M. R. R. 25, 26, 27, 28

Old exchanges, in bundles of 100, only 10c., at the RECORD office.

Elementary and High School.

FOR BOTH SEXES.

EDWARD REISLER, A. M., Principal.

LEILA M. REISLER, A. B., Assistant.

Prepares students for COLLEGE, BUSINESS AND TEACHING.

Location pleasant and healthful. Boarding in the town at reasonable prices. School tickets on railroad at low rates.

THIRTIETH YEAR opens Monday, September 7th.

For Catalogues address the PRINCIPAL, Union Bridge, Md. 25-7-9-3m

A Little Late, BUT Still They Go!

What we mean by this, is, we have again filled up our stock with the Finest Lot of

Summer Dress Goods

we have had this season. It is a little late, but our trade demands it, and we are selling them every day.

Come and see the NEW LINES! We know you will be pleased.

SUSPENDERS. We have a big lot of Sample Suspenders. You can take your pick for 10 cents a pair.

Peaches and Raisins. We are now selling the Finest Peaches we have had this season, at 5 cts. per pound, but, these are about the last we can get for this money.

White and Brown Sugar. After to-day we will sell good Brown Sugar at 4c to 4 1/2c per pound. White Sugar, 5c per pound, or 5c by the barrel.

Glass Jars. Are you in need of any Glass Jars? We are now offering them at 5c, 6c, and 8c per dozen. These goods were bought early, and that is why we can sell them at these figures. If we had to buy now, they would cost from two to three dollars a gross more.

Q. & Q. Tobacco, 20c lb. It is going fast. When

COUNTY DIRECTORY.

Court Officers. (Jury terms held in Westminster, 2nd Monday in May and November; non-jury, 2nd Monday in February and August.)

JURORS—Hon. Chas. B. Roberts, Chief and Resident Judge, Hon. James Leavelle and Hon. Isaac T. Jones Associate Judges.

CLERK OF THE COURT—Benjamin F. Crouse. CHIEF—Gershum Huff. AUDITOR—J. E. Baumgartner.

ORPHANS' COURT meets in the Court House in Westminster, every Monday and Tuesday, and daily during jury terms of Court.

REGISTRAR OF WILL—George M. Parke. ORPHANS' COURT—Jacob Rinehart, William F. Fritzel, Albert Schaeffer.

STATES ATTORNEY—J. Milton Reifsnider. SHERIFF—J. Oliver Murray.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS—John H. Stem, David Stoner, Jesse Lemon. COUNTY TREASURER—Alfred T. Buckingham.

SURVEYOR—William A. Reop. SUPERVISORS OF ELECTION—Howard F. Schaeffer, Charles H. Sapp, Charles V. Wantz.

Legislature. SENATOR—Dr. J. W. Hering. HOUSES OF DELEGATES—Charles H. Smith, Charles J. H. Genter, Dr. Clotworthy Birnie, William F. Cover.

TANEYTOWN DIST. NOTARY PUBLIC—Dr. F. H. Seiss. TAX COLLECTOR—W. W. Crapster.

Home and Farm.

Original articles solicited for this department on any subject relating to home comforts, health, or social, moral, or general character.

Information Wanted. AS YOU have frequently requested communications for the "Home" department, I venture to send you a few queries which I would like to have answered.

Where can I get butter without lumps in it, and why is it that there is no short haired butter?

Legislature. SENATOR—Dr. J. W. Hering. HOUSES OF DELEGATES—Charles H. Smith, Charles J. H. Genter, Dr. Clotworthy Birnie, William F. Cover.

TANEYTOWN DIST. NOTARY PUBLIC—Dr. F. H. Seiss. TAX COLLECTOR—W. W. Crapster.

Magistrates—A. F. Orndorff, Henry Wilt, John T. Fogle. CONSTABLE, B. S. Miller.

REGISTRARS—Thomas D. Thomson, J. V. Eckenrode. Town Officers.

BURGESS—H. D. Moberg. COMMISSIONERS—Dr. G. T. Mottler, Edward Kemper, W. Jesse Roberts, Joshua Kuntz, E. K. Reaver.

BA LIFF and TAX COLLECTOR—B. S. Miller. Church Notices.

Presbyterian Church—Commencing on the first of April, preaching on the first three Sabbaths in the month at 2:30 p. m., and on the fourth Sabbath at 10:30 a. m.

Horticultural Notes.

Like all other kinds of farm products, the fruit crop has not prospered in very large profits this season.

When farmers learn to cultivate and fertilize their orchards just as they do grain crops they will find them vigorous and producing bountifully.

Don't cultivate the small fruits too late in the season, as new growth will put out, to be killed by the cold weather next winter.

When to dispose of the potato crop is a question that is already troubling the farmer.

How to Make a Stained Glass Window. If the artistic and thrifty housewife will save the colored glass bottles that find their way into her house and put them to use in the following manner,

How to Make Creamed Mushrooms. Drain off the liquor from the mushrooms and place in a bowl to be used for the sauce.

How to Use Old Linen. Tablecloths that are much worn in the center will often have edges that are rather shabby.

How to Make Rose Jars. Put a layer of petals of any fragrant variety of rose in the bottom of a jar.

Now It Is "Bicycle Teeth." It may be something peculiar to the eastern climate, to the dust of the eastern roads or to some peculiarity about the eastern method of riding,

WANTED—AN IDEA. Who can think of a thing to patent? Protect your ideas, they may bring you wealth.

HOW TO DRINK WATER.

Physicians say that too little fluid is taken, rather than too much, and the great benefit derived from treatment at mineral springs is often quite as much due to the amount as to the kind of water.

Many diseases are directly due to too great concentration of the fluids of the body and are to be counteracted by the imbibition of large quantities, for a time at least.

How to Make a Stained Glass Window. If the artistic and thrifty housewife will save the colored glass bottles that find their way into her house and put them to use in the following manner,

How to Make Creamed Mushrooms. Drain off the liquor from the mushrooms and place in a bowl to be used for the sauce.

How to Use Old Linen. Tablecloths that are much worn in the center will often have edges that are rather shabby.

How to Make Rose Jars. Put a layer of petals of any fragrant variety of rose in the bottom of a jar.

Now It Is "Bicycle Teeth." It may be something peculiar to the eastern climate, to the dust of the eastern roads or to some peculiarity about the eastern method of riding,

WANTED—AN IDEA. Who can think of a thing to patent? Protect your ideas, they may bring you wealth.

McKELLIPS Cholera and Diarrhoea Syrup, FOR Cholera Morbus, Diarrhoea, Cramps, &c. UNRIVALLED.

McKELLIP'S Horse and Cattle Powders. The Best Tonic and Blood Purifier. Just what is needed to bring the horse into good condition, and brace him up for Summer work.

FRANKLIN BOWERSOX, LEADING DEALER IN Agricultural Implements. THE LEADING GRAIN DRILLS. Buckeye Glass Feed, Bickford & Hoffman, Champion, Pennsylvania Low Down, Crown and Superior.

ROBERT S. MCKINNEY, DRUGGIST TANEYTOWN, MD. Foreign and Domestic Drugs. THE MOST POPULAR PATENT MEDICINES IN THE MARKET. FANCY ARTICLES AND PERFUMERY.

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Pure * Animal * Bone * Fertilizers. Have you placed your order for Phosphate for the coming season?

Fish Phosphate, & Special Mixture. with other Brands on the market, and you will find that our goods are cheaper.

REINDOLLAR & CO. RALLY ROUND THE FLAG, FOR SOUND MONEY, NATIONAL HONOR, HOME PROSPERITY.

The New-York WEEKLY TRIBUNE, The Leading National Republican Family Newspaper. Will make a vigorous and relentless fight through the Presidential campaign.

Job Printing DONE AT THE RECORD OFFICE. GOOD WORK. LOW PRICES. THE CARROLL RECORD, TANEYTOWN, MD.

THE BALTIMORE AMERICAN, ESTABLISHED 1873. THE DAILY AMERICAN. Terms by Mail, Postage Prepaid.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK AMERICAN. The Cheapest and Best Family Newspaper Published. ONLY ONE DOLLAR A YEAR. Six Months, 50 cts.

THE Carroll Record. In its new form, it is better prepared than ever to give to its subscribers the full value of $1.00 many times over during a year.

REINDOLLAR & CO., DEALERS IN Pure * Animal * Bone * Fertilizers. Have you placed your order for Phosphate for the coming season?

Fish Phosphate, & Special Mixture. with other Brands on the market, and you will find that our goods are cheaper.

REINDOLLAR & CO. RALLY ROUND THE FLAG, FOR SOUND MONEY, NATIONAL HONOR, HOME PROSPERITY.

The New-York WEEKLY TRIBUNE, The Leading National Republican Family Newspaper. Will make a vigorous and relentless fight through the Presidential campaign.

Job Printing DONE AT THE RECORD OFFICE. GOOD WORK. LOW PRICES. THE CARROLL RECORD, TANEYTOWN, MD.

THE CARROLL RECORD, TANEYTOWN, MD. Give us a Trial. The Job Department. is as complete as that of any office outside of a large city.

THE CARROLL RECORD, TANEYTOWN, MD. Give us a Trial. The Job Department. is as complete as that of any office outside of a large city.

HISTORY OF TREVANION.

BY J. H. TAYLOR, 1896.
PART IX.

He sent his aunt, Mrs. Lynch, and Mrs. McCormick to keep house and board the farm hands, and hired Dennis Cronin and William Rimanan and two boys by the month, who were to do all the work. They got along pretty well until corn husking, when they were caught in the snow and the crows played such havoc that we had to sled the corn into the barn and husk it at leisure.

In 1878, James Henry of Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, came here and run the place for a year. He hired William Topper and Alexis Riley by the year, and day hands at other times. In the fall of this year they moved the housekeeping department from the farm house to the mansion, and it has been carried on from there ever since, except during Melring's term.

John Hemler and Albert Clabough were the regulars in 1879, and Hillary Oretin lived in the farm house. In the spring of 1880 George F. Weishaar rented the mill and Ephraim Johns lived in the farm house and John Hemler and John Powell were the regulars, and also for 1881.

The Scripture says, "Whom the Lord loveth, He chasteneth," and he must have had great regard for the McCaddens, for of almost a patriarchal family only six survive. Agnes, died in her infancy, and soon after they left here, Harry, a handsome smart boy, died, about seven or eight years old, and a few years later, Frank, a smart boy of eight or ten, died. On November 12, 1881, Anna, the eldest daughter, a sweet girl in early womanhood, through that scourge, consumption, went with her virgin palm to join the celestial choir; and Edward, the third son, died August 23, 1886, and, with such a record the parents were surely chastened.

John W., the eldest son, for whom his father had purchased a controlling interest in the hardware firm of Tallman & McCadden, Philadelphia, where he served as book-keeper until his health failed after the death of his sister, was sent by his parents to Florida to pass the winter, and in the spring of 1882 was sent here in hopes of regaining his health. When the kind old Dunkard neighbors met the young man, and liked him, and noticing his sickly looks, shook their heads when aside, and said, "Poor Johnny," but, thanks to a merciful Providence, the skill of Dr. Wm. M. Martin and Trevanion air, water and food, his health rapidly improved and he began to take an interest in the farm, and with the example and kind advice of the neighbors, he made a pretty good farmer.

He got good Jersey cows and bought a Cooley Creamer and made "gilt edged" butter; bought Jersey Red, Yorkshire and Chester pigs and soon had a fine breed of hogs; he bought and fed steers, watching the feeding himself, and made it pay, and done well with the entire work.

All men of gentlemanly instincts since time immemorial, have been lovers of the noble horse. There-deeming feature of the fierce Arab, is his untiring love for his horse, and history informs us to the credit of Alexander the Great that when his faithful war horse, Bucephalus, which had carried him whilst he conquered the world, died at the age of thirty years, he had a mansement built for him and would drop a tear when he recalled his faithful services. And the knightly young Crusader, with Christian zeal on his perilous march west from the Saracen, the sepulchre of his Saviour, slept with his head on and arm around the neck of his faithful charger.

John W. McCadden was no exception to the rule; the love of the horse was, to him, almost a passion, and the knowledge of his needs and treatment was reduced to a science. He could tell the name, pedigree, and record of nearly every horse of note in the country and could trace back and write out a pedigree that would excite the envy of a turf editor. Acting on his bent, he laid out and built the half mile track, and did it so well that his father commended it. He commenced to break and train horses through George Derrick, and some of them were so strong that it was a hard task; particularly the "Magpie" mare that afterwards took him (Derrick) to a watery grave. On two occasions he was obliged to send the old man through corn stubbles which surrounded the track, but, with the indomitable courage of a Canadian "blue nose" he never let go. During the year that followed making the track, George had subdued "Charlie," "Bay Annie," "Black Kate," "Black Annie" and "Pet" so that they could be driven quietly.

On July 1st, the government established a post-office at Trevanion and Gopperville, and John W. McCadden was named postmaster at Trevanion which commission is held yet. He put a purifier and other machinery into the mill at considerable expense, but he soon found that the profits of farming and milling at Trevanion did not equal those of an iron-monger, or even a first class railroad clerk, so in the spring of 1884 he rented the farm to George F. Melring, sold off his stock and went to aid his father who was building a tunnel on the line of the South Pennsylvania Railroad, in Somerset county, Pa., where he remained until the Pennsylvania Railroad bought the Vanderbilts out and stopped the work in the fall of 1885, when he came back to Trevanion and staid until early spring 1886, when he went to Philadelphia and resumed his place in the hardware firm.

He left here, hale, hearty, and fine looking and deservedly popular; the latter is fully attested by the frequent inquiring of his neighbors, "How is Johnny?" I think he is now sole owner of the finest wholesale stock of tools in the country, and has them from a needle to an anchor. The McCadden hardware firm is agent for most all kinds of machinery, and the World's Fair having advertised his stock, his orders are world wide—from Europe and far East Persia—and he should be doing better than farming at Trevanion, yet it still holds a warm place in his heart.

BOSTON CULTURE SHOCKED.

Amazing Ignorance of a man who aspired to be porter in the Public Library.

A competitive examination of applicants for the position of porter and errand boy in the Boston Public Library was held recently. One of the candidates for porter shocked the examiners by his display of civility in evading questions which he could not answer. He did not get the position. The paper as printed is as follows:

Q.—Describe briefly the difference, as recorded in history, between a Pillgrim and a Puritan.

A.—One was a centerboard and the other a fin keel.

Q.—Through what States does the Mississippi river pass?

A.—One as briefly as possible for the commercial importance of Chicago, London and New York.

A.—Pork, missionaries, gamblers.

Q.—Where are Louisville, Detroit, Caracas, Sierra Leone, Cyprus, Stockholm, Budapest, Berne, the Orinoco river?

A.—The exact locations of these places, as indicated in present maps, have been minutely questioned, and I cannot undertake to settle the dispute without further inquiry. The Orinoco river passes in a not altogether direct course through the Orinoco Valley and is fed by various feeders.

Q.—Where is Chicago?

A.—I don't know. I am a New Yorker.

Q.—Where is Cleveland?

A.—He won't tell.

Q.—Describe a feasible course for the circumnavigation of the globe, mentioning all bodies of water which would be passed through.

A.—To do this, as described, would be passed through.

Q.—What was the cause of the war of 1812 and of the Mexican war?

A.—Love for fighting—with excursions.

Q.—Describe two famous naval battles of the age?

A.—The ships which were to contend with each other approached and an engagement ensued in which one side got the worst of it. The fight the stopped. This describes all naval battles and of any age.

Q.—Mention in chronological order the political parties in the United States which have in turn controlled affairs from 1789 to the present.

A.—Not having been an officeholder during any of the periods referred to, these facts have escaped me.

Q.—What was the French revolution? Give dates and tell in a few words what caused it.

A.—The French revolution was an uprising among the French people. I cannot "give dates," because this revolution only occurred once. It was caused by the desire to kill those whose families were different.

Q.—How many the races of mankind be chiefly divided?

A.—Losers and winners.

Q.—What does the Indo-Germanic family include?

A.—Indians and Germans, but in Kansas the combination is said to be not a success.

Q.—Is there any distinction ethnically between the Chinese and Japanese, if so what?

A.—Yes. The Japanese can fight.

Q.—What is a troubadour?

A.—The troubadour is now extinct, and the people will inquire as to what a troubadour was.

SELECTIONS

FLOODS ON MARS.

The Periodical Inundations and Their Effect Upon the Planet.

The periodical inundation caused in each Martian summer by the melting of the snow is distributed far and wide by the network of canals, which constitutes the principal mechanism of the planet.

The only one by which water, and with it organic life, can be diffused over the planet's surface. At this time some of the canals appear to be bordered by a dense fringe of trees, with the appearance of some kind of vegetation. The canals of the surrounding region become and cover the same time darker and broader and cover wide areas. Things remain in this condition until the moment when the polar snows are at their maximum. Melting has ceased. The width of the canals diminishes, the dark regions brighten up, and the continents resume their yellow color. This grand phenomenon takes place over the whole region between the pole and the sixtieth degree of latitude and recurs each season. Over the whole surface of the planet the system of canals is variable. When they are indistinct and their contours become uncertain and ill defined, it seems likely that the water in them is very low or may have entirely disappeared.

Nothing is left of the canal, or, rather, we see only a yellowish streak, differing very slightly from the surrounding soil. In the months which precede and follow the great northern and southern inundation, about the time of the equinoxes, the canals become double. In consequence of a rapid change, which is effected in a few days, perhaps even in a few hours, this or that canal is transformed in all its length into two parallel lines, which run with the geometrical precision of the tracks of a railway and follow exactly the direction of the original canal. These new canals have, like the original ones, widths of from 50 to 100 kilometers, and even more, and are separated by an interval varying from 50 to 500 or 600 kilometers. We have here something besides water—for instance, a rapid vegetation, produced by the moisture.

From the height of a balloon the prairies, which occupy the slopes on each side of a river, mark out the course of the river, which itself appears like a slender thread, hardly differing in color from the green sward below it. The color of the double canals upon Mars varies from black to red and is easily distinguished from the yellow tint of the continents. The space between them is generally yellow, sometimes whitish.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

Finally he has hit upon a device which he finds himself walking 10, 20, 50, and even 100 miles, according to his physical vigor and experience, with his perceptible fatigue and with a most delightful sense of animal power. The human race has discovered a new power for its own use. From the earliest dawn of civilization man has been experimenting with the wheel which he invented to increase his powers of locomotion.

MODERN DRESS.

Its Remoteness From the Happy Effects Demanded by Art.

We are not so quizzical, says the London Telegraph, as to ask sincerity and earnestness from the modern set of dress, which has quite victoriously hidden away the divine outlines of the feminine human form in outrageous "costumes" and confections, utterly destroying folds and drapery, upon the natural grace and value of which in classic days the chief sculptors did not disdain to employ their careful chisels. Imagine Pheidias or Praxiteles today copying a blouse or a divided skirt in a Pontic marble! Imagine even a Hindu or a Japanese lady being rather pleased and proud than otherwise that her French bonnet-maker had supplied her with geraniums or lilies in dyed muslin which deceived a pea. Apelles, indeed, thought legitimate praise to hear that the birds of canvas which he had painted on the archway of the wall at Athens, but painting has illusion for its proper object. There is, we repeat, an unmistakable air of reproach, and of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making even the butterflies and bees and bees about flowers. We shall not pursue this line of moralizing nevertheless; in the first place because every line which could be written would but add to the undesired pride and complacency of the artificial flow and little anecdote of the bee at the London grand party, which warned beauty and youth how artificial they are in the way of becoming, to the point of upsetting the orderly course of things, and making