"We recognize," it reads, "the necessity and propriety of the honest co-operation of capital to meet new business conditions, and especially to extend our rapidly increasing foreign trade; but we con-demn all conspiracies and combina-tions intended to restrict business, to create monopolies, to limit produc-tion, or to control prices, and favor such legislation as will effectively restrain and prevent all such abuses, protect and promote competition, and secure the rights of producers, laborers and all who are engaged in in-ers and all who are engaged in industry and commerce."

The protection principle is reaffirmed, reciprocity is fayored, and the exclusion of the cheap labor from foreign lands by judicious restrictions is recommended. Among the correlated questions touched upon are the extension of opportunities for educating working children, the raising of the age limit for child labor, and the inauguration of an effective system of auguration of an effective system of labor insurance. Rehabilitation of our merchant marine; liberal provision for wounded soldiers and sailors and their dependents, and the mainte-nance of an efficient civil-service renance of an efficient civil-service reform, with special reference to the
