SOME SCHOOL FIGURES.

Salary of Teachers, Tax Rate and Cost per Pupil in each County.

The State Board of Education has issued the thirty-fifth Annual Report showing in detail the work of the Public Schools for the year ending July 31st, 1901. This report furnishes a valuable basis for comparing the results in different counties.

For money to run the schools the counties are dependent largely upon the following sources of revenue: The State School tax, the County school tax, the free-school fund, and the appropriation for colored schools.

Table with 4 columns: County, Salary, Tax, Cost per Pupil. Lists counties like Harford, Cecil, Kent, etc.

In every county of the state, the following table will show approximately the County tax on the hundred dollars, the average salary of school year, the average salary for teachers, and the cost of each pupil.

It will be seen from this table that some counties with a rate as low as 10 or 12 cents on the hundred dollars, have 90 or 95 cents on the hundred dollars made possible by the fact that these counties with low rate have a large number of colored people.

Brief Items of General Interest.

Hon. Grover Cleveland, who is now the only living ex-President of the United States, was 65 years old on Tuesday.

Another $1,000,000 fire occurred this week, at Hoboken, N. J. The loss was primarily due to shipping and waterfront property.

The borough authorities of Mt. Airy failed to secure the passage of a law requiring Frederick county authorities to pay to the town a portion of the road tax collected from citizens of the town.

The Keysville Public School, will report the entertainment, in P. O. of A. Hall, Thursday evening, March 27th.

Prince Henry says he was so tired when he finally boarded the Deutschland at New York that he slept all night, except for the time he appeared for his meals or to take short walks on the bridge.

It is expected that when Secretary Cortelyou returns next week from Canton, he will have all the bills caused by the illness, death and burial of the late President in hand.

A party of Carroll county people started Monday morning for Prowers county, Colorado, where they will engage in raising sugar beets for the Arkansas Sugar, Irrigation and Land Company.

The engagement of the Ben Hur company in Baltimore was remarkable in several respects. First, because of the unprecedented attendance.

AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS.

The Farmers of Maryland, their Value and other items of Interest.

From the Tenth Annual Report of the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of Maryland, just issued, we give briefly a number of interesting agricultural statistics.

The cost of producing wheat per acre, and the value of the wheat and straw, is stated as follows:

The estimate for corn is fixed as follows:

In the above calculations, the items of preparation of ground, seed, planting, fertilizer, harvesting, preparing for market, rent and interest, are set off separately.

As a result of dairy farming, counting the interest on a cow valued at $35, feed, care and deterioration, the total cost per animal, per year, is fixed at $23.10.

The Department of Agriculture at Washington, through its office of public roads inquiries, has become an important factor in the stimulation and advocacy of good roads, and it gives substantial evidence of its practical working by building sections of the county roads.

It is expected that when Secretary Cortelyou returns next week from Canton, he will have all the bills caused by the illness, death and burial of the late President in hand.

Compulsory Education Legislation.

From present indications, a limited compulsory education law, which passed during the session of the Senate Committee on Education reported the bill unfavorably, assigning as its reason therefor that the bill was general in its scope in that it would apply to the whole state and that the committee thought it impracticable to enact such a law.

Senator Bryan declared that general interest was manifested in the bill in Baltimore, and that it should, by all means, be passed so as to apply to the city, at least.

Senator Lewis favored the bill for the whole state, and he declared that the city should not be exempted.

By George F. Baer, president of the Reading Company, owners of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, the bill is likely to be allowable, at least, and a comparison of sentences, as sent in, with their reproduction in this paper, can usually be taken as the guide for improvement.

Improvement in grammar, punctuation and style should be followed, and additional advantages to be gained, providing one takes the trouble to watch results.

Improvement in style is also an important consideration. Awkward or ambiguous sentences, the repetition of certain words in the same sentence and the repetition of the same paragraph, are features to be avoided.

Very few persons, without practice and study, are able to write for the papers in such a manner as to have their copy sent to the compositor without change.

What to write, is also a thing to be learned. Nearly every newspaper has its own prohibited list, and certain words which it is liberal or stingy in giving space.

The closing section of the bill says: "The conditions shall be such as to be included in any ordinance or proceeding of the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, whereby said sale shall be made."

The first vote came to-night on a motion by Chairman Payne, and the ways and means committee, that the previous question be ordered, and a vote taken on the propositions before the committee.

Our Editor must have been a little miffed last week, having nearly thrown out our contribution—which was not only a little getting out of the anonymous contributions.

BIDS FOR WESTERN MD. R. R.

Smart Competition for the Control of the Road, by four Bidders.

The bids received on account of the advertisement of Baltimore's holdings in the Western Maryland Railroad, were opened on Monday afternoon.

By Edward T. Herick, W. S. Pierce and Myron L. Fuller, representing the purchasers of the Virginia Central and Pittsburgh Railway—$5,509,819.39, coupled with an offer of $4,000,000 of stock held by Washington and Annapolis.

Benefits to be Derived by Newspaper Correspondents.

Those who write for country papers come under the name of "correspondents," have an excellent opportunity to profit thereby, providing they are awake to their advantages.

Improvement in hand writing, is easily the first benefit to be derived. Plainness should be cultivated, assiduously, and all unnecessary flourishings dispensed with.

Improvement in grammar, punctuation and style should be followed, and additional advantages to be gained, providing one takes the trouble to watch results.

Advertisements a Discredit to Church Papers.

The best medical authorities state, and the facts are self-evident, that consumption, heart disease, cancer, deafness in most forms, and certain other prevalent troubles, are positively incurable within the knowledge of medical science.

The only possible foundation that many of the advertisements referred to can have, is the assumption that certain discoveries have been made which are not in the possession of the medical fraternity.

The church papers are especially responsible for the dissemination of such unequivocally false impressions.

But, the argument is advanced, "without advertising, the church paper cannot exist."

It comes with exceedingly bad grace from many of these editor leaders of religious thought to censure the laity for "Sunday christianity."

Undertakers Must be Competent. The passage by the House of Delegates of Mr. Kerr's bill providing for the appointment of a board of examiners, who will ascertain and investigate the character and qualifications of any person wishing to carry on the business of an undertaker and embalmer, bids fair to change that calling from one which heretofore might be followed by any man possessing the means to purchase a sign bearing the words "Funeral Director," to a profession, as estimable as, that of law or medicine.

One class of men who will no doubt look with favor upon the proposed law is the baggagemasters employed by the various railroads, with terminals in this state.

of the employees of the railroads, that about four years ago, at the convention of the baggagemasters of the United States, held in Chicago, a resolution was passed requiring the enforcement, by the convention, of several laws bearing upon the proper preparation of bodies, in order to secure the safety of persons handling the remains.—Herald.

Agricultural College Statement.

The following statement and financial summary was furnished by President Silvester of Md. Agricultural College, dated Jan. 1, 1902. We regret that we did not have these facts earlier—a copy having just reached this office—as the matters set forth would have been of general interest during the consideration of the State Appropriation.

Under instructions from the Board of Trustees, and on behalf of its Executive Committee, I have the honor herewith to transmit to you for presentation to the general Assembly of Maryland, the Annual Financial Report of the Maryland Agricultural College. This, taken in connection with the Annual Catalogue, it is hoped, will be accepted as fulfilling the requirements of the law, which calls for a "full and correct report of said Agricultural College to every session of the State Legislature."

In connection therewith, it is desired to direct your attention, and through you, the attention of the members of the General Assembly of Maryland, to the fact that the Maryland Agricultural College is not the financial beneficiary of the funds appropriated for the State Horticultural work, the Farmers' Institute work and the Princess Anne Academy, and only to a very small extent in the State Fertilizer and Food Control work.

Your attention is called to statement "P" in this report. It appears from Section 4, of the United States Statutes, approved July 4, 1862, that the Government's contract with the States requires the payment of 5 per cent. net on the proceeds of the sales of the lands allotted the States by the Act.

It is recommended that this be done at an early date to avoid any possible complication. The deficit is shown in Statement "P."

Probability of Better Roads.

It is probable that the general extension of Rural Free Delivery will eventually result in a National road improvement system; that is, road improvement by direct assistance from the government.

It would seem that good roads can easily be made an accomplished fact, providing the National, state and county governments work together and contribute thereto in an intelligent and practical manner.

The general subject of road making has been shamefully neglected, probably because for about nine months of the year, roads are comparatively good. The loss, inconvenience and hardship, experienced during the other three months, however, is at least serious enough to convince most people that for very many years a very unprofitable plan has been in operation, which promises a radical change for the future.

Rural Free Delivery of mails will have a tendency to show up the real situation in such a light as to make an undertaking cool. With macadamized roads, and no toll, carriers could afford to drive their routes at an appreciably smaller salary, and this saving to the government, together with an additional appropriation, and the assistance of the states and counties, ought to open up a feasible plan of extensive road-making improvements.

The Pennsylvania Ring.

Cowardly, slinking, whipped cars ready at the crack of the whip to fawn and grovel about the feet of a brute boss. If you care to be "recognized" as a factor in the political affairs of your community, be you a young man or an old, this is the pack you must join.

The nobility titles are ward heeler, district leader, officeholder and boss. To attain these successive characters is necessary. The ghastly unburied skeletons which lie heaving in the sun along the path of the machine's progress tell a pitiful story of blasted hopes, blighted homes, and the unmerciful ingratitude of political bosses.

How can a normal, honest, candid man do otherwise than use his influence and exert all the vigor there is in him to crush the life out of this monstrosity which is a cancerous growth on our political system.

Danger of Colds and LaGrippe. The greatest danger from colds and laGrippe is their resulting in pneumonia. It is reasonable care, used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided.

My Neighbor's Cat.

What is this thing that catmy sits
While the paring shadow flies
With mad nocturnes to rack my wits?

What is it, when I raise a row
And throw a club, emit a "Meow"
And keep on signing, anyhow?

Braille," as the blind express it: that is to say, in the system of "points"
raised on paper by means of a stylus
and slate devised to aid the blind:

As soon as a page of matter is typewritten it is, so to speak, lost to Miss Keller, who has to depend upon her faithful teacher, Miss Sullivan, to repeat it to her by spelling out each sentence by means of the hands.

Electricity.
Mr. Christlorn Williams of London has described his results in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis by means of electrical currents of high frequency and high potential.

Danger in Dust.
Dust as a cause of pulmonary tuberculosis, according to the report of the Imperial health office at Berlin, is clearly shown in the statistics of the patients treated in sixty institutions of the empire for the cure of tuberculosis.

A Carbonless Arc Light.
A new carbonless arc lamp recently invented consists of an exhausted glass globe in which, instead of carbons kept at the proper distance by a complicated regulator, are two L-shaped aluminum arms with platinum points kept at the proper interval by simple clockwork.

Bees as Peach Raisers.
At the Oregon station experiments forced a number of peach trees into bloom under a glass last November and introduced a colony of bees into the house, first protecting one tree so that the bees could not get to it. From that tree all the fruit dropped when the stones began to form. From the other no fruit dropped, and it was

GOOD ROAD LESSONS.

HOW THE SOUTH IS BEING TAUGHT TO BUILD HIGHWAYS.

Special Trains Completely Equipped
With Modern Roadmaking Machinery Trazing the Southern States and Giving Instructions.

There has been a larger expenditure of public funds for the betterment of public highways during the year just ended than in any previous five years of American history, says the Philadelphia North American. The aggregate amount of expenditures mounted into the millions.

When the instrument is properly adjusted, Captain Cobham claims it will give notice of any other locomotive on the same track which approaches within 2,000 feet of it by the ringing of a bell, and will also indicate in which direction the train is moving, or whether one of them is standing still.

On the other hand, that ordinary
colds are in the highest degree infectious is now becoming a matter of
common knowledge, and any medical
man, if he goes about with open eyes,
can collect evidence for himself.

Every wearer of eyeglasses has noticed how they become dim with moisture when subjected to a sudden change of temperature. A German scientific paper says that this may be prevented by rubbing the glasses with soft potato soap every morning.

The work of this first good roads
special was so successful and the Illinois Central railroad was so well pleased with the results that President Moore had several opportunities to take charge of good roads trains to be run over other large railroad systems in different parts of the country and finally accepted the invitation of the Southern railroad to take a train through the south.

The local soil conditions met with during the two good roads tours varied to such an extent that it was impossible to follow any specified rule for the construction of the roadbed. Where materials were to be found the foundation was made of five inches of coarse crushed stone, which was thoroughly rolled before the second course was applied.

President Earle of the League of American Wheelmen says that the convict labor of the country could build 18,000 miles of road a year and should be used for that purpose.

Artificial Building Stone.
It is being used more extensively every year.
Artificial stone is coming into use more and more widely every year, says
the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post. For pavements it is rapidly supplanting all other materials, including brick and the natural article, and much of it is being utilized nowadays in the building of houses, newly discovered processes having so far improved the product as to render it actually more durable than real stone and in some cases quite as handsome.

TO PREVENT COLLISIONS.

Jamestown Man Would Make Use of the Sound Waves.

Captain F. P. Cobham of Jamestown,
N. Y., announces an important invention of his own, which, he claims, has been thoroughly tested, that promises to do away with signal towers and wires for signaling trains along railways. The invention makes use of the sound waves as discovered by Marconi.

The signal is a small and inexpensive instrument carried in the cab of the locomotive. The instrument has a lever by which the engineer can adjust his locomotive to the tracks on which he is traveling. If it is a one track road, all instruments are adjusted alike; if there are two or more tracks, the engineer adjusts his machine to the different tracks by moving a lever.

On the other hand, that ordinary
colds are in the highest degree infectious is now becoming a matter of
common knowledge, and any medical
man, if he goes about with open eyes,
can collect evidence for himself.

There are several patented processes for the manufacture of sandstone, the raw materials employed being chiefly sand and lime in one shape or another.
Granite is reproduced artificially by grinding ordinary granite to a powder,
mixing it with clay and then subjecting molded blocks of it to the action of intense heat.

IN OLD FASHIONED LEECHING DAYS
They used to draw the poison from the blood by drawing the blood from the body. To-day the blood is cleaned in the body and the poison is drawn off by excretion. The leech has gone out of use. YAGER'S SARSAPARILLA WITH CELERY takes its place and does the work better.
