Tanevtown vs Creagerstown.

The first game of ball of the season in Taneytown, was played on Wednesday afternoon, between the home team and Creagerstown, and unfortunately it was largely an exhibition of unnecessary "kicking", ignorance of the rules, and errors, in which the visitors excelled. The game ended at the close of the fifth inning in a wrangle over a close decision, the vis itors declining to continue, the score being 16 to 10 in favor of Taneytown. Lack of team discipline on both sides, as well as too much "mouth play" by young America in the audience, was largely responsible for the disorder during the game. The score, by innings, was as follows;

Thousands Want Rural Delivery.

The Postoffice Department, on Friday, made public the following:
"There seems to be a wide misunderstanding as to the present attitude of the Department regarding rural free delivery. The statement has been published quite generally, particularly in the West, that rural routes that do not handle 3000 pieces of mail a month and supply 100 families are to be discontinued. It is not the purpose of the Department to disturb routes already established unless they are manifestly unnecessary. "There are now on file in the Department petitions for more routes that will supply over 100 families than can be established with the present appropriation. This being the case, the Department does to feel it wise. equitable or just to establish a route exclusion of routes that will supply more than 100 families, the greatest

Big Sauerkraut Business. Samuel L. Johns, of McSherrystown, Pa., the well known cigar manufacturer and tobacco dealer, who is also connected with many business enterprises, has embarked in a new business. Last fall he purchased a farm from Mrs. Amanda Dellone, which contains a large portion of meadow land, a deep loamy soil, along Plum creek. Mr. Johns has had three acres of land plowed and put in good condition for the purpose of planting cabbage. It will require about 36,000 plants to complete the work, one-half of which was planted last week, re quiring two or three days to do the work. Mr. Johns has adopted a new

If the ground is in good condition, the work is rapid and the planting as good as by hand. Mr. Johns contemplates making "kraut" with the cabbage in the fall, and shipping it to the Baltimore markets. His neighbors await the result of his

The Primary Election.

As we recently remarked, editorially, primary elections, through the lack of interest of the majority of voters, are frequently controlled by a leader or two who can fix up a "slate" and put it through by the help of a little bunch of voters—usually not of the highest grade-who are ready to do the bidding of the local bosses, and the delegates so elected, control conyentions, presumably as representatives of their party. This is the rule, and it is one for which the non-participating voters are chiefly responsi-

We often hear it said, a certain district is "safe" for a certain candidate; represents the enthroning in power of the few, who were chosen, not as public sentiment, but to perform certain functions in the name of the party between the periods when the party itself, by its voice, acts independently and supreme, as at a primary or regular election.

The real object of primary elections is not to quietly select delegates favorable to one or more individuals, but those who can be depended upon to select for places on the ticket at the general election, those from the whole county, best qualified to serve the whole county, if elected. The personal interference of officials or individuals with this plain intention of the primary, should be met by the people with their most emphatic protest: but, if they see proper to permit such practices to prevail, without an effort to prevent, they not only have themselves to blame, but convict themselves of lacking in the elements which make up the best citizenship.

There is a decided tendency in politics, from the district committeeman to United States Senator, to interfere with, and direct, public sentiment, to a degree beyond which it needs to be directed. This is for the purpose of securing individual power, almost church work represents a thing to be against all ordinary opposition for wholly, and not for the good of the people-to be the boss, rather than the servant, of a constituency. The exemplification of this truth is seen very frequently in local contests for supremacy, and in forcing nominations not the result of a spontaneous call from the people. Office seeking is away ahead of man seeking, in the healthy. Contains nothing injurious. political arena, and it is this one fact which has brought our standard of American politics to a very low ebb, and which is responsible for all degrees of bosses from the lowest to the highest.

Editorial Responsibility.

Editing a newspaper, is one thing, and editing it properly, another. Possibly there is a line beyond which the editor is not responsible to his readers for the character of the matter he publishes, but, we are of the opinion that he had best not know this, or at least not take liberties with the knowledge. We do not agree with the opinion expressed by the Lonaconing Review, that the public will soon discover a "hobby" or "mummified corpse and will not be backward in expressing their opinion;" or, if in any sense true, account must be taken of the less discriminating portion of the public—the occasional, or not too well balanced, newspaper reader.

We hold to the belief-and try to practice it in every department of the RECORD—that certain opinions are Convicts Lashed to Death.

Atlanta, Ga., July 17.-Stories that suggest the atrocities alleged to be practiced by Russian officials on exiles sent to Siberia were told by witnesses yesterday to the Prison Commissioner of Georgia, Governor Joseph M. Terrell presiding. The charges under investigation are those made against the Broach Brothers, wealthy planters of Oglethorpe county, who run a misdemeanor convict camp, and who, it is alleged, not only treated prisoners with shocking brutality, but have kept dozens of them in servitude after their terms expired.

Devereaux Burden, a negro, was put on the stand. He testified that he had been sent to the Broach camp from Clarksville, Habersham county. His term expired on Friday, March 13, and he was not discharged until three months later, being whipped repeatedly in the meantime because he protested against his detention. Burden said that Ben Moon, a prisoner, was repeatedly whipped for not working right, and that he died soon after one of these whippings. Burdner then described how he was whipped. He said he was tied down with a leather strap. The negro showed scars on his back, which he said were made by the whippings. He had been given clothes when discharged, but no ticket to go home. Other negroes, he said, had walked home when discharged. He said that after he had been discharged he had gone to work for Truitt, the whipping boss. He left Truitt's employ and went to Eberton. Truitt came after him and carried him back, saying he had a warrant for him. The next morn ing he was released.

Burden also swore that time and agaia, after prisoners had been whipbleeding, sand had been rubbed into the wounds, causing great agony.

Charles Collins swore that Charles Rucker was whipped cruelly one day and on the next he was dead. This witness swore that the backs of the men whipped were greased with axle grease and sulphur.

Henry McCoy followed and told of working with Burden on the chain gang. He had seen Burden's back in the chain gang, and it had been scarred by being burned, as far as he knew while in the chain gang.

McCoy said he had been given no money when released, and had walked home. The clothes he wore when he went there were not given back to him, and he had seen one of the bosses wearing his shoes. He had also testified that he was kept for months after his term had expired.—Phil. Jul 4-11&25

HINTS FOR FARMERS

A Bread Eating Contest.

Four weeks ago two loaves of bread were left on this desk, coming by registered mail from Washington City, says Farm and Ranch. One was marked P, the other X. A letter came invitwide. Its area is 7,000,000 square through a system of gymnastics while miles, and it has a coast line of 18,000 lying in bed. And so on. the points that go to make good bread. A recent writer on the subject of wakefulness says that by far the most We decided generally in favor of X without any knowledge of the composition of the bread or manner of cooking.

Professor M. A. Carleton visited this office a few days since and explained the enigma. The loaf marked P was A glass of hot water, taken just be- made from ordinary patent flour. Using Surplus Apples.

A Maine farmer suggests this use of surplus apples: If one has a large boiler (and every farmer should have one) the most profitable way to use up the poor, unsalable apples is to boil them and mix with shorts and a little Indian meal and feed the mixture to cows. It is much better than apple pomace and will save both hay and grain. It is healthful, easily digested and will cause a large flow of milk. One spoonful of soda to a bushel of apples, added while cooking, will take away all the sharp sourness. Use the common baking soda. It will remove all the injurious effects of sour apples, giving the mass a sweet taste, and, besides, the apples will cook more quickly. Horses, hogs and hens will eat it greedily, and a feed of it once a day will keep them in good condition. The "Fly Proof" Wheat Swindle. The man with the "fly proof" wheat has opened up early this year. It is easy to secure several jars full of some fine looking grain and then go around telling big stories about it and selling "seed" at double the ordinary price. The small sample inside the jar looks well-through the glass. It is also easy, after getting the cash or a contract, to buy ordinary wheat at a grain elevator and ship it to the trusting farmers who paid for the "new variety." All this is easy for a rogue. It has been done in the past and will be done again. The really superior varieties of grain do not get into the hands of the wandering glass jar man. It is safer to buy a small quantity of new grain of some reliable seedsman and raise your own seed .- Rural New

Is a new and scientific compound made from roots, herbs and barks—contains neither opiates nor poisons. It purifies the blood and removes the causes of rheumatism and all blood diseases. Anyone can take RHEUMACIDE with absolute safety. Does not injure the digestive organs.

Gentlemen:—I began to suffer from rheumatism about three years ago, and had it very bad in my limbs. At times I could hardly walk. Was treated by a physician without benefit. More than a year ago, Mr. George Wilson, an engineer on the Coast Line, living in Florence, told me that "Rheumacide" cured him. I got a bottle and it benefitted me. I took five bottles and am now as well as I ever was in my life. I regard "Rheumacide" as a great medicine. I know of others it has cured. FLORENCE, S. C., Aug. 16, 1902.

Darlington, S. C., Aug. 19th, 1902.

Gentlemen:—About two years ago I had a very severe attack of infiammatory rheumatism. I suffered great pain and was confined to my bed for five weeks. During the time I was treated by two Physicians without permanent relief. Capt. Harker, a conductor on the Atlantic Coast Line heard of my condition and sent me two bottles of "RHRUMACIDE." I began to take it and in a week I got up and walked on crutches. After taking three bottles of the remedy I got entirely well and went back to my business.

I personally know of a number of use of your medicine, in this town and in his recent gift of a goat from the royal herd to the fusileers King Edward followed the example of his royal mother, who at different times gave this famous regiment a goat, the first being presented as far back as 1845. On that occasion it was one of a magnificent Cashmere breed, then kept in Windsor park, a herd of which was sent to Queen Victoria by the then shah. This goat, as may be expected, was highly prized and marched at the head of the regiment during a campaign in Bulgaria, afterward accompanying the fusileers to the Crimea. Shortly after the battle of Alma the goat began to show symptoms of illness, and despite every care it finally succumbed to the inclement weather on Dec. 20, 1854, before Sevastopol.
