Officials of the Reading and Penn. sylvania Railroads say no step has yet been taken toward a curtailment of the output of anthracite coal, and that the matter has not even been considered. It was admitted, however, by an official of one of the companies that the market for the domestic sizes was practically dead, and some curtailment of output would have to be made soon. He added that he would not be surprised if the miners were put on four days a week in a short time.

The convention in point of numbers, enthusiasm and spectacular features, surpassed any previous event in the history of party in the state, and there was not a hitch or incident of any kind to mar the inspiration of the occasion, barring a little friction over the nomination for Comptroller.

The leaders, it was understood, desired to name Mr. W. Laird Henry, of and the Dorchester delegation, but it was not deemed advisable to do so. Before the selection of Dr. Atkinson was finally made the name of nearly every prominent Democrat on the Eastern Shore was brought up and discussed, and at one time it looked as if the Eastern Shore idea would be dropped altogether, simply be ause of the difficulty in securing the proper man, and that Dr. Joshua W. Her-ing would be nominated.

The following is the substance of the platform indorsed;

The Republican State Convention was held at Ford's Opera House, on Thursday, and the following nominations for state officers were made by cclimation:

Justice.

In an article under this title, the Christiau Statesman argues that the the state to pike all roads, and to right to inflict the death penalty can come only from God, who is the author of human life. This right, as men in general solemnly believe, God has reposed in civil society. The principles of social order which lead men to establish and maintain governments are principles divinely implanted in human nature. Their operation lies in the sphere of the reason and the conscience, and their manifestations are naturally calm, sober, reverent, and merciful even when constrained to be severe. A its own newspapers, and, last week, mob has nothing in common with in Chicago, the first National Conyen- this divine institution of which the tion of Rural Carriers was held, the scriptures say, "it is the minister of objects of which were stated to be the God." It is hasty, devise ways and means for looking wrathful, swayed by passion, deaf to reason, :ruel. It is not concerned for the honor and authority of the law which has been violated, for it is itself trampling on the law. It is not thinking of justice, for it sets justice at defiance. It is actuated solely by blind anger and the instinct of cruelty, demanding immediate and lawless grat-

> The act of the mob has in it, therefore, not one element of public justice. It knows no law and asks no warrant but its own angry will. The mob spirit is, therefore, essentially godless and atheistic. Its very essence is the in human society and in the sphere of government. It is substantially the same, therefore, with the spirit of anarchy. It is anarchy. The same spirit that struck at all government in the person of President McKinley and usurps in his case the functions of the government.

For these reasons lynch law affords no real protection to any interest of human society. The only safety for arm of the law. Cruel and unusual with a morbid fascination. They provoke the dare devil spirit. They ina form of retaliation. They open before the community a dark vista of can see the outcome. No more urgent against mob violence, and so uphold Topic.—Why and how we should bear witness for Christ.—Acts v, 27-32. Times change with the passing years and centuries. Witness bearing for Christ is very different today from what it was in the time of the apostles in the early Christian centuries and amid the denominational controversies and antagonisms of the later centuries. Then to bear witness for Christ meant the possibility of serious persecution and even martyrdom. But Christian men and women did not falter in their witnessing for these reasons. The apostles, when commanded not to teach in the name of Jesus, kept on teaching, and when brought to task for their disobedience calmly but boldly replied, "We ought to obey God rather than man." Today we are not called upon to witness for Christ under the same circumstances or at the risk of the apostles and early Christians, and yet the duty of witnessing for Christ is just as incumbent upon us as upon our ancestors in the faith. Methods have changed, but the thing itself has not changed. 1. We should bear witness for Christ because we have been divinely commanded to do so. Christ has commanded us to let our light shine, to confess Him before men, and we also ought to obey God. While there are no men today to command us not to teach in His name, there are the cross to save the world from sin, and the world needs to know the facts of His life, death, resurrection, ascension and of His power to save. And, if the world does know, the church every Christian should do his part as ary in accordance. a witness bearer. 3. We should witness for Christ because we will want Him to confess us. He has promised to confess us if we confess Him, but declares that He will not confess us before our Father in heaven if we do not confess Him upon earth.

confessing Christ, so there are different ways of confessing Christ. 1. There well beaten up; fruit. Dinner, salad; is the confessional method, the confessing of Christ by uniting with the visible church of Christ. All who believe in Christ should confess Him in lieve in Christ should confess Him in this way, take their stand among the ary has been adjusted to the individual's condition, the quantity of milk people of God and let the world know where they stand. 2. The conversational method. This is presenting Christ to those who have not accepted Him. We should witness for Him by telling others what He has done for us and leading them to accept Him. 3. The epistolary method. This is the living method, being "living epistles read and known of all men" that we are Christians.

E. Clark, Tremont Temple, Boston, Mass.: A Plea For the Larger Fellowship of

Protestant Christianity Through the Christian Endeavor Movement and a Petition From the Christian Public. We, the undersigned members of churches and Christian Endeavor socie-ties and lovers of concord and Christian fellowship. fellowship, earnestly petition all ecclesi-astical governing bodies to allow full and untrammeled liberty to their young people to unite together in the interdenomina-tional and international Christian En-deavor movement

This movement, as the history of more than twenty-two years has proved, promotes thorough loyalty to the church and denomination as well as fraternity between all churches and denominations, and we contract that the theorem. and we only ask that in the future the young people may be allowed freely to have both the interdenominational fellowship and the Christian Endeavor either alone or in connection with their denominational name.

No one can measure the good that has No one can measure the good that has been accomplished in the past by this united movement of millions of youths for good citizenship, pure politics, worldwide missions in home and foreign fields, in prisons and upon the sea; for the unevangelized of our great cities, for promoting confession of Christ and active service among the young people of all churches and a cordial fraternity with all who love the Master, thus in part fulfilling His dying prayer "that they all may who love the Master, thus in part fulfilling His dying prayer "that they all may be one." Much has been accomplished, far more can be accomplished, by the constantly increasing hosts in the future if no ecclesiastical barriers to their fellowship are put in the way.

No other organization has ever done the work of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. No new organization could do it, since the Christian Endeavor society for a score of years has won the affection of the young and the confidence of the old and already embraces within its ranks nearly four millions of members in eighty evangelical denominations. lions of members in eighty evangelical denominations and more than forty na-

Not only may the society be an increasingly important link between the denominations, but between the Christian forces of all the nations as well, especially the English speaking nations, where it is al-ready so thoroughly established. It brings the younger forces together in their great international conventions, promotes their sympathy for and interest in one another, helps to make war impossible and a last-ing peace, based upon the principles of the Prince of Peace, ever more and more

In missionary lands, where the unity and not the divisions of Christianity should be particularly emphasized, this union of forces is still more important and any unnecessary separation of forces still more deplorable

We therefore earnestly implore all those who have authority or influence not enly to remove restrictions where any exist, but to promote the reunion of Protestant Christendom the world around, so far as it may be accomplished by the common methods, the united prayers and the concerted work of the Society of Thin People May Be Fat.

The following course for making thin people fat, is prescribed by W. R. C. Latson; M. D., in the Philadel-'The means employed to build up

The proper food for body building is that which is digested with the least energy, and that which is richest in food value. In other words, that which gives the most to the body with the least strain upon the body. And the foods which best answer these requirements are the following: Fruits, nuts, cereals, salads, eggs and ilk, all taken in their natural state

It is usually wise to precede the change to the natural food diet by a fast of from ten to twenty four hours, merely as a means of permitting the alimentary tube to partially clear itself of retained matter. The following dietary may then be used: Breakfast, raw wheat (few teaspoonfuls, As there are different reasons for soaked in water over night) with pint of milk with two raw eggs beaten up; cereal as for breakfast, fruits, nuts, ad lib. Those who would build up symmetrical bodies should, however, beware of all arduous exercise. Hard work will never build up an emaciated body. Severe exercise merely works off the flesh. Dumb bells, clubs, pulley machines and other apparatus will do narm in many ways. Walking, swimming (if not overdone), golf, base ball and other games are all excellent. Tennis is ideal. But in all these care must be taken not to overdo. Whateyer other exercise is taken a certain amount of time should be given to the stretching, breathing and relaxing exercises described from time to time in this series of articles. Five or ten minutes of these movements three times a day will conduce to an equable distribution of tissue, as well as to erectness of carriage, chest development and ease of movement. The elaxing exercises are especially vallable, since, in almost every case, the thin person is inclined to be rigid.

Indead, this muscular rigidity isually one of the principal reasons for the thinness. The mental attitude is important. t is the third member of .the tripod. No amount of food, no exercise will build up to the normal the body of the man or woman who persists in mental habits of anxiety-worry, excitability, enmity, etc.

The mental attitude must be one of ease, calmness, relaxation. To all sery. thin people who would round out their contours it must be emphasized: Don't worry, don't get tense or excited, keep quiet and let yourself grow; don't worry. So, to build a body, three things are necessary: to feed it, to exercise it Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Theum, Feyer so that it shall need food and may absorb the food, and not to disturb the vital processes of body upbuilding by the task of building the body will be neither a long nor a hard one.'

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has remarkable record. It has been in se for over thirty years, during which time many millions bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of mes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will preyent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. Successful Chestnut Orchard.

The latest chestnut orchard visited by me under direction of the New York Forest, Fish and Game Commission, was that of Mr. J. T. Lovett at Emilie, Pa., about five miles from Trenton, N. Y., writes a correspondent of the Massachusetts Ploughman. This orchard is also in the fine farming country along the Delaware River, and is a chestnut "orchard" in the truest sense of the word. It is an interesting fact that the farm upon which this orchard is located has been in the possession of the Lovett family since 1680, and that they still have proved where special effects are hold the original deed bearing the signature of William Penn.

The orchard is in two distinct parcels, the total acreage of which is about 22 acres, containing some 1,200 trees from 4 to 13 years old. The trees are nursery-grown seedlings, some of them having been grafted in the nursery, but most of them were first set out and then grafted in their the body accelerates the breaking down and elimination of old material down and elimination of old material lished, then, and are more lighter. second or third year. THE CANADIAN NORTHWEST Possible Revolution In the American Wheat Trade. The development of the wheat fields of the Canadian northwest is the marked agricultural movement of the times. The wheat lands of Manitoba have been under cultivation long enough to make it an old story for that province, but the tide of immigration which is pouring into the territories farther west is opening up a new wheat district, the extent of which can hardly be approximated with our present knowledge of the country. By reasons both of soil and climate the wheat producing area is limited, mainly confined to Manitoba, eastern Assiniboia and Saskatchewan. It is in this territory last named that development is now most rapid. Will It Pay to Grow Rye?-Hard on the Soil-Value For Hay. Rye is a crop that demands a fair amount of moisture. Low land, not too wet and cold, is most congenial for a good yield. Things That Are Said. Many a time when rushed with work we are tempted to give things a "lick and a promise" and let them go. But if one will look over his own experience he will find that it is the thorough work that pays, whether it is planting a crop or setting a hen. If we were all as good as we think our neighbors ought to be this would be a grand world to live in. Kindness is cheaper than the best of hay and should be universally used in the handling of cows. DAIRYING WITHOUT ICE.

How to Make Good Butter In Summer Time. There are many farms with a few eows, or perhaps only one, which are not convenient to a city, with ice an. impossible luxury and where for this reason the housewife believes she cannot make good butter in summer time. But even then good butter can be made if one knows how to meet adverse conditions and will take the necessary trouble, says a writer in the Sunny South. One prime requisite, of course, is cleanliness. There should be enough milk vessels so that they need not be all used constantly. If possible there should be vessels empty and airing one day for use the following day. The milk vessels should be rinsed out and thoroughly cleaned with tepid water before scalding, for hot water would otherwise cook the milk into the crevices, when it would be difficult to A good way is to rinse out each tin with cold water and then thoroughly scrub it inside and out with a generous supply of warm water. After which treatment scald each piece with boiling water. Without ice it is quite necessary to churn every day in warm weather, keeping the milk in the coolest place, which is never in the kitchen. Skim the morning's milk and mix the cream with the night's milk, and it will be "set" and ready to churn next morn-The churning must be done earlyby sunrise in fact. The cream is then at the right temperature, and the butter will be as firm and nice as one could By swinging the dish of butter with a stout cord drawn into the well it will remain cool and the butter hard enough

Fold the paper into a pad, wet it and squeeze out as you would a sponge Rub vigorously over the panes, taking care to have the paper wet enough to let the water run in streams down the glass. When you have rubbed the glass leave it for a few minutes and then polish with a dry newspaper. Low priced newspapers are best for window cleaning, as they are not so stiff as the more expensive papers, and the use of them will not only save the wear and tear of dusters, but will produce a better polish than the ordinary method of cleaning.

This is a very necessary part of the process, since the vinegar restrains the growth of chance ferments which abound in the air, and at the same time it favors the true acetic acid ferment. Next add to the liquid a little "mother of vinegar." If this latter is not at hand a fairly pure culture may be made by exposing in a shallow, uncovered crock or wooden pail a mixture of one-half old vinegar and one-half hard cider. The room where this is exposed should have a temperature of about 80 degrees F. In three or four days the surface should become covered with a gelatinous pellicle, or cap. This is the "mother of vinegar." A little of this carefully removed with a wooden spoon or a stick should be laid gently upon the surface of the cider prepared as above described. Do not stir it in. The vinegar ferment grows only at the surface. In three days the cap should nave spread entirely over the fermenting cider. Do not break this cap thereafter so long as the fermentation continues. If the temperature is right the fermentation should be completed in from four to six weeks. The vinegar should then be drawn off, strained through white flannel and corked or bunged tightly and kept in a cool place until wanted for consumption. If the vinegar remains turbid after ten days stir into a barrel one pint of a solution of one-half pound of isinglass in one quart of water. As we appreciate both, we aim to please both, but it is wholly out of the question for us to give away free calendars to all. This year, we have decided to do the next best thing—to give away part of the cost of "Our Presidents," to subscribers. Increase in Coal Production. Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—Anthracite to the amount of 5,160,400 tons was produced in August, which is about the same as in the previous month, but as compared with August, 1902, when the coal strike was in progress, it is an increase of 4,838,626 tons. For the eight months of the calendar year the shipments have been 42,431,849 tons, an increase over the same period last year of 13,046,000 tons. This increase far exceeds any heretofore made in the anthracite trade. According to officials of the coal companies no material reduction in output will be made the present Vice-President Henderson, of the Reading Company, stated that no orders have been issued to shut down collieries. Only one Reading colliery is idle, and that one for repairs.

According to well-informed coal men the idea that there has been an over-production of coal is erroneous. Fearing another outbreak in the anthracite fields, the consumer purchased his supply in the spring instead of in the late summer months, as had been usual prior to the strike. The last week there has been a noticeable improvement in the demand for coal.

You Will Be Happy if Well.

Paine's Celery Compound

Bestows that Health and Vigor that Makes Living a Pleasure.

If you are sick and out-of-sorts, it is in your ower to make yourself healthy, strong, and

There is not the slightest reason why you should go through life feeling sickly, miserable, languid, and melancholiz. To be well and strong, means happiness and true joy.

If you are sleepless, rheumatic, neuralgic, dyspeptic, or have the shadows of disease housening over your if overing over you; if you are not as bright, energetic, and strong as you were some weeks ago, the use of Paine's Celery Compound will e up and fortify your whole system, cleanse the blood, correct digestion, sharpen the appetite, and conduce to restful sleep. Thousands once in a half-dead condition owe their present good health to the use of Paine's Celery Compound. Mr. Wm. S. Gibson, of Pleasureville, Ky., who, through sickness and suffering, was brought near the dark grave, writes as follows, regarding his marvelous

"I have been broken down in health and strength, nervous system shattered, kidneys out of order, had nervous and trembling spells off and on for the last ten years. I have taken aree bottles of your Paine's Celery Compound and all of the above-mentioned troubles have left me, and I can now do a good day's work. I go about my business all day long and it don't worry me, and I now feel better than I have in ten years. I have a good appetite, and can eat and get around on foot as active as when I was a boy. My age is 65 years."
