According to the testimony citizens familiar with political gatherings, it is said that this audience contained the most representative citi-

It is a harbinger of victory." [Cheers.] The Senator spoke for about 45 minutes, and made a splendid impression upon his hear-It was when Mr. Williams stepped before the audience, having been presented as the next Governor of Maryland, that the magnificent audience, at a given signal, arose en masse and cheered and shouted, the ladies waving their handkerchiefs and shouting for "Our next Governor." This generous reception seemed to somewhat embarrass Mr. Williams, who several times attempted to begin his remarks, each time only to be interrupted by cheers and applause. When the noise had subsided, he said: 'The Republican party is still the party of freedom, as it has always been; not only freedom from physical shackles, but freedom from mental servitude." This was a signal for renewed cheers.

Mr. Williams accepted the challenge made by Mr. Warfield, on Saturday night, and proved by quoting from the Sun of 1888 how Mr. Warfield had been interested in an act of legislation known as the "legal journal bill" which required the publication of certain laws in the Daily Record, a law journal founded by him, and that while the proposed act was defeated, his paper was nevertheless designated one of the three papers in Baltimore for the publication of laws. He also stated that the Bonding Company, of which Mr. Warfield is president, had received many legislative favors which are not given by political parties without reciprocation.

Throughout his address Mr. Williams spoke with calm deliberation. coupled with the earnestness display-

M. THEODORE YEISER. DEMOCRATIC. The President's Interference.

The interest of President Roosevelt in the Maryland campaign, which amounts practically to interference, is undignified, to say the least. If, as he recently said in an interview with certain labor leaders, he is "President of the whole people" and knows no "unions," as against the individual, he certainly ought to know no republican factions and no individuals in their campaign for office in this or Even his high office cannot make disreputable practices reputable. It is probable that the President's part in Maryland politics has been magnified unduly, as are nearly all of his acts, public or personal, and yet, we take it as a matter of regret that he has seen proper to take a hand in the contest, and thus make himself a subject of more or less proper

Editor and Manager. the situation in the city, which indicates the adoption of the same political regime which the independents fought eight years ago.

We now find Mr. Bonaparte, a prominent independent, supporting the republican candidates and making speeches in their fayor; the Baltimore News, an ardent champion of Cleveland democracy and democratic tariff views, announced itself, last Friday, in a two column editorial as emphatically in favor of Mr. Williams and the republican legislative candidates; the Sun is practically non-committal, which means that it gives encouragement to the republicans; the Herald, a professedly non-partisan paper with republican proclivities, as well as the American, are for the republican ticket. Therefore, as we said in the beginning, the indications are that the battle of 1895 is being fought over again.

The fight of the independents has always been for fair elections and for an equal show among all democrats for the offices. They have never joined the republican party, and have REPUBLICAN. | never espoused republican success except as a choice of the lesser evil. They now claim to see, in the present situation, not only the return to all the eyils they fought eight years ago, DEMOCRATIC. but, according to the News, a prospect of a much more radical departure in election methods. ### Responsible Lunatics.

The insanity dodge appears to be overworked, in the case of cranks, or anarchists, who have designs on the life of the President. While the law would appear to err in punishing mental irresponsibles, it is about as liable to err in a failure to punish, for the reason that insanity as a dodge, or loop hole of escape, bears a very twelve years." Reviewing the Situation.

Both parties have their troubles. In the city as well as in the counties there are democrats and republicans who are in political parlance "crooked." Some of these may come into line before election day, but there are others who won't. The party sustaining the greater percentage of loss will undoubtedly be beaten, and knowing this the leaders on both sides are working with might and main to reconcile existing differences. There is no denying the fact that two weeks ago the republicans were not in the best shape. There was disaifection in some of the counties, and anything but harmony in the city. Since then, however, there has been noticable improvement, particularly in the counties, where independent tickets have been withdrawn and the factions conciliated. In only Talbot and Somerset counties are there now independent republican tickets. That in Talbot is kept there because those interested in the result, believe it would be a mistake to pull it down.

The democrats put up that in Somerset. Whatever the factional differences anywhere it is an undeniable fact that the republicans are solidly for the head of the ticket, so that Mr. Williams will get every republican vote that is counted.

If, therefore, the normal majorities in the various counties conceded to the republicans are obtained, it would appear that the party will come to the city with a majority of at least 2000. This estimate is based on the results within the last four years, and as there has been no noticeable revulsion of sentiment it is only fair to assume that there will be little change in the voting. If anything the condiset county none has essayed to put up a "fake" ticket. The absence of "trick" ballots, such as were used two years ago, is also helpful to the republicans, especially in southern Maryland.

There may be a very different story to tell in St. Mary and Prince George counties, in both of which the democrats were successful in 1901, while the majorities in Calvert and Charles, where hundreds of republican yotes were thrown out, will be materially increased. Eyen in Anne Arundel, where marked ballots played a leading part, even should it go democratic, some of the 700 votes that went to revealed fly specks, may be counted

Congressman Mudd, when in the city during the week, said he entertained absolutely no doubt of a reif there was a semblance of fair play.

In western Maryland and the Eastern Shore the republicans may be expected to do as well as they did two years ago, and the probabilities are dependents, the main issue of the they will fare somewhat better in the commercial bodies of New York campaign is fair elections, and not the Harford and Montgomery so far as City and Buffalo, and the State

'Republican" in the jumble after Mr. Williams' name, and that they will fare badly when it comes to marking the ballot. The same conditions prevail in connection with the name of Mr. Dennis, republican candidate for Comptroller, and Mr. Bryan, the democratic candidate for Attorney

In the case of the candidates for Attorney General the Secretary of State has abbreviated the words 'Baltimore city" to "Balto. city," in order to give space after the names, and the republicans believe that the same thing could be done after Mr. Williams' name, "Harford county" being abbreviated to "Harford Co." An even better arrangement, it is elaimed, would be to put the name of the county underneath the candidate's name, thus leaving a clear space on each line between the name of the candidate and the party he represents. A suggestion to this effect was made to the Supervisors of Elections for the city, but was turned down by the democratic members.-

An Unexampled Referendum.

New York's State campaign this fall is the referendum on the spending of $101,000,000 on the enlargement of the Erie, Champlain, and Oswego Canals. Under the Constitution of New York, the bad because magnifying glasses any public improvement amounting to more than $1,000,000 must be submitted to the people at an annual election. The sum proposed is $20, 000,000 larger than the entire cost of the Suez Canal and half as much as publican sweep in southern Maryland | that estimated for the Panama Canal. It is the largest public improvement, both in extent and expense, ever voted on under similar circumstances.

P. R. R. Curtailing Expenses.

Philadelphia, October 18.—Improveents amounting from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 on the Pennsylvania Rail in most cases the work which is now under way is to cease on November 10. It is the intention to shut down all the work that cannot be complete ed before the winter sets in. The or-der applies to the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad between Al-ona and Philadelphia. Owing to the many labor troubles that have existed and the amount of work that was ordered, but has been canceled, the traffic of not only the on other roads as well, has begun to fall off. President Cassatt not only can see prosperity ahead, but has the sibility of Senator Arthur Pue Gor-intuition to be ready when the signs man going before the Demogratic Na-point for retrenchment. There is no road in the United States that is betthe Presidency. Gorman wants the the Pennsylvania. Its standard is nomination, no doubt. There are years above the rest, and it could go in the field.

> At the beginning of this year the railroad was taxed to its utmost capacity to handle the business. Since then the demands of the employes of all kinds of labor have grown so that many establishments rather than comply closed up their works. Large building operations were stopped and many plans that had been prepared for improvements were laid aside All this meant a loss in traffic. While the business of the company is exceedingly heavy and the gross receipts greater than eyer, the expenses are very large, and it has been deemed expedient to curtail them. Another reason for the shutting lown of the work is that it is almost impossible to get the material, and all work that cannot be done this year will be taken over in 1904. There are many pastors and Christian workers who hesitate to present financial matters to the church, and especially to appeal for money for missions. But in the light of the Scriptures this should not be so. God in His word is not at all indifferent to this phase of the religious life. The Bible teaches God's ownership and man's stewardship. All is God's-the earth, the catupon a thousand hills, the silver and the gold. And of all of these that man possesses he does so not in his own right, but as a steward of God, and God expects us to wisely exercise that stewardship, and especially, it would seem to me, in relation to missions. Missions, instead of being the last thing we give to, should be the first and most important. Every church that can do so should have its own home and foreign missionary on the field, and this could be done if the people would give systematically as God gives to them.

Giving to missions should be pre-Christ. This the Macedonians did. "First they gave their own selves unto the Lord." If we believe that Christ lieve that He can save us, and, accept-

Paul appealed to the Corinthians on the ground of what Macedonia had done, and there is no reason why one church and c : Christian should not by example stimulate others to missionary giving. Many churches have their own missionaries. Why should not yours? Many individuals give liberally, systematically and proportionately to missions. If you are not among the number, why should you not be stimulated to imitate their example?

SPECIAL CALENDAR OFFER.

How to Secure, Free of Charge, a Copy of "Our Presidents."

This year, the RECORD proposes to give free to each of its regular correspondents, a handsome calendar, size 14½x19½, printed in photograph brown, entitled, "Our Presidents," containing a group photograph of every President of the United States, from Washington to Roosevelt. This calendar will be worthy of a prominent place in the best room of the best louse, anywhere, and is decidedly the finest and most expensive we have ever given away to our corrrespond-

Now, read this carefully. Every year since we have been giving away lendars to correspondents, we have nad many demands for them from hose not correspondents-from subcribers. As we appreciate both, we aim to please both, but it is wholly out of the question for us to give away free calendars to all. This year, we have decided to do the next best thing-to give away part of the cost of "Our Presidents," to subscribers. FIRST, we will give one calendar ree to each new subscriber who pays

s $1.00 for a year's subscription be-ore November 20th. If the calendar is to be mailed, then, $1.05 must be paid, in order to cover cost of mailing. By new subscriber, we mean one whose name is not now on our mailing list, but we do not mean that a present subscriber may pay up and re-subscribe, either in his name or that of another member of his family, and demand a free calendar. SECOND. On the payment of all arrearages, and 10c in addition, we will give one copy of "Our Presidents" to any present subscriber; but, if the colordaries to be mailed the if the calendar is to be mailed, 15c must be paid. It appears that there is a great demand from a new quarter for frogs, which India could supply by the million. They are used in bookbinding, for it has been found that the frog's skin makes a very fine, soft leather, and in dyeing it will take the most delicate shades; hence it is inlaid in the calf or crushed levant of sumptuous book covers, and it makes a very striking and beautiful decoration.

MILES ON GOOD ROADS.

The General's Views on the Improvement of Our Highways. The most important speech made by General Miles recently was one on good roads. Among other things he "I know of no one element of civilization in our country that has been more neglected than the improvement of our roads; yet this is the element that marks the line between barbarism and civilization in any country. "During the past hundred years the people of this country have devoted more capital, industry and enterprise to the construction of great commercial railways than have the people of any other country.

"Our government has expended more than $440,000,000 for the improvement of our harbors and waterways. If such expenditures of the national treasure have been made in the past for the development of railroads and waterways is it not now most appropriate that the improvement of our roads should receive national attention and government aid? "Any measure that brings to the homes of the American people the daily news of the world, that gives the sovereign citizen the truth concerning the affairs of his own country, that affords him a knowledge of the conditions and necessities of his own people, enables him to discharge his duties of citizenship, benefits the entire country and gives strength and character to the na-

"The wealth of the nation comes pri marily from the ground. The factory and foundry utilize the products of the soil and mine. As agriculture is our principal industry, so the great mass of our rural people are our main dependence. Their patrictism, their public spirit, their welfare, must ever be the salvation and glory of our republic. Therefore every measure, whether by the national government, the state, county or municipal authorities, that can promote their welfare should be earnestly advocated."

Convict Camps In Porto Rico. The government of Porto Rico is es tablishing convict camps at two important points, and several hundred prisoners who are now supported in idleness will be employed building much needed roads. The law was passed at the recent session of the legislative assembly of Porto Rico. The governor under the bill has made an allotment of $20,000 from trust funds at his disposal for the building of stockades, sheds and other necessary structures in the camps and for engineering, tools and other necessary expenditures

Melt an ounce of butter or clarified dripping in a saucepan and cook with it the same quantity of flour for a few minutes, stirring the mixture all the time so that it may not change color. Add half of a small onion, sliced, a sprig of parsley and a small slice of fat bacon, and let the ingredients fry for five minutes. Then pour in gradually rather more than half a pint of milk and stir until the sauce is smooth and thick. Season with salt, pepper and a little grated nutmeg, let simmer for fifteen minutes and pass through a gravy strainer. Butter a pie dish and place in it a layer of cooked fish, divided into flakes; cover it with sauce, then add more fish and more sauce alternately until the dish is nearly full. "For thirty years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head, and also with rheumatism in the whole body. I began taking Paine's Celery Compound and soon found I was much better. Before taking the Compound, my life was such a burden that I almost prayed to lay it down. I was bedfast every two weeks with horrible pain in the head, back, and neck, until I was almost crazed. I am able to do harder work and

His apparatus consists of a cigarshaped balloon seventy-five feet long from which is suspended a car carrying the engine and the navigator. The car is propelled by side propellors, capable of attaining high speed.

Several days ago Greth announced that he was ready to attempt a flight, but he was in difficulties as regard to motive power. He had two cheap engines, one of six-horse power and the other of twenty five horse power the other of twenty-five horse power, the former of which he regarded as too light and the other as too heavy for nis balloon. To use the heavier engine would require the assistance of two additional men, while the lighter one the navigator would get along with a single helper.

Greth decided to make the attempt to day with the lighter engine. At the last moment his assistant refused
