Some of the Wonders of this far Western Territory Described.

OUR ARIZONA LETTER.

In my last letter I forgot to call your attention to one of the great wonders of our territory that spans a small stream in the northern part. If you were to see it, it would make you think great Natural Bridge of Virginia a mere toy. This natural bridge is 265 feet above the creek, with a span of 1000 feet of solid stone. The narrowest point across the top is sixfacias on property on the farm occupied by the Shriners and owned by William B. Thomas. Mrs. Shriner and Mrs. Stater testified to the assaults, but both the accused testified about 250 feet high is a large band ting out from the main abutment and at present it is very difficult to reach, having to climb ladders most quarter of a mile from the bridge on top is quite a large spring of water.
On top of the bridge at one side there is an aperture into which they can conduct the water from this spring. The water falling from such an immense height turns into mist and when the sun shines on it you see the most beautiful colors you ever beheld. I don't think there are many people in the United States know or realize there is such a sight to be seen in our

The diameter of this well on top from rim to rim is sixty-five feet; to the water from the top of the rim is sixty-five feet; of solid lime stone rock. Ten or fifteen feet above the water in the well can be seen the homes of the cliff dwellers, whose history as yet is unknown. The well is stocked with fine fish, The water in the well is never any higher or lower and the bottom has never been found. The supposition is the well is fed by an underground stream with such a an underground stream with such a strong upper current that nothing will sink. of its actual needs. New Windsor College, we think, asks for state aid for the first time; at least it is not now receiving any.

The item asked for Western Maryland College, is partly misleading. Two years ago, this College asked for $2,600 a year under this same heading, and the request was denied by the Board of State Aid for the published reason that it "already receives $11,700 annually, which is considered sufficient." The item of $1,300-balf the amount asked-was secured from the legislature, notwithstanding the recommendation of the Board. The sum of "$11,700 annually," therefore, must accrue to the College through a special act of the legislature, for state scholarships, not dependent upon annual revision.

Whether these scholarships are now worth anything like this sum to the state, and whether they should, in justice to other Colleges and to the tax-payers of the state, be continued, constitute questions over which there can be but little real coubt. Palmer has given to El Paso county, Cal., for the benefit of residents and visitors in the Pike's peak region may afford a suggestion to those rich philanthropists who sometimes are at a loss to determine what form their public benefactions shall take, says Good Roads Magazine. It is not improbable that in the coming years a section of well constructed highway, a piece of road serving as an object lesson in road building, may appeal as the best gift or memorial to those who desire to benefit their native town or place of residence. Donations of public roads may become as common as are today gifts of libraries, churches and other public buildings.

A Musicale.

In spite of the inclement weather, Thursday evening, quite a number of the parents and friends of the music pupils of Miss Anna Galt, Taney-town, gathered at her home to listen to a well prepared program rendered by a part of her class With the ex-ception of three numbers, owing to assigned, the program was carried out as printed below, and was, as a whole, a very creditable performance; Its rendition throughout showed the careful and painstaking work of the teacher, together with faithfulness in practice on the part of the pupil. At the close of the program, Miss Elizabeth Annan, of Emmits-burg, favored the audience with a piano solo, executed in a pleasing
