An Important Business Change.

The co-partnership now existing in Taneytown between E. E. Reindollar. Geo. A. Arnold, Robert V. Arnold and Geo. H. Birnie, under the firm name of Reindollar & Co., will expire by limitation on April 1st. At a meeting held at the Elliot House, on Tuesday evening, it was announced that a new Company would be formed and incorporated, and the act of incorporation was read and considered. More than half of the stock asked for was suscribed, or in sight, before the meeting adjourned. The new Company will be organized on March 1, and will include all the present embers of the firm in addition to land, buildings, mill machinery, press es, engines as well as merchandise of every description

In other words, the entire business except book accounts, will be transferred. The stock will be issued in shares of $100, interest payable semi-annually. A small block of this stock s still unsubscribed for and can be had at the office of Reindollar & Co. where all questions pertaining to the change will be fully answered. Stock subscriptions made now are payable Mortgage Tax may be Repealed.

In all probability, the bill to repeal the mortgage tax law will be passed by the legislature, as it is argued that foreign capital will then be invested in the rebuilding of Baltimore; that the financial loss caused by the fire is sufficient argument that capital now needs all the protection that can be given it. Why could not the tax be temporarily abandoned for Baltimore but be kept in force elsewhere in the

It is said that the repeal of the present law is opposed by our County Commissioners, and that they are using their influence in the direction of opposing the passage of the repeal bill. We have always held to the idea that mortgages should be taxed, as property, in the hands of the mortgagee; that, as desirable and much sought money making investments, mortgages have no right to escape their just share of the burden of tax- Pa., Mrs. Rebecca Mills, aged 80 years ation, and that the only change the present law needs is one making it impossible for the borrower to be Taneytown, William Lewis Whitmore, compelled to pay the tax, directly or aged 45 years, 10 months and 25 days.

Even the present exigency in Baltimore does not seem to us sufficient grounds on which to repeal the law, as even a taxed mortgage is a much better investment than capital finds in most of the bonds and loans which are so readily taken, and the security no better.

THE MARYLAND Legislature has received too bad jars-the election of Senator and the Baltimore fire. In fact, it will be a difficult matter for its final proceedings to secure the centre of the stage again, and it might as well pass such legislation as is needed for the rehabilitation of Baltimore, do something for public schools, make such appropriations as are absolutely essential, and close up shop. Very little general legislation is needed for the state.

Loss Will be Widespread.

The loss caused by the Baltimore over considerable surrounding territory-indirectly and not seriously, perhaps, but sufficient for the influence to be felt very perceptibly. More Free Delivery.

Washington, Feb. 2.-The work of grinding out new rural free delivery routes has gone on right merrily during the last eight months, despite the fact that there has been a new deal in the managemeat of this branch of the postal service. Fourth Assistant Bristow, who has charge of this work. has exhausted the appropriation of $12,000,000 for the rural delivery service for the current year, and served notice on Congress that he must have an additional $300,000 to last until June 30.

Topic.—Some good ways of using the Sabbath.—Mark i, 21-34. For many generations the stress laid upon the Sabbath has been from a negative rather than an affirmative standpoint. The emphasis has been placed upon what we should not do rather than upon what we should do. And it may be that if more time and thought had been given to the things to be done less would have needed to be said upon the subject of what we should not do. The best way to overcome evil is by the substitution of good. "Cease to do evil, learn to do well," says the prophet Isaiah, but the best way in all the world to cease to do evil is to learn to do well. He who does well will have neither time nor inclination to do ill. So he that keeps the Sabbath day will have no time to break it. He that fills every hour of this day with things that are permissible will have no time to engage in those things that are prohibited by the laws of God and of man.

What, then, are some good ways of using the Sabbath? The incident selected for our study is that of Christ at Capernaum on a certain Sabbath day. There He entered into the synagogue, taught and healed a man possessed of an evil spirit, and in these events we may learn how we may make a good use of the Sabbath.

1. On the Sabbath day we should worship God in the public place of worship. The public worship of God has always been exacted of His people. It always been exacted of His people. It is not enough to have private devotions in the home, nor will the admiration of God in the works of nature suffice; we must not "forsake the assem- ed in his wearing apparel, yet,in spite blying of ourselves together." The of his tattered and torn clothes, there soul needs to worship God, and this public worship would protect us from within the confines of his mortal many temptations to break the Sab-The office or business place could not be visited, the morning could not be spent in reading the Sunday

2. On the Sabbath day we could be engaged in teaching. Christ "entered the home and in various other places homes need to be taught the Bible and Christian duties. With few exceptions our Sabbath schools need faithful and efficient teachers, and outside of these there are non-Christian homes where be welcomed, and public charitable institutions where the same would be true. Teaching God's word is a good work, and many could do it who are now spending the Sabbath in idleness. 3. On the Sabbath day we should do good to others. Christ did good upon the Sabbath. So may and should we upon the same day. Many about us need our sympathy, encouragement and help. If we would give it as liter ally as the Master did we would not want for good uses to make of the Sabbath day.

BIBLE READINGS. Gen. ii, 1, 2; Ex. xvi, 11-30; xx, 8-11; Deut. v, 12-14; Neh. x, 31; Jer. xvii, 21-27; Mark ii, 23-28; fii, 1-5; Luke iv, 16; Heb. x, 23-25.

"What Christian Endeavor Has Done

Rev. B. Q. Denham, vice president of the New York State union, is pastor of the Church of Disciples of Christ, New York city. His society recently considered the above topic, and some of the thoughts brought out were so suggestive as to be worthy of being given this wide publicity. Here are some of the points made: "Trained me to testify. Tied me to my church through my work in the Christian Endeavor society. Made me a 'comrade of the quiet hour' for Bible study and meditation. Taught me to search the Bible, whereas I formerly read it mechanically. Trained my zeal. Has given me the vision of a cleaner life. Taught me the right spirit in which to pray. Taught me to seek, not to read merely, but to understand what the Bible says. Has given me some of the best friends this old world ever saw. Led me to give my life to the ministry of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Led me to keep all the Lord's day for God's work. Has helped me to a closer communion with God. Cheers my life Has taught me to do the little things of service. Made me feel the importance of doing any little good deed. Causes me to realize the closeness of Christ. Has taught me how Christ loves me. Has kept me young in heart and spirit.'

Can any one after reading these "leaves from lives" question the value of Christian Endeavor? Is not a movement based upon such positive helpfulness of necessity permanent? Christian Endeavor is not "waning."

Evangelistic Conferences. A very successful series of conferences in the interest of evangelistic work has just been held under the auspices of the New York State union

PROFIT

The matter of feed is of tremendous importance to the farmer. Wrong feeding is loss. Right feeding is profit.

The up-to-date farmer knows what to feed his cows to get the most milk, his pigs to get the most pork, his hens to get the most eggs. Science.

But how about the children? Are they fed according to science, a bone food if bones are soft and undeveloped, a flesh and muscle food if they are thin and weak and a blood food if there is anemia?

Scott's Emulsion is a mixed food; the Cod Liver Oil in it makes flesh, blood and muscle the Lime and Soda make bone and brain. It is the standard scientific food for delicate children.

The speakers have included Mr. WIP liam Phillips Hall, Rev. Dr. John F. Carson, Rev. F. H. Jacobs, Rev. Dr. George B. Stewart and State President Rev. Dr. Edwin Forrest Hallenbeck. The points touched were Troy, Albany, Syracuse, Rochester and Lockport. In Albany the conference was made the beginning of an evangelistic campaign of two weeks, led by the local union.

Our Work For Christ. netimes we show a wrong conception of Christian Endeavor by striving to work up to Christ instead of out from Him. We need more consecrated purpose, more holy endeavor, in our work for Christ .- Rev. Edwin Forrest Hallenbeck, D. D.

It is a set of rules printed upon a yard of the blackboard cloth used on the school room walls. In stead of writing with chalk I printed the rules neatly in the form of a table in white oil paint, thinned with turpentine. The medium, if properly dried, is permanent; it cannot be dis-turbed either by steam or by rubbing. After allowing it to dry for four or five days it was tacked on the kitchen wall, inclosed in a frame of plain pine picture moulding. Eating Before Retiring.

Why shouldn't one partake of food immediately before retiring for the night, if one feels the need of nourish ment? Physicians who have given the subject any attention assert that the stomach's demands should be satured as the stomach's demands as the stomach's dema isfied then, quite as much as at any other time. Take the woman or the man either with a tensely strong nervous system. With these persons there is such a heavy demand upon the energies, that their bodies are in more frequent need of fuel. They are much like the stove with a strong draught; they burn out quickly. Every person is a law unto himself, in this as in many other considerations, so let each demonstrate for himself what articles of diet best agree with his system. The majority, I believe, would find benefit by sipping a cup of hot milk.

fail. Where a more sustaining diet is required, some cereal preparation— wheat heading the list—is greatly recommended. After a certain hour the kitchen range is not in condition for cooking anything, and as there is no family gas stove, in an instance I intend for illustration, one of the ladies purchased a tiny gas-burner and attached it to the fixture in her sleeping apartment. There are also devices for use over lamps. A double boiler is placed on this, and the wheat food is soon ready for eating. The double boiler is very nearly if not quite as anick as the bare sauce pan, and has quick as the bare sauce-pan, and has the advantage of requiring little if any stirring of its contents, besides being easily cleaned. Fresh milk is not always obtainable, so the condensed variety is always on hand, and ever ready for use; besides, some agree that it imparts a peculiarly de lightful flavor to the food.

A hot drink, particularly during the cold months, is really beneficial for inducing a comfortable night's sleep but if tempted to depart from milk, one should not resort to coffee as is sometimes done. If tea be relished then by all means, let it be very, very weak-just sufficient to impart color to the water, and make it palatable If strong it will defeat its very purpose by upsetting the nerves. For a quick luncheon of cereal tood and tea, place the food in the double boiler; then when it is ready for consuming, pour the water from the un der boiler over a few leaves of tea.

"Almost every political event of im portance in Japan has been pictured on fans, and very often the rulers have had to forbid the carrying of certain fans because they spread trouble and rebellion. You could have a whole history of Japan on fans, if you could find the right fans.

"Some of the old fans are not used now. The ancient court fans were folding fans of wood, and each noble family had its own flower that no one else dared use.

"Everybody carries a fan in China.

A MODEL HOUSEWIFE.

She Must Have Good Temper, Botience and Domestic Knowledge. Good temper, patience and a knowledge of domestic matters come first in "You know what the fan stands for the list of requirements for a model

The mistress of a family commands daily a small realm of which she is queen. Let her rule with justice, meekness and quietness. The most self governed person will always govern best, and we would have fewer servants if they were all under the firm and patient training of an employer who understood what their duties really were and required the best fulfillment of them compatible with the frailty of human nature. On the mistress of the house devolves the task of providing food for her household. When she is a "model" it is her care that no waste nor ignorant misuse squanders the property of her husband and that nothing is lost by carelessness or bad cookery.

She takes care that there is no lack through fault of hers nor any drawback to domestic comfort through injudicious rule, no neglect caused by love of idle It is the watchful eye of the mistress that keeps the home beautiful with the freshness of cleanliness and the calm of repose, and through her vigilance alone will the servants prove faithful in the performance of their duty. It is her thoughtfulness that provides, often her self denial that purchases, the comfort of others.

The model housekeeper today combines the useful virtues of our grandmothers with the charm and graces of a more cultivated and intellectual period.

The Pope a Plain Man. The following story of Pope Pius is told in the Italian papers: A deputation of the monks of some order recently obtained an interview with him. According to the etiquette of the Vatican, only cardinals are permitted to sit in the pope's presence, and an invitation from him to do so is deemed equivalent the promise of a cardinalate. Pope Pius X. is a plain man, utterly indifferent to the etiquette of the papal court. He therefore begged the monks to take seats. Root's Fees as a Lawyer.

Elihu Root served as Secretary of War at a great pecuniary sacrifice. His salary as a government official was a mere drop in the bucket compared to what his income as a corportion lawyer would have been. Mr. Root had been in the Cabinet about two months when he received a letter from some people he had represented in a big suit to break a will where a couple of million dollars were involved. He won the case for his clients and the letter contained a check for his services. The check was for $125, 1000. Mr. Root received $8,000 a year as a Cabinet officer.
