

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Gran'ma's Pies.

Prayer Meeting Topic for the Week Beginning July 10. Topic—Some modern idols are to be overthrown.—Luke xii, 15-21; Phil. iii, 17-18.

Idolatry is a very ancient institution and was practiced by practically all the ancient peoples. The people of God were many times led into this sin, and it was not until after the Babylonian captivity that they were entirely cured of this great sin.

Some modern idols are suggested in the topical references for our special study. (1) Wealth. The expression "Money is king" is a common one today, and it does not seem to be any more true than it ever was.

Some modern idols are suggested in the topical references for our special study. (1) Wealth. The expression "Money is king" is a common one today, and it does not seem to be any more true than it ever was.

Some modern idols are suggested in the topical references for our special study. (1) Wealth. The expression "Money is king" is a common one today, and it does not seem to be any more true than it ever was.

Some modern idols are suggested in the topical references for our special study. (1) Wealth. The expression "Money is king" is a common one today, and it does not seem to be any more true than it ever was.

Some modern idols are suggested in the topical references for our special study. (1) Wealth. The expression "Money is king" is a common one today, and it does not seem to be any more true than it ever was.

Some modern idols are suggested in the topical references for our special study. (1) Wealth. The expression "Money is king" is a common one today, and it does not seem to be any more true than it ever was.

When gran'ma bakes the pies, you know, I'm tickled 'I can be a big boy, now the merchant prince. I don't remember me. She makes twelve big ones, more or less. An' then she says, 'Oh, me, I do believe my boy must have a big dinner, too.'

But when she takes and fills the edge just like her cup cake tin. An' she fills it with a big lump (For I don't like 'em thin). Gee whizz, but it smells nice. When gran'ma sets it out to cool, all children are glad.

But when she bakes the apple pie—Turnovers are the thing. Bitters and it's the party crust; As happy as a king. An' she makes sugar an' apple pie. I'm sure she'll see.

One time she said: "When mother, dear, was just a tiny child, She'd like to be a big boy, now the merchant prince. I don't remember me. She makes twelve big ones, more or less. An' then she says, 'Oh, me, I do believe my boy must have a big dinner, too.'

But when she takes and fills the edge just like her cup cake tin. An' she fills it with a big lump (For I don't like 'em thin). Gee whizz, but it smells nice. When gran'ma sets it out to cool, all children are glad.

But when she bakes the apple pie—Turnovers are the thing. Bitters and it's the party crust; As happy as a king. An' she makes sugar an' apple pie. I'm sure she'll see.

One time she said: "When mother, dear, was just a tiny child, She'd like to be a big boy, now the merchant prince. I don't remember me. She makes twelve big ones, more or less. An' then she says, 'Oh, me, I do believe my boy must have a big dinner, too.'

But when she takes and fills the edge just like her cup cake tin. An' she fills it with a big lump (For I don't like 'em thin). Gee whizz, but it smells nice. When gran'ma sets it out to cool, all children are glad.

of active world-workers, men not afraid to do their duty, and bubbling over with energy and ambition. Touch the country and the world, now the merchant prince or the successful professional man, and how responsive he becomes to every suggestion of moral life. The same cannot be said of boys reared in the midst of our surroundings. It is the contact with nature that makes the indelible impression upon his life.

What is this dread disease that is killing so many of us? There is a mystery about it that fills people with an excess of fear. In almost total ignorance of its pathology, our minds are filled with the idea that it is a state of moral funk—a state quite dangerous, in that it superinduces the disease. Many dictionaries prior to 1880 did not contain the word. Noah Webster, of course, never heard of it. Stormonth (1885) does not mention it.

Where organ is accounted functionless, one man's opinion may be just as good as another's. "I am convinced that I have suffered from chronic appendicitis all my life," says a dilettante. He has discussed the matter with noted pathologists, and some are inclined to believe that the appendix is a constant menace to health, or even life itself, as true as gospel, and if I were to live my life over again I most certainly would have it cut off at a very early age.

There are many reasons why the separator should be used on the farm. It is a magnificent specimen of the Guernsey breed is the bull Prince Rosendale 4291, says American Agriculturist, from which the illustration is copied.

There are many reasons why the separator should be used on the farm. It is a magnificent specimen of the Guernsey breed is the bull Prince Rosendale 4291, says American Agriculturist, from which the illustration is copied.

There are many reasons why the separator should be used on the farm. It is a magnificent specimen of the Guernsey breed is the bull Prince Rosendale 4291, says American Agriculturist, from which the illustration is copied.

There are many reasons why the separator should be used on the farm. It is a magnificent specimen of the Guernsey breed is the bull Prince Rosendale 4291, says American Agriculturist, from which the illustration is copied.

There are many reasons why the separator should be used on the farm. It is a magnificent specimen of the Guernsey breed is the bull Prince Rosendale 4291, says American Agriculturist, from which the illustration is copied.

Hering's Department Store. "Queen Quality," The Famous $3.00 Shoes for Women. There are many different Shoes for women now on sale. Some good, some medium, some bad. But there is only one Shoe to be considered when it comes to the question of Fit.

Just a Word about Our Picture Framing Department. It has been a success; and what has made it? The work we have done has been entirely satisfactory, and having just received a large amount of new and beautiful Mouldings, we are prepared to do all kinds of picture framing, at short notice.

CHAS. E. HERING, Westminster, Md. Oh, He Had Drilled. Lieutenant General Chaffee told the following story the other day, according to the Kansas City Journal, as illustrating the unconscious humor which the Irishman is so often addicted to.

THE DAIRYMAN. For some time to come the greater portion of the skim milk at creameries will be used as food for the lower animals. How to treat it so as to have it returned to the farmer in good condition is a very important question.

THE CREAM SEPARATOR. There are many reasons why the separator should be used on the farm. It is a magnificent specimen of the Guernsey breed is the bull Prince Rosendale 4291, says American Agriculturist, from which the illustration is copied.

Abnormal Milk. Although there are many Holstein-Friesian cows with official records that show an average above 4 per cent fat in the milk and at least three which produce above average quantities of butter in one week, showing an average of 5.32, 5.44 and 5.45 per cent fat in the milk, the breed as a breed has not been developed for the production of abnormal milk.

Abnormal Milk. Although there are many Holstein-Friesian cows with official records that show an average above 4 per cent fat in the milk and at least three which produce above average quantities of butter in one week, showing an average of 5.32, 5.44 and 5.45 per cent fat in the milk, the breed as a breed has not been developed for the production of abnormal milk.

Abnormal Milk. Although there are many Holstein-Friesian cows with official records that show an average above 4 per cent fat in the milk and at least three which produce above average quantities of butter in one week, showing an average of 5.32, 5.44 and 5.45 per cent fat in the milk, the breed as a breed has not been developed for the production of abnormal milk.

Abnormal Milk. Although there are many Holstein-Friesian cows with official records that show an average above 4 per cent fat in the milk and at least three which produce above average quantities of butter in one week, showing an average of 5.32, 5.44 and 5.45 per cent fat in the milk, the breed as a breed has not been developed for the production of abnormal milk.

Abnormal Milk. Although there are many Holstein-Friesian cows with official records that show an average above 4 per cent fat in the milk and at least three which produce above average quantities of butter in one week, showing an average of 5.32, 5.44 and 5.45 per cent fat in the milk, the breed as a breed has not been developed for the production of abnormal milk.

Abnormal Milk. Although there are many Holstein-Friesian cows with official records that show an average above 4 per cent fat in the milk and at least three which produce above average quantities of butter in one week, showing an average of 5.32, 5.44 and 5.45 per cent fat in the milk, the breed as a breed has not been developed for the production of abnormal milk.

Abnormal Milk. Although there are many Holstein-Friesian cows with official records that show an average above 4 per cent fat in the milk and at least three which produce above average quantities of butter in one week, showing an average of 5.32, 5.44 and 5.45 per cent fat in the milk, the breed as a breed has not been developed for the production of abnormal milk.

Abnormal Milk. Although there are many Holstein-Friesian cows with official records that show an average above 4 per cent fat in the milk and at least three which produce above average quantities of butter in one week, showing an average of 5.32, 5.44 and 5.45 per cent fat in the milk, the breed as a breed has not been developed for the production of abnormal milk.

Abnormal Milk. Although there are many Holstein-Friesian cows with official records that show an average above 4 per cent fat in the milk and at least three which produce above average quantities of butter in one week, showing an average of 5.32, 5.44 and 5.45 per cent fat in the milk, the breed as a breed has not been developed for the production of abnormal milk.

STRAYER'S BUSINESS COLLEGE. GETS A SITUATION FOR EVERY GRADUATE. Day and night sessions all the year. New students received at any time. Send for Catalogue, both phones. We also teach shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, etc. by Mail and least expensive to persons in all parts of the United States in connection with our Mail Course. Terms Moderate. We have recently purchased more than 100 New Remington, Smith Premier and Corona Typewriters. Mention this paper when you write.

TRADE AND INDUSTRY. American newspapers every year pay in wages $80,000,000 and receive $80,000,000 for advertisements. Americans buy about $500,000 worth of licorice root annually in Smyrna. The licorice from it is used almost entirely in chewing tobacco.

Western Maryland R. R. Main Line. Schedule in effect June 19th, 1904. Read down STATIONS. Read Up.

Cross? Poor man! He can't help it. It's his liver. He needs a liver pill. Ayer's Pills. Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Use Buckingham's Dye.

Weak Hearts. Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion.

For Sale by J. McKelvey. CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HOTEL. WORLD'S FAIR, ST. LOUIS. Headquarters for Christian people and friends of Morality.

Christian Endeavor Hotel and Auditorium Company. St. Louis, Missouri. It is a respectable hotel for respectable people. Located 100 feet from gate to Fair Grounds.

Christian Endeavor Hotel and Auditorium Company. St. Louis, Missouri. It is a respectable hotel for respectable people. Located 100 feet from gate to Fair Grounds.

Christian Endeavor Hotel and Auditorium Company. St. Louis, Missouri. It is a respectable hotel for respectable people. Located 100 feet from gate to Fair Grounds.

Christian Endeavor Hotel and Auditorium Company. St. Louis, Missouri. It is a respectable hotel for respectable people. Located 100 feet from gate to Fair Grounds.

Christian Endeavor Hotel and Auditorium Company. St. Louis, Missouri. It is a respectable hotel for respectable people. Located 100 feet from gate to Fair Grounds.

Christian Endeavor Hotel and Auditorium Company. St. Louis, Missouri. It is a respectable hotel for respectable people. Located 100 feet from gate to Fair Grounds.

Christian Endeavor Hotel and Auditorium Company. St. Louis, Missouri. It is a respectable hotel for respectable people. Located 100 feet from gate to Fair Grounds.

Christian Endeavor Hotel and Auditorium Company. St. Louis, Missouri. It is a respectable hotel for respectable people. Located 100 feet from gate to Fair Grounds.

$50,000 CASH GIVEN AWAY to Users of LION COFFEE. In Addition to the Regular Free Premiums. How Would You Like a Check Like This? We Have Awarded $20,000.00. Presidential Vote Contest. Five Lion-Heads cut from Lion Coffee Packages and a 2-cent stamp entitle you (in addition to the regular free premiums) to one vote. The 2-cent stamp covers our acknowledgment to you that your estimate is recorded. You can send as many estimates as desired.

SUPPORT. SCOTT'S EMULSION serves as a bridge to carry the weakened and starved system along until it can find firm support in ordinary food.

SUPPORT. SCOTT'S EMULSION serves as a bridge to carry the weakened and starved system along until it can find firm support in ordinary food.

SUPPORT. SCOTT'S EMULSION serves as a bridge to carry the weakened and starved system along until it can find firm support in ordinary food.

SUPPORT. SCOTT'S EMULSION serves as a bridge to carry the weakened and starved system along until it can find firm support in ordinary food.

SUPPORT. SCOTT'S EMULSION serves as a bridge to carry the weakened and starved system along until it can find firm support in ordinary food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION serves as a bridge to carry the weakened and starved system along until it can find firm support in ordinary food.

TANEYTOWN LOCAL COLUMN.

Current Items of Local News, of Special Interest to Home Readers.

All copy for advertisements on this page must be in hand early on Thursday morning of each week...

Miss Mary A. Shaum is spending the week in Baltimore, visiting friends and relatives.

Americus Shoemaker, one of our elderly citizens, has been suffering for some time from heart trouble.

Miss Alice Hrombeller, of New Windsor, spent Wednesday of this week with Wm. Witherow's family.

Rev. W. G. Minnick, of Mt. Joy Charge, is off on a vacation, fishing and otherwise securing relaxation.

E. O. Garner, of College Park, Agricultural Experiment Station, spent Sunday at his home at Copperville.

The fast driving and riding ordinance is being rigidly violated. Unless it is enforced on all, it should be repealed.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Forrest and John J. Buffington, of Baltimore, were among the visitors to Taneytown this week.

Mrs. Frank Crouse and son, Vernon, spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Overholzer, of this district.

Mrs. Dr. M. L. Bott, of Westminster, is visiting Mrs. G. W. Motter and generally renewing old acquaintanceships in Taneytown.

Geo. T. Kerr, N. C. R., Agent at Hanover, formerly agent at Taneytown, paid the Record office a brief but pleasant call, on Monday.

Matt H. Galt, who has been studying law at a Michigan University, is at home on vacation, but will soon engage in the practice of his profession.

Communion services will be held in the Lutheran church, on Sunday morning, preceded by the customary preparatory service on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Farmer's Pic-nic will be held this year in Milton Ohler's grove, on the Middleburg road, instead of in Col. Goulden's grove, as heretofore. The date is Saturday, July 30th.

The Catholic picnic will be held this year, as usual, on the first Wednesday in August, at the customary place, Col. J. A. Goulden's grove near Otter Dale School-house. See Posters.

A number of engaged couples of the Record of last week, remain uncalled for, some of which have been paid for. Please call for them. A very few extra copies yet remain unsold, and may still be had at 5c each.

D. W. Garner paid a visit to the Empire Cream Separator factory, this week, at Bloomfield, N. J., and while there received his annual check of several hundred dollars as extra premium for amount of sales during the year.

The Gettysburg Compiler says: "Our neighbor Samuel D. Recker, expects to move into his handsome new home on the first of August; Miss Annie, his daughter, will have her millinery parlor in the store room on first floor."

Mrs. John H. Shoemaker and daughter, of Yorkers, N. Y., who have been spending some time in Taneytown, returned home, on Monday, accompanied by Mr. Shoemaker, who has just returned from a business trip to Chicago and St. Louis.

The Fred K. Div. N. C. R., is running the January Crows cars, in accordance with the contract before July 1st. An ordinary "smoker" is used, with a partition in between. The cars are run as far north as Littlestown, where they sidetrack.

The P. O. S. of A., of Taneytown, will celebrate the 14th anniversary of the Camp in their hall on the evening of July 21st. The program will consist of a public installation of officers, by District President, Samuel H. Little, and several addresses, following which, refreshments will be served.

The following spent Sunday at the home of Benjamin F. Bowers, near Walnut Grove, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Starnel and son, of York, Pa.; the Misses Grace and Irene Devillies and Miss Jessie Spangler, of Hanover, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hawk, of Hanover, Mrs. W. Witherow and son, and Miss Grace Bowers, and U. H. Bowers and family, of Taneytown; and Mrs. Thomas Lemmon and daughter.

Those who failed to hear Miss Jean Wilson last Saturday night, in the Opera House, missed a genuine feast of entertainment. Her repertoire is quite extensive, but the humorous seemed to fit the audience best, and in this she took her one, not using any pre-arranged program. After an exhibition of her wonderful talent as a reader, no one could doubt the genuineness of her testimonials, nor that she is an artist in her profession.

WESTERN MARYLAND R. R. Presbyterian, Reformed and Lutheran Reunions at Pen-Mar.

The Presbyterians of Maryland and Pennsylvania will hold a grand Reunion at Pen-Mar Park, on the Western Maryland R. R., on Thursday, July 14th. At 3 p. m. a great Reunion Program will be held in the large auditorium, seating over 3000 people, and music and speaking of the most interesting character will be rendered. It is expected that this will be a great rally day for the Presbyterians.

Low rate excursion tickets will be on sale to Pen-Mar and full information can be obtained from local ticket agents.

The 15th Annual Reunion of the Reformed Churches of Maryland and Virginia and West Virginia will be held at Pen-Mar Park, on the Western Maryland Railroad, Thursday, July 21st. Distinguished speakers will make addresses in the large auditorium seating over 3000 persons, and there will be many other features of special interest. Pen-Mar will be the headquarters for the reunion, and full information can be obtained from local ticket agents.

The annual reunion of the Lutheran churches of Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia will be held at Pen-Mar Park, on the Western Maryland Railroad, on Thursday, July 28th. A program of great interest will be given and the music, good speeches and other enjoyable features will be presented, and it is expected that this reunion will be the largest and most successful in the history of the Lutheran church. A special feature this year will be the attendance of the Louisville, Pa., Orphan Boys' Band.

Low rate excursion tickets will be on sale to Pen-Mar and full information can be obtained from local ticket agents. In addition to the regular and special train service already announced, there will be an additional special train leave Pen-Mar Park at 11 p. m. for Hagerstown, Cambersburg and intermediate points.

Bridgeport.—Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Smith and family, and Mrs. Wm. Smith, of Littlestown, spent Sunday with E. F. Smith and family.

Edward Conover, of York, Pa., spent the Fourth of July with his sister, Mrs. Harvey Ohler and friends, of this place. Miss Katie White is spending a few days of this week with friends in Baltimore.

Mrs. J. H. Harman, who has been very quiet for some time, is very much improved at present writing.

E. F. Smith and family entertained at their home, on Monday evening, July 24th, a number of friends from Littlestown, who had spent the day on the banks of Monocacy.

Middleburg.—The 4th. passed very quietly in our town. The children had a good time in the evening in sending up sky rockets and Roman candles.

The following persons were visitors to our town on the 3rd and 4th: Clarence Koozt, Mr. Haller, John Ridenour and Miss Mabel Frayle, of Frederick City; Miss Carrie Clifton and Hayden Lynn, of Baltimore.

Miss Myrtle Six and sister, Lottie, of Baltimore, are home on a month's vacation from the North.

The Epworth League has secured the services of Geo. W. Yeiser, of Union Mills, who on Sunday evening, July 17, in Waller's Hall, will give one of his illustrated lectures on "The Holy Land" and "The Life of Christ," from Bethlehem to Calvary. These lectures are given by Mr. Yeiser in high praise, of his ability as a lecturer. This is a rare opportunity will be given to all lovers of Bible history. No admission fee will be charged, but a silver offering will be taken at the door for the benefit of the Epworth League.

Melrose.—Mr. Andrew Eisenhuth recently purchased the Harsenhorst property at private sale for $275.

Frequently an automobile passes through our town at a high rate of speed. It is not safe for a woman to drive even a quiet horse, with such machines on the road. The very next thing to a racing engine.

Nathaniel Shaffer has an apple tree of the Baldwin variety, about five feet in height, that has 52 nice large well formed apples on it.

Rural Free Delivery has made another change in this locality. As we were served as usual except we now receive our mail three hours later in the day and receive mail but once. The wagon C, brought our mail at 11 a. m. and carries 22 at 11 a. m. Now Carrier 22 brings all the mail we receive in one day at about 12 a. m.

One of our local papers said last week that there should be more postoffices, or R. F. D. stations. We should have a postoffice here with at least two incoming mails, giving our people the privilege of registering letters and making out money orders at the postoffice instead of in the middle of the road in all kinds of weather. This is your correspondent's idea. He would be pleased to hear from some of our people on this subject.

We are pleased to welcome home Paul B. Zeigler, who completed his second year at Pennsylvania Normal school, at Shippensburg, Pa., on Wednesday.

On Saturday last, Amos Sauble raised a frame barn 32x38 ft., in about two hours.

The grain seems to be well filled and our farmers anticipate a good crop.

Congratulations to the fearless Record on its improved appearance. It seems to us that it cannot improve very much more.

Nervous Dyspepsia Cured by Rydale's. Mr. R. E. Jones, buyer for Parker & Bridget, whose large department stores are located at 9th and Penn. Ave., Washington, D. C., writes, under date of April 14, 1904: "I had piles 20 years, one year, while in New York on business for my house, I caught a severe cold, which I never got rid of. I was weak and nervous. I had little or no appetite, and my digestion was very poor. My physicians could not get me any better. I was advised to use Rydale's Stomach Tablets. After using them for a few days, I began to realize that I was getting better. I gave up the doctor's prescription and used Rydale's Tablets. I am now feeling like a new man. I can eat and sleep like a healthy man. I can recommend them most heartily, to sufferers from nervous indigestion and general run-down conditions of the system. S. S. McKinney, Druggist, Taneytown, Md."

Macaroni Wheat. Pretty soon, the Department of Agriculture predicts, all the macaroni sold in America will be made of American wheat. So recently as 1889 the department sent an agent abroad to procure seed of the hard wheats used in macaroni making, and he brought home a good load of samples. The result has been a large acreage of the new grain, which is tough and hardy and a good climate resister. Three years ago not a single bushel of hard country wheat was raised in this country. Now we are raising over a million bushels of macaroni and vermicelli. Macaroni flour makes excellent middle cakes, and the whole seems to be a case to say, "Welcome, stranger."

The Russian immigrants who settled in the West made the wheat popular. It was the wheat raised at home and it prospered on thin dry lands—standing five times the drought our native wheat does. It was noticed by American farmers West that in a dry season they had poor crops while the Russians had good ones. It was because the latter had the hard wheat, not the soft wheat. There are many districts in this land where it will thrive better than any other kind, and so we will make our macaroni and vermicelli in the future. It will be cleaner, too. It is said if any one saw macaroni made in Italy he would never eat it.

Working Night and Day. The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. These pills change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by Robt. S. McKinney, Druggist.

Natural Sequence. Mrs. Homer—Have you noticed how weary and worried Mrs. Goodwin looks of late?

Mrs. Neighbors—Yes, poor thing; she has quit doing her own work and is trying to keep a hired girl—Harper's Bazar.

The Catcher's Chest Protector. "George, dear, is that a bit that the baseball catcher wears on his breast?" "Yes, my love. It keeps his shirt from being mussed up when the ball knocks his teeth out."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Knew Uncle's Appetite. "Johnny," said Uncle Peter, "do you suppose I would sit at this table and eat as long as you have?" "No, uncle," responded the truthful child. "There wasn't a thing on the table to keep you busy for more than five minutes."—Chicago Tribune.

Retired From Small Functions. Elmer—Have you given up society, Josephine?

Josephine—No, I've been bringing maid so often lately that I've nothing but bridal frocks to wear.—Indianapolis Journal.

The Newspaper's Error.

"When a newspaper makes a mistake it is magnified to about seven times the size of all the virtues that paper may possess," said an old printer. "The most trivial error is a grave matter, while the greatest virtue is a trivial thing, when applied to newspapers. Just why this is I do not know, or pretend to say. I know the wonder is that most of the mistakes are not made in the preparation of a big daily for the press. I've been in the business a long time, and I've seen mistakes galore that run the gamut of all the editors and proof-readers. But one I have in mind is entitled to first honors, and how it ever escaped the eagle eyes of the editors and proof-readers has always been a mystery to me."

"But I should explain that every man the account shows that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The reporter glowingly described the interior of the church, making special reference to the soldierly present, and at the proper time and place mentioned the fact that Mozart's Twelfth Mass, using an upper case letter, was celebrated. The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The reporter glowingly described the interior of the church, making special reference to the soldierly present, and at the proper time and place mentioned the fact that Mozart's Twelfth Mass, using an upper case letter, was celebrated. The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.

The printer thought of soldiers and made the account show that Mozart's 'Twelfth' on the cases was his own proofreader at that time. I was working on a paper at Des Moines, Iowa, at the time. A new reporter had come on the paper and he was a dapper looking chap. He was instructed as to the style of the paper. He was told that all military or other titles were to be spelled out, such as general, major, lieutenant, captain and so on. He was detailed on St. Patrick day parade and celebration. The reporter failed to spell out saint, but abbreviated it to St., as is usually done. 'St. Patrick' occurred about seventeen times in the copy. It looked like L. Patrick, and the printer, following the rule of the office spelled it out, making it read, 'Lieutenant Patrick.' This was not the limit of the thing, however.