While on his way home last Sunday, J. W. Reddick, Northern Central Rail-way ticket agent at Hanover, *Pa., was attacked by a negro, William Barnes, and, after a desperate encounter lasting a half hour, was robbed of $63. Indignation was aroused to such an extent that armed citizens instituted a search with the intention of lynching the negro. Barnes surrendered himself to the authorities and was taken to jail.

The cost of holding our county elec tions, which the RECORD has frequently pinos for the self government which may referred to, is still climbing higher, until and should lead to ultimate independ- the Republicans in these two States. it is such a considerable item of expense | ence." as to call for more than mere passing criticism. We make no secret of our opposition to the present election law; from the beginning, it has been an unjustifiable imposition on our voters and taxpayers, and has not a single redeeming feature which is not more than compensated for by objectionable features. Under it, corruption has thrived as it never did before, many physically unfortunate voters and tax-payers have been disfranchised, and, to cap the infamy of the law, the tax-payers are called upon to pay over twice the cost of elections under our old Australian ballot law.

These statements are borne out by figures, as puublished in the annual statements of Carroll county. We find the cost of elections in these statements, under three headings, but it is probable that a careful search will reveal other items properly chargable to the same total; "Election Supervisors' Salaries and Expenses," "Registration and Elec- to try for districts that are usually Retion Officers" and "Room rent for registration and election.'

The total of these three items for the elections of the years named below, to-gether with the votes counted each year, Monday afternoon. Large crowds from

In the years 1897-1899, under the old ballot law, it will be observed that it cost 33¢ and 42¢ to register and count each vote, and that in 1902-1903 the cost of each vote counted had increased to 77¢ and 90¢. By comparing the cost and vote of the Governor's election, in 1899, under the Australian ballot, with the Governor's election of last year, under the new ballot, we find that the cost of the election in the county increased $2692.70, while the vote decreased 1356, the larger portion of the latter being directly chargable to "defective ballots" cast by those who are compelled to pay the cost of their own disfranchise-

Davis—for the second place. Tammany feeling toward Hill is well gained. In 1899, under the Australian ballot, in a total state vote of 251,189, known. The mugwumps have never had any use for Mr. Hill. He is furthermore, Governor Smith, democrat, was elected over Lowndes by a plurality of 12,123; weak among the Western democrats, because of his opposition to the incometax which they regard as fair and just. His last year, in a total vote of but 208,686, Governor Warfield had a plurality of course in the Senate in this particular would have been forgotten had he not 12,625 over Williams; while 42,503 votes C disappeared somewhere, the democratic insisted that the St. Louis platform this plurality increased but 502 in the entire year should contain no declaration in favor of that project. For these and other reasons Mr. Hill's weakness is constate.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week

Beginning Sept. 4.

Topic.-New Courage for new work.-Ps. cxliv, 1-15; Acts xxviii, 15. The secret of perpetual motion has never been discovered. With all man's progress he has never yet discovered a power that can be perpetually sustained. Sooner or later it must be renewed if work is to be continued. The locomotive needs new steam each day for its work. The electric dynamo must constantly generate new elec tricity if the work for which it furnishes the power is to be continued. For each new day our physical bodies must have their strength renewed in order to perform the work of life. So also it is in the religious world new courage and strength are needed for each new work. The courage of last week will not sustain us for this week's work. As we need bread day by day, so daily we need the courage that strengthens us for the work of life.

1. The necessity of new courage for new work is divinely recognized. When God calls men to important advanced places, He encourages them to be strong and promises to be with them to encourage and strengthen them. To Joshua, when he was called upon to take up the work of Moses, He said, "Be strong and of good courage." And again, "Only be thou strong and very courageous that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Moses, my servant, commanded thee." And even again he said, "Be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed, for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest." God thus recognizes our need for new courage and enjoins us to be courageous and strong in Him.

2. New courage for new work is divinely promised, and this promise is McKellip, Druggist, Taneytown, Md. fulfilled. "I will strengthen thee" is the promise of God to us. "As thy days, so shall thy strength be." Daily strength for daily need is God's promise. He does not promise strength today for tomorrow, or this year for next year. This is unnecessary. We live in moments, not in years, and the promise of renewed strength for each new moment is all that is necessary. "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." Let us therefore wait upon Him that we may be ble for the humblest as for the highest, able to say with the psalmist, "Bless- and, though we fall short of the mark ed be the Lord, my strength."

But men may be of great encouragement to each other. Visited by brethren while on the way to Rome, Paul "thanked God and took courage." Human sympathy and co-operation in the work of the Lord are no small factors in our success. This being so, we should more often take advantage of and it helps you win other triumphs. Simple kindliness is the brightest jewel the opportunity to sympathize with one another and to speak words of good cheer as we journey and labor together remark that leaves a sting shines by a false light. The word that is uttered in along the pathway of life.

Oh ! be not the first to discover A blot on the name of a friend, A flaw in the faith of a lover, Whose heart may prove true to the end. We none of us know one another, And oft into errors may fall, Then let us speak well of each brother, Or speak not about him at all.

Be not the First.

A smile or a sigh may awaken Suspicion most false and undue, And thus our belief may be shaken, In hearts that are honest and true. How often the light smile of gladness, Is worn by the friends that we meet, To cover a soul full of sadness, Too proud to acknowledge defeat.

How often the friends we hold dearest Their noblest emotions conceal, And bosoms the purest, sincerest Have secrets they cannot reveal. Leave base minds to harbor suspicion, And small ones to trace our defects; Let ours be a noble ambition, For base is the mind that suspects. —Industrial School Gem.

The Tone Reveals It.

"It is not so much what you say, As the manner in which you say it; It is not so much the language you use As the tones in which you convey it.

"The words may be mild and fair, And the tones may pierce like a dart; The words may be soft as a summer air And the tones may break the heart.

For words but come from the mind. And grow by study and art; But the tones leap forth from the inner self, And reveal the state of the heart.

Whether you know it or not, Whether you mean or care; entleness, kindness, love and hate, Envy and anger, are there."

Keep Sweet.

After all is said and done the conquest over self is the greatest victory a soul can achieve. The man who never loses his temper, whatever the provocation; who never becomes bitter, whatever his adversities; who never loses his optimisms and sweetness, whatever his disappointments—such a man is greater an he who gets his name in the mouth of the world.
