Westminster, Md., October 11.-A very large and enthusiastic Republican meet-ing was held here tonight and was ad-dressed by Hon. N. Dudley Foulke, of Indiana; John G. Capers, United States district attorney of South Carolina and member of the Republican National Committee, and Robert Garrett, the Reand review of the public life and acts of President Roosevelt, whom he lauded as one of the grandest characters in American history. Mr. Capers arraigned the Democratic party as unfit to administer the government of the country.

It was Mr. Garrett's first visit to Carroll county, and received an enthusiastic greeting by the large audience, among whom were many ladies. He made brief but forcible speech.

The meeting was the first held in the county during the campaign by either party, and in point of numbers and enthusiasm compared favorably with the great Republican meetings held here in 1896 and 1900. - American.

We give below the list of states, with the present electoral vote of each. Our readers can figure, to suit themselves, in order to find the 239 necessary to a choice. All who have sufficient confidence in their judgment, and who desire to place their predictions on record before the election, can have the same published in the RECORD of November 5th., without charge. We make this offer, for the novelty of the thing, and also to show how a good many intelligent followers of political signs and events may be badly fooled.

We will give the name of each person, with his predicted total vote for either Roosevelt or Parker, without entering into details; therefore, those who care to try the scheme need not send, or tell, more than their aggregate vote for the winner. Let us have the conclusion as soon as it is definitely formed-the list

After the Fakes.

The Postoffice Department has commenced its investigation of advertising concerns, and recently the use of the mails has been denied to the Herrick Medical Company, the Dr. Knapp Medical Company and the Dr. Raynor Medical Company. A lot of fake medicine concerns in Battle Creek and Marshall, Mich., have also been put out of business, while suits are being prepared against a number of Detroit firms.

Those who are engaged in the manufacture and sale of reliable preparations are anxious that the country should be rid of the frauds which prey on the incredulous public, and bring all classes of prepared medicines into disrepute; while the medical fraternity, of course, would like to see a clean sweep made of "patents" of all kinds. Medical science and chemistry has certainly advanced to the stage when it is possible to determine, by analysis, whether a preparation possesses any appreciable degree of virtue for the diseases specified, and it goes without saying that the public should be given the benefit of as much of this scientific information as possible, free of charge.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 15.

-The power of personal influence Topic.—The -John i, 35-39.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE. The power of personal influence has always been a great factor in the history of the world, and especially in the history of religion and of Christianity in particular. In fact, it was Christianity that brought the individual person into most active play in life, and Personal influence has played a great part in the leading of souls to Christ. Jesus Himself considered it worth while to spend a night with Nicodemus alone in conversation concerning the new birth and three years later was rewarded by the open, bold confession of the member of the sanhedrin in his favor. He also brought His personal influence to bear upon a poor degraded Samaritan woman and thus saved her and her people. When Andrew found the Christ, he led Simon Peter, his brother, to Him, and when Philip found Him he led Nathaniel to Him. The Holy Spirit during a revival in Samaria called Philip away that he might bring his influence to bear upon the Ethiopian official and bring about his conversion. This has been a method of God's during all the

been a method of God's during all the ages, but today it seems to be His special method of winning souls to the cross. The great mass meetings in which hundreds were converted in a night are largely a thing of the past, and the work is being done by "individual efforts for the individual." Are you doing your share of this personal work?

Personal influence upon another person may seem an insignificant work, but history does not prove it to be so. The Samaritan woman led her whole village to Christ. Simon Peter in one sermon led 3,000 to accept Christ. Philip the evangelist was a power in soul winning. All were the fruits of personal effort, yet how tremendous the accumulated results of their labors. In this respect history, with great regularity, repeats itself. The individual won by personal effort feels that he must win others, and a soul once fired with a zeal for souls never pauses when one has been led into the kingdom.

Moreover, personal work is always more effective. Apples picked one by one will be preserved much longer than those that have been shaken from the tree. Men won to Christ through earnest personal work will endure with a x cathedra. greater certainty than those brought into the kingdom en masse. Therefore, following the example of Christ and the apostles, let us do all the personal ris's "The Honeymoon" will certainly stick in the memory of numerous readwork we can. Let us take advantage of every opportunity to seek the Simons ers. It is wonderfully photographic and and the Nathaniels and to lead them to strikingly original. PRIMITIVE MINING.

fhe Way Rubies Are Found, Washed and Sold In Burma.

The system practiced for obtaining rubies in the mining districts in Burma is of the most primitive description. House Cleaning Time The mining shafts are simply holes about two feet square sunk to a depth varying up to fifty or sixty feet. The shoring up of the walls of the shafts is most crude, the sides being supported by posts at the corners and branches of small trees secured against the sides by stout sticks. We are ready with all the necessities that are needed to make your The miner carries a tin pot similar home beautiful. The earth, or byon, as the ruby bearing earth is called, is conveyed to the top as fast as it is excavated in small buckets let down from above. The apparatus for raising and lowering the buckets is simple in the extreme. A stout bamboo post about twenty feet high, called a maungdine, is fixed upright in the ground at a cor venient distance from the pit or dwin and a long, thinner bamboo pivote horizontally into the upper end of it so as to project an eighth from the mine and the long arm toward the mine. From the end of the long arm hangs amboo, the latter ending in a double hook, and from the short end hangs a basket of stones. The buckets are raised by the inner arm with its hook, while the stones counterbalance the weight. Usually three men work in a dwin-one down below, one hauling up with loop cane handles. When enough byon has been piled up it is taken off and put into a stone paved circular inclosure resembling : bath under a fall of water and shoveled about with a mattock till the mud and clay are washed away and the stones are all collected in a deep hole at the end of a narrow channel. These Campaigning In China.

Rev. F. S. Hatch, M. A., for the last three years general secretary of Christian Endeavor for India, Burma and Ceylon, recently visited some of the societies of Christian Endeavor in the southern coast ports. Mr. Hinman, the wein. general secretary for China, met him in Hongkong, where large meetings were held in the Basel, American Board and London Mission churches. At Canton two large meetings were held, and both secretaries spoke to smaller groups in the schools. Pen Points.

If we have read the spirit of it right Christian Endeavor means "constantly employed.'

The Christian Endeavor society that temporarily suspends during the summer months "because it is too warm" is usually too cold during the rest of the year to do very effective work. There is nothing selfish or self cen tered in the Christian Endeavor idea. The person who reads this into it has been looking through a magnifying glass.-John R. Clements.

Why He Was Called Literary.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a great reader of modern novels. Recently, it will be remembered, he regaled his Bible class with a series of excerpts from G. H. Folly of Imitating Christ.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 11.-Bishop Paret of Maryland made an address at St. Paul's Church last evening, and in the course of his remarks deplored the ten-dency to imitate God seemingly in what dency to imitate God seemingly in what He would do were He on earth. He in-stanced as a case in point Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, who undertook to run a Topeka paper exactly as Christ would run it. This, he affirmed, was little short of blasphemy. The Bishop said:

"All such endeavors can never be any-thing more than imitating the figments of our own imaginings. To know what Christ would do in each particular cir-cumstance would be to know God's own nind. Great ado has been made over circumstance if He were on earth now. This rule of conduct is misleading and ssible. The circumstances can never be the same; and even if they were, Christ could never be anything but Christ, while we can never be anything ut men, with our spiritual view colored Bishop Paret graphically drew the dis-inction between imitating and following tinction between imitating and following Christ, and attributed much of the con-fusion in the religious world to a lack of appreciation of this distinction. "In-stead," he continued, "of despising, suppressing and scourging the body, St. Paul says, we should honor it as the temple of God. Let us crucify the flesh by bolding it accountable to God and y holding it accountable to God and esenting it to Him as a living sacrifice.

The true followers of Christ are those who in the peculiar circumstances of their daily lives live in obedience to His supreme commandment."

Time always tells-if some woman doesn't tell first. Both will tell you that our Dress Goods are great bargains. A complete and dainty selection, which will tempt the most fastidious, with prices sifted down to the lowest notch.

Ladies' Jackets.

When the exclusive cloak houses produce a garment that's fetching or pretty, they see how much they can get for it. When we secure such a garment, we figure how little we can sell it for. Pick any garment from our stock, and you can be sure it is stylish, just as you can be sure that our price for it is the lowest,

Men's and Boys' Clothing.

The Cloth, the style, the fit, the trimming, the workmanship, all combined make it the equal of any popular Clothing made, while the price is far and away below what others ask you.

Blankets and Comforts.

Some people tell everything they know, and a lot more besides. We must be careful of our statements—they're in black and white. Think of Gray and Tan Blankets at 22c; they are here. We have them up to $6.00 per pair.

Rubber and Leather Shoes.

Where do you buy Shoes-here? If not, why not? Have you some doubt about our goods? Do the prices seem to be too low to be true? You may dislike to break in new shoes, but it is better than leaving old shoes break out.

Our Millinery Department.

We have engaged one of the best milliners Armstrong, Cator & Co., could find, not consulting the cost, as our Millinery business has been increasing, and our object is to get the front in this branch. business.

(For the RECORD.) A very pleasant surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sowers, on Tuesday eve, Oct. 11th., by their many friends and relatives. The evening was spent in social games and conversation, while the younger folks were on the lawn (which was beautifully illuminated) engaged in various games; the other portion of the crowd were entertained by a graphophone. were present. A delightful but complete surprise was given to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Overholtzer, at their hospitable home on Tuesday evening, October lith. By 7 o'clock in the evening, quite a number had congregated in the vicin-ity of their home and their surprise could not have been more complete, when Mr. and Mrs. O, suddenly found themselves confronted by so many familiar faces, who seemingly emerg-ed from every nook and corner. The guests continued to arrive until half past eight, when the number exceeded 100, who virtually took possession of the house and lawn for the time being. The usual plays and games were in-dulged in by many while others were enter-tained by graphophone music. Time passed too rapidly until a late hour, when all were invited to partake of refresh-ments. Here the visitor's eye was greeted by an immense table beautifully decorated with out flowers and greatly weighed down with the customary fruits, confections, etc., and some of the finest cakes and other toothsome edibles known to the culinary art, all intend-ed to appease that common affliction-hunger. After exchanging goodbyes and wishing the bost and hostess many more such pleasant events, all departing for their homes.

A surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fox of near Harney, on Oct. 7th. A merry evening was spent in play-ing games of all kinds until 11 o'clock, when all were invited to the dining-room, where refresh-ments were served, consisting of coffee, lemon-ade, cakes, candy, bananas and apples. At a late hour all returned to their homes wishing the host and hostess many more such returns. Nearly one hundred were present. went on:
