The annual session of the Maryland Classis of the Reformed Church will convene in Grace Reformed church, Frederick, Wednesday, May 3, the meeting being held this year earlier than usual on account of the triennial meering of the General Synod, which will convene in Allentown, Pa., on May 16th. Rev. S. M. Roeder, of Manchester, is president of Maryland Classis.

+ + + Carpenters were unable to gain admittance by the trap door into the steeple of the Grant Street Presbyterian church, Wilkesbarre, and a hole was cut from the outside. It was found that the trap was blocked by a mammoth bird's nest. There was over a ton of straw, hay, twigs and other material, the whole filling a large hay wagon. The birds have been making their home in the church steeple for the past 35 years.

A gentleman from Hancock recently stated that property in the town has increased in value and rents have been doubled since the invasion by the Wabash. Houses are in demand and building is going on as rapidly as possible. There is talk of a trolly from Hancock to Berkeley Springs which with waterworks to be installed and electric lights will give Hancock modern improve ments like unto a little city.

More Farmers Coming.

Secretary Herman Badenhoop, of the State Bureau of Immigration, reports that four more families have bought farms in Maryland, settling in the German colonies in Dorchester and Talbo counties. They are Martin Kern, of Wisconsin, on 25 acres; Ernst Morgenegg, of Virginia, on 130 acres; Henry loff, of Illlnois, on 45 acres, and Anton Carstens, of Iowa, on 200 acres.

The Secretary had just returned from a trip to New York, made with a view of creating interest in Maryland among agents in that port and also to renew old acquaintances with managers of several foreign-immigration societies. In speaking of his trip, he said:
"I believe that much could be accomlished in the way of obtaining desirable nmigrants from Europe for our State f I or someone else who is able to speak with these people in their own languages could go to New York at least twice a month. Before the great fire I went there frequently, and as a result of these trips we received generally between 50 The party is almost snowbound in its and 80 persons a month from that port for our state. But the fire destroyed all of our property, consisting of furniture and a large quantity of maps, pamphlets, etc., the replacing of which cost us about $2,000. Taking into consideration that our appropriation from the state is limited to $10,000 a year and that we have no other income whatever, one can easily understand that we had to be very economical.

'Several other states have special agents in New York working for them exclusively, and I was glad to see that the Southern States are beginning to make unusual efforts to obtain a portion of the immigrants who are arriving just now in large shiploads. On Friday when I was over on Ellis Island, their number reached nearly 12,000 for that

"South Carolina especially is spend-ing a great deal of money in that direc-tion, and, so it appeared to me, with much success. That state maintains at 35 Wall street, New York, an office with a regular force of clerks and agents. Mr. E. J. Watson is the commissioner and Mr. Raymond L. Griffiss special representative and attorney. I have been acquainted with Mr. Griffiss for several years, and during my visit to his office learned from him that they are doing very well for South Carolina and get many foreigners to buy farms.'

Secretary Loeb returned early to-day from the camp, where he conferred with the President all of yesterday. He announced, upon reaching here, that affairs in Washington made it necessary that the President curtail his visit. That there is nothing alarming in the situation is expressing it mildly. The deficit for the first three weeks of the month of April was $5,640,295. It is not expected to be so large as this in May and June, but under present conditions it is thought the deficit for the year will reach at least $35,000,000.

The enormous Treasury deficit means plans. The Venezuelan situation, it is believed here, resulted in the order to start home on May 8.

answer our prayers. Prayer as the supreme source of missionary power and success has always been recognized. The psalmist prayed, "God be merciful unto us and bless and cause His face to shine upon us, that Thy way may be known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations." Paul and Barnabas were set apart to the work of missionaries by prayer. "And when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them they sent them away," and when the great apostle was engaged in his arduous toils and labors he was ever bearing those for whom he labored to God in prayer. "Without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers," he wrote to the Romans, and in his epistles we have the record of prayers offered in behalf of the

The motto of John Eliot, the apostle to the Indians, written at the end of his Indian grammar was, "Prayer and pains through faith in Jesus Christ will do anything.

Prayer was put first, and his converted Indians became known as "praying bands" and "Indian praying towns." All successful missionaries and missionary workers have given prayer the first place in their labors, and we should follow their example. We may not have wealth to give, we may not be able to go to a foreign land to preach the gospel, but we can all pray, and the "effectual, fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." Prayer for all men "is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour, who will have all men to be saved and to come unto the knowledge of the truth." The reasonableness of prayer in connection with all missionary efforts is evident from the fact that there is but one God and one mediator between God and man, the man Christ Jesus." The world has but one God and one Saviour; therefore we should earnestly and constantly pray to our God that He will bless us in our efforts to send the knowledge of this one mediator and Saviour to the world. Without Him we can do nothing. The world will never be won for Christ by human endeavor. "Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts." How truly these words may be applied to missions! All the human power in the world cannot convert one soul to Christ, much less win the world for Him. But our God can do it, and He is more than willing to crown our missionary efforts with success. Do we want God to use us in this work? If so, let us ask Him to use us, for if we ask we shall receive. "Ask of Me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance and the uttermost parts of the earth for the Rural Family Endeavor. Rural Family Endeavor is the "forward movement" in some of the districts of some of the states. The plan has largest value in the sparsely settled regions and is particularly workable during the winter months when snow blocked roads make regular church attendance almost impossible by large numbers of the country Endeavorers. The plan given in a word is this: The society in the little village church shall count the Rural Family Endeavor society as an affiliated one. The village society will appoint a fural committee, and this committee shall seek to form societies in the families outside the village who through any large portion of the year are unable to become attending members of the church society. Dr Clark's pledge for the Christian Endeavor home circle is used, and some member of the family is designated as the secretary of the family society. A monthly report is sent by each family secretary to the village society in time for the regular business meeting. These little reports serve as the "tie that binds." The family offering is also made to accompany the report. The organization is made as simple as possible, and yet there is enough of it to make it mean something more than ordinary. The pledge idea is emphasized strongly, and at least once a week the members of the family gather for a half hour in a service of prayer and testimony, where each keeps in spirit at least the regular Christian Endeavor pledge as it relates to the prayer meeting.-J. R. C. in Empire State Notes.

A Pleasant Social Event.

(For the RECORD.)

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Erb, on Mill Ave., Taneytown, was the scene of a pleasant social gathering on Tuesday evening last, given in honor of the 2.th. anniversary of the latter's birthday, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Zentz. The event was originally planned as a surprise to Mrs Erb, who evidently had gotten an inkling of the plans early in the day and at once proceeded to make preparations for the entertainment of a few of her many friends, but imagine her surprise, when about 8 o'clock in response to the door bell call, she was startled to see the number who had called to spend the evening.

NUMBERING THE PEOPLE.

Dark Predictions by Foes of an English Census Bill.

It was in 1753 that a proposal to count the people was first made.

Thomas Potter, son of the archbishop of Canterbury and member for St. Germans, introduced in that year a bill

"for taking and registering an annual account of the total number of the people and of the total number of marriages, births and deaths and also of the total number of poor receiving

alms from every parish and extra para-chial place in Great Britain." It was inevitable, of course, that directly this proposal was made the precedent of King David should be quoted. And many were the jeremiads as to the alternative evils which would befall the country. Those submitted to David were mild in comparison. Ir. Thorn-
