But for this contest the ballots cast at the last election would have been removed from the boxes and destroyed last month. The law, however, provides that in the event of a contest the ballots shall not be so removed and destroyed until after the contest is settled. In the present case the contest will not be decided until after the approaching election, and unless some special agree ment is reached in the meantime the counties will be put to the expense of purchasing new boxes.

At the opening of the golden jubilee of the Sisters of Mercy in Maryland at Mt. St. Agnes' College, Mount Washington, on Tuesday, Cardinal Gibbons in his address at the commencement exercises spoke of the position of Maryland as the first State to stand for civil and religious liberty. He said there is a dispositi in some quarters to deprive the State of this distinction, but Marylanders should not permit themselves to be robbed of it. The Cardinal also spoke of the position of woman as society is constituted at present and of her many rights and privileges. He expressed the hope that women would never enter politics. They cannot vote now, he said, but they can make men vote to please them, and that

German Baptist Questions.

At the general conference of the German Baptist Brethren Church, at Bristol, pect ALL to respond during this month. onds. Tenn., it was decided that no change should be made at this session of the conference in the name of the Church. The question aroused considerable feeling among the members on the floor and much time was devoted to a discussion of it. The sentiment of the body appeared to be against a change and such a move would have created a great deal of discussion, it is said

A resolution offered for the consideration of the conference proposed to place the selling of diamonds and gold rings on a plane with the selling gaming cards and dice. This paper asked that members of the Church be prohibited from selling all such articles. The proposition was referred to the standing committee, to be taken up at the next annual meetng.

The question of discarding the "holy kiss" on Communion occasions was sent back to the committee and will come up again next year.

A Commencement, but no Binding Agreement Reached.

Washington, June 14.-Gradually the negotiations for peace in the Far East are nearing a focus. The one point to which the energies of those directly concerned in them now are being directed is the choice of a place for the holding of the conference of the plenipotentiaries of the belligerent powers. It is known officially that three cities now are under consideration by Russia and Japan. These cities named in the order of the likelihood of their final selection are Washington, the Hague and Geneva. Thus far no decision has been reached. Paris and Londen have been eliminated is a bluff? You demand some illustra-tion of the good that is accomplished by the scientific method? Very well. When clover was first introduced in Australia it grew there beautifully, but it never seeded. The soil was all right. The climate was all right. What, then, was the trouble? A scientist studied the matter the native Australian bees had tongues too short to reach the clover's pollenclover, are hidden deeply in the heart of the tubelike petals, and they can be fertilized only by the long-tongued humble bee. In fact, the farmer no longer plants by guess, but reads the bulletin our agricultural stations and the best articles in scientific farmers' fournals."

Why should not science discover improved methods of farming—of making things grow? It has done away with old machinery and tools, old carriages and harness, crude household appliances,old methods of dairying and hauling produce fifty miles or more to market. It has brought us better schools, plenty of reading matter, the telephone, improved buildings and a thousand and one things that are now ours, coming gradually with, the years, that we take such improvements as a matter of course, without asking why. #### Russia's Gravest Peril.

St. Petersburg, June 10.—The Radical press which hounds the government no matter which way it turns, is promptly seeking to take advantage of the new situation created by the possibility of peace. Although for months it has been preaching peace and the abandonment of the whole of the Manchurian adventure at any cost, it has already veered, and pretends to be horrified at the fact that Russia can contemplate the possibility of surrendering her position on the Pacific and purchasing peace at the price of an indemnity after the sacrifice of millions of the people's money and thousands of lives. Only the people, it says,

These tactics will produce the more effect since, as far as the indemnity goes, the Radical papers undoubtadly reflect the views of the masses of the Russian people as well as those prevalent in official circles. The status of Vladivostok and the question of an indemnity are sure to be the main obstacles to an agreement, but the crisis which the solid elements of the opposition are trying to precipitate constitutes the chief danger. uttered by the Moscow Zemstvo Congress

While the well conducted newspaper is appreciated in the vicinity where it is published, the full extent of such appreciation is felt by those who leave home. That distance lends enchantment is proved by the many words of praise found in ment in the field or on the part of other for the zone, and will make a thorough the letters which contain the checks for renewal of subscriptions.

When a man pulls up stakes and shakes the dust from his shoes from the old home to seek pastures new, says the Gloucester (Mass.) Times, he naturally has a handkering to know what is going on at the place he has left behind, who is getting married, the business changes, the improvements and the many other items of local interest which a well conducted paper furnishes.

The home paper forms an important connecting link between the home left behind and the present abode, and when the time comes for a visit home the persons who have kept posted on the old home take keen enjoyment in looking up the changes of which they have been kept cognizant. -Ex.

Beginning June 18. By REV. S. H. DOYLE. Topic.-Minor moralities.-Eph. iv, 25-32. Christianity deals not only with our relation to God, but also with our relations to our fellow men. Four of the commandments of the Decalogue concern man's duties to God and six his duties to his fellows. Christ summed up the law in two commandments: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God. * * * This is the first and the great rs thyself." Our duties to our fellow men fall, then, only below our duties to God and can only be called "minor moralities" as compared with our direct relation to God. In fact, there are no minor moralities or immoralities. A unto one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto Me." In Unusual Places.

It has recently been learned that Christian Endeavor has existed in Iceland for several years. There is a flour-Ishing society in Reykjavik under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Frederickson. Spring on the Farm.

I've laid aside my flannel shirt,
And donned my old straw hat;
I'm out a-digging in the dirt,
And doing this and that.
Perhaps I hitch up to the plough
And go around, and then
As like as anything, allow
'Tis time to set a hen;
I'm kind o' notified, and like
As maybe not you will
See me a-sailing on my bike
And smiling fit to kill.
I feel religious in the spring,
And joyful; for the wust
Of pesky troubles all take wing
When Buckeye blossoms bust.

I rig my fishing tackle up
And for the river pull;
It seems to me my earthly cup
With joy is brimming full!
I throw a kiss to Lizy Ann,
And, God be glorified!
And then it's catch me if you can
As for the creek I slide.
When I come back my wife she scolds
Like anything possessed,
But not a wave of trouble rolls
Across my peaceful breast.
I kiss her on the dimples,
And tell her that we have fussed
Our last. I love through thick and thin
When buckeye blossoms bust.

A Story of Li Hung Chang. In the diary of Sir M. E. Grant Duff is a fine story of Li Hung Chang, whose candor was never quite equaled in this world. He was dining with a Swedish traveler,

"You come from Sweden," said the great man, "don't you?" "Yes," was the reply. "And what kind of country is Sweden?" rejoined the other, whereupon he received, as was natural, a glowing description of its charms. "Ah," he said, "that is very nice; very nice indeed. When I next communicate with the emperor of Russia I will tell him to take Sweden!"

His Rates. When a man longs to set his country's wrongs before an audience he puts a high value on his time. "What would be your price for &
