Public Printing Scandal.

The Public Printing bill, as passed by the last legislature has been tampered raised from $18,000 to $25,000. Whethe this was done to increase the "graft" contained in the bill, or whether it was with the intention of having the whole bill declared illegal by the courts, with a consequent return to the old methods, is not quite clear. It is plain, however, that somebody is guilty of a serious crime and Governor Warfield says he means to have the matter fully investi gated, and the guilty parties brought to justice, if possible.

As the law now stands, as passed in 1904, the Board of Public Works was directed to award the contract for printing before Sept. 1, of the year in which members of the legislature are elected, and was prohibited from considering any bid in excess of $25,000 (the amount having been raised from $18,000).

Under the old law, the Clerk of the Court of Appeals awarded the contract, and there was no limit as to the amount to be paid for printing. At the session of 1904, for instance, the state paid the Public Printer $32,631.58, and it was the apparent fact that a combination of high price that led the legislature to kinds is one of the best preventitives of adopt a new law and limit the contract Public printing has proved a juicy plum in the past, and the new law, if it will likely have to pay the extra $7,000. If it does not, the old method will be in force and probably a much larger amount will be squeezed out. The Baltimore News says: "Another view of the situation is that the Board of Public Works can go ahead and award the contract without raising the question of the legality of the bill. The language of the measure permits them to accep the lowest offer under $25,000, and as there is one offer at $17,999 they could accept it, and thereby do what the members of the legislature intended them to do. It would then become a question law should be attacked in court.

One thing must be remembered by the voter; that the best men of the party are not sought for party positions. Those who win are those who seek the position-by manipulating primaries, by using money when a few votes count, and by presuming on the lack of interest of the great voting public. When the result of a convention is arrived at, and the candidates are measured for their qualifications and found wanting; when it is clearly apparent that much better men might have been named, then the masses take interest enough to wonder, why? which he combines with other workers who have the same capital. Thus, three candidates, for instance, enter a compact for mutual assistance, the three votes of a convention, and it is easy to see how they secure their nomination; this very important final consummation growing out of a quietly worked district primary contest which the majority of voters considered too unimportant to Suppose a postoffice is the prize? It is custom that appointments to such offices are made on the indorsement of members of the County and State Central Committees directly interested. Petitions of course, are circulated in order to give the patrons the idea that they have "some say" in the matter, but a petition a mile long does not, as a rule, stand any show against the inside indorsement of a half-dozen central committeemen, and of one or more of the political bosses who have, by means questionable or otherwise, gained the ear and confidence of the appointing power. Therefore, the result is that the people are again deluded, because of their underrating the importance of the primary election and its underlying possibilities. No matter how eminent may be the qualifications of one who desires to serve the public as postmaster, unless he wins in a disreputable dicker for the votes of those who can be either bought or persuaded to vote "his ticket" at the primary, he has little more chance of winning the office than has a horse to be public service will ever be placed on a letin. higher plan than this is very doubtful; and certainly there is much connected with the present system which is to be regretted, and which will be very difficult to cure unless'every voter becomes Dickering Out of Date.

It is a noticeable fact in business that 'jewing' is practically non-existent in present day buying and selling, at least in the stores, and the fact is worth recording and commending. The preceding section concerns not only colored, but white voters as well. A measure prescribing that every voter must be able to read and write would be just and fair all around, but the Maryland scheme does not intend this. By giving the registration boards practically absolute discretion as to whom they shall or shall not admit to the franchise, it lodges a dangerous and indefensible extent of authority in the hands. The present era may be one of sensational results from the fact that it is also one of exceptional moral ferment and of exceptional zeal in hunting down and punishing corruption. Our standards of honesty in public and private life have risen, and we are developing a sensitivenest toward evil practices of all sorts which to an earlier generation might have seemed a little finical. Chinese Exclusion.

Apropos of the question of Chinese labor on the Isthmus, it is worth while to note the great revival of the discussion of the exclusion of the Chinese from this country. A situation existed which had come to be so intolerable to the educated Chinese that they had begun to find a way very effectively to call our attention to the barbarity to which we have been subjecting them. The exclusion of Chinese laborers is one thing, and the visit ing of indignities upon merchants, schola good pair of horses, and as long as ars, students, officials, and well-to-do 6 Ot. Tin Covered Buckets, 14c personages who seek to come here for one purpose or another—those purposes usually being for our own honor and profit—is a very different thing. Yet our immigration and port officials have, as a and strength of mind and body except by nourishment. There is no way to Oriental personages with all their dig-Oriental personages, with all their dignity and old-world culture, to the sort of treatment that belonged in the worst period before the war to the administration of the fugitive-slave laws.

We have paused at nothing except the branding of these Chinese gentlemen with red-hot irons. Happily, President Roosevelt had ordered this thing stopped with a peremptoriness and a vigor that will have a good deal of effect The boycotting of American goods in China, however, by the educated classes has already gone very far. Many of our people think of China as a land of ignorant It is getting to be too much the custom | coolies who are so inferior to ourselve as to denounce the present era as one of to rise scarcely to the plane of human unexampled corruption in business and beings. A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the nore or less; and being the same land which was conveyed to said Gershom S. PUBLIC SALE

The undersigned will offer at public sale, or he premises, on the Taneytown and West-ninster road, about 2 miles from Taneytown SATURDAY, AUGUST 19th., 1905, at 1 o'clock, p. m., the farm owned by the late Emanuel Sell, containg 135 ACRES OF LAND, about fifteen acres of which is good wood land, and the entire farm is in a high state of cultivation. The improvements consist of a BRICK CASED DWELLING, large bank barn nearly new, wagon shed, and all necessary outbuildings. There is a stream of running water through the place, running water at the house and a well at barn.

There is a good young orchard on the farm and an ample supply of fruit of all kinds. This farm is one of the best located in the county for all purposes and would make an excellent dairy farm. It is worth the attention of all who desire to purchase a desirable home and farm, and is one of the opportunities seldom given. Possession will be given on April 1, 1906. TERMS:- Reasonable terms will be given to suit purchaser, and will be made known on day of sale.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE. Topic.—The first fruits for God.—Lev. xxiii, 9-14; Deut. xvi, 9-12. (Consecration

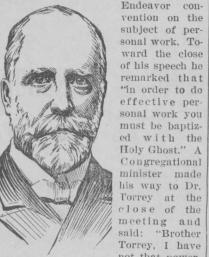

God demands the first and the best of all we have to give. This principle was established forever in the laws of the Old Testament-"And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel and say unto them, When ye be come into the land which I give unto you and shall reap | place we see those who stand with God the harvest thereof ye shall bring a sheaf of the first fruits of your harvest unto the priest; * * * it shall be a statute forever throughout your generations in all your dwellings." Thus God gave His people a law which declared that the first fruits were always to be consecrated unto Him, and this law still operates in His kingdom to-

God wants the first fruits in every relation in life. He not only ordered He was one of seven in the Scriptures that the agriculturist among His ancient people should bring the first fruits | Him who knoweth all things and deof His harvests to Him, but He asks of all men everywhere that they should first of all seek Him, and, having found Him, give to Him the first place in talu altars would burn men's bones, mind, heart and life. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness." "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soul, with all thy mind and with all thy strength." "He that loveth father, mother, brother or sister more than Me is not worthy of Me." It is first place or none that God demands. Our best thoughts, our best words, our best deeds, are all to be dedicated to God.

Nor is there any injustice in God's asking for the first fruits. All belong to Him, and in only asking a part from us He is giving to us instead of our giving to Him. Where do the first fruits and all that follow come but from God? What farmer has the power to produce a harvest? None. God made the soil; He made the seed and placed within it the principle of life was to first take heed to himself (I always sweet, and, with ice in plenty, less is a swell as with contribute. and reproduction; He sends the rain | Tim. iv, 16), and our Lord taught us | loss is nearly as small as with centrifugal him the remainder? Yet that is what God does for us. All we have He has given to us. He can justly demand it all of us, and when He only asks for a part of it we should give it to Him with good measure and a thankful heart that we have it to give. Moreover, he richly repays all those who are faithful in giving the first of all-self, talents and possessions—to Him. BIBLE READINGS.

The Weekly Prayer Meeting. The true society must work as well as pray, act as well as talk. But this article has to do with the importance of the prayer meeting, and I have no hesitation in saying that in all these nearly five and twenty years of Christian Endeavor there has never been a vigorous, aggressive, long lived society that did not keep up a vigorous weekly prayer meeting. The membership may have been very small, the circumstances discouraging, but the earnest, warm weekly meeting has maintained in vigor and usefulness many a soci-

The Stable Doorway. Many farm horse stables have doorways that are too narrow for large horses to pass through safely. It is a this to be a fact. For sale by R. S. Mctrick with many horses to rush through | Kinney, Druggist, Taneytown, Md. a narrow doorway quickly. They have had experience in getting knocks from one side or the other, and they want the ordeal over with as soon as possible. The narrow doorway may cause the most valuable horses to injure a hip. It costs but little usually to move a post and put in a wider door.

Exposure Injures Foals. Young foals that are stabled with their dams during cold rainstorms will thrive much better than those which are not so protected, says American Cultivator. The idea that exposure to inclement weather makes a foal hardy is fallacious. Those that are naturally the most hardy will be least affected by hardships. The weaker ones will die if the hardships which they are forced to endure are too great.

Rough quarry refuse and for a part of the distance field stones were used, all hand broken to two and three inch sifted quarry chips, and a crown was given to the roadway with an elevation of about six inches in a width of sixteen feet. Wagons were built for hauling stone over this road with wide tires and axles of different length, as follows: Front tire, seven-eighths of an inch thick and four inches wide; distance between centers of front wheels, 5, 6 and 7, and then, when the knock comes, they will either be fast asleep or had tires one inch thick and six inches four feet five inches; the rear wheels wide, the distance between center of rear wheels being five feet eight inches. front and three inches rear. The constant use of these wagons during the last three years has produced a smooth, compact and regular surawake hour after hour wearily striving face between the quarry and the works. The wide tires and varying gauges excited much attention at first, and conflicting opinions regarding their utility were expressed. The result is eminently in their favor, and a general sentiment supports the use of these wagons for heavy loads. Loads of stone varying from 8,000 to 16,000 pounds are continuously hauled over this road with no perceptible wear. The cost per ton of hauling stone has been reduced from 80 cents to 60 cents, and a team can easily earn from $3.50 to $4 per day hauling wall stone, making two round trips of nine miles each, and Best.

The adjective Good was dignified beyond all others when the Creator inspected his work and said:

IT IS GOOD To feel that one's work is Good, is to experience the highest exaltation of mind in the presence of which superlatives seem pitiful.

It has required observation, experience and thought to bring

"White Dove" Flour to its present perfection, so that when you use it you may realize the supreme satisfaction of a mind that knows its work is really Good.

"White Dove" Flour Is Good to look at, Good to Use, Good to Bake to suit all Views; Good for Pies, Good for Cake, Good 'tis said for all who Bake; Good to save it has been said Good for turning out good Bread; As long as Bread is Baked for Food, All can say White Dove is Good.

It will set tires cold without taking out the tire bolts.

There is no burning of rims or marring of paint. It compresses or shortens a tire throughout its entire length evenly and not in bunches or spots. It does not erush the edges of tires or mar the felloe. It can be used for pulling old spokes and jumping in new ones.

It keeps the dish of a wheel just right. J. THOMAS WANTZ, Blacksmithing and General Repair Work, 3 miles west of Taneytown
