In Pennsylvania the popularity of the new system of road improvement by state aid and the effectiveness of the State Highway Department is demonstrated by the fact that every county except seven has asked and obtained such aid. These counties are Bedford, Forest, Jefferson, Juniata, Lebanon, Schuvlkill and Wyoming. Since the establishment of the State Highway Department, 417 applications for aid have been received. Seventy-one miles of roads have been struction, 13 additional miles are ready for the contracts to be let and plans ened. have been made for 20. What a Railroad Rebate Is.

A good deal of the present confusion arises from a quibbling (or legal) use of terms. The difficulty lies in our various applications of the words "rebate" and is a sum of money secretly paid back by to making close distinctions-to whom stealing of any one of the 17 kinds known to the law is still plain stealinguse the word "rebate" in a much wider sense. It means any sort of favoritism to one shipper that is not given to all shippers. We find the same distinction in politics. "Bribery" in the narrow sense-the ugly crude payment of cashmay be disappearing from politics. But "bribery" in the wider sense, meaning any reward for corrupt political services,

Indeed, there has been the same derelopment in railroad (and in wider business) corruption, as in political The railroad Crokers have followed

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

-God's wonderful works.-Ps. x!

1-11. (Thanksgiving service.) The wonderful works of God are manifested on every hand about us in life. David looked into the heavens and was inspired to say, "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth His handiwork." He looked about him upon the earth and said, "Day unto day uttereth speech, business in great waters—these see the works of God and His wonders in the can be numbered.'

wonderful. No one can read the his- hope tory of God's people without being impressed with the wonderfulness of Cod's works toward them. God has preserved them. In trouble He has heard and answered their prayers. In the hour of trial and danger He has defended them and brought them safely forth, often in the most marvelous ways. And of His works of grace the most wonderful is His redemption of the world through His Son. God's love for the world and the method of its manifestation are, after all, the most wonderful things about Him.

Oh, wondrous love, to bleed and die, To bear the cross and shame, That guilty sinners such as I Might breathe that holy name!

A book or epistle is often divided into sections, and the divisions of this epistle are easily recognized by the words "Now concerning" or "Now as touching" (vii, 1; viii, 1; xii, 1; xvi, 1). Our lesson is in the section concerning things offered unto idols, and idols suggest the devil and demons and not God (verses 19-21: Deut. xxxii, 17: Ps. cvi, 36, 37). Chapter viii, 6, is a very helpful word covering the whole life of the believer-one God, the Father, and one Lord, Jesus Christ, of whom and by whom are all things. Then in our lesson (x, 31), "Whether therefore ye eat or drink or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God," sets before God's wonderful works should deeply us all that is required of us. MILLET'S INFLUENCE.

In his own words Millet tried to depict "the fundamental side of men and things." His subject was the peasant life-not the representation of it such as one sees in opera or the pretty, sentimental aspect of it, but the actual drama of labor continuously proceed-Ing through the four seasons, the "cry of the soul," echoing in the hearts of the patient, plodding, God fearing toilers. Everything was typical. We have spoken of his "Sower." Of another picture the critic Castagnary wrote: "Do you remember his 'Reaper?' He might have reaped the whole earth!" Everything that Millet did was full of a deep seriousness and sincerity. He never was an "easy" painter, so that his greatness as an artist is perhaps more clear in the black and white than in the colored subjects. Certainly in his crayon drawings, lithographs and etchings he proved himself to be one of that limited number of artists who may be reckoned master draftsmen. Moreover, the character that he expresses is of that grand and elemental quality which sometimes reminds us of Michael Angelo.

Millet's influence produced a host of painters of the peasant, among whom the strongest are the Frenchman L'Hermitte and Israels, the Dutchman, These, like him, have represented their sub best advantage, the proceeds to be his | ject with sympathy and with understanding also. - St. Nicho'as,

The following appeared in the last issue of the Gettysburg Star as an item of court news: "In the case of George B. Hoover vs. John Kimple, an action in assumpsit, Mr. Hoover, the plaintiff, claimed that Mr. Kimple sold him the furniture and fixtures of a hotel in Taneytown, Md., together with a lease of the said hotel for a term of about four years, for the sum of $700, and verbally warranted that the lease was a valid one. Hoover was unable to get possession because under the laws of Maryland the lease was invalid. The Court directed a verdict for Kimple on the ground that the contract of sale so made was regulated by the laws of Maryland, under which all warranties are required to be the perennial prune—always in season, in writing. HANDKERCHIEF

SALE!

We got a chance to buy a mighty big lot of Assorted Handkerchiefs at a mighty low price. Over 3000. The lot is part of a certain manufacturer's overstock—bit off more than he could chew, made more than he can sell before he needs the money. We'd like to have more of the same lot, but we think there are enough for everybody who comes to the store next Saturday and Monday, though they'll hardly last longer at the sacrificing figure we quote.

Hemstitched, all Silk, Handkerchiefs-Silk Handkerchiefs, embroidered in colors-Plain White Hemstitched Handkerchiefs—Irish Linen Hemmed Handkerchiefs—Colored Border Handkerchiefs—White Swiss Embroidered Handkerchiefs-in fact an almost endless variety for Men, Women and Children.

Your choice for 10 cents.

Next Saturday and Monday, November 25th. and 27th., and remember that there are Handkerchiefs in this lot which if sold in the ordinary way, would retail at 15c, 20c, 25c, and 30c.
