

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic for the Week Beginning March 31.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic—Home Missions: The progress of the Afro-American...

That there is need of progress among the freedmen is not to be wondered at.

But the God who loosed the bonds of the freedmen has blessed them.

Then the gospel that does not include the resurrection of the believer...

But, while progress has been made, there is still a great work to be done.

Ohio now has 250 societies, representing twenty-five denominations...

The Measure of Success: A Christian Endeavor leader succeeds not by what he does and says...

A Curious Notice: This curious official notice was once published in Germany...

Emden Geese: Emden geese are of German origin.

Don't neglect your cough. Statistics show that in New York City alone over 200 people die every week from consumption.

And most of these consumptives might be living now if they had not neglected the warning cough.

You know how quickly Scott's Emulsion enables you to throw off a cough or cold.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON XIII, FIRST QUARTER, INTERMEDIATE COURSE, MARCH 31.

Text of the Lesson, I Cor. xv, 12-21. 55-58—Memory Verse, 57—Golden Text, I Cor. xv, 20—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

TANEYTON LOCAL COLUMN.

Items of Local News of Special Interest to Home Readers.

All copy for advertisements on this page must be in hand early on Thursday morning of each week, except special notices and short announcements.

William M. Reindollar has purchased the (Wareheim) farm owned by David H. Bair.

Jeremiah Overholtzer has purchased the property of the late Ezra Hawk, the price paid being $1500.

Charles Cashman is at home, recuperating from an attack of grippe, but will return to his post at Springfield asylum.

Rev. Henry P. Sanders has accepted a call to Asheville, N. C., and has his household effects shipped there this week.

Mrs. C. A. Reaver and two children, Miss Nellie and Master Ralph, of Hanover, Pa., spent several days recently in Taneytown and vicinity.

Early gardeners have set out onions, and planted peas and lettuce. More work of this kind has been done this year, in March, than for many years.

Union Prayer-meeting in Presbyterian church, Wednesday, April 3rd. Subject, "Our Sufficiency in Jesus Christ." Scripture lessons, Isaiah 53, II Cor. 12:9.

We received, the first of this week, a supply of garden seeds, by order of Hon. Jos. A. Gouldner. They have all been given out, and not enough to go around.

Mrs. Jane Bitzel, who had been assisting the Kane family, was taken with pneumonia, last Sunday, and on Tuesday she was removed to the home of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Fink.

Last Friday and Saturday beat the record for hot days in March, thermometers recording as high as 85° and 90° according to location. The Sun must have been suffering from "brain storm."

The Holy Communion was administered on last Sunday in St. Paul's Lutheran church, a large congregation being present. The pastor, Rev. W. G. Minnick, received 14 to the church by the rite of confirmation.

John A. Null met with an accident, on Thursday, which resulted in a broken bone in his left hand. He was riding a wind-wheel and had his hand caught by a crank which pressed it against the frame, with the result stated.

Robert H. Bankard and family, of Pleasant Valley, moved to Taneytown, on Thursday, and took charge of the Elliott Hotel, owners and proprietors. Mr. Elliott and family are comfortably housed in their new home, recently purchased from Mrs. G. T. Motter.

Some time early in April, after the population of Taneytown settles down for the year, the RECORD will devise some plan for taking a census of the town, just to see how big we are. Should it be necessary to make a house to house canvass, we trust that all who are waited on will furnish the desired information.

Theresa Blanche, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Kane, died shortly after noon, last Friday, after a long illness from a complication of diseases. She was in her 23rd year. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning, at St. Joseph's Catholic church, interment following in the adjoining cemetery.

The sympathy of our whole town is with the Kane family, on account of the amount of illness they have had since being residents here. Mrs. Kane is still quite ill, though somewhat improved.

The Value of Tourist Travel.

In this age the amount of money left in lands of romantic or picturesque interest by tourists is very great. It has been estimated that the U. S. tourist's most is spent by travelers in Japan and that Americans spend from $120,000,000 to $150,000,000 yearly in European travel. Italy receives over $60,000,000 a year from travelers.

It is also estimated that 30,000 eastern people, ninety per cent. from east of Kansas City, visit California in the winter season, staying on an average ninety days. These easterners pay, all told, $34,000,000 for their winter outing. Of this sum, the railroads receive $5,000,000 and the Pullman Company, $20,000,000. The remaining $9,000,000 is spent by the tourists within the confines of the State.

This to must be added the enormous sums of money left in California. This season the trend of the tourist travel has been southward. The earthquake in California, perhaps, has had some influence in diverting more of the travel to Florida.

The Sons of Presidents.

Strictly speaking, only 21 Presidents' sons, concerning which there are available records, have grown to manhood.

Six Presidents—Washington, Madison, Jackson, Polk, Buchanan (a bachelor) and McKinley—left no children.

Two—Jefferson and Monroe—left daughters only. President Johnson had two sons, but both died before he was President, and so do not count.

The sons of 13 Presidents—John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Fillmore, Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur and Benjamin Harrison—have lived to man's estate. The sons of Cleveland and Roosevelt are still boys.

Of the 21 Presidents' sons who have reached manhood 9 have bulked large in the public eye on their own account, and all but one or two have been solid, substantial citizens.

The prominent nine are John Quincy Adams, President, diplomatist and Representative; Charles Francis Adams, publicist and statesman; Robert Tyler, register of the Confederate Treasury; Richard Taylor, who served with distinguished gallantry on the Confederate side in the Civil War; John Van Buren, prominent in State politics and just entering national politics when he died; Robert Todd Lincoln, Federal Minister, diplomatist and president of a world-famous corporation; Frederick Dent Grant, diplomatist and general in the army; Henry A. Wallard, lawyer, banker and professor of public law at a great university, and James R. Garfield, State Senator and United States Civil Service Commissioner of Corporations in the Department of Commerce and Labor, now in the Cabinet.

Besides the nine who have climbed so high, there is John Scott Harrison, who had the unique distinction of being the son of one President and the father of another. He was a man of force and of great influence in his own State, and he was not a prominent figure in a national sense. Counting him in, and he surely "made good," as the saying is, ten, or only one less than half the Presidents' sons who have reached manhood, are entitled to be named on the roll of honor.

Practically all of the Presidents' sons who have grown to man's estate have been good citizens; their lives have been clean, wholesome and a credit alike to their parents and to the nation.

Of the 10 to 20 have won unusual distinction. It would be hard to find any other class of prominent Americans whose lives have done as well as those of the Presidents.

The Dog's Unique Death.

Champ Clark relates the experience of a western politician who was making a house-to-house canvass some years ago.

This politician, says Harper's Weekly, had come to a prosperous-looking farmhouse at a crossroad, when he observed a comely young woman standing at the gate. Pulling up his horse, the candidate for the people's favor gracefully lifted his hat in salute to the young woman, and politely asked:

"No doubt, madam, your estimable husband is at home?"

"Yes," responded the woman.

"Might I have the pleasure of seeing him?" suavely inquired the politician.

"He's down in the pasture a-burvin' the dog," came from the individual at the gate.

"I am very sorry indeed to learn of the death of your dog," came in sympathizing tones from the candidate.

"What killed him?"

"He wore himself out a-barkin' at candidates," said the woman.

Letter to James C. Galt.

Taneytown Md.

Dear Sir: You are in a position to influence men with regard to their property more than you in that little room where they tell you their troubles. Play, if you can, the part of a wise man.

What is the point that takes least gallons; for paint costs money, and putting it on costs twice as much as the paint.

That is short; but that's all; it includes the rest. One paint wears long, another wears short; but the one that wears long is the least gallons paint, least gallons means adulterated and weak, besides small gallons.

Paint is one of the biggest interests in the United States; not the business of making it; no, the business of painting, taking care of property. Paint is worth a great deal more than it costs, and the best cost of it is Devoe.

Yours truly
F. W. DEVOE & CO

How Woxall Was Named.

Near Schuylkill, Pa., is a village that bears the name of Woxall. This wonderful name was the result of an error upon the part of the postoffice department in Washington.

The place was known many years ago as "Croppetelle," or "Crowthorn," and later as "Michaelsville," but when a post-office was established there in 1888 neither of these names was satisfactory, and it was decided to choose a new cognomen.

Many were the suggestions submitted to the postoffice department, but all were found to be too nearly like the name of some other postoffice to be acceptable. One day the village storekeeper saw the word "Woxall" upon a piece of calico and called the attention of several friends to it.

At once all agreed that "Woxall" would be a fine name for their town. So the postoffice authorities were notified. Soon a letter came from Washington approving the name that had been chosen, but in the letter it was spelled "Woxall." So Woxall became the name of the village—Philadelphia Record.

What Puzzled Her.

A woman whose religious education had been received in the plain edifice erected by an unassuming New England congregation was persuaded, much against her will, to attend divine service in one of New York's most showy churches.

She showed from the start that, notwithstanding her puritanical training, she was interested in the proceedings. She studied the elaborate exterior, the architecture, the richly tinted windows and the altar decorations closely. By and by her eyes became fixed on the ceiling. Her friend wondered what particular feature of those lofty heights held her attention so long a time. During a lull in the chanting of the choir she tried to find out.

"Oh," said the New England woman in tones of infinite concern, "I was wondering how on earth they get away up there to dust the rafters?"

"New York Post.

What is "All Wool?"

I have met a county magistrate, a wealthy man who would not be put off with anything but the best, if in a "society" lady in a single "blanket" motor coat, the composition of which I knew to be of a nature that it might very easily owe its existence in part to the cast-off hosiery of her own scullery maid, collected from the ash bin.

Even the "blanket" suit, the delicate blue gray mixture of which I happened to know was produced by the judicious blending of old blue stockings, such as navvies wear with old white stockings. His Modest Claim.

A claim for damages against a railroad company is so often a license for exorbitant charges that a simple bill, such as was received by an American railroad company many years ago, even apart from its humorous aspect, is refreshing. It ran as follows:

The ——— Railroad company to John Smith, Dr.

July 19, 1887. For running your locomotive into my wife's car $10.00

To smashing her box and spilling her hat 3.37

To upsetting my deer born (wagon) 3.00

To hurting me 63.87

There is authority for stating that the claim was paid immediately.—Scrap Book.

Alfalfa in the Pennsylvania Experiment Station.

In the experience of the Pennsylvania experiment station alfalfa grew in a compact, gravelly soil with good drainage quite as well as in a loose loam. Heavy applications of phosphoric acid and potash were very effective in improving the growth of the crop, but five tons of barnyard manure per acre gave better results than the phosphoric acid and potash contained in 500 pounds of a good brand of commercial fertilizer.

Turkistan alfalfa did not appear as valuable as the common alfalfa. It is stated that fall seeded alfalfa on dry land will withstand severe winters in Pennsylvania better than the common red clover. In several instances alfalfa withstood the first winter, but was completely killed out during the second.

Complies with all requirements of the National Pure Food Law, Guarantee No. 2041, filed at Washington.

"We dined in some of the finest hotels and restaurants, but did not find any coffee to excel in quality Arbuckle's ARIOSA."

That is what one lady writes and millions of others prove they believe, by using more Arbuckle's ARIOSA Coffee than all the other packaged coffees in the United States put together.

The fact that Arbuckle's ARIOSA Coffee costs less and has suited the health and taste of most American people for over 37 years, ought to induce everybody to at least sample it.

The cities kids many country girls and boys who secretly sigh for a cup of good coffee like "mother" made.

"Mother" probably used the old original "Arbuckle's" the first roasted packaged coffee.

See that you get the sealed package, one pound full weight, bearing the name ARBUCKLE'S ARIOSA COFFEE and the signature of Arbuckle Brothers, which entitles you to presents.

That is the genuine article, no matter where you buy it or what price you pay for it.

Same old Coffee, same old firm. If your grocer won't supply, write to ARBUCKLE BROS., NEW YORK CITY.
