Death of Rev. G. G. M. Brown.

Hagerstown, Md., Nov. 4.-Rev. George Lutheran minister, died Saturday night at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Mary Brown, in Waynesboro, of Bright's disease, aged 45 years. Several months ago he went to Pen-Mar for his health. He was greatly benefitted, and in September he returned to his charge, at Mercersburg, where he preached his last sermon. His condition grew worse and he was taken to the home of his mother.

He was a son of George I. Brown, of Cavetown, and graduated from Pennsylvania College and the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg. He married Miss May K. Schindel, daughter of the late Jonathan Schindel, Ha-

New W. M. R. R. Shops.

Hagerstown, Md., Nov. 3.-With the completion this week of the new Western Maryland railroad shops in Hagerstown, employment will be given to about 200 additional men by the Western Maryland, in this city. About 125 of these men will come here from Union Bridge, where the Western Maryland has maintained shops for many years. The new shops are located in the western part of the city and cover an area of ground of about 25 acres. All the buildings are of brick, with concrete foundations. The entire plant is lighted by 63 arc lights. About 175 mechanics viil be retained at the old Union Bridge

We had a little Pauline once, She was our darling pride, We loved her, at! perhaps too much, For soon she slept and died.

She was a little lamb,
So innocent and bright,
Her stay with us was short,
But now she is robed in white. We miss our darling, oh! how much, Our God alone can tell, He took her from our embrace, He doeth all things well. By her Parents.

A little lamb has gone To dwell with him who gave; A little darling girl Is sheltered in her grave. By her Grandparents.

Death has robbed us of our baby, Oh can we help but shed a tear, But we know that she is happy With the loved ones gone before.

When we leave this world of changes. When we leave this world of care, We shall find our missing loved one, In our father's mansion fair f my dear Uncle, John Sowers, who departed this life, October 31, 1907. You will never be forgotten, dear Uncle, Never shall your memory fade.

Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger,
Around the grave where you was laid.
Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding,
O'er the spoils that death nas won,
We would at this solemn metting
Calmly say, "Thy will be done."
By his great niece, Carrie V. Foreman.

And this is the present situation in this county, this year, notwithstanding the fact that the election officials counted many ballots entitled, under the law to be thrown out. They helped the law, in a sense, from the full measure of condemnation it is entitled to, and yet there | lature is republican. must be a question, even in their actions cratic. The Senate will perhaps stand, in trying to construe the "intent" of the Democrats 17, Republican 10; House of voter, as to whether they always did in trying to construe the "intent" of the fairly or not. There was at least a tent," in some cases, and by the "law" in others, and this plan, considering the close vote in the county, could easily elect or defeat candidates.

A Truth from the Result.

The county returns are far from satis factory as showing the will of the peo ple. At best, the vote recorded for each candidate shows only partial ability to mark the big ballot, as hundreds of voters did not trust themselves to mark it for all the candidates. The following total votes, for various offices, in Taneytown district, illustrate the point: For Governor For State Senator For Comptroller 566 For Co. Commissioner 563 For County Treasurer

For State's Attorney 547 In all, there were 596 counted ballots, which shows that 13 were cast without had all to win, and nothing to lose but voting for Governor. No doubt, in some cases, voters purposely refrained from voting for certain candidates, taking the "neither for nor against" stand, for personal reasons, but it is more than probable that the difficulties of the ballot were solely responsible for most of the ballots not fully marked, and that many more than 47 (the number of rejected ballots) were actually disfranchised by the law. As the same variations and conditions exist in every district in the county, and in every county in the state, it is necessary to take account of them to see the full iniquity of the election law, and to show the necessity for relief, if majority rule is to be perpetuated.

A correspondent from Hampstead district writes; "The vote polled was 490.
Ballots were voted blank, and from one

But 422 were counted for State Senate, roll county; Townshend, for Sheriff, and or 24 not voting for either candidate, due

The Maryland and Virginia Eldership of the Churches of God met at Sample's at night. On Thursday morning the eldership organized by electing Rev. Samuel A. Kipe, president; Jesse F. Billmyer, of Carroll county, transcribing clerk; Rev. V. K. Betts, of Carrollton, financial clerk, and James E. Smith financial clerk, and James E. Smith, of Westminster, treasurer. During the morning session the standing committee's report was read and adopted in full excepting the item referring to the meeting of the committee at Locust Valley on November 30, 1906, which was, by request of Rev. J. A. Saxten, discussed. Rev. Saxten's object was to test the ecclesiastical law regarding this matter. After an explanation by Rev. W. H. Englar and some opposition made by one of the opposite faction, the motion to accept and adopt the work of the committee was made by Rev. S. A. Kipe. It was carried by a unanimous vote of the eldership, thus recognizing and accepting the new organization at Locust Valley as the legal church and not the faction who previously claimed this position

During the sessions Rev. W. G. Stine and Rev. Mr. Mosser, of Rocky Springs, were ordaided to the ministry and given annual license. Revs. Bickel and J. A. Staub, (a former morphor) from the Fact. Staub (a former member) from the East Pennsylvania Eldership, were made advisory members. Rev. W. S. Shrimp, of West Virginia Eldership North, was made a member subject to his transfer. The stationing committees' report was as follows: Uniontown and Frizellburg, L. F. Murray; Carrollton, Winfield, War-fieldsburg and Wakefield, V. K. Betts; Bark Hill, Mayberry and Friendship, J. A. A series of meetings are in progress at the Progressive Brethren church, conducted by Rev. Bell.

Not long since a party of eight ladies, were invited to spend the day with Mrs. Ernest Senseney. The invitation was gladly accepted, and all were present at the appointed time. After partaking of a bountiful dinner which consisted of all the substantials, as well as delicacies of the season, to which all did ample justice, a stroll was proposed. The day was an ideal one, and brought forth the remark, it might be our Indian Summer. The first object of interest was a large stone in the meadow erected by the Indians, who were settlers, in that locality at one time. Our attention was directed to a ditch being dug to convey water from a well to the bath room, now under construc-tion. We concluded to find the well, which was up a steep incline some distance off. As some of our party were stout, and some weak, we experienced no little difficulty in gaining the top, where they rested on a large tree, that had felt the woodman's axe, while the remainder viewed the well and went a little further to see the progress of a ket-tle of apple butter. We were then joined by the weary ones, and continued our walk, until we reached a cottage, and were made welcome by the hostess, who had been entertained in our homes

After each gathered a walnut, with plenty of spanish needles, as souveneirs of the occasion, we turned our steps to the Old Homestead where in years gone by, we enjoyed the sports of school-days. Our return was less difficult and we were surprised to find the dishes put away, much to the regret of one of the ladies who had brought an apron along for that purpose. We were then entertained with the graphaphone, until Father time said "Enough." Farewells were said, and many thanks to the hostess for the Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 10, 1907.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE. Topic.—The greed for gold.—Prov. xxiii, 4, 5; Luke xii, 13-21. The emphasis in this topic must be placed upon the word greed. Gold is right enough in itself and is a wonderful blessing to mankind, but that which needs to be condemned is the insatiate greed for gold that leads men to sacrifice their honor, their friends, their reputations and their very hope for heaven. It is to be denounced and preached against. For gold Benedict Arnold sold his country, Lord Bacon his judicial honor and Judas Iscariot his Lord. Men high in financial institutions have become defaulters, and widows and orphans have suffered, and men who have had their all intrusted to their care have lost it and have often been driven to despondency and despair.

The astounding and revolting revelations in recent years of the financial frauds in our political and business life have appalled the people. But, after all, there is more honesty in the world than the average man imagines. We only hear the stories of the comparatively few rascals who defraud the public, ruin banks and deceive the people in various ways to satisfy their greed for gold. Of the vast thousands who honestly fulfill their trusts, who honestly acquire a fortune, not a word is said, and therefore we think often that there is no honesty in the world; that every rich man is a scoundrel. we have not taken a wrong attitude in dealing with man's desire for gold. It is practically a universal desire. Text of the Lesson, Josh. xxiv, 14-28. tinually before thee and hear thy Few men would refuse a fortune. Gold has its value, and to despise it is to show a spirit of hypocrisy or of foolishness. It can be used as powerfully for good as for evil.

Gold plays a prominent part in every phase of life-the individual, home, church and state. It erects our hospitals, asylums, philanthropic homes, and makes possible the necessities and should be its proper accumulation and its proper use. Tirades and denunciations should have little place in dealing with such tremendous problems. Men need instruction in finding the proper solution of their attitude toward the natural craving for wealth. Honesty in acquirement should be emphasized, and the dangerous results of dishonesty should be made prominent. Furthermore, men should be taught that the greatest joy in gold is not simply the use of it for self, but for the good and happiness of others.

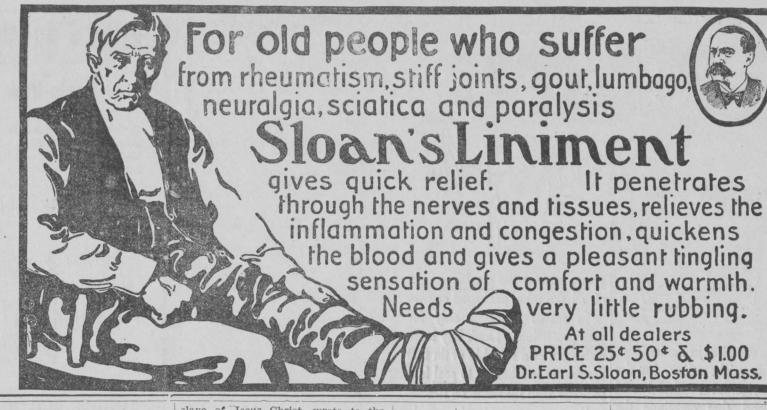

But, after all is said, gold has its dangers. The desire for it is great and often turns to a sinful greed, whether a man has much or little. It is the love of money, a false, insatiate love of it, that is a root of evil. The poorest may sinfully love it as well as you. All are come to pass unto you, the richest of men.

should warn us against a sinful greed for gold: (1) It's uncertainty. "Labor not to be rich, * * * for riches certainly make themselves wings." Nothing of great importance in life is so so with the man who came to Christ to ask Him to divide the inheritance. He saw in Christ a petty judge instead of a mighty Saviour. The rich young man who came to Christ could give up all for Him but his money, and instead of following Him he went away from Him. How many are kept from Christ because of their evil love for money and their evil use of it! (3) The sinful greed for gold leads us to overrate its value. Gold will do much, but it won't save the soul or feed it. This was the mistake of the rich fool in Christ's parable. He thought he could feed his soul on material things. He said, "Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years-eat, drink and be merry," as if the soul could be fed on also serve the Lord, for He is our God" his much goods. Only Christ, the bread of life, can satisfy our souls. All the gold and all earth's other treasures cannot save or support the soul. Make no mistake in thinking that it can do so in your case.

THE COW'S HORN. Information Concerning a Common but

Have you any conception of how use ful that horn is to us? Scientifically it is known as a combination of phosphate of lime, gelatin and albumen, and, like all nature's products, the ingredients are in the right proportion to make the article useful to man, as well as to the animal that bears it.

Useful Article.

The lime makes the horn hard, but there is just enough lime to make it hard without making it brittle, and there is just enough gelatin to make the horn easy to cut and shape. The core of the horn is bone, and to get that out the horn is soaked in water for several weeks. When the core is taken out, it is ground up and made Into crucibles which are used for melting gold and silver in. The outer end of the horn is hard and solid, and that is used for making knife handles and other things. The hollow part of the horn is soaked for half an hour or so in boiling water, when it becomes soft and may easily be split with a knife. It is then spread ness, headache, constipation, bad breath, out flat and put between iron plates.

A Tidy Sum From a Good Flock. A correspondent sends the following account of the extra good returns received from a flock of 130 hens owned by Miss Marcia Warren of West Baldwin, Me.

During last year 1,490 5-6 dozen eggs were produced, which sold for $384.87. The sales of poultry amounted to $94.-62, making the total receipts $479.49. The feed bill was $220.13, leaving $259.36 net profit, or practically $2 per hen. Miss Warren did all the work herself, hatching all chicks by hen power. The eggs are sent to Boston to a retail dealer. No breeding stock was sold nor eggs for extra prices. Dry feeding is practiced.
