

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic for the Week
Beginning March 29, 1908.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic—Home Missions.—Progress in the Philippines.—Matt. xlii, 21-23.

The Scriptures refer to the parables of the mustard seed and the leaven. The idea suggested in each is that from small beginnings the kingdom of heaven grows and spreads until it becomes great and powerful. The least of seeds becomes a great tree. A little leaven leaveneth the entire lump.

These parables are particularly applicable to the kingdom in the Philippines. It is a great field, and today is "the day of small things," but we are not to despise it for that reason. Under God the small becomes great. Even at the present time great progress has been made in our Pacific islands educationally, governmentally and religiously. Churches and Sunday schools in fair numbers have already been established. Tracts are being distributed perhaps in no other place in the world. The people no longer and man's folly; it is God's wisdom for man's ignorance. The words wise and wisdom are used over 100 times, and the words fool, foolish, foolishness, over ninety times. In chapter xlii and elsewhere wisdom evidently refers to the Son of God, for He is the wisdom of God (1 Cor. i, 24). By contrast we think of the fools of whom He Himself spoke, who hear the words but do not understand, who are rich on earth, but not rich toward God; who have no use for prophecy (Matt. vii, 26; Luke xli, 20, 21; xlv, 26). In verse 4 of this lesson chapter we read, "Labor not to be rich; cease from their own wisdom." It is man's wisdom to get rich quickly and at any cost, for he is slow to believe that riches make themselves wings and fly away (verse 5).

Our lesson, with its immediate context, sets forth the folly of bad women and strong drink, two of the great evils of this world by which the great destroyer destroys multitudes. Concentrating the words but do not understand, who are rich on earth, but not rich toward God; who have no use for prophecy (Matt. vii, 26; Luke xli, 20, 21; xlv, 26). In verse 4 of this lesson chapter we read, "Labor not to be rich; cease from their own wisdom." It is man's wisdom to get rich quickly and at any cost, for he is slow to believe that riches make themselves wings and fly away (verse 5).

The following "Philippine Notes" from the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Manual are interesting and instructive:

The saloon is the greatest enemy of progress in the Philippines, as it is the greatest foe to missions everywhere. Break it down at once and everywhere.

Christian Endeavor came to the Philippines in that splendid society on Dewey's flagship, the Olympia. It steadily spread among the Filipinos, and is destined to be an important agency in planting Protestant Christianity in those islands.

There are about 100,000 Catholics in the Philippine archipelago, with an area of about 12,000 square miles—a glorious new empire to win for Christ.

The population of the islands is about 8,000,000, nearly all of them Catholics, though, fortunately, 2,000,000 are Protestants. There are 20,000 Mohammedans, 50,000 Buddhists and Confucians, 20,000 Animists—a complicated task for the missionaries.

All the largest denominations and several of the smaller ones hastened to the Philippines at the close of the war with Spain, and inaugurated a second war with ignorance, superstition and barbarism.

About 18,000 converts have been made by our missionaries in the Philippines. More than 100 little churches have been built, each a center of light in much darkness.

The missionaries have distributed more than 200,000 pages of religious literature through the islands, and each page is a precious seed that may bring forth glorious fruit.

The native converts have begun to take up the work of evangelizing their fellow-men. Seminars have been established to train the native preachers and schools to train the native deaconesses and other workers.

Nearly 80,000 of the Philippines speak English fairly well, and this is a great help toward the spread of the gospel.

There are employed in the Philippines 100 American teachers and 6,000 Filipino teachers. Nearly 60,000 children attend these schools—one of the most encouraging signs for the future.

BIBLE READINGS.
Psa. li, 1-12; xxiii, 1-24; Dan. xli, 3; Zeph. iii, 17-20; Acts i, 8; 1 Cor. xli, 13; Rom. ix, 5; x, 14, 15; Rev. i, 4-9; xli, 17.

Seattle Pickups.
Rev. Francis H. Park, D. D., in his address to the Endeavorers in convention assembled at Seattle, among other things, said: "The key word of Christian Endeavor is training—training in expression, training in service, training in living, training in action."

In conclusion he said: "Take courage and press on, Endeavorers. See clearly, think straight and act."

Give an Endeavorer.
Are you an Endeavorer?
If you are, and it is a good kind that you possess three things—a torch, a plectrum and a trumpet.

The torch—You lead a life that is a light, and you are ready to let your light shine.

The trumpet—You have convictions, and you are ready to express them.

The plectrum—You have common sense. You know that there is a time to speak and a time to keep silence, a time to work and a time to rest. You know when to smother the plectrum, let the torch flare out, blow the trumpet and shout with might and main. "The sword of the Lord and Gilead!"

Character.
Courage.
Wisdom.
No bad equipment, that, for the doing of Christian Endeavor work—Christian Endeavor World.

To Work Out the Golden Rule.
You recognize only one Master, and your work is only one—co-operation. The aim of the Christian Endeavor is not for its members to live as selfish individuals, but to ease the burdens of the less fortunate, to work for one another and work out the Golden Rule.—Hon. James H. Garfield at Seattle Convention.

Have Faith in the Farm.
Make farming a business. Put brains into money, both into it, with the expectation that it will return a profit. To run a farm in a half-hearted way, being afraid to make improvements or apply fertilizing material for fear it will not pay, is a sure way of having one's fears realized. If the effort is made to make the farm better from year to year it is pretty certain to be a success.—Cor. American Cultivator.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson XIII.—First Quarter, For March 29, 1908.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Prov. xxiii, 29-35.

Memory Verse, 31—Golden Text, Prov. xxiii, 32—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.]

All Scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable, * * * that the man of God may be thoroughly furnished unto all good works. Whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning (1 Tim. iii, 16; 17; Rom. xv, 4). These sayings, in chapter xlii and elsewhere wisdom evidently refers to the Son of God, for He is the wisdom of God (1 Cor. i, 24). By contrast we think of the fools of whom He Himself spoke, who hear the words but do not understand, who are rich on earth, but not rich toward God; who have no use for prophecy (Matt. vii, 26; Luke xli, 20, 21; xlv, 26). In verse 4 of this lesson chapter we read, "Labor not to be rich; cease from their own wisdom." It is man's wisdom to get rich quickly and at any cost, for he is slow to believe that riches make themselves wings and fly away (verse 5).

Our lesson, with its immediate context, sets forth the folly of bad women and strong drink, two of the great evils of this world by which the great destroyer destroys multitudes. Concentrating the words but do not understand, who are rich on earth, but not rich toward God; who have no use for prophecy (Matt. vii, 26; Luke xli, 20, 21; xlv, 26). In verse 4 of this lesson chapter we read, "Labor not to be rich; cease from their own wisdom." It is man's wisdom to get rich quickly and at any cost, for he is slow to believe that riches make themselves wings and fly away (verse 5).

God is not willing that any should perish, and in the person of His Son He became a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief, was wounded and bruised for our sins, in His own body on the cross, suffering the just and the unjust, that He might bring us to God (Isa. liii, 5-7; 1 Pet. ii, 24; 18), and He is who says, "Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom, for wisdom is better than rubies, and all the things that can be desired are not to be compared to it, for wisdom is the principal thing, and shall obtain favor of the Lord" (Prov. iii, 7; vii, 11, 35).

sin is a form of selfishness, the gratification of the carnal mind, which is enmity against God, and the only hope for any kind of a sinner is a new heart, a clean heart, which God Himself must create in us, and does when we receive His word, and make new men (Rom. vii, 7), but the Son of God, the wisdom of God, will receive any sinner who comes to Him (John vi, 37), will enter any heart that is open to Him, and then the sinner becomes a child of God.

If Christ is then allowed to have the right of way in the life that He has redeemed and to work out the works which He has prepared (Eph. ii, 10), God will be glorified in the life of Jesus made manifest in that life.

In verse 33 of our lesson we read of the eyes and the heart, and in Lam. iii, 51, we learn that the eye affects the heart, and in Prov. xxi, 7, that the heart walks after the eyes. If, therefore, we would live as we should we must look in the right direction and continue so to do. In verse 31 we read, "Lead us not into temptation, for we are as the stone which is set before the counter attraction, therefore the eye is a man, 'Look unto Me and be ye saved.'"

"Behold the Lamb of God," "Run with patience, looking unto Jesus" (Isa. xli, 26; John i, 29; Heb. xli, 2). By looking unto Jesus, therefore, we are every lost one, and by continuing to look there is a life of triumph for every saved one. Apart from Him there is no life, and looking anywhere else leads to death. The words "at the last" in verse 32 should lead us to consider well that there is a last opportunity to repent, a last call to turn to God, and "the that, before the Lord, hardeneth the heart, and suddenly overtake the wicked, and without remedy" (xxii, 1). For the sinner of every kind there is a last indulgence and then, if cut off in sin, and lost, woe. Consider Dan. v, 30; Luke xli, 23, and the words, "The word of the Lord and Gilead!"

Verse 34 of the lesson makes us think of that word of David, "Truly as the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, there is but a step between me and death" (Ps. lxxiii, 17). The verse suggests chapter xxvii, 22, "Though thou shouldst break a loaf in a mortar among wheat with a pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from thee." The words, "The word of the Lord and Gilead!"

Nursing baby?
It's a heavy strain on mother.

Her system is called upon to supply nourishment for two.

Some form of nourishment that will be easily taken up by mother's system is needed.

Scott's Emulsion contains the greatest possible amount of nourishment in easily digested form.

Mother and baby are wonderfully helped by its use.

Underground cellars ought to be done away with. They are relics of a dark age. More sickness originates in them, physicians claim, than anywhere else about the place. They cannot be kept in sanitary condition while vegetables are stored there. The increased weight of the birds and the higher prices obtained are items that should be well considered by all poultrymen.

Peril of the Collar.

Something New in Poultry.
Many people are not aware that chickens can be safely shipped, owing somewhat to the fact that they do not require food or drink from twenty-four to thirty hours after being hatched. Many little chickens are destroyed by being fed soon after being hatched through the ignorance of the owners. —Green's Fruit Grower.

Capons Pay.
At this time of the year much attention is given in many countries to the rearing of capons, the cockerels, of which there is always a surplus. This business is a growing one in which more people are becoming interested each year and should be understood by every one who is interested in poultry for market. The increased weight of the birds and the higher prices obtained are items that should be well considered by all poultrymen.

Kodol is today the best known and most reliable remedy for all disorders of the stomach, such as dyspepsia, heart burn, sour stomach and belching of gas. Kodol is a case of thyroid liver, and a healthy stomach. Kodol is pleasant to take. It is guaranteed to give relief and is here by J. McKellip, Druggist, Taneytown, Md.

Farmer Vincent's Wise Sayings.
Dandelion leaves are one of the best things to feed to hens that you can get. Some breeds of hens need altogether different food than others. You must know that? What will make one hen lay the most eggs may not be the thing for another. The hen business is a study. Get some of the second crop clover to feed to the hens next winter. Drop mashers for awhile and try feeding whole or cracked grain. There is a reason and a good one. Change of diet is good even for hens. Fit up a box of sand in the corner of the house for the huddles to rustle in.—Farm Journal.

Best Healer in the World.
Rev. E. Starbird, of East Raymond, Maine, says: "I have used Buckle's Arnica Salve for several years, on my old army wound, and other obstinate sores, and find it the best healer in the world. I use it too with great success in my veterinary business. Price 25c. at R. S. McKinnies drug store."

Faults of Bank Barns.

In travelling through several Southern Pennsylvania counties at institute work this winter, and observing the great farms, some of which were possible to present serious illness. Strawberries will give some children severe netteritis. Nurses must be on the lookout that their young charges do not pick up and eat the mure, fallen fruit in the garden, as several children have done so. Stone fruit in a raw state is not good for very young children, and should be eaten in strict moderation by their elder brothers and sisters.

There is reason for grave doubt that it can be good to let a fierce summer sun beat down on the entirely uncovered head of a child.

Do not let an overheated child drink cold water, until a little cool. A little weak, warm milk will not hurt.

Do not let small children have tin toys with sharp corners and points; their danger is that if the child falls or strikes another a serious accident might result.

This is what Hon. Jake Moore, State Senator of Ohio, says of Kodol: "I have used 'Kodol' for several years. I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion and heart trouble. I have been so weak and nervous that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not find anything on my stomach. I lost 25 lbs. in fact I made my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I bought it and tried it. I feel like I was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity will be benefited. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I keep a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity will be benefited. Yours very truly, J. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Dear Sirs—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion and heart trouble. I have been so weak and nervous that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not find anything on my stomach. I lost 25 lbs. in fact I made my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I bought it and tried it. I feel like I was better in one day. Get DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve—it is healing, soothing and cooling. It is good for piles. Sold by J. McKellip, Druggist, Taneytown, Md.

"SQUEE-GE" FARM.

(For the Record.)
Now all my friends from far and near,
Come listen to my story,
I have a word of gracious cheer,
But I'll not keep you waiting here.
I have a farm, quite near a stream,
In splendid cultivation,
And of the best of banks
Fit to contemplation.
As I am no selfish man,
My joy with you I'll share—
Come visit me and see my place,
And drive away all care.

The beetle and mosquito bugs
Grow to such a size,
The gnats and smaller insects
Are large as butterflies.
The corn, which on my farm I raise,
Is of such great dimension,
My neighbors loudly brag,
In fruitful apprehension.
They know my eye is of such height,
That when the wind is blowing,
It shuts out all the other sights—
Except the waters flowing.
And when I haul my golden grain,
My neighbors loudly brag,
For I have my wagon in main,
The first two loads to get.

My eye shrill grows so stout and strong
Upon my fine hill ridge,
That shortly with it I'll begin
To build "Squee-gee" bridge.

Now friends, believe my story tall,
And don't make an alarm,
Again I bid you, one and all,
To visit "Squee-gee" farm.

AFTER TWENTY-NINE YEARS.

"For twenty-nine years I have been at intervals a great sufferer from rheumatism," writes James Hyde, of Beebe, Ark. "During that time I used gallons of various kinds of liniments and oils, but got very little relief. The attacks were so bad that I was often confined to my bed helpless for weeks and months at a time.

"Not long ago, while suffering from a severe attack, a sample bottle of Sloan's Liniment was sent to me for trial. My surprise was great when I found that it gave me instant relief, and I immediately ordered two large bottles. I have used about a half of one fifty-cent bottle, and feel so well that I want everybody afflicted as I was to know what Sloan's Liniment has done for me, and I shall always have a feeling of gratitude for the man who sent me the sample bottle."

NEW SHORT STORIES.

Not Careful to Whom They Spoke.
Nat M. Willis returned to Broadway last week after an absence of several months, and the street certainly did look good to him. So did the shops, the hotels, the restaurants, the lights and the people. He walked out of the Knickerbocker building and stood in front of it for a moment looking up and down the busy way. A smooth faced, well groomed fellow stood at his elbow and seemed to be also drinking in the tonic of the street.

"Looks good, doesn't it?" said the stranger.

"Certainly good," replied Nat. "How long have you been away?"

"Three years," was the answer in a tone that rang of sadness.

"Oh, I've got you beat!" said Willis. "I've only been away three months."

Just then a central office man touched Willis on the elbow and nodded for him to come aside.

"Know who that is?" asked the detective.

"No," replied Willis.

"Big Frank," one of the cleverest thieves out of prison. He's just finished a term."

"Who was that?" asked the detective.

"Nat Willis, the actor," replied the detective.

"An actor? Well, what do you think of that? I hope none of my friends saw me. I guess I'll get away before he comes back and borrows ten."

"I must have lost my sight in Joliet," and "Big Frank" hurried away in an opposite direction.

"Queer folks," soliloquized the detective as he again took the trail—New York American.

Rheumatic Pains Relieved.
B. F. Crocker, Esq., now 84 years of age, and for twenty years Justice of the Peace at Martinsburg, Iowa, says: "I am terribly afflicted with sciatic rheumatism in my left arm and right hip. I have used three bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it did me lots of good."

THE BROKER'S VALENTINE.

I send you herewith, by a messenger small,
Who's dressed in the scantiest style,
A large batch of stock—you may have it
on call.
In case you should think it worth while,
It's issued by me as a share in my heart,
And though listed at par, my advice
Is to buy it dirt cheap, as you may at the start.
I know we won't split on the price.

You ask if I ever have offered before
The stock that I'm offering you here,
Ahem—well, the truth is I'm offering you more
Than I've ever offered for many a year.
In fact, you may have what is known on the street
As "a controlling interest." How strange!
You insist on the price for the issue complete?
Just a share in your heart in exchange.

On the Job.

A Baltimore man who was recently a passenger on a Cunarder tells of an incident of his trip that led him to the conclusion that your average seaman is not apt to waste much thought on his personal troubles.

This sailor had met with an accident the second day out, the result of which was a bad cut on the head. The Baltimorean was most solicitous in his inquiries as to the seaman's welfare when he next saw the captain and would undoubtedly have continued his sympathy had not a rough sea called to mind his own sufferings.

Several days later, when he emerged, white and weak, from his state-room, he suddenly remembered the poor sailor. In the course of the day the Baltimore man saw the man with a strip of plaster on his forehead.

"How is your head?" he asked sympathetically.

"West by south, sir," was the reply.—Harper's Weekly.

Ways and Means.

A couple of girls, after the manner of girls since the world was young, were recently discussing the affairs of their various friends.

"I don't see why in the world Clara lets that little snub, Charlie Blank come to see her so often," the dark haired one said. "They are together almost constantly."

"Humi!" the blond commented, with a worldly wise little smile.

"Well, I don't," the blond said. "My friend asserted. 'He is not good looking and has such ugly ways.'"

"Well, perhaps he has ugly ways, but such handsome means," the other said, and something very near a high got past the piece of fudge she had fastened to put into her mouth.—St. Louis Republic.

Deere Check Row Corn Planter

Last, but not least, the Deere Check Row Corn Planter that had so many admirers at the Fair last Fall, and the sales—larger than that of any other Planter where it was exhibited, will be on exhibition during the above sale, and any information gladly given. The Deere is just a little better than any other. That's all there is to it! Just a little better, that's all! Regular Price, $40.00.

Special Price for the Day, $38.00 Spot Cash.

Our authorized salesmen—Jerry Garner, Oliver Fogle and John W. Stoniffer—will be pleased to wait on you during these sale hours. All the above prices apply for Cash only. For any change from the above, must consult D. W. GARNER. Remember, if you want goods at the prices mentioned, you must buy them on day of sale; these prices will positively not be considered the following week. Owing to having a large territory of trade in Maryland and 7 counties in Pennsylvania, I have taken this plan of selling a lot of goods at small profits and quick sales. The 3 Carloads of Buggies sold last year best explain themselves, for Quality, Neatness and Durability. You are invited to examine all goods. NOTICE—In case of bad roads, Buggies may be left one week at owner's risk.

I thank you in advance for any favors you may confer my way, and remain, Yours Truly,

D. W. GARNER.
