NEWS NOTES HERE AND THERE

Condensed Items of Interest from County, State and Our Exchanges.

Ex-Gov. John Lee Carroll, of Maryland, died at his home in Washington, on Monday, after a long illness, in his 81st., year.

Middleburg district has made application for a mile of Shoemaker road, to extend from Middleburg Station to about Feesersburg. As there are applications of the same character from other districts, there is no assurance that this mile will be built this year.

One year in the House of Correction was the sentence delivered to Robert J. Cunningham (colored,) last week, in Frederick, for carrying concealed weapons, when he was arraigned before Judge Motter on three charges. In passing sentence Judge Motter said he was determined to break up the practice of "toting" pistols.

Distinctly favorable progress is noted in the condition of Miss Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross, who has been ill at her home in Glen Echo, Md. Miss Barton's condition has improved so rapidly that Dr. Hubbell, the physician of the Red Cross Station in her home, has practically discontinued treatment.

Because some people don't like a certain thing, is not sure evidence that the thing itself is not good. An unfavorable opinion is very often a display of ignorance, or a failure to recognize real meritain reality a confession that -in reality, a confession that according to their taste, and ability to appreciate, the thing did not appeal to them. For the first time in many years, the lid was down, in Frederick, last Sunday, and all cigar and grocery stores when and all cigar and grocery stores where Sunday selling has been in force, were tightly closed. Even the drug stores were notified that they must sell drugs only. Slot machines of all kinds have been ordered out of use. The instructions against those indulgences came from the Court and States Attorney.

The first snow in 25 years fell in San Francisco last Sunday, accompanied by heavy thunder. The mercury dropped heavy thunder. The mercury dropped 10 degrees in a single hour, and, after loud peals of thunder, snow began falling. In most parts of the city it melted as it fell, but in the Mission street district the snowfall was about half an inch. Small boys hailed it with joy, and proceeded to snowball cars, automobiles and carriages. The result was that glass in many cars were broken. Snow also in many cars were broken. Snow also fell to a depth of an inch in Piedmont Heights, across the bay.

The disappearance of the large copper cent and the nickel cent from circulation has brought about a curious condition in the United States Treasury. None of these pieces has been coined for years, but enough of them were returned to the Treasury each year to give the Government a good profit in recoining them into smaller copper cents and into nickel five-cent pieces. Officials of the Treasury Department have informed Congress that these pieces practically have gone out of existence. In order to keep up the supply of new cents and nickels Congress will have to appropriate money to pay the expense of coinage.

The Senate on Tuesday defeated the resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution so as to provide that senators be elected by direct vote of the people. A brave fight had been made by the supporters of the measure, as was indicated by the vote. Fifty-four senators stood for the resolution and 33 against it. Though this division showed so large a majority of the Senate to favor popular elections, the number was not sufficient by four to carry the measure, which required a two-thirds vote for its success. The bill will likely be passed at the next session.

The West Virginia Legislature has adjourned without giving any heed to the recommendations of the Governor for a primary election law, a public service commission, a municipal code, and several other measures that were supposed to be popularly demanded in the of reform. It is probable that the result would bave been different if the Governor and the Legislature had been of the same political party; but the Governor of West Virginia is a Republican and the Legislature is Democratic, and where important public questions become so much the plaything of partisan politics not much in the way of results is to be expected when the authority is so

The recent grand jury indicted Mrs. Kate Wills for assaulting Mrs. Theresa Jennings and Mrs. Wills was tried. The court reserved its decision, and permitted Mrs. Wills to go to her home. The husband, who was one of the witnesses in behalf of his wife, when called to testify, was too drunk to do so, and was told to leave the stand by the court. As he left he questions are settled. muttered something, and Judge Motter instructed Sheriff Grimes to take him to jail for contempt of court. #### - 10- 8 10-A Good Roads Train.

The Good Roads Special-the first train ever used in a campaign to imtrain ever used in a campaign to improve the condition of the public highways—is being operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company with the assistance of the United States Department of Highways, the Pennsylvania State Highway Department, and the State College. There are two lecture cars in the train, two flat cars carrying machingry and different kinds of implements ery and different kinds of implements for building and maintaing roads, and one car containing pictures, maps, charts, and small sections of various kinds of stone and dirt roads, showing the method of construction. Each of the exhibit cars is in charge of a demonstrator and of the train, are a portable stone crusher, sieve and bin, road scraper, concrete roller, log drags, collapsible concrete forms, types of culverts, horse shovel and other devices of interest to road builders. The train was at Littlestown, Pa., on Tuesday afternoon, arriving at 3.45 an from then until the time of leaving every minute of the time was occupied in talk-ing or demonstrating the various phases in road building and improving. There were 407 persons who visited the cars during the stay at Littlestown. About seventy-five of these were pupils from the public schools and they showed just as much interest in the subject as their

Col. Woodward lectured from the gondola car, upon which is loaded the various road machinery, while Mr. Windslow and Mr. Haas kept the crowd interested in the lecturing cars. The complete list of slides were used in illustrating the talk.

Rupp. The bride was attended by Miss Bessie Hahn, of Frederick, and Miss Georgia Smith, Libertytown. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left over the B. & O. Railroad for Washington, where they will spend their honeymoon. After April 1, they will reside on a farm near Linwood.

W. M. Shops at Cumberland.

Cumberland, Md., March 2.-It has been decided to locate the main shops of the Western Maryland Railway at Cumberland, according to the statement Industrial Commissioner Austin Gallagher. The location, it is understood, will be at Ridgeley, on the West Virginia side of the Potomac river, where the division shops now are though a site at Cumberland race track, on the Maryland side, is said to have been under consideration.

To Revise Commandments.

We read the other day where a movement was on foot for a revision of the "Ten Commandments." That "Thou shalt not Covet," should be sufficient, for beyond that there is no need for specification-that so doing throws doubtful construction on the whole Commandment. We are not surprised that the rage for "revising" things has extended this far. We have so many highly intellectual and superiorly wise people in the world, at present, that even the old Bible can be convicted of containing many errors, which our U. Senate, for instance, could straighten out to the general improvement of the

As long as Congress is in session, and Col. Roosevelt is roaming around, and the uplifting magazines are disseminating the highest truths of political science and the lowest truths of official and corporate rascality, with nominating conventions and elections, mixed in between, there is not much chance to get at a serious revision of the Commandments; but, as it is present custom not to bother much about them anyway, they can await their turn after more important

TWO TURNPIKES PURCHASED.

The Emmitsbnrg and Clarksville Roads now part of State Road System.

On Thursday, a large delegation urged the Road Commission to purchase the Emmitsburg pike and add it to the state road mileage. This pike runs from Emmitsburg to a point on the Woodsboro pike two miles from Frederick, and is reported to be in fine condition. Last fall the Roards Commission had before District No. 6—Cornelius Crumrine, William C. Keck, Manchester.
District No. 7—Jackson Myerly, Francis

One of the structure Reinsen, W. Bullock Clark and Samuel M. Shoemaker. Since then there has been much dissatisfaction in Frederick because the users of the road still have to pay toll. At this meeting the Com-mission purchased the pike, and will at once abolish the toll gates.

The reason the deal had not gone through before this is that the road does not give an entrance to Frederick city The town has to be entered over the Woodsboro pike, which the Emmitsburg pike joins, and for which the owners demand a price the Commission considers exorbitant. In the delegation were representatives of Mount St. Mary's College and St. Joseph's Convent at Emmitsburg, who urged the purchase of the road.

The next step after securing formal possession of the Emmitsburg road will be to provide a lick which will connect it with Frederick. A delegation of prominent residents of Frederick county urged the commission to make the purchase.

The Commission also decided to purchase the Clarksville pike in Howard county, at $1000 a mile, a road 10 miles in length. As soon as the formal transfer of the two properties to the state shall have been completed the tollgates on each will be removed and they will become free highways. Citizens residing along the Clarksville road have offered to contribute $10,000 to be devoted to its improvement.

Diphtheria in Balt. Hospitals.

W ithhouses in sixteen city blocks and others in Roland Park under strict quarantine, four hospitals closed to the public public production of the public public production of the public publi lic, except for emergency cases, and 76 positive cases of diphtheria under the surveilance of the Health Department, the diphtheria epidemic in Baltimore takes on a serious appearance. The directors of St. Joseph's Hospital were the last to take action, when they ordered the doors of the institution closed to fors at noon on Tuesday. Earlier in Mr. Bernard Robert Etzler, of Lin- the day the directors of the Hebrew Hoswood, Carroll County, was married to pital took similar action, going farther, Miss Edna Rebecca Metcalf, of Union-however, in ordering the dispensary

The partial closing of the Hebrew Hospital, which is directly opposite the Johns Hopkins, where the epidemic is supposed to have started, and where 52 cases are already reported, follows closely the curtailment of activity at the Church Home, on Broadway, several blocks distant. At this institution three nurses became ill on Monday.

These nurses have been isolated, the institution practically closed and every precaution is being taken to prvent the spread of the malady to the patients and attendants.

At the Johns Hopkins Hospital the situation remaies unchanged. No new cases have been reported and those who have been stricken show no change either way. Latest reports are that the disease is in full control, and no alarm is felt that there will be an epidemic.

Fine Shad Now in Market.

The vanguard of the vast schools of shad, that delectable product of the Chesapeake Bay, has again made its appearance in the markets, and from now on, and especially during Lent, that edible will be the principal dish to grace the tables of many Following close behind the pioneers of the finny tribe, which are reported passing in the Capes; are the millions of shad and herring seeking the headwaters of the Chesapeake Bay and its numerous tributaries, where millions of eggs will be left to spawn to perpetuate their species.

"Will many escape?" is the absorbing question now in the minds of thousands of fishermen who make it a business to intercept the finny tribes, and all along the shores of the Chesapeake Bay and in the rivers extend hundreds of pound nets through which it would seem few could escape. For the past month extensive preparations, more elaborate the fishermen, who are anticipating one of the best seasons in the history of the shad and herring fishing industry.

Engaged in the industry is an army of men who depend on the oyster and fishing business to support their families, and it also requires an immense outlay of capital to keep the equipment in good order. There is seldom a season but all who operate a large pound net or seine are not required to make considerable addition to their outfits. The nets and seines before being hung in position must be carefully examined, tarred and re-

Mormons Working in Baltimore

Twelve elders of the Church of the Latter Day Saints, commonly known as Mormons, are actively conducting a proselyting campaign in Baltimore. They conduct a house-to-house canvass, giving out literature relative to the Mormon faith and inviting persons with whom they come in contact to attend their meetings in Cockey's Hall, southwest corner of Greenmount avenue and Biddle street, every Sunday. In the spring and summer, whenever the weather permits, they hold open-air

The 12 elders, as the missionaries are called, are barbers, farmers and men from the professions, who, up to within a day or two of the time when they were notified to come East for their two years of mission work, engaged in their various occupations. As far as possible, only young men are selected for these mission trips. No women accompany them, and their wives and children are left at home. The missionaries defray their own expenses and get no salary.

Baltimore is the headquarters of the Eastern States Mission, which consists of the New England States; the Middle Atlantic States and some of the Southern States. All this ground must be cov-ered by the men before they go back home. Apart from the literature which they distribute in their canvassing, they do no advertising. They depend entirely on personal solicitations. They state that they have that they have so far secured over 200 converts in Baltimore, and they contend that there are just as many men as women among them. They assert that no special efforts are being made to secure women adherents.

Missouri Acquiring Arkansas.

Washington, March 2.—That the State of Tennessee will soon become possessed of a large part of the State of Arkansas if the course of the Mississippi river con-tinues to move westward is the fear expressed by the Attorney-General of Arkansas, who arrived in Washington to day and filed a bill of complaint in the United States Supreme Court petitioning that the highest court fix the boundary line between the two States.

When Arkansas was admitted to the Union in 1846 the boundary was defined as in the middle of the main channel of the Mississippi river. Since then many changes have occurred by reason of erosion and Tennessee is steadily pushing her boundary westward. The Attorney-General says the State of Tennessee is 'wholly ignoring and disregarding" the changes wrought, and he appeals to the Supreme Court to pass upon the case while there is yet time to preserve his

Pays Now to be a Farmer.

Washington, Feb. 28.—That the farmer and prosperity are marching forward hand in hand is the statement of Victor H. Olmsted, chief of the Bureau of Statistics of the Agricultural Department. The price of products in which the yield is comparatively small, he said, has increased. The prices paid for more bountiful crops, while decreasing in ratio, aggregate more than ever before he declared, because of the huge yield resulting from scientific methods

"The American farmer is rapidly approaching his saturnalia," Mr. Olmsted declared. "Particularly noticeable has been the increase in his profits on live stock during the past two years. In 1909 he sold his horses for an average price of $95.64 per head. To-day for the same horse he could get $111.67. It is the same with all other live stock. The mule which sold for $107.84 in 1909 is now worth $125.62. Milch cows have advanced in value, an a general average from $32.36 in 1909 to $40.49 to-day. The price of sheep on the hoof has risen from $3.43 to $3.73, and the price of the average hog has increased from $6.55 to $9.35. "With crops, the conditions are different, but the trend toward prosperity is even more pronounced. Prices have gone down, but scientific farming has made the yield so much greater than it was a few years ago that while the ultithan ever before, have been made by mate consumer gets his vegetables the farmer clears more per acre to-day than ever before in his history.

"This is true of practically all the sta-ple vegetables, such as corn and potatoes. It is also true of wheat, oats, hay, barley and rye. The average price of corn per bushel, for instance, has dropped from 61.4 cents on February 1. 1909, to 49 cents on the same date this year; but there are farmers who are now getting 225 bushels of corn to the acre, which is almost double the yield of a few years ago. Potatoes have dropped from 73.3 cents to 55.1 cents per bushel, but here, too, the yield has been enormously increased by scien-

'The same is true in greater or less degree with the other staple products. The expenses of the consumer are cut various shipping shores lining the Bay, down materially, while the farmer, and schooners loaded with sait for the although he gets less per unit sale, sells preservation of the herring are also preparing to leave for the fishing grounds. so much more than formerly that his ultimate profits are increased."

EXTRA SESSION PROBABLE.

The President Firm in Requesting Action on Important Legislation.

It is not impossible that the Senate may vote on the various important measures before it, but it is highly improbable; so much so that it is practically settled that the President will call an extra session of Congress. He has made it clear from the opening of the session that he desired action on Reci-procity with Canada, the Postage Rate bill and the Tariff Commission, and there has been ample time for all of these measures to be disposed of but the Senate has killed time in wrangling and debate.

The bill providing for the direct election of Senators by the people was defeated, on Monday, but will likely come up again, and pass, at the next session. There is wide difference of opinion over the advisability of such legislation, but the country seems to think it wants it, whether wisely or not.

On Wednesday, the long talked of vote was taken on the Lorimer case, which resulted in victory for Senator Lorimer 46 to 40. The vote was not by any means a party vote, his strongest supporters being Democrats.

Of the 46 votes for Lorimer 11 were cast by Democrats, among them Smith, of Maryland; Watson, of West Virginia, and Simmons, of North Carolina. Ten were cast by Senators defeated for reelection, who will not be members of the next Congress. Of the 40 votes against him 11 were cast by Republican insurgents, 11 by Republican regulars and 18 by Democrats, including Rayner, of Maryland, both Virginia Senators and Overman, of North Carolina.

In great contrast to the Senate, the House is rushing business, and in passing the Sundry Civil Bill, carrying approximately $140,000,000, it made a new record. Never before in the memory of the Capitol attaches has the Sundry Civil Bill, the biggest of all the supply bills, been put through the House in two days under the general rules and without a "gag" of any sort being re-without a "gag" of any sort being resorted to.

This fact is taken as an evidence that the House is doing all it can to avoid an extr session and is anxious to get the last of the appropriation bills in the hands of the Senate in ample time to permit of their consideration. Only the General Deficiency Bill remains to be passed by the House. The great Panama Canal appropriations, amounting to ma Canal appropriations, amounting to nearly $46,000,000, were passed without discussion or question of any sort. The item for the fortification of the Canal was considered as an entirely separate

Free Seeds Again.

The agricultural appropriation bill as prepared by the congressional committee on agriculture, will include the usual provision for free seed distribution. The amount agreed upon for this purpose is $309,590. It is not likely that there will be any effective opposition to this part of the bill. So long as voters do not object to this useless and extravagant expenditure of public money, free seed appropriations will probably con-

It is difficult to understand the process of reasoning that a congressman must follow to figure any great vote producing power out of a two-for-five package of worthless garden seeds. Nevertheless, as a legalized attempt to vote buying the congressional free seed graft must be considered in a class by itself. It is a gross insult to the moral status and intelligence of the American farmer, and yet voters stand for it. The Grange has opposed this system of seed distribution for years and if farmers were thoroughly organized so as to make their power felt, this would be the last appropriation congress would ever make for this purpose.

(The above is a clipping from the sheet of prepared matter that the National Grange sends to country newspa-pers. We do not care to comment on it, except to say that the garden seeds sent out are not "worthless," but are good live seeds, true to name. -ED. RECORD)

State Equal Suffrage League.

The formation of the new state-wide Suffrage Association to be known as the Equal Suffrage Franchise League, which was begun last Saturday at a meeting composed of members of the Equal Suffrage League of Baltimore and delegates from the Montgomsry and Talbot county, and other Maryland leagues, will be completed at a meeting to be held early in May. At that time a committee on the constitution will present its by-laws for adoption and the officers of the new organization will be elected. Full representation from county leagues is ex pected at the proposed meeting.

The Lenten Season.

Wednesday was Ash Wednesday, the beginning of the Lenten season, which will last for forty days, until Easter Sunday, April 16.

All through the Christian world the season of fasting and self-denial will be observed during this time by more than 400,000,000 people, although many of the Christian denominations do not observe the season. Those who keep Lent are the Roman Catholics, Greek Catholics and members of the Protestant Episcopal, Abyssinian, Armenian, Nestorian, Coptic and Lutheran Churches. In the Catholic and the Episcopal Churches daily services will be held during the season, and abstinence will be rigidly observed. Tuesday, according to the calendar, was Shrove Tuesday, or Mardi Gras, which was widely observed in olden times as a day of carnival and feasting before the Lenten season.

Samuel Bare.

Home was a pleasure when you were here,
Mother so kind and true;
And since you are gone we have no rest,
For you were our treasure and our best.
Torn from the hearts that love her
To sleep in the silent tomb.
Once our home was bright and happy,
O how sad and drear to-day,
For my dear and loving wife
Has forever passed away.
By her loving husband and children.

How long she struggled against disease That baffled skill and care; How long she lingered, racked with pain, And suffering hard to bear. What grief and pain she suffered here, None of us will ever know, For Jesus took her home with him, Where no tears will ever flow. By her mother-in-law, Mrs. Levi Frock.

Why careful fathers and mothers allow such diseased mental food to come into their homes, is perhaps simply because they can't help it, for surely there is no demand for it from sane readers.

There are ludicrous situations and laughable incidents worth picturing, in order to bring out the extent of fun that is in them, but most of the freaks that are palmed off on a suffering public, are worse than might be conceived by a fourth rate artist full of booze; and the worst of it is, this sort of stuff is a feature of Sunday editions, which have little enough to recommend them even when filled with the purely decent and legitimate.

Real wit is too scarce an article to be produced without an inspiration, other than so much per. It can't be forced, simply to fill a contract, or demand, without cheapening and destroying the real thing. In an acre of comic pictures, such as appear weekly throughout the whole country, the really meritorious ones can be placed on one page of the average newspaper, without crowding; but the fellows who get up the features have to live, and as long as they can find a market for their stuff, we don't blame them, but all the same it is rather hard on a long-suffering public to have to support them in such a manner.

As for the Democrats, they are more harmonious, at least for the time being. Bryan and anti-Bryan camps and the moment they are in power the old lines of cleavage are almost certain to reappear. Bryan still has his hold on millions of Democrats and even if he were personally eliminated Bryanism would remain. As a matter of fact the same fight between progressive and reactionary is on in the Democratic as in the Republican party. This has been made apparent by the fight between Governorelect Wilson and former Senator James Smith, in New Jersey. It will become more evident as soon as the Democrats are in responsible control of the House of Representatives. The inevitable re sult will be that the progressives of both parties will vote together, as they already have done on so many occasions, and that the reactionaries of both parties will vote together. Thus in spite of themselves they will become adjusted to the new and natural'alignment.

What's in McClure's.

The leading feature in the March McClure's is "Will Congress Put Our Navy on the Sea ?" an article on Secretary Meyer's fight against waste and bureaucracy in the navy. Of timely interest to New Yorkers is Burton J. Hendrick's article on "McAdoo and the Subway." This is the story how Mr. McAdoo built the Hudson tube and an outline of his present proposition for the new subway. The latest instalment of the "Masters of Capital" series, by John Moody and George Kibbe Turner, deals with Rockefeller and "The Standard Oil Company-Bankers." The second of the great series of detective stories by Detective Burns, the story of the famous 'Monroe-Head Counterfeit Case,' appears in this number of McClure's, and Ellen Terry has contributed another chapter of her Reminiscences, this time on "Some Letters and their Writers." The special fiction feature in the March number is the first instalment of "The Honeymoon," a short play by Arnold Bennett. Among the stories are "In the Funerals," by Helen Green; "The Tooth of Antar," another Syrian story by Lucille Baldwin Van Slyke; "The Test," by Frances Ludwig; and "A Lost Job," by Arthur E. McFarlane.

KURIOS FROM KORRESPONDENTS Q.-What effect has age on molting?

What is a normal molting period? A.-The older a hen the later and longer her molt. About two months. Q.-Why do poultrymen use trap nests? From what I read it is simply to catch 200 egg hens to advertise for

A.-Sensible fanciers use traps to catch the drones for the cook pot and to get the egg records of hens so they may breed from the best layers and thus build a laying strain.

Q.-What is pip, and what is its cure? A.-Pip is simply the drying or hardening of the upper surface of the tongue and is generally caused by air passing through the mouth instead of the nostrils. See that the nostrils and cleft of mouth are clear, so fowl may breathe naturally, and apply glycerin to the scale on tongue.

Q.-My young stock have sore eyes. They have free range in field and orchard and show no cold, but in the morning their eyes are shut. Are they stung, or what is it?

A.-Chickens on range often get corn in the milk and sweet apples. The sticky juice from these often stains their heads and pastes their eyes shut. This is likely the cause of the trouble. Wash the head and eyes in clear water and all will be O. K.

Q.-How many breeds do you keep at Riverside? I have been reading your descriptions of the various breeds, and you seem to be acquainted with all of them. If so, how do you keep them from getting mixed? A.-We do not keep more than one variety at a time, but have bred many breeds in our lifetime. There are very few fanciers who run a rooster menagerie today, as such a chicken conglomeration does not pay.

A Handy, Easily Made Contrivance Is Sometimes of Great Use.

Perhaps every farmer has occasion to load some animal into a wagon, and many farmers prepare for this by building a stock chute. Frequently these chutes are built as permanent fixtures in connection with the feed lots, but they are often made so that they can be transported from one part of the farm to another. When a chute of this kind is built heavy and strong enough to support the weight of a mature hog or a large calf if becomes a clumsy thing to move. R. J. Linscott of Holton, Kan., has solved this problem of inconvenience in a very happy way, according to the Kansas Farmer. The wheels and axle used are parts of old machinery found on the farm, the wheels being taken from an old mower. The upper end of the chute is pro vided with two strong iron hooks. which are sharpened so as to engage the bottom of the wagon bed and prevent slipping after the animal starts upward. With such an arrangement there is no difficulty in building a chute of ample strength, because the other .- Landor.

question of weight has relatively little importance. The chute can be hooked on behind the wagon and hauled to any part of the farm, and it is a comparatively easy matter to put it in position by hand.

Bee Notes.

One must be deliberate and not perspire when hiving bees. The bees do not like the smell of excited persons. Always have an empty box hive about the apiary properly set on a floor board. This will often eatch a swarm that might otherwise be lost. It is never good business policy to sell a customer bad honey or honey with an undesirable flavor. This will injure future sales. It is well to keep all vegetation down around the hives, so that it will not interfere with the flight of the working bees between their hive and the feeding ground. The number of colonies which any locality will support depends on the flora of the vicinity. There are but few places, however, that will not support from ten to twenty-five colonies to the square mile, and many localities will support a greater number than this. Bees fly long distances for forage, averaging at least two miles. Smoke is the best agent known among beekeepers that can be used to make bees submit to their wishes All sorts of material may be burned in a smoker, such as cotton rags, rotten wood, etc. There is a great differ ence in the disposition of bees, how ever, some requiring more smoking than others.-Farm and Ranch.

PEN PORTRAITS OF NOTED PEOPLE

Representative Butler Ames, Who Would Be a Senator.

Representative Butler Ames, who recently announced his candidacy to suc ceed Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, is serving his fourth term as a member of the lower house of congress

In his announcement he says that he offers himself as a candidate, "having tried in vain to induce some one else to lead the fight against Boss Lodge and his political machine." Continuing, Mr. Ames says of the senator:

"With all his gifts and opportunities he has made such use of them that his continuance in public life depends not upon his service to the people of his state, but to a political machine. This machine is used as a club for the individual of independent thought and action, while it serves as a willing tool to those of wealth or influence and power seeking undue favors.'

Congressman Ames is a native of Massachusetts, thirty-nine years old and is a grandson of the late Benjamin F. Butler. He has won distinction in the varied fields of politics, warfare. engineering and as an inventor. couple of years ago he tried his wings as an aviator, but apparently with no great success. He was educated at West Point, but resigned on graduation to take an engineering course at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology On the outbreak of the Spanish war be enlisted and took part in the invasion of Porto Rico. For his services there he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Governor Harmon of Ohio.

The renomination of Governor Ind son Harmon of Ohio to succeed himself has given much impetus to the movement to make him the presidential candidate of the Democratic party in 1912. If he wins in November, his friends say, he will be a hard man to beat in the national Democratic convention. Governor Harmon carried Ohio in the last presidential year. when Mr. Taft was the nominee for the office he now bolds, both winning at the polls by pronounced majorities. The Buckeye State in that election presented the somewhat anomalous attitude of favoring the Republican candidate for the presidency and the Democratic candidate for governor.

Governor Harmon is a native of Ohio and is sixty-four years old. He was graduated from Denison college in 1866 and from the old Cincinnati Law school three years later. Twice elected judge of the superior court of Hamilton county, he resigned from the bench in 1887 before the expiration of his second term.

In June, 1895, Mr. Harmon was appointed attorney general of the United States by President Cleveland. William H. Taft, then a judge, was toastmaster at a banquet tendered Mr. Harmon by the Hamilton County Bar association and paid him this tribute:

"We are here because we know that he is eminently qualified to discharge th the dutes of his office with unbounded credit to his country, the administration, to us, his friends, and to swiss. It cannot be accomplishhimself."

SELECT CULLINGS

A Yard and a Goat.

"Give me back a yard with forty square feet in it and a goat," said Dr. Thomas J. Allen of Chicago, noted as a food specialist, "and I will show any one how a family of five largely can be supported. The high cost of living problem is all bosh if the head of the family would just adapt himself to circumstances and surroundings. On a small city lot you can easily raise all the vegetables necessary, except potatoes, to support a family of five people, and with the goat the cost of living will be reduced still more. The goat is lost sight of in this country. Goat milk is by far the best that any one can drink. I state this as an authority on food values. Another thing, it is a good animal to have around. It is cheap to keep, is a fine playmate for the children, and you can depend upon it to keep the lawn well cropped without digging up the roots." - Kansas City Star.

By Their Voices She Knows Them. Miss Blanche Thompson is the only 'voice detective" in the national capital. She is telephone operator in the big building occupied by the postoffice department and enjoys the reputation of being able to recognize on the wire the voices of 80 per cent of all congressmen, officials and business men who do business with men in the department.

On one occasion a newspaper correspondent named Smith, who works most of the time in Washington, called up the department by long distance telephone from New York and, without giving his name, said he wanted to speak to the postmaster general. Without hesitating a moment Miss Thompson called Mr. Hitchcock's secretary and said: "Mr. Smith, the correspondent, wants to speak to the postmaster general. He's talking from New York."—Washington Star.

Chinese Superstition.

The Chinese are offering stubborn resistance to the European doctors who are endeavoring to stamp out the plague. The authorities and the doctors, we learn from a French source, are at their wit's end, for the educated Celestials share with the common people a belief that the hygienic measures and clinical treatment advocated by European surgeons are designed to kill and not cure the people. One of the legends which has a powerful influence over the people is that the Europeans want the bodies, more especially the eyes, for the preparation of different medicines. More horrible stories still are circulated, and it is said the native press is much to blame for not endeavoring to educate the people up to an understanding of European medical and surgical treatment.-London Globe.

Lost by Two Feet. An actress recently figured in an amusing suit brought against her by a photographer at Debreczen, Hungary. She had been photographed with bare feet and had refused to pay for the photographs, alleging that her feet were made to appear ridiculously large. In court she was asked to take off her shoes and stockings in order that a comparison might be made. This, however, she refused to do. It was then decided to compare the finished photograph with the original negative, and it was seen that the photographer in "retouching" had remodeled the actress' toes so as to make her feet appear really smaller than represented in the negative. He consequently won his case, the actress leaving the court in high dudgeon.

Last Year's Aerial Tragedies.

The record of fatalities in aeronautics for 1910, which was not completed until the last day of the year, appears in Popular Mechanics Magazine. Fifty-three names make up the list, beginning with Leon Delagrange, on Jan. 4, and ending with Moisant and Hoxsey on Dec. 31. A number of interesting facts are pointed out: The four pioneers of three years ago. Wilbur and Orville Wright, Henry Farman and Alberto Santos-Dumont, are all living; an uncannily large number of the stated fatalities occurred on the 13th day of the month, and the greatest number of deaths occurred in the last six months of the year, there having been only fourteen before July 1.

The Generous Tramp. Mayor Gaynor at a dinner in New York said of a charity that had fallen into disrepute: "I understand that they paid their collectors 40 per cent of all that they collected. That is charity on a mercenary basis. It recalls the Christmas eve talk of the two tramps. "'I wish I had money enough to make every little child in New York happy tomorrow,' said the first tramp on Christmas eve. "'What would ye do?' the second tramp inquired.

"'Buy stocks and bonds and live on the interest,' was the reply."

Limburger Will Assert Itself.

Limburger cheese will always make itself known. Swiss cheese will always be porous. So says U. S. Baer, secretary of the Wisconsin Cheesemakers' association. "We have made experiments," continued Mr. Baer, "but they never proved a success. We thought we had a cheese that contained all the flavor of limburger, minus the smell, but it was a decided fail-

Union Bridge.

The remains of Samuel Shunk, of Westminster, who was the oldest person that has to the present time been laid to rest in Mountain View cemetery, were brought to Union Bridge on Saturday morning, and placed beside those of his wife, who preceded him to the Spirit Land in 1901. He was the son of Daniel and Elizabeth Shunk and was born at or near Union Bridge, Dec. 29, 1816, and died at Westminster, Feb. 24, 1911. In 1838 Mr. Shunk commenced business as a shoemaker in Union Bridge, and continued until 1840 when he married and removed from town. In 1865 he returned with his family. He had become a noted auctioneer, and continued this occupation until 1872 when he received an appointment in the Custom House, at Baltimore, where he remained until 1885. He was an ardent Republican. About 1879 he again removed from Union Bridge. He is survived by 3 sons, John Granville and J. Walter, of Westminster, and George, of Shawnee, Okla., and 2 daughters, Mrs. M. J. Myerly, of Kingsdale, Pa., and Mrs. Fannie M. On Friday evening, Feb. 24, there was an entertainment held at Poole's school, by their popular teacher, Miss Grace Witherow. The school-house was filled to its greatest capacity with a very enthusiastic crowd. The doors were opened at 7 p. m., and in a few minutes the seats were all filled and by 8 o'clock, when the curtains rose the house was crowded to the doors. The first scene, a flag song and drill, and later on in the program a scarf drill showed how well the children had been trained for the

After these scenes and while the audience were being entertained by music the stage was transformed, and when the curtain rose you would scarcely be lieve you were in the same building, the stage then represented a public room in a fashionable hotel which was appropri ately fitted for the plays. The entertainment as a whole was a great success.

Miss Irene Fringer spent Saturday and Sun lay with Miss Grace Witherow.

A crowd of young folks gathered at the home of D. T. Buckingham, on Saturday evening. They were received and entertained royally with both vocal and instrumental music and fancy dancing after partaking of refreshments, which were served in the dantiest manner, consisting of crackers, cheese, pickle and cake. The guests all expressed them-selves as having spent a most delightful evening. Those present were, D. T. Buckingham and family, Mrs. J. Myers, Misses Irene Fringer, Grace Witherow, Nellie Gardner, Edith Myers, Dona, Minnie and Olive Poole, Elsie Easton, Laura Powder; Messrs Dennis and Berry Buckingham, Jared and Melville Shauck Rubie Poole, E. #### THE NEW SENATOR.

He Found Fashionable Washington

Life Too Rich For His Blood. A newly elected senator came on early to Washington to arrange for rooms and had an object lesson furnished him on "the high cost of living." He wanted to start in "with the swim" and be at the center of things, so he priced the "focusal" hotel.

"We make it $650 per month, two rooms and bath, to you, senatorwithout meals," said the clerk dreamfly. When the senator caught his breath he was two blocks up the avenue.

He tried another hotel, a moderately exclusive house, whose lobbies were a sort of eddying pool of statesmen and "influent's!" lobbyists. To him the attendant flamen of this gilded shrine remarked: "Now, we have a choice of two rooms with bath at $350 per month"-

"Without eating-just for a sleeping place!" broke in the senator. "Why. I'd burn up with fever if I had to sleep at that price!"

The salary of a senator is $7,500, and it is figured on the high level of "simple" living in Washington that he ought to part with that much for assured rest at a good hotel. But the new senator didn't feel that way about Finally it was suggested that he might take a room at the simple hotel of the old days, at $1 per twenty-four hours, and save money, using the parcel room for baggage when away over Sunday. Then he could take a peep at Peacock alley and meet friends in the "lobby" which the more wealthy statesmen and tourists support.-Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

THE SPIRAL DIP.

Brookins Says It's One of the Most

Risky Feats of Aviating. The spiral dip is undoubtedly one of the most difficult feats of aviating. It is something which requires the utmost confidence and skill on the part of an aviator to perform. I worked out the stunt myself. For a number of weeks before attempting it I had the spiral idea. I knew what I wanted to do, but I did not know how to go about it. Finally I went to Orville Wright, explained my proposition, or rather my idea, to him and asked his advice. He heard me through and then pronounced the idea an impossibility. Still I was not convinced. I believed it could be done, and I kept puttering around with it until finally I struck upon the solution and made my first spiral. With all frankness I will admit that it is, to say the least, a bit scary. Before going into it one must tip the machine straight downward, dropping toward the earth to secure momentum enough to make the spiral. Somehow, no matter how often one performs this, you never get used to it. The terrible falling sensation is there, always there. If the first spiral does not go off just as it should I always come out of it instead of attempting the second circle. It is the best plan.-Walter R.

Brookins in Los Angeles Herald. Explosive Chewing Gum.

The British soldier loves to chew gum-not, however, the gum known to America, but the army explosive cordite, which contains 60 per cent of nitroglycerin, a sweet concoction of agreeable taste. Chewers of cordite assert that when taken in little doses it gently stimulates the nervous system and causes a slight exhilaration. Chewed in larger quantities, it produces an effect like that of hasheesh and causes ecstatic visions. The habit of chewing cordite has become so common in the British army that the military authorities have taken measures to prevent the misuse of the explosive: Cordite so used does not explode, because nitroglycerin is exploded only by a formidable shock or by an electric spark, but it is not impossible that under certain conditions it might be exploded-by the impact of two exceptionally hard teeth, for instance .--Harper's Weekly.

Where Does the Gold Go?

During the twelve last months the world produced upward of $450,000,000 new gold. Yet in that same period the gold holdings of the world's great banking institutions decreased about $40,000,000. Most of the changes from a year ago were small, but the Bank of France lost $55,000,000 and the Imperial Bank of Russia gained $21,000,-000. The United States treasury balance of unpledged gold increased $8,000,000 and the Argentine gold reserve against the currency $13,000,000. Yet even this leaves the problem open, where the rest of the world's new gold has been distributed.-Exchange.

Expensive Furs.

Actresses who wish to assert victorious power in their toilets have a mania for rich furs. The supply grows scarcer, and the demand rapidly rises. The skin of the Andes rat now costs, first hand, 90 francs. It is this little animal that gives us the beautiful Chile fur now so prized for motor wraps, stoles, muffs and garnitures. A further rise is expected, the Bolivian government having forbidden the export of the pelts of the Andes rats. Furriers have fallen back on the skin of the possum, which costs but 8 francs.-Paris Letter to London Truth.

Lighting a Tunnel.

An ingenious way of illuminating a tunnel has been devised by a Parisian inventor. Reflectors throw the light from many electric lamps sixteen feet above the rails to the sides of the tun-Buggies, One-Horse Wagons, nel, where it is again reflected by burnished tin, giving a soft and agreeable light. The trains automatically turn the current on and off when entering and leaving the tunnel.

Some Facts About Women Suffrage.

(For the RECORD.)

The writer of this paper, having accompanied a lady interested in the friendless and helpless, to a police court, heard the Judge declare, that facts, were what he wanted, so we will follow his suggestion, and try to get at facts, on the suffrage question, and learn how some parts of the world are treating the same.

Merry Funerals in Brazil.

One of the questions asked by the Brazilian housekeeper in engaging a new servant is whether she belongs to a funeral association. These associations are organized chiefly among poor people. Any one may join; membership is secured by the payment of a small annual fee. There are no constitutions or by-laws, and there is only one obligation; every member must attend every funeral have thousands of members deaths oc-

It night seem burdensome to have to go to so many funerals, but this is not the case. A funeral in Brazil is a happy occasion for nearly all its participants. They get a day off, and a holiday is always welcomed by the Brazilians; then they meet their friends and can gossip and flirt, and still better, whiskey and a free dinner are served to the mourners.

They constitute one of the strange sights of Rio de Janeiro, these funeral processions. Rain or shine, long processions of laughing and chatting people go through the streets. Large umbrellas shield them from the tropical sun, and their gay colored dresses shine out brightly underneath.

Neither the appearance of the mourners nor the tiny music of the band heading the procession suggests a funeral. The musicians play everything, waltzes, marches, light opera, but never a dirge. Not infrequently the mourners stop at a fruit stand or a bar for refreshment. Only the presence of a hearse distin-

Lesson XI .- First Quarter, For Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week March 12, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings iv, 25-37. Memory Verses, 32-35-Golden Text, Rom. vi, 23-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The power of the Lord God of Elijah was first seen through Elisha in the dividing of the Jordan, the Lord doing for one man what He had just done for two, and long before for a whole nation under Joshua. It is nothing with the Lord to help with many or few. The power of the Lord is next seen in the healing of the waters of Jericho. then in the chastening of the young men who mocked Elisha, telling him to go up as Elisha had done; after that in the ditches filled with water, for the sake of Jehoshaphat, without either wind or rain.

In the beginning of our lesson chapter we see the same power multiplying the widow's oil until every empty vessel was filled, all her need supplied and something over.

Now we have in today's lesson the filling of a childless home with gladness by the gift of a no doubt longed for child and the restoration of a deeper joy by giving him back from

A great woman of Shunem felt constrained as she saw Elisha pass her house from time to time to ask him in to eat bread, and it became his habit to do this. Later she suggested to her husband that they provide him a room with a bed, a table, a stool and a candlestick, and he seems gratefully to have accepted their kindness. Then the question arose in his mind, How can I in any way recompense this loving kindness? On inquiry he found that she needed no favor from any one, but at the reminder from Gehazi that they had no children he asked the Lord for this favor for her, and, receiving the assurance that it would be so. he communicated to her the fact, which she at first received very unbelievingly (verse 16), but as Elisha had assured her so it came to pass.

We think of Sarah and her unbelieving laughter, and yet in her case it came to pass, for "Is anything too hard for the Lord?" (Gen. xviii, 9-14.) We look onward to Elizabeth and Zacharias and note the unbelief of the latter (Luke i. 13-20), and yet in their case it came to pass also. So we are taught to "Be not afraid, only believe" (Mark v. 36), and rely on Jer. xxxiii, 3.

It may have been that the child became too much of an idol-we do not know-but one day in the field with the reapers he complained of his head, was carried home and died on his mother's knees at noon. She laid the little body on Elisha's bed, shut the door, and without telling her husband why she made all possible speed to the man of God, who was then at Mount Carmel. Seeing her afar off, he sent his servant Gehazi to inquire of her if it was well with her and her husband and the child. Her reply was, "It is well," but she hurried on till she came to Elisha, and she held him by his feet, and with the very words which Elisha himself used to Elijah she clung to him until he arose and went with her (verse 30, with chapter ii, 2, 4, 6).

Gehazi preceded them and laid the staff of Elisha upon the child, but there was no effect upon the child, no response, neither voice nor hearing. When Elisha came he went in and shut the door and prayed unto the Lord and then stretched himself upon the child, mouth to mouth, eyes to eyes, hands to hands, and the flesh of the child waxed warm. After walking to and fro in the house he again stretched himself upon the child, and the child sneezed seven times and opened his eyes. The mother was called, and with gratitude that cannot be described she took up her son and went out.

The next verses describe a deliverance from death that might have taken away many, and the chapter closes with a miraculous multiplication of bread-life given, life restored, life saved, life sustained, completing nine instances thus far of the power of God seen through Elisha. Elisha was to this woman a man of God, a holy man of God (verses 9, 16, 21, 22, 25, 27); not so Gehazi. She saw something of God în Elisha. He was to her in God's stead. We are here in Christ's stead, and people should see something of Him in us (II Cor. iv, 11; v, 20). Let the woman's pressing on to Elisha remind us that we must come to God Himself through Jesus Christ alone and not through any Ordinances may be as useless as Elisha's staff. It is life that is needed, though there may be life associated with ordinances in the hands of some, but not through such as Gehazi.

Compare the story of Elijah bringing a boy to life in I Kings, xvii, 19-22, and note the parallels of the prophet alone with the child, the child in the prophet's bed, the prayer, stretching himself upon the child. May we earnestly covet such lives of nearness to God as these men lived and be used of Him to bring life to many dead souls. There must be the "alone with God," the believing prayer, the persistent waiting upon God, the close personal touch of life itself, not of a rod or staff, even though it be that of a prophet. Spurgeon used to say that this stretching of oneself to a child was the hardest kind-a stretching downward to make yourself as far as possible one with the child; seeing, speaking and handling things as the child would; a putting yourself in his place.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Beginning March 12, 1911.

Topic.-First aid for the tempted.-Heb. Edited by Rev. Sherman H.

One of our great artists has painted a picture of a knight on the verge of a dark wood through which he has to pass. The wood contains all manner of lurking perils and stealthy enemies, and before entering it the young knight has taken off his helmet and is pouring out his soul in prayer. And the legend at the bottom of the picture is "Into Thy Hands, O Lord!"

That picture teaches a great truth-a truth which every young Christian especially needs to know. It declares that if one bopes to make his way safely, victoriously, through life, each day and many times each day ho must commit himself into the keeping of the almighty and gracious Lord. The odds against us are too great for us to hope to win the battle with temptation if we trust solely in our own strength. We are too weak and frail. We are too prone to do evil. We are too ignorant of Satan's devices. What chance have such as we to overcome the forces which array themselves against us? What match are such as we for the principalities and powers of evil?

"Alas, my master, how shall we do?" cries the servant of Elisha as he rushes into the prophet's chamber, his face pale with terror. The host of the enemy encompass the city like a wall. and the terrified man has seen the morning sun glitter on swords and spears and the awful array of war. Calm and self possessed, his master with them." are they?" The prophet prays, and in is especially kind, and there are subanswer to his prayer the Lord opens the servant's eyes. And as if every bush and every tree had suddenly changed into a celestial form, "Behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots round about Elisha!" In our every time of temptation, when Satan and his hosts, issuing from the pit and drawn up in battle array against us, seem to have cut off every way of escape, and we are ready to cry, "Alas, alas, how shall I do?" we, too, need to have our eyes opened. We need to see Jesus. He is our defense. He is our shield. He is our refuge. He is our ever present helper.

Jesus can deliver us out of temptation, for He has shared this life of ours, with all its struggle, against temptation and sin. He has been tempted in all points, like as we are. He has met Satan and all his legions. and He has overcome them. He overcame them decisively in the wilderness. He mastered them in the garden of Gethsemene. He utterly defeated them by His death and resurrection. All through His life as He trod our earth He was tempted, and from every temptation He came forth the victor. Because our Lord is a victorious Lord, who knows Satan through and through and who knows us through and through. He is able to succor them that are tempted.

This succor is our great, our deadly need. Like Peter upon the water, when temptations assail our only hope is to cry out at once, "Save, Lord, or I perish." And He will save. Every moment of every day He is doing it. All around us young people are winning splendid moral victories. Trusting in His strength, they are overcoming dark and terrible temptations. And we also may be more than conquerors through Him that loved us, for Jesus is our Saviour not only because He saves us from our past sin, but also because He is a very present help in every time of trouble. And He will show His saving power to every heart that cries to Him in the hour of its temptation. In your hour of temptation He will save you.

A Sunshine Task.

Youth forgets age until the spirit of the Sunshine committee gets into the hearts of the young people and awakens sympathy.

The experience of a young Australian girl might well be taken to heart. The Christian Endeavor News tells the story:

"You're not as good a gal as you might be," said the old age pensioner to one of the Sunshiners who went to see him.

"Why?" sine inquired. "Waal, you go to church and endeavor a lot, I know, but you don't come often to see us old folk."

"Why do you not come to church?" she replied. "Oh, I don't know. You ought to come and hold your Endeavor here." "All right," said the visitor. "We'll And they went.

The roads were bad, but a company got together and held bright Christian Endeavor meetings with the old man and in several other homes. The most sunshiny Endeavorers were always selected for leaders; the cloudy ones were reserved for the church meet-

HOBBLE GARTERS.

They Lessen the Danger of a Fall For Tight Skirt Wearers.

THE GARTERS SHE HOBBLES IN.

The passing of the hobble skirt is predicted-indeed, the shadow of these unsightly models is mercifully growing less and less. Still the very narrow skirt is the rule this winter. To make the walking of the wearers of these skirts one of comparative safety some kind genius has lately invented the hobble garter.

The invention is nothing more than a pair of regulation garters connected by a piece of the elastic of sufficient length to admit the woman wearing them to step so far and no farther, thereby preventing perhaps a serious fall from overstepping the bounds.

Rev. P. S. Hooper left, on Tuesday morning, for a visit of ten days to Harrisburg, Lykens, Phoenixville and Philadelphia, Pa., after which he will return to his home at Bay Shore, Long Island. Mr. Hooper made many warm friends while here, due to his kindness and courtesy, and devotion to the work of his temporary pastorate.

Taneytown audiences do not seem to appreciate impersonators, and, such being the case, they can easily be left out of future courses. There is nothing more difficult to do before an audience than to correctly impersonate many characters, as the average critic can easily determine for himself by trying it, and it is just possible that some do not give this fact due consideration when passing judgement.

> Mr. J. H. Hale who grows fruit from New England to Florida, sprays extensively with Lime-Sulphur against Jose and other scale insects and says— "It cleans up the trees". Not only is it sure death to scales but is also a good fungicide killing disease spores, mosses, etc., and smoothing up the bark.

The demand for Lime-Sulphur has grown so rapidly and competition has become so great as to drive some manufacturers to cheapen their product, while others produce a richer article, feeling that the highest quality is really the cheapest. Those who buy the best quality spray but once in a season; those who buy lower grades often have to spray twice, but they choose the higher grade the second time.

The Bowker Insecticide Co., whose new plant at Baltimore is completed, is one of the oldest manufacturers of spraying materials and make the highest grade Lime-Sulphur. We advise every-one who grows fruit to write the Bowker Insecticide Co., Equitable Bldg., Baltimore, stating how many trees and what kinds are to be sprayed and asking the advice of the Company's experts, for which no charge is made. They send interesting literature free on request.

GREAT REDUCTION SALE

BARTAN BARTAN

We have made two large purchases. One of the big Wholesale Houses, the Hager Dry Goods Co, of Bristol, Tenn., and the Arcade $2.50 Shoe Store, of Durham, N. C., have been compelled to quit business. A big portion of these stocks came to our Littlestown Store. Also, our regular Spring purchases are arriving daily, which causes an overcrowding of our store room. Therefore, we start this Big Reduction Sale in order to Reduce Stock Double Quick. All prices cut on

MEN'S, BOYS' & CHILDREN'S CLOTHING, LADIES', MEN'S & BOYS' SHOES, AND GENTS' FURNISHINGS.

Sacrifice Prices in Every Line. This Sale starts

Saturday, March 4, and closes Saturday, March 25.

There will be great opportunity for everybody to supply their wants at a Big Saving. This sale will be remembered for years to come, as it has never had its equal. Premium checks with every purchase.
