SCHOOL BOARD WINS CASE AGAINST COMMISSIONERS.

Must Pay to the Board Sums Withheld Two Years.

Judge Wm. H. Forsythe, last Thursday, decided that the County Commissioners of this county must pay over to the School Board $2,263.84 withheld from the Board for the year 1917-18, and $1525.00 for 1918-19, making a total of $3,788.84 with interest.

The Commissioners in 1900, by act of the legislature, assumed the indebtedness of the School Board, amounting to $30,000, and issued bonds for it. Since the year 1905, as provided in the law, the Commissioners withheld annually from the money raised by taxation for school purposes an amount sufficient to pay off $1,000 of said bond indebtedness and the interest on unpaid bonds. This practice continued until 1916, when under the new school law, the School Board was required to file an annual budget with the Commissioners with amounts needed for the school year.

County Ministers in Session.

The Ministerial Union of Carroll County held its meeting for November, in the M. E. church of Westminster, last Monday. This association has been lately formed, and this was the first meeting with a regular program. Rev. Seth Russell Downie, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Taneytown, was selected to read the paper. It was fortunate for the association that this arrangement had been made, as the county is about to lose the services of Dr. Downie, he having accepted a call to Frostburg.

The topic for the paper and for the discussion was "Organizing the Laymen for Efficient Service." The paper was a thorough treatment of the topic, and showed a clear grasp and complete understanding of the subject. It brought forth very favorable comments from the members of the association.

By special arrangement, Harold F. Pellegrin, secretary of the Near East Relief for Maryland and Delaware, was present and spoke of the needs of that work and the plans for gathering funds. After his statement of conditions in Armenia and neighboring countries, the president of the association, Rev. L. B. Hafer, was directed to send a message to the Senate committee on Armenia, urging that the U. S. Government promptly accept a mandatory relation to that stricken part of the world, to bring an end to the horrible atrocities of the Turks, and to give effective relief.

THANKSGIVING DAY, 1919.

There are so many things for which the American people should be truly thankful, that it is hardly worth while for any of us to be critical. The difficulty is that we are so selfish and materialistic—so pampered, and so liable to attribute success to ourselves—that we overlook the evidences of God's mercy, and indulge in complaint. There is one thing, however, difficult to be thankful for; and that is that the world is so full of people ready to capitalize the thankful spirit of others, and make use of it to their gain.

The general prosperity of our great country is very wide-spread, but the distribution of the mere money prosperity, not nearly so wide. More are losers, perhaps, than gainers, through the activities and upsets of the times, and the prospects of greater inequalities are before us. Those who have an abundance of material prosperity, do not admit it; those who do not have it, likely complain too much because of the fact.

On the whole, and by comparison with the peoples of other countries of the world, America, finds itself in this year 1919 wonderfully blessed; but we need to realize it greatly more than we do, and not only realize it, but act as though we are truly grateful to the giver of it all, by practicing charity where charity is due, and by exacting justice where justice is due; for the exercise of charity alone is not full thankfulness. It is as necessary to punish thieves, as it is to bestow blessings in return for blessings received.

The Electric Light Line.

The electric light line being built from Lewistown to Union Bridge is completed so far as the poles are concerned, but the wire is on only a little beyond Creagerstown. Further work on the line is being held up by shortage of wire and other material. Work will be resumed as soon as supplies can be had. Creagerstown is being supplied with current.

Citizens of Taneytown interested in the construction of this line, will evidently have to be patient for quite a long time; but this is no great misfortune, as the gas service of the town is fairly good, and better than in some towns now having very poor light.

Gov. Coolidge, of Massachusetts, is being boomed for the Republican nomination for President. His effective handling of the Police strike, in Boston, and his re-election on a "law and order" enforcement platform, are largely responsible for the enthusiasm of his friends. The Governor himself is taking no action in the matter.

AN UNFAIR PRESENTATION.

How the Baltimore Sun May Easily
Misrepresent Public Sentiment.

The Baltimore Sun is taking a ballot of its readers on four propositions with reference to the League of Nations and Peace Treaty. Its first question is, "Are you in favor of the peace treaty with the League of Nations?" The use of the word "the" kills the question for the majority of people, because "the" definitely means the League and Treaty as presented. Almost everybody, we think, is in favor of "a" League and treaty, such as will clearly protect America from becoming directly embroiled in all of the quarrels of the world, either "morally" or otherwise, yet be opposed to "the" treaty presented.

No doubt many will mark the Sun's ballot in the "yes" square, but meaning "a" treaty rather than "the" treaty, and in this way be wrongly represented in the total of the published vote.

The second question, which begins, "Are you in favor of the treaty without reservations, etc.," is practically the same question as the first, but is decidedly less misleading. One could consistently vote "no" to the first, and "no" to the second, and yet be in favor of "a" League of Nations, but the Sun perhaps does not want to classify the questions.

If the Sun wants a fair vote on For or Against a League of Nations, why does it not ask for one without obscuring the question? Also, why does not the Sun publish the number of votes returned with the number of copies issued containing the ballot? This is a "test of public sentiment" that does not test.

The Sun should have asked three questions, like the following, in order to secure an expression of public sentiment.

1—Are you in favor of the Peace League and Treaty, unchanged, as President Wilson presented it to the Senate?

2—Are you in favor of a League of Nations, with reservations, so as to fairly preserve the integrity of the Constitutional powers of the United States?

3—Are you opposed to any League of Nations whatever?

Another question seems pertinent. The recent campaign for Governor was waged largely on the issue that the State Democratic platform definitely endorsed the Wilson administration—Treaty, League and all—why ask the question over again?

Four years ago, Mr. Ritchie was elected Attorney-General by a plurality of nearly 30,000; he has just been declared elected Governor by 165. Does the Sun see any answer to its questions in these figures?

Rev. Seth Russell Downie, D. D., Resigns Pastorate.

Rev. Seth Russell Downie, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian Churches of Taneytown and Piney Creek, announced his resignation to both congregations, last Sunday, to take effect in the near future. Dr. Downie has accepted a call to the Frostburg, Md., church.

He came to Taneytown nine years ago, from Bath, Pa., and while here has not only conducted the affairs of his congregations with earnestness and zeal, but has been a live and helpful factor in many public local activities, notably the Carroll County Agricultural and Fair Association, our Lyceum courses, and numerous union events.

He and his family will leave Taneytown with a wide circle of friends among all denominations, who wish them abundant success and prosperity in their new home and larger field. The Record will specially miss Dr. Downie, as he has on different occasions helped out very ably in filling the news department, and always did so with the utmost cheerfulness and care for detail.

An unusual testimonial to Dr. Downie was publicly presented to him, on Thanksgiving Day, when between the acts, at the play for the benefit of St. Joseph's church, in the Opera House, Father Quinn read a set of formal resolutions signed by himself and the officials of his church, highly commending Dr. Downie and expressing regret at his departure, to which, the recipient responded briefly, but feelingly.

Our Office Working Over-time.

The Record office force has been working at night, for three weeks, in order to overcome the delays of orders on hand, notwithstanding the fact that we have recently turned away several big contracts. Even after doing our best, with over-time work, some of our patrons will be disappointed in not getting work when needed. We are trying hard to accommodate all, but unless work is given to us in advance of the need for it, there will be some disappointment, because of their own slowness.

The Carroll County Exhibit.

The Record received, too late for publication, a very lengthy account of the recent agricultural exhibit, held in Westminster. As it would require over a column of space, we can only generalize by saying that the whole exhibit, and program, was high standard throughout, and met with splendid co-operation, indicating that the event will be held again next year, in much larger proportions. The report says: "Anything that any other county in the State can do, Carroll can accomplish."

ANOTHER BOND ISSUE WILL LIKELY BE NEEDED

A Deficit of Three Billions is Due in December.

Financial statements just issued by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Comptroller, give indications that another U. S. Bond issue will be needed to meet the deficit between the receipts and expenditures of the government. This will bring to the front the tariff question as an expedient for raising needed revenue, as the country can not go on, indefinitely, issuing bonds.

Indications from official circles are that three methods will be offered in the legislative branch. These are revision of the tariff, another bond issue and revision of the income tax.

That there will be tariff revision seems certain. Joseph W. Fordney, chairman of the House ways and means committee, has asserted that a step was the intention of the Republican majority. Minor revisions to protect minor industries, such as the dye and glass trades, already have been effected. At the session starting December 1 the ways and means committee aims to have hearings to go exhaustively into the subject.

Administration officials are said to be opposed to tariff legislation, because of the "protection" it affords American industries; and are advocating a bond issue, but financial experts have felt for some months that it will be impossible to float another bond issue as the Liberty and Victory issues were disposed of. The only method remaining is to have the banks of the country absorb the issue, a procedure that would encounter many disadvantages unless the financial institutions were in an exceedingly healthful condition. Otherwise, it is said the tying up of several billion dollars in resources would hinder industrial expansion, as the banks could not be expected to dispose of but a small portion of the bonds they acquired.

Others say the placing of heavy super taxes on persons of large income defeats its own purpose. That is said to be true because the holders of large incomes are withdrawing their money from industrial lines and placing it in municipal, state and federal bonds where they may avoid some of the taxation. Such a course, it is said, has its effect on the money market and makes it extremely difficult for the expansion of industry and the development of new business.

The Outlook for Shoe Prices.

Boston, Nov. 23.—Despite investigation of the shoe industry by federal and state governments, and despite earlier promises of leading manufacturers that the upper level in shoe prices had been reached, the business is confronted by conditions today that indicate almost sensational increases in prices next year. Eastern manufacturers are taking orders today at $3.00 over and above the price for which they have just made deliveries, which sets that advance as a base for the spring makes, and the stock for next fall is being made at $5.00 to $7.00 per pair higher than present figures. The general public will have a practical demonstration of the new costs next spring.

High-grade shoes will have to carry the weight of the burden. One of the shoes selling in Boston last September for $12.00 a pair, is being exhibited and taken at $15.00 a pair today, and the dealers declare that the retail price of this shoe next September will be $21.00 to $22.00 a pair.

It has come to such a pass here that the dealers do not hesitate to express the opinion that a complete shut-down of the shoe factories for a while would not be inimical to the trade, but on the other hand, serve to stay the upward tendencies of cost, give labor a chance to ponder over the wholesomeness of moderation, and allow leather to accumulate sufficiently to induce tanners to soften the prices of raw materials a little.

Eastern manufacturers are simply unable to cope with the situation. They cannot get the leather and they cannot make the shoes that the market calls for. Their production has fallen off 50%, without as yet causing a shortage of shoes on the market. Dealers have enough on hand to supply the demand, and say the public would not suffer from a complete discontinuance of production for a while.—Phila. Ledger.

Thieves Butcher Steer.

Frederick, Md., Nov. 24.—Thieves visited the farm of George Shafer, a mile north of Burkittsville, killed one of his best steers, butchered the animal and carried off the choice part of the carcass. They left the hide and two front quarters. The theft was discovered when parts of the animal's carcass was found on the spot where it had been butchered.

The thieves worked quietly under cover of darkness and departed without leaving any clue as to their identity. It is thought that they hauled the meat away in a truck.—Sun.

Automobiles and auto trucks are again being manufactured at the rate of 2,000,000 a year, or at about the same rate as in 1917.

Mrs. Tom Thumb is dead, at the age of 77 years. Her home was in Attleboro, Mass. Tom Thumb died 30 years ago.

600 QUIT WEST. MD. SHOPS.

Hagerstown Railroad Men Demand
Promised Back Pay.

Hagerstown, Md., Nov. 25.—Demanding immediate payment of back wages from last May, 600 boiler-makers, pipe-fitters, machinists, and other craftsmen in the W. M. R. R. shops here refused to go to work today. The workmen did not leave the shops, but stood by their jobs ready to resume work upon receipt of the back pay they claim. It is said this will not be forthcoming until December.

The Railroad Administration is preparing back pay vouchers for the workmen as fast as possible, with the view of paying, at the same time, all those to whom back pay is due. If the local shop men hold out in their demands until they receive the back pay, the shops will remain idle, as the company is making no effort to replace them.

The Company's officials say they look for an early return to work by the men. The action of the men came as a bolt from a clear sky. The refusal to work came first in the round house and main shops, spreading rapidly to the shops, and this afternoon work throughout the shops was at a standstill.

As thousands of railroad workers throughout the country are to receive back pay, the work placed on the auditing departments of the railroads is enormous. It is for this reason, the belief prevails, the work cannot be completed before next month.

The Maryland Poultry Show.

Farmers and suburbanites who are not reaping their share of the golden harvest of the successful poultry yards, will have a chance to learn many valuable lessons in poultry raising, at the poultry and pigeon show to be held at the 5th Regiment Armory December 2-6. Agricultural experts of the State, connected with the State College of Agriculture, and other experts of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, all working in line with the greater food production campaign of the nation, will make the show the most instructive ever held. No expense is being spared in this respect.

Great enthusiasm has been shown by the successful poultry raisers of the State and of all parts of the country. Some of the 4,000 entries come from as far off as Canada. War made it impossible to hold a show last year, but this is expected to make up for what was missed then. The rush to enter the contest is regarded as a clear indication that the State is on the eve of a great effort to put Maryland where it belongs in the development of this important industry. There has often been expressed astonishment that more poultry farms and larger ones are not to be found, where conditions are so promising.

Those who have studied the food production problems for the federal government, are convinced that all depends upon proper presentation of the profits to be derived from intelligent poultry raising. Thus the government will enter with its exhibit to supplement others that are also along educational lines.

The various organizations of fanciers of distinct breeds of poultry will hold conventions along with the show and will on that account see to it that the particular breed is represented by the very best specimens. The Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, and many other varieties are represented by the finest of stock. There are good entries in nearly all of the breeds.

Bantams will be there from the farms that have specialized in these attractive little birds. A number of previous blue ribbon winners will be there to sustain their honors and seek new glory.

There will be no less than 40 varieties of pigeons and about 2000 specimens. This clearly indicates the beginning of a real revival of interest in the pets.

At the show there will be exhibited owls, rabbits and other pet and utility stock. Between 600 and 700 prizes will be offered.

Much Unhusked Corn.

A dispatch from Hagerstown says: "Although Washington county raised the biggest crop of corn in years, the crop still remains in the fields unhusked, the farmers being unable to secure labor. They are offering 20 cents a shock to huskers. A good hand can make from $6.00 to $8.00 daily, but these wages apparently are not attractive enough. Farmers are much concerned. Men who formerly worked on the farms have secured steady jobs at big factories."

This is likely only a half truth—one of the reports true in exceptional cases, and not fairly applying to the whole county. The probability is that the situation in Washington is not very different from other counties, but that some farmers have finished, while others have not more than commenced.

Hunting Without Written Permit.

Hunting on the lands of another, without written permission, may be expensive pastime. A young man in Frederick county, while driving an automobile on the public road, near Jefferson, spied a rabbit just on the other side of the fence, and shot it, and had to go "over the top" to get it. When he did this, he violated the State law for hunting without permission, and on being brought before Justice Johnson, of Frederick, was fined $15.00 and costs, making the rabbit cost him $22.00.

OFFER MINERS AN INCREASE IN PAY OF 14 PER-CENT.

The Offer Rejected and the Miners
Are in Bad Humor.

Mr. Garfield, backed by the Cabinet, has announced the decision of a 14% increase in wages, and no increase in the selling price of coal. The decision is accepted by the operators, but not by the miners. Dr. Garfield declares that the 14% advance would leave miners better paid than other classes of labor; that the lowest wages paid would be $4.75 per day, and that working 200 days a year would mean $950.00 a year. He continued, that the government will not attempt to compel men to work, but will give the fullest protection to those who are willing to return to work in the mines.

The conference closed with bad feeling on both sides. The miners agreed to compromise on an advance of 31%. Just what the next development will be, nobody can foretell. If the miners were left free to settle the matter, most of them will return to work, but this can not be done, as long as the leaders refuse the offer, without disrupting the strength of the union.

Secretary McAdoo, who is expected to be the Democratic nominee for the Presidency, came out in a statement, as follows:

"The question is whether or not the coal operators are making excessive profits. Their income tax returns filed under oath will give an understanding of the truth and the facts."

"If they are making excessive profits, as they were clearly making in 1917, then any increase of wages that may be made to the miners should not be passed on to the public in the form of increased prices for bituminous coal."

"A showdown will enable the American people to form a just opinion."

The operators claim that Mr. McAdoo is clearly injecting himself in the wage controversy at their expense, in order to popularize himself with both the miners and the general public. Many business men of the country strongly intimate that he either has, or may, make public the confidential statements on incomes, or is at least making unwarranted intimations in that direction.

Industries have been closing down, especially throughout the west, due to shortage of coal, thereby throwing thousands of men out of work—a strike in one branch of labor, injuring other branches where labor is satisfied. The shortage of coal in large cities—notably in Chicago—has had the effect of reducing the extent of the lighting of the streets, and as a result, burglary and crime have greatly increased.

Mary Jane Wampler and husband, to Samuel Mann and wife, 10,440 square feet, for $154.

Mission School at Mt. Lake Park.

The Mountain Lake Park property, belonging to the association there, will be transferred to the Board of Foreign Missions of the M. E. church, in March. The Board of Missions contemplates the establishment of four schools in this country, one of which will be at Mountain Lake Park. Plans call for the investment of $500,000 there. Just what effect the change of ownership will have on the place, as a summer resort, is not yet clear, as a great deal of the property there—the main hotel, several smaller hotels and many cottages, are privately owned, and are not in the deal. There is also a considerable number of privately owned homes, occupied all the year.

An insurance expert says: "That thin persons live longer than fat persons. That the moderate use of alcoholic beverages is not likely to lessen life. That the Middle West is the most healthful locality of the United States. That the extreme South is the most unhealthy of the United States."

OUR SOLDIER DEAD IN FRANCE

Must Remain Two Years Until the French Dead Are Reburied.

Paris, Nov. 24.—The 65,000 American dead in France must be left in the graves they now occupy until the French are ready to exhume their own dead, which it is hoped will be before January 1, 1922.

The foreign office had promised to consider the latest request of the American government for the return of its fallen soldiers, but later the following official announcement was made:

"It has been definitely decided that the allies who fell together for the same cause should remain together in death until circumstances permit of the returning of the bodies to the families for whom they sacrificed themselves."

The proposed law specifies a delay in exhumation of three years from the promulgation of the law, but it is expected that this period will be shortened. At the foreign office it is said to be probable that the exhumation will commence considerably before January, 1922.

Proceedings of the Orphans' Court.

Monday, Nov. 24.—Jacob T. Frock, administrator of David H. Frock, deceased, reported sale of personal property and settled his first and final account.

Letters of administration on the estate of Calvin C. Wooden, deceased, were granted unto Lawrence and Herbert R. Wooden, who received warrant to appraise and an order to notify creditors.

Gertrude G. Apple, executrix of John Hinehart, deceased, settled her first account.

Letters of administration on the estate of David Boose, deceased, were granted unto Oliver D. Boose and Jennie A. Stoefler, who received warrant to appraise and an order to notify creditors.

Tuesday, Nov. 25.—The sale of the real estate of Sarah E. Snyder, deceased, was finally ratified and confirmed.

Harry A. and Charles P. Geiman, executors of Wm. H. Geiman, deceased, returned an inventory of personal property and real estate.

Denton S. Gehr, executor of Francis S. Starr, deceased, received an order to transfer mortgage.

Sadie T. Denner, executrix of John C. S. Denner, deceased, returned an inventory of money and settled her first account.

Marriage Licenses.

Charles C. Walsh, and Bessie R. Rill, both of Hampstead.

Frank F. Magin, of Westminster, and Adeline V. Stultz, of Medford.

Eli M. Dutterer and Nannie E. Duffendall, both of Taneytown.

Elmer R. Kindig, of Littlestown, Pa., and Treva L. Yeiser, of Union Mills.

Jos. Edward Leppo, of Carrollton, and Margaret Blum, of Sandyville.

Oscar T. Frock, of Silver Run, and Esta V. Bish, of Westminster.

Ralph M. Myers, of Silver Run, and Mabel J. Reinecker, of Littlestown.

Vincent R. Stick, and Edna V. Reinecker, both of Littlestown.

Raymond E. Rhoten, of Westminster, and Nola Marie Heagy, of Sandyville.

Ernest Delphery, of Middleburg, and Alice M. Shriner, of Detour.

Charles P. Delphy, and Amy C. Burgess, both of Middleburg.

Egg Marketing Suggestions.

The hen's greatest egg-producing periods are the first, second, and third years, depending upon the breed. The heavier breeds, such as Plymouth Rocks, may be profitably kept for two years; the lighter breeds, such as Leghorns, three years.

Market white-shelled and brown-shelled eggs in separate packages. Eggs irregular in shape, those which are unusually long or thin-shelled, or which have shells otherwise defective, should be kept by the producer for home use, so that breakage in transit may be reduced as much as possible.

Eggs from "stolen" nests should not be marketed; they are of unknown age and quality and should be used at home.

When taking eggs to market, protect them from the Sun's rays in warm weather. Ship or deliver eggs twice or three times weekly.

Notice the candler has places for the good eggs as well as for checks (cracked eggs), dirty eggs, and "rots." When selling eggs, insist that they be bought on a quality basis.

Infertile eggs will withstand marketing conditions much better than fertile eggs.

All cockerels not intended to be kept or sold for breeders, should be marketed when they reach suitable size. Such birds confined in a home-made battery or coop, and fed a fattening ration for a week or ten days, will not only increase in weight, but bring a better price on the market, because of improved quality.

Dressed turkeys are said to be selling at 50c and 60c per pound. Well, what of it? There's no law, as yet, to compel people to buy turkeys; and it is just possible that those who have been in the habit of doing so, can get along without, this year, if they try.

The membership of the next House of Representatives, as well as of the Electoral College, will likely be reduced by thirteen, in ten States. The apportionment will be made on the basis of the 1920 census. Maryland is listed to lose one vote, unless in the meantime the membership of the House is increased to 500, instead of the present 435.

It should be a simple matter for automobile and engine manufacturers, to so protect the numbers of their machines that they can not be easily removed and others substituted. An expert builder should be able to solve the problem in a day; and it ought to be just as easy to devise some simple plan of making a car stay "put," until its owner wants to remove it.

Asking permission to advance prices, is sure to be resisted. Prices put up by force, and without asking, are paid. Therefore, the thing to do is get together, and force. Just why the opposite plan is not worked—get together and resist—has not yet been made clear. Perhaps most people are too busy to take the time to do such strenuous things? Queer, how some can get things, and others can't.

Senator Lodge proposes that the people vote on the League issue in 1920, which is practically meeting the President's previous stand on the question. It appears to us that this is the proper solution. Let the people decide whether the United States is to be part of a super-State—a world league—or whether it prefers to keep on as it has in the past. When the Doctors disagree, let the people decide!

One of the unexpected results of the country going "dry" is that it has apparently not restricted the building of big hotels, as numerous million dollar, and over, hotel buildings are going up all over the country. This is likely the results of many small hotels being forced out of the business, due to the loss of bar patronage. There is also a noticeable increase in eating and soft drink places, taking the place of bar-rooms.

Turn the Hose on Them.

There are a few expressions used by writers on economic topics that are becoming not only monotonous, but almost nauseating. Two of these handy expressions are "increased efficiency" and "intensive production." These expert writers may themselves be "efficient"—they are at least "intensive in production," but much of the stuff we read from them is stronger in theory than in any other direction, and produced without exercising a very wide range of knowledge of facts.

"Efficiency" is a platitudinous remark, these days, as it appears to the people to which it is usually addressed. Godness knows there are lots of inefficient people, but these cannot be taught the meaning of the word. As long as one need not be "efficient" to make scads of money, why bother about being so; and as for the average business man, if he isn't efficient now, he never will be. Some people have more "efficiency" than anything else—or think they have, and that is all that is necessary.

As to "intensive" and "increased production," whoever started the idea that it is the cure for high costs, has another idea coming to him. As long as men profit most by short production, why should they increase it? Who can make them do it? Are producers philanthropists, and can any expert figure out how it will profit producers to turn out more food, for instance, simply for the credit of feeding the masses more cheaply?

The hose ought to be turned on a lot of the intellectual writers on economic topics until they wake up. What they know about most of them, they learned years ago in school, and not in the school of present everyday experience which is setting aside most other previously stored-up knowledge. The evidence and knowledge of yesterday and today—and not even as ancient as last week—is what counts just now. It is better to try to get at what is going to happen tomorrow and next day, and forget about what was learned at school about sociology and logic, economics—and "efficiency."

"WE HAVE PROSPERED."

This sentence stood out separately in the President's Thanksgiving Day proclamation. Presumably, it means "prospered" since the same day a year ago. Who is meant by "We"? Is it the U. S. Government, with its staggering load of bonded debt, and more to follow? Is it the "we" out-fitters who have profited immensely because of Government contracts? Is it the farmers who have had bountiful harvests and high selling prices? Is it the laboring classes who have received extravagant wages?

If the "we" stands for the whole people, or a majority of them, we beg to intimate that we have our doubts of the truthfulness of the statement. When such a broad assertion is made, it is always best to be assured that the fact is undoubted. The handling of the little "we" is a matter of vast responsibility in such a vast country, wherein the prosperity of the few does not necessarily mean the prosperity of the many, and being too sure of its proper use may lead to tremendous difficulties.

Thanksgiving Day proclamations are more or less of the stereotyped sort, full of optimism and beautifully turned sentences, with the object of making everybody feel thankful, whether they imagine themselves to be, or not. There is always something to "Pollyanna" over, for we never reach a condition naturally, when many things might not be a great deal worse, which in itself is ample justification for thanksgiving.

But, to say "We have prospered," without any qualifying accompaniment does not satisfy anything like everybody in this country.

Even many who are dealing in big figures—getting big prices—are ready with their "yes, but" explanations, which, if taken as stated, leaves them no better off. They do not admit prosperity. Certainly the millions who have "not got theirs" do not admit it. Union labor does not admit it—witness, their argument for "more" wages. We wonder just how many classes of people the President could name, will admit that his "we" fits their case. Who are the "we"?

A Good Cough Medicine for Children

Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Redon, Ga., phoned to J. M. Floyd, the merchant there, for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and said she had bought a bottle of it at his store recently, and that it was doing her children so much good that she wanted to keep up the treatment. You will find nothing better for coughs and colds in children or for yourself. It keeps the cough loose, expectoration easy and soon frees the system from the cold.

The Right Way to "Strike."

A queer thing has happened in Chicago. A lot of "striking" butchers have gone together and opened four shops of their own, and are retailing meats at less than wholesale prices—so it is reported. Why not? This is just the thing to do. It is the fair, honorable, peaceable thing. Whenever employers are "profiteering," and not paying their workmen a fair share, why shouldn't the said workmen do just what these striking butchers are said to have done?

The Record has advanced this very idea, many a time. That workmen go together and go into business for themselves, be their own bosses and make profits for themselves. It is one of the biggest and best solutions for many of our labor troubles. Instead of lambasting capital, get into the business game and be a capitalist or an employer. These Chicago butchers have been retailing steaks at from 15c to 18c a pound; roasts from 8½c to 12½c, and other prices in proportion, or about 10c per pound less than the regular butchers.

Of course, the regulars say the 'strikers' shops sell only the poorest grades of meat—from the lowest grade cattle—we do not know anything about that; but, if people like their meat, and want it, what is wrong about it? The idea is all right, and it should receive wide imitation. Not only the butchers, but employees in other trades have the same right, and no doubt in many instances they will find many of their present employers glad to sell out to them. Stop kicking about wages, and go into business for yourselves, is the advice that many workmen should take.

This Means You.

When you get up with a bad taste in your mouth, a dull tired feeling, no relish for food and are constipated, you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only cause an agreeable movement of the bowels, but cleanse and invigorate the stomach and improve the digestion.

Mr. Taft on the Defeat of the Treaty.

The votes in the Senate on Wednesday demonstrate that if the President had been willing to face the unpleasant fact that the Treaty could not be ratified without reservations and had given his permission to the Democratic Senators to negotiate with the Mild Reservationists among the Republicans the supporters of the Treaty could have formed a majority, controlled the parliamentary situation and secured a ratification with reservations much milder than those imposed by the solid Republican vote. Mr. Wilson should not charge Mr. Lodge with responsibility for the situation, for it is of his own making.

We may differ widely from Mr. Lodge as to the necessity or wisdom of the reservations he insisted on and of those he voted for, and we may criticize the evident hostility to Mr. Wilson that consciously or unconsciously affected Mr. Lodge's attitude toward the Treaty; but the colossal blunder was Mr. Wilson's in supposing that by a frontal attack he could reduce a plain majority against the Treaty of a dozen or more votes into a minority of one-third of the Senate.

He persisted in hamstringing his supporters in the Senate. He required them to keep up the farce of announcing each day that the Treaty must pass without the crossing of a t or the dotting of an i, when every one knew that this was impossible. This drove the sincere supporters of the League among the Republicans to seek a compromise with Mr. Lodge and the Foreign Relations Committee. It produced delay, in which the bitter opponents of any league were able to rouse factional support for their stand. The Republican regulars in the country, at first indifferent or undecided, were gradually brought to regard it as a partisan issue. The Irish and pro-Germans in their hostility thronged the meetings of the "Bitter-End" Senators and gave an impression of popular opposition to the pact. Every day strengthened the cause and chance of drastic reservations.

Meantime the Democrats sat twirling their thumbs and declaring that all opposition to the Treaty as it was would fade away. Only in the eleventh hour, when the lines were tightly drawn, was there any suggestion of a compromise by the Democrats, and then of a kind certain to be rejected. The President wrote a letter, betraying a personal element in his attitude toward the reservations, quite like that attributed to Mr. Lodge, and without any aid to the situation in pointing out a possible line of compromise. Now the Treaty is defeated, but by a vote which shows that the "Bitter-Enders" on the Republican side number but fourteen, and on the Democratic side, but one, leaving at least eighty, or sixteen more than are needed for ratification.

The world waits. Our allies are agast at the result. They had accepted the bland and blind confidence of the President that the opposition would disappear like mist before the Sun, and they have had a rude awakening. Of course, they will now make a bold effort to go on with the League, but facing their difficulties that have grown much in the long delay, they are in their hearts sad and discouraged. It is probable that they would not have objected to the reservations, however much they disliked them, and they would have soon forgotten most of them in the actual operation of the League. Ninety per cent of the value of the League is left in the Treaty in spite of the reservations. The President's statement that they nullify the Treaty is entirely unwarranted. It is a statement unfortunate both in its lack of foundation and in the obstacle in its forms to future compromise.—Wm. H. Taft, in Phila. Ledger.

Only a Cold.

Are you ill? Is often answered—"Oh! it's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help you to throw it off.

RACTICALLY ON CASH BASIS

Little Real Credit Business Is Done by Foreign Firm Operating in China.

When a foreign firm opens up in China one of its first cares is to select a comrade, writes "Americus" in AS's magazine. This individual is usually a wealthy merchant of the town with considerable property. He becomes, not an employee, but a kind of associate of the Foreign business man, and while keeping up in many cases his own independent commercial ventures, he establishes an office connection with the firm's offices, where he acts as intermediary for all transactions with Chinese customers. No Chinese order is booked without his approval, for he takes the place of our "credit man" and knows who can be trusted and to what extent. But he differs from the credit man in that he, in return for a commission on the transaction, assumes full responsibility for it and pays up himself if the customer defaults. Being a man of property he can do this, and to make assurance doubly sure, the foreigner usually requires him to deposit security in the form of title deeds to land or even cash in some cases. When the goods are finally delivered it is not usual to give long credits. In one of the principal parts of China payments are usually made at once through what are called native bank orders, i. e., checks dated five or ten days ahead and certified by some Chinese bank. In other words very little real credit business is done, according to our idea of that term, and it is consequently not surprising that there are so few losses.

ROMAN HOMES IN ENGLAND

Researches of Antiquarians Have Brought to Light Many Things of Historical Interest.

A side road leads to the left from the Fosse Way of ancient memory, and winds along a valley beside the early wanderings of the Colne, in the English Cotswold country, a writer in the Christian Science Monitor says.

The car, chugging its way up the incline comes to rest at last beneath the trees which crowd around the Roman villa, at Chedworth, and a patchwork carpet of sun and shadow invites to the loitering in the warmth of a spring day. But suddenly one is ushered into the twilight of the Roman occupation, a gaze on fragments of mosaic flooring and scattered pillars and bricks and stones, all that remains of the prosperous home of some rich Roman who settled here in the dawn of English history.

The beautiful coloring and design of the mosaic floors are not more striking than the hollowed bricks, and arched niches which tell of wonderful heating arrangements, of greater efficiency than that of which most modern English homes can boast.

Here, beside the villa, laundries and baths would appear to have been a small smelting establishment, which must have once made the place a little alive of industry amid the wild surroundings of Britain.

All this lay undiscovered through the centuries till men came and unearthed it from the dust and debris and fallen leaves of well-nigh two thousand years.

Friendship.

You must make your own friends. Some men are born with a natural disposition to be friendly. Other men with equal brains are born with natures that do not easily make friends. The one man needs to be careful that he does not make too many friends and the other needs to cultivate the art of making friends. Both men may make shipwreck of life by allowing the natural bent of their lives to dominate them. Some folks may say a man should make his friends among those who are able to help. That may be all right but as a rule a fellow wants friends who will help themselves. The tendency is to make friends of those whose life appeals to us without regard to profit. But the wise man will take stock of the friends he makes and cultivate those who help him to be a better man. He needs the incentives good men are able to arouse within him. "To make friends you must show yourself friendly."

Army and Navy Union.

The history of the Army and Navy Union dates from March 1, 1888, when veterans of the United States army obtained articles of incorporation for an organization to be known as the Regular Army of the Union of the United States of America. According to a circular sent out by the union, it "aims to defend and elevate the material standing of the officers and enlisted men, encourages and abets legislation in their behalf, as well as for those veterans who have returned to civil life; it takes care of its sick, buries its dead and extends a helping hand, pecuniary and otherwise, as may be necessary," and generally strives to promote patriotism and faithfulness. Men who possess an honorable discharge from the United States service, with regular or volunteer army, navy or marine corps, whether service was before, during or since any war at home or abroad, are eligible to admission to its ranks.

GLOVE FOR THE BLIND-DEAF

Ingenious Contrivance by Means of Which the Afflicted Are Able to Hold Conversations.

Dr. William Terry of Ansonia, Conn., who was rapidly becoming both blind and deaf, invented an ingenious glove by means of which he was able to converse with his friends. The Scientific American describes this as thin, with all the letters of the English alphabet marked upon it, distributed over the digits, palm and back. Doctor Terry himself has learned the precise sitution of each letter, so that when a friend spells out a word by touching the several spots, he can follow by the feeling.

The beauty of Doctor Terry's invention is that it enables him to receive communications from persons who are unacquainted with his system. Any deaf-blind person could have such a glove made and, of course, it does not matter how the letters are arranged upon it, for he alone needs to know without looking where they are situated. Doctor Terry's arrangement is as simple as could be devised.

DEAN OF PAINLESS SURGERY

Joseph Lister Lives in History as One of the Greatest Benefactors of Mankind.

One of the world's greatest benefactors was Joseph Lister, the eminent English surgeon who was the first to apply the antiseptic system of surgery, of which he was the discoverer and pioneer. Lister died seven years ago. The first great advance in modern surgery was made during the second quarter of the nineteenth century, when Godwin, Mitchell, Jackson, Wood-Bache and Doctor Morton discovered and applied anesthesia, which did away with the pain and horrors of the operating room. Since then vast improvements have been made in anesthesia. It remained for Lister to introduce antiseptic surgery or treatment to kill germs in surgical operations and accidental wounds, by which the lives of thousands have been saved. In addition to this important discovery, he made important observations on the early stages of inflammation, the coagulation of the blood and other matters. Lord Lister (he was elevated to the peerage) was surgeon extraordinary to Queen Victoria and later to King Edward.

Red Cross Work to Continue.

The ambulances of the British Red Cross are to be among the war-workers that will never be demobilized. The pick of that great park of ambulances, familiar to every soldier who has landed at or left Boulogne, will form the nucleus of a permanent service, in which all England will share. A commissioner is now at work finding homes for 500 of these ambulances, and is so mapping out the country that, if possible, no place shall be more than 15 miles from an ambulance, which shall be at the service of any doctor who has a serious case to move to hospital. All these ambulances will be under a central control, which will guarantee the efficiency of the car and the service; and the organization will have the active assistance of those who have learned all there is to learn about the running of ambulances during the war. The rest of the ambulances being over-much war-worn, or not specially well suited, will be added to the enormous total of cars and motorcycles now being sold or scrapped.

How He Got Rich.

My most embarrassing moment was one Sunday morning when I took a rich uncle of mine to church with me. The collection box was passed, and when it came through our row my uncle put in a dollar bill and took out 75 cents in change. He needless to say, how he became rich.

WELCOMED AS RIGHT SORT

Newcomer's Record Made Him Eligible to Inner Circles of Indiana's Big Penitentiary.

Frank P. Litschert, secretary to Governor Goodrich, spent several days at the state prison, Michigan City, recently, and being fortunate enough to get out again is telling the following yarn:

Warden Fogarty of the prison likes to make as easy as he can the hard lot of the prisoners, and has arranged for ball games at intervals within the prison walls. Convicts form the teams, and while there is some difficulty in getting one to act as umpire, the games usually are pulled off in good style.

A visitor from South Bend was at the prison one day when a game was scheduled, and being a former ball player it was suggested that he put on the prison uniform and get into the game "incog" and put a little professional "pep" into it.

Eventually the "ringer" was all fitted out and was placed in the lot. He was sitting on the bench when a typical convict "hard guy" swaggered up to him and sympathetically inquired: "Hello, bo! What ya in fer?"

The outsider was nonplused, but recovering in a moment he replied:

"Oh, I beamed a guy."

"Did ya put 'im clean out?" again inquired the hard guy, with professional interest.

"Yep," said the ringer.

Whereupon the convict, fraternal to the core, gleefully commented:

"Atta boy!"—Indianapolis News.

How Gas Has Gone to Waste.

Up at Pelican Rapids on the Athabasca river, in western Canada, is a gas well that has been roaring wildly for 30 years, and in that time has sent out gas worth millions of dollars. This, too, has happened at a time when the heat and power potential in that wasted gas have been needed very much in the world. It is estimated that the well has spouted in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 cubic feet of perfectly good gas every 24 hours for the 30 years of its life.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Original "Lone Tree."

There was an immense cottonwood, four feet thick and very tall, which stood in Nebraska almost in the center of the continent, half way between New York and San Francisco, which was within one mile of that center. Under its branches rested thousands of '49-ers en route to the Eldorado of the Pacific coast. It was the best-known camping ground on the old California trail. From 1849, when the gold seekers rushed across the great plains down to the completion of the Union Pacific railway, the great tree was a guidepost to the wagon trains going west.

After the railway was completed there was no further use for the old tree and it eventually rotted away and died. In 1910 a monument was erected on the spot that the tree had occupied. It represents the trunk of a giant cottonwood and bears this inscription: "On this spot stood the original Lone Tree on the old California trail."

Placing Himself.

Luther Burbank, like Thomas A. Edison, has had his brain incorporated and capitalized. He has done many wonderful things, one of the biggest being the perfecting of the spineless cactus, which is a great cattle food staple. Also to his credit are the Shasta daisy, the stoneless prune and the seedless grape. His patience is wonderful and they say that at one time he raised 50,000,000 lillies to get a single half-dozen that were perfect. "No wonder they call you the 'wizard' of California," remarked a Los Angeles reporter once. Burbank laughed, and replied: "They might better call me the gizzard of California."

A Real Ambition.

"Is he ambitious?"
"I should say so. He says he'll never be content until he can drive a golf ball 200 yards every time."

Nothing of the Sort.

"Is this proposition of yours, sir, a tentative one?"
"Laws, no, brother; it's merely a tryin' out of the idee."

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Veant entertained, on Sunday, Norman Bohn and wife and son, Gesler, and Miss Mary Schildt, of Union Bridge; Clyde Naylor and Ruth Stambaugh.

Mrs. Margaret Shorb, of Rocky Ridge, is spending some time with Jacob Stambaugh and family.

James Ohler, of Harney, visited his father, Jacob Ohler, one evening this week.

H. W. Baker and family had as their guests, on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Seabrook, of Fairfield, Pa.; Miss Flora Frizzell and nephews, of Emmitsburg.

HARNEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Morelock, of Detroit, Mich., are visiting relatives, near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Clutz spent Sunday with Harry Clutz and family.

MARRIED.

NUSBAUM—WARNER.

Mr. Clotworthy R. Nusbaum and Miss Stella May Warner, both of this county, were married on Saturday evening, Nov. 22, 1919, at the Reformed parsonage at Baust church, by the pastor, Rev. Paul D. Yoder.

KUHN—SELL.

On Nov. 24, at 9 A. M., Miss Naomi H. Sell, daughter of Mrs. Flora Jane Sell, of Hanover, Pa., and Mr. Leo B. Kuhn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kuhn, of McSherrystown, Pa., were united in marriage in St. Mary's church, in McSherrystown, by Rev. Father Augustine Reduter. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cratin, of McSherrystown. The bride was very becomingly gowned in steel crepe de chine, hat and shoes to match.

DUTTERER—DIFFENDAL.

At the Lutheran parsonage, in Taneytown, on Tuesday morning, Nov. 25, at 6 o'clock, Mr. Eli M. Dutterer and Miss Nannie E. Diffendal, both of Taneytown, were united in marriage by the bride's pastor, Rev. L. B. Hafer. The only guests were Mrs. Martha A. Fringer and Mr. N. A. Reindollar. Immediately after the ceremony they left for an automobile trip to Virginia. These are well known citizens, the groom being a retired farmer, and the bride a former saleslady in the department store of D. J. Hesson. They will reside in Taneytown.

DIED.

Obituaries, poetry and resolutions, charged for at the rate of five cents per line. The regular death notices published free.

REV. A. B. BARNHART.

Rev. Abraham S. Barnhart, aged 70, a retired minister of the Church of the Brethren, died Sunday, at his home at San Mar. Born near Waynesboro, Pa., in 1840, he first entered the mercantile business at Cearfoss and Hagerstown. He was one of the organizers of the People's National Bank, Hagerstown, and its first cashier.

After five years at banking, he resigned, to give his attention to church mission work. Largely through his efforts the Fahrney Memorial Home for the Aged, at San Mar, was established.

He married Miss Hannah Mary Kuhns, of Mason and Dixon, who died in 1917. Three children survive, Abner W., of Hagerstown; A. Kieffer, of New York, and Miss Ludy, of San Mar. Funeral services were conducted on Thursday, by Revs. C. D. Bon-sack, of New Windsor, and Caleb Long, of Boonsboro.

In Loving Remembrance of my dear father
HENRY SMITH,
who departed this life two years ago
December 1st., 1917.

Oh father thy gentle voice is hushed,
Thy true words heart is still,
And on thy pale and peaceful face,
Is resting death's cold chill.

Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast,
I kissed thy lovely brow,
And in my aching heart I know,
I have no father now.

Dear father, how I miss you,
This world will never know,
If tears could have brought you home,
You would have been here long ago.

Rest on dear father, thy labor's o'er,
Thou wilt not toil no more,
A faithful father true and kind,
A truer father you could not find.

We often go to see your grave,
And keep the verdure green,
And place some spotless flowers,
Upon the peaceful scene.

By his loving daughter,
BEULAH R. CLINGAN.

MARTYR HELD IN REVERENCE

St. Catharine Occupies Exalted Position in the Calendar of the Roman Catholic Church.

Among the earlier dates of the Roman Catholic calendar St. Catharine holds an exalted position, both from rank and intellectual abilities. During persecution instituted by Emperor Maximus II, St. Catharine was martyred, the tyrant reserving a more cruel punishment for her than any of the rest of his victims. She was placed in a machine, composed of four wheels, connected and armed with spikes so that the victim would be torn to pieces as they revolved. A miracle, it is said, prevented the completion of this project, as a flash of lightning severed the chords with which she was tied, shattering the engine and killing the executioners. Maximus ordered that she be carried beyond the walls of the city; scourged and beheaded. From the circumstances relating to the wheel, the well-known circular window in ecclesiastical architecture is known as Catharine wheel, and also a firework of the same name. This St. Catharine, who lived in the fourth century, is not to be confounded with the equally celebrated St. Catharine of Sienna, who lived ten centuries later.

Our War With Mexico.

The Mexican war of 1846 lasted nearly two years. The first actual collision and bloodshed was on April 25, 1846, between a band of Mexican troops that had crossed the Rio Grande and a company of American soldiers. On May 17, 1846, President Polk sent a special message to congress reciting the facts and grievances, and said: "As war exists, and notwithstanding all our efforts to avoid it, exists by the act of Mexico herself, we are called upon by every consideration of duty and patriotism to vindicate with decision the honor, the rights and the interests of our country." During 1846 the battle of Palo Alto was fought, May 8; battle of Monterrey, September 21. In 1847 the battle of Buena Vista, February 22; battle of Cerro Gordo, April 17; City of Mexico captured September 14. Our forces occupied Mexico City September 12, 1847; the Stars and Stripes were placed on the national capital and a treaty of peace was signed February 2, 1848.

Honey.

Honey is the best substitute for sugar that has yet been found. Indeed, it is more than a substitute, it is a real food. Few people, unfortunately, know how to keep honey. All too often it is stored in an ice chest or a cold cellar. Under such conditions it is almost certain to solidify or turn into candy. The best place to keep honey is on the top shelf in a warm cupboard. If you find that it has hardened set the container in a pan of hot water until the contents liquefy again. There is little adulteration of honey these days, for adulterated honey is easy to detect. You can buy it and eat it without fear.

Hurrying Time.

"Goodness!" gasped the sergeant of the guard, sticking his head out of the window. "What is the man playing at?"

Private Murphy, who was on sentry go, was running as hard as he could from end to end of his beat.

"Hi, Mike!" yelled the noncom, "what's the trouble?"

"Sure, an' there's no trouble at all, at all!" replied Murphy, panting as he paused in his scurry.

"Then what are you running for?" "Well, ain't I on duty here for two hours? I'm only trying to get me two hours done quick!"

HORSES &amp; MULES

Will receive at my stable on Monday, Nov. 17, 20 head of 18 months old Mules; also 2 pair of Mules, broken, which will weigh 1200 a piece. Also 20 head of good Mare and Horse Colts, coming 3 years old, as good as grown; also 10 Head of Weanling Colts. A lot of good broken horses and mares for sale or exchange worth the money at my stables at Littlestown, Pa.

Clung With Tenacity to Their Language and Customs.

At the opening of the nineteenth century Bessarabia was still under the domination of the Moldavian crown, but in 1812 Russia proposed to annex the whole of Moldavia as the price of her victories against the Turks. Napoleon, however, who was then preparing his great campaign against the Russians, urged the Turks not to conclude peace on that basis; and doubtless they would have continued to resist the Russians had it not been that Moruzzi, the dragoman of the Porte, sold Napoleon's secret to the Russians, who then hastened to sign the peace, contenting themselves with Bessarabia as the spoils of war. Thus the Roumanians of Bessarabia were severed from their kinsmen of the two Danubian principalities; and the injustice was only partially repaired in the Crimean war in 1856, when the southern districts of Cahul, Ismail and Bolgrad were restored to Roumania. But at the Berlin congress (1878) Bismarck and Andrassy, in their anxiety to prevent a rapprochement between Russia and Roumania, prompted the Russian government to lay hands upon Bessarabia once more.

After this annexation the commercial importance of Bessarabia waned and her territory became an asylum for all kinds of political adventurers, strange religious sects and the ragtag and bobtail of all east European nationalities. But beneath this frothy cosmopolitan surface the main current of Bessarabian life remained true, and never lost its essential Roumanian character, and the "Moldavians," as they call themselves, have clung tenaciously to their Roumanian nationality and have never forsaken the Roumanian language.

Food Choppers Save Real Money

There's real economy in owning one of these Food Choppers. Solves many problems for the housewife and cook, in preparing tasty dishes from left-overs from previous meals, or for chopping vegetables and meats they are indispensable. The parts of these Choppers are carefully made and fit together perfectly—easy to take apart and clean. Every kitchen should have one.

I was Said:

"I want a pair of the best gloves you have," by a customer at the glove counter.

"Yes, madam," replied the polite salesman. "How long do you want them?"

"Don't you get insulting, young man," shouted the woman. "I want to buy them, not hire them."

Which reminds us to point out that good service is a matter of co-operation between salesperson and customer. We're all "just human" and trying to please our friends as we pass along, so if one of us asks you a question—in a little different way, perhaps—remember it's for your good, and help us out with an answer—Co-operate with us.

Is Every Animal At Its Best?

Don't let your stock lose their Summer's gain through November neglect. Your animals are now going on dry feed—hay and grain.

It's a big change from the succulent, nutritious grasses of summer pastures which supply the needed laxatives and tonics.

Keep your animals' bowels open and regular—drive out the worms—keep their blood rich and keep their digestion good by feeding regularly

Dr. Hess Stock Tonic

A Conditioner and Worm Expeller

Don't allow your stock to "get off feed" and in a run-down condition.

Condition your cows for calving by feeding Dr. Hess Stock Tonic before freshening. Then feed it regularly to increase the flow of milk. It lengthens the milking period.

Buy Stock Tonic according to the size of your herd. Get from your dealer two pounds for each average hog, five pounds for each horse, cow or steer, to start with, feed as directed and then watch results.

WILLIAM L. SEABROOK ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Under ordinary circumstances it is unethical for a lawyer to solicit patronage, or seek for clients. In view, however, of a widely circulated rumor that I would discontinue the practice of law, I feel that it is not improper for me to take this means to correct the report.

With the close of the present November term of Court, I will be relieved from the most active duties of the State's Attorney's office, and can, and will devote myself entirely to private practice in the Circuit Court and Orphans' Court.

I will be glad to see my friends at my office on Court Street, at any time, and will give faithful and prompt attention to any business they may entrust to me, and will do all in my power to further all honorable interests of my clients.

BUY RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS---THEY SAVE LIVES

Maryland is called upon to buy $125,000 worth of the Red Cross Christmas Seals for 1919. This is the State's quota in the budget of the National Tuberculosis Association, which carries on a nation-wide fight against the disease. Every seal is a penny's worth of cure and prevention. This is a picture of the booth from which Red Cross Christmas Seals for 1919 will be sold.

TUBERCULOSIS DEATHS INCREASED BY "FLU"

Dr. Sloan, Of Eudowood Sanatorium, Finds 16 Per Cent More Cases Resulting From Epidemic.

No one is safe from tuberculosis and this year the people of Maryland are in special danger.

Maryland was one of the states in which the Spanish influenza

last winter prevailed in especially severe form. The death toll was tremendous. There were, however, many victims of the "flu" who recovered. Statistics compiled by medical experts show that a startling number of these "flu" cases have since developed tuberculosis.

Dr. Martin F. Sloan, superintendent of Eudowood Sanatorium at Towson, Maryland, says that an increase of at least 16 per cent in the number of tuberculosis cases has resulted from the "flu" epidemic of last winter. Out of the patients admitted to the hospital, 16 per cent of them were perfectly strong and healthy before contracting the "flu." That disease so weakened their constitutions that they are unable to fight the tuberculosis germ and practically all of these cases are hopeless.

There is still fear of a recurrence of the "flu" scourge. Already there have been enough cases to alarm the public health officials. There will be cases of it in all parts of the state and in the wake of the disease there will occur increased numbers of cases of tuberculosis. To prevent and to cure these cases, the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, as the state representative of the National Tuberculosis Association, urges every county and every community to organize its forces to help fight the White Death.

There is scarcely a family in the state that has not or will not feel the touch of this twin pair of scourges, influenza and tuberculosis. Many of the counties now have organizations to push the work. Every community that has no organization and wants to get into an active fight against this enemy, can do so by going to work and lining up the citizens of the community. Then, notify the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, and suggestions for work, printed matter and other assistance will be gladly furnished.

All of the county work can be financed by the sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals, of which Maryland is expected to buy 12,500,000.

The quotas of the counties are as follows: Garrett, $800; Allegany, $2,500; Washington, $2,375; Frederick, $3,100; Carroll, $2,000; Montgomery, $925; Baltimore, $2,750; Harford, $1,650; Howard, $875; Anne Arundel, $1,825; Prince George, $825; Calvert, $200; St. Mary's, $200; Charles, $200; Cecil, $700; Kent, $700; Queen Anne's, $700; Talbot, $700; Worcester, $700; Dorchester, $700; Somerset, $700; Caroline, $700.

MARYLAND HAS 35,000 TUBERCULOUS

In the State of Maryland last year, 2,914 persons died of tuberculosis. And there were 3,669 persons reported suffering from it, according to the State Board of Health's statistics. Practically every community has nine times as many cases as are "reported," if the expert investigations and surveys of the National Tuberculosis Association are to be trusted. This means that there are over 35,000 cases of tuberculosis in Maryland today. To wage a winning fight against this dread disease, the Maryland Tuberculosis Association needs $125,000. This must be raised through the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals.

RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS TO SAVE LIVES

Last Year 2914 Died Needlessly Of Tuberculosis In Maryland.

Seals Finance Fight Against Disease

Startling facts are revealed in the report just made public by the State Board of Health showing the number of people in Baltimore and the counties of Maryland who died of pulmonary tuberculosis during the past year and the number at present known to be suffering from the disease. Taken in connection with the warning given by leading health authorities everywhere that influenza is the best runner-up of the tuberculosis score yet known to medical science and the threatened return of the "flu" in epidemic form, these figures are enough to "throw a scare" into the most self-satisfied community and into each citizen of Baltimore.

The number of deaths from the disease in the state, of which 1,273 were in Baltimore city, totaled 2,914. Known to be suffering from the disease were 3,669 persons, of whom 2,083 were resident in Baltimore city. In other words, the death rate last year from tuberculosis in Maryland was 204.5 per 100,000 of population taking 1,425,000 as the estimated population of the state. The rate for the country as a whole was only 141.6, which means that Maryland had 44 per cent more deaths from tuberculosis than the average for the nation.

The State of Maryland is one of the sore spots on the national health map. The figures by counties follow: Allegany, 58; Anne Arundel, 96; Baltimore, 263; Calvert, 22; Caroline, 42; Carroll, 44; Cecil, 26; Charles, 38; Dorchester, 65; Frederick, 183; Garrett, 9; Harford, 45; Howard, 21; Kent, 37; Montgomery, 47; Prince George, 63; Queen Anne, 32; Somerset, 23; St. Mary's, 47; Talbot, 31; Washington, 73; Wicomico, 63; Worcester, 28. The Frederick county figures include the deaths of many non-residents in the state tuberculosis hospital.

To lower the death rate, intensive educational work, visiting tuberculosis nurses in every community, special tuberculosis clinics and more tuberculosis hospitals are needed. Maryland must have $125,000 to carry on this work during the next year. It can be raised through the sale of the little Red Cross Christmas Seals which are again offered to the public beginning December 1. The country as a whole will be expected to buy $6,500,000 of the seals. Every man, woman and child, must buy ten seals each if the quota of the state is to be reached.

WEDDING HAS BEEN PUT OFF

For What He Considers Good and Sufficient Reasons Mr. Meek Has Decided to Wait.

"I must tell you frankly, Mr. Meek, that my consent to your marrying my daughter has been wrung from me under protest," said the lady, assuming a belligerent expression.

"I knew that if I did not consent she would disgrace the family by an elopement. When she wants anything, we all have to give in to her, or take the consequences; and long experience has taught me that I might as well try to fan off a cyclone as reason with her when she loses her temper, especially if there is a flat-iron or a rolling-pin handy, and so I just give in at once. Has the wedding day been fixed yet, Mr. Meek?"

Mr. Meek—Um-er, not yet; and, in fact, madam, I'm—I'm a little afraid I can't afford to marry very soon, anyhow. Goo-good-day.

Unbreakable Thermos.

The convenience of the vacuum bottle is recognized, but its fragility has always been one of its shortcomings. This is said to have been entirely overcome by a type which has been recently invented. Instead of fragile glass, the bottle is made with nonbreakable welded steel vacuum walls. The usual glass filler or container is done away with, and its place is taken by a highly-glazed flexible enamel fused to the steel shell. There are, therefore, no removable parts but the cork and the part which forms the cover. There are also no unsealed openings at the neck, into which liquids may leak. This type of bottle is surfaced with dull-black rubber composition applied to the steel and baked. The bottle is made in one and two-quart sizes, the latter being successfully possible because of its nonbreakability. Liquids may be kept hot for 20 hours and cold for more than 40, it is claimed.

World's Largest City.

According to statistics, New York is bigger in population than London by a quarter of a million, the figures for 1919 being 8,045,000 in New York against London's 7,787,326.

For many years before the war the area and population of New York was steadily increasing and the margin between the size of the two communities growing less and less until, in 1917, New York gained the lead.

The land area of Greater London is 693 square miles, while Greater New York covers 690 square miles, of which, however 95 square miles is uninhabited marsh land. Like London, the population of the business capital of the new world is densest at the center, where there are 106,000 people to the square mile compared with London's 80,000.

Suspicious Behavior.

"I hear there's been some card playing in an 'crap shootin'' amongst de members of dis congregation," said the Rev. Josephus Jackson.

A pious member in the rear groaned aloud at such depravity.

"Jest a minute, Brudder Jones," said the parson. "I ain't sayin' you's guilty, sah, but you sho' is actin' like de loser in one o' dem games dat—ahem—is gwine to bring de wrath o' de Lawd down on Harmony church."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Use Iodine for Wounds.

A cut, a scratch, a bruise, or any similar kind of injury should be painted with iodine. As soon as injured, dip a match with cotton rolled on the end of it in the iodine and paint over the wound without washing. The iodine will kill all germs in the dirt that gets into the wound, while washing only drives the germs farther into the flesh. When painted with iodine, wrap the injured part in a clean cloth for a couple of days.

Belated Proof.

"I see where I was severely wounded in the war," remarked a discharged soldier.

"Are you just now finding that out?" "Of course not, but it's some satisfaction to have a casualty list in my home paper corroborate the statements I've been making for six months to friends and members of my family."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

No Spare Time.

"He bought a motorboat to occupy his spare time."

"Now?" "Now he's so busy trying to get the thing in shape to run that he never has any spare time to go riding in it."

Doctrines.

"Do you believe in the doctrine of metempsychosis?"

"I refuse to be diverted," replied Senator Sorghum. "One doctrine at a time is enough and just now I'm engaged in sticking up for the Monroe doctrine."

Beginning, Not Quitting.

"Guess I'll quit work and go fishing," said the man.

"John," said the wife, "if you dig your own bait and honestly try to catch fish, it'll be the hardest work you've done in many a day."

HEIGHT BRINGS NO TERROR

Airman Has a Feeling of Exhilaration and Healthfulness When "in the Clouds."

Some time ago I was walking in the country with a friend, when suddenly we heard a soft hum high overhead, says a writer in a British information bureau bulletin. It took us some time to find the tiny black speck, which looked no larger than a gnat, far away in the blue.

"How awful it must be," my friend muttered, "to be at that ghastly height." And I smiled, as I remembered having once thought that myself.

As a fact one has no horror at height. The higher one is, the less real does the world beneath seem, the more stable and safe is the machine in which one is comfortably sitting. Height, regarded from a house-top, may be unpleasant. From 10,000 feet it is delightful.

The pure, sweet air at high altitudes stimulates, like wine, and the world beneath stretches away all round to the misty horizon, and looks like a gigantic sunlit map. I expected to feel giddy, if not airsick, when I first went up and was amazed at the feeling of steadiness and stability.

One has no feeling of giddiness, once contact with the ground and stationary objects is broken, but only a sensation of singular health and happiness, and on coming down after a series of smooth spirals there is an amazingly strong feeling of "wanting to go up" again and taste once more the sweet, fresh air and delightful thrills of the new world.

"But what a dreadful noise the engine must make," I heard some one remark the other day.

Apart from the fact that the ears are covered by a warm leather flying cap there is, on the contrary, something very soothing in the even note of the motor, and after being in the air for some time it is rather apt to make one feel sleepy.

The higher the altitude, the stronger the feeling of exhilaration seems to become, and the world is apt to seem dull and drab when one descends again to slow plodding over the earth.

DECIDED ON VERDICT BY LOT

Hawaiian Jury Couldn't Agree and to Settle the Matter Drew Slips From Hat.

Substituting the goddess of chance for the goddess of justice, a jury in the Honolulu circuit court a few days ago drew lots to decide the fate of 12 Chinese charged with gambling. The incident is without precedent in the annals of the courts of Hawaii, says the Walluku (H. I.) Times. The jurors were discharged by the court and their action branded as "illegal, inexcusable and highly reprehensible."

According to the story told in court, the jury could not agree. Tired of the prolonged and fruitless efforts to reach a verdict, it was suggested that the balloting be abandoned and that they draw lots. Twenty-four slips of paper were prepared, 12 bearing the word "Guilty" and 12 "Not guilty." The slips were shaken up and drawn from a hat by the jurors, who had agreed that the first 12 slips of one kind drawn should determine the verdict. The "Not guilty" slips won and a verdict of not guilty was consequently returned.

Anthem Many Centuries Old.

The youngest of the nations has the oldest of hymns. Such is substantially the case. For while the independence of the Jewish commonwealth in Palestine was assured by declaration of the British government more than a year ago, that commonwealth is not yet organized to the extent that the Polish and Czech-Slovak states are. Yet its prospective citizens, though still scattered far and wide throughout the earth, cherish as the chief of their anthems one whose weird and haunting melody dates back not merely generations or centuries but thousands of years. It is said to be the identical melody which was sung by Miriam and her companions to celebrate the crossing of the Red sea by the children of Israel and the destruction of Pharaoh's pursuing hosts.

Permanence of the Heroic.

The way that the memory of heroes survives for tens of centuries in popular story and tradition is astonishing. And no hero has left such a great legend as Alexander the Great. The Turks in complimenting the national hero of Albania, surnamed him Iskender (Alexander) Bey, and the following passage from Steel's "India Through the Ages" is evidence of the extraordinary impression made upon the Hindu mind by the exploits of the Macedonian in the Land of the Five Rivers:

"In every little village Jullunder (Alexander) is still a name wherewith to conjure, and the village doctor still claims, with pride, to follow the 'Yunani' (Ionian) system of medicine."

Improved Wire Fly Catchers.

Tangle-foot wire instead of paper is used to catch flies in hospitals, convalescent camps and like places. Pieces of hay-baling wire, two feet long, have a hook bent on one end, and by dipping or with a brush are coated with a hot mixture of four parts of castor oil and nine and one-half pounds of crushed resin. The oil is heated and the resin gradually stirred in. When these wires are hung up the flies alight on them and stick fast. When the wires become covered they are burned off and recoated for use again.

A Little Talk About Surplus

"SURPLUS" IS MORE THAN A RAINY-DAY FUND. IT IS AN EVIDENCE OF GOOD MANAGEMENT.

In the case of a Bank, a railroad, or a business institution, a large surplus means that the management is wise enough not to distribute all the profits in the form of dividends, but to reserve a portion for future use—it may be for emergencies, or it may be simply to invest in material, real estate, or something else requiring capital, and the possession of a surplus renders it unnecessary to borrow the money.

Every individual ought to have a surplus in the form of a savings account. It is exactly the same with the individual as with the corporation—his surplus indicates that his personal expenses have been kept so well within his income that there is something left over. It also shows that he has not used it all up in "dividends" of pleasure, but like a wise business man has "salted" some of it down for the future.

How much "surplus" have you? If you have never started a surplus fund, do so at once and keep adding to it. This Bank pays interest on "surplus accounts."

THE MOST DANGEROUS DISEASE

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back—wake up! These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 30

JESUS TEACHES PETER TRUE GREATNESS.

LESSON TEXT—John 13:1-16.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.—Mat. 20:28.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Mark 10:
30-45; Rom. 12:3-8; Phil. 2:5-11; 1 Peter.
5:5-11.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Washing the Disciples' Feet.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Taking the Place of a Servant.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The Dignity of Common Tasks.

I. Christ's Amazing Love for His Own (vv. 1-3).

Jesus was fully conscious of what was upon him. He knew that the cross with all its anguish was just before him. He knew that his disciples would shamefully forsake him in a few hours.
He knew that one of that number would be the instrument in the hands of the devil in his betrayal. He knew that all things were in his hands; was fully conscious of his deity. Notwithstanding all this, he displayed patient and unflinching love. He did not withdraw his love from them because of their weakness and the shameful failure which he knew would soon be made manifest.

II. Christ Washing His Disciples' Feet (vv. 4-11).

This act is symbolic of his amazing love for his disciples. Jesus did not regard his hands as too holy to do this menial service. The true Christian does not allow his rank in society to keep him from acts of lowly service.

1. Steps in this service: (1) He rose from supper, (2) laid aside his garments, (3) took a towel and girded himself, (4) poured water into a basin, (5) washed his disciples' feet,
(6) wiped them with a towel wherewith he was girded. These steps symbolize Christ's entire work of redemption. His rising from supper represents his rising from his place of enjoyment in the heavenly glory; his laying aside his garments, his putting aside his vesture of majesty (Phil. 2:7, 8); his girding himself, his taking the form of a servant (Phil. 2:7); the water in the basin, his cleansing blood;
his washing of their feet, his actual cleansing of men through his Word (John 15:3; Eph. 5:26); his taking his garments again, his return to his place and position of glory.

2. Peter's impetuous ignorance. He goes from one extreme to another. It is his failure to understand the significance of this service that caused him to behave so strangely.

3. The significance of this service to those who participate in it. (1) It is a spiritual cleansing (v. 8). Fellowship with Jesus is only possible as we are continually cleansed from our sins.
"He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit" (v. 10). The cleansing here is not the washing of regeneration, but that of sanctification. Even regenerate folks need the continual cleansing of Christ's blood in order to have fellowship with him. He that is regenerated—washed in the blood of Christ, symbolized by baptism—does not need a repetition of the act; he only needs
the cleansing of sanctification, symbolized by the washing of the feet. As we go through this world after regeneration we are contaminated by its sins. He is willing always to cleanse us of our sins if we allow him. (2) A badge of brotherly affection. This act showed his abandonment to the service of his own. This is a lesson that is much needed today. We need more and more the fullness of brotherly love. This love needs to be manifested so that it may be seen and realized. True love can only be proved by the service it renders. (3) A proof of humility. This is a lesson much needed by us all. The disciples had just been disputing as to who should be the greatest in the kingdom; their selfish ambition was expressing itself.
Today, on every hand, we see expressions of pride, vanity, and even arrogance on the part of those who are professed followers of the lowly Jesus.
If the Son of God was not ashamed to stoop to lowly service his disciples should not regard it beneath their dignity to follow in his steps. (4) Equalization. As they would thus stoop to serve each other in the name of Christ
there would be sure destruction of caste among them. The Spirit of Christ in this service is the great leveler of humanity.

III. An Example for Us (vv. 12-16).

The disciples of the Lord are under obligation to do unto each other as he did unto them. This obligation rests upon his Lordship (v. 14). All who call him Lord in sincerity will obey him. To refuse to obey him is to put one's self above his Lord.

Bearing the Burden.

As to the burden, be content to bear it, until thou come to the place of deliverance; for there it will fall from thy back of itself.—Bunyan.

Our Troubles.

All our troubles come from our sense of separateness from the infinite source.—Orison Sweet Marden.

Tempting the Devil.

The devil tempts us not—'tis we tempt him, beckoning his skill with opportunity.—George Elliot.

— THE — CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

— From —
The Christian Workers Magazine,
Chicago, Ill.

November 30
Christianity and the Health of America

Ezekiel 47:1-12

The point of contact between the topic and the Scripture lesson is the idea of restoration which is common to both. In the Scripture lesson, life and health, activity and beauty are found wherever the river flows. (See verses 9 and 12). "The health of America" in its fullest sense is likewise dependent upon a river. The river may be called by the name of "Christianity" as used in our topic, but a better name is that of "Salvation," for much that poses as "Christianity," is simply a formal pretense of the real thing.

The river of our Scripture lesson,
like "the river of the water of life,"
rises in a concealed or invisible place.
"The waters issued out from under the threshold of the house" (v. 1).
The source was hidden, the stream was seen. Compare this with Revelation 22:1. "The throne of God and of the Lamb" is the hidden source of the river mentioned there. The government of God, in Christ, is the source of all good. According to verses 1 and 8, the river of our lesson flowed toward the east into the sea,
that is, the Dead Sea. Into this world of death, the river of God's salvation in Christ, flows. The result is the same as seen in verses 9 and 12. It is threefold—life and healing and fruitfulness.

The health of the individual—spirit, soul and body, is dependent on the river that flows from the throne of God, and inasmuch as the nation is composed of individuals there is no national need comparable to that of contact with the river of life which comes healing and fruitfulness.

Water is a symbol of the Holy Spirit who in His operations renews our souls, illumines our minds and quickens the mortal body. Christianity of the right type is vitally connected with the life of America, spiritual life, moral life and physical life.

GUN COTTON BASIS OF SILK

French Inventor, After Long Study,
Has Evolved a Truly Wonderful Artificial Product.

According to Count Hilaire, inventor of artificial silk, which is now produced by vast factories in Switzerland,
Belgium, France, England and the United States, it has for its basis nothing less than gun cotton. One of the greatest problems he had to solve in perfecting it for everyday use was to render it nonexplosive.

The gun cotton under the chardon-net process is first dissolved in a mixture of alcohol and ether and then spun through fine capillary tubes by means of hydraulic presses.

Other chemical processes give it incombustible and nonexplosive qualities, together with the consistency and the transparency of the finest silk from Japan or China.

It took just 30 years of the 80 which Count Hilaire has completed to perfect his discovery and render it of actual and practical commercial value.

The illustrious chemist and scientist has just been elected to the supreme honor of membership in the French Academy of Sciences for his discovery of how to put one over on the silkworms. During the war he had been decorated by the French minister of war with the Cross of a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor for discoveries relative to the manufacture of high explosives growing out of his researches made primarily to render artificial silk stockings nonexplosive.

STYLES KEEP WOMEN YOUNG

Desire for Latest and Prettiest Things an Evidence of Wisdom, According to Authority.

"Woman has gained her political and intellectual freedom," said Emil W.
Kohn in an address before the New York Retail Jewelers' convention at Saratoga. "She has declared in public and in private that never again will she be the slave of men. But I venture that she will remain the willing slave of fashion."

The woman who declares she would rather be dead than out of fashion expresses a thought in every woman's mind. As it is a man's privilege to pay the bills, he may at times express displeasure. That man, however, who is permanently and chronically displeased
at or indifferent to his lady's pretty hat, becoming gown and beautiful jewelry is a brute and should be caged with other wild animals.

"To be contented with the thoughts and things of yesterday is to stand still, and stagnation breeds decay. To be sensitive to new ideas is to be youthful. Woman's desire to possess jewelry that is new and fashionable and beautiful is an evidence of growth,
and growth is the law of life."

Electric Lighting.

There are 8,900,000 homes in this country lighted by electricity and 14-800,000 lighted by other means. A few homes in the latter class are wired, but are not connected to any electric service. It is estimated that in the homes lighted by electricity there are 125,000,000 sockets containing improved lamps, 25,000,000 sockets containing carbon lamps and 11-000,000 empty sockets.

HOW MEMBERS OF FISH- ING COLONY PAID RENTAL TO LAND OWNER.

—Perhaps one of the most curious rentals to be found anywhere in the world is that by which the members of the famous Schuylkill Fishing company pay the rent of their "castle" in the form of three sun perch delivered on a pewter platter. This ancient organization, which is said to be the oldest of its kind in existence,
has its home on the Delaware river, near Cornwall station, on the New York division of the Pennsylvania railroad. William Warner, because of his gift of the use of the club's land at a nominal rental and the right to build upon it, was dubbed by his fellow-members of the colony "Baron" Warner, which, it must be admitted was a high-sounding title for a modest Quaker. Those who were privileged to witness the ceremony of paying the rental on May 1 never forgot the picturesque sight. Wearing broad-brimmed hats with white braids, headed by the governor, the members of the colony marched to the "baronial" mansion and there formally delivered the rent—
three sun perch laid crosswise on a pewter platter. Now, however, the citizens of Pennsylvania, in Schuylkill, own their own lands, which fact has, of course, done away with the ceremony of the sun perch. Not the least interesting feature of the rent paying was the fact that the men who carried the plebeian sun fish were usually millionaires.

ON THRESHOLD OF NEW ERA

How the Use of Concrete May Make Changes of Importance in the World

There have been the stone age, the wooden age, the steel age, and now we are on the threshold of the concrete age. The wooden walls in which Nelson fought are mere cockleshells when compared with the titanic steel men of war that beat the enemy at Jutland, and it is quite safe to predict that these in their turn will be immeasurably surpassed by the future super-dreadnaught, constructed of re-enforced concrete.

One great advantage of this new material is the ease with which it can be handled. A suitable pattern has only to be made, and any number of like ships can be turned out by simply running the concrete into the same mold.
The material is equally suitable for the construction of houses, and here again the rapidity with which they can be constructed is amazing, and if properly applied could do much to solve the present housing shortage.

The writer recently saw some ordinary household furniture—chairs, tables and cupboards—made of concrete. Contrary to supposition, the articles were wonderfully artistic and fragile in appearance, but quite serviceable.—London Mail.

Why Look Well at Breakfast.

To appear at the breakfast frownsly attired is quite as bad for ourselves as it is disrespectful to the persons who may have to be confronted by a far from lovable apparition.

This sort of behavior shows a lack of appreciation of ourselves and can hardly command the respect which we should demand as much by our looks as by our words. It takes only a little while longer to bathe and brush
the hair up in a becoming manner than it does to hurriedly throw on a bath-robe and stroll into the breakfast room in a listless, don't care attitude of mind and body.

After such a poor start even the breakfast is apt to lack appealing qualities to one who is at best half awake. The extra time consumed in the exercise of bathing and dressing is just the needful interim in which the average person is able to get up a little enthusiasm for the happenings of the day and an appetite for the first meal of the day.

Why Frosted Bulbs Are Best.

Army examinations have revealed the fact that impaired eyesight is so general that it may be considered a national affliction. It is significant that impairment of vision has come with more brilliant illuminants. Proper precautions in the home may largely contribute toward the alleviation of this condition. In using incandescent electric lights of the recent types—the tungsten and the gas-filled—the lower portion of the globe should be frosted to prevent the filament from being directly visible, and a reflector used to distribute the light as desired. To well illuminate the sides of the room use a rather flat reflector—one shaped like an inverted dinner plate—while to brightly illuminate a small region below the lamp use a deep, hollow reflector.—L. S. Foltz, Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colo.

Why She Wanted Cord.

The ways of economy will apparently die hard. A few weeks ago a lady entered a suburban laundry office and asked very earnestly for the return of the cord with which her last consignment of washing had been secured. The amazed office girl's conciliatory remark that the request was rather impossible roused the good lady's indignation. "But I must have it," she insisted. "I use it to tie my curtains back with."

CLEAN

Because of its cleanliness the Perfection Oil Heater is used for heating with kerosene in over 3,000,000 homes today.

This heater burns without soot

TANEYTOWN LOCAL COLUMN

Brief Items of Local News of Special Interest to Our Home Readers.

Mrs. Laura Reindollar is still in York, due to the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Mary E. Crapster, left, on Wednesday, on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Anna Smeltzer, at Inter-mont, W. Va.

D. Washington Shoemaker, one of our oldest citizens, is suffering from the fracture of both bones of his left arm, due to a fall.

E. Roth Buffington, wife and little daughter, Helen, of Uniontown, spent Thanksgiving Day with her parents, T. M. Buffington and wife.

Cloyd Warren and sister, Irene, of Baltimore, and Miss Adelaide Warehime, of Woodlawn, spent Thanksgiving with Ernest Hyser and family.

After all, the holes on Baltimore St., are to be patched up, and made level. This will be a big improvement, as there are numerous bad spots.

The play, "The Fascinating Fanny Brown," was well rendered at two performances in the Opera House, on Wednesday and Thursday, and was very liberally patronized.

John E. Buffington, who has been paying an extended visit to his children in Washington, returned home on Thanksgiving Day, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Zepp.

Samuel Baumgardner, Max Seiss and wife, and daughter, Gertrude, of Arrtanna, Pa., and Miss Edmonia Fory, of Hanover, Pa., spent Sunday with Frank Baumgardner and family.

On last Thursday evening quite a number of the ladies of Taneytown gave Mrs. C. F. Hahn a kitchen shower. Thanks are extended to all who took part.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Althoff of York, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Edna Thresa, to Robert E. Lloyd of Baltimore, Md. The wedding will take place in the early winter at St. Rose of Lima Church, York, Pa.

From now until after Christmas, please do not bring work to our office, and expect it done "right away." We know the usual excuses—and they don't impress us a bit favorably. The way to get work when you want it, is to order it about two weeks ahead of the time.

Corn husking is going slowly with many, while others have finished. The probability is that with good weather the next two weeks, most of the corn will be in the crib, except perhaps in cases where the acreage is very large. Corn husking is always a long job every year.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bast, of Brad-dock; Mr. and Mrs. Charley Krantz and two sons, Earl and Melvin, of Searsville; Mr. and Mrs. Mervin King and three children, Evelyn, Ethel and Melvin, of Kingsdale, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Carroll Leister and little son Donad, of Baltimore, all spent Sunday last with Mr. and Mrs. Noah E. Cutsail.

The Taneytown Garage is now operating its new bus to Westminster. It is a fine large bus, and will comfortably carry about fifteen passengers. It is a big improvement over the one formerly in use and will be decidedly more comfortable for passengers and with better facilities for carrying baggage.

Just think of the census to be taken next year, and that Taneytown will lose credit for all of the population on the Baltimore St., extension, which is no extension at all, so far as the town limits are concerned! The probability is that Taneytown will lose its rank as the second largest town in the county, when the census returns are made out.

Concrete work on the Emmitsburg state road is to be discontinued about Dec. 1. This will leave unfinished about 3200 feet of road, so far as the concreting is concerned. The grading will be continued, it is said, with the hope of opening the road this winter. The Company operating this contract has finished in eight months, a little over a mile of the road. Swift work.

The Fire Company was called out, last Sunday afternoon because of fire in a shed belonging to A. W. Feaser & Co., near the cannery plant, which contained a lot of unthreshed wheat. Fortunately, the smoke was seen from town, before the fire reached much headway, and a few men by well directed work had the situation under control without need of the firemen, who could hardly have reached the building with hose and water. The finding of a few still smoldering corn-silk cigarettes among the litter on the floor, easily placed the cause of the fire on several small boys.

The Adams County Independent, Littlestown, has advanced its prepaid rate to $1.50 to subscribers living over 200 miles away, and says that unless conditions change, the present rebate of 50c to nearby subscribers may not be continued.

A meeting of special interest, relating to the pressing needs of the Near East Relief, will be held in the Presbyterian church, Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Miss Katharine Reynolds McCormick, one of the Committee's national speakers, will deliver the address. The gathering is union in character and the invitation to attend is community-wide.

On Sunday last, Mrs. Michael Humbert and Mrs. Carrie Knipple, and Misses Nettie Clingan, Emma Motter, Mary Motter, Anna May Motter and Amanda Staley visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harner and daughter, in Harney. All had a very happy, enjoyable day—by means of the pleasant entertainment and sumptuous dinner given.

Which is Worth the Most?

The Carroll Record for one year, or—
1½ lbs. butter
1½ doz. eggs
½ bushel of apples
27 lbs. wheat
40 lbs. potatoes
2 rabbits
3 lbs. lard
14 fair grade cigars
1 1/3 quarts oysters
2 lbs. cheese
3 hours ordinary labor.
2 tickets to "the show"
4 lbs "old hen"
2 lbs guinea
3 yds muslin
The comparison can be continued in many other directions.

The Order Was Filled.

A London wholesale provision house, which prides itself on filling orders correctly, received a letter from a provincial customer recently, complaining bitterly of the very poor quality of the last two lots of eggs supplied.

The reputation of the house for never making an error seemed to be at stake, but the bright mind of the junior partner found a way out of it. He wrote:
Gentlemen: We are sorry to hear that our consignment did not suit you; there was, however, no mistake on our part. We have looked up your original order, and find that it reads as follows: "Rush fifty boxes eggs. We want them bad." Exchange.

CHURCH NOTICES.

Sunday services, Church of the Brethren, New Windsor, in College Chapel: Mission Study Class, 8:45 A. M.; Sunday school and Bible study, 9:45; church service, 10:45; Christian Workers' meeting, 6:45 P. M.; followed by song service at 7:20; preaching at 8:00.

Emmanuel, (Baust's)—S. S., at 1:30 Chief Service, at 2:30. Harvest Home Celebration and Thanksgiving sermon by pastor, at 8 P. M. The Missionary Society will hold its annual Thanksgiving service. Leader, Mrs. Walter Myers. Bring your Thank-offering boxes. Short address by pastor and songs and recitations by children.

Union Bridge Lutheran charge.—Keysville, 10 A. M., preaching. Rocky Ridge, 2:30 P. M., preaching.

In Trinity Lutheran church, next Sunday morning, the sermon will treat of one of the common sins of Taneytown and community. The topic will be "The Second Commandment." The evening sermon will be particularly timely—"The Danger of Lust for Gold."

The morning (10:30) Piney Creek Presbyterian service will be exceedingly interesting. Very briefly the minister will note what to do with "remnants," preparatory to an appealing address by Miss Katharine Reynolds McCormick, national speaker of the Committee on Near East Relief. Miss McCormick is a remarkable woman with a stirring message. Only the usual offering received. Don't forget the Bible school session.

At 2:30 in the afternoon, Miss McCormick will address a community meeting in the town Presbyterian church, and everybody is most cordially invited. You'll regret it if you miss hearing her. No offering taken. No tickets required.

Bible school and C. E. meeting according to schedule. "The Thorny Hedge Around Love's Garden," is the subject for the evening meditation at 7:30.

Constipation.

Most laxatives and cathartics afford only temporary relief and should be used only for that purpose. When you want permanent relief take Chamberlain's Tablets, and be careful to observe the directions with each package. These tablets not only move the bowels, but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.

How H. C. L. Affects Turkey.

Constantinople, Nov. 17.—The high cost of living is badly hampering the Turkish household—especially with regard to wives. The Sultan has reduced the size of his harem; Pachas, who formerly were rich, also are retrenching in this respect, and notwithstanding the Koran's authorization of four wives to a man, the proportion of unmarried women is said to be increasing as the men are finding more than one wife too expensive to maintain.

Turkey's loss in population is not beginning to be made up by polygamy, according to the reports made to the Sheik Suleil. These losses, it is estimated, have resulted in there being three women for every two men. In the interior of the country, maidens are so numerous that well-meaning natives have offered them as gifts to Americans and other officers engaged in relief work.

One angle of the present situation is the creation of a race of bachelor maids who are taking part in politics. Many of them are reported to be followers of nationalism, having been promised the vote and also husbands. The women of the country are anxious for a settlement of peace in Turkey, so that the resultant prosperity may make marriage less difficult.

Where Cotton Comes From.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Cotton ginned prior to November 14, amounted to 7,577,826 bales of lint, including 83,643 round bales, 17,067 bales of American Egyptian and 4226 bales of Sea Island, the census bureau announced today.

Prior to Nov. 14, last year, 8,706,420 bales, including 127,034 round bales, 6873 bales of American Egyptian and 20,854 bales of Sea Island, were ginned.

Ginnings this year, by States, follow: Alabama, 571,703; Arizona, 26,848; Arkansas, 478,011; California, 26,132; Florida, 14,920; Georgia, 1,455,400; Louisiana, 230,564; Mississippi, 635,612; Missouri, 28,943; North Carolina, 604,929; Oklahoma, 486,020; South Carolina, 1,186,080; Tennessee, 156,735; Texas, 1,659,725; Virginia, 14,574; all other States, 1630.

Letter Postage May Be One Cent.

Postmaster-General Bursleson has approved pending legislation to reduce local postage to one cent an ounce for sealed letters instead of two-cents, as at present. Why? when the country is billions in debt, and still running behind. There is no more equitable way to produce needed revenue than through users of the mails. Instead of lowering postal rates on letters, we think they should be increased.

The P. M. G. goes on to say that the postal service should not be conducted for profit. Again, Why? when the general government needs profit. Thousands of people contribute to the expense of the U. S. government in no other way than through the F. O. Department. Again, why not at least let the rates stand as they are, and give the public better postal service? There is plenty of room for it.

The Carroll County Society of Baltimore City.

The first Fall meeting of the Carroll County Society of Baltimore City was held in the assembly room of the Y. M. C. A., Franklin and Cathedral Sts., Tuesday evening, 25th. At this meeting initial arrangements were made for the first annual banquet of the Society, which will be held Jan. 19, 1920. Membership to date is 132. former Carroll countians not yet allied with the Society, are cordially invited to file their applications for membership.

New Building For Orphanage.

A new building for the Hoffman Orphanage, near Littlestown, is being completed, at a cost of $15,000. This sum has been sub-divided, and allotted to the various Reformed congregations throughout the Md. Classis. Last Sunday, the Frederick city congregation, that had been allotted $800.00, raised $1023.42. Three new buildings are now under way for the Orphanage.

Eleven years ago Henry Edmonds purchased from the State of Wyoming for $10 an acre, a 150-acre tract of land, near Powell, Park county. He improved the land through irrigation and seven years later sold it to Abbott Williams, for $100 an acre. A few days ago Williams sold it for $300 an acre. In eleven years the market value of the tract increased from $1,500 to $45,000—2900%.
