A BONDING PROPOSITION FOR CARROLL COUNTY

To Be Submitted to the Voters For Final Approval.

"A condition and not a theory con-fronts the people of Carroll county." To meet that condition, a conference of representative citizens was held at the Court House, in Westminster, last Saturday morning. The conference was called by the Board of County Commissioners, and to the conference were invited all the members of that board, and its attorney, the members of the Board of Education, and its attorney, the county school superintendent, members of the legislature members of Democratic and Republican Stat Central Committee, and county officials. The bad road conditions prevented the attendance of some who were invited, others were absent because of sickness. Those and then the news spread rapidly. present were: County Commissioners Knowing that the fact had been Roop and Melville; members of the Board of Education Wantz, Allender, Magee; members of the legislature Gorsuch, Klee and Spencer; members of Republican State Central Committee, Rudy and Cunningham; members of the Democratic State Central Committee, Weant and Steele W. L. Seabrook, attorney for county commissioners, Charles O. Clemson, attorney for Board of Education, County Superintendent, Unger; Clerk of the Circuit Court, Cash; Register of Wills, Arthur; State's Attorney, Brown; Sheriff, Bloom.

Mr. Roop called the meeting to order; Mr. Cash was made chairman, and Mr. Seabrook, Secretary.

Mr. Gorsuch, who was asked to state the object of the conference, stated that it was for the conference, stated that it was for the purpose of considering the needs of the county in the matter of school and road improvements; that the meeting was called by the County Commissioners to discuss the question, and if possi-ble decide on some plan of legislation to be suggested to the members of the legislature, keeping in view in the discussion, solely, the question of what action should be taken for the best interests of the county, elimination of all partisanship and all personal or party political questions.

After a general discussion, the first question voted on was the general proposition that:

"It is the consensus of opinion of this conference that the legislature be asked to enact a law authorizing the County Commissioners to pay for future permanent improvements in school buildings and roads by a bond " which was adopted by a vote pass such a law, giving authority to the County Commissioners to issue lect a small at bonds, or whether the question of the bond issue should be referred to the As we main people. By a resolution, adopted by an aye and nay vote, it was decided by a vote of 15 ayes to 4 nays that the bill should provide for referen-

By an aye and nay vote, 13 in the affirmative and 5 in the negative, it was determined that the amount of the bond issue for permanent school and road improvement by fixed at $600,000.00, one-half of which amount should be used for schools and onehalf for roads; that the bonds should run 20 years; should be issued in series as needed, and the amounts derived from the sale thereof expended within 5 years. The attorneys for the County Commissioners and school board were authorized perpare a bill in harmony with the action of the conference.

As the Record views the situation. and whatever may be thought of the proposition of building roads and school houses, at present priceswhether by bond issues, or otherwise -the proposition outlined above is a fair one, as it requires adoption by the people before going into effect; and as long as "the people" do all of our voting, irrespective of whether they pay taxes, or not, there is nothing to do but for everybody to exercise his best judgment, when voting comes, and be happy over the re-There is no other better way to find out what "the people" want, and they should have what they are willing to pay for.

Says Advertising Pays.

"Advertising in the Carroll Record certainly has built up my business," says R. A. Nusbaum, of near Uniontown. Mr. Nusbaum is the local subscription representative of The Country Gentleman, and is running with us series of ads. about that farm weekly.

"In the last five months," continues Mr. Nusbaum, "my business has increased 50% over what it was in the same length of time before I placed my first ad. in your newspaper."
Mr. Nusbaum's experience demonstrates the value of local advertising, although there are still some who seem in doubt about it.

A colored youth was arrested in Baltimore, on Wednesday, for selling "Old Oak Whisky." He confessed that it was not whisky, "but just as good, made of vinegar and coal oil."

Local Pastor Successful Applicant at State Bar Examination.

The news came to Taneytown as something of a surprise that one of the local ministers, Rev. L. B. Hafer, Woman Suffrage Meets With pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, was among those who had successfully passed the state bar examination, and after the completion of the necessary legal routine would be authorized to practice law in any court of the state. The exmination was held on November 28 and 29, 1919, and early in January the names of the successful applicants appeared in the news columns of the Baltimore papers, but seemed to escape the eyes of people here. The necessary legal advertisement appeared several weeks also before being observed, as these advertisements are printed in very fine type, and not in the most prominent part of the papers. Mr. Hafer made no public mention of the matter himself, but finally some one noticed the advertisement and the name discovered, the pastor made a brief announcement to his congregation last Sunday morning, stating that any one who was interested need have no fear that this would in any way affect the work of the church. He said "Nearly a quarter of a century ago I accepted a commission to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ. That is still my business. Anything else that I may do must be purely incidental, and in no way interfere or conflict with that one thing."

The pastor went on to say that the world never needed the preaching of the gospel more than now, and called upon the congregation to go forward with him to a more aggressive work than ever. It is his purpose, if he can be helpful to anyone in any matters of business without interfering in any way with his pas-toral work, to do so. But especially it is his hope that if the time ever comes when he is "too old" for the average congregation, he may be useful without being a burden to any congregation, or to the church at

Telephoning "Special Notices."

In one respect at least, the Record has found the telephone an expensive part of its office equipment, as it ap-plies to our "Special Notice" column. Short notices, costing 15c to 25c are frequently telephoned in, with the promise to "pay when I come to town." Many of these notices are no doubt forgotten; at least, they are never paid for. The charges are too small to make a business of sending out statements, for, or to spend much of 15 ayes, to 3 nays.

The next question discussed was as to whether the legislature should a time the charge cards go into the

Many of us have seeds which were left over from last season, but hesitate to use them, feeling they are not good from one season to the next. # LEGISLATIVE WORK PROCEEDS MORE RAPIDLY Decisive Defeat.

In the House Monday night, the Governor's "merit system" bill was railroaded to its third reading after the Republicans put forth an effort to have the bill made a special order for noon on Thursday, thus giving them an opportunity to hold a caucus on it. On this motion, which was made by Mr. Simmons, the Republi-can floor leader, the two parties lined up in debate and on the roll call the Republicans stood solidly behind Mr. Simmons, with three Democrats, Messsr. Coburn and Hopkins, of Harford, and Mr. Gambrill, of Howard. The vote was 42 for the special order on Thursday and 47 for immediate Woman suffrage was defeated in both houses of the legislature, on Tuesday; the vote in the Senate was 18 to 9 against ratification, and in the House 64 to 36. The vote came after a day of parades, band playing, and oratory before both houses. The vote in the Senate for the suffragists was 7 Republicans and 2 Democrats, Senator Snader voting that way. The for suffrage vote in the House was also largely Republican; Spencer, Leatherwood and Gorsuch voting for, and Klee against. The debate was quite spirited, even though the vote was considerably one-sided.

Among the important bills introduced is one to abolish the Public Service Commission, and another making a number of changes in the rules and regulations governing motor vehicles, with reference to tags, lights, and traffic generally.

A bill designed to prevent the stealing of automobiles has been introduced, the main features of which call for the giving of certificates, or deeds, on the sale of motor vehicles, which must be made transactions of record, similar to sales of real estate; also for the establishment of a telephone system to aid in thief catching; another section would require the locking of cars.

Two bills have been introduced giving to Baltimore city an increased representation in the legislature. Strange to say, that while the city has taken in a big bite of Baltimore county, the county also wants at least one more delegate and one more Sen-ator. As the increase would make the Democratic control more safe, it is quite probable that an increase of some degree will pass.

waste basket, rather than try to collect a small amount that the debtor has forgotten.

There is a disposition manifested by writers for some of the city papers, to blame the high cost of farm As we maintain this column more products on the high price of land, as for the profit and benefit of those who shown by most farm sales, both west use it, than for our own profit, we and east, recently made. Every economist knows that farmland values are based on the earning power of land as manifested, largely, by its rent, and that the earning power and rent are the result of prices of products in relation to the expense of production. During the war, prices of food products rose rapidly, and expenses of production, for a time, did not rise with the same rapidity. The result was that farmers made somewhat larger net earnings than formerly and, consequently, found it possible to pay more for land than be-

The farmer can not be singled out a "profiteer" because purchasers are willing to pay big prices for land. He can "ask" what he pleases, but can only "take" the price, if he gets it. There is no compulsion, nor pressure about the transaction. fact is, it is not at all sure that investment in land, at some of the prevailing sale prices, will prove wise; and it is the more a sure thing that the high prices paid for land will have very little influence in keeping up farm produce prices.

Secretary Lansing Resigns.

Robert Lansing, Secretary of State and member of the Peace Conference, resigned, last Friday, and his resignation was promptly accepted. a matter of fact, he was virtually removed, but allowed to resign. quite a long time there had been friction between the Secretary and the President; the latter being displeased over what may be termed 'over-officiousness" during the President's illness, in calling Cabinet meetings, and otherwise; while Mr. Lansing retorts that he was denied access to the President, and that the only course left to him was independent judgment as the ranking member of the Cabinet, in order that the public business might be transacted.

Mr. Lansing further says that only a sense of his duty kept him at his post so long, and that he is profoundly glad to be out of it. The open truth is ,that the two have not been in harmony for quite a long while, and that Mr. Lansing's frequent disagreements were far from pleasing to the President, who preferred to have things his way. Newspaper and public comment, pretty generally, is favorable to Mr. Lansing.

DEATH OF DR. R. S. SEISS. Oldest Citizen of Taneytown a Victim of Pneumonia.

Dr. Raymond S. Seiss, the oldest resident of Taneytown, died at the home of his son Dr. F. H. Seiss, on February 17, 1920, from pneumonia, aged 94 years, 8 months, 10 days, after an illness of two days. He had been keeping to his own room, all winter, and was apparently not exposed in any way to conditions that should bring on pneumonia. Up to his last illness, he had been in good physical and mental health, his chief trouble being to walk about, and for this reason staid in his room.

He was born between Emmitsburg and Graceham, Md., June 7, 1825. He was reared on a farm and attended the schools in the vicinity. At the age of 22 he began a course of classical study under Rev. Edward Routhaler, and later under his brother, Rev. Jos. A. Seiss, D. D., then living in Cumberland. In 1848 he began reading medicine under Dr. William Zimmerman, of Creagerstown, and later graduated at Maryland University. He began the practice of medicine in Graceham, Md., where he married, in 1852, Angelica S. Gernand. In 1853 he removed to Union Mills, and in 1855 settled in Littlestown, Pa.

He dressed many wounds following the battle of Gettysburg, and in 1863 served as surgeon of the enrolling board for the 16th Cong. Dist., Pa. In 1874 he was appointed Notary Public retaining the position for 27 years. He was a prime mover in the incorporation of the Borough of Littlestown, and was elected Burgess in 1865, and served in that position 18 years at different times. He was the Republican nominee for the legislature in 1872, but was defeated in a

He was a member of a number of Medical Societies, and held various local positions of honor. He was raised a Moravian but became a Lutheran and was active in the erection of St. Paul's church, in Littlestown. He abandoned active practice of medicine in 1892, after forty years, but gave his attention to a drug store until 1902, when physical infirmities caused him to retire.

He and his wife removed to Taneytown about 12 years ago, where the latter died, and for the past eight years he made his home with his son, Dr. F. H. Seiss, who is the only survivor of six sons.

Dr. Seiss was known as a man of strong convictions, always standing firmly for what he thought to be right, and wherever known always enjoyed the highest respect of his fellow-men.

Funeral services were held at the home, this Friday morning by Rev. L. B. Hafer, interment following in Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown, Pa., after the arrival of the morning

RIALROAD STRIKE POSTPONED FOR THE PRESENT.

The Exact Situation Appears to be Somewhat Secret.

The conference with President Wilson, last Saturday, has resulted in a postponement, at least, of the threatened railroad employees strike, on his promise of providing a special commission of experts to deal with their claims. The President said he "certain it is apparent to all resonable men and women that these momentous questions must be dealt with by an agency which can continue to function after March 1."

"I wish therefore," he said "to announce to all railroad employes at this time that I propose to carry out the following steps.

"1. In the event that in connection with the return to private control provision shall be made by law for ma-chinery for dealing with railroad wage matters I shall promptly use my influence, and so far as such law con-fers power upon me I shall promptly exercise that power, to bring about the earliest practicable organization of the machinery thus provided. Mr. Wilson said he recognized the necessity for disposing of the problems without further delay, but asked the continued co-operation of the unions and requested them to use their influence in obtaining a recall of the strike order issued by the maintenance workers. He said notwithstanding that "corrective factors were at work" in controlling the cost of living, "these important wage mat-ters ought not to be postponed for a further indefinite period and ought to be disposed of on their merits at the earliest practicable time."

The readjustments of living costs could not come with rapidity, Mr. Wilson explained but added his belief that efforts to force prices down were having a "beneficial time."

The union reply expressed gratification with the President's "recognition of principles" which have a bearing on their demands, but added that there was a pressing necessity for immediate relief.

"We feel justified in saying," the union answer continued, "that we do not believe the railroad employes will countenance any plans which contemplate further delay.

State House Struck by Lightning.

All Annapolis was thrown into a state of excitement and confusion late Saturday night, when a bolt of lightning shot out from the skies, struck the great wooden dome of the State House, and for a time, gave indications that the historic structure might be doomed to destruction. The bolt came almost without warning, and when it struck, it caused a detonation that rocked practically every building in the city and surrounding community. People ran pell mell from stores and private residences, into the streets to see what was the matter, many of them having been awakened from their slumbers by the unusual crash. Many persons first were inclined to the belief that an earthquake had occurred, be cause of the manner in which buildings shook, and were fearful lest their might be a second shock. And to add to the terror of the incident, the electric lights in some section went out, though the current was off for scarcely more than half a minute. However, Main street was in total darkness for the time being, except for a trail of light, of peculiar hue, apparently left in the wake of the bolt

The storm, of which the electrical crash was a climax, was a phenominal one; certainly the severity of it was greater than ever before known in electrical and thunder storms of the mid-winter season, and as it developed was only to be followed by the bitterest cold wave that has prevailed this winter, the temperature dropping as low as 10 degrees during the early hours Monday morning.— Annapolis Advertiser.

Practical Suggestions Humorously

Times; and, as we agree to the "goodness' of it, think it entirely worth giving space in the Record, even if the topic itself be a little thread-bare. "The potency of Governments, Legislatures and courts in the crusade against that uncanny brute, the High Cost of Living, is insignificant compared to the power of the individual. Every citizen can be a potent force against this trying evil if he will square himself for the fight. He can give it a solar plexus blow, as far as he is personally cocerned, if he has a real desire. I can pay a high price for a dinner whenever I desire, but I believe it is the duty of every citizen to help lay this belly-devil low. To do my bit I have adopted the following simple and workable plan:

When coal reached $10 a ton I commenced spending my Winters in Florida, where my fuel bill last Winter was $1 and I regret to say it will be at least $1.50 this Winter. I save enough to pay my transportation to Florida and return each year and furnish fertilizer for my orange grove besides. Until two years ago I had my hair trimmed twice a month, but when the price jumped to 50 cents I had it cut quite short once a month. This kept the price the same to me as it was before the advance. When shaving reached 25 cents a shave, I bought a razor and thus saved about $5 a month. I keep lights burning only in rooms where needed. I cut out two entertainments a week and find consolation in books, magazines and The New York Times. I ate two soft boiled eggs for breakfast until hen fruit reached 60 cents a dozen. I then ate one egg and thus kept the price about 30 cents a dozen as far as I was concerned. I spread my bread with a thick layer of butter until butter went up to 60 cents a pound when I used one-half as much and found a distinct improvement in the flavor of

When sugar advanced to 16 cents I cut the coffee portion one-half and found the coffee flavor improved. Then I commenced using salt on grapefruit instead of sugar. I liked the fruit better and the grapefruit reciprocated. Instead of eating a hearty luncheon I am eating a couple of apples or some oranges at midday and the inner man expresses great satisfaction at the change. A two-course dinner, well-prepared, is all the body requires. Try it and see how much better you feel. I would not suggest a limitation on stimulants. The Government has imperiously suggested that. By cutting down your smoking one-half you will render your throat and heart a real service.

There are a lot of good $6 shoes The following resignations have taken place in President Wilson's Marion B. Gore and wife, 3 lots, for long as a $12 pair and look quite as well. I have a tailor who makes my clothes 30 per-cent. cheaper than oth-Swope, 15 acres, for $600.00.

John Brooke Fink, et. al., to Jacob
T. Holmes and wife, 6125 sq. ft., for overhead charges at a minimum. Instead of a chair car I use the day coach and watch the coming and going of the dear people. It is worth more to see them than the cost of the Pullman and I save the price of the Pullman seat. I usually take a simple luncheon with me and save the $2 cost of a most indifferent meal in the dinner and the tip.

Eat every day about one-half what you are in the habit of eating and give your old clothes a further chance to serve you. You will feel better and look quite as decent. Follow these simple rules and you will solve for yourself the high cost of living problem far better and quick-er than can the Government and courts. Government machinery can no more control the high cost of living than a river can flow back to its source. To stop the high cost of living the American citizen must put brakes on the cost of high living. The problem rests with the individual.— J. T. D. B., Fellsmere, Fla., Jan. 10,

We know that some of the peoalmost over night, that it is now more than ever wise for those who do not have remedies, or who are not in position to apply them, to cease adding to the burden of public turmoil. It is also very wise policy to put off, for the present, all non-essential projects and stop trying new things while we are in such dangerous waters.

A treaty that has made it impossible for Germany to do business and to fulfill, has so seriously embarrassed the whole of Europe, financially, that it bids fair to go broke unless the United States "comes across" with some more hundreds of millions of dollars, in order to save a calamity brought about by an outrageously impossible treaty. The American idea is, revise the treaty, let Germany get to work and make money, rather than call on the U.S. to keep a hard bargain from its just fate. In other words, repair a bad job on the other side, where it was made.

A Dangerous Thougt.

It seems to us that there is great danger in encouraging the thought that old political parties are breaking up, and giving it as a sort of evidence of superior intelligence on the part of the voting masses. It may be true that party solidarity—the kind that took all orders, and obeyed them unquestioningly, on all sorts of side issues great and small, from a party spokesman—has less power than heretofore; but, that is a long ways from meaning that "the old parties are breaking up."

There is a great deal more independence exercised in considering non-essentials, but there is little real evidence that there is not yet in force a great deal of unity in essentials, so far as party loyalty is concerned. It | penniless, and absolutely worn out. must be remembered, too, that National Conventions and platforms a big campaign for expansion, with come only once in four years, and an effort to raise $50,000,000 to prothat four years is a much longer vide for a student body of 20,000 time now, than it used to be, considering the rapidity with which the many great new questions come along. We are living, and doing things, much faster than we formerly did things, both governmentally and privately, and it is quite natural that we find it a long time now, to wait four years, to have our political issues clarified and ironed out. The great danger in reading the old parties out of business, is in the encouragement it gives to numerous small minorities to conjure up what small minorities to conjure up what all professors of the University are great new parties, very superior to the old. Of course, as conditions take vacations," said Dr. Smith. change, issues change-political parties drop worn out ones, and departies are for; to examine into, and it is much more intimate. For neardebate, everything of importance that | ly half a century the University and comes along, and naturally, two sides to a debate are ample.

new parties are selfish, representing class interest, or mere stubborn selfishness. Safety rests in two big parties, each strong and composed of honest, broad-gauge thinkers, who comprehend a government for the best interests of all. Even radical disagreement is not very dangerous as long as it is honest, and not selfish, and stands for genuine Americanism, divorced from single-track benefits for the few. A great deal of truth is contained in the following single paragraph, clipped from a recent issue of the conclusion to the whole matter better than anything we have seen on the subject:

"What the country needs most of all right now is a revival of political parties true to the name; parties which are not the tools of either "leaders" or "bosses," but which are primarily bodies of political faith the people may utilize for the embodi-ment, in laws and institutions and administration, of fundamental beliefs cherished in common by great groups of citizens who seek to make these parties representative of their ideas and ideals. If political parties fail to measure up to this ideal it is manifestly the fault of the people who go to make them up, and not of the political system itself, which alone holds out the hope of responsible government in a representative republic. Politics as a mere means of getting office or power for any individual or clan or clique is the meanest of occupations; as the means through which principles are championed, policies established and the se curity, prosperity and happiness of the people promoted, it is the citizen's noblest field of service in a government of public opinion like our own."

What "the People" Want.

Public sentiment should be followed, in most cases, even when it is wrong, as government "by, and for" the people means also the responsibility of the people, when they get what they ask for. But, the big question is to know always what "the people" want? Big things develop so rapidly now, and "the people" should largely be the tax payers, as they have the bills to ple appear to want a lot of roads built, no matter what they cost; but, there is likely to be a big difference between the number of the "some," to wait for lower costs.

> What is true of roads, is equally true of other large public expenditures. If we are to judge the wants of "the people" by the expenditures that they are making on their tensions, painting, new construction, and the like, they do not want very much—at present costs, to be paid, individually. Neither do we know that property owners are going to the banks, and borrowing, for the purpose of erecting new buildings, thereby creating a little private bond issue of their own.

> now, we should be careful that we have properly estimated not only the size of the crowd? but how much taxable property is back of the crowd? Of course, it is foolish for a man to allow the buildings he already has, go to ruin because of the need of high-priced paint, now. Caring for what we have, is good business. But, whether it is equally good business to buy, at this time, more things to care for ? is quite a different business proposition.

"Absolutely Worn Out."

Maryland Farms.

Before the great world war and extending back for fully two decades there was a steady movement of | capitalistic farmers from other states and from European countries to Maryland. The war disorganized this movement to a considerable extent, but there are indications that a good many knowing farmers from other and the number of those who prefer states, with money to invest in farm lands, moved into Maryland last year or purchased farm lnnd in one or another of the counties preliminary to moving to the state. As stated in Monday's American, one farm sales agency sold last year 225 farms to own properties, in the way of ex- persons outside the state, but the sales score of this one agency repre- jockey sticks. sents only a frctional proportion of

Counting it only dollars and cents, how much did that last cold cost you? A man may not always stop work when he has a cold, but perhaps it would be better if he did. It takes about ten days to get completely rid of a cold under the usual treatment. That time can be much shortened by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and proper care of yourself, in fact, a bottle of this remedy in the house is a mighty good investment during the winter and spring months. -Advertisement

There are people who never have a movement of the bowels without it is produced by a cathartic. Most of them have brought that condition on themselves by the use of mineral waters and strong cathartics that take too much water out of the system and aggravate the disease they are meant to relieve. A mild laxative tonic like Chamberlain's Tablets affords a gentle movement of the bowels that you hardly realize has been produced by a medicine, and their use is not so likely to be followed by constipation. -Advertisement

Interment in the Reformed cemetery.

A TRIBUTE TO REV. G. W. BAUGHMAN

My heart is saddened over the passing on of our dear friend and Pastor, Rev. George W. Baughman. I personally have a sheer, stark sense of utter and irreparable loss. It seemed as though we simply could not let him go. He was too necessary. Too many tender ties were interwoven around him. And we are trying in dry-eyed grief to learn all over again that sentence—the hardest in our language—"Thy will be done."

When I heard of this dear brother's death, I thought I should like to have been near heaven's gate to witness his abundant entrance, and to hear the loud acclamations of "Welcome" given him by the multitude whose sorrows he had eased, whose burdens he hal lifted, whose footsteps he had guided, whose joys he had multiplied, whose comfort he had promoted, whose souls he had pointed to the Saviour. When such a child of God enters heaven, the music throbs with a new thrill and the heights resound with a new thrill and the heights resound with a new hallelujah. And when I think of all his other experience, he has seen face to face Him Whom we all long to see, I cannot find it in my heart to wish that he carried so bravely for many years.

As one of his boys, I want to say that I found in him a prudent administrator of affairs; discreet director of congregational ange counsellor; valiant champion of the faith once for all delivered to the saints; rich in capacity for friendship; gifted with a growing mind; alive to changing aspects of religion; back-ward looking towards Christ and forward looking towards progress; gentle spirit, generous in judgment of his brethren, careful not to offend the sensitive, apostolic in zeal, saintlike in character, a man who in every stage of life, from pious ladhood to reverent age, lived in the spirit of the mystic who said, "Fain would I be to God as a man's hand is to man." I give thanks for the gift of such a life, and I give him joy that he has entered into the temple of all truth. His death is like the fad

BRITISH OVERLOOK THE MULE

Guilty of Injustice, Because Animal Has Done Much For the Glory of the Empire.

The British lay themselves open to the charge of being one of the backward races by their refusal to recognize the virtues of the American mule. With the cessation of hostilities the government has on its hands a surplus of animals which it is offering for sale, but the director of remounts complains that "people don't seem inclined to buy" the mules, in spite of the arguments advanced in their favor as hardy, economical

It may be because of their defective early training that Gen. Birkbeck's countrymen fail to grasp the opportunity offered them, observes New York World. If from youth they had known the mule as a trusted companion wherever hard labor was to be done they would never weaken in their friendship. But merely as a matter of sentiment they owe him special affection. He has helped lay the solid foundation of British commerce in all parts of the world. With nothing but his bare keep as a reward, he has contributed steadfastly to the wealth and greatness of the British empire. Where would the cotton industry of Lancashire have been if the mule all these years had not toiled in the fields of the south? Can any Englishman lay his hands on his heart and deny the eternal debt of gratitude? But as a war veteran alone the mule deserves a place of his own in the regard of the British people. Wherever there was hard fighting to be found he was present, and he did not need supplies of fuel or military roads to report for duty.

It will be a strange thing if in the process of demobilization the British fail to give the army mule a good job on discharge from the service.

DESERVES WELL OF MANKIND

Man Who Plants a Tree Performs Service of Great Importance to His Fellows.

Trees are and have been intimately associated with human life. Ruskin called them a link between earth and man, wonderful in their adaptation to his needs, desires and discipline. It was in "The Friendly Trees" that Dr. van Dyke wrote:

As to trees in general, immediate money returns supersede, in most minds, sentiment or natural beauty. A "landscape robbery" which caused the "robbers" no compunctions was the cutting of a splendid yellow poplar which for several generations had been a landmark among the Cumberland hills. The forest monarch yielded over 7,000 feet of first-class lumber, valued at $11,000. was no one to cry "Woodman, spare that tree," whose protest counted against its destruction. Boy Scouts and Bird Men in Siam. One of the new institutions inaugurated by His Majesty, Vajiravudh, king of Siam, is the "Wild Tiger Scout Corps." In ancient Siamese history the "Wild Cats" and the "Wild Tigers" were branches of the army known for their bravery in war. Vajiravudh, himself an athlete of no mean order and believing that an active outdoor life would be of direct advantage to the young men of Siam, resuscitated one of these old-time companies and grafted upon it the discipline and precepts of the American Boy Scout movement. Starting with a volunteer ensollment of two or three hundred, the corps today contains nearly every young civil official in the kingdom. In all, there are fifty companies, of which his majesty is the captain general. The Bangkok company is mounted and under the personal eye of the king, who drills with them and takes them with him into the country on week-end excursions for special maneuvers .-From "The Land of the White Elephant," by Frederick Dean, in Asia Magazine.

Islands Once Place of Exile.

The Princes' islands got their name because they served as a place of exile hundreds of years ago for princes of the Byzantine empire. The emperors of Byzantium used to punish disobedient dignitaries by confining them on these islands. The islands are only ten miles from Constantinople, set in the lovely blue Sea of Marmora, and rich in beautiful scenery. Thousands of tourists visit them annually. There are in all eight islands in the group, of which only four are inhabited. The others are mere rocky islets, frequented by fishermen, and made unpleasant by enormous numbers of dogs relegated there by the Young Turkish government in an endeavor to rid Constantinople of its superfluous canine

TRIBUTE TO DOGS OF WAR

Official British Report Tells of Good Work Done by the Animals at the Front.

An official report has now been isused on the exploits of the British war dogs at the front. Hitherto nothing has been known about them except the occasional appearance in the war films of some shaggy dog rushing desperately across a piece of shellscarred country.

The corps of messenger dogs was the creation of Col. Richardson, the widely-known advocate of the use of dogs in war and police work. The dogs were trained at a war office school of instruction. Men with a knowledge of dogs, such as game. keepers, shepherds and hunt servants, were selected as instructors. The first dog recruits came from various homes for lost dogs, and many a soldier owes his life to a stray dog saved from the lethal chamber by the war. Unclaimed dogs were sent to the camp by the police and many people sent their pets as war volunteers. The best breeds for the purpose proved to be collies, sheep dogs, lurchers, Welsh and Irish terriers, Airedales and mixtures of these varieties. The dogs were splendid. They would make their way through a tremendous barrage where no human being could go, and would take a vitally-needed message back in ten minutes over ground which would take a runner hours to cross. They were wounded sometimes, but went on just the same. During the great German push in March a Highland sheep dog ran about two and a half miles in ten minutes with an appeal for reinforcements, and by so doing prevented a very serious disaster. Part of our line

Dogs did good service in following up the assaulting troops and taking back essential information about the taking taking the taking the taking condition of the line and the reinforcements needed. Out in the Balkans dogs were used as sentries, and one of them barked the news of the approach of a Bulgar scout when he was hundreds of yards

By DR. JOHN R. MOTT.

DR. JOHN R. MOTT. Chairman Executive Committee Interchurch World Movement.

This is the moment of moments for us to find our unity, our spiritual solidarity, without sacrificing our diversity and that which is most distinctive to each of our communions and which, by the way, is the choicest possession we have

The reason why we of each denomination most value that which is distinctive to us is not simply because it is ours, but because we honestly believe it is the truth. It is our choicest possession. Without sacrificing our distinctiveness we want to realize our unity and solidarity as we gather 'round the figure of our Lord with open minds, responsive hearts and. I would say, hair-trigger wills-by that I mean wills that are eager to leap into action when we see a clear path.

DIVINE OWNERSHIP OF ALL THINGS. TO BE TAUGHT IN FEBRUARY

Churches All Over Country Will Assist in Interchurch Stewardship Campaign.

The idea that the Creator is owner of all things and that man is only a steward responsible to Him for the administration of material affairs on an unselfish basis, will be emphasized in practically all churches of the United States during February. Agreements to this effect have been reached by many of the leading denominations in the Interchurch World Movement. Pastors throughout the country have indicated their intention of following the suggestions made by the Interchurch Movement's stewardship department for sermons to be preached, study classes to be organized and literature to be distributed.

This campaign of education is to reach its climax on Washington's Birthday, Sunday, February 22, which has been designated as "Nation-wide Stewardship Acknowledgement Day.' It is the plan to have all church members make acknowledgment on that day that the Divinity is owner of all things by setting aside a certain proportion of their income for the support of religious causes. While the proportion to be set aside is to be determined by each individual, sermons and studies will suggest that a tenth is a good proportion to start with. It will be pointed out that the Federal income tax law exempts from taxation, up to 15 per cent of the income, money spent for religious and philanthropic pur-

Not only will the Stewardship campaign emphasize the responsibility of persons to use their material possessions for the advancement of Christianity, but it is urged that Christians have been made the depositories of spiritual resources which must be used for the enrichment of the world. On that assumption all Christians will be reminded of their responsibilities to utilize their privileges of prayer for the winning of the world for Christ and to enlist in active service promulgating the gospel in this country and

An Assured World Success.

"When such a vast multitude of people come together earnestly and prayerfully, there must be developed an outpouring of spiritual power such as this land has never before known. If the Interchurch World Movement is complete in its co-operation, if the individual constituents are consecrated and in earnest, and the leadership is able, there is no limit under God in what may be accomplished in the establishment of His Kingdom on earth." -John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

"No Man Alone Can Take a Trench." "'Keep together! Keep together!' shouted a commanding officer overseas. 'No man alone can take a trench!' I say: Keep together! Keep together, men of God! No church alone can take a world!"-G. Sherwood Eddy.

Carrying a Ton a Mile for less than a Cent

Freight rates have played a very small part in the rising cost of living.

Other causes - the waste of war, under-production, credit inflation - have added dollars to the cost of the necessities of life, while freight charges have added only cents.

> The average charge for hauling a ton of freight a mile is less than a cent.

A suit of clothing that sold for $30 before the war was carried 2,265 miles by rail from Chicago to Los Angeles for 16½ cents.

Now the freight charge is 22 cents and the suit sells for $50.

The cost of the suit has increased 20 dollars.

The freight on it has increased only 52 cents. Other transportation charges enter into the cost of the finished article—carrying the wool to the mills and the cloth to the tailors—but these other charges amount to but a few cents

The $10 pair of shoes that used to sell for $5 goes from the New England factory to the Florida dealer for a freight charge of 5% cents—only one cent more than the pre-war rate.

Beef pays only two-thirds of a cent a pound freight from Chicago to New York.

American freight rates are the lowest in the world.

JAMES E. DRIGGS. The object of this bill is to procure a decree granting the plaintiff a divorce a vinculo matrimonii from the defendant, and giving to her the right to resume her vinculo matrimonii from the defendant, and giving to her the right to resume her maiden name.

The bill states that the plaintiff was married to the defendant, in New York City, on the 17th day of April, 1915, and lived together until about June 1, 1915, when the defendant, without June 1, 1915, when the defendant, without Just cause, abandoned and deserted the plaintiff, and declared his intention to live with her no longer nor to contribute to her support; that said abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than four years, and is deliberate and final, and the separation without reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that no child was born of said marriage; and that defendant is not a resident of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon, this 29th day of January, 1920, ordered by the Circuit Court for Carroll County, sitting in Equity, that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Carroll County, in the State of Maryland, for four successive weeks before the 1st day of March, 1920, give notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of the said bill of complaint, warning him to appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 18th day of March, 1920, to show cause, if any he have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 22 PETER'S DELIVERANCE FROM PRISON.

LESSON TEXT-Acts 12:1-19. GOLDEN TEXT—Acts 12:1-19.
GOLDEN TEXT—The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.—Ps. 34:7.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—II Kings 8:17; Luke 22:39-46; Acts 16:25, 26; Heb. 1:14; James 5:16-18. PRIMARY TOPIC - How an Angel

JUNIOR TOPIC-Peter Delivered From

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC -How Prayer Helps.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
-Things Wrought by Prayer.

I. Peter's Imprisonment (vv. 1-4).

1. By whom (v. 1). Herod, the grandson of the wicked Herod who slew the innocent children at Bethle-

2. The reason (v. 3). It was to gain the favor of the Jews. Herod was not a Jew, and therefore knew that his success was dependent upon having the good will of the Jews. He did not particularly hate the Church, but loved popularity. Herod, for the sake of popularity, assumed a deep sympathy for degenerate Judaism. Since the Church had developed into a successful rival of Judaism-indeed was already displacing it-he saw an opportunity to curry favor with the Jews by putting his hand forth against it.

3. The method (v. 4). Peter was arrested, put into prison and guarded by four quaternions of soldiers. A quaternion is a guard of four soldiers on duty at the same time. Four quaternions meant that a special group was on duty each watch of the night. It was the custom for two soldiers to be in the prison, one on each side of the prisoner, bound to his arms with chains (v. 6). The third one to watch outside the door and the fourth to be near the outside gate. Humanly speaking it was impossible to escape. However, they made one fatal mistake; they left out God.

II. The Church of God in Prayer (v. 5).

The Church was in a crisis; her situation was most grave. James, one of the pillars of the Church, was dead, and Peter, the most prominent of all, was in prison. In this desperate strait they did the wise thing; they betook themselves to prayer. There is nothing too hard for God. Theirs was a noteworthy prayer:

1. It was unto God, not unto men to be heard of men. This is a very common fault today. All true prayer is unto God.

2. It was united prayer. It was made by the Church. God hears the prayers of individuals, but there is peculiar power in the united prayer of God's people.

3. It was an intensely earnest prayer. It was more than unceasing prayer; it was the yearning desire of the soul as it stretched itself out toward God. 4. It was definite prayer. They specifically interceded for Peter. Their prayer was concentrated, definite and specific. III. Peter Delivered by an Angel (vv. 6-11).

This occurred the night before Herod's plan to make a public display of

1. Peter sleeping (v. 6). The angel found Peter asleep. The Lord keeps in perfect peace those whose minds are stayed on him (Isa. 26:3). Again, he gives his beloved sleep (Psalm

2. Peter leaving the prison (vv. 7-10). The heavenly light shone in the prison. The angel smote Peter on the side, the chains fell off, Peter put on his clothes, passed by one guard after another, through the iron gate out into the city.

3. The effect upon Peter (v. 11). Although the event was so wonderful to Peter, and at first he thought it a vision, when he came to himself he was assured beyond peradventure of a doubt that God had miraculously delivered him from Herod's wicked

IV. Unconscious Unbelief (vv. 12-19). 1. The behavior of Peter and the Church (vv. 12-17). Peter went to the house of Mary and knocked. The knock was answered by Rhoda, who was so overjoyed on hearing Peter's voice that she forgot to open the gate and ran in and told them that Peter was at the gate. 2. The behavior of the soldiers (vv. 18, 19). There was great agitation among them over Peter's disappearance. This was a serious matter, since they were responsible for him. Not being able to account for Peter's escape, Herod commanded that they be put to death.

Be Not Too Sure.

Be not too presumptuously sure in any business; for things of this world depend on such a train of unseen chances that if it were in man's hands to see the tables, still he would not be certain to win the game.-Herbert.

Care of Today.

The cares of today are seldom those of tomorrow; and when we lie down at night we may safely say to most of our troubles. "Ye have done your worst, and we shall see you no more" thee, of thy son's mandrakes." worst, and we shall see you no more."

— THE —— CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

--- From --The Christian Workers Magazine, Chicago, Ill.

February 22.
Christian Principles in Industry
Micah 6:8; Matthew 7:12.

The National Industrial Conference called by President Wilson to discuss fundamental means of bettering the whole relationship of capital and labor and putting the whole question of labor upon another footing" came to an untimely end. summing up the work of the conference the reporter for the Christian Herald said: "The break came only after several days of tension during which nothing but the feverish ef forts of the group of delegates representing the public, held the body to gether." In other words the confer In other words the conference was held together for a few days not by any inherent power of unity, but only by a force applied from without. Ultimately that power failed, and the break came. So will ever be. No external power will A ship cannot cross the ocean when the winds are contrary, without power from within. No man can overcome in the battle of life without heart power, the power of the inner life.

Mr. Warren S. Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, hit the nail on the head in his address on "The Application of Christian Principles to Industry," delivered at the International Y. M. C. A. Convention recently held in Detroit. Among other things Mr. Stone said: "We are not going to settle these problems until we get the Spirit of Christ in both laborer and capitalist." O for preachers who would preach this! O for people in the pew who would practice it! O for editors and educators and orators and publishers everywhere, who, with the fire of conviction which cannot be quenched, would burn this into the public conscience and heart until it was really believed! Then and then only will a better day come. Industry cannot be revolutionized, great as the need is, by simply shifting control or power from one selfish class to another, but only by conversion and transformation of human hearts.

Christian principles will not be adopted by those who are not Christ-ian. It is the Spirit of Christ in men which leads them to adopt the principles which Christ taught to men.

Our Scripture lesson is in harmony with this. The requirements of the Lord as seen in Micah 6:8 can be, and are, wrought out in those in whom the Spirit of Christ dwells, but in none other, for none other will do justly, love mercy, and walk humanly with God. So it is with the other Script-pre. The law and prophets are sum-med up in the word "love." (See Romans 13:10.) Love is the natural and inevitable result of the Spirit of Christ in human hearts.

WONDER OF PLANT KINGDOM

Mandrake, for Various Reasons, Always Associated With Ideas of Madness and Evil.

There are many wonders in the plant kingdom. There are plants that catch and eat insects. There is a creeper, similar to the well-known Virginia creeper, that spreads a mantle of disease over the walls of the houses to which it clings so that the inmates suffer from a strange illness that baffles medical science.

But undoubtedly the most mysterious, as well as the most sinister, of all plants is the mandrake, a low-growing plant with large leaves, and bearing a fruit something like an apple. The mandrake has always been associated with madness and evil. To pull a mandrake out of the ground was at one time held to be certain death, and to all who heard its shrieks as it was torn from the earth came madness.

The root of this plant is in shape something like a human form, and makes a strange kind of screeching sound when pulled out of the ground.

In Italy the society ladies paid high prices for mandrake roots, because the possession of such was thought to insure offspring to childless women. This superstition probably arose from the references to the mandrake in Genesis 30:14: "And Reuben went in the day of wheat harvest, and found mandrakes in the field, and brought them unto his mother, Leah. # SOUND BUSINESS BASIS FOR CHURCH

Interchurch World Movement Natural Growth of Tendency to Eliminate Waste.

AVOIDS USELESS COMPETITION

Religious Financiering Revolutionized by Success of Men and Millions Movement and Co-operation Is Result.

The Interchurch World Movement of North America is an attempt by forward-looking leaders of the various evangelical denominations of the United States and Canada to co-ordinate the resources in men, money and material of Protestant America. Historically it is the logical outgrowth of a tendency of the national boards in each denomination to form working alliances among themselves, in which each board shall preserve its identity and control its own personnel and treasury.

In former times, the home mission society, the foreign mission society, the church extension society and the various philanthropic and eleemosynary agencies of any denomination conducted their affairs independently of one another. Each surveyed its own restricted territory, prepared a budget of money and workers for its own purposes and made its own appeal to its constituency for support.

This could only mean that these agencies were more or less in competition with one another: that there were waste and duplication of work and money, and that among them all some work was neglected and some denominational resources were entirely overlooked. Because of their specialized training, the leaders of each agency regarded themselves as peculiarly fitted for their tasks, and jealously regarded attempts at outside interference

Decide on Experiment. After decades of such haphazard methods, the leaders of one denomination decided on an experiment. They thought it would be possible for the agencies to get together for a common study of all the opportunities and resources of their brotherhood, to make out a unified budget of men and money, and to conduct a concerted appeal for funds. It was made clear that each constituent board should preserve complete autonomy.

When the board representatives met they found it possible to eliminate a great amount of organization expenses. They ultimately worked out a budget and plan of campaign that was satisfactory to all. This resulted the famous "Men and Millions Movement" of the Disiciples of Christ, which brought in what was then considered the staggering sum of $6,-300,000 for a five-year program. The members of the communion were so pleased with this business-like method of conducting affairs that they contributed even more generously, than had been expected.

The success of this enterprise revolutionized the whole business of church financiering. The other great denominations immediately adopted the plan. The denominational associations have come to be known as "forward movements," and some thirty of them are in existence today. Each one has clarified all the information in relation to enterprise within the denomination, and has reduced the business of collecting and spending money to a World-Budget Formed.

The Interchurch World Movement is simply a plan to do interdenominationally what the forward movements have done within the various communions. It means that every denominational budget will be made in the light of world needs instead of in the semi-obscurity of incomplete information. It means that contributions to one denomination will not be in wasteful competition with contributions to another, because all the fellowships will have worked out their program

The functions of the Interchurch World Movement are threefold. First, it collects, by means of world surveys, all the pertinent facts on which denominational programs may be built. Second, it sets up the practical machinery of co-operation. Third, it acts in an advisory capacity whenever its advice is requested.

The Movement has nothing to do with organic church union or matters of creed or doctrine. Each constituent unit preserves complete autonomy, and is bound only so far as it wishes to be bound. Financial appeals are made by each denomination to its own constituency. Any surplus in undesignated funds, over and above the actual cost of administration, will be prorated among the denominations engaged in a given financial undertaking.

An illustration of one thing the Movement can do is to be found in a western community of 1,600 persons in which thirteen denominations have been supporting separate churches with missionary funds, while an adjacent territory of 50,000 persons has only three churches. By seeing that all missionary boards are supplied with information in such cases, the Movement will make possible a wiser distribution of funds. Its first goals are to reduce unnecessary duplication and overlapping to a minimum and to bring about an intelligent division of labor in unoccupied fields. The Movement is, at bottom, an attempt to put church business on the sound business-like foundations on which the great commercial institutions of America are built.

Future of Country's Timber Supply Depends on the Elimination of Conflagrations.

The future of our timber supply depends in a large measure on the elimination of the forest fires which annually burn over large tracts of cut-over and waste lands in the South, says Prof. H. W. Barre, director of the South Carolina experiment station. All of our native pines produce an abundance of seed, and where these fall and remain undisturbed, young trees readily spring up. Seedling pines will not stand even a light fire. When the land is burned over every year, it is impossible to get a good stand of vigorous young pines; but if fires are kept out, young trees come up to a thick stand and grow rapidly.

One tract of cut-over pine land in the Coastal Plain section seeded to slash pine twenty-one years ago was scaled recently and found to contain 42 cords of wood, or the equivalent of 21,000 board feet of lumber per Carolina will do as well if the fires are kept out and nature is given a chance to reproduce our forests.

Best Always to Come.

Many years ago I was smoking a cigar with Dion Boucicault in his room. Sundry matters were discussed. and all the while I was gaining knowledge that I could not have boasted when I entered, for Boucicault was one of the best informed and most agreeably impartive men I have known. He was asked how many plays he had written.

"I'h, a great number-several hundred, maybe, beginning with 'London Assurance,' in 1841. Of course you understand that many of the plays bearing my name are only adaptations, still the number is prodigious—considering the source," he said with a wink.

"Well, then," I said, "of all your plays, what one in your judgment is

Now All You Good Fellows. Come Fill Up Your Pipes

F ever men are "Tom" and "Bill" to each other. it's when good pipes are a-going. If ever good pipes go their best, 'tis when Velvet's in the bowl.

For Velvet is a mighty friendly smoke. Kentucky Burley is the leaf that Nature made for pipes. Wholesome and hearty, honest as the day. And Velvet is that same good Burley leaf, brought to mellow middle age.

For eight long seasons Velvet "meditates" in wooden hogsheads, throwing off the rawness of "young" tobacco-truly "ageing in the wood." Out Velvet comes—cool, calm and generous—the tobacco Nature made good, kept good and made better.

Velvet's sweetness is the sweetness of good tobacco, not "put on" like "frosting" on a cake. Its mildness comes from natural ageing, not from having the life baked out. Its fragrance is true tobacco fragrance, not a perfume. And Velvet makes an A Number One cigarette. Roll one.

An Irishman working for a Dutchman asked for an increase of pay. The Dutchman replied:

"If you are worth it, I will be pleased to give it to you. Now, let us see what you do in a year, Pat. We have 365 days in a year; you sleep 8 hours every day, which makes 122 days you sleep, taken from 365 days, leaves 243 days. Now, you have 8 hours recreation every day, which makes 122 days, taken from 243 days leaves 121 days. We have 52 Sundays in a year, which you have off, leaving you 69 days. You have 14 days' vacation; take this off and you have 55 days left. You don't work Saturday afternoons, this makes 26 days in a year. Take this off and you have 29 days left. Now Pat, you allow one and one-half hours meals, which total in a year 28 days. Take this off and you have one day left. I always give you St. Patrick's Day off, so I ask you, Pat, if you are entitled to a raise?

Pat then answered, "Well, what the h—— have I been doing, then?" -From the Shipbuilder.

Must Have Playthings.

New York, Feb. 11.—Business at the Toy Fair has boomed with a rush such as manufacturers never before experienced. Sellers are approached by the buyers before they open their doors and one dealer wrote a $12,000 order for muslin and paper children's books ,yesterday morning before he had an opportunity to remove his overcoat. It it not unusual for jobbers to place orders for 200 to 300 gross of tin novelties that are made up to retail at about 25c. Commitments for 200 to 750 gross of a walking doll novelty are entered daily by the exhibitor of this particular ar-

Children's furniture of every description is in demand, and one seller explained that despite the fact they have four large factories they can consider only their old-line customers and are alloting goods to them.

Buyers explained that their Christmas business cleaned them entirely out of playthings and novelties and that it is therefore necessary for them to replenish their entire departments.

THE AMATEUR BOLSHEVIST.

In an American fling at bolshevism Elias Lieberman turns a Longfellow classic to parody in the New York Times. Even those who discountenance parody as a rule will perhaps consider this exception admissible.

The shades of night were falling fast,
When through the crowded highways passed
A youth, ill shod and habited,

Who carried high this sign in red:
"Whatever is, is wrong."

His trousers bagged, his hat was cracked, His vest important buttons lacked, His Windsor bow was tied askew, That slogan seemed to fit him, too:

"What makes you bear that thing, my lad?"

I asked. "Is life so really bad, The game of chance so wholly lost That you must flaunt this awful frost; 'Whatever is, is wrong?' He glared at me through bloodshot eyes;

His glance was one of pained surprise That there could live a wight so slow, So crass, so dense as not to know, Whatever is, is wrong.

He groaned, "I wish I had my way! This world should be remade today. I'd run it on a different plan d prove to you or any man, Whatever is, is wrong."

I asked him what that plan might be, But out of all he flung at me— A cross between a whine and hiss— I clearly gathered only this: "Whatever is, is wrong."

He raked me with a wicked leer;
"Bourgeois!" I thought I heard him sneer,
Then, lifting high that sign of red,
He stalked away, but, parting, said,
"Whatever is, is wrong."

EASY TO GRANT THAT FAVOR

Under the Circumstances, Loved One Really Was Not Asking Too Much of John.

The young man was leaning against the garden gate, chatting pleasantly to the object of his affections. "John," said the object, "I am going to ask a great favor of you."

"It is already granted," answered John, devotedly. "A very great favor," repeated the object. "And I hope you won't think it forward or presumptuous of me."

"Never!" he breathed. "I glory in the proof of your trust and confidence. Osly tell me, what can I do for you?"

"Well, John dear," replied the object, "I want you not to lean on that gate any more. You see, John dear, father painted it this afternoon, and I am quite convinced he will be provoked if he finds it necessary to do the work all over again."

And Love, obedient, obeyed.

Interesting Old Record.

The manifest of the "good ship" Louisiana, recording as its cargo two slaves "unloaded" at the port of Indianola, March 13, 1855, is one of the interesting documents on file at the customhouse at Galveston, Tex. The slaves were brought from New Orleans. One was Henry, twenty-three een years old. Both were 5 feet 7 inches in height. Indianola, which in the years immediately preceding the Civil war and for a brief period afterward, was a prosperous port at the mouth of the Brazos river, was practically wiped out by a gulf hurricane several years after the war.

The Point of View. "Do you think you can get me out of this scrape?" asked the confidence man of his shifty lawyer. "How much would it be worth to

"Suppose we say $1,000?"

"And you made $50,000 out of the deal? No, sir. I don't see the slightest chance to get you acquitted for $1,000, but, ahem, we might view the matter from another angle."

"What do you mean?" "Looking at your case from a $5,000 angle, I don't see the slightest chance for you to be convicted."

Lumber Industry Vast. The annual freight bill of the lumber industry is estimated at about $215,000,000. Lumber and forest products furnish about 11 per cent of the total tonnage of the American railroads, or about 215,000,000 tons yearly. This is greater than the movement of all agricultural products, and is exceeded only by the tonnage of general manufactures and mine products.

Worth the Effort.

It is a pretty difficult thing to change an old habit. Still, it can be done. If you have a habit that gives you trouble and you are good and tired of it, just change it.

Add "Useless Inventions." So that a smoker can see what is occurring behind him, an English inventor has patented a pipe with small mirrors on the bowl.
