COUNTY WEEKLIES, AGAINST RACE TRACK GAMBLING

No Doubt of Adverse Sentiment Outside of Baltimore.

The Baltimore American solicited brief opinions from county editors of the State as to local sentiment on the race track gambling feature, as at present maintained by State law. Of the nineteen replies published in the American, on Wednesday, eighteen were opposed to the law, the most of the opinions being emphatic, and based on the evil of gambling, whether backed by the State, or not.

The American says: "Baltimore can be in favor of the present track system until doomsday without avail, if the counties will otherwise, because the county people, in this issue as in others that have gone before, will have pretty nearly the whole say when the next legislature meets in Annapolis."

This almost has a regretful sound, and we wonder why? The race tracks are not at Baltimore, and do not appear to be specially a Baltimore industry. Why the thinly covered solicitude? Besides, there is a strong probability that if a census of even Baltimore could be taken on the subject, the verdict would be much like that of the county press, if not quite so unanimous.

However, nineteen is not more than about one-fourth of the county papers in the State, and perhaps some of those not replying (if they were solicited to do so) might have a different verdict. The Havre de Grace and Laurel papers did not reply, while the Hyattsville Independent, Prince George's Co., says the sentiment of citizens of that county, not directly or indirectly benefited by the Bowie track, "is decidedly against betting on horse-racing in the county * * * and would, if given the opportunity, abolish the race track altogether."

We suspect that this opinion contains the kernel of the nut—"those not directly or indirectly interested," which means financial interest. As a matter of fact, this "interest" is very largely an out of State interest that stages its profitable business in Maryland, and only here because there is hardly any other State in which to stage it.

The Maryland Racing Commission, this week, has authorized 92 days of racing, this year, a reduction of eight days. The Commission concluded that 100 days are "too many," and that "the interests of racing are served by having less of it." Evidently the county editors think the interests of the people would be served by having none of it, and these eight days appear to be a tapering off process in that direction.

The Day Man's Story.

The following communication was received by the Record, this week. It was unsigned, but as it was evidently sent in good faith, and likely represents the position of other day hands, we depart from usual custom, and publish it; but hereafter, other like communications must be signed by the writer.—Ed. Record.

"I see in the last two week's Record that the farmers have been discussing the wage question for the day man. What about the day man? He is poor; he has a dozen chickens and a pig or two he must buy the feed for. He goes to one farmer for corn. He says: 'I won't sell my corn that way—I take it to the warehouse.'"

He goes to another farmer. 'Can I get some corn?' 'Yes, but I want 2c more than market price.' Well, I have to have the corn. When he goes to the store for groceries, he pays the same as the farmer, or a little bit more, for he can't buy much at a time. Here comes the winter—short days; the farmers think the day man ought to work for half price in the winter.

Here is farmer Jones, and Smith is the day man. Jones says: 'Smith come over tomorrow, I have a day's work; I will give you a dollar.' Smith goes. In the evening, Smith says: 'Jones, I must have some wood, can I get it?' Jones says: 'Well, I don't know; I will see.' Smith goes home. The door is hardly shut behind him 'till Jones says: 'I am not going to sell that fellow any wood—he don't have the money to pay for it.'"

Why can't he pay? Because he must pay more for his stuff he buys than his wages amounts to. So, I think before the farmer puts the day man's wages down, they ought to see that fuel and things that he must have, are down according."

Some Grand-parents Living.

(For the Record.) The Linwood Correspondent requested in last week's Record, anyone can beat Miss Katherine Louise Roop, in having so many grand-parents living. Ralph Mervin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shorb, Jr., has ten grand-parents living—six great-grand-parents and four grand-parents. If anyone can beat this, please report.

MISS CATHERINE OHLER.

The President vetoed the bill reducing the army to 175,000 men. The Senate then voted, 67 to 1, to pass the bill over the veto. Just one Democrat thought it worth while to stand by the opinions of the departing leader. What a change!

MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD

Appropriations Made to Schools for Various Purposes.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was called to order in the office of the Board, at 10:30 A. M. on Thursday, Feb. 3, 1921. Commissioners MaGee and Feeser were absent.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved as recorded. The list of paid and unpaid bills was considered, and all bills as submitted were approved and ordered paid.

Requests for contributions to local funds raised for school equipment were presented and the Board contributed $10.00 to the amount already raised in each case, and in the case of Hampstead and Sykesville it agreed to make the contribution 10% of the amount raised by the schools, Hampstead amounted to $14.45, and Sykesville $23.93.

Mt. Vernon school, $27.75, phonograph; Black's, $10.00, maps; Harney, $51.77, phonograph; Hampstead, $144.50, phonograph; Lineboro, $11.00 musical instrument; Mt. Airy, $40.00, reference books; Leisters, $27.50, phonograph; Sykesville, $239.33, library and phonograph; Sandymount, $21.00, phonograph; Mt. Ventus, $40.00, maps and library; Mahlon's, $20.42, phonograph; Stonesifer's, $10.00, library; Deer Park, $45.00, phonograph; Winfield (col), $10.00, library; Mechanicsville, $43.39, school equipment; Taylorsville, $16.70, library and dodge ball.

Supt. Unger was authorized to lease the Manchester Academy, until it should be needed for school purposes at a rental of $10.00 per month. Supt. Unger reported that he had secured $500 from the Rosenwald fund for the construction of the Johnsview building.

After securing the necessary permission from the State Supt., the Board authorized the sale of the following school buildings, which have been unoccupied as per items attached: Wakefield, 3 years unoccupied; Morelock, 4 years unoccupied; Cranberry, 3 years unoccupied; Freedom, 4 years unoccupied; Four Corners, 3 years unoccupied; Emory, 4 years unoccupied; Franklin, 4 years unoccupied.

The request of the boys of Pleasant Gap school to be allowed credit for the cost of the wood which they prepared on the grounds for school use, was accepted, and a credit of $14.00 is placed to the school for athletic supplies.

Supt. Unger was directed to take the necessary steps to secure preliminary plans for the construction of the Westminster High School building.

The Board authorized Pres. Wantz and Supt. Unger to attend the meeting of the Dept. of Superintendents of the N. E. A. at Atlantic City, at the expense of the Board.

The Board decided to grant a full scholarship to the Normal School from each High School in the county, with the understanding that the candidates from the second group schools secure the necessary fourth year at some other High School. These scholarships to be given by the Board; the same to be secured by high standing in the class at each respective school, and to cost the county $100 apiece.

The bid of $4400 submitted by J. P. Elliot for the installation of the Myers heating plant was accepted, and the same was authorized to be installed.

The Board authorized the purchase of 30 Richmond Chemical Fire Extinguishers, and have them placed in the following schools, one on each floor as follows: Westminster, main building, 4; Manual Training Dept., 2; Graceland bldg., 3; West End, 2; Union street, 1; Sykesville, 3; Union Bridge, 3; Mt. Airy, 3; Tanytown, 2; Hampstead, 3; Manchester, 1; New Windsor, 2; Office, 1.

The Board adjourned at 12:15.

The Worth of a Farmer's Wife.

Miss Margaret Fedde, head of the Nebraska University department of Home Economics, has made a survey as to the worth of a farmer's wife per year, in dollars and cents, and reaches the following conclusion:

Planning and serving the meals	$520
cooking, $10 a week	260
Washing and ironing, two days a week, at $2.50 a day	260
Cleaning, scrubbing and general care of the house, two days a week, at $2.50 a day	260
Sewing and mending for herself, husband and children, two days a week, at $3 a day	312
Care of children and sick, $25 a week	1300
Assisting hiredman, helping with the milking, care of the milk, poultry, etc., $20 a week	1040
Miscellaneous, $6 a week	402
Total	$4002

She says these figures are "conservative," and that farm women work an average of more than 13 hours a day in the summer and 10½ hours in the winter.

The majority of farm women have a lot of hard work to do, such as carrying water for the house, etc. In the government's survey, according to Miss Fedde, 61% of the women carried water an average of 39 feet. Between 90% and 100% of them do their own baking, washing and sewing. 24% work in the fields, for which Miss Fedde made no allowance. More than 80% of them care for poultry.

The Record's sale season is now at its height, and this interferes somewhat with the prompt completion of job work orders.

PROHIBITIONEM

It doesn't matter much whether one believes that prohibition prohibits, or not; just so one obeys the law, and especially the Constitution of the United States.

(And by the way, any one who happens to want a pamphlet copy of the Constitution, with all of the Nineteen Amendments, will be accommodated, free of charge, if they will call at our office.)

Have patience, both "wets" and "drys." Five years from now the argument will not be so prominent, but will be in the album along with the other has-beens.

The present "hootch" rustlers—the ones then still living—will be out of the job, and have a better one; and even the privately stocked cellars will have a gone-ness. Time is a great leveller—and an emptier, too.

Even habits can be overcome within five years, by persistent effort aided by a little well directed legal persuasion.

CATTLE LAW UPHELD

An Attendant Must be 100 Yards Ahead of Cattle on Road.

Frederick, Md., Feb. 9.—A jury in the Circuit Court yesterday, Judge Glenn H. Worthington on the bench, reversed the decision of a lower court and upheld the law passed by the Legislature in 1918 requiring an attendant to be 100 yards ahead of any herd of cattle on the improved highways of the State. The case was followed with considerable interest by cattle owners and it was the first instance in which a ruling on the new law was made in this county by a jury.

The case was an appeal by Myer Friedman, of Brunswick, from a decision of Justice of the Peace, J. Graham Johnson, against Abe Hemp and Walter C. Doty, of Jefferson, trading as Hemp & Doty. Friedman, traveling in an automobile, was approaching Jefferson, and when about 70 feet from the top of a hill saw a herd of cattle. He said that he applied his brakes, but because of the freshly oiled road was unable to stop his car in time to avoid striking the cattle. While none of the animals were injured, the car was damaged and a jury entered suit before the magistrate to recover $79.80. A decision was then rendered in favor of the cattle owners.

Friedman entered an appeal and the case was taken up before a jury. It was admitted that Hemp & Doty did not have an attendant 100 yards ahead of the cattle, as required by law. Friedman testified that when he called Mr. Hemp's attention to the violation of the law the latter replied that he knew as much about the law as Friedman and did not need a man ahead of his cattle.

Both sides produced pictures showing the location of the mishap, and the question arose as to how far a person, coming from the east, as Friedman was, could see cattle on the other side of the hill. A dispute also arose as to the speed of the automobile at the time it struck the cattle. Judge Worthington instructed the jury that under the law an attendant was required to precede cattle a distance of not more than 100 yards, and if they believed that such was not the case on this occasion, and as a result the automobile of the appellant was damaged while he was using due care, then their verdict must be for the appellant.—Balto. Sun.

Proceedings of the Orphans' Court.

Monday, Feb. 7, 1921.—The last will and testament of Hiram L. Withrow, deceased, was admitted to probate and letters testamentary thereon were granted unto Margaret R. Withrow, who received warrant to appraise and an order to notify creditors.

Letters of administration on the estate of John H. Hahn, deceased, were granted unto Walter R. Rudy, who received warrant to appraise and an order to notify creditors.

Levi D. Maus and Chas. W. Maus, executors of Lydia A. Maus, deceased, returned inventories of personal property, debts and money and settled their first and final account.

Letters of administration on the estate of John K. Smith, deceased, were granted unto Annie Smith, who received warrant to appraise and an order to notify creditors.

William H. David E. and Arthur R. Hardy, executors of Arthur Hardy, deceased, reported sale of personal property.

Carroll G. Warehime, administrator of Mandilla Shaffer, deceased, returned an inventory of personal property and received an order to sell personal property.

Tuesday, Feb. 8, 1921.—The Westminster Deposit and Trust Co., guardian of Robert K. Lewis, settled its first and final account.

Letters of guardianship of Edwin L. Frank, infant, were granted unto Carroll G. Warehime.

Urged to Call Special Session.

Geo. W. Crabbe, Supt. of Anti-Saloon League, has written to Gov. Ritchie urging him to call a special session of the legislature to deal with the subject of bootlegging and violations incident to the illegal sale of liquors.

Mr. Crabbe appealed to the Governor to use his power "to throw from the State the stigma that has come to us because of lawlessness of the bootlegging gang," and invited attention to the recent actions of the Governors of New York and Pennsylvania in urging measures to curb the liquor traffic.

REGULATIONS FOR LENT.

Season Started Wednesday and Will Continue Until March 26.

Regulations for Lent for members of the Catholic Church have been issued by Cardinal Gibbons. The Lenten season started Wednesday, and will continue until Holy Saturday, March 26. The regulations follow:

All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first year, unless exempt by dispensation or some other legitimate cause, are bound to observe the fast of Lent.

They are to take one meal a day, except on Sundays. A small refreshment, commonly called a collation, is permitted in the evening.

The following persons are exempt from obligations of fasting: Persons under 21 years of age, the sick, nursing women, those who are obliged to do hard labor, and those who, through weakness, cannot fast without great prejudice to their health.

The faithful are reminded that, besides the obligation of fasting imposed by the church, the holy season of Lent should be, in an especial manner, a time of earnest prayer, of sorrow for sins, of seclusion from the world and its amusements and of generous almsgiving.

The Lenten fast ends at noon on Holy Saturday. By virtue of an indulgence to the United States the following special dispensations are granted:

"The Wednesdays and Fridays of Lent are days of fasting and abstinence."

"The use of flesh-meat is permitted at all meals on Sundays and once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, with the exception of the second and last Saturdays of Lent. Flesh-meat and fish may be used at the same meal during Lent. The use of butter, cheese, milk and eggs also is permitted every day in Lent. It is allowed in the morning to take some warm liquid, as tea, coffee or thin chocolate, made with water, and with this liquid a mouthful of bread. Those for whom the hour of noon may be an inconvenient time for dinner may invert the order and take their collation in the morning and their dinner in the evening. The use of hog's lard or drippings, instead of butter, is authorized in preparing permitted food.

"Persons exempt from the obligation of fasting are free to take meat more than once on those days when its use is granted by dispensation."

"By virtue of an indulgence granted by the Holy See March 15, 1895, and renewed until March 15, 1925, we permit to all workingmen and their families the use of flesh-meat once a day on all fast days and abstinence days throughout the year, with the exception of Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the Wednesday and Saturday of Holy Week, and the Eve of Christmas."

"Men serving in the army or navy are allowed meat on all days of the year, except the Vigil of Christmas, Ash Wednesday, Good Friday and the forenoon of Holy Saturday."

"Those who are exempt from the obligation of fasting are free to take meat more than once on the days mentioned. Those who avail themselves of this indulgence are earnestly exhorted to perform some other act of mortification."

The Legislature to be Elected.

The following letter to The Record from G. W. Crabbe, Supt., of the Anti-Saloon League of Md., explains itself. We give it publicity in order to explain the situation to all who favor maintaining and enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment:

"A legislative fight is now on in Maryland. We occupy the unfavorable position of being but one of a few states in the Nation refusing to uphold the hands of the Government in enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment. Law and order is the big issue throughout America today.

We can hardly understand how Maryland with its Constitution can longer refuse to do its part in upholding the law. Every bootlegger plying his trade in this state is encouraged and allowed to continue because of Maryland's failure to do its part. The only way the Eighteenth Amendment can be enforced in the state is through co-operation of our own authorities. This must come, if it comes at all, through the election of a Legislature which will uphold the law of the land. I do not believe I have ever known a fight which means more to the law-abiding citizenship of the state than this one upon which we are now entering."

May I appeal to you to use all the power and influence you have to secure candidates for both the House of Delegates and the State Senate—if one is to be elected from your county this year—so that the friends of law and order will be in the Legislature at the next session. In some counties we are having too many dry candidates. Every man, of course, feels he is sure to win. If we lose this year it will be because ambitious men refuse to subordinate their personal interests to the good of Maryland.

Will you kindly let me know the situation in your county and community, giving any advice you may have and any suggestions you may have to make?"

Immediate steps are to be taken to segregate the 15 insane patients at Springfield State Hospital who have criminal tendencies. This was arranged for at a meeting of the directors of the institution, held in the office of Governor Ritchie, on Monday.

Confidence Sells Goods.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Newspaper advertisements are believed by readers in direct proportion to the truthfulness of news stories among which they are placed, according to Tracy Ellis, of Indianapolis, in an address today to the Better Business Bureau of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

"Confidence sells goods," he said. "The newspaper which makes a determined effort to build up great reader-confidence in its news and editorials will consequently profit through selling more advertising space. Just as the public shops for quality in merchandise, so advertisers are selecting newspapers which stand high in reader-confidence."

A bill has been presented in Congress to exempt the President and Vice-President from paying income tax on their salaries. The law covering the subject is conflicting; but it is generally conceded that the amount of salary fixed by law, should be a net salary, not subject to income tax. On the other hand, public officials do not exempt public officials. The income tax of the President would be $18,000 a year.

FARMERS INSTITUTES FOR CARROLL COUNTY.

Will be held at Pleasant Valley, Eldersburg and Keysville.

Only three Farmers' Institutes will be held in Carroll county this year. Twelve prospective places were on the list, but owing to lack of funds it will not be possible to hold this many.

Carroll farmers should consider themselves lucky to be able to have the Institute workers who are on the program for this season.

Miss Ola Day needs no introduction to the women of Carroll; she is a very interesting speaker, and will talk on some phase of the Woman's Work in the Home.

G. H. Bedell, Specialist in Animal Husbandry, is a new man on the Extension Force at the University. He will talk on the Care and Management of Hogs, and Hog Pastures. All farmers are interested in his line of work.

Mr. Oldenburg, crop specialist, is known to many in the county, especially in his work on corn. He will discuss the Growing of Pastures, and Corn and its Improvement, which subject always seems to be of interest to the farmers.

Institutes will be held: Feb. 15, at Pleasant Valley, at 1:30 and 7:30 P. M.; Feb. 16, at Eldersburg, at 1:30 and 7:30 P. M.; Feb. 17, at Keysville, at 1:30 and 7:30 P. M.

All persons interested in the advancement of the Farm and Home in Carroll, should make every effort to attend one of these meetings.

Transfers of Real Estate.

Francis Neal Parke to John Harris Reed, 266½ acres for $500.

Edward Orndorff et al. to Charles Magin et al., ¼ acre for $2800.

Andrew J. Graham and wife, to Evangelical Lutheran Congregation of Mt. Union church, 1587 sq. ft., for $10.00.

Union Bridge Banking & Trust Co. to Margaret A. Wood, 7200 sq. ft. for $250.

Wm. H. Marker and wife to Geo. F. Leister and wife, 13,360 sq. ft. for $375.

Tabitha L. Starner and husband to Mary E. Bemiller, 2 acres for $800.

Jesse C. Reese et al., Ex'rs., to Harry E. Leppo, 3½ acres for $51.00.

Harry E. Leppo and wife to Horace A. Leppo, 3½ acres for $5.00.

John H. Hampshire and wife to Virginia B. Findlay, 62½ acres for $1.00.

Virginia B. Findlay to John H. Hampshire, 62½ acres for $1.00.

Wm. H. Eckard and wife to Clyde C. Lovell and wife, tract for $8100.

Harvey E. Erb and wife to Sarah C. Hann and husband, 1 rood for $650.

Clarence W. Caples and wife to Wm. C. Caples, 48½ acres for $5.00.

Fred H. Knapp Co. to the Papercan Corporation, several lots, for $10,304.53.

J. Stephen Gemmill and wife to John Berg and wife, 38 sq. per. for $5.00.

County Finances.

According to the Sentinel, of last week, the Commissioners of Carroll County are suffering from financial embarrassment, due very largely to the State Road Commission failing to pay the county for the money spent in building the Westminster and Littleton road, about $100,000, and also due to large payments—about $18,000 per month—for schools. The county owes to several banks about $335,000, and expected to take care of this with State Road money. Just whether the money from the State Road Commission will be available, later, the account does not state; at any rate, road and school bills must be paid, and we understand that the county and banks have reached a satisfactory agreement for relieving the situation for the present.

Wilson Not to Seclude Himself.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Alone among the members of his official family, President Wilson intends not only to remain in Washington after March 4, but to remain in politics. The report he would go into seclusion on leaving office was scouted at the White House today by Secretary Tumulty.

"The President is going to continue to take an active interest in the country's affairs," said Mr. Tumulty. "He will live in Washington and he will appear in public. He resented the reports he would go into seclusion, and wanted to know on whose authority they had been published."

Mr. Tumulty indicated the President might take an active part in the reorganization of the Democratic party, although he has thus far refused to take side in any party controversy, and it has been said at the White House he would not do so.

Vice-President Marshall, on the contrary, looks forward with glad expectation to March 4, on which date he will become, and remain, a private citizen. He is through with politics forever.

All articles on this page are either original, or properly credited. This has always been a fixed rule with this Office, and we suggest the adoption of it by our exchanges.

Mr. Harding is a fisherman, like Mr. Cleveland which may show the same trend of mind; and, by the way, Cleveland was a very satisfactory sort of President.

Mr. Debs latest message from the penitentiary will not hurt President Wilson, but simply adds to the evidence that his present place of abode is very appropriate, assuming that his kind is a menace to the country, about which there is some doubt, as his following is very small.

We are of the opinion that if Mr. Charles G. Dawes was ever considered for a Cabinet position his vitriolic display of language before the House committee or war expenditures last week, was sufficient to show Mr. Harding that he made a fortunate escape by not having him in his official family.

Registered Bonds Safe.

Liberty Coupon Bonds represent the acme of safety, so far as their payment at maturity is concerned; but the safe keeping of such bonds, in the light of the very numerous bank robberies, is quite a different matter. We read almost every day, of a bank hold-up somewhere, and of vast sums in cash and bonds stolen. The banks, as a rule, are fully insured against their own losses, but this insurance does not cover the loss on bonds owned by individuals, placed in the banks for safe (?) keeping.

We do not have exact information as to stolen bonds; whether they are taken from the safety deposit boxes built in the bank vaults or whether they are such as are kept in individual boxes, easily carried from the banks. Perhaps few, if any, of the stolen bonds, are from safety deposit boxes, owing to the short time usually taken by bandits in making their hold-ups and get-away.

However this may be, it is becoming a question of more than former interest; as to whether or not large sums in coupon bonds had not better be exchanged for registered bonds. We should say that this is highly advisable, especially for those who expect to hold their bond investments for a long while as part of their estate. Such exchange at least has the advantage of absolute security, as registered bonds are negotiable only by their owner and in case of loss, or theft, the U. S. government is responsible for replacement.

The holder of a coupon bond can dispose of it. It is a "payable to bearer" proposition, and there is no way by which such bonds can be made safer than that much money in greenbacks. The keeping of the numbers and amounts of such bonds, amounts to no more than the keeping of the numbers and amounts of Gold, or Silver certificates which in certain cases may identify criminals but is even for that purpose of very little value.

Senator France, on Japan.

Senator France, of Maryland, in a speech last week declared in an easy and casual way that "the time will come when the United States and Japan will be at war." By which tactless and uncalled-for prediction he gives proof of an unruly tongue and creates a doubt in thoughtful minds whether his wisdom and discretion are adequate for the position he holds. His assertion in this same speech that "bolshevism and communism no longer exist in Russia, but have given way to sounder theories of government," are not likely to inspire confidence in him when he essays the role of seer, and if his vision of the future does not exceed his knowledge of the present, a discreet silence would best become him.

If ever war should arise between Japan and the United States, which heaven forbid, it would be largely the result of such ill-considered speeches as this of Senator France. Not only do blunt and unqualified assertions of this nature find ready lodgment in the minds of unthinking Americans and accustom the national consciousness to the idea of armed conflict as a steadily approaching certainty, but this particular speech, with all the circumstances of time, place and official position of its author, has of course been already dispatched to Tokio, where it will duly become the subject of widespread editorials and will stimulate the Japanese to all possible measures to protect themselves against a superior and aggressive power.

From such mutual distrust, growing into bitter hatred, do all modern wars arise, and on those who by slanderous accusations, foolish boasts and confident predictions of war foster national suspicions and fears a heavy responsibility rests. It is not to be expected that men of small mental caliber should very carefully weigh their words, but it is regrettable that those in high position, charged with the duty and honor of representing national feeling, sometimes make thoughtless speeches and endanger thereby the nation's peace.

—From the Nebraska State Journal.

Trial by Jury.

The subject is as "old as the hills" and for that reason, perhaps, is regarded as fixed; but, we are forgetting a good many old ways, amending them and making them better, or at least we are changing them to suit present day conclusions, and this is popular government no matter how far we now disagree with long-standing methods.

Trial by jury, in so far as the verdicts of juries must be unanimous agreement must appeal to most men as archaic. We pass laws by majority vote, but in the case of juries, provided by law, their conclusion must be as one man—even if one or two of the twelve are "cranks," or otherwise specially interested in "disagreement," in case they can not have their own full way.

We believe that under British laws, two-thirds or three-fourths of a jury makes a verdict. Even our own Supreme Court hands down verdicts with dissenting opinions from some of its members. But, the ordinary jury, chosen from the average run of taxpayers, must agree to a man.

We do not know it to be the case, but it is reasonable to suppose it is sometimes done, that juries are "fixed" in advance by passing to jury service certain men whose opinions are reasonably well known to be in favor of disagreement of course, disagreement does not necessarily mean acquittal; but, justice deferred is part lost, and the taxpayers are burdened with a new trial, even if justice is finally meted out. Why not try out a three-fourths vote verdict?

A Foolish Suggestion.

More foolish than the suggestion that the United States cancel the debts of foreign countries, and wipe the slate clean, is the one that all holders of Liberty Bonds burn them, and thus wipe out much of the big war debt of the United States. The proposition is not worth mentioning, except to show the aberration of mind of a class of men generally credited with more wisdom.

The following comment from the Centreville (Md.) Observer, is quite mild, but is of course, correct in its conclusions:

"The proposition of Dean Johnson, of the New York University School of Commerce, that everyone should burn his Liberty Bonds, and thus cancel the entire debt, will hardly meet with great favor. If these bonds were held by the people who will pay the taxes in the proportion which they might be required to pay, the suggestion might be equitable. But the holders of many of these bonds are persons to whom they represent the entire savings for the years of the war and in many cases for some time after its close. It is hardly considered probable that they would be willing to sink their entire savings even at the suggestion of an eminent college professor.

There is another angle to the question, also. The possession of government securities makes the possessor feel more that he is a part of the Government. He has an interest in it. He has a valid claim against the government, and he will be concerned in seeing that this claim is met promptly and in full. The sale of Liberty Bonds was a great factor in keeping up the morale of the people in war times. It is no less a stimulator of their interest in peace times, if they be possessors of these securities. The United States does not repudiate its obligations—it pays them, and every Liberty Bond will be paid in full when due."

A Good Medicine for the Grip.

George W. Waitt, South Gardiner, Me., relates his experience with the grip: "I had the worst cough, cold and grip, had taken a lot of trash of no account. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done me any good whatever. I have used one bottle of it and the cold and grip have left me."

Efficiency.

"Efficiency" is at once the most abused and the most important word in the dictionary. It is upon everybody's tongue, but unfortunately not in everybody's practice. For real efficiency of the individual, in spite of all the talk upon the subject in recent years, is rara avis. Many have taken it to mean a kind of noisy bustling of which an important accompaniment in business life seems to be the giving of much sage advice and the writing of many letters filled with striking statements that mean nothing on analysis, and many epigrams that are catchy but untrue.

Real efficiency, however, consists, wholly and solely in doing your job to the very best of your ability all the time, and trying to improve your ability—and that's all. It isn't any of those mysterious things you have been led to believe. Many who never read a single book upon the power of the will or upon how you can transfix the world with your magnetic eye after perusing Professor Somebody or other's volumes, possess it in high degree, while others whose systems are fairly saturated and reeking with professional, magazine-ad, efficiency, are rather worse off at the end of their day's work than at the beginning. They are overtrained.

The true test of efficiency is production and not oratory. The man who mauls two rails a day where his companion mauls one; the laborer who is so interested in turning out paper-board—if paper-board is the thing he is paid for turning out—that he forgets to watch the clock; the lawyer who so systematizes his day that he gives needed attention to all his clients without slighting any—all these persons are efficient.

Efficiency, in truth, is not a recent discovery. It is as old as mankind. Noah never had read a single book on how to pierce the populace with a look or hold it spellbound with his voice, yet good old Noah in building the ark and getting all his family and two members of each kind of animals aboard, displayed efficiency of a high order. And perhaps he didn't know he was efficient. And neither do those who are that way today.—Cumberland News.

A Better Outlook.

The whole country is to be congratulated on the improved outlook for business and financial affairs, this year. There is a general feeling that the worst is about over, and that with the opening of Spring, work of all kinds will start-up, perhaps with less help at some places, and more at others. There is even an optimistic feeling among farmers that help is likely to be more plentiful with them, and some are apt to do less corn farming this year; besides there is at least some reduction in their expenses.

The key to the full return of normal business is labor. The cost of living came down first, which was for a long while the bone of contention, so that labor can afford to work for less wages, and thereby keep steady employment.

Being "laid off" does not pay, when "staying on" can be had with the acceptance of smaller wages, and the good sense of workers is likely to realize the fact.

At best, however, the year is apt to be one of changes, and one in which plunging and making speculative investments, should be very sparingly indulged in. It is a time for the exercise of calmness and good sense, yet not a time in which to be unduly fearful. Normal times can only follow prudent and careful actions on the part of the people generally.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Favorite.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a favorite with the mothers of small children, for colds, croup and whooping cough. Its pleasant taste and the prompt cures which it effects has won the good opinion of mothers everywhere. As this remedy contains no opium or other narcotics it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult.

The announcement that Vienna, whose plight of misery and starvation is appealing to the world's charity, is to have carnival "bad boys" and "silly asses" balls, with tickets in clamorous demand, emphasizes the saying that "whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad." Such gayety at such a time is like dancing on a volcano.

The amount of wine to be prescribed for a patient is to be left to the judgment of the physician. Here is a pale glimmer of light on the remnant left of personal liberty in the case.

For the Liver and Bowels.

When your liver and bowels become torpid get a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver and cause a gentle movement of the bowels. They also improve the digestion.

MADE BRAVE FIGHT FOR LIFE

Half-Breed Sailor, Wrecked Off Philippines, Simply Determined He Would Not Die.

Among the crew of the Poigat, a ship that foundered off Malabon, in the Philippines, was a half-breed sailor named Alejandro Lorenzo. In the moment of the ship's sinking he was agile enough, and lucky enough, to leap clear of the wreck and escape the deadly suction of the disappearing vessel. He was alive and uninjured, but he was many miles from shore, and there was no help in sight.

After swimming for an hour he found a hatch cover on which he rested. Then pushing the hatch cover ahead, he started for San Nicolas. He was just reaching shallow water when the tide carried him out to sea again.

As night came on the wind increased and the waves tossed him and his hatch cover back and forth till he was almost exhausted, being washed toward the Cavite shore. For several hours he drifted in, but just as his hope grew strong the tide and wind swept him in spite of his struggles once more out to sea.

Something brushed against his leg. He thought that it was a shark and screamed in fear. "It did not touch me, or I should have gone mad," he said. The water was cold, the night was dark and the rain beat down on him. He heard a cry in the darkness, and pushed his hatch cover in the direction whence the sound came. He found a Filipino boy, another survivor of the wreck, clinging to an oil box. They drifted together.

When daylight came they could see boats, but could not make themselves heard or seen. They were tortured by thirst, salt water got into their mouths, they drifted all day.

Night came again. Soon after dark they saw the lights of a breakwater, and with new hopes noticed that the lights grew larger and more distinct. They were being washed toward the shore. But the boy could not hold out. Taken with cramps, he lost his hold on the oil box and went down. The man was washed into the middle of the bay and drifted all night.

At dawn he was almost ready to give up, but the wind and waves headed him for the shore and he took heart. Then he saw boats and used his last strength in trying to reach them. The boatmen saw him, were able to get to him in time and picked him out of the water. There was not much of the man left, and shivering for water, he collapsed in the bottom of the boat.

As he lay on a pallet, after he found himself able to talk again, his rescuers spoke of his wonderful endurance. Alejandro in reply said that, of course, he had done the best he could. He wanted to live, he said.—New York Herald.

Double Performers.

The other night Mrs. Carrie B. Adams, leader of Terre Haute's community singing, and Maj. Birch Bayh, of the Indiana State Normal school, were on the same program. Now, Mrs. Adams did not know that Major Bayh was the speaker of the evening, but she did know that he could sing. So when the audience seemed rather tired she turned to Mr. Bayh and said: "You sing the next verse as a solo."

Major Bayh seemed embarrassed, but complied with her request. Hardly had he taken his seat when his speech was announced. He arose, greeted his audience and then turned to Mrs. Adams: "Now, before I get through I'm going to call on you to play 'ring-around-the-rosy' or do some stunt out here on the floor," he threatened.

The audience laughed, but Mrs. Adams was evidently bluffed, for she immediately found it necessary to go in search of her coat.—Indianapolis News.

Mixed Relationship.

Here is a double marriage at Salem, Ore., in which one bridegroom is both father-in-law and stepfather to the other, while the other becomes both son-in-law and stepson. The doors of the county clerk's office were just closing when two men appeared and asked if it were possible to obtain marriage licenses at so late an hour.

Upon being assured that a license could be issued, August Kluge, aged fifty-four, and a carpenter by trade, produced the necessary physical certificate and received a license to marry Mrs. C. K. Kayser, forty-five of this city.

Mr. Kayser's mother is the prospective bride of Mr. Kluge, so the couples probably will have no little trouble in trying to decide their relationship to each other.—St. Louis Republic.

Untidy Streets.

The New York Merchants' association has an antilitter bureau, that is now engaged in a campaign against dirty streets. The cost of cleaning up the refuse that should have been dropped into the very convenient containers, but is just dropped in the street instead, is enormous. School children are reported as serious offenders, for they bring paper from the schoolroom and tear and scatter it upon the streets. That isn't patriotic—not a bit.

Trademark, as It Were.

Walford wanted to go to his Aunt Addie, but had a dirty face. His mother said: "If Aunt Addie has company she would be ashamed of you with such a dirty face." "Oh, no, she wouldn't; she would just say 'This is one of Margaret's boys.'"

A GOOD BANK

What constitutes a good Bank? We think we know. It is a Bank that at all times is helpful to the community in which it is located.

How can a Bank be helpful? By being a strong, reliable, public-spirited institution. By guarding carefully the depositor's money. By loaning money to assist legitimate business enterprises. By giving sound advice on financial matters to its customers. By having competent and accommodating employees. By furnishing every modern banking facility for its patrons, in fact by giving prompt, faithful, dependable service in every possible way. We believe our Bank is a GOOD BANK.

EMMITSBURG.

St. Joseph's Catholic Church was the scene of three very pretty weddings, on Monday morning, when Miss Bessie Long became the bride of Edward Oden, at 5 o'clock; Mrs. Emma Grimes became the bride of Mr. Edward Adams at 6 o'clock, and Miss Ruth Topper became the bride of Mr. Edw. Eckenrode, at 7 o'clock. This is not an every day occurrence, in our burg, and the most unusual thing about it was that each of the groom's given name was Edward.

The Lenten season is being observed by all of the local churches.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rosensteel, Jr., have gone to Florida for a few weeks.

Harvey J. Warner, of Hagerstown, spent a few days with his mother, Mrs. I. J. Ohler.

Mrs. Rose Foreman spent the week-end in Baltimore.

Mrs. H. M. Gillelan, who has been very sick, is on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Theodore Bollinger is sick, at this writing.

The Social Help Society, of the Lutheran Church held a meeting, on Tuesday evening, at the home of the Misses Hoke.

Mrs. Cameron Ohler was taken to the Frederick City Hospital, on Monday, and underwent an operation the following day.

Charles Rotering, one of our most highly respected citizens, died at his home early Tuesday morning, at the age of 70 years. Mr. Rotering was born in Germany, but for many years has been a prosperous merchant in this place. He is survived by two sons, Cyril and Cecil, both residing here. The funeral was held on Thursday morning with service in St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Interment in cemetery adjoining.

Constipation causes a stoppage of the sewerage system of the body. The poisonous refuse matter that should be carried away is retained in the system and often poisons the blood and causes numerous disorders. No one can afford to neglect his bowels. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will afford relief. Avoid drastic cathartics as they take too much water out of the system and their use is likely to be followed by constipation.

MARRIED

ROBERTSON-HAINES. A very pretty wedding took place on Thursday evening, Feb. 3rd, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. H. Engler, when Miss Mabel F. Haines, became the bride of Mr. Ardel Robertson, both of Uniontown, Md. The bride wore a beautiful dress of pink silk, while the groom wore blue. The young couple have the best wishes of a host of friends for their success in life.

DIED.

MRS. JAMES S. BARR. Mrs. James S. Barr died Feb. 6th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Rouzer, at Guernsey, Pa. She leaves three sons and three daughters. Burial at Gettysburg cemetery.

MR. GREENBERRY NULL. Mr. Greenberry Null a well known retired farmer, who has been ill for several years, died at his home near Taneytown, on Wednesday night, aged 71 years, 6 months and 5 days. Funeral services will be held on Saturday morning, at Silver Run Lutheran Church by the pastor Rev. A. G. Wolfe.

He is survived by his wife by second marriage, and by the following children: Harvey C., of Hanover; J. Frank, near Taneytown; Howard E., of Harney; Murray E., of York; Mrs. Milton Reaver, near Harney; Mrs. Mary Myers and Mrs. Blanche M. Hughes, Westminster, and Walter S. and Hazel Irene, at home; also by four brothers and sisters; Eli, of Snyderburg; Samuel, of Westminster; George, of Hanover; David, of Cranberry Valley; Mrs. Ellen Bowitzer, of Melrose; Mrs. Mary Sullivan and Mrs. Strevig, of Westminster.

In Sad but Loving Remembrance of my dear husband, DAVID A. VAUGHN, who died February 7, 1917.

You have gone from me, dear husband. To your Saviour good and true. You have won the heavenly glory. Which is yet for me to do.

From this world of grief and trouble. To a land of peace and rest; You have landed in the arms of Jesus. There to everlasting rest. By his WIFE.

Mayfield (Ky.) Daily Messenger: "The Court house was packed last night with the best people of the city to hear the lecture of Editor Edmund P. Crowe. He entertained them highly for over an hour. It was better than any $1.00 lecture even given here."—At Taneytown Opera House, Tuesday, Feb. 15.

MUST SAVE MONEY "Bobba is always reminiscing. He seems to live in the past." "Well, considering the advanced cost of living I don't blame him."

Contrast. When books to me the agent sold His air was bland and mellow. But the collector harsh and cold Was quite a different fellow.

Truthful. The Dad—I don't know about lending you any more money. When I lent you some two months ago, you told me that you only wanted it for a little while. The Boy—Well, dad, I didn't keep it long.

Without Effect. "To see ourselves as others see us would, as the poet suggests, cause us to think things over." "Perhaps," replied Miss Cayenne. "But it doesn't seem to make much of an impression on some of the motion picture stars."

No Value Received. "Just my luck!" old Si Skinner groaned. "What is?" "Why, my wife's up and died, and we married only ten years—that $5 I gave the preacher to marry us practically wasted!"

Had To. Old Man—Yes, sir; I've smoked for 29 years, and then all of a sudden I quit. Young Man—What brought about the change after so many years? Old Man—Went to work in a gasoline plant.

Uncomfortable. "He's an uncomfortable man." "What do you mean?" "One of the kind that never wants to get to the depot until just about the minute the train is scheduled to pull out."

A Prize. "What's this?" "The picture of a Congo beauty." "I wouldn't call her a beauty." "Well, it depends on the point of view. In the Congo she might be worth six head of cattle."

SMILES COME AGAIN TO PRETTY FACES

The Charm of Good Health Has Its Source in Rich Red Blood. Nothing on Earth so Necessary for Beauty

PEPTO-MANGAN BUILDS RED BLOOD Restores the Quality of Your Blood, Brings Back Your Color and Renews Vitality

Personal charm is like a light. It sheds its rays everywhere. Is the light of your personal charm hidden under the bushel of bad blood? Instead of habitual smiles do you wear a tired look—almost a scowl? Do you tire easily? Are you pale and lacking in vital energy and ambition?

You are not really ill. Your blood has become weak and sluggish. It is half starved. What you need is the blood-making qualities of that splendid tonic, Pepto-Mangan. After you have taken Pepto-Mangan a little while you will feel a big improvement. The smiles will come back. People will see a difference in you. You will have plenty of rich red blood and feel stronger.

Pepto-Mangan has been building red blood for years. Physicians prescribe it right along. It has just the ingredients that starved blood needs. Sold in liquid and tablet form. Both have the same effect. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.

The Lost Model

A chicken fair I used to see,
A "poifect" "thirty-six" was she.
Potash and Pearlmutter's store
Was where she "glode" across the floor.

Such airy grace and form divine
Did credit to the house's line;
But now her face and figure neat
Is seen no more along the street.
It happened thus and came out so—
Potash to Sykesville once did go;
He bought a cloaking line and slick.
Said he "this here will do the trick.
Rabinowitz will have to buy
When this fine clothing strikes his eye."
He took it back and cut a style
Competitors were beat a mile.
Rabinowitz came and saw, and fell.
Gazed long and looked for quite a spell.

He ordered big, Style 4-6-9;
Could not forget that maid divine
And soon his love he could not hide,
And she is now Rabin's bride.

Our Woollens will please you,
Our prices are low.

I. The Tribute Money (vv. 15-22).
The Pharisees and Herodians pur-posed to entrap Jesus and bring Him into conflict with the Roman government, so they came to Him with the subtle question, "Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar or not?" At this time the Jews were galling under the yoke of the Roman government. Some even denied the right to pay tribute to the government. To have answered this question by "yes" or "no" would have involved difficulties. To have answered "yes" would have conveyed the impression of endorsement of all that the Roman government did. To have answered "no" would have at once brought Him into conflict with the government. It is not an easy matter for a Christian always to determine his right relation to civil government.
Many a minister has made a failure of his work because he tried to solve the problem. Christ's reply to this question, properly understood and applied, is the final word on the subject. Until the civil authorities demand of us that which is a violation of God's law, we are bound to render unto them obedience. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's" means the highest obligation. Since enjoying His protection and care it is our duty to owe allegiance to Him,
to yield our lives to Him in service, worship and praise. Every one who enjoys the benefits of civil government is obliged to pay the taxes which are necessary for the support of that government, and every one who receives God's favor is placed under a like obligation unto Him.

II. The Great Commandment in the Law (vv. 34-40).

For the third time in one day the Lord is tried by hard questions. While these questioners were actuated by wrong motives, we may be forever glad that they put these questions to Him because of the invaluable truth which His answers set forth.

1. The first commandment (vv. 34-38). "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind." This means that supreme and undivided love to God is the first and great commandment. This at once shows that man's supreme obligation is to God.
It is wrong to evaluate man's character on the basis of his morality as expressed in his relation to his fellow man.

2. The second commandment (vv.
39-40). The second commandment is like unto the first in that it centers in love. It is not said that it is equal unto the first; that would not be true.
A man may love himself, but not su-premely. One's love for his neighbor may be either too much or too little.
The measure set is love for self. We should love God better than ourselves.
He is worthy of all our affections and demands all. Love is not mere emotion, but a supreme desire for the welfare of another and a willingness to do everything possible to secure that end. The command to love our neighbor is involved in the command to love God. To pretend to love God is folly if we do not love our neighbor. No one does really love his neighbor who does not love God. To attempt to establish a brotherhood among men without the recognition of the Fatherhood of God is utter nonsense. Men become children of God by faith in Jesus Christ. It is true that in the sense of being God's creatures all men are God's children, but in the New Testament sense men are only God's children as they are in Christ. Beware of the man who is constantly crying for the brotherhood of man and is at the same time rejecting Jesus Christ.
The only real way to bring in the brotherhood of man is to preach Jesus Christ unto the race and secure their acceptance of Him. We thus become brothers in the real sense of the term, when we have God as our Father. All obligations resting upon man are embraced in these two commandments.
Those who conform their lives to them are God's children and are the very best citizens.

Worldly Fame.

Worldly fame is but a breath of wind that blows now this way, and now that, and changes name as it changes direction.—Dante.

Fame is an undertaker that pays but little attention to the living, but bedizens the dead, furnishes out their funerals and follows them to the grave.
—Colton.

Fame.

Fame, like the river, is narrowest
where it is bred, and broadest afar off.
—Dovenant.

TOPIC

Moody Bible Institute Monthly
Chicago, Ill.

February 13
"Thy Kingdom Come" in My Home
Matthew 6:7-15

This is the second topic under the general title, "Thy Kingdom Come."
First, we considered "Thy Kingdom Come in my Heart," now we are to ponder the coming of the kingdom in the home.
The kingdom can come in the home
only as it first comes to the individual heart, and the kingdom can come to the heart only as the King comes into the heart. There is absolutely no other way. Rules and regulations, standards and ideals have a place in home life, but they can never produce the kingdom of God in the home. This kingdom cometh not through human devices. There is a love shed abroad in the heart by the Holy Spirit giving unto us which is as necessary for the home maker as for the foreign missionary. The presence or absence of this love determines the presence or absence of the kingdom of God in the home.

The moral qualities of the kingdom of God, righteousness, peace, and joy will abound in that home where the kingdom is established. The display of these qualities will be limited only as the reign of Christ in the home is limited. As Christ is formed within,
by the operation of the Holy Spirit,
so will the home become Christ-like
and the fruit of the Spirit abound.
This is the only effective antidote to the selfishness, favoritism and discord that mark and mar so many homes.
"Thy kingdom come" in my home,
must be followed by "Thy will be done"—in my home. This will of God must surely include such things as the family altar, definite religious instruction, songs of praise, wholesome religious conversation, happy Sunday afternoons, and the acknowledgement of God in all things. Such Scriptures as Deuteronomy 6:6-7, Proverbs 3:6, and 2 Timothy 3:15 provide sufficient authority and urgency for all of these things, and inasmuch as "he that doeth the will of God abideth forever" we may expect from the doing of these things a fruitage that shall be eternal.

Until the home is rightly related to God, it cannot be rightly related to other homes and other interests. The first four of the Ten Commandments deal with relationships toward God, and the remaining six take up the matter of human relationships. Lawlessness in society, now so prevalent and frightful, is the inevitable result of lawlessness toward God. If children are not taught reverence for the worship of God, the name of God, and the weekly rest day of God, they will disregard the other commands. "Thou shalt do no murder"; "Thou shalt not steal"; "Thou shalt not bear false witness."

The home is the key to the situation. A few weeks before Mr.
Moody died, he said to a number of Bible students, "If God spares my life another ten years, I shall devote it to the building up of the family altar in the American home." Twenty years have gone by since those words were spoken. The need was great then. It is greater now. Oh, that some man of God may be raised up to do the work Mr. Moody hoped to do in and for the home! Without it, we shall drift on the rocks and be wrecked.

Ethics of Shoveling.

You can make a science out of anything. You may remember the old joke about the Irishman who said that Hogan was a good shoveler, but he wasn't what you'd call a fancy shoveler. A big plant that manufactures shovelers has made a study of shovel-ology and has unearthed some interesting facts. For instance, a good shoveler should pick up a heavier load than 21 pounds. A good shoveler should not throw further than ten feet horizontally or eight feet vertically.
Shovelers should have two ten-minute periods of complete relaxation every two hours. Shovelers should work in pairs, not alone. Two men together will shovel twice as much as two alone. Now, spit on your hands and go to it!—Cincinnati Enquirer.

First American Stock Market.

The first congress of the United States, while in session in Federal hall on Wall street, New York, in 1788-89, authorized and subsequently issued bonds (then called stock) amounting to $80,000,000 for the purpose of discharging debts incurred by the Continental congress and the various colonies. This naturally led to orders for the purchase and sale of these bonds being sent to New York. These orders first came to merchants, attorneys and others, but later, as the transactions increased, some men began to give special attention to this business, becoming the first brokers
in America.

Water Affects Varnish.

The varnish on some furniture is so hard and smooth that finger marks and soiled places may be removed with a cloth wrung out of lukewarm suds, made with white soap, and the finish restored by rubbing with a cloth,
on which a few drops of light lubricating oil or furniture polish has been sprinkled. In many cases this is a good method to use on the tops of dining tables, but in general it is unwise to put water on varnished, oiled or waxed surfaces. Painted and enameled furniture may, of course, be washed like any other surface so finished.

You Pay for a Tractor
Whether You Own One or Not

Here's one way of looking at the tractor proposition—

Whether you own a tractor or not you are paying for one just the same. In other words, if you haven't a tractor you probably are not plowing as deep as you should—are not getting the work done as quickly and seasonably as you should—are using more horses and expensive hired help than is necessary—are not getting full crop production from your land—are not farming as profitably, and the money you lose by not owning a tractor would soon pay for one.

But don't buy too hastily. Talk with tractor owners—study the performance, the cost of operation, the upkeep expense—learn just what each tractor offers.

And be sure to see the OilPull. Study its design—note its sturdy construction—its power in the drawbar and belt—its trouble proof ignition and lubricating systems.

Think of the benefits of guaranteed kerosene burning—oil-cooling—25% reserve power—proved dependability, economy and long life.

Remember that the initial cost of an OilPull tractor is distributed over a greater number of years of service than other tractors. The first OilPulls built 11 years ago are still at work, having paid for themselves many times over.

We offer a selection of four sizes of OilPulls—12-20, 16-30, 20-40 and 30-60 H. P.—a size to fit your farm.

With Clean Hands

"Give us cheaper food," the consumers cry. Farmers have responded, in the face of discouraging difficulties.
Yet the consumers still cry out against the high cost of foodstuffs, and against the farmers.
The National Grange demands that the complaint be lodged against those who are truly to blame—against food manipulators and wasteful distributors. And the distributor is the city man's neighbor; food distribution is the city man's problem. Not until the consumers clear themselves of responsibility for high prices can they come with clean hands to criticize or even help the producers.

The hands of the Grange are clean.
All its acts have been for the benefit of producer and consumer alike. Because it has helped the farmer to do his share in producing, it can fittingly say to the city consumer: "Yours and yours only is the task of remedying
food distribution evils."
On the score of its clean record for service the Grange merits your support. And it urges, too, your support for the work of THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, which has stood with the farmer in his cleanly-fought fight for a decent living—has thrown light on what happens between the producer and the consumer. It will keep you informed of the newest methods in the management of your farm business and provide wholesome entertainment for your whole family.

TANEYTOWN LOCAL COLUMN

Brief Items of Local News of Special Interest to Our Home Readers.

One of the chief items of local news, this week, has been "bad roads."

Mrs. M. S. Baumgardner and Miss Annie Baumgardner spent Thursday in Hanover.

Miss Flora Spangler spent the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Spangler, at Union Mills.

We registered the 71st public sale for the season, this week. Not up to last year—but a big sale business.

The P. O. S. of A. degree team is requested to meet at their hall, on Monday night, for rehearsal. Every member is asked to be present.

Miss Alice Harman returned last Friday evening from attending the millinery openings at Baltimore, and left again Saturday morning for Lancaster, Pa.

Rev. Guy P. Bready is teaching in our High School, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Crapster, and Miss Laura Angell has taken the Pine Hill school.

A son of Charles Hahn, on York St. is ill with diphtheria; but is reported to be getting along well. Mr. Hahn has been confined to the house, several weeks, with neuritis.

The musical program before the lecture, next Thursday night, will be out of the ordinary, and of a character that will make it unusually enjoyable to the audience.

Miss Elizabeth Crapster left, on Thursday, for Carroll University, N. Y., where she will complete her course commenced several years ago, but temporarily left unfinished.

(For the Record.) Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frock and Samuel Frock, of Gettysburg, spent a few days in Waynesboro, with Vernon Frock and family, and also visited Mrs. Lydia Lewis, of Carlisle, Pa.

Rev. S. C. Hoover formerly of Silver Run, this county, has been unanimously elected to succeed Rev. John A. Ditzler, pastor of the Frederick City Church. He will take charge of the pastorate at once.

Mrs. Helen Engelbrecht and son, D. Steiner, have removed their household effects from Philadelphia, to Taneytown, and will go to live with George Nau's, near Cumberland, for a while.

Harry I. Reindollar accompanied by Robert S. Reindollar, of Fairfield, attended the 20th. annual hardware dealers convention, in Philadelphia, this week. This meeting is largely of the character of an Exposition, as about 400 manufacturers and jobbers have exhibits.

Senator Smith beat the field with "free seed" to the Record office. A package will be given to each person who will plant the seed, as long as the supply lasts. Just one assortment—beet, carrot, lettuce, radish, tomato. Senator France came a few days later, with about the same assortment.

Taneytown merchants do not advertise as extensively, nor as attractively, as they might, but as a rule they can be depended on to sell merchandise at the lowest fair prices, quality considered. Merchants in small towns must tell the truth in their advertisements, which is not always the case with the big city stores.

As will be noted by short reading notices in this issue, there will be two humorous lectures given in the Opera House, next week—Tuesday and Friday nights—for the benefit of the Taneytown High School. Admission, 25c. There will, therefore, be three lectures next week—Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

The lecture, "Women in the Politics of America," will be given next Thursday night. We can only repeat what has been said before. This is going to be a great lecture on a great and most important subject, and warning is again given to those who will attend, to come early and buy tickets NOW. If this is done, the committee may be able to increase the number of chairs.

On Monday evening, about dark, while coming home from Westminster, George A. Arnold and son, Charles, in their car, sidwiped Edw. Yingling's car, at Smoketown. The glare from the Yingling car, and rain on the windshield prevented the giving of enough room for passing. The Arnold car had a front wheel torn off and was otherwise badly used up, while the Yingling car suffered less damage. Fortunately the occupants of both cars escaped injury. Both cars were running at low speed.

Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Sanders, of Gettysburg, visited Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Hesson, last Sunday. Rev. Sanders filled the Lutheran pulpit, morning and evening, in the absence of the pastor.

Co-operative Marketing.

In order to meet the demands of the farmers of the State for accurate and comprehensive information on the subject of marketing, the University of Md. Extension Service has had prepared and is issuing a timely bulletin entitled, "Marketing Farm Products in Maryland."

The subject matter has been prepared by Dr. F. B. Bomberger, Assistant Director of the Univ. of Md. Extension Service, and embodies a survey of the methods at present in vogue in the State for the marketing of farm products, a general review of the factors underlying present marketing systems, and a summary of the more pressing needs now apparent throughout the State.

Dr. Bomberger has paid particular attention to the co-operative enterprises which have been worked out to meet Maryland conditions and the bulletin includes reports of investigational work of market methods conducted by Prof. P. F. Brookens and Dr. T. B. Thompson, which will be found highly interesting and helpful.

After reviewing the various forms of co-operative enterprises in operation in the State, Dr. Bomberger says that despite the fact that the volume of business done through co-operative agencies in the State would amount to more than $20,000,000 annually, much remains to be done if the farmers of Maryland are to keep pace with the progress made in many other parts of the country. The following objectives are suggested as the chief aids toward promoting co-operative marketing among Maryland farmers:

1. The General Assembly must be induced to enact general Co-operative Association Laws such as are in force in many States of the Union.

2. The producers of perishable products such as fruits, trucking and canning crops, etc., and of other products such as grain, wool, etc., must organize more efficiently and co-operate more effectively.

3. Funds should be provided to enable the State Board of Agriculture, in co-operation with the U. S. Bureau of Markets, to carry on a searching and complete investigation of the methods of handling perishable products in this State with especial reference to Baltimore City markets.

4. County and State Organizations affiliated with the Maryland Agricultural Society should study practical aspects of co-operation with a view to working out local, county and State programs for marketing farm products of their members.

"Women in the Politics of America"

HON. GABRIEL H. MOYER
Deputy Auditor General
of Pennsylvania

Opera House, Taneytown,
Thursday, Feb. 17, 8 P. M.

This will be one of the most timely, interesting and educating, lectures ever given in Taneytown. Women voters, especially, should hear it.

Mr. Moyer is thoroughly acquainted with practical politics in its application to good government, and has a broad vision of what our country needs from its electorate, especially considering the new and perplexing questions that confront us. He is not an alarmist, but has a message of vital interest to all good citizens of America. This lecture is given for the benefit of the Taneytown SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL fund, which needs further financial support in order to continue the work planned for the location.

A Musical Program will precede the Lecture, making an evening of both enjoyment and instruction.

ADMISSION ONLY 25 CENTS.
No reserved seats. Doors open at 7:30. The program will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. For those who desire to avoid the rush at the ticket window, tickets can be obtained in advance at McKinney's Drug Store, and at The Record office.
