THE COUNTY'S FINANCIAL SITUATION

An Authentic Statement Should Be Issued to Taxpavers.

The temporary embarrassment of the County Treasury is due, so it is stated in the Sentinel of last week, to the following payments by the county;

Construction of Littlestown road70,000 Losses due to repeal of the Shoemak-48.000 er law

Increase in cost of dirt roads 19,000 Assessment on lateral roads 25,000 Taneytown-Keymar road 27,000 Bridge repairs not expected 13,000

$202,000 From the above it is seen that the total of the first two items, $118,000, represents a sum that the county ex-pected the State to reimburse it for, and especially the $70,000 which the State Roads Commission, at that time, agreed to pay, but which the present Road Commission appears to repudiate.

The $48,000 said to have been lost by the repeal of the Shoemaker law, seems to be another case in which the county should not be the loser, as a debt contracted in good faith under an administration, or law, should be paid, and not legislated into the dis-

A BIG FIGHT COMING

Signs are multiplying that forecast a fight between what may be generalized as Righteousness and Unrighteousness, in the not very distant future.

Issues and individuals at present fighting single battles, must sconer or later pool interests, and combine. Some of these divisions are: For and Against, prohibition, Sabbath observance, race track gambling, Radicalism of various sorts, the "personal liberty" issue, respect for courts and law, and in general all those issues that represent virtue against vice.

Sneering at "professional reformers" and "uplifters" is either justifiable, or it is low-down business; and which side is the strongest, must be demonstrated.

What constitutes the "peoples" business, and the "church's" business, must be defined and understood clearly.

What is "the church ?" If the active, visible church is largely the professed members of the church, in the pews, then in whatever measure the church is said to have failed, its members must first have failed.

If "the people" are the church, as "the people" are the government, then real church people must line up and say what shall be, and what shall not be.

If this is the correct idea of what the church in action is, then the church can not afford longer to be bluffed with the advice to "keep cut of politics." Webster says, "Politics is the science and art of government"--- "managing or directing affairs of public policy." If the people fail in doing this for the best interests of the best people, why should not the church, as "the people" do it ?

FARMERS INSTITUTES HELD. Meetings full of Interest and Well Attended.

Although only three Farmers' In-stitutes were held in the county last week, they were very well attended by the men and women, boys and girls of the farm. Everybody was pleased with the speakers and many questions were asked during the speaking. The meetings are very informal, more of a round table discussion than a dry lecture.

The weather man was certainly kind three of the finest days of the winter fell on the dates set for the Institutes. Because of the fine days the attend-ance at the afternoon meetings was small, but the night meetings more than filled the place of meeting.

Miss Ola Day held separate meet-ings for the women in the afternoon, when topics of interest to the women were discussed

Mr. G. H. Debell discussed the care and management of swine, with parti-cular reference to the use of forage pastures to produce pork most economically. The kind of forage crop and the general direction for growing same was explained by Mr. F. W. Oldenburg. The use of good seed of high germination and purity test was one of the main points of this talk. The night meetings were addressed by Mr. Oldenburg on the selection of seed, variety and type of corn to grow. The speaker took the Maryland ex-hibit to the National Hay and Grain Show 1919 when Maryland did herself proud by winning eleven of first six-teen prizes. When the season is long

Miss Ola Day talked on the selection of foods for the family, with special reference to the vitimines, which play n important part in the choosing of a menu today, especially for children.

County Agent Fuller gave a short illustrated talk on Boys' Club Work, taking up the Corn, Pig and Potato Clubs and explaining the requirements for each.

Mr. Debell gave an interesting talk on the need of organization among the farmers, with special reference to live stock and the pure bred sire, which he illustrated on the screen with some very fine pictures produced by slides from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Institutes were held in Pleasant Valley with an attendance of 272, Eldersburg 119, and Keysville 144.

State Roads to be Kept Open.

Every main or "semi-main" highway in rural Maryland is to have its snow plow next winter to keep open for the farmer the road to his country store and his postoffice, and give him assured connection with the county seat and the city of Baltimore over the system of State thoroughfares. This announcement was made by Governor Ritchie on Thursday following receipt by him from Chairman John N. Mackall, of the State Roads Commission, upon the success of the road-cleaning experiment during the snowstorm this The expense was comparaweek. tively light, although over 500 miles of roads were kept open. The Governor's statement promising extension of the plan to all of the State roads in another year follows: As an experiment, the State Roads Commission during the recent snow storm undertook to keep several of the main highways of the State free from snow. The sections selected were from Oakland, Keyser, Cumberland, Hagerstown, Frederick, Baltimore, Belair and Elkton to the Pennsylvania line; the Annapolis boulevard, from Baltimore to Annapolis; the Baltimore-Washington boulevard, and the main roads in Southern Maryland, the whole covering a distance of approximately 500 miles. This was effected with a fleet of motor-trucks, to which were attached specially constructed snow-plows. Despite the fact that the snow storm of Saturday night and Sunday was as havy or heavier than those usually encountered, the entire sections were kept open to traffic and by Monday morning these roads were entirely free from snow for the full width.

Acceptance.

President-elect Harding has announced that he has appointed Charles Evans Hughes as Secretary of State, and that he has accepted. He also states that, "Mr. Hughes, from the beginning, will speak for the State Department," and the remark is quite significant, in view of recent history connected with this department. The naming of Mr. Hughes, although practically assured for some time, is gen-erally commended as being above crit-a great Attorney-General." Edwin Denby, of Detroit, has been named as Secretary of the Navy, the first big surprise. Mr. Denby is an attorney, a former member of Con-gress, spent ten years in the Chinese Maritime Customs service with his father, and served as gunner's mate in the Navy during the Spanish-Amer-ican War, and as Sergeant in the Marine Corps during the World War. Mr. Hoover has definitely accepted his appointment, with the understanding that he shall continue his present European relief work.

Secretary of the Treasury-Andrew W. Mellon, of Pennsylvania, a banker and financier, member of a family reputed to be among the wealthiest in this country.

Secretary of War-John W. Weeks of Massachusetts, former United States Senator and in 1916 a candiof date for the presidential nomination. Postmaster General-William H. Hays, of Indiana, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Secretary of the Interior—Albert B. Fall, of New Mexico, now a United States Senator.

Secretary of Agriculture-Henry Wallace, of Iowa, editor of farm publications.

Secretary of Labor-James J. Davis. of Pennsylvania and Illinois, a former union steel-worker. Mr. Davis has not yet accepted. Some of the above appointments are in the tentative class, and may be changed at the last minute, especially in cases in which definite acceptances have not been announced.

It is claimed by those close to Mr. Harding, that only Fourth-class postmasters are by law under the Civil Service; and that President Wilson's order placing all postmasters under the law, will be revoked—one political act, nullified by another political act.

School Buildings for Sale.

On another page will be found an unusual advertisement-public school buildings for sale. As we understand it, most of these properties are no longer needed for school purposes, some of them having been unoccupied for as long as three and four years. In the case of the properties at Silver Run and Union Mills, these things, were rightly appreciated-not will not be needed after June, on ac-count of the consolidation of the two schools.

The cause of the disuse of these school properties is the result of the average attendance falling below the average fixed by law; and as the Superintendent of schools felt that he had no discretion in the matter, these schools practically closed themselves.

This sale of school buildings but emphasizes the fact that the population of open country districts is decreasing, while the urban population is increasing, or holding its own. Better roads may also play some part in making a smaller number of schools supply rural community needs.

Eleven hundred motorcycles and bicycles placed under the hammer last week brought the three-day sale of Government vehicles at Camp Holabird to a close with a total of about 3,300 sold. The amount realized was about $380,000.

For the accommodation of individual buyers, however, the machines in best condition were sold singly, the motorcycles bringing from $100 to $150 each and bicycles $17. #### Marketing Farm Products.

Bulletin No. 22, issued by the Extension Service of the University of Md., College Park, is named "Marketing Farm Products in Maryland," and written by F. B. Bomberger. It is a pamphlet of 58 pages, and is for free distribution.

From a somewhat hasty reading of the pamphlet it seems to cover a very complete personal investigation of the subject among commission men wholesalers and retailers of Balti-more and while it states that present marketing conditions are unsatisfactory, there does not seem to be given any clear and practical plan for overcoming them, but cites the many dif-ficulties existing between producer and consumer, and the need for many agencies to bring the two together.

It apparently does not find the un-necessary "middle-man" profiteer, and does not charge any particular class with making too much money. We may not have read and studied the investigation closely enough, but evi-dently it is one which shippers of perishable products will find interesting and may get more out of them than we have.

The Record is gratified to know ago, that elections be held less frequently, or one every two years, is ica: being seriously considered on the initiative of Hon. Geo. R. Gaither. There every two years can not be worked out, for the reason that the shortest term of office of any official, National, state or county, in the State of Maryland, is a two years term.

To accomplish that object presents no complicated legislative problem. Elections unnecessary to public welfare can be cut out by means of a constitutional amendment providing for legislative elections every four years instead of two, and the extension by two years of the State Comp troller's term. T. 1010 /1

In 1919 there were 5527 automobiles stolen in New York. In London 290 were stolen and in Liverpool only 10.

In 1918 Chicago had 22 robberies for every one robbery in London and 14 for every robbery in England and Wales.

Los Angeles in 1916 had 64 more robberies than England, Scotland and Wales combined.

Liverpool is one-third larger than Cleveland, yet Cleveland in 1919 reported 31 times as many robberies as Liverpool.

Chicago is only one-third the size of London yet had 12 times as many murders as London in one year. In 1917 Chicago had more murders than England, Scotland and Wales combined.

The cost of crime, of contempt of the law, of police inadequacy, of court procrastination directly and indirectly is appalling.

What's the answer?-Philadelphia Ledger.

tablishment at Chattanooga of the first "golden rule factory" in America. Business men and wage earners alike will watch the experiment with sympathy and curiosity.

What is a golden rule factory? The details as given furnish this definition: A factory which pays union wages or even more, which sets aside an amount sufficient to pay dividends of 7% per annum on the capital stock and divides all remaining profits equally between the worker's and the stockholders. Ultimately the factory may be turned over to the workers, provided they demonstrate the ability and express the desire to manage the property, and provided they agree to pay the 7% dividends. What will happen if the profits vanish, or if the dividend has to be reduced ? What will happen if the factory is operated at a loss because of adverse conditions ? How is the question of the union versus the open shop to be settled ? How is efficient and progressive management to be assured at all time-including the RAYMOND ROUTSON, who departed this life four years ago, February 22, 1917.

Oh the sadness of that evening, When we stood around his bed: Our hearts were filled with sorrow, When we knew that he was dead.

I will never forget you dear son While in this world I stay When the Angel of death calls me Meet me dear son, on the way.

Farewell dear son, a sad farewell, The loss to me no tongue can tell, Your stay on earth was short but sweet We hope in Heaven that we shall meet

Whilst sweetly in the dust I sleep, And when you come my grave to see Prepare yourself to follow me, Prepare in time make no delay. For I was quickly called away But one thought holds sway: Ve will meet again, dear son, And be happy some sweet day.

By his Mother, MRS. ROUTSON.

Dearest brother how we miss you, Even more than tongue can tell, But every day and hour that passes, Brings us nearer with thee to dwell.

Four sad years have passed dear brother, Yet it seems but yesterday; Since we saw them place your form. Beneath the cold and silent clay.

Oh, may we meet you, dear brother. When friends no more shall weep For those who die in Jesus, Their rest is only sweet.

FIGURES IN POLISH HISTORY

Countess Potocka, of Obscure Birth, Became Wife of Great Nobleman of That Country.

The Countess Potocka lived obscurely in the days between the first and second partitions of Poland. She was born in 1766, and was the daughter of a Greek shoemaker at Constantinople Her extraordinary beauty and her poverty brought her to misfortune. A French consul named Boscamp took her away from Constantinople to Poland. There she is said to have married a Russian general, and later to have divorced him.

Then she married Count Stanislaw Felix Potocka, one of the wealthiest noblemen of Europe, a Pole of great influence but slight ability, who is regarded as a traitor who did much to bring ruin to Poland. The countess lived for many years in Berlin, where her beauty created a furore in the ranks of society. She died there in 1822.

Count Potocka was the Rockefeller of Poland. He owned several castles and enormous estates, possessing in the Ukraine alone no less than 3,000,-000 acres. When he became of age he married secretly a very attractive cousin. When the story of their elopement was divulged there were terrible scenes. Although he was old enough to be a husband Felix was flogged and his young wife, berated and shunned, finally threw herself into a pond to escape her persecutors.

CHOSE POOR PLACE TO REST

Traveler in Spain Not Fully Aware as to Just What Uses Beds Were Sometimes Put.

An American tells of a visit he once made to the town of Yuste, in the northwestern corner of Spain. He had sought rest under discouraging circumstances, after a ride on muleback over miles of dusty road. While the hostess of the inn was preparing his dinner he proposed to himself to rest upon the bed in the public room.

Nothing could, he says, have been more tempting than that cool white bed, after his laborious trip, and without saying a word to the Senora Pareno, he threw himself at full length upon it.

Scarcely had he done so when a shriek arose, and the little woman flew at him like a wild creature. She seized him and dragged him off the bed with the strength of two men. He was too much dazed to resist, but neutroted before her retreated before her.

"Oh, Dios mio. Dios mio!" she shouted. "They are ruined-ruined !" Whereupon she tore back the cover of the bed, and to the traveler's amazement disclosed row after row of biscuits! They had been placed there to rise. To rise! Down the center of the rows his weight had flattened them beyond recognition; only at the farthest edge had a few escaped.

cellular and the specific gravity of the stone is so low that dry pumice floats in water. The known deposits on dry land are not considerable, although the stone is scattered over large areas of the world's ocean bed.

Italian pumice is the highest grade known to the trade. The volcanic island of Lapri lying off the north coast of Sicily about 40 miles from the Italian mainland, is the seat of the indus-

Pumice is used chiefly by automobile and carriage manufacturers, marble workers, lithographers, platers and manufacturers of patent leather and enamel. Crushed to powder, it is used for scouring and polishing. #### Much Iron in Philippines.

The finest unworked iron fields in the world have been discovered in the Philippines, according to a report from government experts recently received by the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, says the Washington Post. The quantities of ore adjacent to good harbors, they state, will be sufficient to assure the future iron and steel production in the United States for generations. Already land believed to contain more than 500,000,000 tons has been surveyed. Deposits on the island of Mindanao are believed to be without a rival. They contain 275,000,000 tons close to good harbors and 130,000,000 tons within easy transportation distance of Dajkin bay, perhaps the best natural harbor on the islands. Only crude iron work in primitive smelters is being carried on at present.

The Defiling Hand of Man.

It is a humiliating reflection that man, when he comes in his numbers, defiles and defaces, and makes ugly more than the wild beast. One has but to find his trail on any green place. The orange peels, the dirty and torn newspapers, the old boots, the broken crockery and utensils, have power to destroy beauty and peace and banish the Spirit of Place. When he stretches out a hand over what once was countryside, how depressing are his little houses, his clinker paths, in fields where the mole delved industriously from dawn to dark, where the lark climbed a thousand winding stairs into Heaven .-- Katherine Tynan in the King's Highway.

REWARDS OF FAITHFULNESS.

LESSON TEXT-Matt. 25:14-30. GOLDEN TEXT-Well done, good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things. I will make thee ruler over many things -Matt. 25:23

REFERENCE MATERIAL - Matt. 25: 11-46; Luke 19:11-27; Rom. 12:1-8; I Pet. 4:10. PRIMARY TOPIC-Doing Our Best. JUNIOR TOPIC-Duties and Rewards. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC Fettivil Use of Our Ablitic

-Faithful Use of Our Abilities YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC -The Use or Neglect of Our Resources.

This parable, like that of the ten virgins, is associated with the Second ness consisted in their failure of inward life-absence of the Holy Ghost. In this of the talents it consisted in their failure to properly use the gifts which had been in; rusted to them. The first was failure to watch; the second, failure to work.

ents were given to be traded with. They were not given to be used for one's own gain and profit, but as stock in trade for the enrichment and glory of the Master.

(vv. 16-18).

1. All the servants recognized that · the talents were not their own-that they were responsible to the Lord for the use made of them. We are not responsible for the creation of gifts, but for the employment of such gifts as have been given to us.

2. Two servants used their talents. The five talented man put his to use and gained five more. The two talented man put his to use and gained two more. This shows that God's gifts can be increased. The exercise of any gift increases it. The faithful use of what we have in the place we are will prepare us for greater usefulness and honor.

3. The one hid his talent. The fact that one possesses but one talent should not discourage him, but should make him strive harder. God sees not reward according to what we possess, but according to our faithfulness. The crime of the one talented man was not that he had but one talent, but that

How Can We Make Our Lives Useful? Ephesians 6:5-8

The lesson text deals with the unseen forces of the inner life—"doing the will of God from the heart, with good will, doing service as to the Lord and not to men." It is this that gives tone and quality to service, and increases the measure of our useful-ness. Any given task may be under-taken and accomplished in such a spirit as to do either good or harm. Many a puble and worthy piece of the spirit as the set of the spirit as the spirit a Many a noble and worthy piece of work has been spoiled by the manner of spirit in which it was done, while many a menial task has been glorivirgins, is associated with the Second Coming of Christ. In both instances the unpreparedness for His coming on the part of the people is exhibited. In that of the ten virgins their unreadiing of small things in a great and worthy way. This requires grace, the operation of the Spirit of God Mules suitable for the market. within the life.

It changes the attitude and disposition of life. It creates a new and correct sense of values. It magnifies and glorifies service and sacrifice, things which the world secretly despises and seeks to avoid. This it does, as in verses 5-8, by placing the ultimeter waster of the life or the second. ultimate mastery of the life on Christ. "Servants be obedient . . . as unto Christ," knowing that the service is not unnoticed by Him, and being assured that in the day of reckoning the servant shall receive from the Lord a full reward for every good accomplished.

Christians may make their lives the fact that they possess the ability to use them. 3. It was a purposeful act. The talbe rendered "making the time" might be rendered "making the most of your time," or, as in the margin of the Revised Version, "buying up the opportunities." The picture is that of a man going to market, on the look-out for a business concentration look-out for a business opportunity, 11. The Employment of the Talents | a bargain, and ready to buy up that opportunity when it presents itself. So must the servant of Christ, if he would increase his usefulness, be on the look-out in order that he may "by all means save some." The following incident will illustrate this matter of buying up the opportunities: A Christian worker visited the home of uncoverted friend. At the close of the visit, just as he was about to leave the house, the unconverted man said to him, "Come in here and see our little ones." He stepped into a our little ones." He stepped into a side room and saw two beautiful chil-dren sleeping. He then turned to the father and said, "And these children are never to get any counsel from their father about finding their way to heaven." The father was deeply moved and in a few days sought and found the Saviour. A month later he joined the church, and became a faith-ful worker and anthusiastic support ful worker and enthusiastic supporter of its ministries. In order to be continually useful in this way one must walk closely with Christ. The promise of Matthew 5:19 still holds good, "Follow me, and ye shall be-

The Soul of the Grange

"Within Grange halls I have witnessed all the problems of life worked out: Acquaintance ripen into courtship and marriage, the next generation appear and be accepted into the order, old age give way to youth and then pass to the Great Husbandman. I have seen bitterness turned to forgiveness under the careful hand of peacemakers. Always the influence has been one to create a bond of friendship."

-From THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN of May 15th, 1920.

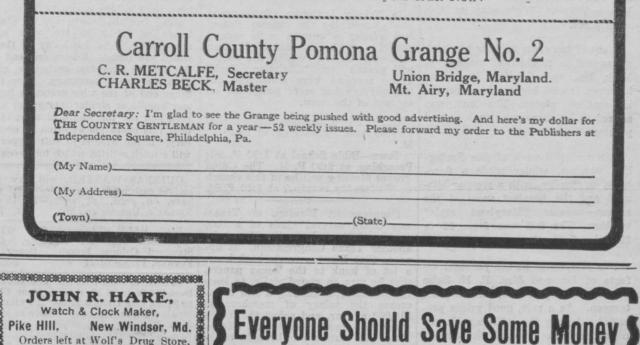

The soul of the Grange is manifest in the farm home. It holds that the highest achievement is a life well lived; that the foundation for such a life is the home.

III. The Accounting for the Talente (vv. 19-30).

1. Its certainty. There is a day coming when all must give an account of our stewardship.

2. The time. This will be at the coming of the Lord. If we have done well we shall then have praise. If we have been unfaithful we shall then be cast out from the presence of the Lord. Watchfulness is not idleness.

3. The judgments announced. (1) Reward of the faithful. (a) Praise-"Well done." We all like to be praised. How blessed will it be to hear from the very lips of the Lord the word "well done!" (b) Promotion-"Be thou ruler over many things." Promotion is desirable to all. Much of that to which we look forward in life is the passing from lower to higher privileges and positions. (c) Entrance upon the joy of the Lord. The fivetalented man and the two-talented man received the same praise and same promotion. (2) Punishment of the faithless. The one-talented man lied when brought to account. The talent when dug up was not the same as when it was buried-it was not of the same weight. Gifts unused are lost. The natural eyes lose their power if we live continually in darkness. This is true spiritually. The one who ceases to grow in knowledge and grace loses the capacity to grow. (a) Reproachhe was called slothful and wicked. To be called lazy is a reproach which even the lazy man dislikes. (b) Stripped. The talent which was given to him was taken from him. (c) Cast out. He was condemned on his own ground. The very fact that he knew the character of the Lord should have been an incentive for him to have exerted himself. His condition was his own fault. In the day of accounts there will be no excuse to be made.

Fountain of Gladness.

A kind heart is a fountain of gladness, making everything in its vicinity to freshen into smiles .- Washington Irving

Envy and Misery.

Envy feels not its own happiness but when it may be compared with the misery of others -- Johnson come fishers of men." The spiritual companionship of Christ makes the soul sensitive to the need of others, and keenly alert in the endeavor to meet that need.

We can make our lives increasing-ly useful through intercession. Some one has well said, "What we need today is more intensity, more reality, more of the hidden work of grace. If we are right with God we shall be right with men. If we become men of the Word and of prayer, we shall prove our worth in the field of action and practical service."

BELL CASTING IN OLD JAPAN

People Gather in Thousands to Witness Ceremony Which Has Deep Religious Significance.

The making of the bell in old Japan was accomplished by great and solemn rites, Marjorie Latta Barstow writes in Asia. For months, sometimes for years, the community had been contributing of its bronze and copper ornaments and precious possessions. For many days before the casting there were prayers to determine the auspicious moment at which to begin, and to put all spiritual beings and ministers of grace in a propitious mood. Pilgrims came from all the surrounding country, for the Japanese of long ago loved a pilgrimage as much as do their descendants today; and made of their act of piety an opportunity to enjoy a little festivity and see something of the great world. On the appointed day, men gathered in their finest attire. Then the priests appeared in rich ecclesiastical brocades and the workmen in robes beautiful and sanctified. With prayer and ceremony the work reached its climax. The great molds were prepared and the flaming, molten mass, into which had gone so many precious things, was to them what the dedication of a cathedral was to the believers of the middle ages. Before their eyes and with their own co-operation, some-thing intangible and divine assumed shape and tangibility. Many went away to become heroes in their villages because they had participated in the making of the great bell, which became more precious and mysterious as time went on, and they passed on to their children's children, even down to this day, the souvenirs of the occasion, inscribed with prayers by the presiding priests.

THE OilPull you buy this season should be faithfully and economically serving you in 1930.

This is no mere guess or prophesy. It is a statement based on actual proved performance in owners' hands.

OilPulls built eleven years ago are still performing their work as satisfactorily as the first year they were built. They show no serious results of eleven years of wear and tear, but appear good for many strenuous years to come.

The OilPull is built to last. It combines all the features that make for durability—strong frame and wheels, heavy duty motor, oversize construction in all working parts, trouble-proof oil cooling system, guaranteed kerosene burning under all conditions, every working part protected from dirt and grit. Then, it contains improvements that only an eleven year study of farming and farm problems can make possible.

Buy your tractor on the basis of the number of years of service it will give you-years of service proved by actual performance. Inquiry among tractor owners will show you the OilPull is the one tractor with proved longest life.

Senate Kills Road Bill.

The Senate, last Friday, refused to pass the $100,000,000 road bill re-cently passed by the House, and the measure is dead for this Congress. Practically all States were interested in the action in that Federal appropriations, except isolated in-stances, will be exhausted by June 30.

This leaves the co-operative roadbuilding program "in the air," and the situation is one of serious embarrassment to States with partially completed projects. Maryland and Virginia are among the States whose Federal allowances are said substantially to have been allocated and the lack of an appropriation for the next fiscal year means an interruption of road building in which the Federal Government is assisting. Projects of a purely local sort, of course, are not affected by the adverse action of the Senate.
