NEW GETTYSBURG HOSPITAL OPEN.

Finely Located and Equipped for the Care of Patients.

The Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, was opened for the cure of patients, on Tuesday, representing a gift of about $30,000, which has been supplemented by gifts from cittution as can be found in the southern tier of Pennsylvania. The physicians of the county will be in charge of the work, while Miss Carrie Stout, who comes from Philadeplhia, will be the head nurse. The business of the institution is in charge of a board of directors, of which Rev. Dr. J. A. Singmaster, the president of the Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, is chairman, and William Arch McClean, secretary.

Last Friday afternoon, at the meeting of the Adams Co. Medical Society of the Annie M. Warner Hospital, recommendations for the initial service were decided upon as follows:

Medical service—Drs. Hartman,
Crouse, T. C. Miller and Lindaman; surgical service-Drs. Dickson, Crist and Rice; X-ray service—Dr. Dalbey; laboratory service—Dr. Stewart; pediatrics—Drs. Crouse and Elgin; obstetical-Drs. Hartman and Getteir; eye, ear, nose and throat-Drs. Seaks, Dalbey and Woomer; anesthesia—Drs. Wolff and E. A. Miller.

Lecture Well Received.

On Tuesday evening, March 15, Rev. W. H. Egge, D. D., of Lebanon, Pa., lectured in the Taneytown opera house before an audience that nearly filled the house, and that showed its interest and appreciation through the whole evening. The subject of the lecture was "Stop Grumbling, and Laugh a Little." Well, for the one evening at least there was no grumbling and the whole audience joined in the laughter. With the wit and humor that largely made up the lecture there was interspersed a liberal measure of sound wisdom and advice.

Before the lecture three young men from Western Maryland College entertained the audience in a splendid manner. Mr. F. W. Paschal gave a reading entitled "The Colonel's Awakening." Mr. E. E. Coleman sang the "Bedonin Love Song," with Mr. E. E. Coleman Mr. C. L. Dawson at the piano. Both of these were so pleasing as to call The young men all did credit to themselves and to the Certificates of Stock, Diplomas, Etc.

The Record has a full line of samples of Certificates of Stock for incorporated companies, School Di-plomas, Certificates of Award, and ornamental blanks that are adapted to Rewards of Merit, and many other like purposes.

If given the time and opportunity, this office can supply many of the special needs in the way of printing, that are now sent to the large cities.

We have unusual showing of Calendars. Wall Pockets. Fans, Blotters and Fancy Cards and Folders. We also print very nice wedding invitachance, well in advance of your needs, and let us show what we can do in the way of special orders.

Our Busy Friday Mornings.

Every Friday morning our office phone is unusually busy with calls—special notices, locals, advertising of various kinds-and the mails are apt to add their quota. We wonder whether many of these late calls could not just as easily come in earlier, and whether waiting until Friday morning is not often just a very bad habit ? Friday morning is always our busy time. Naturally, we save some space for late news, and for the various demands that could not possibly come in earlier in the week. But, this space is limited, and so is our time.

Last week we had to omit several advertisements and some news matter, because of the lateness of the demands for space. Hereafter, with the decrease in sale advertising, we are apt to have more space available; but, we would like our patrons—whenever possible—not to hold back their needs until Friday morning. We like to be accommodating, but do not like to encourage bad habits.

Shipment of Wool.

All persons having wool which they would like to have made into blankets or motor robes can do so by bringing the wool to the County Agent's office

It takes 10 lbs. of clean wool to make a pair of 5 lb. blankets, with a of $5.75 for each pair. takes 8 lbs. of wool to make the motor robe with a deposit of $4.75 for each

Samples of the blankets and robes can be seen at the County Agent's office in the Times Building. THE COUNTRY DOCTOR.

Many Towns Are Contributing to Pay of Physicians.

The Youths' Companion gives the following article on a subject that is becoming oue of wide-spread interest—the scarcity of country physicians. It is good argument for the establishment of more hospitals, and the segregation of the sick

"From year to year medical education in the United States is becoming more systematic, more thorough, more scientific. Incidentally, it becomes more prolonged, more expenizens of the county, and others, of about $25,000 for equipment, $4,000 for endowment, and $5,000 for a special opening fund, so that the equipment may be said to represent a $75,000 investment. all the latest devices for the care of the sick and is as complete an institution as can be found in the sick and is as complete an institution as can be found in the sick and is as complete an institution as can be found in the sick and is as complete an institution as can be found in the sick and is as complete an institution as can be found in the sick and a reasonable cost, though without the wide clinical opportunities of the great city hospitals, are one by standard of professional education has been raised remarkably during the last generation, but there are some disconcerting results.

It is becoming harder and harder to get competent medical service in the rural parts of the country. The tendency of the great schools is to turn out intensively educated specialists, who can make a living only in the larger cities, and to make the business of getting a degree so expensive that the young doctor is not willing to consider the physical hardship and the small income of an ordinary country practice. That kindly, wise and patient figure of our childhood, the country doctor, becomes every year scarcer. We do not know whether the situation is so serious in other parts of the country as it is in New England, but there nearly half of the towns in the farming country are without a physician of any kind. The automobile helps by enlarging the radius of a town doctor's practice, but even so scores of communities are so far from a physician that it is almost impossible for a sick person to get any regular medical attention during that part of the year when sickness is most prevalent.

The need is such that a good many towns are subsidizing physicians-offering them from the own's funds a certain annual guaranty if they will come and settle there. It is a curious semi-socialistic arrangement, to which the towns are turning not from choice but from necessity. The towns that are first in the field—some of them, at least—are getting fairly competent young men. Whether the good men will be willing to stay remains to be seen. There certainly are not enough good men left to go round. Many of the smaller towns must still go without a physi-

Relief for Starving in China.

An organized effort will be made in Taneytown and vicinity to gather funds within the next three weeks for the relief of the starving in China. A meeting of some of the persons interested was held in the Sunday school room of the Reformed church, on Wednesday evening. The plan adopted has two features. The first is the sale of stamps which will be carried on through the stores. Three cents will buy a single stamp, which will provide for one person one day. One dollar invested in stamps will provide for one person one month tions and announcements. Give us a Provision must be made for millions of people-until the next harvest. The second feature of the plan is to ask for larger cash contributions. The ministers of the town will be requested to make the appeal. Contributions can be handed in at any time, but the appeal in the churches is to culminate in a special offering on the first Sunday of April. Mrs. Robert S. Mc-Kinney is treasurer of the fund for this community, and other persons will be appointed to receive funds in the various churches and hand it over to the treasurer.

Police Not After Boot-leggers.

State Auto Commissioner Baugh man has made it clear that the State police will not be employed to catch boot-leggers, unless they are violating the speed, or other State laws. He says "a truck load of liquor could pass by a State policeman and he would not halt it unless the driver was trying to get from one end of the State to the other in record

THE READY DEBATER

Do you know people who are always ready for an argument? Of course you do. There is a certain number of people in every community who are unwilling to take any statement as finished and correct It is habitual with them to-lawyer-like-argue the question.

The best writers and speakers always assume that there are exceptions to all rules and arguments, and make their statements accordingly. The debaters always take up the exceptions first, as though the writer, or speaker, criticised, has ignorantly forgotten

The "Yes-but" people may know a great deal, but they are usually tiresome. By the time you hear them through with their exceptions and extremes, you are not greatly interested in going into the real question-with them, at least.

The non-essentials in a debate represent one of the meanings of metaphysics-"a festile field of delusion, propagated by language." They are employed by those who disport themselves, as it were, more or less publicly, for the sake of the employment they get out of it, but in fact add very little to the sum of classified truth—as we sometimes expressively say "brass tacks."

SCHOOL HOUSES SOLD

Several Properties Are Withdrawn Schools May Close in Pennsylvania for the Present. for the Present.

In accordance with an advertisement which has run in our columns several weeks, a number of school buildings were offered at public auc- sidering a 95c levy for schools, while tion at the court house door, in Westminster, on Tuesday morning. Representatives of the neighborhoods affected sought to purchase the buildings that they might either be used as community centers or preserved until conditions justify the reopening of the schools. Owing to the protest by patrons of the Emory school, Hampstead district, and the Cranberry school, Westminster district, these buildings were not offered for sale, and five others were withdrawn because the bids were deemed inadequate. Former State Senator Johnzie Beasman, representing the community, purchased the Freedom school, Freedom district, for $500.00, and George B. Murphy purchased Poole's school, Berret district, for $600.00. The Wakefield school, New Windsor district, was purchased for $300.00 for the Pipe Creek Methodist Protestant church.

An Editor's Farewell Message.

Editor McCardell, of the Williamsport (Md.) Leader, discontinued his publication, recently, with the following farewell message: "With this issue we close the publication of The Leader, which we have for 50 years, with the exception of a than we need to on the doctor now- In 1870 we started The Pilot and later changed the name to The Leader. We have always endeavored to boost the Perhaps; yet a physician who knows his business saves a good many lives ments that have been established. We always stood up for what we believed to be the best for the whole people, and at times faced strong opposition, but hammered at the object until the people came to our way of thinking and saw them established. The Leader has been kept alive for several years by the merchants of Hagerstown and foreign advertisements, but now the business slump in the country for the past six months has caused us to lose much of this advertising, and to continue the publication would be at a loss. The merchants and business men of Williamsport have not supported the paper by advertising, believing that it does not pay to advertise only by window display and putting goods in front of their stores. There are about 40 business men in Williamsport and about 10 used The Leader as an advertising medium. The other advertisers wile Hagerstown merchants. So we have concluded that the majority of the people of Williamsport do not want a paper, and we have decided to quit. We thank those who supported us and wish them unbounded prosperity. To the others we say that unless they change their way of doing business, Williamsport as a business town, will be a thing of the past, for no business or town can prosper without a newspaper. town will soon be forgotten by the people of the outside world.'

Farm Work More Plentiful.

County Agent Day, of Washington County says applications are be ing made daily by men who want work on farms. A dispatch from Hagerstown to the American says: The reason given for such an influx of job hunters is the closing down of factories in the country and the reductions that have been made on the railroads, throwing hundreds of men out of employment. They are be able to know in advance how many now seeking work on the farms. When an applicant comes to the county agent's office he is questioned as to his knowledge of farm work, and is classified and sent to do such work as he is best fitted for. Every opportunity is being given applicants to find employment and at the same time to provide farmers with sufficient men for the busy season, which is at hand.

The question of wages is in the hands of the farmers to fix this year. and it is understood that there will be a reduction as compared with past years. Wages, it is stated, will be fixed at so much per hour or day, at considerable less than was paid when the situation was reversed and laborers arbitrarily set a price upon their work.

CARROLL NOT ALONE

Carroll county is not the only section having trouble with its school funds. Prince Georges county is conthe following is clipped from the Phila. Ledger as applying to conditions in Pennsylvania:

"Pennsylvania is laboring under a system of assessment and taxation of such portentous inequality and financial abuse that the schools in particular and the government in general annually are being deprived of hundreds of thousands of dollars which flow into the pockets of small politicians comprising a vast army of assessors and tax collectors.

Unless some relief from that system is obtained immediately, the school authorities say they will be forced to close schools in more than 150 districts of the State. In some districts school funds are exhausted; many of the districts are deeply in debt; all of them have exhausted their borrowing powers.

The debilitated condition of State revenues renders further State aid for the schools impossible. Fiscal agents of the commonwealth are seeking vainly for new sources of The administration's prorevenue. gram of taxation upon manufacturing corporations and natural resources appears to be facing defeat. Should that program fail, school authorities predict a collapse of educational work in rural Pennsylvania unless relief is obtained by revolutionizing the methfew years, published in Williamsport. od of assessing and collecting taxes.

John Barleycorn Gives Way.

We have an illustration of the changes produced by prohibition in the recent change of the old Fleming hotel, at Kane, Pa., to an undertaking establishment. This does not mean that there is something particularly pleasing about undertaking parlors, but the business as one that is least necessary, and when well conducted is very crditable, which can not be said of the old time bar. Mr. O. G. Brown, a son of Mr. Jos.

W. Brown, of Taneytown district, recently took over the building and opened his parlors to the public. In years agone the Fleming bar was one of the most noted in that end of the State. It was there that oil well drillers, tool dressers and lumbermen from far and near met and exchanged tales of their experiences. There business and professional men talked in more serious tones over their glasses.

The alterations and repairs which have been made since the ownership of the building came into Mr. Brown's possession, leave no trace of the days of John Barleycorn. Instead of being the swellest bar in the oil country it now is the swellest funeral es-

Plan For Marketing Potatoes.

New Jersey farmers have entered into an organization to market their potato crops this season. The crop will be handled through one central agency. Fully 500 large growers have part in the plan, and the business will be of immense proportions, as New Jersey potatoes are shipped into twenty-six States.

The agreement is for all potatoes to be sold and billed through one agency, and they will be paid from the average returns on the poolings of each days sales, whether the sales be in Philadelphia or New Orleans.

By this agreement it is expected to acres have been planted, and as harvesting approaches, about what the yield will be and how many cars a day will be needed to ship the crop without delay.

Death of Rev. M. L. Firor.

Rev. M. L. Firor, once pastor of the Union Bridge and Baust Reformed charge, died last Friday morning at Frederick City hospital, from organic and stomach trouble, aged 66 years. He had not yet been operated on. Rev. Firor was a native of Fairfield, Pa. He had wide experience in both missionary work, and pastoral work, in the Reformed church.

FARM LABOR PRICES.

Farmers to Pay 25 Cents Per Hour Without Board.

William J. Grove, president, Lime Kiln; George A. T. Snouffer, Adams-town, and Frank M. Stevens, Creagerstown, representing the Farmers Association attended a large meeting of farmers at Sandy Spring, Montgomery county, Thursday under the auspices of the Farmers' Club, of Sandy Spring. Two of the local rep-resentatives Mr. Grove and Mr. Snouffer, delivered short addresses.

The meeting was a gathering of representative farmers of Montgomery and adjoining counties and proved an interesting occasion. President Wood and Prof. Bomberger of the Maryland Agricultural College, and a speaker from the Department of Agriculture Washington, delivered the principle addresses. The subjects of farm labor wages, co-operation on part of farmers and methods of disposing of farm products to the best advantage to the producer, were discussed to considerable length and useful information was imparted by each speaker. Mr. Grove dwelt to some length on farm labor and touched upon organization work among farmers best calculated to accomplish results. Mr. Snouffer also referred to those subjects. At the conclusion of the addresses a resolution was passed setting farm labor at 25 cents per hour, the laborer boarding himself, or paying at the rate of 25 cents for each meal.—Fred'k News.

COUNTY FARMERS TAKE SECOND STEP

Meeting For Completion of Farmers Federation a Success.

The meeting in the County Agent's office last Saturday for the purpose of completing the County Federation was a big success and was well at-

Mr. Herbert Wooden, of Snydersburg Grange, acted in the place of the president who could not be there be-cause of sickness. County Agent Fuller acted as secretary of the meeting. After the reading of the min-utes Dr. F. B. Bomberger, Assistant Director of Extension Work of University of Maryland, gave a talk on the County Federation plan of work. He said the federation would not be a super-organization to swallow up the individual organizations, but that each local organization, or countywide organization, would retain their individuality but would all co-operate in the federation in forming a county-wide program. The federation is formed by six delegates from each of the local and county-wide organizations. This body in turn is represented on the council of the Mary-land Agricultural Society by sending a member to that organization. This organization is then already affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation. This organiza-tion at present has four committees working on the marketing of wheat, live stock, canned goods, and dairy products, and spends annually $250, 000 in securing information in order to better the conditions of the Ameri-

The constitution for the Federation was read and adopted. The purposes of this organization are:

(a) to increase the efficiency of all community organizations in the county by bringing to each of them the support of every other local community organization for their mutual

(b) to enable the farmers of the county to speak in a united way upon questions of public concern.

(c) to encourage and develop all the interests of rural life, such as, production, transportation distribution and sale of products; purchase of supplies; education, recreation, sanitation and the development of community spirit and service in every neighbor-

The federation meetings held every two months will be open to all interested in the work, but only delegates can vote. The next meeting will be held April 9th., in the County Agent's office at 1:30 P. M., by which time it is hoped that all county organizations will have had a meeting, the deleates presented the constitution and by-laws to their own organization, and these organizations in turn hav ing appointed their six delegates for the coming year. Any organization that is organized for the betterment of rural life can become a member of this federation by complying with the constitution and by-laws. Th following committees will be appointed at the next meeting: Committee for program of work for Boys' and Girls' Clubs. Exhibit Committee, Appropriation Committee, and Temple of Agriculture Committee.

There is some doubt as to whether Mr. Hoover will stick out his term as Secretary of Commerce. In some respects, he is apt to be the Bryan of President Harding's official familya very able man, with opinions of his own that may be too big to be subordinate, if his chief so desires.

Germany is delaying the acceptance of the verdict of the war, as long as possible, in order that time may make people forgetful, and sympathy soften the punishment. It is even argued by Germany, that "responsibility" for the war has "not yet been fixed." This is pretty common procedure in criminal cases, generally, but it is hardly likely to accomplish anything in this case.

Can You Read?

Wait a bit before answering; there are a good many definitions to the word "read." Webster places last, this one-"to perform the act of reading words, or characters." Among the first, are such as these: "To take thought of-to interpret-to learn or discover."

The school boy says he can "read," when he knows letters and words, and can audibly pronounce them in sentences, with a fair degree of correctness. It is possible for him to read, in this manner, without any understanding of what he reads.

However we may understand the word, it is sure that the one who understands most-gets the most out of -what he reads, is the best reader.

The good reader not only reads the "locals," or perhaps our "Specials," or whatever may appeal most to him; but, he also reads articles and items from which he can secure thoughts, and discover new things, and thereby add to his sum total of information.

Reading is not merely the labored effort of spelling out and pronouncing words: it is rather, getting at the depth and inwardness of word pictures -the point of view, and argument, of the writer. Real reading is genuine education.

Reading "at a glance" as we sometimes hear, is poor reading. There is a great deal that can be done by those who are experts in reading, in quickly finding out the general tenor, or character, of an argument or proposition; but, most readers are not experts, and are quite lucky, oftentimes, if they get the real import of an article after they read it over several times. Reading and understanding should go together.

Farm Personal Sales.

There is a good and a bad feature connected with the large number of sales of farm personal property, such as occur in this section every Spring. The good feature is, that these sales represent a public market for stock, implements, and household goods, and that the sellers and buyers are equally enough divided, in order to call for fair sale prices. The bad farm owners are largely going on the retired list.

We know the argument that brings -and have nothing to say against it, but it is regretable, just the same. The worst feature connected with help scarcity is, that farmers' sons are themselves leaving the farms in too great numbers, and not succeding their fathers. Eventually, we believe this will be found to be a mistake, both for the boys and the farms.

The healthy farming of the future in many cases farm owners do not and perhaps ill-health of the farmer's wife interferes mightily with his keeping on. In such cases, there is nothing to do but quit; but, the farm should also be sold.

The man who retires from farming and holds on to his farm for the purpose of making a living out of it, and expects that the tenant may also do the same, is pretty apt to find himself, in the course of a few years, with a "run down" farm, both as to buildings and fertility of soil, and this is very bad for the future best interests of farming as a business.

We are fully convinced that if farmers need special bank loans, of any kind, they need them for the purpose of buying farms, rather than for holding farm produce, or for buying automobiles or tractors. The government might very seriously turn its attention to encouraging farm purchases; indeed, even so far as making a re-duction in taxes to purchasers in debt, when the debt represents honest effort, and not forehanded extravagance in the purchase of luxurious improvements too rapidly.

An Editor's Farewell.

The farewell message of Editor Mc-Cardell, of Williamsport, appears on the first page of this issue. As we are not familiar with the discontinued paper, The Leader, we can not speak of it as a newspaper; but, the one outstanding complaint in the "farewell" is lack of local advertising patronage, and this calls for some comment. If Editor McCardell depended largely on this, of course he was sooner or later doomed to go out of busi-

No local paper, outside of a county seat town, can expect to exist on its home town advertising; in fact, not on advertising of all kinds put together. Neither can a paper so situated depend wholly on voluntary local patronage of any, or all, kinds. The local paper must "dig" for a living, and dig far and wide.

Local sentiment, or support of any enterprise, is more apt to be critical and stingy, than enthusiastically helpful. The people of a town like to see everything in the town "go," but they are not, as a rule, full enough of local pride to spend any great amount of either effort, or cash, in "making it go." So, the local newspaper must have many irons in the fire, and compel success from the "outside," with as much "inside" help as it can prize

It will never pay to depend largely on the advertiser, nor should this be the case. Those who are not in business-the community in generalmust add largely to subscription revenue, and the paper must be worth subscribing for. The job business end must be kept up-to-date, and the product of this department must be worth having. And all of these departments must reach out over a large scope, for revenue. No local paper ever pays-or can exist-on purely local

Why Colds Are Dangerous.

It is the serious diseases that colds lead to that makes them dangerous. They prepare the system for the reception and development of the germs of influenza, pneumonia, tuberculosis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough and measles. You are much more likely to contract these diseases when you have a cold. For that reason you should get rid of every cold as quickly as possible. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will help you. It is widely known as a cure for bad colds.

Liquidation of Labor.

-Advertisement

Liquidation of labor is under way. Railroads are laying off thousands of men, and, in the case of unskilled workers, reducing wages. Shipyards are cutting wages. Oil companies are pruning both as to labor and wages. The same is true of packing houses, paper mills and most large industries. Steel plants are running at reduced schedule. Rubber and automobile companies have little business. Textile mills that are operating are doing so mostly at a lower wage scale. Liquidation was inevitable. Prices of everything went to unreasonable heights in and following the war feature is, that tenant farmers are in- period. They had and have to come creasing, rather than decreasing-that down. Commodity prices and living costs declined appreciably before wages started down. Everything has been on a false level. There can be this about-difficulty in securing help no security or resumption of activity until things come back to a solid and sound basis. Unfortunately, some employers find satisfaction in labor's distress. They remember labor's aggressive attitude when labor was scarce and they want to punish labor. They are fools and worse than fools. Unfortunately, some labor leaders seek to combat liquidation of labor. will be by land owners, and not by They spread reports that capital has tenants. It is true, of course, that brought about present conditions merely to bring labor into subjection. have boys who might succeed them. They are fools and worse than fools. Liquidation was and is inevitable. You cannot have wild inflation without deflation. The process of deflation of labor will be long or comparatively short, according to how well it is carried into effect.

One of the cardinal charges made against labor is that with higher wages it decreased production. The charge is well founded.

But various of the employers who make the charge were as guilty as those they accuse. Everyone knows how inferior were many of the goods foisted on the public in the period of highest prices when everyone was buying mad, and how wild and unconscionable was the profiteering in many lines of business.

There is no profit in visiting reprisals on labor. What is past should be a closed book. What is present is a very serious condition. No profit can come to any element of society by the distress of another. Labor makes up the largest buying and consuming unit in America. It is the business and the need of all forward-looking men to find employment for labor so far as possible and keep it employed.

There is no profit in labor endeavoring to halt or prevent liquidation. Natural laws are immutable.—Richard Spillane, in Phila. Ledger.

She States It Mildly.

While suffering with a severe attack of the grip and threatened with pneumonia, Mrs. Annie H. Cooley, of Middlefield, Conn., began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and was very much benefited by its use. The pains in the chest soon disappeared, the cough became loose, expectoration easy and in a short time she was as well as ever. Mrs. Cooley says she cannot speak too hgihly in praise of this remedy.

Gompers and Unemployment.

Samuel Gompers, an Englishman by birth and a Free-Trader by party affiliation, claims that there are five million idle workers in the United States at the present time and says that such conditions constitutes "an indictment against our civilization and against our democracy." Mr. Gompers is quite right. Organized labor has been following the lead of Mr. Gompers for a great many years and the conditions complained of are, to a large extent, the necessary result of the views which he has promulgated.

In so far as he has had any influence in gaining adequate compensation and better working conditions for working men, if he has had such influence, he is deserving of commendation. The American Economist has always stood for a decent living wage for workmen, and for decent living conditions, for wages and standards of living worthy of free American citizens. But any thinking man must realize that it is not the best thing for the community nor for the workmen themselves that higher wages be paid than a man can honestly earn. Nor is it right and just that common day laborers, who have no education, nor even average intelligence, shall receive wages greatly in excess of the salaries paid to men who have received college educations fitting them for their particular line of work. Any thinking man must realize that the "wages" paid to certain classes of labor during the war were greatly in excess of their ability to earn in ordinary times of peace. We know of a boy of eighteen who "pulled down" as high as fifty dollars per day for work done in a ship building plant. It is not possible for any boy or man to honestly earn such wages in normal times. "Pull down" is the proper term, rather than "earn."

But Mr. Gompers insists that wages shall not be lowered to meet present peacetime conditions. In so doing, Mr. Gompers proves himself the enemy, not the friend of labor. Anyone who advises the resistance, either by strikes or walkouts or boycotts, of the reduction of wages to a basis in harmony with present conditions, is wronging the workingman. We do not claim that the employers are always right, nor that they are always justified in lowering wages, but the present is a time of readjustment, and any readjustment necessary to meet the present recontruction, made necessary by the changed conditions, should be met fairly and honestly. The prices of goods are being lowered to a normal basis and it is necessary to lower production costs correspondingly. - American Economist.

An Ideal Remedy For Constipation. It would be hard to find a better remedy for constipation than Chamberlain's Tablets. For the best effect they should be taken immediately after supper. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.

GEMS NOT TRUE TO COLOR!

Popular Fallacy to Ascribe to Precious Stones Hues That May Be Called Definite

Story writers talk of the sky being as blue as a sapphire, or of a wild beast's eyes glowing as yellow as

Most of us are under the impression that we can recognize gems by their colors, and that certain colors belong definitely to certain stones.

Quite a mistake. There is hardly a precious stone which is always true to color. Diamonds, of course, vary greatly. The famous Hope diamond s a real and most beautiful blue.

Green diamonds are found, and others of a lovely crimson, but these are very rare. Black diamonds are common enough.

Black pearls are rarer, but are ound. Pink pearls are greatly prized. One of the finest in existence was found in a fresh water mussel in the Mississippi river and is valued at $15,-000. Off the Pearl islands, south of Panama, pearls are found which are lead-gray and also green.

Sapphire mines in the Rocky mountains produce stones which touch the whole color scale from blue and red to an exquisite purple. In Rhodesia is found a topaz of a most lovely pale blue. Yet the chemical composition of the gem proves it to be identical with the yellow topaz.

The colors of most gems are more or less fugitive. That is, under certain circumstances they are liable to fade. Take two rubies exactly similar shut one in the dark, and leave the other exposed to full sunlight, and at the end of two years there will be a distinct difference between them. The one that has been exposed to the light will be decidedly paler than the other.

Similar results may be observed with both emeralds and sapphires. Garnets also will turn lighter, while in the case of the topaz, sunlight ends by diminishing and dulling the color of this stone.—Stray Stories

DONKEYS FIGURE IN HISTORY

Merits of Patient Creatures Have Been Sung by Poets and Depicted by Painters.

The "common or garden" donkey is one of the most laughed-at animals, and few of us pause to think what a figure this stubborn but patient creature has made in literature, art, and history. The very first picture the visitor to the London National gallery sees as he enters the building is a beautifully painted ass upon which the Virgin sits with her Infant Son. It is Holman Hunt's "Triumph of the Innocents." Balaam's ass has passed into a proverb of the foolish instructing the wise! There is, too, the Golden ass of Apuleius, a romance of the Second century, Balzac with his "Ass's Skin," Sancho Panza with his adored donkey, and Sterne with that dead donkey which he has immortalized. Then who can forget Robert Louis Stevenson's delightful "Travels With a Donkey," where the donkey is almost as entertaining as the author? There was, too, the famous donkey of Mafeking, and Halll Bey's donkey which was shaved of its ears by a British shot, and there was Matanza's mule killed in Cuba-but that was only half a donkey! King Midas was said to have ass's ears, and it was upon an ass that Mohammed went to paradise to learn the will of Allah. It was named Al Borak (the lightning), so it must have been the swiftest ass on

Dachshund a Hunting Dog.

The dachshund is a true hound and is used for hunting in Europe, especially for getting foxes and other such animals out of holes, as it is a great digger, and its peculiar build enables it to go down a relatively small hole. It has an excellent nose, and will trail rabbits, foxes and other game with great tenacity, but it is little used for hunting in this country because it is hard to train and manage, paying little attention to orders, and doing as it pleases. If the game goes to earth, it is almost impossible to get the dachshund away until it has been dug out. This breed is of great antiquity, one of its kind being painted on an Egyptian monument of 2000 B. C.

Characterology.

To the layman it may seem an impossible task to learn all of the things disclosed by the many parts of a human being, and yet, through the work of the men who have made these things their life study, the fundamental principles of characterology can be quickly learned and applied by the average business or professional man. Such a knowledge will enable business men to choose their associates and employees so that natural ability will harmonize with work in hand and every man will possess the precise innate capacity which will enable him to become an expert in the department to which he is assigned.

Blue of the Sky.

Not one in a hundred persons can tell why the sky is blue, or why the sunrise and sunset are red. But anvone can easily demonstrate the working of the "blue sky" law of nature. Blow a film of smoke into a darkened room and admit the light from one window only. Look at the smoke against the dark background of the room and its color is bluish, but look through it at the light and it appears reddish. The interception of the blue rays by small particles in the atmosphere produces the blue color. The red rays carried in white light jump the gaps be tween these particles.

"Suicide By Inches"

Thousands of people commit suicide by inches! If you took minute daily doses of some poisonous drug, no particular effect might be noticed until accumulation of the poison made its action evident. Yet how many realize that poisonous substances are formed constantly during digestion and the preparation of the food waste for elimination.

If the bowels act regularly and thoroughly, these poisons are eliminated. But if constipation exists, there results stagnation of intestinal waste, germs multiply; and poisons are formed and carried by the blood to every cell of the body.

The victim of self poisoning commits suicide by inches. Pills, castor oil, laxative waters and salts only force and irritate the bowels, and make constipation a habit Nujol works on an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger".

Tribute of Regret.

In the Death of our honored Director, MR. EDWARD E. REINDOLLAR, The Carroll Record Company desires to express its deep regret; not only that the Company has lost a valued official and stockholder, but that the town and community has lost a tried and valued friend and citizen, always fauthful to his trusts. We therefore place on record this breif tribute to an associate and co-worker, and join with his stricken family and many friends who mourn his loss and will treas-

Tribute of Respect.

It is with sincere regret that we record the death of Mr. Edw. E. Reindollar, President of The Birnie Trust Co., who has held that position ever since their organization in 1900. He was a keen judge of human character, and his opinions on financial matters was respected by all who knew him intimately.

He has often said that any one who is in business, ought to do all that he can to promote the business success, and property values of the place where he lives. And he has been heard to criticise those who do a successful business, and do nothing for the place where they have succeeded.

nothing for the place where they have succeeded.

It is perhaps certain that no one has done more than he has for the building up of Taneytown, and the business success of its citizens than Mr. Reindollar has done, ever since he began his business career. Wherever there was a difference of opinion, he was always earnest in his efforts to harmonize and conciliate, and successful in his efforts to put down jealousy and promote good-will and harmony.

BLUE RIDGE COLLEGE.

Dr. Bixler preached in the Piney Creek church, Sunday morning. Prof. Fletcher has begun practicing for the Spring operetta, which is promising to be one of the most ar-

Dr. E. C. Sage visited our college, last week, under the direction of Gov. Ritchie. The purpose of his visit was the gathering of information regarding the kind of work that we

"ALWAYS RELIABLE"

PROVED THAT COURTESY PAYS

New York Business Man Dates Beginning of Success From Little Act That Seemed Insignificant.

In System Leopold Wertheimer describes the methods that helped his business grow from a tiny shop to a chain of five big department stores in New York city. Speaking of his start in business, he says:

"One of the merchandising plans that I learned the first day in my little store is that the unusual courtesies which a merchant gives his customers are often the most appreciated. As a corollary to that, the man or woman who actually spends the money is not always the most profitable person toward whom a merchant can direct his good-will-building efforts.

"One of my first customers was nursemaid who hesitated in front of the door; just what to do with the baby carriage seemed a puzzle. I stepped over, held open the door and said: "Madam, baby carriages are very welcome in my store. Wheel it right inside"

"The girl it turned out was nurse in the family of a successful young lawyer. Soon the lawyer's wife began to buy in my store; a very few days after that her husband stepped up to the men's furnishings department, introduced himself and bought a nice bill of goods. The whole fumily soon came to be listed as perhaps my best customers-all as a result of my court-

"Soon I put a sign in the window: "Baby carriages welcome." My baby carriage trade increased so much that there was not room in my store for the carriages at times. I hired a girl. dressed her up as a maid and had her take care of the carriages that were standing outside on the sidewalk. The mothers and nurses did not have to worry about them, you see.

"Special courtesy to maids and children-that is now one of my big important policies. For I have been shown time and again by experience that when a store controls the trade of the children and the servants the whole trade of the family is likely to Waltzing Mouse Going.

And what about waltzing mice? There was a time when they were as common as goldfish, the Minneapolis Journal states.

Pet lovers would house dizzy famflies of them. They would whirl around, in pairs, on any small space, such as an inverted tumbler, till they looked like spokes in a black and white wheel.

But nowadays, if you decided to make a jolly present to your youngest nephew, you couldn't find a Japanese waltzing mouse in the country.

It is true that their dervish dance is out of date in this age of shimmy shakers. But that doesn't account for their extinction.

The war, which took so many lives, reached even to the mouse world. Breeders no longer raise these eccentric little creatures, according to Ed Hooey, the bird and fish man. Perhaps they still live in Japan, where they are kept through immigration laws. But as far as this country goes, these busy pets of children are now but a memory.

Animals With Third Eyelid.

Sir John Bland-Sutton, senior surgeon of Middlesex Hospital Medical school in London, is authority for the statement that all animals, except men and monkeys, possess a third eyelid. Many people have noticed how birds, notably the turkey, operates this third lid by means of special muscles. The turkey is constantly winking without knowing that it does so. The third lid in this case is an opaque white curtain, but in certain birds and animals. and in some fishes, the third lid is a transparent covering. The lizard of trans-Caspian deserts uses its transparent lid as a protection against sand, while the American fish known as the star-gazer uses it effectively for watching its prey. It is interesting to note that the prey is secured through the operation of powerful electrical muscles, and considerably over 50 small 2-25-3m swimming fish so caught have been found in the interior of a star-gazer.

Proof Positive.

Twelve-year-old Ted's family recently moved to town and as yet the city's ways are foreign to him. But he is learning. He is devoted to his school teacher and often walks part of the way home with her. The other night she turned to the boys who were accompanying her and told them she was too tired to take her usual walk. "But you can go around this way, boys," she ended. "I want to get my shoes pol-

Ted watched her and after she had left them he told the other boys that she was not fooling them this time about her weariness. "Didn't you hear her say she wasn't able even to black her own shoes?" he asked amazedly.

Invaluable Relics Unearthed. Invaluable relics were brought to light by excavations made in Greek Macedonia for military reasons by the allied armies in the East. The collection includes neolithic instruments, vases of all forms known in ancient Greece, as well as jewels, bronze, silver and gold of great historical value. Tombs dating from the fifth and sixth centuries before Christ were also discovered. The objects unearthed establish the identity of the ancient civilization of Macedonia with that of the rest of ancient Greece. They have been taken over by the Greek curator of antiquities.

JESUS ON THE CROSS.

LESSON TEXT-Matt. 27:33-50.
GOLDEN TEXT-God commendeth His love toward us in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.-Rom 5:3.
REFERENCE MATERIAL-Matt. 26:31; 27:32; John 12:24-33; I Cor. 1:18-25; 2:1; Gal.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Dying for Us.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Crucified.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC

—The Supreme Sacrifice.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC

—The Cross and Its Meaning Today.

The grand climax of the six months' lessons is reached in this one. If one miss the significance of the crucifixion, all the preceding lessons are valueless. It is not a matter of learning the lessons taught by a great teacher, or imitating the examples of a great and good man, but of apprehending the atonement made by the world's Redeemer.

I.—The Place of Crucifixion (vv. 33, 34)

They led him away to Golgotha, a hill north of Jerusalem resembling a skull. He was not crucified within the city, for he was to suffer without the gate (Heb. 13:12). At first they compelled him to bear his own cross, but when physical weakness made it necessary that some other should bear it for Him, they compelled Simon the Cyrenian to bear it. In order that He might not succumb to death before He was nailed to the cross, the soldiers offered Him a stimulant of vinegar mixed with gall. He refused this, as He would consciously drink the cup of sin to its bitter dregs.

II. Gambling for the Clothing of the Lord (vv. 35 36).

It was the custom for the soldiers who had charge of the crucifixion to receive the garments of the one crucified. Here we have the fulfillment of Psalm 22:18. "They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture they did cast lots." If they had but eyes to see they could have beheld a robe of righteousness being provided in His death to cover their sinful makedness.

III. The Accusation (v. 37).

It was customary to place over the victim of the cross the name and crime of the offender. This superscription was placed over Jesus by Pilate to vex the Jews. He was their King. They had long looked for Him, and now when He had come this is the kind of treatment they gave Him. IV. Two Thieves Crucified With Him (v. 38).

This was another fulfillment of Scripture (Isa. 53:12). "He was numbered with the transgressors." In these three crosses we have set forth a spiritual history of the whole

V. The Dying Savior Reviled (. 39-44).

This reviling was engaged in by the passerby, the chief priests, scribes and elders, and the thieves who were crucified with him. In their mockery they unwittingly spake great truths.

1. "He saved others, himself he cannot save" (v. 42). This jest was meant to show the absurdity of Jesus' claims, but it demonstrated them and showed the reason for His sufferings. He could not save Himself and others, so He chose to give Himself to save others.

2. "If he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross" (v. 42). His refusal to abandon the cross established HIs royal claims. The very fact that He did not abandon the cross proves that He was what He claimed to be for it was unto the cross that He came.

3. "He trusted in God, let him deliver him now (v. 43). His refusal to abandon the cross proved God's full delight and satisfaction in His Son. His obedience unto death was the sacrifice which met God's full approval.

VI. The Death of Christ (vv. 45-50). So shocking was this crime that nature threw around the Son of God a shroud that the Godless company could not gaze upon Him. Darkness was upon the land at noon-day. Upon the termination of the darkness He cried with a loud voice, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" This darkness was the outer sign of that which hung over the Lord. He became sin for the world, and the sin hid God's face from Him. God forsook Him; turned from Him who had taken the sinner's place.

When the price was paid He cried out with a loud voice, showing that He still had vitality—that His death was not from exhaustion, but by His sovereign will. He yielded up the ghost, sent His spirit away. He died of His sovereign will. He died like no other man in all the world's history. He did not die of a broken heart.

March Christian Progress in Alaska Isaiah 9:2-7

The language of Isaiah 9:2 is applicable to the people of Alaska, as it is to all people without the knowledge of Christ" They walked in darkness."

The natives lived in primitive ways and were the victims of ignorance, superstition and idolatry, which things are always accompanied by the grossest forms of immorality. But now, through the work of Christian missions, the light of truth is shining upon many.

Christian progress in Alaska is evidenced in an article by William Thompson entitled "Civilizing the Blond Eskimo," from which the following paragraph is quoted:

"In Herschel Island, where the sun shines continuously for eight weeks in summer, they would have a sundance, not always clothed in the garments of properiety. They had an idea that when the sun came back its movements were directed by an invisible power, but they had no tangible conception of a God. They had no belief in a future life, either of reward or punishment. Today they are religious, truthful, kind to their children and to the aged. They are ambitious to learn; they are practical, extremely industrious, sanitary in their habits, well clothed and well housed."

In 1897 Bishop Stringer took charge of a mission at Herschel Island. The conditions existing at that time were very distressing. Immorality was everywhere prevalent. Liquor was traded or freely given, and an hour after the arrival of a ship, the population was turned into a mob of howling, drunken men, women and children. The influence of missionary effort, and the progress of Christian work is seen by the fact that in the year 1917 Mr. Thompson, who was then traveling in those parts saw several hundred Eskimos gathered together and not one of them intoxicated.

The Presbyterian church was the first American church to enter Alaska. In connection with that work the name of Sheldon Jackson has been made immortal. To the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions the sum of $25,000 has been given for the erection of a hospital at Point Barrow, the most northerly mission operated by the Board. Only one steamer a year reaches the place.

The missionary work of Alaska has been apportioned among the various denomiantions by the Home Mission Council, which embodies all the Protestant evangelical churches.

The condition and need of Alaska may be seen in the closing words of an article by Mrs. D. B. Street, entitled "Alaska, as We Saw It." "While we recognize the fact that there are other pagan fields under our flag, for which we share responsibility, the pitiful condition of the Alaskan field, where our God is not honored, should stir both men and women in the church to a large and definite work."

In order that the size and importance of Alaska may be fully appreciated we give another quotation from Andrew J. Stone, in The Century Magazine, who tells us that Alaska is as large as Norway, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, England, Ireland, Scotland, and twothirds of the German Empire before the close of the Great War. It covers exactly the same parallels of latitude that these countries cover, possesses the same climate, and much the same wealth in forests and tillable soil, with a vastly greater wealth in fisheries, furs, and animal life, and more coal, oil, gold, copper, and other precious metals and minerals. Its harbors on the Pacific are free from ice the entire year, and the actual coast-line of the mainland and islands

Why Some Observers Imagined That They Saw Structures on Face of "Old Sol."

Well into the last century it was believed that the sun was inhabited, not with puny beings like ourselves, but with people welghing several tons and of proportionate strength.

The sun, being a body of most tremendous size, must necessarily have inhabitants worthy of its grandeur. And, having men, women and children, it must have buildings in which to house them and to carry on their industries.

Hence some observers, with an ingenuity which did credit to their imaginative faculties, were certain that they had discovered buildings on the dark, solid body of the sun. The buildings were not claimed to be in regular formation, such as a vast city in the sun might be supposed to contain, but were merely "traces."

That was how these observers allowed their imagination to run riot.

As a fact, what they actually saw was not a dark body on the sun at all, for it possesses none, but dark openings (caused by uprushes of gas) in the sun's flaming envelope. These openings we know as sunspots, and the differences in the shading of the spots

Take two cupfuls of ox-gall and add to it three pints of boiling water. Rub this on the carpet with a piece of flannel, and then rub with another flannel dipped in hot water, or take one cake of soap, shred it finely, add two table-spoonfuls of washing soda and pour upon it one gallon of boiling water. Let it cool and then dip a flannel into the mixture and rub the carpet and before it dries rub with another flannel dipped in clean hot water. Ammonia added to hot water and applied with a flannel also answers well.

To beat a carpet, beat it on the wrong side first and then more gently on the right side. Beware of using sticks with sharp points, which may tear the carpet. To remove ink stains from carpets, first soak up all the ink possible with blotting paper, and then rub the stain with a flannel dipped in hot milk. Grease stains can be removed by mixing French chalk and water to a thick cream, and painting it over the spots. Let it remain on until quite dry, place over it a fold of cloth and iron with a fairly hot iron; the grease will pass into the chalk,

Why Chinese Fruits Are Fine.
Some of the Chinese fruits, cunningly coaxed and lovingly cherished through many centuries, are said by experts to be delicious. There is an orange grown in China that is reported to surpass in sweetness and delicacy any of the oranges to which the people of Europe or of America are accustomed; and it may be grown in places where the temperature falls 20 degrees below the freezing point.

There is also a peach unlike anything to which the West is accustomed, and a winter muskmelon that will appeal irresistibly to the European palate. This melon is at its best in December and January. There are many other good things in China to which Europeans will doubtless be introduced in time. Of some of the choice Chinese dishes, such as bird's nest soup and the like, there are better things in reserve. The fruits are described as surpassing those of any country.

Taneytown should work together with one mind, this year, on one subject, and that is to provide more dwelling house, instead of crowding families out of town, as is the case this year, and has been for several years. We are glad for farmers to "retire" and come to town, but the growth of the town depends on inviting the new, and holding the old citizens, and especially the young growing families. The town should not That the bread shows plainly through degenerate into an "old folks' home." Who will be patriotic enough to build dwelling houses for rent, within the coporate limits, this year?

Grand Master H. Dorsey Etchison, of Frederick, head of the I.O.O.F. in Maryland, has appointed Rev. L. B. Hafer, on the committee to serve with the Board of Grand Officers in securing information and other facts concerning a suitable location for the proposed Odd Fellows' Home for Orphans and Aged.

That Income Tax Report.

(From Tuesday's Balto. American.) Today is the last day upon which income taxes for the past year can be paid without penalty. It is naturally to the interest of everybody to make the payments, giving the Gov-ernment the benefits of reasonable doubts, if for no other cause than

The income tax sheets this year oughly investigated by experts to de to have been made out for a nation of Sherlock Holmeses. The detective-victim is instructed he will discover the clue to his liabilities in Schedule L. He consults Schedule L hopefully. Schedule L refers him to Schedule J, minus Schedule K. (It begins to look like a real chase). He consults Schedule J, keeping the instructions about Schedule K in mind. Schedule J informs him that he must consult Schedule H, minus Schedule

(This puts Schedule K in the shade, temporarily, anyhow, and assuring himself that the correspondence schools have nothing on the Government, the victim pursues Schedule H for information. He wonders which of the two deductions already announced is to be calculated first. Maybe Schedule H will tell.)

Does it? It does not. In Schedule H lies the triumph of the entire mystery. Total net income, says Schedule H, less total deficits, will be found in MARTIN D. HESS. the "above schedules." Business begins to look desperate. Gone are Schedule K and Schedule I, left behind in the trackless waste of printed matter. The detective-victim rolls a weary eye upward at "the above

The first one is Schdule A, carrying a total of 21 items. Schedule B is somewhat simpler as is Schedule C. Schedule D requires sufficient technical details to keep an expert accountant busy for six months, and Schedule E is almost as bad. Schedule F refers to bonds with complicated addenda, and Schedule G specifies "Other income," which leaves the seeker for knowledge in a maze of doubt of just what other income is. The man who can make out this year's income tax blank with some degree of assurance will never lack the luxuries of life. He is a financial genius.

Long Way Back.

Just before the St. Mihiel show the Germans blew up an ammunition dump near a company of Yanks. It was reported that there was a large quantity of gas shells in the dump, and as soon as the explosions began the Americans immediately made themselves scarce with great rapidity. When the danger had passed all started drifting back with the exception of one man who did not appear till next day. "Well, where have you been ?" demanded the top kick, eyeing him coldly. "Sergeant," replied the other earnestly, "I don't know where I been, but I give you my word I been all day gettin' back."

"THE UPPER ROOM"

Taneytown will have the pleasure f witnessing another of Mr. Frank Holbein's excellent productions. Heretofore, Mr. Holbein's efforts have been confined to the lighter side of theatricals. In the "Upper Room," Mr. Holbein will endeavor to have characters communicate to the audience some little of the deep meaning contained in the Gospel narrative of the Passion of our divine Lord. Unlike many of the plays whose themes are the Passion, the author Msgr. R. H. Benson with a religious delicacy does not present the Christ at all. Msgr. Benson begins his story at the close of the Last Supper, after Chirst has departed for the Garden of Gethsemane.

In the cast will be some of our old favorites: the Misses Anna Braunner, Mary Fallon, Gertrude Holbein and Myrtle Bell. Amog the male characters with whose work we are already acquainted, will be Messrs. Russell Brooks, Albert Caldwell and Russell Quinn. We will see for the first time on our stage the Messrs. William Gervig and J. L. Quinn. A juvenile actor of considerable promse has been obtained by Mr. Holbein for one of the more important characters in the play, Master Eddie Those who have had the pleasure of seeing the Passion Play in Baltimore, have been especially impressed with the work of this voungster.

Finally Mr. Holbein has rounded out his cast with the acquisition of Mr. Wm. J. Burns as stage manager. The play will be presented in the Opera House on the night of March 26, at 8:15. Tickets will be on sale after Sunday, March 20. Admission,

The "Why" of the Dollings Plan

Money accumulated by hard work and prudent saving seems to have the most value. It, particularly, should be carefully protected.
