In small towns an unpaid commission of three members would be best, one being appointed every two years for a six year term. Because it takes a long time to get results in growing street trees, the policies should be as near continuous as possible, and the terms of the members long enough to insure a majority of experienced persons on the board at all times." Methods of securing funds are suggested, and the subject in general very well covered in 33 pages all being very valuable and interesting. We hope to receive a sufficient number of namphlets to pass around to those in hearty sympathy with the tree planting and preserving proposition for

The Westminster classes will be headed by the Westminster band, which has kindly tendered its services for the occasion. New Windsor will come in strong with the Taylorsville band, and Pleasant Valley is fortunate in having a band made up almost entirely of members of its own Sunday School. The parade will form on Belle Grove Square, at 2 o'clock, and start promptly at 2:30. The route will be Bond St. to Main, to beginning of Pa. Ave., to East Main, to Court, to Wil-Ave., to East Main, to Court, to the lis, to the Armory. Captain E. G. Smith, military com-mandent of Western Maryand Col-lege, will be chief marshall, preceded by the chief of police, and as far-as possible ex-service men will be used as aids and leaders of divisions. Sacred music will be played along the route. The parade will be followed by a great mass meeting for men in the Armory, addressed by Congressman Upshaw, of Georgia. Special music will be furnished by the Westminster orchestra, the Liberty Quartet and a men's chorus from Bethel church. At the same hour (about 3:30) there will be a meeting for women in the Methodist Episcopal church, addressed by Mrs. P. A. Heilman, of Baltimore, with music by the choirs of this city. The ladies have worked hard to make their meeting a great success and none should miss it. Should stormy weather prevent the parade the mass meetings will be held as planned. Rev. W. C. Parrish, superintendent of adult work for the county, has been untiring in his efforts to make this day a great success and from responses received by him from various schools a great crowd is expected. - XX-

MEDICINAL BEER. Lid Lifted on Sale of Beer for "Medicinal" Purposes. Owing to delay in the Senate in passing the Anti-Beer bill, on account of its having been side-tracked to give right of way to the Tax bill, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has issued rigid regulations for the manufacture of beer by authorized breweries and its sale by druggists upon an authorized physician's prescription. Not more than two and one-half gallons of beer may be prescribed at one time for use by the same person.

The revised regulations limit the prescription of whisky and brandy to one pint for the same person within 10 days, of wine to two quarts and of alcohol for external use to one pint at a time. Druggists are directed to refuse to fill prescriptions if convinced they are issued for other than medicinal purposes.

"The issuance of the beer regula-tions," Mr. Mellon explained, "was delayed originally because it seemed probable that legislation would be enacted whereby the action of the department would be of no practical advantage to those interested, and this view appeared to be acquiesced in by them, since there was at that time no urgent demand for the issurance of the regulations. "However, for some time past, it has been strongly urged by those interested that this department had no right longer to withhold these regu-lations, and that in so doing the department is denying to those inter-ested their clear legal right and thereby imposing serious loss upon them. The legal rights of the parties concerned being plain, the de-partment is unable longer to delay the issuance of these regulations.' The rejoicing of the "wets" is likely to be only temporary, as the decision of the Secretary may hurry, as well as make more emphatic, action of the Senate against beer as a

RAILROAD STRIKE NOW CALLED OFF. Union Warned That Government Would Take Strong Action.

Chicago, Oct. 27.-A day of rail union meetings, sessions of the United States Railroad Labor Board and conferences between representatives of the two groups tonight found the strike situation outwardly unchanged, but high officials of the employes' organizations declaring that the walkout might be called off by morning and the board informing them that unless peace came by them it would "deal with the unions with ungloved hands" in its attempts to prevent an October 30 walkout. The statement from the Labor Board was delivered to union committees, which called on the board during the day to report progress of the joint conference of chieftains of the switchmen, trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen.

At 8:30 P. M. the meeting adjourned for recess while awaiting presentation of a resolution by a committee appointed to draw it up. This reso-lution will announce that it has been decided not to strike on October 30, ence. according to several union officials, and will formally outline what fu-ture action the labor organizations will take. W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen, said that "judging from the sentiment in the meeting, I believe the resolution will be passed without opposition."

The labor men were informed that unless the crisis were settled by to- the best possible imitation of a white morrow the board would take its most drastic action thus far, and that it had today received assurance from Washington that the full force of the Government would be behind it in any action taken or in preventing an interruption of transportation through a strike.

Maryland Lutheran Synod.

The Maryland Lutheran Synod held its annual convention in St. Stephen's church, Baltimore, last week. The meeting was well attended and a considerable amount of business was transacted. Among new items was the changing of the time of meeting from fall to spring. The Synod will meet again on the last Monday of May, 1922, and thereafter it will meet annually at that time. The place of the next meeting was not definitely fixed, as no invitation had been received, and the matter was left in the hands of the officers. There was a suggestion of Manchester as the place of meeting, but this is uncertain. The Synod decided to erect a Mamore; historian, Miss Cora Zeigler, Baltimore; junior superintendent, George R. Smith, Baltimore; Inter-proper equipment. The Maryland building will be a steam heating plant, which will heat all the buildings on the grounds. The estimated cost is $35,000.00, and the congregations are asked to contribute for this purpose. It will require about $1.25 per member, though it is not intended to follow any apportionment in raising the money. The amount may be gathered in one effort, or by annual offerings covering five years, as such congregation desires. The Synod was asked to join with the West Virginia, the Allegheny and the Virginia Synods in the esdistance to the convention was and the Virginia Synods in the es-awarded to the St. Paul's English tablishment of a home for disabled ministers, near Eglon, W. Va. Mr. Lloyd Dawson and his sister, Rhoda, two aged people, have offered a farm of 214 acres for the purpose. It is their residence, and they have no direct heirs. The Synod appointed a committee to investigate the matter, but did not obligate itself to anything. The officers of the Synod were reelected, and delegates to the United Lutheran Church chosen. Mr. S. C. Stoner, of Westminster will be one of the delegates.

THE RACE QUESTION.

President Harding Stirs up both Kinds of Criticism.

President Harding said things that sounded like coming from a President of the whole country, on Wednesday, in his address at Birmingham, Alabama, when he said; "I am speaking to North and South, white and black alike. I am never going to say anything that I can't say in every direction and to all people exactly alike."

"Politically and economically there need be no occasion for great and permanent differentiation, provided on both sides there shall be recognition of the absolute divergence in things social and racial."

"I would say let the black man vote when he is fit to vote; prohibit the white man voting when he is unfit to vote."

"I wish that both the tradition of a solidly Democratic South and the tradition of a solidly Republican black race might be broken up."

"I would insist upon equal educa-tion opportunity for both." "Men of both races may well stand

"Men of both races may wen stand uncompromisingly against every sug-gestion of social equality. This is not a question of social equality, but a question of recognizing a funda-mental, eternal, inescapable differ-

"Racial amalgamation there can-not be. Partnership of the races in developing the highest aims of all humanity there must be if humanity is to achieve the ends which we have set for it."

"The black man should seek to be, and he should be encouraged to be, the best possible black man and not man.

He made several addresses in Alabama and Georgia, designed on his part to help obliterate sectional divis-ions, and was mostly well received by the people; but some of his state-ments have been severely criticised by southern political leaders as inopportune, and as encouraging poli-tical, if not social, equality between the races.

Dr. Howard A. Kelly, of Baltimore, who is known throughout the state, especially for h's earnestness and activity against Race Track gambling, violation of Sunday laws, etc., has qualified as an independent candidate for the House of Delegates from one of the city's legislative districts. Dr. Kelly states that his candidacy is largely to encourage better men to accept nominations, and to help to improve the chances for getting rid of the "awful bunch" that has usually represented the city.

The result of his campaign will be watched with interest. In fact, the morals of the voting content of his district are on trial; for such men as Dr. Kelly can not be turned down on the flimsy pretent that he is merely a "blue law" fanatic, intent only on visionary aims. If the state does not need and want Dr. Kellys in politics, then it is proof that ""the people" do not want any better government than they have been getting, and that anti-morality is indeed the predominant ruling element, from popular choice. Kelly deserves to win, not on-Dr. ly because of his own splendid qualifications, but because of the object lesson his candidacy represents.

Still, parties may be mistaken, or be placed in positions in which they in fads and habits-idiotic display merely do the best they can, considering circumstances, and this puts up to voters a final responsibility, and an exercise of choice-government by the people.

As we believe in parties, so we believe in party nominees, all else being equal. When one candidate is estimated to be as good as the other, the party candidate should be supported, but only in such cases. If there is a decidedly "best man," he should receive the votes of the best citizens; for, after all, strong partisanship is not good politics, and mere "sticking to party" does not represent good sense.

To the classes of voters still young in politics, we offer this caution. Do not decide too quickly, and do not make promises wholly on the spur of the moment. When you hear "something awful" about a candidate, investigate it. When you read something that points to inefficiency, or worse, on the part of men in office, examine into the facts. Do not forget that there are apt to be "two sides" to all reports and statements, some of which are circulated to catch and clothing, or medical attention? the "easy" ones.

When you hear and read of things just trotted before the election, ask the question, why was not this told before? Be suspicious of eleventh hour arguments. There is only one thing in politics meaner than trying to de- | ents" from a good many of our idle feat a candidate with mistatements; rich, and our senseless imaginary and that is, trying to mislead the vot- rich, and spend them on the deserver, and have him, or her, cast a bal- ing and unfortunate suffering of the lot under a misapprehension of the world. exact truth.

Wasteful Spending.

We will call it that; but the sort | But, we are inventing a good many of spending we have in mind comes reversals of what has always passed near being sinful, or even criminal, as "personal liberty," and it may be government. To some extent, we can because exaggerated, unnecessary, that before long the "wateful spenduse the increase that falls to us, and If we did not so well know that > laws do not cure ills, we might wish for laws that would curb indulgence and foolishly indulged styles-that help to make a large portion of the world dissatisfied, revolutionary and anarchistic. When the men of illbalanced minds and none too safely grounded morals, see the lavish expenditure of money on mere foolish fancies, they can easily imagine their own less favored circumstances to be due to too great accumulation of wealth, and that somehow this accumulation is at their expense.

The "spenders" of the country take on themselves a tremendous responsibility. It is not too radical to say that the rich fools-and more who play rich, in their spending-are slight impetus to the general movedangerous citizens. They are the ones, at bottom, who are responsible, not only for a large portion of the unrest in the world, but for a large portion of the suffering. What is the truth with reference to the man who will spend many thousands of dollars a year on riotious debauchery, and for the mere notoriety of paying fabulous prices for mere trifles, while thousands are dying somewhere in the world, for want of bread

There is, undoubtedly, an actual criminality in spending that should subject the spenders to prosecution. It would be far better-providing such a law could be regulated without abuse-to take away "the tal-er" will have his opportunity to kick against legal restrictions that interfere with his foolish pleasures, and arbitrarily disposes of the surplus which he is so evidently not inclined to dispose of with good sense.

8 Good Sense from Farmers.

What the American Farm Bureau Federation urges in the way of freight reductions covering agricultural products and other necessaries of life naturally is not disinterested. Nevertheless, it is a sound proposition for the whole country that traffic charges should be reduced on basic commodities which both are the backbone of industry and business and figure most prominently in general living costs.

A 5 per-cent reduction on all freights might give only a very ment of freight and bring negligible relief to the public. But this same 5 per-cent. on the total, if concentrated on certain traffic classifications like food, coal and ores might foot up a 25 per-cent. reduction for those articles and be a powerful force in driving such industries to higher speed. This would help all along the line.

For the sake of the railroad workers who must pay high rent bills, food bills, heating bills and clothing bills in one part of the country, as against the worker in another part of the country whose costs are only half as much on some of those items and nothing at all for heat, railroad pay should be readjusted all over the country on the basis of what it will do for a man in the section where he gets it and spends it .- New York Herald.

crime against the government, these times. Just "rocking the boat" and interfering with the peaceable and .calm settlement of any one of our many vexing problems, is an act of un-Americanism, and short . courtesy should be shown by the courts for all classes of spreaders of strife.

It is reported that a lot of French and Italian anarchists are coming to the United States, to take revenge for the conviction of two Italian murderers-Sacco and Vanzetti-in Massachusetts. Let us hope that being forewarned will be forearmed, and that all "reds" of this character will speedily get the proper treatment.

A representative of the "Association Against the Prohibition Amendment" is double-headed in the "wet" city papers as having . found that the middle west declares prohibition a failure, and wants it repealed. We rather think that the Senators and members of the House from these states are better representatives of "middle west" sentiment than the paid representative of a booze organization, and these have evidently not yet heard of such a strong sentiment.

_____X____ If the whole world could be relieved of its fools, very naturally it would be relieved of its foolishness, and a lot of after suffering caused by it. There are criminal fools, unfortunately, along with a good many other kinds, which makes the fool business a very serious proposition; and the best plan, we believe, is not to "fool with" such fools, but treat them for criminality, at once, and straight out.

Candidates and Voters.

The time between now and the election should be given in part to a survey of the various candidates for county office. During the primary fight, each party, to some extent, presumably presented the best material it had for the nominations. Now it is up to the voters, irrespective of party, to do the finishing up process, by electing the best from those nominated.

We like the idea of party fealty, and believe that it is through the party organizations we get the best

A Telephone System Must Expand

HERE is no such thing as closing the capital account of a telephone system unless it proposes to go out of business. The telephone system that is not going forward is going backward.

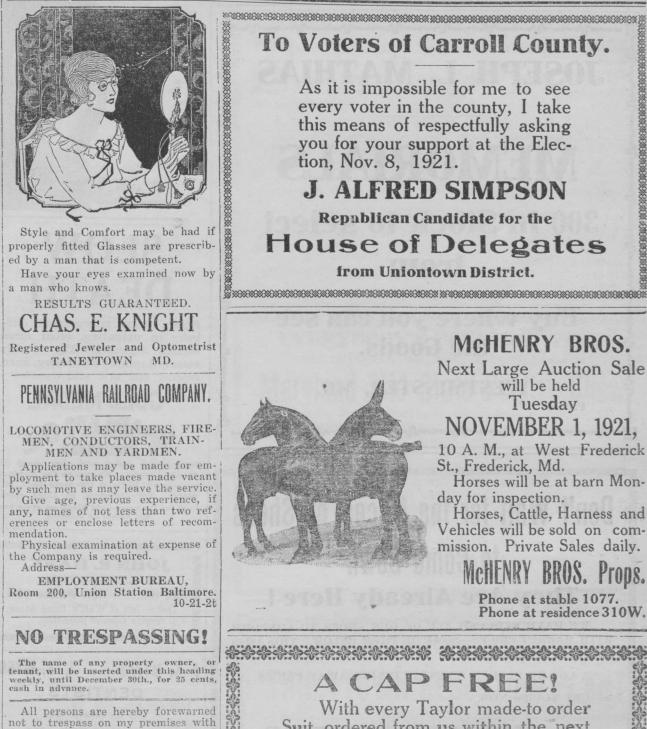

Each new subscriber requires additional plant-a new telephone set, additional central office equipment, in most cases an additional line from the central office to the subscriber's premises.

But these additions cannot wait until the subscriber wants service. To do this would require that applicants wait sometimes for an indefinite period. We must anticipate the public's needs and always maintain a reserve plant-conduits, cables, switchboards, wires.

To meet the requirements for next year and the years to come the money for the extensions must be secured from the investors this year. Our earnings this year, then, will determine whether we can attract the new capital necessary to meet your requirements for service next year.

Workers Sick and Weak from Exertion Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Men and women who toil, either physically or mentally, use up ener-gy. When they overwork they use up more energy, and sometimes the blood gets in a run-down condition. Without rest the blood cannot get back to normal, so that it becomes clogged with waste matter from over-exertion.

The clogged blood virtually withers the body. The strained looks on pale faces, the thin, bloodless arms, the sunken cheeks and necks, the dead-tired feeling, are the results of stale blood depriving the system of Workers go to the drug store and get Gude's Pepto-Mangan when they feel weak and run down. They take it in either the liquid or the tablet form. TO PRODUCE day in and day out equivalent to a year's service give accuthe clean-burning, full-powered "Standard" Motor Gasoline, no fewer than five important tests are

"Standard" Motor Gasoline has to pass five stiff examinations.

These are:

Chemical laboratory tests on the gasoline itself, to determine volatility, purity, stability, explosion points, etc.

Physical laboratory tests in one-cylinder engines, to determine character of ignition, rate of combustion, rate of pressure development, limits of performance, etc.

Dynamometer tests in standard makes of engines, to determine power developed, mileage per gallon, etc. Runs rate data on carbon formation, valve pitting, spark plug fouling, etc.

Road tests in representative cars and trucks, which check the accuracy of former findings, and determine with greater accuracy the factors of acceleration, flexibility, range of carburetor adjustment, etc.

Service tests under average conditions. Company garages are maintained, each containing from 30 to 200 cars, trucks and tractors, comprising every known type of motor-driven equipment. The drivers are both amateurs and professionals—a fair general average for this work. These tests determine the allaround performance of the gasoline in the hands of the user.

"Anybody's Gas" may be good now and then. "Standard" Motor Gasoline has to be right all the time. That is what the public expects of it.

PRIMARY TOPIC-Story of the Rech-

JUNIOR TOPIC-The Faithful Rechab-

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC

Enforcing Prohibition. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC -World Prohibition.

I. God's Judgment Upon Israel (vv. 1-4).

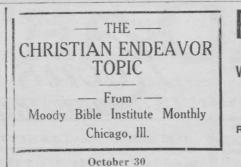

1. The sin for which Israel was judged (v. 1). It was drunkenness, which seems to have been a national sin. (See Isa. 5:11, 12; 7:5; Amos 2:6, 8, 12; 4:1; 6, 6.) Samaria's position was an enviable one. The whole nation was proud of her. The crown of pride whose glorious beauty had been so marked was fading through "From the theoretical standpoint been so marked was fading through the blighting effects of drunkenness. 2. The instrument by which the punishment was effected (v. 2). It was to be by the strong hand of the Assyrians. The imagery of this verse shows that this destruction was to be sudden, swift and irresistible.

Some of the evils wrought by drunkenness:

(a) Strength is wasted by it (v. 1). "Are overcome with wine." Man's manifold strength, physical, mental and spiritual, is soon mastered by strong drink. (b) Honor brought into the dust. "Shall be trodden under feet" (vv. 1, 3). Just as this proud elty was humbled through intemper- the government, and it seems to us ance, so does drunkenness bring down into the dust those high in educational, social and business circles. (c) It despoils beauty (vv. 1, 4). "Beauty is a fading flower." Beauty soon departs from the form and spirit of men and women who indulge in the intoxicating cup. (d) Wisdom is turned aside (v. 7). "They have erred through wine and strong drink." As a consequence they were groping in darkness instead of walking in the light of the Lord.

II. The Lord's Promise to the Remnant (vv. 5, 6).

Out of this awful darkness shines a ray of brightness, for following the destruction of the proud city the Lord of Hosts is promised for a crown of glory to the remnant of His people. This pointed forward to the coming of the Savior (Zech. 6:13). Their hopes were partially fulfilled at the first coming of the Savior, but the real fulfillment shall be when drunkenness, pride and all unrighteousness shall disappear before the glaring light of the Sun of Righteousness (Mal. 4:2; I Pet. 5:4).

How Can We Apply the Golden Rule Today? Matthew 7:12

The Golden Rule can be applied consistently only by those who have come under God's rule. Others may imitate it, but its spirit they can never really know. Only Christ can make a "Golden Rule man." Our Lord embodied and exemplified this rule and as He indwells the human heart this Golden Rule life is reproduced. This type of life is more than natural graciousness and gift. It is the outward manifestation of the indwelling Saviour. A refined paganism built up professedly around the Golden Rule is a poor substitute for the re-deemed and Spirit-filled life. The articles by Ex-Secretary Lan-sing on the Peace Conference which have recently appeared in the Saturday Evening Post have a bearing upon this matter. In the last article Mr. Lansing shows that all attempts to remake the world without the divine provision for regenerating the human heart are useless. Here are

The Main Issue.

The Baltimore News, among many other city papers, has commented very pointedly on the threatened strike of railroad unionists against puts the case pretty squarely when it says;

"The main issue in the whole affair is not just what the rates or wages shall be, but whether there shall prevail upon our transportation system a just and equitable method settling disputes in accordance with law rather than in accordance with violence and threats of starving the country. If that is kept in mind, it is seen that there is nothing of a mpromise about a plan which would. nterrupt all the recognized methds of rate-making merely because the unions are threatening a strike which it is by no means certain that they can carry through.

The interstate Commerce Commission has not been asleep all this time. It has had rate cases steadily under consideration, has made reductions in places and authorized other reductions requested by the roads. The established rate-making machinery has been functioning as it should, and the unions have no right whatsoever, either legal or moral, to insist suddenly that it should be interrupted in order to lower rates at Records Prove They Are as Old as the Sword-Constructed of Many Materials.

The pen is one of the oldest instruments men use. Whether or not it is mightier than the sword, as Bulwer Lytton makes the great French cardinal exclaim in the play of "Richelieu," it is perhaps of as great antiquity as the sword. It is not as old as stoneheaded war clubs or stone axes, but it seems to date back to the beginning of men's knowledge of metals and their alloys. As soon as men got the idea of inscribing symbols on stones as representing things or words, they used an iron instrument which was the parent, or the ancestor, of the pen. There were pens of iron and bronze and reeds, and later the quills of feathers.

The Assyrian kings and scribes and the Phoenecians 2,000 years before Christ proclaimed their dynasties with decrees written with pens made from reeds and feathers. The early Greeks inscribed their letters with a stylus, but the later Greeks wrote with the quills of geese, crows, hawks and eagles. Pens of brass and silver were in use in Rome at the beginning of

The stylus with which many of the Greeks and Romans wrote was something like an iron bodkin and it came to be used so often in brawls that it was prohibited-that is, men were prohibited to use a stylus. The bodkin in old English times was no doubt a big darning or knitting needle and Hamlet had that instrument in mind when he said: "When he his quietus might make with a bare bodkin."

There are various references in the Bible to pens. In the Book of Judges, the fifth chapter and the fourteenth verse, is this: "Out of Machir came down governors, and out of Zebulum they that handle the pen of the writer." In I Kings, the twenty-first chapter, in the matter of Ahab, Jezebel and Naboth it is written: "So she wrote letters in Ahab's name, and sealed them with his seal and sent the letters unto the elders and to the nobles that were in his city, dwelling with Naboth." In the nineteenth chapter of Job, the twenty-third and twenty-fourth verses, is this: "Oh that my words were now written! Oh that they were printed in a book! That they were graven with an iron pen and lead in rock forever!" The eighth chapter of Isaiah begins, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen concerning Maher-shalal-hashbaz." In the Third Epistle of John occurs this: "I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write to thee."

Pens of steel, gold and silver appeared in Great Britain, France and America about 1800 but they were very slow in gaining favor. They were expensive, clumsy and not as satisfactory as the quill. But the

The Perfection Oil Heater will prove more economical in over a million homes this year than ever before. Coal prices have changed but little in the last twelve months, while Aladdin Security Oil, the best kerosene you can buy, has gone down nearly 50%.

The Perfection is an efficient heater. There's no waste of fuel, no ashes that represent many of the only a few minutes each day are an added source of wasted heat, greater, probably, than you imagine.

Use your coal heater to keep the whole house warm. Then in cold weather, instead of "rushing" the fire all day, make the living rooms comfortable by using a Perfection, just where you want it—in the bay window or the opposite side of the room from the radiator.

You can burn a Perfection for about 10 hours on a single gallon of kerosene. Your hardware or department store salesman will gladly point out its simple construction and smokeless wick adjustment to you.

1. Drunkenness (v. 7). Judah had also erred through strong drink. Even their priests and prophets had fallen through the blighting effects of wine. 2. Unnamable filth (v. 8). This description shows a condition which is deploted and drugkdeplorable indeed. Filth and drunkenness go hand in hand.

3. Mockery (vv. 9, 10). In addition to their drunkenness and filth they scornfully mock God's prophets. These priests had become so hardened by their drunken debauchery that they set at naught Isaiah's instructions and scorned God's messengers. They questioned God's messengered gave back one their authority and gave back the answer of ridicule as if to say, "We are teachers, what do you have just been weaned? You come upon line." They were not only unwilling to receive the message, but tired of the way in which it was delivered. ### Chilean Grapes Imported. An experimental shipment of grapes was sent from Chile to New York, with a view of ascertaining whether a market could be found in the United States for the product of the Chilean vineyards. The grapes were shipped In cold storage and are reported to have arrived in excellent condition, and to have been sold at highly satisfactory prices. It is reported that another shipment is planned as soon as arrangements can be made. The experiment is of particular interest, since it is possible that the exporta-tion of fresh fruit from Chile to the pavement, known on Plot as No. 3 tion of fresh fruit from Chile to the United States might become very profitable, providing shipping facilities were available. Chile produces fine fruit of almost every variety known to the temperate zone, and it would be at its best.

Paper Movies.

Paper instead of celluloid for movies is being tried abroad, it is said, at a tremendous saving of expense, and little decrease in excellence. Opaque paper may be used many times without wearing away. Such a revolution in cost is desirable, of course, but if clear photographs can be made through paper we shall be surprised. The materials of which paper is made may be made translucent to ordinary vision, but hardly transparent; although the light rays now in control of men achieve wonders through obstacles the natural sight of man cannot pierce.

This morning I made myself be-lieve I wanted to think, so I went out of my office-I've got an office now climbed into my car and went down by the river to count the water.

I was loafing along, keeping to my own side of the road when I saw a car coming toward me like well, very fast. It was in the middle of the road, of course. Every fellow who ever drove a car knows the middle of the road belongs to him or

I had to choose between going into the ditch or getting into a crash. As I am not stubborn, I took the ditch. It made me mad, too, and I said things to that fellow (after he

Half of all our troubles are imaginary.

Most of the men we believe to be our enemies doing things purposely to annoy us never thought of such a thing. The bad motives to which we ascribe their actions exist only in our own minds

It was Owen Wister who put into the mouth of one of his characters the classic:

"I am an old man. I've a lot of trouble. Most of it never happened!

If you and I could just learn to cut out the what-if-ing we would live years longer and be a lot happier.

I know a real live poet. He has written a lot of things about springs and violets and romances, all of which have been printed in books and read by lovers under honeysuckle vines. But to my mind that guy never said a mouthful but once and that was when he penned the lines: The cow is in the hammock

The cat is in the cake

The children in the ash can-What difference does it make?" -From Kiwanis Magazine.

No Language of its Own.

Switzerland has no language of its own. The official languages of Switzerland are French, Italian and German, all three being recognized as the "mother tongue" of the majority of the inhabitants.

A majority of the people speak German, while the others use French and Italian, varying as a rule, acthe proximity of the people to each country whose language they speak.

¥. Minister Marries Minister.

On Oct. 24, in Chicago, two minis-ters of differing faiths became man and wife, and neither contemplates a change in their religion, but will leave for India, in November, to do missionary work.

Raymond Ewing, Baptist, and Miss (Rev.) Ruth A. Grimes, pastor of the South Blue Island Methodist Church. The meeting of the couple was at the University of Chicago, where they were studying for the missionary field, last summer. They decided to teach the heathen together. "Nothing remarkable about it all,"

"Nothing remarkable about it all," said the Mrs. Rev. Dr. Ewing, nee Grimes, following the ceremony. "We decided we could carry on our work better together. The fact that my husband is a Baptist and I am a Methodist is of no consequence. We both preach of the same God and the same doctrine of salvation. Our work lies in the same field." HICHARKS.

"What'd ye git?" "Thirteen dollars."

"What'd it cost to raise it?" "Paid $3 for the shoat, $5 for the lumber in the pen and house and $5 more for the feed"

"Didn't make much, did ye?" "No, but I had the use of the pig all summer."-Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
