NO. 19

THE GAME LAWS OF MARYLAND.

The Open Season for Hunting Begins November 10.

The season on upland game opens November 10, and continues until January 1, inclusive. This includes partridges or quail, native pheasants (ruffed grouse); woodcock, rabbit open season on doves is September 1 to December 15. Rail birds September 1 to November 30. Reed birds, including ducks, geese, brant, jack-snipe and crowbill, November 1 to January 21; muskrat and otter, Jan. 1 to March 15.

It is unlawful to kill more than 12 Partridge; 2 Grouse, 50 Rail, 25 Doves, 6 Woodcock, 10 Rabbits, 10 Squirrels; 25 Jacksnipe; 25 Ducks, Geese and Brant; 15 Yellowlegs; 5 black breasted Plover and 10 Crowbills. Bag limit on Wild Turkey 4 in one season. These bag limits are State-wide with the exception of Harford county, wherein the bag limit is as follows: 10 Partridges; 5 Woodcock; 10 Jacksnipe; 6 Rabbits, 1 Jack Rabbit; 8 Squirrels and 50 Rail birds.

It is unlawful to export any game except wild-fowl from the State of Maryland, however; Licensed sportsmen may carry out in open view of the public one day's bag limit.

It is unlawful to shoot Wild Fowl from a power boat at any time, also to hunt or kill game on Sunday. It is unlawful to kill female Chinese Ringnecked Pheasants at any time or in any manner. Unlawful to sell, offer for sale, purchase or offer to purchase any Bob-white Partridge or Quail; Chinese Ringnecked Pheasant; Ruffed Grouse or Wild Turkey.

The laws of this State require every person who hunt game to first procure a hunter's License and have same in possession while hunting (also to display on the left arm between elbow and shoulder an arm tag). Landowners, their tenants or children are not required to purchase a license to hunt on land which they own, or tenant. The cost of a license is very nominal, namely: Non-resident $10.25; State-wide $5.10 and county resident $1.10. Same can be secured from the Clerks of the Circuit Courts of the counties of the State, or the Clerk of Court of Common Pleas, Baltimore City.

Guests of landowners must have a license. It is unlawful to trespass on any property owned, controlled or acquired by the State Game Department, for the purpose of hunting under a penalty of $100. It is also unlawful to trespass on any property without permission, therefore, hunters should secure permission from the owner or tenant before trespassing. The fine for this violation is $15.00. According to reports received by this Department, game is more plentiful in the cover than ever heretofore. In order to avoid delay in securing licenses, it is advised that the public secure same as soon as possible. Usually around the opening of the season there is a great rush at the clerks office for these licenses. By securing these licenses early this congestion can be avoided.

E. LEE LeCOMPTE, State Game Warden.

Maryland Reads get $640,629.

Maryland will get $640,629 from the U. S. Treasury for road construction, from the amended road bill just passed in Congress; of which, the sum of $213,543 may be utilized at once, and the balance will be ready at the beginning of 1922. This sum must be matched with a like sum appropriated by the state. The total appropriation carried by the bill is $75,000,000.

Too Many Democratic Officials.

The Board of Election Supervisors of Anne Arundel County has just been indicted on the charge of naming election officials at the election cases of such appointments are cited. The defense of the Board is that no some sections were "available" in appointments. The Board of Supervisors is composed of two Democrats and one Republican.

"SUBSCRIBE FOR YOUR HOME PAPER WEEK."

We have been giving considerable space for several weeks, to an idea originating in the West, that the week of November 7th. to 12th. should be a week in which newspaper patrons should engage in an effort to "boost" the circulation of their home services, and a return for many community favors given without charge by it.

The Record has simply passed the idea along, in common with thousands of other weeklies, being willing to try out the experiment and see if it is in no sense a "begging" proposition. We will be glad if the idea produces the desired results; but, if it can't just the same. If there are readers who will send the Record to some friend, or relative, that will be carrying out the idea.

FIRST-CLASS HIGH SCHOOL.

Taneytown School Promoted for General Excellence.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week, Prof. Samuel M. North, State Supervisor of High Schools, accompanied by Prof. M. S. H. Unger, Co. Superintendent, paid a visit to the Taneytown High School, and made a thorough inspection of the work done there. Prof. North was much pleased with the High School. He found, further, that certain conditions, imposed by the State Board of Education, are being met, and in consequence made the announcement that the rating of the High School will be raised to First Class; that is, hereafter it will be a First Class High School. Up to the present, the High School has been offering a three years' course, granting students on its completion, a Second Class diploma. In consequence of the change in rating, the course hereafter will be four years, and students graduating, will be granted a First Class diploma. Our High School will be then, equal in rating curriculum to any in the State of Maryland.

This decision on the part of the State Supervisor will undoubtedly be of incalculable benefit to the young people of the community, since it will be possible for them to receive at their home school, instruction of the same grade offered in the best high schools in the state. It means, further, that certain school equipment, which is not now available will be at the command of the teachers and students, thus insuring more thorough and satisfactory instruction.

The extra year's course is offered, immediately, for those prepared to take it. The principal invites students, who have completed the three years' course, to return, and attend school this year, after which they will be graduated with the First Class diploma.

From an Old Regular.

(For the Record.) Herewith find $3 currency, covering renewal subscription to October 26, 1923.

Almost 6 1/2 years having passed by since last I was in the good old town, the neighborhood of my birth, unhappily with very little likelihood of this latterly well-known stranger ever again seeing it, at all—the prized Record has been, and will continue to be, the one effectual medium of communication from and connection with the place; weekly picturing to, or afresh associating in my mind, the sacredly cherished past there. Too, always it more or less interestingly chronicles various local events; alike in the recurring yet ever receding present time, as well as prospect or forecast of the speculative, uncertain future.

WM. A. GOLDEN,

Another Motor-Cycle Collision.

While Charles Ohler and family were going home from church in their auto, last Sunday morning, a motor-cyclist going at rapid speed ran around and in front of the car, at George Sauble's, to make the turn to the Gettysburg road, and in so doing caught the left front wheel of the car, breaking it off and causing the car to swerve to the left against a telephone pole, when it was further badly damaged.

The motor-cyclist went rapidly on his way without stopping, but was pursued by Mr. Ohler and Mervin Ashenfelter on a motor-cycle, who overtook him east of Harney. He first denied that he was the person wanted, but finally admitted it, giving what is claimed was an assumed name, and his home at Hanover, Pa., and promised to come to Taneytown, on Monday, and make good the damage to Mr. Ohler's car.

As yet, he has not made his appearance, and no arrest has been made. It is common report that the young man is well known in Taneytown, and that the cycle he was riding was a hired one. So far as reported, it was not hurt.

Will give Oratorio "Elijah."

The Western Maryland College Choral Club has decided to give the oratorio, "Elijah," by Mendelssohn, sometime during commencement, June next. This club is selected from the student body of the college and the choirs and singers of Carroll county. Persons living outside of the county, who are able to meet for rehearsal, are invited to sing in this chorus.

Last year the chorus that gave Handel's "Messiah" was composed of about two hundred voices. The wonderful success of that presentation leads to the hope that at least three hundred voices can be secured for this oratorio.

Mendelssohn's Elijah ranks as a musical production next to Handel's Messiah, although some musical critics prefer Elijah to the Messiah. It is given annually in New York City and other musical centers. An unusual opportunity is presented to all lovers of music who are interested in music to join this chorus, and the wish is expressed that the singers of Carroll county will respond at once to the invitation to join.

A rehearsal for organization will take place in Smith Hall, Western Maryland College Friday evening, Nov. 11, at 7:30 o'clock. Following the rehearsal there will be a social hour to enable the members of the chorus to get acquainted.

How To Mark a Ballot.

The ballot, this year, is of a size that will not be difficult to handle in the booths, if care is used. It must be FOLDED, after being marked, just as it was on being received from the ballot clerk. Open it carefully, and notice just how its folds are made.

The names on the ballot are arranged in two broad columns, in eight groups, and eleven (11) X marks will be required for voting for enough candidates for all offices; one for Comptroller; four for House of Delegates, one each for Register of Wills, Clerk of the Court, County Commissioner, Sheriff, County Treasurer, and County Surveyor. A ballot will be counted if LESS than the full number are voted for.

Always make the X mark in the square to the RIGHT of the candidate's name, and following the name of his party. Use the pencil in the booth, for marking.

This is important, for it is easily possible, in voting for candidates in the second column, to make the mistake of placing the X mark in the square to the left of the candidate's name.

If in marking a ballot, it is found that a mistake has been made, do not attempt to erase, or correct, the mistake, but call for a SECOND BALLOT and mark that correctly.

Do not make any mark but an X mark, and make it all WITHIN the square, and do not "try your pencil" nor make any other mark on the ballot. It will not be counted, if you do.

Have your SPECTACLES with you if you do not see well, and if you are "shaky" in the hand be extra careful.

Everybody must mark their own ballot, unless blind or unable to read. In such cases assistance may be had from the election officials, but the voter must give the NAMES of all candidates he wants to vote for.

If you have any doubt as to your ability to mark your ballot, do not take any chances, but first go to the INSTRUCTION ROOM of your party for information.

DO NOT PUT OFF VOTING until late in the day, unless absolutely necessary. The largely increased number of voters now causes voting to proceed slowly, and if too many come late, some are apt to lose the chance of voting.

THE ELECTION IS NEXT TUESDAY, NOV. 8, AND THE POLLS ARE OPEN FROM 6:00 A. M. UNTIL 7:00 P. M.

A MISLEADING ITEM.

Advocate "Plays Politics" with the Record's Position.

The Democratic Advocate, last week, in a brief news item, says: "The Carroll Record is supporting Edward S. Harner, Democrat, for House of Delegates, and says, Mr. Harner is entitled to local and general support."

The Advocate did not tell the whole story. What the Record said, was this:

"The Record cordially indorses William F. Bricker, Republican, for Register of Wills, and Edward S. Harner, Democrat, for House of Delegates. Both are well qualified men, and entitled to local and general support."

There is a difference between "supporting" and "indorsing." The Record is pursuing its long-time course of keeping out of partisan politics, and is not actively "supporting" any candidate. We merely give our "indorsement" to two Taneytown men, both of whom are well qualified for the offices to which they aspire.

Red Cross Conference.

Each of the twenty-four Red Cross Chapters in Maryland are expected to send delegations to the big Red Cross conference in Baltimore, on Thursday, November 3, one of the most important meetings the organization has held in the state since the armistice. Baltimore Red Cross workers have completed arrangements for the reception of the visitors and will welcome all members of the organization or those interested in its work. The conference will be held at the Medical and Chiropractic Faculty Library, No. 1211 Cathedral Street, beginning at half past nine in the morning and continuing throughout the day.

Chief among the topics to be discussed is the work which the Maryland Chapters are doing for the disabled fighting men. Red Cross workers throughout the state have been making fine progress along this line, particularly in assisting the agents of the U. S. Veteran's Bureau in locating ex-service men and women entitled to government aid. Home nursing and care of the sick, public health nursing, disaster relief preparedness, clothing production for the destitute children of Europe, Junior Red Cross and the coming roll call, Nov. 11-24, are some of the other subjects down for consideration.

"Wets" Missed the News.

Some people must have heads as near force argument proof as those of "Jiggs" and "Jeff," to be able to keep on with the noise that the country is up in arms in favor of booze, both as a "personal privilege" and for "medicinal purposes." We note, in this connection, that very little mention has been made of the fact that last week, the American Congress of Surgeons, assembled in Philadelphia, pronounced almost unanimously against issuing prescriptions for beer.

It was there declared that about three per-cent of the physicians of the country will traffic in beer, because they cannot make a living at anything else, and that it would be "the same crowd that has always dispensed dope when nobody else would."

STRIKES ARE FORBIDDEN.

Railroad Board Determined to Exercise full Power.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—The United States Railroad Labor Board's decision today in effect forbade railroad union labor from striking without the board's permission, and declared that all strikers who violated the order would be classed as "out-laws who had voluntarily removed themselves from the protection of the Transportation act."

After detailing the decision of both sides to abide by the law, the board further says: "These facts render it unnecessary for the board to make any direct orders about this matter, and move it to congratulate the chief parties interested and the public, most vitally and profoundly interested, on this return to industrial peace, triumph of the reign of law and the escape from this national disaster."

"But at this time and while the matter is so intensely before the minds of all the board deems it expedient and proper to make its rulings and positions on some of the points involved so clear that no ground for any misunderstanding can hereafter exist."

"First—When any change of wages contracts or rules previously in effect are contemplated or proposed by either party, conference must be had as directed by the Transportation act and by rules or decision of procedure promulgated by the board, and where agreements are not reached the dispute must be brought before this board and no action taken or change made unauthorized by the board."

"Second—The ordering or authorizing of a strike against decision No. 147 (the July 1 wage cut) of this board is a violation of that decision. The board desires to point out that such overt acts by either party tending to and threatening an interruption of the transportation lines, the peaceful and uninterrupted operation of which are so absolutely necessary to the peace, prosperity and safety of the entire people, are in themselves even when they do not culminate in a stoppage of traffic, a cause and source of great injury and damage."

"The board further points out for the consideration of employees interested that when such action does result in a strike the organization so acting has forfeited its right and the rights of its members in and to the provisions and benefits of all contracts theretofore existing, and the employees so striking have voluntarily removed themselves from the classes entitled to appeal to this board for relief and protection."

State Christian Endeavor Officers to Visit Carroll.

Carroll County will have the distinction of having the first visit from the officers of the Maryland Christian Endeavor Union for the fiscal year, when they visit the county, Sunday next, November 6, for two mass meetings.

The first meeting will be held at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Hampstead, at 2:30 P. M., and will be a rally of the Christian Endeavor forces not only of Hampstead, but of surrounding community. The speakers will be: George J. Ritterbusch, President; Spencer E. Sisco, General Secretary; Carroll M. Wright, Field Secretary; George R. Smith, Junior Superintendent; while Richard A. Haines, a noted song leader, will lead the singing. The male chorus of Bethel Church at Carrollton, is expected to be present and render several selections.

At night, at 7:30 o'clock, at St. Mary's Lutheran Church, Silver Run, the same speakers will address a meeting of the Endeavors of Silver Run and the surrounding community. These meetings are being held under the auspices of the Carroll County Christian Endeavor Union, and will be presided over by the county president. All Endeavorers and friends are cordially invited and urged to attend and become better acquainted with the leaders of the Christian Endeavor forces in Maryland.

BIBLE CLASS PARADE A GREAT EVENT.

A Record-Breaking Crowd in Westminster, Last Sunday.

The Sunday School, or Bible Class, demonstration, in Westminster, last Sunday afternoon, exceeded all expectations in size. Fully 1500 men marched in line over the principal streets, accompanied by the Westminster, Pleasant Valley, Taylorsville and Morgan Chapel bands. The Armory was filled to overflowing, where Rev. J. Walter Englar, of New Windsor, presided, and Rev. W. C. Parrish, of New Windsor, introduced the speaker, Congressman W. D. Upshaw, of Georgia, who made the address.

A meeting for women was held in the M. E. Church, addressed by Mrs. P. A. Heilman, of Baltimore, and an overflow meeting was held in the lecture room of the church, addressed by Rev. J. S. Adam, of Silver Run.

Literally thousands of men and women lined the streets, or fully twice as many as heard the addresses. Automobiles were lined up, a portion of Main St., having three lines of them. Many estimated that the crowd was the largest ever in Westminster, the county being represented from north to south.

An Appreciation, and the Next Step.

The Carroll County Sunday School Association through the Supt. of adult work, Rev. W. C. Parrish, desires to express its enthusiastic appreciation and thanks to the press of Carroll county and to every other agency that group and individual that has helped to make the great demonstration in Westminster last Sunday such a success. Only by the most splendid co-operation is such a thing possible. We wish we could thank each one personally, but to even mention them here would exceed by far, our available space. "Virtue brings its own reward" and so we trust the satisfaction of duty well done will suffice.

Now as to the next step. Beginning this Sunday, Nov. 6, and continuing one month, there will be throughout the county a campaign in every school to increase the membership of all adult classes 25 per-cent. If your class has 20 members at present, it means get five more. If 40 members get 10 more and so on. This applies to both men's and women's classes.

The Association wants to add 500 new names to its rolls in the next four weeks. It can be done if all will work. Further particulars will be given in the press from time to time. This county is already well on toward the front in Sunday School work in the state of Maryland. All loyal Carroll contains ought to want to push it right up to the very top.

GEORGE MATHER, Sec'y.

A Union's "Obligation."

There was published in the Congressional Record, last week, in the course of an argument against union labor in the Public Printing office, what purports to be the oath, or obligation, that is taken by members of the International Typographical Union. The form is given as follows:

"I (give name) hereby solemnly and sincerely swear (or affirm) that I will not reveal any business or proceedings of any meeting of this or any subordinate union to which I may be attached, unless by order of the union, except to those whom I know to be members in good standing thereof; that I will, without equivocation or evasion and to the best of my ability, abide by the constitution, by-laws, and the adopted scale of prices of any union to which I may belong; that I will at all times support the laws, regulations and decisions of the International Typographical Union, and will carefully avoid giving aid or succor to its enemies, and use all honorable means within my power to procure employment for members of the International Typographical Union in preference to others; that my fidelity to the union and my duty to the members thereof shall in no sense be interfered with by any allegiance that I may now or hereafter owe to any other organization, social, political, or religious, secret, or otherwise; that I will belong to no society or combination composed wholly or in part of printers, with the intent or purpose to interfere with the trade regulations or influence or control the legislation of this union; that I will not wrong a member, or see him or her wronged, if in my power to prevent. To all of which I pledge my most sacred honor."

"Putting it Over" on County Newspapers.

It would be a fine thing, and a needed application of the Golden Rule for many folks who come to weekly newspapers to boost something for them, to reciprocate by boosting these papers, at least to the extent of a year's subscription; and this applies, whether the booster represents only himself, or some very worthy, perhaps, institution.

There is a sentiment that eternally takes for granted the supposition that weekly newspapers are continuously eager and watching for something to boost. Perhaps that is true, but they do not care to be reminded of the fact that they are not so much interested in their own way, as in the way of their

Perseverance in advertising, is a fine thing. Covering the field widely and well, is another. But, there is just one other essential to these ideas, and that is, paying for the service. Full pay, we do not mean, in the matter of such cases as we refer to; but at least the tangible actual pay in cash that is represented by a subscription to the papers used.

In some cases, there is an indirect pay. Some printing office gets orders for stationery, or actual pay for some other work for the affair boosted, and such favored office may reasonably be expected to carry a lot of free publicity, without complaint. But, perhaps one office in a county gets paid work, and six others are expected to use the same amount of free stuff as the subsidized office, and do it happily, which does not appear to us to represent a square deal.

How Better Than Pills?

The question has been asked. In what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is, they are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then, they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.

Wage Cut Agreements.

An item in the papers last week, to the effect that 13,000 shoe workers in Lynn, Mass., were asked to submit to a cut of 20 per cent in wages, "to stimulate business," shows one of the reasons why many articles have not yet come down in cost to the consumer. In this particular case, an agreement exists between the manufacturers and workers that changes in wages are effective only when agreed to by both.

This same agreement exists to a considerable extent throughout the country, in many lines of business. It is the price of peace with the unions, and the buying public pays "the price" agreed on. Manifestly, the manufacturers are left only the chance of reduction in prices, such as may result from lower costs of materials, and none because of reduced labor costs.

This Lynn case represents forty factories, which largely means the cost of shoes for the whole country, as manufacturing concerns not directly involved are quite apt to fall in line. In effect, the labor agreement is largely one that prevents lower selling prices—as well as strikes.

To Gain a Good Reputation.

The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you appear. That is precisely the manner in which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained its reputation as a cure for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Every bottle that has ever been put out by the manufacturers has been fully up to the high standard of excellence claimed for it. People have found that it can be depended upon for the relief and cure of these ailments and that it is pleasant and safe to take.

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for colds, croup and whooping cough for almost half a century and has constantly grown in favor and popularity as its good qualities became better known. It is the standard and main reliance for these diseases in thousands of homes. The facts that it can always be depended upon and is safe and pleasant to take are greatly in its favor when it is wanted for children.

COUNTRY PAPER GUARDS NATION

Rises Promptly and Capably to Every Emergency.

IS NOT ALWAYS APPRECIATED

Cements Interests of Mass of Population—Avoiding Sensationalism, in Its Clean Wholesomeness Is Its Appeal to Best Class of Citizens—Country Press a National Power.

By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON.

The country communities—the village, the small town and the small city—are the backbone of the American nation. They are the communities to which the nation turns in time of distress and emergency. They are even more than the backbone of the nation. They are the bulwark of our modern civilization. Just at the close of the World war, Mr. Balfour, foreign minister of Great Britain, said to the writer in London that the entire civilized world must look to the small towns of America to preserve for the world the civilization that it had taken centuries to build, because the small towns represented a substantial solidity that the tremendous upheaval of the war had not affected, and it was only such a foundation that would preserve the structure of civilization.

The cement that keeps the people of these country communities together, working and thinking along uniformly sane and safe lines, that makes of them that "substantial solidity" on which world civilization can rely for a foundation, is the country press—the village, the small town and the small city newspaper.

Country Paper Wholesome.

The country newspaper goes to its readers devoid of that sensationalism that is so prominent in the metropolitan papers. It carries to its readers the news items that represent the joys and sorrows of their friends and neighbors, and keeps the hearts of the people of the community beating in unison. It goes to its readers with that sane and kindly advice on local, state, national and world problems; advice that is the result of thought and study beside the hearthstones of the nation, and not in the selfish marts of trade or the bright lights of city frivolity. It goes with the influence of a known and respected member of the community—its editor back of its every word, its every opinion. It goes to a people, the people of the country communities and the farms, that are more capable of thinking along sane, unselfish and practical lines than are those who are surrounded by the selfish and many times evil influences of the large cities.

But the influence of the country newspaper goes far beyond the community in which it is printed. National legislators in the halls of congress realize that this influence is a power to be reckoned with. That when the country press speaks in unison on any national subject it is but voicing the sentiments of that mighty force the people of the country communities, the people in whose hands, says Mr. Balfour, rests the destiny of world civilization.

Fights for Entire Country.

The country press represents and fights for those things that are of value to the country communities, realizing that in doing so it is fighting for those things that are best for the nation and for the world. It works and fights to uphold the country community, to prevent its falling a prey to the selfish greed of the cities. It champions the business, the social, the educational, the agricultural, the industrial interests of the country community not from any selfish angle, but from the broader viewpoint of national good.

Some three or four months ago there was before Congress a bill on which the press of the country was divided. The magazines, the big national weeklies, the farm press and the metropolitan daily papers were on one side and the country newspapers were on the other side. The passage of the bill would mean creating an opportunity for a greater centralization of the merchandising of the nation in a few large cities with a consequent injury to the small cities and towns, and to the people of these cities and towns and the farms surrounding them. The country press fought for the defeat of the bill, and in the end the members of the committee in whose hands the fate of the bill rested listened to the country press because they realized that the welfare of these country communities represented the best interests of the nation as a whole, and the bill was killed.

During our participation in the World war the country press stood staunchly and unselfishly back of the nation. It did nothing to create dissension among the people during the time of emergency, but it did carry to its readers a continuous message of patriotism and national unity. In each community it wiped away much of factional lines, and created an atmosphere of intense Americanism that welded the American people together regardless of place of birth or ancestry.

Value Not Always Understood.

But the people of the cities do not always understand the value of the country press. With the increased demand for war supplies there came a demand for a decrease in the consumption of the ordinary needs of peace time. Among the things the consumption of which must be cut was paper. A city man was at the head of the department that regulated the use of paper, and he felt it advisable to so limit the amount of paper available for the country press as to seriously cripple all of these papers, and to have entirely closed many of them. It was the privilege of the writer to present the case of the country press to this man, and it did not take him long to see that the government could not afford to in any considerable degree cripple an institution that represented so much of national good as did these country newspapers.

Country Press Deserves Well.

The country press deserves well of the people of the nation, and especially of the people of the country communities. Individually these papers may not be large in size as compared with the city papers, but quantity is not the measure of their value. They are worth both directly and indirectly far more than their subscription price. For that price they bring to you each week the news of your friends and acquaintances. To those who have left the country home to go either to the city or to some other country home, the country newspaper is a welcome weekly letter that keeps them in touch with friends and former associates. To those at home it carries the news of their friends and neighbors. It records the births and deaths, the marriages, the comings and goings of those in whom you are interested. It furnishes the medium of publicity through which work for a better and stronger community is maintained. It voices the consensus of opinion of the community to the representatives in the halls of the state and national legislatures. It is the paper of, for and by the people of the villages, the towns and the small cities.

No country paper worthy of the name ever seeks the support of the people of its community on any other ground than that of giving more than full value for all that it receives. You aid yourself, your community, your state and the nation when you support and read your own "Home Town Paper."

MUSKRAT IN TERRAPIN ROLE

Professor Reveals Secret on Finding Bones of Fur-Bearer in Turtle Dish at Lunch.

Only an absent-minded science person would have put bones from the terrapin stew into his pocket, instead of on his plate.

"Now, isn't that just like a bone turning specialist?" said his host genially, turning to the group of servants whom he was entertaining at luncheon at a leading hotel, according to the New York Sun. "If I thought that you wanted a skeleton of one of the diamond backs, I would have had the chef save one for you, shell and all."

The science person stirred uneasily in his chair.

"Sorry," he murmured. "Didn't realize it. Not a good luncheon trick. Science and social graces don't go together, do they? Such remarkable bones for a terrapin stew that I wanted to study them."

"Come, now, speak up, professor, what kind of anatomy was it? Baby dinosaur?"

"Oh, no," the professor said. "Such terrapin are raised for the market is considerable quantity in Dorchester county, Maryland. Their fur is also highly esteemed."

Right then and there something was started. The head waiter was sent for, and when pressed for details, said that he was quite sure that the diamond backs had come direct from Baltimore. The steward came next.

"Well," he said finally, "do you suppose there is enough terrapin raised in this country to supply all the hotels? I should say not."

The bones which the professor had disinterred were those of a muskrat, for in the county of Dorchester muskrats are raised in large quantity not only for their fur, but also as terrapin par excellence. The dark brown flesh is not unlike that of the land tortoise. Muskrats are clean feeders when they have a chance and before they are killed for the terrapin market they are carefully fattened on the choicest materials. Only recently in one of the French magazines there was an article on the diamond back in which due credit was given to the "County de Dorchester," in America, for producing such an excellent substitute for a costly delicacy.

Machinery Tells Own Ills.

Most of us are, unfortunately, more or less familiar with the stethoscope, which the doctor uses when listening for the signs of defective action in our lungs or heart. It is not so widely known that the same kind of instrument can be employed to detect abnormal noises in moving machinery. The latest development in this workshop stethoscope, due to a British engineer, lies in the use of a kind of telephone receiver in place of the stethoscope rod.

The advantage of this device is that every bearing and every gear in a factory can be fitted permanently with a receiver and all the receivers can be connected by electric wires to a single board in the manager's office or any other convenient spot. By means of suitable switches the manager can examine each bearing or gear in succession without moving from the board. Since abnormal internal noise is often the first sign of trouble which may lead to breakdown, this simple and rapid means of detection is an invaluable aid to the factory owner.—Victoria Colonist.

A Scrap of Paper

A treaty may sometimes be considered only a scrap of paper, but a bank check is something more than that. Even after it is cashed it is a receipt that can't be dodged.

A bank check is better than the cash because if lost a new check may be issued. If money is lost it is gone for good. A checking account is the modern way of doing business, the best, safest most convenient way or something better would have taken its place. We invite you to open an account at our Bank, where every courtesy will be extended to you.

EVIL OF THE RENTING HABIT

Dependency on Other Hands for Homes Marks a Retrogression in Spirit.

When householders become renters by habit, that is, when they become willing to depend on other hands than their own to provide and maintain their homes for them, society loses much of that valuable individuality, that personal independence, initiative and self-reliance that distinguishes a great people from a mass of people.

For three hundred years the American people have led the world in individuality, initiative and personal independence. The fathers pulled out of the European huddle in order that they might stand on their own feet; and having reached America, they had to stand alone. Most born Americans were born of parents who owned their own homes.

Contentment with huddle, the willingness to live in some one else's warmed and cared-for loft rather than in one's own fought-for and paid-for home marks a retrogression in spirit from the American way to the European way of life.

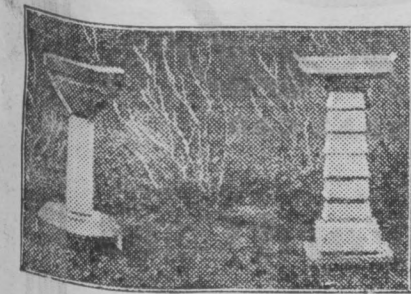

However we may excuse ourselves for inclination toward the easy comfort of the carefree, commercial, rented compartment, and for shrinking from the harder demands of the detached, owned and paid-for home; and however respectable the renting habit may have become, it must be admitted that our inclination is a phase of social degeneracy, a drift toward the huddle, the beginning of the abandonment of that vitalizing independence of which the owned home is pre-eminently the symbol and support.—Portland (Ore.) Telegram.

TWO ORIGINAL BIRD BATHS

One Is Made Entirely of Logs, the Other on Shingle-Covered Pedestal.

The photograph shows two original ideas in bird-bath construction that can be adapted where it would not be possible to build a cement bath.

At the left is shown a bird bath made entirely from logs, a heavy cross section being used for the base, another for the top, and a few feet of a much smaller log forming the pedestal. The upper log section is hollowed out to receive a round pan which holds the water.

The shingle-covered bath at the right has a base made from two-inch lumber, to which is fastened a tapered wooden frame, made of one-inch strips, each side being two inches smaller at the top than at the bottom. A two-inch cap, with a one-inch board support for the pan, is provided.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Hedge Solves Fencing Problems.

More and more Americans are appreciating the value of privacy in their gardens. It is a sane idea, this— that we plant lovely lawns and grow shrubs and trees, not to form a park for the admiring gaze of motorists and neighbors, but to furnish us with a little kingdom of outdoors all our own, where we can live and breathe and have our being unobscured and unmolested.

Very frequently, of course, privet and other hedge shrubs seem to be planted only for the sake of dividing one property from another or one section of the garden from another. Then there is reason in keeping the hedge clipped back. But the hedge that is built for the purpose of giving protection should be clipped only enough to give the roots strength and to give it a trim appearance.

Much is being done nowadays with fir and other evergreens for hedges. Nursery men have gone to the ends of the earth for trees and shrubs that would withstand the extremes of our climate. A recently introduced fir has come from the east coast of Asia, where they are accustomed to a hotter summer and colder winter than we have here, and are therefore sure to withstand our extremes. Great expense has also been taken to get shrubs and trees suitable for wind-breaks in the trying seashore climate.

Value of Community Play.

Community play is being promoted by local governments because it has been demonstrated to be a practical business proposition. City officials accept as an axiom the statement that the leisure hours of the city must be either an asset or a liability. The people of this county have about a billion hours a day to pass outside of work and sleep. In this leisure time most of the crime, vice and delinquency occur.

AGE ALSO WILL BE SERVED

Youth Has Nothing Like a Leading Place in the Business World of Today.

Youth is lovely, a beautiful thing; but let not the youngsters grow too cocky.

The fact of Col. Washington A. Roebling, eighty-four years old, being elected to the presidency of a big bridge company, has prompted B. O. Forbes, the financial writer, to investigate the truth of the saying that America is a young man's country. It isn't so, he says, according to the Philadelphia Evening Ledger. Big men, he declares, do their best work after they are fifty.

E. H. Gary was past fifty when he took hold of the big job with the United States Steel corporation that he has held for more than twenty years.

Not one important railroad president in the country is less than forty; hardly any less than fifty. Samuel Rea was fifty-eight when he took hold of his present job with the Pennsylvania. Truesdale of the Lackawanna is seventy; Elliott of the Northern Pacific, sixty-one; Lovett of the Harriman lines, sixty-one; Smith of the New York Central, fifty-eight; Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, sixty.

One of the most powerful bankers in the country, George F. Baker, is in his eighty-second year! Another, A. Barton Hepburn, is seventy-eight.

Though Charles M. Schwab, Henry P. Davidson and Frank A. Vanderbilt won fame early (that is, before forty), their greatest work has been done when they could not possibly be classed as chickens.

All of which seems to show that fame, after all, is no cradle snatcher or chicken stealer.

Let the cockeries crow as they may, the wise old roosters still appear to dominate the heap.

PORTABLE HOUSES TO FRANCE

American Lumber Company's Practical Aid to the People of War-Devastated Districts.

Thirty-one hundred portable houses are being sent to northern France and Belgium by one American lumber company; the first shipment left Baltimore on the New Britain recently, says the Christian Science Monitor. The size of the contract is better understood when one realizes that the cost of transporting the $15,000,000 worth of houses, each weighing from forty to sixty tons, will be $4,000,000. Together with the other contracts which preceded and which will follow, this means the transformation of many square miles of landscape, a second transformation since the summer of 1914. Among the ruins of stone cottages many centuries old, wherever a stretch of level ground has been cleared between cellar and shell holes, new, brightly painted frame houses are springing up overnight.

The effect on the peasant of this great change in housing, a leap from the middle ages to the latest development in the quick and cheap, will doubtless be varied. Many doors and many windows will make a difference, and so will walls which are anything but soundproof. But most important will be the question which will come to him as he gazes on his American-made dwelling:

"My house has traveled. Why not I?"

Doughty Pickax Passes.

In the hands of lazy laborers the pickax becomes the irritation, despair or agent of humor of the average observant man. Symbol of toil, properly speaking, shirkers have turned it into mockery of labor because of the carefully calculated leisure with which they swing it. By their methods these ca'anny clock watchers changed the pickax into a visible sign of leisure.

But without knowing it these leisurely pickax wielders were working a change of great importance. They were attracting the attention of men whose business it is in life to see that work is done promptly, efficiently and economically. From these men has come the air hammer or air pick. In its street work a New York company has used one of these new implements with a gasoline engine and air compressors mounted on a large motortruck behind it. Where 15 men were hired to do the street job three are enough to do the work with this instrument.—New York Herald.

To Preserve Famous Trees.

The National Geographic society recently presented the United States government with the title to the last 640 acres of land which complete the "big tree" stands forming Sequoia national park. The park, established to preserve the most massive trees in the world from being converted into lumber, totals 1,916 acres. It was purchased in three sections, during 1916, 1920 and 1921, for a total of $146,330, only $50,000 of which was contributed by the government. The remainder was contributed by the members of the National Geographic society, their friends, and by a tax levy of Tulare county, California.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

His Camping Trip.

"I suppose you enjoyed some wonderfully quiet nights while on your camping trip."

"Quiet nothing!" snorted the tired business man. "Between the chirping of the chickens and the ukulele solos of a party of college boys in the next camp I never closed an eye!"

The Best Gasoline Costs no More

DURING our many years' experience in producing gasoline we have discovered that the proper blending of basic crudes is necessary for a well-balanced fuel. And our access to practically every developed oil field has insured full utilization of the various types and grades of crude in exactly the proportions needed.

The improved "Standard" Motor Gasoline is produced through the efforts of our Development Department experts. These men have devoted their lives to the study of oil refining and the relation between the properties of oils and the uses to which they are adapted. "Standard" Motor Gasoline represents the fruit of their years of painstaking experimentation. It is uniform in quality, quick-firing, clean-burning. It is the best gasoline obtainable, and costs no more than any other.

The consistent use of "Standard" Motor Gasoline will go far towards correcting many of the more common difficulties of motoring. If your engine overheats or gives off vile exhaust gases, if your cylinders miss or carbonize quickly, if the oil in your crankcase becomes diluted, it is probable that you have been using the wrong gasoline.

Fill up with the improved "Standard". On sale wherever you see the familiar "S.O." sign. Remember—it costs no more.

Frank Garber had the misfortune to break his arm while cranking their automobile, one day last week.

HARNEY.

On last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Ott, entertained D. W. Ott, wife and daughter, Isabelle, and Mrs. Geo. Ott, of Mercersburg, Pa.; also Mrs. Oliver Fogle and son, John, of this place.

Our youngsters had quite an enjoyable time, on Monday evening, celebrating Halloween. After all was over, we notice the decorations were not as elaborate as they were on similar occasions in the past.

On last Tuesday night, a few young men were inclined to be mischievous. They set fire to a corn fodder shock, in J. W. Reck's field and burned it up. The shock contained 25 bundles, and would have fed a horse or cow for some time. We were greatly surprised to think that the parties concerned would stoop so low as to destroy a man's property, without any cause.

Irving Ridinger was taken sick last Sunday, and was taken to Sykesville on Thursday for treatment.

On Monday afternoon, our school children under the direction of Prof. H. L. Feeser and daughter, Pauline, gave a short Halloween entertainment. About thirty or more of the mothers and friends of the school were present, and say as usual, that it was very good for the occasion.

KEYSVILLE.

The community show which is to be held here this Saturday afternoon and evening, promises to be a success.

A comic parade will be held at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Harry Boller and wife, of Graceham; Edgar Boller and wife and Mrs. Gerner Thomas, of Loys, were guests of Charles Cluts and wife, Sunday.

A. N. Forney is rebuilding his barn. Mrs. C. F. Daley and son, of Gettysburg, are visiting friends in this neighborhood.

Mrs. Jennie Baumgardner, of Leitersburg; Ray Baumgardner, wife and family, of Greencastle, spent Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. Byron Stull.

Wedding bells are again ringing this week.

Little Miss Thelma Cluts, of Harney, is spending the week with Miss Virginia Cluts.

Robert Valentine, wife and son, and other relatives, attended the funeral of the former's father, Sylvester Valentine, at Rocky Ridge, on Tuesday.

O. R. Koontz and bride have returned from their bridal tour to Washington. The community extends to them, their best wishes.

By BRISTOW ADAMS.

I am the Country Newspaper.

I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends; I speak to the home in the evening light of summer's vine-clad porch or the glow of winter's lamp.

I help to make this evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life.

I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages.

I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, instruction, entertainment, inspiration, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of birth, and love and death—the three great facts of man's existence.

I bring together buyer and seller, to the benefit of both; I am part of the market-place of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed and clothe and shelter, and which minister to comfort, ease, health, and happiness.

I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation.

I am the exponent of the lives of my readers.

I am the Country Newspaper.

HAMPSTEAD.

Miss Mary Shaffer, who has been on the sick list, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Mae Myers, of Westminster, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Laura Rinaman.

Evangelistic meetings have started at Hampstead M. E. Church, and at Greenmount, U. B. Church, on Sunday evening with fine speakers. Attend, all that can.

Those present at Fairmount school every day during the month of Sept. and October were: Helen Kemp, Lawrence Asper, Kenneth Kemp, Russell Myers, Helen Miller, Lawrence Martin, Margaret Miller, Hilda Holtzner, Mary Miller, Mary Rill, Elmer Wisner, Gorman Rill, Beulah McCulough, Wilson Shaffer, LeRoy Brown, Miriam Brown, Mary Alban, Chester Steger, William Stone, Arthur Stone.

Services at Greenmount on Sunday S. S., 9:30; Preaching, 10:30. Revival services will be continued during the week at Mt. Union.

Services at Grave Run, M. E. Church; S. S., 1:30; Preaching, at 2:30. Paul E. Hyser will have charge of the services.

Deer is getting very plentiful in this vicinity; they are coming down from the mountains, on account of the drought. There are as high as six and seven in a herd.

BRIDGEPORT.

Miss Mary Loney, of Baltimore, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Clarence Naille and wife, of near Harney, and Mrs. Elmer Hess and daughter, were recent callers of their sister, Mrs. Jones Baker.

Mrs. Mary Hoover of Philadelphia, who was the guest of Mrs. Harry Baker, is now visiting her son, Frank Hoover and family, near Littlestown.

Wm. T. Smith and wife, John Harner, wife and daughter, Thelma, spent Sunday with John Delaplane and wife, at Mt. Union.

A surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Smith, on Thursday evening, Oct. 27. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were visiting and when they returned found their house filled with guests. One hundred and four guests were present and at a late hour departed for their homes having spent a very pleasant evening. (Names are omitted for want of time and space.—Ed.)

A Reception.

(For the Record.)

A reception and wedding dinner was given on Sunday, Oct. 30, at the parsonage in Uniontown, by Rev. V. K. Betts and wife in honor of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Shipley. Guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gorsuch, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Sadler, Mr. and Mrs. James Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Saylor, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Babylon, Mr. Albert Frick and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rosenthal, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Davis, John L. Shipley, Mrs. Bertha Shipley, Mrs. George Staub, Messrs. Johnnie Conway, D. W. Bolling, S. S. Betts, Elias Bowers, Jack Mullen, Graham Babylon, George Babylon, Davis Saylor, Misses Margaret Rosenthal, Martha Davis, Carrie Warner.

MARRIED

SHIPLEY—BETTS.

Married at the home of the bride, in Uniontown, Oct. 26, 1921, at 7 P. M., Miss Mary V. Betts and John G. Shipley, of Westminster. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Rev. V. K. Betts. Their many friends offer congratulations.

KEEFER—UNGER.

On Saturday evening, Oct. 29, 1921, Walter S. Keefe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Keefe and Savilla R. Unger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Unger, were quietly married in Baust Church Parsonage by the Rev. Murray E. Ness. The bridal party was accompanied by Mr. Jesse Unger, brother of the bride and Miss Roberta Heltibridge. The bride was attired in a brown taffeta dress and wore a hat to match. They will reside at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Unger, until spring and will then move to the Paul Formwalt farm near Taneytown, which the groom purchased a few weeks ago.

DIED.

Roderick; Mrs. Edna Mackley, of Frederick; Mrs. Ella Valentine and Mrs. Gertrude Strine, of Walkersville; Grant Crouse, Uniontown; Mrs. Leila Bohn, of McKinstry's Mill; A. R. Crouse, of Columbus, O. Mr. Crouse was a veteran of the Civil War, and a member of the G. A. R. His wife died Nov. 3, 1920.

MRS. ERNEST HYSER.

Mrs. Annie, wife of Mr. Ernest Hyser, died at her home on Frederick St., Taneytown, on Thursday morning, from complications following child-birth. Her unexpected death was a great shock to her family and many friends.

She is survived by her husband and four children, Beulah, Ruth, Hazel, and the infant; also by the following brothers and sisters: Chas. E. Ridinger, of Taneytown; Joseph, of Pen-Mar; Seward, of Westminster; Harry, of Philadelphia; Fabian, and Miss Lizzie Ridinger, and Mrs. Wilson Warren, of Baltimore; Mrs. John Stultz, near Taneytown.

Her age was 38 years, 5 months, 1 day. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon, meeting at the house at 1 o'clock; services in the U. B. Church, by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Wachter, and Rev. L. B. Hafer. Interment in the Lutheran cemetery.

In Loving Remembrance of our dear wife and mother,

MARY JANE FOX,

who departed this life three years ago, Nov. 4, 1918.

I miss you from around me, dear wife:
I miss you from your place,
Shadows over my life are cast;
I miss the sunshine of your face.

I miss the kind and willing hand,
Your feet and every care,
Our home is dark without you;
I miss you everywhere.

BY HER LOVING HUSBAND.

When all the world is cheerful
And smiles are on each brow,
Oh, blame us not for weeping—
We have no mother now.

Can we help but feel lonely
When her voice we do not hear,
For no words were ever sweeter
Than the words of mother dear.

BY HER LOVING CHILDREN

In Sad and Loving Remembrance of our dear daughter,

EDNA B. WELK KEEFER,

who departed this life so suddenly Nov. 7th, 1918.

Three years have passed since that sad day
When our dear daughter was called away.
She was always loving, patient and kind,
What a beautiful memory she left behind.

Often when the days are brightest,
Then a glow steals in our hearts,
Then it brings back sad remembrance,
Of the day we had to part.

In our home you are fondly remembered
Sweet memories cling to your name,
Hearts that loved you in deepest affection,
Still love you in death just the same.

No cross no crown they tell us,
But the cross is hard to bear,
We miss her more each day we live
We miss her everywhere.

By her loving parents and brother,
MR. AND MRS. CHAS. WELK.

CARD OF THANKS.

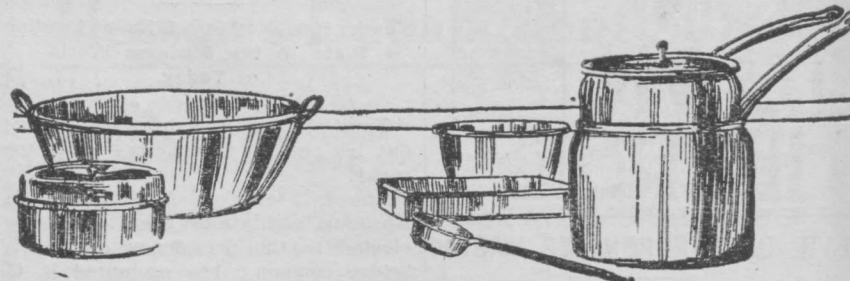

The entire family of Mrs. Edith Shank wishes to express their thanks to the neighbors for their kindness at the death and funeral.

"Pull"

There are several kinds of "pull," but the razor pull is the most disagreeable. Your razor will never have that "pull" if you keep it keen with a razor strop and razor hone from our assortment of shaving things. Just as a carpenter keeps his tools sharp to do good work, so must a razor be kept to cut those whiskers without discomfort. We have the tools to help you keep your razor in perfect shaving condition.

Prices 65c to $2.00 each

"Twas Said"

"You seem to have been in a serious accident." "Yes," said the bandaged person. "I tried to climb a tree in my motor car." "What did you do that for?" "Just to oblige a woman who was driving another car. She wanted to use the road."

We don't climb trees to do it, but we are always ready to go out of our way to oblige customers. Always glad to show the goods—always ready to answer questions and advice on the best article to buy for the purpose you want it—always willing to get for our customers anything wanted which we do not have in stock—always pleased to take care of phone orders for those who are unable to come to the store.

This is a store of service and it is by doing these things that we have succeeded in building a successful business. Pleased customers are those who get their Hardware and House wares here.

The Big Poultry Show.

The main floor of the State Armory, at Westminster, will be taxed to the limit to accommodate the display of poultry entered for the Mid-State Poultry Show, which opens Tuesday, Nov. 15. It was considered necessary by the management to restrict the display booths for poultry feeds and supplies to one side of the Armory only in order to place additional cages on the other side. Interest in this show is indicated by the fact that entries from as far west as Wisconsin have been received. It will be undoubtedly one of the largest and finest displays of poultry ever presented in Maryland.

In addition to the show itself, the meetings arranged for the week lend an educational value to the undertaking that gives it a unique position among poultry shows. On Wednesday, at 3 P. M., in Firemens' Hall, the poultrymen of Maryland will meet for the purpose of forming a State organization. On Thursday afternoon in the same place, a meeting will be held that will take the form of a general rally of all those interested, not only in poultry, but in general agricultural matters.

At this meeting it is expected that the recently organized co-operative association formed by the farmers' organizations of Maryland will be explained by representatives of the movement. Friday afternoon the boys and girls of the county will meet and among the features presented will be a practical demonstration of the use and care of eggs, by Miss Rachel Everette. Mr. E. J. Jenkins, in charge of boys' club work in the State will also make an address. Free tickets will be distributed through the schools of the county, for Friday.

A rest room and restaurant will be maintained in the basement of the Armory throughout the show.

The County Exhibit.

We have a lengthy article on the coming county exhibit, to be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 29 to Dec. 3, in Westminster, for which we do not have the space, and do not expect to have it next week. It is quite impossible to properly advertise, free of charge, all of the worthy efforts undertaken in this county, without displacing other news features of equal or greater interest.

The local newspaper is the servant of the community in which it is published, but to be a good and efficient servant it must be fed by the people it serves. It is an institution of the town quite as much as are the schools and the churches, and quite as much entitled to support.

Hard Boiled.

The black-haired waitress, very much out of sorts, sailed haughtily up to the table at which sat the grouchy breakfast customer. She slammed down the cutlery, snatched a napkin from a pile and tossed it in front of him.

Then striking a furious pose: "Whatcha want?" she snapped. "Coupla eggs," growled the customer.

Trustees' Sale — OF A — Valuable Farm in Taneytown District, Carroll County, Maryland.

By virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Carroll County passed in an Equity cause wherein Samuel D. E. Fogle, et. al., are plaintiffs, and Birdie B. Hess, et. al., are defendants, the undersigned will sell at public sale on the premises, herein-after described on SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1921, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all those tracts or parcels of land containing in the aggregate

130 ACRES OF LAND, more or less, located near Otter Dale Mills, in Taneytown District, Carroll County, Maryland, being the farm which is now occupied by Melvin T. Hess and formerly belonged to Jacob Fogle. This is a very desirable farm being improved by a large BRICK DWELLING, bank barn, wagon shed, hog pen and other necessary buildings. The land is comparatively level, of excellent quality, with building well located. It affords a splendid chance for a profitable investment. There are about 15 acres of good growing timber, oak, hickory and other varieties. The farm is situated midway between two good markets, Taneytown and Union Bridge, and along the public road leading from the Uniontown road to Otter Dale Mills.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third of the purchase money shall be paid on the day of sale or upon the ratification thereof by the Court, and the residue in two equal payments, one in one year and the other in two years from the day of sale, with interest and to be secured by the notes of the purchaser or purchasers with security to be approved by the trustees, or all cash at the option of the purchaser.

John H. Repp

UNION BRIDGE, MD.

Republican Candidate for County Commissioner.

John H. Repp is the Republican Candidate for election November 8, to the office of County Commissioner for the one and only purpose of desiring to give to that Board the benefit of his assistance to the end that it may perform its functions in a Competent, Fair and Business-like manner. This regardless of any misleading statements to the contrary which the Democratic press has seen fit to publish.

Mr. Repp's business experience and resultant reputation makes him a most desirable type of man for the office his friends have prevailed upon him seeking, and he solicits your support at the coming election if you feel that the Board of County Commissioners should consist of men who are capable of performing their duties with the highest type of business efficiency, having in mind at all times the sole and impartial interests of the county and its tax-payers.

Mr. Repp has absolutely refused to make any so-called "Political Campaign Promises" to any individual or District, regarding roads, schools, or other improvements, for the simple reason that he is not a man who will likely promise something at a time when he cannot possibly be certain of its fulfillment. This attitude of the candidate clearly denotes the calibre of man it is your privilege to vote for November 8, 1921.

To the Voters of Carroll County.

As it will be impossible for me to see all the voters of the County, I want to take this means of asking your support in the coming election.

If elected, my efforts will be directed towards good government and economy and the support of measures for the best interest of the people of the County and State.

If my Candidacy commends me to your favorable consideration, I shall appreciate your vote on November 8th.

To Voters of Frederick County.

Sidney R. Hickman, Republican candidate for Register of Wills, is well and favorably known in his own community.

Active in community life; a lover of his home; a church man, standing for the things in life which are abiding; successful in business—all these count for efficiency where "a public office becomes a public trust."

He is not gifted in song or verse, but he has the trait of making friends because he has shown himself friendly.

His hand of helpfulness has been extended and has touched men and women, living and moving about. He has given the word of sympathy to those in distress.

For the first time he is asking the voters of Frederick county, both men and women irrespective of party, for support in the election November 8.

He comes not as his opponent, who has asked and received not only the first time but even a second time and is again asking for a six-year term in another office, when he has two years yet to serve of his term as Judge of the Orphans' Court.

A FRIEND—OF ONE WHO HAS FRIENDS BECAUSE HE HAS SHOWN HIMSELF FRIENDLY.

HOME TOWN HELPS

PREDICT SMALL TOWN BOOM

Residential and Industrial Readjustment May Come During the Next Twenty Years.

Is this country to see very soon a "boom" of the smaller community as contrasted with the great city? The editor of the William Feather Magazine of Cleveland suggests it, as follows: "Within the next twenty years it seems certain that two movements will take place that will enlarge the small town.

"One of these will be the migration of business and professional men and their families to towns of 5,000 to 20,000 located within a fifty-mile radius of cities in which they work during the day.

"The other will be the decentralization of industry and the movement of both factories and working forces from the city to the small towns.

"With improved living conditions, factories will favor small town sites, figuring that they will thus reduce their labor turnover, and save enough in overhead, taxes and interest on expensive city sites, more than to compensate them for the disadvantage of doing business in a small town.

"If this adjustment does take place it will solve many of our most perplexing problems, for there is no question that our cities are getting too big. A city, like a business, can get so large that the law of diminishing returns begins to operate. It is an established principle that when a business grows beyond a certain point the return on the capital invested decreases.

"The same principle applies to cities. Big cities have such problems as transportation, housing, health, fire and police protection, from which the small town is largely free.

"The factors which are doing much to hasten this decentralization are the automobile, the motion picture and the talking machine, all of them recent inventions.

"The automobile has shortened the distance between the small town and the big city by 75 per cent.

"The motion picture has given the small town the cheapest and most popular form of entertainment ever devised, while the talking machine has enabled the people to hear the world's best music right in their own homes.

"One other force has aided and is aiding the small town, and this is cheap printing and low postal rates. National weeklies and monthlies, through their editorial and advertising columns, have brought the world's news and markets to every door."

NO SIGNS ON THE HIGHWAYS

San Diego Bars Things That Obstruct the Motorist's View of Dangerous Curves.

All signs, stands or obstructions of any kind must at once be removed from the public highways or rights of way in and about San Diego, Cal., by virtue of an ordinance passed by the county board of supervisors. After listening to specific instances of the placing of advertising signs in such a way that they obstructed the motorists' view of dangerous curves and thereby menaced those who use the highways, the supervisors agreed that the practice should be stopped immediately.

The new ordinance will affect the placing of advertising signs on county highway bridges, or over the highways at any point. It also will force the vendors of fruit or other produce along the county roads to keep their stands away from the highways and off the right of way.

Labeling the Washington Trees. Following correspondence with officers of the American Forestry association, Colonel Sherrill, the engineer officer in charge of public buildings and grounds, has arranged to label the principal trees in Washington's parks, so that everybody interested may know their identity.

The approved design for the label is a small cast iron plate curved to fit the trunk and screwed securely into place. On the surface of this plate is fastened an aluminum plate showing in embossed letters the common and scientific names of the tree. These plates will be placed on about 1,000 trees, including all the rare and least-known specimens, and as many of the indigenous and better-known specimens as possible. It is said that the collection of trees in Washington includes one or two specimens of practically every tree in the civilized world that will grow in that climate.

Postcards Help Boost City.

To encourage civic art and to oppose influences which hinder the city-beautiful movement, the Municipal Art League of Chicago has prepared a series of postcard views of Chicago and vicinity. The new cards are made from prize-winning pictures in a recent photographic contest and are finished in the finest photogravure work. They are an absolute departure from the idea of the ordinary picture postcard, and are expected to add to the prestige of the city by a truer and more satisfactory expression of its beauty.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

STUYVESANT'S WOODEN WALL

Barricade Against English Colonists Gave Name to the Famous Street of Finance.

If there had not been war between Holland and England there is no telling what would have been the name of Wall street. The financial center of America might have borne any other name and have been just as powerful as it is.

The wall that gave to it its name, an exchange recalls, was put up by Peter Stuyvesant. The old peg-legged autocrat had his own intelligence service and he became convinced that the New England and Connecticut colonies were going to attack him. His town north of the fort was unprotected, and he threw up a wooden wall from the East to the North river. It was built of logs that were used as palisades with the upper end spiked.

Stuyvesant's information was correct, because Connecticut was very anxious to go to war and had become satisfied Indian outrages were being instigated by the Dutch. There was a meeting at Fairfield, near Bridgeport, where men were pledged for the attack on the Dutch. Massachusetts held off, and the next year Holland and England made peace.

But the old wooden wall stood for a half century and cramped the growth of the town. There was a ditch alongside it, and at night the gate was closed and bolted and guarded.

ORVIETO WINE SUITED HIM

Story of the German Bishop Explains the "Est, Est, Est" on the Bottles.

There is a story told of a German bishop in the Middle Ages who traveled through Italy, stopping at every inn to which he came in order to sample the wine of the country. Whenever he found an exceptionally good wine he gave his servant a piece of chalk from his pocket, and the servant wrote the Latin word "Est" on the door of the inn, meaning "It is good."

Finally the bishop came to Orvieto, and was served with a bottle of Orvieto wine. When he had finished he asked for another; and when he had finished the second he called for a third; and when he had finished the third he took a piece of chalk from his pocket and went in person to the door of the inn and wrote on it the words "Est! Est! Est!" which meant that the wine of Orvieto was three times as good as any other wine that he had ever tasted. And from that day until the day of his death he remained in Orvieto and drank nothing but Orvieto wine; and his tombstone may be seen in Orvieto to this day, stating that he died of too much Orvieto.

As for the wine of Orvieto, the bottles in which it is sold always bear the words "Est! Est! Est!" to commemorate the excellent taste of the German bishop.

Sparrows to the Rescue. News of a remarkable case of bird intelligence comes from Manchester, London Tit-Bits states.

Several people at the Assizes noticed the peculiar behavior of a sparrow which was leaping from one of the chimneys and then falling to the roof as though injured, but nobody appeared to suspect that the bird was a prisoner.

On opening the court the next day the attention of the officials was attracted by the excited chirping of a number of other sparrows, and it was seen that the original sparrow was still fluttering feebly on the roof.

In a few minutes the watchers realized that the newcomers were feeding the exhausted bird and several crumbs of bread and biscuits fell to the ground.

Ladders were obtained and an attendant climbed to the roof and found that the legs of the sparrow were held fast by a piece of thread, the other end of which was entangled in the brickwork. It was quickly released and after being given crumbs and water was set free to join its fellows.

Breathing Space.

The modern ideas of education are all very well as far as they go, but there is an old and well-tried proverb which says that a little knowledge is a dangerous thing. Perhaps that is why Johnny Jones's essay on air ran like this:

"Breath is made of air. We breathe always with our lungs, except at night, when our breath keeps life going through our noses while we are asleep. If it wasn't for our breath we should die whenever we slept.

"Boys that stay in a room all day should not breathe. They should wait until they get outdoors. A lot of boys staying in a room make carbonic acid, and carbonic acid is more poisonous than mad dogs, though not just in the same way. It does not bite, but that's no matter so long as it kills you."

The Effect of Ease.

Experts say that American women are taller than they were 40 years ago and that athletics is responsible. But only a small proportion of the women of the country indulge in athletics. It would be just as easy to prove that the increase in height is due to less exercise than formerly. Surely the broom and the washbasin are as effective muscle producers as the golf stick and the tennis racket, and the modern housekeeper does not as a rule have to work as hard as did her mother and grandmother.

Home Town Helps

BACK YARDS MADE BETTER

Contest Spurs Boys and Girls of Findlay to Beautify Their Home Surroundings.

More than 100 back yards of Findlay, O., now look better than most Findlay front yards as a result of an idea of Council President Frank J. Collingwood, whose hobby is attractive environments for the home.

Mr. Collingwood enlisted the support of the local Rotary club and the Chamber of Commerce in what he termed a "better back yard" contest as a means of heightening juvenile interest in Findlay in improved yards and home surroundings, and at the same time bettering the community's outside appearance.

A list of eleven prizes was announced for the contest—one a grand prize for either a boy or girl, five for boys and five for girls. Mr. Collingwood himself furnished the money for the prizes, to the extent of several hundred dollars.

The Chamber of Commerce took charge of the routine of the contest and when the lists closed for entrants there were a score more than 100 in the race for the coveted awards.

The contest lasted a little over a month, in which miracle transformations were wrought in many back yards in the city, by the youthful contestants. Working entirely alone, boys and girls in many instances, the judges reported, had to start with nothing but dump heaps, rough, weed-covered plots and the like. But hoes, rakes and shovels, coupled with a generous amount of energy and above all a desire to win one of the eleven prizes, brought results, which were remarkable, according to the judges.

In making the awards, it wasn't alone the neatness of the yards that counted, but the condition of the yard at the start was taken into consideration as well and the progress that was made had a great deal to do with the award. Gardens were a part of the required work.

"There must be some real value in yard beautification, or large concerns wouldn't spend thousands of dollars in it every year," said Mr. Collingwood in presenting the prizes. "In fact, I am told it does pay real interest on the investment in better satisfied employees who like attractive environments in which to work."

BUILT IT WITH POTATOES

How the Citizens of Patricia, Alberta, Obtained Their Much Needed Town Hall.

Patricia needed a town hall. Being only two years old, this was a problem to the infant village in the southern Alberta prairies. Ways and means were discussed. It was finally decided to build it with potatoes.

Twenty acres were plowed and planted to spuds. Breaking the land, seeding and cultivating were all done by volunteers. Everybody took a hand. The community potato patch now promises a heavy crop.

The entire town tends it. When the first potato plant peeped above ground it was a municipal event. The town fathers called a mass meeting to take action when a vagrant rooster scratched up a plant. Discovery of a weed that had escaped the community hoed caused as much excitement as a fire alarm. The potato patch is looked after as tenderly as if it were the town's baby.

Two years ago the entire country about Patricia was open prairie with not a human habitation in the round of the horizon. The first house was built in 1919. Today there are 20,000 acres under cultivation.

Many Homes Too Crowded.

Many people have an unnecessary amount of hangings and draperies, ornaments, knick-knacks, and other dust harborers about their houses; rooms have too many ornamental moldings, books, crannies, and corners about them; and all these harbor dirt and dust, and time will not allow them to be cleaned except on quite rare occasions, which may be annually at the time called "spring cleaning." Carpets may be very well in their way, and make a room more cozy, but it is certain they are not so clean as linoleum or stained and polished floors, with a few rugs or mats placed where required, and easily taken up and freed from dust.

QUALITY, NOT SIZE, COUNTS

Man's Mental Superiority Not Due to the Relative Size of His Brain.

Elephants and whales are said to surpass human beings in the weight of their brains. But, compared with the weight of the whole body, there are not many animals which can beat man—in fact, it may surprise the reader to know that there are animals existing which rank ahead of humanity—taking, of course, the weight of the brain as against that of the whole body.

Many kinds of monkeys, certain members of the squirrel family, and a few of the mouse species, all being small animals, surpass man in brains—so we are told. Any animal, however, which is larger than a man, has no brain which is relatively as large as his.

It would appear that man's mental superiority is due rather to the quality and organization of his brain than to the size, says a London Answers writer.

The usual weight of a man's brain is said to be 49½ ounces, as against a woman's 44 ounces.

A small head is no criterion as to the brains of a person; it depends upon the cerebral convolutions as to one's brain power. Indeed, it is said that the large brains do not always denote great mental capacity.

Many celebrated men in the past have possessed brains weighing less than the average 49½ ounces of mankind generally.

A brain weighing over 60 ounces—said to have been the heaviest known—was the possession of a man who never earned more than 40 shillings a week during the whole of his lifetime! Another man who never earned a large sum was said to have a record brain for weight, so that size and weight are nothing to go by!

Fishes brains weigh a 3,888th part of their whole bodies.

AMERICA IN THE STONE AGE

When Columbus Came Few of Its Inhabitants Knew the Use of Metals.

When Columbus landed at San Salvador, nearly all North America was in the Stone age. The Mexicans were using copper, and though they did not alloy it to make bronze, they treated the metal in a way to make it a fairly good cutting material. A few of the northern tribes of Indians either worked copper or traded for it. But the vast majority of them used stone—and this in a continent richer than any other in easily found and smelted copper and iron. In northern Michigan, copper mines were found with blocks of ore separated from the bed vein—yet the natives who hunted around these mines used flint arrowheads.

The stone implements and weapons used by the Mohawk chief in the days of Columbus were not a whit better than those used by the Cro-Magnon people of France 25,000 years ago. Moreover, these ancient Frenchmen seem to have arrived in that country with their culture full grown—which means that it must have had a long, slow development elsewhere, probably in Asia.

"Dead Man's Chest."

Robert Louis Stevenson made this ditty famous in "Treasure Island," but the verses were not his own. Thousands of persons have speculated since whether the chest was part of the anatomy of a corpse or merely a sailor's box for personal belongings. The fact is that a certain bay in the Caribbean islands was known as "Dead Man's Chest" in the days of piracy because of its resemblance to a sailor's trunk.

The identity of the author of the ballad is unknown. Half a century ago it was a popular "chantey" on the merchant ships of those days. There are a dozen stanzas in the original text, dealing with the wrecking of an English pirate vessel after a gruesome night of mutiny and murder.

Stevenson did not plagiarize in using the verse, for he merely put into the mouth of one of his characters a few lines that were at that time known all over the seven seas.

How to Ship Flowers.

When packing flowers for mail, never send them in a cardboard box; always in tin or wooden. Fill box, but be careful to avoid the slightest pressure on the blooms. Sprinkle flowers well with water and use only tissue paper to line the box. A good way to pack long-stemmed flowers is to lay them in rows at each end of the box, their stems overlapping in the center.

Take a stick just a trifle longer than the inside width of the box and spring it across the center of the box, pressing it well down on to the ends of the stems. This plan keeps every bloom from moving and becoming bruised or broken. Roll tissue paper around the stick. This prevents any damage being done to the stalks. Never use cotton wool except when packing very delicate specimens.

Shifting Responsibilities.

"There are a great many mosquitoes around here," remarked the summer boarder.

"Yes," replied Farmer Cornstossel; "we have to put up with 'em without complainin'." They mostly come around at this time of year. Summer boarders seem to bring 'em.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 6

PAUL'S EXPERIENCES AT JERU-SALEM.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 21:18-23:24.
GOLDEN TEXT—God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.
Therefore will we not fear him.—Ps.
46:1, 2 (a).
REFERENCE MATERIAL—II Tim.
3:16-18; 4:14, 15.
PRIMARY TOPIC—How Paul's Nephew Saved His Life.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Boy Tells of a Plot Against Paul.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
—Paul and His Enemies.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
—Paul Attacked by a Jewish Mob.

I. Paul's Arrest (21:18-40).

The immediate occasion of this was his effort to remove the prejudice which certain ones held against him.
His reception by representatives of the church was most cordial. In order that all the brethren in Jerusalem might graciously receive him, it was proposed to him by the elders that he take a Jewish vow to prove that he was in no way opposed to the law. They recognized that such an act would in no way compromise or involve the Gentile brethren. As to how far this act conciliated the Jews
we are not told, but it only enraged the unbelieving Jews, causing them to resort to mob law. These maddened Jews, on the basis of a supposition, seized him and dragged him from the temple and beat him mercilessly, intending to put him to death. Paul was rescued from the mob by the Roman guard, stationed nearby. Paul kept himself under control and politely asked permission of the captain to speak to the people. When he addressed him in Greek and quoted his Roman citizenship, the captain granted his request.

II. Paul's Defense (22:1-27).

1. His claim for a rightful hearing (vv. 1-3). (1) His birth (v. 3). He was a Jew born in Tarsus, a city of no mean reputation. (2) His education (v. 3). He was educated in school under the tutelage of Gamaliel, and instructed "according to the perfect manner of the fathers" (v. 3). His zeal (v. 3). He was as zealous toward God as those Jews who were trying to destroy him.
2. His attitude toward Jesus (vv.
4, 5). "I persecuted this way unto the death"—It was one of hatred, as was that of the Jews.
3. How his attitude was changed (vv. 6-16). It was brought about by the intervention of God.
4. The Lord commissioned him to go to the Gentiles (vv. 17-21). It was not of his own will that he preached to the Gentiles, but by the Lord's direct commission.

III. Paul Before the Sanhedrin (23: 1-10).

The Roman officer, in order to learn why Paul was arrested, commanded the chief council to assemble, and brought Paul before them.
1. Paul's earnest look at the council (vv. 1, 2). This was a solicitation of their honor to give him a fair hearing, and also a look of conscious integrity and unflinching courage. He protests that his behavior as a persecutor of the church and preacher of the Gospel has been in keeping with the highest principle of national integrity. At this the high priest ordered him to be smitten on the mouth.
2. Paul's stern rebuke of the head of the council (v. 3). "God shall smite thee, thou whitened sepulcher!"— fair without and foul within. This was a just sentence, no doubt directed by the Lord. Paul's words show that he had the highest respect for the office, but the man now occupying it was not worthy of it.
3. Paul's appeal to the Pharisees
(vv. 6-10). Seeing that he could not get a fair hearing, and perceiving that the body before him was made up of Pharisees and Sadducees, he appealed to the Pharisees, hoping to get their attention, for his preaching had something in common with their beliefs.
This resulted in a squabble.

IV. The Lord Stood by Paul (v. 11).

Paul was in great need of grace to sustain him. He may have begun to question the wisdom of his course in going to Jerusalem, but this assured him that his course was right, and thus comfort was brought to him.
V. The Conspiracy to Kill Paul (vv.
22-23).

More than forty men banded together for the purpose of getting Paul out of the way. They placed themselves under a curse to abstain from eating and drinking until they had murdered him. God defeated their plans without a miracle. This was done by Paul's nephew. Their fatal mistake was that they left God out of the question.

An Influence.

The doors of your soul are open on others and theirs on you. Simply to be in the world, wherever you are, is to exert an influence—an influence compared with which mere language and persuasion are feeble.—Horace Bushnell.

The Glory of the Lord.

God came from Teman, and the Holy one from Mount Paran. Selah.
His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.—Habakkuk 3:3.

Thy Will Be Done—With my Money
Matthew 6:7-15

It is said that money is the "acid test" of our interest in any undertaking or enterprise. If the spirit in which money is given be included, then doubtless money is the acid test of the Christian life.

Gifts of money to the Lord and answers to prayer that make Him real to the soul. They are joined together in Scripture, and no man ought to separate them in experience.
When an angel of God appeared to Cornelius as recorded in Acts 10:1-4 he said, "Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God." Notice it carefully—"Thy prayers and thine alms." May it not be true that many prayers do not ascend to God because they proceed from selfish and stingy hearts?
"The Lord loveth a cheerful giver."
He imparts to the generous soul a sense of His approval and in the words of Scripture, the generous or "liberal soul is made fat," that is,
the soul is enriched with the blessing of God. Many lives are stunted and dwarfed because of the absence of this grace of giving.

If the will of God is to be done in the use of our money, we must give systematically rather than spasmodically. We should not wait to be moved by some strong appeal, but should set aside some definite amount from our earnings or income, and thus become systematic givers. It is the Bible method. (See 1 Cor.
16:1, 2.)

In the second place, if the will of God is to be done in the use of our money, we must give intelligently. In other words we must discern between things that differ, and give our money where it will be used for the preaching of the true gospel and the doing of the work of God in the world. Many false gospels are being proclaimed today, both in the home and foreign lands. Godly ministers and missionaries have protested against this. The intelligent Christian giver will discriminate between the true and false.

Again, as we say, "Thy will be done with my money," we must exercise care in the expenditure of money on ourselves. That which promotes efficiency is proper and profitable. That which simply gratifies selfish impulses or desires must be denied. The world is very needy.
Two-thirds of the people have not yet heard the gospel of our Lord. In the light of this fact, it will mean much in the way of sacrifice if we say from the heart, "Thy will be done with my money."

DIP'S TUB.

We have communicated with the spirit of Diogenes.

"Ask him," we requested the medium, "ask him if he really lived in a tub!"

The table moved nervously, the medium snored, and from her lips came the very voice of the great Athenian:

"I owned a yacht, you call it a houseboat," said the sage. "I lived on it. The jealous yachtsmen of the times called it a tub. Gimme a drink. I say, gimme—"

The Voice died away, but we had solved a mystery.

Power of Radium.

The power of radium to reveal things hidden is continually finding some fresh application; now it dis-closes the secret history of old pictures, now it saves the fisherman from wasting his pearl oysters, showing him whether or not an unopened oyster contains pearls. Lately its power of revealing its own presence has been made use of, bringing a happy sequel to what would have been an expensive mistake indeed. A tube of radium worth £1,200 was, by mistake, thrown into a furnace. The one responsible, greatly concerned, called in a radium expert. They raked the ashes out of the furnace and then sprinkled them with zinc sulphide.
The radium caused the zinc sulphide which had fallen on it to become luminous, and, to the great relief of all concerned, the little tube was picked out of the patch of light unharmed.—

Political Strategy.

"How did Senator Snortworthy get such a reputation for political acumen?"

"The senator never waits until the band wagon is crowded before he climbs aboard."

"No?"

"When it's about half-full, he mounts with no apparent hurry and conducts himself with such dignity and aplomb that the late comers think he has been there all the time."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

New Cure for Cataract.

A new instrument has been invented by a Spanish surgeon for the cure of cataract of the eye by means of suction. The new method obviates the use of the knife which makes an operation so undesirable in the cases of elderly patients. The former Empress Eugenie was treated by this method in her ninety-fourth year with remarkable success.

IS GOLF REALLY IRISH GAME?

Suggestion Put Forward, With Some Evidence, by Correspondent of New York Herald.

Writing to the New York Herald, a devotee of the "royal game" puts the query "Is golf, after all, an Irish game?"

In asking the question it is done with respect and reverence; in no sense to disturb the settled ease and mental poise and satisfaction of ye good Scot or Briton. Why the suggestion, however? Simply this: Ireland was the first of the islands to be reclaimed from Druidism and converted to Christianity. That was in the early Fifth century. After that Scotland and England became Christian—the Sixth century; England in the Eighth and Germany in the Ninth century, and all following and through Irish missionaries. True also that the Scotch and Irish were practically all Celt and one people then and all friendly. Now, then, it is of the old Irish folk-lore that St. Patrick at the famous Druid feast showed (1) that the leg of a bird was larger than a quarter of beef (2) that a dog could kill the bird, and (3) that three leaves could jointly subsist on one stem, and at that feast "there were feats of strength and art all round," and among the games was the game of "Nine Holes."

That was the first mention of the nine hole game, of course. It was so played in Ireland for centuries. It was the putting of the ball into each hole of the nine as laid out in the course.
Therefore, the question: Was that game
the forerunner of its kind in the world, and if so was it the forerunner or keystone of golf?

AIR LIFEBOAT BRITISH IDEA

Craft Designed for Sea Rescue Work
Is Soon to Be Given a Definite "Tryout."

The first lifeboat of the air, which has been built with great secrecy, is to be launched soon in England.

After the official trials it will go through a series of tests with the British fleet. If it proves to be satisfactory, a large number of the craft on a much larger scale will be constructed.

The design is the outcome of three years of secret research and tests. The flying lifeboat will be able to reach a vessel in distress at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour, and it is claimed that it will be able to ride through the roughest storm with the confidence of an Atlantic liner. The boats are able to taxi along the water.

Their seaworthiness is to be tested by sending the first experimental ship out with the navy, where it is to remain at sea for several days without any "mother ship."

The wing span of the one now nearing completion is 140 feet. Safety in the most violent sea will come from the resilience of the hull, which is in one piece from stem to stern. When this hull strikes a huge wave it gives way slightly in much the same way that a pneumatic tire does when it strikes an obstacle on the road.

Plan Shrines to Burroughs.

The John Burroughs Memorial association has started its campaign to raise funds to purchase and maintain the various properties of the late naturalist. It is estimated it will take about $36,000 to purchase them, and an additional $4,000 to maintain them
the first year.

The association intends to maintain the Burroughs properties as the naturalist himself maintained them. His working library, some of his original manuscripts, rifles, shotguns and fishing tackle will be exhibited. It is the opinion of the association that shrines to great men, especially shrines to literary men, are too few,
and that the many friends and admirers of John Burroughs will be interested in keeping up the places in which he lived, studied and labored in the 34 years of his life. It hopes to raise funds to maintain these properties by popular subscription.—New York Times.

Waterproof Matches.

Campers and picnickers will hail with delight the new waterproof match, which can be easily made at home in the following way: Melt a few lumps of candle wax in an old can on the stove. Allow this to cool a little and then, before it has set, dip the matches in, one at a time. Treat the heads and about half of the wooden part.
Place the matches on one side to cool.
Matches treated in this simple manner have been soaked in water for many hours, and they have ignited as readily as those which were perfectly dry. The only difference is that, in striking, it is needful to do so a trifle more firmly so as to get through the thin film of wax surrounding the head. When once the flame starts, the match burns very readily, owing to the wax which has adhered to the wood. Any ordinary matches can be treated in the manner described.

fragrance—is in a class of its own! You never tasted such tobacco! Why—figure out what it alone means to your tongue and temper when we tell you that Prince Albert can't bite, can't parch! Our exclusive patented process fixes that!

Prince Albert is a revelation in a makin's cigarette!
My, but how that delightful flavor makes a dent!
And, how it does answer that hankering! Prince Albert rolls easy and stays put because it is crimped cut. And, say—oh, go on and get the papers or a pipe!
Do it right now!

Prince Albert is sold in tippy red
bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound
and half pound tin humidors and in the pound crystal glass humidor with sponge moistener top.

The man of business whose tasks are made shorter and easier with modern devices should be the first to advocate similar efficiency in his household. In particular should he approve a home labor-saver that eliminates the injurious drudgery of sweeping and dusting and one that repeatedly repays its cost, as does The Hoover. For this efficient cleaner ends carpet-cleaning expense, increases the efficiency of help and effects other tangible savings. Chief among these is the added life it imparts to floor coverings by gently beating out all nap-wearing, embedded grit as it electrically sweeps up all clinging litter, erects matted nap, brightens colors and suction cleans.
The Hoover does all this. Hoover-cleaned homes are the standard for cleanliness and healthfulness, so let your next investment be a Hoover.

TANEYTOWN LOCALS

Brief Items of Local News of Special Interest to Our Home Readers.

Richard S. Hill is visiting his sister, and relatives and friends in Baltimore.

Miss Grace Weybright, of Harney, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Hockensmith.

John D. Fox, of Arlington, is visiting relatives and friends in this neighborhood.

Harry Clingan, of York, Pa., spent a few hours with friends and relatives in town, on Thursday.

Tomorrow night (Saturday) is the night for the American Legion Oyster Supper. See adv. in this issue.

Sample Ballots will be at The Record office, on Tuesday. All who desire to do so, can call at the office for information.

The state game laws are published in this issue. All persons should read the same, and preserve the article for reference.

The Taneytown High School will hold their annual Chicken and Oyster Supper, on Saturday evening, Nov. 12, at the school building.

Two books have been presented to the library by the Misses Brining. "Sherry" by George Barr McCutcheon and "The Daughter of the Land," by Gene Stratton Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. David Little, of Union Bridge, and Mrs. Sarah Keefer, of near Taneytown, spent Sunday with their sisters, Mrs. Geo. Myers and husband, at Hagerstown.

Dr. F. H. Seiss, of Takoma Park, D. C., is studying Electric Therapeutics, and taking a reading course on Chiropractic methods. He expects, later on, to introduce at least some of these in his practice.

John H. Repp, Republican candidate for County Commissioner, in company with William Wood, of Union Bridge, paid our district a visit, on Monday, and included in the visit an inspection of the much talked of very bad section of road near Piney Creek station.

We have a small supply of "Planting and Care of Street Trees," a 35-page illustrated pamphlet, issued by the Agricultural Department, that we will be pleased to distribute among citizens of Taneytown interested in the subject. It is a work well worth reading throughout.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Ott entertained the following guests at dinner, on Sunday: Dr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Frailey and daughter, Miss Jean; Mr. and Mrs. Collins and son, of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Frailey and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Frailey, and Master David Cordori Frailey, of Emmitsburg.

Mrs. Joseph S. F. Kerr, of Roland Park, Baltimore, has announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary King Kerr, to Mr. Eugene Reindollar, Jr., formerly of Taneytown, and oldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Reindollar. The wedding will take place during the early winter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Holbruner, Miss Isabel Smith, of Baltimore; Mrs. Laura Bair and Mrs. James Fogle, of Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Keeney and son, of Walkersville, and Charles Holbruner, of Woodsboro, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Keeney, of Woodsboro.

The Editor of The Record is indebted to Miss Bruce Harner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harner, for a large bouquet of the handsomest chrysanthemums he ever saw, one of them measuring eighteen inches around. They would have been prize-winners, even in competition with hot house beauties.

It is reported, on apparently good authority, that the County Commissioners have it, "on the books" to make permanent improvements on the Piney Creek section of the Littlestown road, next Spring. A month or more ago the Commissioners viewed this road, and were likely convinced that the work is badly needed and must be done.

The Littlestown Independent is supporting Mrs. Emma S. Kindig for Director of the Poor of Adams county and only last week one of our prominent citizens suggested that "Taneytown will not get fixed up right until some women are elected as commissioners. We rather incline to the belief that some of our business-like women are approaching new jobs.

Emory Hahn caught a monster gold fish in Monocacy, several days ago, that measured about ten inches in length. It was a perfect specimen, and very pronounced in color.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stawsburg, entertained, on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Flock and daughter, Lula, and sons, Gay, Roscoe and Roland, of near Keysville; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reinaman and daughter, Reda, of Trevanion; William Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and daughter, Eulieny, and son, Herman.

On Wednesday the Arnold Brothers, on their farm tenanted by Harry Anders, raised a new barn 40x80 to take the place of the one destroyed by fire on August 5. About 140 men—or near 200 men and women in all—helped with the raising and in the preparation of the dinner. Both the Arnolds and Mr. Anders are very grateful for the splendid help given, and for the fine way in which the work was handled, without any mishap, and all in the very best of spirit.

A Corn Husking Party.

On Friday Oct. 28, about 44 neighbors and friends of Mr. John Baker gathered at his home, near Fairview, to give him a corn husking party. Mr. Baker being unable to do any work for about 3 weeks very much appreciated this kind deed, as they husked out between 400 and 500 shocks in a short time. Those in the field expressed themselves as having had a jolly time and the women in the house enjoyed preparing a good warm dinner for those working in the field.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker wish to express their sincere thanks to all who assisted.

Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Gonso, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bankard, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Devilbiss, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nusbaum, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Yingling, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Hildebride, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Dayhoff, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Eckenrode, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Myers, Mrs. Mary Rowe, Mrs. Rosie King, M. O. Angel, Thurston Cronice, Willie Brandenburg, Guy Kooztz, Ralph Kooztz, Lester Baust, Carroll Weishaar, Lester Nusbaum, Levi Baker, John Rowe, Frank Bohn, Charley Caylor, Roy Crabbs, Ellsworth Baker, John Yingling, Elmer Yingling, Chas. Baker, Franklin Baker, Misses Edna Angel, Margaret King, Catherine King, Helen King, Catherine Baker, Ethel Baker, Virginia Gonso, Erma Gonso, Junior Devilbiss.

10,000 milk wagon drivers are on a strike in New York, resulting in great hardship on babies and children depending almost exclusively on milk for food. Union men are continuing the delivery of milk to Hospitals only. City authorities are aiding in the distribution of milk, assisted by volunteers.

A Surprise Birthday Party.

(For the Record.) A very enjoyable surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. Daniel H. Fair, on Monday evening Oct. 31, in honor of her 82nd birthday. At 7:30 the guests began to arrive completely surprising her. Refreshments were served, consisting of pumpkin pie, ice cream, cakes, candies, bananas and coffee.

Those present were: Mrs. Daniel H. Fair, Harry T. Fair and wife, Norman Reindollar and wife, Mrs. Alice Harnish, Mrs. Laura Fair, Sherman Gilds and wife, Paul Fair, wife and son, Robert, Ross Fair and wife, Miss Anna May Fair, Wilbur Fair, Franklin and Kenneth Gilds and Franklin Fair.

FEEBLE BLOOD WORKS HAVOC.

Guide's Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood; Liquid and Tablet Form.

When blood becomes thin and weak it is due to a falling off in the number of red blood cells. It is easily recognized by pallid skin or a bluish complexion, loss of appetite or unnatural irritability and a sensation of weakness. It is not dangerous at first. In fact, many people scarcely notice it and go on for days, thinking they will be better the next day.

The great danger is in the possibility of becoming seriously ill from disease, which can work havoc in a body that lacks the endurance and resistance in rich, red blood.

Taken in time and steadily, a few bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan are a great help. It improves the quality of the blood by adding red blood cells. They check the weakness, improve the appetite, and clear the complexion.

You can get Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid and tablet form at your druggist's. Get the genuine with the name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package.
