

VERY IMPORTANT TO DAIRYMEN

The Standard of Maryland Milk
Must be Improved.

Recently, a conference was held for the purpose of ascertaining if something could not be done to prevent farmers having their milk turned down, especially during the summer, by city authorities on account of high bacteria counts.

At this conference of representatives from the Extension Service, University of Maryland, State Dairymen's Association, and Baltimore Board of Health, all angles of the milk situation were discussed. The officials of the Health Department pointed out that they had almost reached the point where they would be forced to allow New York State milk to come in with a count of 200,000 or 400,000 bacteria, in preference to Maryland milk when nearly two-thirds of the shippers have counts running into millions during the summer months.

The Health officials are anxious that something be done that will prevent our milk from being turned down. They want to protect this market, but they are responsible for the health of the city people and must see that the milk is delivered in accordance with their regulations. They admit that mistakes will occur, and that they have been handicapped with lack of proper inspection force.

All of this forced one conclusion, viz.: that shippers of milk must be more watchful, and that an educational program is desirable to demonstrate to our dairymen the means whereby the bacteria count can be kept down to the minimum.

We have decided to hold mass-meetings of shippers in our county to discuss this problem. Meetings will be held as follows:

Finksburg, Monday, March 3, at 2 P. M., Postoffice.
Manchester, Monday, March 3, at 8:00 P. M., School-house.
Westminster, Tuesday, March 4, at 2:00 P. M., County Agent's Office.
Union Bridge, Tuesday, March 4, at 8:00 P. M., School-house.

Mt. Airy, Friday, March 7, at 8:00 P. M., School-house.
New Windsor, Saturday, March 8, at 2:00 P. M., Hall.

All persons should make it a point to attend the meetings nearest them. This is a project that will mean dollars and cents to our people and I hope we can all co-operate towards improving the quality of milk that is shipped from our county.

Home Towns and Home Papers.

With anything like fair support, locally, there need be no fear that the inroads of daily papers into the smaller towns will force local papers out of business. In fact, it is decided to the interest of the towns, rather than to the publishers, that such papers be taken care of as necessary home institutions. So far as the average small office is concerned, the owners of it can easily reduce their force and pay roll, go out of the weekly paper business, and make a business of job printing, leaving the community to depend on the far-away dailies to handle the advertising and the other publicity that only the local paper can give in a fully satisfactory manner.

The seriousness of the situation—if there is anything "serious" about it—concerns the home towns, before it does the printer. If readers "cut" their own paper for the sake of dailies, sooner or later they will find that they have "cut" their own best interests.

It is the consensus of opinion of weekly publishers, all over the country, that as long as the weeklies deserve to live, they are quite likely to do so, and that the vigor and usefulness of their existence depends largely on each individual community.

NO THRILLS IN OIL CASE.

Attorney General Daugherty Still Refuses to Resign.

The oil case seems to have passed largely into a stage of investigating small clues for big game and new thrills—into an effort to find "suspicious" circumstances. A lot of telegrams from Washington to Edward B. McLean, at Palm Beach, were gone into with the hope of finding something but none of them very promising.

Attorney General Daugherty has refused to resign, and has gone to Chicago, and from there will go to Florida. He "stands pat" and tells the investigators to "go ahead" with the show.

The Republicans are beginning back-fires to counteract the attacks intended to discredit the administration, and claim that there will eventually prove to be very little "in" the whole investigation, as a final result, to the Democrats. These arguments even go so far as to claim that not only have most of the investors in the deal lost, but that the government has gained by the leases, and that outside perhaps of Mr. Fall, there has been little or no actual wrongdoing in the whole matter.

It begins to appear as though the "big story" has about reached its height, unless the findings in the case after it reaches court produces some new thrills.

Road Commissioners Appointed.

The Board of County Commissioners met in regular session on Monday and Tuesday, all members present and the following business and bills were ordered passed and paid: Maurice Bowers, District No. 1, $25.47; Balto. Office Supply Co., $80.64; J. Edward West, Vital Statistics, $32.40; Casper Fitz, No. 13, $54.40; G. E. Dorsey, No. 13, $34.85; D. E. Famous Rinehart Statuary.

In the corridor of George Peabody School is a very beautiful piece of statuary called "Sleeping Babies." It is by William H. Rinehart and was presented to the school before the war by the School Art League. This beautiful example of Mr. Rinehart's skill is very highly prized, both for itself, and for the story connected with its creation by the artist.

William Rinehart came to Baltimore from Carroll County and was employed by the firm of Hugh Sisson & Co., the then leading marble cutters of the city. It was here that he learned to carve marble. Later on, through the interest of William Walters, he went abroad to study, and eventually became a great sculptor.

Some time later, when Mr. Sisson lost two little children from scarlet fever, Mr. Rinehart designed the "Sleeping Babies," which was placed upon the grave of the two children in Greenmount cemetery, where it is today. It is said that the marble is much weathered and will not last much longer. The cast in the school was made from the original clay model and is considered one of the sculptor's most famous works.—Baltimore News.

Taneystown Firemen's Supper.

The Washington Birthday supper for benefit of the Fire Company was quite a success. The weather was favorable and the attendance was good, the table being filled from 5 o'clock until nearly 8. Financially, it was very satisfactory, over $200, being cleared which has been added to the sum already set aside for improved equipment in the future. 700 feet of new hose which has been ordered to replace some that is no longer serviceable will be received in a short time.

The members of the Company are grateful to all who contributed in any way to the success of the supper. Especially are they thankful to the ladies who worked so faithfully and did so much to help along.

There are a few dishes, jars, etc., that could not be returned as the owners were not known. They are at the Firemen's building and can be gotten if the owners will call for them. Should there be any bills that are out or that the committee overlooked, please present them that they may be paid.

SOME OF THE BILLS AT ANNAPOLIS.

Most of the Important Measures
Have Been Presented.

Delegate Routson has introduced a bill directing the state to take over the old Uniontown pike, and resurface the road; tolls to be collected by the state until the road has been completed.

Delegate Ballie, of Allegany, has introduced a bill that would take the appointing of County boards of Education away from the Governor, and make them elective. Under this bill boards of five members would be elected every four years. Nominations would be made by petition by at least 2 percent of the number of voters in the previous election. The names would be put on the ballot in alphabetical order and without party designation. The first election would be held in 1926.

All vendors of drugs will be required to pay $75.00 a year license, under a bill introduced by delegate Hauver, of Frederick County.

Baltimore city is making a fight to spend its share of the state road appropriations under the direction of city engineers, instead of by the State Roads Commission.

An effort is being made to increase the pay of Baltimore police, which would add about 6c to the city tax rate, or about $500,000 a year. It is claimed that Baltimore's police are considerably underpaid, by comparison with other large cities.

Mr. Hesson presented a bill in the Senate to limit the construction of High Schools in Carroll County.

The bill for fixing the state tax rate for the next three years, passed the House; 27 1/6 cents for 1925, and 27 1/6 cents for 1926 and 1927.

Greater safeguards to prevent improvident and hasty marriages are provided in a Statewide bill introduced in the House by Delegate Sharp, of Baltimore city. The bill requires that both persons applying for a marriage license must appear before the issuing clerk and must be interrogated by the clerk under oath. It also is provided in the bill that any minister, whether a resident of Maryland or not, must register with the clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, in Baltimore city, or with the clerk of the Circuit Court, if in a county, before performing a marriage ceremony.

The University of Maryland made a strong presentation of its claims for an appropriation of $2,140,000 which it desires from the state, and which Gov. Ritchie disapproves. The influence back of the project is of the highest order, and may be sufficient to upset the Governor's plans as to tax rates.

Union Labor is opposing a new foundry at the penitentiary, on the ground that it would increase production and interfere with free organized labor. Warden Swezey says the men must be kept employed, and that many of the inmates make money in the "pen" and send large amounts to their families.

Of Interest to High School Students.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28—Four years at college with all expenses paid is the inducement held out to high school students of the United States for the best essay on the subject "The Relation of Improved Highways to Home Life," according to a statement today by the Highway Education Board.

Announcement of this proposal is being made to all state, city and county school officials as promptly as possible. The offer is in the form of a contest, in which all students of high school grade are eligible to compete. The four years at college constitute a scholarship given annually by H. S. Firestone, Akron, Ohio, for the best essay on a subject pertaining to elementary highway economics. The contest is the fifth conducted in as many successive years under the auspices of the highway organization.

In the conduct of the contest the board will have the active assistance of extension divisions of the leading universities in each state, or of the state departments of education, as well as the almost unanimous endorsement and support of city and county school authorities.

The rules of the contest are simple. Any student of high school grade is eligible to enter. Essays to be written must not exceed seven hundred words in length, and the closing date on which essays must be presented to school principals is April 21, 1924. Aside from the usual statements that essays must be written on one side of the paper only, must be the original work of the writers, and that the decision of the judges is final, there are no other conditions.

Any information desired on the contest will be gladly supplied. Inquiries should be addressed to Highway Education Board, Willard Building, Washington, D. C.

"That the enormous population of foreign-born city dwellers has profoundly affected our motion picture industry, our stage, our press and our fiction is incontestable. Our fiction and our drama are in process of being Europeanized. The themes and the methods of treatment are increasing alien to our tradition."—Hamlin Garland, American novelist and dramatist.

ANOTHER BAD INVESTMENT.

Woodbine Plaintiffs Lose Suit to Recover Against Agents.

Herbert F. Leatherwood and wife, of Woodbine, this county, lost a suit in the Supreme Court, Baltimore, this week, against Leilich & Nicholson, agents for the Community Finance Co., of New York. They were charged by Leatherwood and his wife for making false statements concerning the business solvency of the Company, which induced the plaintiffs to invest $10,000 in it.

Judge Bond decided in favor of Leilich & Nicholson because Leatherwood and his wife had not shown by their testimony that the local agents knew of the falsity of their statements. This showing was necessary, the court held, in order to entitle the plaintiffs to recover.

The $10,000 was entrusted to the local agents in March, 1922. Three monthly "dividend" payments amounting to about $2,200 were received by Leatherwood and his wife on their investment. The suit was to recover the balance alleged to be due.

The Sugar Corn Question.

From the present outlook, there will be a disagreement between the corn growers and packers as to the price of sweet corn, that may lead to war. The price last year, $13.50 per ton, is claimed by the farmers to be $2.50 per ton below the profitable price. Packers on the other hand claim that on a fair scale of charges, and with average land, proper attention and a fair season, $13.50 is a fair price.

It is to be hoped that a satisfactory agreement can be arrived at, without the use of ill-advised stubbornness on either side. This is a question that involves not only the actual cost of growing the corn, but fertility of soil and favorableness of the season have much to do with it, as with all other crops.

Justices of the Peace Appointed.

The following Justices of the Peace have been appointed for Carroll Co.; John E. Davidson, John W. Stone, Mervin Harner, William W. Shamer, Albert M. Musgrove, Jacob R. L. Wink, George W. Loring, John Albert Zepp, Charles T. Swinderman, Robert E. Lee Hutchins, Roland E. Bassler, Jacob Warner, Jesse W. Eyer, Amos W. Fagner, William J. Ebbert and Clarence M. Murray.

Approximately eighty percent of the corn crop in the United States is sold on "the hoof" in the form of hogs.

AN EASTERN SHORE BOULEVARD.

And a Ferry Service to Connect
Baltimore and Shore.

The Ways and Means Committee on Thursday reported favorably the $750,000 loan for an improved road from Love Point to Denton. The highway is intended to act as a feeder to the proposed Baltimore-Love Point ferry, which the Pennsylvania R. R. has promised to establish if the road is built. The bill was then passed to the third reading file.

The agreement by the P. R. R. is based on the removal by the state of the present subsidy now given the Bay Shore ferry, and the rejection by the state of plans for establishing any other ferry.

Strong interests, both in Baltimore and the Eastern Shore are back of the project, as it is believed to be the best plan yet devised for "bridging the bay" and bringing the city and the shore closer together.

It is claimed that the passage of the bill would not necessarily increase the state tax rate during the next three years. The money saved by the discontinuance of the present subsidy could also be applied to the payment of the interest on the $750,000 loan.

The Useful Inner Tube.

Do not throw away the inner tube of tires that have served their purpose. There are numerous ways in which they can be used, either whole or in pieces.

Cut into strips of even width and woven together in basket weave, they make a good floor mat. The end strips should be made of double width, turned over and cemented in place with a good rubber cement. A similar mat, smaller in size, is excellent for use in the sink.

When cut across in widths suited to the use to which they are to be put they make good rubber bands. They will supply elastic for the bottom of the legs of bloomers, and they make good shirt-sleeve supporters.

Half soles cut from inner tubes will add materially to the life of a pair of shoes. Both the shoes and the rubber must be clean and the surfaces should be well sandpapered before the soles are cemented in with rubber cement.

Pieces cut from an inner tube also make durable stair treads. A section tied or cemented on the broom handle the coal shovel, the garden rake and other garden or household tools makes them much easier on the hands.

A strip cemented in the door casing lessens the sound when the screen is slammed. Used whole or with the blown-out part cut away and the ends securely tied the tube when inflated slightly makes a serviceable air cushion. Encased in a tube of unbleached muslin or similar fabric, the tube may be inflated more and used as a support in learning to swim.—Youth's Companion.

President Wilson's Will.

Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson is bequeathed a life interest in the late President Wilson's estate, estimated at over $150,000 by the terms of the will.

Margaret Wilson, eldest of three daughters, is to receive $2500 a year as long as she remains unmarried. Mrs. Wilson is requested to distribute among her step-daughters articles of clothing, jewelry, personal ornaments or art material as may have been the personal belongings of their mother, the first wife of the deceased. Mrs. Wilson is named executrix. Upon her death the estate is to revert to Mr. Wilson's children.

Mr. Wilson came to the White House relatively a poor man. Heavy royalties from his suddenly popularized books are said to have formed the basis of the very modest fortune.

Big Sugar Plant in Florida.

The opening of a big sugar mill 17 miles from Miami, Florida, that will use Florida grown cane, is believed to be a big blow at the control of the American sugar market by Cuban plantation owners. The Florida plant will have 300,000 acres of the everglades back of it for cane production and already has an investment of about $4,000,000 in the project.

It is believed that with this plant in successful operation, the outlook is for an almost limitless production of Florida cane. It is said that the outlook for beet sugar is better than for some years past, and that the Cuban crop will also be large in 1924.

HELP MAKE ROADS SAFE

Pledges Taken by Twelve Thousand
Automobile Owners

Major A. A. Stewart, of New York City, recently formed what is known as the Argus Association, composed of motorists all over the country who are willing to take the pledges of the association as to safe driving. These pledges are:

- 1—To be always ready for any emergency by keeping my eyes on the road and my thoughts on what I am doing.
- 2—To particularly watch out for curves, crossings, and bridges.
- 3—To always keep my car under perfect control.
- 4—To keep the brakes and steering gear in good working order.
- 5—Never to stop or slow down without signaling to the driver of the car behind.
- 6—Never to take a turn without care and a warning to drivers of other cars.
- 7—Never to cut off another car unless I am positive that there is ample space.
- 8—Never to stop in a narrow place on the road if by doing so I inconvenience the driver of other cars.
- 9—Never to start out from the curb without making sure that the road is clear.
- 10—To consider the safety and comfort of the other car's occupants as well as my own.
- 11—Never to try to save a minute or two of time if by so doing I am risking the life of a human being.
- 12—To obey all the rules of the road as laid down by law or common sense.
- 13—If I do not drive my own car, to require my chauffeur or members of my family to live up to these principles.
- 14—To be always careful, vigilant, courteous and thoughtful—a gentleman of the highway.

More than 12,000 motorists are stated to have taken this pledge.

Amount of Game Killed.

The State Game Department under date of February 1, 1924, mailed to each and every hunter on record as having purchased a hunting license, a Questionnaire Card, requesting information as to the amount and species of game killed by each hunter during the season of 1923-24. The total number of cards mailed aggregated more than 62,000, however, up to the present time less than 11,000 replies have been received.

Instructions were given on each card for the hunter to fill in the blank spaces according to his kill, sign same with correct address and mail to this Department without any cost whatever.

Every person who received a questionnaire should send in his answer whether he killed game or not. The purpose for receiving this information is to determine which parts of the State may need re-stocking and to find out how much game was killed during the past hunting season, in order to compare same with the amount of game killed during the season of 1922-23. No one need fear that the questionnaire is designed to check up on violations of the bag limit laws. The information we are seeking is for the benefit of the sportsmen in general as well as the Department.

Hill's Wet Amendment Loses.

Congressman Hill, of Maryland, attempted to tack an amendment to the Federal Tax Reduction bill, in the House, last week, proposing a tax of 20 cents a gallon on beer and cider not to exceed 2.75 percent. alcoholic content, the proceeds to be used to pay a soldiers' bonus. Mr. Hill estimated the yield under his amendment at $500,000,000.

Mr. Blanton, Democrat, of Texas, and others made points of order against his amendment. The chair sustained the point. Thereupon Mr. Hill appealed from the chair's decision. On the vote, seven members joined Mr. Hill and 226 were against him. The seven who voted with him were: Tydings, Maryland; Black, New York; Mead, New York; Oliver, New York; Prall, New York; Sherwood, Ohio and Tinkham, Massachusetts.

All articles on this page are either original, or properly credited. This has always been a fixed rule with this Office, and we suggest the adoption of it by our exchanges.

Greater Baltimore is now coming along, as was to have been expected, with demands for still greater representation in the legislature—six more Senators, this time. Baltimore is like the striking coal miners—it hardly gets through getting one demand before it originates another.

It is said that there will be no anti-race track gambling legislation, at this session—who ever advanced the thought that there might be? Maryland boasts, that it is the only state in the Union not to elect any of its school officials; one of a very few to legalize race-track gambling, and is almost alone in declining to pass a prohibition enforcement act. The reason for these boasts is Baltimore.

The probability is that nobody knows whether the "Mellon" plan, or the "Garner" plan for Federal tax reduction, is best for the country. The main thing is that the former represents the "Republican" plan, and the latter the "Democratic" plan; and that both are loaded down with arguments that the average person must take on "faith," and without power to use personal judgment. The tax measure is just as much a partisan matter as the tariff bill was a few years ago.

No Auto Legislation Yet.

So far as we have observed, the legislature has not had before it a single measure of practical value, aiming in a widely comprehensive way to make our public highways safer for travel by restricting the speed of motor vehicles, requiring higher qualifications for operators, making penalties for law violation more severe, and making arrests and convictions for violation of laws more easy to arrive at.

The fact that no efforts with "teeth in them" are being made, is perhaps due to the fact that those who have the making and enforcing of such laws, are unwilling to curtail their own liberties in the matter of speed and travel. So general is the use of motor vehicles, that in this fact rests danger. Many feel so much confidence in their ability to run their own cars with safety, that they realize that they would often be making themselves violators of road laws, should the laws be made more strict than at present.

Automobile clubs, dealers associations, garage interests, all back the individual driver in demanding the greatest possible liberties, of the road; so, only the exceptionally conservative drivers, and the minority who do not own cars, are found very strong in actual outspoken demand for more road legislation.

Rules of the road, advisory suggestions, and expert advice, are all well enough, but "advice" is very poor restraint—and, so laws are not enforced. The state of Maryland is about as lax in enforcing motor vehicle laws, as it is in the matter of liquor prohibition laws; it does not supply police force enough to make either effective.

There is a vast amount of propaganda afloat in the newspapers, the most of which is furnished, ready-made, by various interested industries, and most of these place the blame for motor accidents largely on other causes than the motorist themselves. For instance, on improper and inefficient policing, insufficient lighting of streets, careless walking on the highways, insufficient play grounds, etc., etc.

We should like to see the laws take more account of non-motorists; of the larger crowd that does not own and operate motor vehicles, yet who should have the right of safe use of our streets and highways, and even protection against their ignorance and physical frailties. We do not like to see automobilists made judges of "rights of way" against all comers, nor be constituted as a sort of highway aristocracy before whom all must scatter to safety.

The Election of School Boards.

The bill providing for the election of County Boards of Education, in stead of their appointment by the Governor, seems to us to be a wise proposition; but, as we have frequently stated, we believe that all such efforts are doomed to failure, for we cannot imagine any Maryland legislature playing such a brand of politics—giving away a certainty for an uncertainty, and with a Baltimore city practically guaranteeing the certainty, through its domination of the politics of the state.

There will be little use in proclaiming the merits of the bill, nor in emphasizing the fact that Maryland stands alone among all of the states in the appointment of School Boards. In this particular case, the essential fact is that the Governor plays a "bird in the hand" game, and his party officials are playing the game with him.

While Mr. Armstrong attacked the appointment policy in his campaign for Governor, last fall, and charged "politics" in the making of these appointments, the bill itself seems entirely removed from partisanship, due to the manner of making nominations, and to represent a genuine desire for making these school officials directly representative, as well as responsible to, the general public.

The Same Old Mess.

Are we coming to the point that the purchaser of profitable oil stocks is regarded more or less a common thief, and that it is a badge of honesty to be the owner of worthless oil stock? Suppose, instead of Sinclair, Doheny and others, having made millions on the lease of the "teapot dome" lands, they had lost millions, would the leases now be considered as criminal acts, and all who had any part in the transaction, criminals? Suppose these transactions had turned out highly advantageous to the government, on the same sort of leases, would the same prosecution of "the guilty" be now going on?

After all, are not ambition, and hate, and selfishness, and covetousness—hitched pretty closely together in the affairs of Nations and governments, as well as of communities and individuals? And are we not all more or less, followers of the doctrine—"The end justifies the means?"

Just now, it is "oil," that is furnishing the fuel for an effort to "turn something up" in Washington that may cause the country to lose its faith in one set of leaders who are "in," and turn it over to another set who are "out." It is not a case of turning up evidence for the sake of the punishment of rascality, but for the punishment of the rascals who can be used as horrible examples of the present administration for another four years.

Perhaps, had the situation been reversed, with the Democratic party now in power, something like the same exhibition would be in progress with reference to "war contracts" and the "oily" fortunes made over supplying the millions of dollars worth of stuff never used and never needed for use? and the connection of Cabinet, or other government officials on the "inside" with the granting of contracts and the auditing of accounts?

It may be oil, or contracts, or deals for the future, or bids for mass votes or just plain lying about public matters and dissimulation in general. No matter what it is, nor how the stuff is dished up, it is the same old mess of rotten politics that attends the necessities, the ambitious and the devilish schemes of men to win over other men, that has been on exhibition for the past fifty years, just preceding a National election.

Why He Opposes the Bonus.

Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, in a speech in the Senate, gave the following as his main reason for opposing the Soldier bonus, which may be enlightening to many who are not very well posted on what the bonus compensation means;

"I am opposing the bonus for just one reason, one alone, and I have not any sympathy with about nine-tenths of the reasons that opponents of the bonus advance. My idea is that the best thing we can do for the young men of America today is to get rid of the tax burden that hangs on their backs, and that is my reason for voting "no" on this so-called adjusted compensation bill.

I want to add this: That if this bill passes the service men of the country will feel a bitter disappointment when they find out what is actually in it. To begin with, it will be found that they will be bitterly disappointed when they discover how long it will take to put the law into operation.

I am told that The Adjutant General of the Army expects to gather together a force of 2,000 clerks to issue the certificates which will be required under this bill, if it becomes a law, and that with those 2,000 clerks working steadily he will not be able to issue all the adjusted compensation certificates until well along in the year 1925. That is worth remembering.

ing when we talk about immediate relief.

Another thing, if my correspondence is any indication of the way the service men feel who are advocating this bonus, all of them think they are going to get a lump sum in cash. I have had only one letter out of hundreds in which the man said that he was going to take the home-buying option. All the rest of them talk about the hardships they are under at the moment in being unable to pay their doctor's bill, and things of that sort, and they do not realize that if this bill passes most of them will not get one red penny to pay the rent or anything else for 20 years. They do not realize that what they will get will be a piece of paper payable at the end of 20 years, on which they can not even collect interest in the meantime. They do not realize that fact yet, but if this bill passes in the form in which it was in the Senate last year they are going to realize it with a great shock of disappointment.

That is why I believe that in the long run this thing is not going to benefit the service men as they and the friends of the measure think it will, and that is why I am opposing it."

A Three-Year Peace.

For three years there will be peace in the American soft-coal fields. The contract between operators of the Central Competitive Field and the United Mine Workers of America, signed at Jacksonville, insures a truce until March 31, 1927. The miners had asked a four-year contract, continuing the existing wage scales. The operators objected to an agreement longer than a year or two years. Pressure from Washington is credited with bringing the operators to accept the three-year compromise.

The miners have accomplished their aims. The operators have yielded less some worse thing befall them. This agreement means more than a three-year peace. Present soft-coal prices are expected to endure. It is generally admitted, however, that the agreement is the death warrant for hundreds of soft coal mines in the union field. Some of them were closing in Illinois last summer. Those holding out in favor of some change in the wage contract will now give up the ghost. Their miners must find new jobs.

Doubtless, this also means the elimination of a good many thousand miners. They must find new employment. They were on the move out of Illinois months ago. It is estimated there are 200,000 more coal miners in the United States than are needed. The new contract with its deathblows for the weaker mines will shove these men by the thousands into other industrial fields.

Still another result may flow from this agreement. With lines shortened, freed of wage quarrels, the United Mine Workers may now move against the last great citadels of nonunion coal, the fields of West Virginia. They have spent much treasure and shed some blood to make these mines union. With these in their control, union sway over the fields of America would be supreme. Here is an angel to the new agreement that will bear watching by the public while it pays the bill for the wartime wage of the minor now insured to him for at least another three years.—Phila. Ledger.

SCALING SHIPS BY MACHINERY

Labor-Saving Device for Cleaning Bottoms of Vessels Is Run by Compressed Air.

Scaling ships' bottoms by machinery is the latest labor-saving practice devised to aid "those who go down to the sea in ships." Ever since the advent of iron and steel hulls, one of the meanest jobs faced by Jack is cleaning the vessel's underwater section when the ship is placed in dry dock. Hammers with chisel-like heads, wire brushes and even cold chisels have been laboriously wielded to clean off marine growths, rust and the old paint.

Now comes the ship scaling machine run by compressed air and looking very much like the pneumatic riveters so painfully familiar to New Yorkers who live near modern building operations—and who doesn't? By its use, one man with a scaling machine can do as much in a day as could six men with the old-time methods and do a better and cleaner job at that. Gauge goggles are needed, however, in operating the ship scaler, because it works so fast, that bits of metal, rust and paint fly about in a veritable shower. Another modification of the machine is run by electricity.

Predictions will go amiss some time. Last Fall we heard that public sales would be abundant, next Spring. There are no greater number than usual, and not as many near-at-home sales as last year.

One of our so-called weather prophets predicted there could not be a heavy fall of snow during full moon. This old saying is about as truthful as the ground hog theory.

After a long silence, we heard again from our fellow-townsmen Harry K. Shaffer, who migrated to the Middle West, early last Spring. He says the weather at 12° to 15° below zero, since New Year, makes people keep moving to keep from freezing. He says that the street car men of Akron, O., have been on strike since Feb. 3, for higher fares, but the Mayor will not grant this request. The travelling public is taken care of by a motorized system. Both sides are determined to win.

On Friday evening of last week, while coasting, Ruth, the 12-year-old daughter of Jacob Weaver, of near Manchester, had the misfortune to break one of her arms at three places Dr. J. B. Weaver, of Manchester, reduced the severe fracture, making the injured girl as comfortable as possible.

A friend informs your correspondent that nearly 300 people have voiced their sentiments by voting for the Macadam road from our State highway, through Maple Grove to connect with Baltimore county. We were shown quite a lengthy list of names of the best citizens of Manchester district, petitioning the County Commissioners to grant them a much needed macadam road to Linboro, from our State highway. A man who is interested, and who seems to know something about it, declare that in the next five years we will see all the much-traveled roads in this district macadamized.

FLASHLIGHTS

For Every Need

Winchester makes flashlights for everybody's needs, from the vest-pocket size which milad yearries in her handbag to the powerful focusing type which enables the watchman to see clearly at a distance of 300 feet.

It is impossible to push on the Winchester patented two-position safety switch accidentally and waste the battery. Extra thick seamless zinc batteries give longer life.

We know you will find these flashlights superior in every way.

In Loving Remembrance of my dear wife,
GRACE ELSIE SHOEMAKER,
who departed this life one year ago today
February 27, 1923.

Wife, I am so sad and lonely.
Since you have gone from me,
And it seems there is no pleasure,
In this dreary world for me.

Oh! the memory of that evening,
As I stood with an aching heart,
Watching the one I loved so dearly,
Pierced by death's most awful dart.

BY HER HUSBAND.

Dearest mother, how we miss you,
Since from earth you passed away;
And our hearts are aching sorely,
As we think of you today.

BY THE CHILDREN.

In Loving Memory of our Brother and Uncle,
GEORGE W. ROOP,
who departed this life one year ago, Feb. 25th., 1923.

Today recalls sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest.
And the ones who think of him today
Are the ones who loved him best.

We did not know the pain he bore,
We did not see him die.
We only knew he passed away
Without bidding us goodbye.

His cheery smiles and kindly way
Are pleasant to recall.
He had a smile for everyone
And died beloved by all.

By His Loving Sister,
MRS. ROY SIX AND FAMILY.

He wore a crown of patience
Through the days he struggled on
Those hands that rest forever
Are the hands that made the home.

God needed one more shepherd
Amidst His shining band
And so He bent with loving smile
And clasped our uncle's hand.

By His Niece,
MRS. HARRY CLABAUGH & HUSBAND

In Sad but Loving Remembrance of my dear Husband and Father, GEORGE ROOP,
who departed this life one year ago, Feb. 25

My loving husband who suffered so long
Has left me and gone to the great beyond
But some day we'll all be with him again,
And stay with him in heaven to reign.

Although you could not speak to me,
Nor could you say goodbye,
But I know your thoughts were with us all
When you were called to die.

It seems that since you went away,
My loss is greater day by day.
Yet oft when evening lights are low,
It lifts my weary weight of care,
To feel your presence everywhere.

By His Loving Wife,
MRS. BERTHA ROOP.

One year ago you left me, dear father
How I miss your loving face!
Oh! you left me to remember,
None on earth can take your place.

BEULAH ROOP.

Sleep on, dear daddy and take your rest,
God called you home, He thought it best,
He saw your suffering here so great,
And opened wide the golden gate.

By His Loving Daughter,
MRS. LOUISE G. RENN.

One long year has come and gone,
Since we were forced to part;
But time and space cannot efface
Thy memory from our hearts.

We have borne our sorrow silently,
We have shed our tears in vain;
But some day we hope to meet you
And be with you once again.

By his son and wife,
MR. & MRS. RAYMOND ROOP.

MRS. WILLIAM FORMWALT AND FAMILY.

No Trouble With Bill,
His car has trouble to Get up most every hill,
But none at all, he finds,
In running up a bill.

Fortunes of War.
"And he is only a colonel?"
"Yes, but if the war had not come along he would have been a general
by now."

George Washington's Oil Lands

THE Father of our Country was interested in Oil. Washington's wealth to a large degree was invested in real estate—and we know of at least one instance when he bought land because of the Oil that was in it. He acquired parcels of land on the Ohio River bottoms: at Round Bottom, now Cincinnati; at the mouth of the Kanawha River; and at Point Pleasant, the birthplace of General Grant.

IN writing of his investment, Washington has left us this interesting note: "This tract was taken up by General Lewis and myself on account of the bituminous spring which it contains, of so inflammable a nature as to burn freely as spirits (alcohol) and is nearly as difficult to extinguish."

Interesting when we realize that even in Washington's time, which really was not so long ago, he considered the burning qualities of petroleum sufficiently novel to write about. And then compare that condition with the situation of today. At your neighborhood dealer, at any time, with greatest convenience, you can buy The Red "C" Oil and The White "C" Oil, same except in color, the superior Kerosene for lamps, stoves and incubators.

PUBLIC SALE ADVERTISING.

The BEST sales are always those that have been the best advertised; therefore, advertising is not an EXPENSE, but an investment for PROFIT.

The difference in cost, between a well advertised sale, and one that is advertised at as small a cost as possible, is only a few dollars—and it does not pay to SAVE this difference at the printing end, and LOSE it at the selling end.

Sale advertising should be intelligently considered. The NEWS of the sale should be spread over all the territory from which bidders are likely to be drawn, by NEWSPAPER advertising.

POSTERS should be used to advertise in more remote points, where newspaper advertising does not reach.

Sale CARDS can be used to advantage for mailing, or handing out at sales. The card plan has its value if properly handled, but throwing cards around in stores, is not the way.

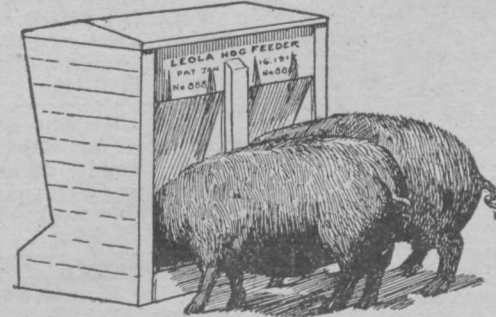

The Carroll Record

Carries more sale advertising, in the Spring, than any other paper in Carroll County. Many persons subscribe for it, due to this fact. Its circulation, covering the Northern half of the county, and portions of Frederick and Adams counties, makes it very desirable as a sale paper.

Posters and Cards

printed at our office, are well known for their attractiveness. No matter what sort of sale service you need, we supply it in good style. Our work may cost a little more than that of some offices, but it is worth its cost.

We will help our patrons to place their sales in other papers, if they desire it—they to do the selecting of the papers—and payment for all may be made at our office.

THE REVIVAL UNDER SAMUEL

LESSON TEXT—I Sam. 1:1.
GOLDEN TEXT—Prepare your hearts
unto the Lord and serve Him only.—
I Sam. 7:3.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God Calls the Boy
Samuel.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Victory at Ebenezer.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-IC—How Samuel Served His Nation.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—The Revival Under Samuel.

Gross immorality and even anarchy
prevailed during the close of the period of the Judges, as we see recorded in the last chapters of Judges. Through the ministry of the last Judge, Samuel,
a brighter day dawned upon Israel.

I. Features of Israel's History in This Period.

1. A Demoralized Priesthood.
(1) The priests were actuated by greed (I Sam. 2:12-17). It was God's will that those who ministered at the altar should live of the things of the altar, but they broke through the divine revelations touching this matter
and were securing their selfish ends by force.

(2) The priests polluted the courts of God's house with the grossest immorality (I Sam. 2:22). We thus see that the condition of the nation was most appalling. When God's ministers are actuated by greed and practice uncleanness,
degradation and ruin rapidly follow.

2. An Alienated People. The only thing which separates people from God is sin. The people who choose sin shall be thus separated from God.

3. A Cessation of Divine Revelation
(I Sam. 3:1). God was silent ("The word of God was precious in those days, there was no open vision"). The message from the Lord was a matter of memory.

II. God Calls Samuel (I Sam. 3:2-10).
Samuel's name means, "Asked of God." He was given to Hannah in answer to prayer. In asking God for this son she vowed to dedicate him to the Lord. Accordingly at an early age she took him to the sanctuary and gave him over to the charge of Eli. Thus in his tender years he ministered to the Lord. The beautiful life of Samuel was in striking contrast to the degradation of the nation.

III. Samuel's First Prophetic Mes- sage (I Sam. 3:11-18).

Up to this time Samuel obeyed the one who was over him, but the time
had now come when he must directly hear and obey the Lord. The first message entrusted to him is a most terrible
one. He hesitated to tell it to Eli, but,
when pressed by him, he manifested
the true courage which was lying back of his fear. He announced a fearful visitation upon Eli's house because of the sins of his sons.

IV. Samuel Established in the Pro- phetic Office (I Sam. 3:19-21).

"And Samuel grew, and the Lord
was with him, and did let none of his words fall to the ground, and all Israel
from Dan even unto Beer-sheba knew that Samuel was established to be a prophet of the Lord."

V. Victory of Samuel (I Sam. 7:1- 14).

1. Samuel Calls Israel to Repentance
(vv. 1-4). Some twenty years have now elapsed since Israel was humiliated by the Philistines. He asks the people to turn to the Lord with all their hearts, the proof of which would be:

(1) To put away their own licentious
worship. This was really gross licen-tiousness under the guise of religion.

(2) To direct their hearts unto the Lord and serve Him only.

2. Israel Assembled at Mizpeh (vv.
5, 6). The purpose of this assembly was the confession of their sins. They poured water before the Lord, thus symbolizing their need of cleansing and the pouring out of their hearts in penitence before the Lord. They fasted
and publicly confessed their sins.

3. The Philistines Attack Israel (v.
7). The assembly of Israel at Mizpeh alarmed the Philistines. They interpreted the gathering as a preparation
to attack them, so they decided to attack first.

4. The Intercession of Samuel (vv.
8, 9). Samuel accompanied his intercession with a burnt offering, showing that he looked for acceptance in the sacrifice of another, even Christ.

5. The Victory Over the Philistines
(vv. 10, 11). This was the result of God's interposition. "The Lord thundered with a great thunder that day
and discomfited them."

6. A Memorial Set Up (vv. 12-14).
Samuel set up a stone between Mizpeh
and Shiloh and called it Ebenezer,
which means, "Hitherto hath the Lord
helped us."

In His Steps (3)

What Jesus Said About Happiness
Matthew 5:1-12; John 15:11

To regard Jesus only as a teacher giving a philosophy of life such as the religions of the world usually provide, is to utterly mistake His mission. This mistake is frequently made in connection with the Sermon
on the Mount, where our first Scripture text is found. It is true that our Lord's teaching here concerning the subject of happiness is in direct opposition to that of the world in its materialistic philosophy of life, but other religions have presented similar conceptions of happiness in emphasizing character rather than possessions, and in showing that what a man is, rather than what he has, is the basis of real happiness. If Christ-ianity has nothing more to offer the world than a mere philosophy of life,
a way to be happy, it is only one religion among many; but if God, seeing no other way to save man, has become his Saviour by taking man's nature upon Himself, and has overcome the law of sin and death and introduced a new law of supernatural grace and life, then Christianity has a message absolutely distinct and altogether unique as compared with every other religious system.

The supreme matter, then, is not "what Christ taught, but what He was and what He did." See Hebrews 2:14-17.

In the other Scripture, John 15:11,
our Lord unfolds the truth of Himself
as the source of the Christian believer's life. "I am the vine; ye are the branches. He that abideth in me and I in him, the same bringeth forth
much fruit, for without me ye can do nothing." The vine of the earth, the natural man, brought forth no
fruit acceptable to God. The vine of Israel, likewise, failed. Consequently both are set aside and a new vine is introduced, or, to change the figure,
a new creation is brought in.

Are you searching for happiness?
It is found here in the realm of the new things in Christ Jesus.

WHERE ALL THE SUGAR GOES

Bakers and Makers of Candy and Soft Drinks Use Vast Amounts of It.

Not more than half of the sugar we Americans consume is used in our homes. The rest goes into manufactured products. The estimates of the quantities used in manufacture run
this way:

Our candy makers alone use more than 350,000 tons, and 130,000 tons
more go to sweeten up chocolates and ice creams.

Every year the bakers dip into the national sugar bowl for well over 45-000 tons for bread, 55,000 tons for crackers and 90,000 tons goes every year into frostings and odds and ends
in the bakeries.

Fourteen thousand or more soft-
drink makers hit the nation's sugar
bin for at least 130,000 tons for their concoctions and another 100,000 tons
goes into condensed milk.

Twenty thousand tons of sugar is chewed up each year in gum; and less aesthetic jaws worked on another 15,000 tons that goes into the nation's "eatin' tobacco," this not including
about 6,000 tons that goes to smoking
tobaccos.

The country's pill and potion bill
disposes of about 6,000 tons of sugar
each year, and the corner druggist uses an unknown quantity in filling
what the doctor ordered.

Even sticky fly paper and roach,
ant and rat killers draw from the sugar supply to the tune of hundreds of tons.

And nobody knows how much has gone into bootleg and home-brew.—

Break a Cold As You Sleep.

Don't Drug Yourself—Just Breathe
A Cold Away.

Relief from colds and grip misery
comes at once. Ease for feverish, aching head. Tight, sore chest is loosened. Stuffed up air passages opened, choking mucus checked, nose
stops running, pain goes.

Sterling's Vapor-Eze is the quickest, safest relief for bad colds in head and chest because it soothes
and breaks up the congestion on which colds feed. Get from your druggist a 25 cent jar of Sterling's Vapor-Eze. Apply a little on the chest and throat at bed time.

Then, as you sleep, the healing,
germ destroying, antiseptic vapor enters every air passage, penetrates
right down to where the cold is lodged and breaks it up.

Sterling's Vapor-Eze is absolutely harmless. Mother, use it for the children's colds. Remember, the cost is only a few cents. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Sterling's
on every jar.

CANNED MUSIC IN YUCATAN

Demand for American Talking Machines is Brisk, Says Our Consul
at Progreso.

The talking machine is as popular
in Yucatan as in the United States,
according to a report to the Department of Commerce from O. G. Marsh,
United States consul at Progreso.
Small, cheap instruments cheer the Indian hut, ordinary machines are found in middle-class homes, and the most elaborate cabinet styles grace the mansions of the wealthy. Perhaps no other modern invention has done more to enliven these homes. An enterprising local dealer has popularized and capitalized this idea in a phrase: "How happy is the home that has its phonograph."

The American machine has monopolized the market. Old styles with horn have had an extensive sale, but cabinet designs are preferred by most customers. A few portable instruments have been sold.

Practically all orders have been placed by importers direct with factories on factory-price quotations, railway and steamship freight and marine insurance being attended to by American agents of importers or by freight forwarders at American ports.
The largest importer, and the one who has done a large part of the local business, has purchased on open credit.
Other firms have been, and will have to be dealt with in accordance with their financial standing and credit rating. The most recent shipment, by a manufacturer just entering the Yucatan
market, was on a documents
against payment basis.

Almost all records sold in Yucatan
are of well-known American makes.
The most popular have been American fox trots and Latin-American songs and dance music. The principal importers have dealt with manufacturers of records on the same basis as with makers of phonographs, but a considerable number of records enter in a manner difficult to trace and are sold
at varying prices by small dealers.

THIS MADE TRIP BETTER

Fall of the Big Brute's Suitcase Gratified the Other Passengers
Very Much.

They got on the train together—a gruff, pink-cheeked giant of a know-it-all husband. He didn't help her up the steps. To his credit it must be admitted that he was carrying their heavy suitcase—though maybe due to his absent-mindedness or the presence of a quart inside. He lifted the suitcase to put it on the steel luggage rack overhead. And he grunted that he knew what he was doing when she suggested a fear that the heavy suitcase might break down the rack. She started to insist, but he snapped, cutting her off. So they settled in their day-coach seats.

The little woman uncomfortably kept glancing up at the rack and unconsciously fingering her shoulder as if preparing it for a blow. Again she ventured, "Dear I'm afraid—"

"Mind your own business; it'll hold,"
he growled.

Bang! The words were no sooner out of his mouth than down came the suitcase. It struck squarely on his head, crushing his new deer hat. The rest of the journey was pleasant for the other passengers.—Hiawatha (Kas.) World.

Smallest Bank.

In the town of Normal, a small
suburb of Lincoln, Neb., is the smallest bank in the country. It was organized three years ago with a capital of $15,000. Today its assets have increased more than tenfold. In a small frame structure only 16 by 20 feet, it represents a total amount of resources which might easily be the envy of some of our big banking houses, for its stockholders are conservatively estimated to be worth upward of $3-000,000. While some banks in the last three years have had to charge
off a great many losses, this bank has had the perfect record of no losses
and no change in the 18 stockholders
or in the directors or officers.

A Mean Statement.

As Lawyer Flubdub stepped out of the elevator a man in the corridor fainted. The attorney assisted the man to the sidewalk, called a taxi and helped him in. The unknown showed every sign of collapse. Of course, a crowd gathered.

Somebody asked: "Is that a client
of Flubdub's?"
And somebody answered: "I guess
so."

"What made him collapse like that?"
"Oh, Flubdub probably told him the amount of the fee."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Queer Cargo.

The queerest cargo ever taken overseas by a British steamer was that recently discharged at a Moroccan seaport. It consisted of 2,000,000 gallons of water, required for the use of the Spanish troops who were fighting rebel tribesmen. A ship conveying idols and images to the west coast of Africa was recently wrecked in the Mediterranean, the coast near by being strewn with "false gods" of all descriptions.

Squeezed Out of It.

"The idea of your dozing while I was singing."
"You were singing a lullaby, weren't you?"
"Yes."
"Then I couldn't pay your art any higher compliment."—Boston Transcript.

Chapels in Hotels.

Many years ago, a group of commercial travelers called "The Gideons"
organized a movement for placing copies of the Scriptures in the guest rooms of hotels. It was from the start a very real missionary enterprise, and has been productive of excellent results.

One of New York's leading hotel
men, the owner of a number of big establishments, announced a few days ago his purpose of going even a step further. Observation during many years of experience has impressed him
with the fact that strangers who put up at hotels in our big cities are at a disadvantage as far as church-going is concerned. He has, therefore, decided to erect, in each of his large establishments, a chapel as a place where his guests may worship. "If the patron will not go to church," he urges, "we shall bring the church to him."

Wet Shoes Should Be Kept Away From Heat

It seems to be a natural inclination
with the average person when his shoes
are wet to place them on a radiator or near the kitchen stove to dry, says an expert on leather, writing in the Shoe Conservator. This is exactly the wrong thing to do. Leather when it is wet is a great deal like wood. Unless the drying process is allowed to take its own
natural slow course, it will warp, stiffer
and bulge.

With the shoe, of course, these effects are as disastrous as they would be with a piece of furniture or anything where a series of component parts come in contact with each other
as they do in a shoe.

The effects of the wetting on the sole may not be the same as on the upper, and the effects of the wetting
on the fore part of the sole may not be the same as on the shank, with the result that when they have finally warped and settled, they have probably torn away from each other; to say the least, the shoe would be very uncomfortable.

A shoe that has become water-soaked
in any way should be immediately placed on a tree, or if the trees are not available stuffed with paper or cloths and left to dry in a cool, dry place. In this way the leather will be revitalized by the drying atmosphere
and, even though the wetting will have its injurious effects, they will be minimized.

Biggest 10-Cent Store Is Run by Uncle Sam

It is not generally known that Uncle Sam runs the biggest 10-cent store in the world. Printed copies of patents are sold all over this country at 10 cents each to the number of 200,000 a month, says the Kansas City Times. It costs six cents each to print these patents, which is one of the biggest jobs done by the government printing
office, the public printer testifies.

He says 50 linotype machines are kept busy eight hours a day. The printing for the patent office costs
around $1,000,000 a year, which comes back into the treasury with at least $200,000 profit.

In addition to the 200,000 copies of
patents distributed every month 2,000-000 copies are sent to libraries all over
this country and to foreign countries
in exchange. There are in the patent office, subject to sale, 50,000,000 copies of patents, which makes this the most valuable store in the city of Washington. These have a cost value to the government of $3,000,000 and a sale
value of $5,000,000.

Following Orders

A young artist was given permission by the captain of a large ship to get on a staging, slung over the side,
for the purpose of getting a better
view of another vessel which he wanted to paint.

It was not long after that the captain got into the ship's boat, and shouted up to the deck, "Let go the painter!"—the painter being a rope by which the boat is made fast to the ship.

The order not being obeyed promptly, he shouted again, "Let go the painter."

"Instantly a voice replied, 'He's gone,
sir; brushes, paint and all!'"

TIME TO VIEW WITH ALARM

Startling Exploit of Pennsylvania Girl Whose Fiance Was in the Sheriff's Custody.

Had an Oppenheim, a Chambers or a McGrath written a tale a few years ago of a girl who forced her way into a sheriff's home and then, single-handed, freed her fiance from the nearby
jail with the aid of the keys and a revolver she obtained in her housebreaking, readers would have been amused
at the idea a girl could do such a thing.

But truth continues to make fiction
look silly. And times have changed.
The Warren (Pa.) girl who did that thing is a type that the writers of shockers have not caught up with as
yet. There are policewomen and women deputy sheriffs today—also girl
bandits. Mildred in her emancipated state both enforces the laws and breaks them. No task is too much for her.

If the facts in this case were as they are told, here was love laughing at the locksmiths and the sheriff and all the embattled array of the forces of law and order. That's the way the movie scenario writers would look at it.
Many other persons will take that in-judicial attitude toward the exploit of this lass, too.

But are not the ladies going a bit too far? Nobody, not even judges and juries, have objected very strenuously
so far to women shooting up their husbands at odd times, even to their shooting up other people's husbands.
But if they are to be permitted to break open the jails to get their chosen ones out of durance, of what
use will be jails or policemen or laws,
even?—Buffalo Evening News.

ECUADOR PINEAPPLES HUGE

They Grow to Weight of Twenty-Five Pounds in the Province of Esmeraldas.

Ecuador is fast becoming a great fruit-growing country, said Frank Edward Kink of Esmeraldas, Ecuador, to the New York Times.

"Pineapples grow to a weight of 25
pounds in the province of Esmeral-das," he declared. "This is about twice the size of the pineapples grown in Hawaii and shows that we must have very superior soil. Moreover,
there is no place in the world that produces such large, thin-skinned,
seedless oranges."

"Indications are that the province
has also a considerable wealth in oil.
There are a great number of oil seep-
ages which would indicate a great production of high-gravity oil. The character of this oil is higher than the famous Pennsylvania oil, and has been produced in Ecuador for the last 300
years, but it is only recently that modern machinery has been used for drilling, with excellent success. One month ago an English company brought in a well of 300 barrels an hour of 38 gravity oil. These conditions combine to encourage immigration, which is steadily increasing in Esmeraldas."

Yucatan Likes Wheat Bread.

Corn tortilla, for ages the favorite bread of Yucatans, is threatened by a modern competitor. Little baking is done in the homes of Yucatan, the frying pan being the standard implement of cookery. The simple but wholesome Mexican tortilla is an article of general diet, but wheat bread is now being widely consumed. The wheat bread supply of the entire peninsula of Yucatan originates in bakeries and consists principally of long, sour French loaves. According to Consul O. G. Marsh of Progreso about four years ago a progressive Yucatecan opened a modern bakery in Merida equipped with American machinery and using American fresh yeast. This bakery enjoys remarkable success. A great variety of rolls, biscuits, etc., raised with baking powder
and containing lard and sugar are purchasable.

Wanted a Change.

Watkins came in from the office and tossed his hat over on the table.

"Hello, Mary," he called.

Mary came from the kitchen to give him her wifely kiss of greeting.

"Here, dearie, I brought you a box
of candy tonight," Watkins announced.

Mary was nonplussed for a moment.

"Why, Jimmie, this isn't our wedding anniversary!" she exclaimed.
"And it isn't my birthday—and it isn't— Oh, Jim, you're courting me
again!"

"Nope," Jim denied casually. "I just thought a little something sweet would taste good!"

Billiard Balls From Beans.

Billiard balls at present being grown
at the Royal Botanic gardens, in England, are the most recently discovered
use of the soya bean, whose natural home is in the Far East. But billiard balls are not the only uses to which the soya can be put. It can be utilized as: A substitute for knife and umbrella handles, buckles and beads. As an ingredient of cheese, flour, table oil,
cake, sauce and soap. In making lubricating and illuminating oil, glycerin,
paint, varnish, celluloid, printing ink,
waterproofs, explosives and linoleum.

Discovered.

Little Bobby, who had been playing with a neighbor's daughter, came sobbing to his mother and declared that his little playmate had pulled his hair.

"Why, Bobby," his mother gasped.

"I thought she was such a nice little girl she would never do anything like that." "So did I," wailed Bobby.

"That's why I kicked her."—Los Angeles Times.

It is suggested that "skating rinks" be opened again, and the sidewalks be given back to their intended use.

Mr. Colafemina's grand opera selections were especially fine. Many requests were made for his return.

How the Trouble Started.

At the early age of five, Mary Jane had been learning her catechism. One of the questions put to her was: "Did Adam and Eve remain faithful to God?"

Now, Mary Jane is nothing if not original. Still the pastor himself was amazed at the child, and turned aside for a quiet laugh when she replied without blinking an eye.

"No, Adam and Eve did not make faces at God, but broke one of His commandments by eating fermented fruit."—Kansas City Star.

Hit the Owl.

In the good old days, an attorney-at-law advertised for an office boy. At the appointed hour he faced the applicants extending in a line from one end of the office to the door.

"Boys," he said, "I am going to tell you a story. When I have finished, I want each of you to ask me a question about that story. The boy that asks the best question gets the job."

"A farmer looked out of the window one morning and saw an owl perched on the roof of his barn. He got his shotgun, went out into the yard, took deliberate aim at the owl and fired. A moment later he noticed a small column of smoke coming out of the top of the barn. Soon the entire barn was in flames. And thus ends the story of the Farmer and the Owl. Now, boys, ask your questions." the lawyer said.

"Was the barn insured?" asked one.

"Did the wads from the shell start the fire?" asked another.

"Did the farmer build a new barn?" asked the third.

Finally, a small, red-headed, freckle-faced lad at the end of the line said:

"Did he hit the owl?"

The boy was hired.—The Salt Cellar.
