

CATTLE TESTING TO BE COMPLETED.

Untested Area in Carroll to Receive Test Immediately.

The State Livestock Sanitary Board has notified Dr. C. A. Turner, Federal Inspector at Westminster, that authorization has been given for all herds in the county that were untested in the county area clean up last year, to be subjected to the test so soon as possible. Last fall, Franklin district, one precinct of Westminster district, and sixteen herds of Middleburg district, were untested when the work was stopped because of lack of state funds.

Since the county area retest is to be started September 1st, it is fortunate that these areas in the center of the county are to be cleaned up, thereby making it more possible for Carroll County to become a modified area more quickly. With most of the large cities in the East and Central West contemplating health regulations that require all milk to be supplied from tuberculin tested animals, the more quickly Carroll County can become known as a clean area, the more quickly will the farmers of the county be able to find a better market for their dairy products and surplus animals.

Baltimore City Health Department is not only now requiring that the milk, cream and ice cream supplied to the city be from tuberculin tested herds, but is contemplating in the near future that all butter be from similar herds. When it is recognized that Carroll County produces well over one million and half pounds of farm butter, annually, most of which goes to Baltimore, the importance of all farmers in the county working together to eradicate this disease is apparent.

Contrary to the popular impression, Carroll County is essentially a county with very few large dairy herds. Figures recently compiled by County Agent Walrath from official records, show that less than ten percent of the cattle in Carroll County are in herds that number more than fifteen animals. Over half of the farms have less than five cows, and it is from these that the bulk of the farm butter of the county is produced.

When asked as to his opinion of the outlook for better marketing of this farm butter, County Agent Walrath said in part: "The butter makers of Carroll County have an exceptional opportunity for more profit from their butter on the Baltimore market. The people of Baltimore through the work of the Dairy Council, the City Health Department, the dairy interests, women organizations, the press, etc., have come to demand milk from clean herds. Ice cream and cream, have been recently added. While Carroll does hold an enviable position in the farm butter trade, if the farmers of the county would put up their product under some wrapping package, or trade name, signifying that the butter was made from cream from healthy cows in Carroll County, an even better market could be secured; that is certain."

The Hess-Bushey Reunion.

The Hess-Bushey annual reunion was held on Wednesday in the grove at Piney Creek Presbyterian Church, and was attended by over 200. The program was held in the church, and was quite interesting and appropriate; prayer by Rev. William Hess, of Hagerstown; addresses by Rev. C. W. Hess, of Brunswick, and Rev. Thos. T. Brown, of Taneytown; piano and cornet solos by Mrs. Evans and daughter, of Wheeling, West Virginia; Mr. Kempner, of Iowa, a mar of 88 years of age, sang, "We drank out of the same canteen," closing prayer by Rev. John Hess, Sr., of Virginia.

The following officers were elected: Samuel F. Hess, president; John McKinney, vice-president; George W. Hess, secretary; John Hess, Sr., treas.; Mrs. Effie Belt, historian. A big dinner was an important feature of the occasion and after the business session, the addresses and election, the afternoon was spent in many pleasant ways, such as a big family knows how to engage in, and with one mind it was decided to hold the reunion next year at the same place, on the last Wednesday in July.

Heat, Hail and Lightning does Great Damage.

The heavy electrical storm on Sunday night, of which this section experienced only the edge, and no hail, was especially destructive through southern Pennsylvania and the far western part of Maryland. In York County, Pa., there was considerable loss due to lightning and hail, and to barn fires. Fruit in Adams and York counties also suffered much damage.

In Garrett county, this state in Accident and vicinity and on to Oakland, hail fell in abnormal quantities, at some places to the depth of four inches. In the middle west and northwest the worst heat wave of the season was on Sunday and Monday, temperatures as high as 112° being reported in the Dakotas and Nebraska. The heat is doing great damage to the corn, that has been in need of rain for some time in the middle west.

Later reports show the storm to have extended from Maine to Ohio, causing nine deaths in New England. Property destruction was great in Massachusetts; in fact, the whole region covered sustained loss of one kind or another.

FARM BARN DESTROYED.

Struck by Lightning, and Building and Contents Burned.

During the violent electrical storm on Thursday night, the barn at John Ridinger's near Piney Creek Church, was struck by lightning and destroyed by fire; also the wagon shed, a poultry house, a lot of hay and corn, and one horse. The Taneytown Fire Company responded promptly, but on account of lack of water could do but little.

Favorable wind prevented the house and other buildings from catching fire. The wheat crop, on stacks near the barn, was also saved. We have not learned the probable loss, nor the amount of the insurance.

Community Vacation Bible School.

The Community Vacation Bible School opened in New Windsor, last Monday morning, with an enrollment of 73. This was increased to 93 on Wednesday morning. There are eight schools co-operating in the Bible school. There are over a dozen Sunday Schools represented in the enrollment. The school will continue through next week.

The commencement exercises will be held in the College auditorium, on Sunday evening, August 1, at 8:00, to which the public is invited and urged to attend. This program will consist of demonstrations by the different classes of some of the work accomplished, dramatized Bible stories and a Pageant. Handwork will be on exhibition.

As agreed to by the co-operating schools, an offering will be lifted at that program to defray the expenses of the school, as no charge was made for tuition.

On Saturday, July 31, in Richardson's meadow along the state road near the Wakefield Church of God, will be held the first annual outing of all the Sunday Schools of the New Windsor district. The schools outside the district which are co-operating in the Bible School, are invited to spend the day with us. It will be held jointly with the annual vacation bible school. There will be something of interest for all ages. The business men of the community are invited to contribute prizes for the various contests to be held.

Come, get acquainted with your Sunday School neighbors. Enjoy a day of good, clean, wholesome fellowship together. Bring your lunch and we'll have an old-fashioned picnic dinner together. Ice cream and pop will be on sale for the benefit of the Association. Come in the forenoon and stay until evening if you want to.

The Superintendents are asked to bring this notice to the attention of their schools this Sunday morning, both the outing and the program.

A. JAY REPGLE, Pres.

The Frederick Law and Order League is Growing.

The Law and Order League in Frederick County is growing and numerous meetings have been held throughout the county this week. Sunday School Superintendents, pastors of Churches, and adult Bible Class teachers are specially invited to the meetings.

The signing of members of the league has gone on all over the county, and hundreds of signatures have already been reported to the officers of the league, with new reports coming in almost daily, it was said.

The executive committee of the league has decided to quiz all candidates for executive, legislative and law enforcement offices as to their stand upon the question of enforcing all laws, including the prohibition law.

Steps have been taken to induce "dry" candidates for Governor and for United States Senator to enter the field in both primaries or as independent candidates.

Advertise Farms and Homes.

The time is here for advertising Farms and Homes for sale, for possession next Spring—especially private sales. A few inches of space for three weeks, should be taken now; and if desired, or necessary, a fuller public sale advertisement can be used early in September.

MARYLAND SHOULD MEET PENNA.

Interstate Roads Should have the Earliest Possible Consideration.

Our Harney Correspondent, last week, urged the importance of connecting up Harney with the Adams County road leading to Gettysburg, a small matter of only a half-mile, and the point is well taken. This is the only main road from Pennsylvania into this county that has not been improved, providing we consider the Taneytown-Littlestown road as already taken care of, which is yet a good way from being a finished fact. Maryland should match Pennsylvania in the extension of good roads to the line between the states; and this will eventually be done, but it seems to us that inter-state roads should have first attention, and Pennsylvania has recognized this claim more than Maryland.

The problem of hard roads is a difficult one because of their cost, and the already heavy taxes for roads and schools. Bond issues temporarily seem to offer a solution; but, bonds and interest must eventually be paid, and by the time some of them are paid the roads and buildings are worn out, and another bond issue is necessary.

For Farmer Readers.

Progressive farmers keep an eye on both domestic and foreign market conditions so as to measure competition in marketing staple crops.

Calf diseases result mainly from filth and carelessness. Cleanliness is necessary in feed, pens, bedding, and pails or other utensils.

Late summer seeding of red clover is successful in much of the southern and eastern part of the clover area. The use of high-quality American grown seed is strongly advised. Much of the imported seed is unfit for use in the United States.

In growing a crop of alfalfa the worst animal pests are gophers, ground squirrels, prairie dogs, and mice. This is particularly true in the western half of the United States. The best means of holding them in check are poisoning and trapping.

False stories of the origin of polish and poulard wheats usually have accompanied offers of the seed for sale at from $20 to $60 per bushel. The United States Department of Agriculture advises farmers against buying and growing these wheats. They are not only unsuitable for making bread flour and macaroni, but their yields are considerably lower than those of standard varieties of wheat grown in the same places.

Government data from several thousand farms show that the value of the family living from the farm at farm prices is approximately one-third of the cost of living of farm families, and two-thirds of the cost of food, fuel, and house rent. It is one-ninth as much as the farm receipts and one-third as much as the farm income.

Ordinary cows in milk require about 1 ounce of salt a day, while heavy producers need more. Many dairymen mix it with the grain, adding from 1 to 2 pounds to each 100 pounds of concentrates. In addition salt is kept accessible so the cows can take more if they desire.—U. S. Dep't Agriculture.

For the Lady of the House.

The foods combined in one meal should have variety and contrast in texture and flavor. Serve something crunchy like toast, or browned crumbs on a scalloped dish, something soft, as a white sauce or custard, something crisp and fresh, like lettuce or cold slaw. For variety in flavor, some of the foods chosen should be mild or bland, like potatoes or bread; some should have a pronounced flavor, as in the case of rare steak, roast, lamb, ham, or cheese, or some of the vegetables such as cauliflower, cabbage, and onions; there should also be something sour in itself, like tomato or pickles, or like spinach or beets, something that is ordinarily served with vinegar, or a salad with French dressing. Sweet flavor is usually provided in the dessert, or it may be introduced elsewhere in the menu as in candied sweet potatoes, or in the form of jelly with meat.

A pinch of curry powder is sometimes liked with lima beans.

Turn cakes upside down when they are taken from the oven and allow them to cool partially. Remove from the pan before the cake reaches room temperature or has a chance to sweat.

Tomatoes fresh, raw, or canned are a good source of vitamins A. B. and C. This is the reason that child specialists often recommend that young children and sometimes babies be given tomato juice. It is a good plan also to include tomatoes often in the family menu.

Serve all lamb dishes piping hot, on hot plates, because many people object to the texture of the fat that has hardened as it has cooled. Tart jellies and tasty sauces also "cut" the fat and tone down the pronounced flavor of the meat.—U. S. Dep't Agriculture.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Pleasant Valley Applies for First Group School.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education was called to order at 10:15 A. M., in the office of the Board on Wednesday, July 7, 1926. Commissioner Slingluff was absent.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read.

The list of bills presented to the Board was approved and ordered paid with the exception of the bill of J. O. O'Farrell for six cords of wood for $45.00 which is to be paid to the extent of $42.00 as the Board will not pay more than seven dollars a cord for wood.

The annual statement of conditions of the high schools of Carroll county addressed to the Board of Education by the State Superintendent, was read.

An exhibit of the audits of the principals' accounts was placed before the Board. No action was taken.

Mr. William H. Gillis was appointed trustee of the Mt. Airy elementary school to succeed Mr. Clifton Sponseller, resigned.

The budget as returned by the County Commissioners with allowances and disallowances, was read to the Board for its information.

Pursuant to the reading of the budget, the Board took action with respect to the laying of the Graceland pavement, building the repair shop and garage, and the construction of a fire escape at Graceland, to the effect that as not sufficient amounts had been allowed for this purpose, nothing was to be done in the way of construction unless the County Commissioners agreed to make good the deficiency in cash.

The application of Attorney Steele for a refund to J. H. Williams for tuition paid to Baltimore County, was laid on the table for consideration at the next meeting.

Upon application of the community of Winfield by petition, offering an enrollment of 36 students for the high school, over the signatures of the parents of the same that these children will be kept in school consistently, the Board agreed to reopen the Winfield school for another year, and the Superintendent was directed to appoint the necessary teaching force.

The application of Mrs. Mary B. Fowble to be placed on the retired list, was approved.

The coal bids were listed and examined and the Superintendent was authorized to place the orders with the lowest bidders.

The Superintendent was authorized to advertise the vacant scholarships, in order that the Board might have the complete list for appointment in the August meeting.

The application of Pleasant Valley community to have its school made first group was carefully considered by the Board, and in view of all the requirements being favorable, the Board decided to grant the community's request, providing the State Superintendent approves. The Superintendent was authorized to make application to the State Superintendent, at once.

A delegation from the neighborhood of Tracey's School requested permission to have the 7th. grade reinstated in the Tracey school for the coming year. The Board held this item under advisement for further consideration at the next meeting.

The meeting adjourned at 12:50.

The conference will be the final feature of the rural life school for ministers which has been in progress at College Park since July 12. According to Dr. H. J. Patterson, dean of the College of Agriculture, the conference will not be confined to those enrolled for the regular course of lectures but will be open to ministers and their families from all parts of the state, and to interested laymen as well.

Plans have been made to entertain for the day all visitors who attend the conference.

Councilor, assistant pastor and director of religious education, Calvary Baptist Church, Washington, D. C.; Nicholas Orem, superintendent of schools, Prince Georges County, Maryland; Dr. T. B. Symons, Director of the University of Maryland Extension Service; Dr. H. J. Patterson, Director of the University of Maryland Experiment Station; the Rev. Bishop, director, League of the Little Flower, Archdiocese, of Baltimore; the Rev. C. W. Whitmore, rector, the Associated Parishes, St. Mary's County, Maryland; and the Rev. Earl A. Roadman, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, Waterloo, Iowa.

The number of students in the colleges of America increased from 254,113 in 1918 to 726,124 in 1924. It is estimated that there are more than 850,000 students in college today.

INSTALLMENT BUYING AN EVIL.

Attention Called to Extent of a very Bad Habit.

(For the Record.)

Installment buying is now flourishing like the green bay tree. It is estimated that eighty percent of the new automobiles sold last year were financed on time payments, and an even larger percentage of the used cars. The credit so extended is alone reckoned at not far from $3,000,000,000 out of total installment borrowings of perhaps $5,000,000,000. Other goods of a luxury or non-permanent character that bulk large in the installment credit field, are pianos and other musical instruments, radios, tires, clothes and furs. In no case is there much economic justification for purchases in amounts exceeding the ability of the buyers to pay for out of current income; but, even so, if such operations could be kept within moderate proportions, perhaps little harm would be done.

To limit them, however, is not an easy task, for keen competition between manufacturers and merchants fosters a continual extension of the endless chain, and the producer who does not participate in it will probably fail to get his share of the business in his particular line. Thus the whole situation evolves into a vicious circle of chasing the dollar farther and farther away into the future.

It must be evident from the most casual examination that such a condition of affairs cannot last indefinitely. A dollar spent today cannot be spent again tomorrow. Future income mortgaged to pay for goods will not be available to buy goods at a later time. So that increased purchasing power stimulated by credit today is bound to result in decreased purchasing power tomorrow, when there will be no cash and no basis for credit. In fact it has already become noticeable that years of large purchases are followed by leaner years when the buyers are paying up. This results in an accentuation of the economic cycle, tending to make the peaks and depressions of business more pronounced than they already are. In time of unusual business depression the unwonted decrease in purchasing power due to lower or intermittent wages, plus the obligations previously contracted, is likely to precipitate a catastrophe for those who have pushed installment credit too far.

Nor is the final result good for the buyer. Too many people, under the influence of high-powered salesmanship, are pledging too large a proportion of their present and future income for things they are better off without until they can purchase them for cash.

Under such a regime no accumulation of savings is possible against the rainy day that is bound to come, sooner or later, to almost everyone. When it does come, there are no reserves; partly paid for goods must be sacrificed, or the standards of living reduced, or both. One of the most pitiful things about the whole situation is that luxuries are often clung to at the expense of more necessary things. Very few automobiles are taken back on defaulted contracts—the blow to one's pride and self-clacency is too great. Instead, essentials are cut down, less nourishing food is bought—and not always paid for, the family skimps on shoes, the bright young son is taken out of school and sent to work, and the family moves to less inviting living quarters, owing the old landlord three months rent.

Besides the uneconomic and social phases of the installment orgy, there is also a latent political angle to be studied. The ultimate consumer is not a lifeless nonentity. Hit him too hard, and he will fight back, usually by electing to office people who are not good for business. Rapid socialists are made by conditions that make continued economic survival seem impossible. All serious radical movements have been counter attacks by the debt-driven. Those business men who are busily making debtors by credit sales, may well stop to consider the possible political repercussions of overselling the customer.

We seem to be drifting in this systematic over-extension of credit into pretty dangerous waters, perhaps only a severe and drastic lesson from experience will make possible the creation of a sound basis for commodity loans. If such a chastisement does come, it will leave its mark on producer, consumer, borrower and lender alike. There ought to be some way to avoid the crisis, if only producers and bankers could agree on a sane program of installment credits, the usefulness of the system might be saved and its perils largely eliminated. Probably any reform must proceed along the lines of drastically limiting loans on non-productive and impermanent commodities, while leaving open the avenues for financing the purchases of those things the use of which tends to produce more wealth.

Think this over.

The "Latest" in Churches.

What is said to be the "latest thing in churches" is the First Unitarian Church in Los Angeles, Cal., now being planned. It will house a smoking room for men, a dance floor, a theatre for amateur productions, a gymnasium, and a club room for women.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Hold Annual Convention in Westminster, on Tuesday.

The Carroll County S. S. Association met in annual convention in Westminster, on Tuesday, in the M. E. church. More than 100 schools were represented by about 400 delegates. Elder J. Walter Engler, President, presided.

The devotional exercises at the three sessions were conducted by Rev. C. M. Elderdice, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, Westminster; Rev. W. R. Kuhn, of Union Bridge, and Rev. R. N. Edwards, pastor of the convention church. Mrs. Harry K. Kimmey was the organist, and the music was rendered by the Harmony Trumpeters, Philadelphia.

At the morning session addresses were delivered by Dr. Frederick J. Libby, of Washington, on "The Sunday School as an Educational Factor in World Peace"; Rev. Chas. L. Venable, Easton, "Home Visitation"; Rev. Wm. H. Best, Baltimore, "Holding Adults in Sunday School," and George Mather, Secretary, made his report.

At the afternoon session, Dr. Libby spoke of "The Boys and Girls of Today as the Peace Citizens of Tomorrow." The afternoon session was chiefly occupied with conferences, the children's division conducted by Miss Lillian E. McCormick, Baltimore, and Miss Ethel Steel, Westminster; young people's division conducted by Rev. W. V. Garrett, Taneytown, and Mrs. Anna C. Main, Braddock Heights; adult division, Rev. W. H. Best, Baltimore, and Rev. Charles L. Venable, Easton.

At the evening mass-meeting the speaker was Rev. Dr. David Hughes, of Baltimore, whose subject was "Life's Big Job."

Parking Lights Required Over all Maryland.

"Motorists should remember that the customary parking lights are required on all country roads, as well as in the city," said an official of the Automobile Club of Maryland a few days ago. "On trips out of Baltimore I have noticed quite a number of cars parked along the roads without lights. Apparently the owners think their parking lights are to be used only in towns and cities of the State. The Maryland motor-vehicle law holds for the country as well as for the city, as a roving State policeman, backed by a magistrate, may tell the motorist to the tune of a fine."

Gasoline and Kerosene.

The consumption of gasoline, this year, in 32 states, in the five months ending with May, increased 17.4 percent over 1925; and this 17.4 percent represents an increase in consumption of 233,729,000 gallons.

It is said that a process has been discovered by which the manufacture of kerosene can be turned into gasoline, that will be of immense profit to oil refiners in producing more gasoline, and which will at the same time have the effect of greatly increasing the price of the slow selling kerosene.

An increase in the production of petroleum occurred in California, last week, amounting to 4500 barrels a day, or a daily average of 614,000 barrels.

Dr. Lindaman Retires.

Dr. Francis S. Lindaman has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Christ Reformed Church, near Littlestown, to take effect July 31st, the fortieth anniversary of his acceptance of the pastorate. He celebrated the golden anniversary of his ordination to the ministry June 6, 1922, and celebrated his 80th. birthday anniversary last year. His health has been impaired recently.

John S. Teeter Secures Contract.

John S. Teeter, of Taneytown district, has secured the contract for the construction of 14,256 feet of highway in Mt. Joy Township, Pa., it being the road that connects the Hoffman Orphanage with the Baltimore Pike. The road will be built with state, county and township aid, half of the cost being borne by the state. The Orphanage has pledged to pay part of the township's share, and a short stretch of road will be needed to connect the buildings with the new road.

Cost of Producing Corn in Iowa.

Iowa corn farmers have decided that $1.41 is the cost of growing a bushel of corn, and this has been fixed as the basis upon which a fair return to the farmer should be computed by adding a "reasonable profit."

In arriving at the $1.41 a bushel cost price figure, the value of the land, interest on that value, depreciation and insurance upon buildings, maintenance, the cost and depreciation of machinery, $1500 a year wages for the farmer and $600 a year for an automobile as a business vehicle, were among the items considered. The figures were represented as for the average American farm of approximately 160 acres.

Complete official figures of the U. S. Government show that 119,568 men and women in the armed forces of the Nation, lost their lives as a result of the World War. These included 36,815 killed in action, 13,536 who died of wounds, and 68,941 who died of diseases and other causes, the latter number being nearly one half of the total.

A "Heart Breaking" Sport.

Another beastly demonstration between two human beings took place in New York, last Friday night. They fought, pounded and slammed each other for forty-five minutes for the "175-pound title—whatever that may mean—and 60,000 spectators enjoyed the sport (?) for fifteen rounds. Here is a specimen paragraph of the report of the battle.

"Delaney was outweighed by at least ten pounds, but he carried too many guns. He had a mighty margin in ring skill, speed and all the crafts of resin war. He had everything needed to knock Berlenbach out but the power to break his heart. Even in the fourteenth round when the punch-drunk Berlenbach was reeling he took one of Jack's best uppercuts clean and full on the point of the chin, and while his knees sagged and his legs wavered, his fighting heart drove him forward with a sluggish left that crowded Delaney back to the ropes."

The crowd spent $500,000 to see the sight, clamoring for the "knock-out" that never came; and the whole disgusting scene of brutality was given from two to three columns of space in the daily papers, as a "sporting event," evidently because they have a patronage that enjoys such sport.

And, the 60,000 present and the many times 60,000 who pleasurable read about the affair, go to make up our electors—choose our Presidents, Governors and Congressmen! After all, the Spanish and Mexicans who enjoy bull-fights, have the most respectable amusement, for it at least is not accompanied with the object of trying to break a human being's heart.

Autos and "Prohibition."

The papers of Monday and Tuesday, each week, are always filled with week-end fatalities and accidents, largely due to automobiles. And yet, we have all sorts of prohibitory laws as to the use of the public highways which presumably all officers of the law are trying to enforce; and in addition we have all sorts of "safety first" rules and advice that is dispensed freely and liberally.

But, all of this, when backed by law, and sympathetic law enforcement officials, fails to enforce "prohibition" laws. Why not say that these laws are "failures," and "can not be enforced," as many say about the liquor prohibition laws. All of our laws are "prohibition" laws, just as are the laws against liquor manufacturing, selling and use. Why pick out the one "prohibition" law as a failure, and soft-pedal the rest of them?

The liquor laws are failures largely because in the "wet" eastern states and "wet" western cities, and especially where the foreign vote is large, the states and smaller jurisdictions are not making real attempts to make enforcement more general.

The automobile is responsible for more intemperance, and perhaps for fully as many casts of death and disaster, as boot-leg booze, but it is a favored agent when terms of failure of "prohibition" is concerned.

The reason must be that we use automobiles only to ride in, and do not drink them; they give us excitement and fast speed, but they do not tickle our palate, nor make us have that "glorious" feeling that comes via the pleasurable flavored alcohol route; so, we can overlook the autos failures to respect prohibitory laws, but still insist that liquor prohibition laws ought to be done away with—because they "do not prohibit."

Who Pays the Taxes?

Naturally, one will say, the tax bills will show—the taxpayers are those who own taxable visible property; but this is one of the many wrong conclusions reached. In the final analysis, it is the consuming—the buying public, that pays for something and wears it out.

Before this final point is reached, there are many exhibitions of tax-dodging. Those who can put up the least resistance, first pay the tax bills. We conceal evidences of taxable property, try to invest in non-taxable securities, and use our influence through legislation to pass the cost of government to somebody else. But, after all of the juggling and dodging, taxes represent an overhead expense that must be covered by profits, and carried on to those we call "ultimate consumers."

The tax bill is a bill of expense, as much so as rent, insurance, interest or repairs. If we are not in a position to resist any or all of the additions to the cost of things we buy, we pay the taxes along with the other expenses entering into the final sale price. What we call "profit" is merely the individual margin of gain over the list of items entering into cost of production.

The laws tax the railroads heavily, for instance and the railroads come back with increased charges for service. If it is an increase in wages, the same thing happens—the expense is added to the patron. When taxes and expenses increase, rents are increased to the tenants.

So, everybody who buys anything, or pays out money for living or other expenses, is a tax-payer in the final analysis, whether he owns property and pays taxes directly, or not. We either pay taxes to the tax-collector, or to somebody else who does that act in our stead; and it is when we can't recover our tax payments from somebody else, that taxes are the most burdensome.

Resolutions Against "Secret" Societies.

Every now and then some religious body will "Resolute" against the dangers and iniquities of "secret" organizations, more commonly termed "lodges." and still more correctly, Fraternal organizations. No doubt these brethren are perfectly honest and sincere in their expressions and strict opinions, but we can not help but think they belong in the class mentioned by President Coolidge in his address at the opening of the Sesqui, when he referred to a public sentiment in which "not much is insincere, but much that is misinformed."

We do not speak for all so-called "secret" fraternities, but we do know that most of them are altogether worthy institutions, believing in God, and teaching brotherly love, charity, benevolence, patriotism, care of the sick, and in all ways striving to act as helpers to, and not opponents of, the Church.

This world is much too big for all good people to think alike, but it is not too big for all to be open-minded and charitably disposed toward those equally honest, who disagree with each other. It would seem very wise therefore, for the church organizations to adopt this motto: "In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; and in all things, charity."

There is such a variety of good that needs to be done in life; so many minds, and so many situations, that a wide variety of means must be used if the vastness of the work is to be coped with, even partially. The Church itself is split up into many sects and many doctrines, very far from being united, except on essentials—and not even then. But, with all of its splendid effort and influence, it needs helpers. For instance, there are hospitals, schools, homes, reformatories, humane societies, and a wide variety of such helps and the secret fraternity is one of them; not antagonistic to, but co-operating with the church.

The "secrets" of a fraternity, are such only for the protection of its members, and not "secrets" representing danger to either church or state. There are no "secrets" in any standard fraternity that in any way nullify its published principles and objects, or represents a separate hidden danger; and, these fraternities are here to stay, notwithstanding occasional unwise pronouncements against them.

The Pressure of Prosperity.

Money in the average man's pocket burns its way out. Prosperity too often brings discontent.

As with the individual, so it is with states and nations. People will struggle against adversity, and be drawn closer together by hardships. But when the necessity for self-preservation is removed, dissatisfaction, envy, jealousy and agitation creep in.

That is the greatest danger our country faces today. We have been unusually prosperous. We have had more money than the necessities of life required.

The "cure-all doctor" with his caldron of steaming political theories offers us a remedy for our real or imaginary problems. Like the magician who can produce a bowl of gold fish out of a silk hat, he offers us laws to help this class or that class, at the expense of another class. But when the curtain goes down on his act, he has our tax money, and we have had the pleasure of seeing him do his political tricks.

Our country is ripe for the "cure-all doctors." They can show us what is wrong with our present prosperity and how by adopting their courses of treatment we can put two dollars in our pocket where we now have one and better yet, make 'the other fellow' pay the bill.

We should be thankful for the prosperity which is now ours. The dog with the bone that saw his shadow in the water tried to grab the bone of the other dog, and lost the one he had.

We not only have a bone, but a good juicy steak in our teeth today. Our banks are full of money, our workmen are the highest paid on earth, most of our farm crops are bringing good prices, transportation is above normal, building is at record figures, power development has broken all records, our homes are filled with electric lights, telephones, radios, automobiles and every modern convenience under the sun.

As a nation, can we stand prosperity, or will we allow ourselves to be duped by the "cure-alls" who would offer visionary theories in trade for proven advantages which we now enjoy?—The Manufacturer.

LAST BANDIT BAND CRUSHED IN SICILY

Delivered From Outlawry After Fifty Years.

Rome.—Italy has suddenly found a new popular idol in the person of Cesare Mori, prefect of Palermo, Sicily, through whom that sunny island has been delivered from the Mafia. Incessantly looting villages and towns, these brigands had left unnumbered victims strewn along their path. It seems incredible that there should still exist, in flesh and blood, outlaws of the kind one reads about in childhood. Yet, strange though it be, the last band fell into the hands of the Italian police recently, and only after a week of fighting and bloodshed on the outskirts of Palermo.

Terrorized by Mafia.

For several centuries Sicily had been under the influence of a secret society known as the "Mafia," which, when the island was under foreign rule, undertook to safeguard the interests of the natives by every means in their power. Much good came of their efforts prior to 1870, when, Italy having become a united kingdom, the "Mafiosi" strangely changed their attitude and turned brigands more or less of the type common in the Middle Ages. All over the Sicilian countryside—at crossroads where carriers passed, in the neighborhood of farms rich in cattle and in the towns where they interfered with the affairs of private individuals—the "Mafia" continued to "administer justice" in the form of crime and lawlessness, while the police looked on, seemingly powerless.

The present-day "Mafia" was ruled by one Gaetano Ferrarello, who had established his headquarters in the village of Gangi, his birthplace, near Palermo. A woman called Cagnacci was his chief adviser and executor. Her two sons were considered the most cruel members of the gang. This woman rode about the island giving orders and marking victims. She made matches between well-to-do girls and members of her band; opposed marriages which might prove harmful to her work; acted as arbiter in disputes between peasants; instructed men to bear false testimony before the courts when brigands were captured and tried; there was nothing, in fact, which she left undone when the interest of the "Mafia" was at stake. Anyone who disobeyed her command fell sooner or later a victim to her sons.

War to the Death.

This state of affairs continued until a short time ago, when Prefect Mori asked for and obtained government support to carry on a campaign against the "Mafia." He immediately announced throughout the island that war would be waged against the bandits. Reinforcements were sent to all police stations in Sicily.

Ferrarello and his followers took refuge at Gangi, barricading themselves in the village. A siege ensued, but, seeing that all chance of escape was closed to them, after a few days the whole band of 130 men, led by Ferrarello, gave themselves up to the mayor of Gangi. In Ferrarello's own words, "We only gave in for the sake of our town, to whose inhabitants the siege meant famine and ruin."

Thames Has Double Ebb

It is a rare thing that an interesting happening entirely escapes the eye of the press, but recently such an event was unrecorded. London river, the river of the empire, enjoyed a double ebb and flow of its tide and no one said a word about it. Such a manifestation is certainly a curious one and not always explainable. But before the Thames was ebbed it was in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth centuries were pretty frequent, for in 1658 it ebbed and flowed twice in three hours, and in 1662 three times in four hours—a sergeant major's allowance which has never been surpassed.—Manchester Guardian.

CORRESPONDENCE

Latest Items of Local News Furnished
By Our Regular Staff of Writers

All communications for this department must be signed by the author; nor for publication, but as an evidence that the items contributor are legitimate and correct. Items based on mere rumor, or such as are likely to give offense, are not wanted.

We desire correspondence to reach our office on Thursday, if at all possible. It will be necessary, therefore, for most letters to be mailed on Wednesday, or by First Mail, west, on W. M. R. R., Thursday morning. Letters mailed on Thursday evening may not reach us in time.

Pic-nics and Festivals.

Our Correspondents are requested not to advertise the coming of picnics and festivals. We do not want to be arbitrary in such cases; but, a lot of Sunday Schools and other organizations very willingly pay for advertising, just as they pay a band of music, and often for the use of a grove; and it is not fair to charge some, and not others, for publicity. Why not pay the printer, as well as anybody else who renders service?

MANCHESTER.

Rev. L. E. Rehmyer, pastor of the Lutheran Church, recently underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils. The operation was performed at the Gettysburg Hospital. He is getting along nicely. He has been given a months vacation. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter. While they waited in an adjoining room little Mary Gladys slipped on the hard wood floor, and cracked her leg. She is now in a Baltimore hospital for treatment, and will remain there for about three weeks.

Mrs. Harvey Burgoon, wife of the postmaster of this place, is in a Baltimore Hospital in a serious condition.

Rev. Wink, student of Gettysburg Theological Seminary, citizen of this town, and member of the Lutheran Church, has been substituting for Rev. Rehmyer, the last two Sundays.

The United Brethren Church of this place held their annual festival on their parsonage lawn on Saturday night past. The proceeds amounted to $75. This festival was preceded by one on the preceding Saturday night, under the auspices of C. E. Lutheran Church.

Rev. W. C. Wachter and family, will spend two weeks at Penn Grove Camp, beginning this past Friday. Mr. Wachter, will preach in his home church Walkersville, this coming Sunday morning.

Rev. John Hollenbach, delivered his famous lecture, "The Thief in the Church" in the Mt. Zion United Brethren Church the past Saturday night. The house was crowded and the offering amounted to $54.

The first picnic of this season, in this community, was held by the Miller's S. School, on Saturday past. A fine program was rendered with addresses by Rev. John H. Hollenbach, and Rev. John H. Lehman, of Greenmount and the pastor. The men's chorus of Greenmount Church was present and sang.

Quite a number of women and men of this place are working at Shriver's canning factory. They travel daily by truck belonging to canning factory.

The trustee board of United Brethren Church met a few weeks ago at parsonage and agreed to sell same. After selling will buy something more commodious. They are asking $3000.

Rev. John Hollenbach, will preach in the Miller's United Brethren Church, in the pastors stead this coming Sunday evening. He will administer the Holy Sacraments.

The farmers are about through cutting their harvest. Most of them are about done hauling in. They say the yield is about the average.

The re-opening services recently held at Mt. Zion United Brethren Church went beyond the expectation of the entire congregation. We attribute the victory to the united effort. "In unity there is strength." Dr. Chas. E. Fultz was present on Sunday morning and afternoon. In the morning he spoke on "Fundamentals which are essential if the Church would build upon the foundation laid by Christ." Because of his charming personality and inspiring expressions we secured on Sunday $1800. During the following week we secured about $300.00. Leaving a balance of $230. Money is still coming in.

We enjoyed very much the orchestra of Trinity United Brethren Church, Baltimore, who, with their pastor, assumed charge of the afternoon service. They rendered several musical numbers, also vocal solos. The quartet of Falls Road M. E. Church, gave us good assistance in the afternoon and evening. We are very much in debt to these brethren for their generous missionary zeal.

Rev. George Brown, pastor of Taneytown United Brethren Church, was present in the evening and brought a message on "This is none other than the House of God."

Rev. George Daugherty was present on Monday night, and preached on "Sirs, we would see Jesus." Rev. Harry Zuse, Tuesday night, on "Our Relationship to God." Rev. Emenheiser, on "Christian Devotion." Rev. George Strine, Thursday night, on "What are you worth." Friday night, Rev. John Lehman, on "The people had a mind to word." The climax service was enjoyed on Saturday night. Rev. John Hollenbach, pastor of the Manchester Reformed Church, delivered his sermon, on "The Thief in the Church." We are in debt to all these brethren for their cooperation.

The quartet of Grace M. E. Church and the men's chorus of Greenmount, were present and gave fine service. May the Gracious Lord continue to use them in helping to propagate His Kingdom.

The services of the past Sunday were well attended and of an inspiring nature. The pastor spoke on the subject "Sharing and Giving." He referred to the fact that a sharer is one whose emotions are stirred. One who shares in the need of mankind goes beyond the kindred line. Because of this, you are never forgotten. It isn't the gift that gains recognition in the sight of God, but the motive back of the gift. He used as the foundation of his address, "For God so loved the world, that he gave His only Begotten Son." The Holy Sacraments were administered at this service.

Mr. Gottlieb L. Schmidt, a son of John Adam and Margaret Schmidt, was born Feb. 21, 1863, and died July 17, 1926, aged 63 years, 4 months, 26 days. His death followed an operation for peritonitis, undergone in a Baltimore hospital. The deceased is survived by two sons, Stewart and Howard, of Manchester, and two daughters, Mrs. Lillian Yingling, of Mt. Airy, and Mrs. Mamie Long, of Westminster; also three brothers, John, of New York City; George, of Pottsville, Pa., and Henry, of Mt. Joy, Pa., and one sister, Mrs. Mary Nace, of New Freedom, Pa. His wife preceded him in death thirteen years ago. Deprived of his help-mate, he reared his family in a very commendable manner. The funeral was held on Monday, at 2 o'clock, at the home and in the Lutheran Church. Because of the recent removal of his tonsils, Rev. Rehmyer was unable to officiate, so that the service was conducted by Rev. J. S. Hollenbach, the Reformed pastor. The Fire Department and the Ladies' Auxiliary attended in a body. Plans are being formulated for the annual picnic to be held on the second Saturday in August.

Sometimes we wonder is there not one man left in Carroll County who really knows what is right, and has the courage of his convictions? Why are all these drunken men on the road making it unsafe for sober citizens, and breaking down fences and driving through our corn fields? Oh, Mr. Politician, get busy and give us some clean men on our tickets. Somebody worth voting for, this fall. Some one patriotic enough to not wink both eyes when our laws are broken.

She, then, with her three small children, came back to Long Pines, and spent several weeks with her mother-in-law and settled up her business affairs there, after which she came on to her home here, arriving last week. During this trying time she was kept under a great strain. Excitement kept her up, but after arriving safe at home again, and realizing that it was all over, she simply collapsed, and has been confined to her bed for several days. In Sad But Loving Remembrance of our dear mother,

MRS. ADDIE M. SCHLDT,

who died one year ago today, July 23, 1925

The month of July once more is here, To us the saddest of the year: It was mother, yes, dear mother Can we help but shed a tear.

Sleep on dear mother, and take your rest, God called you home, He thought it best; He saw your suffering here so great, And opened wide the Golden Gate.

How we loved her, yes we loved her, Oh no earthly tongue can tell; But the Angels called her, Up to Heaven with them to dwell.

You have gone from us, dear mother, To your Saviour good and true; You have won the Heavenly glory, Which is yet for us to do.

By her daughter, MRS. CLAUDE SMITH.

Sacred to the Memory of my dear mother, AMELIA ANGELL, who left us July 23, 1925.

"Sweet is the memory that will never fade, Sweet is the grave where our dear one is laid."

Part of our life is buried deep Under the sod where she sleeps.

Darling mother how we miss you, Since from earth you passed away; You could not speak to us, You could not say goodbye.

But, we know your thoughts were with us When you were called to die.

Final Plea for Whittemore.

The bandit, Whittemore, whose wife has been trying to accumulate sympathetic interest in his behalf, will have a final plea made for him before Governor Ritchie, next Tuesday, to show why the sentence of hanging should be commuted to imprisonment for life—a sentence, by the way, that Whittemore was under when he killed a guard at the penitentiary, and escaped.

There seems little likelihood that the Governor will set aside the verdict of the Court, as no new evidence has been presented; and it is hardly understandable why a Governor should be given this authority, should he see proper to exercise it; or why a plea based on sympathy for the wife or family of an accused, should have more influence than to merely arouse the sympathy that all must feel in such cases, but not to the extent that it should interfere with justice.

Law does not sentence anybody to death because of revenge, or mere retaliation, but for the greater protection of the lives of innocent persons, through making murder an act punishable by death. The Governor has already fixed the date of execution for August 13, and it seems unlikely that he will recall the act.

Summer Care of Cattle.

It is the most comfortable cow that produces the most milk in summer. Instead of turning his cows into the field to swat flies and loaf in the shade the dairyman will find that he can get more milk from them by feeding them on grain in the cool of the barn during the heat of the day, and then turning them out at night to graze.

Following are some hints to the dairyman on the summer care of his cattle, as given by the institute:

- 1—Cows need lots of water. Keep it always available in a quantity they want.
- 2—Provide shade during hot weather, preferably in your stable in the heat of the day.
- 3—Let your cows graze at night when it is cool, but be sure that they can get water.
- 4—Screen your stable if you can, to keep out flies.
- 5—Spray your cows in summer with a good fly preventative.
- 6—Be sure they are free from lice and other vermin.
- 7—Remember, a cow must be comfortable and well if she is to produce milk up to her capacity. Such care requires a little effort but it pays big dividends.

Wood, and Paper Facts.

The first paper mill in the United States was started on the outskirts of Philadelphia in 1690.

One cord of wood will produce about 6,000 copies of a 16-page newspaper. The average 16-page newspaper weighs about 4 ounces. One pound of newsprint will make two newspapers of 16 pages each. To make one ton of newsprint requires about 1 1/3 cords of wood. Papyrus, a luxuriant water sedge, was the civilized world's most important recording material for more than 5,000 years, although true paper was never made from it.

About 100,000,000 cords of wood have gone into paper in the United States since wood pulp was first made.

About 1,000,000,000 pencils are manufactured from American wood every year. The average pencil will probably bring about 5c a piece, which means that the billion pencils represent a total value of $50,000,000 annually. In 1861 the first pencil factory was established in the United States.

The oldest living thing in the world is a tree.

The big tree of Tule, also called Cypress of Montezuma, stands by a church yard at Tule, Mexico. It is 160 feet high and 146 feet in circumference. Its age has been estimated at 4,500 to 5,000 years.

General Sherman, the big tree in the Sequoia National Park, is 275 feet high and 36 1/2 feet in diameter. It is said that it was 2,000 years old when Jesus of Nazareth was born.

The tallest tree that grows in the world is the Eucalyptus amygdalina, of Australia. Some specimens reach a height of 480 feet. This is more than 150 feet higher than the great Sequoias of California.—Forestry Service.

The number of church members in America increased 800,000 during 1925. Methodists led in the increase. There are now 46,883,000 church members out of a population of 116,000,000.

An investigation by the Literary Digest leads that publication to the conclusion that "in large areas of the Middle West, the Pacific Coast and the South, drinking among students is practically unknown according to the evidence." On the other hand, it is found that in parts of the East, where the propaganda against the law is violent, the thinking of students has been affected and drinking is not uncommon, although many believe it to be much less than before the prohibitory law was passed.

Claire Windsor

Charming Claire Windsor, the "movie" star, called the "best dressed woman in motion pictures," was born in Cawker City, Kan. Her blonde beauty and wonderful talent made her a prime favorite in pictures. This is from one of her latest photographs in a winsome, summery outfit, "picture hat" and all.

ALICIA POTPOURRI

"WINONA," said Alicia Potpourri, "I've come to get your advice. Jack Linotype, who hasn't a cent or anything except his good looks, but whom I love devotedly, and Cheesboro Midge, who has a quarter of a million dollars in spite of his bald head, have both asked me to marry them. What shall I do, Winona?—I want your candid opinion."

"Follow the dictates of your heart, Alicia—you never make a mistake when you marry for love," responded Winona Tumblers.

"Thanks, Winona—it's so hard to make up one's mind," said Alicia.

And she went to Camisola Stitchen and begged for her candid opinion.

"Marry Jack—marry for love—true happiness lies that way only," said Camisola.

"It's so hard to know just what to do," sighed Alicia. And she appealed to Claudine Sipton for her candid opinion.

"Cop the guy with money," counseled Claudine. "Love's all right in its way, but it don't weight like money."

"Claudine, you darling!" cried Alicia—"It's so refreshing to get a real friend's candid opinion."

And she accepted Cheesboro Midge and seldom regretted it.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

WANTING TO SNEEZE

IF you want to sneeze and can't sneeze, it is a sure sign that some one loves you and does not dare to tell you so. This universal superstition is a clear case of sympathetic or imitative magic, combined with that idea of the magical sanctity of the sneeze held by primitive man from the days of him who first told the story of Prometheus down. The sneeze is a manifestation of the life, the intellect. A young man's love for a woman is a part of his spiritual being and when the bashful lover represses it within himself instead of letting it manifest itself in words to his adored one, this repression acts by sympathetic magic upon the object of his affections and she can't manifest her vital ego by sneezing—though she feels that she would like to, just as he feels that he would like awfully well to tell his love. The basic idea of the superstition is the false syllogism of primitive magic—things associated in thought are associated in fact.

What's the Use?

The stall-fed philosopher agrees with the fellow who says that it is bad enough to make a blunder, but it really peeves one more to find out he is so unimportant that nobody has noticed the blunder. It is like "busting" a tire, swearing a whole lot about it, and then by looking around find there was not a soul near to hear your choice assortment of emphatics. ## New One on George Junior is seven and Dick is six. The former is rather quick-witted and had been escaping his just deserts for many of his mischievous pranks. It was George Washington's birthday, and a visitor was asking him about the great man, particularly about the cherry tree incident.

"Why did little George tell his father he cut down the cherry tree?" "I suppose it was because he didn't have a little brother to blame it on," was the unexpected reply.

Novel Advertisement

Of all the unusual means of advertising we think one of the most amusing methods is that used by a friend of ours, a large button manufacturer. He wears a very large diamond necklace pin. He has the five-carat diamond stone dangling from the necktie in such a way that it seems just about to fall off. People who stand next to him on the sidewalk are quite likely to stop him and say: "I beg your pardon, but you are losing your tie pin." "Well, that is very good of you. I am very grateful. Will you not accept my card?" The card bears his name and an advertisement of his button company. He keeps the diamond hanging by an invisible chain at all times and feels that this is his best method of introducing himself and his product.—The Outlook.

Learn One Word a Week

Our new word this week is "cunctation." Very few persons are acquainted with this word, although it is right there in all the good dictionaries. "Cunctation" is a fancy word for "delay" or "tardiness." A teacher, rebuking a pupil who is habitually late to school, may properly say to said pupil: "It grieves me to find that you are falling into a habit of cunctation." Another way to put it is: "Of late you have grown intolerably cunctatious; this must stop."—Exchange.

A CURIOUS CREATURE

MOTHER PERIPATUS was talking to her child. Now a peripatus is a curious creature, as might almost be imagined by her name. With such a name as that she should not really be an ordinary creature. "I am something like a worm," she told her child, "and yet I have breathing tubes which make me something like an insect. I have a nice soft body and am of a nice color. I have little legs, which make me look something like a centipede, and I like to live in an old log. I'm not a daytime creature. Night time is the time for me and for you, too, my child. I live here, far away in this tropical section of the country. When anyone touches me I squirt forth a funny kind of juice.

"We're Not Fond of Cold Countries," She Said.

"Not a very polite habit, perhaps, but it is my way! We, as a family like it where it is warm. In fact, we will be found only in warm, warm countries. Now, you are very smart, my child. Soon after you were born you were able to creep about. You knew enough to hide when danger was near, and now you have become so wise and so smart and so independent that you hide under the bark of the log just as the older members of our family do.

"There is something about our coloring which helps to protect us. We are smart in having such ways. But, my child, some people who are here studying the ways of curious animals were talking the other day.

"It seems they were down here before and they took photographs and moving pictures, and they showed these before a great audience when they went up to their own country last year.

"They have been talking about it, and they have said many things which showed how interesting it was to others to see pictures of curious animals and their ways and of the scenery around these parts.

"They showed a picture they had taken of a Mother Peripatus and her young, and everyone, it seemed, whispered to each other and said, 'What in the world is a peripatus?'

"First they showed some pictures of our part of the country here. They showed the tropical scenery. Then they had a moving picture of a sloth, and of a Capuchin Monkey swimming along a river which, they explained, was a mile wide and which was haunted by crocodiles and by carib fishes, which the people had never heard of before. At least many of them had not.

"Then they showed pictures of Mother Sloth and her baby climbing and they were much amused to see the upside-down way in which she climbed.

"There were moving pictures shown of wild animals of America, wild moose, caribou, mountain sheep, goats and elk, as well as the mule deer.

"Next they had pictures of sea lions, bears and birds and of a play-fight between a keeper and a kangaroo which were made to move so slowly that it was very curious, they said, to see just what actions were made. Oh, they laughed at that and at the pictures which went so slowly of the sea lions, showing each little movement they made. But it was the picture of Mother Peripatus and her child which was the really big event of the evening for most of the audience learned about a creature they had never heard of before."

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

FILLING THE RANKS

IF IN the exuberant spirit of youth you are just stepping on the threshold of human activities, equipped with talents which should permit you to take a leading part in the stirring scenes, but for some reason you are unable to participate, hold your patience and bide your time.

If Opportunity does not call today, he may knock at your door tomorrow. To every human comes the time of entrance and the period of exit. The tide of life is ever moving.

Somewhere in the waters is being cast on the rocks; somebody is drifting out to sea; somebody is being sucked under.

The old, the worn and the incompetent are being swept ruthlessly aside by the currents and whirlpools.

It is the natural trend of things. Those who occupy the high places today, conspicuous for ability and wisdom, must in the cosmos order of things yield the right of way to fresh recruits, as must the decrepit in all the great armies of men.

Every day somewhere there is a vacancy.

Every hour there is a call for young men and women of sterling worth to step up to the front and help bear the world's burdens.

The vacant chairs and the broken ranks must be filled.

Art, science, industry and business must move forward.

The black smoke must curl from the factory chimney; the shuttles must dart to and fro; the forge must ring with steel upon steel; trains must move and ships must sail, else the world and the peoples of earth would retrograde and perish.

While waiting for Opportunity, the thing for young men and women to do is to improve themselves, even though they may hold university diplomas, mere tickets certifying that they have paid first-class fare on a through train, but not designating destinations.

When the old conductor shouts: "All tickets, please!" where will you tell him you are going?

Are you on your way to uplift humanity, or work for human good—to do things and not merely talk about them?

If you are willing to work, willing to bear the knocks and rubs, willing to sacrifice, to love and to stand the true test, there is a place waiting for you in the depleted ranks, where by giving much you will receive much, from hand and heart.

Best to Be Sure About Seed Corn

Corn Not Out of Field Before Frost Should Be Tested for Germination.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Seed corn for 1926 planting offers an interesting contrast to that for last year, says the United States Department of Agriculture. From the standpoint of maturing corn, the summer of 1924 was one of the poorest in many years. As a consequence there was every indication that there would not be enough seed corn to go around in the spring of 1925. An active campaign by the agricultural experiment station and the federal Department of Agriculture, aided by realization of the very evident danger, resulted in more seed corn being field selected and dried than ever before. Finally, unusually favorable weather during September and October permitted much corn to dry in the field without being damaged for seed purposes. Therefore an abundance of good seed corn was available for planting in 1925.

Seed Corn Situation.

In contrast, the summer of 1925 was unusually favorable for the rapid development of corn. The crop went into September in excellent condition and the prospects for seed corn were the best. Field selection of seed corn was put off in many cases because of these facts and early freezes occurred before many farmers had selected their seed. These conditions have contributed to a prospective seed corn situation next spring which, while not serious, may be unfavorable.

In Iowa, for example, the temperature during the last week in October was low, zero weather occurring over more than half of the state. Corn containing more than 20 per cent of moisture is ruined for seed purposes when subjected to such temperatures. Conditions similar to those in Iowa occurred over much of the corn belt.

Test for Germination.

Farmers who did not have their seed corn out of the field before the first freeze should test it for germination as soon as possible. Directions for conducting such tests may be had from their state agricultural experiment station or the United States Department of Agriculture. A preliminary test of two kernels from each of 100 ears of the kind to be planted will show whether the seed can be used or whether other arrangements must be made.

Carefully Select Eggs for Hatching Purposes

"Don't blame all poor hatches on the incubator," says the poultry department of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station. Over 75 per cent of poor hatching is due to the egg and the hen that laid the egg. Some hens will continually lay eggs that will not hatch, while others will continually lay eggs nearly all of which will hatch strong healthy chicks.

The elimination from the breeding pen of hens whose eggs will not hatch, although fertile, will help greatly to increase the percentage of hatch of all eggs set.

Trap-nesting and pedigree hatching are the only sure ways of getting rid of poor hens, but these methods cannot always be used on the farm. By watching carefully at hatching time the shape and size of individual eggs, and also the texture of the shell, some of these troubles may be avoided in future hatches.

Abnormally large or small eggs, misshaped eggs, or eggs with thin shells or shells of poor texture will not hatch well, and therefore should not be set. It is also unwise to set tinted eggs, or eggs that weigh less than two ounces, not because they will not hatch, but in order to avoid breeding these characteristics into the flock.

Sweet Cream Buttermilk Made Into Milk Powder

Recent experiments have been made by the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries association as to the possibilities of making sweet cream buttermilk into a milk powder. The buttermilk from several plants was assembled at a plant equipped for making milk powder, and 550 pounds was made in a single day as a trial. Samples of the product were distributed among the bakers for the purpose of determining the relative quality of the product. If the plant is successful it will present another opportunity for bringing additional income to the milk producers. Recent contracts have been made which increased the quantity of sweet cream sold at eastern markets to nine carloads a week.

Water Supply for Live Stock in Cold Weather

Live stock frequently suffer from lack of water during freezing weather. When the only water supply available is a stream or spring, daily attention is necessary to be sure that the ice is broken. Often the approach to such a water supply becomes so slippery that it is almost impossible for the cattle to get to and from water without falling and floundering around a great deal. After such an experience animals will avoid going to the water hole just as long as they can possibly get along without water. Live stock need plenty of water all the time.

POULTRY FACTS

FEEDING TURKEY POULTS PROPERLY

It is very poor economy to stint turkeys, especially young growing stock; for when once stunted, it takes a long while to recover. For the first 24 hours after the chicks emerge from the shell they should remain under the hen unmolested, both to dry and gain strength and hardiness. They do not require any food, as the store nature provides will last over this time. As the chicks hatch sometimes irregularly, the older ones can be cared for in the house until the others are ready to be taken away, when the hen and her brood can be removed to a roomy coop, with a tight-board bottom and rain-proof roof. They should be fed five times daily, but just what they will clean up. The first food should consist of stale bread moistened in water or in fresh milk—the milk is preferred. Do not wet the food, a very moist or sloppy food will cause sickness and a high rate of mortality among young turkeys. If milk can be spared, give it to them freely in place of water.

The too lavish use of corn meal has caused more deaths among young chicks than has cholera among grown fowls. Until the chicks are half-grown, corn meal should be but sparingly fed; but after that time, when judiciously used, is one of the very best and cheapest foods for fowls and chicks. Nine-tenths of the young turkeys which die when in the "dowry" state get their death-blow from corn meal, as it is a very common practice to merely moisten with cold water some raw corn meal and then feed it in that way.

Young chicks relish occasional feeds of cracked wheat and wheat screenings; while rice, well boiled, is not only greedily eaten by the chicks, but is one of the very best things that can be given. It frequently happens that damaged lots of rice, or low grades of it, can be bought at low figures in the cities. As it increases in bulk in cooking, it is not an expensive food for young chicks even at the regular retail price, though it would not ordinarily pay to feed it to full-grown fowls very liberally or very frequently. In the absence of worms, bugs, etc., during the early spring, cheap parts of fresh beef can be well boiled and shredded up for the little chicks; but care must be taken not to feed more frequently than once in two days, and only then in moderation. Feeding meat is very beneficial to young turkeys when they are "shooting" their first quill feathers, as then they require extra nourishment to repair the drain on immature and weakly bodies.

Youth and Age Will Not Mingle Well in Flock

Conditions fatal to profits are developed in the poultry flock by allowing youth and age to mingle indiscriminately in the runs and houses, according to Prof. L. F. Payne, head of the poultry department at the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"If the pullets are fed enough for growing purposes," he explained, "the hens become fat and sluggish and if the hens are fed just sufficient to lay well the pullets starve."

In the farm demonstration flock at the college poultry farm the 75 best pullets are separated from the 50 best hens October 1 each year and are kept in separate compartments throughout the winter.

Poultry Facts

Green feed is very essential in stimulating egg production.

Early-hatched chicks will get a good start before hot weather and mature before winter.

Raising chicks on fresh ground away from the farm flock lessens the danger of disease.

Too mature pullets can be held back by withdrawing all mash and feeding only grains, and this sparingly.

Arrange the poultry breeding pens. A few more dollars spent for a high-grade rooster will be a good investment.

Resting and hardening the chicks before they are taken from the incubator makes stronger, sturdier stock.

Feed a dry mash and green feed so the hens will always have something to peck at without troubling the eggs.

Please remember the importance of fresh air. Poultry houses that are not ventilated are responsible for many poultry ailments.

Under good conditions and management it is estimated that at least five to six eggs must be set for every pullet ready for service in the fall.

A single pair of chicken lice will multiply to 125,000 in eight weeks, under favorable conditions. That's enough to bite up your whole flock.

Facts Concerning Cattle Feeding.

Every year a good many farmers make the mistake of cutting out their grain feeding during the Summer.

Ordinary pasture grasses are largely water. Only a small part of all the grass your cows eat can be used for maintaining their bodies and producing milk. And not all of that is actually utilized, because part of this dry matter is merely hard indigestible fibre which is passed off as waste.

Grass is all right—as a conditioner and appetizer. It will make your cows feel good and will probably cause an increase in milk flow just after you turn them out.

But—unless you keep on with your grain feeding, at least once a day, better still night and morning, that increase in milk flow will prove to be only a temporary flush that will soon subside to lower levels than before you let the cows out of the barn. And then comes the worst of it—your cows in a bad slump—not able to get back to normal—drying off a month or two ahead of time.

Feed them grain right through the Summer. In that way only will they get the nutrients they must have.

Corn is cheap. To keep your Cows producing through the Summer, feed Corn Chop and our

Lesson for July 25

THE PASSOVER

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 12:1-49.
GOLDEN TEXT—Christ, our Passover, is sacrificed for us.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of a Feast.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The First Passover Feast.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Memorial Feast.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Meaning of the Passover.

1. The Passover Instituted (vv. 1-23).

1. The date (v. 2).
With the institution of the passover came a change in the order of time. The common year was rolling on as usual, but with reference to God's chosen people the order was interrupted and everything was made to date from this event.

2. The lamb set apart (vv. 3-5).
This lamb must be a male without blemish, indicating that it must be both representative and perfect.

3. The lamb was killed by the whole congregation (v. 6).
This shows that it was not for the individual only, but for the entire assembly. The setting apart of the lamb was not sufficient. It must be killed, for "without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sins."

4. The blood of the slain lamb was to be placed upon the side posts and lintels of the door (v. 7). When the destroying angel passed through the land he passed over the houses where the door posts were sprinkled with blood (v. 23). This blood was the evidence that a substitute had been offered for them.

5. Israel feeding upon the lamb (vv. 8-10).
This denotes fellowship. The lamb roasted signified the action of fire in God's judgment at the cross. The head, the legs and purtenance thereof show that in the substitutionary sacrifice the understanding, the walk and all that pertains thereto were involved. This shows that the atonement of Jesus Christ involved His obedience to law as well as His suffering in the stead of His own. The eating of unleavened bread signifies that no sin is connected with or allowed in fellowship with Christ. Leaven signifies corruption (1 Cor. 5:7,8). The Israelites did not put away leaven to be saved from the destroying angel, but being saved because under the shadow of the blood they put away leaven, that is, evil, in order to have fellowship with their Redeemer. The bitter herbs connected with this feast suggest the bitterness of Christ's suffering.

6. They ate the passover ready for action (v. 11).
Their loins were girded, their shoes were on their feet, and a staff in hand. The girding of the loins betokened separation from sin, and preparation and readiness for service. The feet being shod indicated their willingness and readiness to march out of Egypt. The staff in hand indicated their nature as pilgrims leaning upon a support outside of themselves. They were to leave behind them the place of death and darkness and march to the promised land.

7. The uncircumcised denied participation in the feast (vv. 43-49). Circumcision was typical of regeneration. The significance of the requirement is that only those who have become new creatures by the power of the Cross have a right to sit at the passover feast.

8. The Significance of the Passover (vv. 24-28).
It was a memorial institution, calling to mind the deliverance of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage. This was to be taught to their children from generation to generation when they came into the land.

9. The Awful Judgment (vv. 29, 30).
At midnight the Lord smote all the first-born in the land from the first-born of Pharaoh that sat on his throne unto the first-born of the captive that was in bondage, and all the first-born of cattle. There was death that night in every home throughout Egypt where the blood was not found. A great and awful cry went up from the Egyptians for there was not a house where there was not one dead.

10. The Great Deliverance (vv. 31-36).
So mighty was this stroke that Pharaoh called for Moses in the night and requested him to be gone with his flocks and herds. The Israelites hastily made ready for their journey. They demanded of the Egyptians jewels of silver and gold and raiment. The word "borrow" in verse 35 means "demand" instead of the sense in which we use it today.

11. Our Christian Calling
To carry out our good and solemn thoughts and feelings into daily life—this is the great difficulty of our Christian calling.

12. He Offers Us Strength
Whatever the work to which our Master calls us, He offers us a strength in keeping with our needs.

13. Be Faithful
Not by sight, but by faith. Endure, endure—be faithful to the end!

Taneytown 6—Gettysburg 4. Taneytown won from Gettysburg Adams County League team, on Wednesday, 6 to 4. In the first inning Gettysburg had a lucky home run hit, but went scoreless for the next six innings. In the 7th. inning, Taneytown with some good bunting, a two-base hit, and fast running, piled up 5 runs. Gettysburg threatened to even the score in the 8th. and 9th., but failed, even with the aid of another home run. Hartzel and Utz pitched for the visitors, the former retiring after the upset in the 7th.; one run was made off Utz's delivery in the 8th. Shaffer's work in the box and as fielder, was steady and first-class throughout the game.

Hitchcock made a three-bagger in the 6th., but was out at the plate trying to stretch it into a home run. The game, up to the last half of the 7th. was largely a pitcher's battle and infield game, and was sharply played by both sides. Each pitcher had seven strike outs, and the hits totaled better for the home team, notwithstanding the homers of the visitors. All in all, it was the best game played here this season.

LAST PAGE EDITORIAL.

Better Looking Children.

Perhaps the world may be getting "weaker and wiser," as is sometimes said; or, it may be we are growing more wicked, as some folks will have it. We do not pretend to know about either; but we do know that this part of the world is growing better looking children, for this is an easily demonstrable fact by merely using one's eyesight.

We take for our evidence, the children up to about twelve years of age, and compare them by visualization with the same aged children of twenty-five of more years ago—of course, we necessarily refer only to Carroll County children, as we are not so well acquainted with foreigners.

We do not pretend to explain the cause of the fact—only to emphasize it. It may be due to better and happier homes; to better food; to less hard work; to more play, or better clothing or better schools. Anyway, our little children are noticeably brighter, happier, and better looking.

If you have never noticed it, take a look over the first big bunch of happy, dressed-up youngsters you see—both boys and girls—and try to pick out positively plain, or ugly ones. They are so scarce as to be practically not existing.

We do not carry the statement farther than children for when children grow into Misses and Youths, and into ladies and gentlemen, we begin to look to character and actions, rather than to mere face and form, for in a large measure it is still true that "beauty is, as beauty does." It seems safer, somehow, to stop with the children.

Western Crops.

Two-thirds of the Kansas wheat crop is threshed and the remainder will be done in about two weeks, says the Atchison Railroad's weekly crop report. Work was somewhat delayed by rains the last week, which was a good thing, as it held up the rush to market and helped corn.

Oklahoma is about finished and the Texas Panhandle will be cleared up in another week or so. Farmers in the latter sections are selling freely, being in no condition to hold their grain. Corn is doing well and is tasseling and silking in Southern Kansas, and has reached the roasting ear stage in Oklahoma. Some firing has resulted from heat and drought. Too much rain has fallen in parts of the cotton sections, tending to keep the plant green and grow to stalk instead of fruiting.
