TOO MUCH WHEAT THE PRESENT OUTLOOK

A Review of the Situation as it Looks at the Present.

The Philadelphia Ledger, the market reports and comments of which are among the best in this country, predicts not only a big world's crop for this year, but gives as its opinion that the debenture subsidy approved by the Senate would eventually cost the American tax-payers a lot of money, including the farmers themselves. It says; "The granaries of the Nation are still so piled high with last year's wheat that special railroad rates are offered to get it to the food ships of the world before the new crop comes in. Now the Crop Reporting Board of the Department of Agriculture emphasizes the crisis by publication of figures on the prospective winter-wheat crop, due to reach the markets about July 1st. The crop will be ov-er 16,000,000 bushels larger than that of 1928 and 46,000,000 bushels above the average of the preceding five years.

At the same time, it is estimated that the wheat acreage of the world, exclusive of Russia and China, from which figures are not yet available, is increased by 5,000,000 acres over the plantings of 1928. In Russia, the wheat acreage has apparently decreased, but this has been somewhat compensated by substantially de-creased winter-killings over the previous season.

It locks as though a lot of wheat will be followed by a lot more wheat, which promises confusion worse confounded in the efforts to keep the American farmer comfortable and contented. Anything can happen to a world wheat crop that is not yet harvested, but with a fair average of good fortune world wheat will be cheap in 1929.

The senatorial insistence that American production be buttressed by debentures against such competition is a demand for the most expensive experiment that any industry has ever known. It seems that wheat will be cheap the world over; an artificial device for giving it a fancy price on the American farm would inevitably cost the taxpayers a lot of money. If the expense of the exper-iment were added to the price of daily bread in the American home, the taxpayers would soon realize just what debentures mean.

PROPOSED NEW HIGHWAY National Boulevard from Gettysburg to Washington.

A 20-foot National boulevard is now proposed to connect Gettysburg with Washington and such a bill will be presented in Congress as soon as the route is decided on. The esti-mated cost of the boulevard would be bout $5,000,000 or approximately $100,000 per mile. Asking for such highways, and getting them are two different propositions; but there is no telling what can be done until it is tried. As the situation now stands, while Gettysburg and Washington are not con-nected with a direct boulevard, they are very well connected with a variety of concrete road routes, the most direct being that via Emmitsburg, Thurmont and Frederick. It also has the Emmitsburg-Taneytown-Westminster route, and the Littlestown-Westminster route, both, either by way of Baltimore, or by Elders-burg and Sykesville to Washington. If an air line route is desired, then it would be by Round Top, Harney, Taneytown, Union Bridge, Unionville, Mt Airy and by a variety of routes

Mt. Airy and by a variety of routes into Washington. This is the second time the project has been agitated, the first having failed. The Gettys-burg Compiler says; "A 20-foot boulevard highway,con-

A 20-1000 bollevard nginval, com-etery with the Arlington national cemetery, Washington, will be pro-vided in a bill to be introduced into Congress as soon as the route is agreed upon.

The idea of a Gettysburg-Washington highway was recently endors-ed by the Silver Springs, Md., Cham-ber of Commerce, which appointed a committee to confer with Federal au-thorities and the congressional delegation of Pennsylvania and Maryland. Upon hearing of the proposal of the Silver Spring Chamber of Commerce Congressman Menges immediately got in touch with officials of the chamber, and informed them that he was in hearty accord with the plan. As soon as interested parties have As soon as interested parties have agreed upon a route for the proposed highway, the York-Adams congress-man will draft a bill providing for the authoriation of the project. By connecting with the Memorial bridge in Washington and the Mount Verson Mamorial birdway the pro-

Vernon Memorial highway, the pro-posed boulevard would link the memerial highways of two Presidents and also the memorial highway for General Robert E. Lee, which ex-tends to Richmond. At the same time it would also directly connect the na-tional cemetery of Gettysburg and Arlington."

The 13th. Annual C. E. Convention is the cost of Storm Insurance on Farm buildings so much higher than other classes of property? was held in New Windsor (May 19-20) Samuel H. Little, Taneytown,was president, and Geo. H. Birnie, Press other classes of property? The answer is, because the storm losses on such buildings, as a class, have been greatly higher than on oth-er classes. The reasons for this are as follows: 1—Farm buildings as a rule, are 1—Farm Wheeler, and others. Wm. E. The Reformed Classis was held in Thurmont. The Services on Saturday morning were conducted by Rev. Wolf, of Taneytown. Norman B. Hagan was a delegate. The crops were reported as follows: corn planting was being delayed on account of wet weather. Wheat reported much improved, and thought to be better than the previous year.

BOARD OF EDUCATION Former Taneytown Pastor Highly MONTHLY MEETING.

Supt. Unger Unanimously Re-elected for Four-year Term.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education was called to order at 10:30 A. M., in the office of the Board on Wednesday, May 8, 1929

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read. At this point, the re-organization of the Board took place. Commissioner Koons was appointed tempor-ary chairman, and the Superintend-ent, Secretary. Mr. J. Pearre Wantz was elected President, and Mr Milton

A. Koons, vice-president. Commissioner Koons' commission, beginning May 1, 1929, for a term of six years, was filed with the Clerk of the Court the Court.

Mr. M. S. H. Unger was unanimously elected Superintendent of Car-roll County Schools for a term of four years.

The list of bills as presented to the Board were approved and ordered paid.

It was decided that in view of the lack of accommodations in the town New Windsor, and as the College is not in a position to rent the Board of Education any more space in the Col-lege building, that the only alterna-tive left to the Board is to transport the 7th. grade to the Linwood school to occupy the vacant second floor room. The Superintendent, therefore, was directed to make provis-ions to transport this grade accord-ingly, and at the same time to close Park Hall and bring these children in to New Windsor, as there is suf-ficient space in the grades to accommodate this small group.

The Superintendent reported the extremely bad conditions in the rented shack used for school purposes for the colored children in Winfield. He was authorized to make inquiries as to some more suitable place that might be made available for the purpose.

The Superintendent was authorized to place in the budget $75,000.00 for a school building in Freedom District. After experimenting for a number of years in attempting to develop vocational agriculture in the various high schools of the County, the Board has felt that the experiment has proved that our farmers do not sufficiently appreciate its value, and that the successive enrollments in these courses do not justify the expense and that they are, therefore, abolish ed to take effect as of September 1st. 1929, and general shop to be substituted.

Why is Dr. Wheeler so thoroughly entrenched in the hearts of Atchison people?

We think we know why, and here is where we try to tell why. The Rev. W. E. Wheeler is a well balanced minister. By that we mean to say he is well grounded in theolo-gy has an excellent pulpit presence. to say he is well grounded in theolo-gy, has an excellent pulpit presence, is superb as a pastor, is popular as a citizen, and never claims that his denomination has a monopoly on all that is good and holy. MARYLAND CROP REPORTS

Wheat Production Forecast Lower Than Last Year.

The 1929 Maryland wheat crop is forecast at about 8,323,000 bushels in comparison with 8,745,000 bushels last year and a ten-year average pro-duction of 10,193,000 bushels according to a statement issued by Newell, Federal Agricultural Statis-tician for Maryland. In marked con-trast the reported condition on May 1 was 91 percent of normal as com-pared with 78 in 1928 and a ten-year average of 86. Mr. Newell points out, however, that while high condition figures on May 1 are indicative of a heavy stand they show no posi-tive relationship with final yield. In fact, since 1910, most years with high fact, since 1910, most years with high May 1 condition figures gave corre-spondingly low yields. The lack of agreement between May 1 condition figures and final yields has undoubt-edly been due to infestation of most fields with black scab (Septoria nodorum) which greatly lowers the reproductive capacity of the plant when long periods of damp "muggy" weather are encountered during the weather are encountered during the month of May and the early part of John B. Baker, assistant treasurer of the Manchester Bank, was ap-June.

Therefore, the present forecast is based primarily on the relation of early spring weather factors with final yields. In the light of past ex-perience, the heavy late winter and early spring rainfall and high March temperatures which have forced the vegetative growth of this year's wheat crop, will probably have an ad-verse effect on grain formation and result in a lower than average yield for 1929. The final outturn depends to The final outturn depends to a large extent upon the weather from now until harvest time due to the presence of black scab (septoria nodorum) infection in most fields. Prolonged wet weather at heading-time will undoubtedly prove detri-mental and may even lower the final production below the indication at production below the indication at this time. On the other hand, dry sunshiny weather, with no long damp "muggy" periods between now and harvest will prove beneficial and probably give a much better outturn than the present forecast. Hay condition is reported at 91 percent of normal. No winter injury was reported, the warm rainy spring has produced a rank growth compar-atively free of weeds, and prospects are especially promising in the north-ern counties. Although stocks of last year's hay crop remaining on farms are somewhat larger than usual, hay stocks on May 1 were about 3 percent smaller than last year. Spring pasture condition was also re-ported at 91 percent of normal. The earliness of the season and favorable weather conditions have put pastures condition into exceptionally fine condit throughout the State. S. R. NEWELL,

"From reports by the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, there appear to be approximately 500,000 World War laid on Thursday of last week, with Veterans in the three branches of the service who have not yet applied for adjusted service certificates, commonly known as bonus.

The law, passed May 19, 1924, by extension fixes January 2, 1930, as the time limited for application for the bonus and unless application is made before that time, all these veterans may be forever barred. All who served sixty days or more in any of the three branches of the service are entitled to the bonus, according to the number of days in the service. I am calling your attention to this with the thought that possibly you might wish to publish a story in your esteemed newspaper, calling attention of veterans in your territory to this situation their rights in the matter. I will be pleased to do what I can for any veteran in my Congressional District.

There appear to be about 400,000 Army veterans alone who have not yet applied for the bonus and about 88.000 naval veterans. The others are all Marines.

More Than a Business.

Masterpieces of their kind and of their time, undoubtedly. Entertaining even, but not very constructive. Country newspapers used to be run by editors for political and personal reasons primarily, and they were notorious for this type of vitriolic editorial. The new-style country newspaper is first of all a business enterprise and the publisher today is a business man. I frankly like the new mode. And yet, I think there is a danger in this tendency of the times. Newspapering in its best sense is more than a business.

It partakes of a three-fold nature. It is a business, a game and a profession. The old-timers thought of it as a game. The present generation of successful country newspapermen are at last beginning to look upon it as a business. How long will it be until country newspapermen generally begin to look upon country journalism as a profession on a par with medicine and law? Perhaps in another generation.

There are such things as ideals, and a public trust. That newspapers, which amount to much, actually have souls and characters to maintain cannot be entirely lost sight of, even by aggressive owners of newspapers who consider themselves business men. Good government and a community's morals are sometimes even more important than immediate or excessive financial returns from a newspaper property.

Country newspapers are getting better though, all the time; they are serving their advertisers better, serving their communities better than ever before, and their owners are being more generally respected in their home communities as they become more self-respecting, partly because of their prosperity.

Furthermore, country newspapers, even the most countrified of the country press-the weeklies-are holding their own, and then some, numerically, as the latest available figures, from the new 1929 N. W. Ayer's Newspaper Annual and Di-

Europe's finest collection of material on the North American Indian is said to be that at Radebeul, Germany, near Dresden. It is a replica of a block house beside the home where lived Karl May, European writer of blood-and-thunder Wild West thrillers, says the Living Age. The proprietor ordered a good meal for the man When he arose from the table a $20 bill dropped from his handkerchief. A waiter picked it up and handed it to the proprietor, who got angry and took out 75 cents for the meal: returning $19.25 to the stranger Later the proprietor discovered the bill was counterfeit.

Doctor Trinkler, on his return, spoke highly of the assistance rendered him and his companions by the British authorities in India. He complained bitterly, however, regarding the attitude of Chinese officials, who, he said, had placed many difficulties in the expedition's path and attempted to prevent removal of the relics. Doctor Trinkler said that the Chinese difficulties were surmounted only after the German legation in Peking had intervened.

Danger in Overdoing Changes in Business

A man who has had great success in toning up business organizations and who has accumulated a fortune from this line of work, has learned something worth passing on.

HIRISING STREETS STREETS

"Never picture any new idea, any new plan, and new course of action as terribly important," he declares. "And never feed out more of an idea at one time than the people you are dealing with can absorb. You must avoid frightening them. You must take carefully into account the mentality of each man affected by whatever you propose to do. Make things look easy to them. Get them to feel that they can readily adapt themselves to the different way of doing things. Nurture their confidence. By using these methods it is astonishing how smoothly the functioning of an organization can be readjusted even radically.'

That sounds sensible, to avoid asking employees, or anybody else, to digest far-reaching, brand new ideas all at once. In driving an automobile we do not expect it to jump from low speed to high speed; we first put it into second .- Forbes Magazine.

Oldest Road in America

The old Spanish road, built across Mexico in the Sixteenth century, is believed to be the oldest road in North America. It was built in the form of a letter "Y" with the lower point starting at Vera Cruz on the gulf. The northern prong touches the Pacific at San Bias and the southern tip at Acapulco. Because of this road the west-bound convoy lines from the Philipppines were spared the dangerous navigation around Cape Horn. There still is evidence that this old trail was used by the Indians before the Spaniards broadened it from a pack-mule path to a highway.

Egg-Eating Habit Among Hens Hard to Control

The egg-eating habit is usually caused by the hens getting hold of a soft-shelled egg that happens to be dropped on the ground somewhere in plain sight. They get to rolling it about, finally breaking it, and the trouble has started. The next thing is to get it stopped. Sometimes it may be stopped by making a slight break in the side of an egg, running a part of the white and then inserting a good dose of cayenne pepper, closing the hole with adhesive tape or courtplaster. Drop this out among the guilty ones and see what they do with it and how it affects them. Another

In case neither of these work, a plan that will be effective is to put a false bottom of burlap in your nest box just a few inches from the real bottom, tacking it around the sides, then cut a cross in the center of the burlap large enough for the eggs to drop through. They will go down out of sight and trouble. It may be that at the start of this dirty work you may be able to locate one leader, and taking her out to herself the trouble in the flock will be ended.

Poultry Facts

*

Keep hens ridded of worms.

The air in a chicken house should be continually moving at a fairly slow rate. * * *

The first three weeks of the life of a chick is recognized as one of essential importance.

Baby chicks will digest a crop full of mash in from two to two and a half hours and are then ready for another feed. * * *

The breeding turkey should receive a good laying mash along with scratch grain. . . .

The turkeys should not be fed straight alfalfa meal or alfalfa steam meal because it is too bulky to be handled by their digestive systems.

It is generally recognized by poultry disease specialists that chickens have remarkable resistance against most diseases, and the class of troubles commonly spoken of as colds and roup is no exception to this statement. * * *

The first symptoms of colds among a flock are sneezing and loss of appetite and activity by those infected. * * *

Liver troubles in hens are difficult to treat, as they are seldom discovered until the bird becomes sick and dies suddenly. . . .

Hens don't need and can't eat such feeds as corncobs and shucks. Save the corn-and-cob meal for the cows. Give the hens whole corn, or preferably cracked corn. They'll lay more eggs

Ritchie Goes to Aid of "Lady in Distress"

Baltimore.—"The handsomest man in public life west of Cherbourg," Gov. Albert Cabell Ritchie of Maryland, once more lives up to his Virginia Cavalier lineage and rescues a lady in distress.

This time it is Mrs. Douglas Mac-Arthur, daughter of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, and wife of the dashing army commander of the Philippine department.

Driving to Washington at night Mrs. MacArthur was halted by a state policeman.

Her tags said 1928, the date was 1929, and so an unsympathetic magistrate at Savage, on the Baltimore-Washington boulevard, fined the general's lady $10.

Mrs. MacArthur cried, stormed and pleaded. The state policeman was obdurate.

So Mrs. MacArthur telephoned the executive mansion in Annapolis. Governor Bert got the magistrate on the wire and the car was released. The $10 was sent.

Rooster's Spur Grows

on Hen; Comb Shrivels

Pittsburgh, Pa.-A rooster's spur, transplanted young to a hen, grows to a full-sized male spur, but his comb when transferred does not grow so gorgeously large upon the hen.

These experiments on transplanting parts of day-old chicks are reported by Prof. A. W. Kozelka of the department of zoology of the University of Pittsburgh, in a paper to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Contrary to general belief, says Professor Kozelka, there appears to be a genetic difference between the spurs of the male and the female. Inherent in the male spur there is a principle of development that causes it to tend to preserve its character. The female spurs, transplanted, do not exhibit the same degree of persistence of type.

Short-Haired Furs Are Still Fashion Favorite

The mid-season collections are as interesting this year to the stay-athomes as to the favored few who steal away for a few weeks in the Sunny South, or indulge in the thrills of winter sports.

First in interest come winter coats and ensembles for street wear, which are made of a variety of woolen fabrics as well as velvet, which crops up everywhere this season. Broadcloth, zibelene and duveteen figure largely in this winter's coats, and are trimmed preferably with one of the short-haired furs, astrakhan, caracul, broadtail, ermine or nutria. Fox, of course, is still a favorite. Women find it too becoming to discard it lightly. But the short-haired furs still remain the novelty of the season, particularly in the new and amusing arrangements which have been discovered for them. Collars in kerchief and scarf effects, smart little bows and dogs ears are seen everywhere in these furs. Deep cuffs reaching to the elbow, or wide flaring ones, or bands of the fur cut in unusual shapes are the rule.

Ankle Socks for Wear at Dances; With Pajamas

Silk socks of ankle length for evening wear at dances and also for use with lounging pajamas, which costume they complement, is one of the amusing ideas which may or may not have a vogue.

These are presented for femining acceptance in all colors to match the frock or pajama costume, presumably to be worn in lieu of other hose. Cuffs are used on the socks, some in mesh of softly shaded colorings. Light tones are suggested for the boudoir and similar informal wear.

White Flowers

White flowers are the favorite decorations of black evening gowns. One black point d'esprit model has its white gardenias sparkling with diamante as if entirely covered with frost.

Shaded Chiffon for Evening Distinctive and new is the chiffon note sounded in modish evening attire. Not only is shaded chiffon a novelty, but the cut of the gown of this fabric is decidedly new.

Smiling Thelma Todd, not so long ago known as "Miss Massachusetts," in a beauty contest, now featured in the "movies," is five feet six inches tall and weighs 130 pounds. She has dark blue eyes and rich golden hair. She had prominent roles in "Rubber Heels," "Nevada," "The Gay Defender," and "Who's Your Friend," the latter two productions showing her opposite Richard Dix, a high honor for a young player.

WE HAVE instincts because we are animals. In so far as we live on the animal level we live by our instincts. In so far as we live a life of reason, which is decidedly a human prerogative, we get away from instincts.

This will explain a very important difference as well as a very close likeness between human beings and lower forms of life. Animals - and insects live wholly by instincts. Therefore their life is a matter of rigid mechanisms. The bird builds her nest without previous training and builds it as her ancestors have built before her.

The acts of the bees and other insects and animals sometimes appear intelligent but there is no reasoning power back of them because animals do not really think. They do all these wonderful things by instinct. Instinct in the animal is purely a matter of reflex activity. One sort of activity leads to another and that to another until the act is completed.

No one knows how instincts originated. It is supposed that they were picked up somewhere along the line of progress, that the individuals who were best able to meet competition lived to reproduce their kind and thus the more capable ones continued to live, on. Instincts are inherited. They

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

Topic for May 19.—"Why Is Jesus the World's Greatest Leader?" John 15:9-16; 12:23-27.

Written by Rev. John S. Hollen-bach, Manchester, Md., Social Service Supt. of Carroll Co. C. E. Union.

Jesus is acclaimed the world's greatest leader. He exerts more in-fluence among men than any other. He is given of God to be a witness to the people, a leader and a commander who has no equal.

Jesus is the greatest leader because of His character. Jesus is the final revelation of God incarnating in Himself the essential attributes of deity. But Jesus was also truly man. He is humanity at its best. Jesus is the one Perfect Man and is therefore our Supreme Examplar. Jesus is the God-man for in Him God-conscious-ness and self-consciousness are identical.

Jesus has great power over men be-cause of His conduct. He lived and labored for the good of others. He came to serve men and for Him in a very definite way the way of service became the path to leadership. He called men not servants but friends. Jesus lay down His life for His friends. Jesus redeemed us from sin and gave His life that we might live. He put the welfare of others ahead of selfish interests. He was more concerned about giving than getting. For Him the path to sovereignty led by the way of the Cross. He is pleading the cause of men at the throne of grace and He is leading many millions.

Jesus is the greatest leader be-cause of His Conversation. The enemies of Jesus even testified, "Never man so spake." Jesus spoke a mes-sage of truth in tones of conviction and with the ring of an authority born from above. The way of life for men and society as depicted in His discourses is becoming recognized as the true and the best way. Jesus knew the truth and spoke it without fear or favor. Men are being won unto Him by the irresistible power of the truth.

Jesus is the greatest leader be-cause of the confidence He manifested in men. He looked upon the future possibilities of men more than on their present faults. Jesus saw men at their best. And thus He aroused the confidence of men in Him, for faith begets faith. And men soon learned to trust each other because of their common faith in their one exalt-ed Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Jesus is the greatest leader because of the challenge He has given men and because of the courage which He inspires in men. Jesus did not do everything Himself. He started the work of the Kingdom by training twelve men to carry it on after He left the stare. He supported to the left the stage. He appealed to the heroic in men. It requires clear vis-ion, firm faith, and unflinching courage to carry out the mandate Jesus gave to men to evangelize the world. So Jesus stands out as the paramount leader and we do well to yield are persistent tendencies to activity. As human beings we have instincts to start us on our career but we soon learn many new ways of satisfying the instinctive cravings. Nevertheless these instincts, though greatly modified in expression, remain throughout life to urge us to undertake certain types of activity. They furnish the chief motive force. Intelligence and experience merely find new and varied ways of realizing these ends. This the animal cannot do.

After preparing the roe place it in a buttered casserole. Make a good cream sauce, using two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour and a pint of milk; stir and cook until thick, add sait and pepper. Pour four tablespoonfuls over the roe and cover and bake twenty minutes. Uncover and pour on more of the sauce, bake twenty minutes longer, basting frequently. At last pour the last of the sauce over and when hot serve.

Stone for Fireplaces

The bureau of standards says in regard to the use of lake shore pebbles or boulders in fireplaces there are certain types of stone which should not be placed where they will receive an intensity of heat. The firebox should be lined with firebrick, but many types of stone may be used in the facing and arch, where the heat is not great. Granite or quartz rock is usually the least resistant to heat, and may be cracked if placed where the fire may reach them. Sandstone, limestone or quartzite will withstand considerable heat without cracking.

Wishing on the shooting star is a remnant of the primitive tendency to star-deification. The meteorite is a god suddenly manifesting himself and to him you appeal for the fulfillment of your wish. This idea will be found in the beliefs of many savage peoples today; the New Zealand natives, for instance, say that a falling star is a god kicked out of heaven by a god stronger than himself.

Home Ownership Puts

Stamp on Character The man who owns his home pro-vides an entirely different environment for his children than he who rents. There is a normal, wholesome atmosphere whose beneficial influence will last through life. Children reared in their own homes have the supreme advantage of a domestic sentiment which is one of the most valuable and cherished of virtues.

Home ownership stamps an individual as a man of character. His employers realize that he has an aim in life, and, because of his integrity, he is taken into their confidence and is often intrusted to invest their money, since he knew how to invest his own. Perhaps the best certificate of respect, the best guarantee of self reliance and character, is a title to one's own home.

The home owner is a vital factor in any community because his home represents an investment in it. He is a direct taxpayer. Hence he takes an active interest in local government and in all civic affairs. In relation to this advantage an authority on home ownership, said: "I cannot agree with people who are predicting that the world is in a fearful state because things are not done in the oldfashioned way. No land is doomed when the people own their home. Their interest in their country will never wane and that nation is permanent and safe."

Profitable Uses for

Vacant Store Windows Vacant stores on the street frontage of office buildings somehow seem always to look conspicuously barren and unfinished in spite of the use of concealing paint on their windows. They are about the first thing that a prospective tenant sees as he approaches a building. And certainly they do their building no good from a rental standpoint.

Yet the finding of a desirable and profitable tenant sometimes requires a considerable period of time. One expedient to eliminate these unsightly, empty windows is their use as display space for retail merchants or manufacturers. There seems to be an increasing interest in this practice. (「)關係()將上國)

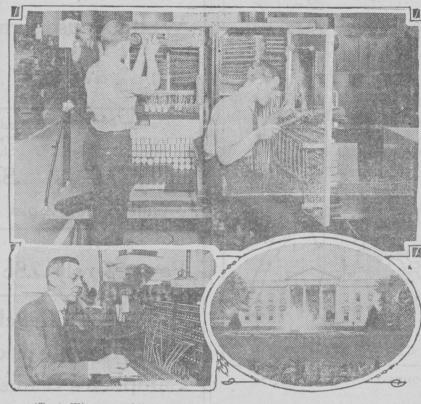

Where merchants are crowded for display space they can generally be shown the possibilities of using window space without renting an additional store. And, in most cases, even a small income from vacant stores, with the added value of improved appearance, is well worth the building owner's consideration .- Detroit News.

Defining Traffic Lanes

The system of marking the center of the roadway with a stripe of color has been found so beneficial to traffic in general in the state of California it is now being widely employed not only at interse ions and on narrow bridges, as was the practice in the past, but also on winding roads in mountainous country and on four-lane trunk highways. By plainly indicating the several traffic lanes on these wide, level roads, it is possible to keep the slower-moving vehicles in the outer lanes, leaving the inner ones for high-speed cars. By the use of the marking many collisions are avoided. Three hundred miles of the state highway have been thus marked and the work is being rapidly extended. In the first white paint was used, but this has given way to one of bright orange.

Facts And Figures

How to spend a million dollars is something that would give the average individual cause for much concern. In the first place the average man never really expects to Edwin F. Hill have that much money, but if he should come into It unexpectedly, no doubt finding how to spend this amount judiciously would give him something to think about, and would be cause for much worry and concern.

In some industries, however, a million dollars is a relatively small sum. Take the Bell Telephone System as an example: This great communication utility, which furnishes local and long distance service to every section of the United States and whose lines connect with foreign countries, both on this side of the Atlantic and in Europe, is now spending more than $1,000,000 a day for additional facilities necessary to meet the demands of the public for adequate telephone service. The additions and improvements to the system include the establishment of new central offices, construction of pole, wire and cable lines, and replacements to existing plant.

One of the major items in this gigantic construction program is the extension of cable lines to connect cities and communities. Telephone cables are now being used extensively, not only for local telephone service in cities and towns, but also for long distance lines. Today many of the important cities of the country are connected by storm-proof cable which insures practically uninterrupted telephone service at all times.

In the face of this great demand for telephone cable comes the announce ment by officials of the Western Electric Company, manufacturers of the Bell Telephone System's supplies, that the recent spectacular market changes in copper and lead have increased the cost of cable to such an extent that on the present volume of sales, the increased cost of this commodity annually will be more than $5,000,000. In the territory served by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone system the increased cost of cable will be more than $300,000 each year.

Telephone cables are composed of paper insulated copper wire and covered with lead sheathing to protect them from the elements. Telephone cables are used both overhead and underground. This type of telephone plant has been in use since 1879, but it has only been within the past few years that it has been used in such an extensive manner as at present.

Placing Shrubbery

In growing shrubs and trees to get the best results they should be allowed to grow naturally, unless they are to be shaped to conform to a set pattern; and it is important to place them in their new location in the same position relative to the sunlight to which they have been accustomed. They will usually incline a trifle toward the sun. Set them so this inclination need not be changed, as it will take energy to change it. In the open, plants will incline slightly toward the south; but in sheltered and partly shaded places they will bend in the direction from which the sun shines upon them.

Boost! Don't Knock!

One of the worst liabilities a town can have is the chronic knocker, and every town has him. He is prolific in condemnation, in criticism, in derogatory proclamation, but seldom offers anything of constructive value to assist or cure conditions which he says exist. It should be the duty of every citizen of Fort Payne and community to labor earnestly, intensively, patriotically, to boost and make this an even better community.-DeKalb County (Ore.) Herald.

Telephone Employes

Stead ast To Duty

The Message Must Go Through' Spirit Considered Every Day Affair

of stress people instinctively turn to the telephone,

She sticks to her and it is on the post shoulders of the men and women who construct, operate and maintain the telephone system that the brunt of such activities fall.

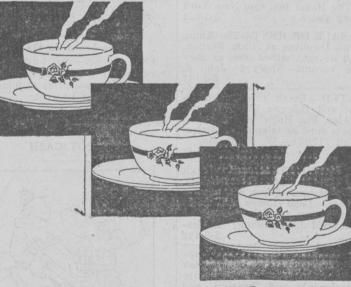

Disastrous storms and floods have occurred recently in various parts of the country, and in nearly every case mention has been made of the service rendered by telephone operators and linemen. The operators sit coolly at their switchboards sending warnings to those in the path of the rushing waters or call for help in time of storms. On the heels of such disasters come the repair crews, men ready to work day or night, to keep up the lines so that the messages may go through.

The loyal telephone men and women who maintain service, restore broken lines and keep the switchboards in operation in great emergencies seem to consider their actions as all in the day's work. They do not seem to feel that they have rendered any spectacular service or given more than their everyday devotion to duty. It is on these men and women of the telephone system that the public relies, unknowingly in many cases for the news of what has happened in emergencies. Such service is depend. able and the public has long since come to accept it as such.

Serve Soup in Cups

HE Biblical reference to "blind family to swallow camels—but why not serve the soup in cups? Arthur Brisbane, famous editor, is responsible for this brilliant sug-gestion. He recently wrote:

"I consider good soup to be the most important item of food on the whole list, and I suggest that house-wives be reminded that for children, and for all purposes, the cup is the simplest, most easily handled receptacle for soup.

JEREMIAH CALLS TO OBEDIENCE

LESSON TEXT-Jeremiah 7:1-26. GOLDEN TEXT-Hearken unto my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people. PRIMARY TOPIC—Obeying God. JUNIOR TOPIC—Obeying God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-IC-Doing What God Commands. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC-Obedience Essential in True Religion.

The prophet stood in the gate of the temple in order that the multitudes might hear him. The occasion was the coming together of the people from all over the country to attend some feast.

I. What God Requires (vv. 1-7). 1. Amend your ways (v. 3).

Their general course of living should be reformed, bad deeds giving place to good ones. On the basis of this change, God would permit them to remain in their city and country. Failure to do this would eventuate in their expulsion.

2. The folly of trusting in religious forms (v. 4).

The people regarded the temple as a charm against evil, irrespective of the condition of their hearts. Without a heart experience, the most sacred institutions and ordinances are valueless.

3. Social justice (v. 5).

The proof of their having reformed was the execution of judgment between man and his neighbor. The proof of one's being in touch with God is his fair dealing with his fellowmen.

4. Not to oppress the helpless (v. 6). The stranger would likely be ignorant of the laws of the land. The widows and orphans could easily be imposed upon. Protection for the weak is a requirement of godliness.

5. Not walk after other gods (v. 6). Worship of idols and conformity to heathen customs go hand in hand. True morality is determined by the attitude of the individual toward God.

II. Solemn Warnings (vv. 8-15). 1. Teaching of false prophets (vv. 8-11).

These prophets taught the people that attention to ceremony, and observance of religious forms, exempted them from strict attention to morals. Those who heeded the words of the lying prophets were not slow to steal. murder, commit adultery, swear falsely and practice idolatry. They would even come into the Lord's house and claim freedom to practice such abominations. The sacred temple itself, filled with such worshipers would be a den of robbers.

2. Warning of Shiloh (vv. 12-15). God caused His tabernacle to be set up in Shiloh, but in Eli's time He gave it into the hands of the Philistines because of the idolatry of the people.

"Penny" Not Official U. S. Coin Designation

"Penny" is not the official designation of any coin minted by the United States. The application of "penny" to the cent, however, dates back to the beginning of our money system. Until after the Revolutionary war the English penny circulated freely in this country. Although one-cent pieces had been previously coined by several of the states, the word "cent" did not appear officially in connection with a federal coin until 1786. August 8 of that year the Continental congress passed a law which prescribed "Cents: The highest copper piece, of which 100 shall be equal to the dollar."

October 16, 1786, it was ordained by congress, "That no foreign copper coin whatsoever shall after the first day of September, 1787, be current within the United States of America." This law removed the English penny from circulation in this country, but the name "penny" was transferred to our cent in popular usage and it has tenaciously clung to it ever since. After the present Constitution was adopted the cent was retained as part of our monetary system. April 2, 1792, congress passed an "act establishing a mint, and regulating the coins of the United States." This act prescribed "Cents-each to be of the value of the one-hundredth part of a dollar, and to contain eleven pennyweights of copper."

Ants by the Millions

Used to Worry Beetles "Without Black Ants No Cocoa," reads a sign posted at the entrance of a great plantation in Central Java. It does not go unheeded, either, for the natives hand in some 4,000,000 nests of these little creatures every year, and receive payment in return. These black ants live upon trees infested by the white cocoa louse.

Neither the louse nor the ants injure the trees. The real enemy is a certain beetle whose name is Helopeltis, which also attacks the tea plant. It has been found that when the black ants are present the Helopeltis fails to injure the trees. Apparently this sap-sucking pest is disturbed by the activity of the ants. for the latter do not attack the beetle.

This is why the black ants are protected. Food is provided for them by picking the white cocoa louse from the shells of the fruit, where they congregate, and placing them on the cocoa trees to attract the ants and disturb the beetles.

People Must Reform

The people have revolted many times throughout their history, but have never yet revolted against their own worthlessness.

We can never have real reform until the people are somehow made to realize that there is but one reform: for the people themselves to reform; not to glorify their race or pastors, but to make themselves more comfortable.

The one great thing to strive for Is to render life as easy, comfortable and successful as possible; to modify savage nature. This can best be done by people behaving better; to help rather than fight each other .- E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Splendid Ideas for

City's Health Week Detailed descriptions of the activities that made up a health week celebration in Austin, Texas, were given in an article by Dr. Eugene O. Chimene in Hygeia Magazine. The Austin plan may serve as a model for other cities of the same size.

A health parade was arranged for the first day. All civic organizations had been enlisted and each featured a health idea of its own choice on a float or exhibit. For instance, the Boy Scouts portrayed their activities bearing directly on health. The garden club depicted gardening for health. The health department emphasized mosquito control. The fire department urged clean premises as safeguards against fires. The gas company featured safe heating.

On Tuesday the results of a health poster contest were announced and the posters exhibited. On Wednesday local food manufacturing plants held open house to visitors and special emphasis was laid on the sanitary preparation of foods.

Thursday was devoted to a child health conference as part of the preschool round-up sponsored by the parent-teacher association. A health entertainment was given on Friday evening.

Saturday was sports day. Games and a varied group of athletic events were organized at every playground in the city to serve as incentives to interest young and old in the value of play in promoting health.

Clubs Found Big Help in Forming Libraries

By forming county clubs, farm women in hundreds of rural centers are providing organized support for libraries. In many cases, they begin with the nucleus of a reading room located in the village or town which serves as their shopping center, which eventually grows into a fully equipped library, either through their own efforts and state aid, or through the benefactions of public-spirited citizens of wealth.

In an increasingly large number of instances, the work of libraries already established has been expanded to conveniently serve a county by the establishment of branches !ocated in the rural schools.

Even where the aid of state library commissions is not available. it is possible for an energetic organization of farm women to obtain other assistance in launching such a movement, a Farm Journal writer points out.

"The American Library association, which is always ready to help get library service started, estimates that a county library system, with branches in the villages and schools, can be established for $1 a year for each person served, or less than the cost of a single book," she says.

Wave Speed Difference

Gives Strange Effects Sound travels through the air at the rate of one mile in five seconds. Ether waves have a velocity a million times greater. This difference causes some strange effects.

Big Ben, London's famous clock, can be heard to strike four miles from Westminster. Owing to the difference between the speed of radio and air waves, in many parts of London it may be heard to strike 22 times when the 11 o'clock signal is being broadcast from Daventrythrough a loud speaker and through the air. There is an interval of four and one-half seconds between each stroke of Big Ben.

At one mile, the first two strokes by radio would be heard before the first by sound waves, and after the last by radio two would arrive through the air. At four miles, five would be heard by radio before the first by sound waves, and the last by radio would be followed by five carried by air waves.

Heroics of Olden Days

Are No Longer Possible Days when a brave woman could earn the applause of the country by yanking off her red petticoat and flagging a train just as it neared a broken rail are over, mostly because broken rails are rarer and red petticoats extinct. The New Jersey farmer who saved a train by waving a flag and a burlap bag, the other day, recalled those heroines of the past generation to mind, and, being given to idle speculation, we tried to picture the situation if a modern woman should come across a broken rail. If she removed a garment (any garment) to use as a flag, with the probabilities against her finding one large enough to be seen, the chances favor a horrible wreck, because a really modest engineer could do no less than close his eye, and speed past. Engineers, no doubt, favor a return of the good old days, in the interest of safety. -Columbus Dispatch.

Old Companions

One's delight in an elderberry bush overhanging the confused leafage of a hedgerow bank, as a more gladdening sight than the finest cistus or fuchsia spreading itself on the softest undulating turf, is an entirely unjustifiable preference to a nurserygardener, or to any of those who are free from the weakness of any attachment that does not rest on a demonstrable superiority of qualities. And there is no better reason for preferring this elderberry bush than that it stirs an early memory; that it is no novelty . . . speaking to me merely through my present sensibilities to form and color, but the long companion of my existence, that wove itself into my joys when joys are vivid .- From "The Mill on the Floss," by George Eliot.

Just a Detail

In battle the duke of Wellington overlooked nothing. Baron von Neumann of the Austrian embassy at London in 1840 tells in his recently published diary of an account given by

It costs very little to recondition a MODEL T FORD

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to supply parts as long as they are needed by Ford owners.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T, we suggest that you take it to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure now will help to prevent costlier repairs later on, increase the value of the car, and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of only $2.60 you can have your generator put in first-class condition. A new universal joint will be installed for a labor cost of $3. Overhauling the carburetor costs $1.50; steering gear, $3.50; radiator, $7.50. A complete overhauling of the rear axle assembly runs between $5.75 and $7 for labor. An average price of $22.50 covers the overhauling of the motor and transmission.

These prices are for labor only because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The cost of these parts is low, however, because of the Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

(Psa. 78:56-60). Even so would He do with the temple, the city and the whole country. This He had already done with Ephraim, the northern kingdom.

II. The Hopeless Condition of the People (vv. 16-20).

Their propensity to do evil was so strong that all efforts at reclamation were futile.

1. Pray not for them (v. 16).

There is such a thing as sinning unto death, in which case prayer is useless (I John 5:16).

2 Entire families devoted their energies to that which provoked God's anger (vv. 17-19).

This was done by young and oldmen and women. This they did to provoke God's anger. He assures them the outcome of such conduct would be their utter confusion.

IV. Judgment to Fall (v 20) Because the people poured out their offerings to idols, the furious anger and wrath of God would be poured out upon man, beast, tree, and the fruit of the ground. How this has been fulfilled, the history of the Jews makes clear.

V. Obedience Better Than Sacrifice (vv. 21-26).

The prophet appealed to history to show that God requires heart service rather than the observance of religious forms. Blessings came to Israel through obedience, while cursings followed disobedience. On the condition of obedience to His requirements, God promised to own them as His people and to bless them.

Confidence in Prayer

And this is the confidence that we have in Him, that, if we ask anything according to His will. He heareth us: and if we know that He beareth us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of Him.-I John 5:14, 15.

No Discharge in That War

There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of. death; and there is no discharge in that war; neither shall wickedness deliver those that are given to it .-Ecclesiastes 8:8.

A Neglected Bible

A neglected Bible means a starved and strengthless spirit, a comfortless heart, a barren life, and a grieved Holy Ghost.-F. E. Meyer.

Bottles Drift Far

Bottled paper, thrown overboard at sea to study ocean drift, is printed at the navy hydrographic office in eight languages. This paper is placed in a bottle. sealed, and thrown overboard and has been known to drift from 5 to 5,000 miles, having been in the water from six days to six years. One bottle was thrown in the water at Cape Good Hope, Africa, and recovered on the west coast of Chile. South America. having drifted 8.800 miles. Another was thrown overboard off Cape Horn, southernmost point of the South American mainland, and drifted to New Zealand, a distance of about 10,250 miles.

Time Out

Sophomore-Say, what's all this I hear about Coach putting Bull Fuller on the third team? Bull's the niftiest triple-threat man in the conference. Junior-You mean "was." That job he took last summer as a hod carrier to harden himself just about ruined him.

Sophomore - How d'you mean, "ruined him?"

Junior - Coach says Bull's mind isn't on the play any more. It's on the whistle.

All at His Service

A former college president, passing through the city, was invited to lunch at the home of one of his alumnae. The five-year-old daughter of the house was delegated to show the distinguished guest up to wash his hands. Opening the door of the bathroom, which was duly fitted out with the best embroidered linens in honor of the occasion, Sally said: "Just make yourself at home and." with a royal gesture. "you may use any of the towels."-Indianapolis News.

Legion of Honor

The Legion d'Honneur in France is an order of merit, both military and civil. As at present organized, it consists of five classes-chevaliers, officers, commanders, grand officers and grand crosses. The resident of the republic is grand master. In ordinary circumstances 20 years of military, naval or civil service is necessary for eligibility to the rank by chevalier, and promotions can only be made after definite service in a lower rank. Extraordinary service admits to any rank. The word "chevalier" means "knight."

Spellbound

Ten-year-old Mary had won a scholarship, and was telling her mother about the papers.

The subject for essay had been, "How I spend my Saturday morning," and after discoursing on minding the baby, helping mother wash up, and so on, Mary ended with the amazing statement, "and then I play a game of chess with my brother.'

"Chess! But you can't play chess!" "I know. I wanted to put dominoes, but I couldn't spell it."

Is the Sentence Correct?

We ran across the following sentence in an exchange the other day— "It did not use to be a mystery." Perhaps some of our High School folks can tell us whether the sentence is correct? If not, why not? And how should the sentence be written to convey the same meaning, using about the same number of words.

Our system of voting for town officials has at least one drawback, as those who use "independent" tickets, circulated outside of the voting place can easily be "spotted" when voting, as the regular tickets are to be had only on the table in the voting room. Some of these independent tickets are "cut" before voting, but the voter gets the credit for voting "against" the regular nominees, just the same. Everybody has the right to vote secretly at general elections, and should have the same right at corporation elections.
