KEY HIGHWAY BANQUET HELD IN TANEYTOWN.

Many Prominent Men Heard in Support of the Project.

(The Record is indebted to Clyde L. Hesson for the following write-up, on account of the Editor being unable to be present.—Ed.)

"The third annual banquet of the Francis Scott Key Automobile Club was held Friday evening, Feb. 21st., in the Opera House, at 8:00 o'clock, with a number of distinguished guests present guests present.

Shortly after seven o'clock the members of the Club, with their wives and friends began to assemble about the tables in readiness for the evening feast. Promptly at 8 o'clock, His excellency, Albert C. Ritchie Gov. of Maryland; David C. Winebrenner III, Secretary of State; and a number of other distinguished guests from Maryland and Pennsylvania were ushered into the banquet hall by the officers of the Automobile Club, while the National Anthem was play-while the National Anthem was played by the Club Royal orchestra, of Hanover, Penna., which furnished music throughout the evening.

After the invocation offered by Rev. Alfred T. Sutcliffe, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown, a very tasty dinner of roast chicken, and them friend overse mashed no cold ham, friend oysters, mashed potatoes, sauerkraut, peas, gravy, bread rolls, pickles, peaches, ice cream, cake, coffee and cigars, was served to about two hundred and fifty members of the club and their friends, by the Taneytown Volunteer Fire Company and the ladies.

Immediately after the dinner Mr. Charles E. H. Shriner, President of the Francis Scott Key Automobile Club, called the meeting to order and made a few remarks on the historical importance of the highway leading from the North to the South through Taneytown, which has been designated as the Francis Scott Key Highway. He then called upon Rev. Guy P. Bready, pastor of the Taney-town Reformed Church to act as toastmaster of the evening.

Rev. Bready opened his remarks with the reading of a petition signed by 491 citizens and taxpayers from Taneytown and Middleburg districts, and addressed to the members of the State Roads Commission of Maryland, in which the Commission is requested to estimate the cost of building the stretch of road from Taneytown to the Frederick county line, including a bridge over Pipe Creek near the village of Bruceville, and convey the estimate to the Honorable Albert C. Ritchie, Governor of Maryland with the recommendation that he take proper steps to have the State Legislature appropriate an amount of mon-ey sufficient to build this road in 1931.

Another petition to the Governor was read requesting him to place the building of this road in his budget for the coming year. It was also brought from the Pennsylvania State line to opportunity. the piece of improved road leading out of Taneytown will be at least partly completed during this year, and it is hoped will be entirely com-

Seabrook, Westminster, Md., Attorney for the Commissioners of Carroll County, who represented that body that was compelled to be absent on account of illness and quarantine and other reasons, stated that he understood that the Commissioners would recommend the expending of a good proportion of the money allotted to Carroll County for road purposes for the improvement of the road leading toward Littlestown from

Mr. H. J. S. Zigler, Mayor of Lit-tlestown, Pa., gave assurance of the wholehearted support of the citizens of Littlestown, in the completion of the highway.

W. S. Mason, Secretary of the Hanover Chamber of Commerce, spoke of the importance of the linking up of the highway with the South, and stated that the Hanover Chamber of Commerce was vitally interested in directing tourists, passing through Hanover to the South, over this highway through Taneytown to the new Shenandoah National Park, in Virgi-soon as possible, and promised his whole-hearted support to this end.

Secretary of the State David C. Winebrenner, 3rd., State Senator A. LeRoy McCardell, of Frederick county, and George P. B. Englar, Senator from Carroll County voiced their opinions that this was indeed a piece of work that merits prompt consideration and evidenced their support of the project. Hon. Jesse C. Price, of the State tax Commission, commented on the fine spirit shown by the citizens and the club in their efforts to have this highway completed as soon as possi-

WASHINGTON AT TANEYTOWN Date of one Visit Fixed by Dairy Record as July 2, 1791.

It has been a matter of fixed fact, for many years, that George Washington and his wife, Martha, stopped over night at least once, in Taney-town, one occasion having been more or less definitely described in the Luckenbach-Birnie history, published in The Record in 1894. No date of the visit was given by either of these authors, as it was unknown to them; but George R. Prowell, late Hanover, Pa., historian, is credited by the Han-over Record-Herald last week with having recorded a date, as follows:

"In 1791 George Washington, then President of the United States, stopped for breakfast in Hanover, All that is known of his visit is a brief entry that Washington made in his diary, July 2, 1791. In this diary Washington says; "I spent the night at a small tavern in Taneytown, Md. We started at 4 o'clock in the morning and arrived at Hanover within a few hours. With Major Jackson my military Secretary, and a train of attendants, I stopped for two hours at Hanover and took breakfast at a good inn."

good inn."

It will be noted that historian Prowell fixes the date when Washington was "president," but also speaks of his having been attended by "my military secretary." Rev. Luckenbach, in his 1876 history said the Taneytown visit was "either while on his way to Philadelphia to receive his commission as Commander in Chief of the American army, or at some subsequent time during the revolution while on his way north for some military purpose." Dr. Birnie, writing of the event in 1894, said: "The date on which his visit occurred is not on which his visit occurred is not known; it was in all probability after the Revolutionary War."

The date, of course, is of slight importance. If the "diary" referred to by Mr. Prowell is an actual fact, it constitutes indisputable evidence of one visit of George Washington to Taneytown; but as the diary record makes on mention of Martha, this must have been a second visit as he would most likely have mentioned his wife's presence in the diary entry.

Attorney Michael E. Walsh, Westminster, also spoke of the historical value of the improvement of this highway, and expressed the desire that in the not distant future he might have the pleasure of attending a meeting of celebration of the completion of this highway.

Ex-Congressman A. R. Broadbeck, of Hanover, who has been a consistent supporter of the project for a number of years, spoke in the high-est regards of his Excellency the Governor, as well as representative R. Paul Smith, vice-president of Linthicum and Ex-Congressman Cole, and expressed a desire of seeing them returned to office because of the fitness shown by them in office.

Governor Albert C. Ritchie was then introduced and expressed his appreciation of the courtesies received, the splendid speeches made and a word of praise for all Volunteer Fire Companies in the State for the valuable aid given from time to time. then stated that the State of Maryland is in the midst of a great road building program; that in 1919 the Legislature had picked out a number of highways of importance for improvement on both the Eastern Shore and also the Western Shore and that a number of these have been completed and have been a great deal of assistance in shortening routes to Balmission during the past few years, showed by his remarks that although out of office he has not let his interest wane in this project.

EDWARDS HELD IN THE KEEFER CASE.

Jury Decides Death was Due to Poisoned Food.

The Coroner's Jury, on Tuesday, in the case of William T. Keefer, 79 years of age, who died suddenly on the morning of Dec. 10 last at his home in Bark Hill, from evidences of poisoning, ordered Paul W. Edwards, aged 48, of Copperville, near Taneytown, held for the action of the Grand Jury. The jury found that Keefer came to his death as the result of arsenic poisoning in the food prepared for his breakfast (oatmeal) and "that the said Paul W. Edwards feloniously, wilfully and of deliberately premeditated malice aforethought, did kill and murder said William Thomas Keefer."

The following witnesses testified:
Mrs. Charles Spurrier, niece of Mrs.
Keefer; Viola Dayhoff, Erma Wolf,
Dr. T. H. Legg, Robert S. McKinney, Taneytown druggist; Lloyd C. Devilbiss, Thomas Devilbiss, Edgar Wolfe, Edward Dayhoff, Mrs. Clayton Houck and Deputy Sheriffs Leo Warner and John Zang. The Court room was crowded as Justice Benson convened the jury as coroner, with Theo. F. Brown appearing for the State, and Weant and Wood for Ed-

Dr. Legg, of Union Bridge, testified that he had attended Mr. and Mrs. Keefer on the morning of the latter's death, but had not positively suspected poisoning, but rather that they had eaten something disagreeing with them. He had considered the possibility of poisoning, and con-cluded that their illness may have been due to ptomaine poisoning.

Mrs. Sallie Spurrier, niece of Mrs.
Keefer, arrived at the home at the same time as Dr. Legg. She found the breakfast dishes had not been put away, and dish of oatmeal still on the stove. This she three over the fence into the orchard, and saw it there the next day and buried it. She also found a dead cat on the porch before she buried the oatmeal, and said there was a package containing some oatmeal uncooked which she burned in the stove when cleaning up for the funeral.

R. S. McKinney, Taneytown druggist, testified that he had sold arsenic to Mr. Edwards, three different times, an ounce at a time, on Oct. 21, Dec. 6 and December 10, each time alleging that the poison was needed for Lloyd Devilbiss testified that he knew Edwards and that he came to his brother's store (Thomas L.) in Uniontown, on December 9, and purchased a sealed box of oatmeal. Thos. Devilbiss testified that Edwards was not a regular customer of his store.

Wm. F. Bricker, Register of Wills, testified that the following claims had been filed against the Keefer estate; Dec. 30, 1929, Central Trust Co., of Md., $375., surety for Paul W. Edwards; Jan. 6, 1930, Mrs. Sabey Zamore Gilbert, (sister of Edwards), 20 years service, $2500.; Jan. 28, 1929, Birnie Trust Co., $87.00 surety for Paul W. Edwards; Jan. 2, 1929, Birnie Trust Co., note $81.73, surety or Paul W. Edwards; March 4, 1929, Martin D. Hess, note $90.00.

Deputy Sheriff Leo Warner testified that last summer he went to the Keefer home to levy on Keefer's property under a judgment against Edwards, and that Keefer told him he had nevnot buy stamps and envelopes from ment against him. He also testified your carrier? He always carries a that Edwards had told him that he spent Dec. 9-the night before Keefer's death-at the Keefer home. The report of the chemist in the case, was not read. The Jury deliberated over the evidence for about an hour. It does seem cruel to speak Children in terms of money, but the number of neglected and unfortunate children cared for by the Carroll Co. Children's Aid Society is largely determined by the amount of money at the disposal of the Society. The good we accomplish is, therefore, dependent on the money we have to spend, which in turn, is dependent on the generosity of the citizens of Carroll county.

We are looking ahead to an even greater and broader service. It is our aim to care for every neglected child in the county, to give him or her a real home and a fair chance in life. There was a time when a strong parental love did exist in these homes, but hard times and all the other ills that befall weak humans so left these unfortunate children neglected and unwanted, to survive as best they can.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD STATEMENT.

Chairman Legge Expresses his Confidence In General Outlook.

In response to inquiries from representatives of the press, Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board to-day issued the following statement: "Some objection has developed in the grain trade against the action of the Farm Board in financing farm co-operatives in the purchase of wheat and cotton in the present sit-uation. These activities will continue in the interest of agriculture and business as an emergency measure in the present situation. I have no fear that the co-operatives will not be able to eventually market these purchases satisfactorily.

"In connection with these objections I should like to make this statement as a conservative business man, addressed to the conservative business men of the country.

of the President in securing co-op-eration of the business world absolutely prevented this collapse from developing into a panic and has enormously mitigated its effects upon employment and business, including agriculture

"The co-operation of the great employers of the country in holding wages, and therefore the buying power of the public, the action of the railways, the public utilities, the in-dustries, the Federal Government, the states and municipalities in undertaking great programs of con-struction, are greatly mitigating un-employment and giving protection to the workman and stability to busi-ness. These agencies are performing a service of inestimable value which ven assures our tiding over to an unpre-is cedented rapidity of recovery from what would otherwise have been a

READY TO BELIEVE ILL OF EACH OTHER.

There is a pretty fair sprinkling of initiative and enterprise. inhumanity in our present day humanity. Why this should be is inthat man is, after all, but slightly refor each other that we humans would do well to emulate.

Take the matter of character. There | from time to time. is almost a gleefulness attached to primary stage. Let us hear some- tive. thing bad about a neighbor, and our reaction is to find out all about it we can, and spread it around, perhaps for socialized recitations, for big unit adding interesting details to the story. Not once in twenty times do we choose to disbelieve and discredit a terial for which the child has an apdishonorable report, and even should perceptive basis. We want to catch we actually disbelieve it, very few indeed go so far as to take up the side of an absent victim, but excuse ourselves by concluding that it is "none of our business."

In plain words, we are more inclinhear of a reported erring one, we are | State of North Carolina. apt to accept it as a sort of natural course truth.

So, taking situations and matters as they come, our boasted superiority over the quadruped portion of the animal kingdom, is not always as real as we congratulate ourselves that it is. One dog will take another dog's part in a fight, just about as quickly as a man will take another man's part.

It does not even require much persuasion to believe that a man with an hysterics over a few deaths attributaverage good character, stole chickens. Taking such a report from a reputable man, involving an equally reputable man, it would seem sound logic that the report should be given greater investigation before repeating it; but we incline toward believing men to be crooks, and prefer to be Judge and Jury in such cases. Of course, we wouldn't like such a course of law to be apulied to us-but, that is another matter.

TOO MUCH CRITICISM.

It is becoming almost a wonder that men will serve in high appointive positions under our government; for the reason that such men as are fully qualified for these positions can earn more salary in private business, and escape the bitter and often wholly unfair criticism that attaches to a man in public life. Why should Andrew Mellon, for instance, serve as Secretary of the Treasury? Not for the salary, of course, for a man many times a millionaire need not to consider that.

> OBJECTIVES OF SCHOOL TRAIN-ING.

> The modern school no longer centers its attention entirely on the past nor sets its objectives in the far distant future. It tries to live in the present, to understand the present, and to interpret the present.

> The schools should enable those under its tuition to do certain things for themselves, among which are the following:

1-To comprehend the meaning of their environment. This means a knowledge of the world as it now is, its present tendencies and currents. 2-To develop the power of adaptation. This is the basis for selfdirection; the power of adjustment to new situations as they arise; the ability to break a habit that does not fit into conditions and to form a new one that will work. It encourages

3-To inspire them with a determination to change, within limits, uncomprehensible, unless it should be satisfactory surroundings. Here is an open field for self-determination moved from the lower animals, and and development; here is the storethat some of the latter have a regard house of ambition; here lives the great dissatisfaction of the human heart which has changed the world

> PARROTS, FIRES AND ACCI-DENTS.

"It is with mixed emotions that one reads of the presidential order for the exclusion of parrots from our previously hospitable shores," says the Portland Oregonian. This action ed as a lack of reverence to fail to is the result of a disease said to be brought in by parrots and which has and as a disregard of opportunity to caused the death of several persons.

While the parrots frighten us into ed to them, we go calmly on our various ways unmindful of some 15,000 persons burned to death each year in fires and some 30,000 persons killed in automobile accidents. In other words, nearly 45,000 lives snuffed out annually by causes which are almost wholly preventable, do not move us arouses our immediate interest.

"The original Constitution, when it went to the several states for ratification or rejection, was ratified by an aggregate majority of about two to one. Taking the record of all the state legislatures, composed of an aggregate of 6,349 Representatives and Senators, the Eighteenth Amendment was ratified by a majority of more than four to one.

"Each of the nineteen amendments was submitted to the states in exactly the same way.

"The Bill of Rights, constituting the first ten amendments, was ratified by the bare three-fourths majority required. If a single state of those which voted for ratification had failed to ratify, the first ten amendments would not be in the Constitution to-

"The Eleventh Amendment received the bare three-fourths needed; the twelfth amendment was ratified by thirteen out of seventeen states; five did not ratify the fifteenth; six did not ratify the sixteenth; twelve did not ratify the seventeenth, and ten never ratified the nineteenth.

"But when it came to the Eighteenth Amendment, forty-six of the forty-eight state legislatures ratified."

In the light of such a summary, I submit that only the incorrigibly stubborn and rebellious will insist that our present order is not the expression of the well considered and mature judgment and will of the American people and is not the product of the regular and orderly working of the machinery of democratic government.

But we are not here to dwell on the past, except as it may hearten and strengthen us and inflame us for the battle just ahead, namely, the subduing of the insurgents.

For this battle I desire to propose some lines of startegy, which seem to me to promise us final and complete victory not long delayed.—American

Florid Epitaph Common

in Revolutionary Days "Stop, Passenger," begins an epitaph, dated 1781, on a stone in a cemetery in Elizabeth, N. J., "here lie the remains of a woman who exhibited to the world a bright constellation of the female virtues. On that memora British foe irvaded this fair village and fired even the temple of the Deity, this peaceful daughter of Heaven retired to her hallowed apartment, imploring Heaven for the pardon of her enemies. In that sacred moment she was by the bloody hand of a British ruffian dispatched like her Divine Redeemer through a path of blood to her long wished-for native skies."

There were few brief epitaphs in those early days. It was apparently regardenumerate the virtues of the departed, fail to warn the "passengers" of what was in store for them.

Outside my window. A couple little squirrels (Chipmunks) have made their abode in our trees this winter, and livelier neighbors we couldn't have. The early morning hours are very busy ones with them. They scamper from tree to tree, running to the tips of the highest limbs. A distance of 2 or 3 feet to the next nearest tree is nothing to them—a flying leap and off they go over the next tree; but when the snow was 5 inches deep how did they know where to deep how did they know where to find the hickory nuts beneath it, or how to pick out all the goodies? One day we put some of last year's walnuts on the ground, and their discovery caused a boom in industry; and now the empty shells are everywhere. The wheat fileds around us are looking beautifully green.

In Sad and Loving Remembrance of my dear husband and our father, LUTHER A. ECKARD, who departed this life three years ago, March 1, 1927.

A precious one from us has gone A voice we loved is stilled A place is vacant in our home That never can be filled.

Out in the lonely graveyard Beneath the cold cold clay There they laid our dear father Three years ago today.

We did not want to part with you
But God knew what was best,
Some day we hope to meet again
In that sweet land of rest.
The month of March again is here
By his loving WIFE & CHILDREN.

The saddest of the year
Because three years ago today
My dear Brother passed away.
Farewell dear Brother, thou are at rest,
And will forever be;
You could not stay on earth with us,
But we can come to thee.
By Loving Sister, CARRIE ECKARD.

In Sad But Loving Remembrance of my Dear Husband, HARRY A. ALLISON, who passed away Sept. 1, 1929.

I have lost a dear companion
The voice I loved to follow
Never more shall be my guide,
His cheerful voice and welcome face,
God grant's eternal rest,
He is free from all suffering and pain.

Death tries to break the golden chain,
But all in vain.
The only link death cannot sever,
Is love and memory which lives forever.
God grant some day
We'll meet never to part again.
By, his loving wife,
ANNA M. ALLISON.

Lesson for March 2

JESUS TEACHING ABOUT HIMSELF

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 11:2-12:50.
GOLDEN TEXT—Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus the Friend

JUNIOR TOPIC-Jesus the Great

Helper.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-IC—Who Jesus Was.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP IC-Our Lord's Testimony Concerning Himself.

I. How the Kingdom Was Received (ch. 11).

In showing the attitude of heart of the people, four classes of hearers are described.

1. The perplexed hearers, like John the Baptist (vv. 2-11).

John believed that Jesus was the Christ (v. 2), but was somewhat perplexed as to the manner of the establishment of the kingdom. The Baptist had in his preaching mainly emphasized the line of prophecy which made the King to be a mighty conqueror (Matt. 3:10-12). He said that the ax is laid unto the root of the tree and that there was to be a separation of the chaff from the wheat and a burning of the chaff. John saw Christ as the one who would remove the sins of the people by the shedding of His blood (John 1:29), but he failed to see the interval between the time of His suffering and the time of His triumph. 2. Violent hearers (vv. 12-19).

These were willing to receive the kingdom according to their own way, but were unwilling to conform to its laws. They seized it with violent hands. They would not repent when called upon to do so by John, nor rejoice to do so when called upon by Christ (vv. 17-19).

3. The stout-hearted unbelievers (vv. 20-24).

In Chorazin, Bethsaida and Capernaum, Christ had done most of His mighty works, but the people deliberately set their hearts against Him and His message. Tyre and Sidon were filled with immoral profligates and idolators, but they will be more tolerably dealt with in the Day of Judgment than will those who wilfully reject Jesus Christ.

4. Hearers who are babes in spirit (vv. 25-30).

There were some among the people who heard Jesus with childlike faith. They believed that Jesus was the Messiah and opened their hearts to receive Him.

II. The Antagonism to Jesus (ch. 12).

In chapter eleven we saw the shameful indifference of the Jews to their King. In this chapter we see the positive and bitter antagonism manifesting itself against Him. The immediate occasion of their wicked determination was Christ's relation to the

1. The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath (vv. 1-8).

The hungry disciples were plucking corn on the Sabbath. With this the Pharisees found fault. To their cavils Christ replied, and showed that God's purpose in instituting the Sabbath was to serve man's highest interests and to contribute to his happiness.

(1) He is greater than their greatest King, David (vv. 3, 4). (2) He is greater than their sacrifice and priesthood (v. 5). (3.) He is greater than the temple (v. 6). The temple, with its gorgeous rites and ceremonies, was but typical of Himself. (4) He is greater than the Sabbath (v. 9), for He is the very Lord of the Sabbath.

2. Healing the withered hand (vv. 9-14).

In order that they might accuse Him, they asked, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath days?" Jesus' reply was both a question and a declaration. The unpardonable sin (vv.

The occasion of their blasphemy against the Holy Ghost was the casting out of the demon. In this act, Christ displayed His power to cast out demons. The effect of this miracle was twofold: (1) Upon the multitude. They were amazed, and cried out, "Is not this the son of David?" (2) Upon the Pharisees. When they heard what the people were saying, their anger and satanic malice were aroused. They said He was casting out demons by the prince of the demons. With unanswerable logic, He met their accusations and demanded decision. He charged home upon them their awful guilt. They had attributed the work of the Holy Spirit to the devil. This Christ calls the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost, for which there is no pardon.

The Last Step Wins

It is the last step that wins, and there is no place in the pilgrim's progress where so many dangers lurk as the region that lies hard by the portals of the celestial city. It is when heaven's heights are full in view that hell's gate is most persistent and full of deadly peril.-A. B. Simpson.

monotonous round of meals.

Tomato Ketchup, for example, is a familiar cooking aid in every kitchen. Yet this glorious essence of ripe tomatoes and choice spice seasonings too frequently is employed merely as a garnish, and its possibilities as a seasoning ingredient are overlooked.

The uses of Tomato Ketchup in cookery are almost innumerable. Steaming hot oven dinner, savory egg dishes, zestful salad dressings and a host of other flavorful things are made attractive to even the most jaded appetite by inclusion of Tomato Ketchup in your recipes. Try an oven dinner, seasoned with Tomato Ketchup, some evening soon when the family comes home cold and ravenously hungry. Just see how they will enjoy a familiar meal that has been dressed-up with this old culinary friend! I am sure you will find the following recipes most excel-lent, and will want to add them to your file for early use:
