

ROY EDWARDS PLACED UNDER ARREST,

But is Soon Released Under Bail for a Hearing.

On Monday afternoon, Roy Edwards, aged 20 years, a junior at Western Maryland College, was arrested on the charge of being an accessory after the fact, in the alleged murder of William E. Keefe by Paul W. Edwards, father of Roy. Shortly after having been lodged in jail he was released on $2000. bail furnished by Daniel J. Hesson, for appearance before Justice George E. Benson, at 10 A. M., Tuesday.

The proposed hearing, on Tuesday, was postponed indefinitely, on account of the illness of several witnesses, according to the prosecuting officials, and Roy returned to his classes in Western Maryland College, under bail. Dr. Schofield, of the College, says he is one of the best students in the college, and is held in high esteem by the faculty as well as students.

Young Edwards is said to be wanted only for the purpose of questioning, in connection with some feature in the case, and that as he had declined to make any statement, on advice of counsel, his own arrest was for the purpose of requiring him to testify at his own hearing.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

(For the Record.)

Some years ago I read with disgust, an article in the Record, pertaining to children pulling express wagons on the side walks, and now the one in last week's issue is most ridiculous.

How can people deprive children of their pleasure beyond me. The children in Taneytown need not write Santa for any of these toys. In Clinton they close the streets and furnish police protection for coasting. It is not hard to understand the police protection that would be furnished children in Taneytown.

Mr. Burgess the next time any one complains, ask them if they were not children once themselves; and ask them where children are to play?

Yours for the children,
J. HARVEY SITES,

Clinton, Iowa.

GOSPEL MISSION WORKER.

(For the Record.)

International Field Secretary here on Sunday, March 9th, at the United Brethren Church, at 2 P. M. and 7:30. J. Arthur Schlichter, Philadelphia, years ago was one of the youngest lecturers on the American platform, and one of the foremost orators of the day. He comes from a family of musicians, composers and orators. His father was a prominent minister. He was marvelously successful and had hosts of friends.

During his public career he became very fond of liquor, and in course of years the habit into a passion grew. His appetite for drink became so strong it had mastered him, eventually dragging him down from the highest pinnacle of honor and fame to the gutter. So great had become the thirst that whiskey would no longer suffice, and he began the use of morphine, using as much as forty grains a day for 15 years.

Bereft of friends and loved ones, money, position and all, he became a wanderer, an outcast and for years was begging upon the streets of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington for money to supply the drug. His story has been told over radio in 22 states. To hear the story of this man's life is indeed a lesson for life. D. W. Garner has heard him speak in Hanover, Pa. It's worthwhile. Come and hear for yourself.

TRIBUTE TO WM. MEHRING.

"In all my years in the school room and among the hundreds of pupils under my care, I only had, what I call a few model pupils, and William Mehring was one of them. He never gave me any trouble and from the time school opened until it closed he was always busy at his books and made commendable progress in all his studies.

His devotion and influence will ever live in my memory. William Mehring is not dead, but he has only passed on to the higher life."

By one of his teachers,
J. A. ANGELL.

DOGS RUNNING AT LARGE.

We have been asked to publish the law against dogs running at large, as follows:

"Chapter 557, Acts of 1929, provides it is unlawful for any person to allow any dog or dogs belonging to them to run at large on other property than that owned or tenanted by them, between March 1st, and Sept. 1, and pursue game or destroy the eggs or nests. Any person harboring a dog or dogs shall be deemed the lawful owner of same.

Penalty $25.00 to $100.00 and costs for each and every offense and $5.00 additional for each game bird or game animal caught or killed illegally.

The purpose of the law is to prevent dogs from interfering with the source of the game supply, by running over the property of others—and makes the owners of dogs responsible for damage done. The law is also intended to prevent the necessity of purchasing rabbits and quail for restocking the covers."

As the above is "the law," we publish it for general information.

TREES FOR THE ROADSIDE.

Free Trees Furnished Under the Following Conditions.

The State Department of Forestry, in order to establish suitable demonstrations of roadside planting throughout the State is offering to furnish free trees to organizations, or responsible individuals, for such planting, under the following conditions:

The planting must extend for not less than one quarter of a mile on both sides of an improved highway, the trees to be spaced not less than 40 nor more than 100 feet apart on each side.

Trees must be planted within the public right-of-way, and far enough from the edge of the paved highway to meet requirements of the road authorities.

The consent of abutting property owners must be secured for such planting.

The trees available for roadside planting include white and green ash, honey locust, tulip poplar, Oriental plane, cypress, and catalpa. They are furnished free at the College Park Nursery, on the Washington-Baltimore Boulevard, or f. o. b. railroad shipping point. The applicant must pay the transportation charges, furnish the labor for planting the trees, provide at least one guard stake for each tree, and then must give reasonable assurance that the trees will be properly cared for after planting. The Forestry Department in addition to furnishing the trees, will supervise the planting.

Applications will be filed in the order received and trees furnished to those who comply with the conditions, where it is found by examination of the locality by the Department that planting is practicable. Write for the application blank to the Department of Forestry, 1411 Fidelity Bldg., Baltimore, Md.

TANEYTOWN U. B. CHARGE.

Mr. J. Arthur Schlichter, Philadelphia, will speak at the Taneytown U. B. Church, next Sunday, 3:00 and 7:30 P. M.

Mr. Schlichter's appearance at the local U. B. Church will be a "rare treat." After telling his life story before an audience of seven thousand people in Washington, the late Hon. Wm. J. Bryan arose and putting his arm about him said: "Here is the Greatest Miracle of God's Mercy that I have ever known."

At afternoon service Mr. Schlichter will speak on the subject, "Being Real." At the night service, 7:30 P. M., he will tell his life story "From Honor and Fame to Rags and Shame and Back to God again." He tells of his seventeen years of sin and drink and how he was saved. No one ought to miss hearing such a man.

Special music has been arranged. At the afternoon service the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce Male Quartet, composed of Messrs C. G. Bowers, W. R. Motter, S. C. Ott, C. E. Easterday, will sing and also Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fehl, Gospel Singers, of York, Pa. These will also sing at night and also Mr. and Mrs. Stern er Houck, Hanover, Pa.

THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

At the re-organization meeting of the Taneytown branch of the Children's Aid Society the following officers were elected: Mrs. Walter A. Bower, chairman; Mrs. J. Keller Smith, vice-chairman; Mrs. William F. Bricker, treasurer; Eleanor Birnie, secretary.

Next week is the appointed time for the membership drive, and it is hoped that all those persons who contributed to the work last year, and many others also will give to this worthy cause. Won't you feel a personal responsibility, and hand your contribution to the treasurer or to any of the officers whether, or not you are solicited?

ELEANOR BIRNIE, Secretary.

UNFORTUNATE CHILDREN.

The drive for $2000.00 asked for from the citizens of Westminster and Carroll County to do the work so urgently needed for these less fortunate children, will begin Monday, March 10th.

Anyone who thinks forward into the future must think in terms of the child. We are simply drops of water in the stream that goes by. We stay a shorter or longer time, then evaporate away and others come along in the stream of life to take our place.

Think of this, dear people, and be as generous and courteous to our solicitors as you can. These friends of the cause are doing this work not for pay, but for the sake of humanity. Let each take a part. The small gifts, as well as the large, count, and will be appreciated.

NEW TRIAL DENIED.

A special to the Baltimore Sun, from Hagerstown, says:

"The motion for a new trial in the case of Charles Lewis and Leslie ('Tootie') Clark, found guilty of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Clyde Hauver, of Frederick, last July, was over-ruled in Circuit Court here late this afternoon.

Attorneys for the defense announced that an appeal would not be taken and Lewis and Clark are expected to be taken to the Maryland Penitentiary in a few days."

Judge Sloan, who reviewed the testimony, did so very completely, and found no ground whatever for any of the pleas of the defense.

The man who is startled, when unexpectedly tapped on the back, may be one who has a guilty conscience—and afraid of being found out.

PROHIBITION BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE.

Wets and Drys Each have Seven Days for Arguments.

Chiefly due to the activities of the wets, likely with the hope of effect on the election of the new Congress this year, extended hearings are being held before the Judiciary Committee of the House; and the daily newspapers of the country (mostly inclined to exert a wet influence) have been extensively publishing the arguments advanced, and almost as extensively commenting on them.

The drys are now having their turn before the committee, and it remains to be seen whether the daily press will be as liberal in giving them as much space. These hearings, too, may have an influence on a number of bills before Congress, the purpose of which is to further cripple law enforcement; to turn enforcement over to the states; to regulate liquors by government sale, etc.

The entire argument against prohibition was covered; that the law is "unenforceable" a referendum was proposed; it was charged that prohibition is "ruining" the boys and girls; that the illicit traffic in liquor is financing the underworld; that it has injured the farmer by lessening the demand for corn, barley and rye, etc.

Throughout the hearing, no definite plan or program for dealing with the liquor question was proposed, either in bills before the Committee; or in testimony, and little was heard of the proposal to legalize only the sale of "light wines and beer" that was at first so much the argument.

The drys commenced their seven days allotment of time, on Wednesday. Samuel Crowther, author on economic subjects; Edward Keating, editor of Labor; Dr. Daniel A. Poling of New York, general director of the J. C. Penny Foundation and president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union, and Henry M. Johnson, lawyer and business man of Louisville, Ky., were heard, and the following telegram was read:

"The Eighteenth Amendment is recognized by the men and women of our country, the women especially, as the greatest force for the comfort and prosperity of the United States. I feel sure that the same people of this Nation will never see it repealed or any dangerous modification."

(Signed) HENRY FORD. "I still feel that prohibition is the greatest experiment yet made to benefit man. My observation is that its enforcement generally is at least 60 percent and is gaining notwithstanding the impression through false propaganda that it is a lower percent. It is strange to me that some men of great ability and standing do not help to remove the curse of alcohol."

(Signed) THOMAS A. EDISON. Messrs Crowther, Keating, Poling and Johnson gave as benefits of prohibition better conditions, generally among the working classes, better homes, and that the youth of the country are no longer benefited; that a large portion of increased bank deposits are due to prohibition; that the liquor interests are financing propaganda to bring back the liquor business; that in Canada, where liquor selling is legalized, bootlegging has increased, etc., etc.

As the present Congress is overwhelmingly dry in both branches, no important legislation in the wet direction is expected. The most that could be done would be to further interfere with enforcement laws, as Congress itself has no power to repeal constitutional amendments.

On Thursday, a letter from Father Foley, of Baltimore, was read strongly indorsing prohibition. Others heard were Louis J. Taber, president National Grange; C. P. Connelly, lawyer, of New York; Patrick Callahan, of Louisville, and others. The drys protested bitterly that wet questioners were unfairly taking up their time by extensive cross-examinations. The W. C. T. U. of Maryland was represented by a large delegation.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN TANEYTOWN.

Notice was given that all patrons on Rural Delivery routes must secure "approved" mail boxes.

The wholesale price of eggs in Baltimore was 16c per dozen.

Adam Clark, Jr., died in Baltimore, and funeral services were held Sunday, March 5, at the Reformed Church.

Forty-four sales were advertised in The Record's Sale Register. J. N. O. Smith was auctioneer for 19 of them. Other auctioneers then active were Wm. T. Smith, Thos. J. Kolb, J. Thos. Roop and Wm. Warner.

Taneytown markets were: wheat, $1.05; corn, 45c; timothy hay, $7.00; bundle rye straw, $15.00.

Leading Taneytown advertisers were: Weant & Koons, D. W. Garner, D. J. Hesson, C. E. Yount, N. H. Kirssin.

Those who attended the inauguration of President Roosevelt were: Mrs. Mary L. Motter, Mrs. Margaret Stott, Miss Anna Galt, Miss Effie Hess, Miss G. May Forrest; Messrs Edwin F. Smith, Chas. A. Elliot, W. Rein Motter, H. Clay Englar, Chas. E. H. Shriner, Maurice C. Dutters, John T. Fogle, Edward P. Zepp, Jos. C. Yount and Harry Aulthouse.

Homer S. Hill purchased the Yount property on Baltimore St.

Warden: "What! It's against your religion to split rocks."

Prisoner: "Yes, What the Lord hath joined let no man put asunder."

THE LINCOLN BOULEVARD

Senator Goldsborough Introduces Another Resolution.

Senator Goldsborough introduced a resolution in the Senate, on Monday, providing for a preliminary survey to determine the cost of a Washington-Gettysburg Lincoln Memorial Highway, from the District of Columbia via Rockville and Frederick to Gettysburg.

Several months ago Senator Tydings introduced a like resolution, except that it did not specify an exact route, but called for a commission to report on the matter. Frederick and Rockville interests, largely, fearing the possibility of the recommendation of a direct route, interested Senator Goldsborough and Congressman Zihlman in recommending the more circuitous route, via Frederick. The Tydings resolution is still pending.

The Rockville-Frederick route would contemplate the widening the present roadbed to a minimum of 100 feet; while some, a least, contemplated an entirely new route on an air-line between Washington and Gettysburg, thus developing a section now poorly supplied with improved roads.

Sectional interests, therefore, are largely interested apparently along development lines, each with their own arguments. The first proposal for a highway of this kind was made more than twenty years ago by Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, providing for an appropriation of $3,000,000 but nothing ever came from it.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION FOR WOMEN.

Watercress fine chopped and creamed with butter, makes a delicious spread for graham bread sandwiches for club meetings, teas, and other social occasions. Minced parsley, flavored with a few drops of lemon juice, and mixed with butter, is another appropriate spread for sandwiches that are to be cut into fancy shapes with cookie cutters.

Corned meat kept over into the next summer should be watched closely in the spring, as the brine is likely to spoil. If the brine appears to be "ropy," remove the pieces of meat and scrub them thoroughly with a stiff brush and hot water. Then re-pack and cover with new brine. The brine should be kept in a cool place, as the sugar in it has a tendency to ferment.

Allow mud stains to dry and brush carefully before any other treatment. Sometimes nothing else is needed. Or, if the fabric is washable, use soap and water. On other fabrics, try sponging with wood alcohol, denatured alcohol, or plain water. Mud stains may be taken off black silks of firm weave by rubbing the spot with a cut raw potato. The thin film of starch left by the potato can be brushed off when dry. This treatment is not recommended for any other materials. It leaves a spot on any except black fabrics.

For washing and rinsing utensils a clean, safe water supply is absolutely necessary. Contaminated water may be a source of danger not only to persons living on the farm but also to those who use milk from the farm. Wells and springs should always be protected from surface drainage. The drainage from privies, hog pens, barnyards, and other sources of contamination should always be away from the well, and both springs and wells should be walled in, curbed, and tightly covered.

CHANGES IN ADDRESS.

Those who will change their address on April 1, and know now what the address will be, should let us make note of it now and think no more about it. We will be glad to take care of this, for all.

NEWS NOTES OF THE PAST WEEK.

Some Important Happenings
in Condensed Form.

Federal aid to the unemployed to the extent of $50,000,000 is proposed in a resolution introduced in the Senate March 1, by Senator Brookhart (Rep.) of Iowa, who said that estimates placed the number of work-mates between 3,000,000 and 5,000,000. "I want to turn this money over to President Hoover, the greatest administrator of relief in all the history of the world," declared Mr. Brookhart. Fifty million dollars will not go far, but it will be a start, and in the hands of Mr. Hoover it will go further than it would in the hands of anybody else.

The Navy parley is apparently not reaching a satisfactory conclusion easily. The "powers" are finding it difficult to agree, and are jealously regarding each others' interests—present and future. This parley, more than any other like attempt, is showing the deep distrust that prevails at the bottom of all such parleys and that while all want "peace" they want "power" back of it, and know that naval power is a thing that disappears rapidly as vessels and war equipment age—in a comparatively few years.

The wets concluded their attack on prohibition before the House Judiciary Committee, on Tuesday, the purpose of which was to demand repeal. The drys commenced their in-ings on Wednesday.

Chicago reduced its indebtedness to city employees, on Tuesday, by paying out nearly $10,000,000 to 43,000 employees. It is stated that about $11,000,000 is still needed. Many of the claims were due since Dec. 15. Many who received their pay did not keep it long, as it was nearly all taken by waiting creditors.

Former Senator Vane, of Pennsylvania, on advice of his physicians, has withdrawn from the race for reelection to the Senate from Penna., and will support the candidacy of James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, who will oppose present Senator Grundy in the primaries.

Babe Ruth is expected to sign a one-year agreement with the "Yankees" at $85,000—or $10,000 more than the salary of the President of the United States.

Morphine valued at $500,000 was seized at Pier No. 57, New York, on Tuesday night. The shipment was contained in two trunks, apparently belonging to a passenger on a French liner, who had left a few minutes before the seizure.

Cold and Frost, this week, did substantial damage to beans, tomatoes, potatoes and strawberries in northern and central Florida. The damage is estimated at from 50 to 90 percent.

Unemployment of labor is being argued from partisan standpoints. Some blame it on "the administration," while others say "Congress is to blame" in not passing the tariff and other remedial legislation. Still others claim that the high wage scales operate more than anything else against building and other industries, because capital can not see profitable investments at present wages.

ROADSIDE DEVELOPMENT.

The Pennsylvania Motor Federation has offered a suggestion that should be taken up in Maryland. It is that with the opening of the spring and summer touring season which is just around the corner, that communities and civic organizations throughout the state consider and, if possible, carry out a plan of roadside development to supplement construction of highways.

"Pennsylvania has spent and is spending millions of dollars for the construction of fine roads," said S. Edward Gable, president of the federation. "In connection with this there should be in each community a more or less definite program of tree planting, landscaping and roadside care which, when completed, not only will make the roads in that section more pleasing to the eye, but will give the traveler a much better impression of that community than he would get from sun-baked wind-swept stretches of concrete winding through a bare and comparatively treeless countryside. Of course Pennsylvania has, for the most part a countryside of rare natural beauty, but in each and every community there are stretches of highway much in need of roadside landscaping.

"This development need not and in many cases should not, take the form of rows of trees planted at regular intervals. The spacing and arrangement usually should be irregular in accordance with the natural surroundings. In fact the possibilities of roadside beautification are practically unlimited and if handled by community enterprise in co-operation with the proper authorities, can be worked out without burdensome expense."

Mr. Gable cited as an example a move that is under way in York county to enhance the natural beauty of the Lincoln Highway in that section. An organization of women in that community is making plans to plant white rose bushes along the emblem of the ancient English house of York after which that Pennsylvania city and county were named.

"Heeding the moral sign boards along the way of life, is a sane way to travel the unknown road."

IMPORTATION OF HOGS INTO MARYLAND.

1. All swine brought into this State for feeding, breeding or show purposes must be accompanied by a certificate of health, issued by a veterinarian whose competency and reliability are attested by the authorities charged with the control of domestic animals in the State of export stating that they are free from any symptoms of infectious or communicable disease, and that each animal has been treated with a proper dose of anti-hog cholera serum from a United States approved laboratory within 30 days of the date of entry into Maryland.

CARROLL COUNTY WOMAN AGED OVER 100 YEARS.

Carroll County has at least one centenarian—Mrs. Eva Burness, who celebrated her 100th birthday, Feb. 2, at the home of Mrs. Oscar R. Hood, at Harrisonville, near Mt. Airy. The Community Reporter, Mt. Airy, says Mrs. Burness has full possession of all her faculties and enjoys the best of health. She is a regular reader of the daily papers, and her eyes are but slightly dimmed, and her hearing is good.

During the course of the day of celebration she showed how the "Sauerkraut" dance is performed, which she learned in Germany as a girl. She came to this country when nine years of age. Her maiden name was Bauernschmitt, and in 1845 she was married when only 15 years old, her husband being a sea captain, who was lost at sea in 1880. She has lived in Baltimore and Philadelphia, and since 1922 at Harrisonville.

Wheat dropped to less than $1.00 in the Chicago market this week. The operations of the Federal Farm Board have not, as yet, had any influence over the market.

THE GOVERNMENT AS A BUYER OF WHEAT.

The Federal Farm Board in entering the market as a purchaser of wheat in order to stabilize the price, is a radical step for the government. It is an attempt to balk the law of supply and demand—to keep up the price of wheat, when the world is producing more wheat than is needed by the world.

Of course, it is an effort in the direction of farm relief, by the use of Federal funds practically the plan advised, in one form or another, by the wheat producing states in the west through the so-called Farm-bloc. Whether it will have the result desired, is the big question, and at the same time prevent an actual gift on the part of the government to the wheat growing industry, through the ultimate disposal of the wheat at a loss.

We do not pretend to predict the outcome. To us it seems that the only natural price is that fixed by supply and demand. Thousands of men have made fortunes by producing things that the public needed, or wanted to buy; while other thousands have gone into bankruptcy because their products were not wanted. Trying to overcome this feature of business, is about as difficult as trying to overcome the laws of nature.

And if the Farm Board's effort fails, why condemn it without producing a better plan? Destructive criticism is about the least needed thing imaginable.

HOOVER "EFFICIENCY."

No man has ever been inaugurated as President with such a reputation for efficiency as Mr. Hoover. And not only for the "reputation" but with a long list of recorded public service to substantiate it. It seems strange, therefore, that the very desirable qualifications for which he is unquestionably famous, should appear to be the point of attack, not only of his natural political enemies, but of leaders who pretend to represent the head and front of wisdom and leadership in his own party.

As Mr. Hoover was rather overloaded with the reputation and qualifications that by pretty common consent stand for ability to handle big business, it now seems equally apparent that those who have the legislative end of the biggest business in this country—its good government—do not want in one man that degree of efficiency that, if left operate naturally, or by co-operation, might overshadow them.

At any rate, there are a lot of ways of showing that even super-efficiency can not, in itself, propagate itself; and something like this seems to have overtaken President Hoover. Perhaps he might relieve the pressure should he make it emphatically known that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself. Perhaps, too, he is inheriting the most difficult situation that has ever confronted a President—the solution of the Farm Relief and Prohibition situations; but, if this be the trouble, it is hard to find any mass effort toward helping him to find either.

Actually we think all of the leaders are willing to "pass the buck" to President Hoover, thereby attracting attention away from themselves. They are quite willing to blame unsettled big questions on the failure of "Hoover Efficiency," and to practically dare him to do the very things none of them can do themselves, and which they are even afraid of helping him try to do.

As showing the unfairness with which the President is regarded, he is criticised for not "speaking out" on the tariff rates; but just as soon as he "spoke out" in warning against excessive expenditures, his so doing was the cause of the Senate spending a lot of its valuable time in resenting his advice; and should he "speak out" on tariff rates many Senators would then take up so much time disciplining him, and resenting his action, that they would not have any time to devote to their own discussion of the tariff.

Unquestionably, the Hoover "efficiency" seems to be resented to a remarkable extent, largely by those who are themselves "efficient" but appear not to fancy competition on the part of the President, and this seems to be specially applicable to Senator Borah and others of the Senate leader class.

BETTER FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS ARE URGED.

In an editorial under the heading of "Farm Roads," The Southern Planter for March 1, 1930, calls attention to the fact that nearly five million of the six and one-half million farms of the United States are located on dirt roads. The Southern Planter urges that more of the gas tax go for the construction and maintenance of farm-to-market roads.

The editorial in full follows: The cry of better marketing facilities for farmers is almost one of mockery in light of their condition in reference to farm-to-market roads. Of the 6,300,000 farms in the United States, 1,998,704 are on dirt roads that are graded and drained and 2,747,732 on unimproved dirt roads, or a total of 4,746,436 farms, nearly five million, on dirt roads. Such a state of affairs keeps the farmer from good markets. Good markets are of little advantage to the farmer if he can not reach them.

The farmer must use trucks and automobiles, if he is to keep up in the march of progress. Their use calls for surfaced roads. In New York State, it was found that farmers living on dirt roads not only owned fewer motor trucks and automobiles than those living on hard-surfaced roads, but the mileage they drove was less, being equivalent to three and one-half months of use by farmers on hard-surfaced roads. Farmers on dirt roads were able to haul full loads only one-half as often as farmers on paved roads. Snow and mud caused losses to 12% of the farmers on hard-surfaced roads and to 63% on dirt roads.

Too long the farmers' roads have been neglected. "It has become well recognized that the unification of the United States by highways depends not so much upon the construction of a few thousand miles of through, interurban roads as upon the development of a complete network of roads built for farm-to-market, rural mail and school bus traffic," a leading authority states.

In our territory the great majority of the mileage of the local rural roads is still unimproved. Too many farmers are residing on dirt roads. In West Virginia 73% of the farmers live on unimproved dirt roads; in Virginia, 62%; Maryland, 55%; South Carolina, 54%; Kentucky, 49%; North Carolina, 46%; Delaware, 45%, and Tennessee, 45%.

The great highways run from city to city and the farmer often can not use them, because a few miles of dirt road, in an impassable condition, keeps him from reaching them. They are to him but a Tantalus. He is no longer willing to bear the burden which is now placed upon him. He demands consideration and will secure the justice in road building that has so long been his due. Too much attention has been given to the tourist speeding, without thought to where he is passing, from Kalamazoo to Timbaktu. He has no thought but to make a given number of miles in a day, reach one destination only to pass on to another. State roads should be for the farmer first and the tourist second. More of the gas tax should go for the construction and maintenance of farm-to-market roads. It's time the farmer had his day.

THE FARM ROAD MOVEMENT.

The benefits that would accrue to the nation from the construction of an adequate system of farm-to-market roads in every state are all but incalculable.

At present two-thirds of all farmers are barred from their market-places during from two to six months of the year by unimproved roads which become in winter a succession of impassable mud holes. Improved roads would not only benefit the farmer, but many small towns would receive a larger amount of farm business.

A good secondary road system would offer great attractions to the pleasure seeker, by opening up new country and relieving congestion on main trunk highways, thereby reducing accident hazards.

It has been estimated that the average farm family must pay $7.63 to a doctor from each home call, and that 13 percent of farmers must pay $15. Poor roads are directly responsible for this comparatively high cost of necessary medical attention.

The farmer, as one of our greatest taxpayers, and a representative of our most basic industry, is entitled to all-year usable roads.—The Manufacturer.

SPENDING MONEY TO HELP BUSINESS.

"Is it not at this time the duty of all good Americans to spend freely in order to help business?"

This question and others of similar import have of late found their way many times into letters reaching the writer of these lines. It is quite natural that such questions should arise when business conditions are somewhat below normal.

It must be borne in mind that what would be considered good advice to one person would be very unsound advice to another. It is true that everything possible should be done to develop greater business activity. Certainly, this cannot be accomplished if everyone is to hold aloof from spending money. There are institutions and individuals who can do a great deal toward helping speed up the business machine and it is plainly their duty to do so. This does not mean, however, that anyone should buy wastefully or, figuratively speaking, "throw money away."

Many of the railroads and industrial corporations are making great outlays at the present time which furnishes employment for labor and keeps money in circulation. State and city governments, even the Federal government are likewise exerting the same commendable efforts in the same way, it is conceivable that smaller business organizations and individuals can find ways of helping the business situation without violating the laws of sound economics. Manifestly, all such activities should be applauded and encouraged.

There are, nevertheless, many individuals who at this time should be particularly careful not to spend any money unnecessarily. That his course of action is being followed by quite a large percentage of our people is indicated by increased savings bank deposits. Any man with a family dependent on him and possible unemployment lying ahead of him, certainly should save every penny possible. It should be remembered that when money is saved and put in a bank or invested in some good type of security, the money itself is not withdrawn from circulation. The bank or investment house or corporation which secures it from the individual almost immediately puts it out again into circulation in some form.

It is within the meaning of good thrift, therefore, either to save or to spend, depending entirely upon the circumstances of the individual. Buying things we do not need simply to help business is false economy. Failing to buy or invest where such transactions are sound and well-advised, is equally inadvisable. Let the individual study his own situation carefully and then follow the dictates of his best judgment.—S. W. Straus, Pres. Am. Society Thrift.

FEESBURG.

Feb. the month of holidays, gave us 14 clear days, 8 cloudy, 6 of rain or snow; also treated us to severe cold weather and spring time warmth.

Upon her return from church, last Sunday a week, Mrs. Chas. Buffington found all her own family and a few neighbors assembled, to celebrate the anniversary of hers and Mr. Buffington's wedding, which occurred Feb. 25th—34 years ago. A dinner was prepared and we know they had a happy time together, and offer our congratulations.

With sorrow we learned of the passing of Rev. R. S. Patterson, last week. Though a native of North Carolina, for years he was an outstanding figure among the people of this region. Always firm in what he considered right, and not afraid to express himself. He shouted for prohibition when it was most unpopular, and once we heard him say "if they turn me out of the pulpit, I am able to break stones on the pike" and he lived to see it written in the constitution of the U. S. We remember him only for good, and rejoice that he now enjoys the reward of Righteous.

The relatives and friends of Frank M. Biehl were shocked to hear of his sudden death, on Wednesday of last week; but did not know it was caused by accident, until they saw the next day's paper. No one will ever know just how it occurred, but he was thrown from his wagon, drawn by two mules, and found with bones broken and internal injuries, and only lived a short time. Mr. Biehl was reared in Middleburg, and married our beloved school teacher, Miss Lee England, who departed many years ago. Their only child, Mrs. Howard Basehoar, passed away one year ago, March 2nd. Funeral services in the Lutheran Church in Littlestown, on Saturday morning; burial in cemetery at that place.

We have been privileged to view the beautiful double Irish chain quilt, recently completed by the Ladies' Aid Society of Haugh's Church, at the home of Mrs. F. G. Harbaugh. Pretty colors and fancy quilting, well done.

Our latest demonstration was a patent clothes line that requires no pins to hold the clothes in place, secure from storm or wreckage. What next?

Mrs. Kuhns was a quiet unassuming woman and will be missed in her home, church, and community.

MR. LUTHER W. MEHRING.

Mr. Luther William Mehring, one of the best known citizens of Taneytown, was found dead in bed at his home on York St., at an early hour on Monday morning, when his son Luther D., went to his room to call him. He taught his Sunday School class in the Lutheran Church, Sunday morning, and attended church services, apparently in his usual health, but complained of not feeling so well during the afternoon and evening.

His wife preceded him in death last September. His age was 73 years, 6 months, 5 days. He leaves three children: Miss Charlotte E. Mehring, of Littlestown, by first marriage to Miss Sarah C. Spangler; and Dr. Percy L. Mehring, of Springfield, Pa., and Luther D. Mehring, at home, by second marriage to Miss Leah E. Reindollar. He is also survived by one brother, Mr. David M. Mehring, of Taneytown, and by one sister, Mrs. Harry A. Veit, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Mehring was a retired farmer, but had lived in Taneytown for about twenty years. He had several times been elected a member of the Board of Town Commissioners and of the Council of Trinity Lutheran Church, and was always a citizen and churchman held in the highest esteem. He was especially interested in the work of the church, and taught a Men's Class in the Sunday School for near twenty years. At the time of his death he was a Deacon in the Church Council.

Funeral services were held at the home at 10:30 Thursday morning, in charge of his pastor, Rev. A. T. Sutcliffe, assisted by Rev. T. T. Brown. Burial in the Lutheran cemetery.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC.

Topic: "Why and How Win Others to Christ?" Isa. 61:1-3; Rev. 22:17.

This is a "Why" and "How" topic, and 100% practical from the word "go." It fits into the "Crusade with Christ" campaign now on in all Christian Endeavor Societies all over the world. Assuming that your society has its crusade chart and other literature the first question is: Why are you in this Crusade? Chalk these "Whys" on the board:

I should win others: Because Jesus came to save. He saved, or will save me. He wants the world saved. He expects all saved to win others. I shall be ashamed to go empty handed.

Sunday School for Individuals—Winning others is "Big game" hunting, you take a rifle, not a shotgun. Henry Clay Trumbull said: "I found early that I could do most, as the young Sunday School superintendent of a mission school, by appealing to the individual whenever and wherever he and I were alone together. A good leader can do more in a half-hour's talk with a boy, out of school, than in a year with a class as a whole."

"Catch Your Pal"—Spirit in a Sunday School or young People's Society will make the organization the most effective evangelistic body in the world. In an Ohio school, one Sunday morning when decisions were to be asked for, a girl slipped from her seat and went to a friend to cap the climax of invitations and urging she had already given her, with an urgent personal appeal. That girl responded and five others followed her.

The "Decision Hour"—at state and county Christian Endeavor conventions, where scores, and sometimes hundreds, decide for full-time or part-time service, or accept Christ fully for the first time; are only the fruits of influence and appeals through the year. One Intermediate superintendent took to a state convention in his car six of his society with whom he had been working for over a year, and they all decided.

Youth in Crusades and Wars—One reason why Christian Endeavor should be winning others, is because they are young, and youth has always been foremost in crusades and wars for freedom. The early crusades to recover the Holy Land, were the pick and flower of Europe's youth. The "Three Hundred Thousand Strong" who answered "Father Abraham," to free the slaves were young college students and young men from the farms and shops. Youth has the spirit of adventure and chivalry.

Winning By Letters—Henry Clay Trumbull, former editor of The Sunday School Times, tells how he was won by a letter from a young friend.

Trumbull had left home to work in another city, and this letter from a chum followed him. He was so impressed that he shut himself in a closet to read it, and there sank on his knees in prayer, and was converted.

Why?—Why do we read in our newspapers, every week, of those who have been snatched from before automobiles, from under car wheels, from drowning, and various other dangers? Because it would be a dreadful thing to let one perish without trying to save him, and the Carnegie Hero Fund gives medals to those brave enough to do it. But Jesus' "Well done" for one saved from evil habits, the snares of the world, a misspent life, is worth more than any medal.

"Sweeping the Board"

To refer to anyone as having swept the board is to say of him or intimate that he overcame all opposition, triumphed over whatever obstacles confronted him and so achieved a spectacular victory.

Like several other metaphorical expressions that have gained common currency, this one has its origin in the patois of the card table.

For in playing cards, when one of the participants swept the board, he secured everything, that is, won all the stakes on the board or table.

Accomplished Olives

ONE of the best products to eat all by themselves, canned olives are also an ever-ready help in making salads and canapés, and in garnishes and sauces. They are canned both green and ripe. The term green olives refers both to color and to the condition of the unripe fruit when pickled. If they are allowed to ripen on the tree, they turn the purplish black color which denotes the ripe olives.

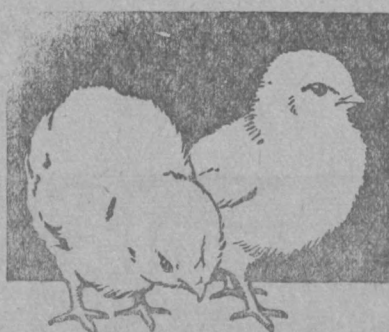

Both varieties are used first of all as relishes. Second on their list of accomplishments comes their use as a flavoring ingredient for salads, for canapés and in sauces. When they are used as a relish they are often stuffed with pimientos, with almonds or with anchovies. These three varieties come already canned, but if you want to stuff your own with something else, you can do so with pate de foie gras, caviar, chicken or any other highly seasoned material.

A Fine Appetizer

One of the best ways to use olives as an appetizer is to wrap them with bacon, fasten it with toothpicks and broil them. So prepared they have every qualification which the best of canapés should possess. Ripe olives lend themselves to more different uses than green olives because they are milder in flavor and have a higher content of oil.

Stuffed green olives make a most attractive garnish, either whole or sliced. The size of the fruit governs the price. Some of the ripe olives are known as "colossal" and are almost as big as plums.*

What a job for feed!

Consider Purina Chick Startena (mash) for this job! In every thimbleful are twelve ingredients! Cod-liver oil...dried buttermilk...alfalfa flour...granulated meat...these and eight others are there...each one with a real job to do. Purina Startena is mixed over and over again...960 times just to be thorough! And you will find the same care taken with Baby Chick Chow (scratch)...to be fed with Startena.

Lesson for March 9

THE PARABLE OF THE SOWER

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 13:1-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Hearers and Doers.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Hearers and Doers.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Giving Heed to Jesus' Teaching.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Take Heed How Ye Hear.

In this thirteenth chapter of Matthew the "mysteries" of the kingdom are unfolded. By "mystery" in the Scriptures is meant truth undiscoverable by human reason, made known by revelation. The seven parables of this chapter set forth in a most graphic manner the admixture of moral and spiritual affairs in the world between Christ's ascension and return to the earth.

I. The Sower (v. 3).

The sower is not named in this parable. In the parable of the wheat and tares, the sower is the Son of Man (v. 37). It is evident that the sower in this case is the Lord Jesus Christ. Through the centuries He has been sowing the seed of divine truth by means of prophets, apostles and ministers.

II. The Kind of Soil (vv. 4-8; 19-23).

The soil is the human heart (v. 19). The seed sown is the Word of God (v. 19). The difference of results lies in the condition of the soil, which in turn is the state of the human heart. Notwithstanding the faithfulness of the sower and the purity of the seed, the results of preaching God's Word depend upon the condition of the human heart. This parable reveals four kinds of soil or hearers.

1. The wayside, or hard-hearted hearer (v. 4, cf. v. 19).

The wayside means the track beaten down by the hoofs of animals and the feet of men. Because the soil was unbroken and uncultivated the seed could not get beneath the surface, therefore was devoured by the fowls. The great truth taught is that the heart unbroken and hard is not favorable soil for the gospel.

2. The stony places, or superficial hearers (vv. 5, 6, cf. vv. 20, 21).

This means stones with a thin layer of soil upon them. Under such conditions the seed springs up quickly, but likewise scorches quickly. Hearts superficially impressed receive God's Word with joy, but when persecution and trials come they are not able to endure.

3. The thorny ground, or pre-occupied hearers (v. 7, cf. v. 22).

In this case the ground is good, mellow enough and of sufficient depth, but has thorns in it. Such really hear the Word of God, but the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches and the lusts of other things enter in and choke the Word and it becomes unfruitful (Mark 4:19).

Many are the "thorny ground" hearers of this age. The good seed cannot mature because (1) of worldliness. Men and women are completely absorbed in the things of business and are burdened with care. (2) The deceitfulness of riches. Anxious care in business brings riches to many. The effect of riches is to blunt the spiritual perception of men. (3) Lusts of other things entering in. This means the pleasures of life. All these things choke the Word of God. Many of the enjoyments of the world may be innocent in themselves, but they attract so much attention and consume so much energy and time that one has no time for Bible reading, meditation and prayer.

4. The good ground, or fruitful hearers (v. 8, cf. v. 23).

"But other fell into good ground and brought forth fruit." This ground differed from all the rest. It was mellow, deep and moist, therefore it was capable of bringing forth fruit, a hundred, some sixty and some thirty fold. In the measure that the heart is kept free from worldliness, riches and pleasures, the good seed matures.

III. The Purpose of Teaching in Parables (vv. 10-17).

There is much misapprehension concerning teaching in parables. The parabolic method of teaching makes clear the truth to those that love it, but conceals it from those who have a distaste for it. Jesus did not teach by parables till the rulers had set their hearts against Him. When in the light of His miracles and wonderful works they turned against him and attributed His works to the devil, He denounced them in the most scathing terms and began to teach in parables, in fulfillment of the prophecy of Isaiah (Matt. 13:14, 15; cf. Isa. 6:9, 10).

God Ever Ready to Protect

God often strikes away our props to bring us down upon his mighty arms. What strength and peace it gives us to feel them underneath us! Far as we may sink, we cannot go farther down, than those stretched arms.—Doctor Cuyler.

What Love Is

Love is the simple desire for the highest good of another or of others, and is the expression of a spirit of self-surrender.—Bishop Westcott.

It's a good idea to make a small outdoor seedbed, with specially prepared soil, in a corner of the farm garden, to start the plants. They will be more stocky if started here and later transplanted. A good soil mixture for the seedbed is one part of well-rotted manure, two parts of good garden loam or rotted sods, and one part of sharp, fine sand. The addition of leaf mold or peat makes the soil better. Mix the materials well and sift the soil.

When your back's up against the wall, you are ready to go forward.

REVLANDTOLDOOHO-MERASKA CITY N.B. U.S.A.

NEW LABEL ADOPTED OCT 12 1928

Thousands of poultrymen know from gratifying experience what Conkeys (the original) Buttermilk Starting Feed will do for baby chicks.

Yeast and Cod Liver Oil Rich in Vitamins
Now Conkeys Buttermilk Starting Feed has been VITALIZED with Conkeys Y-O—the preparation in which Imported Brewers' Yeast is impregnated with Cod Liver Oil, by a special patented process to which The G. E. Conkey Co. has exclusive rights. By this method, the Vitamins of Cod Liver Oil are sealed and held for a long time.

When Conkeys Y-O is included in the mash, as in Conkeys Buttermilk Starting Feed, it insures an abundance of vitamins A, B and D. Result: Baby chicks make amazingly rapid growth, with minimum loss and no rickets (leg weakness).
