THE MUSIC FESTIVAL BY HIGH SCHOOLS

The Annual Eisteddfod will be held on April 29th.

The annual musical festival of Carroll County High Schools, known as the Eisteddfod, will be held April 29, at 7:30 P. M., in Alumni Hall, at Western Maryland College. In accordance with a custom instituted several years ago by Philip S. Royer, Director of public school music in Carroll County, a brief concert by the all-high school orchestra will be included as one feature of the Eisteddfod. As a tribute to Washington, this orchestra, made up of 65 players selected from eleven Carroll County high schools, will play American music written in Washington's time.

Several marches bearing the name of Washington, or referring to him, will be played, as well as two songs which were rendered in his honor as he traveled to New York for his inauguration as first President of the United States.

"The Liberty Song," the first American patriotic song published, and the first separately printed piece of music in the colonies, will also be heard.

The song, "Welcome, Mighty Chief, Once More," will be of special interest because of its connection with Washington's triumphal journey to New York for his inauguration. Leaving Philadelphia on the morning of April 21st, Washington and his escort reached Trenton a few hours later. Here occurred one of the most moving and most unique incidents in his memorable journey, for in contrast to the snow, ice, and darkness of the night of December 25th, 1776, his path led in bright sunshine beneath an arch of triumph and across the Delaware by a decorated bridge, where a group of girls and young women, dressed in white and garlanded with flowers, halted his progress as they sang a "Sonata" of welcome and strewed their flowers before him. The text of the song has been attributed to Major Richard Howell, later Governor of New Jersey. A copy of the text was presented to the General, which he acknowledged in the following card.

"To the Ladies of Trenton, General Washington cannot leave this place without expressing his acknowledgments to the matrons and young ladies who received him in so novel and graceful a manner at the triumphal arch in Trenton, for the exquisite sensations he experienced in that affecting moment.

The astonishing contrast between his former and actual situation at the same spot, the elegant taste with which it was adorned for the present occasion—and the innocent appearance of the White Robed Choir who met him with the gratulatory song—have made such an impression on his remembrance, as, he assures them will never be effaced. Trenton, April 21, 1789."

Washington's fondness for music and the theatre is well known. His official eminence and his long journeyings after the Revolution brought him into wider contact with the social, musical and theatrical life of the period than any other man. His opportunity for hearing the music then in vogue was, therefore, unusually rich, and because of the innumerable banquets, functions, and celebrations he was forced to attend he was often compelled to listen to music prepared for the occasion, and naturally heard frequently the songs of greatest popularity.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE.

An Easter Sunrise Service under the auspices of the Carroll County Christian Endeavor Union, will be held in Belle Grove Square, Westminster, Md., Sunday, March 27th, 1932, 6:00 A. M. The following is the program:

Song Service conducted by Rev. Harry N. Bassler, D. D.

Hymns, "When Morning Gilds the Skies," and "Jesus Christ is Risen Today."

Scripture Reading, Rev. Franklin P. Brose.

Prayer, Rev. Paul W. Quay.

Quartet, "Olive's Brow," Messrs John Beard, Edward Haizey, Clarence Beard, H. L. Yingling.

Address, "The Challenge of Immortality," Rev. L. H. Brumbaugh.

Solo, "Christ Arose," Mrs. Norman Hunter.

Quartet, "Up from the Grave He Arose."

Selection, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

In case the weather should not be favorable for holding the service in the park, it will be held in St. Paul's Reformed Church, immediately adjoining the park.

EASTER PAGEANT.

The Easter Pageant, "The Resurrection of our Lord," which was to have been given at Baust Reformed Church, on Thursday evening, has been postponed to Sunday evening, March 27th, 1932, at 7:30 P. M. This Pageant will be given by the young people of the Church under the direction of Mrs. M. S. Reifsnnyder.

FLICKINGER FARM SOLD.

The farm owned by Edward Flickinger, who is serving a life term in prison for shooting Herman E. Copenhaver, last September, was sold at public sale, last Saturday to Jacob Wentz for $2425.00. As the farm contained 163 acres, the acre price was $14.87.

HONOR TO ROY T. EDWARDS

Taneytown Young Man Receives Appointment at N. Y. University.

Roy T. Edwards, of Taneytown, student at Western Maryland College, '31, has been appointed to a teaching fellowship in chemistry at New York University. The fellowship carries a salary and provides time for individual research.

Gold Bug, a periodical published by the student body of the college says: "While at Western Maryland College, Mr. Edwards made one of the best scholastic records in the history of the college. Last year he held the Harry Clary Jones scholarship in chemistry and was editor-in-chief of the GOLD BUG. Graduating summa cum laude last June, Mr. Edwards accepted a teaching position at Manchester High School."

"He is expected to assume his new duties at N. Y. U. next fall. Mr. Edwards is the third Western Marylander in the last three years to receive such an appointment to N. Y. U., George E. Shriver and Paul Howard, both of the class of '29, have been awarded earlier fellowships."

The Record, on the part of the many friends of Mr. Edwards in Taneytown, extends hearty congratulations, and expresses the assurance that he will be of distinct worth to the University and a credit to Western Maryland College, and to Carroll County.

HOW THE POTOMAC-EDISON MET THE BLIZZARD.

The Potomac-Edison Company is to be congratulated generally for the splendid work done to put their lines in order, following the recent blizzard. The following are only a few sidelights on the problems met.

It is to be borne in mind that the linemen who worked to restore service after the blizzard of March 6th, did so, sometimes from early morning until eleven o'clock at night, in weather that is all-too-mildly described as "cold."

The frigid air, driven by all sorts of wind, had a way of penetrating faces until they were predominantly red and obviously uncomfortable. Indeed, it took men to stick to the job under such conditions.

A sidelight on the prevailing cold comes from Frederick, where it is revealed that reconstruction was continued at Creagerstown Tuesday night until the poles and wires were so stiffly frozen in the ice that they could not be budged.

The Western Maryland Railway shops at Union Bridge closed down on Monday, March 7th, in order that the employees might be taken on by the Potomac Edison Company to help repair storm damages in that section. For this service, the Company is grateful to the Western Maryland and the men and to George Powle, the Railway's Union Bridge shop foreman, who made it possible.

The performance of Blue Ridge Buses and their operators in the blizzard of March 6th, has been the subject of unstinted praise from the passengers.

Like all other vehicles, the buses wherever they were on trips were tied up by the drifted roads, fallen poles, and particularly by stalled private autos, most of which had ventured forth without chains and therefore came to grief all the more quickly. The buses, each equipped with two pairs of chains and driven by a man of high skill, were almost invariably bucking the drifts and keeping to the road successfully when they came upon stranded cars that had the road blocked.

In every instance where this happened, the drivers arranged to put up their passengers at some nearby farmhouse or hostelry and took every step to make them as comfortable as possible.

In every case but one, the drivers were able to get their buses going and continue their trips next day. And a bus was sent out of Frederick for Mr. Kershner's passengers. Service was restored on the main line Monday at noon, and all others were in operation by Tuesday afternoon.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In order to save a considerable expense to us each month, we will, for a time, discontinue sending out statements to subscribers concerning the date of expiration of their subscriptions to The Record.

Please look at the label on your paper for the information. For instance—9Feb3—means subscription has been paid to February 9, 1933; and 20Dec1—means subscription has been due since December 20, 1931.

Please do the very best you can toward keeping paid in advance, or nearly so. Should there be a few names on our list, representing subscribers who do not mean to pay at any time, we should like to know that too. Partial payments in any amount, may be made, at any time.

The cost to us, of sending out monthly statements to subscribers, is between $75.00 and $100.00 a year.

ADAMS COUNTY ASKS FOR FLOUR.

The Gettysburg Distributing Committee for the relief of the poor, has been the first county in Central Pennsylvania to apply to the U. S. Government for free flour. The amount requested is 92,400 pounds, or approximately 480 barrels, estimated to feed 500 families for 90 days.

The request was made to the American Red Cross, at Washington. This flour would be represented by the 40,000,000 bushels of wheat owned by the Federal Farm Board, recently released for general distribution by Congress.

GRANGERS ADVOCATE CUT IN SALARIES.

Hold Joint Meeting with Frederick County Commissioners.

The Frederick Post gives the following account of a joint meeting of the Frederick County Pomona Grange and the Commissioners of Frederick County, held last Saturday, in Middletown.

"Reduction of county taxes was strongly urged upon the County Commissioners Saturday by a delegation from Pomona Grange, which advocated as two methods of cutting down taxes less road building and sharp curtailment of expenses for the Frederick county public school system."

A total of 73 1-3 percent of the $1.30 county tax rate is expended as county school tax money, and payment of interest on school bonds, it was stated. Special attention was directed toward the school appropriations, which were denounced as too large in view of depressed conditions.

Austin P. Renn, near Adamstown, master of Pomona Grange; Tobias E. Zimmerman, Adamstown, chairman of the taxation committee of the grange, and Lewis F. Kefauver, Middletown, former member of the House of Delegates, were among those who urged reduction of taxes, especially as regarding expenditures for schools. Mr. Kefauver suggested that, in view of conditions, it might be advisable to close the schools April 31, and thus save about $18,000 in teachers' salaries alone and an entire total of $95,000 in all school expenses. He declared that if the County Commissioners would take drastic action in cutting school expenses, other counties in the state would follow the precedent. He said that he was a former member of a Frederick County Board of Education and was sympathetic to the idea of teachers having good salaries, but that "drastic measures" were warranted and that these were "unprecedented times."

The Commissioners participated in a discussion of the matter and stated that they had expressed willingness to cut their own salaries 5 percent, provided all other officials and their assistants in the Court House and the teachers of Frederick county did likewise. A savings of $3,000 would result if all county officials in the Court House, exclusive of school teachers, would take 5 percent reduction in salary, it was said. The Commissioners stated that, according to the state law, they could not cut teachers' salaries below a certain set sum, nor could they close the schools April 1st.

Statistics regarding appropriations for schools were then given, and it was learned that the county school tax amounted to 66 1-3 percent of the $1.30 county tax rate and that 11 percent of the $1.30 tax rate was for interest on school bonds. Outstanding school bonds at the present time represent $1,095,000, it was estimated, and last year an appropriation of $427,500 was made for the public school system by the County Commissioners.

In an emphatic statement regarding the reduction of teachers' salaries, one of the speakers said that quite a few teachers were willing to take a reduction in salary, but that he did not consider it a fair proposition unless all did so. If a reduction is made, the teachers will have to make it voluntarily, the Commissioners replied, expressing interest and concern in the matter."

LUTHERAN MISSIONARY CONFERENCE.

The 41st. annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Society, of the Middle Conference, United Lutheran Church, will be held at Kriders Church, near Westminster, Rev. J. E. Mac Donald, pastor, on Friday, April 15th.

The program will open with a devotional service at 10:00 A. M., followed by the customary greetings; Reports of officers and secretaries, and a memorial service in charge of Mrs. W. O. Ibach. Box luncheon and social hour.

At the afternoon service at 1:30, there will be addresses by Mrs. J. C. Bowers, Synodical President, Miss Barbara Weigand, "Preaching our Goals," and by Mrs. L. H. Waring, on "Our Golden Jubilee." During the afternoon there will be an address by a Missionary; Light Brigade demonstration; Election and installation of officers.

The present conference officers are: Mrs. W. E. Saltzger, president; Mrs. Harry M. Groves, vice-president; Miss Evelyn Brown, secretary and treasurer.

POTOMAC SYNOD TO BUILD OLD FOLKS HOME.

The Potomac Synod of the Reformed Church has purchased a suburban property, at Hagerstown, for $14,970 and will remodel the place for a Home for Aged men and women. The Synod embraces the churches in Southern and Western Pennsylvania, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia and North Carolina.

By purchasing this property the Synod acquires a three-story house, and the benefit of a $100,000 trust fund established by the late George Pearson, Smithsburg, who died two years ago, and provided in his will that the legacy would be available only in case the Home was built in Washington County.

A pleasing appearance is always a good recommendation.

LITTLESTOWN BANK MAY PAY

95 Percent of the Claims of its Depositors.

Appraisers of the assets of the closed Littlestown Savings Institution have filed their report at the Prothonotary's Office in Gettysburg, giving in detailed form facts as appraised concerning the assets and liabilities of the Bank, the totals showing the assets of the Bank Sept. 21, 1931 as having been $1,479,324 and present assets of $1,146,145, or a loss of approximately $333,000.

These figures show that if the appraisers are correct, the depositors should receive, during the course of several years, about 95 percent of their claims, as it is not desirable to dispose of many of the investments at current prices.

A dividend of 20 percent amounting to $27,114, was paid to the depositors on December 23, 1931. At the time of the closing of the bank, the capital, surplus and undivided profits were $290,000.

THE ORPHANS' COURT.

Monday, March 21st, 1932—Letters of administration on the estate of Lydia A. Trout, deceased, were granted to Walter C. Trout, who received order to notify creditors and returned inventories of money and debts due.

Edward Helm, administrator w. a. of Sarah J. Henry, deceased, settled his first and final account.

The last will and testament of Clara E. Koontz, deceased, was admitted to probate.

Mary Annie Bowers, administratrix of Josephine Frizzell, deceased, settled her first and final account.

The Birnie Trust Company, executor of Robert B. Everhart, deceased, received order to transfer mortgage for collection.

Clarence E. Albaugh, administrator of John T. Albaugh, deceased, returned inventory of personal property.

Cecelia F. Bosley, administratrix of Samuel Spafford Davis, deceased, settled her first and final account.

Union Bridge Banking and Trust Company and James C. Arbaugh, administrators of Ezra C. Arbaugh, deceased, settled their first and final account.

Tuesday, March 22nd, 1932—Letters of administration on the estate of Odie S. Hughes, deceased, were granted to Hazel R. Hughes and Charles E. Hughes, who received order to appraise personal property, and returned inventory of money.

May A. Beegle, administratrix of Daniel M. Beegle, deceased, returned inventory of personal property and received order to sell same.

Virginia S. Went and W. Dana Rudy, administrators of Edward O. Went, deceased, returned inventories of current money and debts due.

Letters of administration on the estate of Carrie E. Bosley, deceased, were granted to John H. Brodbeck.

WOMEN'S CLUBS TO MEET IN WESTMINSTER.

The annual meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs for the First District of Maryland, comprising Frederick, Allegany, Garrett, Carroll and Washington Counties, will be held at Westminster, Tuesday, April 5, at 9:30 o'clock, in McDaniel Hall, Western Maryland College.

The officers are: Mrs. Floyd R. Younkin, President, Manchester; Mrs. William Claus, Vice-president, Cumberland; Mrs. Elmer E. Davis, Recording Secretary, Frederick; Mrs. Geo. A. Holland, Corresponding Secretary, Mt. Pleasant; Mrs. C. R. Shaeffer, Treasurer, Westminster.

The Westminster Club, Mrs. Martha Shaw, president, will act as the hostess Club for the event which is expected to be largely attended by representatives of counties in the district.

Among the subjects to be represented are: Home Department, American Citizenship, Washington Bicentennial, Public Welfare, Motion Pictures, education, etc. An address will be delivered by Mrs. John Whitehurst, Baltimore, followed by discussion of Club problems under the direction of Mrs. A. Norman Ward, of Westminster.

Luncheon will be served at 1:15, to be followed by special music, and the address.

AS TO HOME-COMING LETTERS.

The Record has no desire to further urge the sending in for publication of letters for the Home-Coming Department. The offer was freely made, knowing that such a feature would be of considerable interest to many readers, and we have had plenty of evidence that this thought was correct. It appears, however, that the number of willing helpers has about run out, and we shall use the space for other matters. We thank those who have gone to the trouble of writing the letters already published; and should more come in without further solicitation, we shall publish them.

THE HARD, COLD FACTS.

"The Nation cannot tax itself rich. It cannot dole itself back to prosperity. The states with relief problems on their hands cannot get any additional money to spend by piping their funds to Washington in the form of taxes and getting them back again as gifts or loans. Inevitably they would lose some of it on the way. In addition they would have the aggravation of seeing their own money, which they could administer themselves much more economically, managed by a string of red tape leading to the desk of some Washington bureau clerk."—San Francisco Chronicle.

A DESTRUCTIVE STORM SWEEPS SOUTH

Hundreds Killed and an Immense Damage to Property

A most destructive tornado swept large areas in Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky, on Monday. The tornado was followed by heavy downpours of rain. Vast property damage has resulted, and 243 persons are known to have been killed, and many other hundreds injured and rendered homeless.

On communications being restored, storm damages mounted in their extent. Alabama was by far the greatest sufferer, in deaths as well as in property loss. In all of the states the ravages of the storm were practically confined to the northern borders, and to southern Tennessee. Alabama reported 190 deaths, Georgia 33, Tennessee 16, Kentucky 2 and South Carolina 2.

Later reports state the number of killed to be 329, and that 7000 are left homeless; and 2500 injured and receiving care. Governors of two states are co-operating in relief efforts, and civic bodies are helping the sufferers.

Army tents, cots, blankets, food and clothing, have been sent into the stricken areas, and State Guards are in charge to prevent looting.

The Red Cross is also active in supplying medical care, and otherwise lending its experienced aid.

BIBLE CONFERENCE AT UNION BRIDGE.

The sixth monthly Bible Conference will be held in the M. P. Church, Union Bridge, of which Rev. Wm. Schmeiser is pastor.

The date of the Conference will be Monday and Tuesday, March 28 and 29. There will be two afternoon and two evening meetings. Time: afternoons, 2:30; Evenings, 7:45.

Rev. Carey S. Thomas, D. D., Altoona, Pa., will be teacher. Rev. Thos. is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Altoona. He is an author and also a member of the faculty of the Philadelphia School of the Bible, in Philadelphia, Penna.

The program is as follows: Monday afternoon, "Spiritual Landmarks: from Hearsay Knowledge to Heart Experience of God." Monday evening, "Three questions of an Old Testament Prophet to Men of Today." Tuesday afternoon, "Spiritual Landmarks: From Darkness to Light." Tuesday evening, "The Christian Appeal in Times of World Crisis."

We urge the Bible-loving people of this section of Maryland and Pennsylvania, to attend this unusual opportunity of hearing the exposition of the Bible, God's Word.

RELIGIOUS CONFERENCE OF YOUNG PEOPLE.

The date set for the Young People's Conference of the Carroll Co. Council of Religious Education, is Thursday, April 21st. The place chosen is Baust Reformed Church.

A meeting will be held in M. P. Church, Westminster, Tuesday night, March 29, for the appointment of the program committee, publicity committee, meeting place committee and committees to arrange the worship services, banquet, recreation, etc.

Unusual interest is manifested in the Conference this year in that in addition to Miss Pauline Albertson, State Superintendent of Young People's work, and the Reverend J. C. Millian, Educational Director of the Baltimore Conference Methodist Episcopal Church, and the services of Miss Cynthia Pearl Maus have been secured for this day meeting. Miss Maus is the author of several books on youth and is recognized throughout the nation as one of the outstanding leaders of youth.

Pastors, superintendents and leaders of youth in the county should take note of this date and plan to have their delegates present. Delegates from the individual churches in the county should be appointed officially. They should be outstanding young people between the ages of 15 and 24 years—and their youth advisor. The number ordinarily is two boys, two girls, and one adult from each Sunday School. Other persons may also register and attend all the services.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Benjamin W. Gary and Dorothy M. Manger, Baltimore, Md.

Carroll N. Riffle and Mable Graham, Taneytown, Md.

Norman Swartzbaugh and Cleopha S. Zuck, Hanover, Pa.

Melvin G. Lippy and Charlotte L. Miller, Hanover, Pa.

Walden B. Hackman and Eleanor F. Fiedner, Harrisburg, Pa.

Ira B. Palmer and Mary L. Bockey, Carlisle, Pa.

Robert Charley and Gladys McFem, Gettysburg, Pa.

Grover Wolfe and Ruth Airing, of Detour, Md.

George W. Miller and Margaret V. Lambert, Upperco, Md.

THE LINDBERGH CHILD.

There were no important developments in the Lindbergh child kidnapping case, this week, that have been made public, which means that the mystery is as complete as it was in the beginning. Without doubt, the hunt is still going on, quietly, but as a newspaper story there is now only an occasional reference to some new circumstances that in the minds of some is refunded with suspicion.

SALES TAX BILL DEFEATED

How to Balance the Budget Still the Big Problem.

The Democratic majority in the House, in its first great effort toward important legislation, met with complete and decisive defeat. The Sales Tax bill sponsored by Speaker Garner and other prominent party leaders, was stricken from the revenue bill, on Thursday afternoon, by a vote of 223 to 153, after a week of debate, and in a turbulent closing scene.

Previous to the vote numerous exemptions had been made in the bill, but as these exemptions increased it appeared as though the anti-sales tax supporters gained renewed confidence in their power, and finally voted to "save time," as some of the opponents said, by expeditiously condemning and killing the whole plan.

Some see in the vote, the defeat of Speaker Garner's chances for nomination as Democratic candidate for the presidency, and a corresponding increase in Gov. Roosevelt's chances. For a while Mr. Garner took no active part in attempting to pass the Sales Tax bill, it was nevertheless known as a party measure and naturally the Speaker is held responsible in defeat, as he would have received congratulations in case of its passage.

As the situation now stands, the big problem is still wide open—to balance the budget by finding about $500,000,000 in revenue from some other sources that is either less painful, or which can be effective resistance. It is pretty generally conceded that the bond issue plan would not be a safe one to follow, as it would almost surely result in loss of the Nation's credit.

COOLIDGE SAYS—REDUCE OUR PUBLIC EXPENSES.

Calvin Coolidge, in a recent article in the Saturday Evening Post, said in part on the present financial situation:

"But the only permanent remedy, the only relief for high taxes, is a reduction of public expenditures. Such a reduction must be made. Almost all our governmental units have been taxing, borrowing and spending beyond the means of the people to pay. Taxes are remaining unpaid. That causes forced sales of property and destroys values. The credit of many units is exhausted, so that no more money can be borrowed by them."

"The local Governments, on the whole, have been the worst offenders and find themselves in the most serious difficulties. Nothing but drastic retrenchment will restore them to financial health."

"The only remedy for the situation in which we find ourselves is an aroused public opinion. * * * The time has come for a combination, on a non-partisan basis, of wage-earners and business men for their mutual protection. They need to be organized, alert and vocal. Then the Congress and other bodies will listen because they have some support in resisting further expenditures and some encouragement in pursuing a policy of retrenchment."

ELDERSBURG FARMER SHOT AT.

Samuel Solomon, an Eldersburg farmer, was fired on by some unknown person early on Thursday morning of last week, and narrowly escaped serious injury. Mr. Solomon, who has a wife and five children, was awakened by some noise about daybreak, and as he went to a window to investigate he was shot at through the window but was not struck.

Carroll County authorities on Monday arrested three colored men, Matthias Rheubottom, George Talbot and Dorsey Whitaker, all of Eldersburg, in connection with the firing of shots into the Solomon home.

The three men were taken to the Westminster Jail, where they will be questioned by State's Attorney Theodore F. Brown, Sheriff Ray Yohn and Deputy Sheriff Leo Warner. Rheubottom was held for questioning a few months ago in the fire and shooting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Steele. Sufficient evidence against him in that case could not be obtained and he was subsequently dismissed.

SUNRISE EASTER SERVICE.

Easter services in Westminster will start at 6:00 A. M., with a Sunrise Service under the auspices of the Carroll County Christian Endeavor Union, at Belle Grove Square. If the weather is inclement, the service will be held in St. Paul's Reformed Church at the park.

Song service will be in charge of the Rev. Dr. Harry N. Bassler; scripture reading by Rev. Franklin P. Brose; prayer by Rev. Paul W. Quay; the Westminster Church of the Brethren Male quartette, will sing, "Olive's Brow" and "Up from the Grave He Arose," the address "The Challenge of Immortality" by the Rev. Lewis H. Brumbaugh; solo "Christ Arose" by Mrs. Norman Hunter; closing with the C. E. Anthem, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," prayer by Rev. O. G. Robinson and the Mizpah.

SUGAR CORN $7.00 PER TON.

Frederick county canners have announced $7.00 a ton as the price of sugar corn, this year, delivered to the factories, a drop of $5.00 per ton since last year. This drop in factory price is attributed to over-production in previous years, causing a large surplus to be held over from last year. The acreage to be planted this year is expected to be considerably less than last year, due to the lower price, and this is expected to benefit the overloaded market by next year.

THE LEAST, MAKES THE MOST NOISE.

Frank R. Kent, versatile writer, may not be noted for his proverbs, but he turned out a good, one last week, in this:

"The side with the least votes invariably makes the most noise, and gets the most publicity."

This of course, had a timely political connection, as all of his articles have, and it is not our intention to comment on it along that line. Rather we are made think of a story that occurred in Grant's—or was it Sherman's—memoirs, to this effect.

When out on a long observation trip one day, a party heard a loud and apparently extensive howling of wolves, the performers in which could not be seen because of an elevation in the course of travel; but when reaching the high point, it was seen that the howling all came from two wolves that were squatted on the ground, facing each other and with heads up, howling to their full capacity.

This illustrates in another manner the Kentian wisdom that the small crowd invariably makes the most noise—in politics, as in most other ways.

Still another illustration carrying out the same general thought, years ago, on one of the Editor's many visits to Mountain Lake Park, he heard a Japanese lecturer say—

"The Japanese man is a small man, but he can shoot as hard as a big man."

All of this is about nothing in particular, except to call attention to the fact that one can not always gauge the importance of things, nor of a body of persons, by the noise they make. They perhaps need to do so to advertise themselves, or what they are trying to do—following the well known example of the street fakir.

THE HOLDING OF BANQUETS.

The holding of banquets, especially during times of depression, is a topic that is being debated pro and con. to some extent; and, like most questions of economics, has two or more sides to it. On the surface, the antis seem to have the best of the argument, but there is more than reasonable doubt as to whether a debate of this kind can be definitely settled as applying with finality to all cases.

A banquet, or the habit of banquets, like all other pleasurable diversions, should be passed on accordingly as the objects to be obtained seem to be wise, and worth the cost. Just banqueting for the mere luxury of it, may be a luxury, and nothing more; but when it is engaged in for some special aim—and there usually is such an aim—the proposition is quite different.

In a way, banqueting may be compared to advertising—to making an investment in order to secure desired returns. And this aim need not be mere cash returns; for "it pays" sometimes to get together in a friendly or fraternal way, and just has a sociable time together and thereby strengthen an organization.

And, banquets are always purely voluntary events. One need not attend if one feels unable to spend the money. In fact, those who do attend are usually those who can afford to do so, and this being the case, it is a question of their own inclination; and, bluntly speaking, nobody else's business.

As a means of promoting some new venture the banquet stands out pre-eminently as a successful method to pursue. Good humor and a feeling of comfort attends the gathering around of well filled tables with well prepared and served food. This may be a "bait," of course, to catch unwary fish, but the wise ones will not even then be "caught," unless he is personally receptive to the catching. If there are unwise ones, it's just too bad for them.

So, on the whole, the question of holding, or not holding, banquets, in good times or hard times, is much the same, and the question must be left to individual choice. Those who oppose them can stay away, and those who do not, can attend. It is simply another case of personal liberty.

ALL ARE PLAYING THE SAME WRONG TUNE.

Everybody—in Congress and out—is now playing the reduced expenses tune—but they hardly mean it. Congress has not meant it for several years past, as Democrats and Republicans alike, without much difference between the two, voted for the expenditure of billions of dollars, and with proper pressure will do it again.

State and County officials are playing the same sort of varying tunes. All spend, under pressure, whether they want to or not, having not as yet learned the truth, that pay-day must come, when the taxpayers must pay.

The taxpayers themselves, are doing it, but put up a tremendous discord, because taxes do not come down. Bond issues are still popular with those who would accomplish something, for which somebody else must pay.

And then, when it comes to the point of getting the money by taxation, or by some sort of legislation, that means the same tune again. Everybody wants somebody else to put up the cash.

Denial of forceful pleas, has not yet come into practice. The tune is still on, to "soak" rich, or some other fellow. Organized, and often localized, interests, are still powerful. The play for votes at election time still ignores the unorganized taxpayers over wide areas.

Reduce salaries and expenses? Yes, but not ours, is the answer. Is there a difference between the two parties in this respect? There is not—both are playing the same melody.

The only way to stop spending for unnecessary, is to stop it, let the doing of it offend whom it may. Will the salaried workers howl? Let them howl. Will communities be displeased? Let them be displeased.

We are meaning, now, cases that are not actually acute—cases that by self-denial can wait. Cases in which salaries can be cut without bringing actual want to those who are the losers. Cases in which extensive new building and repairs can wait. And, a lot of them have been waiting that have not been backed by organized forceful effort.

In cases of unemployment, let them be met by actual cash payments through well organized agencies, and direct appropriations. Do not put up a $100,000 building in order to pay out $20,000 of it for labor of all kinds. Do not pay $50,00, $100,00, or $200,00 a week salaries for jobs that would be gladly taken by competent persons for half that sum.

And, we wonder how much in actual taxes these same high salaried people are paying for the support of their paternal government? Why not tax incomes, that leave a profit to the individual, rather than real estate that leaves no profit to the individual owner taxpayer?

THE MARYLAND BIBLE SOCIETY'S CORNER.

"Over his keys the musing organist Beginning doubtfully, and far away, First lets his fingers wander idly as they list, And builds a bridge from dreamland for his lay. Then, as the touch of his loved instrument Adds hope and fervor, nearer draws the theme First guessed by faint auroral flushes Sent along the wavering vista of his dream."

Thus James Russell Lowell opens his vision of Sir Launfal with a lyric, which breathes the spirit of music while it proclaims the divine plan of a God-directed evolution. Just as there can be no music without a musician, so there can be no truth without an author. As the organist develops his theme from a few elemental sounds to rich harmony, so does the Grand Architect of the Universe draws His plans and execute His designs until seemingly meaningless lines finally merge into the Temple of Truth.

The fathers of the Maryland Bible Society in like fashion builded, better than they knew. In 1810 our great Republic was yet in its infancy. The central plains were the resort of huge herds of buffalo, and Indians ranged freely over happy hunting grounds undisturbed by the advance of civilization. The great west was largely undiscovered. It was wilderness later to become the promised land for millions of God's children, who were to come seeking liberty, happiness, and a new opportunity unhampered by the bondage and tradition of the past. It seems more than mere coincidence that the Maryland Bible Society should have been born at this crucial period in the life of America. Proclaiming with its open Book to all comers: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

The officers of the Maryland Bible Society were: Rev. J. G. J. Bend, President; Dr. James McHenry and Rev. John Glendy, Vice-President; Rev. James Inglis and Rev. J. Daniel Kurtz Corresponding Secretaries; Thomas W. Griffith, the author of the Annals of Baltimore, Recording Secretary; and Baltzer Schaeffer, Treasurer. Dr. Bend was a man of broad sympathy and very wide interest. A lover of good books, he was one of the founders of the Baltimore Library Company and a vice-president of it in 1802. He was also one of those who united in 1810 to form a Society for promoting vaccination generally. This required great courage in that early day of preventive medicine. There are many, even in our day, who are ready to exclaim. Can any good thing come out of a laboratory of experimental medicine? Another evidence of Dr. Bend's scientific interests is found in his association as one of the originators of the Maryland Society for Promoting Useful Knowledge. Upon his death on November 25, 1812 the Board of Managers of the Maryland Bible Society paid this tribute to his noble character and sterling worth: "He was a man eminent in all walks and offices of life, and whose services, in particular, at the head of this institution, entitles his memory to the benediction of all its friends and patrons."

It may be truly said of the entire group who formed the original Maryland Bible Society, that they were men of marked ability and standing, some of them men of genius whose contributions to the life of their city and state will remain forever crystallized in these institutions. They were not one-sided, half-baked individuals like Ephraim, a cake not turned, but men of great versatility who were friends of science and devoted to progress, but who realized that truth is one as God is one, and that the Bible is the highest expression of spiritual truth the world has yet received. They were men who believed, as Robert E. Speer declared more than 100 years later, that: "The best thing men can do is to spread the Bible and to get it read and obeyed. This would be the end of hard times, of poverty, of unemployment, of injustice, or wrong, or war."

TROUBLES ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE HOUSE.

Now that the Democratic majority in the House has the power to pass its own policies, it is having plenty of troubles of its own. The old policy of opposing Republican plans, no longer fills the bill, and the general public is getting first hand testimony that legislation by party majorities, and on party responsibility, is not as easy a job as it is cracked up to be; which means only one thing—that when it comes to actual leadership and legislation, one party is about as good, or bad, as the other.

Both must compromise, and dicker. Speaker Garner (Dem.) truthfully acknowledged, last Saturday in the House.

"There never was and there never can be a perfect tax bill. There never was and never can be a tax bill pleasing to every one or, indeed, entirely pleasing to any one. The supreme purpose of the pending tax bill is to enable the government to balance the budget."

This is the emergency that has been before Congress for the past two years. Apparently it was not seriously thought of in the passage of some preceding legislation, but "pay day" is now more clearly in sight. The only difference is, there has been a change in the matter of party responsibility. The present "ins" were formerly the "outs." The Speaker also went on to say:

"If we permit the securities of the government to be impaired, all securities will be relatively impaired. If the people lack confidence in the stability of their government, they will lack confidence in all forms of corporate or individual enterprise."

Neither of these quotations contain new wisdom. The same pleas in other words, perhaps, have been made from time to time by responsible Republican leaders. They simply come now, and as truly, from Democratic leaders who have been made responsible by their majority.

UNEMPLOYMENT MONEY.

Much is being heard nowadays about dollars at work. What does it mean?

A dollar in a savings fund is the most simple form of investment and is a typical dollar at work. Any dollar that earns something for its owner is a working dollar. And every dollar that earns for its owner is creating capital, credit, business or employment for others.

Money in the bank earns interest; in securities, dividends; in business, profits; in industry, profits and wages; in life insurance, dividends and protection. In each instance it is money at work.

Dollars at work dig mines, turn mill wheels, till the soil, provide employment and create profits and credit. But what does the idle dollar do? It toils not, neither does it spin. It has a home only, and its home may be an old sock or a straw mattress. Nor can it claim greater security than the working dollar.

The idle dollar is out of a job, does not work, cannot earn. In a year's time, in 20 years, as long as it is kept in idleness, it will be the same dollar; it not have increased a penny's worth.

Thrift and caution do not require that money be hoarded. Billions of dollars invested during the period of inflation are worth a hundred cents on the dollar today and are still working and earning. And many dollars hoarded during a period of deflation will be lost to the hoarders forever through fire and theft.—Frederick Post.

REFORM IN MERCHANDISING.

The business depression seems to have exploded the high-powered systems of merchandising in department and retail stores generally. During several years experts and exponents of what they termed with great confidence "modern merchandising" were in high favor and anyone who doubted this marvelous efficiency was considered hopelessly conservative.

The system was based on the idea that manufacturers and retail merchants should make up and expose for sale large quantities of goods without any regard to the desires or tastes of ultimate consumers. "Not what the people want, but what we can make them buy" was the slogan. The depression schooled the people to neglect goods with little merit bolstered up by ballyhoo. If retail buyers could not find what they needed, they spurned the proffers made by salespersons and left the stores empty-handed.

Merchandise managers instructed sales forces in the gentle art of soliciting sales of goods the demand for which existed nowhere but in the minds of the experts who imagined they and not the customers should make all decisions. This system resulted in the production of millions of dollars worth of merchandise which were not responsive to any demand from the public.

With huge inventories of stuff refused by customers there were insistent demands from financiers and bankers that new goods must not be ordered until old stocks were sold. It was inevitable that an impasse should result. With great numbers of hoarders and savers on the one hand and prudent buyers on the other who could not be induced to expend money for articles they had no use for, a serious condition developed.

This situation is slowly but surely righting itself, but the theory of forced sales of unmerchandise goods through intensive salesmanship has been tried in the balance and found wanting.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

PROHIBITION.

The Baltimore County Union (Townson) thinks we are getting fanatic on both sides of this question, and magnifying it beyond its real importance. Read what the Editor of the Union thinks about it.

"If there is any one subject of which the average American has become thoroughly weary, it is the question of Prohibition. No matter how a conversation begins, it invariably ends up with a discussion of Prohibition. To it is ascribed every blessing and bane of our civilization. Do we have prosperity? Then attribute it to Prohibition. Are times hard? Then blame them upon the fact that the country is dry. Is there poverty? Prohibition is the villain that has caused it.

Are people rich and the stock market booming? Why, the sobriety that has come with the dry millennium is undoubtedly the reason for the golden flood. Crime is the result of the dry era. There is nothing wrong or right at the present moment that is not traced to the single cause of Prohibition, depending, of course, upon the bias and leanings of the one who is making the deductions.

The wets and the dries are equally fanatic. A sane discussion and solution of the question seem to be impossible. There is a way out of our difficulty, but this the blind partisans refuse to see. A person is either a bigoted dry or a villainous wet. Sanity and reason have been relegated to the back seat while ignorance and fanaticism take the floor and bawl. The newspapers and the politicians have done their part to make the issue as confused and muddled as possible.

In the meantime, we have tread the wrong cat, and the failure to settle the Prohibition question one way or the other has kept us from solving the more important problems of unemployment and business depression. The wet and dry question is only remotely connected with our present troubles. Let us forget prohibition for awhile and put our minds and shoulders to the task of extricating ourselves from the knotty and dangerous economic snarl in which the country finds itself at the present moment."

MANCHESTER.

Sixteen young people were confirmed in the local Lutheran Church, Sunday, by the Rev. L. H. Rehmeier, Mr. Distler, of Baltimore, an attorney and active Lutheran layman, spoke, on Sunday night.

The science of government is largely a science of combinations, of applications, of deceptions, according to times, places and opportunities.

Hill's in Mexico Sink Under Boiling Hot Lake

Vera Cruz, Mexico.—The phenomena of large hills and apparently firm, level tracts of ground disappearing beneath lakes of hot water was reported in dispatches from the Minatitlan petroleum region of Vera Cruz state.

The disappearance of land has been noted several times in the last year in the same district, and now two large hills, called Jabon and Firarto, have sunk underneath the surface of a freshly formed lake. A large spring at the foot of the Firarto hill, from which cold water formerly gushed, now is discharging huge quantities of boiling hot water into the lake.

Old Indian Territory Landmark Is Bankrupt

Muskogee, Okla.—A landmark of the old Indian territory days has passed under the auctioneer's hammer. Difficulties that have involved pioneer business establishments forced the Belt Trading company of Eufaula into federal court receivership. The company's seven departments, comprising drug store, undertaking parlor, groceries, and hardware stocks, occupied six buildings that lined one block here.

Adds Insult to Injury When He Breaks Prison

Berlin.—Berlin's underworld is chuckling over the news that has recently come from Meiningen, in Thuringia, that August Weber, known as Slippery Gust, not only broke out of the jail here but also took the prison cash box, cigars that belonged to the warden, all the prison keys, and other objects of less value.

Gust was known to be especially dangerous, so the jail authorities in the little town of Meiningen took what they thought to be tremendous precautions, but, for the sake of economy, there was nobody appointed to watch Gust at night.

He broke up his bed, used the iron leg to smash down a wall, made himself a key out of the handles of his waste bucket, opened the door to the warden's room and escaped. He has not been seen since.

Fishermen Battle With Whale for Twelve Hours

Copenhagen.—An enormous whale, 81 feet long, drifted through the Little Belt and attracted the attention of fishermen, who immediately started chasing it.

They managed to drive the giant to the coast, where they tried by all possible means to kill it, including thrusts with iron bars and rifle shots.

The creature lived more than 12 hours despite these efforts.

COMMON TABLE SALT OFTEN HELPS STOMACH

Drink plenty of water with pinch of salt. If bloated with gas add a spoon of Adierika. This washes out BOTH stomach and bowels and rids you of all gas. R. S. McKinney, Druggist, Taneytown, Md.

MR. NOAH H. FLEAGLE.

Mr. Noah H. Fleagle, formerly of Mayberry, Carroll County, who visited his relatives in this section about six years ago, died at his home in Tampa, Florida, on Monday, at the age of 87 years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nita M. Fleagle, and the following nephews and nieces: Charles Fleagle, Harry E. Fleagle, and Mrs. O. E. Doder, all of Mayberry.

In Sad But Loving Remembrance of our dear wife and mother, ADDIE RUTH VALENTINE, who departed this life, March 24, 1924.

Just a little of sweet remembrance
Just a memory fond and true;
Just a token of love's devotion,
For our hearts still long for you.

No one knows of the silent heartaches,
For the one we loved so dearly,
Has forever passed away
To that bright and happy land.

By her husband and daughters,
LENNY VALENTINE, daughters,
ETHEL and HAZEL.

IN MEMORY

Of my wife, MRS. JENNIE BANKERT.

We shall meet, but we shall miss her;
There will be one vacant chair;
We shall linger to cherish her,
When we breathe our evening prayer.

When a year or two ago, we gathered,
Joy was in her mild blue eyes;
But a golden cord is severed,
And our hope in sorrow lies.

By her Husband,
C. D. BANKERT.

Frightened by Snake;

Boy Loses His Memory

Beardstown, Ill.—How Floyd White, sixteen-year-old farmer boy, was so startled by a snake that leaped at him while he was shucking corn near here that it caused him to lose his memory for several hours, was revealed here recently.

White, after he had regained his memory, said that he was working in the cornfield when he saw the snake leap at him, striking him in the stomach. This, however, was all he could remember and he remained in a state of hysteria until the next day.

Relatives brought him to doctors here, and it took six men to hold the youth, who appeared to be crazed as a result of his experience, he constantly repeating the words "corn" and "snake."

Doctors said that the snake's striking him in the stomach had probably caused the hysteria.

Nation's Wealth for

1930, 329 Billion

New York.—America's national wealth for 1930 was revealed by the National Industrial Conference board as $329,700,000,000. The total national income was $71,000,000,000.

This means for each family a capital of $10,961 and a family income of $2,366—if equally divided.

The capital dropped 8.9 per cent from 1929 and income decreased 16.4.

The per capita wealth for 1930 was $2,958.

SECOND WIFE GIVES UP EXPLORER LIFE

Hubbard's Bride Succumbs to Jungle Terrors.

Boston.—The spell of "Darkest Africa," which wrecked the first marital venture of Wynant D. Hubbard, former Harvard star football player, has cast its gloom over his second attempt, it was learned here when it was announced Hubbard and his pretty bride of a year have started for home from their honeymoon nest in Rhodesia.

Just last summer Hubbard and his chorus girl bride announced to the world that they were setting forth on a ten-year honeymoon, which would be spent in the jungles and on the veldt.

Now comes the news that the couple have abandoned all hopes of marital bliss and contentment and are trekking to the African coast, Boston-bound.

First Wife Tried It.

The former Mrs. Hubbard, with her two children, one of whom was born in the African bush, may well have smiled when Isabel Menzies, late of a musical comedy, informed interviewers last summer that she and "Wyn" planned to build their love cottage among the fronds and creepers of southern Rhodesia, there to dwell for ten long years.

She, too, had sampled Africa with "Wyn," and nine years of the combination led to the divorce court. She and her children have since been making their home with her mother, Mrs. Frank M. Carson, at Greenwich, Conn.

Hubbard's colorful career as football player and African explorer had occupied front pages and magazines during the past ten years. Only the fact of his divorce and early marriage to the dancer, Isabel Menzies, escaped the eyes of Hubbard fans, who followed his moves from the time he was the storm center of the Harvard-Princeton athletic dispute.

Took Bride to Africa.

He was married to Margaret Carson in 1921, while he was a junior at Harvard. They had met in Labrador where they were working with the Grenfell mission. After his graduation from Harvard, they set out for Africa, carrying along Wynant, Jr., who had been born to them in the sub-zero climes, where Doctor Grenfell and his volunteers carry on their work.

They established themselves in southern Rhodesia, and there another baby was born to the former Vassar graduate as the thermometer registered 114 degrees in the shade. They returned to the United States after three years in the bush, then tragedy struck. Little Wynant, Jr. fell off a dock and was drowned at the couple's summer home in Provincetown.

The African idyll and the couple's return to this country led to a series of magazine articles and stories by both Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard. Wynant continued his writings, climaxing his literary efforts with the oft-condemned and praised articles charging Princeton with playing dirty football.

The furor which arose has never quieted. Princeton and Harvard ceased meeting each other on the football field and Hubbard and his new wife went to Africa again.

But life in an African mud hut amid deserting caravan blacks, bone-crushing pythons, lions, tigers and the rest of the dark continent's back drop must have been severe on the woman half of the Hubbard exploring and experimental combination, for now comes the news that the jungle honeymooners are headed for the divorce courts.

Sweden Plans Aid for Its Inventors

Stockholm.—The Swedish Invention corporation, formed here for testing and marketing new Swedish inventions, has now announced its working program, which offers several points of interest.

Inventions submitted to the company will first be thoroughly tested by a staff of experts, among whom are no less than four Nobel prize winners. If the experts declare an invention worth supporting the company will help the inventor to get it practically exploited, financed and launched on the world market.

The directors of the company have undertaken to create a fund for the support of poor Swedish inventors by allotting a certain part of the company's profits for that purpose.

At a conference just held by the company with its staff of experts Thor Thoenblad, the managing director of the concern, announced that already hundreds of new inventions have been submitted to the firm, several of which are of great value.

Former Teacher Returns to Farm in Gold Search

Madison, Neb.—A 32-year search for gold has been revived here by Dr. T. A. Leach of Hutchinson, Kan.

About thirty-two years ago, it was claimed, a vein of gold and silver of considerable size was discovered on the J. F. Mauer farm. Leach was a country school teacher then. He resolved to return some day and prospect in earnest, to see if the deposit was real and if ore was present in sufficient quantities for mining.

Well drillers are sinking a hole on the Mauer farm now. The shaft is down 540 feet, but no gold-bearing ore has been brought up.

Potato Splits Jacket

Beeville, Texas.—A sweet potato in the garden of M. McClung, here, grew so fast that it split its jacket. It weighed 23 pounds.

Pilgrim Fathers' Lives

Sustained by Hominy

Hominy, golden grain of the plumed Indian maize beaten into coarse meal. Gift of welcome to the Pilgrim fathers from their red neighbors. Among the dishes of early American cookery, what the Cabots and Lodges are to the sons and daughters of the American Revolution.

Of hominy as a food of the Colonists, wrote Captain Smith in 1629. "They commonly fed upon milke homini, which is bruised Indian corne pounded and boiled thicke, and milke for the sauce."

"Their ordinary diet is poane and omine, both made of corn," wrote Lord Baltimore; and William Penn. "Their diet is maize, sometimes beaten and boiled with water, which they call homine." One waggish scribe relates, "Our entertainer made him (a newcomer) own that a plate of hominy was the best rice pudding he did ever eat."

Today we commonly refer to the coarse meal made of white corn kernels, from which the rough fibrous part and the germ has been removed, as hominy grits. Hominy is the term more generally applied to the whole corn grains hulled by lye immersion.—Exchange.

Writer Has Some Doubt

About Weather Control.

A scientist thinks that weather eventually may be controlled by electricity. We contemplate with awe the bringing on of a thunderstorm by pressing a button. Will powerful sirens warn the people of the storm's approach so they will stop the superfluous watering of their lawns and shut the northwest windows? For we do not suppose that the electrical rain-makers will so far defy established natural laws as to bring rainstorms from unheard of directions.

The rains should be quite orderly and never freakish. Ruskin said: "As men do not walk on their heads, there are natural laws that clouds do not disobey." We have always thought that man would, one of these days, determine when rain should fall and when it shouldn't, and electrical control may be the secret. But we have profound doubts of his being able to do a thing when a Gulf of Mexico hurricane comes ashore.—F. H. Collier in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Leaves His Fortune

to "Perfect Babies"

Hamilton, Ont.—Parents of 99 per cent perfect babies born in Hamilton and the adjoining Wentworth district, will be paid $1,000 for bringing such children into the world under the will of Watson G. Walton.

The will provides for the establishment of a foundation which will conduct the experiment in eugenics. Walton left $296,241 for the purpose.

Prospective wives and husbands, wishing to enroll in the foundation, must submit to physical and mental examinations, establishing their fitness to marry. They must be residents of this city, or county, for one year prior to enrollment.

Children of such parents, reaching the age of twelve, are examined by the foundation. If found 99 per cent perfect, physically and mentally, the parents receive $500. At the age of twenty-one, the procedure is duplicated and again, if the offspring fulfills the required 99 per cent average, the parents are awarded $500.

In his will Walton said he wished to do something "for the better education of mothers toward bringing up children of a higher standard of health and mentality."

ELECTRIC WIZARD

DIES IN MYSTERY

Fired as Middy for Franks in Electricity.

Baltimore, Md.—Suicide or experiment?

Which caused the death of John A. Sygon, nineteen-year-old former midshipman, whose wizard-like pranks in electricity caused his resignation from the United States Naval academy at Annapolis?

The young genius was found dead in his bed by his father, Col. Joseph R. Sygon, U. S. A. In one hand the youth clutched a tube of gas used to deaden pain. The youth had died of asphyxiation.

The coroner's verdict was "suicide," but Colonel Sygon insists that his son died while carrying his experiments past the limit of safety.

The phenomenal scientific gifts of young Sygon nearly set his austere Naval academy on its ear while he was there. He established a system of remote control in his room which enabled him to operate the elevators, the lighting system, clocks, bells and even the telephones. All sorts of queer things began to ensue.

Finally the mysterious wires were located, and there was only one thing for the young cadet to do—resign.

After young Sygon's resignation, he was offered positions by several large electrical firms, who felt that they could use the talents of the young jackanapes, but refused.

Captain Sticks to Job

Flowers Ever in Men's Minds at Eastertide

Easter is the oldest festival known to mankind. It was instituted by Nature, herself, and was originally celebrated in honor of the spring. Primitive man could not fathom the spring miracle, but he could appreciate it, and celebrate this joyous "Festival of breaking bud and scented breath."

Every nation had its own name and legend for spring—the resurrection of life. Each year, when Nature lived and blossomed anew, the tender beauty of the flowers stirred the human mind to wonder and deep speculation. Literature is rich in beautiful legends of the flowers, which tradition says first bloomed in Heaven.

When the evil angels were driven from Heaven they snatched their arms full of flowers and carried them away. But God would not permit his celestial blossoms to be taken to Hades, so he caused the wicked angels to become tired, and, one by one, they dropped the flowers over the earth before they reached their destination. Another old legend which accounts for the beginning of the flowers states that Venus sprinkled nectar into the blood of the wounded Adonis and flowers sprang up. The word flower itself comes from Flora, goddess of flowers.

ALTHOUGH the flowers were originally connected with pagan customs and beliefs, most of them are now closely woven, by Christian traditions, to the event of the resurrection of Christ.

In all ages and lands the white lily has been closely associated with the two greatest mysteries of human life—birth and death. Juno, the queen of the Roman gods, chose the lily as her symbol, and the classics tell us of feasts given among the lilies. Joan of Arc was crowned with white lilies to typify the purity and sacredness of her mission.

The first lily used as a symbol of the resurrection was the Madonna, or Annunciation lily in their pictures of saints, angels and the Madonna. In the Madonna pictures there are frequently three lilies on a stem to represent the trinity, or the annunciation, conception and birth of the Savior. A pot of these lilies over doors and windows is symbolical of the Virgin in ecclesiastical art and architecture, but lily pillars, or columns, typify the resurrection.

IN MODERN times the Easter lily has taken the place of the Madonna lily both in America and Europe, because it is a harder plant. The Easter lily, or Bermuda lily, was originally a native of Japan. More than 200 years ago a pirate sea captain brought some of the bulbs to Bermuda, where it grew larger and more beautiful than in the Orient. It became known as the Bermuda lily, and for generations its care and cultivation were handed down from father to son, until it became one of the household gods of the island planter. Until very recent years America was entirely dependent upon China, Japan and Bermuda for bulbs of the Easter lily, but through painstaking experiments the United States government has learned to produce our own bulb supply.

Not only the Christians, but all other religions of the world have used the lily to typify consolation and hope. The lotus lily is sacred to the Buddhists, and to it they dedicate ceaseless prayers which are printed on parchment and fastened to constantly revolving cylinders in the great temples of Tibet. From Egypt to China superstitions and great love abounds for the sacred lotus. Tradition also relates that Judith, the Israelite heroine of the Apocrypha, wore a crown of lotus lilies when she went upon her mission to destroy Holofernes. And all the world knows that Cleopatra wore lotus blooms in her hair.

THERE is a legend old as Christianity, which says that the Virgin spilled a few drops of her milk on the ground, and from these drops sprang the dainty little lily of the valley, those "fairy bells that bring incense to the spring." But in some of the old English country villages this precious little flower is called the "Ladder of Heaven." The ancient Druids believed that it symbolized future happiness, and they used it at weddings to insure wedded bliss to the bride and bridegroom. In the old days all marriages were celebrated in the spring. Few modern brides realize that they follow an ancient pagan custom when they carry a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley.

In the days of dim antiquity all flowers were divided into two general classes. The bell-shaped blossoms were called lilies and all the others were roses. This is said to account for some flowers being called roses which do not belong to our present rose family.

The rose of Jericho is one of these. It is not a rose at all, but a sort of vegetable. This plant is sometimes used as a symbol of the resurrection because it is usually found in a shriveled, dried-up condition, but it is immediately revived or resurrected by a little moisture. However, the rose of Jericho is more commonly called the rose of Mary because tradition says that it grew to mark every resting place of the Holy Family during the journey to Egypt.

ANOTHER flower of the Easter season, the primrose, is likewise not a rose. Its old generic name is primula

—or first—and since it was not bell-shaped it was called a rose. This flower blooms so early that it has become the symbolical flower of the month of January:

Primroses, the spring may love them,
Summer knows but little of them.

The briar-rose, according to ancient Christian tradition, grew from the drops of blood that fell to the earth from the Savior's brow when it was pierced by the crown of thorns on the cross. But there is another legend which says that Christ's crown of thorns was made of the white briar-rose itself, and the red rose sprang from these blood-stained roses:

Men pierced his brow with thorns, but Angels stanch'd his blood with roses.

To this day the faithful in some parts of Russia will never suffer a red rose to lie on the ground. The red rose is usually considered an emblem of the crucifixion, but the white rose belongs to Mary. She dried her mourning veil on a rose bush and the bush bore white roses ever after.

CUPID gave Hippocrates, the god of silence, a rose, and that flower has since become the symbol of silence. When the Greeks wished the conversations at their feast tables to be kept secret a freshly-gathered rose was hung from the ceiling just above the head of the table. It was considered dishonorable and even criminal to reveal anything said "sub rosa," (under the rose). But the mythical blue rose is symbolic of heavenly bliss and unattainable earthly ideals. The passion flower got its name from the fancied resemblance of certain parts of the flower to the instruments of the crucifixion. It is also a symbol of faith.

The evil mandrake which is found in southern Europe, North Africa and Asia Minor is also bound by tradition to Easter. Only at Eastertide does the devil lose his power over this herb. —Washington Star.

Descent of "Holy Fire" Attracts Greek Devout

The holy fire ceremony, conducted by the Greek Orthodox on the afternoon of Good Friday, is perhaps the most remarkable of all the services held in the church of the Holy Sepulcher at Jerusalem. Under the rotunda of the church the members of the consular, the military and diplomatic parties are seated. Every chapel and corridor, every space and corner is jammed with people, pressed closely together that one cannot budge a fraction of an inch. The courtyard and the roofs of the surrounding houses, even the belfry, are black with people, all looking down upon one of the strangest sights in the world—the holy fire—which is believed to descend from heaven each year upon the tomb of Christ.

Legend of the Poplar
There is a fanciful notion prevailing in some localities, that the Cross upon which Jesus Christ was crucified was made of that variety of poplar known as the aspen, and that ever since that dreadful first Good Friday, the leaves of that tree have always trembled, and never been at rest.

On Mount Roubidoux
In Red Rock canyon, southeast of Bakersfield, Calif.—in the heart of the desert flower area—Easter comes with ceremonies; and the traditional services, conducted annually since 1909, are at Mount Roubidoux, at the edge of Los Angeles.

Perseverance Wins Man Term in Cozy City Jail

Buffalo, N. Y.—Perseverance is the main requisite for getting into jail, in the opinion of Joseph W. Osborne, fifty-six.

Osborne applied at the police station and asked to be locked up. He was ushered to the door.

The performance was repeated twice. Then Osborne had an idea. He walked to the front of the station and picked up a brick. He waited until he was sure the desk lieutenant was watching, then wound up as though to throw it through the large plate glass window in the front of the station house.

A flying tackle by Patrolman Thomas Caulfield saved the window, and Osborne, now all smiles, was led to a cozy cell.

Gave Bride Blood; Now He Sues Her

Washington.—Albert P. Hall, 906 B street, N. E., who last March gave blood for a transfusion to save the life of his bride, now is suing for absolute divorce from Verna Mae Hull, whom he charges with deserting him and marrying another man.

The petition filed in District Supreme court through Attorney H. P. Long, complains the wife left home for days at a time shortly after their marriage less than a year ago, and that on September 14 of this year she married the man Hall names as co-respondent in Rockville, using the name of Eleanor Gaine.

Mrs. Hall cut an artery in her right arm last March, a month after her marriage and was taken to George Washington hospital in a critical condition.

The husband, who gave his blood for a transfusion, said it was the sixth attempt she had made to take her life.

Bride, Jilted, Demands Return of False Teeth

Chicago.—A judge in a Chicago court has been asked by Miss Mabel Caughey to order the return of the gifts she presented Samuel Bestown when she thought he was going to marry her.

The presents include, Miss Caughey says, three suits, many shirts, a top-coat, three hats, a horn, a diamond stickpin, a ring, a wrist watch, and a set of false teeth.

Inventor's Brain Freed of Mortgage

Milwaukee.—The twenty-five-year mortgage that Walter Esau held on the brain of John G. Schmidt, seventy, inventor, has been rescinded.

Judge Charles L. Aarons ruled an agreement made by Esau to pay Schmidt $200 a month to produce a chemical compound under certain conditions amounted to a "mortgage on the inventor's brain."

Schmidt had agreed to turn out an acid-resisting preventative for steel that would be better than any similar product on the market. The chemist manufactured the resistant for ten months, but ceased in June, 1931, when Esau claimed the compound did not fit specifications of the contract.

When Schmidt sought to work for another concern, Esau brought suit to enforce his agreement.

Lamp Chimney Breaks After 25 Years of Use

Albany, Ore.—After being in constant use for 25 years in the Roy Crabtree home a lamp chimney finally decided to "commit suicide." One evening it fell apart of its own accord, although often when disaster threatened the chimney had survived without flaw.

OLD ARMS RECALL HANGING IN 1825

Sword and Rifle Are Treasured by Ohio Man.

New Philadelphia, Ohio.—Destruction and retribution frequently go hand in hand, just as do cause and effect, supply and demand, etc., but not often do you see their actual weapons lying side by side.

At Schoenbrunn Memorial park, just southeast of here, are the two weapons, a rifle and a sword.

Behind the two instruments of ob-ivion is the story of the only legal hanging in Tuscarawas county, which was attended in grand style by the militia and 5,000 citizens of this vicinity, who turned out for the event.

In 1825 a young mail carrier named Cartwell was shot while traveling a lonely wooded trail, bound from Westchester to Coshocton.

A hunter named Johnson heard the rifle crack, and, hurrying through the brush, found Cartwell dead and the mail bag rifled.

He immediately gave the alarm, and was surprised most unpleasantly when he found himself arrested on circumstantial evidence and brought to Tuscarawas county jail, in New Philadelphia. Here he was charged with the murder.

Footprints of a man on the scene, however, did not coincide with Johnson's tracks, and, in accordance with a suggestion from the accused man, the entire male population was ordered to assemble on a certain day ostensibly to have their feet examined.

Johnson hoped by this method to identify the man whom he remembered having seen emerging stealthily out of the woods the day of the murder and whom he then had taken for another hunter.

After scanning many faces Johnson suddenly pointed to John Funston, exclaiming, "That is the man!"

"You are a liar!" Funston answered, but even as he spoke sweat gathered on his brow, his lips trembled and his face paled. Johnson was released.

Later, after Funston was tried and convicted, he broke down and admitted the fowling piece found near the mail carrier's body was his.

A gallows immediately was erected along the intersection of West High and Tuscarawas avenues. Postboy, a station on the Cleveland-Marietta railroad between Newcomerstown and Cambridge, now marks the site.

Painless Way to Study History Quite Popular

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Dr. William B. Hesseltine has developed a "painless" method of teaching American history.

For three years now the youthful head of the University of Chattanooga history department has offered a biography course as introductory to the study of the history of these United States. He calls it "representative Americans." The class is filled to capacity each semester.

Members of the "representative Americans" class read biographies and listen to lectures on the lives of typical Americans instead of forcing themselves through the usual admittedly tedious study of a textbook, with its confusion of dates, wars and facts.

The lives of 18 men, from Franklin to Wilson, are studied during the college year. Through the activities of these men, each one selected as typical of his period, the students absorb a background knowledge of the various phases of their nation's history—its political, economic and social development.

This biographical approach serves to make history something alive and understandable, rather than a batch of facts to memorize, Doctor Hesseltine finds.

When Water Freezes

There is no difference between the freezing point of water that has been heated and that which has not been heated if the water is pure. In the case of tap water which is nearly pure but contains dissolved air, heating the water may drive out some of the air. This has no considerable effect on the freezing point, but may make a difference in the character of the ice produced. Hot-water pipes are reported to burst from freezing more often than cold-water pipes. This is not because of a difference of freezing point of the water, but is probably because the water in cold-water pipes contains dissolved air, which separates on freezing and forms slushy ice; while when water in a hot-water pipe freezes, it is more apt to become under-cooled and then freeze rather suddenly, forming compact ice free from bubbles, which is more apt to break a pipe.

Help! Stop Thief! Gull Steals Gem

San Francisco.—Mrs. Joseph Robinson of Chicago asked police to locate a sea gull she suspected of stealing a diamond ring.

She said she laid her purse and a $150 ring on the dresser near an open window of her hotel room. Later she noticed a sea gull perched on the sill, but paid no attention to the bird.

Later she heard the bird flapping about the bedroom and on returning she found the purse on the floor and the diamond ring missing.

JESUS RISES FROM THE DEAD

LESSON TEXT—John 20:1-29.
GOLDEN TEXT—But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Living
Again.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Conqueror.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-IC—Loving and Serving the Risen Lord.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—The Fact and Meaning of the Resurrection.

I. The Empty Tomb (vv. 1-10).
John does not enter into a description of the resurrection of Christ or give any proof other than that the tomb was empty, and that Jesus had repeatedly manifested himself after the tomb was found empty. To see the body of Christ with a spear-thrust and nail prints and the empty tomb was all that faith needed.

1. The testimony of Mary Magdalene (vv. 1, 2). This woman, out of whom Jesus had cast seven demons (Mark 16:9; Luke 8:2), announced the fact of the empty tomb to Peter and John. Prompted by great love to him for his kindness to her, she went early to the tomb even "when it was yet dark."

2. Personal investigation by Peter and John (vv. 3-10). The news of the empty tomb which Mary brought with breathless haste so moved John and Peter that they both ran to investigate.
When John came to the empty tomb,
he gazed into it, but when Peter came he entered it. This investigation convinced them of the reality of the resurrection. The removal of the stone from the sepulchre, the arrangement of the grave clothes, convinced them that the enemy could not have done this.

II. The Manifestations of the Risen
Lord (vv. 11-29).

1. To Mary Magdalene (vv. 11-18).

a. Mary weeping at the empty tomb
(v. 11). Peter and John went home, but Mary could not. She stood weeping. Home was nothing to her while her Lord was missing. Earnest love need not to weep long for Jesus is found of those who love him. She should have been rejoicing that the grave was empty, for the empty tomb was eloquent proof of his messiahship and deity.

b. Mary questioned by the angels (vv. 12, 13). Through her tears, she saw angels at the tomb, who inquired as to the cause of her sorrow.

c. Jesus revealed himself to Mary (vv. 14-16). She first saw the angels and then her eyes lighted upon the Lord. She did not recognize him in his resurrection body, but his voice was familiar to her. As soon as he called her by name, she recognized him and fell at his feet weeping.

d. Jesus forbade her to touch him (v. 17). This showed that she was coming into a new relationship to him.

e. Mary's testimony (v. 18). She told the disciples that she had seen the Lord.

2. To the disciples (vv. 19-29). He appeared to several of his disciples at different times during the day. This is the first appearance to the disciples as a body. The rumors of his several appearances on that day caused the disciples to assemble to talk over the matter. For fear of the Jews, they met in a private room and barred the door. While they were discussing the strange happenings of the day, the Lord mysteriously appeared to them.

a. When Thomas was absent (vv.
19-23).

(1) His message of peace (v. 19).
This revealed his attitude toward them. He did not come with censure for their failure and desertion.

(2) He showed his hands and his side (v. 20). Having calmed their fears, he gave them unmistakable evidence of his resurrection.

(3) He commissioned them (v. 21).
"As my Father hath sent me even so send I you." This commission was not simply to a class, as the eleven, but to all Christians (Luke 24:33).

(4) He bestowed the Holy Spirit upon them (v. 22). This was their equipment. Only as empowered by the Holy Ghost can one go forward as a successful witness for Christ.

(5) The disciples' authority (v. 23).

This authority was not by virtue of office, but by virtue of having the Holy Ghost. This spiritual gift gave spiritual discernment to know who had or who had not repented and consequently to pronounce pardon or withhold it.

b. When Thomas was present (vv.
24-29).

(1) The victory of sight and touch
(vv. 24-28). The Lord graciously supplied the evidence which Thomas needed. The Lord does not rebuke those who sincerely seek light.

(2) Greater blessing for those who believe, not having seen (v. 29).

WORDS OF WISDOM

Kind words produce their own image in men's souls, and a beautiful image it is.—Pascal.

In the home: Order is its beauty, contentment is its blessing, hospitality is its glory, Godliness is its crown.

Blessed is the man who, having nothing to say, abstains from giving us wordy evidence of the fact.— George Eliot.

"They Know Not!"

"Come down from the cross O Christ!"
they cried;
"No man is 'Son of God',
Who with a thief in shame hast died,
And Calvary hast trod!"

"No man is 'Son of God' who bleeds Forsaken, and alone;
Show us thyself in kingly deeds,
And on a kingly throne!"

No answer?—yes! one loving cry;
Piercing a whole world through;
"Father forgive them!—though I die—
They know not what they do!"

They did not know the Christ they scorn.

Would claim a kingly part;
And, where the flower of faith is born,
Reign in each loving heart!

They did not know that life's impeded
In triumph on a cross;
They did not know that truth is nailed
To grief, and pain, and loss!

They did not know a world is saved
Through blood, and strife, and tears;
And that the name of Christ is graven
On the eternal years!

All Nature Rejoices in

Promise of Easter Day

"It is the time when lilies blow, and clouds are highest up in the air"— poetically speaking. The lilies, it is true, may be still shivering indoors in their delicate white surplises, and the clouds, perhaps, a little uncertain about climbing the empyrean on an early Easter eve, but when the day dawns, they are never far away. Outside, the yellow spangles of the forsythia are brightening the greening lawns; the tulips, the narcissi and the hyacinths are budding in their beds,
and the fragrant bush honeysuckle, which blooms before it leaves, eager for the sun, is scenting the air. In other words, the heralds of spring and of Easter day are abroad. Nature is awakening from its long sleep, heralding the miracle of the glory of renewed life.

Mentally, spiritually, physically, humanity is responding to Nature's call and the inspiration of the day. New ralliment greets us everywhere. Eyes are brighter. The drab colors of winter are gone with the bare trees and the brown grass, and the colors of early spring come in their place to brighten the shop windows and the outward vesture of men and women and the young buds of humanity. The expectant crowds wend their ways to the churches, and inside their portals flowers and music and song blend in fugues of joyous exaltation. Pippa is passing again to proclaim, "All's right with the world!"

That is the spirit of Easter—the day of resurrections, awakenings, renewed hopes, revived faiths. On New Year's day the year's gates are opened and we look ahead; on Easter day, spring's New Year, the promise is at hand, and everything conspires to make us feel that new life is beginning.

Oh, Hearts Bereft

On Easter day, when lilies swing
Their censers in the breeze,
When frail green banners flutter forth
From hosts of brown-clad trees,
Grief seems a stupid thing, today,
For those who went away.

Oh, hearts bereft: If these things be,
If life returns to plant and tree,
Surely the breath that wakes the flowers
From gray earth mold can waken ours.
—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Resurrection

Easter Day

"Welcome, happy morning!" age to age shall say,
Earth her joy confesses, clothing her for spring,
All fresh gifts returned with her returning King:
Bloom in every meadow, leaves on every bough,
Speak his sorrow ended, hail his triumph now.
Hell today is vanquished, heaven is won today.
—From an old Latin Poem.

AN EASTER LUNCHEON

IT'S March 27th this year—that Easter date that we all associate with Easter bunnies,
Easter bulbs and Easter bonnets.
It has become almost synonymous with entertaining, also, because the Lenten fast is over, and, like the pagans of long ago, we feel it a fitting time to feast and be glad.

Let an Easter rabbit bear your luncheon invitation and bid him hop around through the mail, to a half dozen or more friends with the tidings. A clever bunny invitation is a very little cardboard rabbit with very long ears, bearing the lines:

"I'm all ears to hear if you can come
To my Easter Luncheon—to be served at one.
Name..... Date....."

An Easter garden is an attractive idea for your table decorations, and green and yellow, or other pastel shades are appropriate for the color scheme. A table cloth of delicate green with glasses of topaz, which can be bought very inexpensively, will give a floral appearance to your table.
For the centerpiece, build a miniature rock garden on a bed of asparagus ferns. Fill a low bowl with various Easter flowers—daffodils, tulips, narcissi and jonquils, and then build up tiny rocks around the bowl, letting the blossoms come between the rocks to give the idea of a growing garden. For favors, place at each plate a tiny bowl with a growing Easter bulb in bloom.

EASTER LUNCHEON MENU
Iced Orange and Grapefruit Soup
Chicken and Mushroom Loaf
with Sour Cream Sauce
Parsley Potato Balls
Glazed Carrot Slices
Cloverleaf Rolls Tart Jelly
French Artichokes with French Dressing
Cup Cakes with Peach Whipped
Cream
Crystallized Ginger
Coffee Orange Mints

Iced Orange and Grapefruit Soup: Soak two tablespoons gelatin in four tablespoons cold water for five minutes; then dissolve in juice from a No. 2 can of grapefruit which has been brought to the boiling point.
Add six tablespoons sugar, three and one-half cups orange juice and six tablespoons lemon juice.
Shred the grapefruit fine and add with six tablespoons of orochets (yellow skinned grapes). Tint a deeper yellow, if desired. Chill, stirring often to prevent a solid mixture. Just before serving,

beat well to break up the jelly.
Serve ice cold in glasses.

Chicken and Mushroom Loaf:
Chop the contents of a 12-ounce can of chicken and the contents of an 8-ounce can of mushrooms fine, add four tablespoons chopped green pepper, two teaspoons horseradish, one teaspoon salt, and one-fourth teaspoon pepper,
then add a cup and a half of soft crumbs and three eggs which have been slightly beaten. Add the mushroom liquor to make moist but not too wet. Place a few slices of bacon on the bottom of a greased loaf pan, pack in the mixture, place more bacon on top and bake in a hot oven—400 degrees—for about forty-five minutes. Turn out on a hot platter, and serve with sour cream sauce.

Cup Cakes with Peach Whipped Cream: Boil one-half cup sugar and one-third cup water to 233 degrees, or the thread stage. Pour slowly over four well-beaten egg yolks, beating constantly until cool. Add three-fourths cup of mashed canned peaches, which have been drained, and almond flavor to taste. Add six macaroons rolled or broken into small pieces and one-half cup of beaten cream. Serve over delicate little cup cakes. The mixture may be tinted with yellow coloring to carry out the yellows in the menu.

Welcome the Easter Morn

THE Easter services at Hollywood, Calif., are held in a large amphitheater called the Hollywood Bowl. Here
each year a huge altar is erected and a union service held that is attended by upward of 40,000 persons.

Not many years ago a huge rock altar and a great white cross were erected on the topmost tip of Mount Helix, not far from San Diego.

In the heart of the residential district of San Francisco there rises a conical shaped hill that in the early days of the city was called Lone mountain. It bore this name until the death, some years ago, of Prof. George Davidson, a noted geographer and scientist, when it was renamed Mount Davidson in his honor. When the custom of holding Easter sunrise services spread to San Francisco, this low mountain was selected and on its crest
a huge white electrically lighted cross was erected. The original cross stood for several years until it was accidentally burned.

The burned cross has since been replaced by an even larger one, whose white silhouette is one of the points of interest about the city. Standing as it does on its hill unobscured by either trees or buildings, it may be seen from many sections of the city.
It stands out in bold relief against the intense blue of the sparkling California sky.

Easter services also are held at Auburn, in northern California. Here another huge cross has been erected on Aeolia heights, overlooking the canyon of the American river, one of the great gorges of the Sierra foothills.
Many thousands come to these services from all the surrounding country.

For some years services have been held in Bidwell park at Chico. Here there is no hilltop that may be crowned with a cross and hence the services are held in Bidwell park, just on the outskirts of the city.

One of the impressive services in northern California is held near Marysville, when the devout journey toward the Sutter buttes, where a cross has been erected in the pass near the South butte. A natural amphitheater is provided here for the many who come for miles to be present.

Other services are held on Mount Lowe, at Easter Rock, at Rodondo beach, at Pacific Palisades, at Santa Monica, at the huge white pylon surmounted by a cross at Glendale and at Eagle rock, all in Southern California.

It is estimated that the Easter sunrise services throughout the state are attended by approximately 300,000 persons annually. The services in the southern part of the state, naturally, have the largest attendance, for there it has been an annual event much longer than in the northern section.
Also, more such services are held there than in the north.

Many of those from nearby who attend these services begin to come as early as midnight. Many who come from a distance are on the road the day and evening before. Roads leading to the top of these "Mounts of the Cross" are usually crowded with machines and with pedestrians during most of the night before Easter morning. Motorists usually leave their cars parked at the foot of the mount. From there they join those who make the remainder of the journey on foot.

While the services vary in some degree at each of the places where they are held, the generally accepted program begins with a chorus of trumpeters exactly at sunrise. This is usually followed by a hymn in which the huge congregation of the devout join. Then comes a variety of sacred orchestral selections, followed by a silent prayer and a prayer led by some noted divine. Usually there also is an address by some orator of note and a short sermon by a minister or priest selected for the occasion.

The singing of selections by children and other orchestral selections usually closes the service.

Easter and New Finery

Have Long Association

There is one old custom to which womenfolk cling, and, whether they can afford a new rig-out or not, most of them contrive to wear some scrap of new finery on Easter day.

It is not so foolish or meaningless as at first appears. Even before the institution of Easter as the greatest festival of the Christian church, the Feast of Eostre, goddess of spring, was held. The spring festival, when the whole world of nature becomes re-clothed, is a fitting season for new frocks and frills, so good luck became associated with the idea.

In much the same way our "spring cleaning" harks back to early days, when housewives prepared for this great feast by cleaning out the caves, laying down fresh green branches, and beating out the dust from the skins and furs on which the family had slept during winter.

Robbed While in Jail

Portland, Ore.—While Paul Bac-alaris was serving a jail term, some one stole $130 of clothing from his hotel room, he complained to police.

Kills Sleeping Father

Aberdeen, Miss.—Her father was "mean" to her, so she went to his bedside and killed him with a shotgun while he slept.

Martha Cooper, nineteen-year-old daughter of R. J. Cooper, forty-two, confessed here.

TANEYTOWN LOCALS

Items of news from town, or vicinity are always wanted for this column. Especially accidents, sales of real estate, fires, important happenings, visits to or from the community social events, and all matters of general interest to those at home, and away from home.

This column is not for use in advertising any money-making program, fair, supper, party or sale; except for non-denominational charities or special benefits, Fire Company or Public Library support, Churches, Lodges, Societies, Schools, etc., are requested to use our Special Notice Department for money-making events.

Most of the sick cases in town, reported last week, are gradually improving.

Miss Pauline Brining is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Brining.

Mrs. Harry E. Feeser spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knapp, at Baltimore.

Ernest Graves, Jr., of Washington, D. C., is visiting at the home of his aunt, Miss Amelia H. Birnie.

Miss Jane Long, of Lutherville, is spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claudius Long.

Miss Grace Witherow, of Washington, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Witherow.

Mr. and Mrs. Norval Shoemaker, spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Norval Shoemaker, Jr., at Muddy Creek Forks, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mehning, son Richard, daughter, Idona were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur Mehning, at Silver Springs, over the week-end.

Mrs. Norval Shoemaker returned home, Sunday, after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bigham, at New Oxford. Mrs. Bigham who had been ill is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Ross Fair and daughter, Anna Mae; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Fair and son, Jimmy, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Angell, at Sykesville, Md.

The Fire Company answered two silent alarms to chimney fires on Tuesday, one at the home of Allen F. Feeser and the other at the home of Theodore Hill. No damage resulted at either place.

Mrs. P. B. Englar was taken suddenly ill, on Thursday morning, of last week, the attack developing into a case of partial paralysis, of the right side, due to high blood pressure. Since the attack she has grown slightly better.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Albaugh and daughter, Esther, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Albaugh at New Midway, on Sunday. Mrs. Albaugh, who has been very ill for several weeks, still remains in a critical condition.

The stiff wind, of Tuesday, was decidedly freakish at times, and inclined to be unruly with property. One of its stunts in town was to make a good sized hole in the slate roof of Mrs. Frank Palmer's dwelling, on East Baltimore St.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. V. Arnold, left for Marshall, Mo., Tuesday, March 22nd., about 80 miles east of Kansas City. Mr. Arnold, an engineer of the United States Engineering Department, will be in Government work, on the Missouri river.

For the first time in quite a long while, there will likely be a small surplus of vacant dwellings in town, about April 1, and perhaps a store room or two. This is of course the result of the prevailing depression, that is worse in most other towns than in Taneytown.

There is a more or less mysterious automobile, with a very distinctive voiced horn, that visits Taneytown several nights a week between midnight and 2 P. M. It appears to use signal toots, that may have a clear meaning to some, especially if it represents a lost-leg industry.

A brigade of wild geese, in proper flying order, aeroplaned over Taneytown into Pennsylvania, on Tuesday about noon. They were flying well up with band playing, and steering to a due north course as though the leaders knew where they wanted to go. If they kept up their speed, they should have reached Lake Erie in time for late supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Shearer, sons Jacob and Stewart, of Spring Grove; Mr. and Mrs. John Joseph's and Miss Miriam Brennen, of Fair Station, Pa., visited at the U. B. Parsonage, Saturday night. Mr. Albert E. Creswell, father of Mrs. Earl E. Redding, visited Rev. and Mrs. Redding and family over the week-end. Sunday visitors at the parsonage were Mrs. Albert Creswell and Mr. and Mrs. Roby Creswell and Lewis Creswell, all of Baltimore. Mr. Mauro Baradi and Mr. Max Valier, of Washington, D. C., who are native Filipinos, were entertained by Rev. and Mrs. Earl E. Redding and family, Sunday and Monday.

Miss Margaret Elliot, who has been ill, is going about some, and in general is considerably improved in health.

Mrs. Chas. G. Boyd and daughter, of Brooklandville, Baltimore County, was a visitor to Taneytown, on Wednesday.

The old stable on the Central Hotel lot, is being torn away. It is said that it will be replaced by a large building to be used as a garage.

Construction work on the new store room for Reindollar Brothers & Co., is proceeding as rapidly as varying weather conditions permit, and will soon be under roof.

As we have received but three solutions to the Wheat and Rye problem, published last week, neither of which were correct, we withhold the right answer until next week. Come along, experts in mathematics!

Miss Molly Wheatley, teacher in the Elementary Grades, of Taneytown High School, left Thursday noon, to spend the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Wheatley, Eldorado, Md.

Our working force this week, has been more or less held down to the publication and mailing of Sons of America, a quarterly, the result being that our usual speed with job printing has been considerably interfered with; but as the publication is now in the mails, we shall get on regular schedule during the coming week, and try to catch up.

Mrs. Helen Gunn Birnie, wife of Col. Rogers Birnie, died at her home in New York City, Sunday, March 20, after a brief illness of pneumonia. She is survived by her husband and daughter, Mrs. Ernest Graves, Washington, D. C., and two grandsons, Rogers Birnie Horgan and Ernest Graves, Jr. Interment was on Wednesday, at West Point.

The sale of stock, implements and household goods, held on Wednesday by Mrs. Clarence E. Smith, near New Windsor, was one of the largest ever held in that community. A large crowd of people came in between 700 and 800 autos. The sale lasted 5½ hours, in which time J. N. O. Smith sold over 600 articles. A mule 25 years old was sold for $100.00. This sale was nearly all for cash, which is true of various sales held this Spring.

DIG IN AND WIN.

My boy; it's a pretty good 'world, you'll find
If you look straight ahead and don't look behind,
Though it snows sometimes,
And it blows sometimes,
And you think it is flooded with woes sometimes,
It's a glad old world,
And a sad old world—
Or a bad old world
When you make it so,
But just bear in mind, wherever you go,
That somewhere the grand old sun's aglow.
"Git up and git"
And a lot of grit
Are the things that label a man as "fit."
There's a shadow here and a dark place there,
But you'll find the sunshine is everywhere
If you look for it. Chirp up! Elate!
Rub the word "Pessimist" off your slate
Meet the knocks with a grin,
But never give in,
And sooner or later, you're bound to win!
—Selected.

U. S. Revenue Dropped Off Billion in 1931

Washington.—Internal revenue collections dropped more than a billion dollars in 1931 as compared with 1930, the Treasury department reported.

Tax revenues from all sources last year amounted to $1,914,054,622 while in 1930 they totaled $2,932,966,060. The biggest drop was in income taxes, though revenues from this source still accounted for most of the receipts.

The report shows a total of $1,368,035,467 in income taxes was collected last year as compared with $2,332,968,393 in 1930.

Of this amount $800,808,537 was collected from corporations and $567,226,929 from individuals in 1931. During the previous year corporations paid $1,090,372,611. This shows a drop of almost 50 per cent in income taxes paid by individuals.

City's Records Safe as Police Can't Open Safe

Newport News, Va.—Police records of this city are absolutely safe against any kind of disclosure. Not even the officials can get to them, all because the outside door of the safe was closed unwittingly by some one who did not know the rule that it was necessary to keep this large outer door open at all times because no one knew the combination.

A 1932 Baby Daughter Is Named "Depression"

New York.—Joseph Jacobs, unemployed painter, decided on a name for his first child. He considered the state of his finances, the name of the street on which he lives and announced: "We are naming her 'Miss Depression.'"

RHINE FORTRESS IS SLOWLY CRUMBLING

Stars and Stripes Once Flew From Its Ramparts.

Washington, D. C.—Ehrenbreitstein, frowning fortress on the east bank of the Rhine opposite Koblenz, is weakening. Enemy guns have often shaken the lofty fortress but this time nature is making the attack. Recently huge boulders have loosened from its foundations, leveling vineyards in their path to the highway which they blocked below.

"It is nearly 400 feet to the crest of the rock on which Ehrenbreitstein fortress is perched," says a bulletin from the National Geographic society.

"The north, east and west sides of the rocks are cliffs so precipitous that the fortress is almost unapproachable from these directions. The south side, though it has a winding roadway, also is not easily accessible. Where Stars and Stripes Flew.

"The central fort of Ehrenbreitstein thrusts castlelike above the double line of works surrounding it. The fortress is the successor to a Roman fort that crowned the rock centuries ago when Koblenz was a little settlement called Confluentia. A portion of the central fortress now standing has dominated the Rhine valley since the Eleventh century. In 1631 the French occupied the fort for six years. The most recent foreign flag to adorn its ramparts was the Stars and Stripes which fluttered over the fort from December, to January, 1923, while it was occupied by the American forces in Germany.

"Perhaps few spots in the Rhine valley offer more magnificent panoramas. Above and below Koblenz the Rhine shore line is dotted with quaint villages that resemble pearls strung on a silver string. Their steep backyards are well-kept vineyards that give the river banks the appearance of having recently been combed by a coarse instrument. Topping many rocky summits above the vineyards are castles—some occupied and some in ruins—which once echoed the voices of the great and near great of Europe in celebration of historic events.

"Although the Rhine flows between Koblenz and Ehrenbreitstein, the traveler views the town from such height that it appears almost at its immediate base. Three bridges, one of which is of the pontoon type, span the Rhine at Koblenz.

Old Koblenz Is Hidden.

The city is snugly built between the Moselle and Rhine rivers with a colossal statue of William I mounted on a massive stone foundation, adorning the point where the two rivers meet. From the statue to the end of the city along the Rhine shore, there is a continuous promenade, canopied with shade trees and here and there studded with small flower-filled parks. The land side of the promenade is flanked with villas set in gardens, and quaint eating places, including outdoor cafes. There, while the traveler sips the finest of Rhine wines, he may watch Koblenz astroll at his elbow and the commercial parade on the river beyond.

"What does Koblenz do for a living" and "What happened to the town that was here 2,700 years ago," are questions visitors ask. One observes few old buildings. There are no sooty smokestacks to mar the skyline punctuated by graceful spires of churches. The quay on the Rhine is clean and devoid of cargo, and warehouses are conspicuously absent from view.

"These questions are not answered until one penetrates the modern city and finds oneself in a small district on the banks of the Moselle beyond the echo of the Rhine. Here commercial Koblenz is abstruse. Barges come and go from the quays, the near-by streets rumble under the pounding steel rims of heavy cart wheels drowning out the noises emanating from piano, paper and dye factories and chemical laboratories. This is commercial Koblenz and ancient Koblenz. Its winding streets and buildings, though not 2,700 years old, have watched the progress of several centuries."

Kills Teacher; Jumps to Death From Window

New York.—Miss Yvonne Bouche, thirty-two, who taught French in the Finch school, was shot and killed in her apartment in Claremont avenue by her sweetheart, Mauro Fallisi, who then ended his own life by jumping from a window.

Miss Bouche, who came to this country about five years ago, shared her apartment with the Misses Lena and Elsie Gilbert, sisters. They were awakened shortly before midnight by the sound of loud voices in Miss Bouche's bedroom, followed by a burst of shots.

The Misses Gilbert were unable to advance any explanation other than that obviously there had been a lovers' quarrel. Two notes, both written in Italian, were found in Fallisi's pocket, but the police declined to reveal their contents.
