COMMUNITY LOCALS

This column is not for use in advertising any money-making program, fair, supper, party or sale. It is intended for news, personal, and such matters as may be of community interest.

Churches, Lodges, Societies, Schools, etc., are requested to use our Special Notice Department for money-making events.

Churches are especially given free use of our Church Notice Column, for brief notices concerning regular or special services. Larger events will be cared for elsewhere in our columns.

Mrs. Jacob Null, of Hanover, formerly of this place, who has been ill for some time, is improving nicely.

Mrs. M. H. Reindollar who has been confined to her bed for the past ten days is now able to sit up in her room.

Mrs. Milton Baum, Baltimore, spent several days this week caring for her sister, Mrs. Emma Rodgers, who has been ill.

Miss Elizabeth Annan and Miss Amelia Annan, of Washington, are spending the week-end with Miss M. Amelia Annan.

Wednesday evening, Feb. 28, at 7 o'clock, a Mission study class will be held at the home of Mrs. Merle Ohler. Everyone welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes and daughters, Louise and Betty, son Fred, of Emmitsburg, spent Saturday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mort.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Coolidge received word on Thursday morning of the sudden death of Mrs. Coolidge's father, at Hudson, Mass. The family left during the day to attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Merwyn C. Fuss entertained on Thursday at dinner at their home: Mr. and Mrs. John Marker, of Littlestown; Mr. and Mrs. John H. Skiles and son, John Merwyn, of town, and Miss Alice Fuss.

Be sure to patronize the annual Firemen's Supper, at the Firemen's building, this Saturday evening. In order to accommodate the expected large attendance, the serving of meals will commence at about 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gannon, Miss Catherine Gannon and Howard Gannon, of Denton, Md., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tracey, Mrs. Elizabeth Dill, of Easton, Md., is a guest at the Tracey home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Merwyn C. Fuss were entertained along with the other Grand Lodge Officers and their wives at a birthday dinner, last Sunday at the home of the Grand Master and wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Mason, of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Hesson entertained at dinner on Friday evening in honor of their 54th wedding anniversary. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Hesson, Mr. and Mrs. Doty Robb and daughter, Mary Joe, and Miss Olive Garner.

The Middleburg road, now open to travel clear through from Taneytown to Middleburg, is reported to be a very good road for all kinds of use. Since the bridge is "out" at Bruceville, it is the shortest way to travel from Taneytown to Keymar.

While The Record does not have a long list of Public Sales in our Sale Register, we do have a fair showing of detailed Public Sale advertising, showing that the value of The Record as a sales helper is appreciated. Read these advertisements and patronize them.

Robert S. McKinney, who had been bedfast for a week, has sufficiently improved as to be able to sit up. Miss Jennie Galt, his assistant in the Drug Store, has also been too ill to be on duty. The store has therefore been closed, except that Mrs. H. I. Reindollar opens it in the evening.

Last Sunday morning, the siren, for the first time in history, called out the Fire Company twice for town fires. The first was at 4:30 A. M., at the Shell Service Station, and the second was at 11:30 at Wm. E. Burke's dwelling for a chimney fire. The response of the Firemen was prompt in both cases, and the damage was very small.

George W. Shriner and Marlin L. Shriner, proprietors of Big Pipe Creek Park, have purchased of Fielder Gilbert his 125 acre farm adjoining the east side of the Park. There is about 25 acres of heavy timber land that will be made an addition to the Park, increasing the acreage to about 50 acres. New developments in the Park will be started at once.

After a short business meeting of the Junior 4-H Girls Club, held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mary Louise and Margaret Zentz the members enjoyed a valentine party of games and songs, including "Little Sir Echo," "America," and closing with "Sing Your Way Home." Those at the party other than the hostesses were Cardella Mackley, Julia Arnold, Rose Marie Rohrbach, Lorraine Bankard, Lois Ann Hitchcock, Josephine Hess, Betty Lou Royer and Betty Linton. Delicious refreshments were served.

LETTER FROM CHINA

A Christmas Story that Comes Two Months Late.

The Record received, during the past week, a letter from Rev. H. G. C. Hallock, who is doing Missionary work among Chinese children. Those who have contributed to this cause, will be interested in the letter that is dated on Christmas Day 1939, from Room 215, Missions Building, 169 Yuen Ming Yuen Road, Shanghai, China. We are always glad to receive, and publish Rev. Hallock's letters.

Dear Friend:

Your generous gift is received and my Brownies and I greatly appreciate your kindness and thank you ever so much.

Our Christmas treats are over for this year and I am glad, for I am tired, but very happy, too, for with your help, I have given more than a thousand little ones in a number of places a Merry Christmas treat. One Sunday School of 150 Brownies was in a chapel in a graveyard in the very middle of Shanghai. It was of refugee children from a building that had been destroyed. One was in a church a few hundred feet from the captured native city. One of 150 is in a refugee camp where we met under a matting tent open at both sides. The children carried in their own seats. We were thankful that the day was one of beautiful sunshine. One Sunday School of 300 Brownies was the most exciting for it is in a one story building where the little ones were crowded in like sardines.

We began at eight in the morning and finished just now at slightly before six in the evening. The whole day has been a rush of excitement and hard work. The little ones came early and were anxious lest there would not be enough for all. But they were relieved and delighted when they received their presents and said a bright, "Zia-zia-noong,"—Thank, thank, you.

Most of the Sunday Schools had little Christmas programs, singing Christmas Carols, acting out the Christmas story, the coming of the angels to announce Baby's birth, the visit of the shepherds, the giving of gifts by the wise men, all done remarkably well for the space at their disposal. I talked to them about Jesus being the Joy-Bringer, bringing joy into a dark and unhappy world. Then I urged that if they would have room for Him in their hearts He would be a Joy-Bringer to them forever.

Then I told them our gifts were not from ourselves; but were from you boys and girls and grown-ups in America, who had sent us money to buy gifts for them, that you had sent your loving Christmas greetings, and wishes that might give their hearts to Jesus as their best Christmas present. They sent their bright greetings and thanks back to you.

I had a new experience at one of our Sunday Schools. After we had distributed the presents and supposed the children had hurried home to enjoy their presents, we started from the building. We were surprised to find the little ones lined up on either side of the road and waving their hands high up in greeting and singing "Merry Christmas, Heh Sien-sen." I was taken by surprise but waved back as I and my helpers passed on our way.

Friends, I thank you all for your generous gifts and for giving me the privilege of being your representative in making so many little ones happy. It is truly more blessed to give than to receive. I warn you that I'll be coming to you for gifts in time to give my Brownies another Merry Christmas in 1940. I am sure your Christmas was happier because you helped make my little Brownies happy on this side of the world. May God bless you and make 1940 a prosperous year to you. Yours gratefully in Christ's glad service,

(Rev.) H. G. C. HALLOCK.

REVIVAL SERVICES IN TANEYTOWN U. B. CHURCH.

A three-week Revival services will begin on Sunday, Feb. 25, at 7:30 P. M. The Rev. E. O. Moser and the pastor of the church will bring the messages from time to time. The services of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith, singers from York, and who is on W O R K, York, each Saturday evening with the Ralph Boyer program, will be given on this Sunday, in the Sunday School period and also at night. These people are real gospel singers.

The former pastor, Rev. W. C. Wachter, of the Spring Creek Charge, York, will be the messenger on Wednesday evening, Feb. 28. There will be special music also.

The Rev. Kenneth Reissinger, of Greenmount U. B. Church, will bring the message on Friday night, March 1, with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith as the singers for the evening.

Rev. Rittenhouse and the Hammer Sisters who broadcast each Saturday over WFMD, Frederick, will be with us on Saturday night, March 2nd., to bring the message in songs and word of God on that night.

Each evening beginning on Monday night, there will be a Bible study and song singing with the children beginning at 6:45 o'clock. The public is invited to attend these services.

TANEYTOWN SCHOOL WILL BE ENLARGED.

A Need that has been Urgent for Several Years.

An advertisement appears in this issue of The Record for bids for a needed larger school building in Taneytown. The present building and its temporary additions have been inadequate for growing school needs almost from the erection of the first building, and the Board of Education and County Commissioners deserve commendation for their recognition of this fact.

The Taneytown building was one among the first to be erected in Carroll County, and as the new High School plan was then in its infancy, it was considered ample for future needs for a long time; but as in many other instances the public erred in its judgment, not foreseeing later requirements.

During the history of the Taneytown school excellent principals have been the rule, aided by well qualified teachers in the grades and higher positions; but their work has been hampered because of lack of room.

ATTEND WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

Mervyn C. Fuss, Doty Robb, Chas. F. Cashman, B. Walter Crapster, John O. Crapster and Rev. L. B. Hafer attended a special Washington's Birthday celebration held by Washington Lodge No. 3, A. F. & A. M., in the Grand Lodge Room, Baltimore, on Thursday evening.

Features of the occasion were a visitation of a delegation from the Fredericksburg (Va.) Lodge where Washington was initiated, who brought with them the old Bible, now preserved in a glass case, which was used in the Lodge when Washington was initiated.

A military guard from Camp Holabird presented the American Flag in a fine ceremonial.

The officers of the Grand Lodge visited in a body and conferred the Master Mason's degree upon a candidate. Former Mayor Willet, of Fredericksburg, gave a splendid historical address on Washington and his connection with the Lodge.

STORY OF A MISSIONARY FOR CHINA.

Rev. George R. Snyder, for twenty years a Missionary of the Reformed Church, stationed at Yuanling, Hunan, China, will speak at a special service in the Reformed Church in Taneytown, on Wednesday evening, February 28, at 7:30.

Yuanling is in the center of Hunan Province in China, and has been the victim of repeated air raids by the Japanese during the last year. Mr. Snyder saw four such raids, and on one occasion saw bombs drop within one hundred and fifty yards of his home. He has an interesting story which should be heard by everyone. Not only members of the Reformed Church but members of other churches in the community and all persons generally are invited to hear Mr. Snyder.

Mr. Snyder will address the students of the school on Wednesday afternoon, and will be the guest of the Kiwanis Club at its regular meeting on Wednesday evening at 6:00 o'clock.

TANEYTOWN SCHOOL NEWS.

The Parent-Teachers' Association of the Taneytown School will meet in the school auditorium on Thursday night, Feb. 29, at 7:30 o'clock. The elementary grades are planning to present a program featuring a safety play and various musical numbers.

Bids for the new addition to the Taneytown School will be asked for during the week of February 26-March 1st.

An elimination game for the Junior Basketball Championship will be played against Mt. Airy at that school on Friday, Feb. 23, with the Freshman and Sophomore teams participating.

The varsity basketball team will play against Mt. Airy at Westminster on Feb. 29, in an elimination game for varsity championship.

The students wish to thank all the business places who have contributed toward buying new basketball outfits for the boys' team.

CUTTING DOWN "COLD" BILL

Suggestions from the State Board of Health.

"Winter colds? Watch your diet! Of course proper diet doesn't cure a cold, but it can help to prevent one."

"All protective foods—milk, eggs, fruit and vegetables—are necessary to keep the body in good physical condition, but there are certain foods that are particularly important in maintaining a firm barrier against infection—those which contain Vitamin A."

"Vitamin A is the vitamin that helps to keep the lining of the nose and throat in good condition. It also helps to prevent bacteria from gaining a foothold and causing infection. We need some of that Vitamin every day. We also need a good reserve so that our powers of resistance against infection are as strong as possible."

"Good sources of Vitamin A are: Milk, eggs, butter, green vegetables, such as spinach, kale, turnip tops; yellow vegetables, such as carrots and sweet potatoes; and cod liver oil."

"One pint of milk, three pats of butter, a serving of a green vegetable and an egg, will give about the amount of these foods each person needs in his diet each day."

"More time is lost in school and in work—which also means wages—from colds than from any other cause. And the damage does not end there. The neglected cold often opens the way for more serious diseases, particularly pneumonia and tuberculosis."

"There is no evidence to prove that an extra amount of Vitamin A will clear up a cold after one has started. It is too late, then, to dose yourself with Vitamin A remedies."

"But you can help to protect yourself against colds by including the Vitamin A foods, regularly, in your diet."

"Try this way of cutting down your 'cold' bill."

LINWOOD FARMERS CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION.

Responding to letters sent out by County Agent Burns a large number of farmers met in the Westminster town hall to help solve the present problems of marketing milk to Baltimore. The County Agent explained that there was a widespread demand that something be done to protect the farmers' interests.

The opportunities offered by the Maryland Milk Producers Co-operative was presented by a Director. The plan of the Linwood Farmers Co-operative explained by its secretary. It was generally agreed that one agency selling the entire production of milk would be most effective. Many past grievances with the M. M. P. C. and its predecessor was mentioned.

At the request of Directors of M. M. P. C. for recommendations for a plan of action by M. M. P. C. that would satisfy present independent milk producers the following was unanimously submitted.

As evidence of good faith liquidated damages as stipulated by Maryland State Dairymen's Association contracts with farmers should be paid.

The new one year contract should be approved by competent legal authority.

The flat price paid producers should be the pool price received by M. M. P. Co-operative without deductions except brokerage as paid by other members of the Co-operative.

Dairies desiring to take the uniform production of certain producers through the year should be allowed to purchase that milk at the flat price received by the farmers' brokerage.

If there is a surplus of milk produced for Baltimore consumption as milk and various products requiring Health Department inspection let it be consigned to the Surplus Commodities Corporation or other agency for distribution of low cost food products.

A guarantee of the continuance of the above agreement should be made until a majority of those concerned voted in favor of change.

The meeting adjourned expecting a similar call at a later date.

GEORGE WASHINGTON OUR GREATEST LEADER.

Still lives within the hearts of his countrymen.

The celebration of the 208th. birthday of George Washington was more or less general throughout our land, in one form or another. As years are counted it was his 208th. birthday. As an outstanding American figure, it seems almost as though he always lived as one of the world's best and wisest men, his name stands out, and above all others, since about 176 years ago.

His place in history has been fixed for all time, has never been closely approached. His sayings and acts stand out above those of all others in the line of patriotic citizenship.

Truly, he was the Father of his country, surrendering all personal honors as an object in life; no inclination toward individual political autocracy. He could have been nominated and elected to a third term as President, but declined all solicitations in that direction. All that he was, has been left to posterity as an imperishable model.

"Judge Parke, in his address at Taneytown on the 200th. anniversary of Washington, said 'A man of the purest and serene integrity, of great mental vigor, careful and slow in reaching a conclusion, sound, wise and informed in his judgment, which was unmoved by passion or other consideration, except that of the full and impartial performance of his duty. Washington was vigilant, fearless and prudent in action and constant and inflexible in purpose. He put his fortune, his talents, and his fate at the service of his country.'"

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA CONCERT.

Making their fourth annual visit to Westminster, the National Symphony Orchestra will give a concert in Alumni Hall, Western Maryland College, at 8:15 P. M., Friday, March 8. Dr. Hans Kindler will again conduct.

The National Symphony, under the brilliant direction of Dr. Kindler, has won its right to the distinction of being one of the major orchestras of the United States. Founded in 1931, nine years it has attained such popularity that it is playing 30 concerts in its home city, Washington, and approximately 50 other programs in more than 20 cities in a dozen states.

Dr. Kindler's reputation has traveled even farther than that of his orchestra. His recent concerts in his native Holland, with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at Ravinia Park, the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra in the Hollywood Bowl and with the Symphony Orchestra in Toronto have won him new laurels. In every city where he appeared as guest conductor, his concerts were pronounced among the most successful of the season.

Tickets at $1.00, for the Alumni Hall Concert went on sale Wednesday at Bonsock's, in Westminster, and at Blanche Ward Hall, Western Maryland College. All seats are reserved.

ENDOWMENTS FOR BLUE RIDGE COLLEGE.

Several endowments and funds have recently been acquired by Blue Ridge College through the efforts of the Alumni Association. William B. Anders, president of the association made this fact known today.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Cook, of Churchwarden Road, Baltimore, have established a memorial fund in memory of Mrs. Cook's sister, Annabelle Walker Pardeck. Through this fund a scholarship will be maintained for some student in the music department.

Laura J. Graddick, of Forsythe, Georgia, has established an endowment for the purpose of helping worthy students. Miss Graddick is one of Blue Ridge's oldest living alumni, and made this contribution in honor of her fiftieth year since graduation from Blue Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Roop, New Windsor, will maintain a fund to provide awards for an annual speaking contest, which will be conducted under the supervision of the Professor of Speech at Blue Ridge College. The event will be known as "The Julia Ann Roop Public Speaking Contest."

Prizes will also be provided for an annual essay contest in physics through a fund established by Mr. Stanley E. Rogers, Jr., of Oak Bluffs, Massachusetts. This fund has been given in honor of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Rogers; also of Oak Bluffs. Winners will be announced during future commencement weeks.

All endowments and funds are administered by the Board of Trustees of Blue Ridge College.

The term "Americanism" was said to have been first used by John Witherspoon, president of Princeton University, in 1781. We wonder whether the word means the same now as it meant then? And whether any Princeton man can tell us what the word does mean?

"It was first known that hogs were good to eat, when Japhet ham. It would be a Shen not to Noah thing was good, after trying it."

"It is said that a baby will cry no harder if a pin is stuck into him, than he will when the cat won't let him pull her tail."

FOREIGNERS WANT TO COME

Applications by Many Thousands to U. S. Authorities.

Applications for permission to enter this country are piling up at the American consular offices in the State Department from many thousands, including Hungary, Germany, Austria, Poland, and Czechoslovakia. The applications are said to exceed 600,000 more than the present allotment.

As the sentiment in this country seems more opposed to maintaining present quotas than enlarging them, those in charge of Immigration activities no doubt have a large problem on hand. More than ten times the present allotment of Germans to this country, are among the applicants.

While this movement is growing, jobs are still wanted by the unemployed here—some of it legitimate and real, and some that is made up. For instance, out in Missouri it is claimed that well salaried baseball players are claiming to be "unemployed" between the closing of one ball season to the opening of another.

Employees of factories, at good wages, are reported to be "on relief" each year, when factories close down during "between season" periods. All who live up to income, easily become unemployed.

But, no matter what our own faults may be, this country can not afford to be Santa Claus for the whole world. We may be disposed to help the stranger without our gates, but those within should have first consideration.

WAR NEWS NOTES.

One of the late developments in the European war situation is that of Sweden in refusing to help its neighbor, Finland. It appears to be in both a direct, and an indirect, refusal. Evidently, Sweden thinks it is looking very far into the future, to justify such a position and save their country from being Russianized.

The British destroyer "Daring" was sunk by a German torpedo, on Monday. 157 officers and men were lost. This was their sixth destroyer, and the 25th. naval vessel, lost by Britain since the beginning of the war.

Early in the week conflicting reports were made by Finns and Russians, both claiming important victories. The Finn's claim that they had wiped out entirely the 18th. Russian division.

Activity on the Eastern front report German bombardment of French lines for three days; while French batteries pounded the German town of Perl. None of the fighting was heavy, but more in line of hunting for weak spots.

Sweden appears to be facing an internal crisis, because of the demand of many citizens to help Finland. Norway is also accused of not maintaining strict neutrality. Most of the small nations seem trying to pick the winner in war, thinking thereby to save their own country.

Due to the bombing of Swedish towns by Russian planes, the sentiment in Sweden is turning toward an alliance to help Finland. The interests of the two countries are so identical that Sweden can hardly continue to hold a position of non-intervention.

An open break between Turkey and Russia seems to be pending. Turkey has issued a statement that as soon as any country attacks any Balkan state, it will openly join with the allies.

England has sent to Finland many fighting planes, tanks, field and machine gun and ammunition to Finland with more to follow. Also anti-gas supplies and clothing.

Walter Johnson, once a famous baseball pitcher on the Washington team, is a Republican candidate for the nomination for Congress in the Sixth District. A club has been organized to boost his candidacy.

SALVAGE VALUES.

Sometimes, things of very little, or no cost, have large values. A few words of praise properly bestowed, cost us but very small effort and are just the words that somebody will want in order to "spunk them up," and take fresh courage.

Perhaps we have been passing folks on the sidewalk without a word or smile. It may pay us indirectly, if we speak kindly to a common cur that we pass daily, and are disposed to kick, instead of smile at it.

We should make friends of animals that belong to us, that in some way are necessary to our welfare. No life of any kind should be entirely ignored for we may need it.

There is need every day for the Good Samaritan who distributes cheer in some practical manner. What the cross-word artists call "orts" are of value. The very sweepings from floors from factories, through some form of processing, are turned into trade values. The Salvation Army not only makes a paying business out of gathering up junk, that only represents the salvation of waste but even of human beings, through giving more employment.

Even the gathering up of bones, comes back to us in valuable fertilizers. Yes, it pays to be a salvager, often in dividends that we do not know of. Even right thinking about the lowliest of things has its merits. Think it over!

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1940.

ARE THEY NEGROES—OR "COLORED" AMERICANS?

The Baltimore Evening Sun of February 15 carried a long story, or survey, of the Negro population in Baltimore, by comparison with the white population, in the matter of receiving unemployment relief and old age pensions, that is interesting in more ways than one.

The article was prepared by Thos. J. B. Waxter, head of the Welfare Bureau, and is of course officially correct. We reproduce the following portions of the survey, that represent about one-third of the whole of it, the major portion of the remainder being devoted to greater details by percentages:

"Although Negroes form only about one-fifth of the city's population they make up more than fifty per cent. of the cases in most of the categories of aid provided by the municipal Department of Welfare out of city, State and Federal funds.

This was revealed by a study today of figures made available by the department for all of 1938 and the first months of 1939 and this year. Only in the old-age pension group has the proportion of Negroes been consistently under fifty percent.

This is explained by the fact, according to Thomas J. S. Waxter, head of the welfare bureau, that the mass age of Negroes here is lower than that of the whites.

Mr. Waxter pointed out that the extensive migration of Negroes to the city in the years just after the World War was made up mostly of young people and the proportion of Negroes of pensionable age is lower than among the whites.

In the last six months, said Mr. Waxter, the proportion of colored people in the other categories of age has increased because the boost in re-employment first absorbs a larger proportion of whites, which has the effect of increasing the ratio of Negroes needing aid in relation to the total number of persons in distress.

During last month a total of 17,694 families received assistance here. Of this number 7,975, or 45 percent, were colored. Old-age pensions were paid to 8,018. In this group 2,632, or 33 percent, were Negroes. Those on direct relief totaled 5,069, of whom 2,664, or 53 per cent were colored."

Naturally, the political side of it is omitted, but there evidently is such a side to the figures because Negroes have that very tangible commodity that we call "votes" that play such a very important part in governmental and administrative affairs. Votes of Negroes can now be counted, and without much difficulty, since "Jim Crow" laws and trick ballots have largely disappeared, along with the ignorance of the said Negroes.

It is the fact that Baltimore does not stand alone, in such a survey, as it is but one of the large northern cities that in recent years have received a heavy migration of the Negro votes from the Southern states. The lure northward has largely been due to the numerous new deals that have been invented within the past eight years, causing these same per centages and benefits. Mr. Waxter's "one-fifth" also appears in Philadelphia and New York.

So, now the "nigger in the woodpile" is much more clearly in evidence, and it is a pertinent question to ask—Why call him a Negro? Why not a "colored American voter" with a ballot to cast?

It is true, however, that this new citizen has not yet drawn much outside of "benefits" paid out of a Treasury kept filled by taxpayers. He has not, as yet, drawn many official positions, is not yet to any extent on Police forces but draws street-cleaning jobs. But, with patience and a showing of votes, he is likely to "get there" or be demanding the reason why?

WISE STATISTICIANS?

In a recent number of Pathfinder we found several horrible examples of what appears, from the efforts of our wise statisticians, picturing results that may look far in the future. We reproduce one of them:

"Basing its conclusions on data contained in its insurance policies, the Metropolitan Insurance Company declares American women weigh less today than they did 15 years ago. In 1922 and 1923, the average weight of women five feet four inches tall and from 20 to 24 years old was 127 pounds; today the average weight of women of the same height and age group is 122 pounds."

This is pretty alarming for the future of our female sex; but mere weight does not tell the whole story; for with loss in weight must surely come loss in stature—dwarfs, perhaps. Figure it out for yourselves, beauty parlor graduates.

WAITING FOR PUBLIC SENTIMENT.

The Republican National Committee, through its chairman, Glenn Frank, has published a very long list of favored and modified, and more economical "new deals," evidently recognizing the fact that a clean sweep can not be made, all at once, and thereby satisfy a majority of voters.

He is of course opposed to the "third term" possibility, but aside from that his efforts may be considered as a big "feeler" of public sentiment that should show itself before the Republican platform is built later on. The Baltimore Evening Sun, of Monday, had the following to say on the subject:

"After two years of investigation, conference and deep thought the Republican Program Committee, headed by Dr. Glenn Frank, comes forward with a 33,000-word report which offers, in effect, a New Deal with some differences. Although the committee recommends all sorts of reforms, such as amendment of the National Labor Relations Act, broadening of the Social Security Act, a new basis for reciprocal treaties and a twenty per cent cut in the total budget, it is interesting to note that it does not suggest that the country stop doing these things altogether. The New Deal should be cheaper, it should be managed more efficiently and run by Republicans instead of Democrats—but, unless we misread the Frank report, the Republicans think we ought to retain, in one form or another, most of the functions which the New Deal brought into being.

The report will not please Republicans who feel that the occasion calls for a knock-down, drag-out fight on the New Deal and all it stands for. There will be many who will question the strategic wisdom of fighting the New Deal with a not-quite-New Deal. Perhaps, however, Dr. Frank is right when he concludes this long document with the observation: "This report is built around the conviction that all groups—farmers, workers, businessmen, industrialists, the young and the old—have a common stake in the revision of American enterprise. There may be conflicts of policy between them; there cannot be conflicts of interest." If that is so, it is reasonable strategy not to make too sweeping promises to obliterate all the laws and agencies which the majority have been led to believe are in this common interest."

ALARMED.

Some time ago an editorial appeared in The Bel Air Times entitled "Enforce the Law," having reference to tavern keepers. It was taken up and backed by the Brewers Institute of Maryland, Inc., an association of the leading brewing companies of the state. The editorial asks:

"What would happen if the professional dries have their way and we go back to the days of the noble experiment?"

Without question there is alarm in the camp. We have been hearing multitudes of sensible, intelligent people predicting that prohibition is coming back, but we are not accustomed to having the brewers raise the question.

The editorial referred to raises the old scare about "moonshine," "the vile speak-easy," "sneaking up an alley," and similar horrors. It says:

"We now have legal beer. And when we put all ducks in a row we must admit that the country is better off under the present system than it was under the days of the dry experiment."

No, gentlemen, we do not admit that the country is better off than under prohibition. With the vast number of taverns, tap rooms, road houses, patronized as they are by young and old, the situation is infinitely worse, and thousands who voted for repeal, acknowledge it.

The brewing fraternity may put up a bold bluff about enforcing the law, but sensible people will not be fooled. The liquor interests never were a law-enforcing agency and they never will be. The success of the business depends upon victims and you can not be particular about how and where they are caught.

The remedy for our ills is to go back to prohibition, with no "experiment" about it. The whole liquor business is a delusion and a snare, and if we are to have prosperity and happiness we must "scotch" it as a poisonous thing. We must have governors and presidents as determined to enforce that law as they are about the making of counterfeit money.

The old argument about the help of the taxes paid by the liquor business is repeated. Certainly repeal brought tax relief with a vengeance! It sounds like the argument of the serpent in the Garden of Eden. You might as well apologize for murder as to refer to that.

No wonder there is alarm in the camp. —L. B. H.

NEW LAMPS FOR OLD.

First inflation then repudiation. That was Germany's way of settling her debt. Are we steering the same course?

The American Government is a big business—the biggest in the world, and each citizen is a stockholder, and each one over twenty-one years of age has not only a voice, but a vote in choosing the manager.

Nearly eight years ago bad times, and panic struck us and by 1932 our then manager had added several billion dollars to our indebtedness, and we the stock-holders began to look around for a new manager. One applicant for the job was a governor of one of our important states who vociferously deplored the plunge we were making in accumulating debt, and in doing so criticised severely the then manager, and promised, if given the job, he'd reduce the expenses for conducting the business by at least 25 percent, and the people believed him, and chose him as manager.

Did he keep his promise? Not exactly! For a few months he did pretty well, then he began to pet one class of his stockholders, and to abuse another class. His petting and favoritism was of the class that had but little responsibility, and paid little or nothing toward running the business, but they seemed to have a majority of the votes needed to elect the manager.

Result! At the end of four years the manager was re-elected by overwhelming majority, even tho his management had almost bankrupt the business.

The second four years term is almost up, and each year the manager has thrown the business further into the red, yet a lot of the clerks in his office are clamoring for his returning tho no manager in the history of the business has ever before served more than two terms.

It is up to all the stockholders in the business to say whether they want this manager who has had such poor success, or whether they prefer to try a new manager for a spell. You and I, stock-holders, will settle that.

Do we want a change? National business now is 20 billion dollars below what it was in 1929; the National debt is almost 50 billions and 10 million remain unemployed. Can we stand it? Can the country endure the strain? We think it can, and will, but why should it continue to do so when we can stop it? Did you ever know a spendthrift who was a success? This National debt is a mortgage on every home and every business in the country.

Shall we permit a reckless manager and indifferent clerks to plunge us deeper in debt until ruin over-takes us? Or shall we seek a new manager who will consider the business a serious affair and help us show profit instead of annual loss? You and I will decide that in November 1940. W. J. H.

OUR NEIGHBOR MEXICO.

It sounds harsh to say of a neighbor nation that its government is dealing in stolen goods. But that is just what the present Mexican government is doing.

To make matters even worse, that government repeatedly has announced its intention to use part of these stolen goods to "pay off" the people from whom it stole them. It did so recently in reply to the Richberg report when it inferentially pointed out that it now would be able to pay for the confiscated oil properties since it "now owns a notoriously productive oil industry" whose revenues will be "preferentially destined to the payment of an indemnity."

This is a raw deal, if ever there was one. Nearly two years ago the Mexican government suddenly seized the properties of the leading American, British and Dutch oil companies in Mexico—properties valued at hundreds of millions of dollars—and kicked out the owners and operators, after taking all their private papers and even the money which they had in the bank.

When pressed for return of the stolen properties they refused flatly, but grudgingly said that they might be willing to pay the owners with a small part of the surplus oil, provided the owners would agree to a valuation of their properties at less than ten cents on the dollar.

In other words, if the owners would agree to settle for a sum that represented only a fraction of the true worth of the property, the Mexican government would be willing to pay for this in oil.

What this amounts to is that the thief expects to be let off punishment provided he repays the owner a few cents on the dollar out of the profit of the stolen goods.

What are the facts? That the oil properties in Mexico were developed by foreign capital, foreign technical skill and foreign enterprise; that hundreds of millions of dollars were spent by foreigners in Mexico to make these properties productive; that title to these properties had been repeatedly confirmed under the Mexican constitution; Mexican laws, decisions of the Mexican Supreme Court, and in international agreements; that despite this, the Mexican government took over these properties, has made no compensation to date, and has shown every unwillingness to make a fair settlement.

The oil which the Mexican government has obtained from the foreign properties does not belong to the Mexican government, either legally or morally. Yet Mexico has been using this oil, has been trying to sell it to foreign nations, and has even offered to give a little of it back to its owners provided the owners will forgive all, and will forget that it ever belonged to them, and provided they will never again make any claim for the rest of the oil and properties that has been stolen from them.

No wonder the owners refuse to consider seriously such an absurd proposal. What would your answer be if a man stole your auto and then offered you the carburetor provided you would take no action for the return of the car?—N. I. News Service.

E. F. SCHILDT'S HATCHERY PRODUCES QUALITY BABY CHICKS.

People in this section who raise poultry for profit will be interested in the service rendered by the E. F. Schildt's Hatchery, whose postoffice address is Taneytown, Md., R. D. 1.

Mr. Schildt has been engaged in the poultry business for some fifteen or eighteen years and since moving to his present location has installed the latest type Robbins incubators, which are fully automatic and electrically operated. The plant is modern in every respect and has a hatching capacity of 32,000. Here custom hatching is done for the trade and nine breeds of baby chicks, viz: Barred Rock, Buff Rock, White Rock, W. Leghorn, W. Wyandotte, R. I. and N. H. Reds, Black and White Giants, are furnished at attractively reasonable prices. This local concern has several hundred breeds and derives additional eggs for hatching from reliable producers. Baby chicks are from blood tested stock and fully guaranteed. Orders are now being booked for immediate and future delivery by mail or 'phone, Taneytown 28-F-4.

D. D. BASEHOAR CONDUCTS OLD ESTABLISHED FORD AGENCY IN LITTLESTOWN.

Occupying a prominent position among the old established and well known Ford Dealers operating in this section of Maryland and Pennsylvania is D. D. Basehoar, proprietor of the business in Littlestown which bears his name.

With a partner Mr. Basehoar took on the Ford agency back in 1912 and continued this partnership until 1931 when he acquired the entire automobile business. From then on he has been the sole proprietor and active manager.

The building occupied by this enterprising motor car dealer was built expressly to accommodate the business and the latest factory equipment has been installed for the express purpose of rendering the best of service to people at home and at distant points.

Mr. Basehoar is a Ford dealer worthy of the name and every car, truck and tractor sold is properly serviced by factory trained mechanics; which means prompt, dependable service at a minimum cost. No other dealer operating in this section carries the stock of parts, tires, batteries and accessories that Basehoar does, and it is worthy of note that he has parts for tractors and cars for many years back. The latest Ford cars, trucks and tractors are available for immediate delivery and every unit sold is properly serviced by men who know their business. Other makes of cars and trucks are also repaired and overhauled.

Used cars, trucks and tractors taken in on trade are thoroughly reconditioned, are guaranteed and are now priced for quick sale. You can make no mistake in buying your new or used car, truck or tractor from this reliable and dependable local dealer whose reputation for dependable service and reliable dealings is well established.

LITTLESTOWN GARAGE RENDERS COMPLETE SERVICE TO MOTORISTS.

What can be accomplished by close attention to business, coupled with fair, honorable dealings, is well exemplified in the success attained by W. D. Shoemaker, proprietor of the Littlestown Garage, in Littlestown, Pa.

When Mr. Shoemaker took over the business nineteen years ago it was of little importance. His policy then, as now, was to render dependable service to motorists and follow the Golden Rule of fair, honest dealings. By following these cardinal principles he has succeeded where others have failed and has built up a business second to none in this section of Maryland and Pennsylvania.

The Littlestown Garage is the sales and service station for Chevrolet cars and trucks and every unit sold is properly serviced by skilled mechanics who are prepared to render complete service on all makes of cars and trucks. Aside from this the concern carries an extensive stock of parts, tires, batteries and automotive equipment which will be found by comparison to be fair and reasonable.

Used cars taken in on trade are thoroughly reconditioned, put in first-class operating condition and are now priced for quick sale.

Mr. Shoemaker is also engaged in the distribution of fuel oil, kerosene, gasoline and motor oil direct to the trade. He carries these petroleum products in bulk and maintains efficient tank-truck delivery to the trade in this section of Maryland and Pennsylvania.

THE PROTECTION MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO. OF LITTLESTOWN, PA.

An institution worthy and deserving of favorable mention in this business resume of progressive concerns of Littlestown, Pa., is that of the Protection Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Littlestown, Pa., which dates its inception back to 1851 when it was started by a group of local men. Its business has grown and expanded year after year until today it has insurance in force of approximately two and a half million dollars and is steadily forging ahead.

This local concern which does business within a radius of six miles of the home office in Littlestown, Pa., writes a broad policy covering fire and storm. It has no agents, no stockholders and is operated strictly in the interest of policy-holders. It has an enviable reputation for paying all just claims promptly and without quibble.

The business is conducted under the able direction of a strong board of directors with Mr. Frank S. Creager, secretary, directly in charge. You will find this a good company to do business with, one that appreciates the business accorded it by people in Maryland as well as Pennsylvania.

THE LITTLESTOWN NATIONAL BANK—SOUND, SUBSTANTIAL AND PROGRESSIVE.

A sound, substantial and progressive financial institution serving many patrons in this section of Maryland and Pennsylvania, is the Littlestown National Bank, of Littlestown, Pa., which dates its inception back to 1908. During the flowing years it has exercised a great and good influence on the communities served and has rendered helpful assistance to people in all lines of business—commercial, agriculture and industrial.

The Littlestown National Bank stands as a monument of strength in a community that appreciates an institution of this kind. It has a capital of $150,000, surplus and profits of $270,000, and total trust and banking assets of over three million dollars—a showing any bank in a community this size might well be proud of and speaks for itself. The bank is a member of the F. D. I. Corp. and also of the Federal Reserve System.

Here a general banking business is done in its broadest ramifications and interest is paid on savings accounts. The trust department has broad powers enabling it to act in all fiduciary capacities such as trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, etc., and a specialty is made of settling estates. If in making your will you name the Littlestown National Bank your executor you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have adequately safeguarded the interests of your dependents.

The officers of the Littlestown National Bank are men of unquestioned integrity and standing in the community and include: Warren R. Jones, president; A. W. Feesser, vice-president; Arthur E. Bair, cashier; T. W. Spangler, asst. cashier and trust officer, and C. L. Schwartz, asst. cashier.

C. L. MEHRING & CO. OPERATE WELL STOCKED UP-TO-DATE HARDWARE STORE.

The next time you are in Littlestown where the C. L. Mehring & Co. Hardware Store is located why not stop in and just look around? You will be surprised at the hundred and one things they carry in stock to add to your comfort and convenience and to make your work easier. Here is a well stocked attractive store that carries a carefully selected line of general and building hardware, paints, oil, glass and varnish, cutlery, sporting goods, house furnishing goods, garden and farm tools, washing machines, toys, poultry feeds, etc. This local concern also handles Eagle Nest baby chicks of all breeds, R. O. P. mating which are now available at comparatively reasonable cost.

This is an old established business conducted under the able management of Mr. C. L. Mehring, who is personally interested in pleasing and satisfying his many patrons at home and in the surrounding territory.

M. F. FLORENCE SUPPLIES TRADE WITH COAL, WOOD AND FARM EQUIPMENT.

A concern worthy and deserving of favorable mention in this resume of progressive concerns of Littlestown, is that conducted by M. F. Florence.

This enterprising business man has been serving the trade at home and in the surrounding territory with coal, wood and farm equipment for many years and during this long period has established a reputation for quality materials and fair dealings. He handles only legitimately mined coal, both hard and soft, and fire wood for all needs.

Mr. Florence is the local dealer for Oliver Farm machinery and equipment and tractors. He also carries a stock of repair parts and renders prompt dependable service in this line. No mistake can be made in buying new or used equipment from this reputable local dealer.

EBAUGH'S GARAGE, LOCAL PONTIAC AND BUICK SALES AND SERVICE STATION.

When a concern goes steadily on year after year for a quarter of a century it is a pretty good sign that their service and dealings are above reproach. Such is the record of W. F. Ebaugh, proprietor of the Pontiac and Buick sales and service station in Littlestown, Pa. Every new car sold is carefully serviced and used cars taken in on trade worthy of it are thoroughly gone over, carefully checked and put in excellent running condition. You can make no mistake in buying either a new or used car from this thoroughly reliable and dependable local dealer who also carries a stock of repair parts, tires, tubes, batteries and accessories. You will find Mr. Ebaugh ready and willing to meet your needs in his line in a manner that will prove most satisfactory.

Good Things To Eat at SCHOTTIES Littlestown, Pa.

E. A. REBERT HANDLES COMPLETE LINE OF FARM EQUIPMENT.

Success in farming as in other line of endeavor is measured by profit. Farmers of this, as well as other sections of the country, have been quick to accept and apply modern machinery to their use which, invariably, has resulted in greater efficiency, better crops and hence more profit.

Mr. Rebert, proprietor of the business in Littlestown, Pa., which bears his name is a practical farmer, and has made a successful effort to meet the needs of his trade for high grade equipment at comparatively reasonable cost. He is the local dealer for McCormick-Deering farm machinery and Farmall tractors. This concern has come out this year with a complete new line of tractors, the first since 1914. You owe it to yourself to stop in at Rebert's and inspect the new line of tractors and farm equipment which pays for itself in labor cost and greater and better crops.

Every piece of equipment sold by this reliable and dependable dealer is delivered, set up and assistance is given the farmer in its proper operation. Another, and important fact is that Mr. Rebert carries an extensive stock of repair and replacement parts and makes repairs on all types of farm equipment. Such service merits your confidence, good will and patronage.

J. W. BRENDLE CONDUCTS IMPORTANT BUSINESS IN LITTLESTOWN.

An important enterprise in Littlestown is that conducted by J. Walter Brendle, who has been dealing in livestock and poultry for the past twenty-two years. During recent years the lines of trade have been broadened and including the dealing in hay and straw, cattle, hogs, calves, etc., and animals for research work such as guinea pigs, rabbits, dogs, puppies and cats. These animals are bought largely from people in this section of Maryland and Pennsylvania. Mr. Brendle is always in the market for pigeons, has hundreds on hand at all times for his trade. He can be reached by phone, Littlestown, 162-J. A concern of this kind is of real importance in the local territory furnishing a ready cash market for animals, birds and materials handled. You will find this a reliable and dependable concern to deal with.

W. D. NAU CONDUCTS OLD ESTABLISHED BUSINESS.

The marble and granite business conducted by W. D. Nau, in Littlestown, Pa., was established by the father of the present proprietor more than three-quarters of a century ago. During this period the firm has established a reputation for quality materials and workmanship and fair dealings. These cardinal principles have been carefully guarded since Mr. W. D. Nau took over the business back in 1901. He is skilled artisan himself, a designer of cemetery memorials and produces monuments of marble and granite ranging in price from the more moderate up to the most costly. He has an extensive stock of both marble and granite monuments on hand to select from and personally supervises the work on all jobs entrusted to him. For many years past Mr. Nau has served the trade in the local territory and is well and favorably known in this section. There is a decided advantage in buying your cemetery memorial from a reliable and dependable local concern such as this.

WEIKERT'S SANITARY BAKERY PRODUCES COMPLETE LINE OF QUALITY BAKED GOODS.

As the firm name implies Charles M. Weikert, proprietor of the bakery in Littlestown, Pa., which bears his name, operates a strictly sanitary bakery where a complete line of quality baked goods is produced.

During the fourteen years he has been in business at the present location this enterprising business man has developed an extensive trade in this section of Maryland and Pennsylvania. He personally selects the ingredients that go into the products which are made under rigid sanitary conditions by master bakers. The line includes bread, rolls, buns, cakes, pies, etc. A specialty is made of baking cakes to order for special occasions such as weddings, birthdays, etc. An efficient delivery system is maintained which brings the line of fresh baked goods direct to the trade here as well as at home.

KEYSTONE MILLING CO. NOW OPERATED UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP-MANAGEMENT.

People in this section of Maryland and Pennsylvania contiguous to Littlestown, Pa., where the Keystone Milling Co., is located will be interested in learning a word about J. E. Gentzler, the new ownership-management which took over this business the first of the year. Mr. Gentzler has been engaged in the warehouse business in Abbotstown, Pa., for some twenty years, which enterprise he still owns and operates. He came into the local territory with a wealth of experience and is putting that experience into practical use in the way of maintaining the highest standard of service.

The plant of the Keystone Milling Co., is thoroughly modern in equipment and has a capacity of one hundred and fifty barrels of flour daily. Two brands of flour are made, viz: "Kitchen Queen," a quality pastry flour made of soft winter wheat and "White Satin" a blend for bread, rolls and general use. In the making of these two most popular brands of flour only choice, selected grain is used and the manufacturing and handling is done under rigid sanitary conditions. Both of these brands are put up in convenient size sacks and recommended and sold by reliable and dependable dealers at home and in the surrounding territory.

The Keystone Milling Co. is always in the market for quality locally grown grain, paying at all times the highest cash market price. In turn they supply the farmers with high grade feed for all live stock and poultry which feeds are made at the plant of carefully selected ingredients and are thoroughly mixed. Custom grinding and mixing is done for the trade at nominal charge. You will find this a reliable and dependable concern to deal with, one that is interested in pleasing and satisfying its many patrons in both Pennsylvania and Maryland.

I. D. CROUSE & SON HANDLE COMPLETE LINE OF QUALITY BUILDING MATERIALS.

The quality of the materials is the first essential of every structure—whether it be a home, factory, or business building. "What is it built of" should be the first and foremost consideration—second comes the design—then lastly, the heating, the decorations, etc. For while it is always possible to change the latter—the materials and the design are built into the structure and are there to stay, either as a source of increasing comfort—satisfaction, and economy, or if unwisely chosen—to plague the owner and to multiply the upkeep cost as the years roll by.

For the past quarter of a century, Mr. I. D. Crouse, senior member of the firm in Littlestown, Pa., which bears his name has made it a point to handle only quality lumber, roofing materials, lime, cement, plaster and other building materials demanded by people who build to endure. Vast stores of materials are on hand at the yard in Littlestown and all orders received are carefully filled and promptly delivered to all points in this section of Maryland as well as Pennsylvania. More recently Mr. Crouse has taken his son Lloyd E., into the firm and together they are personally interested in pleasing and satisfying the trade and maintaining a service that will continue to merit their good will and patronage.

W. E. KOONS, WELL KNOWN FLORIST OF LITTLESTOWN.

One of the most interesting and pleasing places to visit in Littlestown, Pa., is the greenhouses of W. E. Koons, at 44 Princess Street. Here you will find a wide variety of cut flowers and potted plants, many of which bloom the year around. Vegetable plants are being started for the Spring trade and will be available this year at moderate cost.

The business is owned and managed by Mr. Koons personally, who has many years experience in this particular field of endeavor. He makes a specialty of producing floral designs for all occasions which are made of fresh cut flowers right out of the greenhouses and are delivered with dispatch to all points in the local territory as well as at home where the business is located. Then, too, you will find here a wide selection of flowers for the Easter season when the time arrives for making your selection. This is a thoroughly and dependable concern, the head of which is well and favorably known in Carroll County.

WM. V. SNEERINGER & SONS PRODUCE CRUSHED STONE AND CONCRETE BLOCKS FOR TRADE.

An important enterprise in Littlestown, Pa., that serves a large trade in this section of Maryland as well as Pennsylvania, is that of Wm. V. Sneeringer & Sons, which was established by the senior member of the firm some twenty or twenty-five years ago.

Mr. Sneeringer first began quarrying and crushing stone for road construction and general concrete work. Many roads in the local territory have been built of stone furnished by this well known concern whose reputation for quality material, prompt service and fair dealings is well established.

About twelve years ago the firm began the manufacture of concrete building units and has more recently installed modern power tamper machinery which make it possible to produce products of uniform high quality and at the same time meet all competition as to price.

Sneeringer concrete block for dwellings, garages, barns—in fact, all types of structures, fully answer the problem of the builder who feels that permanency, quality and economy are the chief essentials in building. These blocks are recommended and sold by reliable and dependable dealers in this sections of Maryland who are in a position to fill orders promptly and make deliveries with dispatch to all points in the territory served.

L. B. FROMMEYER, WELL KNOWN FEED MAN, SUPPLIES LARGE LOCAL TRADE.

Farmers, dairymen and poultry raisers operating in the local territory contiguous to Littlestown know, better than we can tell them, just what it means to have a thoroughly well stocked and up-to-date feed establishment such as that conducted by L. B. Frommeyer, operating in this territory. Mr. Frommeyer is a seasoned business man who has many years experience in this particular line of endeavor and is always in a position to supply his trade with quality materials at comparatively reasonable prices.

For many years past he has conducted a like business at Bonnevill, and some four years ago took over the present establishment which was formerly known as the Farmers Feed Store.

At the plant in Littlestown, Pa., will be found a well selected stock of feeds for all live-stock and poultry, including starting, growing and laying mashers. The concern features Purina and Tioga brands of feeds which are high in nutritive value and low in cost—quality considered. This reliable and dependable local concern cooperates with the farmers in furnishing a market for locally grown grain, paying the cash market price and in turn supplying them with feeds, fertilizer and field seed of the highest quality. They also do custom grinding and mixing of feeds to order for the trade, both dry and molasses mixes which service is available to all at a nominal charge. An efficient delivery system is maintained to take care of orders without delay.

I. H. CROUSE & SONS BUILD DURABLE HOME AND SUPPLY BUILDING MATERIAL.

An outstanding concern in its field operating in this section of Maryland as well as Pennsylvania, is that of I. H. Crouse & Sons, of Littlestown, Pa., which business was founded by the senior member of the firm, Mr. I. H. Crouse, some forty years ago in a very small way. Growing and going forward year after year the firm has long since taken its place among the leading contractors and building supply houses operating in the local territory. Two sons C. I. and N. A. Crouse, are actively directing affairs and together with their father have attained a widespread reputation for building fine homes, garages, business structures and public building, etc. They form the nucleus of a strong organization of capable mechanics and are prepared to handle any work in their line including plumbing, heating, sheet metal work and roofing. Careful estimates are cheerfully given on all jobs, large and small, and if the work is entrusted to them it is handled promptly and guaranteed as to materials and workmanship.

Aside from the construction end of the business the firm carries an extensive stock of lumber, both rough and finished, hardwood flooring, various types of roofing materials, paints for inside and outside work, builders' hardware, in fact, everything to build a structure complete from foundation to roof. An efficient delivery system is maintained and all orders for materials are carefully filled and delivered with dispatch to all points in their trade territory.

LITTLESTOWN STATE BANK, GROWING AND GOING FORWARD WITH THE COMMUNITIES IT SERVES.

A good bank to do business with, one that renders prompt, courteous efficient service to all its patrons, is the Littlestown State Bank, of Littlestown, Pa., which was organized by a group of local men in 1935. From its very inception it has made rapid and substantial progress and in closing a successful year in 1939 the officers and directors appreciate the confidence placed in the bank by people in the local territories served and the increasing patronage accorded the institution during that period.

The Littlestown State Bank has as modern, up-to-date equipment as will be found in any bank in Pennsylvania. This makes it possible to expedite the handling of accounts. Here a general banking business is done, commercial and savings accounts handled and interest paid on the latter. Deposits in this bank are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation with $5,000 maximum insurance for each depositor. They are also members of the Federal Reserve System.

The Littlestown State Bank has a capital of $50,000, surplus and undivided profits of $45,000, and aggregate resources of well over $900,000. The officers of the bank are well and favorably known in the community, are men who have made a success of their own undertakings and include: L. D. Snyder, president; Wm. V. Sneeringer, vice-president; Chas. M. Weikert, secretary; Wilbur A. Bankert, treasurer, and Evelyn C. Altoff, asst. treas. This is strictly a local institution directed by men personally interested in the progress and development of the communities served.

E. CHARLES MATTHIAS & SON SUPPLY QUALITY FEEDS.

A concern that has long served the trade at home and in the surrounding territory with feeds of the highest quality is that of E. Charles Matthias & Son, of Littlestown, Pa., which business has been conducted by Mr. E. Charles Matthias and his son, Frank, for the past twenty years. Both of these enterprising business men are personally interested in pleasing and satisfying the trade and with furnishing them dependable service in the way of feeds for all livestock and poultry at prices that will be found by comparison to be fair and reasonable. They also buy grain from the local farms and furnish them service in the way of custom chopping and mixing of feeds to their order at fair reasonable cost. You will always find this a good concern to do business with, one that appreciates the trade accorded it by people in Maryland and well as Pennsylvania.

STONESIFER'S DRUG STORE ATTRACTS LARGE LOCAL TRADE.

One of the most important enterprises in Littlestown is the Rexall Drug Store, conducted by Howard A. Stonesifer, under his name. Here will be found a large and well selected stock of home remedies, toilet requisites, candies, loose and inboxes, stationery, magazines, poultry and stock remedies, and not the least, a complete line of Rexall preparations which are of standard, uniform high quality. This is also the Greyhound bus station in Littlestown, Pa., where tickets may be purchased for all points in the country.

Stonesifer's Drug Store has two registered pharmacists and gives particular attention to the filling of prescriptions which are compounded of pure fresh chemicals and pharmaceuticals in strict accordance with the doctor's orders. Here refreshing soft drinks, sodas and sundae are served in a courteous accommodating manner. Mr. Stonesifer has served the trade of Littlestown and surrounding country for the past thirty-eight years during which time he has established a reputation for quality products, prompt, dependable service and reasonable prices.

FEESERSBURG.

Rain much rain—until there are streams of water lakes at every low before, rivulets, and rills everywhere; just fine for a change, but had to get thro? Then the blizzard of last week—wet heavy snow came down fast and furious, and in a few hours travel was a problem, and cars were fast in ditches and snow-drifts. Once a friend wrote from California "I'm so tired of this everlasting Sunshine, do send cards with snow scenes"—but in Maryland we can't complain of sameness of weather.

On Sunday of last week the Lamb feeders of the county had a meeting at the farm of G. B. John. The lambs were shipped from Montana in poor condition last Fall, and have been fed until they are now ready for market. Mr. John and his son—who is a member of the Boys' 4-H Club, have 130 of those lambs beside 60 of his own raising. J. D. Cash, president of the Union Stockyards Baltimore; also Allen Bogue and Mr. Pennick; Landon C. Burns, and Milo Downey, director of the club from the University of Maryland, College Park were present, and others interested in the work.

St. Valentine was lovingly remembered last week with pretty cards and sweet messages. If there was any comic ones we didn't see them, so will keep our mind on the beautiful.

We spent part of last week in Union Bridge by the bed-side of our brother, who was taken seriously ill on Wednesday morning. His wife, too was on the sick list, and continues weak and indisposed. A trained nurse is in attendance and the daughter is general manager.

There is much sickness with colds, grippe, tonsillitis, etc. While one or two are recovering, a half dozen others fall by the way—or should be lying in bed to recuperate.

The latest message concerning Mrs. Mary Williams Starner says her condition has improved, she has left the Hospital and is with friends of her deceased husband in Southern California; but not well or strong yet—and will return to Maryland as soon as able.

Rev. George Bowersox, Jr. of Apolo, Pa. and his friend, Miss M. Donaldson, arrived in due time to preach at Winter's Church on Sunday morning, and at Mt. Union in the afternoon where he spoke on "Jesus healing the blind man"; and conducted service at Uniontown in the evening. We think these trial sermons are rightly named—for it must indeed be a severe trial to the speaker, and also to the audience; but while they are sizing him up, he can take the measurements of his congregation. There was good attendance at each church and all went well.

The church statements of Mt. Union for 1939 published early this year show a small surplus along all lines except the cemetery fund; but the purchase of a gasoline mower at $127.50 and the new tool house at $65.00 caused extra expense.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Graham had a new telephone placed in their home last Friday, and we are all good fellows now.

One of the brothers when leaving Mt. Union on Sunday backed into snow bank and had to be shoveled out. Many gathered around—but or three did the work.

The class of Smiling Sunbeams will hold their February meeting in the Parish House this Wednesday eve.

One afternoon recently two of our ladies called on a neighbor who made a jar of tea, spread the table with some of her best dishes, and served a big cake tea—to set an example for her neighbors; but "a hint to the wise" hasn't proven sufficient yet.

The truck of Bucher John with 30 lambs or young sheep aboard got cross wise in the mud road on Monday morning, and had to be hauled out. We do have trouble of our own.

Miss Clara Mackley, of Westminster, but a native of this community, has been in ill health this season, and was remembered with a shower of cards and valentines on her birthday last week, which we know was much appreciated.

Now comes the birthday of the father of our country—the best country of all—George Washington. He was only 21 years of age when appointed by the Governor of Virginia to survey the land in the valley of the Ohio. Washington had to travel thro almost unbroken forest, and meet many perils; and he accomplished nothing by his appeals to the French—who claimed all the land from the St. Lawrence to the mouth of the Mississippi. His return was in the dead of winter, and much of the journey was thro forests no white man had ever traversed, and had to cross rivers amidst floating ice. Crossing the Alleghany River his hastily constructed raft was entirely hemmed in by the ice, his steership was whirled from his hands by the swift current, and he was thrown into the water. Finally he and his companion took refuge on an island in the river, where they staid till day light—soaked with water, and almost frozen. In the morning they succeeded in crossing the ice, and at last got safely home. "Tis said that "only hardships reach the port of success"—and he became the first President of the United States of America.

Air in Industrial Areas

Purified by Electricity

The atmosphere surrounding industrial cities, dumps 1,000 tons of dirt particles on each square mile of the city annually, according to engineers, who say they have found a way to purify the air by use of electricity.

A new four-story store in Birmingham, Ala., just completed, has been equipped with an electrostatic device which engineers say will make the air 99 per cent pure.

The equipment takes out dust particles, some only four-millionths of an inch in diameter. Impurities are drawn from the air by electrically charging the particles and then pulling them out as they pass through an electro-static field, in a manner similar to a magnet attracting iron filings.

The air first is bombarded by ions—minute electrical charges—sent out by wires as fine as human hairs, carrying 12,000 volts. The ions attach themselves to particles in the air, giving them an electrical charge.

The air then goes through an inclosure of alternately spaced high-potential and grounded plates. The charged particles adhere to the plates, allowing the pure air to pass into the store.

Water Supply Important

A water system which lacks adequate capacity for the needs of the home offers no satisfaction. A single faucet needs from two to 3½ gallons of water a minute for a good full flow. Some home owners, confusing price with economy, have mistakenly bought water systems with capacity barely sufficient to supply one faucet at a time. These appear all right until two or more persons try to draw water simultaneously from different faucets, when the flow rapidly sinks to an aggravating dribble because of insufficient reserve capacity. There is long-range economy in installing a water system of the style and size suited to both present and future needs, one providing a full flow of water any time a faucet is opened in kitchen, bathroom, or laundry, at outside hose taps for sprinkling and fire protection in barnyard, stables, or other outbuildings.

Castle in Haiti Is Site

Of Buried Treasures

A treasure cache of more than a million pounds sterling still lies buried deep in the secret tunnels of the fantastic Citadel de la Ferriere, colossal fortress built by Henri Christophe, black emperor of Haiti.

The hiding place of Christophe's treasure has been sealed by death. To make sure his plans would never be divulged, the black king had his architect thrown over the ramparts. The only other man in on the secret was of course Christophe himself and he, at the end of his struggle and tragic reign of tyranny, killed himself with a silver bullet in characteristically dramatic fashion. In the center of the courtyard stands a white tomb containing all that remains of the most bizarre, and perhaps the wickedest and wealthiest king of modern times.

The Citadel is an amazing structure surpassing the Pyramids in architectural interest; it is situated on the crest of a jungle-choked mountain, built at no one knows what frightful toll of labor and suffering.

Visitors are able to climb in peace and comfort the mountain trail up which Christophe's subjects hauled the thousands of tons of stone, cannon and supplies which went into the construction of his Citadel. Armed only with cameras they may inspect the ruined royal suites, the barracks for 10,000 men, the 365 rusted cannons captured from ships of many nations, which were installed to defend the place from an enemy who never came. The walls are 40 feet thick in places and from the ramparts there is an excellent view of Haiti. Just below where you stand can be seen the spot from which the emperor had a company of his soldiers march to their death just to impress a visiting diplomat.

Human Eyes Work Best

When at 15-Foot Focus

Normal eyes are in a state of rest when viewing objects 15 or 20 feet away. When looking at nearer objects, the muscular effort of the eyes increases, and the closer the focus, the harder the eyes work. The ciliary muscle tenses to contract the pupil to cut out rays of light about the circumference of the eye's lens, and the eye muscles contract to cause the eyes to converge and focus on the object. The eyes will do four times as much work in reading a book at six inches as they would if the book were held at a distance of 12 inches from the eyes.

Because the type of a book is larger and more easily perceived when close to the eyes, some children fall into the bad habit of reading with a book held too near the eyes. They do not realize that great strain is placed upon the eye muscles by reading at too close a focus.

Mothers should realize, according to the Better Vision institute, that the importance of good reading habits to conservation of their children's eyesight cannot be over-emphasized, pointing out that one in every five children graduating from grammar school has defective vision.

Radio for Deaf

A radio receiver for use by deaf persons not only to hear broadcast programs but also as a hearing aid in carrying on conversations is described in a patent (No. 2,159,632) of James J. Morey of Bloomfield, N. J., according to a writer in the New York Times. The receiver includes a pair of earphones and a loudspeaker. Used solely as a radio receiver, broadcast programs can be heard either through the loudspeaker or earphones. By turning a switch, however, the loudspeaker becomes a microphone which picks up conversation and other sounds in the room. The receiver then functions as an amplifier to amplify the sounds so that a deaf person wearing the headphone set can readily hear them. The receiver is portable.

Silkworm in U. S.

The best kind of mulberry tree for silkworm food is too tender for the northern states but will grow in the South. In recent years the raising of silkworms, to a very limited extent, has been reported from Louisiana, California, Florida and other states. The difficulties have been the long hours of labor and the extreme patience required to establish an industry that can compete with cheap Oriental and European labor. Dr. L. Harpootlian, of Armenian ancestry, was reported recently to have established a successful silk-raising business on his farm at Hempstead, Long Island, N. Y. There is apparently no difficulty in disposing of the raw silk to American manufacturers.

Those Leopard Spots

The black leopard is now thought to be the black form of the common species of leopard, and not a separate species, as formerly believed. It is now generally believed that the black leopard is born in the same litters with those of ordinary markings, although there is no accepted explanation of the fact that it is found more abundantly in the islands of the Indian ocean and in southern India than anywhere else. Although the animal appears at first glance to be genuinely black, it may be observed in strong sunlight that the rings and spots on the body become plainly visible, showing through darker than the fur.

HENRY ALBERT VALENTINE.

Henry Albert Valentine, a farmer, died at his home near Emmitsburg, on Tuesday morning, Feb. 20, 1940, aged 80 years. He was a member of the Keysville Lutheran Church. He was a son of the late Elias and Mary Valentine, and is survived by his wife two daughters, Mrs. Lester Troxell, Detour, and Miss Virgie M. Valentine, at home; also by six step-children, Charles R. Welty, Westminster; Mrs. Frank Weant, Dayton, Ohio; Harry C. Welty, Taneytown; Mrs. Harry B. Fleagle, Westminster; Mrs. George C. Devilliss and James E. Welty, near Emmitsburg; a grandchild; three brothers, Harvey E. and Nathan L. Valentine, Rocky Ridge; C. Ellsworth Valentine, of Frederick, and three sisters, Mrs. Harry Knipple, Rocky Ridge; Mrs. James Shipley, Keymar, and Mrs. Charles Wood, near Emmitsburg.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the home, Rev. P. H. Williams, officiated. Interment was made in the Keysville cemetery.

MRS. ROBERT D. EYLER.

Mrs. Lulu D. Eyer, wife of Robert D. Eyer, died at her home near Emmitsburg, Tuesday night. She had been in declining health for several years. She was a daughter of the late George E. and Susie A. Danner Trout, Downsville, Washington Co., and was aged 50 years. She was a member of Elias Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg.

She is survived by her husband and five children: Mrs. Lloyd Fite, Emmitsburg; Meade Eyer, Thurmont; Mrs. Ralph Baker, Taneytown; Mrs. Noah Warehime, Westminster, and Miss Elizabeth Eyer, at home; also two grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Richard Ott, Frederick, and Mrs. Roy Almone, Parkton, and by two brothers, Charles Trout, Catonsville; Jas. Trout, Taneytown.

Funeral services were held Friday at 2:00 o'clock, at the late residence, by Rev. Phillip Bower, officiating. Burial was made in the Mountain View cemetery, Emmitsburg.

JOHN F. UTERMÄHLEN.

John F. Utermahlen, a retired cigar-maker, formerly of Pleasant Valley died at the home of Ernest Helwig, Westminster, where he had been making his home since last October. He had been in declining health for several years and was bedfast for the past week. He was a son of the late John and Louisa Utermahlen and was 81 years of age.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary E. Wagner Utermahlen, and a number of nephews and nieces. Mr. Utermahlen was a member of St. Matthew's (Pleasant Valley) Church and was affiliated with the Pleasant Valley P. O. S. of A. and the Frizellburg K. of P. Lodge.

The body was given in charge of C. O. Fuss & Son's Funeral Home until this Saturday at 1:30 P. M., after which final services will be held in St. Matthew's Church by his pastor, Rev. W. E. Saltzger. Burial will be in the Pleasant Valley cemetery.

WILLIAM N. COVER.

William N. Cover, of Winfield, died Wednesday morning, at the Frederick Hospital, from pneumonia and a slight stroke of paralysis, aged 53 years. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cover, of Keymar.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bettie Cover, Frederick, and three children: Virginia, Frederick; Catherine, Walkersville, and Joseph, Keymar; and by four sisters and one brother, Mrs. Charles S. Gardner, Blue Ridge Summit; Mrs. Harry E. Phlegger, Brunswick; Mrs. G. B. Haugh, Clear Spring; Mrs. Luellen Robertson, Carroll County, and Carroll W. Cover, Detour.

Funeral services were held this Friday afternoon, at the Waltz funeral home, in Winfield, in charge of Rev

Early New England Flag
As early as 1737 a recognized flag of the New England colonies had a blue field with a white union quartered by a red cross. Such a flag, with the addition of a green pine tree in the upper inner quarter of the union, was carried at the Battle of Bunker Hill. Another flag of the same design, but having a red field, also was used in that battle. Some authorities say that each of these flags had on one side the words, "An Appeal to Heaven," and on the other a Latin inscription, the translation of which was, "He who transplanted us will care for us."

Canyon Rim Festival

Two canyons of barbaric picturesque are included in Canyon de Chelly National Monument in Arizona. One is the deep chasm which gives the place its name; the other, sinister Canyon del Muerto. Both canyons rise in sheer cliffs to heights of 1,000 feet above the floor. This varies from a width of 10 to 30 yards. There a few hundred Navahos have their homes. The warm sun reflected from the red cliffs helps to ripen the fruit of their tiny peach orchards and their melons and corn. Each October the Navahos hold a fire dance up on the canyon rim. Whites are admitted to the rite, which attracts spectators from miles around.

Blind Spot Discovery

A French clergyman, Marriotte, discovered the blind spot in the human eye. Pursuing studies in anatomy in the Seventeenth century, he dissected animal eyes and, noting the spot where the optic nerve enters at the back of the eye, thought that vision should be sharpest at that point. Experiments disclosed that the opposite was true, and that there is no sight at that spot on the eye's retina. Marriotte was invited by Charles II of France to demonstrate his remarkable discovery. He placed two courtiers of the same stature before the king. Charles looked at the left-hand man with the right eye and because of the eye's blind spot, saw the right-hand man without a head.

Airplanes Prove Value

In Fighting Forest Fires

The use of airplanes to fly both men and supplies to fires has helped to simplify many of the problems of fire fighting and to speed up control of going fires, the forest service, U. S. department of agriculture, reports. Days once were required to transport fire crews and equipment into the back country. The airplane does the job in minutes or hours.

Seventy-four landing fields in national forests permit a kind of airplane taxi service to be operated between a headquarters station and the field. Firefighting crews are flown to the landing field nearest a fire and then proceed by foot or other means to the burning area.

Another use of the airplane now being developed may give additional aid in fire fighting, the forest service says. It is possible that aerial photography can simplify the dangerous and time-consuming task of scouting large fires. Results already obtained indicate that a photographer in a plane may circle over the fire, take pictures of the entire front, and drop finished prints to men on the ground in 18 minutes or less. Photos showing topography, fuel types, streams, roads, trails and other ground features in the vicinity of a fire can thus be delivered to the crews before a man on the ground could even hike around the fire line.

Airplanes also carry two-way radio sets which keep them in constant communication with fire camps and national forest headquarters. Messages from the air to the ground also have been transmitted by an amplifier which makes the human voice audible for an average distance of one and a half miles. The amplifier does not permit of two-way communication, but it has been helpful in directing lost persons and searching crews, in guiding fire crews to spot fires back of the line which can be seen from the air only, and in giving other emergency messages.

of a Bee

When a bee stings a person, the stinger is torn out and remains stuck in the skin of the victim. The bee then goes off and dies. However, when a bee attacks a creature of its own size, the deadly sting can be used over and over again.

Jack Pine Parasite

A parasite known as the budworm is causing more damage to Ontario jack pine forests this year than fires are. A survey indicates 70 per cent of the trees in the Lakehead-Manitoba region are infected.

Scientific Pastry Mix

A bread and yeast-raised pastry seems to keep fresh almost indefinitely if promptly cooled to 30 degrees Centigrade in a carbonic acid atmosphere, German scientists find.

Iron as Free Element

Iron rarely occurs in the free state as an element, being combined with earths and rocks. But so widespread are these ores that iron came into early use by man.

Tuberculosis Death Ratio

The chances for eventual death from tuberculosis for the colored baby are virtually two and one-half times as great as they are for the white baby.

'American Sugar Bowl'

More than six million tons of refined cane and beet sugar poured into the "American sugar bowl" last year. Nearly seven-tenths of this was produced on American territory. Three-tenths came from Cuba, and other foreign countries supplied "a nominal amount."

Mexican Glass Blowers

In Mexico live many families of glass blowers whose ancestors were taught this old art by the Spanish conquistadores. Some of these families live far in the country and the glass, after being blown by the men of the family, is brought to the city by burro train.

SUCCESS SAGA

By THAYER WALDO
(McClure Syndicate-WNU Service.)

DOWN through a vale of verdure-studded hills the flawless highway wound. Along its edge walked a boy, satchel in hand. Occasionally he glanced behind, but no disappointment showed at constant sight of a road without cars. It was, after all, still early morning, and three days of this informal traveling had taught him not to expect bounty before nine.

As it neared level once more, the road did a near-right-angle bend. Rounding this, the boy saw, just off the pavement a hundred yards ahead, a coupe of familiar make but questionable vintage. Upon its roadside running board sat a girl in sports skirt and gay-hued sweater.

Approaching, he crossed the concrete diagonally toward her. When she looked up, she smiled and called: "Having some trouble?"

"Well, I'm not just taking a rest cure."

The tone's banter forestalled any hint of sarcasm. She gazed at him with frank appraisal and asked: "Are you hitch-hiking?"

He reached her side and put the bag down.

"Uh-huh—with emphasis on the 'hike' just now. This is the first car I've seen today, and it doesn't look very promising. What's the matter?"

"Well, it might be one of several things, but I'm afraid it's all."

With a chuckle the boy creaked up the battered engine hood.

"Looks pretty bad, all right," he admitted after a moment's inspection. "You've got two cracked spark plugs and a blown head gasket, to start with. How far'd you say you were going?"

"Hollywood, I hope."

He spun quickly around, displaying new bright-eyed interest.

"No—honest? Say, that's funny; I am too!"

"Oh, really? Do you live there?"

"No, but I'm going to—for a while, anyway. Perhaps later I'll move to Beverly Hills."

"Why, that's just what I planned, as soon as I get my contract."

He perched on the sagging front fender and grinned down at her.

"So that's it! Well, this sure is a coincidence. Here we meet up in the middle of Oregon, both going to the same place for the same thing. What studio will you be with?"

The girl patted her hair and shrugged archly.

"I'm not sure yet. Whichever one offers me the best opportunity. You see, I have letters of introduction to several influential people."

He nodded judicious approval and said:

"That's fine. All anyone with your looks needs in Hollywood is a little pull."

"Thank you; but I don't expect to depend on either. I want to make my way quite independently, and by talent rather than mere beauty."

"Oh, sure; it's merit that counts, all right. I just meant that a nice start helps. Take me: everyone up in Seattle said I ought to go in the movies after I won three first prizes on amateur nights at the Bijou. But do you think I'd be trying it if the way wasn't greased? Not much. My uncle's an assistant director at Zenith. That'll make a cinch for me."

"I should say so. You're very fortunate. I just finished at Portland Junior college. We did 'Twelfth Night' for the senior play; I was 'Viola.' A great many people thought my performance quite fine, so now I'm driving—"

She broke off, a sudden small frown appearing, and added ruefully: "I mean, I was driving. Gee, only 85 miles from home, and stranded already."

The boy looked thoughtfully for an instant. Then he slid down the fender to a seat beside her, exclaiming:

"I know what! You come with me."

"You mean," she asked, gazing at him in astonishment, "flagging rides?"

He affirmed it and went on to embellish the picture.

A little urging won her over; it was agreed that they should hitch-hike on together.

From the flivver's rear deck the boy took her two grips and stood there beside his own.

Then both sat down again, and now two faces were turned northward to watch for the cars which he assured her would soon be coming.

They chatted of this and that, exchanging confident predictions for the Hollywood future. At last he questioned:

"Who's your favorite star?"

"Look! You're a good guesser."

"Sure—they have to, especially when it's somebody like Austin." Looking at his wrist watch, he added: "Well, just about time for the traffic to begin."

Her hand touched his sleeve. "Look! You're a good guesser."

Around the curve above them had shot a big, high-powered phaeton. Its driver was a man and alone.

Bounding up, the boy signalled vigorously.

The car was almost abreast before the man at the wheel noticed him. There came a screech of rubber on pavement and it halted a hundred feet beyond.

"Quick!" the boy cried, seizing the luggage: "come on—our luck's starting already!"

"Wait—did you see that man?"

"Yeah; what's wrong with him?"

"Why, nothing, only—it's Homer Austin!"

He stopped dead, eyes wide; then: "Aw—you must be mistaken."

"All right; look now."

He did. The driver had alighted and was strolling toward them. Grotesquely large goggles masked his upper face, but there was no mistaking its identity; she had been right.

"Golly!" the boy whispered. "Is this a thrill!"

Austin approached, asking: "Need some help?"

"Why—why, no, sir—nothing but a lift, that is. The car's a wreck; we're leaving it."

"Oh, I see." The actor laughed. "Well, pile in, then. I'll be glad for the company."

In eager silence the pair obeyed. A moment more and they were spinning southward.

"Just where are you nomads going?" Austin queried after a little.

It was the girl who answered: "To Hollywood, Mr. Austin. Are you?"

He gave her an odd glance and said: "So I'm still recognized, anyway—"

Yes, I'm driving straight through."

"We're going down to work in pictures," the boy stated in a tone meant to be casual. "Are they finished with the one you came up to make?"

"None," the actor told him tersely; "but I am."

"Oh, you mean they took all your scenes first?"

The famous star smiled a smile that was wholly lacking in humor.

"Not exactly. They just decided to put another actor in the part. My fan mail fell off about 2,000 letters last week; his gained twice that much. So now I'm going back to hunt a new job. That, my boy, is Hollywood."

Astronomical Almanac
Published to Aid Flyers

The first astronomical almanac compiled in Great Britain for the use of airmen, has been published under the title "The Air Almanac."

It was prepared by H. M. Nautical Almanac office on behalf of the Air Ministry, says the London Sunday Observer.

Astronomical observation are constantly used by airmen and the first-class air navigator's license is issued for proficiency in this department among other subjects.

In an airplane, however, conditions for making elaborate calculations are unfavorable, while the speed impairs the value of calculations, which take many minutes to complete.

In simplifying the procedure, the compilers of the air almanac have succeeded admirably. Accuracy within 10 miles, and more usually within five miles, is secured, provided a normal sight has been taken.

In place of declination and right ascension (the celestial equivalents of latitude and longitude) declination and the Greenwich hour angle are used. The tables are for sun, moon, the four brighter planets and 50 fixed stars.

The almanac is in two portions. Each leaf covers two days only, and as the leaves are detachable a pilot need only take with him such pages as will be needed on any particular journey. Calculations from the observations made are merely a matter of simple arithmetic.

"Dead reckoning" in air navigation cannot be relied upon for a very short period during which no landmark is visible often results in serious deviation from the right course. Changes of direction and strength of the wind cannot be detected without reference to actual position in relation to landmarks, and there may be unnoticed variations in the air speed of the machine, and errors in the compass bearing.

Directional wireless has done much to remedy this handicap, and it is used increasingly, not only in air, but in marine navigation. But directional wireless service is not always and everywhere available, and is, moreover, subject to errors.

Civil War Bugle
A battery bugle whose blast sounded the end of the Civil War is owned by Mason Swinney, of New Baden, Ill.

His grandfather, Charles W. Swinney, sounded the call marking the surrender of Gen. Robert E. Lee to Gen. U. S. Grant on April 9, 1865, at Appomattox Courthouse, Va.

Swinney gave the instrument to his youngest son before his death and left instructions that it be handed down indefinitely to the youngest son in each generation. Its present owner is unmarried.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

STEWARDS IN THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 25:14-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—Well done, thou good and faithful servant.—Matthew 25:21.

Christ is coming again! This is the message of Matthew 24 and 25, which is the background for the lesson of today. Here we also learn of the end of the age. To many it seems that the time cannot be long before that great and fateful day breaks upon this chaos which we call civilization. These two chapters contain much important prophetic truth, but in studying our lesson we must limit ourselves to the one fact that when Christ does come again we shall be called to give an account of our stewardship.

Men are prone to think of their life as something accidental. They are here and they seem to have certain abilities and opportunities which they may make use of or not as they choose, and then when the time comes, they expect to leave this world, in which they have sought primarily for pleasure and ease, and go out into eternity without any special responsibility. That theory of life was undoubtedly prepared by the devil and is promoted by him for the purpose of destroying the souls of men.

I. Christ Makes Men Stewards of His Goods (vv. 14-18).

All men are stewards, for it is evident that our Lord has given to each one of us ability and opportunity to serve Him. The unbeliever who entirely rejects or ignores His responsibility before God will have to answer for His failure to follow and serve Christ. So will the professing Christian who denies his profession by his works have to answer for his hypocrisy. Every true Christian likewise must stand before the judgment seat of Christ and be judged for the work he has done in the flesh.

The Lord has committed to each man responsibility according to his ability. God is not unreasonable. He does not demand that which is beyond our capacity. He gives to each one the amount of His goods which that man is able to make use of, and then it becomes his responsibility to use those goods diligently and faithfully.

II. Christ Will Return for a Stewardship Accounting (v. 19).

Life is far from a meaningless existence without responsibility and ultimate accountability. Christ is coming again, we know not when, but we know that He is coming and that He may come today. What answer will you and I give Him when He asks us to account for the goods He has left in our care?

Well aware are we that there are those who scoff at the thought of Christ's return. The Bible told centuries in advance that we should expect such an attitude of unbelief, and it also told why men scoff at this truth, namely, because they are "walking after their own lusts" and are "willingly ignorant" of God's Word (see II Peter 3:3-9).

What a solemn indictment that is! Let us see that it does not apply to us. Let us rather be among those who are "looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ" (Titus 2:13). In preparation for that day let us obey His admonition, "Occupy till I come" (Luke 19:13); that we may not stand ashamed in His presence in that day.

III. Faithfulness Brings Reward, Unfaithfulness Results in Judgment (vv. 20-27).

The man who because of special ability had received five talents had a great opportunity to serve his lord, and he did so with courage and fidelity. So also did the man who because of lesser natural endowments received two talents. Both made the most of their opportunities and were equally faithful, and also received equal rewards. We shall not be judged on the basis of the greatness or the limitation of our opportunities, but rather by the use we make of them. That fact should encourage the one who is by circumstance or calling confined to a limited field, while it should solemnize and stir to greater faithfulness the one who has been given great opportunity. Observe that the reward for doing one's work well is not retirement and a pension, but more work (v. 21).

What about the man with the one talent? Apparently he yielded to the ever-present temptation to be hurt because he did not receive as much as the others (vv. 24-26). Instead of appreciating the kindness of his lord in not burdening him with more goods than he was able to care for, and doing what he could with what he had, he hid the talent in the ground and went about his own business. Such rebellion and carelessness naturally brought forth the reproof of the master and judgment (see vv. 29, 30).

As You Reap

"Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap. He that soweth sparingly shall also reap sparingly."

Ornamental Wall Bands
Horizontal wall stripes sound dramatic to the average home owner, but this style of treatment is becoming more and more a fashionable interior treatment for modern homes. One paint magazine suggests the use of five stripes, beginning with a stripe at the ceiling of a light shade and deepening the color progressively until the floor line is reached. If a more striking effect is desired, a narrow stripe of a still darker color may be used to divide each stripe.

Belted Marble

An unusual application of rubber belting has been reported by a marble company of Sylacauga, Ala., where endless belts are being used as slings for handling finished and unfinished marble. Two belts are used on each crane, and blocks weighing as much as 10,000 pounds are lifted. This is equal to 10 times the tension required of the belts in regular power-transmission service.

Bullet Lodged 23 Years

M. B. Smeaton, a farmer living near Darnell, in Natal, has had a bullet in his heart 23 years, but he enjoys good health. He was in the World war with the Second South African infantry and was wounded in July, 1916. The bullet entered the right side and lodged in the pericardium.

PLAN REFRESHMENTS TO SUIT THE SEASON

See Recipes Below.

When You Serve a Crowd

Whether it's your responsibility to provide unusual eats for the Senior skating party, or an inexpensive menu for the church supper, cooking in quantities does present problems!

Unless you have recipes designed to serve large numbers, it's safer to make quick breads, cakes and cookies, according to standard family size recipes, doubling them, perhaps, but no more. Proportions of ingredients change as recipes become larger, and it's no simple matter for an amateur to guess at them.

Plan refreshments to suit the season and your guests. When equipment is make-shift, the help limited, and the number to be served is large, select foods that are easily prepared and served, and foods that won't be hurt by standing.

For the simplest sort of refreshments after skating or skiing, hot spiced tea is ideal.

Clam chowder, with toasted crackers, makes a hearty, satisfying and substantial dish to serve after a sleigh ride in the frosty air.

Spaghetti or macaroni make inexpensive, mainstay dishes for a church supper or midwinter meeting of the P. T. A. Served with a crisp salad, hard rolls and fresh fruit for dessert, Italian spaghetti makes an unusual and easy-to-serve meal.

You'll find the tested recipes below practical when you entertain a crowd, and if you're planning a smaller party, my booklet entitled "Easy Entertaining" will give you suggestions for menus and recipes, too.

Cream Cheese Icing.

(Frosts 90 2-inch cakes)
4 3-ounce packages cream cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
8 cups confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon vanilla
2 to 3 tablespoons milk
1. Soften the cheese with a fork, add salt.
2. Gradually cream in the sugar, beating until the mixture is smooth and fluffy.
3. Add vanilla, and enough milk to make icing of spreading consistency.

Italian Spaghetti.

(Serves 50)
1 1/2 quarts onions (minced)
3 cloves garlic (minced)
1 cup parsley (minced)
1 1/2 cups olive oil
6 pounds ground meat (beef, pork and veal)
6 No. 2 1/2 cans canned tomatoes
8 small cans Italian tomato paste
3 tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
6 pounds spaghetti
2 pounds Italian cheese (grated)
1. Cook the onions, garlic and parsley in the olive oil for about 5 minutes.
2. Add meat and cook until meat is brown.
3. Combine with tomatoes and tomato paste and simmer for about 2 hours or until the sauce is very thick.
4. Add salt and pepper just before serving.
5. Serve on cooked spaghetti and sprinkle generously with grated cheese.

Clam Chowder.

(Serves 50)
1 1/4 quarts carrot (chopped)
1 1/4 cups onion (chopped)
3 quarts potato (chopped)
7 1/2 cups celery (chopped fine)
5 quarts clams
5 quarts water and clam liquor
Salt and pepper to taste
5 quarts milk
1 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 cups butter
1 cup parsley
2 tablespoons paprika
Chop the vegetables in small pieces and place in large kettle. Chop the clams, and add together with the clam liquor, water, salt and pepper. Cover and cook about 1/2 hour, or until vegetables are tender. Scald milk. Make a smooth paste of the flour and water. Add half of this flour paste to the clam mixture and half to the scalded milk. Cook each, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens. Combine and add butter, parsley, and paprika. Serve very hot.

Ski-Ball for One.

1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
1 thick slice lemon stuck with 12 to 18 cloves
1 cinnamon stick muddler
Hot black tea

Place sugar, lemon and the cinnamon stick muddler in Ski-Ball or Russian tea glass (both have handles), pour over this strong, hot, fragrant black tea and serve at once.

Ham Loaf.

(Serves 100)
10 pounds smoked ham (ground)
6 pounds veal (ground)
1 1/2 cups green pepper (minced)
1 1/2 cups onion (chopped)
4 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
16 eggs (beaten)
2 quarts tomato soup (canned)
2 quarts bread crumbs or uncooked cereal (oatmeal or farina)

1. Combine the meat, green pepper, onion and seasonings.
2. Add beaten eggs, tomato soup, and bread crumbs or uncooked cereal.

3. Pack in bread loaf pans and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for 1 1/2 hours.

Reception Cakes.

(Makes 90 2-inch cakes)
2 cups shortening (part butter)
4 cups sugar
16 egg yolks
9 cups cake flour
8 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1 1/2 tablespoons orange or lemon extract
1. Cream the shortening, add sugar very slowly, beating well after each addition.

2. Beat egg yolks until very thick and add gradually to the creamed mixture.
3. Sift dry ingredients together and add to the first mixture alternately with the milk and extract.
4. Pour batter into jelly roll pans which have been greased and lined with wax paper.
5. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for 30 minutes. Remove from pans, cool and cut into diamonds.

Peanut Crunches.

(Makes 8 dozen cookies)
1 cup peanut butter
1 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
4 eggs (well beaten)
2 teaspoons vanilla
4 cups flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup peanuts (chopped)
Cream peanut butter with shortening. Add sugar gradually. Beat in the eggs and vanilla. Sift together the flour, salt and baking powder and add to the creamed mixture alternately with the milk. Add peanuts. Blend well and drop from a spoon into a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) for 10 to 12 minutes.

Hunters Spend About $44 For Deer With $15 Value

Deer valued at $15 each as meat induced hunters to spend an average of $44 each on the Fremont National forest in Oregon, reports the forest service, United States department of agriculture.

The sample spending account was kept by Leo D. Quackenbush, forest ranger, who found that 9,500 hunters visited the Oregon forest last hunting season and took 1,900 deer.

On the basis of meat and hide value only, the deer taken were estimated to be worth $28,500, figuring an average of 70 pounds of meat per deer at 20 cents a pound and $1 each for hide and horns.

Altogether the 9,500 hunters in this one national forest spent nearly $85,000 on their hunting, boosting business in the local communities and adding to the income of the state. Although they brought out bucks worth only $28,500, there is no indication that the hunters thought they spent too much for their sport.

Ranger Quackenbush estimated that the 9,500 hunters averaged three per car and that the cars traveled an average of 300 miles going to and from the hunting grounds. It is estimated that the 3,166 cars averaged approximately $6 worth of gasoline and oil on the hunting trip, or a total of $18,996.

The expenditures for ammunition and equipment were rounded off at about $22,800. Incidental expenses were estimated at $14,250. No estimate was made of the purchase of red hats and shirts and other incidental hunting equipment. Resident hunting licenses at $3 for each hunter yielded a total of $28,000 for the state.

Soil Testing Experiment Aids Engineering Study

As a result of investigations of soil testing and sampling methods now under way, it is the belief of the Engineering foundation of New York, engineers will be able to plan building foundations with greater assurance and economy than at present.

A comprehensive research project designed to further engineering knowledge of load capacity and settlement resulting under load is being conducted by the committee on sampling and testing of the soil mechanics and foundation division of the American Society of Civil Engineers in co-operation with other engineering bodies, including United States army engineers.

Sampling methods employed by engineers throughout the world are being studied and collated under the direction of Dr. M. Juul Hvorslev, school of engineering of Harvard university, as the initial step in the program, it is pointed out in the report to the foundation, which is sponsoring the studies.

The "science of foundations" is vital to millions of people who trust their lives daily to the validity of the judgment of engineers in planning the foundations of dams, skyscrapers, bridge piers, tunnels or high retaining walls.

Solving Weather Mysteries

Commander Francis Wilton Reichelderfer, chief of the United States weather bureau, visualizes an expanded service which will take more of the mystery out of the weather's antics. He doubts that many people know just how brave a man the forecaster is when he steps up to a surface weather map and makes a forecast for tomorrow. "The weather forecaster's diagnosis must be based to a large extent upon the surface weather map," he went on, "and this map gives comparatively meager information on the atmospheric conditions at higher altitudes where most of our weather is produced. Lacking a fixed network of airways stations over the oceans, we must rely upon weather observations from surface vessels for the ocean weather . . . but improvement of the service will require an increase in the number of reporting ships and in the frequency of reports by radio from two to four daily," he declared.

Largest African Bridge

The longest single-span bridge in Africa and the third longest in the world, crosses the Sabi river, in Southern Rhodesia, and is 1,080 feet long. Its single arch rises to a height of 280 feet. Work began on it in April, 1934. It was the gift of the trustees of the late Alfred Beit and has been named the Birch-enough bridge in recognition of the services to the country of Sir Henry Birchenough, the chairman of the Beit trustees and president of the British South African company. Fifteen hundred tons of steel have gone into the bridge. Its purpose is to give the people of the eastern district access across the Sabi river to the central districts of Southern Rhodesia. The bridge will also serve to open up to visitors from the Union of South Africa and elsewhere one of the most beautiful mountain districts in the territory.

First Printed 'Franks'

The first printed franks, comparable to the stamped envelopes and covers of modern times, were issued in 1653 in Paris. M. (afterwards Count) de Villayer, with royal sanction, sold letter-covers of wrappers bearing a distinctive mark. His footmen collected and delivered letters in such wrappings, removing the wrappers upon delivery.

Arthur S. Lambert, administrator of Margaretta Lambert, deceased, returned inventory of real estate.

Cora M. Troxell, administratrix of Moses J. M. Troxell, deceased, returned inventory of goods and chattels and received order to sell same.

The sale of the real estate of Eliza Jane Mathias, deceased, was finally ratified by the Court.

Paul E. Shoemaker, administrator of Charles A. Shoemaker, deceased, settled his first and final account.

Margaret A. Bishop, executrix of Samuel T. Bishop, deceased, returned inventory of debts due, settled her first and final account and received order to transfer securities.

Curtis E. Rash, executor of Edwin B. Rash, deceased, reported sale of personal property and settled his first account.

Walter E. Buchman, administrator of Amanda E. Buchman, deceased, settled his first and final account.

'Non-Driving' Pedestrian Is Easy Traffic Victim

This isn't very encouraging, but: If you're a man more than 50 years old; have never driven an automobile; take walks at night and like to take a little nip occasionally, then you're more likely than anyone else to die in an automobile accident.

This is the picture painted by Burton W. Marsh, director of safety and traffic engineering department of the American Automobile association to represent the average present-day pedestrian accident victim.

Marsh told advanced students in a traffic safety class at the Pennsylvania State college that in Connecticut alone, according to a three-year survey, 95 per cent of the pedestrian fatalities were persons who could not drive.

"The hardest thing for the non-driving pedestrian to realize is how hard it is for a driver to see him at night," Marsh said.

"Another discovery," he added, "is this: The man 50 or over who advises little Johnny to be careful crossing the street has five times greater chance of being killed by a car than Johnny."

Giving Rooms Sunlight

The appearance of an older home may be changed to a great extent by adding extra windows and permitting sunlight to brighten up dark corners. A room formerly seldom used may be converted into a sun-room by substituting a row of windows for the outside wall, while the living room of most older homes will usually benefit by the addition of one or more windows. Cutting additional windows in a house does not necessarily weaken it if the windows are placed where structural members are not affected. A reliable builder should be consulted in planning the improvement.

KIWANIS CLUB MEETING.

The weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club was held, Wednesday evening at Sauble's Inn.

Patriotic night was observed by the club. The program was in charge of Edgar Essig, chairman of the Public Affairs Committee. A very interesting talk was given by Rev. Bready on the life of George Washington. Throughout his talk he stressed that Washington always had a sense of duty for his country. We, as Americans, should show more patriotism to our country.

The President of the club was happy to announce the guest speaker for the next meeting will be, Rev. Snyder, a missionary, who has just returned from services in China. We feel sure he will have very interesting experiences to relate. A 100% in attendance is requested for this meeting.

WESTERN PUBLISHER SAYS—

With the price of paper and printing supplies going up, what can publishers do to make both ends meet? Here are some ways to meet increasing publishing costs:

- 1—Reduce your list of exchanges.
- 2—Cut off non-paying subscribers.
- 3—No credit to out-of-county subscribers.
- 4—Closer editing of country correspondence.
- 5—Increase proportion of advertising in each issue.
- 6—Increase departmental hour rates for printing.
- 7—Advance price of local advertising without any involved explanation.
- 8—Raise your subscription price.
- 9—Install more windows to reduce light bills.

We would say to this Western fellow—come east, and face the real problems; and also let us know whether he uses his own prescriptions and the result to the patients.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE IN FREDERICK COUNTY.

According to the Frederick Post, marriage and divorce are running a close race in Frederick County. The Post says:

"Leap year may come and go, but divorce continues in an ever-rising curve, a survey of the records in the Clerk of Court's Office shows. Since January 1, marriage and divorce have been running almost neck to neck in Frederick county."

So far in 1940, the marriage license docket reveals, 26 weddings, in which one or both of the contracting parties signed as residents of Frederick county, have been solemnized. During the same period 23 bills of complaint for either absolute or partial divorce have been entered on the equity docket. Thirteen couples presumably still have an avenue of escape from the bonds of matrimony, for no records of the actual tying of the respective knots—in the form of minister's certificates—had been received at the Clerk's Office, as yet.

THE SUN IS NIGH.

The day draws to its close
The shadows now appear
The sun still shines all o'er the land
So we may have no fear
The times may not seem opulent
The days work not be done
But, always after storms have passed
There is the shining Sun
So when dark clouds o'erspread the sky
Remember this, the Sun is nigh.
The Sun is nigh, why fret and sigh
'Tis bright and clear up in the sky.

GUERNSEY NEWS ITEMS.

Guernsey breeders of Carroll Co., will hear Earl N. Shultz, field Representative of the American Guernsey Cattle Club and H. C. Baker, extension dairyman at a meeting to be held at the Charles Carroll Hotel, Feb. 26, at 6:30 P. M., according to L. C. Burns, County Agent. Movies of the World's Fair will be shown.

Mr. Shultz will speak on "Guidelines," giving particular attention to planning of breeding programs and use of records in herd improvement. This meeting is one of a series being held throughout Maryland this week. Mr. Shultz talked at the 1939 series of Guernsey meetings on a "ten year breeding program, as the results of last year's meeting. Mr. Shultz's address this year will be just as interesting and just as valuable.

Mr. Barker will speak on "Breeding Guernseys a Business."

Each dairyman, Guernsey breeder, and their wives are invited to attend this meeting. Meetings are scheduled as follows: Monday, Feb. 27, Towson, 12 noon, Penn Hotel, luncheon. Meeting, Westminster 6:30 P. M., County Agents Office, dinner meeting.

BIG LEAGUERS TUNING UP.

Big League baseball is shaping up for all of the teams that are now in practice fields in the South. There is reported to be a large number of "hold outs" not yet signed in the American League with the N. Y. "Yankees" heading the list. Dimaggio the home run slugger who received about $27,500 last year, says he wants $40,000 this year. But the knowing ones say he will sign in the South at considerable less than that figure.

All of the old teams in both leagues are looking over their recruiting fields—the smaller leagues—and some of the most likely ones are expected to be promoted. The Washington Senators are said to be likely to present a stronger team this season especially in its pitching department. Not much has been heard from Detroit, but it is not asleep at the switch.
