Miss Dorothy Gillenwater, a sister of Mrs. J. Kiser Shoemaker, was taken to the Frederick City Hospital on Monday and operated on for appendicitis.

At last, we are in the month of October. The month of September seems to have been the longest, hottest and driest on record in the U. S.—but may not have been.

Mrs. Earle Holmes and son, Clyde of Niles, Ohio, and Mrs. Mary Mohney, who is visiting in Butler, Pa., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mohney, Mill Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Stonestifer moved last Friday from the Charles Rohrbaugh house on George Street to their new home recently completed on East Baltimore Street.

Mrs. Guy Ourand and Mottor Crapster, of Washington, and Louis Crapster, of Maryland University, College Park, Md., spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John O. Crapster.

All radios in town seemed to be in first class working order on Wednesday afternoon, as everywhere you went you could hear the first game of the world series ball game coming along very clearly.

Mrs. Walker Kettering, Miss Jane Kettering and Mr. Douglas Johnson, all of Martinsburg, W. Va., spent Sunday with Mrs. William P. Adams and Mrs. Ethel Hollister at the parsonage of the Reformed Church.

Edgar Hyde, of Westminster, was the first student pilot to solo from the Taneytown Airport. The event took place on Monday of this week, after receiving eight hours of instruction and flying with the instructor, Mr. John Dixon.

Army trucks passed through Taneytown for several hours on Wednesday morning, some of them traveling so fast that the boys were raised off of the seats at least six inches when they passed over a dip in the road at the square.

Twelve airplanes landed at the Taneytown Airport early last Sunday morning, with a total of twenty two pilots and passengers, one of them being only 1½ years old. All of them took breakfast at Sauble's Inn. This Sunday, providing the weather is favorable, there will be six to eight planes land at the airport and the occupants will take dinner at Sauble's.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Keefe and son Larry, spent a few days with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hiltner, of near town. Those spending the week-end and Sunday at the same place, were Misses Charlotte Hiltner and girl friends Mary Heckwolf, Ruth Clark, Lillian Dalymple, all of Baltimore; Oneda Hiltner, Pauline Wallace, Irven Manifold and boy friend, of York.

Mrs. Anna Raubenstine, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Raubenstine and Mr. Eugene Raubenstine, of York, Pa., visited Mr. and Mrs. G. Zeiber Stultz, near Union Bridge. Recently I enjoyed your write-up of 47 years ago try and keep it up. Would like to hear more about the churches, and I would think it very nice to have the pictures of the pastors of the last 47 years, especially the Reformed church. I have the history but would like to have the pictures of the pastors from Mr. Long down to the present one.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart F. King, visited Mr. Thomas Belshaw, of Belfast, Ireland at the British Merchant Navy Club, Mt. Vernon Place, Baltimore. Mr. Belshaw, a cousin of Mr. King's is master mechanic of a freighter carrying lease-lend goods to Britain. His ship has been in the Bethlehem Steel Shipyards undergoing repairs. This is his third trip to America since the war began. His first trip, in a convoy of sixty ships went through without any losses but in the next, out of thirty-five ships, four were lost. Mr. Belshaw expected to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. King but orders to sail came unexpectedly. With a cargo of steel and tobacco they expect soon to be on their way back to England.

MARYLAND STATE TAX RATE

Will be the lowest since year 1861.

Annapolis, Oct. 1—Property owners in Maryland will enjoy, during the years 1942 and 1943, the lowest State tax rate since 1861, as a result of reduction announced for these two years by Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor.

For 1942, the 22-cent rate set by Act of the last Legislature, will be reduced to 14 cents, and the 20.75-cent rate established for 1943, will be reduced to 12.75 cents. Of the last 100 years only six, from 1856 to 1861 have enjoyed as low, or a lower rate than will be in effect these two years. The reductions will be made, Gov. O'Connor announced under authority granted by Chapter 528 of the Acts of 1941, an Administration-sponsored Bill. This provides that if the State Surplus on September 30, 1941 and on September 30, 1942, should exceed by $2,000,000.00 all appropriations in the Budget, the Board of Public Works would be authorized to apply the excess to the bonded indebtedness of the State, and to reduce the State tax proportionately for these years.

Prior to the present administration the State Tax Rate had been around 23.35 cents per $100.00. A Bill passed during the last session, with Administration backing, reduced the rate for 1942 to 22c and for 1943, to 20.75c.

Coinciding with his announcement regarding State real tax reduction Governor O'Connor indicated that, barring totally unexpected developments, he would call a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of reducing the State income tax.

Reductions already made in this levy, during the 1941 session of the Legislature, and made retroactive to cover 1941 incomes, will save the taxpayers of the State a minimum of $4,500,000.00 in three years, and the savings more likely will be above $5,000,000 because of increased incomes throughout the State.

Under the proposed further reductions to be made at the Special Session, it is likely that every taxpayer in the State will be affected favorably by one or the other of the reductions.

Governor O'Connor's announcement that Maryland's finances are in such excellent shape as to permit these important reductions in taxes has attracted nationwide attention, coming as it does at a time when Federal, State and local taxes everywhere are on the up-grade. It is in sharp contrast, also, to the picture that faced the Governor when he assumed office in January, 1939, at which time borrowing to meet current expenses, plus large diversions of gasoline taxes, had placed the State's finances in a sorry mess.

LADIES' AID MEETING HELD

The Health of Children in School

Now that the schools are under way and daily routine is well established, the question of school lunches that will be adequate and attractive and will help to keep the growing boy or girl up to the mark mentally and physically, is of special importance. But the child's growth and development are helped or hindered by various other things in a child's daily program.

Here are some of them as outlined by the Nutritionist of the State Department of Health:

"The average school child needs from 10-12 hours of sleep each night. A tired child is a nervous, irritable child who finds it hard to concentrate. Does your child have a bedtime that is early enough to insure an adequate amount of sleep?"

"Teachers complain that many of the children find it necessary to eat part of their lunch in the middle of the morning. A hungry child does not make a good student. Does your child have an adequate breakfast before he leaves for school?"

"A hot food in the middle of the day prevents fatigue and stimulates the appetite. If there are no provisions for hot food at school, the teacher will be glad to place a jar of food brought from home in a pan of hot water to be heated and served at lunch time. Does your child have an adequate lunch, one which includes a hot dish?"

"A well nourished body must have certain necessary foods every day, such as milk, fruits, vegetables, whole grains, meat and eggs, and cod liver oil. Does your child have an evening meal which supplements the other meals of the day and provides the balance of the food needed during the day?"

"It is very difficult to develop good nutrition in a growing child when there are physical conditions in need of attention, such as enlarged tonsils, decayed teeth, defects of vision or hearing. Such handicaps are likely to affect a child's health very seriously if they are not attended to promptly."

War Units Going Southward

A large body of army trucks and equipment passed through Taneytown, on their way south, coming by way of Hanover. Their final destination has not been stated, but North Carolina is given as the first stop. 9000 men made up the body.

WBAL TO BE SALUTED BY HOLLYWOOD

In a special broadcast Sunday afternoon, October 5, 1941, at 2 o'clock, WBAL, Baltimore, will be saluted by NBC from Hollywood and will return the salute with a special program from Baltimore which will be heard over the entire Red Network of the National Broadcasting Company.

In the portion originating from Baltimore, the Baltimore and Ohio Glee Club will sing the "Star Spangled Banner" direct from its birthplace, Fort McHenry. This will be followed by both vocal and orchestral arrangements of songs representing Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia and West Virginia as a salute to the people in the Central Atlantic States. The Sons of the South will be the featured vocalists in this special program.

DEFENSE SAVINGS NEWS.

Washington, D. C.—If given $100 "all his own," one out of every three youngsters in the United States would invest the entire amount in United States Defense Savings Bonds, results of a nation-wide poll just made public indicate.

William T. Reed, Chicago manufacturer, informed the Treasury that ten thousand children between the ages of eight and thirteen were included in the poll conducted by his organization with the cooperation of the Y. M. C. A. and other groups sponsoring summer camps. Children from families of all income groups were included in the poll.

Thirty-five percent of the boys and twenty-eight percent of the girls, representing thirty-three per cent of all children in the poll said they would invest the $100 in Defense Bonds. Forty-seven per cent said they would put the money in the bank, one per cent would buy toys, seven per cent would purchase clothing, and two per cent would take "special lessons."

BENEFITS PAID IN SEPTEMBER

Baltimore, October 1—Payments of benefits in September by the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Board amounted to $385,619, a reduction of twenty-one per cent from August and ten per cent from Sept. 1940.

The total paid for unemployment by Maryland since the establishing of the system is $26,441,994, but for the nine months of the current year was less than $4,000,000.

The average amount of the 32,781 checks issued by the Board for benefit payments in September was $11.77, the highest to date.

Forms for employment reports for the third quarter of the calendar year have just been sent out and payment of the contributions required of employers will be due October 20. These reports should show a great increase in covered employment.

The total number of benefit checks issued by the Board up to September 30 was 2,849,143.

THE WORLD'S SERIES BEGAN WEDNESDAY.

Hard fought battle between "Yankees" and "Dodgers".

That National baseball is a big business was attested by the fact that 68,546 paid admissions resulted from the first game of the season between the New York "Yankees," American League team, and the "Dodgers" of the National League, was not the first time the championship battle was confined to one state—New York.

Other years it has mostly been eastern and western teams.

At the end of the battle the gate receipts that will likely run into the millions, will be divided among objects, in which the losers will have their share.

Truly, it is a "National" sport that represents a National news article, as the games are reported throughout the U. S. in newspapers large and small.

For some reason the "Americans" have mostly rated stronger than the "Nationals" and the present contest will likely continue this reputation.

The first game was won by the "Yankees" by the score of 3 to 2 after a hard fought battle.

The second game was won by the Brooklyn "Dodgers" 3 to 2. The attendance was 66,298 and the receipts amounted to $260,204.

Matter of fact, the games were merely two of many well played games that have marked the sport in the sixteen teams played in 1941, both east and west.

Retailers Compelled to Organized.

The retailers of America—big and little, chain and independent, operating in every retail field—have laid down a 14 point program for better serving the public and the government in these critical days.

The high points of that program are simple—and they are of direct importance to every family. The retailers of this country pledge themselves to act as "purchasing agents for the public." They pledge themselves to prevent, so far as possible, all unwarranted increases in prices and to eliminate any and all unfair trade practices which may injure the consumer. They further pledge themselves to maintain retail employment at the highest possible level, and to give every aid and encouragement to employees who wish to serve their country.

In addition, they will support manufacturers in their efforts to use more informative labels, and they promise the elimination of "scare" advertising—particularly that which says or implies, "Buy now because prices are rising." They will aid in the development and distribution of substitutes for materials which are needed for defense. And, lastly, they are carrying on an aggressive, non-profit campaign to sell and promote interest in Treasury Defense Bonds and Stamps.

This program, which is today being given the support of tens of thousands of stores of all sizes and kinds, is the best available answer to those who shortsightedly blame retail merchandising for price increases. No industry is more awake to the danger of inflation than merchandising—none is more eager to prevent it. None is exerting itself more strongly to protect the public. American retailing is mobilized to fight for the common interests of all.

LUTHERAN CHURCH SOCIAL.

A very enjoyable social was held in the Lutheran Church, Taneytown, on Wednesday evening of this week, under the auspices of the Mite Society and Brotherhood. The two organizations first held their separate meetings for the transaction of business, and then gathered in the Sunday School room for the social. The pastor, Rev. A. T. Sutcliffe made opening remarks and announced the program.

Phyllis and Letitia Smith gave a clarinet and saxophone duet, with Mary Louise Alexander at the piano. Little Evelyn Wilhide, four years old, sang a splendid solo, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Albert Wilhide. Kathleen and Shirley Null, children of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Null, sang two selections to their own guitar accompaniment.

Mrs. T. A. Martin and Mrs. Albert Wilhide gave a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Clyde Morningstar, of New Windsor. Miss Dorothy Kephart, gave a reading in her own excellent manner. Mary Louise and Dorothy Alexander played a piano duet. A cornet solo by Francis Staley, with Jimmie Fair accompanying on the piano, closed the regular program.

Refreshments were served, during which Donald, Phyllis and Letitia Smith and Francis Staley, a real orchestra, rendered quite a number of selections with clarinet, saxophone, cornet, drums and cymbals.

Committee on program consisted of Mrs. Roy B. Garner, Mrs. Newton Hahn, Mrs. Kenneth Gilds, Franklin Fair, Wilmer Naill and Wallace Reindollar.

Committee on refreshments comprised Mrs. William Hockensmith, Mrs. Walter Hiltner, Mrs. Wilbert Hess, Mrs. D. J. Hesson, Cleve LeGore, Norman Dvilibiss and Doty Robb. Both committees were assisted by other of the two organizations.

THE SACRED FLAG.

"Oh sacred Flag, we honor thee— The emblem of our liberty, Within thy folds there is a flame That blazons forth thy hallowed name;

A hundred million men and more Stand at attention and adore Resolved henceforth for evermore Thou shalt wave on and ever be The guiding star of people free."

Random Thoughts

IS YOUR TOWN A FREEDOM TOWN?

If so make it plainly known in every county in the United States. We, the people, still hold inalienable rights, unless Abraham Lincoln, Jefferson, Henry Clay, Patrick Henry and others, were all wrong.

Just now we are being asked to contribute to the comfort of "our boys" in camps. They, "our boys" are not there by choice. We feel that nothing that we can do for them is too much; and yet the "old folks" at home must not be forgotten—their increased taxes and cost of living falls hard on them.

Of course, many of them are "on relief" but it costs more taxes for them. The whole scheme of things is running in a vicious circle, the end of which, nobody knows.

PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL

The Baseball season (professional) has closed, and again demonstrated the fact that it is a strictly honest sport and every player given all credits he is entitled to.

It is a specimen of American democracy, at its best that should be followed in affairs of state. The only chance for unfairness in the National game is its umpire system that represents a court in action, but no charges have ever been substantiated that their verdicts are as honorable as it is possible for them to be. Dirty, party politics, is frequently in our governmental affairs, and that a National sport should be free from this is distinctly creditable to the sport.

THE PEOPLE CAN STOP THE WAR.

We still see in the war situation the futility of predicting early results. Day after day we read reports from Moscow, Berlin and London that are merely contradictory of each other.

There is no doubt whatever that the citizenry of these countries are tired of the war, its sufferings and its destruction of home life.

If each of the countries would unite in rebellion against the war lords, this would call a halt of the wholesale murder before the rigors of winter begins; but that little word "if" is slow in action.

So, we are almost sure of having before the world that may be continued into the winter, and involve the United States, and perhaps Mexico and South America.

We have no ground on which to surely lay charge on the President with the present war preparation. It is true that he is supposed to be the "Commander in Chief" of our army and Navy; but Congress can not deny its own responsibility, and the fact that this government is of the people, by and for, the people, as long as we hold to strict Democracy in the conduct of our major affairs.

NEW KIND OF STRIKE.

Up in the hard coal region of Pennsylvania a strike of miners has been going on, but this time it is not directed at the owners or operators of the mines, but at the heads of the miners union—particularly against John L. Lewis.

The trouble is that the union increased the dues of members from $1.00 per month to $1.50 per month and levied a special assessment of $6.00 per year instead of $2.00, which was the amount formerly.

Naturally, the miners want to know why. It amounts to an additional $10.00 per man, and with 20,000 members makes the tidy sum of $200,000. What do the leaders want to do with this money, in addition to the quarter of a million now formerly collected from this group.

The miners do not forget that Lewis handed over half a million for politics, which they claim was done without authority and which they very positively disapprove. Now what is in the wind, they wonder, and they refuse to allow the money to be deducted from their pay.

It is a wholesome thing that these men rebel against the high-handed action of their bosses, who live on the fat of the land, and continually manipulate things for their own benefit. Why should it require millions annually to conduct these unions?

If the rank and file of labor would take more time to see the situation through, they would find that in many instances it would be better for them to sit down with employers for calm deliberation without the interference of their highly paid so-called leaders.

FOLLOW THE LEADER.

The time has arrived for all to follow the leader, in matters that pertain to war and affect our interests internationally. The President, and his advisers have better means of knowing world conditions than we do, and are therefore better prepared to know what is best to be done under given circumstances. This does not mean that I approve the boon dogging and other silly means that have been used to squander the taxpayers money in the past eight years or the enormously piled up debt that the president is largely responsible for. Those are not the present concern or the present danger. Hitler and Mussolini, poverty stricken youths without any power, suddenly come into power, and drunk (crazy drunk) by that power, are the things now to curb. Freedom of the seas—not only the Atlantic, but everywhere, must prevail and if it requires a shooting war to maintain that freedom, then Mr. President shoot, and shoot quick and straight, and we are all with you and back of you in the act!

The U. S. Navy is doing good work in conveying goods to England. Isolationists and interventionists may differ on what our attitude and actions should be. One thing is certain and that is that America—the American people—do not want our goods shipped, to become food for fishes. If they don't, we must shoot, and shoot to sink any German or Italian vessel that interferes.

This is Democratic America, and as such it is every mans equal privilege to commend or to condemn the acts of those we choose for office, but we should all realize right now, that in these trying, even exasperating, times that the President and his advisers know more than we know, and understand better than we understand what is happening.

In these critical times it would be the part of wisdom for all of us to keep discreetly silent and follow the leader. If Hitler wants war, we'll have it and finish it, as we did the last one, regardless of cost.

THIS WEEK IN DEFENSE.

Fourteen new ships were launched in "Liberty Fleet Day" ceremonies held at shipyards on Saturday, Sept. 27, at Baltimore, Md., Los Angeles, Calif., Richmond, Calif., Portland, Ore., Quincy, Mass., Chester, Pa., Kearny, N. J., Pascagoula, Miss., Seattle, Wash., and Wilmington, Del. The Navy announced launching of the battleship Massachusetts, three minesweepers—Summit, Guide, and Ideal, and the submarine chaser PC515.

The Navy Department announced 15 British and Free French warships currently in United States ports, and said 12 others already have left U. S. ports where they had put in for repairs or supplies. The War Department said 59 officers and enlisted men of the British crops are studying American methods at the Army Armored Force School at Fort Knox, Ky. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced the Soviet Government has already repaid in gold "a little more than half" of the $10,000,000 advanced by the U. S. Treasury to Russia in August.

Assistant Attorney General Arnold speaking at Yosemite, Calif., said "there is not an organized basic industry in the U. S. which has not been restricting production to avoid what they fear may be ruinous overproduction after the war. They have concealed shortages by over-optimistic predictions about supplies."

Mr. Arnold also said "a few strategically located labor unions" were costing the American consumer one billion dollars a year through labor restrictions on production by strikes and boycotts for illegitimate purposes, price-fixing, restricting labor-saving devices, elimination of small competitors and owner operators and "tying up huge industries in the struggle to determine which of two unions shall dominate the field."

Director Odlum of the OPM Contract Distribution Division announced between 100 and 200 officers to help small shops and businessmen get defense work will be opened soon. Already scheduled are officers in Hartford, Conn., Providence, R. I., Youngstown, Dayton and Columbus, O., Indianapolis, Ind., Rochester and Albany, N. Y., Portland, Me., Springfield, Ill., Springfield, Mass., Trenton, N. J., Wichita, Kan., and Spokane, Wash. Existing offices at Harrisburg, Wilkes Barre and Allentown, Pa., will be enlarged and the present 39 offices of the abolished Defense Contract Service will continue to operate, he said.

Mr. Odlum asked 56 major defense contractors to appoint "farming out" directors to cooperate in spreading defense work among smaller firms. He also announced defense contracts with five aluminum war companies forced to abandon civilian production by shortages and priorities. Contracts such as these to avoid community hardship can be negotiated up to 15 per cent above minimum prices, performance bonds can be waived and bid splits allowed to enable pools of small firms to obtain contracts for "bits and pieces."—U. S. Govt. Report.

AUDITING THE NEW DEAL.

A large section of the American press has expressed disappointment over the results which Harry Hopkins obtained in his first six months of administering the lend-lease program of aid to Britain and "others." Here are some of the figures, as shown in the President's second report on "lend-lease" to Congress, which drew particular comment:

Item: Of the original $7,000,000,000 appropriation only half has even been committed in the form of contracts to permit a start on production.

Item: Total expenditures for all purposes including food purchases, cargoship transfers, and services amount to $468,821,838 for the first half year. This represents less than 7 per cent of the whole sum.

Item: Supplies of military and naval material transferred total $72,373,132, or approximately one-hundredth part of the money appropriated.

Item: During the entire six months of the operation of the act the value of "aircraft and aeronautical material" exported to the British Empire and the Near East comes to $6,016,145. A flying fortress costs about $400,000 to make, so the equivalent of fifteen of these planes has been exported under the program.

Item: No airplanes at all have been sent under the lend-lease program to China. Total exports under the act to "others" (than the British) come to $4,234,912.

Against this background President Roosevelt requests another $5,985,000,000 to implement the lend-lease program.—R. N. C.

TIME FOR INVENTORY.

Montgomery County property owners have four more days within which to pay their 1942 county taxes without an interest penalty. Because many taxpayers give heed to the cost of their government only at the painful moment when they write out their tax payment checks, this appears to be the psychological moment when an inventory might well be taken of the entire county financial structure.

There are a number of questions the average taxpayer might ask, and to which he is entitled to receive an answer from the administration his tax contributions finance. An administration serving all of the people rather than a select few would not need to be queried thus. In Montgomery, however, a taxpayer never gets anything he doesn't demand except increased expenses.

The administration should state at once its intentions concerning the issuance of more county bonds, the extent to which it proposes to borrow against next year's taxes, how the hundreds of thousands of dollars it has borrowed in advance to meet maturing bond obligations is being invested, and in general, just what is the present county financial picture.

Even the best informed county resident has only a hazy idea of what the present bond situation represents. Authority has been voted by the Legislature to issue $200,000 for establishment of a county refuse collection and disposal system, including the construction of incinerators. However, the administration has made no move to establish such a system, nor has it given any intimation that it intends to do so. Nevertheless, the fact that a potential $200,000 bond issue is looming constantly on the horizon is not reassuring to the average citizen.

The best minds in the county expected such a system to cost between $75,000 and $100,000, and the administration did not enhance its prestige by doubling this ante. It is being even less helpful in beclouding the issue by allowing the entire situation to remain shrouded in mystery.

Not long ago the administration announced that it proposed to issue certificates of indebtedness against next year's anticipated gasoline tax receipts, and use these borrowed funds to build roads and streets. This would mean, of course, that we would have money for roads this year but not next year, unless the process were to be repeated. The administration proposed to borrow more than the amount of this year's tax receipts, indicating that unless next year's gasoline taxes showed a marked increase there would be a substantial deficit. The situation reached the point of absurdity when the administration characterized it as a part of the county's alleged "pay-as-you-go policy. Here, again the taxpayer needs to be informed. Has the money been borrowed, or hasn't it? If the county has borrowed what is the amount? And where are the roads and streets that are to be improved? — Bethesda (Md.) Journal.

TURKEY RANGES AND SANITATION

Four Important Points for Good Birds.

By GEORGE C. CRANDALL
(Assistant Poultry Husbandman, New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station.)

Sanitation on the turkey range is an important point in good management of growing poults. Here are four points vital to good range conditions. Check your turkey range now to see if it comes up to the desired standards.

First, the range area should not have been used by other poultry for at least two years. The land should not be contaminated by drainage water or poultry manure, and should be well drained and free from swampy areas.

Second, all feed hoppers should be so constructed as to exclude the droppings of the turkeys. The feed hoppers should be moved at least once a week to a clean place on the range. This helps to maintain good range conditions and avoids bare spots on the range.

Third, watering equipment should be so constructed or protected so that the dropping or foreign matter cannot contaminate the water. If the water equipment is stationary, wire platforms will keep the area around them dry and sanitary. Water pans or troughs should be scrubbed with a brush once daily. Disinfecting all water equipment at regular intervals is desirable. If the equipment is not stationary, it should be moved weekly to dry, clean places on the range.

Fourth, if the turkeys are allowed on open roosts on the range, this roosting area should be fenced separate from the range and so placed that the drainage from the roosting pens does not contaminate the range. The turkeys should be driven from the roosting area early in the morning and not allowed access to them until roosting time at night.

Tests With Homemade Paint Are Suggested

Many farmers are using a homemade paint of mortar coloring and used motor oil on barns and outbuildings. Some get good results, but others do not, says Howard M. Ellis, extension agricultural engineer. He suggests that some "experimenting" be done.

"Ordinarily," Ellis says, "from three-fourths to one pound of brick red mortar coloring will be required for each gallon of used oil. The blacker the oil, the more coloring it will require. Determine the proper mix as follows: Divide one pound of red mortar coloring into four parts. Mix in two parts (one-half pound) of the coloring, slowly, while the oil is being stirred. Paint a small section on the back of the building to be painted. Add another fourth of the mortar coloring to the original mixture and paint a second section beside the first. Repeat with the last fourth."

Allow the oil to penetrate the wood for a time, inspect and then decide which mix you desire.

Ellis says the homemade paint can be applied with an old orchard sprayer or with whitewash brushes. Mortar coloring is about six cents per pound at hardware stores. Crankcase drainings may be obtained free from some filling stations.

Advises Rest for Cows After Every Lactation

A dairy cow that is allowed a rest period after each lactation will produce from 5 to 10 per cent more milk annually than a cow that is milked continuously, says Dr. George E. Taylor, extension dairyman at the New Jersey college of agriculture, Rutgers university.

"There are several reasons why this is true," he says. "During peak production, cows secrete more nutrients than they are able to assimilate from the feed consumed, thus depleting the body reserve. By storing a reserve of fat and minerals, especially calcium and phosphorus, in the body before freshening they are able to maintain a higher level of production following calving. The udder also undergoes a change during the dry period, resulting in a recuperation of the glandular milk secreting tissue."

"Research workers have shown that production during the subsequent lactation increases with a lengthening of the dry period."

Handling Hay

A method of handling hay which is gaining in popularity with farmers, is what they call the automotive sweep or buck rake. These sweeps or rakes are mounted on tractors, old trucks, or old automobiles and are used to pick the hay up out of the windrow and transport it to the barn, baler, or stack. With a large increase in hay acreage during the last few years, many farmers find it necessary to change methods of handling hay.

Chiropody Was Painful Early History Operation

In the early Nineteenth century, itinerant U. S. barbers traveled from town to town, carrying bags of dirty knives, and even old steels from corsets, for paring customers' corns. They usually charged 25 cents an operation, raised howls of pain from their victims. One day, while lounging around a hotel lobby, a lush-bearded young man from New Hampshire named Nehemiah Kenison met a Scotsman who had a new, painless method of removing corns. Instead of digging with a scalpel, he first softened the corn in acid, then carefully shelled it out with a dull bone blade.

Nehemiah Kenison knew a good business when he saw it. He examined the acid, went to Boston, where he set up an office opposite Old South Church. Nehemiah generously taught his trick to his sons and half a dozen relatives, who taught others. So began the science of chiropody in the U. S.

Today, although a few chiropodists practice in barbershops, chiropody is a highly respectable handmaiden of medicine, requiring two years of college training, three or four years in one of six approved schools. Chiropodists like to be known as podiatrists because, to their horror, they are often confused with chiropractors.

Children's Day

In 1883 the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church designated the second Sunday in June as Children's day and that has been the day accepted by many denominations. Several years before that date Presbyterians, Methodists, Baptists and other denominations had been observing Children's day and a few years before that time, about 1868, the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church had given recognition to the day.

From almost the beginning of American history pastors devoted certain Sundays to special services for children and early in the Nineteenth century Sunday schools were organized. From these services the churches gradually came to observe Children's day.

'Flammenwerfer' Used in Killing Locust Swarm

Few plagues are so devastating in their effects as a swarm of locusts. When in flight they throw a definite shadow across the face of the sun and, when they land, all edible vegetation for miles around is devoured in a matter of minutes. (A swarm may be 10 miles wide and 20 miles long!)

One of the most spectacular ways of killing off such a locust swarm is by use of the Flammenwerfer, or flame gun, used by the Germans against the British Tommy on the fields of Flanders. A portable cylinder containing paraffin is carried on the back and attached to the cylinder is a length of hose at the end of which is a nozzle. When the cylinder is pumped up a jet of flame shoots out of the nozzle for 10 yards.

To wade into a locust swarm with a weapon is a thrilling and impressive experience. The pests are mowed down in swathes as the roaring flame bites into the densely packed devouring hordes. But such are the tremendous numbers that even this mass murder does not greatly deplete their ranks.

Poison appears to be the most efficient killer. In Egypt rice bran, sweetened with molasses and poisoned with arsenic, has proved very effective.

Local Bomb-Proof Shelters

Although costly, it is possible to build bomb-proof shelters which can give full protection against any known type of aerial bomb, engineers at the University of California announced. Making concrete shatter and bomb-proof has been their main objective and Harmer Davis, associate professor of civil engineering, said it was found that when concrete is reinforced—by sprinkling nails in the mixture, adding pumice, puffed clay, or other methods—it becomes shatter-proof. The energy of a projectile would be spent in crushing the material in such a wall locally instead of causing shatter cracks over large areas he explained.

Heat in Bedroom

Turning off the heat in the bedroom at night will save fuel, but will not make much difference in sleep, according to Dr. Donald A. Laird, author. On extremely cold nights, however, sleepers are restless unless there is heat or flannel night garments.

Bury the Hatchet

In pioneer days the tomahawk was a favorite weapon of both Indian and settler. It also was used by the Indians as a ceremonial symbol. They buried the hatchet when they made peace and dug it up again on the breaking out of war.

Salt and Butter New

Born Infants in Europe

In certain parts of Europe and Asia there is a peculiar custom of salting and buttering the new born. For example, when a baby is born among the Armenians of Russia the mother takes the infant and covers its entire skin with very fine salt. This is left on for three hours or more, and then the child is washed with warm water.

In Asia Minor there is a tribe of people living in the mountains who do even more than this. They salt their new-born offspring and leave the salt on for at least 24 hours. The modern Greeks likewise sprinkle salt on their infants, but not so heavily.

This practice of salting babies is an ancient custom. It has its origin in superstition, of course. The mothers think that salting insures their children health and strength, and that it will keep evil spirits away. Even in some of the outlying sections of Germany salt is still used on the child at birth.

In some Asiatic countries mothers lay their babies where a stream of water, deflected by a large leaf, passes over their heads. This is to make them tough, and also to put them to sleep. The Tartar babe is covered with rancid butter, after the body-greasing habit of the Eskimos.

CARROLL COUNTY 4-H BOYS, FIRST.

Frederick County's team finished third and Page Iert, a member of the team, took third individual honors in the 4-H Club judging contest held Monday in conjunction with the Baltimore Livestock Show in Baltimore.

Carroll County's team, coached by Chester Cissell, assistant Carroll Agent for Frederick and Carroll counties, took the top honors in the team event as successor to the Frederick County team which won last year and went to Chicago to win the National title.

Thirteen teams and 39 individuals competed. The teams finished in this order: Carroll, Queen Anne's, Frederick, Cecil, Howard, Wicomico and Montgomery. Washington County's team was eleventh.

Young Iert of Middletown finished second in swine judging and eighth in judging sheep to collect $14 in prize money. Richard Greenwood, Walkersville, finished twelfth in judging beaves and fourteenth among the swine judges to collect $6. Willard Van Sant, Mt. Airy, the third member of the Frederick County team, finished eleventh in judging sheep to win $4.

Members of the Carroll County team are Robert and Paul Harman, Silver Run, and Richard Hull, New Windsor. They will represent the State in the National contest at Chicago in December.

The show, with 549 entries, brought exhibitors from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, Tennessee, and North Carolina.

CHILDREN'S AID BEGINS FINANCIAL DRIVE.

Thirteen years of care and attention to the unfortunate and underprivileged children of Carroll County is a record deserving the attention of the citizens of this county. Through the thirteen years of assistance given the underprivileged children of Carroll County benefits will be derived by all for many years to come. How many potential life's failures have been turned into decent, respectable, honorable and progressive citizens is a conjecture. It is safe to say, however, that if we could know and see the lives changed by the assistance given unfortunate children by this Society it would certainly loosen our purse strings this year in an endeavor to give this Society a better chance to do more and better work in preparing the underprivileged and misled boys and girls of today into good American citizens of tomorrow.

Can we doubt for a minute the incalculable value to our community of the training and help given the 602 boys and girls who have been given the right start in life by this Society? Can we doubt the benefit derived by families as well as children by the 7000 visits made to their homes by a worker who has been trained in the method of teaching and training young boys and girls.

The goal of the CAS is $3000. The Society can go only so far as the contributions of our citizens will permit. Its accomplishments can be measured only by the total amount of money the Society has at its command. There is no limit to the good that can be done; to the accomplishments that can be attained, except the limit of the generosity of our citizens. There are many children in need and in distress.

Your contribution, whatever its size, will be another stepping stone, another help that will give some child just a little better chance of becoming a worthy citizen. Won't you give some boy, some girl, a helping hand through your contribution to the Children's Aid? Don't put it off! Some child's future depends on you; the future of many children depends on us.

OLD TANEYTOWN 47 YEARS AGO.

Dr. C. W. Weaver erected quite an extensive two-story addition to his residence on Baltimore Street.

Mr. Willie Sadler is again a citizen of this place, having resumed his old position as salesman for F. M. Yount.

Mr. John Smith purchased the Mary A. Reindollar property on Middle Street, at the sale on Saturday, for $1225. Mr. Wm. M. Koons purchased from E. E. Reindollar that desirable dwelling on Middle Street, occupied by Mrs. C. A. Kohler; the price paid was $1200.

Mr. F. H. Elliot who had been in the mercantile business in this place for a long time, removed to York Springs, Pa., where, in the following Spring he engaged in merchandising.

The Uniontown correspondent reported a slight frost of Wednesday, September 26, 1894.

Dr. F. H. Seiss was elected a delegate to the Maryland Synod of the Lutheran Church which met in Frostburg.

The manure yards in connection with the Hotel yards in Baltimore Street, were filled up with earth, which removed for good an eyesore and a nuisance.

Howard, the thirteen year old son of Mr. Alfred Manahan, living on the farm of the late Jacob Krise, was accidentally shot and killed by his brother. The boys found an old gun and finding a load in it were afraid to shoot it off; they tied a string to the trigger intending to pull it, and laid the gun across a chicken house. Mr. Manahan called from the barn to Howard to bring him some water, and in passing the building, his brother pulled the string, when the ball entered Howard. The boy died before they got him to the house.

The North End of Old Taneytown.

John and Samuel Reindollar (the latter sometimes called General) lived on "Bunker Hill," on top of which at the front door of the Reindollar home was an old "draw" well.

Across the street lived Margaret Angell, the oldest woman in the town who found it necessary to have physical care taken of her so moved to York; but she frequently returned for short visits, and always came to The Record office, where she paid her "church money" as member of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Another aged woman of York Street was "Polly" Shorb. There was a "Judge Thomson," a "Squire Fisher," and Capt. Thomas Eck, who were old, even at that time, back in about 1880. There was also a "Squire Flickinger" who shot himself. Thomas D. Thomson was a shoemaker by trade and served many years as superintendent of the Lutheran Sunday School. His son, J. Abram Thomson, is still living in a home near his parental one.

Steiner and Reid were printers in a small way and published one issue of "The Occasional," a copy of which we own. John J. Reid, now living in Detroit, and who for so many years was a member of The Record office force, and later removed to his present home in Detroit, had his first experience in printing with the Steiner and Reid plant.

Dr. Geo. W. Demmitt was the first local dentist, and is still busy yanking molars and making plates. Jerome Breichner, tailor, who lived on the lot where the Presbyterian church stands, was appointed P. M., after Charles C. Currens.

We have been informed that after the Breichner dwelling was torn away a brick yard was operated on the location and that some of the brick made there were used in building the Presbyterian church.

The public school building stood on the west side of York Street. The old school building stood for a long while, but the growth of the school compelled the erection of a larger one. L. D. Reid, Mrs. Emma Forrest and others whom we can not recall, taught in this building—until it was succeeded by the present High School building. The present home of George W. Shriner now occupies the location of the old school building.

Dr. Geo. T. Motter had his office in the building owned by his wife and now by Mrs. Mary Wilt. He was quite a successful practitioner.

Charles C. Currens was postmaster, a returned veteran of the Civil War who had spent a time in Andersonville Confederate Prison. The P. O. was in the present Miss Sarah Hahn dwelling.

Where the building now owned by Merle Baumgardner and occupied by the A. & P. and Garner Hardware stores, there was an old brick dwelling and store owned by David Reindollar. Under the eaves of this building were many bird houses, and the arrival of the "martins," early each spring, was eagerly watched for by many citizens.

The stores on this street were Reindollar's and Jesse H. Haugh's the latter now housing Shriner's Sewing Factory, and the Moving Picture Theatre.

Our noisy spring visitors, the Martins, are said to have been annual visitors along the street at this point.

(We shall be glad to have old 'Taneytown' memories sent to us, but must require such memories to be signed by the sender, not necessarily for publication, for instance, we can not remember where the Steiner & Reid printing office was located.—Ed.)

GOD OUR HEAVENLY FATHER

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:26-28; Matthew 6:24-33.
GOLDEN TEXT—Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.—Matthew 6:9.

Without God man has no hope in this world. This is the teaching of Scripture, which is confirmed by experience and admitted by the philosophies of men. "Having no hope and without God in the world," says Paul (Eph. 2:12), and every godless philosophy paints the same dark picture. Says one, "It cannot be doubted that the theistic belief is a comfort to those that hold it and that the loss of it is a very painful loss. We have seen the spring sun shine out of an empty heaven to light up a soulless earth; we have felt with utter loneliness that the Great Companion is dead" (Clifford).

That desolate and despairing conclusion need not be the lot of any man, for we have in God's own Word a clear revelation of Himself as our Creator and our loving Father. Why not accept it?

I. God Our Creator (Gen. 1:26-28). Both of our Scripture passages tell us much about man, but in doing so they reveal God.

1. How He Made Man (vv. 26, 27). "God created man in his own image" (v. 27). This does not refer to any physical likeness, although it is abundantly evident that man's body is far above the animal level and perfectly adapted to be the dwelling place of the soul and the instrument of its activity in a physical world. Even the Son of God took upon Himself the body of a man and, in its glorified state, still bears that body in heaven. This means that man's body is worthy of honor and considerate care and use.

The real image of God in man is a moral and spiritual likeness. Man is a moral being, knowing the difference between right and wrong. He has all the characteristics of personality, self-consciousness, intelligence, feeling and will. That image has been marred and defaced by sin, but it is still there. Even in the lowest man or woman it is capable of being reached and transformed by the grace of God.

2. How He Blessed Man (v. 28). He gave man "a help meet for him" (Gen. 2:18); that is, a completely suitable companion and helper. He gave him dominion over the entire earth, and his restless, pioneering spirit still presses toward the complete realization of that promise. He provided for every need of man, not only physical and social, but also spiritual, for we read that He walked with him "in the cool of the day" (Gen. 3:8), until man by his own sin broke that fellowship. God's love toward His creation is shown by His provision for man's complete joy and full usefulness.

II. God Our Heavenly Father (Matt. 6:24-33).

Two things harass the mind and heart of man—anxiety for today and fear for tomorrow. He must have what he and his family needs for today, and it is a constant struggle for most men to meet that need. Then, as though that were not enough, there is always the tomorrow's new and possibly greater needs. Even those who have all they need today live in dread (and well they may if they do not trust God) that tomorrow or next week or next year they too may be in need. Our text meets both problems, for it tells us

1. Why We Need Not Be Anxious Today (vv. 24-31). The answer is simple—look at the birds. They cannot work, they are not even able to pray, yet God feeds them. Consider the glory of the flowers. Even a king cannot dress in such beauty—God provided it for them. "Are ye not much better than they?" (v. 26).

No bird ever worried because it did not have a meal laid by for tomorrow, and no flower has fretted itself lest its blossom failed to come forth in its accustomed beauty. Why should we be anxious?

Intelligent forethought is good and proper, but anxiety about our daily needs is always dishonoring to God. He is ready and able to meet our daily need.

2. Why We Need Not Fear Tomorrow (vv. 32, 33). "Your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need" (v. 32). Does not that settle the whole future? It is in God's hands, and even if it were in our hands, what could we do about it? Tomorrow with its joys and sorrows is not yet here, and when it does come God will be here as a loving Father to graciously provide for every moment of it.

What then shall we do? Verse 33 tells us, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness." Give God first place in your life and He will see that all "these things" are added. Simple, isn't it? and blessedly true. Let's trust Him!

Heart of the I.E.S. Lamp is the glare eliminating diffusion bowl. Used with the proper wattage bulb it transmits the right quantity of correct quality light.

Broad shades provide a wider area of useable light and the white lining, required on all I.E.S. shades, reflects and increases the quantity of proper light.

THE LOVELINESS OF CARROLL

The loveliness of Carroll
When autumn walks the earth,
The sweetness of its valleys,
The fragrance of its earth:
Old Wakefield with its meadows,
Its blossoms and its streams—
The loveliness of Carroll
When the autumn fills our dreams

To Taneytown and Linwood,
New Windsor and the rest,
Westminster in its beauty
With a rose upon its breast:
The little brooks that whisper
Of the morning in their glee
For the loveliness of Carroll
That is good for all to see.

Manchester is a chorus,
Hampstead is a lay;
Feesersburg is laughter
And Frizellburg is gay:
Of all the pleasant places
In this autumn bright and gold
Is the lovely land of Carroll
Where the heart is never old.
—The Bentztown Bard.
