HISTORICAL FACTS

Concerning Taneytown's Water Works.

The material used for this article was gotten from the files of The Carroll Record.

In the beginning of the year 1896 there were two meetings for the purpose of an organization similar to that of the "Village Improvement Societies." I did not go back in the files beyond this so do not know whether the subject "Water Works for Taneytown" originated at these meetings or whether it was discussed at an even earlier date.

March 6, a large group of citizens of the town met in the Public School building and decided in favor of Water Works.

"The most important election in Taneytown since the vote on the act of incorporating the town, will take place Monday, May 4th., when the citizens will decide by ballot whether or not $12,000 of bonds may be issued to provide a water supply, under the provisions of an act passed at the last legislature."

An interesting item about the old public well (then in the middle of the square) was found in an October paper, "While workmen were placing a much needed floor on the old public well, the idea occurred to someone to measure the depth of the water in it, which was done. The result was startling—only 18 inches. No one has ever dreamed that this old reliable source of supply was failing as the well is nearly 80 feet in depth. The failure of this old stand-by, naturally accentuates the plain necessity for a public and reliable water supply."

The first steps of real importance about the water supply question were taken in the first week of Aug. 1897, in contracting with Samuel Reindollar for all the necessary water rights, including a site for the pumping station, laying of pipes to town, etc., and in the employment of Engineer Kenley to furnish plans and specifications.

From August 21st. Record, "The system will consist in the erection and building of a well and suitable pumping station on the bank of Piney Creek about half mile from town, the erection of a steel stand pipe 15x80 feet upon a suitable foundation, and the laying of about 9980 ft. of pipe, with the necessary valves, branches and fire hydrants. A bond of $5000. is required from the contractor, and each bid must be accompanied with a certified check of $250. The proposals will be opened at noon August 25th., and the accepted contract will call for the completion of the entire system, on or before the 1st. day of December, 1897." The contract was given out to Chandley Bros. & Co., Beaver Falls, Pa., for $9,104.56.

OUR DUTY AS DEFINED BY GOV. O'CONOR

In this "all-out" war we are all virtually enlisted personnel in the total army of the United States. Our job is to work hard—to do the things we can do because we know how—and to willingly offer our services to the Local Civilian Defense Organizations. Any other course with the enemy threatening our shores means defeat.

And above all "speak guardedly." Unless we are sure of the facts, and are qualified to speak as military experts; like good soldiers, we should not—intentionally or unintentionally—undermine the very morale on which our safety depends.

Unity and morale mean victory.

Rice growers in California are up against it this year because rice there is seeded by airplane at a cost of about 35 cents an acre. The job calls for low flying and expert handling of the plane. All private planes within 150 miles of the Pacific Coast have been grounded by army orders. Rice will have to be floated in on the "paddies"—so watch for higher rice prices

FINE LETTER FROM

JOHN J. REID

Continues with its Items of Great Interest.

At the close of my articles on old Taneytown, I promised to write another letter, when Detroit had settled down to the new order of things. Well, that time may never come, and I am not going to wait for it, but will now try to give you some idea of how the change, now nearly complete, has been made by the large automobile manufacturing concerns.

On Friday, Feb. 1, at the close of the weeks work, all the shops of the largest companies, started to change machinery, after laying off the majority of their employees, at least until they were ready to put them on Defense work. Some few of the Independent Companies, were allowed to run as they had, for 10 days, making cars to fulfil their contracts, or fill out their quota for January, which had not been exhausted, but now even those have ceased operation, so far as turning out automobiles is concerned, and all are swinging into war work.

The changing from what was the greatest industry of the century, to something hitherto unknown in this city, is just one instance of what the master minds of great organizations, such as Chrysler, General Motors, Ford, etc., can do when occasion arises. Million of dollars worth of machinery, some of it practically new, had to be moved out, and suitable machinery installed in their places. I noticed that in one case, a machine that cost over $30,000, the only one like it in the world, and in use only 3 months, was yanked out, and before they had time to cover it with grease to protect it from the weather, another machine was in operation on the spot from which the former one was taken. They didn't take time to build shelters for these costly discarded machines, but just piled them up, out in the snow and rain, until a more convenient time.

The old Continental plant, which has been abandoned for a number of years, the Company having placed all its activities in one plant, in Muskegon, has been reopened, and for several months we have heard the hum of (Continued on Fourth Page)

C. E. BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Christian Endeavor Society of Grace Reformed Church held a birthday party on Wednesday evening, commemorating the 61th. birthday of Christian Endeavor with 61 members and friends present. The color scheme used in the decorations was green and white. Games during the evening were in charge of Miss Rose Beall, Mrs. Carl Frock, Miss Ruth Stambaugh, Rev. Bready, Edward Reid and Wilbur Thomas. Group singing was in charge of Edw. Reid. Special numbers during the evening were: Reading by Miss Patricia Butler and a solo by Mrs. Marian Rue.

The 61 candles on the beautifully decorated two-tier cake were lighted by each person making a contribution to the work of Christian Endeavor. Ten dollars and forty-one cents was received. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, mints and tea were served.

Taneytown's Growth Continues.

Despite war conditions, priorities, etc., Taneytown continues to grow. The Russell Eckard's double dwelling, W. Baltimore St., is progressing in construction. Edward J. Nusbaum is building a semi-bungalow on Antrim Ave. The Jesse Warner home on E. Baltimore St., has been completed. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Warner moved in last week. Franklin H. Fair, East Baltimore St., is making an addition to his dwelling.

Another fine building is progressing rapidly, the Merwyn C. Fuss building on E. Baltimore St., near the railroad. This building, when completed will be occupied by the Potomac Edison Company and will be one of the finest buildings in Taneytown. The industry that this company will bring to our city will be a great asset to this community.

Both factories, the Taneytown Mfg. Co.; Blue Ridge Rubber Co., are running full force indicating a healthy business aspect. It is reported that over a 1000 employees are working at the Blue Ridge Rubber Co., and that they unloaded four carloads of old rubber tires in Taneytown last week. Over 600 tons of rubber is being reclaimed by them for manufacturing purposes.

THE U. S. NAVY COOK BOOK

General cooking principles which the official U. S. Navy Cook Book sets down for its cooks afloat and ashore prove just as good advice in the home galaxy. It warns:

In seasoning foods, when in doubt as to the exact amount of seasoning to use, it is a good policy to use a little less than you think is required. All foods fried in deep fat should be removed promptly when done.

Salad dressings should not be added to salads made of fresh fruit or fresh vegetables until just before serving, as these tend to wilt the green plant and to make it tough.

All pork, veal, mutton, fish, and fowl should be cooked "well done" no matter what method of cooking is being used.

Take care of canned meats, fish and vegetables after opening. The germs causing food poisoning cannot be killed unless exposed to a temperature of 180 degrees Fahrenheit.

It is a good practice to have the lid off all containers in which fresh vegetables are being boiled. This permits the escape of heavy odors and flavors which, if retained by a lid, will make the vegetable strong.

All towels or cloths used for wiping meat, for draining washed fruits or vegetables, or as hand towels should be boiled and washed daily.

THIS WEEKLY PRESS SPEAKS OUT

It wants full mobilization now, without favoritism, and in no uncertain terms—

Let's have full mobilization now! Donald Nelson says, that America is still working half time. That way lies certain slavery! We have drafted men to fight for us, let's draft ourselves and our machines to furnish them the means of fighting. Let the President know that we want a full assignment for every man, woman and machine in America.

T. H. S. PUPILS WRITE--

Mrs. America, Stop, Look and Plan!

Is being economical and practical a dream of yours, or are you putting forth an all-out effort to make it a reality? Last week you learned what foods were needed in your family daily diet, but can you successfully meet those requirements and still balance the food budget? In order to do this, the problem will require much thought. Plan your menus one week in advance, thus giving you an opportunity for variety at a lower cost. Many times it will be cheaper to purchase and prepare a larger amount than will be used at one meal thus producing a chance to serve an interesting and tasty left-over casserole dish. Left-over roast need not appear next day as a cold cut of meat.

Mrs. America shops around to learn where food may be secured at the lowest price. This cannot be done by the telephone shopper, so be sure you visit the grocery stores at least once a week, for prices are not stationary. Knowing the cost of a can or a box does not represent the complete story. How much does the box contain? What grade food is in it? This information may be found by carefully reading the labels.

Many times a quantity of certain foods may be cheaper than a single amount. However, if you cannot use the food or there is a chance of spoilage, it will not be cheaper for you to make use of this bargain. When food is marked three for—, stop to figure; this is often a sales idea, not a reduction in cost to you.

Buying by weight instead of by number is cheaper; for example, consider the differences found in the size of bananas. A dozen small bananas certainly do not equal a dozen of large ones, but a pound will always give you the same weight.

Unfortunately everyone that serves you, Mrs. America, is not always honest. Watch your scales and check your orders. Maybe there will not be any mistakes, or they were not made intentionally.

Strawberries at Christmas may not affect your budget if they were grown in your garden and stored in a freezing locker, but can you afford twenty-nine cents a box? It is your duty to learn the seasons when food is the cheapest, and plan to use them at that time.

You have often heard the saying, "Never too old to learn." New information concerning food values, marketing hints and other menu news is being put before us every day. Are you availing yourself of magazines, radio, newspapers and discussion groups to obtain this knowledge? Mrs. America must be up and doing if she wants to help win this war. Remember these ten points:

- 1. Plan before you buy.
2. Shop around to learn.
3. Compare prices with amounts and grades of food.
4. Read labels.
5. Buy in quantities when it is cheaper for you.
6. Buy by weight.
7. Watch the scales.
8. Check your purchases.
9. Learn the seasons when foods are the cheapest.
10. Keep up-to-date on food information.

THE WEEK OF

WAR REPORTS.

Departments' and Boards' Activities.

War Production Chairman Nelson said man-hours now being put into military production could be doubled if all equipment involved were used 24 hours a day. He asked manufacturers for monthly reports to show how rapidly industry is being converted to war work, the degree of utilization of equipment and any factors interfering with maximum production.

The WPB reported 95 percent of the radio and phonograph industry, which ceases civilian production April 22, will be completely converted to war work before June 30. Production of communication equipment needed by the military services is expected to exceed a rate of $125 million a month by the end of the year.

Chairman Nelson announced 31 regional conferences of labor and management representatives from prime contracting plants engaged in making guns, ships, planes, tanks and machine tools will be held during the next two weeks. The meetings will lay plans to meet or exceed the production goals announced by the President. The WPB ordered the production of domestic laundry equipment to be discontinued by May 15 so the entire capacity of the industry can be devoted to war production.

The WPB said during the three months following Pearl Harbor more than $72 billion had been made available for the war effort. Appropriations by Congress and additional funds made available through the RFC were larger than all the funds authorized for defense during the 18 months before the attack. The total for the 21 months amounted to almost $140 billion.

President Roosevelt in a letter to State Governors proposed speed limit of 40 miles per hour be established throughout the country to conserve rubber. He also proposed the States enact regulations requiring frequent checking of tires to insure repair and retreading at proper time. The office of Defense Transportation and Department of Justice offered their assistance to local business enterprises seeking to pool delivery services as a means of conserving trucks, tires and other equipment.

The WPB said deliveries of gasoline to service stations and bulk consumers in 17 Eastern States, the District of Columbia, Washington and Oregon (Continued on Fifth Page.)

AN OLD-FASHIONED REVIVAL

An old-fashioned revival, with international broadcast, by Dr. Chas. R. Fuller, Los Angeles, Calif., is being arranged for, by seventy-seven pastors, in and around Washington, D. C., and some eighty prominent laymen, from our national capital and elsewhere, are co-operating, in one of the greatest evangelistic efforts ever made in this world.

The committee of arrangements have had with them, at every monthly meeting held since last December in the Taft House Inn, Washington, as one of their number, the Rev. Wm E. Roop, of Westminster, Md.

Dr. C. H. Brown, vice-chairman, of the Washington Bible Institute, was the speaker, at the last monthly meeting, in the Taft Inn; and will be the speaker, in the Meadow Branch Church of the Brethren, next Sunday March 22, 1942, at 10:30 A. M.

Dr. Fuller, broadcasts regularly, over 348 stations, for a full hour, every Sunday evening, and is said to have an audience of more than twenty million people.

On April 12, 1942, Dr. Fuller is visiting Washington, upon invitation of scores of churches, and large groups of business and professional men and women, some of them of national importance on Capital Hill.

Two services and an international broadcast, will be put on, in the Uline Ice Arena, seating 9,500, in the Capital of our country, directed by Dr. Fuller in the largest radio hook-up in the now known world. It is larger than Amos and Andy, Firestone, Ford, or any other radio program.

In order to become a little better acquainted, with conditions of this rare and important meeting, at such a time as this, no one within reach of the Meadow Branch Church of the Brethren, can afford to miss hearing Dr. Brown, on next Sunday morning. The public is invited to attend.

REAL VALUES

It's not the amount of money you spend for something, that counts for most, but the amount and value of the thing you get, for the money spent. Money spending may be either waste or profit.

It's not how hard you work, but how good you work, and what for. That makes work worth the doing. One can be busy, and do nothing.

It's not how long nor fluently you talk, that makes your speech worth listening to; for geese gobble and folks gabble—It's the value of what one says that counts.

It's not the money you have, that makes its real value. How you made it, and what good you did with it, is what counts to you your lasting credit. One may be very rich, but in reality, very poor.

It's not facial beauty, nor perfect form of body, that makes man or woman; it's the heart and soul within the body that stand for eternal values. P. B. E.

KIND WORDS AND PRAISE

A lady, last week, said "I always read 'Random Thoughts'" and she bears a good reputation for truthfulness. She actually intimated that these "thoughts" at random were worth the reading for truthfulness.

These kind words were encouraging after many years of labor and is like sunshine in ones life.

PETTY COAT GOVERNMENT

The title is harsh and crude, but the thought is as mellow as a ripened peach. Our men by millions are taken off to war, and the women are left behind to carry on.

Our next Congressional election which will name one-third of our Senators and all our Congressmen will be dominated by majority of women voters. It is womans chance to show her ability to choose the right kind of officials. Will she do it right or will she as in the past just fall in line with the politicians and keep step to the music he orders played.

We think women have the ability but unfortunately those who possess such qualities fail to exercise them and step aside and let the gushers and flushers occupy the stage.

Our next Congressional election will be the most important we have had since the days of Lincoln, and on it will depend our destiny and maybe world destiny.

It is now time to be weighing men and measures.

We are right now in the middle of a nasty fix with Germany as yet dominating the Atlantic, and the treacherous Japs the Pacific. We have been using big orders, and doing but small deeds thru the years, while the other fellow has prepared to do, and has done what we threaten to do.

It is time for Uncle Sam to get the razor strap and herd all our recalcitrant officials into the wood shed and give them what they deserve.

There has been too much playing politics—coddling of classes, catering to masses. Politics be damned, we want to save America, and will do it if we have to chuck all such into the ash can.

Women can do it. Women will do it if they make up their mind to do so. This is one time when we approve petty-coat government.

SUGAR SHORTAGES AND SUGAR SUBSIDIES

The Federal government did not settle all its sugar problems when it announced a few weeks ago, a sugar rationing plan for here came the cornbelt farmers with a plan whereby there need not be much of a sugar shortage after all.

It seems that the sugar shortage has been caused by the purchase by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation of 1,200,000 tons of raw sugar for the purpose of making industrial alcohol to be used in making smokeless powder. But industrial alcohol can be made from grain and the residue of low-grade blackstrap molasses as well as from the high test sugar cane so these farmers are proposing that that 1,200,000 tons of raw sugar be refined and used for domestic consumption thus almost entirely relieving the sugar shortage and that the needed industrial alcohol be made from surplus grain and molasses residue.

Industrial distilling plants, the farmers point out, at present have facilities for producing only about 100,000,000 of the 300,000,000 gallons of alcohol expected to be needed. Whiskey distilleries which have been ordered to cut their production 60 per cent and manufacture industrial alcohol will make a very considerable contribution to the total needed but whether the additional alcohol be made from grain or cane, new buildings and new equipment will be needed, say the farmers and they have already asked for priority ratings to build and equip distilleries for grain. The War Production Board, however, is said to be frowning on this project, possibly because it would interfere with the plans already under way to ration sugar.

Trouble also seems to be brewing for the sugar growers along another line. The Sugar Control Act expired with the 1941 season, and Congress extended the Act, on the plea that if the war should cease suddenly, the growers would be left with a lot of sugar on their hands for which they might not easily find a market. In fact, Congress was so sympathetic that it added another 30 percent benefit payment for the sugar growers for compliance with certain government regulations about labor and the conditions of their employment—The Blue Ridge Herald.

WAR RATION BOOK NUMBER ONE

Farm families everywhere will shortly be getting acquainted with the teacher, if the plan of having teachers handle sugar rationing is carried out. War Ration Book Number One, being distributed to counties, do not mention sugar, indicating that it will later be used to dole out other products.

Behind the sugar rationing are these conditions:

1. Smokeless powder requires alcohol which ordinarily is made from sugar cane molasses. More alcohol (275 million gallons needed) less sugar.

2. Lend-lease requirements for Britain and Russia.

3. Past restrictions which have limited amount of sugar domestic cane and beet growers were permitted to produce.

4. Slowness in utilizing the alternate source of alcohol which is grain.

General reaction of health authorities is that most Americans will be better off with less sugar than the 115 pounds average consumption per person—twice the amount used by any other nation.

One complaint heard from farm women is that since they do much of their own baking, the ration of one-half or three-fourths pound per person will discriminate against them while favoring city cooks who buy more prepared materials with sugar already included. Other sugar news:

A million-dollar beet sugar plant in Bremer county, Iowa, idle since the price drop in 1920 forced its closing, is to be reopened. Seeking 8,000 acres of sugar beets, and reporting contracts with farmers for more than half that amount already signed, the company is urging growing of beets as a "high income" crop with present sugar shortage.

No ceiling prices for honey have as yet been announced, but they will doubtless come sooner or later. Prices to beekeepers have gone up 50% (in some instances nearly 100 percent) in Pacific Coast areas in the past few weeks, and some beekeepers are holding back supplies on hand in the hope that because of sugar rationing even higher prices will soon prevail. Bakers, confectioners, canners, ice cream manufacturers and soft drink bottlers are now greatly interested in buying honey for sweetening, and this of course is helping to boost prices.

Sugar rationing doesn't bother Zeb Norville, in the Cane Creek section of Rutherford County, North Carolina. He will grow his own sweetening. Last year he planned 1.7 acres of Silver Drip sorgum cane from which he produced 370 gallons of molasses and 50 bushels of cane seed. Syrup not used at home brought $1 a gallon; seed, $1.75 a bushel. "I have been growing sorgum cane and making molasses since I was large enough to be around a cane mill," says he.

A cherry pie that won the national cherry pie baking contest for 17-year old Mary Elizabeth Lush, Ames, Iowa, proved that the sugar shortage doesn't mean a thing to the cook who knows her honey. Instead of using sugar in her recipe, she substituted a cup of honey. Want the recipe?

Honey can replace sugar in many recipes," says Iowa's state apiarist F. B. Paddock, "but don't try it in coffee. Honey is a complete failure there, because it destroys the delectable coffee flavor."

60,000 colonies of Idaho bees need to be figured in when the sugar rationing books are passed out. A tempting honey market last fall plus heavy government purchases resulted in growers selling the honey usually held for winter feed. They figured on buying sugar to feed the bees until the flowers bloomed again. They have appealed to sugar rationing officials and are assured that the honey-makers will be cared for.—Farm Journal.

Gay Parties With G-Men Cause Stir In Department

Pretty Girl Foreign Agent Responsible for U. S. Embassy Scandal.

WASHINGTON. — G-men of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are working energetically to erase from their shield the smear left by a mysterious girl, known under several different names in New York, Chicago, Detroit and Minneapolis, who was sentenced recently to a year and a day in federal prison.

She has called herself Lois Lockner, Paula Lockner, Carol Davis, Paula von Luckner, and claimed kinship with Count Felix von Luckner, the German sea raider of the old World war.

With a number of other pretty girls she was a frequent guest of agents of the FBI at their suite in the ultra-modern glass and brick Beaux-Arts apartments in midtown New York.

But Lois made the mistake of posing as a G-woman herself and, in the resultant scandal, a number of agents were dismissed, while others were hastily transferred to points far, far removed from the scene of her gay parties.

Perils of Beauty.

The revelations in this particular case called attention to the fact that G-men, and agents of the government generally—especially those in the diplomatic and consular service—are daily subject to perils from beauty as well as bullets.

Among several pretty Nazi agents who pleaded guilty in recent espionage trials in Brooklyn federal court, New York, was Lilly Barbara Carola Stein, erstwhile Viennese model.

Shortly after she was brought into the investigation, Ogden H. Hammond Jr., socialite diplomatic career man, and a son of a former United States ambassador to Spain, appealed to the district court here to enjoin the state department against dismissing him from service.

Later, Hammond presented an affidavit from Miss Stein, declaring their relations had been "purely platonic."

But Lilly Stein pleaded guilty, along with another pretty German agent—Miss Else Wuestenfeld—to indictments charging them with conspiracy to transmit United States defense secrets to Germany. And the district court decided it would let Hammond's dismissal from the state department stand.

Mysterious Kent Case.

Then there was the mysterious case of Tyler G. Kent, former attaché of the American embassy in London, who is serving a seven-year sentence in England as a German spy. Born in the United States, a son of the late Consul General A. H. P. Kent, he was convicted a year ago with Anna Wolkoff, a Russian-born Nazi spy, with whom he was infatuated, with stealing Anglo-American messages.

Kent, in charge of cipher codes at the embassy, was passing messages along to the seductive Miss Wolkoff who, in turn, was smuggling them to "Lord Haw-Haw," renegade Briton who broadcasts in English over the German radio. She also was sentenced to prison, getting a term of 10 years.

Forty-nine defendants were indicted in a sweeping prosecution of Nazi activities. Most of them pleaded guilty to minor offenses under the espionage act and 16 went on trial almost four months ago.

Story of Daedalus

The mythological story of Daedalus, who made a pair of wings and flew over the Aegean sea, says that at Gnossus, in Crete, Daedalus, after building a labyrinth for the fabled Minotaur, half-bull and half-human, was imprisoned by King Minos. To escape, he made wings for himself and his son Icarus, and fastened them on with wax. Daedalus flew safely over the Aegean sea, but Icarus soared too near the sun, the wax melted, and he fell to his death in the Aegean.

Longest Telephone Calls

The longest telephone call within continental United States would be from Eastport, Maine, to Bay, Calif., a distance of 2,910 airline miles. The longest telephone call made from any point in the United States to a point outside the United States would be from Bay, Calif., to Adelaide, Australia, via New York and London, a distance of about 18,000 miles.

Old Feud Goes On; Cause Forgotten

It All Concerns Great and Little Snoring.

NORFOLK, ENGLAND.—Between two apparently peaceful villages—Great Snoring and Little Snoring—there exists a deep and bitter feud.

Set in the heart of the green fields of Norfolk, these villages, only a mile apart, each has its own Saxon church, a huddle of ancient cottages, and the population of each for the most part, comprised of farmers and farm laborers.

The population of Great Snoring numbers approximately 370, while that of Little Snoring is about 150 less.

The only link between the two villages is the parson that they share—the Rev. L. A. Williams who is the rector of both parishes. He lives in the larger village and cycles to and fro between them.

Even the older members of the villages (known for the longevity of its men and women) are at a loss as to what the feud is really about or when it started, but despite this there is no inhabitant of either village who will speak readily to the other.

"It is a feud such as one imagines existed between the Montagues and Capulets," the rector said. "It makes things very difficult for me. Not only do the older members of the villages refuse to co-operate over church and parish affairs, but the younger ones refuse to co-operate in games and sport."

"I have never known a case of a Great Snoring boy falling in love with a Little Snoring girl or vice versa—they seem to be too feud-conscious to think of it."

The rector had hoped that the war and the start of war organizations in the two villages would bring the two communities together. But it hasn't. Great Snoring has joined forces over A.R.P. work and home guard duties with the villages in the north, and Little Snoring with the villages to the south.

And now, Little Snoring—getting ahead of its rival—raised $12,800 during its war weapons week, and, in comparison, Great Snoring raised only $2,800, and so the feud goes on.

Human Feet Not Built

For Speed, Says Doctor

Anyone who ever has sat in the stands at a track meet and seen athletes spring a hundred yards in less than 10 seconds, or watched distance runners step off a mile in a few seconds over four minutes may find it hard to believe that the human foot was not designed for super-fast travel.

But no less an authority than Sir Adolphe Abrahams, a doctor who has looked after the health and well being of England's crack teams for many years, thinks that men's feet are not properly built for speed. Sir Adolphe, strange as it seems, got this notion after thinking about the close-fitting shoes that sprinters wear.

The British physician says that such shoes help runners hit higher speeds than they could barefooted, or with looser fitting shoes. But, from the point of view of allowing the foot's natural structure full play, the modern track shoe is an instrument of torture.

Sir Adolphe, turning to the legs of the horse—a much faster animal than man—thinks that Nature showed her hand in the simpler design of these limbs. In the course of evolution the legs of the horse got rid of most of its smaller muscles and joints. The horse runs on the nail of the one toe it has left. And there seems to be no question that the modern horse can hit a much faster pace than the prehistoric species from which it developed.

Dr. Abrahams concludes human feet were intended to wrap themselves around tree trunks, or to creep soundlessly over uneven ground. He doesn't think they were intended to travel at high speed.

FEEDING CHANGE NOW POSSIBLE

Increasing Demand for More Milk Is Cause.

By C. F. MONROE
(Ohio State Agricultural Dairy Experiment Station.)

At present there is a demand for an increased quantity of milk, and current prices justify attempts to meet this demand. In fact, dairy-men can afford to modify their feeding program to meet the emergency. The exact method for individual cases will, of course, be subject to the conditions prevailing in the particular dairy.

Many cows do lack the ability to produce, but there are also many cows that would do much better if given the chance. Only by permitting the cows to have a fair trial can their producing ability be determined.

An attempt should be made to have the cows fresh in good condition. In this sense, the lactation period really begins with the dry cow six or eight weeks previous to freshening. After the cow freshens the feeding should be increased gradually. The cow in heavy milk flow requires a concentrate mixture containing some high-protein supplements to insure a sufficient protein intake. Hay should be fed liberally and the cow allowed to pick it over rather than be restricted to all she will clean up. If corn silage is available, it should be limited in amount to permit the heavy producing cow to eat more hay. Such a procedure is recommended where the hay is of good quality and hence palatable to the cow; otherwise limiting the corn silage has no justification.

A large improvement in milk production cannot be expected to come from just one change, of course. The entire feeding and management program in summer and winter must be considered. Much of the low production can be traced to underfeeding on July and August pasture, to undue exposure and short pasture in the late fall, to the use of poor quality roughage and poor management in the winter. For best results there can be no weak places in the program, because the weaknesses generally speed the decline in production to such an extent that many of the good points are made less effective.

Farm Terracing Aid

Under the new setup, farmers can terrace their land now and pay for it later, the AAA official said.

Machinery of the terracing program is simply operated, Vance said in explaining that county AAA committees set a reasonable price for terracing easier farms of the county through offers made by co-operating contractors. Once the fair price for a county is determined, farmers get bids for their farms from the contractors, take the offer they like best and get their terracing done.

It goes without saying that prices of terracing will vary by farms. Establishing a reasonable price for a county will serve as a yardstick for measuring costs of easier and more difficult jobs.

When terracing has been completed and checked by county AAA officers for specified requirements under the farm program, contractors are paid by the AAA and charges later deducted from farmers' conservation payments.

Needs of Soil

More food can be produced for immediate war-time needs and agriculture can be placed on a firmer footing for the future if farmers will follow a few basic soil building principles, according to an agricultural bulletin.

"One of the first essentials," says the bulletin, "is for the farmer to find out what are the nutritional requirements of his soil. Since soils and crops vary in different geographical sections, the farmer's best procedure is to enlist the co-operation of agronomists of his state agricultural experiment station or of his county agent."

"By analyzing a sample of the farmer's soil and determining its needs for nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, these experts can provide valuable information to guide the farmer in selecting the correct analysis of fertilizer. They will likewise suggest the amount to use."

More Eggs, Dairy Products

Uncle Sam is asking for increased production of eggs, dairy products, and pork products. Next year, for example, American hens are called on to lay 4,300,000,000 more eggs. Although poultry flocks are increased, production per layer will have to rise to new heights. Hen house lights step up production as much as four or five eggs a month during the winter.

Even the poultry are asked to pitch in and do their necessary bit.

FEESERSBURG.

Three more days of clouds, mist and rain, but let's not talk about the weather; when here is that red bird for beauty; a brilliant blue bird for happiness; and a perky robin singing in the rain; all harbingers of spring, and we are thinking of dandelion and early flowers.

The stormy weather of the first days of last week affected our electricity, as three poles were broken off, so we had a trial of getting along without furnace heat, pumping water electric clocks, ironing, sweeping and the radio. We shivered in the front room awhile—then repaired to the kitchen coal range, fully satisfied that we are creatures of circumstance.

E. O. Cash, of Westminster, was a caller at the Birely home on Wednesday of last week. He thinks he is not as young as once, and his wife had a very sick winter—but her health is improving, and we trust warmer weather and more fresh air will strengthen and restore them all.

Lincoln Birely, of Brookline, Mass., tells us the plaster cast has been removed from her limb with a broken knee cap—because of a fall at a hotel in mid-winter—but she cannot stand or move about much until stronger; but thinks its good to get the fresh air—"tho' it is still very cold in Boston."

Last week was surely one of sales for this community. At Mrs. Wm. Stover's on Tuesday, near Hobson Grove, which was well attended, stock and implements sold at good prices; then the sale of Ervin Myers, at Mt. Union, on Friday with satisfactory results.

The ladies of Mt. Union Church had food sales at both places—and were well patronized. They returned home at night very tired but content and thankful. At the first place they had plenty of good soup, but the men didn't have time to eat soup, they wanted pie to take in their hand and move on; so at the next sale they had lots of pies—and all were sold. Live and learn.

Nothing wears out a cleaner so quickly as an overloaded bag. The motor works too hard, suction is lessened, and you run the cleaner longer. If the nozzle at the brush becomes worn, get a new one. Do not pick up nails or other metal objects. Keep at proper tension and brush clean.

LETTER FROM JOHN J. REID

tank engines being tested, not only in the regular eight hours, as prescribed one time by the Government, but four shifts of six hours each, seven days a week, and they are always seeking new skilled men.

This matter of skilled men, is a serious one. It is estimated that several hundred thousand men are out of work, but you can make a safe wager that no man who has mastered the running of a machine is among that number. The ones this change has hit the hardest, and who are now drawing, unemployment benefits, or waiting until the Governor and the crowd at Washington settles the matter of aid, and those who were engaged on the Assembly lines, inspectors, and other overhead men—those who do not produce, but are just as necessary in the matter of turning out whatever is being produced, and who may number a goodly percentage of the employees.

As you may have noticed, the largest factory building in the world is being put in operation by Henry Ford, who is making war planes, at Willow Run. The site of this huge plant was, until a few months ago, partly swamp, and the balance forest and farm lands. They started at one end to build it, and long before they reached the other end, planes were being turned out of the finished part.

And if you could see the immense tank and naval arsenals of Chrysler and Hudson, and the numerous plants of Briggs and Fisher, some of which have been abandoned for years, being put back to use, you would agree with me when I say that Detroit is going away ahead of its schedule.

While this is true of the manufacturers, it is just as true that the great majority of the citizens of this city, have been slow in waking up to the seriousness of the situation as regards the safety of the city, as a whole. I have heard it said that we need not be afraid of being bombed by the savages with whom we are at war, as we are too far inland, for them to attempt such a feat. I think events in the East should awaken them out of this self-satisfied security.

I rather believe that they, the enemy, would rather take long chances of destroying the center of war supplies, than easy marks along the coast, and I do not know of any protection Detroit has, except the base at Fort Custer, quite a distance from the city.

I notice that the cities and small towns along the Atlantic Coast, are wide awake in the matter of preparedness for what may happen and wish that we out here would have taken the same interest. Maybe those in authority will soon take over the city and quit then squabbling over less important matters. One thing that is holding them back is the number of political scandals that has been uncovered during the past year. It seems that when a man is elected to an office, out here, the first thing he does after being sworn in—or maybe he thinks it out beforehand—is to see what he can get out of it, and not get caught. But a lot of them certainly have fooled themselves, not about collecting the graft, but about not being found out, from the former Mayor, down through the Council Police, and into the county offices.

The city is included in the county government, and just recently the Governor had to remove two members of the Board of Auditors, the most powerful body in the county, as they have charge of all expenditures. Before this the Sheriff, Prosecuting Attorney and a number of other officers have been removed. As all those men except the Mayor, are members of his own party, it must have been a bitter pill for him to take action. But he is a pretty square fellow and when it was proven that they were guilty, did not hesitate a minute in doing his duty.

As to the three councilmen, they were elected to their high positions, in the present so-called, partisan election, and the members of no one party can "point with scorn" to their actions, although they were all three political leaders, and always were looked up to as being as honest and upright as it was possible to be. All the above have been sentenced to terms in the different prisons, but I fear their fate will not serve as a warning to others, who, no doubt are just as guilty, but whom the long arm of the law has not yet reached.

I don't know, but I think you folks in there are having a more severe winter than we have had, so far, out here. There have been plenty of small snow squalls, but only one or two, which could be called anything heavy, and we have had only a few weeks of very cold weather.

I have been reading the articles and poems of my good old friend, Wm. James Heaps, and wish I could have the confidence which he has in our ability to "whip the little brown Japs" in record-breaking time. I hope that what he writes is true, and that the time will soon come when we can go back to our former, secure way of living, but from reading the daily papers, I have almost come to the conclusion that he will have to revise his opinion in this matter.

JOHN J. REID.

Since writing the above, which was done several weeks ago, Detroit has pretty waked up to the fact that they can be bombed, and now has taken a great many steps forward in preparing for what has been said by many prominent writers, to be an uncertain but very probable thing. Guards have been placed about all buildings that are used for war work, and about 20,000 people have enlisted for Air Raid Warden duty. The citizens, or a great many of them have been contacted, and the instructions are about the same as in your town and county as to sand, etc. But there is need for about 40,000 more such wardens, and the papers and radio stations are calling in no uncertain tones for still further awakening.

AND IT WORKED

"Can you spare me a moment? I am not an insurance canvasser," said the man on the doorstep. "I do not want to sell you soap, toilet preparations, books, or anything of that sort."

The door had been closing, but paused in the movement. The householder was reassured.

"I do not represent a sewing machine firm, nor any who sell wireless sets, gramophones, electric cleaners, or motor-cars."

The door opened a bit wider.

"I'm not a collector, either of rates, information, or accounts—I find it hard enough to collect a living myself."

The reassurances had their effect; no longer was there a sign of the door closing.

"I'm not a canvasser for any political party, and I don't want details for a directory."

Allocations will be handled by existing auto and the rationing boards.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration announced expansion of its programs in order to train 45,000 men a year in elementary flight training instead of 25,000 and 30,000 men in secondary courses instead of 10,000, and to inaugurate training of 33,000 ground technicians annually. President Roosevelt, in a radio address, said the fight against inflation is not fought with bullets or with bombs, but is equally vital. It calls for mutual good will and willingness to believe in the other fellow's good faith. The Labor Department reported the average family's food bill jumped 0.5 per cent between mid-January and mid-February. The Department said rents in many defense cities were raised during the last quarter of 1941 on as many as one in every eight rented homes. The Bituminous Coal Division of the Interior Department and the OPA said they are prepared to take whatever steps are necessary to prevent wartime inflationary prices for coal.

Purchases, sales and rentals of various types of new office machinery were halted by the WPB, except to persons possessing high performance ratings. The Board extended the ban on use of "bright work" to all types of motor vehicles and prohibited its use in replacement parts. Manufacture of bicycles was curtailed, and production of tire retreading and recapping equipment was suspended except on preference-rated orders. The Board directed canners to set aside for the Government considerable quantities of their 1942 pack of fruits and vegetables. Maintenance and repair of existing plumbing and heating installation in farms, residences, and office and apartment buildings was facilitated by a new order.

Woman to Woman

by Peggy Mason

SO you wish you were a connoisseur of wines? You'd like to include them on home dinner menus, but you're a little hazy on wine "etiquette"?

Don't worry about it, says Sherman Billingsley, owner of New York's famous Stork Club.

There's too much confusion about which wine to serve with which food, what glasses to use, and so on," he said. "Choice of wines should depend on a person's own taste, developed through experimenting, and not on stiff rules and regulations. The wine you drink should improve for you the flavor of the food it's served with. And the glass it's served in should add to the pleasure of the wine."

Mr. Billingsley ought to know. Long famed as a host to many of the world's outstanding personalities, he knows what foods and what wines please countless celebrities.

"Since it's becoming difficult to get imported wines," Mr. Billingsley said, "more and more people are discovering that wines made in this country and bottled in traditional American bottles, are good."

It's the same with crystal," he continued. "Since imports of European glass have been cut off, there has been a revival of the fine glass industry in America. The modern American crystal now coming out of our own glass houses is superior to any glass made anywhere."

"A fine glass adds to the enjoyment of wine. It should be a clear, stemmed glass of generous size so that it need never be more than half filled. It should have a good 'ring' and should be slightly smaller at its brim than at its widest part."

Mr. Billingsley had good reasons for his specifications. The glass should be clear, he explained, so that the color of the wine will show. The narrower-at-the-brim shape holds the bouquet of the wine. "Wine should be appreciated by the senses of sight and smell, as well as taste," he said.

Granting that the old formula "red wine with red meats, white wine with white meat" is a good general rule, Mr. Billingsley nevertheless thinks a person should drink whatever wine he happens to like best. "Only those who know nothing about wines worry about being 'correct,'" he said. "If you like a wine, it's 'correct' for you."

Al Jolson, Mr. Billingsley said, is fond of good red meats. When he orders tenderloin of beef at the Stork Club, he wants red burgundy to go with it, served in a stemmed glass of generous size, which displays the wine to advantage.

Virginia Fields likes to start her meal with honeydew melon followed by jellied consommé. With the consommé, she drinks dry sherry. Her favorite dish is broiled lamb chops and with it she usually orders champagne. When she chooses crepes suzette for dessert, she sees that it is served with a glass of port wine.

Paul Lukas, Mr. Billingsley said, is fond of fish. His favorite is supreme of pompano. With this he enjoys Rhine wine in a tall stemmed glass. For dessert he often selects fruit compote and with it likes champagne.

"A six-ounce stemmed wine glass in modern American crystal will do for serving any wine," Mr. Billingsley said, "although a full line of stemware in the home sets a more beautiful table."

"So why should today's hostess worry about the foibles of wine etiquette? She can set her table with modern American crystal, select domestic wines according to her own American taste, and serve a perfect dinner."

Glassed Foods For Home Defense

This housewife is checking over the latest additions to her emergency shelf, made necessary because of the possibility of air raid alarms. A raid might mean the shutting off of the gas or electricity for cooking, and such items as these would come in handy. Included are bouillon cubes, instant coffee, evaporated milk, dried beef, figs, dates, crackers, and glassed fruits in widemouthed jars which may be used for serving. A plumber's candle, safety matches, and filled salt and pepper shakers are also suggested.

TO YOUR Good Health
 by DR. NATHAN S. DAVIS, III

HAY FEVER AND ROSE COLD NEED TREATMENTS

The running nose and weeping eyes that cause sleepless nights and uncomfortable days to all who are sensitive to the rag weed pollen, who have hay fever, are known to all. The difficult asthmatic breathing that causes the sufferer to sit up gasping for air which complicates some of the cases is not so widely appreciated.

Dr. Nathan S. Davis III

Many also know of the similar though usually milder symptoms suffered in the late spring and early summer that are due to sensitivity to the pollens of trees and grasses. Just as "hay fever" is not due to sensitivity to hay pollen nor to the golden rod that in many places blossoms when the rag weed does, the milder early summer disturbance is known as "rose cold" though it is not due to rose pollen but because it comes when roses are in bloom.

Few know that in some parts of the country that are free from rag weed in August and September, people who are sensitive to it, have hay fever at other seasons, as in these regions the rag weed blooms at other times during the year. This same thing occurs in the case of those who have rose cold because the trees and grasses to whose pollens they are sensitive bloom earlier in the South than in the North.

Indoor Plants.
 It is also not widely known that some of the plants frequently grown indoors in the cold months may cause the allergic reaction found in those who have hay fever or rose cold. Such plants sometimes cause another type of allergic reaction, hives, with its red wheals and intense itching. The primrose is a plant to which many are sensitive.

It is possible to successfully immunize many of the sufferers from these distressing diseases by injecting under their skins gradually increasing doses of the pollen or pollens to which they are sensitive. To obtain the best results, this treatment must be carried on over a long period so that, when the plants to which they are sensitive, pollenate, the patients will be able to tolerate large doses of the pollens under the skin. Before the treatment starts, the patients must be tested to determine the pollens to which they are sensitive. Then these pollens must be mixed in proper proportions to fit each individual's particular sensitivities. It is now almost too late for the sufferers from rose cold to be greatly benefited in 1942. Hay fever sufferers who start the testing and treatment at once can obtain some benefit but not as much as if the start had been made in October.

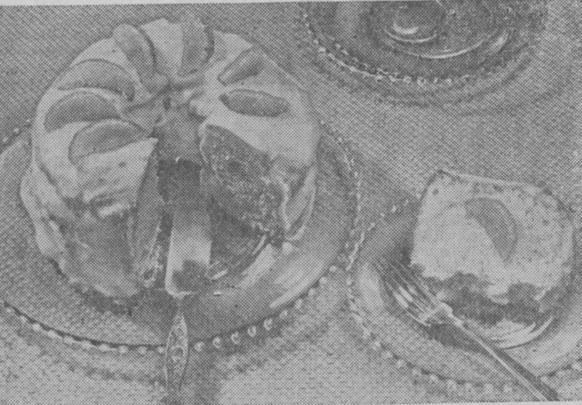

Start Treatment Now.
 If you have rose cold or hay fever and wish to benefit by this type of preventive treatment, get your tests made at once and start the treatment as soon as possible. If you are not much better next summer don't be discouraged. Repeat the treatment next year but begin it almost as soon as the plants to whose pollens you are sensitive, have gone to seed. You may have to continue the treatment for several years but after the first year or two will not have to start it as early or take as many injections. This type of treatment does not cure in every case, but it gives much relief.

"The publicizing of a biological discovery before the matter has been fought out in expert conclaves is not only stupid but in many cases is cruel by reason of the false hopes it arouses and the vain expenditures of money and effort it imposes on those who may be misled." — Hans Zinsser in "As I Remember Him."

Luscious to Look At and Eat, Too . . . Orange Sponge Cake
 (See Recipes Below)

Snacks, II

"What shall I serve to guests who drop in for an evening of bridge or for a chat?" This is a question I've heard many hostesses ask, especially often during colder weather when visiting time really comes into favor again. The answer is simple, for a delectable cake with steaming coffee or hot drink turns the trick.

Your guests will have finished their supper only a short time before, and since snacks do not come late in the evening, it is best to serve something not too heavy. Light cakes, preferably those with a touch of piquancy and tartness, fill the bill perfectly. These cakes may be baked in one of your not-so-busy moments to have on hand for just such an occasion.

Hot drinks are favorites in the chilling weather. If you like coffee, be sure to have quantities of the steaming beverage on hand. If you're on the lookout for new ideas, there are the hot fruit juice combinations which hit the spot. Either type of drink goes well with these dessert-like cakes.

Here's the first cake on our list. It's like spun gold in color with just the right tartness. You'll find that the navel oranges which peel and separate easily into sections will be perfect for decorating the cake as pictured above:

Orange Sponge Cake.
 5 egg yolks
 1 1/4 cups sugar
 1/2 cup orange juice
 1/2 cup water
 2 cups sifted flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
 5 egg whites

Beat egg yolks, sugar and orange juice until light. Add water and beat 2 minutes. Add flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Beat 1 minute or until thoroughly blended into egg mixture, fold in grated orange peel and egg whites beaten stiff but not dry. Bake in 9-inch ungreased tube pan in a moderate (350-degree) oven 70 minutes. Invert pan until cake is cold. Remove. Cut in three cross-wise layers.

Gold Topping.
 1/4 cup cold water
 1 tablespoon gelatin
 4 egg yolks
 3/4 cup sugar
 1 cup orange juice
 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
 4 egg whites
 1/4 cup sugar
 Orange sections
 Soften gelatin in water. Cook egg yolks, sugar and orange juice in top of double boiler until thick. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add grated peel and cool mixture. Beat egg whites stiff, adding 1/4 cup sugar and fold into cooked orange mixture. Spread between layers and on

Lynn Says:

Hot mulled fruit juices lend tang to winter evening snacks. You can have hot mulled cider by heating the cider and adding 1 teaspoon whole cloves and 1 stick of cinnamon (tied in a bag) while the cider is heating.

Here's another mulled fruit juice served piping hot: Tie in a bag, 12 whole cloves, 1 3-inch stick of cinnamon, and 1 whole nutmeg. Empty a large can of apple juice and a 12-ounce can of cherry juice in the saucepan and add spices. Heat, remove spices and serve. This recipe takes care of eight people.

Hot spiced lemon tea has lots of pick-up. Make it by pouring 5 cups boiling water over 6 teaspoons of black tea. Steep 5 minutes, then strain. Dissolve 1/4 cup sugar in 1/4 cup boiling water. Combine 6 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel, 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon and 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, and add to hot tea. Serve at once, garnished with lemon slices. Serves 6.

top of cake. Chill in refrigerator. Decorate with fresh orange sections just before serving.

Gleaned from an excellent chef, this Lemon Cake-Pie is a good combination of a cream pie and cake. Because of the delicate lemon flavor it will prove interesting to serve for those evenings when friends just drop in for a bit. Made just according to directions, it's guaranteed to bring plenty of encores!

Lemon Cake-Pie.
 1 cup sugar
 1 tablespoon butter
 2 tablespoons flour
 2 eggs
 1 cup milk
 1 lemon

Blend the sugar and butter, add beaten egg yolks, milk, flour and the juice and rind of the lemon. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and pour into an unbaked pie-crust. Bake in a slow (325-degree) oven 35 to 40 minutes. The top will be like a sponge cake and underneath there's a soft, firm custard.

Pumpkin pie will never wear out its welcome if you serve it this way. It has extra zest because of the addition of orange juice:

Pumpkin Pie.
 3 eggs, slightly beaten
 1 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/4 teaspoon ginger
 1/4 teaspoon cloves
 2 cups cooked canned pumpkin
 1 cup cream, rich milk or undiluted evaporated milk
 1 cup orange juice
 Mix sugar, spices, salt. Add slightly beaten eggs, pumpkin, cream or milk, and orange juice. Pour into an unbaked 10-inch pie shell. Bake at (450 degree) for 10 minutes, and then in a moderate (350-degree) oven for about 50 minutes or until knife comes out clean when inserted in filling. Serve with whipped cream garnished with grated orange peel.

Gingerbread is a favorite for after-dinner bridge type of entertaining. Gingerbread made with boiling water gives the cake a special kind of feathery texture which is certain to charm. Most of the time you like to serve gingerbread with whipped cream, but you can vary this if you add crushed peppermints to the cream before serving.

Old-Fashioned Gingerbread.
 1/2 cup boiling water
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 1/2 cup molasses
 1 beaten egg
 1 1/2 cups flour
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 3/4 teaspoon baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon soda
 3/4 teaspoon ginger
 1/4 teaspoon allspice
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Pour water over the shortening and add sugar, molasses and egg. Add sifted dry ingredients and beat until smooth. Bake in a waxed-paper lined square pan in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 35 minutes. Cool before turning out from pan. For variation, 1 package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces may be added with the dry ingredients if a chocolate-flecked cake is desired. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Locked Door Puts Baby In a Jam—Strawberry

BOSTON. — Two-year-old Sheila Bychman, Roxbury, was undisturbed when the door of her mother's pantry closed accidentally and she was locked in.

Although her mother, Mrs. Theresa Bychman, discovered that Sheila was in the pantry, her attempts to tell the baby how to open the door were unsuccessful, as the young lady answered:

"Can't open the door without a key. There's no key here, mamma. So it's all right if I have a key?"

Occasionally Sheila reported to her mother on conditions in the darkened pantry—"the jam and mother's chocolates were nice."

Policemen, summoned by Mrs. Bychman, forced the door to release a jam-covered Sheila.

Proves That He's He-Man, Trees Bear Before Girl

ABERDEEN, WASH.—On the way home from a movie with his girl, Jim Clark showed her what he-men are like. He treed and shot a 200-pound bear that had roamed the outskirts of the city. They sighted him near a river bank. Clark waved a flashlight and the bear took to a tree. Edith Olson rushed to Clark's home for a shotgun. One shot was enough to kill the bear and prove that Jim is indeed a "man."

Son a Deserter, Father Finds Him, Calls Police

NEW YORK. — A middle aged man stood in front of a Bronx pool room, stared intently at a youth who approached, then turned to two detectives and said quietly: "This is he—my son; a deserter from the army. Take him away."

Thus ended the search of Andrew Link of Brighton, Mass., a World war veteran, for his 19-year-old namesake son, a deserter since September 1 from the 26th division at

JESUS THE MESSIAH
FORETELLS HIS DEATH

LESSON TEXT—Mark 8:27-37.
GOLDEN TEXT—For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.—Mark 8:35.

Jesus came into the world as the Redeemer of men—and that means He came to die. The prophets who wrote centuries before His coming presented Him as both the suffering and the reigning Messiah. However, to the minds of the Jewish people only the idea of His glory and kingship was acceptable, not of His suffering and death.

Apparently His own disciples had this same impression and it therefore became necessary for Jesus as He came to the last months of His earthly ministry to speak plainly to them about these matters.

I. Recognition of Christ by Faith (vv. 27-30).

As a foundation for right thinking on any spiritual question there must be recognition of Christ's deity. He drew forth such a confession from the disciples by asking who men said that He was. Notice that while there was difference of opinion, all had a high opinion of Him, calling Him John the Baptist, Elijah, or one of the prophets. They knew that a great man was in their midst, and had to admit it, even though they hated and opposed Him. But it is not enough to accept Christ as a great man, as a teacher, a prophet, or an example. Nor is it enough to tell what others think of Him. The question quickly becomes: "Whom say ye that I am?" Have you answered that question? What will you do with Jesus Christ?

Peter responded with a straightforward, heaven-born confession of Christ as the Son of the living God (cf. Matt. 16:16-18) upon which Christ established His church.

II. Rejection and Crucifixion Prophesied (vv. 31, 32).

The foundation of faith in Him having been laid, Christ plainly laid before the disciples the fact of His coming rejection and death. Notice the word "must" in verse 31. "There was an imperative necessity for these things. But why must He die? This question is fully answered elsewhere in the Bible (John 3:14; Heb. 9:22; Isa. 53:4-6; II Cor. 5:21; Gal. 3:13; I Pet. 2:24). There could have been no salvation for any sinner if He had not died (Gal. 3:10, 13; II Cor. 5:21; Rom. 3:20-26)" (John W. Bradbury).

Note also that He "must rise again" (v. 31). He died for our sins, but "was raised again for our justification" (Rom. 4:25).

III. Rebuke of Unbelief (vv. 32, 33).

Peter, quick to accept Jesus as the Son of God, permitted Satan to blind his mind to the necessity of the cross, and thus became a stumbling block of unbelief, calling forth a severe rebuke from Jesus.

It is a striking and humbling thought that the very one who a moment before spoke such acceptable words of recognition of Christ's deity could by unbelief so quickly become the tool of Satan. "My soul, be on thy guard" lest such temptation overtake thee!

May we also learn from this incident that we do well to weigh the words of even good men lest in a moment of weakness or unbelief they say that which may lead us astray. God's Word alone is sure!

IV. Requirements of Discipleship (vv. 34-37).

Following the Christ of Calvary calls for a willingness to say "no" to self (literally, to deny any connection with self-life) and to follow through with Him on the path of shame and crucifixion. No self-will and no compromise are permissible to Christ's disciples.

Foolishly to attempt to hold one's life for self is to lose it. That painful loss has left brokenhearted, wrecked lives all along the path of man's history. But why should any one do it? Equally foolish is the one who supposes that this world has anything to satisfy the human soul. Assuming the possibility of the impossible—that is, attaining the whole world as one's own possession—to do so at the cost of one's soul would be an indescribably poor bargain.

What then shall we say of those who barter their eternal souls for a mess of pottage, a moment of sensual satisfaction, or for a few paltry dollars? "What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" It is the unanswerable question.

Right Endures

When Christ preached the Sermon on the Mount he was mocked and later crucified; but the inspired truths that he uttered continue to live through the ages, defying crucifixion. We may doubt the divinity of the Christ, for the proof lies in the hereafter; but only by stultifying ourselves can we doubt the wisdom of the moral precepts he uttered.

'Sleeping Beauty' to Wed
Prince Who Kept Vigil

PHILADELPHIA.—The story of Philadelphia's sleeping beauty soon will have the traditional happy ending.

For 23-year-old Ruth Stevenson asked and answered her own question for friends.

"What's the first thing I'm going to do when I'm completely well? Why, I'm going to marry Edward."

Edward is Edward Carney, the sweetheart who kept vigil while she lay in a coma for three months.

Ruth was injured Christmas eve, 1940, in an automobile accident. Day after day she lay in a hospital, eyes closed, alive, yet "dead." Twice surgeons opened her skull and drew off excess fluid under the outer brain covering.

Last Easter the first flickering signs of consciousness returned, and she has improved steadily ever since. Except for a slight paralysis about the mouth, she has virtually recovered.

MOSKEE, WYO.—This little lumber camp whose name has always been misspelled is no longer on the map.

There's no longer a post office of Moskee—and few people.

Once a rip-roaring lumber camp, the lumbermen here now get mail three times a week delivered by carrier from Lead, S. D.

About 29 years ago, when the lumber industry was booming, it was decided to establish a post office here.

Herald Haas, now of Rapid City, S. D., was named postmaster for the nameless post office. "What'll we call it?" he asked a rugged rancher.

"It makes no difference," he replied.

That answer set Haas to thinking. "Then," he answered Haas, who had spent a number of years in Mongolia, "we'll call it 'Moskee'—which in Chinese means 'it doesn't make a bit of difference.'"

TANEYTOWN KIWANIS CLUB

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening, at six o'clock at Sauble's Inn, President Robert W. Smith presiding. The music period was in charge of Raymond Wright, with Mrs. Wallace Yingling at the piano. There were present 27 members, and Mr. Gordon Fogle, of Union Bridge, the guest of Raymond Selby.

The program was in charge of Geo. Harner, Chairman of the Committee on Support of Churches. The speaker of the evening was Rev. A. T. Sutcliffe, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of Taneytown, a member of the Taneytown Club, and Chairman of the Committee on Support of Churches for the Capital District.

Rev. Sutcliffe began by saying that his address would be based on two thoughts: First, the present struggle is not a war of nations, but a war between two fundamental ideas of life and government. The one is represented by the ideology of the Axis nations and is irreligious, greedy, and intolerant. The other is represented by the democracies which hold to ideas which tend to make a better world in which to live. Second, all the ideals of democracy are based upon Scripture, so there is no difficulty in understanding the sameness of interest between the Christian church and democratic government. In the present situation especially, we must not be ashamed to acknowledge and to speak of this relation, nor of religious matters as such. The war is a war against religion, the Christian religion, and incidentally against those things which are to be found in a way of life such as ours. In speaking about the support of churches, we are therefore, speaking about things essential to victory. We need to know God, to know His truths about life, without which we are doomed. Without that knowledge and the means and will to make that knowledge the basis of our living, civilization will crumble. Nations which stand for antagonism to religion not only have contributed nothing to the interest of the Christian Church, but they lack any claim of a contribution to Christian civilization. Among the Axis nations, there is seen in one an attempt to eliminate Christianity, in another an attempt to substitute something else. We need the Church just as we need certain essentials in occupations or professions. In the program for the support of churches as Kiwanis has outlined it, there are four objectives.

1. Enlist. All Kiwanians must be enlisted to the awareness of the need to be concerned in spiritual matters. Each Kiwanian must enlist all his resources in his Church and for its support.

2. Fortify. Churches must be strengthened especially by encouraging young people to use their talents for the church, and this strengthening comes about by example.

3. Defend. The Church must be defended from its traditional enemies who are seeking to destroy it by the concentration of all our Christian strength. We must be proud, not ashamed, to show that we stand for those things which the Church promotes and defends.

4. Stand firm. We must stand firm on the foundations upon which the Church is built. It is hard to do this in time of war, in view of the fact that for the promotion of war among nations, the people must be aroused to hate one another through a program of hate propaganda. It is not Christian to build up an attitude of hate against the people of nations with whom we are at war.

Before the struggle, Christians will be called upon to give a reason for the faith which is in them. The question will be not, "Are you a member of the Church?" We ask of Kiwanians one hundred percent support for churches if we are to meet the needs of the present and emerge finally victorious in those things which really are at stake.

President Smith announced there will be no regular meeting next week on account of the Maryland day program of the Westminster Kiwanis Club, to be held on next Tuesday evening, and on account of the Charter Night program of the Annapolis Club on next Wednesday evening, and that the members of the Taneytown Club have been invited to attend both functions.

REMEMBER WAY BACK IN '41?

Remember the good old days when folks used to pay their income taxes in one lump sum? They used to kick about it for a couple of days and then forget it until next year. Now, it's too worthy a cause to kick about, and too big to forget. Maybe the March installment caught you unawares. Start now to save for June 15th. Regular deposits made at this bank will take a lot of the sting out of succeeding payments.
