Fire Company News

The Fire Department met in regular monthly session Monday night. The Chief reported no fire calls during the past month and the ambulance committee reported three calls. OUR SCHOOLS IN WARTIME

As Explained by Raymond S. Hyson, Superintendent.

Every citizen, every parent is rightfully thinking, "What of education in wartime? Will the program be curtailed? Will adequate teaching staffs be maintained? In short, will schools continue as usual?" No, schools like every other institution geared to a peace-time economy, to thinking peace rather than war, must and are adjusting their programs to meet the new demands and doing everything to insure ultimate and final victory.

President Roosevelt said, "What the schools do may prove in the long run to be more decisive than any other factor in preserving the form of government we cherish." We believe in education. Thirty million students are in our schools and colleges. One million teachers are employed to train these young people. We know the wealth of any nation lies not in its material resources but in its people—their physical, mental and spiritual characteristics are what determine the strength of any nation. We will have to decide, very shortly, what things we will give up. As a people and as individuals we must choose to retain only those things that will produce victory.

What about education, or to put it in another way, what shall we do about our children? We know that they cannot be fully spared because this is a total war—a war of depth—a war of all fronts. We mean to protect their physical bodies from harm. We shall see that they are given food, shelter, and clothing. We must also be doubly anxious about their mental and spiritual growth. The classrooms of America are the citadels of democracy and as such must be continued.

It is therefore clear that the quality of teaching must be sustained and strengthened and every effort put forth to insure this. In Carroll County approximately twenty percent of our teachers left the service for one cause or another. Six men are now in the armed forces of our country, one abroad. Since August 1, 1941 fifteen men and twenty-two women teachers have resigned or been given leaves of absence. The average years of experience for the group leaving was seven and for the new teachers appointed in their places, three. This means employment of many inexperienced teachers and this trend will continue.

Shortages of teachers in certain fields are marked, notably in agriculture, industrial arts, mathematics and science. This will continue. Our most difficult replacements in Carroll County were in these fields and some high schools have had to cut their of

THE RATION BOARD

Warn Violators of the 35 Miles Per Hour Law.

To date the name of 21 violators of the 35 MPH maximum speed regulation have been turned over to the local rationing board. There is a complete record kept concerning all the circumstances involved in this regulation. These violators are pending action by this Board, and citizens of Carroll County are again informed that this will be strictly adhered to. It is the wish of the board that drivers of Carroll County will keep this in mind.

Residents of Carroll County have been receiving renewal applications for their supplemental gasoline books which expire on or before November 1, 1942. In order to give the individuals a clearer understanding of how these books will be issued the following plan has been adopted by the War Price and Rationing Board. Applicants will fill in and answer all questions on the application. The enclosed postcard is to be addressed to the applicant so that when we mail it he will be sure to receive it. The applications and postcards are inserted in the envelopes which we furnish and mailed back to our rationing board. When the book is completed the applicant will receive this postcard which will give him the time and date as to where he is to receive his new book. Applicants are cautioned to be sure to bring their 1942 registration cards along, and also their old book which must be turned in. In order that everyone may be taken care of and have sufficient gasoline it is suggested that they fill their car with gasoline provided they have enough coupons to do so before they call for their book.

CELEBRATES 50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT J. OHLER

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Ohler celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Tuesday, Oct. 13, by entertaining a number of their relatives and friends in the evening at their home at 68 York St., Taneytown, Md.

Mr. Ohler who is near 75 years old, is the son of the late Andrew and Catherine Ohler. Mrs. Ohler is the daughter of the late Samuel and Mary Null and is 70 years of age. They were married by the late Rev. G. W. McSherry, Oct. 13, 1892 at the home of the bride's parents. They were attended by the late Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ohler.

Mr. and Mrs. Ohler were engaged in farming in Carroll and Frederick Counties for twenty-seven years, and have resided in Taneytown for the past twenty-three years, where Mr. Ohler has been engaged in carpentering. He was Mayor of the town for a number of years. They are both enjoying good health and continue active in their usual duties.

They are the parents of two sons, Raymond and Merle Ohler and two daughters, Mrs. Wesley Shoemaker and Mrs. Charles Rohrbaugh, all living in or near Taneytown. There are seven grand-daughters and one great grandson, who celebrated his first birthday the same day.

The home was tastefully decorated with a color scheme of yellow, gold and white. The flowers used were gifts consisting of a basket of yellow chrysanthemums, dahlias and mums.

A three tier anniversary cake graced the center of the table with candles. The cake ornament base was of white lacy effect with a large wreath of gold leaves from which hung a gold bell and a smaller wreath with the numerals 50 in gold.

Entertainment was furnished by the following grand-daughters, Mildred, Ruth Jean and Lois Ohler, Rhoda and Dorothy Rohrbaugh singing "Silver Threads Among the Gold." They were accompanied at the piano by Mildred Ohler. A vocal solo, "The Sunset Gates of Gold," was sung by Mrs. Murray Baumgardner, also a grand daughter, accompanied by Mrs. Doty Robb, at the piano; Rev. A. T. Sutcliffe made a few appropriate remarks.

Refreshments were served to thirty-five guests. All present spent an enjoyable evening and congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Ohler upon their celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary and wished them many more years of married life together.

THE WEEK OF WAR REPORTS.

Departments' and Boards' Activities.

U. S. Army headquarters in Britain reported that 115 American bombers, in their first large scale daylight sweep over occupied France, shot down 48 Nazi planes, probably destroyed 38 more and seriously damaged at least 19. Never before had so many German planes been shot down in single operation over western Europe as were brought down by the massed fire of the American Flying Fortresses and Consolidated B-24's. Only four American ships were lost and the crew of one was saved. The bombers had made a destructive attack on the Lille industrial area.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in Australia announced October 12 that Lockheed medium bombers scored two direct hits on a large Japanese seaplane tender in the Solomon area between the Bismarck and Solomon Islands. The Navy reported October 10 a Japanese destroyer was sunk and a heavy cruiser and destroyer were damaged by American airmen during continued enemy attempts to land reinforcements on Guadalcanal. The enemy under cover of darkness made several small landings in the Solomons, but U. S. forces shot down 21 Japanese planes, torpedoed a cruiser, and bombed and strafed enemy troops and equipment on Guadalcanal. Gen. MacArthur's headquarters also announced that the biggest force of Flying Fortresses ever sent against a target in the Australian zone made an unusually destructive raid on the largest Japanese base in this area, Rabaul. Australian troops continued to drive the enemy back into the Owen Stanley mountains and removed the threat to the Allied base of Port Moresby.

From new bases in the Andeanof group of the Aleutians, Army bombers, escorted by Airacobras and Lightning fighters, kept Japanese-held Kiska—less than an hour's flying time away—under "continual fire" during the week. The Navy reported aerial reconnaissance showed the Japanese apparently had given up their hold on both Attu and Agattu in the western Aleutians and concentrated on Kiska.

The Senate passed and sent to conference with the House the 1942 War Revenue Bill which the Treasury estimated will yield $9 million in new revenue annually. Of this total, approximately $1,706 million would be refundable because the bill provides an extra 5 percent "Victory tax" on all individual incomes above $12 a week—part of which would be refunded as a credit on other taxes a year later or as a post-war refund. The new bill will make 42 to 44 million persons subject to Federal taxes, compared with 28 million at present, and will bring total Federal revenue up to $28 billion a year.

Price Administration Henderson announced a five-step Government plan to keep every passenger car "rolling for essential mileage" throughout the war: (1) Rationing of used tires and recaps, and new tires now in stock, to provide as far as possible the minimum essential mileage to each of the nation's passenger cars. (2) Actual control of each car's mileage through the rationing of gasoline to prevent unnecessary driving and to hold the national average down to 5,000 miles per car per year. (3) Compulsory periodic inspection of all tires to guard against abuse and to prevent wear beyond the point where they can be recapped. (4) Denial of gasoline and of tire replacement to cars whose drivers persistently violate the national 35-mile-an-hour speed limit. (5) Capacity use, through car sharing of every car on every trip so far as possible.

Fuel oil consumers in the 30 States affected by oil rationing will be able to obtain their ration application forms from their dealers soon after October 13 and should fill them out as soon as possible and mail or deliver them to local War Price and Rationing Boards, OPA said. Fuel oil ration coupons for private dwellings will be worth 10 gallons each for the first heating period—October and November—the OPA announced. Coupon sheets for the entire five periods of the heating season will be issued shortly, OPA said, but only those for the first period will be assigned a definite gallonage value in order to "assure flexibility" in fuel oil allotments.

Price Administrator Henderson announced a new alternative pricing formula, effective October 15, for the following groups of food products: Breakfast cereals, canned fish, coffee, sugar, cooking and salad oils, canned vegetables, dried fruit, lard, rice, hydrogenated shortenings and other shortenings. The action, which will result in "slightly higher prices" for consumers, was taken to relieve pressure on wholesalers and retailers caught between March quotations under the General regulation and the amounts they must pay producers. Mr. Henderson said the groups of food affected represent about 15 percent of all food purchased in the nation's $75-800 food stores. Mr. Henderson said American housewives should check prices of food brought under price control last week by making a list of the prices paid from September 28 to October 2 for the various items of the same quantity and quality.

The Navy's canned vegetables order for the year—70,000,000 lbs.—is barely a fourth of its fresh vegetable needs of over 311,000,000 lbs.

SERVICE MEN LETTERS

Containing Thanks for Kites Given Them.

The Carroll Record Co.

Dear Sirs:
Just a line to let you know my appreciation of your sending me the "Record." It's one medium I have in keeping contact with the home town. I am studying radio, and am hoping that when I complete the course I will be assigned to a bomber squadron as flight operator. I surely would like to "follow the beam" directly to Tokyo with a load of bombs and give those yellow rats a dose of medicine prescribed by a United American people. We'll do it, and once we get started, they'll be sorry they ever started this thing.

Again—thanks for the "Record." And may the time come soon, when I can walk into your office and thank you personally. Just another Yank from Taneytown.

BILL SELL,
Scott Field, Ill.

Community Soldiers Kit Project

Dear Members:
Received my kit before going into the service. I considered it a worthy project which showed patriotism. I extend my appreciation to all who have devoted their time and resources to provide this gift. Sincerely,
JOHN O. GARNER.

ANOTHER APPRECIATED LETTER

I have been reading John J. Reid's letters in your fine paper, and enjoying them too. Am so sorry to hear of his ill health, hope he gets able to write many more. He was my old teacher in my youthful days, and I enjoy hearing from him very much. In fact I am partial to the Reid family, as teachers, John J. was my first, and Levi D. later, and the late Wm. E. Burke in between, and I remember a lot about different persons who write and are mentioned in your good paper. I knew Mrs. Ethel Moline, as her parents the late Mr. and Mrs. Webster Schweigart were neighbors of ours in Keymar. They came to the little town as a bride and groom, and were still there when we migrated towards Taneytown, he being the Pennsylvania Agent, Keymar. While I do not think the new Editor knows me, if he wants to fill up his paper with small time stuff as he told John J. and wants to print this as an encouragement to John J. and other former residents he has my permission. Respectfully,
(MRS.) NANNIE E. DUTTERER,

CLIPPING BUREAU

One of the most unusual businesses in the world—Burrelle's Press Clipping Bureau of New York City—was started in 1888 at the time of the Great Blizzard in New York City. Clippings were marked on the U. S. S. Battleship Maine being blown up in Havana Harbor—the assassination of President McKinley—the first successful airplane flight by the Wright Brothers at Kitty Hawk, and the San Francisco earthquake. When the steamship Titanic was sunk in 1912, Burrelle's furnished the clippings. During World War No. 1, press clippings were marked on General Foch and General Pershing.

The Burrelle organization has grown until today it is the oldest and largest press clipping bureau in the world employing over one hundred people to read and clip every newspaper and magazine published in the U. S. and Canada and many foreign countries. Each reader scans from 50 to 150 different newspapers every day—or about four full length novels.

Of all the many thousands of newspapers and magazines read and clipped at Burrelle's, the readers enjoy the Carroll Record because it contains so many interesting items and is so easy to read.

Random Thoughts

(This is a reprint of an article formerly published. Owing to the popularity of these Random Thoughts we will for a time reproduce others of the same type.)

HOW THE "OTHER HALF" LIVES

There is the saying that "one half of the country does not know how the other half lives," and no statement could be more truthful, even confining the saying to its application to what may be called "home folks," and eliminating the mere trifles connected with living. There might be an inclination manifested on the part of many to be simply "nosey" about the affairs of others—meddlesome—but this very prevalent local habit has no right to be considered along with the sort of "living" that this familiar saying represents.

We have a right-minded desire to know considerable about other folks, for it is true, as Pope's essay says—"An honest man is the noblest work of God," and consequently a dishonest one must be an individual that needs "knowing" about, in order that we may act accordingly in self-defense.

In whatever study of human nature we may make, it should be a thorough one, divorced from all merely curious design; and particularly should it be based on first-hand, clear-headed, knowledge of ourselves, for a criticism merely of others, is one of the very worst of bad habits.

REPORTS CAN'T WIN THE WAR

Government reports and questionnaires have become a heavy burden on war production industries according to a survey just completed by the National Association of Manufacturers. During the past three months 84 companies were obliged to complete 3,479 reports to various agencies of the Government and 495,480 valuable man-hours were consumed in the process.

In one company alone, six separate departments or divisions spend either full or part time on the compilation of reports for the Federal Government. Each year this company has been called upon to complete 545 reports of 66 different types for 12 different Federal Government agencies, in addition to the 478 other reports required by the state, county and city governments—a total of 1,023 reports a year.

As each report covers from 1 to 20 pages and varies from 10 to 100 questions, it is evident that the Government is drawing off a lot of productive war time to say nothing of the $90,000 these reports cost this one company.

What do war material producers think of this avalanche of "hurry-up" reports that keep piling up on them almost every hour of the day? What would you think if you were trying to prepare Thanksgiving dinner for a big family and you were called to the door every few minutes to answer the question of house-to-house canvassers?

INDIA AT WAR

From frequent reports that appear in the daily papers one would conclude that India was so anti-British that they were about to invite both the Japs and the Germans to come on in and take over. No such thing is happening or likely to happen. India is now all out for war preparation and if anything farther along in its doings than we ourselves are. The eighty million Mohammedans in the north—usually anti-British—are now among the most active in war work.

In arts, sciences, manufacturing India is coming to the front. There are now over a hundred machine tool manufacturers in India. India produces a million tons of steel a year, makes large numbers of small cannon and machine guns, and ammunition adequate to supply them.

India is greatly encouraged by the visit of Col. Lorus Johnson, personal representative of President Roosevelt. Our lease-lend is reaching out to aid India. At first India opposed this help fearing that America would sieze and keep the fruits of victory, but when assured that we were there only while they needed us, their fears were allayed.

India has an enormous man power—360 million inhabitants, and these the sorely divided by race and religion are more closely united now than they were in the past.

India is doing its full share to win the war and will demand dominion status when it is all over and get it. The world is progressing rapidly and states like India, once backward are going to forge to the front as real competitors for world trade and world commerce. A careful study of world events produces the conviction that wars (horrible as they are) do advance civilization.

Out of this war will come either exalted liberty and democracy, or oppressive totalitarian autocracy. India is helping mightily the cause of democracy.

NEW DAY MAY DAWN FOR FARMERS

Washington, September—Occasionally when a fellow starts dreaming about farming, he gets visions of his becoming a real business, instead of a three-way gamble with weather conditions, market prices, and consumption of farm products.

Yes sir, he sees visions that might come true if things work out—of a city banker driving into his garage riding in a motor car body made from part of a farmer's soya bean crop; of trucks and pleasure cars running on a new high-powered fuel made in part, at least, out of the distillation of common farm grains; of paints made with oils pressed from products grown on the soil of good American farms. If the farmer could add to the present market for food another market which takes farm crops and converts them into industrial products, he could level out many of the peaks and valleys in farm prices and stabilize farm prosperity within living levels.

It looks as if the farmer might come into his own in many new ways when the present war is won. First, if industrial employment can be kept at reasonably high levels, farm prices will stay up and farmers will not have to suffer the bottom-of-the-gutter price levels of the great depression. Second, if the big industrial companies can be induced, with the technical encouragement of the Farm Chemurgic Council, for example, to pursue further research into the chemical transformation of farm crops into industrial products, a new day is almost certain to dawn for American farmers.

The immediate after-the-war future of both of these developments, it seems to us is tied up to just one thing—the amount of reserves which American manufacturers will have available when the time comes to shift from war production back to the products of peace. If manufacturers come out of the war with the cash to do it, they will make the shift-over to peace production with the least possible dislocation of labor and the shortest possible period of idleness. This will mean continued purchasing power for the working man and that means good times for the farmer. Reserves of cash also will give them the needed millions to put into farm research to develop the new chemical uses for farm products.—National Industries News Service.

CZARS OVER AMERICA?

Too many czars would do to an autocracy what too many cooks do to broth. Even in a republic a surfeit of czars is a dispensable luxury, if not in fact the beginning of a bad habit. The United States has too many "czars." There is an oil "czar"; there is a rubber "czar"—a flexible autocrat, one might suppose, but actually and necessarily one of the most inflexible there are price "czars" and production "czars"; movie "czars" and baseball "czars"; and now comes Mr. Byrnes, a potential "czar" among "czars."

But it must not be. It is time Americans, even those who have to find short titles to fit into cramped headlines, confined the use of this label to folks whose records show—and speaking of records reminds one of Mr. Petrillo—they seem to know how to carry it. Czar is not an American word, nor an English one. It is not even Russian any more and what the Russian people can think of having to fight in alliance with a country which has more czars than the darkest Russian century is one of the semi-disturbing questions of the hour.

So this is a plea—since it cannot be an order—to all the petty autocrats who rule editorial realms, or the kingdoms of the air waves, or the tiny duchies of comment called "columns." Why not let America's ordinary citizens retain their full stature while they tackle jobs too big for tyrants? Uneasy enough rest such heads without having crowns jammed down on them.—Christian Science Monitor.

RUBBER OR ELSE

The nation-wide gasoline rationing program is to be imposed as a means of preserving rubber. In the opinion of some experts, it would have been possible to provide an adequate supply of rubber for civilian use by now if the government had got down to cases when the rubber problem first appeared. That, of course, is water over the dam—but the kind of political vacillation that has characterized the handling of the rubber situation in the past must not allowed to continue in the future.

The wise course to pursue at this time is obvious. The government must give maximum cooperation to secure the swiftest and largest possible production of artificial rubber from any practical source. Some kinds of rubber are made from oil. Others are made from coal. Others still are made from grain alcohol. All of the processes have merit—and all of them should be developed without further bickering and delay.

This country has been largely built on automobile travel. Unless rubber for civilian tires is made available within a short time, we will be faced with a catastrophic national "slow down." American industry and American chemists must be given the "go" signal on rubber—and they must be freed from political barriers to progress.—Industrial News Review.

Avoid Curiosity Calls Even After "All Clear"

Except in serious personal emergency, the public is asked to refrain from telephoning not only during a blackout or air raid alarm but for some time after the "all clear" has sounded. This is emphasized in a telephone company announcement in connection with Civilian Defense appearing on the front cover of new issues of telephone directories.

A flood of "curiosity calls" can slow telephone service and even tie up central offices at a time when the telephones may be needed most by defense forces.

Even after the "all clear," telephone lines must be kept open for use of wardens, for summoning medical help if needed, and for communicating with auxiliary police, firemen, repair forces and other defense agencies.

SHIELD EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVNAN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at Gettysburg Hotel, Gettysburg, Tuesday, only, October 20, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Mr. Shevnan says: The Zoetic Shield is a tremendous improvement over all former methods, effecting immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly but increase the circulation, strengthen the weakened parts, thereby closing the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume no matter the size or location. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

MR. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge.

Add. 6509 N. Artesian Ave., Chicago. Large incisional Hernia or rupture following surgical operation especially solicited.

PROVED AND TRUE

On November 3, we elect an Associate Judge for the Fifth Judicial Circuit. In this era, when human liberties and property rights are being changed and lost—some perhaps permanently—the preservation of an INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY may prove to be our most precious privilege.

The Record of Public Service of Theodore F. Brown Makes Him the Proper Selection for this Office of Trust

Here it is:—

- 1902 to 1910—Taught in our Public Schools
- 1910—Admitted to the Bar
- 1912 to 1916—Police Justice.
- 1916 to 1920—Referee in Bankruptcy.
- 1920 to 1935—State's Attorney for Carroll County.

The people of Carroll County recognized his incorruptibility in this office, which, like a Judge-ship, particularly and too often lends itself to bias and favoritism in the administration of its duties. Each time they were given the chance to vote for him, they increased his majority. They knew—as Judges Parke and Forsythe wrote in 1935, after he had served as State's Attorney for three and one-half terms, "THE ADMINISTRATION OF YOUR OFFICE HAS WON THE CONFIDENCE OF THE PUBLIC AND HAS BEEN DISTINGUISHED BY ZEAL, ACTIVITY, INTEGRITY, FAIRNESS AND ABILITY, AND AN UNSWERVING DEVOTION TO DUTY."

Mr. Brown has not just touched his toes in the pool of Public Service. Most of his long professional life has been devoted to those things which particularly qualify a man to become a fair, an understanding, and a just Judge.

Maturity is so important in this High Position

When the capable Francis Neal Parke was appointed to the Bench, he was 54 years old. When Mr. Ridgely Melvin, now candidate for Chief Judge in this circuit, assumed the Judicial Robes, he was 57 years old. Theodore F. Brown now is 57 years of age.

Only if and when the candidate has an exceptional educational background; only if and when he has demonstrated extraordinary BRILLIANCE in his work; only if and when his record is unassailable; only then—and even then, only rarely—should a young man be entrusted with this vital, fifteen-year position, at a salary of $8,500.00 per year.

Previous to the time that Mr. Brown's opponent was admitted to the Bar, Theodore F. Brown had taught school for eight years; had been Police Justice for four years, had been Referee in Bankruptcy for four years, and had served the first of his four terms of four years each as State's Attorney for Carroll County.

Yes, maturity is SO important in this high position.

The Carroll County Bar Knows Which One of its Members is Best Fitted to Ascend to the Bench

Who realizes better the needs of this office and the qualifications of the candidates therefor than do the Members of the Bar of the County in which the candidates have lived and practiced in their professional lives?

When Judge Parke retired, the Carroll County Bar Association, predominantly democratic in its political affiliations, by non-partisan vote in meeting assembled recommended the appointment of THEODORE F. BROWN. More important however, was the fact that the total number of years practiced in Maryland by the lawyers voting to recommend the appointment of Mr. Brown was MORE THAN TEN TIMES THE AGGREGATE NUMBER OF YEARS practiced in Maryland by those voting for the other candidate.

They knew Mr. Brown's freedom from relationships which might affect his competency as a Judge.

Theodore F. Brown's Announced Program Reflects the Resolute and Fine Character of the Man

Only a few points will be mentioned here, now:

- "THE LAW does not allow the Clerk of the Court to practice law, and, as Judge I shall not permit a practicing lawyer to be the Court Stenographer—for the same reasons."
- "Under no condition, will I, as Judge, permit the Court Stenographer to be associated professionally with any practicing member of the bar. Such procedure, on its face, is unjust and unsound."
- "I never shall allow any lawyer to use my name of his office as a magnet to attract practice, while I am a sitting Judge."
- "When I retire from the Bench at 70 years of age, I either will accept the $3000.00 pension allowed to me, or I will practice law,—BUT I WILL NOT DO BOTH. My conscience and my interpretation of the spirit of the pension provision of the law compels such a decision."

Science Has Corrected Mr. Brown's Hearing

Thanks to modern science, the hearing of Theodore F. Brown recently has been restored, and today it is normal.

His hearing aid is the same as that which has been employed by Hon. Carroll T. Bond, Chief Justice of Maryland Court of Appeals—to which position Judge Bond will be reelected in November.

Just how important the automotive mechanic's work is to the nation will be clear to all who consider the following facts*:

● Automobiles and trucks form the sole practicable means of transportation for war workers and war materials in many communities throughout America.

● In some sections, 78% to 100% of the workers drive by automobile to vital war plants.

● 2,314 U. S. cities, with a population of 12,524,000, depend on private cars for transportation;

The automotive mechanic—the trained Chevrolet Victory Service Man—is the lifeguard of America's millions of cars and trucks. Help him to help you and America by getting a skilled service check-up at regular intervals.

*All statements based on reports compiled by the Michigan State Highway Department and the Statistical Department of A. H. A.

54,000 communities depend entirely on motor vehicles.

● Six out of every ten farms use one car or more; 67% of farm car mileage is necessity driving.

● More than 65.2% of all war plants reporting in Michigan (a typical war production state) depend on trucks to haul their incoming and outgoing freight.

● Trucks haul nearly 100% of the milk supply of most large cities—and 58% of all livestock marketed in the U. S.

● Trucks are the sole transportation system serving our 54,000 communities not reached by railroads.

we must TALK LESS

The war effort is speeded up by the telephone. That's why telephone lines are more heavily loaded with calls than ever before.

Since the copper, rubber and other materials needed to expand telephone facilities are more essential for the shooting side of war, we must do the best we can with our present facilities.

This means planning calls, both local and long distance, so as to avoid waste.

Planned Calls Make Room For War Calls

1. Plan what you want to say to make your calls brief—and to avoid unnecessary ones.
2. Look up the numbers in the directory when in doubt. Make certain the number is not in the directory before calling "Information."
3. When you must make a Long Distance call, please call by number (station-to-station) wherever possible, and keep your conversation brief.

We told you people would soon be boiling apple butter, and last week we received a quart of it which looks good and is good to the taste—and doesn't require as much sugar as preserves and jellies. There is complaint of lack of help to gather the apples from loaded orchards—so you see "when it rains soup we have no spoon."

Some of our neighbors male and female, are in their fields husking corn—and are thankful for nice weather. This used to be the time to set our rabbit traps, and get up early in the morning to look for results which were always best with a very heavy frost, or light snow—so one could see the tracks. One man says he got his financial start in life with his "rabbit money," they sold them at 10 to 15¢ a piece. Once he reached in his trap and found a larger animal with black fur, and a pretty white stripe down its back; but the odor made him hesitate, and call for help. Another time an Opossum was waiting for release; however all big business has its off sets.

October 12, 1942—and now we celebrate Columbus Day, tho' he landed in the West Indies Islands, and didn't reach the Mainland of North America until his 4th sailing voyage. In the meantime another navigator—Americus Vesputius—had landed in the winter of 1497-98 and the country named for him. We are thinking for all his study, endurance, and his daring navigation this country should have been named Columbus, tho' he was not the first to set foot on the main-land north or south. He died in 1506—aged about 70 years and now we honor him.

NEWSPAPERS LAUDED BY GOV. O'CONOR IN SCRAP CAMPAIGN

The work of the newspapers of the State in the scrap collection campaign now in progress was lauded Tuesday by Governor Herbert R. O'Connor at a meeting of newspaper publishers and editors, county scrap collection chairman, and State-wide and Federal Salvage representatives. The conference was held in the State House, at the invitation of the Governor.

Declaring that "in a free country, where every man is entitled to think his own thoughts, the public press has ever been the most important single factor in moulding public opinion," Governor O'Connor declared that "in accepting full responsibility for the promotion of the scrap collection campaign, the newspapers have enlisted in the war for freedom as effectively as if every member of their staffs had joined the armed forces."

Plans for rallies and collections already laid in the various counties were discussed and the need for the utmost cooperation in all fields of salvage were outlined by R. D. McGiffert of the War Production Board, and other Federal and State representatives. W. Frank Roberts, Chairman of the Maryland Council of Defense, presided.

TIME IS THE ESSENCE

Time is the essence of all things we do. Going to work in the morning is slow. Sleep has not left our eyes when we start.

Fresh air and sunshine will soon do its part.

Soon full of vigor our muscles do fill, Supple and pliant but firm as steel. Throughout the day we march gaily along Joy in the heart, on lip a sweet song.

So throughout life, let come on what may We feel rapid at the close of the day. If we are contented to do our full part Nothing can stop us—we've made the right start.

So as we plod along on our way Sometimes quite weary at close of the day, At other times joyous—a glorious presence— Life is serene—Time is the essence.

W. J. H. 8-15-42

ODDS AND ENDS

Our Correspondent's Way of Discussing Topics.

There are still those deluded souls who think this war we are fighting doesn't really concern them. Very much, true, they will buy some bonds or stamps, give away the old junk that should have been disposed of long ago, and grumble about the sugar and coffee shortage. To say nothing of the tire and gas shortage. Fortunately, they who realize the seriousness of the situation are in the majority. To those who think it matters little who wins this war because nothing can harm us anyway, I should advise the reading of three articles, the first, Sex as a Nazi weapon, in the October issue of Readers' Digest. The other two are in the Ladies' Home Journal, The Stake for Women, by Dorothy Thompson, and Victory is in the Air, by Major Alexander P. De Seversky.

None of it is pleasant reading, but if we don't win this war it shows pretty clearly what can happen in our own country under possible Nazi rule. And the fact that we lost the Philippines to Japan without much difficulty should certainly open our eyes to our danger. In the Nazi language, the word "virtue" is not known—to the Nazis all females are "nothing" more than animals to be used for breeding purposes. The family, and all that it signifies, means nothing to these modern barbarians. In fact, human life as we in America know it, and as Europe of a past generation knew it, has no meaning at all in Nazi Germany, even today, and if this rule is to be world rule, nowhere on earth will life be worth living. "The Stake for Women" pictures almost the same thing as the other article, although it relates just the Polish side of the story. Our civilization has grown slowly, is not yet complete, and what the Germans are doing today is destroying civilization as rapidly as possible. It has, perhaps, been an imperfect structure, this civilization of modern times; but the degradation of the home, of the family, or women, is a worse evil. In our country, woman has reached the place where she is almost the equal of man. She should be THE equal of man; and I believe that today, with all that is at stake, I think it is going to be up to the women of the civilized world to keep that civilization and to ensure future civilization. Man has, since the beginning of time, been "the conquering warrior," while the women have stayed at home and tried to preserve their way of life. Now, as women are being called upon more and more to work and fight along with the men, she should have a strong voice in the peace to come. Our pioneer grandmothers fought Indians and later they fought for the right to vote and won, but I think there are still too many who, having won their independence, are still dependent on their men. Now it is time for every woman to rise up and demand that there be peace, and justice, and freedom, and I believe they can do it. If the fight for the vote was worth fighting for, sure the fight for abolition of war and the agony of heart and body that accompanies war is even more worth fighting for, but certainly it will take the really intelligent woman to wage the fight. Not the kind who help make up the political club in a little town I once lived in—and it is women like these who do so much to reap the ridicule of men and undermine the cause for women. At one of their meetings one woman, who has little, if any, education, and little native intelligence, in my opinion, thrust out her jaw and bellowed, "If I had my way, I'd throw out every foreigner in the country and I wouldn't let any more come in," and another the president of the club, at that, signed and added, "And the Jews!" We should remember that we are all of us descendants of foreigners, and that to most foreign born, America has offered the chance to live a worthwhile life. The majority of foreigners are not here to exploit America, but to become as much a part of our country as those who came four or five hundred years ago.

And the person who attacks the Jew does not realize that he is working for Hitler as much as if he were under direct orders from the Reich. What is a Jew? A human being, even as you and I—and a four percent minority in America. The Jew should not be a problem here at all, and I think it is time right now to forget about him. If we must be so narrow-minded and little, I think the wise thing would be to hide it from the public eye, and in time perhaps even the least intelligent person would forget his animosity. If America is to be the foundation for freedom and justice, it would do well to start its good work at home.

We can do it, and we must do it, and while individuals are unable to do much, many individuals, working together, can accomplish wonders. The first thing to do is to vote for men who will make Washington clean house and get down to business, and stop its appalling waste of time and money and, what is more important, its waste of the lives of our boys who have been sent forth to pave the way for freedom and justice for all.

Forty-Seven Years Ago.

Oliver Stonesifer, of Keysville, cut his right foot badly, while trying to loosen a board from a log. A blow which was not truly directed, glanced off, and the axe entered his instep, making an ugly gash about two inches in length. (Was this our O. J. Stonesifer of the Union Bridge Pilot fame?)

Allegany County had fifty candidates for the legislature. The new pipe organ that was purchased arrived for installation for the Reformed Church, Taneytown. The instrument cost $1400.00 and was of the Mendelssohn make. This was the third church in Taneytown that was supplied with an organ.

Master Marlin Reid, the young cymbalist of the Taneytown band, met with a narrow escape from drowning at the Mayberry picnic. He stumbled, and fell headforemost into a spring, but, was pulled out as quickly as he tumbled in.

Potatoes were selling at 25c per bushel; wheat was selling at 63c a bushel with corn at 35c a bushel.

The new Otter Dale public school opened, with Miss Anna Wolf, teacher.

The old public well, at the square, which some advocated filling up, was a source of supply for many of the citizens, owing to the failure of a number of wells.

The news of the death of Mr. Frank H. Elliot, reached Taneytown, and was received with sorrow and regret. Mr. Elliot lived in Taneytown twenty-seven years before going to York Springs, Pa., where he died.

ferings or eliminate a subject because of this difficulty.

The teachers of Carroll County have again proven their loyalty and devotion to the cause of education and to the ideals of teaching. Our teachers will meet new responsibilities, new tasks with a consciousness of their contribution to the cause of free people. Teachers and principals will make every effort to adjust the school's program to the emergency but they shall continue to keep in mind their responsibilities and obligations to the children of this country.

However, school people cannot meet all the challenges of these times unaided. To quote from "This War and the Teacher": "They do not stand alone. What they can do depends upon the support given them. To the people, then, it must be said: Manifest your belief in the value of good teaching in wartime. Make the teachers understand that you appreciate their devotion. Give them your personal assistance whenever opportunity arises. Support the schools wisely. Compare your teachers' salaries with what they might earn in war industry."

To quote again: "In wartime, good teaching is more important than ever. But conditions are such that there is imminent danger that teachers in large numbers will be drawn away from the profession. Each individual teacher should stand by his post until sent for or until fully convinced that his services elsewhere will be of more value to his country. Each should strive to rise to the demands of a tremendous present, of a fateful future. Young people who are preparing for teaching should stick to their purpose lacking clear evidence that society has greater need of them for other duties. School officials should encourage and support teachers vigorously. The people should prove that they appreciate means to our nation, and that they are determined that good teachers shall be prepared and retained.

"Now, in a great crisis of our civilization when the guidance of youth has become a matter of supreme moment, teachers must rededicate themselves, and the people must reaffirm their appreciation and support."

UNEMPLOYMENT LOW

Benefit payments by the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Board have made a low record. The Sept. total was only $203,335, a reduction of thirty-six percent from the preceding month of August and fifty-two percent from September, 1941.

The highest amount ever paid by the Board for benefits in one month was $1,666,408. That was the total for March, 1938, the first year of the full operation of the Board under the Maryland Unemployment Compensation act. In that year benefit payments by Maryland exceeded one million dollars in each of five months—March, April, May, June, and August. The July total was $904,267. The aggregate for the year was $10,143,817. Last year, 1941, total payments went down to $4,879,248.

The smallest amount paid by the Board in a single month prior to Sept. (just ended) was $241,372, in March 1941.

The amount of the September benefits distributed in the Baltimore City area was sixty-three percent of the total.

When the tots get their nickel allowance in the future, the coin will be minus the nickel. The Treasury announces that the new war-time 5-cent piece will contain silver, copper and manganese—but no nickel. The design and appearance will be similar to that of the present Jefferson nickel but will tarnish.

ATTENTION AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHERS

I didn't come down to Taneytown from Rochester, N. Y., for the purpose of going into business not to drum up trade but, since my daughter and her family now reside here, to see how I would like the town, the people and the country. I want to say right here that my wife and I like everything a lot; so much so, in fact, that we will probably remain for the winter at least. We have made many friends and they are greatly appreciated.

Now here is the object of this notice. Photography has been my hobby for more than forty years and, during my stay, I need something to keep me busy, and I would like to show the people of the community some real amateur kodak finishing.

I have equipped a perfect darkroom for doing this work and I will develop and print any size roll of film for 25 cents and prints from any roll left before 10 A. M. will be ready by 6 P. M. of the same day. Why send your films away and wait a week or ten days for your prints?

I will also make a 5x7 enlargement from any normal, sharp 2 1/4 x 3 1/4 film for ten cents and any enlargement or reprints from films will be ready in 4 hours.

All films are tray developed and watched closely for best results and prints have to satisfy me before they satisfy you. My supplies come directly from the Eastman Kodak Co., of Rochester, insuring freshness. This enterprise, by the way, covers hundreds of acres of valuable land three miles north of the business center of the city and employs 20,000 people.

Now let's get down to brass tacks. You have the film, I have the time and experience. Let's go!

Governor's Proclamation

"NATIONAL BIBLE WEEK"

October 12th to 18th

WHEREAS, October 12 to 18th, has been designated as "National Bible Week," a period set aside when every man, woman and child is requested to read at least one chapter in the Holy Scripture each day, and

WHEREAS, this year, more than ever before, our citizens are in need of the quieting influence and assurance a few moments spent in meditation on the written word of God can give, and

WHEREAS, such a movement, if Nation wide, and participated in by laymen of all Faiths, would go far toward forging National Unity, and subduing the fires of hatred and prejudice,

NOW, THEREFORE, I HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in accordance with the authority vested in me, do hereby proclaim the week of October 12 to 18th, as "National Bible Week" and call upon the citizenry of the State of Maryland, to observe this period of reading a chapter in the Bible each day, in order to stimulate religious thinking, and to help strengthen the hearts of our citizens and our armed forces, and as a contribution toward the mental stability that is necessary to offset the unrest that is rampant throughout the world.

GIVEN under my hand and the Great Seal of Maryland, at the City of Annapolis, on this 10th. day of October, in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-two.

HERBERT R. O'CONOR,
Governor.

A Denial By Chief Judge Forsythe And Former Chief Judge Parke.

In the issue of The Carroll Record and other papers of October 9, 1942, there is a bold political advertisement in behalf of Theodore F. Brown, Esq., the Republican nominee for Associate Judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit of Maryland, published by the authority of John H. Cunningham, Esq., which is so headed and framed that a letter written by the undersigned on May 29, 1933, to Theodore F. Brown, Esq., in praise of his services as State's Attorney for Carroll County has been accepted by the unwary as an endorsement of Mr. Brown's present candidacy for Associate Judge.

It is not to be assumed that either Mr. Brown or his political agent, Mr. Cunningham, intended that a tribute in 1933 to Mr. Brown as State's Attorney could be transferred into an endorsement in 1942 of Mr. Brown as a candidate for the associate judgeship. The dates and the offices are too far separated in time and in importance for such a mistaken impression to be entertained. The inference, however, is being so made, and has been brought to the attention of the undersigned, and to remove any misapprehension they state that they do not endorse and do not support Theodore F. Brown, Esq., for Associate Judge.

In order that this correction be given as much publicity as the advertisement mentioned, this statement is published.

WILLIAM H. FORSYTHE, JR.,
Chief Judge of the Fifth
Judicial Circuit,
F. NEAL PARKE, former Judge

TELLING THE WORLD

Washington . . . The commandants of eleven U. S. Naval Districts, Naval Academy and Washington Navy Yard were called into simultaneous telephone consultations recently by their chief, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox. This coast-to-coast telephone hook-up is said to have been the biggest in the experience of the Navy, and in line with Secretary Knox's effort to eliminate "red tape."

Sydney . . . Braving mine-infested waters and descending to a depth of 438 feet, an Australian diver, in a special chamber equipped with a telephone connected with a salvage ship above, recently directed the salvage of $9,600,000 in gold bullion from the liner Niagara off the New Zealand coast. The Australian-Canadian vessel was sunk by a mine in 1940.

San Francisco . . . The first Chinese telephone subscriber in the world was Quong Lee, whose name appeared in 1878 in San Francisco's first telephone directory. His grandson, with the same name and address, is listed in the current directory.

New York . . . Because telephone service continues by night as well as day, the Bell System reports that more than 100,000 men and women are on duty during some part of the hours between 6 p. m. and 7 a. m., when other people are normally at leisure or asleep.

Singapore . . . The last message sent by the British colonial governor just before the fall of Singapore included the words, "telephone girls are still at their posts."

SILK WORMS DROPPED FROM TELEPHONE JOB

Have Synthetic Successor

The silk worms of the Far East have lost their jobs of supplying insulation for several billion feet of wire produced annually for use in telephone central offices. The use of cellulose acetate yarn, an improvement rather than a substitute, was recently announced by Bell System engineers after extended tests.

Importation of "spun tussah," the type of silk used in the insulation of telephone wires, was interrupted by Japan's war on China. This insulation is made from the cocoons of wild silk worms and utilizes the short lengths of fibres discarded when the long ones are taken for higher grade textiles.

In silk as in many other materials, the curtailment of supplies by war conditions did not find the telephone industry unprepared. Twenty years ago a preliminary study was made of samples of imported acetate yarn. This indicated that its insulating properties were superior to those of silk. By 1925 such yarn was being manufactured in this country, and trial installations were being made.

For some years, cost problems and mechanical difficulties stood in the way of extensive use of acetate yarn on telephone wires. But its increasing use in the textile industry eventually brought price reductions, and effective methods of handling it in the wire manufacturing processes were developed. In the meantime, continued tests were proving its advantages over silk. By the time spun tussah was no longer available, acetate yarn was already being used on all switchboard wire, switchboard cable and distributing frame wire in Bell System central offices.

Sudden Proposal

By
BARBARA BENEDICT
Associated Newspapers—WNU Features.

DARTHEA stood before her bedroom mirror, surveyed her trim young figure, arrayed in an especially designed white satin evening frock, and frowned. Within the hour Ted Wilder would call for her and they would be on their way to the Philbrick's charity ball.

It was because of Ted that Darthea frowned. She loved him, had loved him for more than a year. And she felt reasonably sure that he loved her. Though he had never said so; had never proposed marriage or talked about the future. That was where the trouble lay. Ted was waiting. Darthea knew this; knew that he was holding off until things became a little less uncertain.

Well, a girl got tired of waiting. If she loved a man—as Darthea loved Ted—she'd go through anything with him. Good times and bad. Ted was too conservative; too afraid to face the thing without being sure of a comfortable income.

Of late, another obstacle had entered the picture—Mel Harper, young, dashing, handsome, Darthea liked him. He was good company. But it ended right there. She loved Ted, and that was that.

Still, her interest in Mel had excited Ted's jealousy. Though he had never mentioned the matter, Darthea felt that Mel served only to make a proposal of marriage more remote. But in spite of it all, it was up to Ted. She wasn't going to refuse Mel one or two evenings a week. Not, at least, until something definite had been decided upon.

Darthea thought of these things as she surveyed herself in the mirror. They troubled her. Despite her resolutions she wanted Ted; wanted him to propose. Perhaps, she thought, Mel Harper might be a means to an end.

Ted was more morose than ever that night. Something was bothering him. He evaded conversation all the way to the country club. And even while they danced, Darthea suspected that his mind was on other things.

Toward the middle of the evening they strolled out on the terrace and found a vacant bench. Ted stared out over the river that drifted silently by at their feet, and lost himself in thought.

At length Darthea said: "There's something wrong, Ted. I'd like to help you, if I could."

"It's nothing. I'm sorry if I appear rude."

"Well, you do! You've been rude all evening. You're not very good company."

"I know it," he said bitterly. "I know I'm not. And I'm sorry."

Darthea almost regretted her words. She knew now that he was thinking of Mel Harper, thinking how much more entertaining Mel could be. She said, casually:

"Mel Harper was over yesterday. We played tennis together. He was asking for you."

Ted suddenly whirled. Fierce anger flashed in his eyes. The dreamy, morose mood dropped from his expression like a mask.

"Mel! Mel! He's all you talk about! All you think about! Why don't you tell me you want me to step out of the picture! Why not say it, without so much beating around the bush!"

"Why Ted! Ted Wilder! Whatever are you saying?"

"Oh, don't be so messy about it! Don't try to pretend it isn't so!"

"It isn't! It isn't! Not one bit of it is so. I had no idea—"

Ted laughed mirthlessly.

"Don't try to be kind, Darthea. Don't try to spare my feelings. I know how the cards lie. I've thought it all over. I know. And I can stand it if you tell me now. In fact, I'd rather you wouldn't put it off any longer."

"Ted!" Darthea was on her feet. Her eyes were flashing fire. "Of all the crazy notions! Why—why—you're absolutely impossible!"

"You love him!"

"I don't!"

"Yes, you do too. I can tell by the way you act with him. You love him and you're trying to ease your conscience with me."

"With you! Why should I have to ease my conscience with you? What right have you to say these things? What strings have you got attached to me? It's silly."

Darthea was thoroughly aroused, and Ted for the first time began to reconsider. After all, there was nothing between them, nothing but an unspoken understanding, which, after all, seemed to have existed only for him. He took one of her hands in his, which she instantly withdrew.

"I'm sorry, Darthea. It certainly looked as if you were in love with him."

"That's because of your own stupidity. It's you—"

"Darthea! I—I could you love me now?"

Darthea melted perceptibly. She sat down again, pouting prettily. "Not if you think I love Mel Harper."

"I don't. I swear it. I—only wanted to make sure—to find out if you loved me."

Darthea swayed toward him. She saw the enraptured look in his eyes, and thrilled at it. She said, softly: "I don't love Mel Harper. I never have. I love you. And just to prove it, I'll—I'll marry you!"

"Darthea! Oh, sweet, that's too wonderful. I—I can hardly believe you're really serious." He paused a moment, then suddenly turned, inspiration lighting his eyes. "Darthea, let's get married now. Tonight!"

"Tonight?"

"Yes. We can get a waiver, and have the J.P. marry us down in the village. It'll be over before we know it."

Darthea indicated her agreement to the proposition by lifting her lips to be kissed.

As they swept down the hill toward town in Ted's roadster, she felt a sudden feeling of gratitude for Mel Harper. She smiled in the darkness to herself. "A means to an end," she mused.

Fuel User's Pledge Has Many Helpful Suggestions

A fuel user's pledge in the interest of the war effort and conservation of fuel and metal includes ten suggestions:

1. Order fuel early and keep an adequate stock on hand to equalize and conserve transportation and delivery facilities.

2. Have the heating plant cleaned for the summer shut-down period in order to prevent corrosion. More heating plants rust out than wear out. With proper care, summer and winter, hot water boilers have been known to give more than a half century of service.

3. Ask a reliable contractor or dealer in heating equipment to make a thorough inspection of the heating plant including chimney, smoke pipe, controls, valves, and burner or stoker.

4. Have whatever repairs or alterations necessary to efficient operation of the heating plant made at once. This aids metal conservation because it enables dealers and manufacturers to maintain inventories in accordance with actual needs. It is assurance for the home owner that materials needed for necessary repairs will be available in time. Home owners in eastern states whose heating plants are suitable for burning coal are urged to take immediate steps for conversion.

5. Reduce heat losses from the house by means of insulation, weather-stripping of windows and doors, and closing of fireplace dampers.

6. Turn off heat in unused rooms such as guest rooms, garage, recreation rooms, and maintain lower temperatures in bedrooms.

7. Check heat losses from boiler, furnace, piping, or ductwork by adequate insulation.

8. Have thermostatic controls installed to prevent overheating or underheating because both are dangerous to health. Overheating wastes fuel.

9. Lower thermostat setting whenever heat is not needed, as for instance at night or when house is not occupied. When the indoor temperature is permitted to drop a maximum of six degrees at night, there is a saving of from 8 to 10 per cent in fuel.

10. Operate heating plant efficiently in accordance with suggestions by manufacturer or heating contractor.

Letting in the Desert

In a paper in the Geographical Journal of June, Prof. E. P. Stebbing directs attention to the serious threat to the West African colonies of Great Britain and France by the encroachment of the Sahara. This is due, not to climatic causes, but to the methods of agriculture pursued. Shifting cultivation is still the practice. A piece of forest is felled, the timber burnt and the ground is sown and ultimately harvested. When the weeds become too heavy or the yield inadequate the patch is abandoned and a new one occupied.

Thus, the deciduous forest on the verge of the Sudan becomes degraded, more open and drier. Eventually savannah supervenes, which in West Africa, is a term applied to bush or scrub. Herds of the nomadic shepherds then occupy and further destroy it. When its fodder value has almost gone, the herdsman cuts the scrub trees to get fodder for the goat. This is the last stage in the ruin of the land and the advance of the desert.

C. SCOTT BOLLINGER

Democratic Candidate For

County Commissioner

Having 4 years experience as County Commissioner from 1930 to 1934 and helped reduce the tax rate from $1.65 to $1.00, and during the depression when the County Business was managed to the best interest for the taxpayer. I stand for the maintenance of the school on the high standard that they are. I stand for each district in the County getting its equal share of the road money for roads. I believe in EQUAL RIGHTS for all and SPECIAL PRIVILEGES TO NONE. Because of gas and tire rationing I will be unable to see you personally so I take this means to earnestly ask for your support at the election.

supervision of the Department of Interior. Mrs. Widener spoke very interestingly of the work in which she and her husband were engaged, and of life generally in the Alaskan environment.

There are three classes of teachers and three classes of schools; the schools for white children, schools maintained by Church Boards, and schools for Eskimos and Indians. Mrs. Widener was engaged in work in a school of the last class mentioned, at the village of Shunknak, situated north of the 57th. degree of latitude and fifty miles north of the Arctic Circle. In this village the Wideners spent 6 years in an isolated environment, attending to their duties as teachers, and being at the same time called upon frequently to act as physicians and lawyers in their service to these primitive people. Their nearest white neighbors were distant a journey of three days by dog team. In summer travel is mostly by boat, in winter by dogs and sled. Longer trips are taken by airplane.

The population of Alaska is sparse, the average being about one inhabitant to each 8 square miles. About one-half the population is white, one fourth Indian, and one-fourth Eskimo. There are no Eskimos in the southern part of the territory.

The month of October is the beginning of winter, when the first ice forms. From November until April the ground is covered continuously with snow; the snowfall for a winter averaging about the same amount of moisture as thirty inches of rain. In the northern part rainfall is light, there being but one short rainy season in August to serve for the whole year. In southern Alaska, rainfall for a year will reach as much as 240 inches, and it has been known to rain during two-thirds of the days of the year. In October and November there are about five hours of the daylight in every 24, and even in the daylight hours, the sun is close to the horizon. During the latter part of November, through the whole month of December, and in the first part of January there is no sunlight at all. During the month of June and until July 12, there is continuous daylight. Spring begins in May, with mild weather until the last of August, when in the interior the temperature may rise as high as 100 degrees. Wherever there are forests, it is possible for the people to raise many garden products, the chief crops being potatoes, turnips, cabbage, peas, etc. Tomatoes and cucumbers are raised in greenhouses. Vegetables grow very rapidly.

Mosquitoes and gnats are troublesome during the summer months. All supplies are shipped in once a year. Winter temperature averages from zero to twenty degrees below. The lowest temperature during Mrs. Widener's stay was 72 degrees below zero.

Before the war, the United States Government maintained only one base in the whole territory of Alaska. Since the war began, three others have been developed at Sitka, Kodiak, and at Dutch Harbor. These are navy bases, the chief air corps base being at Fairbanks. Most of the defense and war supplies for Fort Barrow are brought in by plane.

Just lately a new highway, to connect with the improved highway from Cordova to Fairbanks, has been finished.

The people of the villages enjoy some of the advantages of civilization, such as moving pictures and basket ball. Women do most of the work, except the gathering of the year's supply of fish, which is the staple diet. The children are anxious to learn, and become especially proficient in writing. The extent of Alaska is about 580,000 square miles; the population is about 59,000.

Announcement was made to the effect that the meeting on next Wednesday evening will be in charge of the House and Reception Committee, William Hopkins, Chairman; and that the annual Halloween party, with the ladies in charge, will be held on the evening of October 28. Past-President Harry Mohny, presided at the current meeting.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETING

The Board of Education of Carroll County met in regular session on Tuesday, October 6, at 10 o'clock. All the members were present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, and the bills were approved and ordered paid.

The superintendent gave a report of the bus inspection which was held in the various schools in the county on September 15, 16 and 17. All equipment was found in a very satisfactory condition.

The Board approved the organization of Victory Corps in the high schools of the county.

A leave of absence was granted to Albert Robeson.

The Board decided that the schools should open at 9:45 o'clock and close at 3:55 P. M. during the winter months. This schedule will be effective as of Monday, November 2.

The appointment of the following teachers was approved: Joseph Johnson (Robert Moton), Agriculture; Richard Williams (Elmer Wolfe), Elementary; Kathleen Barnard (Winfield), Elementary.

The scholarship from Myers' district to Western Maryland College was awarded to Jean Cooper for one year.

The next meeting of the Board will be held on Wednesday, November 4. The meeting adjourned at 11:45 o'clock.

O'CONOR PLANS "ABBREVIATED" TOURS

Plans for Governor Herbert R. O'Connor's "abbreviated" campaign to succeed himself as Governor were outlined today, coincident with the announcement that Robert A. Sindall had been named Chairman of the Democratic State Advisory Committee, with headquarters at the Emerson Hotel.

Mr. Sindall, past potentate of the Boom! Temple, is a well known and successful Baltimore business man.

In making announcement of the appointment of the Campaign Committee, Gov. O'Connor revealed that his campaign activities would be confined to a greatly curtailed schedule of visits throughout the State, in combination with a series of radio talks.

Cleveland R. Bealmear will be the vice-chairman of the campaign and Hooper S. Miles, State Treasurer, will head the campaign finance committee.

Truman B. Cash, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, will direct the general State activities, according to the Governor.

The official campaign organization in each county, he said, will be the State Central Committee.

The Governor also announced that an advisory committee has been appointed which includes Senators Tydings and Radcliffe, Mayor Jackson, William S. Gordy, Jr., former State Comptroller; former Gov. Emerson C. Harrington and William Preston Lane, Jr., Democratic National Committeeman.

As a means of encouraging development of new and worthwhile shop and design ideas by its plant personnel, an aircraft corporation has arranged to protect all such inventions by patents and to safeguard the employee's financial interests in any royalties or proceeds from the sale of such developments.
