NAVY "CRUISER"

To Be in Taneytown Next Friday, Oct. 30th.

To further Navy enlistments, recruiting cruisers or trailer trucks are now being used by the U. S. Navy throughout the nation.

One of these modern fully equipped cruisers is now operating within the State of Maryland and offers men of rural communities an opportunity to conveniently make application and take the physical examination for Naval Service.

This trailer is trim as a "war hound" at sea and the personnel includes qualified Navy Recruiters, a doctor and pharmacist mate, who will render a physical examination and complete enlistment of applicants desirous of Naval Service.

Lieutenant K. B. Emmons, officer in charge of Navy Recruiting for the State of Maryland, stated that this recruiting cruiser will give every Maryland man between 17 and 50 the opportunity to learn where he may serve in the Navy. The Naval Recruiting Officer urges every man anticipating military service especially young men of 18 and 19 years of age who may soon be called for military duty, to make application for the Navy and learn where they may serve with the "fighting fleet."

Lieutenant Emmons announced that this Navy Recruiting Trailer will be at Taneytown, on Friday, October 30, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., and at Westminster, 5 to 10 P. M.

SELECTED TO ATTEND U. S. NAVAL TRAINING SCHOOL

William T. Orner, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey A. Orner, Route 1, Taneytown, was selected through aptitude tests to attend the U. S. Naval training school for signalmen at the University of Illinois here, and is well on his way toward becoming a specialist in the Navy.

After completing the intensive sixteen-week course in sending and receiving International code by blinker, searchlight and semaphore, taking and receiving flag signals, and identifying storm warnings and distress signals, he will be eligible for the petty officer's rating of signalman, third class.

Orner joined the Navy last August and received his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill. After his graduation he will be assigned to active duty at sea or at a shore station.

Blue jackets stationed at the school are housed in university dormitories which have been converted into barracks.

KIWANIS CLUB NEWS

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening at Sauble's Inn, at 6 o'clock, President Robert W. Smith, presiding. There were present twenty-eight members, and three visitors: Jerry Algire, William Flohr and Mr. Hungerford, all of the Westminster Club. Club group singing was in charge of Raymond Wright, with Mrs. Wallace Yingling as accompanist.

The program was in charge of the House and Reception Committee, William B. Hopkins, Chairman. Mr. Hopkins showed moving pictures, describing the building of a cable truck telephone line from Omaha, Nebraska to San Francisco, showing the process of preparing the trench and laying the cable in one operation. Also was shown a picture relating to a phase of National Defense.

The meeting next week will be the annual Halloween party. This will be a ladies' night, and the ladies will be in charge of the program.

TANEYTOWN RAINFALL

J. L. Vanderpool, for many years in charge of the U. S. Weather Bureau station in Rochester, N. Y., until his retirement, and now in town on an extended visit, made accurate measurements of the rain that fell in Taneytown last week. The rain began at 10:30 A. M. of the 13th, and was almost continuous till the early morning of the 17th. The total rainfall for this period was 4.62 inches.

His computation of the weight of this water may be interesting. It is found that over every acre of land where this amount of rainfall was 522 tons.

LETTER FROM A SOLDIER

To Whom it may Concern:
I wish to thank the kind friends of Taneytown who made it possible for me to have one of the soldier's kits. I appreciate it very much as it contains many useful things that I am sure I will need while in camp. It is a wonderful thing to feel that the folks at home are standing behind our fighting forces. Once again, thanks a lot.

PVT. WILLIAM WALTZ.

UNIQUE CHRISTMAS CARD

Mrs. Charles Albaugh, E. Baltimore Street received an unique birthday card from her son, J. Thomas, who is serving his country with the Navy. The card is a curio inasmuch as it is made from a piece of tappa cloth which is beaten from the bark of a small tree. Tom says: "The people here make it in very large pieces and print all kinds of objects and designs on it. It is mostly used as head covers, and it is rather water proof in that it absorbs a lot before it goes through. After handling it becomes quite soft."

SENATOR TYDINGS
WRITES HERSHEY

Concerning the Labor Shortage
As Affected by the Draft.

To the Editor:

I have written the following letter to General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of the Selective Service System, Washington, D. C. in an effort to help meet the farm labor shortage in Maryland and the Nation. I shall appreciate your publishing as much of it as you can in this week's issue of your paper.

"Dear General Hershey:
"The two fundamental things necessary to win this war are bullets and beef. By beef I, of course, mean farm products. Men cannot fight if they are not fed and it was Napoleon who declared that an Army travels on its belly."

"This nation has undertaken the burden of sustaining all our people at home, all our soldiers and sailors abroad, and of furnishing vast quantities of food to our allies, and in some instances, to furnish food to conquered nations as well.

"In the face of this stupendous undertaking it is folly to continue to take from the farms the boys who have been raised in the country, who know the farm, who are needed on the farm, and thus by so doing reduce the quantity of food produced by the entire country.

"You cannot take labor from the factories in many cases and put them on the farm for that would disturb the labor situation in the factories and quite often factory help is not farm minded anyway. Clearly the thing to do before it is too late is to amend the draft law in such manner and to such degree as will make sure that there will be enough farm labor available to produce the food that is needed to win this war.

"Of course, any farm labor exempted from military draft should be employed in good faith in farm production, should come within the category of necessary farm labor and be such a part in the production of the food stuffs as will keep the streams of cattle and hogs and grains flowing to the places where they are consumed. I believe it must be done quickly. It normally takes about ten months to produce a grain crop and about eighteen months to two years to bring a young beef calf to the size where it can be slaughtered for beef.

"Won't you, therefore, send me an amendment so drawn as not to upset your basic military requirements but which will at the same time safeguard for the farms sufficient labor as will keep the food coming to our soldiers and sailors and our civilian population and our allies.

"I trust you will see eye to eye with me on this. I am asking you to draft the legislation because I want it to coincide in every way possible with your selective service program. Sincerely yours,

MILLARD E. TYDINGS.

SUPPLEMENTAL GAS USERS

Supplemental users of gasoline are informed that unless their renewal application for gasoline is mailed to the local rationing board in Westminster on or before October 21, and is brought to this office for immediate action they will have to wait until their turn arrives. Under no circumstances will a renewal application be reviewed and the book issued in one day. In order that everyone may have their gasoline when they need it, we earnestly request the cooperation of these people. Please mail renewal applications immediately so this office will not be congested on October 21 and 22.

CORRESPONDENT

From Detroit Writes Interesting Letter.

This is not going to be a news letter, as news from this place, as I have said before, cannot be very interesting to my friends in Taneytown. But there are several things on my mind that I want to get rid of, and think that maybe a letter to the Record will help me to do so. So if I write anything with which any of you do not agree, please remember that—as an old gentleman of German extraction, told me yesterday, this is yet a free country, and that, while we are deprived of the right to use many things that once were in common use, the use of our brains is not yet prohibited, even if we do have to be careful in our speech.

One of the things that is bothering me is the frequent use of the word "bloc." We read of the Farm Bloc, the Labor Bloc, the Silver Bloc, and goodness knows how many other blocs there are in Congress. Ever since I have reached early manhood, I have been interested in the doings of Congress, and always thought the members of both bodies of the Legislative Department of our Government, were sent down to Washington to legislate for the good of the entire population of the United States. But now it seems that about half the time of Congress is occupied in debating what they can do for the farmer or the workers in the different factories.

Maybe this is all right, but they seem to have forgotten that there are other people living in this country besides these two classes. What about the elderly people who are now unable to work?

This hits me pretty close, as I belong to this class. They must live just the same as anybody else, and if they were not fortunate enough, nor had the chance of accumulating enough of this world's goods to live in comfort, there is just one thing to do, and that is—go on Welfare. I do not believe any one is eager to do this, nor that any one has lost his self-respect enough to want to fall back on some one else for a living. Of course there is the one who is just on the edge, and all this raising of wages, and interest in the farmer making so many thousands of dollars above his mere living, or whether a worker gets $1.50 or more an hour, hits him pretty hard when the cost of living soars out of his reach, as it is constantly doing.

Another thing I cannot understand, and that is how can they reconcile the taxing of a man who makes only $624.00 a year, with the fact that they allow another to make $25000.00 clear of all taxes, in the same time. I believe in everyone doing all they can to win this war, but sure do think that there is some mighty bad judgment shown by our law-makers. Of course, I know that many men are worth that much, or even more, and are sacrificing the loss of a great part of their former incomes, but don't you think that a little more distinction should be shown between these two classes? I once heard two women discussing money affairs, and one said she had an aunt that was moaning about the impossibility of getting along on One Million Dollars a year. Wonder what she would do on $624.00?

Another thing that is creating quite a discussion, is the drafting of the boys of 18 and 19. I received a letter the other day opposing this, and suppose a great many parents feel the same way. But can't you remember when you were that age, how full of desire of adventure you were. And do not think for a moment, that human nature has changed. You know that as you grew older, this feeling grew fainter, until those of us who have reached the allotted time of man and are living on borrowed time, would like nothing better than to

35 MPH VIOLATORS BOARD

Members of the gasoline panel of the War Price and Rationing Board No. 8 met on Tuesday night at 7:00 P. M. with all members present. There were 17 cases of violations of the 35 MPH Victory Speed Limit heard with suspended action given in most cases. Violators were cautioned not to exceed this speed limit any more as more drastic measures would be taken to see that they obeyed this regulation. They were also warned that their names were on file at this office and would be used against them in any application they would make to this Board.

SCHOOL NEWS

On behalf of the P. T. A. of the Taneytown school and the chairman of the supper committee. I wish to express our gratitude and thanks to the people who volunteered their help in making this affair an outstanding success. We also wish to thank the many school patrons and friends who contributed so liberally in a material way to our success. Respectfully,

G. M. SHOWER, Prin.

The public meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association that was to be held Oct. 27 has been postponed to Nov. 10. The change of date was necessary due to the delay in securing programs.

SUGAR RATIONING

Local War Price and Rationing Board No. 8 announces that after October 31, 1942, no more special allotments of sugar will be allowed for canning, preserving and making of fruit butters.

THE WEEK OF WAR REPORTS.

Departments' and Boards' Activities.

Acting at the suggestion of the President and the request of the War Department, the House passed and sent to the Senate legislation to reduce the minimum draft age from 20 to 18. The bill provides that those who are in high school or college may finish the present school year, but after next July educational deferments would be forbidden. The bill would also make mandatory the policy of calling all single men in a State before calling married men, and then calling all childless married men before men with children.

Secretary of War Stimson announced there are approximately 4,250,000 men in the Army at present and this total will be increased to 7,500,000 by the end of 1943—distributed as follows: 3,300,000 in ground forces, 2,200,000 in the air force, 1,000,000 in training and 1,000,000 in supply services. Mr. Stimson said 18 and 19-year-olds are more responsive to leadership, are not as easily fatigued and make better soldiers than older men. He said there is danger at present that the Army might get too old. In March of this year the average age of divisions being activated was 26 years and 2 months, but in August the figure had risen to 28 years and 2 months.

If the draft age is lowered to 18, a 7,500,000-man Army can be built up in 1943 without calling married men with children. Selective Service Director Hershey reported. Induction of married men with wives only will begin immediately to fill the Army's call for 1,100,000 by January 1, he said.

President Roosevelt, in a radio address, said "we are learning to ration materials; and we must now learn to ration manpower. Perhaps the most difficult phase of the manpower problem is the scarcity of farm labor. Every farmer in the land must realize fully that his production is part of war production, and that he is regarded by the Nation as essential to victory." Agriculture Secretary Wickard, as Chairman of the WPB Food Requirements Committee, reduced production goals for such crops as cantaloupes, cucumbers, watermelons and celery, and said "first consideration" would be given to winter vegetables which require the least labor in relation to their nutritional value. Mr. Wickard also called for a 10 per cent increase in 1943 spring hog production over the 1942 record crop, asking for about 68 million head compared to the 1942 crop of 62 million head as compared to the 1942 crop of 62 million head. He estimated 1943 requirements of dressed pork for the U. S. armed forces and Lend-Lease will exceed 1942 requirement by more than one billion pounds.

The Department of Agriculture reported farm wage rates on October 1 were 220 per cent of the 1910-14 per cent.

CHILDREN'S AID

The Children's Aid Society of Carroll County is very well pleased to announce that two districts have already reported having gone over the top of their quotas in the financial campaign New Windsor was the first to report success. Mrs. Clyde Morningstar is the chairman of this district. The second was Myers District headed by Miss Madeline Shriver. These two districts are to be commended for their splendid work. They have set a fine example for the rest of the districts. A number of other districts feel that they have reached their quotas but have not completed their reports.

It is very gratifying to the campaign committee to hear such fine reports, and it is hoped that by the time all the returns are in the Children's Aid Society will have obtained the $3,000, so necessary to carry on the work in the county.

DEALER'S REGISTRATION

All persons having in their stock rubber boots of the six different types recently frozen by the Office of Price Administration are notified that they must register an inventory of these items with their local War Price and Rationing Board No. 8 in Westminster.

Inventory forms may be secured by writing this office or by calling in person. This inventory was supposed to be in the hands of the local Board by October 10, 1942.

MEAT RATIONING

Miss Hoffman Reports on this Subject.

On Wednesday and Thursday, October 14 and 15, Mr. Bernard Joy, of the Department of Agriculture, was in Carroll County, to confer with neighborhood leaders in regard to the interests of the rural people in the proposed meat rationing program. After a conference with a number of neighborhood leaders at the Home Demonstration Office on Wednesday morning, Mr. Joy, accompanied by Miss Adeline M. Hoffman, Home Demonstration Agent for Carroll Co., and a neighborhood leader, interviewed several farm families, to find out how they felt about meat rationing, and how they thought the program should be set up by the Department of Agriculture. This program will effect farmers because they are not only consumers of meat but producers of meat and the Department of Agriculture is interested in the opinion of the people in regard to National programs which may be taking form at the present time.

FARMERS MEET IN HARNEY

A discussion of the nutrition requirements of farm animals was led by Dr. C. D. Caskey, of Baltimore, director of the Southern States Quality Control laboratory, at a meeting of a group of farmers of the Taneytown and Harney sections at Harney, Friday evening, October 16th.

In reviewing the protein, mineral, and vitamin requirements of chickens he pointed out that these requirements are different for birds of different ages.

"The vitamin needs of breeding hens are greater than those of the ordinary laying hen, and this is particularly true in regard to vitamins A and G," Dr. Caskey said. "The principal sources of vitamin A are dehydrated alfalfa meal of high quality and yellow corn, and the main sources of vitamin G are dried milk products and various riboflavin concentrates."

The speaker said that two sources of protein are desirable; namely, vegetable, such as soybean meal, and animal, such as meat scraps and fish meal.

"Japan formerly furnished about one-third of the fish meal used in this country," Dr. Caskey explained. "With this supply cut off, along with restrictions off the American coasts which has reduced the domestic supply, the fish meal supply is one of the most acute problems facing the feed industry. Importation of meat scraps likewise has been greatly reduced since few shipments have come in from South America since the submarine warfare started. Fortunately for poultrymen greater amounts of soybean meal can be used; in some instances soybean meal can replace animal protein entirely. These recommendations are based on experiment station tests and practical poultry feeding."

"While dairy feeds containing a high percentage of fat and a low percentage of fiber generally are of the best quality, it must be remembered, however, that total digestible nutrients, which is the part of a dairy ration that the cow actually uses in making milk and maintaining body health, determines the value of a dairy ration."

"Dairymen can save 900 to 1200 pounds of milk through substituting good quality calf rations in raising calves to four months of age. Such a procedure will contribute more milk for human consumption, milk which is sorely needed," Dr. Caskey continued.

A. C. Leatherman of R. F. D., Taneytown, Southern States representative, sketched briefly the progress farmer cooperation has made and is making in this section.

Max Borden, of Baltimore, a representative of Southern States in this area, presided.

Random Thoughts

(This is a reprint of an article formerly published. Owing to the popularity of these Random Thoughts we will from time reproduce others of the same type.)

MAKING TALK

It is quite a common conclusion for one to reach, that in order for one to be an entertaining talker when one has company, a great deal of talk must be indulged in; and that we should make it as interesting as possible.

As it is one of the objects of visitation to hear something new, naturally the host feels the need of "filling the order," and so, we are led into the way of telling more than we know—using the mildest term possible for it.

But "making talk" is both dangerous and disreputable. One should admit a scarcity of worthwhile news, and stay on the safe side, and talk of "the weather" or bring out some old-time recollections.

Some visits are no doubt cut short, and another one made with the hope of meeting with better luck—or, perhaps decide to go to the "movies."

ROBBING PETER TO PAY PAUL

If the Administration has its way, every worker and every employer in the United States will pay a 100 per cent increase in Social Security taxes starting January 1, 1943. This is in line with legislation put into effect by the Congress and the President in 1939 when a schedule of payroll taxes was established for the subsequent 10 or 12 years.

In a recent address to the upper house of Congress, Senator Vandenberg, calling for the freezing of the 1 per cent tax on both employer and employee for the year 1943, drew attention to the fact that this action would not, in any way whatsoever, endanger the Social Security trust fund.

Moreover, the Senator pointed out, in quoting Arthur Altmeyer, Social Security Board Chairman, "the old-age trust fund would not fall below three times the highest anticipated annual benefits of the next five years if no taxes at all were collected next year."

If the Social Security trust fund is ample to provide for normal withdrawals, why in the name of common sense, should the present tax be doubled?

The old suspicion that existed when the Social Security law went into effect, that the fund would be used as a "grab bag," was revived when in his address the Senator from Michigan implied that the additional funds were sought to meet a part of the war bill.

Increased payroll taxes at this time would work a hardship on everyone concerned with the payment of the tax. And robbing Peter (Social Security) to pay Paul (War Debts) would be equally unjustifiable and poor business judgment.

FARMERS NOT PROFITEERS

If American farmers really wanted to profiteer, they wouldn't bother to fight for higher prices. If American farmers wanted to make money during this war, they'd leave their farms for jobs in defense where unskilled workers are getting more in a few months than some hard-working, highly-skilled farmers expect to earn in a lifetime.

Thousand of farm people have gone to factories. Nobody can blame them but everybody ought to respect those who stay on their farm, producing food for Victory. They know it's no way to make money, but they know that, if too many farmers leave the land, there won't be any Victory.
So they stay at work. All they ask is some assurance that they can continue to stay at work under inflationary conditions forced on them by rises in industrial wages.

Economists don't associate farm prices with inflation. That sort of talk has come from politicians. Professor W. I. Myers, of Cornell University, internationally known authority on agricultural finance, and former Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, says: "The buying power of factory workers is nearly doubled since 1914, but the buying power of farm products is just getting back to where it was in 1914. The buying power of the factory wage earner is about twice what it was in 1914, while the buying power of the farmer has only recently reached what it was in 1914."

American farmers don't care to become war profiteers. If they did, they wouldn't be farming these days.
They want a price level which will maintain production to meet the food needs of America and the United Nations. Unless they get it, America and the United Nations will be the sufferers.

IS HITLER SLIPPING?

From meager reports of the speech made as Sportz Platz in Berlin on October 3rd. one is justified, I think in assuming that the great and Mighty Hitler is but human after all,
and is slipping from the high pedestal that he has erected for his sole standing place. His speech indicated he is getting jittery, and well he might, for he undoubtedly has been advised by his spies and saboteurs of the might and force of America in building ships and planes and manpower and munitions of war. But the fear is that these yes men he has sent here are afraid of his mighty wrath if they would dare to report facts that be. America is on the move, and her might will see that right prevails. Hitler and Mussolini and Horihto will feel the weight of that might, and soon.

What shall we do with these butchers when we have them in our power? Do, why just treat them as we would treat any other murderers, and that goes for the "divine" mikado
as well as the paint dauber of Berlin and the rabble rouser of Rome. Hang them on gibbets high enough for all their people to see them.

But we must not want these things to happen at once. Our Army and Navy leaders must say when we start the all out business. That is their business and not yours or mine or Windy Willie's.

True the President is supreme commander of the Army and Navy and tho he likes to strut and swagger and boast "we planned it that way" we think he will permit those who know the business of war to plan and execute the deed.

Our people are 100 percent behind the President in war effort, but he must not think they are there because of him alone; they are there because they place country above party. They are all saying "to hell with politics for the duration" we want to win the war. Russia is doing fine, England is doing fair and it looks to me as tho good old Uncle Sam was doing his share. Nuf sed, quit talking and get on with the job. W. J. H.

ELECTION AND THE ISSUES

Election day is just around the corner and there are no indications that any great problems will be decided by the voters. The Government itself is running on a one-way thoroughfare—and so are Democrats and Republican leaders. All the efforts are in the same direction.

The Democrats have charted the plans for Congress and the Republicans have helped to put them in operation. The number of legislators who have held out in support of their individual opinions and principles are too few to count.—National Industries News Service.

DRAFTING THE YOUTHS

President Roosevelt's belief that it will be necessary to draft young men of 18 and 19 years for military service makes it probable that these youths before long, so far as they pass the physical test, will be wearing United States uniforms. Parents are usually reluctant to have their boys enter the service so early, when many of them have not completed their education. Families want their boys to serve their country, and the country needs the fire of youth and the enormous vigor which these fellows have at that age.

Young men of that age have a strong faith in their ability to do things, and the enemies of our country will feel their power. The Germans did some pretty fast running in 1918 when the American troops got after them, and they are likely to do it again.

It is with a note of sadness that the country sends its young men out to battle. If a country wants to be free in a world plagued by tyrants, the young men of our age have to fight, and they show a grand spirit in taking hold of these duties.—Frederick Post.

MARYLAND'S WAR EFFORT COMES FIRST

Keep A Good Man On The Job!

Re-Elect
Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor

Under A Democratic Administration

- Maryland was prepared for the war, 16 months before Pearl Harbor.
- Maryland has a balanced budget, with $9,000,000 in the Treasury.
- Maryland is back on an efficient business basis.
- Maryland no longer diverts gasoline tax funds from road-building.
- Maryland has decreased its real estate tax and income tax; has money in the treasury for a broad program of post-war construction to take up the slack of unemployment when peace comes.
- Maryland has a constructive, forward-looking conservation program, applying to the seafood industry, forestry, parks, and sport, hunting and fishing. There is NO leasing of public oyster beds to private industry.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR

HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Your Vote on Election Day, November 3rd

Will Be Highly Appreciated

Vote for

Judge James E. Boylan, Jr.

Judge Boylan was an able, conscientious and successful lawyer of the Carroll County Bar and the Bar of the Court of Appeals when appointed Associate Judge on February 25, 1941.

His qualifications are attested not only by the respect of his constituents and the confidence of former Clients and his prominence when at the Bar
but also by these other facts:

1. Judge Boylan was endorsed for the appointment by the nominating committee of the Maryland State Bar Association;

2. Judge Boylan was chosen by Governor Herbert R. O'Connor from the members of the Carroll County Bar as the lawyer best fitted for the position;

3. Judge Boylan is the sitting Judge. His grasp and knowledge of the law, and his courteous conduct on the Bench, his fair, firm, prompt and impartial administration of his high office have confirmed and demonstrated his Judicial capacity;

4. Governor O'Connor is a lawyer, and there is no sound reason why his judgment in the appointment should be repudiated, and this tried, experienced and satisfactory Judge should fail of election.

A judicial candidate should not personally solicit voters so Judge Boylan will not campaign and call on any one for his vote. Consequently, this advertisement is inserted for your information so there may be no misunderstanding on the part of the public.

I respectfully suggest, for the reasons given, that, on Tuesday, November 3, 1942, you vote for the continuance in office of

JUDGE JAMES E. BOYLAN, JR., who hears and decides "as becometh
a Judge."

NEW METHOD SAVES RUBBER ON TYPEWRITER CYLINDERS

Substantial savings in the rubber used for typewriter cylinders are now possible as a result of experiments recently carried out at the Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York City. The rubber on the average typewriter roller weighs about a pound.

With extensive use, typewriter cylinders become hard and glazed, and no longer hold paper securely. When this occurs, it has been customary to return them to the factory to have the old rubber removed and new rubber put in its place. It has been estimated that from fifty to one hundred thousand cylinders need to be renewed each month. Since each roller contains about one pound of rubber, this means a million pounds of rubber each year!

Most of the million pounds or so of rubber replacements can be saved, according to Bell Laboratories' scientists who tackled the problem for their own organization, which uses nearly 1,000 typewriters. They developed a process of sand-blasting old rubbers, removing ink and dirt and forming a new surface which they consider in some ways even superior to the original.

A cylinder is sand-blasted for two or three minutes with steel grit under air pressure. The reduction in the diameter of the cylinder is less than two-thousandths of an inch. The Laboratories reports that cylinders thus treated have had hard service in the Laboratories for more than six months without needing further treatment.

Complete information has been given by the Laboratories to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, which approved the use of the process to help conserve rubber, and furnished the public with information about it.

THREE LITTLE FISH "DRAFTED" FOR TELEPHONE JOB

The Western Electric Company has put goldfish to work in its vast Hawthorne telephone manufacturing plant near Chicago, Illinois. The company,

"Three little fishes" employed by Western Electric, being given a change of diet and a bit of extra recognition for their labor.

long an advocate of "the right man for the right job" philosophy, believes that it has in these three little fish employees eminently suited to their assignment.

These three little fish are now doing their bit in speeding the production of telephone equipment. Their job is to eat the minute plants which might otherwise cloud the windows of the tank used for testing sample solutions of the cellulose acetate that is an important part of switchboard lamps.

Before Sadie, Reuben and Oscar were telephone employees, the test tank clouded so frequently that ready observation was impeded. Each week the tank had to be drained, cleaned and refilled. Now the goldfish are actually performing a time-saving service for the men and women who make telephones.

To Vote For An Independent Judiciary Is Your Precious Privilege In This Election

This Issue of "An Independent Judiciary" is not a Partisan One

In the recent Democratic Primary Campaign, Attorney John Wood expressed the "issue" in these words:

"THE REAL ISSUE"

"I choose to believe that the people of Carroll County take great pride in their ability to vote as they see fit. Never yet have they subjected themselves to any form of dictatorship, no matter how mild. And in the present world crisis, the idea becomes even more abhorrent, when we consider that the extermination of this evil is the very cause for which we are fighting."

"The Judiciary must conduct itself in such a manner that it shall continue to hold the respect of all people. No past or present member of the Court, should be allowed to dictate who shall constitute the Court, for such a practice MIGHT CONCEIVABLY lead to an unintentional effect upon that Court's conclusions."

Many Democratic voters in this Judicial Circuit and particularly those of Carroll County, will remember clearly the interpretation of the issue as given orally by the "Buck" Cash faction of the Democratic Party in Carroll County; and it should be noted that 49% of the Democratic votes of Carroll County in that election thereafter were cast against the present opponent of Theodore F. Brown, and in favor of a man who was not a native Carroll Countian.

Vote for Theodore F. Brown—for an Independent Judiciary

Who Will Name the Judge?

A study of several of the reasons advanced for the election of Candidate Boylan by his Political Agent sheds considerable light. For instance, that one,—"Governor O'Connor is a lawyer, and there is no sound reason why his judgment in the appointment should be repudiated."

The Constitution of Maryland wisely provides that the people shall elect their Judges, regardless of the wishes of any lawyer, or of any Judge or "former Judge," or of any State Executive; and to say that the O'Connor exercise of power to fill vacancies and the bench temporarily—should be followed blindly by the Electorate, is as unsound and as unfair as it would be to allow practicing lawyer, F. Neal Parke, to name as successor in this high office for the next fifteen years the man who displayed prominently on his office Mr. Parke's law-office "shingle" during all of the 17 years that Mr. Parke served on the Bench as Judge.

For An Independent Judiciary Vote for Theodore F. Brown

"Campaigning"

Especially interesting is the Brilhart statement that—"A Judicial Candidate should not personally solicit votes, so Judge Boylan will not campaign."

After the primary election in September, Mr. Boylan, and his Political Agent, Mr. Brilhart,

FOR AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY

VOTE FOR

Theodore F. Brown for Associate Judge

Published by authority of John H. Cunningham, Political Agent

filed reports of their "Campaign" expenses, as required by the Corrupt Practices Laws. Mr. Boylan reported the spending of more than $1,100.00 of his own money, including the purchasing of 10,000 stamped envelopes, and the addressing of 12,600 envelopes. Mr. Brilhart's political sagacity was exemplified by the fact that, while his Candidate, Mr. Boylan, received 51% of the Democratic votes cast in Carroll County, and only 40% of the Democratic votes cast in Anne Arundel County, yet where Mr. Brilhart, as Political Agent had given $550.00 to C. Andrew Shaab, Treasurer, Ellicott City, Maryland—Mr. Boylan secured 85% of the Democratic votes cast in Howard County.

Theodore F. Brown will continue to show his brand of frankness to his people. He will contradict the whispering campaign that has been promoted regarding his hearing by letting the voters see for themselves the truth on that point. He will show them that he's the same Theodore F. Brown that Judge Forsythe and Parke wrote about, as Judges when they said:

"The undersigned members of the court subscribe this letter because they are two who are familiar with the manner of your performance of your official duties, and of their great social and economic value, which are far in excess of any possible remuneration. It is but just to state that the administration of your office has won the confidence of the public, and has been distinguished by zeal, activity, integrity, fairness and ability and an unswerving devotion to duty."

—yes, the same Theodore F. Brown,—mellowed by maturity; especially qualified by an exceptional background of experience to be a fair, understanding and just Judge; incorruptible; free from bias, favoritism and obligatory connections; courageous enough to tell the "issue" to those who will understand; conscious of the responsibilities of the high position.

For an Independent Judiciary, Vote for Theodore F. Brown

The Parke Advertisement Indicates the Presence of the "Issue"

The advertisement referred to by Judge Forsythe (whose term of office expires in a few weeks) and by practicing attorney Parke, could not reasonably or fairly be construed to mean, and was not intended to mean, that those gentlemen now endorse or ever endorsed Theodore F. Brown for any office. However, what that "bold advertisement" did achieve was—

1. To record the true appraisal of Mr. Brown's Public Service, as made by impartial Judges, at a time when neither of them could possibly have had any "axe to grind."

2. To point out the difference between such an appraisal, and the possible attitude of a practicing attorney, if he were seeking to have a "friendly court" to be elected. And

3. To emphasize the importance of a fair, impartial and independent Judge, and to show that Theodore F. Brown is in the position to be just that.

MANCHESTER.

Geraldine Yingling, string bass, and Alice Hollenbach, violin, have been selected to represent Manchester High School in the all Md. High School Orchestra on Saturday.

The ministers of the Hampstead-Manchester Districts met at the Reformed parsonage Manchester on Wednesday morning.

The annual anniversary meeting of Trinity Reformed Church Aid Society at Manchester was held on Monday evening. The annual reports were read. Among the services rendered by the Society during the year was sharing the cost of painting the exterior, putting hymn book racks on pews and the presentation of an American Flag to the congregation. The treasurer's report indicated a wholesome financial condition.

The officers were re-elected: Pres. Mrs. John S. Hollenbach; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Robert M. Showers; Sec., Mrs. Harry Arbaugh; Treas., Mrs. H. M. Loats. The program consisted of the singing of hymns and the presentation of a play "Industrial America." Refreshments were served. The attendance was excellent.

The Rev. Walter K. Beattie, of Hoffman Home, occupied the pulpits of the Manchester Reformed Church and was a guest at the parsonage on Sunday.

The Willing Workers' Aid Society of Manchester Reformed Church will conduct a food sale of the possessions of Miss Margaret Fuhrman, York St., on Saturday, Oct. 24. All donations are to be at the place of sale at 10 A. M. or as soon thereafter as possible.

Rev. Dr. John S. Hollenbach spoke at the services at the I. O. O. F. Home, Frederick, on Sunday, Oct. 11. Miss Gloria and Henrietta Hoffman and Alice and Katherine Hollenbach sang several selections and John S. Hollenbach, Jr., and Junior Trump played clarinet duets. Mrs. Hollenbach also attended.

James I. Wentz and daughter, Dorothy, Linboro; Mrs. H. M. Loats, Mrs. Harvey Rhoades and Rev. Dr. and Mrs. John S. Hollenbach attended the fall meeting of Synod of the Potomac of the Evangelical and Reformed Church held at Baltimore recently.

HARNEY

Geo. Selby and brother, Kenneth, Baltimore, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Selby.

Mrs. John Mummert and son, Kenneth and grand-daughter, Erma Mummert, Hanover, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clabaugh and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vaughn and son, Kenneth and daughter, Mildred, and Mrs. Amos Wantz were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn and family.

Mrs. Rosa Valentine and daughter, Mrs. H. Clutz, spent Wednesday with Mrs. J. W. Fream.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wolff called on Mr. and Mrs. James Lord, Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Eckeroode, Emmitsburg, spent Tuesday evening with Mrs. Hannah Eckeroode and family. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Valentine and Mrs. Harvey Wantz, spent 2 1/2 days in Frederick with Mr. and Mrs. Rousie.

Mr. and Mrs. John Waybright entertained at a turkey dinner Sunday in honor of their son, Private Robert Waybright, of Florida, who spent several days on a furlough there. Their guests were their family and Mrs. Rosa Valentine.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fream, Mrs. Walter Koonz and daughters, Agnes and Verna, spent the week-end in Philadelphia, with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walmer. Other guests in this home were: Mrs. Martha Fleagle, of Canton, Ohio; Lt. Bigshaw, wife and child stationed in Panama. The Freams returned home Monday evening.

Services in St. Paul's Church next Sabbath with sermon at 9 o'clock; Sabbath School, 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morelock and their daughter, Isabel, husband and child, Littlestown, visited Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Leatherman and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Patterson and daughter, Shirley.

LINWOOD.

Mr. C. U. Messler and family, attended the wedding of Miss Helen Rohrer at the First Brethren Church, Hagerstown, Saturday evening. Mrs. L. U. Messler remained for a several days visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Englar were Sunday guests of Mrs. William Renner, Rocky Ridge.

The W. M. S. met at the home of Miss Byrle Renner, Tuesday afternoon. A very interesting program was rendered.

The Loyal Crusaders were entertained by Mrs. Preston Myers at her home in Uniontown last Friday evening.

Rev. Loren Bowman and family, of Lexington, Va., are visiting Rev. Bowman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Bowman.

The ladies of the Linwood Brethren Church held a very successful "covered dish" social last Friday evening. The guest speaker was Rev. Sellers, pastor of the Union Bridge Lutheran Church, who gave a very timely message. A musical program was well rendered.

FEESERSBURG.

We had nearly a week of rain, and didn't it rain Thursday night. We couldn't help worrying about the people and homes near the rising waters; yet one community was mercifully spared. Debating Societies were popular in our early life, and we remember one subject was—"which is more dangerous fire or water?" and one response was "One can run away from fire, but cannot escape water." However the Sun showed his smiling face on Saturday, and Sunday was bright and fair, and this Monday morning seems glorious.

F. LeRoy Crouse attended the J. Bankard sale out Fairway way on Friday when it was very rainy—yet a crowd of people; also the community sale of Samuel Bowman in Middleburg on Saturday afternoon—where many were in attendance. Goods sold at fair prices.

Mrs. Cleon Wolfe spent Saturday in Baltimore, after learning that her sister, Miss Ruth Uermahlen was on the sick list last week; but was pleased to find her improving and back in her sales department.

Sunday School at Mt. Union Sunday morning was well attended, and a number of visitors present; a sister of Emmet Miller, from Accident, Md., who was visiting his family; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sellers, of Washington, with their children—the Roger Senz family, who had charge of the church, and S. S. Miss June Brunner was back in her class—after several months absence. There was no C. E. Service on Sunday.

Rev. W. Allen of the Methodist Church is conducting Evangelistic Services in Middleburg each evening. We wish there was half the interest such meetings once aroused in this community. God is the same kind friend, the Preachers as earnest and good—have people forsaken the right way? Yet we are begging Him to save our boys and give us world peace.

Mrs. Irene Huff and child, Sharon, of Frostburg, spent the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Margroff, in Bruceville, and all attended S. S. at Mt. Union on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Aldridge and child, Douglas Eugene, of Thurmont, visited Mr. and Mrs. C. S. WEEK OF THE WAR

iod and the highest since 1920. The average rate per day without board, $2.76, was up 31 cents since July and up 72 cents since the previous October. The Department said its total September purchases of dairy products, fish, fruit and other commodities amounted to $115 million, compared with the August total of $83 million. The Department is now buying 17 key foodstuffs every week and 11 others every two weeks.

The Office of Price Administration ruled that after next January 31, all motorists holding A mileage rationing books must have their tires inspected every four months and those receiving books allowing them supplemental mileage must have their tires inspected every two months. Original inspections of tires on all passenger cars must be made between December 1 and January 21, while commercial vehicle tires—which must be inspected every two months or every 5,000 miles, which ever comes first—may be checked any time after November 15.

Price Administrator Henderson set November 9 as registration day for gasoline rationing in the States where rationing is not already in effect, while motorists in the present rationing area must file a tire inspection certificate with their local rationing boards by November 22. Car owners in the latter area must list the serial numbers of all their tires, and if there are more than five per car, the owner will be denied gasoline ration books until he has disposed of the extra tires. Mr. Henderson said the Government already has started to purchase from car owners all new or used tires in excess of five per automobile. The Defense Supplies Corporation, which has advanced $150,000,000 for the program, has designated 160 warehouses throughout the country as delivery points, and the 23,000 offices of the Railway Express Agency will collect the tires and bring them to the warehouses.

The OPA said war ration sugar stamp No. 9 will be good for the purchase of three pounds of sugar between November 1 and December 15. The sugar allotments for institutional and industrial users for November and December were set at 60 and 70 percent, respectively, of the sugar base established by them.

A specific price ceiling for women's rayon hose will be issued soon, the OPA said, and in the meantime, buyers should carefully compare prices with those of last March to make certain they are not being overcharged. "There is no excuse for any increase in prices of rayon hosiery," the office said. The OPA placed dried eggs under price control at the highest levels at which distributors did business during the September 28-October 2 base period. The office also set up a method for retail dealers to determine their ceiling prices for fresh grapefruit.

Director Pyrmes of the Office of Economic Stabilization said the War Labor Board will regulate all salaries under $3,000 and those up to $5,000 which are covered in wage agreements. He said the Treasury Department is preparing regulations for salaries of more than $3,000 other than those handled by the Board as part of wage regulations. The WLB ruled individual wage adjustments may now be made by employers without prior Board approval providing they are "incident to the application of the terms of an established wage agreement or to established wage rate schedules covering the work assignments of employees" and are made as the result of certain established practices.

Experience In Administration Is Campaign Issue

Democratic Leaders Point To Outstanding Record Of State Officials

Harmony Is Keynote Of Enthusiastic Meetings

Never in the history of Maryland will experience in administering the State's affairs be needed as vitally as during the next four years, Robert A. Sindall, prominent fraternal and civic leader of Baltimore City, said yesterday. Mr. Sindall, who is one of the leading business men of Baltimore, joined with other civic leaders in urging the re-election of Governor O'Connor, Attorney General Walsh, and Comptroller Tawes.

Governor O'Connor, Mr. Sindall emphasized, is the only gubernatorial candidate in the current election who has that experience.

The Governor, Mr. Sindall stated, not only has intimate knowledge of the State's fiscal, legislative, agricultural, labor and other pressing problems gained through four years of successful administration in Annapolis, but he is thoroughly conversant with every small detail that will be necessary for the fruitful participation of Maryland in the war effort.

Efficient Administration
 "In fact," said Mr. Sindall, Chairman of Governor O'Connor's Campaign Committee, "under Governor O'Connor's efficient administration Maryland stands in the forefront of all States in its defense program. Maryland, center of many of the nation's largest war industries, needs an executive with the experience of the Governor especially because of this one factor. We cannot afford to trust the business of Maryland to inexperienced hands."

"Governor O'Connor, better than any gubernatorial candidate, knows the needs of Maryland not only for the duration but in the post-war days. Because of this he is not only experienced to administer the State under present conditions, but he has the necessary background for planning for those days which will follow the return of Maryland's soldiers, sailors and marines to civil life."

Great stress is being laid in this campaign on the efficient operation of the office of State Comptroller under Millard E. Tawes, Eastern Shore business man and fraternal leader.

Attorney General Walsh, who is a World War Veteran and was formerly a Judge of the Court of Appeals, has made a remarkable and outstanding record in the office of Attorney General of Maryland.

Democratic Harmony
 A mass meeting of Democratic Organization workers was held in Baltimore. More than 1,500 enthusiastic ward and precinct leaders of all factions attended.

Harmony was the keynote. The forces of Governor O'Connor joined with those of Mayor Jackson in preparing to bring out the voters on election day.

Meetings are being held in all parts of the State and plans are under way for rallies to be held during the last week of the campaign.

Old-timers say this is the first time in many years that the Democratic Organization has been functioning so smoothly. They have only one fear; over-confidence. To make sure that the vote turns out they are proceeding with plans for an intensive drive to stir up the voters and insure an imposing victory for the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Sindall was named Chairman of the Maryland Democratic Campaign Committee and Cleveland R. Bealmeir was selected as Vice-Chairman.

The Advisory Committee consists of U. S. Senator Millard E. Tydings, U. S. Senator George L. Radcliffe, Mayor Howard W. Jackson, Hon. Emerson C. Harrington, William Preston Lane, Jr., and William S. Gordy, Jr.

New Device Scrambles Pictures

A picture-scrambling device, utilizing the photo-electric cell for the secret transmission of pictures, drawings and written messages by telegraph, is reported to have been perfected by Edouard Belin of Paris. The light and shade variations can be picked up only on a special receiver which reproduces the original. If anyone "cuts in" on the line he gets merely a good imitation of a "snowstorm."

Vain Ambition

By
R. H. WILKINSON
 Associated Newspapers—WNU Features.

"I F A HEN," said Eben Langley, "having muddy feet, were to walk across a clean white sheet of paper, the impression inscribed thereon would be more intelligible than Harold Brickell's writing."

And with this, Eben began to carve around the inside of the bowl of his pipe with a jackknife, the blade of which testified to many previous carvings, and to chuckle softly.

"It couldn't be laid to inadequate schooling," Eben continued, tamping freshly cut plug into the cleaned bowl, "for despite the fact that Millstown was at that time little more than a clearing in the woodlot, we had a schoolhouse and a right smart schoolmaster. Harold's folks believed in education and the lad attended all the grades up to the ninth. No, it wasn't lack of schooling. It was simply that his fingers were the kind that looked more at home around the handles of a plow."

"Strange as it may seem, Harold was endowed with an imagination and a vague desire to do something besides pitch hay all his life. (Which fact, incidentally proved to be even more vague than we at first thought, for in the end, Harold made farming his life work and was contented.)"

"It may have been because of a certain obstinacy which developed in Harold when nearing his 20s, or it may have been because of Schoolmaster Caleb Ricker's desperate attempt to improve the lad's penmanship, that led to the boy's ultimate decision.

"Three years after Harold terminated his attendance at school, he announced that he was going to be a writer. The announcement was astounding. At first Millstown's populace was inclined to ridicule the idea. A picture of Harold Brickell, who couldn't even write his name in legible style, earning his living writing stories, was quite beyond their grasp. And yet, when Harold persisted in stating that that was his chosen profession there were a few of us who displayed a certain amount of interest.

"After all, Millstown was considered a backwoods settlement then; we had sent no brilliant sons into the world to bring honor and fame to our community. And the mere fact that at least one among us was endowed with even an ambition to achieve some end besides raising an extra good crop of potatoes was something to get excited about.

"Our hopes, however, were short lived. Schoolmaster Ricker, who naturally was better equipped to predict the possibilities of such an ambition, looked at Harold with scorn and contempt; was by no means hesitant in stating emphatically that the remoteness of success was something about which we could laugh very heartily without fear of having the tables turned.

"As a matter of fact when we who had at first displayed interest in Harold's ambition, were shown a sample of the boy's penmanship and failed after an hour's close application (even though we made allowances for our own illiteracy) to decipher a single line, we were inclined to cast a vote in favor of the schoolmaster, agreeing to forget the incident.

"But our indifference and scorn in no way undermined Harold's decision. If one was to be a writer, he said, one must not be discouraged by the opinions of a few inexperienced, illiterate imbeciles. He did not, he further stated, expect the co-operation and support of his fellow townsmen. They could not possibly understand, simply because the scope of their vision was narrowed by routine to the extent of an acre of silo corn. Most artists were forced to lead a lonely life, which, after all, was stimulating to the creative instincts.

"And thus having unburdened himself in a commendable fashion, Harold set about the task of making of himself a writer. He spent his idle moments scrawling signs and symbols on paper, which, when offered to curious acquaintances for perusal, proved meaningless and undecipherable. Yet to Harold the signs and symbols seemed to represent the expression of an inner genius that bubbled and boiled and sought an outlet. For in spite of everything he kept doggedly at his task and continued whenever opportunity offered to expound in detail about his career, and predicted for himself a great future.

"After awhile Harold's expounding became a little tiresome. Especially when the novelty of the idea had been tried and found wanting, and after we had conscientiously attempted to decipher three of the boy's completed manuscripts, succeeding only in starting an argument among ourselves over the possible meaning of certain signs that had a vague resemblance to English words. We began to suggest as gently as we could that Harold cease boring us with recitals concerning his wondrous genius and turn his efforts to the more remunerative subject of potatoes and corn.

"Unruffled, Harold continued to scrawl out his so-called stories and to berate us with predictions of what the future held in store for him. And at last, as a means of protection, Ned Feeley lost his temper and advised poor Harold that it was high time he snapped out of the state into which he had let himself fall, that his opportunity of becoming a writer was nil when you considered that there wasn't an editor in the world, including the most experienced translators of foreign languages, who could decipher his penmanship; and that every one in Millstown was fed up on hearing about it. Ned ended his little speech by offering to bet Harold that the boy would never make a cent out of writing, if he lived to be a thousand.

"This last remark served to silence Harold. He stood in the lobby of the post office, looking from one face to another, as though it were only now that the realization of how his fellow townsmen felt about it all, was brought home to him. There was a silence, during which some of us shifted uneasily and knew a sense of regret of Ned's condemning tone.

"But presently Harold shrugged his shoulders and turned away. At the door he paused and looked back, a hurt expression in his eyes, a grim determination about his mouth. 'I'll take the bet, Ned,' he said. 'And we'll make the time limit a year instead of a thousand.' Then he went out.

"For a time the bet between Ned and Harold stirred up no little excitement. Of course we all knew that Ned's money was safe, yet there was that hurt expression in Harold's eyes and the grimness about his mouth to remember and wonder at.

"However, a week later Harold Brickell was seen through the day plowing the lower lot on his farm and sowing it to corn. And it was generally noised about that the would-be author had conceded the bet.

"Of course we had no way of knowing that during the time Harold was following along behind the plow, his mind was at work. None of us were artistically inclined and we could not be blamed for not suspecting that it is at just such times as this that geniuses give birth to their most astounding inspirations.

"And when, three months later, the excitement over the bet having died down and everyone having practically forgotten about Harold's ambition, it was noticed that the lad was not hoeing corn in his lower lot for three days' running, no one guessed what he was up to. They attributed his absence to such things as pains in the stomach, or sun stroke.

"Little did we know that Harold in the very act of extracting a jungle weed from a potato hill, had been smitten with the idea of ideas promptly dropped his hoe, returned to the house and for three days thereafter labored with pen and ink in giving expression to the inspiration that he was sure was going to make him famous and win Ned's $200 bet.

"At the end of three days Harold emerged from his abode, a stubble of beard on his chin, his eyes red, and a carefully wrapped manuscript under his arm. He went at once to the post office and dispatched his precious burden by the evening mail. Then he sat down to wait, confident, triumphant, elated."

Eben chuckled in the telling of his tale and puffed. And I urged impatiently: "Well, what happened? Was the story a good one? Did Harold win the bet?"

Eben shook his head. "Harold won the bet, but no one knows to this day whether the story was good or not. You see Harold was so positive that his yarn was a masterpiece, so afraid that it might become lost, that he insured the package for $100. Dave Sampson, the postmaster, managed with Harold's help, to read the address on the envelope, and dispatched the thing to New York. However, that was as far as it ever got.

"No one in New York could read Harold's writing hence the package was lost and Harold collected his $100 insurance money. He also collected his bet from Ned Feeley, because Ned was a good sport and after all, it couldn't be said that the lad hadn't made money from his writing. There was another inducement, too. Harold promised to go back to farming, which he did, and has been doing so every since."

TO ALL

LETTER FROM DETROIT

spend our remaining days at home, in peace and quiet.

Personally, I feel that it would have been far better to have taken those youths in the first place, than to do as they have done so far—break up homes, and take away those whose families are dependent on them. As my correspondent said, these boys are full of life and courage. They want to get in this scrap, and here in Detroit, they are not waiting for the draft, but are enlisting by the hundreds every day. So I think the Government has woken up, in this one way, at least, I am sure that they will make better soldiers than the older men who are settled in life.

There are quite a few other things that I am thinking about—the unfairness of some of the draft boards in this city is one of these. There are instances in our district, of men being called up for service, that have two or more children, or who have been married a half dozen years or more, some who are badly crippled, and hardly able to see, on account of bad eyes, while maybe a half dozen or more, from 20 to 25 years old, single, with no dependents, are not called, and are even bragging about their "pull," as they call it. Maybe if this new legislation is passed, calling up the young fellows, it will help this condition, but just now it is the common talk, wherever you go.

Some people may think that, from what I have written about, I have lost any patriotic feeling I may have once possessed. But I want to assure you that I have not changed a bit. I still love the old flag, and all it stands for, and every defeat—and we have had plenty of them—causes me to feel gloomy, not only for these defeats, but for the loss of life that necessarily takes place in every conflict, and which results in either victory or defeat. I want to refer these subjects to those grand writers, whose articles I enjoy in every issue of the Record, L. B. H. and W. J. H. Maybe they can set me straight at least I hope they can.

Before I close I want to correct a mistake in my last letter—whether it was made by myself or in the office, I do not know. But I want to correct the figures of rents in Bowling Green, Ohio, where we visited. Instead of "$1.00 a month," it should have been $16.00. I am doing this to keep any one from rushing to a place where they could live so cheaply. You can live just as cheaply, and maybe cheaper in good old Taneytown.

Former Naval officers were lighted to their quarters aboard ship by the "anchor watch" holding lanterns—six for admirals, 4 for captains.

Five seconds is the usual interval between guns in Naval salutes.

OUR HAT

IS IN THE RING, TOO

WE'RE HELPING fight this war every way we know how. We sell War Bonds, buy government bonds ourselves, make loans for war purposes, help fight the battle against inflation, do everything we can to keep life on an even keel in our community. We don't seek praise for our efforts; all we want are new opportunities to help. If we can assist you in any way, let us know.
