This column is not for use in advertising any money-making program, fair, supper, party or sale. It is intended for news, personals, and such matters as may be of community interest.

Churches, Lodges, Societies, Schools, etc. are requested to use our Special Notice Department for money-making events.

Churches are especially given free use of our Church Notice Column, for brief notices concerning regular or special services. Large events will be cared for elsewhere in our columns.

Mrs. John Hoagland, New York City, spent several days with friends in town.

Leonard Zent, spent several days in Baltimore, on a business trip, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fair, Dillsburg, Pa., visited Mr. Fair's brother, William G. Fair, this week.

Taneytown United Brethren Church will hold their Christmas program on Sunday evening, December 20th.

Corporal Charles M. Krise is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krise, near town.

Kits were presented to Ray T. Harner, Ralph Vaughn, Roger Blettnier, Paul Knox, Elmer J. Hahn, Basil Crapster.

I think this town needs a first-class jeweler. I can't see why such a one could not make good here. Give it a trial—a reader of the Record.

Pvt. George P. Dern, of Camp Lee, Va., paid his two aunts, Mrs. Allie Forrest and Mrs. Bessie D. Mehring, of Keyman, a visit one day last week.

The Choral Club will rehearse Monday evening, Dec. 14, in the Reformed Church in preparation for the Christmas program to be given Sunday evening, Dec. 20th.

Recently David Kephart enlisted as a Naval Aviation Cadet. At present he is enrolled at the University of Maryland, and will remain there until called for training.

Mrs. Wilbur F. Miller returned home last Thursday from a visit of two months with her husband, at Fort Benning, Georgia. Pvt. Miller has been transferred to a camp in Tenn.

Mrs. F. B. Twisden, of Gettysburg, spent several days visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Hockensmith, this week, and Mrs. Paul Little, of Gettysburg, spent Tuesday at the same place.

George Newcomer, Mill Ave., returned home on Wednesday, Dec. 2, from the Mercy Hospital, Baltimore, where he had undergone an operation on his leg, that became bruised while working.

Mr. Charles Hockensmith, of near town, was taken to the Frederick City Hospital, on Friday afternoon. Mr. Hockensmith was operated on for hernia, and is now getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meshejian visited at Mrs. Meshejian's home, J. Raymond Zent, Keyman, on Sunday evening enroute to Hagerstown, where Mr. Meshejian represents the Glenn L. Martin Co., of Baltimore at the Fairchild Aircraft Corp. Mrs. Pearl (Alexander) Zent who has been a visitor at the Meshejian home since Thanksgiving Day, accompanied them as far as her parents' home, at Charmain, Pa.

The C. E. Society of Grace Reformed Church is again collecting toys for the Children's Aid. All those who wish to contribute to this worthy cause of making some child happy this Christmas, bring your toys to the church this Sunday or next and place them on the table at the door of the Sunday School room. If you can't bring them to the church, leave them at Reid's Store.

The Carroll Record hopes to have an advance article on the Christmas programs of the churches of town, and the nearby community, next week, as the paper of Christmas week will be too late to make the advance notice valuable. All the churches are requested to send in their complete programs early in the week so that they may be in our office on Wednesday if possible, or in any event not later than Thursday morning.

A sumptuous turkey dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krise, near town, in honor of their son, Corporal Charles M. Krise, who is spending a few days with his parents. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krise, Corporal M. Krise, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wherley and daughter, Lonia Lee, of Hanover; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frock, Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. Lescalette, Hanover; Mr. Martin and Wilbur Devilbiss, of Middleburg; Luther Krise, of town. All enjoyed themselves very much wishing Corporal Charles many more furloughs.

The December meeting of the Home makers' Club was a Christmas party at the home of its president, Mrs. Walter Bower, Friday evening, the 4th. To perhaps all who went to the party Christmas seemed far in the future, but on reaching the home soon felt the spirit of the season. The front door-way and the rooms were very attractively decorated for the holiday. Carols were sung and the members responded to roll-call with a Christmas poem. Miss Adeline Hoffman read a poem "How the Blessed Guest Came" by Edward Markham and Mrs. James Lord read a Christmas story by Elsie Singmaster. Inexpensive gifts were exchanged. Refreshments were served buffet style.

SERVICE MEN LETTERS

Containing Thanks for The Record and Kits.

To whom it may concern:

I am taking this means of expressing my thanks to all the kind people who had part in giving me my kit. It is very useful. I am sure that all the other boys feel the same appreciation that I do for all that the good folks are sending to us from home.

Army life is all very new to me, but I enjoy learning the new things and I am getting to see the country of which I am very proud, and I am sure you all feel the same. Thanking you again. I remain

To whom it may concern:

I want to express my appreciation for the very nice kit that was given to me. It comes in very handy when I am out on field trips. Again I want to thank every one who had part in this event.

The Carroll Record Co.
Gentlemen:

I have taken advantage of my first opportunity to correspond with you. I have been placed in the 42nd A. R. Division which is stationed at Camp Polk, La.

Here at Camp Polk the fall season has just begun. The terrain is composed of sand entirely, a few pine trees here and there are to be seen and the weather has been very humid.

I have surely missed the weekly edition of the Record. Due to the sudden and extreme changes it makes a soldier adapt himself to many things. Hoping to correspond with you, I remain sincerely yours,

PVT. ROBERT E. BANKARD
Camp Polk, La.

The Carroll Record Co.
Dear Sirs:

I have received the Carroll Record, and I want you to know it is greatly appreciated.

We all like to receive news from home and your paper certainly gives us a feeling that we haven't been forgotten. Again many thanks. Very truly,

VERNON STIELY
Naval Training Station
Great Lakes, Ill.

To the Editor:

I received your paper today. I want to say that I appreciate it very much. It keeps me posted on what is going on in good old Taneytown.

I'm sorry to hear about Mrs. Roy Garner and the others being in a wreck. I'm also sorry to learn about the death of Mr. Grant Yingling.

About the army life—I find it very exciting and interesting. We learn something new every day. We had a practice parade today. The first time our company ever took part in a parade. Our Company Commander said we looked very nice. I think our Company is going to shine above all the other companies in the regiment.

It made me feel good to know that I could have a small part in making it that way. Tomorrow we are going to parade for Joan Blondell, so I hope we look good then. Again many thanks for the Record. Sincerely,

TANEYTOWN KIWANIS CLUB

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening at six o'clock at Saubie's Inn. Twenty-two members were present. In the absence of the president, Fast President, Elwood Baumgardner presided. The music period was in charge of Raymond Wright, with Mrs. Wallace Yingling as accompanist.

The program was in charge of the Citizenship Committee, Lewis Crumpacker, Chairman. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Gaither Warfield, of Frederick, who with her family has lately returned from Poland where she and her husband served for a number of years as missionaries of the Methodist Church. Mrs. Warfield's address was a thrilling account of the experiences of herself and her family during and after the invasion of Poland by the Germans. Arrested three times, once by the Poles on suspicion of being Germans, then by the Russians, and finally by the Germans, the family spent several months as prisoners in internment camps, subjected to all the sufferings and tortures which ruthless Nazi anger and hate could heap upon them. They were finally exchanged and returned to America in July of this year.

The meeting next week will be in charge of the Under-privileged Children's Committee, and will be the annual Christmas party of the Club.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETIES HOLD

Christmas Parties in Trinity Lutheran Church.

Trinity Lutheran Mission Circle met Wednesday evening in the S. S. room of the church. The room presented a Christmas effect with candles and a fireplace. Tables were arranged to form a square, and in the center was a tree with the gifts underneath, besides favors and candles. The members sat around the tables. First, refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, cakes, ice cream and coffee were served. A Christmas program followed. Of special interest was a trio sung (without an instrument) by Mrs. Edward Welker, Miss Edith Hess and Miss Ruth Hess. Gifts were next in order and then new names were drawn for the coming year.

The Women's Missionary Society of Trinity Lutheran Church, held its annual Christmas party on Thursday evening, December 10.

The program was devoted exclusively to the real meaning of Christmas, featuring a tableau of the Nativity.

Upon entering, the room was darkened, save for the illuminating Nativity scene; soft music and solo voice singing, "O Come All Ye Faithful," greeted the group of members and friends numbering close to 100. After all were seated children's voices from the corridors sang "Silent Night, Holy Night." Mrs. Ross Fair read the Christmas lesson found in Luke, after which young voices echoed again from the halls of the church, singing "Away in a Manger." Mrs. Raymond Saubie read a long prayer; Miss Edith Hess sang a solo, "No Room in the Inn." The president, Mrs. F. T. Elliott gave a brief address, speaking of humble and lowly birth of the King. Of the beautiful life as the perfect example down through the ages. Of His death on the Cross, while still a young man, that we might live. Silent prayers were offered for our precious young men who now stand ready to die that we may continue to live in a world better than before. "Silent Night, Holy Night" was again played by Mrs. Norman Baumgardner closing the devotions. A short business meeting and roll-call followed, after which refreshments were served at long tables, decorated with pine and red candles.

Capsule sisters exchanged gifts and new sisters were drawn for the coming year.

Mrs. Geo. Baumgardner was general chairman. Mrs. Norman Saubie presided over the tables. New members were accepted into the Society.

PASTOR FOR SILVER RUN

Rev. F. R. Seibel, of Walkersville, who has been pastor of the Utica Lutheran charge for over 13 years, has resigned to accept a call from St. Mary's Lutheran Church, Silver Run. He will succeed Rev. W. E. Saltzger who resigned some time ago.

Rev. Mr. Seibel has made a splendid record in the Utica parish consisting of four congregations located in the heart of the Monocacy Valley, namely: Bethel, near Charlesville; St. John's, Creagerstown; St. Paul's Utica, near Lewistown, and St. Paul's Walkersville. In terminating a pastorate of more than thirteen and one-half years, the Rev. Mr. Seibel brought to a close the longest pastorate in the history of the congregations of the parish, and the longest in the fourth—Creagerstown—for a century and nearly a half. He has been active in Synod, Conference and community affairs.

Mrs. Seibel is a teacher in the Libertytown High School. The Seibels have two sons. They will move to Silver Run about January 1.

ENGINEER SENTENCED

Raymond K. McClelland, engineer of a Baltimore and Ohio train that crashed into another on September 24, at Dickinson, Md., was convicted of manslaughter in court at Rockville last week, and sentenced to 2½ years in the Maryland House of Correction at Jessup. Testimony showed that the engineer had habitually passed a yellow signal, expecting the block to be cleared. This time he passed a red signal, and the crash resulted in the loss of a large number of lives and the destruction of a great amount of property.

HEALTH FOR VICTORY CLUB

The community is planning to organize a "Health for Victory Club," founded by the Westinghouse & Manufacturing Company, at Mansfield, Ohio. The purpose is to encourage more healthful Nutrition habits among workers in Defense Plants, as well as those at home.

The Club membership is free. The members can include anyone who is interested in better Nutrition.

The first class will be conducted by Miss Meehan, Home Demonstrator for the Potomac Edison Co., at the Company's Home Demonstration Room, the last Thursday of January. Each month menus will be planned for Health Building. May the community boost this worthy project, our share for Victory.

Kindly enroll with Miss Anna Galt, Miss Amelia Annan or Mrs. Arthur Garvin.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING

The War Production Board is not asking that indoor Christmas lighting whether in the home or in stores, be eliminated but it believes that outdoor lighting, such as festooned store fronts and decorated streets, must be dispensed with during war times.

JOHN J. REID WRITES

Concerning Conditions Existing in Detroit.

Winter has been knocking at our door for some time now, and I do not know if you folks back home have felt his icy breath or not, but I do know that we have out here, as we have been having some weather that puts us in mind of the year we landed in this neck of the woods, snow and ice for days at a time, and the rapidly vanishing coal pile, the sky always filled with clouds, all remind us that we are in for another season of discomfort, and in our personal case, confinement to the house, when we would rather be out in the open air.

I cannot think of much news that would interest your readers. Still, we feel that we are under many obligations to our friends who are so gallantly working to keep the Record in existence, in spite of the fact that they have been struck pretty hard the past year, by death, the draft and other circumstances, all beyond their control. So, we are going to try to help out again, by sending something that will at least do for a "filler," even if it does not amount to much from a news point of view.

About the most important thing that people out here are worrying about is this Rationing business. Anywhere you go, about all you hear is talk relating to rationing in some form or other. If you go into a grocery store, and ask for an article, you are likely to be told "It is rationed" or else "We can't get it any more." I suppose you have the same thing happening in there. But it is a new thing out here, except in the case of sugar, and people have not got over growing about that, when this new and much wider thing hits them.

And in a great many cases they are right about it, as I for my part, can not see how people can get to work on four gallons of gas a week. I am sure that the reduction to three gallons you folks have to face will make a lot of difference in lots of cases, and so you can see just how it strikes men and women who have to drive 40 or more miles to their work.

As the government wants all the production they can get, I do not see why they do not do something to help out in this line. The street cars and city busses are jammed to the doors, and the officials say they have every available piece of rolling stock out in service, and the real test will not come until the car tanks, which in almost every case were filled to the last drop on Monday evening. One case we read about was amusing, as the car-owner drove up to the filling station, and said, as they formerly did, "Fill 'er up," which the attendant did, and then said "two cents, please." You can figure out for yourself how much gas was put in his tank. A great majority are going to apply for an extra allowance—whether they will get it remains to be seen.

The housing situation remains just as bad as ever and I begin to think that it is almost as bad as in Washington, except that here those wanting quarters are war workers, while there the great majority are office holders and clerks, who are much more needed elsewhere, but are part of the useless crowd that the Administration has brought together to help waste the almost unbelievable sum of the people's money that daily is thrown away.

To illustrate the situation out here, I want to tell you about an experience we had recently. We had a room for rent, and inside of an hour had four applicants for it. People were brought here by the city for workers, are going back home, about as fast as they came. And thousands are living in trailers with no sanitation of any kind, and in many cases have to walk half a mile for water. What the situation will be when winter sets in right, you can imagine.

Thanksgiving has passed on, and now the stores are filled with Christmas shoppers. Money seems to be plenty, and I guess that those who have it think they might as well make use of it, as no one knows how much it will be worth in the future.

I'll stop now, as I have not figured how much a page of this typewritten stuff will make after your linotype artist gets through with it, and I do not want to take too much of your valuable space.

JOHN J. REID.

VETERAN MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

Dr. William N. Blair for 40 years missionary to Korea, will speak at the Presbyterian Church in Taneytown, Sunday evening, at 7:30. Piney Creek and Emmitsburg Presbyterian churches plan to unite in this service also.

Dr. Blair went to Korea in 1901 and took charge of the work in P'yongyang. Under his leadership 57 churches have been established in that province with a total membership of 10,000 Christians.

He was in Korea during the Japanese-Russian War and also during the present war between Japan and China. Being unable to return to Korea on account of the present war, he is itinerating the Presbyteries, being located in Baltimore at the present time.

Dr. Blair has come into intimate contact with Japan political and religious persecution in Korea and will speak on the situation prevailing there in relation to the war in the Pacific.—By Charles S. Owen, pastor.

SIX JUDGES SWORN

In a public ceremony, the like of which seldom has taken place in the annals of Maryland's Judiciary, Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor, administered the oath of office to six members of the Court of Appeals, elected in November, in the State House here.

Only the illness of Chief Judge Carroll T. Bond, of Baltimore, who was unable to qualify, prevented the establishment of a unique record in this respect.

Records of the Courts of Appeals show that, once before, during Gov. Ritchie's Administration, in 1926, six judges of the Appeals Court were sworn in at one time.

Those to whom the Governor administered the oath today were: Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan, of the Fourth Judicial Circuit; Chief Judge Stephen R. Collins, of the Second Judicial Circuit; Chief Judge S. Delaplaine, of the Sixth Judicial Circuit; Chief Judge Ogle Marbury, of the 7th Judicial Circuit; Chief Judge C. Gus Grason, of the Third Judicial Circuit, and Chief Judge Ridely J. Melvin, of the Fifth Judicial Circuit.

APPOINTED CHIEF JUDGE

Announcement was made Tuesday by Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor that he had appointed as Chief Judge of the Orphans' Court the Honorable E. Lee Erb.

The commission has been forwarded, the Governor made known, along with all the other County Commissions issued by him.

The other judges of the Orphans' Court are Lewis E. Green and Chas. B. Kephart. They will be sworn in next Monday.

The only freedom worth possessing is that which gives enlargement to a people's energy, intellect, and virtue.—William Ellery Channing.

LADIES AID

CHRISTMAS PARTY.

Held in the Grace Reformed Church.

The year-end meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace Reformed Church was held on Thursday evening, December 3, in the form of a "Christmas Party."

The room was beautifully illuminated with four large candelabra and other candles about the room, together with a well lighted Christmas tree.

The meeting was opened with a few remarks of welcome by the President, Mrs. Clyde Hesson after which the following program arranged by the committee, Mrs. Marion Rue, Mrs. Edgar Fink and Mrs. Carol Frock was presented. A very impressive and beautiful candle light service was given under the direction of Mrs. Marion Rue with Mrs. Rein Motter accompanist.

After the candle light procession Rev. Bready read the Christmas Biblical Story which was interspersed by the Carol Group with Christmas music and familiar carols. Those comprising the carol group were Mrs. Rue, Miss Margaret Hitchcock, Mrs. Leonard Reifsnider, Mrs. Edgar Fink and Mrs. Carol Frock. Junior Group, Caroline Shriner, Janet Sies, Doris Koons, Betty Ohler, Arlene Weishaar and LaRena Bankard. The solo numbers were "Cradle Song," Miss Margaret Hitchcock; "Christmas Cradle Hymn," Caroline Shriner and "Jesu Bambino," Mrs. Marion Rue; Duet, "Snowdrops," Mary Lou Essig, Betty Lou Royer; Vocal solo, "Santa Claus will come to-night if you are good," Master David Reifsnider; Reading, "The First Christmas Roses," Mrs. Elwood Frock; A Christmas Story, "The Fourth Wise Man," by Henry Van Dyke was told by Mrs. Thurlow Null. In this story in her usual interesting and most capable manner brought to us many lessons of service and unselfishness; Vocal solo, "In old Judea," Mrs. Leonard Reifsnider. The meeting was closed with prayer by Rev. Thurlow Null.

A social period followed, at which time gifts were exchanged among members around the Christmas tree under the direction of Misses Ruth Stambaugh and Mary Fringer. The refreshments of ice cream, cookies, and coffee were served by the committee, Mrs. Paul Hilbert, Mrs. Amos Hilbert, Mrs. Samuel Ott, Mrs. Clutz, Mrs. Sulzer and Mrs. Simpson.

TEACHERS NEEDED

At the suggestion of the County Superintendents Committee on Teacher Supply, the State Department of Education is planning to expand its registry of persons available for teaching in Maryland. The superintendents may then use the State Department list in attempting to fill positions as they become vacant.

Since it is thought that elementary and high school principals are likely to be able to learn with comparative ease whether competent persons in their communities might be willing to teach, at least during the present emergency, each principal is being asked to assist in compiling the register.

Said State Superintendent Thomas S. Pullen, Jr.: "We shall almost certainly have to use applicants who have had little or no professional training. It is hoped that it will not be necessary to employ teachers who have had less than two years of college or normal training, but the names of other applicants who may not have had this amount of work may be submitted on the chance that later there may be need of their services. In such cases, you will doubtless take into consideration the personality of the individual, hoping that this may partly compensate for lack of training. Perhaps some of them will be willing to take short training courses at this time or during the summer."

The Pilgrims came to establish a nation in true freedom, in the rights of conscience.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Random Thoughts

(This is a reprint of an article formerly published. Owing to the popularity of these Random Thoughts we will for a time reproduce others of the same type.)

GLAD TO SEE YOU!

These four short words of welcome—when meant—are about as expressive as words can be, and as a greeting extend both satisfaction and pleasure that should at once make the object of them feel at ease. Emphasis on the "glad" helps, a bit in indicating sincerity, and pleasure, but even as a formality having either an individual or general application, they are difficult to improve on.

Unfortunately, they are frequently only a pretense, and mean only tolerance, instead of genuine pleasure—an expression that means no more than a polite formality, a mere social or diplomatic expression not to be taken too literally, nor too seriously.

As a people, we indulge in a wide variety of pretense—plain hypocrisy, perhaps—called diplomacy in some cases and common politeness in others, all of which calls for a large amount of the "worldly wise" as we meet with varying experiences.

On the whole, we believe "glad to see you" contains more of truth than make-believe, and that it at least means passive friendliness if nothing more—and that, is worth having. P. B. E.

WPA IS ENDED

By order of the President, issued last Friday, the WPA is to be entirely liquidated. The entire business is to be wound up before June 30, 1943.

Now we are in a position to see what it has cost us and to form some estimate of what we have gotten out of it. There were many people who counted it a boon to the country, though a little common sense calculation would have shown any time that it was a costly process, with little advantage except political. Some people saw this very clearly, and as a result we have a new word for the dictionaries, "boondoggling."

During its career WPA spent more than ten billion dollars, all borrowed, for the public debt has increased far beyond that. Now let each one of us figure how much the payment of interest and amortization of that amount will add to the income tax. Then, if you figure correctly, you will be excused if you do a little whistling.

How much better it would have been if the thing had never been born—if communities which wanted local improvements had managed and financed them without getting bureaucrats in Washington to do it—if work had been done so that a man would have done an honest day's work for a reasonable day's wages—if men in the emergency had been taught to depend more upon individual initiative instead of a paternalistic government.

Well, it is of little use to cry over spilled milk, but we will have a bitter harvest to reap from a lot of our recent sowing.

L. B. H.

BACK TO NORMALLY

It is heartening to see the Congress again functioning as the founding fathers intended—as one of the co-responsible branches of the government. The people (all of us) owe a debt of gratitude to those stanch democrats—Senators Tydings of Maryland, and Byrd of Virginia for placing country before party. But for these two and a few more timid followers, the New Deal gang would have seized full power and turned us into a totalitarian state. Very little thanks is due the minority party during these trying days. The new Congress that assembles in January is going to curb the wild asses that have been running amuck so long. Wild eyed schemes, like the $25,000 maximum salary are going to be dealt with by statesmen instead of selfish politicians. If the Republican party leaders are as wise as they should be they will win a majority of Congressmen and the Presidency itself in 1944 and that we think will be a good thing. Regardless of party we are convinced that better government is to be had by patriotic change of party control in government.

We had quite a spell of old guard rule under Uncle Joe Cannon, and another spell under Wilson to be followed by the Hoover, two chickens in a pot, then by this so-called New Deal which has run now for ten long years. Time for a change. The American people, if they desire to retain our democratic form of government, will not tolerate a fourth term, and may live to regret a third term.

This total war in which we are engaged must not be permitted to be the excuse for changing of our form of government.

Our Congressmen must realize that they too have functions and responsibilities, and if they do not so realize, we must replace them by men who will realize and do their duty. No time now for partisan politics. Americans interests and destiny are at stake.

W. J. H.

THE MILK PROBLEM

For quite a number of years men controlling the distribution of milk in the towns and cities of the country have been paving the way for a situation which has now become marked—shortage of supply.

Unnecessary and unreasonable regulations were made with regard to cow stables or barns, with regard to equipment and the like and these were frequently changed, so that when a farmer had satisfied one inspector, another official was liable to come along and want things torn out and fixed in another way, all of which was sure to force up the cost of production, while, strange to say, the cows did not change their method of producing milk.

Now that is the situation? Even with higher prices for milk the supply is running short, and some of the distributors who were much given to enforcing foolish regulations, are now begging for milk and asking few questions so long as the milk seems to be right.

Mr. B. B. Derrick, manager of the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association recently gave some pertinent data on the situation. Among other things he said that labor and feed together comprised between two-thirds and three-fourths of the total cost of producing milk in this section. Continuing he said:

"Since January, 1941, farm wage rates in this milkshed have increased 48 percent for monthly help and 88 percent for day help," he stated, "during the same period the prices of important dairy feeds have increased around 40 percent. It is conservative to say that since January, 1941, the local dairy farmers' costs of labor and feed have increased an average of at least 50 percent. Yet the price of fluid milk to producers has only increased 12 percent. The detail price of milk delivered to homes has increased 7 percent and in stores the price has gone up 4.5 percent."

"Officials in the Federal Government have a decision to make. They must decide whether to increase prices to dairy farmers to enable them to maintain their production, or let production keep on shrinking and thus create a dangerous shortage of dairy products for ourselves and our Allies. The dairy farmer and his representatives can no longer accept the responsibility of feeding this and other nations unless the price is high enough to pay the labor and buy the feed necessary for production."

We come back to the same old answer to the problems. In any field, unless you give the producer a chance to meet his costs and make a living, the supply will stop. Let us be fair all around, and always let us be reasonable and economical. Only then will the best results be accomplished.

THE FINAL VICTORY

"There can be no real freedom without free enterprise," said the Monmouth American, Long Branch, New Jersey, in a recent editorial. The American people must keep that thought ever in mind during the war if we are to have freedom after the war.

The people, the American observed, "realize that war necessities justify priorities and rationing and other government restrictions needed to promote the war effort. They are not picking at that. But they are disgusted at the great bloated bureaucracy that has come into being to waste their money and order them around. They have noted the confusion and blundering at the national capital and the interference with the war effort due to this bureaucracy and red tape. They don't want to be sovietized or socialized or bossed around after the war by a lot of politicians."

The greatest achievements in this war are being made by free enterprise. Free enterprise builds the ships, planes and guns. Free enterprise provides the vast bulk of the electric power war industry needs. Free enterprise produces the coal and the oil and the copper and the other essential materials. Free enterprise hauls the freight. Free enterprise is swiftly turning this country into the greatest war machine the world has ever known.

As Herbert Hoover has said, a certain amount of fascism at home is necessary to wage total war on our fascist enemies. But the vast economic controls that government has imposed, and the people have accepted as a war necessity, must end when the war ends. They must be regarded as purely temporary—as an unpleasant but unavoidable medicine we must take in a period of world sickness. If we begin to accept those controls as the nation's normal way of being, freedom—every kind of freedom—will be finished.

In this, as in all issues, the answer must finally be made by the people. If they remember that the government belongs to them, instead of them belonging to their government, the American dream will endure. All those great freedoms for which this war is being fought, will be preserved. And then, and only then, will the final victory be won.—Industrial News Review.

KNOTTY PROBLEMS IN NORTH AFRICA

One of the perplexing problems of the North African situation is, strangely enough, apart from the military. It has to do with the political setup. Admiral Darlan issued the order to cease firing and it was obeyed by the French soldiers. President Roosevelt backed up Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in making the arrangement which he did with Admiral Darlan. Whence did Admiral Darlan derive his authority? Clearly from the aged Marshal Petain, who had just turned over the Vichy Government to Pierre Laval, Hitler's stooge.

In normal times and prior to the fall of France, that country was governed by the Constitution and laws of the Third Republic. Darlan was admittedly a Fascist. Whether he has changed, or not, is not definitely known. President Roosevelt announced at his press conference that the arrangement with Darlan was merely a military one and temporary.

The question of whether the general on the spot, or our State Department, or the President will set up, or permit to be set up, a temporary provisional government in those countries which we capture or recapture, or whether the plan will be followed of immediately calling into being a government based on that country's constitution and laws before Hitler abolished them, is indeed a delicate one.

A precedent is being set by our own Government which may similarly serve as a guidepost to England and Russia in similar cases. The soldiers of France stationed in North Africa had taken an oath to be loyal to the constituted authorities of France. That oath they regarded as binding in dark days as well as bright. To them, Admiral Darlan represented the Government of France and had the legal authority to issue the order to cease firing on the troops of the United States and to collaborate and cooperate with them.

What is perhaps not generally recognized is that Algeria is not a part of the French Empire. On the contrary, it is a department of France, as much a department of France as New York, or Pennsylvania, or Kentucky, is a part of the United States. Until the fall of France, Algeria was governed by the French Constitution. It had deputies and senators elected by the voters of that department. In liberating it, we have liberated a very real part of France itself, and what we do there will have considerable weight on the rest of France.—S. W. in Scottish Rite News Bulletin.

Here's New Reason Not To Pilfer Church Box

NEW YORK.—The punch of a six-foot priest must be reckoned with by those who seek to pilfer the poor box of the Sacred Heart church.

The Rev. Father U. T. Gilmartin proved this when he sprinted from his quiet rectory, cassock whipping in the wind, caught the suspected thief, threw a left to his jaw and downed him.

Then he hoisted him to his feet and marched him to the police station, where the man was booked on burglary charges.

CAN'T BE DONE

Counsel (cross-examining a farmer)—Now, don't quibble! Do you understand a simple problem or not?

Witness—I do.

Counsel—Then tell the court this: If 15 men plowed a field in five hours, how long would it take 30 men to plow the same field?

Witness—They couldn't do it.

Counsel—Why not?

Witness—Because the 15 men have already plowed it.

Holy Smoke! We gotta get some cash somewhere. So we kin put 10% into War Bonds. Everybody's got ter do that by New Year's.

Roving Reporter Checks Oldest Christmas Gifts

In Chicago, a roving reporter for a daily newspaper was given the assignment to go out and ask various persons what were the oldest presents they had saved from past Christmas holidays.

What he learned from a young musician was that when he was 12 years old his parents gave him a red, white and blue decorated snare drum. That very drum started him on his professional music career. The musician said it was more than "just a gift" for it had influenced his whole life.

Then the roving reporter asked a housewife what gift she had saved from her early days. She replied that it was a doll given by her mother. Since her mother is dead, she keeps it in her memory for it has great sentimental value.

Another woman, a "collection correspondent," told the reporter that when she was eight years old an aunt gave her a doll. She, too, as a fitting remembrance of her aunt, has kept the doll even though little of the original remains, having had to replace its head and clothes. It still retains its charm, she said.

Another young man, a cutter by trade, was stopped and asked what he had saved. He said that the Christmas following the death of his mother, his father gave him her ring. He had it made over to fit his finger and has worn it ever since. He has hopes of passing it on to a child of his own.

Gay Christmas Plants Will Appeal to Mother

Here is a suggestion for the young men and ladies, around 10 or 15, who have been saving their money for mother's Christmas present, yet don't know what to get for her: Get her a Christmas plant!

She'll enjoy it as much as any of the many others. Of all the Christmas plants, the one which truly reflects the season of the year (almost as much as the Christmas tree) is the poinsettia. This red-leaved plant has a soft, yet forceful, beauty to it that has, as yet, failed to attract the eye of those who are susceptible to any form of color.

Other red flowers are popular, too, but not as easily obtainable as the poinsettia. There is the Jerusalem cherry, the red cyclamen.

If you do purchase mother a poinsettia set it in an attractive colored pot (wrap it in colored Christmas paper) and tie a little red ribbon with a bow on it. That will put the "finishing touch" to a Christmas gift that is different.

Here Is a Festive Hard Sauce to Go With Yule Pudding

Even the tasty hard sauce now comes to the table in a gala dress. For instance here are these holiday hard sauce pinwheels to serve with your favorite steamed pudding.

Hard Sauce Pinwheels

1/4 cup butter.
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 tablespoon cream
2 teaspoons orange juice
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
Orange food coloring

Cream butter until soft and gradually beat in sugar. Divide mixture in half and add cream and grated lemon rind to one portion and the orange juice and rind to the other portion. Add food coloring to orange flavored portion to tint a delicate orange. Spread lemon flavored portion on a cold damp cloth and spread orange mixture over it. Roll as for jelly roll and place in refrigerator. When hard, cut in slices and serve with steamed puddings or mince pie.

Not Santa, but 'Nisson' Visits Danish Children

The Danish children do not have a Santa Claus, but instead a Christmas brownie, called "Nisson," a little old man with a long, gray beard who supposedly lives under the ground.

The chief features of a Danish Christmas dinner are roast goose, rice and apple fritters.

When the storks have left their nests in autumn, boatloads of coarse brown crockery in the shape of little pigs, with a slit in the back, are brought to Denmark and bought by the children. They are savings banks into which the children drop their pennies. The image is not broken until Christmas time.

The SPIRIT of SANTA CLAUS

THERE will be many shadows clouding our Christmas Day this year; but—Christmas is important! It comes at the close of the old year binding up the wounds of bitterness, making fast the moorings of friendship, renewing the promise of peace and good will, invoking the magic of memories.

Christmas is the children's feast: has the Master not said that what we do unto the least of His little ones we do unto Him? It is twenty centuries since there was no room for Him in the inn and many children have neither a bed nor place of safety these nights. For these, we give our efforts, our bundles, and our prayers.

In America, the children must not lose their faith in Santa Claus. The best explanation regarding Santa Claus and the Christmas Spirit I have ever been offered or able to figure out for myself, is the one that was given to me by my mother on that fateful day when I accidentally caught a delivery boy entering the house bearing an ill-concealed rocking horse.

Santa Claus typifies the Christmas Spirit: the mothers and fathers, those bearded gentlemen in the stores (who puzzle lots of boys and girls by being so numerous), the delivery boys, and all of us who support and participate in the campaign of spreading cheer, we are the life blood and sustaining power of the Christmas Spirit.

The children of today must have their toys this Christmas; and we must be extra-careful that no child has occasion to lose his faith in Santa Claus. There are plenty of sleds and drums, dolls and painted carts and Christmas trees to go around; but it is up to Santa's helpers to see that every child in the land is remembered.

And we grown-ups must have our Christmas, too. For when we outgrow our toys we set this day aside to reunite our families and strengthen the bonds of friendship.

"Yet in thy dark streets shineth
The everlasting Light;
The hopes and fears of all the years
Are met in thee tonight."

Air Cadets Spell Out Old Greeting

An old greeting is spelled out here by United States aviation cadets in the Southeast Air Corps Training center at Maxwell Field, Ala. No Christmas tree trinket is the airplane ornamenting this cheery Noel greeting. Rather, it's an advanced training ship and the seeming icy background against which the men stand is the concrete warm-up mat.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—H. J. Meeks thought a log had got tangled up with his troutline in the little Kanawha river.

He and George Crowder nearly fell out of their boat when the mudcat's head surfaced. That head was 10 inches in width—6½ inches between the eyes. It was 51 pounds in weight.

DEVORE PAINT
When cooking fumes turn kitchen walls yellow...
Don't worry. That happens in nearly every kitchen. And, if you've used a good paint, it's probably not the paint that's turned yellow but it's the accumulation of cooking greases.
What to do? Well, if it happens to be a cheap paint that can't be washed satisfactorily—then all you can do is to repaint the kitchen.
If that's necessary, this time use a good WASHABLE wall paint like Devore Velour Gloss or Semi-Gloss. Grease, fingerprints, pencil marks, etc., are removed easily, quickly with mild soap and water. And washing will save repainting.

LITTLESTOWN.

St. Paul Lutheran Church of which the Rev. D. S. Kammerer is pastor, celebrated the 75th anniversary of its founding Sunday morning, afternoon and evening. All the services were largely attended. The anniversary sermon at the morning services was delivered by Rev. Dr. A. R. Wentz, President of the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg. He paid a glowing tribute to the three sons of the congregation. Mrs. Winfield Lippy, church organist played for all the services. The Senior choir sang "Old Hundredth." The first minutes of the church was read by John Riley. The afternoon service was a community service in which the pastors and congregations of the town participated. The Rev. Dr. Earl S. Rudisil, Philadelphia, a son of the congregation who was to have delivered the address, was unable to come. The three sons of the congregation, prominent in the church was Dr. Rudisil, Dr. J. Gould Wickley and Rev. Dr. Elmer W. Harner. None of the three sons were able to be present but Mrs. John J. Hill, Gettysburg, widow of the late pastor who served the congregation from 1906-1916 was present. Mrs. Hill gave an interesting talk about the time her late husband served St. Paul. The pastors of all the churches were present by the Rev. Mr. Kammerer, in the order of the ages of their respective churches. They are the Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor of Christ Reformed church is—196 years old; Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church, 179 years old. The mother of St. Paul, the Rev. Elwood L. Bair, pastor of the Methodist Church, which is 115 years old and the Rev. Theodore W. Boltz, pastor of the Redeemer Reformed Church which is 83 years old, each of the ministers, spoke briefly. The male chorus sang, "Faith of our Fathers" and "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind." The climax of the celebration was reached on Sunday evening when the large auditorium was filled to capacity to greet the only living former pastor of St. Paul the Rev. H. Clay Bergstresser, now pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Hazleton. Anthem by the choir sang "Praise Ye the Lord." The Rev. Mr. Bergstresser delivered the sermon, he used as his text the 16th. Chapter of St. Matthew and the 18 verse. The Rev. Bergstresser voiced his pleasure at the privilege of returning to St. Paul to assist in the celebration just eighteen years and one week after he had preached his farewell sermon here in 1924. Mrs. Luther D. Snyder, Miss Ethel Kindig and Clark W. Strevig sang a selection. Mrs. Lippy played America. The audience stood in silent prayer as a tribute to the boys of the congregation numbering thirty who are serving in the armed forces of their country.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. John Lutheran Church held its annual Christmas party for the members and their families on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Annie Harner, spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. William Little, Taneytown.

Winter cold blasts and snow squalls arrived a few days ahead of winter time. I think the snow squalls of last Wednesday were about the worst storm we had and the temperature made a big drop.

Miss Mabel Gettier, has received word that her sister, Mrs. Ethel Raymond Baker fell and broke her ankle at two places. She is a patient in the White Plains Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Copland, Detroit, Mich., are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ely, near town.

John Hofe, North Queen St., returned home Wednesday with a six point buck that he shot in Clinton Co. David Bloom has resigned his position as manager of the Littlestown Bowling Alleys. He has accepted a position at the Lebanon Recreation Center where he will be manager of the bowling alleys. He left this week; he will be succeeded here by Curtis Bucher.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Baile and family, moved to Baltimore, Sunday.

FEESBURG.

The past week we've had clear weather, rain, wind, very cold, then the first snow storm, and if that isn't enough there were some more variations. The snow squalls of Wednesday afternoon were the most furious and fastest we ever saw—and soon whitened the ground, the wind grew wilder until at night the house quivered in the blasts, and we lay wondering how it must be in an earthquake—and became wider awake every minute; then in a few days calmer, and on Saturday night a light snow fell, and oh! but it looked lovely on Sunday morning as we went to church. It is a wonderful world!

For the Communion Service which followed S. S. at Mt. Union on Sunday morning, Rev. Bowersox spoke from Prov. 28:1 on the theme, "A good Conscience." The choir sang "I heard the Voice," and the organist rendered fine music. Mrs. C. Wolfe placed a jar of white, lemon colored and dark pink chrysanthemums at the front of the church—from her own garden and safe keeping. It was good to be there, but many were missing.

The church Bulletin tells of "Our Boys in Service" at Worship and their address. One who was home on leave early in November, found on his return 20 Christmas cards already sent to him. The Baptisms of Mary Kathryn Shaffer on Nov. 14, and Sandra Louise Cutsail, Nov. 18 are recorded; one pre-induction communion to Kenneth Marker at the parsonage Nov. 18; and the marriage in St. Paul's Church of Delmar Warehime and Isabelle Harman on Thanksgiving Day evening.

DeWitt C. Haines who has been in the Friend's Home for the Aged in Baltimore for some years past has been removed to the Home for Incurables, Baltimore. We do not know that his health is any worse, but his helplessness requires an attending nurse.

Another Middleburg boy was laid to rest in the cemetery there on Friday, when the body of Earle Walden was brought from Baltimore for interment in the family lot. He and his wife were packed and ready to leave for Miami Beach, Fla., for the winter when he was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage, and was taken to the Union Memorial Hospital instead, where he passed away the next day. Funeral services were held in the First Methodist Church, Baltimore, on Friday morning. He was the only grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Wyndham Walden deceased—who grew to maturity.

Guests last week at the home of Elliot T. Ganse on the LaForge place, were Mrs. Robert E. Morrison, Garden City, L. I., and Mrs. Andrew Newman, of New York City; aunts of Mrs. Ganse. A short time before the parents of Mr. Ganse visited them.

We were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Miller, at Church on Sunday—home from Baltimore for the week-end, and looking well and handsome. How we do miss our young men from service, three of them from the choir on Sundays.

Our citizens in the west end of town had quite an exciting time early Friday morning when a truck carrying mail from Baltimore caught fire at the culbert on the road near the entrance to the La Forge home, and half the mail was destroyed. Only a 19 year old boy who was not well—was driving, and he had a long cold wait until help came from Baltimore; but hot coffee was served generously from the Grindor home where they were given free use of the telephone.

Miss Catherine Crumbacker spent the week-end in Waynesboro with relatives; traveling by bus from Taneytown, as there is no train accommodation from the east any more.

We passed another mile-stone last week and was kindly remembered with gifts, cards and flowers, and then a birthday party for a surprise which included an invitation to the kitchen, where the table was nicely arranged with favors, bouquets, a miniature Christmas tree, choice refreshments, and a fancy cake with red, green and white icing—announcing happy birthday, and containing 12 lighted candles (each one representing a number of years)—where the family stood around singing "Happy birthday to you."

Miss Edna Sauerhammer and niece Mrs. Mary Dorothy Groce from Littlestown, visited their cousins, at Grovedale, last Thursday; to whom thanks are due for the birthday surprise.

Our long time neighbor, Mrs. James Roop remains in the Home for aged of the Brethren Church at San Mar, Md., where she is well cared for, is fairly well contented.

The Maurice Grindor's butchered two hogs on Friday and Saturday, and this week J. H. Stuffle butchers two, and it makes some good meals. Years ago people began the work before day break and did it all in one day, if it took until the middle of the night.

The little red-bird came calling last Friday, so on Saturday night came the snow. There's exceptions to all rules, and sometimes our cardinal miscalculates but generally he is a harbinger of snow. He's beautiful anyway.

Perfect Husband Proves Bigamist

Death Reveals He Had Two Wives for 18 Years.

LOS ANGELES.—The strange saga of a mild-mannered architect, who lived a dual life with two wives in the same city for 18 years, was within hours of a denouement, an investigator said, when death intervened.

That statement, and a claim of wife No. 1's attorney that wife No. 2 had known for almost a year that her husband was married to another, were the day's developments in the case of Louis L. Huot, as he was known at the city engineer's office, or Louis H. Meeks, as he listed himself in directories as an architect in private practice.

Wife No. 1 is Mrs. Ethel Huot, 58, whom he married in 1911. Wife No. 2 is Mrs. Olive Blanche Meeks, 63, a school teacher, whom he wed in 1924. Between them looms a contest over his $30,000 estate.

Nick Harris, private detective representing Mrs. Huot, disclosed that a conference with his client was to have been climaxed by a visit to the home where Huot lived with Mrs. Meeks.

"We were going to have a showdown," Harris declared.

But Huot, or Meeks, 58, died in the meantime. L. H. Phillips, counsel for Mrs. Huot, declared:

"More than a year ago, Mrs. Meeks was informed that her husband had another wife. She was not in ignorance of his dual life."

But C. F. Christopher, Mrs. Meeks' attorney, retorted:

"All this was a complete surprise to me. I am sure it was a surprise to Mrs. Meeks."

Mrs. Meeks said:

"I loved him deeply. I trusted him completely. It never entered my thoughts that there was another woman in his life."

There was a striking parallel in the attitudes of the two women.

"He couldn't have been a better husband," Mrs. Meeks added.

"He was kind, unassuming, quiet, considerate and a good provider," said Mrs. Huot.

SMART GUY

"Joe is horrid."

"What's the matter now?"

"He bought my engagement ring out of town, and I can't find out how much he paid for it."

Cultured People

"I see the Hawks are gettin' a purty pretentious library."

"Yep. Fourteen mail order catalogues, 30 on farm implements and 25 railway folders and road maps is enough 't make any man's home complete."

Shame on Him

She—Yes, of course I changed my mind. Any woman has a right to change her mind.

He—If women used as much time in making up their minds as they do in making up their faces they wouldn't change them so often.

Wordy Guy

Lecturer—Allow me before I close to repeat the words of the immortal Webster.

Mr. Oldtimer—Land sakes, Lola, let's git out o' here, she's agoin' ter start in on the dictionary.

Inspecting Tires?

"Automobiles are so good now you rarely see a driver squirming under one of them as formerly."

"True; it's invariably a pedestrian you see squirming under them now."

Understand?

"To estimate the cost of living they average the price of 160 articles."

Well, I'll wager they can't find the cost of the average birthday present."

The Carroll Record Co.

Dear Mt. Stoniesifer:

Last night I was moved to new quarters. This morning I am hastening to drop you a line, before Chapel Service, to note the change of address so that I will receive the Carroll Record without delay.

I have been moved from a "training" company to a "technical" company and am enrolled in the administration and Supply School for the time being. We have very efficient instructors and, with only two weeks of advanced training, we have confidence that we will be prepared for the duties assigned to us when we are activated.

We in the service are cognizant of the hardships imposed upon you people and express our hope and belief that the situation will soon be well in hand.

Best of luck and hearty season's greetings. Sincerely,

FRANCIS T. ELLIOT, JR.,

Co. A, 10th. Q. M.

Camp Lee, Va.

Dear Editor:

With the beginning of a new month, I will endeavor to give you a brief picture of life at Scott Field, and also a brief history of the field.

The field was named after Corporal Frank W. Scott who lost his life in an Army experimental flight at College Park, Md. in 1912. During the first World War it was used as an advanced pilot training base, and was only a square mile in size. In the latter part of the thirties, seven and one-half million dollars went into a complete base lifting project for the field. New barracks were built, more runways and school buildings. Thus, was built the Army Air Forces "Radio University," parent school of all the army radio schools. It is the world's largest institution for instruction in Radio communication.

This is no snap course! It piles 770 hours of work into 18 weeks, with a complete aim to train selected men in the operation and line maintenance of aircraft radio equipment, and in the installation, operation and field maintenance of allied tactical ground radio equipment.

The 770 hours of study are divided into three groups: radio operation, fundamentals, and study of radio instruments. A little over 400 hours are devoted to radio operation. In this phase, the student learns the International Morse code as well as he knows the alphabet. He also learns radio telephone, telephone procedure and the principal of flight operation.

The radio fundamentals course includes basic mathematics as applied to radio, the nature and function of direct and alternate current, transmission, reception, circuit analysis and study of the course is devoted to the keeping and inspection of standard Army equipment.

The post is commanded by Brig. Gen. Wolcott P. Hayes, who was just recently elevated to the rank of Brig. Gen. from that of Colonel. He is no swivel chair officer, as he holds ratings as command pilot as well as combat and technical observer.

Now for a little about the way I live. I go to school on the third shift—from eleven at night until six forty-five in the morning. After breakfast, I take exercises and a hike, after which I go to bed. There is no call for me, then, until nine at night when we have our reveille. Then to breakfast, after which we have until eleven o'clock to do as we wish. I have one day a week off duty—from ten A. M. Thursday morning until 9 P. M. Friday night.

This is life at Scott Field, plenty of study, but we all like it. We are training for several different branches of the Air Forces—Radio operator on a bomber—Radio Locator, Control Tower operator and others.

As I said many times before, I do like my work, and, as radio will be far advanced after the war, my training here should give me a slight advantage over others who want to get into the radio field.

I guess I'll said about enough for one time, so I'll close by using the Air Corps slogan—"Keep 'em Flyin'." and "Nothing can stop the Army Air Corps." Respectfully,

PVT. WILLIAM SELL,

30th. Tech. Sch. Sq. (Sq.)

Barracks 712

Scott Field, Ill.

P. S.—Although Scott Field is now many, many times the size of the first field, I cannot divulge its true area now, as it is against military regulations.

The Carroll Record.

I am writing to you to notify you I am being transferred.

I have been sent here to take a course as a surgical technician. This course will teach us the requirements of a nurse in an operating room. We are taught to assist a medical surgeon and to actually do minor surgery. We expect to be in the Army Medical Center here approximately three months.

I will appreciate it if you will send the paper to the following address, I will also notify you of any further change in my address. Yours truly,

THE WEEK OF WAR REPORTS.

Departments' and Boards' Activities.

The OWI announced that the U. S. in the year of 1942 will have produced approximately 49,000 planes, 32,000 tanks and self-propelled artillery, 17,000 anti-aircraft guns larger than 20-M., 8,200,000 tons of merchant shipping, thousands of anti-aircraft machine guns, and thousands of scout cars and half-and full-track carriers. Munitions and war construction were "above the most optimistic estimate of our production possibilities a year ago," and food production—a large proportion of which was meat, milk, eggs and soy beans—was 12 per cent above the previous year.

Expenditures for the year for munitions and war construction will total $47,000,000,000. In the first 10 months of 1942, more than $13,000,000,000 were collected in taxes and more than $33,000,000,000 through the sale of bonds and other Government obligations. Approximately 17,500,000 people are now employed in war work—compared to 7,000,000 a year ago—but in 1943 an additional 5,000,000 will be needed for war work and for the armed forces. By March 15, 1942, the cost of living had risen 15 percent over the end of 1939, but price regulation, instituted in April, held down the increases in those prices subject to control to 6/10 of one percent as of October 15.

The Navy Department announced that all of the eight battleships in Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, were hit, seven of them temporarily disabled and one, the Arizona, permanently and totally lost. Those reported damaged have returned to the fleet, while others critically damaged are being repaired and will soon be ready for battle action. Of the 202 U. S. Naval aircraft based at Pearl Harbor, 150 were permanently or temporarily disabled. Army planes destroyed totaled 97. As a result of the Japanese attack, 2,343 officers and enlisted men of the U. S. services were killed, 1,272 wounded, and 960 are still reported as missing.

The Navy estimates that 105 enemy planes took part in the attack, and that the enemy lost 28 aircraft and 3 submarines of 45 tons each.

Navy Secretary Knox told a press conference that Japanese troops on Guadalcanal may be running short of supplies. The enemy's attempt to land supplies and reinforcements on the night of November 30 was a complete failure, he said. At that time a U. S. Naval task force intercepted and engaged Japanese troop transports and vessels and sank nine ships—two large destroyers or cruisers, four destroyers, two troop transports and one cargo ship—at a loss of only one U. S. cruiser. The enemy will try again, Mr. Knox said, but the November 30 attempt indicates clearly that the condition of the Japanese on the Island is becoming acute. Navy communications throughout the week reported 170 Japanese killed on the Island, three planes downed and one cargo ship hit.

The Navy reported five U. S. Naval transports were sunk by Axis submarines during the occupation of North Africa in the early part of November, and during the operation three other U. S. transports, one destroyer, and one tanker were damaged. Reports showed that 281 Axis planes and 10 tanks were destroyed and a number of prisoners were captured, with the Allies reporting 14 planes missing and five lost.

In a daylight raid on Naples on December 4, Allied heavy bombers successfully attacked docks and other targets, scoring hits on one Italian battleship and two cruisers.

The nations intelligence service has estimated Japanese casualties from the day of Pearl Harbor to November 25, 1942, at 250,000 men killed or permanently injured, with Naval losses representing about 10 percent of the Japanese Navy's total personnel. U. S. Army and Navy losses in the same period number about 50,000 men killed or missing, with Naval losses representing about one percent of total U. S. Naval personnel.

A new system of rationing known as the "point system," will be used with War Ration Book No. 2 to ration certain commodities not announced. The system will not replace straight coupon rationing of sugar, gasoline and coffee, as it will be used only for groups of related or similar commodities which can be interchangeably used. Each commodity in each group will be given a point value—a low point value if the commodity is plentiful, a high point-value if it is scarce—and the Government, to protect the supply of scarce commodities, can lower or raise the point-value of any commodity at any time.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

American flyers with the RAF are raining demolition bombs on Nazi cities today. These instruments of destruction so important in razing Nazi war plants, interrupting railroad transportation, and other war objectives, range now unto several tons.

The 500-pound demolition Bomb is one of the lighter ones. Bands are attached to facilitate handling and the fins are not attached until the Bomb reaches the airfield, because bending would injure accuracy. They cost up to $500. Your purchase of War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan will help provide Bombs for our airmen. Let's "Top that Ten Percent."

Varied Legends Recount Stories of First Christmas Tree

"Here is the living tree with no stain of blood upon it, that shall be the sign of your new worship. Let us call it the tree of the Christ Child. You shall go no more into the shadows of the forest to keep your secret rites of shame. You shall keep them at home with laughter and song and rites of love."

This is a statement attributed to St. Boniface, the English-born apostle of Germany who had saved a young child from sacrifice in the early days when Thor was worshipped by the Germanic peoples. The tree the Saint referred to was a young fir, growing nearby.

Such is just one of the many stories connected with the origin of the Christmas tree. The origin of the Christmas tree custom is obscure, notes Dr. Donald Bond, instructor in English at the University of Chicago, for he can quote authorities claiming the Christmas tree's origin in France, Scandinavia, Egypt, England and also Germany.

Only one of all the legends connects the Christ Child with the Christmas tree. This story goes back to the manger at Bethlehem where trees from all over the world had come to do honor to the new born babe. Very little attention was paid to the diminutive fir by the other more beautiful, stately, and majestic trees. Suddenly, though, star upon star fell upon the little fir until it shone with all the brilliance of heavenly light.

A Scandinavian tale of woe traces the Christmas tree to that land. Two star-crossed, unhappy lovers dramatically died. From the spot where they died, it is related, a tree grew which on Christmas night gleamed with brilliant lights.

German immigrants to the United States in 1843 are said to have introduced the decorated Christmas tree. According to claims of historians, the practice of decorating the tree at Christmas time originated in Alsace in 1605. At that time the natives brought fir trees into their homes and decorated them with homemade decorations and sweets.

Despite the origin of the Yuletide tree, the sale of trees has developed into an extensive, profitable business. Likewise, tree furnishings becoming an enormous business in itself. From records available, it has been learned that over 111,000,000 electric Christmas tree bulbs were sold in America every year. Possibly the amount will not be as large this year as last, but you can be sure that Americans will have their Christmas tree with decorations and lights on them.

LOOK Lady

By JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

Time was when it was nobody's business but our own if we spent the night fighting a poorly made bed. It was a free country and if we wanted to spend half the night pulling the sheet off our feet and the other half trying to cover them up again—well, it was our feet, our sheet and our jangled nerves.

We still have a free country and we want desperately to keep it that way. That's why, today, it's everybody's business whether or not we spend the night fighting a poorly made bed. For research shows that ill-fitting bedding robs us of restorative sleep and robs us of textiles—both vitally imperative if our victory plans are to be successful.

Short sheets affect our health because they are an irritation, preventing the peaceful relaxation essential to restorative sleep. Without restorative sleep, there is no period wherein the body can repair the effects of daily wear.

Short sheets affect our fabric conservation plans adversely because they wear out faster than properly fitting sheets, according to the American Institute of Laundering. Not only do these experts know that short sheets wear out faster, but they know why. And, they'd like for us to know, too, for this is the time to conserve every bit of fabric we can. Here's how the Laundry Institute explains the whole business of "frictional wear" which is what gets our sheets when they are too small for the bed.

When Johnny and Bobby begin a tug of war with one of our bath towels, their actions are so exaggerated our concern for the safety of the towel becomes acute instantly. We know that, unless stopped at once, they'll soon have the towel in shreds.

Tillie's nightly tug of war with short sheets tears down her morale and tears up the sheets, both mighty important things to avoid these days when health and fabric conservation are "musts" for a successful war effort.

But what most of us fail to realize is that, over a period of time, less forceful but more continuous yanking and pulling, twisting and crushing, can, and does, have the same effect on all fabrics.

The constant pulling and tugging given to ill-fitting bedding adds up to an appalling total of excessive tension, or strain. Over a period of time, this actually approximates the quick shredding of a towel under a vigorous tug of war!

So, right now, before you lose any more sleep, or sheets, check yours and make sure all sheets are large enough to tuck in securely at the foot and still leave enough to cover the shoulders.

Besides proving a wonderful health and fabric preserver at this time, sheets long enough to cover feet and shoulders at the same time keep quilts cleaner longer.

WHEN ANDREW "OLD HICKORY" Jackson, seventh President of the United States, went on his war forays he took his cedar chest along. Today's soldier leaves his cedar chest with the girl he left behind so she can safeguard his letters and her trousseau until his return. Preserved for posterity, Jackson's cedar chest is a featured show piece at his home, The Hermitage, near Nashville, Tennessee, while modern soldiers' cedar chests stand quietly in thousands of sweethearts' homes over the land.

PLANNING AND EXECUTION of household duties are streamlined to a minimum of effort and waste for wives of defense workers living in trailer-homes. In fact, the average modern trailer-home contains more modern labor saving equipment than the average home anchored to one spot. These wives have some mighty toothsome "main dish" recipes, too. For instance PIGS and PEAS. To make: drain liquid from canned peas, add diced cheese, a pinch of salt and pepper and let simmer until liquid is about 1/2 its original amount. While simmering, brown little pig sausages. Grease casserole with some of the sausage fat, alternate layers of peas and sausages, dot top with cheese and a little grated onion if you like it, pour liquid over and bake slowly from twenty to thirty minutes!

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for December 13

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE VALUE OF THE CHURCH TO THE SOCIAL ORDER

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 5:13-16; Mark 12:13-17; 1 Peter 2:13-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye are the salt of the earth. Ye are the light of the world.—Matthew 5:13, 14.

Social and political leaders have in the church the strongest influence for good in all the world. One marvels that those who profess to seek the best for humanity, who try every kind of social experiment, who labor with every expedient of man, fail to see and use in full measure the power of Christianity. Perhaps the explanation is that some of these leaders are themselves unsaved men, who do not understand spiritual things, and are not willing to give God the glory. Perhaps in the case of others it is because of ignorance or lack of contact with the church.

Whatever the reason, the situation should be remedied. America could solve her problems, both social and political, by a nation-wide revival of true Christianity, with the accompanying salvation of thousands of unconverted. If we cannot have that, let us not fail to have a revival in our own hearts, our own churches, our own neighborhoods or communities.

We find in our lesson that the church is

I. A Powerful Influence for Moral Good (Matt. 5:13-16).

Salt in the midst of corruption, light in a world of unbelievable darkness—what striking and meaningful figures with which to describe the Christian.

Believers are the "salt of the earth" because they draw their savor from God Himself. The Christian church, by God's own statement, is His own powerful antiseptic which preserves the social order from falling into the moral decay which sometimes seems imminent. It should, therefore, be honored and encouraged by that society which it serves.

Christians are the "light of the world," and it is the essential nature of light to shine. The darker its surroundings the more marked its brightness, and the more needed its illumination. The good works of Christians reflect the goodness of God, and so they glorify His worthy name. Brother, is your light burning brightly in this wicked world?

II. A Stabilizing Element in Society (Mark 12:13-17).

The world is in social ferment, and our own country has its share of "isms" and social theories calling men to follow, asking their loyalty, making them Utopian promises without foundation.

Alert and intelligent Americans are concerned about these clamorous voices, many of which are quite properly suspected of having purposes far from beneficial to our American way of life, or to democracy itself. Yet they dare not oppose them lest there be the cry of denial of freedom of speech, etc.

What can we do to meet them? Here is the answer: Preach Christ. Bring men to a saving knowledge of Him and to a godly way of living. For the Christian is directed by Christ Himself to "render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's"—and they do it too, because they have first rendered "to God the things that are God's."

III. A Loyal Example of Good Citizenship (1 Pet. 2:13-17).

The highest measure of loyalty to country is the Christian standard here stated. In Romans 13:1-10 we learn that all authority comes from God and that the power of rulers is to be recognized as His gift. That means that true rulers will submit to Him in every detail of their government, seeking to know and to do His will.

However, the Christian gives loyal obedience to the "powers that be" even though they may not recognize the source of their power. This is subject only to the limitation that they may not demand that we do those things that dishonor God's name. Since their only real power to rule comes from Him, they have no authority to tell anyone to do that which is against His holy will. When that happens, the Higher Authority takes over and our loyalty must be to Him, the King of kings. The Christian then will be the best citizen, eager to do what king or country may ask, in order thus to bear a good testimony and to close the mouth of foolish critics of the church.

The history of our country and of other lands reveals the names of many illustrious Christian patriots, and the roll of honor of those who loved and served their country well in the humble and difficult places, would bear its hundreds of thousands of names which are found also on the roll of the church.

Christians, let us be earnest and intelligent followers of Christ, whose lives count for moral uprightness. "For God and Country" is the excellent motto of the American Legion, but it should be more than that; it should be the purpose of every Christian citizen.

Woman's Whimsy Helped Develop Famous Spitfire

A woman's whimsy played a vital role in the development of Britain's famous spitfire fighters which turned back the Luftwaffe blitz during the dark days of the summer of 1940.

"In 1931," writes William Winter in an issue of an authoritative aviation magazine, "Lady Lucy Houston unwittingly preserved for Britain the priceless Spitfire lineage."

"Lady Houston put up nearly a half million dollars to finance the 1931 British Schneider trophy team, the air council having lost interest in further competition on England's part. It was that very team that won the famed trophy outright for England."

"Before that, Lady Houston had financed the flight over Mount Everest. An English aviation correspondent, with whom the writer talked recently, pictured Lady Houston as a strong-willed, purposeful woman who was determined to do something worthwhile with her millions. According to this story, she had moved to the tax-free Isle of Jersey in the English channel because of a tax dispute in England. Still she financed the winning Schneider team and, according to hearsay, the original Vickers Wellington bomber."

"Thanks to Lady Houston, who seems to have had more aviation foresight than either the British or American governments in those days, R. J. Mitchell, designer of the Spitfire, was able to continue his experiments and finally to produce one of the greatest fighting ships of the present war."

'Share-a-Ride' Plan Is Being Widely Adopted

"Share-a-Ride" is becoming a nation-wide slogan if adoption of group riding plans by many war industry communities is an indication.

Involving group riding on a planned basis, ride-sharing has been approved and sponsored by civilian union officials since its development on an experimental basis as part of the "Pontiac Plan." The plan was forerunner of present ride-sharing and work staggering programs to ease transportation congestion and conserve gasoline and tires.

Since the Pontiac, Mich., experiment, ride-pooling plans have been placed in operation in many large cities—including Dallas, Detroit, Chicago, Houston, Seattle and Providence—and in innumerable small ones. Early in May, officials of 34 Michigan cities prepared to adopt both ride-sharing and staggered hour features of the Pontiac program.

Ride-sharing plans usually accompanied or were inaugurated shortly after development of programs for staggering opening and closing hours of factories, stores, schools, etc.

In the latest developments in auto-sharing programs, farmers in Michigan have been asked to form truck pools to conserve equipment and tires, while taxicab companies in Seattle have been requested to inaugurate "share-the-fare" service in the more heavily congested areas of the city.

Regulate Man's Cooling

Contrary to general notions, so-called heating systems do not warm man but merely regulate his rate of cooling. Man being warm-blooded must be cooled continuously to be comfortable. If man were actually heated by the heating systems of a building, he would become feverish and a subject for medical care.

Simply expressed, the human body is a heat generator whose comfort depends on its ability to get rid of heat at the same rate as it is generated. Since the body normally maintains a uniform temperature of 98.6 degrees F., it dissipates heat at a uniform rate if the room is maintained at a uniform temperature. Thus, automatically controlled heating systems which keep the temperature at a specified degree are the most healthful for man.

Man's hourly heat loss rate varies from about 400 BTU while at rest to 750 BTU while taking exercise such as walking or dancing. Generally speaking man's basic heat loss per hour is about 100 BTU's by radiation.

Chinese 'Philadelphia Lawyers'

In the early stages of law development in China, Shaohing men pioneered in preparing petitions, collecting taxes and representing citizens before magistrates. The "Shaohing man" became a necessity wherever courts were established. Young men went to Shaohing to become law clerks, then settled to work in other cities with all the prestige of a "Philadelphia lawyer." Their reputation continues, although they no longer monopolize their field. Similarly famous for their execution of the role in which Fate has cast them are Shaohing's chair coolies.

Exciting Dining Room

An exciting dining room has walls painted pale turquoise blue above the knotty pine dado. The windows are hung with sill length draperies of glazed figured chintz, mainly tomato red. Turquoise blue paint colors the spaces between the shelves of the Welsh cupboard, the rug is grass in natural color, and the furniture painted light to match the pine woodwork.

Disillusioned Santa Reveals Everything In Last Appearance

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—"I'm tired now. In fact, every year around this time I'm very tired." That is what Santa Claus (a professional one though, for the real one doesn't ever get tired) had to say recently as he was taking off his red and white suit, preparatory to going home.

As he pulled off his white whiskers wearily, he continued: "Besides, this business of being a jolly old fellow is highly seasonal work. Just a couple of weeks' work in December, then something over 11 months' vacation. It is a good thing I am an electrician. I'd possibly starve to death." (The kids should have heard such heresy!)

A few seconds followed while he put on his dark green knit tie before he continued his slightly weary talk: "It was all right at first and the pay was good—$4 for a party appearance or a club or a lodge. Or $2 for a private home call. But I guess I can't take it anymore. Anyhow, the kids won't miss me. (Imagine that, the kids not missing Santa Claus!)

Comes next year there will be one ex-Santa who isn't filling stockings, and putting presents under trees, or telling pop to take it easy with son's electric train. That retired Santa will be just sitting in his own home—not, definitely not, at the North Pole—listening to the Christmas carols on the radio, and wiggling his toes. For his shoes will be off.

Christmas Stories Revealed by History

Fortunately, the "idea" in the minds of some to tell the truth to the kiddies—that there isn't a Santa Claus—isn't catching on as well as they hoped.

Everybody—and this includes the kids—enjoys a good story, especially around the Christmas season.

Down through the years have come many beautiful stories, jammed with the kindness of the best in humanity. It is from such stories that many of our Christmas customs have come. For the observance of such customs the United States is indebted to many lands. Palestine, Egypt, Turkey, Italy, Germany, England and Holland all have done their bit to contribute to our added enjoyment of Christmas customs and traditions. To the Holy Land, more than any other, all civilization is indebted for the matchless history of the Christ child.

One writer who has investigated the observance of the birth of the Christ Child has noticed one curious fact. That is, Christmas was not among the earliest festivals of the church. Irenaeus and Tertullian, early church fathers, omitted it from the list of feasts. According to what Origen noticed in the Bible, only sinners, not saints, celebrated their birthday.

It was in the year 200 A. D. that evidence of the feast of Christmas was first noted. This was in Egypt. And it wasn't until years afterwards that December 25 was decided upon as being the date for the celebration of Christ's birthday. During that time Christmas was celebrated on various days, one of the dates being as late as May 20. Eight hundred years after the first feast of Christmas, church authorities used the term Christes Maessi, from which comes the English word Christmas. This was in 1033.

Ancient Yule Customs Still Live in England

Many ancient customs prevail in England at Christmas, according to present day records. One custom that goes back to Saxon times is still observed at Okehampton, Devon. Here a "marked" is held the Sunday after Christmas at which a man may speak to or kiss any girl who takes his fancy. Mistletoe definitely is not necessary.

In the village of Cam on the day after Christmas the poor are again remembered. For, according to the will of Margaret Trotman, one of Cam's former citizens, any parishioner is entitled to the gift of a loaf of bread. Also, the first 50 widows who apply are given money.

Chinese Copy Custom

Chinese children start Christmas day by folding their hands on arising and wishing each other a good day before opening a single gift. The Chinese have adopted American Christmas customs.

Man's Former Wife Becomes His Sister

ST. JOSEPH, MO.—A St. Joseph man couldn't get along with his wife, so now she is his sister. At their divorce trial the husband's father testified that his daughter-in-law was entitled to a divorce, and she got it. Later her in-laws adopted her as the family's daughter, which made her a sister to her former husband.

Girl Pilot Faints, Ship Lands Safely

Learner Swoons Again on Landing After Trip.

ANN ARBOR, MICH.—Joan Tesch, 19 years old, who has had only four hours of solo flying time, was under treatment for severe shock today as a result of her harrowing experience in flying unconscious in her trainer cabin plane for a full hour last night.

Dwight Reynolds, manager of the Municipal airport, and Robert Young, the girl's instructor, went aloft in their own planes to investigate why Miss Tesch kept circling the field. They were horrified when they saw her slumped against the side of the cabin, unconscious.

They flew around for several minutes, then came down and made preparations for a crash landing. A sheriff's ambulance was called to stand by. Fire extinguishers and first aid equipment were brought out. Dusk gave way to darkness. Still the plane circled aimlessly.

Finally, an hour after her takeoff, Miss Tesch regained consciousness and tried for a landing. Groggy from her experience, she twice missed the field. On the third attempt the motor stalled when her gasoline supply ran out, and she landed without lights in a farm field adjacent to the airport. The plane stopped when it bumped into a fence.

Stepping from the plane unscratched, Miss Tesch fainted again before she was taken to the hospital.

For Him in the Navy

This is just one of the many greeting cards available to send to those you know in the United States navy.

Stop and Think, Lady

... before you buy another new dress! It's awful pretty, can't blame you for wanting it. But what about Johnny? He's out there, somewhere in the Pacific. Has he got all the fighting equipment he needs to lick those tricky so-and-sos?

How about another round of ammunition? Think what it might mean to Johnny. Suppose he doesn't get it just when he needs it? You wouldn't need the new dress then. You wouldn't be stepping out with him again.

Yule Briefs

Christmas town—Bethlehem, Pa.—was founded on Christmas eve, 1741.

Puritans had many odd ideas about Christmas. Many attempts were made to abolish it, and Thanksgiving was sponsored as a substitute.

The Poles call Christmas "Boze Narodzenie," meaning "God's Nativity."

In Australia, Christmas is celebrated with picnics and trips in the open.

Shoes replace stockings at the fireplace in France, Spain, and Holland at Christmas.

The singing of carols at Christmas is believed to have originated in Britain by wandering musicians.

Little Exemption

"Pa, I don't see why I have to study algebra. I hate the stuff."

"I know, my boy, but keep at it. You may have to figure your income tax some day."

Talkative

"They say that women are hardly ever stammerers."

"No; they have so much to say that they can't stop for it."

Detective Traps Queen As Bees Block Traffic

TACOMA, WASH.—Detective Captain Bill Farrar is a specialist—akin to a bomb-disposal squad.

A swarm of bees blocked traffic at a downtown intersection. The captain was called. He set up a hive, inscribed "Return to Captain Farrar after nightfall," deftly pushed the queen inside the hive and went back to headquarters.

"They'll be in by dark," he predicted. They were, and off they went to his farm to join 10 other swarms collected the same way.

Downs 13 German Planes: 'Hero of Soviet Union'

MOSCOW.—Lieut. Alexei Kholobistov, commander of a Soviet Tomahawk squadron operating in the Murmansk area, has received the title "hero of the Soviet Union" for bringing down 13 German Messerschmitts. He won the nickname "Taranichik"—"rammer"—when he rammed and brought down his 13th enemy plane.

Invents Hook That Bites

Fish, if Fish Don't Bite

BUFFALO.—If the fish won't bite, John Perkins, Curtiss-Wright corporation employee, knows what to do about it. He's invented a hook that bites the fish instead. Perkins says the hook works by springs and grabs the fish when it nudges the bait.

Spirit of Christmas, 1942

Christmas day, 1942, will see more soldiers than at any time in the history of our country pay homage to Him who died to bring peace on earth. Thousands of American soldiers stationed in the world's outposts of freedom will attend services on Christmas morning. Special services have been arranged in training camps in all parts of the country. This officer, with his wife and young son, kneels before a replica of the manger in the chapel at Fort Myer, Va.

Sunshine Aids

Mistletoe grows only on the highest branches of the tallest trees because it requires a great deal of sunlight. It is confined to these branches in bottom-land forests of the East. In the brilliant sunshine of the Southwest it spreads over the entire tree.

Gifts for Soldiers

If he is about to spend a year in the army or navy here is a gift suggestion. An official kit made of canvas in khaki or blue, with everything necessary for a shave or a quick cleanup. For an officer, an official musette bag in which to keep his personal belongings.

C. S. SERVICE HELD

Christian Science Services for all Churches—"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 15. The Golden Text was from Romans 8:19, "The eternal expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God." Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible, Isaiah 2:22, "Cease ye from man whose breath is in his nostrils; for wherein is he to be accounted of?" The lesson-sermon also included passages from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy, among which is the following on page 215, "Every quality and condition of mortality is lost, swallowed up in immortality."

THE LIGHT OF TRUTH

Across the years the light of truth comes streaming. Out of darkness and despair truth is gleaming. Tis not for us in modern age to say the cause Or what it is in truth that makes God's Laws. The life of man goes back to darkest ages And naught is writ for him to see upon its pages—

Whence comes man here upon the earth to dwell Or whither goes, or how, none yet can tell. One thing is sure, no matter what his creed,

A power, greater far than man, did sow the seed That has thru ages to the present day Produced the things around, all nature does display.

Nor yet to man is given the subtle art To create things that only God can start.

The smallest blade of grass that peeps thru creviced stone Is greater far than any work that man has done.

Man but finds out, invents, builds up—the route— But God alone builds from Protons, Neutrons and Electrons out.

W. J. H. Nov. 3, 1942.
