SERVICE MEN LETTERS

Many and Varied are their Experiences

Dear Mr. Stonesifer: I have been wanting to write to you and tell you how much I enjoy reading the Carroll Record. It tells me all that is happening in and around Taneytown.

I also want to take this means of thanking each and every one of the women from Taneytown, who took part in making up the kit, they gave me before going in the Navy. Again I want to thank you for your paper.

MAURICE W. ECKENRODE.

Dear Sir: I wish to thank you for the Record, you have been sending to me. It is a very interesting paper and I sure enjoy reading it, but my address has been changed from 1061st Engs to 352nd Harbor Craft Co. H. C. T. G. 1st. Plat., and I would appreciate it very much if you would send it to this address, and in closing I wish to thank you again. Sincerely,

PVT. ALBERT P. BELL.

Moor Field, Missouri, Texas. June 4th, 1944

Hello everyone at home: Here another week has gone by and I have taken pretty good advantage of it. Last Thursday I finished my time in the P40 (10 hour, 15 minutes). (In addition to his instructing he is flying larger ships). Then I read up on the technical orders of the P-47. I studied continuously for four hours so that I would be completely familiar with its operation. It really turned out to be more simple than I expected.

On Friday I solved the P-47, it is truly a wonderful plane. Its proportion to other planes I have flown are like a Ford to a Packard, when you fly it, it is just like sitting in the rear seat of an expensive car. The engine is that smooth. When you push the throttle forward, the engine speeds up with a steady drone to a final high whine. The P-47 has a Pratt and Whitney engine with a four bladed propeller and has 2,000 horse power. The plane weighs 14,000 lbs.

The boys here call it a bucket of bolts because it is so heavy and compact. Yesterday I was cruising around in it at 13,000 ft. and I wanted to get some speed out of her so I nosed her down to a 60° angle and dived. I pulled out at 5,000 feet and my speedometer read almost 500 m.p.h. We hope to get oxygen equipment put into this ship as it flies best above 25,000 ft.

Now dad you can brag about me flying the thunderbolt, to your friends. To tell you the truth I am proud of it myself. There are only twelve of us who have flown it here so far. This is the best plane I have flown so far and I really like it. I also respect it for when you start thinking you know it all you get careless and often get hurt.

Now the next step I would like to take is to fly the P-51 (Mustang) but there is none on the field so I will have to be satisfied with what I have. The other day eight men left the field for combat duty. I applied but they turned me down as I did not have six months experience. Goodness knows how long I will be stuck here as an instructor.

Today I got my first flight of six men to instruct. Since the middle of April I have been grounded on routine work the worst of which is working in the control tower. Landing 250 planes filled with half baked student pilots really makes you gray before your time.

Daddy, you asked about a student that does not follow instructions and might cause a wreck and how do I prevent it. Well that is very simple. The stick in the back compartment is removable, so you take it out and reach forward and use it on his head. It is surprising how quickly you can change his mind.

Well I must close as I have to fly tonight and quite a bit to do before then. Say hello to all neighbors. As ever,

AUSTIN O. DAVIS.

TRINITY MISSION CIRCLE MEETS

On Wednesday evening, June 14th the Trinity Mission Circle of Trinity Lutheran Church was entertained at the home of Mr. George Harner, as inclement weather prevented having the annual picnic. There were 22 members and 3 visitors present. One new member was added to the group. The leader of the worship service was Mrs. Sterling Fritz, and the topic for discussion was "Answering Calls." A number of stories were told by the members of people who are answering calls to service in home and foreign fields today. After a short business meeting refreshments were served consisting of hot dog, bacon and egg, and cheese sandwiches potato chips, pickles, assorted cakes and coffee. The patriotic theme of Flag Day was predominant in the table decoration. The meeting adjourned to meet at the church in July.

TRUCK GASOLINE RATIONS FOR THIRD QUARTER

The Carroll County Rationing Board announces that third quarter gasoline rations for trucks will be ready for distribution at the Board in Westminster on and after June 29, 1944. Truck operators are advised that they must call for their rations at the Rationing Board and present their truck registration cards. The third quarter begins on July 1, and current second quarter coupons will not be valid after that date.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MONTHLY MEETING

Resignations Accepted and Appointments Made

The Board of Education of Carroll County met in regular session on Tuesday, June 6, with John B. Baker presiding. All the members were present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and all bills presented ordered paid.

Applications for retirement were approved by the Board for the following teachers: Miss Evelyn Rinker, forty-three years of service; Mrs. Jane Chaney, thirty-five years of service; Joseph Langdon, thirty-three years of service, and Rev. Guy P. Bready, twenty-four years of service.

The following resignations were accepted: High School, Doris Hood, Alice Veneable, Margaret Gluck, Mildred Harris, Jeanne Trappe, Katherine Widener, Lorraine Seivold, Nancy Hailey, Sheila Young and Thomas Johnson; Elementary School, Margaret Emerson, Vivian Sanborn, Gladys Phillips, Mildred Slagle and Bernice Frazier.

The appointment of the following teachers was approved: High School, Justa Thomas, Helen Zepp, Elizabeth Mulford, Winifred Warehime, Ruth Logan, Kathryn Foltz, Margaret Fertig, Anna Myers, Jean Jones; Elementary School, Teresa Bosco, Beatrice Williams, Edith Crowe, Katharine Lang, Eva Brown, Elizabeth Gravatt, Iona Ries, George Zepp and Virginia Heyburn.

District scholarships to Western Maryland College were awarded to the following applicants: Franklin District, Sara Jane Rice (one year), Geraldine Frizzell; Hampstead, Gene Geist, Carolyn Allender (one year); Westminster District, Eloise Miller; Freedom District, Eleanor Wilson; Taneytown District, Martha Messler, Jane Angell; Myers District, Chas. Friese (one year); Middleburg District, Catharine Frounfelter (one year); Berrett, Jewell Haines; New Windsor District, Ann Little (one year); Union Bridge District, Betty Jane Hoch (one year); Mount Airy District, William Dulany, Aileen Taylor (one year).

The Superintendent was authorized to send out renewals of bus contracts for the school year 1944-45.

The bids for the repair of roofs of various schools were opened and the matter was left in the hands of a committee appointed by the president, consisting of Mr. Diffendal, Mr. Starr, and the Superintendent.

The meeting adjourned at 12:45 o'clock.

KIWANIS CLUB NEWS

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening at 8:30 at Clear Ridge Inn, near Uniontown; President Clyde L. Hesson, presiding. The period of group singing was in charge of Harry M. Mohney with Mrs. W. I.ace Yingling at the piano. During this part of the program, the Club noted that the date marked the 23rd wedding anniversary of president and Mrs. Hesson.

The presence of the following visitors and guests was noted: Messrs. Truman Cash, Evan Bowers and Prof. and Mrs. Forrest Free of the Westminster Club; Sergeant Harner, as the guest of Charles Cluts; Mr. Wright and Mrs. Nicewarner as the guests of Raymond Wright and Mr. Jesse Stonesifer as the guest of Charles Stonesifer. Twenty-six members of the Taneytown Club were present.

The speaker of the evening was Dean Forrest Free of Western Maryland College who discussed some interesting phases of our knowledge of the heavenly bodies, tracing through history from the time of Plato in the third century before Christ to the present the development of our scientific theory of the solar system, discussing the importance and influence of the nebular and Copernican hypotheses.

Sergeant Harner, who has seen active flying service in Iceland, England, Africa and Italy, spoke interestingly of some of his experiences. The program next week will be in charge of the Committee on Kiwanis Education, George N. Shower, chairman.

IN ARMED FORCES

Md. Prisoners Accepted. Board Recommended 262

A total of 170 inmates of the various penal institutions of the State have been accepted into the Armed Forces of the United States as the result of commutations of sentences recommended by the special Selective Service Panel Board Number 9, named by him for this purpose, Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor made known on Monday, following a report covering the activities of the Special Panel Board.

Appointed by the Governor on April 26, 1943, the Special Panel Board has interviewed 182 white and 281 colored prisoners, of which number a total of 262 were forwarded to the induction station. In addition to the 80 white applicants and 90 colored men accepted for induction, 41 white and 51 colored men were rejected for physical or other reasons.

The largest contribution made by any single institution was at the State Penal Farm. Out of a total registration of 467, 187 were given physical examinations, 104 were forwarded to the induction center and 66 were accepted.

The House of Correction with a total population of 1,522 was second in number of inmates, with 55 acceptances out of 83 forwarded for induction.

In third place in numbers accepted, with 38, was the Maryland Penitentiary, out of whose total prison population of 1,090, 52 were considered fit for induction by the State and 33 were actually accepted.

Other institutions represented now in the Armed Forces are the Baltimore City Jail, with 9 inductees; the Bel Air Jail, with 1; and the Maryland Training School for Boys, with 1.

Among the most heartening aspects of the Special Panel Board's activities, Governor O'Connor declared are the number of commendatory letters received from the Commanding Officers of the men. Several of them have won special awards for extraordinary service and almost uniformly the reports received have been that the men sent from the Maryland prisons have adjusted themselves to Army or Navy life and have made excellent servicemen.

TANEYTOWN COOPERATIVE MEETING

Plans for the local annual meeting of members and friends of Southern States Cooperative will be made when the members of the board of directors of the Southern States Taneytown Cooperative and Southern States Farm Home Advisory committee for the Taneytown section, together with wives and husbands, hold a conference at Clear View Inn, Taneytown, Wednesday evening, June 21, at 7:30 according to A. D. Alexander, president, who will preside.

The conferees will also nominate successors to Sterling Myerly, N. O. Terpening, Taneytown, whose terms on the board are expiring, and successors to Mrs. Frank Alexander, Keymar, and Mrs. John Teeter, Taneytown, whose terms on the women's committee end this year. The elections to fill the vacancies will take place at the annual membership meeting.

The term of P. C. Turner, Parkton, who represent District 5 on the board of directors of Southern States Cooperative ends next fall. The local group meeting June 21 will elect from the membership of the board of directors a delegate and an alternate whose terms do not expire in 1944, one of whom will represent the local board and local members at the district nomination meeting to be held in October. The nominations made at the October meeting will be presented to the Southern States annual meeting November 1 at which a director from District 5 will be named for a three-year period.

Members of the women's committee are: Mrs. A. D. Alexander, Mrs. Frank Alexander, Mrs. Harry Crouse, Mrs. Russell Peeser, Mrs. William Nail and Mrs. John Teeter. The board of directors includes Mr. Alexander, Percy Bollinger, Clarence E. Derr, Russell S. Peeser, R. C. Fisher, Sterling Myerly and N. O. Terpening.

District Manager M. A. Tomlinon, of Frederick will meet with the group.

JR. I. O. O. BAND ANNOUNCES ACTIVITIES

New Members Added and Playing Engagements Made

The Taneytown Jr. I. O. O. F. Band has announced the names of the members who recently became members of the band. Most of these members were in the annual beginners class since November 1943.

Lorina Bankert, flute; Freddie Clingman, trumpet; Carroll Lambert, baritone; Charlotte Lookingbill, flute; Ruby Lord, cornet; Marion Martin, bells; Margaret Zent, marimba; Mary Louise Zent, clarinet.

This brings the band's total membership to approximately 48 members. However, deducting members in the armed services, and those who are employed during the hours which the band usually rehearses, or fills engagements, the active membership is about 38 members.

The band will play at Forest Park, Hanover, on Sunday, June 25th. There will be concerts both afternoon and evening. The band has also been engaged for a concert at the Firemen's Carnival at Manchesters, during the week of July 17th. As in former years, the band plans to play several free concerts in Taneytown during the summer. The dates will be announced in the near future.

At present, the band's rehearsals are on the usual summer schedule— from 8:30 to 10:00 P. M. each Tuesday night, in the Odd Fellows Hall.

FARMERS HELP IN FIFTH WAR LOAN

The nation's farm army of six million along with their town and city neighbors went into action this week on the Fifth War Loan, the War Finance Division of the Treasury announces. Total goal for this loan is 16 billion dollars by July 8. Last year farm people bought $1,200,000,000 in War Bonds—about 10 per cent of their net income. With an estimated net farm income of 13 billion dollars for 1944, bond purchases by farm people are expected to be higher this year than last. The War Bonds bought during the Fifth War Loan will enable our Government to get more and better war equipment for its fighters than the bonds bought a year ago, according to a compilation of war equipment costs by the War Department. A heavy bomber, which a year ago cost $500,000 today costs half that much. A Bofors Anti-aircraft gun formerly cost $25,000, now costs only $13,000. A year ago the Garand rifle cost $80. Today it costs $35. A few items, among them the good old Army mule, have gone up in price. A year ago Uncle Sam paid $190 for an Army mule. Today such a mule costs Uncle $225.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED

At the annual meeting of the Carroll Co. Chapter A. R. C. in Westminster Tuesday the Surgical Dressing Committee reported a very large increase in the number of dressings called for from this Chapter. Thousands have been sent overseas each month, the work being done by groups of Westminster women meeting, some in the morning, some in the afternoon and others at night. It has not been advisable to establish work rooms—at other towns—in the county as was done in World War I because of the very special way these packages of gauze dressings must be packed and wrapped in order that they may be protected when at times it is difficult to deliver them.

So, a call is being sent out to women of the county, asking them to come to the Westminster work room and help. If you are willing to give a morning or afternoon, or, if you will give the use of your car to transport a group, please communicate with Miss Anna Galt. Necessary gas coupons will be granted.

Hampstead, New Windsor and Mt. Airy have responded to the call. Taneytown must not fail to respond.

HOMEMAKERS' DAY

A Homemakers' Day of special interest will be held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, next Tuesday, beginning at 10 A. M.

Governor O'Connor and Mayor McKeldin will extend greetings. Mrs. James Doolittle wife of General Doolittle, and Madame Julie Marie Soop Colbjornson, wife of the Financial Counsellor of the Norwegian Embassy, will speak.

Other speakers will be Dr. Harold Bosley, Dr. H. C. Byrd, Miss Venia M. Kellar and Dr. T. B. Symons.

Group singing will be led by Harlan Randall of the music department of Maryland University.

MORE FARM IMPLEMENTS

Certain small manufacturers are permitted to produce unlimited quantities of any farm machinery equipment and repair parts made entirely from surplus materials or materials needing no allotments or priorities assistance higher than AA-4 preference rating, WPB announces. Items most manufacturers will be able to produce under this relaxation, include corn shellers, feed grinders, pitchforks, hand cultivators, rakes, hoes and barnyard and poultry equipment.

DETROIT LETTER

Labor, Rationing, Invasion and Victory Gardens

Michigan is called the "Lake State" and with good reason, for the water of five of the six lakes, (counting Lake St. Clair, in itself is not a small body of water, by any means) which almost make a huge peninsula of the state touch its shores. Along the shores of Lake Michigan, which bounds the state on the west, is one of the largest fruit belts in the United States, and in this belt cherries form a large part of the food products of the state. Almost every year, trouble is experienced in getting enough help to handle this crop, and this year, with prospects of twice as large a crop as last year, is no exception in this line. The owners of the orchards are sending out calls for help, and say that good pickers can make as high as $17.00 a day. Last year, when the crop was part a failure, boys and girls from the cities helped out, and the same thing will be done this year, and in addition, it is proposed to utilize the German and Italian prisoners, now in that section, which is thought will solve the problem.

The lack of help, owing to the fact that so many young folks are serving in the army and navy, is apparent among the farmers, truckers and fruit raisers everywhere in the state. And, as we are compelled to feed these prisoners, it is no more than just that they help earn their living. As it is reports say they are treated better than are our boys who are so unfortunate as to fall into the hands of the Germans. And from newspaper reports, these fellows are pretty well contented to help out, as they receive 60c a day, and that is more than they would earn as members of the armies of their country, and do not have to face the guns, tanks and planes of the boys who are causing them so much trouble all over the mainland of Europe.

Quite a mild sensation was aroused among the readers of the daily papers one day last week, when they read that eggs were being sold by the government for 5c a case, which were bought by it for $8.10 a case, in order to keep up the selling price, which is 46c a dozen. As a case contains 30 dozen, you can readily see what a loss was sustained, when we read of seventy carloads thus disposed of in Detroit alone. The eggs were sold to the manufacturers of chicken and hog feed, and were said to be perfectly usable. It sure is no wonder that people are not well pleased with some of the things that are done by the Office of Price Administration, for this is not the only queer thing that has been done by this Bureau. As the producers of poultry and eggs have to pay exorbitant prices for feed, and this has not been reduced, we are sure that the dumping of these eggs at such a ridiculous price, and thus giving the feed manufacturers a chance to make still greater profit, does not raise their estimate of the wisdom of the members of this Board.

In common with the residents of all sections of the country, in the observance of Invasion Day, nearly all the churches were open and services held, while in the busy war factories minutes of silence and prayer were observed. Bells were rung and fire sirens and factory whistles all gave notice that the long-expected day had arrived at last. And in many homes there were anxious hearts, for almost every neighborhood had a boy in the invasion force. But with it all, Detroit does not seem to feel the effects of this war, and we are afraid that only when the casualty list begin to come in, that it will awaken. On the day of the invasion there happened to be no strikes, and that was news, indeed, but the next day they started again. Money and the luxuries it can bring, seems to be the most important thing in the lives of those who do not need to risk their lives on the battlefield. And many not very deep-thinking people seemed to think that the war has been nearly won, while in our opinion it has just gone into the most serious phase.

If we can judge by the members of Victory gardens in our city, we can be sure that our people will not go hungry this summer. Wherever you go, you may see rear lawns dug up, and many a man, after a hard day's work in the shop, may be seen working in the ground. Some of these amateur farmers may not be rewarded for their labors, but even

MOVING AHEAD

As this is written the invasion in Normandy has been in progress just one week. A week is a short time in comparison with the duration. But this week has afforded more real encouragement to the United Nations than any like period since the campaign in Northern Africa and the initial landings in Italy. The net result is a front 65 miles long and an average of a dozen miles wide. That is not a large amount of territory, but to hold 800 square miles, with important points on a main highway and railway, with thousands of prisoners taken, with control of an important coast line, with an immense force landed and in action is quite different from talking about what is to be expected in some indefinite future.

Our heroic leaders in the various fronts and the leaders of our Allies are demonstrating that they know what they are about, and that when the time comes they act effectively.

The armed forces, too, are demonstrating their ability to stick loyally to a task without stopping because of the cost and the sacrifice involved. It is not the commander alone who wins battles, but whole armed force, and when the story of this, the greatest war of all time comes to be written, there will be thousands of incidents and episodes that will easily match or surpass the most heroic annals of ancient days.

We will all sincerely hope and trust that week after week will follow with as much of encouragement and inspiration as the last one. We have a big job ahead and a long way to go. While we have pushed inland as much as 18 miles in places, we have a couple hundred miles to Paris, and nearly four times as many to Berlin.

Let us who are here on the home front not forget our part in the battle. Let us "back the attack". Let us give the boys a cheer in every possible way. While they are doing a fine job "over there, let us see to it that we do a more creditable job "over here." L. B. H.

WAKE UP, AMERICA!

The national debt is on its way toward the two hundred and fifty billion dollar mark.

There are about 130,000,000 men, women and children in the United States. Shortly they will owe $2,000 apiece. For a family of three that is $6,000. For a family of four $8,000. Have you got it?

Right now the whole thing seems vague and unreal to most citizens. They don't grasp the fact that some day they, or their children, will have to pay the bill. They don't realize that it is going to be a tougher job to build a home or a business or own a farm, because so much of what they earn during their formative years will be taken away from them in the form of taxes.

A great many conscientious souls have been warning about governmental spending for a long time. They weren't referring to necessary war expenditures. They were talking about what used to be called boondoggling.

There is only one way to do the best we can with the tremendous burden we can't escape carrying. That is, see to it that the load isn't increased. Elect only public officials who will admit that taxpayers are a part of our economic life. Shun those who think taxpayers are merely tools with which to buy boondoggling experiments, which in turn may produce a few votes for those in office.

Wake up, America.—Eastern Shore Times.

FIRST INNING SCORE

Out of the welter of fragmentary reports the faint outlines of the Allies' first landings in France begin to emerge. It was a giant blow. Apparently some 250,000 men were involved. Resistance was less than expected; casualties reported so far are extremely light.

The Germans seem to have considered the blow at Normandy a feint. They fear a smash in the north, much closer to German soil and more likely to convince their own people that the war is lost. This may explain why they appeared on the first day to be holding back, particularly with their planes. It is much more reasonable than the notion that they have deliberately let Allied forces in to trap them. It is certain that other Allied blows will fall, and one in the north would be natural. But the enemy knows now that the Normandy drive is no feint and is even sending forces into the Cherbourg peninsula by carrier planes.

The West Wall was breached with an ease that has dismayed the German people, who had from the name formed a concept of a solid, impenetrable barrier. German defenses have failed so far on at least four levels. Submarines and other sea opposition made no impression at all. The Luftwaffe, at first missing, is still ineffective. Coastal guns and blockhouses made some trouble, but were largely blanketed in artificial fog or blasted by naval guns and air bombing. Secret weapons are still secret.

But it cannot be assumed that the German commanders were asleep or as bemused as the people in a German version of the "Magnet Line mentality." Counterattacks were prompt on a small scale and larger forces are concentrating. And information is still lacking as to how good German defenses were beyond the beachheads and at the airfields. The Allies have seized at least half of the shore in the hundred-mile crescent between Le Havre and Cherbourg but only to a depth of ten miles.

So far very little has been heard of air-borne forces, part of whom probably landed farther inland with the purpose of blocking roads and demolishing bridges and transport and supplies on which the enemy must depend in counterattacking. The Germans claim to have identified six Allied paratroop divisions, and sky-trains carried up heavy reinforcements during Tuesday night.

The Allied purpose manifestly is to secure the ports of Cherbourg and Le Harve. Their supply problem will be almost impossible unless they can do so quickly. They scored a vital first-inning run by the initial beachhead landings. But if the German counterattack hold them back from the ports for many days that score will be nullified. That is the crucial question of the second inning. —Christian Science Monitor.

NOW YOU HAVE IT—NOW YOU DON'T

Sifting rumor from facts and making evaluations is a problem in Washington these days. There are rumors about the invasion, about politics, about rationing, about reconversion of industry—in fact, about almost every conceivable subject including the weather.

In the midst of all this rumor confusion, the evil eye of political advantage is rearing its head higher and higher with each passing day. Only recently we heard that tires and more tires were coming our way. Almost in the same breath another official of the same agency said "nothing to it!" On the floors of Congress ever so often veiled charges are made that all rationing will henceforth be influenced toward greater liberality by the coming national elections. The reigning party stalwarts say "it ain't so!" It is consequently hard to arrive at definite conclusions.

Consider the gasoline rumors for instance. One agency says we are to have an increase soon if not before, another controlling agency says "no change is contemplated." Some of the uncertainty about the when, as and if of increased gas rations may hinge on administrative change made during the past weeks. Heads have been falling over there in Washington of late! The number of these resignations and new appointments, particularly in the ODT and OPA, leads to the assumption that they exemplify policy changes rather than a desire on the part of the men involved to return to private life. Certain published reports, not widely circulated, have stated that one high administrator of OPA was eased out as a result of differences of opinion about the rationing program. Incidentally, he is the one who recently announced that an effort was being made to provide relief soon as possible in the "B" coupon holder class.

No wonder rationing is considered a necessary evil if you can't beat the system, rather than a wartime emergency. —Maryland Motorist.

PROSPERITY

A toiling tenant farmer with several children became suddenly wealthy. A forgotten relative in another state died, leaving him a desirable farm, well equipped. The family hurried to move and take possession but, after three years, they returned to their former diggings as sharecroppers. They complained that times had been hard; only one prosperous year. That was the first year, when they mortgaged the farm.

It is not uncommon to hear people say prosperous when they mean flush, but the words are not akin; the ideas are not alike. Squandering borrowed money is not prosperity. It is the enemy of prosperity. A thief in an underworld den buying drinks for the house is flush, not prosperous. On the other hand, a thrifty farmer who builds a fertile field out of an eroded hillside is prosperous although he may have no cash.

Many prosperous people in America this year are doing constructive things, helping to hasten victory and safeguard a lasting peace. Some are wisely freezing their good incomes by investing in war bonds—which amounts to buying dollar bills at 75c apiece for future delivery. But others are only flush, foolishly spending cash for what they consider fun, buying baubles with little or no post-war value.

Unwise citizens are not alone to blame. Our government has set them an unmistakable example, spending recklessly and wasting money on things that are worse than useless; downright harmful to human freedom. The foolish spendthrift who wastes his wages will suffer for his own prodigal deeds, but it is the prosperous and thrifty in America who will finally pay for the blunders of public servants.

Compared to other countries, the United States is financially strong but, as a nation, we are not prospering during the war. Wars, by their very nature, are destructive and currently we are spending money about twice as fast as our taxpayers are supplying it. Sad to say, it is not all being spent for liberty and peace. Like the newly-rich sharecropper, we have mortgaged our home and are squandering the money.

The executive department of the federal government has a monthly payroll of 650 million dollars. This sustains three million employees; more than three times as many as were feeding off that department when World War I ended. Government is pampering many incompetents, doing them no permanent good. Moreover siphoning off America's wealth to remote and desolate lands, through such extravagant mediums as Arctic pipelines, serves only to weaken America.

Swiftly our national debt of 175 billion dollars approaches what used to be considered the value of the nation's real estate. None of us can prosper in a bankrupt country; taxes would never permit it. All patriotic citizens have a grave, mutual problem and look to Congress for its solution: This nation must now conserve its financial strength in order to prevent insolvency at the close of the war. —George S. Benson.

EVEN WAR BONDS ARE MADE OF PULPWOOD.

Among the many war uses of pulpwood War Bonds shouldn't be overlooked. While they don't have the direct destructive power of gun powder made of pulpwood, nor the life-saving quality of blood plasma packed in pulpwood containers, they are essential to winning the war.

Buying War Bonds and cutting pulpwood are similar in at least two respects: One, they are primarily responsibilities of civilians on the Home Front and, two, they are necessary to back the men on the fighting front.

Actually farmers and woodmen in this area can do double duty for Uncle Sam and the man overseas this month.

They can cut a few cords of pulpwood and put their earnings in War Bonds. Besides helping speed the day of Victory, this is a good investment.

For a cash outlay of $18.75 every pulpwood cutter can get a $25 War Bond. That means a third more for his work.

Let's make this a record month by going over our quota in buying War Bonds and by cutting more pulpwood than any month this year. That will give Hitler and Tojo a double blow at a time when both of them are toppling. —Rhoderick Papers.

SECOND-HAND stories about wonderful new idea in cereals are reaching many ears. Get first-hand information. Try magic combinations—new Post's Raisin Bran. —Advertisement

MY HEART IS OVER THERE

That's why my HANDS are busy here!

MILLIONS of American women are applying their hands over here, answering Uncle Sam's call to help with our national food crisis. With 20 million Victory Gardens and five billion jars of home-canned foods, they conserved our resources of fighting foods in 1943.

In 1944 you are being asked to raise and preserve 20 percent more, to assure every fighting Yank and his brother—as well as the home front—with needed nourishment.

For success, can with care, following proper instructions, and use BALL JARS. They have been the housewife's preference for more than 60 years. Leaders always!

-the Victory Volunteers are coming to your home

WHO IS THE Victory Volunteer? He (or she) is someone in your community—probably a good neighbor—who is taking time from his work to put over the 5th War Loan Drive.

One of these volunteers may call at your farm soon—on the most important mission of the hour!

America has asked you before to do something more to smash Hitler and Tojo. But now, in this 5th War Loan Drive, you're asked to go all-out with every dollar you can scrape up—for war expenditures are greater now than at any time since Pearl Harbor. Double your War Bond investments. Invest—$200—$300—$400—more if you can.

Yes, it's that important. This war is mounting in fury every minute—as our fighting men plunge into the biggest and bloodiest battles of history. The men who fought and bled and died for you didn't hesitate. Only by answering "yes" to the Victory Volunteer—only by investing to the limit—can you come at all close to matching the spirit of our fighting men. For their sake—and for the sake of your own future—open your door and your heart!

5TH WAR LOAN DRIVE — JUNE 12TH - JULY 8TH

The 5th War Loan is the greatest "war call" ever sent to the American people. You will want to do your part. Buy all you can—the biggest bond you can afford. And then, when you think you've reached your limit—buy some more! Every dollar counts—NOW!

And Here are 5 EXTRA Reasons for Buying MORE Bonds in the 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds will assure the funds to replace worn-out farm equipment, machinery, and buildings.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

CORRESPONDENCE

Latest Items of Local News Furnished
By Our Regular Staff of Writers

We desire correspondence to reach our office on Thursday, if at all possible. It will be necessary therefore, for most letters to be mailed on Wednesday, or by First Mail, west on W. M. R. R., Thursday morning. Letters mailed on Thursday evening may not reach us in time. All communications for this department must be signed by the author, not for publication, but as an evidence that the items contributed are legitimate and correct. Items based on mere rumor, or such as are likely to give offense, are not wanted.

FEESERSBURG

We are having ideal June weather now, tho' the ground requires rain again—to keep things growing nicely. Cherries are ripening and the birds are up and at them. Strawberries are about over—a full crop in places and full prices, from 35 to 55c per quart. One delicious quart was given to us.

School closed last Wednesday noon and vacation is on. Many graduates have gone to new fields of labor, and those we know are well pleased; while others are trying to decide whom they'll favor with their attention, and later will wonder: "who will accept their services?"

Last Tuesday proved to be Invasion Day for the troops in Western Europe and excitement everywhere on this side; strong tension in manner and faces, the Nation at prayer, National music by the Marine Band—that caused tears for thousands of young soldiers who were on their way to suffering or death. With all the confusion on there was no hilarity no joking and people had to think soberly and prayerfully. As soon as the mass of humanity learns to trust and rely upon God—this war will end.

Mrs. Addie Crumbacker went to Frederick on Friday morning to spend some time in the Littlefield home, while the housekeeper is in the hospital for examination and treatment.

Miss Vivian Grider has secured employment in the Rubber Factory at Taneytown. She and Miss Frances Crumbacker travel to and fro with employees in Union Bridge.

Visitors at the Birely home the latter part of the week were: Mrs. Clarence Buffington and two daughters of Mt. Union, and their uncle, Harry Buffington, of New York City, who was visiting relatives and friends in this region after attending the fine wedding of his wife's niece, Miss Barrick in Woodsboro; Mrs. Katie Delphy O'Connor, of Baltimore, and Miss Ruth Sinnott, of Union Bridge, on Thursday evening. Miss Emma Ecker, of New Windsor spent Sunday afternoon at the same place, and on Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gardner and their daughter, Mrs. Robert Hearne, of Blue Ridge Summit.

At S. S. at Mt. Union on Sunday morning the lesson from Paul's private letter to Philemon was very interesting and instructive. An expression of thanks was read from the J. A. Koons family, for flowers sent at the time of Mrs. Koons funeral; also the kind acknowledgement of a Sunshine Box to Mrs. J. N. Starr, who is still confined to the house.

A letter from Kenneth Bair who is stationed somewhere in England, speaks of the beauty of that country now that the weather is more settled and says he is well cared for with food and other comforts, but he misses his dear friends over here. One day he met a young man of Keymar P. O., with whom he worked in Taneytown, and they had a fine talk-fest of past and present time. They are looking forward to coming home again—and every one will be glad to see them.

Miss Arlene Grider was home from Baltimore for the week-end. She likes her study and work at Beauty Culture.

From the Pocomo Mountains M. L. Koons informs us he and his wife are at home at Paradise again, and prospects are good for a full season, but late in starting, and difficult to get help to do anything. He is operating 2 victory gardens, and has 400 hills of potatoes in one. He will be kept busy if the grass grows as rapidly as here. They've had a wet cool spring too, and beans froze and had to be replanted. Cottages are in demand for rent—and most available ones taken.

Children's Service will be held next Sunday morning at Mt. Union—with songs, recitations and exercises, and the offering will be received as usual for benefit of the Orphans' Home at Loysville, Pa. A full attendance is hoped for, one church giving 20 to 40 dollars for the support of such an Institution, seems very small but many such churches giving that sum successfully maintains a good Home. Hay making is in progress, and the weather not so scorching hot as sometimes. Help scarce, but all who are able are out with rakes and forks after the mow has cut the grass. More hard work but very satisfying when accomplished.

A battle is on at our place, between the ground-hogs which have accumulated, and the fellows with traps and guns of various sizes. The animals now hide under chicken house, barn, sheds and wash-house; and have eaten off the nice lettuce bed—and now the lima beans and that doesn't make us any happier. Two of the young hogs have been captured, and the hunters are pressing on to victory. Other neighbors are having the same conflict.

LINWOOD.

Rev. Elmer Krek, C. U. Messler, Mrs. John Drach, Miss Bertha Drach, Mrs. Fannie Garver, Mrs. Harry Baugher and Miss Lotta Engler left Tuesday morning for Mathias, W. Virginia, to attend the District Conference of the Brethren Church.

Mrs. George Starr and Mrs. S. S. Englar attended the meeting of the Homemakers Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herbert Snyder, McKinstry's Mills.

Rev. Lauver and family, Chicago, arrived at the C. D. Bowman home, June 3rd. Rev. Lauver will have charge of the Pipe Creek Church of the Brethren having served that church last summer and making a host of friends who are glad to have him with them again.

The Linwood Planning Group enjoyed an ice cream and strawberries treat at the Frank Eyer home last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Ella Bovey, Mr. and Mrs. Brayden Ridenour, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, of Hagerstown, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Englar.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bowman left Wednesday for a visit with friends, at Roanoke, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shaver, motored to York, Pa., on Sunday.

Dr. Fidelia Gilbert, of Missionary from India, was a welcome visitor in our little village. She loves her work and expects to return when her furlough expires.

Mrs. Charles Hesson will be hostess to the Loyal Crusaders Class, on Thursday evening. Dr. Fidelia Gilbert will be the guest speaker.

LITTLESTOWN.

An invasion union prayer service was held in St. Paul Lutheran Church and was well attended. The service consisted of prayers of intercession, reading of Scripture, and singing of hymns. It was in charge of Rev. Wallace J. Cummings. He was assisted by the Rev. Theodore W. Boltz the Rev. Kenneth D. James and John Kammerer, a student at the Gettysburg Seminary. The churches of town will be open for persons who desire to enter for prayers.

Cpl. Harry Feeser, stationed in California, is spending fifteen days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Feeser.

The Bible School has an enrollment of 167 children from 6 to 14 years of age.

Pvt. John R. Bloom, spent the week-end with his wife and other relatives.

Mrs. Harry Webb and son, of Los Angeles, Calif., visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Erb and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Erb.

Miss Anna Baseahor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Baseahor, W. King Street and John H. Fleming, Hanover, were married Wednesday in the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Frederick. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. V. Garrett.

Damage estimated at between $3500 and $4000 was done when fire destroyed a combination milk refrigeration plant, summer house and garage on the farm of Clarence Lawyer, back of Christ Church, Saturday afternoon. The fire believed to have spread from a fire-place. When the Fire Company got there the end of the building was afire. The firemen had to lay a hose line to a cistern 1200 feet away. The firemen were handicapped by the lack of water. The Company remained for 4 1/2 hours. Two hours later the Company was called when the fire broke out again. Furniture, rugs and silverware belonging to Mr. Lawyer's brother that was stored on the second floor was consumed.

Mrs. Maggie Crouse, widow of George W. Crouse, was found dead on Monday morning in her home, R. D. 1. She had resided alone. She was aged 69 years. She was an active member of St. John Lutheran Church. The funeral was held on Wednesday morning in St. John Church. Her pastor, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, officiated. Interment was made in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Mrs. Emma Gouker, widow of Thomas O. Gouker, died Sunday afternoon at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kress, W. King St., at the age of 78 years. Funeral was held Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock in the St. Aloysius Catholic Church. The pastor, Rev. John H. Weber, celebrant. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Elmer T. Mehrling, formerly of town died in the Hospital at Harrisburg. He was 69 years old. Interment was made in Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown.

Howard G. Blocher, executor of the estate of Annie Yoost, offered at public sale on Saturday a house and same was purchased by Quinten Robert for $4875; personal property sold for $1250, the best sale ever made in town.

The Fish and Game Association held its meeting at the home of Mervin Harner, Black's Corner, Wednesday evening.

The Hartzler trio of New Windsor, gave a program Friday evening at the Legion Carnival, on Saturday evening. The High School Band under the direction of Paul Harner, gave a concert.

L. D. Snyder and Emory Snyder, owner of the Littlestown Hardware and Foundry Co., entertained their employees at the second quarterly dinner in the Social Hall of St. John Church, Thursday evening. A roast beef dinner was served by the ladies of the church.

NEW WINDSOR

Mrs. D. E. Engler, was hostess to the W. C. T. U., at her home on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Hibberd, of Brooklandwood, Md., visited their son here, on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Roop and daughters, visited relatives in Taneytown, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Roop, of Mt. Airy, Md., visited his parents here, on Sunday.

UNIONTOWN

Rev. and Mrs. Harry Lefever, of Harrisburg, was an overnight guest at the G. Fielder Gilbert home on Thursday night.

Mrs. Monroe Feeser spent last week with her brother, Sterling Fritz and family, Taneytown.

S/Sgt. James Caylor who is an instructor at the Combat Crew Training School at Rapid City, S. D., is enjoying a 15-day furlough with the George Caylor family, Edmond, Okla. Miss Florence Miller, Los Angeles, Calif., has also been a guest in the Caylor home.

Lt. Charles H. Smelser, Jr., a pilot on a B-17 flew from MacGill Field, Fla., to Trenton, N. J., on Sunday and came here for an overnight visit with his home folks. On Monday he was taken to Trenton by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Halter and son, Philip; Mrs. C. Harold Smelser, Misses Caroline Devilliss and Mary Lee Smelser. This group was privileged to visit on the plane, then watched Lt. Smelser and Lt. Freeman take off for Ohio enroute to Florida. On the return trip they passed over Uniontown.

The Raymond Kaetzel family, of Boonsboro, are spending the summer with the G. Fielder Gilbert family.

Rev. J. H. Hoch, Mrs. Raymond Kaetzel, and Dr. Fidelia Gilbert, are attending the sessions of the General Eldership at Harrisburg, Pa.

Mrs. Samuel Talbert and daughter, Gladys, Silver Spring, visited Mrs. Hugh Hiltbride, on Tuesday and Wednesday.

On Tuesday evening, June 13th, the Uniontown Minute Men had a special farewell party in honor of their 1st. Lieutenant, the Rev. Paul F. Warner, D. D., who is moving from the Uniontown community to his new appointment in the Arlington section of Baltimore, Md. The party was also in honor of three of the young men of the community, former Minute Men, who will soon enter the armed forces.

A feature of the evening program, held in the auditorium of the Uniontown public school, was an address by Mr. Merwyn Fuss, of Taneytown. In his address Mr. Fuss paid tribute to Dr. Warner, and talking to all the men in general commended them for their fine type of citizenship which they have been displaying, giving of their time and talent in unselfish community service. Mr. Fuss recommended three things for every citizen in view of today's wartime condition: "Attention to religious duties," such as church attendance and regular prayer for those in service; "The Support of the current war bond campaign," and "The determination of every American to keep America the truly democratic in the years that are ahead." Dr. Warner, in his response to tributes rendered, expressed the joy that has been his in this community. To the young men of the group entering the service of our country he said, "Be not only men, but be Christian men." Music was furnished by the Hartzler Brothers, of Union Bridge and New Windsor. Mr. Harry B. Fogle was chairman in charge of the program. Following the program an elaborate men's luncheon was served in the school cafeteria.

MISSION 146-F

(This story has no bearing on any particular person or units within the Air Forces, but is one that is enacted daily throughout all theaters of war.)

The General and his Staff have been sitting around the table for a long time. They've planned the target for tomorrow's mission. Now that they have finished it's up to the men who fly the planes—and those who keep them in flying shape.

Long before the take-off time, men are busy—the ground crews, "unsung heroes" Armament men, busily loading the many machine guns that bristle out all over the plane. Lifting huge bombs into the very belly of the ships. The mechanics, lovingly checking every part of the engines—their engines! Checking the controls for free and easy movement—there can be no failures! The radio mechanics, inspecting the radio equipment—the very heart of the plane. For, through radio, the navigator gets his bearings, so vital when flying in unknown territory or through fog and rain. Through radio the airplane is in constant contact with the ground. Through radio the all important identification signal is transmitted to the ground stations enroute indicating to them that the plane is friendly.

All are working feverishly at their jobs—there isn't much time left. Already the pilots and crews are in the briefing room. Intelligence officers, operations officers communications, target information officers—men from every department are there, instructing and explaining to the crews just what their job will be, the target they will hit, the approach, the bombing height, route to and from the target, and weather.

Now they're finished. The men slowly file out of the briefing room to the trucks and jeeps waiting to take them to their planes. Crews are arriving at their planes. Each crew piles out as their plane is reached. The crews chiefs are already warming up the engines. The men crawl up through the belly of the planes and go to their positions.

"Ready for taxi." The pilot calls over the interphones. "Ready for taxi," each member of the crew replies. Now the huge planes, with their lethal load of explosives, move out of the revetments and taxi slowly towards the strip.

They're at the runway—the pilot revs up the engines for the last time. "Ready for take-off." The plane turns and faces down the runway. The engines roar, and the man made bird of destruction slowly moves forward. Gaining speed rapidly, they roar past the control tower, midway down the strip. The pilot eases back on the controls, and the plane lifts gently off the ground. "Wheels up." The co-pilot moves a lever, the wheels start spinning, fold up into the wings. They circle, waiting for other planes to take off and join them in formation. Now they're all off, flying in flights of three, heading toward their target.

It's a little dull on the way to the target. The radio man keeps listening on the combat frequency, for there may be some last minute changes in plans. But his transmitters are silent—no Nip will hear him, and know that he is coming!

There's the target, just ahead. The planes go into their bombing run, the bombardier glued to his bombsight. "Bomb-bay doors open"—a few seconds longer, then—"Bombs away!"

It was easy—but wait. Those specks above, and to the right—"Zeros at two o'clock." They come in—guns blazing—to try and knock those bombers out of the air.

But the fire-power on those big planes proves to be too much—especially when the boys are staying in close formation. Wait! There's a bomber dropping back—two engines dead. Eagerly the Zeros forget the rest of the formation, and pounce upon the disabled plane. Bullets are screaming in all directions. The turret gunner suddenly stiffens, then sags limply in his seat. A lucky shot hits the radio. Now they are out of communication with the home base.

The pilot fights the controls. He's having a hard time, with two engines out. The Zeros keep coming in—they are determined to finish off their wounded prey.

Back at the home base, the ground crews nervously look at their watches. Yes, they should soon be coming back. Minutes pass, then there's a faint hum in the distance. The hum grows into a steady roar as the air-planes draw nearer and nearer. The men on the ground count them eagerly. There's "Sweet Sue," "Ball O' Fire," and so on. They've passed overhead—the men look at each other grimly—there's one plane missing. Which one? That is the question running through every mind.

The planes land and go into their revetments. All but one. The area in which "Beautiful Baby" once proudly stood is empty. The men wait. Slowly they try and force themselves to believe that the "Baby" is not going to come back. It's beginning to grow dusky—two of the men start off slowly toward the mess hall, although they don't feel like eating. The others wait—and wait.

"The 'Baby' was a great ship," one of them ventures, "Sixty-four missions, with five Zeros to her credit." Listen! No, it's the wind. But wait—it's, it's the hum of engines. The men are all eyes, now, scanning the sky in all directions. Suddenly—"There she is." But—is it the "Baby"? It grows nearer—the speck is larger now. "It's the 'Baby'." There's two engines gone, but it's the "Baby." No matter who shouted it—they were all laughing and shouting now. The planes lights go on—that means an ambulance is needed. They have one waiting at the strip.

The "Baby" lands, and pulls up at the end of the runway. They gently lift the turret gunner out, but it's too late—he's dead. They take him away in the ambulance; no one speaks. Now the plane has taxied to the revetment. Everyone goes to the mess hall for a long awaited dinner. Soon after the mechanics are back on the line, working feverishly again. Gotta get the "Baby" in shape again—but quick! After all, she's gotta fly again tomorrow, doesn't she?

LIEUT. WILLIAM R. SELL.

LETTER FROM DETROIT

the pleasure of working in the ground will be theirs.

That much married woman, of whom we made mention in our last letter now explains how she got into trouble. She evidently forgot how many husbands she had married, and got their last names mixed up when she wrote a letter to the Treasury Department, complaining about one of her allotments and signed the wrong name. She is making a fight and it is said that trouble may be experienced in proving the charges against her, as the Government will have to prove that she changed the allotments, and she says "her real name does not appear on any of them." The statement is made that only for the slip of the pen, she might have never been caught in her little game. Well, that's one way to make a living.

MY COUNTRY'S FLAG

My country's flag, unfurled shall be in every land, on every sea, The emblem of true liberty To all the world.

My nations praise, shall e'er be sung, In every land, by every tongue, For deeds of good and lack of wrong, That we have done.

My countrymen shall be the best, Because it is the Lord's behest, That here upon this soil shall rest His sovereign will.

My Native Land they shall not fill With those who 'reft of freeman's will Would stifle, aye even kill Our heritage.

"All those warm, delightful freedoms that we talk about and preach about can be as completely destroyed by vicious and shortsighted tax policies as by the rule of a conquering Tojo or Hitler."—Rep. Frank Carlson, Kansas.

"I personally believe in newspapermen as people, and in newspapers. I think the press today is giving us the straight dope."—Former Gov. Al Smith, N. Y.

"It is a great sorrow for us, and I do not want to resort to propaganda now."—B. Mussolini (remember?), broadcasting on the fall of Rome.

"We must face the fact that if we cannot agree among ourselves we will lose the next peace as we lost the last one."—Director of War Mobilization Byrnes.

"We must restrain ourselves and our hotheaded brothers today. If we do not, there will be no union after the war."—Pres. R. J. Thomas, UAW (CIO) on strikes.

BUY A WAR BOND FOR THE WAR MEMORIAL

Hundreds of folks in Carroll county will be buying bonds during the Fifth War Loans which is now in progress. Why not make a contribution of a bond to the Carroll County War Memorial Fund.

Bonds purchased for this purpose should be series "F" only, and can be had in denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500 and $1,000. Contributions for such purposes are deductible before payment of income taxes, up to 15% of the total amount of one's income.

It will be recalled that the Memorial Fund campaign for $50,000 was conducted during the 3rd War Loan last year, and many bonds were contributed. The full amount has not been reached, and knowing that there are many in the county who have not contributed, or who intended to give later, the committee feels that this is an ideal time to do so.

There are probably organizations, churches and individuals who would like to make a gift to the fund as a memorial to their members, or some member of the family. Do it during the 5th War Loan drive.

Contributions to the Memorial to date total $33,025.99. To meet the goal of $50,000 nearly $17,000 in additional contributions must be had. The many Carroll County boys now in the thick of battle in the invasion are worthy of this tribute—and more. Have you contributed?

Bonds and checks should be made payable to the "Carroll County War Memorial Fund," given to their district chairman or sent to the treasurer, J. Ralph Bonsack, Westminster.

TIRE INSPECTION DEPOTS

Effective Monday, June 19, 1944, four truck tire inspection depots will be in operation in Carroll County as follows:

Westminster: East End Amoco Service Station, Main and Court Sts. Goodyear Service, 47 East Main St.

Reese: The Reese Garage, R. F. D. No. 4, Westminster.

Mt. Airy: H. Deets Warfield, Main Street.

Truck operators will make application as usual to the Tire Inspectors who will forward the application and tire to the nearest Depot where they will be re-examined. If the strict requirements of the Depot are met, the application will be passed on to the local Rationing Board, and the tire will be held at the depot for final examination by the State Examiner.

Due to the extreme shortage of truck tires, inspections must be more careful and more detailed. Tires will be inspected not only for any possible service that may be in them, but for tire abuse such as:

- (1) Overloading.
  - (2) Failure to recap at the proper time.
  - (3) Running tires flat.
  - (4) Underinflation.
  - (5) Neglected mechanical defects.
- The cooperation of every truck operator and every tire and depot inspector will be necessary if essential trucks are to be kept in operation.

To the People of this Community

The next time you write to your fighting man or fighting woman tell him or her what you have done about the Fifth War Loan. You can take the word of General Eisenhower that your man or woman in uniform will be deeply interested.

Your War Bond buying is a good tip-off to them about the state of affairs in your home. The headlines in this newspaper on the progress of the drive, the items about participating individuals, the character of the Fifth War Loan special events—all these things reflect the morale back home.

Do you like to read a sorry headline about the invasion fronts? Our fighting forces, made up of individuals with the same reactions to good and bad as you, will not be heartened to read: "Fifth War Loan Lags."

Your silence in your letter about your part in the Fifth War Loan will mean non-interest, perhaps non-participation to the recipients. It's up to you to make your letters cheerful. Write today. Write often. Write about your war work, your war support. Double your best previous War Bond buying record and then shout it to the house-tops—just to that special service man.

THE EDITOR.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 18th.

The Golden Text will be from Hebrews 1:10—"Thou, O Lord, in the beginning, hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thy hands."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon will be the following from the Bible—Psalms 115:1—"Not unto us, O Lord, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake."

The Lesson-Sermon also will include passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, among which is the following, page 513—"Advancing spiritual steps in the teeming universe of Mind, lead on to spiritual spheres and exalted beings."

Animal Pest Control

Many domestic animals become unthrifty and do not gain in weight or produce products profitably because they are infested with external or internal parasites. Such animals are wasters of feed and do not pay adequately for labor and investments devoted to them. Internal and external parasites are invariably more prevalent in the winter, because of closer confinement, and cause the greatest feed and revenue loss at this time when feed costs are higher. Animal pest control will save valuable feed now.

Losses Riboflavin

When milk was exposed to direct sunlight in recent tests, it lost almost half of its riboflavin in an hour, and three-fourths in three hours. These tests show that milk should be put in a cool, dark place as soon as it is delivered. Milk and meat are depended on by many to furnish them with a large part of their riboflavin. This important vitamin is also found in green, leafy vegetables, whole cereal grains, liver, eggs and yeast.

Swine Abortion Infections

Swine are not susceptible to cattle abortion, but cattle may contract the swine type of the disease, warns the department of animal pathology and hygiene, University of Illinois college of agriculture. Every safeguard should be employed to prevent the disease from being spread to cattle. Pregnant cows should not be allowed in lots with aborting sows.

FIFTH WAR LOAN HAS GALA OPENING

Special Events Started In Counties

Maryland's Fifth War Loan Campaign opened officially on Monday, June 12, with unprecedented ceremony in Baltimore City and in the twenty-three counties of Maryland, according to W. Bladen Lowndes, Chairman of the Maryland War Finance Committee. War Bond rallies, luncheons, a spectacular Army show in the Baltimore stadium, flags, bands, and movie premieres were among the gala events.

T. Howard Duckett, Chairman of Prince George's County, reported a War Bond dinner on June 12, at the University of Maryland given through the courtesy of Dr. H. C. Byrd, President and member of the War Finance Committee. Speakers included Dr. Byrd, Walter N. Ruth, executive vice-chairman and Mr. Duckett. St. Mary's County staged a War Bond Rally on June 15, when Senator Millard Tydings spoke. Their big event will be Duke Day, June 22, when the county will buy War Bonds to the limit in honor of Captain Walter F. Duke, son of "Colonel" Roland Duke of Leonardtown. Captain Duke was credited with shooting down 14 Jap planes, but his record rose to 16½ during the past week. The St. Mary's moving picture theatre will give free seats to all who purchase Bonds at the box office. Mr. Kenneth B. Duke announced that this would be the Theatre's policy for the duration of the Drive.

Cumberland jumped the gun on Sunday, June 11, and started a three day celebration and War Bond promotion rally, according to Joseph M. Naughton, Chairman of Allegany County. He reported also, a novel bond promotion idea. "Baltimore Street is roped off," he said, "and at the head of the block are two coffins, each containing appropriately gruesome effigies of Hitler and Tojo. Each time a block of $10,000 in 'E' Bond sales are made, the coffins are moved one foot nearer the graves at the foot of the street. We hope to have considerable excitement and rejoicing at the funerals." On June 16, Mr. Naughton said, the famous Don Cossack choir, a chorus of 27 male voices, gave two concerts. One at the State Normal School at Frostburg at 3:30 P. M. and the other at Cumberland Fort Hill School at 8:15 P. M. On June 10 the Chorus gave a concert at Hagerstown, Md.

Baltimore City's opening day started in the morning with a barrage balloon display on Mount Vernon Place. The business and shopping districts of the City were spotted with rare military equipment, guarded by military personnel. At noon the 128th Band gave concerts through the area and from 12:45 to 2 P. M. played in Sun Square for a Rally. At 12:15 the Baltimore Advertising Club gave a luncheon to launch the Fifth War Loan Drive. The principle speaker was Dr. Peter Odgaard, professor of Economics at Amherst and Consultant to the Secretary of the Treasury.

A spectacular Army show, to which admission was free, took place in the City Stadium at 8:00 P. M. Display and demonstrations of equipment being used in the Invasion were featured. The WAC detachment at Edgewood Arsenal, Chemical Warfare Center, featured its own Drum Corps. Thousands of troops were massed and marched in review before high ranking military and naval officers. A packed stadium heard Major General Philip Hayes, Commanding General of the Third Service Command, speak.

Meanwhile, Baltimoreans who did not attend the Show saw a pre-release picture at Keith's Theatre, "The Hour Before the Dawn." The Glenn L. Martin Military Band gave a concert outside, as well as inside the theatre. On June 15 a War Bond admission game between the Orioles and Toronto took place at Oriole Park. The Don Cossack chorus performed and the Edgewood Arsenal Band gave a concert. G. H. Ponder is Baltimore City Chairman.

W. Bladen Lowndes said that many interesting events have been planned for both City and counties. "However," he added, "while these events are fun, there is a bigger show under way on the coast of France—a grim, serious show. We must not forget the real incentive of bond buying. Our own men and the men of our Allies are in this thing for keeps. Let's buy bonds that way. Buy as many as we can afford—and then make a sacrifice after that, to buy more. Maryland must make a quota of $228,000,000 before July 8. Our way has never been to just make a quota. We want to over-subscribe it and we want to be the first to do it! What do you say that we give our armies and Navy 'Enough and on time'?"

All county publicity chairmen are asked to forward news of their special events to the Public Relations office, 601 Maryland Trust Building, Baltimore-2, Md.

Old Machine

In 1940 a survey of metal working machinery in use in this country showed of the 1,323,131 machines then in use, 70 per cent, or 933,158, were over 10 years old.

Homemade Ice-Cream

Almonds make an excellent ingredient for homemade ice cream. They contain more than 52 per cent fat and thus give the dessert the richness we like.

Aid Natives
Navy armed guard seamen who have returned from delivering the goods to the back door of Russia explained how the army has licked the native labor problem. The natives in Persian ports can't read or write and it's their job to assemble the jeeps, tanks, and guns. The army sergeants who supervise the work have painted the nuts and bolts different colors. Thus all the native laborers have to do is to match a green bolt with a green nut or fit a red part into another red part. The natives may be illiterate, but they certainly aren't colorblind.

Rich Plains
National wealth from the fertile, rolling pampas of the central area of Argentina includes cattle, wheat, flax, corn, alfalfa for forage, sunflower products, linseed. From the plateaus of Patagonia in the south come sheep and sheep products. Olives, grapes and other fruits are outstanding in new farm developments in the west. The humid, subtropical north yields sugar cane, rice, and similar products.

Jobs for Handicapped
Persons handicapped by inactive pulmonary tuberculosis are placed in such jobs as bookkeeper, electric truck crane operator, lathe operator, millwright, painter, plumber's helper and tool clerk, according to Bureau of Labor statistics. Samples of jobs found for persons blind in one eye include bricklayer, cabinet maker, chef, die maker, mechanical draftsman, nurse aide, stenographer and stock clerk.

New Trade
The banana trade as we now know it is decidedly new. The first bananas to arrive in New York were brought here from Cuba in 1804. By 1830 occasional clipper ships were bringing small cargoes from Cuba and the Bahamas. This trickle gradually increased, but as recently as the Philadelphia Centennial of 1876, red bananas wrapped in tinfoil were sold as an exotic curiosity.

Crystallized Carbon
A diamond is just a chunk of crystallized carbon—a cousin to common coal—so hard that it will cut rock, glass, and steel, says the National Geographic society. The world has made "diamond cut diamond" the summation of hardness. The Greeks had a name for this quality in 327 B. C. From their adamas, "the unconquerable," the diamond got its name.

To the People of this Community

There will be a feeling of shame in this community if we find ourselves short of the mark when the Fifth War Loan comes to an end July 8.

We will not permit that to happen here, especially if we look around in our homes and our places of employment and see the shadows of relatives and friends who today are in the midst of bloody battle for us.

We cannot emphasize too strongly that regardless of the size of the oversubscription of our community quota, the Fifth War Loan will be a flat failure for you if you do not exceed anything you have done in the past in War Bond buying.

In this invasion hour our fighting men have a right to demand that you make your record contribution to the success of a war loan.

The slogan, Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before, is not merely a catch phrase. It expresses the cold facts about invasion. Unless we make the supreme effort to do everything humanly possible either at our work benches or in our homes, with our sweat, our blood and our dollars we hand over our share of the burden to our fighting men.

Horning In

By JEAN CAMERON
McClure Syndicate—WNU Features.

WHEN the car came abreast of the running girl in the trench coat the horn sounded raucously once, twice. She hesitated a moment, tugged her hat over her loose curls and jumped in. "So chemicals help drafting—thank you," she said.

The sandy-haired man behind the driver's seat looked at her gloomily. While her face was unfamiliar, he knew draftsman had been employed for some weeks now. "How far, Miss—"

"To the highway intersection, please. Kay Farnham. I'll be quiet," she added, after another glance at the strong chin. "I know you're planning explanations for the Government inspection committee tomorrow."

The chin stiffened perceptibly. So the Government committee was coming, eh? The drive was a silent one. At the highway Donald crawled out and opened the door for his passenger. She smiled. "You're the first man to do that in two months, Mr. McAllister. And—and I am highly flattered that you took me home." He did not realize that the girl remained standing in the street until his car vanished from sight. She had noticed him in the halls and offices for some time.

McAllister was angry, with a cold, calculated, frightening rage that had been developing for many weeks. Let Wilson run the chemical department as he ran and bullied everyone else—all right, just so long as he kept out of McAllister's way; let him have the soundproof laboratory, priorities, assistants—all right. He himself would work overtime, be underpaid, refuse better offers—all right. If this experiment succeeded—if he could work it out and it was accepted, it would be worth all of Wilson's sneers. He'd have done his part.

But the Government inspectors were coming tomorrow and not to test his model or his method! Well... his temper at a fine edge, he swung and headed back to the factory.

In spite of his pugnacious look, his height and his square shoulders, there was a mildness about Donald—something in the color of his hair, the blue of his eyes, his general absent-mindedness—which led people to think him timid. He had never cared, for he believed in attending strictly to his own business. And yet perhaps it was Cornelia's treatment which had helped to produce his present fury.

Cornelia believed in Cornelia first, peace or war. She was soft, blonde, helpless, appealing to big men. She demanded things and got them. And now that so many men were gone she had been concentrating on Donald with excellent results.

There was a quick hush as he entered the office, a bending of heads back to work. He glanced toward his desk; his lips tightened. "I thought I told you to stay out of my things, Wilson," he said slowly, striding over to his private corner.

A beefy, self-confident man swung about. "I was looking for a pencil," he grinned, nonchalantly ignoring the fact that two projected from his breast pocket. Donald controlled himself with a conscious effort and closed the desk top. He felt rather than saw Wilson's foot moving the wastebasket into a tripping position behind him, and kicked backward so violently that the basket shot between his ankles and he fell headlong.

He was up in an instant, furious, his fists lifted, but Donald's look lowered them. "Can't you take a joke, McAllister?" he asked feebly, realizing that his long domination of the office was crashing and that the story would soon sweep the whole plant.

"No," snapped Donald. He tramped across the room and slammed the sales manager's door behind him. "No, Mr. Bentley, you're not too busy to listen to me," he said, and poured out every demand he had formulated during his drive—better instruments, additional quarters, storage space, and full hearing before the committee. "I came here to work," he concluded. "If I can't do that here I'll go where I can. Pay Wilson what you want for making a general nuisance of himself. Give him any title you like—but let me do a good job!"

"Of course," gasped the sales manager. "Naturally. We thought you were quite satisfied, Mr. McAllister. We'll have a new contract for you in the morning. We..." Donald turned and left.

In the outer office a stenographer came up to him. "A lady has been calling," she reported. "Miss Cornelia Adkins, she said."

Donald did not pause. "Tell her I haven't come in."

In the lab he pulled on his rubber gloves. He was quite calm now. He would get right at that solvent. But first—he pulled off the gloves, made a notation on his calendar—"Take girl in drafting room to lunch after committee report tomorrow."

Nice girl, he thought, arranging bottles carefully on the sink. He'd tell her—no, women were funny. Better not tell her he hadn't meant to pick her up, that when he bent over to rescue his fountain pen from the floor of the car he had accidentally pressed the horn.

Store Easily

Dry beans are one food that any family can store in the home easily, without danger of spoilage. If they are kept in a metal can with a tight fitting cover, mice cannot reach them. To prevent weevils from developing, pour a little chloroform or carbon disulphide on top of the beans in the can and close it tightly.

Post of Valor

Marines at "point" position walk in advance of their patrol. Their duty is to give warning of the presence of an enemy and to fire on all hostile elements within effective range. These heroic fatalities often sacrifice their lives detecting snipers and Jap jungle traps.

Cheap Meals

According to a release of the department of agriculture, in 1936 there were 20 million people living in families receiving some form of government assistance who spent, on the average, five cents or less per person per meal.

WHAT HAVE YOU DONE

There is only one thing in this world that lasts forever. Only one thing has eternity stamped upon it. That everlasting thing is the thing you have done. Whatever you do lasts in you. That is immutable and unchangeable. Some people would give a million dollars to change something they have done—an unkind deed, an injurious word—but it cannot be changed. It's here to stay.

Feelings pass. One day we are happy and carefree. The sun shines bright in our old subconscious self. God's in his heaven all's well with the world! The next day we are down in the dumps. The clouds of dejection and sadness sweep over us and envelop us. We are in the slough of Despond!

Resolutions and convictions change. Today we highly resolve to write a letter, to hoe the garden, to visit a sick friend, or to give a pint of blood to the Red Cross. Tomorrow we put it off until it is forgotten amidst the traffic of a busy life. On Sunday we go to church and form the conviction that we ought to live better lives. On Monday we return to our old habit of gossiping, cheating and doing malicious mischief.

Opinions alter. Today we believe F. D. R. is going to run for a fourth term. Tomorrow there are others that will take his place. At this moment we know that the war will be over in Europe in 1944 but in a trice we change our opinion and know for a certainty that it will continue into 1945.

And so too are material things. In my garden grows a tiny blue flower. In the morning it opens a full bloom, in the evening it withers and drops from the stem. In spring the leaves burst from their buds, in summer they are full grown shading the hot sun from beast and man, in the fall they turn to every known color and then drop to the ground to enrich the soil and begin their cycle once more.

Let a man do a thing, and immediately it becomes a part of him, as part of the life of others and a part of the world consciousness. It lies there, sometimes rather dormant for a while but some time sooner or later it will crop up again; sometimes it is very active, like yeast, leavening the whole lump. We may well remember, "What a man does will never die."

A GOOD SOLDIER OF CHRIST JESUS

LESSON TEXT—II Timothy 2:1-4, 8-12;
4:5-8.
GOLDEN TEXT—Suffer hardship with me, as a good soldier of Christ Jesus.—II Timothy 2:3.

"A good soldier"—what a wealth of meaning there is in that simple phrase. We think of our own hometown boys who have distinguished themselves in the service of their country, who have proved again that there is that in American life which can meet a crisis and do it well.

"A good soldier of Jesus Christ" is an even more significant phrase, speaking of that fine loyalty and devotion which Christians of all ages, yes, and of our day, are giving to the Captain of our salvation, our Commander-in-Chief in the great spiritual warfare going on in all the earth.

In our lesson we note that the soldier is—

I. Obedient (2:1, 2).

There is something to be done, and the soldier is enlisted for the purpose of doing it. In the case of the Christian soldier, it is to see that the gospel message which he has received is passed on to others.

Personal work is God's method, one man telling another, and another, and another. This is to be a continuous matter, not just now and then, and each one is in turn to become a soul-winner.

As each one wins others and the witness is multiplied by the law of arithmetical progression, the total result is tremendous.

Why, then, has the entire world not been long since completely evangelized? Because we who are Christians are not all obedient soldiers of Christ.

II. Loyal (2:3, 4).

No soldier can serve well with a divided loyalty. He cannot be running a business back home, or taking on outside interests to divert his attention. Being an efficient and useful soldier is his first and only business.

Have not the military authorities in this war asked those who are at home to keep the problems of the home and business out of the letters to men in the army? Do they not require a man to leave home and family and give his all to the service?

The soldier for Christ must please the Lord, even though it involve bearing "hardness." It is no soft and easy business to be a soldier. "Blood, sweat and tears" are the order of the day. Shall we not do as much for our Lord?

III. Prepared (2:8-12).

Training is of highest importance for a soldier. He must know what to do, and why he is doing it. He must understand the reason for obedience and the purpose of the warfare. In other words, he must be a disciplined man, prepared to serve effectively.

The soldier for the Lord is to "remember Jesus Christ," his resurrected Lord and victorious Commander. He knows for whom and under whom he fights.

He also knows (vv. 10, 11) that the message he bears is God's Word, and will succeed even though the bearer of it suffer and die. He is prepared to die, if need be, before he will deny his Leader (v. 12).

IV. Faithful (4:5-7).

Watch, endure, work, be faithful to the very end. Such is the obligation, yes, and privilege of the soldier for Christ. Paul was able to admonish young Timothy to such complete faithfulness because he had himself exemplified these virtues in his own life.

Those who are called upon to command men must themselves be good soldiers. There is an encouraging note from the battlefields of this great war. One learns that the commanding officers are at the front, not hidden away in dugouts far behind the lines. The men take courage as they see the bravery of their officers.

What that meant in Paul's case may be learned from the story of his life, which is condensed in a brief statement in II Corinthians 12:23-33. He really endured affliction for Christ's sake.

V. Victorious (v. 8).

A nation at war can stand the strain and bear the agony if it can be sure of ultimate victory. The grave disappointment of losing a battle, or the deep sorrow of heavy casualties, can and will be borne for the sake of the final triumph of the righteous cause.

In the battle for Christ, we know that the result will be victory. The faithful soldier shares the fruits of victory. The Christian soldier shall one day receive from his Lord and Leader a crown of righteousness.

When will that great day come? When Jesus Christ returns (Matt. 16:27). He is coming again; first for His own, and then in glorious revelation of Himself as the judge of all the world. His victory over all His enemies will then be complete, and He shall reign forever and ever.

Chile Raced France for Right to Magellan Straits

The storm-swept Straits of Magellan, only maritime link between Atlantic and Pacific until the Panama canal was built, might now be French had it not been for a tiny, two-gun Chilean corvette of only 43 tons displacement.

The year 1843 found Chile with nominal control to the straits by virtue of old Spanish colonial grants, but without actual jurisdiction over them. International usage required a nation to establish a settlement, no matter how small, on unoccupied territories in order to claim them, and Chile had failed to meet that requirement.

First to attempt to establish claim to the southern tip of South America and dominate the straits was France. In the summer of 1843 the Phaeton, one of the fastest ships in the French navy, was outfitted for an unusually long voyage and set sail.

News of the French warship's journey across the Atlantic filtered into Chile, and as further reports were received, its destination and purpose became clear. President Bulnes ordered the two-gun corvette Ancud from the seaport of the same name to take possession of the strait for this country.

The Ancud, commanded by Capt. John Williams, an English sailor serving in this country's navy at the time, set sail with a crew of 23 and a month later—on September 21, 1843—dropped anchor off the site of present-day Magellanes. A small group of convicts from the Ancud penitentiary was landed, and with a 21-gun salute the Ancud claimed the southern extremity of the continent for Chile by establishing a penal colony on the spot.

Date Production in U. S. Has Trebled Since 1933

Production of dates in the United States has increased to an annual harvest of approximately 15 million pounds, three times the pack of ten years ago.

Dates are raised commercially in the Southwest where the annual yield now approaches a third of the normal import figure, says the National Geographic society. California has more than 3,500 acres planted to dates, mostly in the Coachella and Imperial valleys. Arizona's 700 acres are in the vicinity of Phoenix and Yuma. Texas grows dates in the lower Rio Grande valley, and between Laredo and San Antonio.

Early in the present century government scientists surveyed world sources to find the date palm best adapted to various U. S. climates and soils, going to North African oases, to the Valley of the Nile, to Iraq, and even to Baluchistan. Thousands of date palm offshoots were brought back for domestication in California and Arizona.

Dry Fast

Foods dry out rapidly at the humidities usually prevailing at high temperatures, as is evidenced by the ready wilting of many vegetables and fruits. Drying is ordinarily slower at the chillroom temperatures of 33 to 40 degrees, but even within that range, stored foods will shrink unless the surrounding air is kept relatively moist. The evaporation of ice from foods stored in freezers is slower than that of water from unfrozen products but the drying continues even at zero or below. The dried, pithy, outer layers of some stored frozen lean meat and other foods is called "freezer burn." Uniform temperatures in properly designed freezers will decrease the rate at which frozen products lose moisture, but only by wrapping or packaging foods in moisture and moisture-vapor-proof coverings can the relatively dry freezer air be prevented from robbing stored foods of water.

Press Seams

Success or failure in making a garment often depends on the way it is pressed during the making as well as after completion. Always test temperature of iron on scrap of fabric before pressing.

Press seams immediately after stitching. Do not wait until dress is completed. Never rest iron on fabric. Keep it moving constantly to avoid marking fabrics.

Press all seams up from bottom or in towards center of garment. Press darts on light fabrics to one side, either up or towards center. On heavy fabrics slash darts and press open. Lift gathers while working point of iron into them.

While pressing, always smooth garment into correct shape so that fabric is not stretched. Continue smoothing fabric before passing iron over it to avoid pressing creases into it.

Care of Honey

To liquefy honey that has granulated or solidified place the container in a bowl of warm water—not warmer than the hand can bear—until all crystals are melted.

To store honey, keep liquid honey in a warm dry place where the temperature is 75 degrees F or over, or in a cold place where the temperature is below 55 degrees F. Freezing does not injure the color or flavor but may hasten granulation. Avoid damp places for storage because honey has the property of absorbing and retaining moisture. Do not put comb honey in the refrigerator. It is better kept at room temperature.

On Our Way

People in the United States are still allowed to own property. We are all used to the idea and it does not seem strange to us, but in some countries it is not allowed and many politicians oppose it. They are not all in far-away Muscovy either. Some people right here in America think it is wrong to own property. They are not saying much about it because such talk would do them no good right now. But they are gaining converts quietly.

Fortunately a big share of Congress is elected by farmers, even yet. Farmers own property and like it. Suppose some farm-state congressman should dare to suggest that all farmers surrender their fields to the government and take a government farm job. He would be a false representative; would face sure defeat at the polls. That's why communists have to hide from Congress while they cook their imported poisons into medicine for you and me.

The First Objective

One of the main things that communist politicians are aiming at is the "abolition of private property." Of course they can't argue anybody into the notion of giving away their property. They know that. The only way they can separate an owner from his property is to make it impossible for him to keep it. The easiest way to do that is to make taxes so high he can't afford to own it. That's about what's happening here now.

The communist platform of Karl Marx has in it two wicked tools for transferring property to the government from private individuals, such as farmers:

- (1) A heavy, graduated income tax—the bigger the income the higher the rate.
- (2) Killing the right of inheritance.

Together, those two instruments can do the foul work they are designed to do. By the way, we have No. 1 in America already. No. 2 has been seriously advocated in our own Congress.

A Ceiling Necessary.

Congress could set up no better fender against communism in this country, could devise no safer strategy for the home front, than to take tax laws more intelligently in hand. There is a movement on foot already to amend the Federal Constitution so as to make 25% the top tax rate on gifts and inheritances and, except in war time, on personal incomes. Maybe 25% is high, but it's a ceiling and I'm for it.

Already 14 states: Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Wisconsin and Wyoming have endorsed the move by act of legislature. Such a Constitutional Amendment would bring several incidental benefits to national prosperity besides setting up a safeguard against the transfer of private property into public hands by the tax route.

Let Incentive Live

Only recently this column told about an aged man of means declining to finance a promising home enterprise because the biggest possible return (after taxes) on his investment could not justify the risks involved, although the risks seemed small. Without a chance for financial improvement, old men will not risk their savings, nor will young men contribute their time, energy and ingenuity. Tax rates like 85c on the dollar paralyze progress.

Opportunities to make a profit start new industries and keep old ones going. The United States is sure of an employment problem after the war, unless industry is freed from the ball-and-chain effect of existing taxes.

"The real remedy for unemployment is the creation and maintenance of work opportunities for working men and women in private industry." Who said that? None other than Matthew Woll, while he was vice-president of the American Federation of Labor. He was dead right too.

A Soldier's Tribute to Fathers

By profession I am a soldier and take pride in that fact but I am prouder, infinitely prouder, to be a father. A soldier destroys in order to build; the father only builds, never destroys. The one has the potentialities of death; the other embodies creation and life. And while the hordes of death are mighty, the battalions of life are mightier still. It is my hope that my son when I am gone will remember me not from the battle but in the home repeating with him our simple daily prayer "Our Father Who Art In Heaven." DOUGLAS MACARTHUR

One-Way Ride

When a nation of free people turns its political course in the direction of State Socialism, there is something strangely final about it. Not one comes back without a revolution. Many an ignorant European toiler has danced in colorful costume beneath what he was told to call an arch of triumph for Government Management, learning very soon that it was a yoke of endless bondage.

Why do they blunder into such traps? This question puzzles many Americans. Don't Europeans know any better? Can't they see what happens to other nations nearby? To both questions, the answer is "No." In many European countries the enlightened class is the ruling class and it is small. Many poor folk who read a little can't afford a newspaper. They don't have a chance to use their heads. Craftier people fool them and rob them endlessly.

Can Happen Here

Somebody is always trying a European shell-game on the American people with rather poor success because the average American is equipped to protect himself. Unfortunately socialistic flim-flam has fooled some people on this side of the ocean. Americans who boost government management have little to say in its favor. They talk more about the abuses of Private Enterprise than about the advantages of other systems.

I wonder how often I have heard some intelligent person say, "In America, 5 per cent of the people own 95 per cent of the wealth." Most people who repeat the falsehood have no idea where they first heard it. It sounds like statistics but it's not. It is plain propaganda to dissatisfy honest people with what they have and make them want something else—anything else.

Here's the Truth

Just recently the U. S. Department of Commerce gave out some real figures on national income, and they ought to blot out that 5-95 myth everywhere. National income is no puzzle either: Everybody understands personal income; that's what one person earns. Family income is the sum of what everybody in the family earns. Just so, national income is the grand total of what all Americans earn.

In 1943 our national income was 150 billion dollars. Two thirds of this (100 billion dollars) went to working people in the form of salaries and wages. Farmers got 13 billion more. Corporations got eight billion dollars, and most of them were not big corporations. If all corporations are big-bad-wolves with greedy hearts, how did they permit workers to beat them to 87 1/2 per cent of the money last year?

A Fatal Decision

Whether they have any reason for it or not, most advocates of government management (which leads eventually to government ownership) are angry at corporations. They have not been taught that corporations provide the jobs at which workers earned their 100 billion dollars; nor that the 13 billion dollars received by farmers was money used to feed the families of those same workers.

If prejudiced people turn to government management as the plainest road leading away from capitalism; if they can get enough other people to turn with them, they should understand that they are taking a one-way road. Private enterprise has made the world's most prosperous country; State Socialism has consistently failed. Some systems can be changed, but nations going to government management do not return without violence.
