SERVICE MEN LETTERS

Many and Varied are their Experiences

Somewhere in Germany, Nov. 11, '44

Dear Charlie:
Just a line today to tell you and all my many friends that I'm well and as happy as one can be living on the Sigfried line. We had our first snow on the 8th which continued for over two days.

I've had a pass to a town in Belgium and enjoyed myself very much. We're also putting out passes to Paree, and I hope to have the good fortune to visit that wonderful city some day. We came through Paris on our way to Germany, and the glimpse I received of it from the jeep impressed me as the most beautiful city I've ever seen. Traveling from Brest, France to Germany we naturally traveled all the way across France. After getting past the battle scarred countryside we traveled through some beautiful places. France is really a beautiful country—rolling and well kept. I can't say much for Germany as yet, as about all I've seen is hills and woods and their strong defenses built by the big German war machine during the past several years. Nevertheless they do afford a warm and dry place for us to live.

Recently we spent a week in a Belgium village to get a well deserved rest. The people spoke "Dutch", and it really was amusing to see the "Yanks" trying to talk to the civilians. We occupied rooms in the homes of the civilians. They cleaned up each morning, made our beds and started the fire, keeping wood and coal supplied for us during the day. A red wine is their main drink—but to me it was like red ink.

I'm getting my copy of "The Record", and really enjoy it. I suppose Taneytown is preparing for the Thanksgiving feast and then the big holiday season. For us—our Xmas boxes are starting to arrive and we have the snow so will be having a continuous Christmas for the next few months.

We see many buzz bombs these days, only a few have landed near us, but close enough for us to feel the jar. They really are a wonderful weapon—fast and destructive. They roar across like a terrific rocket, making a terrible roaring noise.

Here's my sincere wishes to all for a happy holiday season. May we all pray for the safety of our men all over the world. What a wonderful time it will be when we meet again in Taneytown. Oh yes, Ira Caldwell, who married Anna Virginia Lambert, is in Co. E of this Battalion. We had a grand time talking of home, etc. Sincerely,

("Eddie" as he was called here in his home town, was very modest when he wrote the above letter, as he could have mentioned that he has received three decorations—First, the Purple Heart, which with the piece of Sharpnel which wounded him, is in the possessions of his wife, Mrs. Rose Reid—the bronze Star, for bravery outside his line of duty, which will be given him when discharged, and the Soldier's combat decoration.—Ed.)

Nov. 19, 1944.

Dear Mr. Stoniesfer:
Again I will have to drop you a short letter, to say thanks for your paper and news from home.

We boys read the paper and then pass it on to other boys. I am with some of the boys with whom I went through Boot Training.

I have been moved from one unit to another at Norfolk, Va., so will you please forward my mail to my new address. Thanks again for your paper. As ever a Sailor from Taneytown.

England, Nov. 2, 1944.

Dear Sirs:
I've gone that far and I'm stuck already as to what to write about. I'm not much of a letter writer, but I should have written before this, so if you will pardon me for not writing sooner, I'll try to scratch you a few lines now.

We arrived over here safely and O. K. and after the first few days of being sea sick (including myself in on that) we had a very enjoyable and interesting trip. I find England very beautiful and very much like the country in the eastern part of the good old U. S. A. The leaves are changing color and the grass is so green and heavy—a nice large lake just across the road with plenty of fish just waiting to be caught—wild duck all over the lake, with a beautiful swan being king of the place—Quail and pheasants all over the place—quite an ideal place for a sportsman, and also for an artist with a brush and some paint. I tried a bent pin and a couple feet of shoe strings and what have you on these fish, but I only got one nibble—fun though, but just give me a rod and reel and I'll see about only one nibble. Everything is built to preserve and you can really admire the English for that.

Everything is kept orderly and very neat. "Austin's" seem to be the most used automobile, with occasionally a few "Chevies" and Fords, only built on a smaller scale than our own. The English are hard workers and very kind and pleasant people. They seem to go out of their way to do

SHOP AND MAIL EARLY

URGES P. O. DEPT.

Suggestions Made to Avoid Disappointments

Public response to the Post Office Department's "Shop Now! Mail in November" campaign is good but needs to be better, according to Postmaster General Frank C. Walker.

"Extraordinary wartime conditions face us," Mr. Walker said. "Unless more people buy and mail this month the Postal service cannot do its job of delivering all Christmas gifts on time."

"It is not pleasing to us to have to ask the American people to mail packages so far in advance of the delivery date. We do so only because it has to be done. The job is a tremendous one, but we are confident that it will be done because we know from experience that given sound reasons Americans cooperate magnificently."

"Unprecedented shortages of man power and transportation facilities growing out of the war compel early mailing. The Postal Service has given 50,000 experienced employees to the armed forces and 300,000 railroad workers have gone to war. Equally serious is the fact that rail and other transport facilities are taxed to the limit with the great burden of war traffic which all of us know must take precedence."

"In a great number of our 43,000 post offices the man power situation is critical. The 200,000 extra workers whom we normally recruit to handle the swollen Christmas volume of mail were able to work long hours of overtime and to do heavy work. This cannot be expected from the women and high school boys and girls to whom in large part we must look this year to meet the situation."

"The way in which everyone responded in making it possible for us to handle a volume of 70,000,000 parcels for the armed forces overseas leaves no doubt in my mind that the November Christmas mailing will be equally successful. I ask for the help of the press, radio, business advertisers, civic groups and all Americans in making it possible for the Postal Service to do its work."

"We urge everyone to buy now, mail in November and mark gifts 'Do not Open Until Christmas.'"

ADDITIONAL GASOLINE FOR TRUCK OPERATORS

The Office of Price Administration today clarified the conditions under which operators of commercial vehicles may apply for additional gasoline, under the authorization of the Office of Defense Transportation, which became effective October 16, 1944.

Mr. Leo H. McCormick, State Director, explained that local War Price and Rationing Boards may now allocate temporary allotments of gasoline to commercial motor vehicles because of seasonal conditions or emergencies, but only to cover the needs of a non-recurring nature in the current quarter. If an applicant returns the following quarter for an additional allotment for similar reasons, the Board will carefully analyze the request since it is likely to indicate a recurring need. If the Board finds that the request constitutes a recurring need the applicant will be given Form CWN-1 and advised to file it with his ODT District Office.

"In some cases," Mr. McCormick said, "the first request made by the applicant to the Board for additional transportations may indicate a recurring need. Such applicants will also be referred to their ODT District Office."

The graduate was selected for her specialty training on the basis of her recruit training aptitude tests and past civilian experience. The completed course of study included shorthand, typing, Naval correspondence, records and forms, and current events.

Experience gained through her new assignment will enable her to win further advancement.

what they can to help you. I was invited out for tea one Sunday and I must say I spent a very interesting and enjoyable afternoon and evening, all in all. I like England and the English very much, but don't get me wrong, I'm ready to go home as soon as it is all over with.

I'm hoping to see some of the boys over here and just as soon as I can get some addresses, I want to try and locate them. We have a very nice set up here and we can't complain at all. They are doing all they can to give us recreation and I must say they are doing alright so far—movies nearly every night and dances quite frequent. What more could you ask for?

Must close for now and do some work. I'm hoping to receive the good old "Record" again soon, so until then I'll wish you all a very happy Thanksgiving. I remain,

SOCIAL SECURITY

Instructions Regarding Benefit Claims

Dwight Billings, manager of the Hagerstown office of the Social Security Board, has announced that upon request it will re-calculate the amount of old-age and survivors insurance benefits available to once-retired workers to include credit for wages received since the benefits were first claimed.

"This action," Mr. Billings said, "is intended to take into account the fact that many workers past the age of 65, who have retired and drawn benefits, have gone back to work since the country started its preparation for war. Originally, these workers by filing a claim set their benefits so that they could not be moved up or down. But they returned to work unexpectedly, and generally have received higher wages than they received before. The Board has therefore announced that, in order to meet the intent of the law, their benefits may be recomputed in order to credit towards monthly retirement benefits the wages they received after they had once filed a claim."

To prevent confusion or misunderstanding, Mr. Billings issued the following cautions:

(1) Increased benefits will be available only to workers 65 or older, who have claimed benefits and who subsequently have worked in jobs covered by the Social Security Act, and, generally, at higher pay than their former average monthly wage. The benefit amounts of widows, orphans or aged parents whose benefits were based on wages up to the time of an insured worker's death cannot be changed.

(2) Benefits will be re-calculated upon request of beneficiary.

(3) The new announcement does not mean that any person may receive benefit while working in jobs covered by the law. The law provides that benefits must be suspended for any month in which the beneficiary makes more than $14.99 on a covered job.

(4) There is no need for anybody who has been working in covered employment after he filed a claim to ask for a re-computation of his benefits as long as his pay stays as high as his average monthly wage between January 1, 1937 and the date he filed his claim. On the other hand, if his pay starts going down—as a result of illness, reduced hours, loss of his job or for any other reason—the worker who is 65 or older should consult the nearest office of the Social Security Board at once.

The Hagerstown office of the Social Security Board is located at 74 W. Washington St.

In time, Mr. Billings pointed out, the new ruling will prove beneficial to many workers who attain age 65 and face the possibility that reduced pay, no matter what the cause, may result in reduced benefits. In the past, he said, some of these workers have chosen to "freeze" their benefit amounts by filing a claim, even though they intended to keep on working. That protected them against any drop in the benefit, but it also prevented any increase. The net effect is that a worker, upon reaching age 65 may "peg" his benefit so that it will not be reduced but can be increased on the basis of his future work record.

PAYMENT FOR COVER CROPS

Ferris R. Penn, Chairman of the Carroll County Agricultural Adjustment Agent, wishes to correct a misunderstanding of some of the farmers in the county regarding payment for cover crops seeded in 1944.

Some farmers believe that they will receive payment for the establishment of cover crops in addition to their 1944 farm allowance. This is not the case. Only in case where farmers have not earned all of their 1944 Farm Allowance by the application of lime or superphosphate is it possible for them to earn all or part of their farm allowance by the establishment of cover crops.

WAR FUND CLOSES

NOVEMBER 25

A Final Plea is Made to Those Who Have Not Contributed

The National War Fund campaign in Carroll County will be concluded on Saturday, November 25th.

Partial reports record contributions totaling $16,231.25, collected to Monday morning, November 20th. For the past three weeks an appeal has been made to the people of Carroll County to join the nation in supporting the National War Fund. To date, the Mt. Airy and Freedom Districts, and two of the four Westminster sub-districts have reported contributions in excess of their quota. Generally, however, the people in other districts have not responded in proportion to the importance of the appeal. The need for the money raised in this campaign is immediate and imperative. This appeal is actually from our own boys. It is an opportunity for the people to give in blood, sweat and tears. This is a campaign in which each individual must give more than ever before if we are going to match the sacrifice of our "boys!"

Will the soldier, sailor or marine from the Taneytown District be hurt and disappointed when he reads in this paper that the people of the Taneytown District did not come through for him in this War Fund drive? Has each individual's contribution been a thoughtful gift, or has it been just an offering? The money you contribute does not go to any government agency—it's for your "boys!" No money you could give could do a more timely—and a more vitally needed job.

POST-WAR FARM PROGRAM

Following more than a year's study of farm problems a program for Maryland agriculture in the post-war period, covering 18 phases of farm activities, has been formulated and approved by the State Post-War Agricultural Committee, Governor Herbert R. O'Connor made known Thursday.

The State Committee is composed of representatives of all farm and home organizations, specialists of the University of Maryland, Federal Agencies carrying on agricultural programs in Maryland, the State Bankers' Association, and the State Department of Forestry.

Under Dr. T. B. Symons, Director of the Extension Service, University of Maryland, as chairman, the committee has established subcommittees throughout the State, composed of persons deemed most capable of developing proposed programs dealing with the various phases of a broad agricultural and rural life program. The committee likewise arranged that these proposed programs should be considered by county and local community groups before being presented to the State Committee for approval.

The eighteen phases on which the respective subcommittees made recommendations were: Farm Crops, Animal Industry, Dairying, Poultry, Fruits, Vegetables and Canning Crops, Tobacco, Insect and Disease Control, Conservation, Farm Engineering (Rehabilitation of farm plant and equipment), Marketing Farm Products, Rural Homes, Rural Youth, Farm Economics (Farm labor and adjustments in management practices), Education (including rehabilitation of war veterans), Farm Organizing, Rural Institutions (Roads, taxes, credit, land tenure, etc) and Federal State Relations.

One of the outstanding features of the program approved by the committee, and to be made available in printed form for distribution throughout the State, is greater local autonomy and the right of the people to have some say in the conduct of programs that affect them most intimately are proposed in the program on Federal-State relations. It urges a return by the Federal Government to the policy pursued successfully for many years of conducting Federal-State work in the interest of agriculture through and by the Land-Grant Institution in the State, rather than by dictation from Washington.

BOY SCOUTS EXCEED PAPER GOAL

The Boy Scouts of America have exceeded their goal of 100,000 tons of waste paper during the two months drive of August and September. As a result, says J. A. Krug, Chairman of the War Production Board, about 85,000 Scouts and cubs throughout the country will qualify for the individual WPE award. He called the number eligible for the individual award "an astounding fact when we consider that it required a certified 1,000 pounds of waste paper collected and moved to the waste paper dealers in order to earn this individual award."

We are publishing the official vote for Carroll County on Page Seven of this issue. We are a little late but we publish the figures so as to "keep the records straight."

READ YOUR BIBLE

The American Bible Society is promoting a plan of daily Bible reading from Thanksgiving until Christmas, with the cooperation of 100,000 ministers and 6,000 chaplains serving with our armed forces, 33 daily Bible readings have been selected that will be read all over the world, from November 23rd, Thanksgiving Day, to Christmas, December 25th.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women in our armed forces, and millions of their relatives at home are finding the Bible an inspiration and guide, now as never before. Through a nation-wide poll of Army and Navy Chaplains and pastors the Bible readings regarded as most helpful in times like these have been chosen.

Sponsoring this world-wide Bible reading schedule are more than 30 religious bodies and a layman's group composed of leaders in various fields, including Ex-President, Herbert Hoover, Mr. John Foster Dulles, Admiral Ernest J. King, Ambassador John G. Winant and James Wright Brown, Publisher of "Editor and Publisher."

Small folders giving the complete list of suggested passages have been distributed through the churches. We suggest that you obtain this list and follow the readings. We are very sure that you will find help in them, and perhaps you may learn to appreciate the Bible more than ever.

Our esteemed contemporary The Caroline Sun says:

"Above all the measures of wartime and post-war planning—in industry, business, education, religion—the supreme need on the part of us all is for clearer moral insight, more unyielding devotion to truth, a more steadfast and far-seeing spirit of brotherhood, a new determination to be more worthy of the great sacrifices that are being made in our behalf. No one source of inspiration is better able to provide for our need than the Bible.

Through long generations and among countless people of many nations the Bible has done this for those who have heeded to its guidance. It has influenced the deep springs of our national life. We may well expect that if fresh attention be given to it now by the American people, there will flow into our national life purifying and tonic streams of moral purpose and faith that will count tremendously in remaining months of the war and the perilous years that follow."

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

For years there have been demands for a change in the system of electing a president and vice-president. In a letter written to The Christian Science Monitor Ogden Driggs, of Waterford, Conn. throws light on the matter. He says:

"After adding up some of the figures you gave, I was astonished to discover the extent of possible misrepresentation latent in our system. For instance, 9 States and the District of Columbia contain over half the population but have only 235 electoral votes to 296 for the minority. In fact, 35 percent of the population is in 11 States and the District of Columbia (which has no electoral vote), but the other 37 States have 267 electoral votes to 264 for the majority.

As an extreme example, should this 55 per cent ever unite to a man behind a candidate and were they joined by 1 less than 50 percent of the population of each of the remaining 37 States, this total of over 77 per cent could be thwarted by less than 23 per cent of the population. And, finally, reductio ad absurdum, if one voter in each of the 37 States voted unopposed for the same candidate, these 37 could outvote 55 per cent of the population, amounting to over 73 million.

Had any such extreme ever occurred, the system would undoubtedly have been changed before now. However, the latent abuses inherent in this system call for a change—on at least four counts—to a method that would assure the election of the choice of the Nation's popular majority.

1. The principle of representative government calls for an electoral system that would reflect the actual choice of the people.

2. The District of Columbia, with a population greater than that of any one of a dozen States, has no franchise.

3. A Federal vote for President and Vice-President would bring the franchise to many who do not vote in some States at present.

4. Finally, if we are to become citizens of the world, we must outgrow provincialism in all its forms. The Electoral College is a concession to States' rights rather than to individual rights, and harks back to the tiffs between the 13 Colonies where mutual distrust was as active then as it is now between certain elements in the United States and England and Russia. One hundred and ten thousand people in the sovereign State of Nevada have about seven times the vote they should have, while New York State is entitled to over seven more votes than it now has."

WOMEN AT THE BAR

Newspapers and officials in a dozen cities of the United States are currently expressing concern over a problem which since repeal has become a danger to society and a threat to future generations. This is the problem of greatly increased drinking by women. The number of women who use intoxicating liquor has increased since the war, it is estimated, to one in every six.

The problem has become so serious in Detroit that police officials have recommended the segregation of male ship-building suburb of Quincy, where pseudo-eating places with cafe (restaurant) licenses are permitted to sell liquor to women, while taverns (the equivalent of the old saloon) may not, an official is quoted as saying: "If we could keep women out of our liquor establishments, we could eliminate 90 per cent of our trouble." In New York, metropolitan barrooms which do not want the custom of women have been forced to place prominent signs on doors and windows.

In pre-prohibition days, drinking women were found only in the lowest dives and in the higher-priced restaurants and hotels. Today investigators report their presence in every drinking place where the law does not expressly forbid it or the management decline to serve them.

Dr. F. M. Jellinek, director of Yale University's Section of Alcohol Studies, reports that the rising employment of women since the war is responsible. He explains that experience proves women attempt to imitate the mode of life of men with whom they work and that their independent incomes enable them to buy liquor for themselves, whereas formerly they were usually limited to that bought for them by male friends or husbands.

Certainly establishments which get by as eating places by virtue of having a few hard-boiled eggs or bologna in their refrigerators, and so enjoy the privilege of selling liquor to women—as in the Greater Boston area—should be re-classified as taverns and thus lose that privilege. Public morals should prohibit "lady barmies" everywhere. Restraining the sale of liquor to women—indeed, to anyone—might well be encouraged.

TIME FOR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING NOW

"Send Christmas gifts before December 1."

That slogan is now being emphasized everywhere by the postoffice, other government agencies, express companies and railroads. And it must be taken seriously if we hope to avoid the maddest Christmas scramble ever experienced.

That slogan has nothing to do with the gifts for the armed forces overseas, for it was necessary to mail those packages not later than October 15 in order that they reach their destination on time. The December 1 slogan is concerned with shipments of gifts in this country—shipments on railroad cars which are now groaning under their wartime load, express trucks which are bulging at the sides and by a mail system which already is taxed to capacity.

The Office of Defense Transportation estimates that because of the wartime population dislocation, Christmas gift sending will top 1943 by 25%, and the average gift will travel more miles than ever before.

All of the transportation agencies are making plans to try to take on the extra Christmas load—but there will be many a disappointed family on Christmas morning unless the people comply with this request for before December shipments.—Rhoderrick Papers.

SACRIFICE AND THANKSGIVING

There is a close analogy between sacrifice and thanksgiving. If you look up the word thanksgiving in your Concordance of the Bible, you will see how great is the connection between the two—for in the early days thanksgiving implied the offering of sacrifices in gratitude for the mercy and loving kindness of God.

Thanksgiving began as a religious festival—but we have too often made it just a day of feasting only. It should be a day of happiness and rejoicing, but it has a far deeper significance for all of us. We must, more than ever, on Thanksgiving Day this year of our Lord, 1944, offer our sacrifices in return for the goodness that has been bestowed upon us, for the victories that have been ours, for the freedom that has been vouchsafed to us.

The sacrifices we must make are not just burnt offerings—but the sacrifices of the spirit and of ourselves. Our selfish desires and aspirations for ourselves alone must be sacrificed for the good of all. Our unreasoning prejudices against people because of race, creed, or nationality must be a free will sacrifice to the spirit of brotherhood. Our clever generalities must be sacrificed to a kinder, more tolerant tongue. Our bitterness against change must be sacrificed to a willingness to try as individuals to bring His Kingdom to reign on earth. We must sacrifice impatience, pride to forbearance, indifference to kindness, hatred to love.

We must face this day of Thanksgiving, not only in the same spirit the first celebrants did over three hundred years ago—with gratitude for the mercies of the past and with faith in the continuance of those mercies, saying as they did, in the words of the Psalmist: "O give thanks unto the Lord of heaven; for His mercy endureth forever,"—but with the fervent prayer that, God willing and we toiling, we can continue to celebrate as a united people in a United States with all those precious privileges that that word connotes.—Ruth Taylor.

THE SIXTH WAR LOAN DRIVE—A CHALLENGE

Monday the Sixth War Loan Drive began. Many have indicated a declining in these drives, feeling that the war is to end shortly and that there is not such a great need for buying war bonds now. This idea should be dispelled as quickly and as completely as possible. Present indications are that the war may last much longer than most of us would have believed only a short time ago even. The stubborn resistance of the Germans, and their ability to continue to bring forth new weapons of destruction point to a long drawn-out war. This time the Germans are not giving up as soon as the fatherland is invaded. Their fanatical adherence to the Nazi ideals is driving them to fight until the very end.

The news coming from the Pacific is none too rosy in some instances. The Japanese are reported to be making successful advances in Kwansi Province, and threaten to cut China in two. American forces have lost a very important airfield to the Japs, and have only two minor ones left in their hands from which to conduct forays against the Japs. The war with Japanese does not now appear to be likely to be ended very quickly.

These things should make us stop and think, and more than that, they should make each and every one of us resolve to put every cent we can into the purchase of war bonds so that our fighting men can have the equipment they so sorely need. We must take the matter seriously and realize that the men on fighting fronts are not letting up. They are fighting harder than ever, and the very least that we can do is to provide the things for them to fight with, the way they are provided is through the money invested in war bonds.—County Record, Towson.

BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

Their Bonds and Stamps Buy a Jeep

"We're buying one," yelled youngsters at the Whittier School, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, when they saw the jeep above. Actually they expect to have bought enough war stamps and bonds by the middle of December to pay for two jeeps for the armed forces. The army sergeants in the picture motored over from Sioux Falls Air Field to show the boys and girls just what their savings are purchasing. (Army Photo)

ON TO TOKYO!

Let's all get behind the greatest march in history—the march to Tokyo—and victory!

On countless invasion fronts, thousands of your fighting men are taking up the battle cry: "On to Tokyo!" We've got to back them up with what it takes for complete victory. Remember, the supply lines in the Pacific are long and your fighting men will need more material than was required for the entire European invasion to crush the Jap foe.

Let's Echo that cry with BONDS!

Our boys won't quit until they've reached their goal. Let's not stop buying Bonds until we've reached ours! In this 6th War Loan Drive, the Nation's goal is $14 billions ... our individual job is to buy at least an extra $100 Bond ...

another and then another
... let's keep on going ...
let's keep on buying ...
let's keep on saying it

FEESERSBURG

Monday morning—with a gentle rain falling so quietly one can't hear its pitter-patter but it is a blessing for the earth was so dry, and cisterns empty. The day is so overcast one wonders how it can get blue again; but we have had a delightful autumn, and not very high winds or the leaves wouldn't have lingered as long.

Mrs. Lulu Grindler and Mrs. Addie Crumbacker spent a few days in Frederick last week, with helping hands in the F. Littlefield home returning home on Friday, and getting busy with company and the oyster supper.

A former neighbor Mrs. Ruth Ritter, who is now living with her grandson Donald Devilbiss and family in Bark Hill, visited at Grove Dale from Thursday evening to Sunday and met friends at the church supper on Saturday evening, and attended service at Mt. Union on Sunday.

The chicken and oyster supper in the Parish House at Mt. Union was a fine success. There was an abundance of good food, about 340 plates sold, and every one worked agreeably together. Friends came from Baltimore, Westminster, Littlestown, Taneytown, Uniontown, Johnsville, and nearby towns, and places in between. We do not know the net proceeds—but considerably over one hundred dollars will be added to the treasury—and the artesian well not bored yet.

Rev. Ickes, of the Seminary at Gettysburg preached at Mt. Union on Sunday morning, using the theme—"The Compassion of Jesus," when he fed the 4000. He gave a good talk in a pleasing manner; then he and his wife went on to Winter's Church for service. Sunday School followed—a good lesson on Christian democracy, and we found many broken laws.

The annual Thankoffering service will be held at Mt. Union next Sunday evening, Nov. 26—when every one makes a thankful gift for the beautiful blessings of the past year. There will be a hymn sing conducted by Frank P. Bohn and H. B. Fogle will be present and make an address, and we hope for a full audience with joyful hearts.

Rev. George E. Bowersox, Jr. and family are getting settled in their new home—the Salisbury Lutheran Church, Pa. They have been received and are getting acquainted with his people of White Oak Greenville, Grantville and Salisbury churches. We are pleased to receive copies of their little paper which he publishes semi-monthly and calls "Brass Tax."

It informs us that on Sunday evening Nov. 12—he was officially installed by Dr. M. R. Hamsher, President of Central Pa. Synod who delivered the charge to the congregations, and Rev. I. Shockey a son of the Greenville Church, and Seminary classmate of Rev. Bowersox gave the charge to the pastor, who has already made 50 calls, held three communions, and officiated at one funeral. Good work for one month and congratulations.

On Saturday evening we received calls from Miss Edna Sauerhammer, Mrs. Walter Groce, Mrs. Raymond Kump and Mrs. George Mayers all from Littlestown on their way to the oyster supper, who returned to say they were well pleased, and brought us some good things.

The Warren Bunner's had a family reunion on Saturday evening, when father, sons and daughter were home from service, schools and Hospital work. Mr. Bunner is Technician for the Curtis Wright Air-craft organization at Brooklyn N. Y., his son Ingersoll is in the Navy; Ellis in High School and Miss June employed in the Robert Packer Hospital, at Sayne Pa. They had a good time together, when they lingered long over their feast.

Mrs. Laura Hoffman Kooke has returned to the country from her home in Baltimore City, for a couple weeks in the J. N. Starr home; and there'll be Thanksgiving and butchering, and plenty to eat—and work. Last Saturday the Maurice Grindler's entertained friends from Baltimore, Westminster and Taylorsville some for dinner and others for supper. The city folks desired fried rabbit and enjoyed it.

Woodrow Miller is home from Florida on a week's furlough and attended the church supper on Saturday evening. He is now in Baltimore with his wife and small daughter, whom he had not seen before.

Samuel Lesight arrived home Saturday to find his wife (nee Rosellen Wilhide) and child under the Doctor's care.

At day break last Wednesday the hunters were out and the report of guns were heard on all sides. Regardless of our sympathy for the small prey our neighbors have been eating rabbits.

The David Miller attended the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Samuel Miller, on Saturday afternoon at the Lutheran Church in Uniontown, of which she was a member and burial was in the nearby cemetery. Her former pastor Rev. M. L. Kroh, of Seven Valleys, Pa. officiated.

A card just received from Raymond K. Angell says he arrived safely at St. Petersburg, Fla., last week and he is pleasantly located with nice people and served good food; the weather so nice and warm, can be out all afternoon in shirt sleeves. A gateway covered with blooming flame vine makes a gorgeous picture.

Oh! Looky—it has been snowing since 10 A. M.—the first real snowfall of the season on November 20. Maybe we'll have 19 more this winter—to prove an old saying. It has been hard to write when we wanted to watch the white fairy flakes coming down.

LITTLESTOWN

The annual Thanksgiving service was held Wednesday evening in St. Paul Lutheran Church. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Wallace J. Cummings, pastor of the M. E. Church. Mrs. Milo Gallinger of the Creative Crafts School, of Weaving, Quincey, was the guest speaker at the Woman Club meeting. She used as her subject "weaving as a hobby in the modern home" and told how the flax was grown. It was quite an interesting story for the young women.

Mrs. Jane Sponseller, wife of Jesse H. Sponseller, Abbotstown R. D. 1, died Tuesday afternoon at Harrisburg. She was a daughter of the late David and Jane Dutterer Wherley. She was aged 61 years. The funeral was held Friday afternoon at the J. W. Little and Son Funeral Home. The Rev. Theodore W. Boltz, officiated. Interment was made in Christ Church cemetery.

Stanley J. Hemler, Middletown, Pa., a former resident of near Littlestown died Tuesday evening at the Harrisburg City Hospital, at the age of 69 years. Death was due to cerebral spinal meningitis. Because of the nature of the disease which caused his death private funeral services were conducted Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the J. W. Little and Son Funeral Home. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery. Following interment a Requiem High Mass was held at 9 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic Church. The pastor the Rev. John H. Weber celebrant.

Judith, Joyce and Janice Breighner triplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Breighner, Park Avenue, marked their third birthday anniversary on Thursday. The three girls are the only triplets born in the Hanover General Hospital who are living today. A dinner in honor of the youngsters was held Thursday evening. They are always dressed alike and about the same size.

A wedding supper was served at the home of John Matthews in honor of his sister, the former Miss Christine, who was married to Sgt. James Grotton, Camp Howze, Texas.

Mrs. John Flickinger returned to her home after spending a week with her husband T/5 at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Shoop spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Sauerhammer.

Hat and Bag Save Dollars for Bonds

Look at the newest hats and you will see that the beret is definitely an up and coming fashion. Notice, too, the handbags. Among the most popular of the casual style is the over-shoulder postilion bag. Combining beret and bag, the result is a striking ensemble. Making these accessories solve the Christmas gift problem and the savings enable you to buy more War Bonds. Patterns for this hat and bag set may be obtained at local stores.

War Bond Dollars One DOUBLE DUTY DOLLARS

Homespun Philosophy

By Ezra

I still can't tighten my belt beyond the second notch. I ate so much Thanksgiving turkey I can hear it gobble in my sleep. I get awake at night and find myself humming the tune "Old Mac Donald had a Farm." "With a gobble, gobble here and a gobble, gobble there, etc."

We had a right nice Thanksgiving dinner. Grandpa and Grandma ate dinner at our house. We were all seated around the table and Grandpa said grace. I can't remember all the words he used, but it went something like this:

"O Lord, we have come to another Thanksgiving Day. We have had pretty many of them together. But will you spare us for just a few more? We would like to know what is going to happen to this old world of ours. Right now we are in pretty much of a mess. Our boys are fighting on foreign shores and our girls are away from home, too, on account of this war. We cannot realize what danger they are in. Some of them have made the supreme sacrifice. Bless, O Lord, the homes of those who gave their lives for their country. Grant that as soon as the guns stop firing and the nations are at peace again, you will send those who are still alive home to us."

Then, if it is not troubling you too much, we would like you to sit down at the peace table, just like you are with us today, and help us make a lasting peace. A peace that will bind the hearts of men in an eternal brotherhood. Let the Russian shake hands with the American, the black man eat that which the white man has provided, the Mohammedan worship his god at the altar of Jehovah. May there be no rancor or malice between them. Help us make a peace that is based on justice without revenge. The law of a tooth for a tooth, or an eye for an eye, is outmoded. Let us substitute the law of the Golden Rule, and make a peace that will cause a ray of hope to shine in darkened hearts. Today there is no Thanksgiving in Belgium, in Holland, or in Hungary—nothing but terror and dismay. Make us big and strong, but give us hearts of grace so that when we write the peace we will embody in it trust and confidence. Now, O Lord, Grandma joins me in asking you to bless our children and grand-children, each one, so that they may all be upright and just, faithful, loyal and true.

Bless this food and us to thy service, we ask it in Jesus name. Amen."

We were all very much impressed with Grandma's fine prayer, but the solemnity of the occasion soon wore off as the dinner progressed. Grandma had taken a hand in the cooking of the meal. Many of the dishes brought a twinge of nostalgia as I thought of the good old Thanksgiving Days I used to enjoy in my boyhood back on the farm. Those days, of course, are gone forever. We can't go back to them. But they have served their purpose if they have been grafted into our character so that what we are today reflects that early training. Then, I am sure, we are going to write a peace that our children will be proud of and that the world will enjoy for centuries to come.

Our Thanksgiving dinner was a success!

Brucellosis Prevention

A special committee on brucellosis of the Illinois State Veterinary Medical association says, "Calif-hood vaccination, with or without complete testing of the herd, is not being adopted as a substitute measure for good herd management and sanitation. It is now generally recognized as the foundation upon which a program for the ultimate control of brucellosis can be built."

Bean Maggot

Losses from the feeding of the bean maggot may be largely prevented by omitting the use of manure, by early preparation of the soil for planting, by planting the beans as shallow as possible, and at a time when the maggot is not active.

Pride Is No Good

By FAYE McGOVERN
McClure Syndicate—WNU Features.

ON HER knees in the kitchen Bridget was in a poor position to glare effectively, but the sight of two muddy shoes tracking up her spanking clean porch let flow a warm string of expletives colorfully flavored with strong Irish brogue. "And how many times must I tell ye, Terry O'Donnell, not to come climbin' over my porch rail on a Friday?"

The tall, blue-eyed lad grinned a wry apology and said, "I want to see Kathleen."

"And why should she want to see the likes of ye after the way ye angered her last night?"

"I want to tell her I'm sorry."

"And are ye not enough of a true Irishman to fear doin' sich a thing on a Friday?"

"Any day's good enough for what I want to do," Terry declared. Bridget looked at him a moment, then jerked her thumb in the direction of the parlor where her niece was dusting furniture. But she wasn't surprised when Terry came storming back. "She won't even talk to me! Well, for all I care she can go out with every Tom, Dick and Harry in town while I'm gone!"

"Gone?" repeated Bridget. "To Camp Hobart next week?"

"Should ye be changin' yer mind," Bridget yelled after him, "have the decency to keep out of me rose bushes and walk up the steps like a human bein'!" But her anger was gone by the time she finished cleaning up. She thought of how Kathleen had looked the night before, her chin high, her cheeks flaming, red as her hair. Bridget shook her head. "This pride made her look like that, she thought, the kind that takes a long time to simmer out, then often it's too late. The same as me Patrick and me, and both stubbornner than any two humans had any right to be. Aye, but that was twenty-five years ago, and ye'd think I'd be forgittin'. The good Lord gave me a niece to rear, and if I can help it she won't be like me! She climbed the stairs to Kathleen's room. "Why are ye quarrellin' with Terry?" she demanded.

"Where is she?"

Kathleen's quivering chin went up. "He insinuated that I'd likely be the kind to run around and have fun should the person I happened to be engaged to go to war."

"And did he tell ye he was leavin' for camp in a week?"

The color faded from Kathleen's cheeks. "Oh, no!"

"Sure, and the Lord made some men fools," breathed Bridget. "Ye'd better call him up. He should be at Mrs. Schultz's."

But Terry had been there and gone. "And in such a temper!" Mrs. Schultz declared. Kathleen tried the bakery, but Terry hadn't come in yet.

"Pride is no good," Bridget fretted. "Call his mother."

"No! I won't grovel. If he doesn't want to telephone he doesn't have to!" Kathleen stamped up the stairs. After three days of watching Kathleen grew paler and paler, Bridget knew she had to take a hand. She went to the bakery, only to learn that Terry was already in camp.

She trudged wearily home, and laboriously wrote a letter. She told Terry about two other foolish people who had been too proud, and what happened to them. "I heard you once tell my Kathleen that her eyes were the loveliest in the world," she wrote. "I'm beggin' you, write and tell her you love her before she cries them out of her pretty head."

Then she sat back to await results. But Friday's hours crept along, and there was no letter from Terry. Sadly she went through the motions of scrubbing the back porch, dumped the suds over the railing and was starting on the kitchen floor when a pair of muddy shoes landed squarely in the doorway.

"I came as soon as I could," Terry said. "Where is she?"

Bridget jerked her thumb. "In there." Then she sat back on her heels and listened brazenly to Kathleen's shriek of joy.

Bridget sniffed, lugged her bucket outside and got down on her knees. Tears were in her eyes. "Bless the lad. It isn't a scoldin' he'll be needin' now," she declared fervently. "It's prayin'." And, being already in the proper position, she proceeded accordingly.

DOGS EXERCISE

Regular Walks Will Keep Him And Owner In Shape

Coordinate your own exercise with that of your dog and you'll both be the better off for it, advises the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City.

The dog's health requires sunshine and fresh air as much as yours does. Swimming or jumping is wonderful for him if he enjoys it, but regular walking will keep him in good condition. Regularity in exercising is most important. It is far better to take him half a dozen blocks each day than half a dozen miles on Sundays. Extended walks should not be undertaken immediately after meals, and he should always be taken out on his leash. If he tends to put on weight, reduce his food intake or step up his exercise. If it is impossible for you to give him daily walking exercise, a device like that shown in the illustration will provide it for him in complete safety.

Not only your dog's size, but his temperament and the food he consumes have a bearing on the amount of exercise he should have. In primeval days the dog was forced to take a tremendous amount of exercise merely in finding his food. Under today's domesticated conditions he cannot possibly digest either the quantity or quality of food that he could in his wild state. More and more authorities are leaning to the belief that today's red meat alone is not a suitable diet for the dog. Far better for him are the prepared, well-balanced high quality dog meals, rich in all essential food elements, to be found on the shelves of the corner grocery. A dog fed on such food receives complete nourishment and requires nothing else save water.

To the People of this Community

"Sad little personal belongings are strewn all over these bitter sands." Thus wrote Ernie Pyle from a beachhead in Normandy.

More than 2,000 bundles of these belongings, carefully collected and packed by the armed forces, are sent monthly from a Kansas City depot to homes throughout America. That's the current price of victory over enemies who forced this war upon you. These "souvenirs" are enveloped with heartaches and drenched with tears.

How long this tragic depot stays in business is up to you. Every second prolongs the slaughter. Every extra $100 War Bond in the Sixth War Loan helps to shorten the fighting. Can you do less than to lend your money for speedy victory?

THE EDITOR.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 19:15-26; II Thessalonians 3:10,12

GOLDEN TEXT—Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing that is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.—Ephesians 4:28.

Work is a blessing, and the proper attitude toward it is an important part of the life of a Christian. Industry has found its best and most dependable workers among those who believe in Christ. It has also come to realize that the strengthening of the faith of its workers makes them better workmen; hence we see all over the land the interesting development of chaplains in industrial plants. That activity rightly planned and properly conducted can be of great value to both the individual and to industry.

Our lesson rightly deals with the individual. Christianity is a personal matter, a life rather than a theory. It deals with the man rather than the mass.

I. We Are Accountable for Opportunity (Luke 19:15).

The king in this parable is Christ, who has now gone away, to return when God is ready for Him to set up His kingdom on earth. In the meantime His servants have been given that which they should be using for Him.

Two things stand out in this story. First, the fact that Jesus is coming again. There are many scoffers who deny that blessed truth (II Pet. 3:3, 4). There are many believers to whom the promise has become but a formal truth in a confession of faith or a creed. But the failure of men to recognize truth and their unwillingness to hold it precious, do not alter the fact. Jesus is coming again!

When He comes, He will have many things to accomplish, but—and this is our second fact—one of the most important is that there shall be an accounting with His followers (who are supposed to be His servants) regarding the life they have lived. What will your answer and mine be in that day? It depends on what we are and what we are doing right now.

The basis of His judgment appears in the following verses, where we learn that:

II. We Are to Be Rewarded for Faithfulness (Luke 19:16-26).

When believers stand in the presence of Christ to answer for the deeds done in the flesh (our sins were judged at Calvary!), it will not be a question of what church you belong to, or what family name you bear, or how much money you have amassed. No, the only question asked will be, "Have you been faithful in trading with the gifts, the abilities and the opportunities which God has given you?"

Note that there are three different judgments here, but all on the one ground of faithfulness. The first man represents those who with all diligence and zeal seek to grow spiritually and to serve the Lord with glad abandon. All that they have and are they give to Him for His glory and for the winning of others to Him. They will be commended by the Lord and great will be their reward!

The second man, with equal opportunity, did accomplish something, but not too much. He represents those who do want to serve the Lord but with no special zeal, no great measure of sacrificial endeavor—just "average!" (what an unfortunate standard!) Christians.

The Lord is fair. He does not deprive them of their reward. In the measure that they have been faithful, they too shall find joyous service for Him. But observe that there is no special word of commendation in this case, and there is a limited reward.

The third man represents those who profess to be in fear of God. He seems to demand so much of them and they are not ready to give it. After all, they say, we want to enjoy life. Why should the Lord expect so much of us? Not only do they lose all reward, but the Lord must take away even that which He has already given.

III. We Are Commanded to Work (II Thes. 3:10-12).

From the day that God put Adam in the garden of Eden to care for it, honest work has been the lot of all mankind—yes, and his honor. There is no place in the economy of God for the man or woman who is able to work but is not willing to do so. "If any will not work, neither let him eat" (v. 10).

Apparently there were some in the church at Thessalonica who perverted the teaching of the Lord's return, who said that if Jesus were coming any day there was no use working. They had turned the truth completely around. The point is that since Jesus may come at any time, we should all be doing our utmost to accomplish all we can so that we may stand in His presence with joy, and not with shame.

WRIGHTSON TO HEAD WAR LOAN

$100,000 Display Contest
Announced

Frank W. Wrightson, President of the Provident Savings Bank, Baltimore, has been appointed State Chairman for the Sixth War Loan, by Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr. Plans for organization are under way with various committees already at work on Maryland's share of the $14,000,000,000 national quota. Mr. Wrightson made public today a gigantic national display contest in which more than $100,000 in War Bond Prizes will be awarded. The State Chairman announced that B. Lewis Posen, advertising manager for Hochschild Kohn & Co., of Baltimore, has been appointed Chairman of the Contest which includes Maryland and the District of Columbia as one unit. Mr. Lewis Janof is serving as co-chairman for the District of Columbia.

6,380 Awards at Stake
Mr. Posen in describing the contest said that all retail stores, which are included in the eleven classifications, no matter how small or large, should enter the contest. He pointed out that small stores will not be in competition with large ones, and that each entry will be judged only in relationship to other contestants in its own classification. For instance, department stores vs department stores; drug stores vs drug stores; jewelry stores vs jewelry stores, etc. There will be prizes for each classification and three major groups of awards; State, Sectional and National. In all, there will be over 6,380 prizes. Each state will have a judging committee of five members; each geographical section will have a similar committee composed of one judge who has previously served on a state committee and the National judges will be made up of nine members, one from each geographical section.

Display Men Essential
Mr. Wrightson said that the Treasury officials are fully aware and have given expression to the fact that the displays in the Fifth War Loan Drive played a vital part in the success of the War Loan Drive. "The Sixth War Loan Display Contest," he said, "has no equal either in prize awards or scope in the history of retailing, and it is a distinct challenge to the ingenuity and patriotism of every display man in America. Their aid, as before, has been declared essential to the success of the drive. We in Maryland want, first of all, to do a good job as far as Bond selling is concerned. In the second place we want to see Maryland display men carry off several of the national prizes. Therefore I urge all retail stores, large and small, to go into this contest with the idea of winning it in every respect."

Retailers interested in entering the contest should write for further particulars to the Maryland War Finance Committee, Display Contest, 601 Maryland Trust Building, Baltimore-2, Md.

THEY HAD NO GOVERNMENT—AGREED ON CREATING ONE IN A NEW PATTERN—

THE PATTERN OF FREE MEN RULING THEMSELVES.

Our War With Japan

The Sixth War Loan marks a new turn in the war both on the fighting and the home fronts. It points our tremendous war effort definitely in the direction of the Pacific. During the first five war loans Americans were primarily thinking in terms of beating Hitler.

Now our government asks us for a loan of 14 billion more dollars of which five billion dollars must come from individuals. Why? Haven't we nearly finished off our so-called Number 1 Enemy? Can Japan hold up our powerful war machine very long? Your son, brother and friend in his Pacific foxhole wouldn't raise such questions because they are up against realities, not day dreams. They kill or are killed. They pray every waking moment for a sky-darkening cover of friendly planes. They thank America for giving them the finest medical care in the world when their rendezvous with destiny in a Pacific jungle is at hand. They know the war with the Japs is just beginning.

Here are some other Pacific realities so that you will understand why there must be a Sixth War Loan and why it is absolutely necessary that it be a success:

The Allied Military Command has estimated that it will take years, not months, to lick Japan.

Japan's present army numbers about 4,000,000 with 2,000,000 more men available and fit for military service who haven't been called up to date. Another 1,500,000, between the ages of 17 and 20, are not yet subject to the draft.

The Jap Air Force is growing.

In addition to millions of native workers, Japan has a potential slave force of 400,000,000 conquered people. 50% of Japan's labor force is made up of women. Another 25% boys and girls under 20, the balance men. The Jap workday is twelve to sixteen hours with two days off a month. The Jap cannot leave his job, change it, or strike. The highest daily wage equals about three American dollars—30% to 75% of which goes to taxes and compulsory savings.

The Jap, as our men in the Pacific know, will fight to the death. As far as the Jap is concerned, the outer Empire—and the men who defend it—are the expendables. The Jap will fight the Battle from inside the inner Empire.

The Jap believes that we shall weary of war too easily and too early.

In the invasion of France, supply ships had an overnight run to make. In the coming Battle of Japan, ships in the Pacific will have long-reached round trips that often take five months to make.

These realities are worth thinking about before you keep your home front rendezvous with a Victory Volunteer. Perhaps you will feel that the national personal Sixth War Loan objective—purchase of at least one extra $100 War Bond—is entirely too small for you. The better we face the realities confronting our forces in the Pacific the quicker the whole bloody business will be over and the sooner we will welcome home our fighting men. That's an American reality to work for with all our dollars and our sweat.
