OUR SERVICE MEN

Activities of Our Boys Noted

With the Army Airforce Engineer Command in Italy—Raymond M. Mikesell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Mikesell, of Rt. 1, Westminster, Md., was recently promoted to the grade of Technician Fifth Grade in the U. S. Army.

T/5 Mikesell, formerly employed with the Blue Ridge Rubber Co., of Taneytown, Md., holds down position of cook with an aviation engineer unit which builds bases for Allied air power in Italy. Entering the service in June 1942, he took special training at Army Air Base, Richmond, Va., and was sent overseas shortly thereafter. Now a veteran of 27 months served in North Africa and Italy, Mikesell wears three campaign stars on his European-African-Middle East service ribbon, and has also been awarded the Good Conduct Medal.

His wife, Ethel, resides in Taneytown. They have two children, Edw., age 10, and Donald age 9. Two brothers are also serving overseas with the Army; Lester, Combat Engineers, Philippine Islands, and Burnell, Engineer Fire Fighting Platoon, Belgium.

Somewhere in German, Feb. 1, '45. Dear Mr. Stonesifer:

News at the present is all one sided and not too much to write about. Morale is high with the Russians on the push, but for us in general we are still ducking. The German propaganda at the present is very comic and what poor jokes they are for the Yanks' ears.

I wish each one of you could be here and see with your own eyes your son and his land of terror without feminine appeal. The question most of you would ask would be, "How can they ever settle down to normal life again?" The question we have asked ourselves many times and still fear the answer.

Most of you have heard your son's talk about how hard it was to get use to the army. Well they sweated it out until D-day. It was there on that beach that most of them gave a sigh of relief, because for the first time a command could be given, but if you didn't have the guts to carry on, no one could do anything about it. Really it separated the weeds from crop quickly. This type of life made them more independent and self-reliant, thus making home now a cage that must be expanded to an earthly play ground. I hope no one expect to see their son sitting down in long conversation, this had been a long routine in their life so far. I would much rather believe each one of them would rather take a short trip to California for a few hours and back. We visualize nothing impossible.

At least I assure you, most of us have great plans for the old town. Let's put her on the map and in the air. We have much to give to the world. I hope the industrial minds have given this much thought.

Until next time my friends I thank all of you for your splendid cooperation. We over here are proud of what our little town has done. Sincerely,

LT. FERN D. SMITH (019960)3

A. P. O. 29, care P. M.
New York, N. Y.

February 13, 1945.

Dear Sirs:

I have been thinking of writing you for a long time, but I could never seem to get settled down to one place over here. I am not sure I am settled down yet, but I think the papers will reach me here, instead of the waste paper basket, like they did at the other place. So far I have received only two papers, which were October papers. Received them around the first of January. But I must say the old friends back home, are doing a good job, of keeping me up on the news as each week I get some letters with quite a few clippings in them.

I know it's not your fault that I haven't received the papers, and I know it's not mine. So we will just say it's beyond our control, as the army would say it.

I am now somewhere in Dutch New Guinea, doing my old job, of Grease Monkey. I like it here much better than the other place, the food is much better, the Co., is a lot better, the boys and officers are much better, they try and make it like home, as much as they can. No one knows any better than I know, how it is to be driven, and shoved around in a casual Co. It's about the nearest thing to combat that you can get, without being close to it. I think I've had my share and some one else's share of being shoved around. But why should I kick, there is a lot more boys worse off than I am.

I always have to kid some one, and I don't know why it has to be Mr. Fair, don't let that old bed keep you in there, so long at one time any more, I really don't mean that. What I really mean is I hope he doesn't get sick any more.

We are about—degrees from the equator here, and its plenty hot and hills even Pennsylvania hills can't beat these over here, but we do have red and yellow land here, which is one thing like home.

I suppose you want to know something about the boat ride. Well I didn't get sea sick, but when the water was rough, I must say I didn't feel so good, but no hugging rails for me yet. It was a nice peaceful trip, but give me that good old Maryland land any day. I like to get out and walk around once in a while.

We are near the GI radio station here, so we hear all the up-to-date news, which is very good and I hope

1945 RED CROSS WAR FUND DRIVE

S. E. Breth, General Chairman, and Committees are Working

At a recent meeting of the Board of the Taneytown Chapter of The American Red Cross the appointment of S. E. Breth as general chairman of the 1945 War Fund Drive was made. The Taneytown District has been assigned a quota of $1550. For this drive Mr. Breth has made the following appointments:

Chairman Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner, town soliciting; Chairman, Mr. Wm. E. Ritter, rural soliciting; Joint Chairman, Mr. David Smith, and Mr. B. J. Arnold, commercial soliciting; Chairman Miss Anna Galt, service clubs, fraternal organizations, churches; Joint Chairman, Mr. M. C. Fuss and Mr. Chas. R. Arnold, industrial soliciting. Mr. Murray Baumgardner, treasurer.

The appointed chairmen have already enlisted the aid of a large number of public spirited citizens to act as solicitors. These solicitors are your neighbors and when they call at your home to ask for your individual donation to this most worthy of all causes, we feel confident that they will find a warm reception and liberal response to their request for a donation. This is perhaps the most important period in the progress of the war and it comes at a time when the need for funds for this great humanitarian work is perhaps at its peak. Decide now to give all you can then double it.

LUTHERAN MITE SOCIETY MEETS

PYTHIAN SISTERS PAST CHIEF CLUB MEETS

On Tuesday evening, March 6th., 1945, Miss Catharine Hahn was hostess to the Pythian Sisters Past Chief Club which held its regular meeting. The meeting opened by singing "The Star-Spangled Banner". Scripture lesson was read by the hostess, followed by the Lord's Prayer. Roll-call was answered by each member reading a verse of Scripture. The president, Ms. LaReina Crabbs presided during the meeting. 16 members and a number of guests were present.

"A Happy Birthday to You" was sung in honor of the birthdays of four of the members and each was presented with a beautiful handkerchief. The guests then sang "A Happy Birthday" in honor of the Chief's fourth birthday and presented a small cake with four candles.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Miss Grace Hahn April 3rd. The meeting closed by singing "The Wearing of the Green," and by the Mizpah Benediction.

The hostess served refreshments and the table was beautiful. The color scheme was green in keeping with St. Patrick.

CHICKENS FOR MEAT

"Because of increased needs for eggs and poultry products to augment the nation's supply of meat, farmers of Carroll County are urged to raise more broiler and roaster chickens this year and to obtain chicks early so as to have more pullets ready for fall and winter laying, according to Ferris R. Penn, Chairman of the County AAA Committee. 'Broilers and roasters are needed to add to the nation's meat supply during the coming year,' he said. 'Producers with brooder space not needed for laying flock replacements would do well to use the extra space for broilers and roasters. The resulting addition to the meat supply will come during the season's low point for other meats.'"

TAX DEADLINE

George Hofferbert, Collector of Internal Revenue, calls attention to the fact that next Thursday is the deadline for filing tax returns for 1944 and declarations for 1945. He says:

About one out of every five individual taxpayers in the Maryland district must file a Declaration of estimated tax for 1945 not later than March 15. This is in addition to the filing of an income tax return for 1944.

Declarations are required in general from business and professional people, landlords, investors and others who expect to get more than $100 of income this year from sources outside of wages from which tax is withheld, and who expect that their total income from all sources will be $500 or more.

KIWANIS CLUB MET

Rev. S Earl Mitchell was the Speaker

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening at 6:30, at the Social Room of the Union Bridge Fire Company in Union Bridge. President Raymond Wright presiding. The period of group singing was in charge of Wallace Reindollar, with Mrs. Wallace Yingling as accompanist. The Club welcomed Mrs. Yingling who had been ill for several weeks. Thirty members were present, also Robert Smith, Member in Military Service, and Rev. Miles Reifsnider, member of the Westminster Club.

Dr. Legg made brief remarks concerning the current Red Cross Drive, and asked for liberal contributions from the members of the Club when they are regularly solicited for the same.

The program was in charge of the Committee on Attendance, Howell Royer, Chairman. Announcement was made that the Club had made 100% attendance during the months of January and February, also that the present meeting was 100%. Chairman Royer introduced Rev. S. E. Mitchell, pastor of the Church of the Brethren at Westminster as the speaker of the evening.

Rev. Mitchell chose as the subject of his address "Relief and Reconstruction Work at the Relief Center of the Church of the Brethren at New Windsor. Rev. Mitchell mentioned four avenues of activity which are being carried on in his Center.

1. The Center started on March 1, 1944, to gather used clothing, bed covers and shoes to be conditioned and then shipped to those peoples of the devastated parts of Europe who are greatly in need of these articles especially. The clothes when gathered are cleaned, mended and generally made ready for use, then baled into bales of from 90 to 110 pounds each. The value is about one dollar a pound so that during this first year, clothing to the value of $75,000 has been collected and either sent or is ready to be sent. Total shipments for the first year were 390 bales; 90 to Greece a second shipment of 50 bales to Greece, 20 to Holland, 50 to France, and 165 to Italy. There are on hand at present 300 additional bales which will be sent as soon as shipping space is available. Shipments to the Pacific area will be made as soon as such materials are accepted for shipment. Also, a large amount of soap, and from 5000 to 10000 shoes have been sent.

2. A second activity is the manufacture of clothing, from material bought and delivered to the Center by representatives of the devastated countries. The material is cut at Westminster, and then distributed to Aid Societies of the Church of the Brethren all over the United States. The clothing when made is sent back to the Center at New Windsor, whence it is dispatched to the areas for which it is intended.

To the present, 55,000 yards of material have been made up, 2227 layettes, of six pieces each, have been sent to Russia, and 75,000 garments to Greece. 10,000 additional yards of material have lately been received and are now in process of manufacture. 20,000 garments are being made for shipment to the Philippines.

3. Realizing that the war has been responsible in Europe for the destruction of producing herds of cattle, with a corresponding scarcity of milk for children in the devastated areas, the Center has challenged interested persons to donate a calf, or to accept a calf and keep it until it is old enough to produce milk. To date, the Center has 1500 heifers ready for shipment and several dollars to purchase more. Also, 16 heifers have been sent to Puerto Rico and 50 more are ready to go. Three heifers and one bull have been sent to Mexico. As soon as possible, shipments will be made to France, Belgium and Italy.

4. The fourth activity is a food program. Last year, 15,000,000 cans of food were donated and processed, 60% of which was sent to civilian camps, and a great deal to educational institutions. The purpose is to send 40 tons of processed food to Europe this year. Tons of dried milk have been sent to Greece and France.

The meeting next week and for at least several weeks following will be held at the Fireman Social Hall in Union Bridge. The meeting next week will be in charge of the Publicity Committee.

PEDESTRIANS ALMOST INVISIBLE IN HEADLIGHTS

Pedestrians, very humanly impressed with their importance to themselves, usually fail to realize that they can be practically invisible to an approaching driver, though his car may have bright headlights. To even careful drivers with good vision, pedestrians wearing dark clothes often seem to be a formless dark spot against a dark background. The American Automobile Association urges all pedestrians walking along roads without sidewalks to walk on the left side of the roadway and to wear or carry something white to make themselves much more visible to the driver.

TIRE INSPECTION

Taneytown Garage Co. Appointed for this District

Important changes in the tire rationing program have required the reduction in the number of official tire inspection stations for Carroll County from 61 to the present 22.

On February 23, Mr. Russell Copeland, Senior Tire Examiner for the state, addressed a meeting of tire inspectors at the Rationing Board, Westminster, with the Tire Panel present. Mr. Landon C. Burns, Chairman of the Tire Panel, introduced Mr. Copeland who pointed out to the inspectors the very critical shortage in tires available for civilian use, and the necessity of accurate and detailed inspections of all tires. He added that the reduction in the number of stations is part of a tightening-up procedure in the tire conservation program. Mr. Burns thanked the inspectors present for their fine cooperation in the past and urgently requested that they adhere strictly to the rules governing tire inspections.

In view of the present tire shortage, the Tire Panel cautions all car operators to watch their tires closely to keep them properly inflated, and to have them recapped just as soon as the condition of the tires warrants it.

The official tire inspection stations for Carroll County at this time are: Goodyear Service, Westminster, Md.; Reese Garage, Reese, Md.; Caltrider's Garage, Gamber, Md.; Edward N. Chrest, Westminster, Md.; Klee's Garage, Westminster, Md.; Winfield Garage, Westminster, Md.; Lambert's Garage, New Windsor, Md.; Taneytown Garage, Taneytown, Md.; A. J. Matthews, Hampstead, Md.; Pleasant Valley Garage, Westminster, Md.; Gettler & Burgoon, Manchester, Md.; Harris Garage, Mt. Airy, Md.; Bural & Snyder Westminster, Md.; W. H. Davis Co., Westminster, Md.; Kelly's Garage, Union Bridge, Md.; Wertz's Garage, Lineboro, Md.; Eldersburg Esso Station, Sykesville, Md.; Ralph D. Bowman, Westminster, Md.; R. K. Barnes, Sykesville, Md.; Westminster Amoco Station, Westminster, Md.; Hampstead Sales Co., Hampstead, Md.

Additional inspection stations may be appointed at the discretion of the Office of Price Administration.

BUTTER WILL COME BACK

Distracted homemakers who have so much trouble preparing satisfactory meals without butter will find little comfort in a current announcement by the United States Department of Agriculture that butter manufactured for 1944 reached the lowest point in more than 20 years, one billion four hundred and eighty-six million pounds or about 11 pounds per person. This was a drop from the previous year's amount of one hundred and eighty-seven million pounds or nearly a pound and a half per capita.

Since the peak of 1941 there has been a drop of about 3 pounds per capita. Present indications point to an even more serious situation in 1945. Early estimates by the U. S. Department of Agriculture are that there will be about two pounds less butter per person in 1945 than in 1944.

The explanation for this situation is that not only butter, but other concentrated products of milk are being used in greater quantities to maintain optimum health, vitality and morale among the fighting forces. But there is a silver lining in the clouds. Milk production is at an all-time high. The prediction is made that when war demands cease, ample quantities of butter, with all that it adds to the joys of eating, will come back.

HEADING FOR A CRISIS

As the time nears for new wage contracts to be signed between coal miners and the coal industry, the cry is again raised that if there is any trouble the government will fix it by seizing the coal mines. The notion that government ownership is a sure cure for every ailment afflicts the thinking of some people like a plague.

Before we wreck our coal mining industry, we should take a good look at what this plague of nationalization, government ownership, socialism, or whatever you wish to call it, has done to the British coal mining industry.

An American commentator in Britain points out that "coal is the key to Britain's industry, and the flatter coal industry just now is very sick. Production has declined steadily during the war until today it is under 200,000,000 tons.

"The real sickness of the industry has its origin in the last war and in the controversy over nationalization of the mines, which followed it.

"Mine owners gave as their reason for not mechanizing the mines the fear that they would be nationalized and their investment lost or written off. The unions constantly urged nationalization. Methods which made large-scale production possible in America were not introduced here. Miners in some mines must walk two or three miles underground to get to the workings."

American labor leaders and government officials with their constant urging of greater government control over the American coal industry, are heading into the same morass of stagnation that has brought a coal crisis to England.—Industrial News Review.

SAVING LIVES.

The number of deaths among Marines on Iwo Jima, where the costliest invasion of the Pacific war is taking place, would be even greater if it were not for the whole blood and blood plasma shipped from the United States. Those who have contributed blood to the Red Cross blood banks may justly feel that they have helped to save the lives of fellow Americans.

Commander R. S. Silvis, surgeon of the Fourth Marine Division, said that large-scale administration of whole blood has saved an uncounted number in the goriest battle of the Pacific war.

"I know five men whose lives were definitely saved by the difference between whole blood and plasma," he said. "There is no shortage yet, but tell the folks to come to keep it coming."

Dr. Silvis pointed out that plasma is nearly as efficient as whole blood in shock cases, but not in cases of injuries with heavy hemorrhages. At Iwo Jima, most wounds have been caused not by bullets but by shell fragments, with profuse bleeding and heavy shock.

It has been found that when costly battles are being fought, the number of blood donations to Red Cross usually rises. The battle on Iwo Jima ought to have its effect on donors who have neglected to give blood regularly and also on those who have never yet contributed. The tremendous drive on the Western Front should provide a further stimulus, as more troops are involved and the need for blood plasma and whole blood is greater still.—The Frederick Post.

WIN THE WAR, AND WIN THE PEACE

Washington, D. C., March.—The broad objectives of our times are to win the wars and to agree with the civilized United Nations on practical programs and plans to win the peace.

Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin have come to the point and hewed close to the line of that double-goal.

The 18 nations represented at the Mexico City Conference have tackled economic, social, international trade and a great variety of subjects. They have sought to create "an economic charter for the Americans" and to wrap up Canada in the package while that neighbor of ours continues to remain a part of the British Empire.

Two or three of the South American nations remain under suspicion, and perhaps they wouldn't care except for the fact that they want to be on the inside when the United States starts the plan to "reduce the trade barriers" by shoveling in billions of dollars to make the Bretton Woods currency stabilization and world bank plans a reality.

The Mexican Conference favored free trade, free lending of money to at least 18 of the Latin-American countries, and it also made careless gestures to support "elimination of economic nationalism in all its forms."

Confusion, chaos and carelessness increases as new Charters "hereby resolve," since the Atlantic Charter declared that a peace would be established "which will afford to all nations the means of dwelling in safety within their own boundaries."

No man or woman knows, or can predict, how this 'round-the-world mess will ever be straightened out. But, aren't we all about ready to admit that there isn't enough wealth on the American Continent to finance and "grubstake" the people of the world to whom we are the main factor in helping restore "safety within their own boundaries."

Can we possibly expect to accomplish more?—J. E. Jones.

Housed Farm Machinery

Enjoys Much Longer Life

We have daily reminders of the special attention our cars need to make them last, but farm machinery, as vital as a car to the farmer, has literally been left out in the cold. Farm machinery housed, lubricated and repaired will outlast unhouseed machinery on an average of 5 to 10 years.

Actual figures as the result of an investigation made at the University of Missouri show that a housed walking plow, for instance, will last five years longer than one left out to rust and corrode; a cultivator will last 12 years longer, while the life of a gang plow is doubled.

An unused building may be converted into a machine house or shed, or it may be necessary to build one. The shed should not be less than 24 or 26 feet wide and long enough to house all machinery. A farm shop adjacent to the machine shed is a useful addition to the farm. Farm tools, which would be scattered and lost if there were no special place for them, would have a better chance of being returned to their place in the shop. As most repair work is done in the winter during lulls in other work, a stove should be part of the shop.

Vitamin C Needed to ### Maintain Blood Vessels

Ascorbic acid plays a principal role in maintaining the health of the blood vessels and connective tissues. Vitamin C is needed to prevent hemorrhages in all parts of the body, to keep the teeth and gums healthy, to aid in the development of the bones and to serve as an aid in the general resistance to infection.

Vitamin C is stressed somewhat more than other vitamins at times because ascorbic acid is water soluble and may pass from a food into the water in which that food is standing or is being cooked. It also comes into the spotlight more often because vitamin C is what is called "unstable."

By "unstable" nutritionists mean that in the presence of free air the form of ascorbic acid which can be used by the body is changed to a form that cannot be used by the human body. Also the body cannot store ascorbic acid for future use as it does some other nutrients, such as fat. For these reasons it is important that some vitamin C be eaten each day or, if that is not possible, that it should never be absent from the diet for long periods of time. The most common sources of vitamin C are citrus fruits and green vegetables.

Ocean Water

There are six kinds of water in the North Pacific ocean, says Dr. H. U. Sverdrup, director of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography. To be sure, they are all salt sea water, but there are distinct and recognizable differences in both saltness and temperature, according to location and depth.

Over the bottom of the whole ocean, below a depth of 5,000 to 6,000 feet, lies a mass of water that is a little saltier than the rest of the ocean, as well as a good deal colder; it always hovers only a few degrees above freezing point. Above this, the ocean is divided into five great blocks or segments: subarctic, equatorial, intermediate, eastern and western, respectively. Each has its own characteristic range of temperature and salinity.

Bonneville Dam

Bonneville Dam, one of a series of such projects, was begun soon after approval was granted in September, 1933, and was completed in 1937. Located on the Columbia river, 42 miles east of Portland, Ore., Bonneville really consists of two dams separated by Bradford Island and was built primarily to produce electricity and render the Columbia navigable for 600 miles, as well as to provide a fishway system designed to permit the salmon runs to ascend the stream to their spawning grounds. The dam and fishways cost approximately $52,000,000 while the cost of the navigation and power development amounted to approximately $75,000,000 when completed.

Restore Pan

Though no treatment will make a badly burned pan like new again, many a pan that looks hopeless may be restored to use if proper care is taken in cleaning. First, let the pan cool gradually. Never pour cold water into a hot, dry pan. This is likely to make the metal buckle and leave an unsteady pan. When the pan has cooled, fill it half full of cold water and heat the water gradually to boiling. Baking soda added to the water may help soften the burned material. After heating scrape out loosened material, add more water to the pan, and repeat the heating process as long as necessary.

Air Hen Houses

When hen houses are hot both night and day, hens are not able properly to assimilate calcium for making egg shells, and they naturally stop laying. Structures with windows in front only are hot by day, and do not cool off at night in summer. It is easy to cut openings on the north side, to open the windows just as soon as warm weather comes in the spring, and to leave them open until cold weather comes in the fall. Anyone who has attempted to cull out the hens that have been semi-roasted out of laying appreciates the condition of these houses. It really is a wonder that the birds lay at all.

Spoils Fat

Too much heat will spoil fat and food cooked in it. When fat reaches the smoking point it begins to break down chemically and gives off fumes with a sharp odor that irritate your nose and throat. Food fried in smoking fat may have an unhappy effect on the digestive tract. Fats that have reached the smoking point also will get rancid more quickly if you save them to use again. Be extra careful when frying with fats that have a low smoking point. Among the fats that smoke quickly are butter, oleomargarine, drippings, and olive oil.

Buy More WAR BONDS!

FOR our men in France and on Pacific islands, it's dig or die. It's dig and dig deep, now, for all of us if our sons and our neighbors' sons are to stand forth and win at this critical hour. Truly, they're all we have—and we're all they have.

Their simple willingness to endure hardships for our sake demands great sacrifice in return. The least we can do is to back them in their faith in us with every cent that can be spared beyond what is needed to keep body and soul together. The more you invest now the sooner they'll return to take up their lives where they left off. So, we say—shorten it with War Bonds! Keep faith with the men on the fighting fronts!

And remember—your son and your neighbors' sons are fighting for a way of life that must be preserved for them here on the home front. Your investments in War Bonds will pay for the new farm machinery you and the boy will need when peace comes. He'll be counting on you for this, just as he's counting on your support now. Don't let him down.

5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES

1. The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the peak. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED . . . NOW!
2. In proportion to WHO HAS THE MOST MONEY, individuals are not buying their share of War Bonds. America must correct this situation.
3. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.
4. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery, and buildings. War Bonds will provide it.
5. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy . . . from bank, post office, rural mail carrier or Production Credit Association.

For America's Future, for your Future, for your children's Future

FEESERSBURG

Here's the third month and it came marching in like a gentle lamb, and so far has bro't us sunshine and rain, the Cardinal, a couple robins, and a dandelion blossom. The ground is very wet and soft and cars are getting fast in the mud and must be hauled out and does that make awful roads? There may be more snow, and we expect wind, and busy hours for the farmers; and we know when March comes, Spring-time can't be far away.

About 45 persons of the Mt. Union congregation attended the donation party for the pastor's family at the parsonage in Uniontown last week. They were cordially received and gave many good things for the pantry. Block ice cream, cake and coffee was served, and every one had a pleasant evening.

On Monday some of our men and women were off to the George Keeney sale at Clemensville. Live stock, farming implements and household goods. There was a mob of people in attendance, and prices paid that seem unreasonable to us. There are scores of sales yet this spring, and as one woman said "this is a good time to sell, but poor time to buy."

We've been listening for sleigh bells, and now the jingle of wedding bells in the air, of which we'll hear more later; but some of our friends will be missing, for the hope of fuller happiness.

A plea for blood donors was made at Mt. Union on Sunday, and three persons promptly responded. The monthly Missionary offering was received at the close of S. S.

The Spring house-cleaning began last Wednesday, when our popular painter, Elmer Yingling was kentoning several rooms. It looks well and we'll try to forget the odor.

Then came our turn, and have been very sick the past two weeks with a torpid liver, and it is harder to get well than ill; but every one has been very kind, and things might be much worse, but am not very lively yet.

After much affliction, and a long illness, Franklin Delaplane who married our cousin, nee Alice Cash, passed away from earth on Monday at 11 A. M. Funeral services will be held at the home near Detour, on Wednesday at 2 P. M., and his body laid in Haugh's Church cemetery. A faithful husband and father has entered into rest, leaving his devoted wife and three fine daughters.

We suppose each state of the Union have their special days for memory, and those happens to be for Texas; when they fought the Mexicans at the Alamo Mission, and there was a great slaughter. The affair incensed the Texans to the uttermost, and for the remainder of their struggle with Mexico, "Remember the Alamo," was their battle cry. Texas had much warfare before gaining her independence in 1845.

We have a jar of pussy-willows in the house, and after the sleet and cold weather, 'tis hard to believe they are out again; but Nature does her part on time, and these are more appreciated than in milder seasons.

From the Capitol last Thursday we heard the President talk to Congress in the beginning of his speech he said "It's good to be home," I thought of our boys who have been away from home so long, my how we would love to hear them say the same words, "It's good to be home". ### FAIRCHILD BUILDING C-82 "PACKET"

Fairchild Aircraft in Hagerstown, in cooperation with the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission, is now recruiting new workers throughout Carroll County. According to Paul R. Fite, the company's employment manager, almost a thousand new workers are now required to help build large quantities of the new Fairchild C-82 "Packet" to fill present contracts placed with the local firm by the U. S. Army. The planes will be used by the Army to transport troops, tanks, trucks and ammunition to the front lines and is scheduled to remain in production after the end of the war.

Regarding the possible early end of the war, Fite said, "The military successes in Germany and Iwo Jima have been made only at great expense in men and military supplies. Our foremost military leaders have warned of the result of not continuing and increasing production here at home.

They have told us the war will continue, perhaps for a long time to come. There are many persons in this area who are available for war jobs but who have not applied because of their hope for early victory. The Fairchild C-82 Packet is a means toward early victory and is in heavy demand by our armed forces. That is why we are literally bringing our employment office out to towns in Carroll County where we are explaining the great urgency of the need and talking with persons who are not now fully engaged in vital war work."

Fite stated that prospective workers were under no obligation to accept jobs but that all persons, especially women and relatives of men in the services, should feel free to apply to the special representatives during the scheduled interviews to ask questions and obtain full information, before reaching a decision if necessary.

In Carroll County special interviews will be held between 6:30 and 9 P. M., on March 15 in Union Bridge at the Devilliss Soda Shop and on March 19 in Taneytown at Hinkle's Jewelry Store.

OUR SERVICE MEN

It soon says, peace is declared. Also we hear quite a lot of recorded programs, of all kind, the station broadcasts about 18 hours a day. Now and then we hear a program direct from the states.

We have "three movie" shows a week, and about one stage show a week, either U. S. O. or a GI show and you would be surprised how good the GIs can imitate a woman. Some shows have WAACS in them, but the GI can get more laughs.

I guess I better quit writing and get the old wash machine out, as I don't have any maid here yet. Don't get me wrong I am not looking for the kind we have over here.

Maybe you would like to know something about this wash machine, well its about 26 years old, two hands, two legs, a brush in one hand and a bucket in the other, and we can clean any thing. But my clothes are enough to wash.

There I am kidding again, but I can't get along without it.

Please forward my paper to this address and thanks a lot for your trying. I know you are doing a good job for the boys, all of you keep it up as there isn't anything helping us any more than a letter or a paper from home. Here is hoping you all the best of luck and health and that we will all be together soon. As ever

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England—Staff Sergeant Ellwood E. Fream, 19, of Taneytown, Maryland, waist gunner of "Lady be Good" a B-17 Flying Fortress of the 452nd Bombardment Group, has been awarded the Air Medal for "meritorious achievement" while taking part in Eighth Air Force bombing attacks on vital German industrial targets, and on Nazi military strong points, in support of advances by Allied ground forces. The presentation was made by Lt. Colonel Burnham L. Batson, of Manchester, Connecticut, group commander.

Sgt. Fream is a member of the Third Air Division, which was cited by the President for its historic England-to-Africa shuttle bombing of Messerschmitt aircraft factories at Regensburg, Germany. Flying in what is considered the toughest theatre of aerial warfare, he has helped his bomber fight its way through severe enemy opposition to attack such objectives as synthetic oil refineries at Cologne and Fw-190 aircraft component factories at Bremen, Germany. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fream, of Taneytown. Prior to entering the AAF in September 1943, Sgt. Fream was employed by H. B. Dougherty, of Taneytown.

Mrs. Raymond Perry, E. Baltimore Street, received a large map, a copy of the Stars and Stripes and a Christmas card from her son, Pvt. Earl Marker who is with the 82nd Engineers in Europe.

The map is very complete, showing the route taken by 82nd Engineers since D-Day and gives data showing obstacles encountered along the route. Many large bridges were built and roads had to be conditioned for the troops that followed in the trip towards Berlin.

The serviceman's paper, the "Stars and Stripes" says in part: Ever since it arrived on the continent six months ago today, the 82nd Combat Bn., of the 19th Corps bridge building outfits, has worked near the front, spanning rivers in France, Belgium and Holland. Now it's dodging mortars and 105's in Germany.

The Joes aren't much on looks in their mud-smeared ODS and they'd never make the red, white and blue cigarette ads back home, but they're as American as everyone of the 48 states they come from.

Since June 17 they've supported the 29th, 30 and 35th Inf. Division, 2nd, 3rd and 7th Armored Divisions, and the 115th Cavalry Group.

In six months they've spanned 1400 feet of water across the Vire, Drome, Seine, Somme and Meuse Rivers. One of their toughest jobs was a 720-ft trestle bridge across the Seine just west of Paris.

The Army calls them "bridge builders, but the grimy engineers go in for extra-curricular activities like removing about 900 Bouncing Bettys from three death-laden Nazi minefields, clearing and maintaining 116 miles of roads from St. Lo and Germany and hauling a couple of thousands loads of gravel to repair another 150 miles of highways.

Just to keep in practice, where the fighting is rough, the 82nd captured 23 Germans.

March 2, 1945, Camp Blanding. To Whom it May Concern:

I arrived at Camp Blanding, Florida, on February 26. It is very hot and sandy down here. I am settled down now, ready for my seventeen weeks of basic training. I then will be qualified for infantry replacement. I would like to receive the Carroll Record, at the following address. Thank you.

The wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom. Refreshments were served to 75 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Little received many beautiful and useful gifts.

SPRINGTIME MUSINGS

The snow, crystal white, now blankets the earth,
The trees are all weighted with ice on the limb,
Cold weather still tarries, the lights are still dim,
Spring time is delayed, not yet a new birth.

Daff-down-dill is still locked in the mold,
Working hard at her task, striving hard to break thru,
The hard frozen crust that hides her from view,
Golden rays she'll come forth Easter to adorn.

What a glorious time, the approach of the Spring,
When the leaves and the buds on the fruit trees appear

To tell us that NOW is the Spring of the Year,
When the birds too are happy, and joyously sing.

All Nature thru strife seems to give a new life;

There is something quite queer in this time of the year
That causes us each, quite different to appear—
That thing is, we think, The Spring of the year.

How fortunate are we with the world in ferment

To live out OUR lives in conscientious ease

To do as we will, and to live as we please,
With sorrow world over, to still be content.

The Spring ushers in the grass and the grain,
All things come to fruit in their time,
Man works at his task, goes to church by the chime,

Living thus true to plan, will prosperity gain.
W. J. H. 2-7-45 77th birthday.

CLOTHING COLLECTION

Falling in line with the nation in the National Clothing collection for the month of April, the members of the service clubs are promoting this drive throughout the county. The clothing will be sent to the war needy peoples in all Allied countries, and the need is so great that the movement will begin early in the month of April.

Where there are no clubs, the schools and churches are asked to take the initiative and take care of their own community collections.

T. William Mather, who has been appointed chairman of this project from the Rotary Club, with Joseph Mathias, Sr. and C. Russell Schaeffer, will shortly call a meeting of all service club chairmen to make plans for the collection.

It is important that ONLY usable clothing be given. Clothing, regardless of faded condition, etc., is needed for men, women and children, which can include pieces of materials of a yard or more. Shoes, except women's dress shoes with high heels and toes and heels out, which are not practical. Blankets and all kinds of bedding is sorely needed. Warm clothing, suits, coats, etc., will find ready use.

The Kiwanis Club will be represented by: C. E. Guild, chairman, Sterling R. Schaeffer, James Lantz and Raymond Brown. Wesley Mathias will head the committee from the Lion's Club and he will be assisted by Charles Conaway and Raymond Eyer.

Treat Potatoes

Many Irish seed potatoes set aside for spring planting are infected with fungus diseases that cut down stand, injure the roots, cripple the potatoes, and reduce yields. Organisms that cause common black scurf or rhizoctonia and under certain conditions common scale and black leg, usually can be controlled by treating afflicted seed with formaldehyde. While seed potatoes are usually treated just before planting, the work may be done with equal success at any time in the winter or spring, provided the potatoes are dried properly or are not reinfected by storing in old containers or bins which have not been disinfected. It is in fact an advantage to treat potatoes some time in advance of planting so that if the sprouts are injured, new ones may form.

Homespun Philosophy

By Ezra

Many years ago an Indian band raided a small pioneer settlement near the present site of Chambersburg. They killed nearly everybody, only a few adults escaped. As they made off into the forest they carried three little boys with them.

Years passed, and again an Indian battle occurred near this place. The Indians were soundly beaten and prisoners were taken. Among the prisoners were three men with white faces.

When the army of the white men returned to Chambersburg they paraded the prisoners before the town's people. To this parade came two mothers to see if they could identify their sons which were lost so many years before. They walked, to and fro, along the line of prisoners. As they did so they peered into the wild, barbaric faces, looking for some trace of family resemblance. But it was all in vain.

Then a kindly officer stepped up to the mothers and asked them if they remembered any lullaby they used to sing to their tiny sons in the days of old. One of the mothers remembered. She went up and down along the line crooning an old lullaby.

Sleep, baby, sleep,
In thy mother's arms.
The spirit of other days came back and the song sobbed its way into the heart of one of the wild men of the forest whose face was white.

This stalwart warrior, whom the forest had not utterly captivated and swallowed up, hesitated a moment, then broke the line and came cautiously toward her. They looked into each other's eyes for a moment, she still singing—a light shining through her tears, and then the sense of recognition swept over them. The wild man fell upon his mother's shoulder and cried like a baby.

It was the power of memory asserting itself across the long years. Dim, dead days coming back on the wings of a lullaby. It changed a savage into a child. "Music has charms!" Charms that the wildest imagination can not dream of. It can conquer armies; it can pace great movements; it can carry a nation to the heights of ecstasy. It can wipe out many intervening years and can bear the mind back to forgotten ages.

Blessed is the man whose life becomes a song. It may be a gentle lullaby, a romantic serenade, or it may take the form of a stirring martial tune vibrating through every fiber of his being. But the man who has made his life a song marches on in time with the latest innovations, in rhythm with peace and concord, and in tune with his fellowmen.

It is well said that the cradle rocked to the tune of a lullaby rules the world.

Tougher Steel
The metals nickel, chromium, molybdenum and vanadium are used in a number of alloy steels, where their function is to make it possible to obtain stronger and tougher components than can be produced from simple carbon steels.

Avoid Delay
Neglecting to repair a machine until it breaks down is a waste of time during the growing season; needed repair parts should be ordered early, and the machine reconditioned before the season begins.

Tasty Broth
The carcass of the old bird makes a delicious broth so don't be wasteful and throw it away. Use chopped celery for seasoning and rice or barley for a bit of substance. The results are excellent.

Sew for Spring Save for Bonds

Aided City's Growth
Robert Mills designed and built the first fireproof house in the nation at Charleston, S. C., in 1826. The flimsy construction of most homes in the early years of the country's history menaced their occupants and became a grim barrier to progress. Mills paved the way to great cities by showing how large numbers of people could live together safely.

Password

"HALT! Who's there?"
The sentry's cry, ringing out in the still cold night, broke into Laura's thoughts as she was hurrying home. How silly it was to have planned a surprise visit to the marine base without a telegram in advance! And here was a silly guard who would make her stop to give a password she did not know.

"I'm Laura Archer, Colonel Archer's daughter," she told the grim-faced leatherneck who was barring her path with rifle at the ready. "Advance and be recognized," he ordered and, as Laura approached, she saw that he was lean, tanned and tall. She fumbled in her purse for her identification card, then realized that it was in her traveling bag at the station.

"I'm sorry I haven't my I.D. card, but I am Colonel Archer's daughter."

"Any other proof? Otherwise, you don't move on," the guard broke in. Laura knew she was wrong, but she wouldn't let a boot get away with turning her from the post where her father was commanding officer.

"You just call the colonel," she ordered curtly.

"Look, lady, don't you know anyone less than the Skipper?" the guard asked. "I can't be waking him up at O-one-hundred to ask him to come out here."

"If you don't, you'll be up for office hours tomorrow," Laura threatened.

"Corporal of the Guard, Number Seven," the marine sang out and, when the shouts for him had echoed down the line from sentry to sentry, out of the shadows on the double came the husky noncom.

"This lady says she's Colonel Archer's daughter, Corporal, but she has no identification," the sentry reported. "She threatened me with office hours if I don't call the Skipper."

"I wouldn't call him out in this storm for another stripe," the corporal vowed. Turning to Laura he asked, "Are you really Colonel Archer's daughter? I've been here seven months and I've never seen you around."

"I've been off to school. Please let me in," Laura pleaded.

An hour later, having been grilled by the men on duty, a tired yet fuming Laura was sent to her father's quarters, where she was admitted on assurance from the sleepy colonel that she really was his daughter.

Next morning, when Laura came tripping down to her father's car, she found that square-jawed, lean and hated face behind the wheel.

"Where to, Miss Archer?" Private Gillespie queried.

"My father will be out in a minute," she answered. "The colonel will tell you where to drive."

Private Gillespie's neck reddened. He offered weakly, "I'm sorry about last night, Miss Archer, but you know the General Orders."

She turned her upturned nose toward the parade ground and began a close inspection of a platoon which was drilling there. Private Gillespie watched in the mirror. "Nice looking platoon!" he ventured. "That D.I. was my bunkie in boot camp. He sure does put them through, doesn't he?" He continued his monologue, his warm drawl melting the icicles from his listener.

He told her his name and about his ranch back in Texas. Then he brought up the sore subject again. "I said I was sorry about last night, Miss Archer," he began, but just then he had to spring out to open the door for Colonel Archer. He was ordered to drive to the parade ground where the colonel was to inspect the recruits completing basic training that morning.

Laura decided to see the review from the car.

Private Gillespie returned to the front seat and resumed his watch. "Today's pay day, Miss Archer, and I have liberty tonight, will you have dinner and go to a show with me?" he suggested. "It would kind of make up . . ."

Just then the rear of a tank banging along the drive halted the one-way conversation. From the parade ground, a thousand frozen-faced recruits, waiting at attention, saw the man in the turret swept to the ground by a low-hanging limb. His left foot, straining unconsciously for a foothold, nudged the left shoulder of the driver, who was operating the massive iron monster by signals. The tank swung to the left, the guide lying unconscious in the road.

The colonel's car leaped ahead, its motor screaming, as Private Gillespie turned the key, touched the starter and let out the clutch. It pulled to one side and stopped as the clanging tank roared past.

Colonel Archer and his aides ran toward the car. "Are you all right, Laura?" her father panted.

"Of course," she smiled, "because your driver knows how to use a rear-view mirror. Father, please ask him to dine with us tonight."

Check Cleaner Bag
If your vacuum cleaner refuses to pick up the dirt, check the cleaner bag. It may need emptying. When you empty the bag, turn it wrong side out and brush it clean. Perhaps the nozzle or cleaner brush is improperly adjusted, or it may be a broken belt or the belt not revolving.

First Mention of Coal
The first written mention of coal is found in the Bible. In Proverbs 26:21 may be found the verse: "As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire; so is a contentious man to kindle strife." This is believed to have been written about 1000 B. C. In several later chapters of the Bible, coal is again mentioned. Whether these references apply to mineral coal as we know it, or to charcoal, is uncertain. The word "coal," at first spelled "cole," originally meant anything that would burn; hence the biblical accounts may refer to partly burned or charred wood or bone.

Clear Drains
If pipes do not contain too much grease, soda lye, used according to directions, may clear the pipes satisfactorily. However, if it forms too much hard soap, it may close the pipes and cause more difficulty than the grease. Potash lye is better for this purpose because the soap it forms is soft and more soluble in water so can be flushed down the pipes easily.

Melt in Mixture
Often chocolate can be melted in the liquid called for in the recipe. In making custard, melt chocolate and milk together in a double boiler over hot but not boiling water and then beat smooth. Chocolate contains some acid so should not be heated too long in milk or it may cause curdling.

Clean Pasture
Poultry raisers are urged to get their chicks out on clean pasture as early in the chicks' life as weather and growing conditions permit. Good clean pasture or range saves materially in amount and cost of feed required. Young pasture is rich in vitamins A, B and G.

Air Expansion
Nearly half of the $4 billion dollars spent in the past decade by the federal government for military aviation has been expended in the last three years to pay for U. S. air superiority.

Commercial Cryolite
Commercial cryolite all comes from the southwest corner of ice-covered Greenland. It is mined near the town of Ivigtut, in a pit several hundred feet across, and about 200 feet deep.

Army, Navy Leaders, Others Endorse Red Cross War Fund

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In answer to President Roosevelt's appeal to the nation on behalf of the American Red Cross to fulfill the $200,000,000 Red Cross War Fund goal for 1945, America's foremost military and naval leaders, the press, and educational, religious, fraternal, industrial and labor groups pledged unstinting support.

Secretary of War Stimson expressed his gratitude to the Red Cross for discharging its responsibilities to the Army "with efficiency and humanity" throughout the war.

Chief of Staff General Marshall added: "The Red Cross has kept pace with the growth of the Army by enlarging its services to meet soldier needs both in this country and overseas."

Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal, citing Red Cross war contributions of blood plasma, prisoner of war food packages and civilian war aid, said, "In the blackness of war, the Red Cross stands as a beacon of mercy of which we can all be proud. Never has money been put to better use."

Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, pointed out that "every time the Red Cross assists a man in the armed forces in any way, there can be no doubt that the humanitarian activities of the American Red Cross have a direct bearing on the outcome of the war."

Both the American Newspaper Publishers Association and the National Editorial Association's presidents promised complete cooperation from the American press.

Among groups endorsing the War Fund are:

AMERICAN LEGION: "The Red Cross has exemplified the fine, traditional spirit of American helpfulness. The approach of the postwar reconstruction period will not lessen the calls for Red Cross services."

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR: "We are determined that the war shall be won. Let us be equally determined that the Red Cross shall be enabled and permitted to measure up to the needs of the situation and the high standard which we have set for it."

A Tribute to Our Children

TO PUBLISH PICTURES OF LOCAL CHILDREN

Pictures of the children of this city and surrounding community are to be printed in this paper as a special tribute to our young citizens. Tomorrow the responsibility of guiding the destinies of the world will be placed upon their shoulders. All are invited and urged to participate in this featured event. Among our children are those destined to fame and fortune, so let's not omit any of them!

Every parent should cooperate to make this a colorful and inspiring exhibit. You can cut out and keep these pictures of every youngster in the community. They will always be treasured keepsakes and cherished memory records that could not be acquired in any other way.

You are all guests of ours, and all photographs will be taken free of charge.

We have made arrangements with the Woltz Studios, nationally known portrait photographers, to come and take the pictures right here in town. You do not have to order photographs, subscribe to, or be a subscriber to this newspaper, to have your pictures taken and run in this featured event. All that is necessary is that the children be brought by their parents to the photographer on the date and at the location mentioned below. Proofs of all poses will be prepared, identified, written up, and printed in this paper.

The Studio will also take pictures of adults and family groups, and submit proofs without charge, but these pictures will not be published in the paper.

If photographs are wanted for yourself it will be necessary to arrange for them direct with the Studio when proofs are submitted for examination because they cannot be obtained through this paper.

Remember, all children must be accompanied by parents or guardians.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY LESSON

BY HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for March 11

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE COST OF DISCIPLESHIP

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 19:16-26, 28.
GOLDEN TEXT—If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.—Matthew 16:24.

What you have is not your own. In fact, if you are a Christian, both you and your possessions belong to God (see I Cor. 6:20; 7:23). To be His disciple involves the recognition of the fact that life is essentially a stewardship, holding our property and our persons in trust for Him. The cost of discipleship is one which should be candidly faced. It is far more than the cost of joining a church or subscribing to a creed. That may and often does mean little or nothing, but to be a follower of Christ calls for thinking and living in accordance with His standards. We must—

I. Think Right About God (vv. 16, 17).

The picture of this rich, intelligent young man, a leader in his community, coming to Christ with his eager quest for eternal life is a most attractive one. He recognized Jesus as a master in Israel and a good man.

His thinking about our Lord did not go far enough, and Jesus corrected him at once. He pointed out that if he recognized Him as good, then He must be God. Far from disclaiming divinity, Jesus declared here that everyone who thinks right about Him must agree that He is God.

It is of the highest importance that the follower of Christ be clear that his master is God. Otherwise, his attitude toward Him will reflect his defective viewpoint, and his witness concerning Him will lead men astray instead of aright. Correct doctrine is vitally important as the foundation of real discipleship. The one who thinks right about God will—

II. Live Right With Others (vv. 18-20).

The commandments to which Jesus referred were those which concerned a man's relationship to his fellow man. There is to be no violence to another person, no deceit or trickery, no dishonoring of confidence, but an active interest and love for one's neighbor as well as one's family.

The disciple of Christ cannot effectively serve Him in this world without a proper attitude toward others. He must not sin against them, that is clear; but what is more, he must be known as one who loves them.

Note that this young man could honestly say that he had kept these commandments. Few of us could make such a claim, but he did. And Jesus did not question it or rebuke him. In fact, He loved him for it (see Mark 10:21).

What a fine character this young man had, what limitless possibilities for usefulness, what promise for the future! But something was lacking, something stood in his way. Jesus went directly to the heart of his trouble and told him that he must—

III. Act Right About Money (vv. 21-26).

Toward persons, his life was rightly related, but toward his possessions—ah, that was another matter. He was rich and his money stood between him and God, between him and a life of service and spirituality.

When a man has money and uses it for God's glory and the good of his fellow man, it is a blessing to him and to others. But when money lays hold of a man, and it has him instead of his having it, spiritual disaster is ahead, and not far away.

It is proper to be prudent, thrifty, and ambitious, but when the gathering of wealth becomes the uppermost thing, even these worthy qualities become the enemies of a man's soul.

Note the astonishment of the disciples (v. 25). They, too, though they had little or nothing, had been smitten with the awe for riches.

Do not miss the glorious assurance of verse 26. Nothing is impossible with God. He can even save a rich man, and does it!

Now there is more to discipleship than sacrifice. God has a recompense for His children. Let us—

IV. Expect the Right Reward (v. 29).

No one has ever lost anything by serving the Lord. He gives liberally and makes a hundredfold return for every sacrifice we make. Christian workers can testify that God has literally fulfilled this promise to them. But the greatest reward of all waits beyond the end of this earthly life. Over yonder there awaits us the prospect of eternal fellowship with the Lord we love and serve, and with all those who share with us the place of being disciples, followers, and servants of Christ.

This life brings many precious moments of joy and satisfaction. There is friendship and comradeship in labor. There are a thousand blessings even here, but the greatest of all is the prospect of being forever with the Lord.

Stymie Law

On V-Day, when fighting ends and the peoples of a plundered world begin shouting their joy and gratitude in a thousand tongues, aerial bombs and floating mines are going to seem pretty cheap. All treacherous and destructive machines will appear in their right light again. Their values will show as minus quantities. Then slow, cautious men will set to work getting rid of them. But there are instruments of war more treacherous than floating mines, more ruinous than any blockbuster ever devised. Uncle Sam will have one of these on his hands when war ends unless Congress does something about it. It is trained on American factories and farms now, ready to start a bombardment on Armistice Day and nothing can eliminate the serious menace but new legislation.

Congress Can Save.

The United States has a law against progress. It was not enacted to stop scientific and industrial development but, if it stays on the statute books in peace time, even for a short while, it will be a government freeze of creative work. It was passed five years ago to raise money for national defense and keep war-mongers from profiteering on the misfortunes of other people.

I am not criticizing the purposes of the act. America had to raise revenue quickly for defense, and right thinking people did not want to see a new crop of war-lords enriched with blood-money. Just the same, there ought to be a new act, worded to take effect on the day of victory, repealing certain provisions in the 1940 tax law which are war measures, ruinous to any people at peace.

Kills New Business.

The sense of the law is this: Add up all the profit a firm made in four pre-war years, 1936-1939 inclusive; figure 25% of the total and call it a sample pre-war year's profit. If a corporation earns more than that in any year of war, it must pay the government 85% of the difference in a special tax.

Small business concerns can't grow if the law stands. Really big corporations can escape being devastated. Some will want to expand further and can't, but they can stay big. Here is why: by percentage, not much of a giant corporation's business is ever new business; its profits (however big) grow slowly. Small firms, not so. What will be the net result?

Service to Humanity.

Thrifty little enterprises like you and I might form will be paralyzed. They can't expand because their dollars of increased profit will be split two ways, 15c to keep, and 85c for the government. Many will die, as losses on development of new products wipe out their meager capital. Huge firms, which have no need for substantial growth, can develop new products with no risk to their strong financial position.

A big company's losses on new developments can be used to reduce taxes on profits from old business. In this way, government pays more than four-fifths of such losses for big concerns. It must be remembered, however, that big corporations are too few to solve the nation's post-war employment problem.

Small companies employ more than 80% of the nation's workers. They handle the lion's share of our national income. What their employees eat makes farm prosperity. If these little firms see a chance to earn a profit, they will get ready for peace. . . new business and new jobs in large numbers. But if until V-Day they remain scared to expand, America is stymied and so is the world.

Repair Purse

Had you thought of remaking or repairing a favorite purse that is beginning to show wear? The first indications of shabbiness and wear usually appear at the corners and ends. To conceal wear at outside seams, if the leather or fabric purse is stitched outside, rip the seam, fold the worn places in and, after taking a deeper seam, restitch by hand.

If the boxed ends are baggy, the end sections should be removed and pressed into shape. Grained leather can be pressed with a damp cloth, but smooth leather will water spot, so it should be pressed dry. If pressing fails to eliminate the bagginess, replace the ends with gros-grain ribbon or faille. When purse seams are stitched inside and the purse is not clamped into a frame, seams can sometimes be ripped from the inside, but if a purse is seamed inside and clamped into the frame, it is best not to attempt outside repairs.

Wheat State

Rarest of the Arts

Cooking is one of the rarest of arts, including such practices as: Simmer: to cook in water that is just below boiling; Panbroil: to cook in a skillet on top of the stove, without added fat or water, and without a cover. Panbroiling is used to cook tender chops and steaks that have fat of their own; Braise: to brown meat in a little hot fat, then to cook it in steam, with or without added liquid. Swiss steak and pot roast are good examples of braising; Saute: to brown meat in a little hot fat over direct heat, turning it often so that it does not stick to the pan; Marinate: to let meat or cooked vegetables stand in an acid-oil liquid to improve the texture and flavor; Scalloped: to combine food with a sauce—tomato, cheese, or plain white sauce—and bake it in the oven until it is a golden brown on top; Cream: to combine vegetables with a sauce made of fat, flour, milk, and seasonings; Mince: to chop food into fine pieces, so fine that it is almost a solid mass; Baste: to moisten food while it is cooking, using the liquid or gravy in which it is cooked; Meat Stock: the liquid in which meat has been cooked.

Mother's Milk

Mother's milk is the food best adapted to the new-born baby. Statistics show that breast-fed babies have a better chance of surviving than do babies fed on other foods.

Potato Cakes

If there are mashed potatoes left over, make neat little potato cakes of them the next day and fry. Chopped parsley or grated onion gives a most enjoyable flavor.

Primitive Butter

Butter was made by some tribes in Tartary by filling a skin bag with milk, tying it to a saddle and dragging it over rough ground by way of churning.

Philippine Exports

The principal exports of the Philippines are sugar, coconut products, abaca or manila hemp, tobacco products and lumber.
