1945 RED CROSS WAR FUND DRIVE

Local Response Has Been Very Gratifying

The Red Cross is engaged in the greatest humanitarian work ever recorded in history. Countless lives have been saved and will continue to be saved because of the Blood Donor Service of which the Red Cross is the service of which the Ked Cross is the only authorized agency for its collection. Since February 1941 eleven million pints of blood have been donated by public spirited citizens who in the safety of their own Nation have given this vital fluid so that the lives of their sone and noighbors. the lives of their sons and neighbors slightly wounded in Belgium on January 1st and is now back at the front fighting after spending about the Red Cross, but it is the most spectacular one and undoubtedly the one that receives the most publicity.

During the past twelve months over ten million prisoners of war packages have been packed for prisoners of war on foreign soil. The Red Cross is the only possible means of contact that is available between those at home and those who are in enemy prisoner of war camps. #### Here is Your Chance. $10,000 to be Distributed

An opportunity for every American to write a practical peace treaty which can be applied to the world at the end of the war was announced recently by Joseph W. Frazer, Chairman of the Board of the Graham-Pailge Motors Corporation and Chairman of the judges' committee of the National Peace Treaty Con-

of the National Peace Treaty Contest.

Total prizes to be awarded for the best peace treaties of 1,000 words or less written by Americans will be $10,000 in war bonds, Mr. Frazer said. The contest, to open March and close at midnight April 15 is and close at midnight April 15 is $10,000 in war bonds, Mr. Frazer said. The contest, to open March 17 and close at midnight, April 15, is open to all legal residents of the United States or its possessions, and to men and women serving in the armed forces wherever they may be. National headquarters are at 350 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Fifth Avenue, New York.

Inspiration for the contest came from the best-selling book written by William B. Ziff, "The Gentlemen Talk of Peace," Mr. Frazer said. "The aim of the National Peace Treaty Contest," he explained, "is to seek out from the minds of the millions of plain Americans the best lions of plain Americans, the best practical plans and ideas for a just nad durable peace, so that when our delegates sit around the peace table, they will know what the people want."

Vice-President Harry S. Truman, who is a member of the centest who is a member of ine centest judges' committee, declared today in a statement made in connection with the contest: "I hope that the National Peace Treaty Contest will be of great assistance in realizing our hope that the coming peace will he a permanent granulage of no be a permanent guarantee of no more wars. County group, stated amount is required to build the first half of the Expressway and a similar diversion of $4,000,000. or $5,000,000. of county funds will be required for the second half.

"Many of the highways throughout the State," he said, "are in urgent need of modernization. Narrow winding roads are dangerous when used by modern high-speed cars. If the State spends county road funds in Baltimore City, where will the money be found for these needed improvements?"

The Taxpayers League of Baltimore County has passed a resolution opposing the pending legislation to permit this diversion of county road funds and has sent copies to the Governor, the members of the Gen-eral Assembly and the members of the the State Roads Commission. The Resolution follows:

"Whereas, there is pending in the General Assembly a proposal to divert $4,400,000 or more of the Counties' share of gasoline tax funds to the construction of an expressway through Baltimore City; and "Whereas, many heavily used highways in the Counties of Maryland are norrow and dengenous and denge

"Now, therefore, be it Resolved, by the Board of Directors of the Taxpayers League of Baltimore County, that the proposed use of $4,400,000 or more of the Counties' share of gasoline tax funds to build an Expressway in Baltimore City be vigorously opposed."

THE CASE FOR THE FARM BOY

During the past few weeks, numerous letters have appeared in The Times from readers, most of them protesting the drafting of farm boys. Occasionally a letter has appeared asboys on the farms. There are still six million farm and rural homes without electricity. The Rural Electrification administration has a three-year postwar plan which calls for an expenditure of about 585 million dollars over a three-year period.

Pork Sausage

Good sausage contains no meat other than pork and should consist of three parts lean meat to one part fat. For 25 pounds of meat use one cup salt, three tablespoons pepper, three tablespoons sage, one-half tablespoon red pepper.

Tight Plugs

It's a simple matter to make electric plugs fit tighter if need be. Just spread the prongs apart a little with your fingers. Be careful not to use too much pressure, of course-"gently" does it.

Help the Young Bride

With Emergency Recipe A novel shower for a new brideespecially one who will be called on to do a certain amount of entertaining and is inexperienced in meal planning and cooking-is an emergency shelf shower for her pantry.

At the shower She Magazine describes, each guest brought her favorite emergency company recipe, the sort that can be prepared in a hurry. Each recipe was attached to a box containing the necessary ingredients for its preparation. A cake box, besides cake flour and a package of baking chocolate, had a bottle of vanilla. A box of biscuit flour was accompanied by two cans of tiny frankfurters, with directions for encasing the dough and baking. Date nut bread in cans and glasses of cheese provided for the casual coffee guest. A deep fat fryer and a large can of shortening brought a recipe for doughnuts. One guest, famous for her fruit cake, brought both a loaf of her cake as well as the "makings" for another. Four large jars of jam with a tart shell recipe suggested another emergency dessert.

The hostess' gift to the bride was three-fold. A reliable cook-book of the loose-leaf variety had its original covers replaced by ones of oil cloth in the bride's kitchen colors of black and white. A set of spices in white cans with black tops and a set of cooking extracts and food colorings carried a card, "To add to the flavor and spice of your new

GOOD MANAGEMENT

It's a neat feat to navigate a windy corner with a pile of packages and keep skirts down to a modest level.

We're facing a somewhat similar problem during these stormy war years - carrying bigger power loads, higher costs, heavier taxes and still keeping prices at low pre-war levels.

And we're licking our problem, too! - the cost of electricity hasn't gone up, like so many household necessities. In fact, the average family actually gets about twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 15 years ago.

This takes good management, too.

It was quite gratifying for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Marker to receive such a very nice letter recently from their son, Kenneth's Captain. This was the first information they had gotten since the official notice of his death in Italy Oct. 13, 1944. Kenneth served as buglar for his Company and was the personal aid and ob-server for his Claptuin. He spoke very highly of Kenneth and his many fine qualities and how they had shared the same fox hole and had gone through torture together. He stated his death was instant and shouldn't have felt no pain, and that he was greatly missed by himself and his buddies. This splendid tribute paid by the Captain was justly deserved as we all knew Kenneth as being a year fine how and his death.

JUST GONE AWAY.

He is not dead—just gone away, To await my coming some future day He waived his hand and with a smile That seemed to say: "In a little while "We'll meet again in a land anew." "I'm going first just to welcome you.

He is not dead—he had no fear;
Just closed the door without a tear.
I heard his footsteps as he sped
To join the mighty hosts of dead.
So I must smile-shed not a tear
He is not dead—I feel him here.

He is not dead. God would not blend Two souls so close—he was my friend Why even now I know that he Is fixing up a place for me. I must be steadfast, kind and true That's how he lived his whole life through. He is not dead. Christ broke the tomb To fill our lives with joy not gloom! The bulb must die and suffer long To pe a lilly with its song.

So, so long George! So long I say
I'll grasp your hand on life's last day

They promised to have the inscription ready by that time. The clockmaker waited and came back the next day but they had no inscription for him. He continued to come back every day until the aldermen became worried with him and treated him with great disrespect. But he did not mind. You see, he was a poor man and needed the money he was to receive when the clock would begin its mission of keeping time.

So nothing was too much for him. He went back again and again.

One day he entered the council chamber and politely asked for the inscription. It was about the fiftieth time he had asked and naturally the address was a very larger to the council chamber and politely asked was yound. alderman he had asked was vexed and answered him crossly, "Oh! Several days passed by and the alderman were started to hear the great clock boom out the noon hour. Since they had not ordered any inscription, or so they thought to be placed on the Tower, they were very angry that the clock had been started without it. They rushed out of their chambers and looked up at the Tower. There is great letters they saw "tGO ABOUT YOUR BUSINESS."

Needless to say, not all acts of procrastination turn out as this one did. But it is a fact that Provdence plays a hand in many of them. Sometimes things turn out better by leaving them in the hand of Providence than if we had carefully directed each movement.

This, however, is no excuse for our procrastingting. It were better perhaps, if we could pay attention to the things that come up today and then rely a little more on the help of Providence to work them out.

of my tugs. But there's one thing about you that worries me. You're too easy with the crew." "But they quit on you if-"

"I know. 'Squeeze' is traditional with them and we have to overlook a lot of things when we have good men and want to keep them. But the minute these chinks put something over on you and get away with it you lose their respect and co-operation." Ching, trying to see through the transom, almost fell over the banister he was polishing. But he was innocently watering already half-drowned potted plants in the front hall when the mer appeared and started down the hill toward the river where a tug was being loaded.

Casting about for an excuse to follow Ching spied his master's sun helmet and hurried after them, taking IN AND NEAR TANEYTOWN, MD reached the dock. "I've been having trouble with contraband smuggled aboard," the stranger said. "I can't keep my eyes all over the place and I can't trust the helpers because they're in on it, too. If you can get this boat ready to leave without any of it being slipped aboard she's yours to skipper as long as you can keep her afloat."

Rogers went below decks, returning presently, apparently satisfied. On the upper deck, however, he found an assortment of bales and boxes which were not part of his freight. He shouted for the loaders.
"Get this stuff off," he told them firmly. "There'll be no squeeze goods carried on this ship while I'm in charge. If I find any more I'll throw it overboard!" The men obeyed in moody silence. Their dark glances, Ching knew, foreboded no good. The river was always full of sampans. It was therefore easy to slip in a few boxes without detection. After the lading was finished Rogers, making his rounds again, found that the illicit merchandise had been returned.

Shaking his head, he went ashore. Ching's heart sank. To give up so 10634 easily his master must indeed have a rabbit's heart. Ashamed, he started to slink away when Rogers reappeared with a long stave in his hand. "Throw that stuff overboard," he commanded Ching. Ching fell to with gusto.

The first splash brought a flock of small boats edging toward them from all directions. Rogers rushed this way and that, shoving them off with his stick. But there were too many to be repulsed in that way so he grabbed the fire hose. Streams of water plowed into them and a

The offenders drew away good-naturedly. They had been beaten fair-

"I be light back," Ching called over his shoulder as he headed up the dock. Gossip spread fast in China and he had a few choice things to say, first, to the merchants on the street of Perpetual Hope. Especially to a baker named Foo.

THE LAW OF LIFE

LESSON TEXT-Matthew 25:31-46. GOLDEN TEXT-Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Matthew 22:37-39.

Our lesson presents a great judgment scene-majestic, solemn, stirring. Many confuse it with the judgment of the Great White Throne in Revelation 20. But Matthew 25 is obviously the judgment of nations (v. 32) for their treatment of Christ's brethren (v. 40), a word referring primarily to Jews, but also spoken of in Matthew 12:48-50.

The lesson needs broader application, however, so we suggest that we allow the more general principles of judgment occupy our attention. We note that

I. Judgment Divides (vv. 31-33). The nations, coming before Christ when He shall have appeared in all His glory, shall find themselves separated into two groups on the basis of their treatment of the brethren of Christ. The fact that God has drawn a line of division down through all humanity and that each one of us is on one side or the other is not a doctrine which finds ready acceptance with modern thinking, but it is nonetheless a fact. No man established that division -God Himself did it, and did it in love. To some it may seem to be a hard saying, but it is not, for it comes from the lips of the gentle, loving Jesus. It is because He loved us enough to give Himself for us that any of us find ourselves on the side of that dividing line which assures us of eternal joy and blessedness.

They who stand on the other side of the line do so because they have not accepted God's proffered salvation in Christ. Reader, where do you stand?

II. Judgment Declares (vv. 34-45). Our attitude toward God expresses itself in our attitude toward our fellow man. That which we do toward those about us is not a matter of indifference, but is the basis for God's judgment of our lives. Each of us must answer for the deeds done in the flesh whether they be good or evil. That is true even of the believer (II Cor. 5:10), whose salvation has already been determined by his faith in Christ.

Here in our lesson, however, the failure to do that which shows forth God's law of love is made the ground of eternal judgment. This is not because an act of kindness itself can be regarded as the ground of division, but because the failure to give it or do it reflects an attitude of heart toward our God and His Christ, which is in reality a rejection of His way of salvation.

Judgment is thus a revelation of the attitude of the heart, which marks a man or woman as being either saved or lost. It may be possible to so becloud the thinking of our friends and neighbors that we may go through life looking something like a Christian, but when Christ judges, it will all be revealed to us. Notice the importance of a proper attitude toward those who need our kindness and help. All too often the only concern of men and women is to look out for "number one" and let the rest of the world shift for itself.

Observe also that the Lord identifies Himself with His brethrenwhat is done to and for them is counted as done to and for Him. Compare the experience of Samuel (I Sam. 8:7) and of Paul (Acts 9:5). Touch God's people and you touch Him. Fail them and you fail Him. Serve them and you serve Him.

III. Judgment Determines (v. 46). Yes, God's judgment determines of eternity, and it is consequently of great importance that we are right with both God and man now if we expect to be right throughout eter-

We need to face this truth of judgment with complete candor and honest heart-searching. We agree with Dr. Douglass that "we must stand with awful concern before this solemn truth. Do not hesitate to teach this because it is contrary to the current of modern thinking or shocking to confront. It needs to be faced in a brave spirit of realism. (As a teacher) you will do your pupils a great disservice if you try to shield them from the grim implications of this truth. Yes, and also if you keep from them the glorious prospect of eternal joy in the presence of God. The law of life is the law of love—love for God, and for Jesus Christ whom He hath sent to be our Redeemer, and love for His brethren. That law of love rules even in the day of judg-

TWO REASONS WHY MOTHER BUYS EXTRA WAR BONDS

- To help end the war and bring Dad home sooner.
- To build up a fund for her youngsier's

Every extra War Bond we Americans buy and hold does a two-fold job. It's up to us.

Fuel Economy Begins at Home With Amazingly Efficient New

Chimney Sweep Soot Destroyer

48-Oz. Can

3-16-inch of soot can cause you 69% fuel loss ... which in dollars and cents is a staggering total.
But you can eliminate that loss with CHIMNEY SWEEP and it's as easy as putting coal on the fire! It thoroughly cleanses your furnace (whether you burn coal, gas or oil) from fire-box to chimney top. ... it's non-inflammable, non-explosive. And this $1 can constitutes a whole Winter's
