CANTATA PRESENTED IN THE REFORMED CHURCH

On last Sunday evening at 7:30 in Grace Reformed Church the choir of the church presented the Cantata, "The Heavenly Light" to an audience which practically filled the Church. The Cantata was given in an inspiring manner, testifying not only to the musical ability of the members of the choir to interpret sacred music, but to the thorough preparation which evidently had been made for the event, resulting in the program being presented with splendid coordination of all the parts in perfect harmony and with marvelous expression. Every number was thoroughly enjoyed by the large congregation present. Altogether this was one of the outstanding musical events in Taneytown for a long time.

The following ladies and gentlemen took part in the program: Mrs. Carel Frock, Mrs. Howard Baker, Ruth Perry, Miss Doris Koons, Mrs. Edgar Fink, Mrs. Delmont Koons, Mrs. Leonard Reifsnider, Delmont Koons, Wilbur Thomas, Edgar Fink, Harry Mohney, Miss Margaret Shreeve, director of the choir, and Mrs. Rein Motter, organist.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY HOLDS FINE MEETING

Sketches and Tales of Taneytown and Myers Districts Given

The Carroll County Historical Society held a district meeting in the Fireman's Building, Taneytown, on Monday evening, May 21, at 8 P. M. The meeting was for Taneytown and Myers Districts, and was well attended.

A group of ladies from this community under the leadership of Mrs. John H. Smith collected historical exhibits and arranged them on tables and about the walls, giving quite a historic air to the whole occasion. The exhibits numbered 140 not including old deeds and parchments. A further addition to the array was made by the representatives of Myers District.

The program was opened by the singing of America. W. Wallace Reindollar, presided, and welcomed the large number of persons present. He introduced Dr. Arthur G. Tracey of Hampstead, President of the Carroll County Historical Society, who gave a brief introductory address.

The representatives of Myers District were given the first turn at reciting history. Miss Mirand Nusbaum read a well prepared paper showing early history of that section speaking of the over-lapping of early land grants in the period of 1730-40. She gave a good description of the geography of the district, as well as early industries. Her paper was interspersed with curious legends and advertisements.

Mrs. Paul Bankard was the second to read a paper for Myers District. Her subject was churches and schools. She traced the history of St. Mary's Lutheran and Reformed Church, dating back to 1762, seventy-five years before Carroll County was founded. She told of the separation in 1880, and the building of the fine churches now in use. Other churches whose history was traced were the Methodist Episcopal, and St. Mary's Catholic, in which Cardinal Gibbons was so deeply interested. Mrs. Bankard told in detail of the district schools, and of the later building and rebuilding of the Charles Carroll Consolidated School.

James M. Shriver, President of the B. F. Shriver Co., read a brief paper on the canning industry in Myers District. He traced the beginning of his company in 1858, and its later growth and development, as well as the changes in method of processing food. He told of the coming of competitors, and the consequent enlargement of the whole industry.

A considerable part of the evening had been spent when Taneytown came to bat. The audience, however, showed its deep interest, and our local history had its inning. Rev. Guy P. Bready was assigned the task of giving Taneytown history. He told of the first founding, the recorded plat of 1763, the early land

KIWANIS CLUB MEETS

The Taneytown Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the Parish Hall of Baust Reformed Church, President Raymond Wright presiding. The period of group singing was in charge of Samuel Breth, with Mrs. George Harner as accompanist. Twenty-seven members and three visitors present.

The program was in charge of the Committee on Support of Churches, Charles Cluts chairman. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Norman Hess, County Commissioner and President of the Taneytown District Sunday School Association.

Mr. Hess spoke of immigration of church people from Europe seeking religious liberty and the importance of their loyalty in the establishment of the church in America.

He spoke also of the highway system of Carroll County consisting of 960 miles of roads, in three groups, 200 miles of state road, 160 miles of county improved roads and 600 miles of improved or dirt roads. On account of the present man shortage, only 27 men are employed in maintenance of the county's road system. Once a road is put into the State highway system it can never be returned to county management.

During the past year $250,000 was spent on Carroll County roads $29000 which was spent in Taneytown District. Taneytown District has 128 miles of roads, of which 73 miles are improved. The county has an ample surplus to take care of any emergency which might arise, and has no debts. Of the $1.10 levy, 67 cents is spent for schools, 40 cents for remaining expenses of the county. Last year $26,000 was given to old age pensions; $5,000 to Carroll County welfare. He asked for consideration of the problems facing the County Commissioners, that the more that is asked for the higher the tax rate.

No reduction in the tax rate can be looked for as the increased levy for schools on account of the new law is inevitable.

On account of Memorial Day programs, the weekly meeting will be omitted on May 30. On June 6, the Club will meet at the Hoffman Orphanage, at 5:30 P. M., the program being in charge of the committee on War Time Citizenship. This will be a "Ladies' Night".

SERVICE MEN NEWS

Letters From Them and their Other Activities

Dear Mr. Stonesifer:

I received a copy of the Carroll Record yesterday. It was the first mail I got since I have been down in Georgia. I certainly did enjoy looking through and reading it. The letters other service men write mean a lot more to me now since I am in the army. I just started my basic training yesterday. Last evening was on K. P. from 5 o'clock until 8 o'clock. Sometimes this is given as punishment in the army, but this time it wasn't punishment to me for it was just my turn. I was on (K. P.) today from a quarter till six this morning until 5 this evening. I have to make up the training I missed this evening. Sincerely,

TANEYTOWN SOLDIER IN HOSPITAL IN GEORGIA

Pfc. John C. Settle, East Baltimore St., Taneytown, has arrived at the Oliver General Hospital, Atlanta, Ga., from overseas for further medical treatment.

Oliver General Hospital is one of the Army's great medical institutions, and has a bed capacity of 2,240. It represents the final step in the chain of evacuation from the front lines.

With the war against Japan upmost in the minds of its personnel, Oliver General is making every effort to be ready for the casualties which must inevitably result from the prosecution of the war in the Pacific. Thousands of wounded and sick men from the European Theater also continue to be evacuated and receive treatment here.

Medical facilities are of the finest, and the staff has been well trained over years of hospital operation. Recreational facilities for the new patient include a gymnasium, a moving picture theater, an indoor swimming pool, and the 18-hole golf course.

Friends of the new arrival are asked not to telephone because of congested wire facilities. Mail is welcomed by every patient and is handled rapidly.

Keesler Field, Miss May 18, '45

Dear Mr. Stonesifer:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you and your staff for sending me "The Carroll Record." It let's me know all the events going on in the old home town while I'm away. It sure is a swell newspaper.

I also wish to thank the citizens of Taneytown for presenting me that swell kit. It contains practically everything I need. It is also very compact, which means a lot to any one in the service. Everything about it is nice, and I really appreciate it.

Well, I've just finished my basic training and I am awaiting shipment. I am classified as a gunner, but since gunnery schools are filled up, I may go to a mechanics school first. I'll just have to wait and see what happens. Thanking you again for everything, I remain,

PVT. EUGENE SELL

Dear Mr. Stonesifer:

Will take time out to thank you for sending the paper. Sure enjoy reading the home town news.

I have been transferred from New York to San Francisco, so would appreciate very much if you would send your paper to my new address. Thanks again and this is my new address.

MANY NEW LAWS

In a statement issued recently from Annapolis we were told that the Governor had just signed 135 bills past by the general assembly at its last session, and that this batch raised to a total of 1110 the number of new laws enacted through his signature.

That is an amazing number for a state like Maryland and raises the question whether the Assembly is not doing more harm than good in the passage of many of these bills. Of course there are laws that need to be amended from time to time, but the passage of bills by the hundreds at every session of the assembly is sure to create a lot of confusion, and often without betterment.

It might be a good thing for the General Assembly and the Governor to try to establish a record by the smallness of the number of new laws, and by making sure that the new ones are better than the old. The people should be fairly able to know what the law requires and that new or amended laws are in the interest of the people, and not merely to satisfy the whims of public officials.

MEMORIAL DAY 1945

Memorial Day is not a holiday but a holy day. Memorial Day is a pause in which to remember those who died in all our wars, those who perished in the last great holocaust, as well as those who are dying in the inferno of the present war.

Memorial Day is a solemn day—one on which we, as a nation, should objectively consider the mistakes of the past and calmly face the problems of the future, resolving that never again will we pay the price of a neglected duty.

Memorial Day is a day on which we are all Americans. We do not think of celebrating it by groups of class or race or creed. Whatever group loyalties bind us at other times—on this day of the year we are only brother Americans.

In his tribute to the late President of the United States on last Columbus Day, the Attorney General said: "The Commander-in-Chief knows men and he knows war; and he knows the American people. He knows that there is no question of race on the beachheads and no question of creeds in a foxhole. He knows that, as every race and creed have mingled in our streets—every race and creed lies buried at Arlington."

In war we are all one people. Our boys do not die as rich or poor, workingman or employer, Black or White, native born or naturalized citizen, Protestant, Catholic or Jew. They die as Americans. We honor them as Americans who gave their lives that there might not perish from the earth the ideals of justice and liberty for all men, regardless of their race, creed, color or precious condition of servitude. They vious earned for their sons and daughters—and for their neighbor's sons and daughters—the right to live and prosper as Americans.

The one great honor we owe those who have died, the only memorial that is worth the building, is the preservation of the things for which they fought, the maintenance of that unity of purpose as Americans which must be the cornerstone or the world of tomorrow. The unity that was won on the beachheads; the unity that was fused in the foxholes; the unity that lies buried in Arlington and in unmarked graves all over the world, is the unity that we must preserve in the days to come.

Memorial Day is a holy day. And on this day we must renew our pledge to those who have gone on, that we may be worthy of the sacrifice which they, our fellow Americans, have made.—Ruth Taylor.

INFLATION

Here is a simple explanation of inflation which comes from William C. Walsh, Attorney-General for Maryland. He says:

"According to Webster's New International Dictionary, the word 'inflation,' as applied to money and prices means an 'undue expansion or increase.' This is a good definition, and it would be helpful if everyone knew and understood it. Inflation simply means an 'undue increase' in the price of things we buy. It also means we have to pay more for the things we have to have. It means that it takes more money than it should to secure the things we need. And the obvious result is that the more we have to pay for the things the less value our money has.

"Another evil of inflation is the decrease in value which it brings to bonds, saving accounts and life insurance. Bonds and saving accounts represent fixed sums of money, and life insurance policies provide for the payment of fixed sums of money. But, if the cost of the things we have to buy increase, the value of our bonds, saving accounts, and life insurance decreases because it takes more of our life insurance payments to purchase the things we need.

"Some inflation already exists in this country, and there is real danger that it will greatly increase. We have bought billions of dollars worth of bonds, there are billions of dollars in saving accounts in the banks of this country, and the currency in circulation is about 2½ times larger than it was a few years ago.

"The supply of civilian goods, on the other hand, has been steadily decreasing ever since the war started. This means that there are a tremendous number of persons with money who need or want civilian goods, we will have more inflation, and the money we are earning or have acquired will further decrease in value."

OUR SECOND WIND

When our nation first went to war every man, woman and child wanted to do something about it. Thousands of men quit their jobs to enlist in the army or navy, women went into war factories, children helped save tin, paper and scrap. We were all ready and anxious to make any sacrifices which might speed victory. We had an enthusiasm about joining the war effort which is hardly noticeable today.

Now, since the defeat of Germany war has become routine. We still hate war and want to get it over as soon as we can—but, to a large extent, our war spirit of 1941 has changed to a war weariness.

As all eyes turn toward Japan we need to get our second wind. We need to get our second wind. We Harbor spirit of eagerness to do everything we can to lick the Japs in the shortest possible time.

The Japs' one hope is that we will lose interest in the war. If we slacken in our purchase of war bonds, or in production, or in our obedience to necessary war regulations, the Japs' hopes will be encouraged and the war prolonged. The quicker we can show them that we still mean business on the home front, the sooner they will realize that their position is hopeless.—Rhoderick Papers.

LANDING AT OKINAWA WAS EASY, BUT —

More than six weeks ago American troops invaded Okinawa and made landings that were rated the most successful in the entire Pacific war. Since that time the battle has been uphill work both figuratively and literally. It took five days to capture "Chocolate Drop Hill," and as the Japs are pushed further toward the northern end of the island, the fighting will become more furious.

We have seen that island fighting is difficult. The success of the initial landings is always questionable and though the enemy falls back, his retreat is always cut off by surrounding water. Japan has never sought to rescue any of her forces from the Pacific islands except at Kiska where they had already been evacuated before the American invasions. This has always meant that when our forces captured an island, victory was complete. The enemy who fought at Guadalcanal was not alive to fight again at Tarawa.

What has happened in this island fighting is that as the Jap retreats his forces become concentrated in a smaller and smaller area, so that as the battle nears its end the fighting becomes fiercer. On Mindano which is 90 per cent in American hands the battle has reached an all time high in ferocity. Hand to hand fighting is the order of the day.

Fists and knives are common weapons and men who take part in the fight are equipped with weapons rarely necessary in the war with Germany.

Bombings of Japan are damaging to civilian morale and armament production, but Okinawa is a vivid illustration of the type of fighting which will intensify as we come closer to Japan itself.—Union News, Towson.

Forestry Is Aided By Wooden Nickels

Timber Growers of South Promote Campaign.

VALDOSTA, GA. — Don't refuse any wooden nickels!

Southern forest operators have modernized the ancient gag. The new version is sounder advice, they claim, since in the South every fifth nickel is a wooden nickel—that is, one-fifth of all Southern income derives from Dixie woodlands.

To stress the point, and to publicize the rapid regrowth of harvested lands when protected from fire and managed in accordance with policies adopted by leading industrial forest operators, many thousands of "Wooden Nickels" are being distributed throughout 12 Southern states. The campaign is sponsored by the Forest Farmers, a cooperative organization of independent timber growers with headquarters in Valdosta, Ga.

On one side, the tiny discs read, "Your Own Wooden Nickel—Protect the Forest." On the other, the Wooden Nickel says, "In every 25c of all Southern income, 5c is Forest Money."

Distributed with a quiz sheet on the South's forest land, the Wooden Nickels spearhead an information campaign having three main objectives. They are:

1. To emphasize that everyone gets much of his income from forest utilization.
2. To educate the public to protect the forests, especially from fire.
3. To show small woodlot owners the benefits of proper development, harvesting and marketing of their forest property.

In support of these specific aims, the program encourages more desirable public forestry policies, better understanding of the work of state forestry departments, and increased cooperation of farm woodlot owners with county agricultural agents.

Latest Items of Local News Furnished
By Our Regular Staff of Writers

We desire correspondence to reach our office on Thursday, if at all possible. It will be necessary therefore, for most letters to be mailed on Wednesday, or by Fast Mail, west in W. M. R. R. Thursday morning. Letters mailed on Thursday evening may not reach us in time.

All communications for this department must be signed by the author; not for publication, but as an evidence that the items contributed are legitimate and correct. Items based on mere rumor, or such as are likely to give offense, are not wanted.

FEESERSBURG

Monday—an ideal May morning—a little cool, but warming up. Tractors are humming all around in the fields; while some men are working in the gardens—setting out plants, sweet potatoes, cauliflower, eggplant, peppers and tomatoes, while we are eating lettuce, onions, radishes and greens; but there's a shortage of meat and sugar. Isn't it great to know there ever was a time when we could get what we wanted if we had the money.

Mrs. Laura Hoffman Kooke, Baltimore, has returned to J. N. Starr's for her spring visit. Mrs. Starr's heart has been unruly, and Mrs. Kooke is good medicine for her. They called to see us on Saturday evening. Mrs. Kooke has moved to a new home in the City and it is being redecorated while she is away. Mr. Starr is farming the land belonging to the Fair Ground at Taneytown.

There was S. S. and Preaching Service at Mt. Union on Sunday morning, when pastor Birx read the lesson for Pentecost and preached a Mother's Day sermon on the theme—"Mothers as good Stewards"—splendid address. Many beautiful flowers were placed in the church by Mrs. C. Wolfe, Mrs. Winnie Miller, Mrs. H. Lambert and Mrs. Theo. Bohn. The music sounded heavenly—when one hasn't heard any for weeks—and it was a glorious day! The Bulletin contains a sketch of a dear old mother and several fine poems to her; and a reminder for Lutheran World Action. Children's service will be given on June 17th.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Buffington, of N. Y. are visiting the Clarence Buffington family at Mt. Union, where she attended worship on Sunday. Her husband is recovering from a fall which injured his hip severely.

From Woodrow Miller in the Philippines, we learn that coconuts are abundant there—and very cheap, but to send a crate home would cost more than they can be bought here. Another of the boys in service wrote that pineapples were so plentiful he never wants to see another, such good things as we can't get—and yet the home-land seems better.

Our neighbors are receiving some nice and interesting souvenirs from overseas. Two helmets a French and German, a gas mask, and dagger for Rodney Bostian from his uncle Ralph Strausberg in France; and Miss Frances Crumbacker has just received a package from the South Pacific area, containing two fancy dress skirts—one large and one small, such as are worn by the dancing girls of Hawaii. A splendid handpainted blue scarf; and a handsome bracelet of coral pearls.

Mrs. Bertha Albaugh is spending a little time at the home of her only son, Holly Albaugh, near Unionville and called on relatives in New Windsor. She didn't have a healthy winter, so it is good to know she can get around again.

Bruce Shirk is recovering from a case of blood poisoning, when struck the end of his second finger against a frame, and a couple days later was in great pain and swelling, and under the Doctors care.

Jacob Snare—who has served at the Walden home for many years—was found lying in the garden where he was plowing on Saturday afternoon in a paralyzed condition. He was taken home, and is critically ill—not having regained consciousness. The community is stunned.

Mrs. Lysander Horich, mother of Franklin Houch with whom she was living, passed away on Thursday evening of last week—at the advanced age of 94 years. We only knew her in recent years, but considered her very remarkable; such an entertaining conversationalist especially when telling of her early life. She and her mother—Mrs. Lewis Fuhronan—kept the toll gate on the Baltimore/Hanover turnpike, and tailoring mens clothes, before the time of sewing machines, and during the Civil War. Funeral service was held at St. David's Union Church (Sherman) where she was a member of the Reformed congregation, and many friends attended. Franklin Horich and wife—nee Naomi Adams—stopped to see us when returning from the burial. Their home is in Camp Hill, Pa., and Mrs. Horich is convalescing from a severe case of tonsillitis.

Mrs. Birx was confined to bed with a heavy cold on Sunday, and we missed her at church—but hope she'll soon recover. One of our members complained every week of a fresh cold, but has decided 'tis an inherited catarrhal condition and hot weather will give relief.

Next comes Decoration Day—and what efforts were used to make to get to the National Cemetery at Gettysburg and what crowds would gather there, and the soldier's graves be strewn with flowers; now we give more attention to our local graveyards, and they are better kept than formerly. This year while early blooms are faded and gone, there will be honey suckle and roses—sweetest of all.

Several ladies of our town went out for a short drive, and got lost a couple miles from their door, and didn't know where they were until in sight of home. They had not passed any saloons on the way but never realized there were so many corners near them—but we live and learn.

FRIZELLBURG

Waenita Senft, East End of the Burg returned to school after being absent for one week, nursing bad tonsils.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Devilbiss are receiving congratulations on the birth of twin boys.

The County Farm Union met on Monday evening in Rupp's Social Hall, Meadow Branch, with Mr. Walsh in charge. The meeting opened by scripture reading and prayer by Rev. Oren Garner. Mr. Sterling Bixler called the roll and read the minutes of previous meeting. Guest speakers were Mr. Rumbly, of Harrisburg, Pa., and Mr. Yohman, Sec. of the Eastern Division of Georgia. They discussed the milk problem, Communist, Socialized medicine and subsidized education.

Mrs. Marion Collins and Mrs. Samuel Renner, both of Littlestown, were married Monday evening at 6 o'clock in Emmanuel Baust Church by the Rev. Miles Reifsnnyder. Mrs. Denton Wantz played soft music during the ceremony. Mrs. Collins is the daughter of Mrs. Jacob Maus, of near Westminster. Immediate members of both families witnessed the ceremony. We wish for them a long and happy life.

In Baust Lutheran and Reformed Church, Sunday morning S. S., at 9:30; Preaching Services, 10:30. Rev. Chas. Birx, pastor, and in the evening Preaching Services, 8:15. Rev. Miles Reifsnnyder, pastor.

News from the boys this week includes an interesting letter from Pfc. Delmar Warehime of May 1. He tells of staying in a home just outside of Munich in which a German officers wife lived. It was quite a modern home, electric stove and radio over which he heard broadcasts from New York. He also says, "Yesterday we liberated over 10,000 prisoners of war in Munich. A good half of them were American and British. And don't say they weren't happy, it made us so happy that we had to cry too, just to watch them. Some said they were there since 1940 and others for several months. We even met some fellows who had been captured from our division. Some of them were treated decently but others weren't. I guess you heard about the liberation of political prisoners at the concentration camp too. When you see things like that it really makes you feel like this war isn't being fought in vain. We've gotten this place pretty well cleaned up, about the only thing we have to worry about are S. S. Troop, who have retreated to the Alps. I just hope we don't have to dig them out. Those SS troops are supposed to be the best men and the meanest in the German army. They're all sworn to Hitler to die and not to be captured. They are also branded under the arm. We caught one yesterday and left two French PW's take care of him. They beat him to unconsciousness and then shot him five times. Even the German people don't like them. I just heard the news flash that Hitler is dead as announced by the German radio, that's a good one to go to bed on."

What stories our boys will have to tell when they come home.

Pfc. Walter Myers, Jr., also writes on May 5th: "German soldiers are surrendering by the hundreds of thousands—it's really something to see. We passed a field, day before yesterday that had over 10,000 prisoners in it. I've never seen such a mass of human beings and every one a P. W. Hitler's supermen look awfully sick these days."

Another letter May 9 reads in part just four years ago today I left home, not knowing what was ahead of me and it is over, May 9th is one date I'll never forget, I'll never know how I lived through it all, those miracles that saved my life, I guess it was your prayers being answered—the boys enjoyed and celebrated peacefully and quietly today. There was no yelling or shooting of guns or getting drunk. Everyone seemed quiet and thanked God in his own way, there were church services but I couldn't attend. Radios were going all day and I did hear parts of different services. It seems so peaceful and quiet now that the guns have stopped firing. I'm well and O. K. so don't worry about me.—Walter W. Myers, Jr.

EMMITSBURG

V-E Day! V-E Day! Everyone has waited so long for it that it's hard to believe it really happened. As in every city and town through the world the day was greeted in Emmitsburg with mixed emotions. Some shouts and cheers, some tears. At 9 A. M. (May 8th) all the bells rang announcing the official proclamation of V-E Day. At 10 A. M. the children and public school held a service of Thanksgiving in Elias Evangelical Lutheran Church. Rev. Philip Bower and Rev. Welker conducted the service. At the same time the children of St. Ephemia's held services in St. Joseph's Church. At 4:30 P. M. the seminarians, students and V-12 unit from Mt. St. Mary's and the students of St. Joseph's College attended high Mass in the Chapel at Mt. St. Mary's. At P. M. a community service of Thanksgiving was held in Elias Lutheran Church. The churches were filled to capacity for all these services. Yes, there was laughter and tears in Emmitsburg on May 8th, but most of all there were many hearts raised in prayer to God that the war with Japan would be brought to a speedy end. We are so proud of our boys who have fought in Europe, fight on to the end you boys in the Pacific—our prayers are with you.

We have some "Welcome Homes" to extend this month. Sgt. Clifford Eyer is home from Europe.

T/Sgt. LeRoy Baker, after 18 months in India, has been home for several days. LeRoy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baker, Frailay Road. While in India LeRoy was in the 1st Air Commando Group.

While on a bombing mission over Rangoon LeRoy's plane was shot down and the crew was forced to bail out. He narrowly escaped death when his parachute caught on the plane. He suffered two sprained ankles in the landing. LeRoy was never fortunate enough to meet any one from home—although he and Greta Keilholtz were both in India at the same time. His closest friend was an AAF pilot whose home was in India and LeRoy frequently spent leaves in an honest to goodness home.

S/Sgt. Greta Keilholtz, Camp Barksdale, Shreveport, Louisiana. This is Greta's second furlough since coming home from overseas.

Pvt. Wayne McCluskey is home after his basic training at Camp Bland, Fla. Wayne is in the Paratrooper Flight Office. Charles E. Rowe has been home several times awaiting overseas shipment.

Pats. "Chic" Topper and "Dan" Andrews have been home twice since their induction. They're fortunate enough to still be at Fort Meade.

"Bill" Walters Ph. M. 3/c is home. He was lucky enough to get a leave while Wayne is home. They've been doing a little paint slinging.

Lt. and Mrs. Vernon Keilholtz have been in town for a few days. The Base-ball Club is striving to reorganize.

The Woman's Club sponsored a Bingo Party on May 12 in the American Legion Home. At the same time the boys chanced off a $25.00 War Bond, Approximate $125.00 was cleared on the two affairs. Mrs. Wm. Shorb won the War Bond.

The Senior Class at Emmitsburg Hi held their class play the last of April. The play was entitled "Why Worry." The roles were well played before a large audience.

Lt. and Mrs. Earl Rice have been in town for a few days visiting Mrs. Rice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Matthews. Mary Gene and Earl have been living in San Bernardino, Calif. they are now living in Lincoln, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. "Dan" Keating and children have been visiting Prof. and Mrs. Norris. Lot of you will remember "Dan" from his student days at the Mount.

Bob Daugherty, Bob. Strine, Bob Sawyer, Dee Sawyer and Edw. Wastler are still in the same outfit. At the present time they're on Okinawa.

General Hospital, Camp Pickett, Va., where he is convalescing from wounds received recently in overseas service. Pvt. Eyer went into the service December 1942. He joined the Paratrooper Air Borne Division in Aug. 1943, training at Fort Benning and Camp Mackall, N. C.

Pvt. Eyer wears the European Theatre Ribbon with four stars, denoting active service in four major campaigns in Italy, Southern France, Belgium and Germany. When he jumped into Southern France he received a back wound which kept him from front line duty for two months. While fighting in the Belgium breakthrough he received a bullet wound in the right leg and shrapnel in his knee cap. He was taken to a hospital in France, then to England and landed in New York, April 28th. Pvt. Eyer recalled satisfying his hunger of one year's duration for eggs and fresh milk. He and his friend went to a New York restaurant after their transport, cooked and ate 15 fried eggs and drank two quarts of milk each. In addition to the Purple Heart and European ribbon, Pvt. Eyer wears the Presidential Citation which he modestly asserts is "for being with a good outfit." When asked about mail delivery, the paratrooper remarked that a letter from a friend here in Emmitsburg saved his life. During a battle, he left his foxhole when his name was called for a letter. Just as he left the foxhole an 88 mm. shell exploded in it killing the other two boys who had occupied it with him. He still carries the letter as a good luck charm. On another occasion, Pvt. Eyer was in a foxhole with a buddy. Orders came to move forward. He gave his friend a slight push, saying "Come on didn't you hear the order?" at which his friends body fell over. He had been killed instantly by a piece of shrapnel which had caught him in the temple. The paratrooper tells of seeing his brother, Sgt. Austin Eyer, of the 85th Division, Artillery, in Rome. They were able to spend a week-end together. A third brother, Sgt. John Eyer, Tank Corps, was killed in action in 1944.

To the People of this Community

How long will the war with Japan last?

Everybody has an answer to this question but our best advice is not to base your bond buying on whether you think it will take weeks or years to win in the Pacific.

The best war conduct is always to be on an all-out war effort basis.

General Douglas C. MacArthur gave you the tipoff on what to expect before your relatives and friends take over a wrecked Tokyo. In the Philippine campaign only 165 Japanese surrendered in a slaughter which cost them 308,180 men.

Buy bonds in the 7th War Loan with a spirit of an American in combat. Give it to the Japs full force and with all your weapons. That's the way to do your part in the vital, mighty 7th War Loan. Now—all together.

Soft Custard

Coat Foods
Leftover pancake batter should be saved and used for coating steak, meat chops, chicken and other foods which are to be fried in deep fat.

Poultry Seasonings
To avoid overdoing sage flavor, poultry seasonings made of several different herbs are recommended.

Homespun Philosophy

By Ezra

Ingenuity is something not everybody has. It is very elusive. We can search for it and never find it. We may try to purchase it but find we do not have the price. We may even try to work for it but discover that it cannot be earned. In other words we are born with it, or we are not.

The story is told about a certain politician in this County, named Norman, that in running for office he showed evidence of this rare trait. Early in the game he began to despair of his chances of being elected. He said to himself, "Something must be done, and fast!" He decided that he must learn to know his constituents better. So he began to study them. He read a good bit of the science of psychology, if it can be called a science. His object was to learn the manner in which people react to certain stimuli.

In the course of his reading he discovered that the people known as the "public" were on an average of rather low mentality. So low in fact that it amazed him. The book said that the average mentality of the "public" was that of a twelve year old child. In view of this fact he again said to himself, "In dealing with my constituents I must do something childish!"

So he changed the entire policy of his campaign. He went out stumping with a new promise. It wasn't to put a chicken into every pot, or two cars in every garage, but it was to give every voter shoes. Of course there was a catch in it. That is where the childishness of the promise came in. He promised every voter one shoe if he voted for him.

At first the voters began to laugh. "Ha, ha! What do we want with one shoe. It will not do us any good. We need two shoes." You see a twelve year old child knows that he has two feet and that he needs two shoes or one leg will be shorter than the other one and walking won't be so easy. They laughed so long and loudly that it would have discouraged most any candidate. But it didn't discourage Norman. He went on with his oration, "I repeat my dear intelligencia, I will give one shoe—the left one, for your left foot. Then I want you to vote for me. You see I mean to be elected to this great office. So I'll buy enough people one shoe now so that I can be elected. Then after the election if you all vote for me I will be the successful candidate and I will buy you the other shoe for the right foot."

You may call that buying the election, but I am going to call it ingenuity. Every twelve year old boy wants a new pair of shoes. Norman knew that. (So he gave them a pair but in doing so he insured his election to the office to which he aspired. Norman is pretty shrewd. He knows how to make his ingenuity work for him. If you don't believe it, go to him for a new road, some time. I don't think he'll try the shoe trick again but he has something up his sleeve that will make you go away just as satisfied—but without the road.

CARROLL COUNTY HOMEMAKERS MEET

Nearly 350 County Homemakers and friends met at the Grace Lutheran Church in Westminster, Thursday, May 17th, for the annual meeting of the Carroll County Council of Homemakers Clubs. Mrs. Walter Horton of the Hillsdale Club, County Council President, presided.

Following the invocation which was given by Mrs. Lloyd Spencer of the Hillsdale Club and the salute to the flag and National Anthem, both Rev. Elwood S. Falkenstein, minister of the Grace Lutheran Church, and Mrs. Roland Shipley, president of the Westminster Homemakers Club, welcomed the group.

The roll-call by clubs showed that all of the twenty clubs in the county were represented and the reports given by the club presidents indicated that each club had a very busy and worthwhile year. Miss Justina C. Crosby, Home Demonstration Agent, gave a brief summary of her activities since May 1, 1944 which showed that she, too, had been very busy.

Following the election of new officers, Mrs. George Gorsuch, of New Windsor, retiring secretary, installed Mrs. Richard Berwager, of Manchester as the County Council Secretary for a two-year period and Mrs. Walter Horton, retiring president, installed Mrs. Roland Shipley as Co. Council President for the next two years.

Miss Gertrude Dieken, Home Economics Consultant for the E. I. Du Pont De Nemours and Co., in her talk on "Chemistry and our Post-war Homes" explained some of the recent experiments which are being conducted. Samples of some of the products which are being produced were on display and, from the information gathered, there are certainly many things for the Homemakers to look forward to in the future.

The National meeting of Representatives from various Homemakers Councils throughout the country which was held in Chicago was reviewed for the group by Mrs. J. Homer Remberg, of Middletown who as President of the Maryland State Council of Homemakers' Clubs, attended the National meeting. Following greetings given by Miss Venia M. Kellar, Assistant Director of the Extension Service, and Mrs. John D. Young, District Director for the Maryland State Council, the morning session was adjourned.

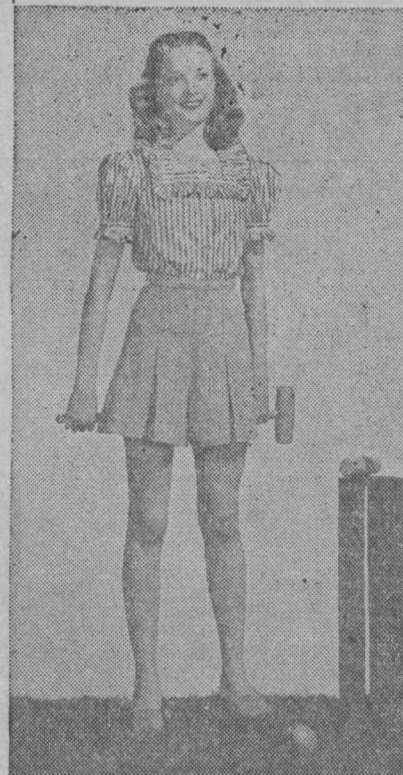

The afternoon session was opened by an enjoyable period of group singing which was led by Mrs. S. Earl Mitchell, of the Westminster Homemakers' Club accompanied by Mrs. Edward Little who was also a member of the Westminster Homemakers Club.

Mrs. William Rath, program chairman for this meeting, introduced the afternoon speaker, Dr. Edwin A. Ross of the Elderslie Methodist Church, in Baltimore, whose subject was "Building the Peace". At this time he stressed the fact that it is imperative for each one to know what is going on at the peace conferences and equip himself to think intelligently on the subject so that this peace can really be a lasting one. For this, Dr. Ross stated that brotherhood is the only solution. Following Dr. Ross's talk all of the Homemakers present who were the wives of men in the service or who were mothers or grandmothers of men or women in the service were asked to step forward and one of the group spoke briefly for the group in expressing appreciation for all that is being done towards lasting peace declaring that "this must never happen again." This was most impressive and the meeting was brought to a fitting close by a prayer and benediction by Dr. Ross.

The programs for the meeting were done in brown and white and the cover design carried out the theme of "Building the Peace." This design was cut by Margaret Fredrich, an art student at Western Maryland College.

The collection of flags which is owned by the Westminster American Legion Post was loaned to the Homemakers for their annual meeting and was used as a background for the stage.

To the People of this Community

Mortally wounded Staff Sergeant George K. Keathley of Lamesa, Texas, stood up for 15 minutes and moved down attacking Germans. After he had driven off the Nazis, he slumped to the ground, turned to a comrade and whispered: "Write to my wife, tell her I did everything, I could for her and my country."

This Medal of Honor soldier did more than write to Mrs. Keathley. He wrote to you, too. Can you sincerely answer: "I am doing all I can for my country?" Not unless you are doing your share in the Mighty 7th War Loan. Your maximum War Bond purchase of any of the war loans is needed the most now as Sgt. Keathley's comrades head for the Pacific for the final round of the world struggle to save your country from Fascist hands.

Pinup Baby Given War Bonds

THE WINNER—Little 15-month-old Harolyn Cheryl Meyer of Trenton, New Jersey, official pinup girl of the USS New Jersey, was made $3,200 richer in War Bonds through donations by the crew of the USS New Jersey for use in obtaining her future education. Governor Walter E. Edge made the presentation. The child's father, an Army Air Corps pilot, is a prisoner of war in Germany. He has never seen his little beauty queen. She is held by her mother, Mrs. Harry C. Meyer.

Chapter Two

THE MYSTERIOUS LETTER

"THAT'S just it, dear, I've had to learn not to show things. It's for Jim's sake. It's better for him not to see how hard it is on you, don't you see?"

"I can stand it. I'll let him know that I love him no matter what's happened to him."

"But we can't notice that anything has happened. We have to be just the same as always," insisted Jane.

Sarah went to Mattie. "It's just that he mustn't see from you how bad it is," she said softly, deliberately.

"Do you think I wouldn't know how to act with my own boy?"

"You don't realize what it may be like, and if you go to pieces, well?"
asked Sarah.

"I won't go to pieces. I can be as brave as anyone. What will he think if I'm not there? I've always been there, ever since when he was a little boy he used to run to me when he was hurt and I cried over the bumps and made them well," she argued. Turning to Jane she was accusing, "This is your fault! You don't want me to go!"

A hurt mingled with the bitterness of her soul.

"I want to do what is best for him,"
Jane said sadly but with determination,
"no matter what it is. She picked up her hat and started for the door.

"Where are you going?" demanded Mattie.

"I said I'd see Mrs. Murray at 10 o'clock."

"Don't tell me you're selling her a bond?" asked Sarah.

"Yes," came Jane's tired answer.

"How can you?" demanded Mattie.

"How can you think of bonds with your own husband lying helpless in the hospital, so ill they won't let even his own mother in the hospital—so ill they won't let even his own mother see him? How do you dare get people to give money to buy more death and destruction?"

"Haven't you done enough to help all this killing? If people didn't buy bonds, he killing would have to stop. There'd be no more bullets and they'd have to stop killing."

"You know that's not true, Mrs.
Evans!" interrupted Sarah. "They won't stop fighting till they've wiped out every one of those—why, if they stopped now, they'd all be prisoners and slaves!"

"They'd be alive," insisted Mattie.
"They wouldn't be lying in hospitals,
hurt."

Jane almost broke down and pleaded,
"Mother, please!"

"It's true! You know it's true!" continued Mattie.

"Mother! I know how worried and disappointed you are, but you can't say things like that!"

"If I'm upset, it's because I hate war, I hate suffering. And I won't have you helping them go on and on."

"It wasn't our war in the first place!"
said Mattie.

"It was our war. It's everybody's war. Everybody who has any faith at all in human progress, in human dignity," said Jane bitterly. "But even if we didn't believe that, even if we were just rank materialists, how long do you think we would have lasted in a Nazi-Japanese world? You know that as well as I do, only you've let your personal pain grow until it's blotted out everything else."

"How dare you say such things to me, his mother?"

"Because it's true. This war is bigger than our little suffering. Jim knows that. They all know it now, even if they didn't at the beginning. Fighting teaches so many lessons. Strange we have to learn that way."

Mattie was puzzled. A softness came over her face as she said, "I don't know what you're talking about."

Sarah spoke now. "I think I see what Jane means," she said, choosing her words carefully. "It's hard to understand, really understand cruelty and persecution and devastation when we just never know them. When they're just words we have to try to picture in our minds because they've never touched our lives. But Jim knows what it means because he has seen it.
They all know, and they know it as to be wiped off the earth."

Jane went to Mattie, pleading, "Don't you see, dear? They won't stop, they can't stop, because they do hate war and all the injustice and greed that cause it. And I won't stop. Of course, I'm buying destruction! I'm paying to destroy all the viciousness that makes wars. To destroy aggression and persecution and all the things that would keep Jim and me from having our own lives. What chance would we have if we were always afraid. How could we let our children grow up to fight another war?" She grew more intense with every word. "We can't stop, we don't dare stop until we destroy evil, viciousness."

"No world can long endure half slave and half free," reminded Sarah, softly.

"I guess I have forgotten everything but Jim," admitted Mattie, a lump in her throat.

"There's Jim, too," said Jane. "I'm thinking of Jim in the hospital, needing penicillin and operation after operation.
I'm thinking of doctors and nurses and hospital ships and artificial legs and exercising machines. I'm buying these things, too. If we love Jim, we've got to justify him," she said emphatically.

"We've got to give the best future we can to all those boys who have been hurt."

"I never thought of it that way, either. I guess I haven't thought much at all. I've just been wrapped up in my little shell."

Jane took a deep breath. "Look!"
she suggested. "Come on upstairs to Mrs. Murray's with me, both of you.
She'd like to see you. Since we've gone back to the Philippines, she's been hoping to get some word about the twins."

Sarah shook her head. "Just think.
Three years, just waiting, never knowing."

"Will you come, Mother?" pleaded Jane, biting her lips to hold back the tears.

"Will I come, Jane you just try to stop me."

As Sarah closed the door behind them she murmured, "Thank You, God. I knew You would."

Mummers' Parade

The Mummers' parade was an outgrowth of a custom that sprang up in Philadelphia in the 1860s when a group of families masqueraded, strolled through the streets, and made merry until the next day.
The custom spread. In 1877 the Silver Crown club marched. Two other clubs were in existence at the same date—the Golden Crown and the Morning Star. Business men began to offer prizes to clubs that passed their places. At length council decided to make it a city function and arranged a general parade on Broad street, appropriating money for prizes. The first formal parade was held January 1, 1901.

Roasting Nuts

When you roast nuts in a frying pan, use only low heat and be sure to stir the nuts constantly, until they're hot all the way through.
You'll find the nuts, especially pecans, will darken somewhat when they're taken off the fire, and they'll become crispier as they cool. Drain them on a paper towel or other absorbent paper and sprinkle them with salt. In oven roasting, put nuts in a shallow pan, such as a pie pan, and spread them only one layer deep. Heat your oven only moderately hot, about 375 degrees is about right. Stir them frequently, drain them and salt them, just as you would pan-roasted nuts.

AMERICAN HEROES

ALONE, thousands of miles from home, in the face of bursting phosphorous grenades, Sgt. Clifford S. Denslow, Dearborn, Mich., took a flame thrower, that the War Bonds some thoughtful person back home had bought to put into his hand, and advanced through the thick jungle to within a few feet of blazing hostile pillboxes. He was in a tight spot but he kept going. He turned on the flame, completely destroyed the emplacements and their machine guns and killed eight Nips.

THE RETURNED EXILES AND THEIR WORK

LESSON TEXT—Nehemiah 8:1-4a, 5, 6, 8, 12; 9:1-3.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart.—Jeremiah 29:13.

God loves men and takes delight in blessing them and prospering them on their way. When He must punish them, it is a source of grief to His Father-heart.

That fact probably explains why the period of the captivity of the Jewish people is passed over in silence in the historical accounts of the Bible. We do know that prophets were sent to minister to them and to keep alive their hope of restoration to their own land.

When the Jewish captives were ready to return to their land, the silence of sacred history is broken, and we learn of their experiences in rebuilding the temple and the wall of Jerusalem from the books of Ezra and Nehemiah.

Many and varied were the obstacles, but in due time they were surmounted, and by God's help the work was accomplished. Now the time had come for a spiritual revival, and God had His man and His message ready for that hour.

Ezra, the scribe, was God's servant in bringing the Word of God to the people. The elements of success for any revival are found here.

I. An Open Book (8:1,2).

The Word of God is quick and powerful and sharper than a two-edged sword (Heb. 4:12). That mighty weapon does not need any apology or defense. It needs use. The soldier in battle unsheathes his sword or fires his gun. He does not send pamphlets to his enemies telling them what an effective weapon he has—he uses it and gets results.

There is a place for discussion and instruction regarding the authenticity and dependability of the Bible, but if we make it a substitute for using the Word, we are on the wrong track.

Era brought out the law of God and opened it to all the people. That is what we need to do today. Open up God's Word and let it do its powerful work.

II. An Attentive People (8:3, 4a, 5, 6).

The Word must be heard as well as preached. Good listeners are as important as good preachers. The open ear and the open heart complete the ministry of the open Book.

Note the reverence of the people (v. 5). When the Book was opened, they stood up—a token of honor. We do not worship the Bible, but we should show far more reverence toward it and its message than is ordinarily the case. This is God's Word, and man should approach it reverently.

Note the spirit of worship in verse 6. Be sure that any people coming to God's Word in that spirit will receive a blessing. We shall see in a moment how wonderfully God met them, but first we shall note an additional reason for the splendid response of the people.

We have before us the open book and an attentive and reverent people. What more is needed?

III. An Intelligent Ministry (8:8, 12).

There is nothing that any man can add to God's Word, but he can, by the grace of God and the illumination of the Holy Spirit, be used in opening up the meaning of the Word.

That kind of an exposition of Scripture is the very essence of real preaching. Topical discussions have their value. There is a place for book reviews and the presentation of social problems. But the pulpit should be primarily and always the place where God's Word is expounded.

Note that the law of God was read "distinctly" (v. 7). How important! That calls for preparation and prayer. That precludes the casual selection of a Scripture passage in the last minute before service.

Then observe that "they gave the sense, so that they understood the reading" (v. 8). That takes more preparation and much prayer. The teacher or preacher needs illumination so that the truth may be clearly understood and presented.

Everything was now ready for:

IV. A Spiritual Response (8:12; 9:1-3).

Revival came—and what a revival! Tears and laughter mingled. There was sorrow because of sin, and joy because of God's forgiveness. There was both fasting and feasting. God was in their midst, working through His Word as it was given out by His messengers.

It makes one downright hungry to read an account like this, hungry for a similar manifestation in our day of spiritual deadness. God is giving this kind of revival here and there where people are ready to go His way. The writer of these notes has only recently been in such revivals. Why not have them everywhere in our land? Yes, in your town or city?

Synthetic Vitamin

Synthetic vitamin K has been developed by a group of St. Louis scientists. It is especially useful in anti-hemorrhagic treatment. Vitamin K has been very hard to isolate in the pure form, but a patent, assigned to St. Louis university, describes methods for isolating it from plant substances, such as alfalfa or synthetically from coal tar.

ALL FOR ONE KILOWATT HOUR of ELECTRICITY

Besides finding out that a kilowatt hour will do a surprising amount of work, Mrs. McGinty has discovered that there is nothing mysterious about it. She's learned that it's simply a name for a definite quantity of electricity, just as a pound is a name for a certain amount of weight. And just as she thinks of meat in terms of the number of pounds necessary for a meal, so she thinks of electricity in terms of the number of kilowatt hours necessary to run her appliances.

Of course she's known all along that electricity will do her kitchen and household tasks SAFER, BETTER, CLEANER, MORE EFFICIENTLY AND CHEAPER—known that, unlike other things, the AVERAGE cost of her electricity has been steadily coming down as the pennies at the left show.

War Bond Dollars Are DOUBLE DUTY DOLLARS

Miller's Smart Shop

Next Door to Theatre

I wish to thank my friends and patrons for their liberal patronage the past eight years and hope to merit a continuance of the same.

I also wish to thank all who were so efficient and courteous when I moved and caused me think of the old adage "No good is ever lost, no kindness misplaced and to have a friend we must be a friend". No words can express the gratitude to my friends and leads me to think of the friendship of Damon and Pythias.

I wish to thank Officer Emory Hahn for returning an important paper to the owner, which was in my possession and blew away when I moved.

THE LIVING

Every lad who laid down his life in this war, had this unspoken question on his lips: "Did I die for a worthwhile cause; for something greater than Victory, dearer even than Country itself?"

Mere graveside oratory cannot answer that question. We, the Living, must pledge ourselves now to do everything that Mind can conceive and that Will can carry out, to build an orderly world where such sacrifices as theirs shall never again be necessary.
