SERVICE MEN NEWS

Letters From Them and their Other Activities

Dear Mt. Stonesifer: I am taking these means to express my gratitude for the "Carroll Record" and also to give you my present address as quite a few of the papers are still going to New York. I enjoy getting the paper very much as I find it one of the best means of keeping up on the home town news. Thanking you again. My address is:

DOROTHY E. SELL, S1/c (S) Wave Barracks 167 U. S. N. A. S. Anacostia, D. C.

Pfc. Vencislous B. Kocou, son of John Kocou, Route 1, Taneytown, has been promoted to Corporal, according to an announcement of Lt. Col. James E. Johnston, Commanding officer of the 1419th Army Air Force Base Unit, situated in Central Italy.

Cpl. Kocou's base is one of the most important airfields in the European Division, which extends from North Scotland to Southern Europe. This base, like all of the bases of the European Division under the command of Brig. Gen. Earl S. Hong, handles scores of passengers and thousands of pounds of cargo and mail brought into this base daily, by twin and four engine planes of the Air Transport Command.

Among the passengers are high ranking officers and government officials; combat and ferry pilots and their crews; wounded American soldiers flying home; nurses and U. S. O. entertainers, and other high priority personnel.

Upon cessation of hostilities in Europe, a great number of those soldiers eligible for rotation, will be flown back to the United States by planes of the Air Transport Command.

Rokycany Czechoslovakia May 20 Carroll Record Office Dear faithful friends:

V-E day has finally come and gone. What a happy time it has been for thousands of persons all over the world. I don't think anyone has seen more happy faces, more tears and cries for joy, nor more celebrations than we of this Division. During the last few days of the battle, our outfit, the famous 2nd Infantry Division, moved into Czechoslovakia, to liberate these people who have been under Nazi rule for such a long period. As soon as we crossed the border from the Sedation Land, we were greeted with open arms. People came up to the men, crying with joy. No one will ever know what this liberation has meant to these people. What a climax to a great war.

Report could be heard on the radio from Prague—cries for help! We were on our way to that city, fighting every mile, taking hundreds of prisoners, when the order came down to stop—to cease any offensive, and hold in defense until further orders. The peace treaty was signed a few hours later, as we soon found out. Since that time, we have been processing prisoners—thousands of them. The SS are being held for trial, but the others are being released.

Dances are being held for the first time in 6 years. There is a beautiful park here, which is being used by the civilians for the first time since the occupation. They have taken up arms again, to protect their country from falling into enemy hands again. We believe that these people saw more hardships than any other country in Europe. They are the most modern people we have ever met since leaving the States. Their homes are lovely, and they dress very nicely. The towns and cities are clean and neat, except for the places which have been bombed.

We are about 10 miles from Pilsen and 50 from Prague. We get to Pilsen to see shows and other forms of entertainment. "Points" have been counted, and we are now sweating it out. There are many rumors as usual. Nevertheless, we are hoping to soon get back to the States, and see our loved ones and friends once more. Its been a long hard war, and those who are alive today, have God and His Son, Christ to thank for the continued guidance and protection during this time. I, personally, know that without their protection, I would never have lasted. Many times I felt the end had come, but never did I lose faith. I found out what the word "Faith" really means. Its the most comforting feeling one can have.

Those of you who have sons and daughters over here, and have come through the battle, please remember there are thousands of our friends on the other side of the world. Remember them in your prayers. I wish to thank those who were so faithful to me during the past year, who remembered me in their prayers, those who have written so faithfully, those who remained my friends although I have not seen them for such a long time.

HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS ON OLD TANEYTOWN

Historical Society Presents Interesting Facts

On July 2nd 1904 "The Carroll Record" celebrated its 10th anniversary, in recognition of which Mr. P. B. Englar put out an 8-page issue, resplendent with cuts of many points of interest in the town. This issue is a veritable mine of information regarding the town and many of its people past and present. This is not the first paper which had its birth in Taneytown.

In 1830 Samuel P. Davidson, son of the pastor of Piney Creek Presbyterian Church published The Regulator in a building next to Sebastian Sutzler Tavern (the old stone house kept by Charlie Elliot). He sold it after two years to Col. John K. Longwell who published it 1 year in Taneytown, then moved to Westminster where he again changed the name to The Carrolltonian, later it became the Sentinel.

Years later Joseph Forward published The Searchlight in Taneytown and now since 1894 we have The Carroll Record, Abraham Thomson a youth of Taneytown learned the printing trade in the office of The Regulator, later he moved to Delaware, Ohio, where he published a paper. During his life he held many positions of prominence in Ohio. He also was widely known both here and in Europe as having developed the Delaware grape by uniting two strains of inferior quality.

Another youth, born 1841 on "the Reaver farm" was Frank Thomas later a Governor of Maryland.

In all the wars we have had representatives. In 1812 a company of volunteers organized, commanded by Captain Knox and Lieutenant Gall. There were 42 men from Taneytown in the Civil War. Many bearing their names have passed from our knowledge but some we will remember.

"John E. Buffington enlisted in 1862 was one of the best soldiers in the regiment and at the close of the war was a Lieutenant of his Company he was offered a Lieutenancy in the regular army.

Charles C. Currens, Wm. N. Currens, were each seven months in Andersonville, Georgia and Florence S. C. prisons. Wm. Reindollar and Samuel McGuigan were in Andersonville.

SUBSIDIZING EDUCATION

The Maryland Public Expenditure Council has issued a statement with regard to three bills now before Congress which would give 947 million dollars to the states, ostensibly to equalize educational opportunities. The statement definitely and wisely opposes the proposition.

This attempt to subsidize education failed in the 75th, 76th, 77th, 78th and it is now before the 79th Congress, this time in a more ambitious form. The Bill introduced in the last Congress was for a $300,000,000 subsidy with a mandatory provision that $200,000,000 be paid to teachers, and a prohibition against the state's reducing teachers' pay below that paid in 1942. The successors to that Bill, introduced in the present Congress, are S. 181 and a companion measure in the House, H. R. 1296. This year's proposals are broadened to include, not only mandatory salary raises for teachers, but also salary raises for other employees in the educational systems. The subsidy under these Bills is set at $300,000,000; two-thirds must be spent for salary increases, and the states are prohibited from reducing their payment for salaries below what was paid in February 1945.

In addition to S. 181 and its companion H. R. 1296, another Bill, S. 717, introduced by Senators Mead, of New York and Austin, Vermont, proposes a $550,000,000 annual subsidy. This Bill goes further than S. 181 in that it includes public and non-public schools and would also enter the relief field, paying $150,000,000 annually to needy young persons between certain ages or to their parents.

Still another Bill, S. 619, proposes $97,500,000 Federal aid for vocational training.

Taxpayers ought to let their Congressmen know definitely and promptly that we want no such waste of public funds. The reasons are simple and we state three of them.

First, the government does not have the money. We have been borrowing money to meet current expenses for over ten years. With a total national wealth of about $350 billion, we will soon owe $300 billion. We must finance a war. And we cannot balance the budget for some years to come. In short, the Federal government cannot afford to assume responsibilities that are primarily those of the individual states.

Second, the subsidy is not necessary. The states are fully able to finance their own educational departments, Mississippi and Arkansas are considered at or close to the bottom of the educational opportunity list. But Mississippi accumulated $10,700,000 surplus in the single year of 1943, while Arkansas has a $45,000,000 surplus. Most of the states, if not all, enjoy surpluses. Nearly all states have revenue receipts in excess of expenditures, resulting in a cumulative surplus of some $700,000,000. A year ago a half dozen states in the northeastern section of the country had surpluses in excess of the entire subsidy proposed in S. 181.

Third, the proposal is impractical. The subsidy, allegedly to equalize educational opportunity, would give Federal money to every state. New York, New Jersey, Ohio and California are at the top of the financial ability list, yet they would receive more than the states at the bottom of the list. States in which educational opportunity is the highest, would receive more money than those in which it is the lowest.

Other reasons of great importance could be assigned for opposing this whole movement, but the ones given above are surely sufficient.

Let us see that this piece of folly, shall be killed.

NEW AUTOMOBILES

The 600,000 automobiles which—according to tentative plans—are to be produced in the next twelve months will not begin to meet the nation's demand, but their shiny presence on the highways will provide a most heartening sight for the American people. In a sentimental way they will be moving evidence of better days to come. In a practical way they will go a considerable distance in helping to solve a transportation problem which by now has reached serious proportions.

It is understandable that the first green light will be flashed for the manufacturers of trucks. The shortage in this field is so acute that many materials which are customarily moved over the roads have had to be carried of late by the already overburdened railroads.

The War Production Board has likewise acted with wisdom in lifting immediately all restriction on automobile parts. Throughout the country there are probably hundreds of thousands of cars and trucks which are now out of commission but which need only repairs and replacements to restore them to service.

The partial reconversion of the automobile industry to peacetime pursuits, as just sanctioned by the WPB, should be a major factor in keeping employment at a high level. By announcing its program and making materials available at this early date, the board gives the manufacturers an opportunity to retool their plants at once and thus be ready to absorb many of the men who soon will be discharged from the armed forces and the many others who no longer will have war jobs.

It is understood that most of the large makers of trucks and automobiles will not require many months to change over the factories. Designs are at hand and plans all drawn. The Frederick Post.

DIVIDING THE SUGAR

Signs are that the family sugar bowl is going the way of the common butter plate—not for reasons of table etiquette, but to preserve family harmony. Lads or lassies with unrestrained sweet teeth are prone to use more than their share of the short sugar supply, with resultant sour notes sounded by other household members. So some mothers are instituting individual bowls, with extras for company and cooking.

Uncle Sam, too, called upon to divide the supply not only among his immediate family, but with foreign relations, is not having too sweet a time. The public, as a whole, has been patient under the restrictions despite charges of official bungling, for it has understood to some degree the tremendous problems involved. A shortage was inevitable with war cutting off supplies in the Far East, huge demands from Europe and the armed forces, the decline in Cuban output because of drought, the drop in Puerto Rican production due to strikes and lack of fertilizer, use of sugar for making synthetic rubber, and insufficient manpower, equipment and transport.

Undoubtedly the shortage could have been alleviated by a more unified and efficient Government program. And the Food Investigation Committee of the House of Representatives is seeking to correct some of the weaknesses of the program in its recommendations for centralization of authority and better co-ordination of production, distribution, and pricing. A big step in this direction has just been taken with the appointment of the committee chairman, Clinton P. Anderson, as Secretary of Agriculture and the merging under that Department of the work of the War Food Administration.

Two other proposals of the Committee deserve prompt adoption. One calls for a review and adjustment of all foreign commitments to safeguard minimum allotments for civilian use. The other that the Government "make public all commitments and allocations, domestic and foreign with explanatory supporting data." Americans are willing to give up a fair share of their supplies to needy members of their family of nations, but when "outsiders" such as Spain are included, then an explanation is in order—and the family cook says it had better be good.—Christian Science Monitor.

OPTIMISTS AND PESSIMISTS

There is intense interest in every part of the United States over the difficulties reported from San Francisco in agreeing on major issues. The United States, Great Britain and Russian diplomats have different theories and objectives. One of the most generous comments upon the attitude of Russia is that she is "inexperienced in diplomacy." The optimists seem to believe that Stalin & Co. are learning diplomacy slowly and that they eventually will go along with the United Nations on most of the big issues.

The pessimists continue to fear that the Russians will not cooperate wholeheartedly in carrying out the purpose of the Conference on the West Coast.

These differences of opinion have been discussed from pulpits and cussed by statesmen, military officials, radio operators, and all classes of citizens from class A to class Z, in Washington.

No one should forget that in the long past, diplomacy travelled slow and difficult routes. The long distance telephone communications between Washington, Moscow, China, England and all parts of the world are used daily. Every nation is deeply concerned with its own particular interests. The Soviet Republics have not been our friends very long and it is not easy to agree with them upon basic peace problems and issues. Matters that they defend as their "rights" are regarded by us as indefensible.

Nevertheless, there is no particular reason that this writer can find, to lose hope in the old theory that "all's well that ends well." So, we belong to the Optimist Club.—J. E. Jones.

Summer Costume Aids Bond Sales

Among the simplest dresses to sew for summer days is this bare-midriff costume. You love the white cap sleeve bodice and deep purple skirt with an animated ruffle. In sewing for summer, you add more money to your War Bond savings. Patterns at local stores. U. S. Treasury Department

To the People of this Community

The 7th War Loan objective is four billion dollars in Series E Bonds. At this time last year Americans had oversubscribed two war loan quotas, each three billion dollars in Series E War Bonds. It is obvious your personal share must be greatest of any of the war loans. And yet it may be no higher than or even less than the combined amount you invested in bonds in the 4th and 5th War Loans.

Why should you continue to put every dollar above the cost of the necessities of living into extra bonds? 1. Uppermost you owe an obligation to your fighting men and women to back them to the limit as long as any enemy military strength remains. 2. Think about Iwo Jima for a moment—sacrifice on the battlefields is still a way of life for your relatives and friends in uniform. 3. The self-interest motive is at a new high. Civilian goods are now scarcer than ever before. Every dollar you spend for non-essentials works for higher prices.

Germans' Uniform Trick

Proves a Boomerang

WITH BRITISH - AMERICAN TROOPS IN BELGIUM.—The Germans ran into complications in dressing some German troops in American uniforms during the first days of their counteroffensive.

One American on lone patrol was seized by two Germans. But he had heard of Nazis dressed in United States uniforms, and he spoke excellent German. In an exasperated voice he declared: "You fools. Let me go. I am a German on a special mission."

The Germans released him, with apologies. The American sought another Yank to help him, returned and shot one German and captured the other.

Neat Pleat

To press a neat pleat in wool or rayon skirts so the fold will not leave an imprint or shiny mark that shows when the pleat swings open, take a tip from the tailor and use a strip of lightweight cardboard or heavy paper. Cut the strip from an old suit box or the cardboard stiffening in shirts returned from the laundry. Have the strip the length of the longest pleat and three or four inches wide. The strip must be wide enough to slip into the inside fold of the pleat and also extend several inches past the outside fold. Insert the cardboard and press. Remove just before finishing the press job. A cardboard strip is also helpful in pressing facings or seam edge that are likely to mark through.

He can't ask you now!

••• He's an American hero. After fighting bloody battles in the Pacific, he was home on leave two years ago.

••• You may remember seeing his picture. His name is John Basilone, Marine Gunnery Sergeant. He traveled all over America, urging every American to buy more bonds.

••• He said: "You don't know—you can't know—how much it means to the boys out there when they hear the folks back home have just put another War Bond Drive over the top."

••• They gave him the Congressional Medal of Honor and offered him a commission. He didn't want it. "I'm a plain soldier," he said. "I want to stay one."

••• Well, he stayed a plain marine—like Joe and Bill and the fellows down the street. He can't ask you to buy bigger bonds during the Seventh. He was killed a few weeks ago on Iwo, just after he had led his assault team to the edge of an airfield we needed desperately.

••• We can't let him and all our other fighting heroes down. Remember, last year we had two War Loan Drives by this time. The Seventh is our personal call to arms—two drives in one. That's why our quota is large.

••• We must meet it—we will meet it—for the hero of Iwo—for Victory—for pride in America.

FRIZELLBURG

Here we are the 6th of June with sweaters and coats on. Fires feel good and more covers on our beds make it just right to get good nights rest.

Farmers are plowing corn but it is very small, some say it is getting yellow, others say blue from the cold, but wheat fields are so pretty, tall wheat waving in the breeze, reminding us of the ocean.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Haines, spent a very enjoyable day last Sunday when they visited their daughter and son-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. John Thomas, of Gainesville, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Sullivan and daughter, Lamore, spent Decoration Day in Washington.

Special services were held last Sunday evening in Emmanuel Baust Reformed Church marking the 15th anniversary of the present pastor.

The choir of ten voices rendered beautiful music. Visiting pastors were the Rev. Charles Bix and Rev. J. Edmund Lippy of the St. Paul's Church, in Westminster; Rev. Bix read the Scripture lesson for the evening from the 13th Chapter of I Corinthians; Prayer by Rev. Reifsnnyder; short talks were given by the pastors and Mr. George Dodder.

A quartette selection, "The First Loved, Me" was sung by Mrs. Ralph Dutterer, Mrs. George Dodder, Miss Evelyn Maus and Mrs. Truth Rodkey; anthems were sung "Close to Thee," with duet parts by Miss Truth Myers and Mrs. Stoner Fleagle; "Such a Savior to Know," duet parts taken by Mrs. Allen Morelock and Mrs. Stoner Fleagle; "Land of Hope and Glory," solo part by Mrs. Geo. Dodder, and "God Rest our Glorious Land," solo part by Mrs. Allen Morelock.

Mrs. Morelock also sang in a very charming manner a song written by Rev. Reifsnnyder's aunt entitled "The Service Flag," a beautiful song and was well rendered.

And now Edw. Haifley speaks from far off Philippine Islands, I maybe a long way from home but I haven't forgotten you people back there, I am working in Headquarters of the Far East Air Force and like it a lot, I'm doing clerical work in the office. It sure is a fine place and I feel fortunate to be at such an important place. I had a long old boat trip but safe and interesting. I was in Manila twice on pass. Sure is a lot to see there, the place is really in ruins, it must have been a beautiful city at one time. We are in our rainy season now which lasts 4 to 5 months, Boy what mud. I'm working day and night, I want to go to church this morning. Last Sunday we had a nice Mother's Day service. No I haven't forgotten to go to church, but I sure will be glad to get back to Baust again.

Walter Myers, Jr., writes from somewhere in Czechoslovakia, I've been busy hauling rations for the German prisoners, I made two trips and each was nearly 200 miles. We feed them their own rations and right now they are coming from Northern Italy. Their rations aren't nearly as good as our, but they do have roast beef and gravy that is very good. Like France and the other countries I've been in, this country is also very beautiful. Pretty green fields and cattle grazing lazily in the valleys. They raise a lot of geese and sheep here, I wish you could see some of these places, especially those not torn by war.

Mrs. Delmar Varehouse received some very pretty handkerchiefs from her husband who is now stationed in Australia.

Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Myers were: Mr. and Mrs. Luther Zimmerman, son Martin; Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Zimmerman, Mrs. Ida Phillips and Mrs. Bessie Freet. Callers in the afternoon were Mrs. Monroe Staveland, daughter, Lorraine and little son, Tommie, of Littlestown, Pa.

The Never Weary Class of Baust Lutheran Church held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lambert, of Taneytown, with Carl Cole as leader. The meeting opened by singing hymn "God will take care of You." Topic, "Think Without Confusion." The Scripture lesson was read from James 3:13-17 by Kenneth Lambert; Prayer by Pastor Bix; another hymn was sung, "Faith of our Fathers." A timely discussion on the topic "Intelligent Opinions," "Clear Thinking" and "Growth in Knowledge." The business part of the meeting was conducted by our president, Mrs. Delmar Varehouse. After the close of the meeting we all had a thrill when we joined the Pineapple Club. Due to lack of sugar the pineapple juice was a bit salty. Delicious refreshments were served to 21 members and friends. Our next meeting will be held July 3 at the Walter Marker home with Miss Edna Myers as leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Morelock daughters, Gladys and Betty; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Morelock and daughter, Dotty, spent last Saturday evening in Baltimore, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Morelock and family.

Mrs. Clarence Myers, visited her sister, Mrs. Frank Wrehime, of Littlestown over the week-end.

Lt. Frank Sufern and wife, South Carolina, are enjoying a brief furlough with Mrs. Sufern's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cashman.

Mr. Robert Arthur and Mr. Richard Warner, Waynesboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harrison and two children, of Chambersburg, Pa., called on Wm. Arthur and family, Sunday afternoon.

An honor roll board has been erected on the square, but the time and cost of dedication has not yet been definitely designated.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi D. Maus and Lt. Charles Maus and wife called on Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Myers Wednesday evening. It was most interesting to hear Lt. Maus relate some of his recent experiences, especially how they crossed the channel and the landing on D-day as that was the eve of the first anniversary of the invasion. Lt. Maus will report back to Camp Pickett, Va., next week for a physical check up.

Mrs. Raymond Haifley is somewhat better and able to be down stairs again.

Some folks are busy picking and canning cherries this week, but with the present scarcity of sugar some had to use saccharin to help stretch their supply.

They say the time is drawing near to purchase the $5.00 sticker, which really is a sticker. A rural resident, left the following note in his mail box: "Dear Mailman, I am pinning a $5 bill to this note for which please get me a stamp to make my own flivver. A legal means of transportation for the purpose of going to the gas ration board for a permit to get gas to have our car inspected, so we may go to the tire ration board to buy a used tire, so that our car may be in a suitable condition to go pay our withholding tax."

In Baust Reformed Church Sunday morning: S. S., 10:00; Preaching Services 11. Rev. Miles Reifsnnyder pastor, and in the afternoon S. S., at 1:30; Preaching Services, 2:30. Rev. Chas. Bix, pastor.

FEESERSBURG

Welcome June! The fairest of all the months, but crowded with church and school affairs; the time of strawberries, cherries and pineapples—if any on market. The month of beginning; of life's work, of new homes, or hay-making and harvest—and we hope many of our boys will return from overseas, and be done with war forever. The sky is overcast this Monday morning—but the sun is trying to shine thru', and the air is quite cool and doors are closed. May had 22 clear days, 9 rainy ones, and 21 cool.

Decoration Day was beautiful and flowers not as scarce as feared; and many were laid on graves in the local cemeteries. Some of our folks attended the exercises in Taneytown, which proved very interesting and splendid, and some went to Union Bridge in the early evening—where there was a parade and public speaking. Some unexpected visitors were around so Memorial Day passed once more.

Mrs. Daisy Birely Kemp with her children—Mr. and Mrs. William Slemmer, Sr., of Frederick, were callers at Grove Dale on Wednesday of last week. Mrs. Slemmer is convalescing from a severe case of tonsillitis. They went to the Slemmer graves in Taneytown; then to the Green Parrot Inn, Emmitsburg, for lunch.

Mrs. Lulu Grider and Mrs. Addie Crumbacker returned from Frederick on Wednesday evening; the two jolliest helpers man ever had, tho' they beat him at Spinner and ate all his candy.

More antique collectors have called—but didn't get farther than the door; and all are asking for old lamps.

There was preaching before S. S. at Mt. Union on Sunday morning, and pastor Bix preached a fine sermon on "The Rich man and the Poor Man," or lost opportunities. A basket of white peonies was placed at the altar by Mrs. Winnie Miller. The Bulletin names the boys of the Parish who were home recently and attended church—five of them; the Pastor had 5 baptisms of infants or a wedding in Uniontown, and one member received at Baust Church. There is illustrated data of the gifts for Lutheran World Action—showing none of the four churches reached their quota; and acknowledgement of contributions for the Bulletin.

How about S. S. lesson for last Sunday? It was most unusual and how many could teach it intelligently? Some of us were pleased to learn something of the 400 years between the Old and the New which were stormy with politics, and God's laws were neglected, yet a few strong characters clung to the faith of their fathers, they the stress of all the years until Christ came into His own. The lessons the past quarter have been difficult, but very instructive if well studied.

John Felming living at Mt. Union, died suddenly at 1 P. M. on Saturday. For some months he has suffered with asthma, and then a heart attack proved fatal. His body was taken to the C. O. Fuss Funeral Home in Taneytown, where the services were held on Tuesday afternoon and interment made in Pipe Creek cemetery.

Miss Edna Keefer, who has lived with a friend in Baltimore the past few years, was back home on Sunday. She and her sister-in-law, spent most of last week in Washington, and came to the home of her niece, Mrs. Oneda Myers, in New Windsor on Friday, and all of them were at Mt. Union to service—where she had been a teacher in S. S. for many years. She is looking well, and all were glad to see her. She will tarry another week with friends.

Mrs. Walter Bower, of Taneytown in the interest of county work, paid us a brief call on Monday afternoon. Woodrow Miller, somewhere in the Philippines experienced an earthquake not long ago. He was asleep and all at once it seemed that some one was shaking his bed back and forward. He quickly awakened—and for a moment everything was swaying. It didn't last long, but must be an awful sensation, and one is so helpless. A friend who was in California for some time said she had seen all that state could offer; then one day while in bed with a sick headache everything began shaking and some called to her to run out doors, but even the water in the Lily Pads was moving to and fro. It was soon over but that was enough!

Mrs. Wilbur Miller, Sr., with Mrs. Ella Zents Beall drove to the mountain in Catocin region on Sunday to a tent meeting conducted by the Pentecostal Brethren.

The Mormons settled in Utah in the summer of 1847—1500 persons, under the leadership of Brigham Young. During the following winter they underwent great privations, but by late spring their grain fields promised a bounteous harvest. Suddenly one day there appeared hordes of black mountain crickets, which began devouring every green thing in their path. On the following morning another danger came—in the form of great flocks of sea gulls; but to the amazement of the people, and great thanksgiving, the birds devoured the crickets and saved the remainder of the crops. Today in Salt Lake City there stand a monument inscribed "Sea Gull Monument" erected in grateful remembrance of the mercy of God to the Mormon Pioneers."

LINWOOD

Mrs. William McKinstry returned home last week from the Frederick Hospital, and is improving nicely.

C. H. Rohrer and wife, of Hagers-town, visited the C. U. Messler family, Decoration Day.

The Missionary Society of the Linwood Brethren Church held their June meeting at the home of Mrs. John Drach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Messler entertained the Linwood Planning Group last Thursday evening.

A number of our citizens attended the Union Bridge and New Windsor High School commencements.

Mr. and Mrs. Brayden Ridemour, of Hagers-town, were Decoration Day guests in the S. S. Englar home.

Fathers' Day will be observed at the Linwood Brethren Church this Sunday, June 10th, at 10:30 A. M. The men will have charge of the program.

Miss Shirley Puff is spending this week at Ocean City, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. George Starr were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Starr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. DeMilt.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baugher and Miss Dorothy Watson made a business trip to Washington, D. C., last Friday.

Mrs. John Drach who has been confined to her room is improving.

LITTLESTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frey, of Scranton, Pa., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Virginia to Charles Appler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin U. Appler, Littlestown. The wedding took place in Calvary Presbyterian Church, of Riverside, Calif., conducted by the Rev. Dr. Ezra Egly.

The High School picnic activities for the year were held in St. John Grove after the students enjoyed a movie at the Regent Theatre.

Miss Mary Basehoar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Basehoar, was one of the students to graduate at the Susquehanna University.

Mrs. Edwin Brown, who had been a patient in the Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, has returned to her home, much improved.

The Littlestown School Board received from the state $4,950 to help to pay for the support of the public and for salary increase. Germany Township received $1560.

The funeral of Charles M. Furry, Hanover, Pa., was held Thursday afternoon at the J. W. Little and Son Funeral Home. The Rev. Albert M. Hollinger, Hanover, officiated. Burial was made in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Orvin J. Eyer, a former resident of Adams County, died Wednesday at his home in Baltimore, at the age of 71 years. The funeral services were held Saturday in Baltimore after which the body was brought to Mt. Olivet cemetery, Hanover, for burial by funeral directors J. W. Little and Son.

May was the coolest month for 10 years with a rainfall of 3.65 inches which was only .28 of an inch more than normal. The lowest temperature was on May 2 with 35 degrees and the highest was on the 15th when it was 87 degrees.

Cpl. Lewis H. Fox, age 30, husband of Mrs. Rebecca Kohler Fox, W. King Street, a much decorated veteran of the war in Europe has received an honorable discharge from the army under the point system. Mr. Fox is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Fox, Clarksburg, W. Va.

Corpus Christi Devotion in honor of the Body of Christ were held on Thursday in St. Aloysius Church. High Mass was sung by the children's choir. A procession of the children and the pastor with the Blessed Sacrament followed. The Blessed Sacrament was exposed all day with the members of the congregation making prayerful visits to the church. A holy hour was held in the evening.

At least 100,000 fewer life insurance policyholders died from tuberculosis in 1944 than would have died under the death-rate from this cause applying in 1900, the Institute of Life Insurance says, reflecting the saving in lives from health improvement efforts.

More than 4,000,000 life insurance policy death claims have been paid in the United States since Pearl Harbor. Fewer than 5% of these were on the lives of service men.

Policyholders' life insurance funds held in reserve for future policy benefits, will be important in helping to meet the post-war financing needs of the United States, with many billions of dollars available each year for job-creating investments.

God is able to meet the need and will fulfill the desire; it is just a question of your hunger for righteousness.—R. A. Butler.

Reports from Great Britain, France and Italy indicate that life insurance has increased in those countries during the war, in spite of the sharp dislocations.

A militia was organized soon after the Civil War, they generally formed opposite Sultzzer's Tavern and marched to their parade ground which was where the Reformed parsonage now stands. They participated in several military demonstrations, unwillingly at the laying of the corner stone of our Court House for they had wanted Taneytown to be the County Seat.

In 1824 Taneytown possessed a fire engine operated by hand, the water to be used from the town pump located in the square. This well, by the way, has not been filled up but is arched over with stone.

The fire engine needing repair in 1835 contributions ranging from 6% to 25 cents were received.

There were a number of brick yards in Taneytown, probably the oldest was the one where the Presbyterian Church now stands. Mr. Tobias Eckenrode made the bricks for his 3-story house on the square in a yard just across the railroad. About 1900 Harvey Weant had a brick yard where the A. W. Feesser Canning Factory now stands.

About 1870 or earlier, Samuel Crouse made pottery back of a brick house on W. Baltimore St.

A hat factory was back of the house where Norville Shoemaker's home now stands.

Ludwig Rudisil had a tan yard at the south edge of town, on the farm now owned by Mrs. Frank Cunningham whose mother was a grandchild or perhaps great-grandchild of Mr. Rudisil.

James McKellip operated a tan yard about 1/4 mile north of town where Mr. Daniel Null later had his home. This house by the brook was destroyed by a cyclone.

Between this site and Taneytown was the shop where Mr. Shroyer made fire shovels, tongs, nails and guns—the grindstone turned by a worn out horse, the government made yearly inspection. When excavation was made for the house built by Dr. Geo. Demmitt remains were found of the old blacksmith shop operated by Shroyer likely a son of the gun maker he was working on a cannon, fearing invasion by the French.

There is no record here of James Knight, M. D., who was born in Taneytown in 1810 educated in Baltimore and became famous as partially the discoverer of orthopedic surgery.

Many sons who have gone away from Taneytown in early life have held positions of trust and prominence. Col. Joseph A. Goulden in New York City and in Congress never forgot his loyalty to his home community, his brother William A. Goulden, a prominent Attorney in Pittsburgh, was also interested in Religious Journalism. Col. Rogers Birnie a first honor man at West Point, after having reached the age of retirement returned to serve during World War I. Thaddeus Greaves Crapster son of Wm. Woods Crapster who made a fine record in the United States Coast Guard, died from a stroke just one week before he would have retired with title of Rear Admiral.

Three of our boys so far as I Spanish American War: Harry L. Baumgardner, Charles Kephart and Sterling Archibald Galt (who enlisted in S. Dakota) he was awarded a Congressional medal of Honor for "distinguished bravery and conspicuous gallantry in action near Bamban Luzon, Philippine Is."

The story of World War II has not yet been told, but all the heroism in any war is not on the battlefield. There is honor to those who "stood by the goods."

The inspiration for this article was the splendid paper Miss Routzahn had at the Uniontown District meeting of Carroll Co's Historical Society I felt I must add a few things to what had already been said about Taneytown. ANNA GALT.

Your Flag and Mine

This flag means more than association and reward. It is the symbol of our national unity, our national endeavor, our national aspiration. It tells you of the struggle for independence, of union preserved, of liberty and union one and inseparable, of the sacrifices of brave men and women to whom the ideals and honor of this nation have been dearer than life.

It means America first; it means an undivided allegiance. It means that you cannot be saved by the valor and devotion of your ancestors; that to each generation comes its patriotic duty; and that upon your willingness to sacrifice and endure as those before you have sacrificed and endured rests the national hope.

It speaks of equal rights; of the inspiration of free institutions exemplified and vindicated; of liberty under law intelligently conceived and impartially administered. There is not a thread in it but scorns self-indulgence, weakness and rapacity. —Charles Evans Hughes.

Through the Ages the Flag Has Spoken of Freedom

Born during the nation's infancy, I have grown with it, my stars increasing in number . . . the domain over which I wave expanding until the sun on my flying folds now never sets. Filled with significance are my colors of red, white and blue into which have been woven the strength and courage of American manhood, the love and loyalty of American womanhood. Stirring are the stories of my stars and stripes. I represent the Declaration of Independence. I stand for the Constitution of the United States. I reflect the wealth and grandeur of this great Land of Opportunity.

I signify the Law of the Land. I tell the achievements and progress of the American people in art and science, culture and literature, invention and commerce, trade and industry. I stand for peace and good will among the nations of the world. I believe in tolerance. I am the badge of the nation's Greatness, and the emblem of its Destiny. Threaten Me and Millions Will Spring to My Defense. I AM THE AMERICAN FLAG.

Homespun Philosophy

By Ezra

There is something to this business of being lazy that does not always appear on the surface. If you take the time to watch a lazy man you will find out that he is physically indolent. That much you can see, but did you ever stop to think that he might be very busy mentally. That you can not see.

Of course, I grant you, there are some people that are lazy all over. Like a group of negroes working for a planter with a glass eye. In order to get any work out of them he had to watch them continually. Everytime his back was turned they would quit. So he hit upon a unique plan. He took his glass eye and layed it upon a box saying, "It sees everything you do." Then he went about his business. In a few days he returned and found them idle again. He said nothing. The next day he hid in the bushes and watched the proceedings. The negroes continued to work as long as the planter was in sight but when he had gone one of them crept up to the box and put his hat over the glass eye. One by one the negroes crept to a shady spot and went to sleep.

But I still maintain that some lazy people have a very active brain. When the first steam engine was invented, the valve had to be operated by hand. It was an easy job, so a boy was hired for the purpose. All he had to do was to open and close the valve at the proper moments as the pistons traveled back and forth in the cylinder.

Charles Carew was one of the boys hired to do this job. Like most boys of his age he was extremely lazy, but his brain was industrious. He did not like the job of pushing a hot valve handle back and forth almost interminably. So he set his wits to work in order to evolve some way of making the engine do the work itself.

One day he took a string, tied one end of it to the valve handle and the other end to a moving part of the engine that was properly timed with the piston. This would open the valve. Next he tied a weight to the valve to pull it shut. It worked fine. All day he loafed while the engine did the work.

But one day when he was contemplating his good fortune of getting paid without working, the boss appeared. He had no time to remove the evidence of his laziness. The boss saw it all. He was not angry, far from it. He watched the action of the contrivance with pleasure and amazement. From this idea, born in the fertile brain of a lazy boy, was developed the automatic sliding valve which governs the intake and exhaust steam now in use in most steam engines.

The world needs more lazy people like Charles Carew. We might have been wrong in saying that "necessity is the mother of invention," perhaps it should be "Laziness is the mother of invention." When men find that they need a rest, they usually find some way to get it. Some of them put the hat over the glass eye and sneak away and go fishing. Others put their mind to work to discover a short cut in their daily tasks that will enable them to go fishing too—when their work is done.

HUMANE SOCIETY TO MEET

The Humane Society of Baltimore County has invited officials of the counties of Maryland adjacent to Baltimore County—Anne Arundel, Carroll, Harford, Howard, Montgomery and Prince George—to meet for luncheon and an informal discussion of the prevalent serious problem of the stray dog and its attendant danger of the dread disease—rabies.

The group will meet at the host society's shelter on Park Heights Avenue, near Pikesville, on June 13. Governor O'Connor, who is keenly interested in the finding of a humane, and effective solution to the dog problem, has accepted an invitation to be present, as have a number of members of the Legislature both from the Senate and the House. Many County Commissioners and other officials from affected counties have also signified their intention of being present.

The group will be shown the Pikesville shelter, which is one of the finest of its kind in the country, and will also be shown plans for a shelter of reasonable cost which can be utilized to care for strays until they are disposed of.

This meeting is intended to bring together all those interested in the drafting of a sensible state wide dog control bill that will take care of the present dangerous situation in an efficient and humane way. Representatives of the various county animal welfare organizations will be on hand to assist the Baltimore Co. group.

Make Your Money's Might..

Match their Fighting Might..

You're not asked to prove your prowess in death-dealing combat as these men are doing... for America and you. That's their job! Yours is to add the might of your dollars to the might of our fighting men.

TWO WAR LOANS IN ONE!

The mighty Seventh War Loan is the biggest yet. Last year you were asked to subscribe twice by this time. The least you should lend—if your income is $250 monthly or more—is $187.50. If your earnings are greater, your purchase of War Bonds should be increased in proportion.

Remember, too, that U. S. War Bonds are the world's safest investments... giving you $4 back, at maturity, for every $3 you invest in them.

YOU HELP THREE WAYS when you back up the MIGHTY 7th War Loan with every dollar you can afford. You help your Government. You help pay for the materiel needed by our armed forces to get the war over quickly and bring them home. You help yourself by providing for your future security.

ALL OUT FOR THE MIGHTY SEVENTH!

PITCH IN!

on the mighty 7th...
it's two big War Loans in one!

You have seen pictures of American soldiers falling wearily into fox-holes, too tired to even dodge the shells raining all around them. Did it make you fighting mad?

You have seen pictures of American bombers hit by enemy fire, plummeting downward into enemy territory. Did it make you fighting mad?

Then pitch in... turn your folding money into fighting money... buy twice as many bonds as you bought last time!

The mighty 7th War Loan must do the job that two war loans did last year. It's the biggest, most urgent war loan of all. Back it up with every dollar you can lay your hands on.

THE MINISTRY OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:14, 15; Luke 4:16-21; Mark 8:27a, 29, 31.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.—John 10:10.

The dawn of a new day had come! The long-promised and expected Messiah came to break the 400 years of silence by His personal presence.

We learn of His coming, His life and ministry, His death and resurrection, and find the promise of His coming again in the four Gospels. They are our complete lesson for this Sunday, but we obviously cannot review them in their entirety in our limited space.

Our Scripture references speak of His ministry in presenting the good news of the gospel to needy mankind.

I. The Good News Preached (Mark 1:14, 15).

Jesus always honored preaching as the primary and the effective means of spreading the good news of the gospel.

The forerunner, John the Baptist, had borne his witness. Jesus had come, had been baptized, and as John was cast into prison, He began to preach, "Repent ye and believe the gospel." The key verse of Mark is 10:45: "For even the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister." The characteristic words are "straightway," "forthwith," and "immediately." The Greek word thus translated appears about forty times in the book.

The Servant of God went quickly about the Father's business. Christians, can we say the same for ourselves?

II. The Good News Practiced (Luke 4:16-21).

The daily ministry of Jesus as He lived here on earth is summarized in the prophecy of His coming which was given by Isaiah the prophet. As we read these words, we realize that we who profess to follow Him need to learn more of His spirit of tender and loving service to others.

It is significant and appropriate that Jesus' declaration of Himself as the fulfillment of Isaiah 61:1, 2 was made in the synagogue on the Sabbath day. He met with the people in the house and at the time set apart for God's worship. He opposed spiritual deadness, the misinterpretation of the truth, the distortion of religious principles; but He was not, as some would have us believe, a religious free lance who despised the established worship of His people.

Having been prepared by the thirty years of privacy, and more particularly by the baptism and the temptation in the wilderness, He appeared at the synagogue in Nazareth to declare Himself as the fulfillment of prophecy.

Those who teach that Jesus was only a young Jewish teacher with a new philosophy of life have evidently not read the Scriptures. He knew Himself to be God's Son come into the world to bring the good news of salvation by His own blood to poor, sin-captive, blinded and bruised humanity. He is the Saviour.

Look at Isaiah 61:1, 2 and note that Jesus stopped reading before the end of the sentence. "The day of vengeance of our God" will come when Christ returns. This is the day of grace. Sinners are urged to accept God's love now, and thus to escape the terrible day of judgment which is to come.

III. The Good News Prepared (Mark 8:27a, 29, 31).

Jesus preached the gospel of the kingdom. He went about doing good, but always He knew Himself to be the Christ, the One who was to die for the sins of the world and to arise again for the justification of those who put their trust in Him.

Even those who deny to our Christ the recognition of His deity, and the devotion of life which is His just due, must, if they are at all intelligent, admit that no man ever lived who has made such an impact on human history. Even now, unbelieving men speak of Him as the founder of Christianity, a mighty leader, a wonderful example, or an unequalled teacher.

It is not enough that we stand with the mass of humanity who may thus admire Him, but who do not count Him as Saviour and Lord. The question comes to us as it did to the disciples, "Whom say ye that I am?" "Thou art the Christ"—this alone suffices as the foundation for Christian testimony and conduct.

Although Jesus was not yet ready to have His Messiahship proclaimed to the public, He was prepared to teach His disciples concerning not only that important truth, but of His rejection and death.

Note the divine "must" (v. 31). While it is true that wicked men showed their hostility toward our God and His Christ by hanging Him on Calvary's cross, yet it was to die for our sins that He came into the world. The cross has rightly come to represent God's love to the world rather than man's hostility to God.
