The President announced that the members of the Club had been invited to visit the Hanover Club Thursday evening, September 30, at the Richard McAllister Hotel, in connection with the celebration of Pennsylvania Week. The invitation was accepted and a delegation will attend

Committee on Kiwanis Extension (Community Contacts), Wallace Reindollar, Chairman, who introduced Mr. Fuad Nucho as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Nucho, who is a post-graduate student at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, at Gettysburg, described himself as a Christian Arab, of Jerusalem, Palestine. Before coming to America ten months ago, he had been a teacher in the High School Department of the German Lutheran Mission in Jerusalem.

Mr. Nucho in his address, entitled "International Understanding" gave much interesting information which served as a back-ground in the minds of his listeners for a better under-standing of some of the problems which are responsible for the present Palestine crisis.

In Palestine at present are 1200000 Arabs and 600,000 Jews. Of the Arabs, about twenty-five percent are Christians, not converted Christians, but descendents of those people who were converted by St. Paul in the First Century. The Christian Arabs of Palestine, therefore, have a background of centuries of Christian teaching and living.

Palestine is a small country, which can be crossed by automobile from north to south in a day, and from east to west in about two hours. Its resources are limited. It is important in that since the earliest times, it has been regarded as an important gateway of travel and immigration, since it stands at the junction of three continents, Europe, Asia, and Africa. The Arabs of Palestine are much more modern than is usually thought. Many are graduates of the American University at Beirut in Syria. The Arabs helped to bring culture and civilization into Europe through Spain, where the Moors in Mr. and Mrs. Merwyn C. Fuss and daughter, Miss Alice C. Taneytown's Oldest Mother

Had you called at the home of Mrs. M. H. Reindollar on Tuesday afternoon as did I, you would have found her cozily seated in her living room receiving guests on her 98th birthday.

Mrs. Reindollar's face was wreathed in smiles and she was apparently in the best of health. She was sur-rounded with gifts of flowers, candy, handkerchiefs, etc., and close to 100 greeting cards and letters.

As we chatted, she said she was very happy and had enjoyed a quiet but very pleasant birthday. Her daughter Miss Mary served a lovely dinner for Mrs. Reindollar and two of the sons, Harry I. Reindollar and Wallace W. Reindollar.

She was born at Mifflintown, Pa., the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Levi T. Williams and has spent most of her useful life in Taneytown. Mrs. Reindollar continues to retain her membership in the ladies organizations of the Lutheran Church. She has a capsule sister in the Missionary Society each year and is very much interested in all the proceedings, though unable to attend the meetings.

At this time Mrs. Reindollar has the congratulations and best wishes of her many friends.

County Organization Sees Need for Improvements

The Findings Committee of the Carroll County P. T. A. Council, composed of two representatives from each local P. T. A., will hold an open meeting at Westminster High School at 8:00 P. M., on October 5, 1948. All persons interested in the School and Road Loan are urged to attend this meeting.

The School and Road Loan is for three million dollars to be divided equally between schools and roads. The Findings Committee has been working to inform the people of Carroll County about the conditions of their schools and the very real necessity for their immediate improvement. They have plans to get these facts to the people by way of circulars through the mail, editorials in the county papers, contacting all clubs and organizations in the county, help from the ministers, and posters to be displayed in public places. The principals of the various schools would welcome a visit from any interested person and would be glad to show the first hand evidence of the urgent immediate needs. The Findings Committee was formed in April, 1948 as a county-wide working unit for the passage of the School and Road Loans at the November elections. At its first meeting in May, the committee was organized by electing Mrs. Edmund Lippy as chairman and Mr. George Shower as Secretary and made plans for future meetings following the recommendations passed by the County Council in April.

On May 26, the Committee met with the School Board. At this time with the School Board. At this time Mr. Jenness spoke to the Committee on the needs of the county schools. Representatives were present at this meeting from the P. T. A.'s of Westminster, Union Bridge, New Windsor, Uniontown, Taneytown, Manchester, Sykesville, Mount Airy and Mechanicsville. It was agreed by all present that all the P. T. A's from the various districts would take from the various districts would take a united stand for the passage of the School and Road Loan as the only means of getting enough money soon enough to relieve the distressing and almost impossible conditions in some of the schools.

On June 30, the committee met with the County Commissioners at which time they discussed with the committee the present method of financing the county school program. During the summer sub-committees have been at work planning for the county-wide campaign to take place be-tween now and November.

On September 14, the committee met to discuss the financing of the campaign. It was decided to request financial assistance from the local P. T. A.'s for publicity, and plans letter printed for this purpose.

Special Service at Keysville

Between forty and fifty members and friends of Trinity Lutheran Missionary Society were among the guests at a special service of the Keysville Society on Tuesday evening. Featured was an address by Miss Jessie Cronk, of Salem, Virginia a furloughed missionary to India. The church was filled with interested folks who listened to Miss Cronk's report appealing message concerning conditions and needs of that darkest of nations. Her charming informal manner and sincerity of purpose won the hearts of all present, and further added to the confidence in Foreign Mission work. Miss Cronk told of the eagerness displayed among the people of India, to learn the story of Jesus, she said "they came in multitudes to hear." She related many touching incidents regarding their conversions. Miss Cronk told of the leprous victims who were in their midst, with no protection against the spreading of that loathsome disease except through God's grace. She described the meaning of the castes and how "vital" they are to the na-

TANEYTOWN-LITTLESTOWN WIN MOVE TO FINALS IN PENN-MD. LEAGUE

Taneytown, who has only lost one League games, turned in wins last Sunday. Taneytown, which ended in second place in the Penn-Md. League defeated Blue Ridge Summit 5.4 defeated Blue Ridge Summit 5-4 on the mountain last Sunday. It was their second win over the Summiteers in the best-in-three semi-final, postseason series. Littlestown also won their second game from the Hanover Moose team 8-4, to move to the finals

Four runs in the first inning, linked with the beautiful pitching of Junior Unger won the game for the Taneytown boys last Sunday. Louie Crapster helped the situation with his ringing triple with the bases loaded in got the famous old round "Row Row" the first inning. Fumbling and sev-started among four tables. Vice-Pres- | eral errors by the "town" club because of the lack of practice marred the game, but Unger showed signs of a real pitching form. He allowed only one earned run and is gaining more confidence from his teammates and fans which is a big factor in winning the important games ahead.

Taneytown will go to Littlestown this Sunday for the first game of the best-in-three finals. The game will start at 2:30. The second game will be played in Taneytown the following Sunday. The records show that in the past two years since Taney-town and Littlestown have become leading teams in the League, that Taneytown has only won one game out of four and have never beaten Weaver, side arm pitcher from Littlestown. But the fact that errors have lost more of those games than anything else, shows the need for adequate practice and cool-headed players. Many observers believe that Taneytown, and Unger can de-feat Littlestown if they have at least decorated. Therefore, the Communifeat Littlestown if they have at least ion Service for Mt. Union is being a few even breaks since Littlestown may be overconfident.

THIS WONDERFUL AGE

There will doubtless be greater ago. Have you seen him?" things done in the future than have been done to date, yet we wonder what they can be.

We seem to take it as granted that the blessings we now enjoy have always been enjoyed by our ancestors. Not so. In my boyhood days, except for the toll-gate turn pikes, all other roads were dirt roads that in the spring thaw were axle deep in mud, and in summer ankle deep in dust. Things are different now, the automobile brought that about.

Farmers were rather prosperous in those days, but not as prosperous as now. Money is more plentiful. Bricklayers now demand and receive $27 a day. I worked from sun to sun and got only that much for a month of work. We didn't move so fast in those days. The horse and buggy was our fastest means of travel and that didn't exceed five miles an hour. It took two days to deliver a load of corn or hay to the city market, twenty miles away. Baltimore was filled with stables for horses, and flies bred by millions in the manure piles. Doctors drove three or four miles into the country over bad roads to visit the sick and got a fee of $2.00 for the visit, now the city Doctor gets much more for start paying for it. Start now on the safe, sure-saving way with U.S. Savan office call.

I have a nephew, a dentist, who has 20 to 40 a day call on him.

Yes I guess times are better now than they were when I was a boy. W. J. H.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

This year, Fire Prevention Week will be observed from October 3 to 9. And never in our history has there been a time when the week was more important.

Our fire waste is still running at an all-time high. During the first seven months of this years alone the destruction amounted to more than $437,000,000—far exceeding the total for the entire year of 1944. And we cannot blame this on higher prices and values. They are a factor, of course, but the fact remains that we are having more fires, and that the average fire is causing more destruc-

Fire prevention is especially important on farms and in rural areas, which usually lack first-class fire fighting facilities. According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, farm fires take 3,500 lives and do $100,000,000 worth of damage annual. ly. And nearly one-third of those fires could be prevented by the installation of lightning rods of the proper type on buildings. Other major causes of farm fires are improper handling of gasoline, and chimneys and flues which are dirty or in bad condition. Simple care and adequate majority of these dangers.

That was what Francis Scott Key, prisoner on a British ship during the naval bombardment of Fort McHenry, Baltimore, during the night of September 13, 1814, replied to those who asked him to go below deck for the night. He stayed to watch, to pray, to see at dawn the American flag still flying over the battered fort, and finally to write "The Star Spangled Banner," our national anthem.

"This, Mr. Van Winkle, is a telephone"

"A telephone? What's a telephone?"

"It's-well, it's rather hard to explain to someone who's never seen one. It's a-a means by which people can speak to each other-over a distance.'

"You mean-say, over a mile?"

"A mile, a hundred miles, three thousand miles-even further."

"You mean I can talk into a telephone and somebody three thousand miles away can hear my voice? And I can hear them talking right back at me? And neither of us shouting?"

"That's right, sir."

"Well, knock me over with a bowling ball. Must be a mighty handy thing-the telephone."

No invention since Rip Van Winkle's time has been more "taken for granted" in daily life than the telephone. It's more than "mighty handy" it's practically indispensable. And with new facilities constantly being added to improve and expand the service, it is growing in value every day.

THE LITERATURE OF THE BIBLE

For the remainder of this year you will be studying in your church schools, "The Literature of the Bible." The Bible is not just a book but a library of books. The Bible contains all types of literature, it reflects every kind of human experience. There are four elements in the Bible which command consideration if we are to enrich our lives by tion if we are to enrich our lives by this literary heritage. There are the human element, the literary element the historical element, and the divine element.

We have access to all types of literature in the Bible. Among these are history, biography, law, gospel, epistles or letters, drama, prophecy, poetry, wisdom, short stories, parable, folklore, song, wisdom, fable, ballads, allegory, apocalyptic, et cetera.

The Bible is the Supreme Book. A. Clutten-Brock has said: "The authorized Version of the Bible is a piece of literature without any parallel in modern times." The impression made upon the mind indicates the power of all great literature. Emily Dickinson once wrote: 'If I read a book and it makes my whole body so book and it makes my whole body so cold no fire can warm it, I know it is poetry. If I feel physically as if the top of my head were taken off, I know this is poetry.' This was the poet's way of saying that poetry, and all vital literature, affects us profoundly. No doubt we would express the same idea otherwise. Dr. C. A. Dinsmore said, "No book is great to us unless it affects us in a deep and perunless it affects us in a deep and permanent way." "Literature is measured by the quality and force of its emotional effect." We come to know literature only when we catch its vision and feel its emotions. We appreciate literature to the utmost when it gives us the assurance of its enduring vitality. The Bible is an inspired book because it is the record of an inspired race. Dr. Ernest Trice Thompson makes this observa-tion: The Bible contains the stories of men who failed morally and religiously and of men who succeeded.

Each type of literature must be understood according to its own canon of interpretation. Prose must be read as prose, poetry as poetry; parable and allegory must not be mistaken for history. "The greater the book, the greater the disaster if it is misinterpreted," voiced the late C. A. Dinsmore of Yale.

On Sunday, October 3, you will study poetry, which deals with right-eousness based on the Mosaic law. The Psalms are also classed as "Wisdom" literature. The additional varieties of literature in this single lesson are the Gospel and epistle or letter.

Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly divided the word of truth, II Timothy 2:15.

If you are one of those persons who worry because you do not like everyone you meet, then stop because you are just a normal person. No one is expected to like every persons he or she comes in contact with. It's possible to be perfectly normal, friendly and decent and not leap with joy over every new acquaintance-or even develop a great fondness for every old acquaintance. There are a them are: a mannerism; a trick of speech, a quality of voice or an anperts, we dislike others because they undermine our self-confidence. If undermine our self-confidence. If someone is more beautiful, more talented or better dressed than we are it puts us on the defensive and makes us feel inferior. Our feelings about other people are so complex that very often there is no specific reason for our aversion. We just don't like them and that's all there is to it. One psychologist calls it social allergy. How often has one heard the remark: "What does she see in him?" or vice versa. Some people aren't attuned to others and all the good will in the world won't change matters. To feel guilty about it is to ignore the realistic of life. The best advice is to love as many of your neighbors and acquaintances as you can, and upon those you can't, be-stow a friendly nod and your kindest wishes as you pass them by without

A REMINISCING LETTER

To the Editor of The Carroll Record.

Dear Sir: Will you kindly change my address label to No. 357 East 201st St. Bronx New York City, N. Y., as that is now my new address. I would like to get into the controversy when trains, did and did not run through Taney-My father lived at the south end of the Railroad Bridge over the stream at Bruceville, Md., in a house owned by Doctor Lauver just beside boy then just past 2 years old remember trains were running over the bridge then. The repair men used to take the hand-car off the track and leave it beside our house, my brother and I used to play on it. The repair men used to get water at our for drinking.

They used to tease me very much I was still wearing dresses. I tried to explain that I was a boy, but they said girls wore dresses and not boys, they wore pants.

My father, James C. Davis was the Freight Agent at York Road (now Keymar), at which he injured his back and had to quit the job. The broken lots of freight that were transhipped on the Western Maryland Railroad had to be hoisted up to the evel of the Western Maryland Road by a rope and windless fastened to platform. Barrels of oil and other heavy freight were handled that way. My father would pay a man to help him when he could get one. At this particular time a hogshead of molasses was on the lower platform for about one week, he could get no one to help, so he undertook to hoist it alone and injured his back which was the reason for him quiting the

We then moved to a Road House located where the Taneytown and Middleburg roads met. As they went n the direction of Frederick City, this house had a lot of one and two pound shells left behind, by the Army on its way to Gettysburg Battle. These weres ome of our play things. My uncle William McGinnis owned the stone flour mill near the above house with the large water wheel, where we as children tried to get the idea of how the water could make the large wheel go around and grind the grain into flour. Respectfully yours, JOHN W. DAVIS.

In Loving Memory of my dear husband, WILLIAM G. SULLIVAN, on his birthday, Oct. 5, 1948

You have taken your last long journey In the beautiful ship called Rest, Away from the world of sorrow To the home of eternal rest.

There is some one who misses you so
And feels so alone since you are gone,
There is some one who grieves for you
daily
But tries to be how But tries to be brave and strong. God gave me the strength to bear it

Courage to fight the blow; But what it meant to lose him, No one will ever know. Just a thought of sweet remembrance
Just a memory sad and true
Just the love and sweet devotion
Of one who thinks of you.

His loving wife

MAZIE SULLIVAN.

I read Mr. Craig's letter and your editorial about changing basebal rules. Now I talked this over with I read Mr. Craig's letter and your editorial about changing baseball sale on West rules. Now I talked this over with town, Md., on a couple of friends and we think you have got hold of a good idea.

Some time ago I used to go on Sundays to an occasional ball game in Washington, but I seemed to have living room suite, very good shape, than a very little base running or scoring at the games I attended. I got tired of this and quit going. When some excitement that would have stirred your liver up got started that "three out" rule threw a pail of TERMS CASH. cold water over it and put it out.

You get tired of that sort of thing. You seem to be right-about there being 17 stops to change sides. As near as we could figure it these stops average three minutes; but say they average 2½ minutes. 17 times 2½ gives 42½ minutes. Call it 40 minutes and say the game lasts 2 hours or 120 minutes that means that if you go to a ball game one-third of your time is going to be wasted.

In concluding I would say that the changes suggested by Mr. Craig's letter would certainly cut out a good deal of waste time. To the Editor of The Carroll Record: I like playing baseball and the idea of having two pitchers to pitch to every other man seems queer to me. The rules have lasted a long time so think we should take care about changing them. Only perhaps the rule about pitchers should be changd because pitching a whole game in hot weather is too much of a strain. teen innings when the day was hot and muggy and next day his arm went dead and this ended his league pitching. First Uniform for British

Prior to 1748, British officers dressed as they chose, styles and colors in each ship depending on the captain's taste. A meeting of the Navy club at a coffee house in London, proposed a uniform for officers, already the rule in contemporary navies, and in due course the matter came before the king. Senior officers were invited to send in their ideas of patterns and colors. As the national colors at that time were blue, it seemed likely that these would be chosen. But blue and while also had strong support, and George II finally picked them after seeing the Duchess of Bedford in a riding habit of these colors. The order for the first naval uniform followed from the admirality in April, 1748.

Honey In Freezing of Fruit

Honey is especially well suited for use in the freezing of fruit. Homey not only helps preserve fruit but gives additional food value. Select a mild flavored honey which will enhance the flavor of the fruit. The flavor depends upon the kind of flowers from which the bees gather nectar. Honey producers frequently mix several honeys by heating moderately and stirring to produce a blend with a flavor which is most satisfactory. On sliced or crushed fruit use one part of honey to four or five parts of the fruit. On whole fruit add one cup of water to each two cups of extracted honey and then use just enough of this diluted honey to cover the fruit.

All-Time Best Seller

Lesson for October 3, 1948

IF ALL the Bibles sold in one year by one manufacturer, the American Bible society, were piled on top of one another, flat-not end-wise — that pile of Bibles and testaments would be 26 miles high. In 1947 that firm put out the astonishing total of 9,310,439 Bibles, testaments or portions. During the first 125 years of the society's existence, 305,579,217 Dr. Foreman copies of Scripture were printed and sold by them; this would make one shelf 870 miles

The Bible is the best selling book in the world. No other book is in its

Not to know the Bible is not to know the most widely read book in the world. The American Bible society publishes it in only 167 languages, but parts of it have been translated into as many as 1,000 languages and dialects.

Many Authors

SUCH popularity must be deserved. There are many reasons why the Bible continues to be, year after year, the all-time best seller. But one of the reasons is its impressive variety. It is not one book, it is a library of books. Whatever your mood, whatever your need, there is a page in the Bible, somewhere, for you.

A Christian will try seriously to appreciate the whole Bible and not merely one or two parts of it. Yet there is such variety in it that invariably some persons are attracted by one feature of it while another feature makes stronger appeal to others.

Our studies these next three months will be in "The Literature of the Bible" and each week we shall be noticing a different feature. This week we give a thought to the tremendous variety of the Bible, along with its underlying unity.

Many Types

LOOKING through the Bible you find all varieties of literary types; you find poetry and prose; stories, essays, sermons, biographies, dramas; rhapsodies, love songs, funeral dirges and battle

Here are pages as prosaic as a telephone book and here are pages more exciting than any fiction. Here are simple, straightforward ideas that a child can understand as soon as he understands the words and here are mysteries so profound that the world's mightiest and boldest minds shrink back

The Bible is not like a piece of music played on one single instrument, like a tune on a piccolo; it is more like an immense symphony -the more often we listen to it, the more we hear in it.

Many Times

NO ONE knows exactly how long it took for the Bible to be written. Let us suppose that the earliest parts came from the pen (or stylus) of Moses, and the latest part from about 100 years after Christ (John and the Revelation). If Moses flourished around 1200 B. C., that would mean that the Bible was completed 13 centuries after it was begun.

In 13 centuries much can happen, and much did. There is hardly any circumstance or crisis, there is scarcely any time, however humdrum or thrilling, which does not have its match in the Bible. Its writers were inspired men; they knew God. But they also knew the times in which they lived, and thus can speak to ours.

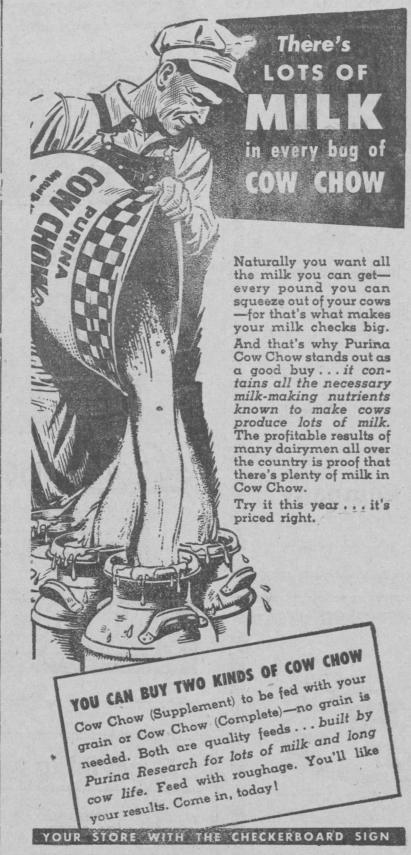

One Theme

FOR all the vast variety of the Bible, there is in it a deep and lofty unity. It is bound together by its mighty purpose, which throbbed in the heart's blood of every man who wrote a line of it. That purpose is to make God real to man, and to bring man to God. The writers of the Bible may have had their lighter moments, but they did not write these pages then.

They wrote under the irresistible impulse, born of the Holy Spirit, to make plain to other men what God had revealed to them.

So as you come to the Bible, remember its purpose is not to make you admire or revere it as a book; its great purpose is to be transparent, a window through which you shall see God.
