LEGION BIRTHDAY ACTIVITIES

The past week has been the 30th birthday of the American Legion which was established in Paris March 15, 1919. All Posts in the country are joining in celebration one way or another. Here in Maryland, the Department has gone all out for the occasion. On Wednesday, Mar. 16 they held a dinner dance in honor of Jack Tribby in the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore. Hesson-Snyder Post, No. 120, Taneytown was represented at the occasion by District Vice-Commander Harmon Albaugh and wife, Legionnaires Stanley King, Galen Stonesifer and Francis Lookingbill.

The climax of the anniversary in Maryland will be one of the largest parades to be held in Baltimore. The parade is Saturday, March 19 at 2 P. M. Hesson-Snyder Post will be in line and any Legionnaire who wishes to march should be at the Legion home at 11:30 A. M., Saturday.

To make Legion meetings more attractive as well as educational the Post decided to feature activities such as speakers, movies and refreshments.

The Legion body endorsed several legislative measures including the national pension bill, the bill giving added benefits to war widows, the State Bonus Bill and the veteran preference bill.

The State Bonus bill does not ask that a bonus be paid the Maryland Veterans now. It only asks that the voters of Maryland be given a chance to vote on a bonus for the veteran in the 1950 election. This bill has been misinterpreted and has misled a lot of people. The American Legion is not being assisted by the communist party in the Legion fight for the bill as has been written in a Maryland newspaper.

The meeting of the Post was adjourned by Commander Powell and to the surprise of all present the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion served refreshments consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, candy and cake. A beautiful cake decorated in commemoration of the Legion birthday by a member of the Auxiliary was won by Legionnaire Fred Garner.

RED CROSS SOLICITING IS PROGRESSING

Quota for Taneytown District is $600.

Many of our community minded men and women are presently engaged in the important task of calling on you and you for the purpose of obtaining a contribution to be used by the American Red Cross in carrying out their "Missions of Mercy." I make reference to these solicitors as community minded persons because, most certainly, Red Cross work is community work. Should disaster ever strike our area the fact that the Red Cross does worthwhile community work will be brought most vividly home. However, it should not be necessary for us to be subjected to disaster before we feel the urge to "help our neighbor."

I need not elaborate on the work the Red Cross has done; look at the record—it speaks for itself. So, when you are called on for your contribution give it freely and make sure that you have given generously. Our quota this year is $660.00.

If you live in Taneytown you will be contacted by one of the following persons, who are under the able tutelage of Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner, East Baltimore St.; Mrs. Dorothy Myerly, Miss Bill Dove Amos, Mrs. John Skiles and Mr. Thomas Albaugh; Broad, Banker and Antrim Streets, Miss Susan Shower; Downtown East Baltimore Street, Miss Julia Arnold and Mr. William Ritter; George St., Mrs. Chester Cartzenadner, Miss Helen Bankard; Mill Avenue, Mrs. Harry Mohney; Middle Street, Mrs. Margaret Nulton and Miss Mildred Carbaugh; York Street, Miss Phyllis Smith and Miss Ruth Stambaugh; Frederick Street, Mrs. Stanley King and Mr. George Motter; W. SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Girls Celebrate 37th Anniversary by Visit to Museum

Red Rose Troop No. 2 celebrated the 37th anniversary of Girl Scouts by visiting the Baltimore Museum of Art on Saturday, March 12th. The Museum was showing a special exhibit of 233 illuminated manuscripts—the biggest and best collection ever shown in the U. S.

The earliest of the manuscripts, dating from the dark ages of Europe, had been strongboxes of Christian culture. Done mostly on calfskin parchment and laced with burnished gold and rainbow colors, they had kept fresh and shining through the ages. An 8th Century psalter, made by the monks of Canterbury, was decorated with twining capital letters as abstract and whimsically complicated as any paintings produced today. Another, dating from the early 9th Century in France, was a book of the four Gospels written entirely in gold on pages dyed purple.

Landscapes in G. One full-page size initial "G" enclosed a miniature painting of St. Francis kneeling to receive the stigmata. There were many scenes from the Bible—the Crucifixion; The Virgin holding the body of Christ; the story of David and Goliath, and others. Some of the backs of these manuscripts were decorated with various colored stones. There were quaint little tabs, which looked like tiny bugs, sticking from the pages as book marks.

The Girl Scouts also visited Enoch Pratt Library and were shown the Binder Department. Here they learned how old books were reclaimed and made almost as good as new. They watched a demonstration of re-casing and rebinding and were told how to mend a book properly. They were also shown various leather bindings on books, such as Morocco, calfskin, etc.

The leaders, Mrs. Lord and Mrs. Bingham transported Troop 2 to Baltimore.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

The Board of Education of Carroll County held its regular meeting on Tuesday, March 8, with all members present. The minutes of the regular February meeting and a special meeting, on February the 25th, were read and approved, and the bills as listed ordered paid. The superintendent reported that the construction of the Robert Moton Colored School was proceeding under the general contractor, Allen F. Feesser. The superintendent was given authority to secure prices for necessary equipment for this building and to submit them to the Board for approval as soon as possible.

A report was made to the Board regarding progress which has been made in connection with the planning of buildings in various locations throughout the county as well as negotiations with the Carroll County Commissioners relating to the issuance of bonds for the construction of school buildings. This report of the superintendent indicated that action was being taken to plan building improvement at all the locations in the county as promptly as architects' drawings and specifications can be prepared.

At this time the Board had arranged for the opening of bids for the construction of the improvements at the school building at Sykesville. These improvements included separately a six classroom unit for elementary pupils; and auditorium gymnasium; combination room; a combination industrial arts and agriculture shop; alterations to the existing building to make it more satisfactory for educational purposes. The contractors bidding on this work had been asked to bid separately on each one of these jobs and to bid the entire contract under one bid. The bidders submitting bids at this meeting were: J. H. Williams and Co., Inc., Baltimore; Mullan Contracting Co., Baltimore; Baltimore Contractors Inc., Baltimore; Charles B. Tovell, Baltimore; John K. Ruff Inc., Baltimore; Allen F. Feesser, Taneytown; Charles Scrivener and Co., Baltimore. The range of the bids for all the work planned at Sykesville was from a low bid of $444,347.00 to a high bid of $566,688.00. Since the cost of the building was much greater than anticipated the Board of Education deferred decision on the matter of awarding contracts until a special meeting to be held on March 15th.

Other matters relating to the administration of schools and to the maintenance of buildings were presented to the Board and given consideration in connection with the planning of the proper maintenance of buildings and the administration of schools during the remainder of the current year and for the year 1949-50. These matters included problems related to transportation, to the purchase of land and to the securing of new equipment to replace unsatisfactory heating and plumbing equipment now in use.

Consideration was also given to the sketches of several architects relating to proposed improvements at the school locations of the county. The Board adjourned at 1:00 p. m.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held on Tuesday, March 15th, for the purpose of considering the awarding of contracts for the Sykesville School building. After due consideration a motion was made and passed to accept the bid of John K. Ruff and Sons of Baltimore for the construction of a six room unit of classrooms for the Sykesville School building.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN TO BROADCAST

In Support of Churches' Greatest Humanitarian Appeal

Pastoral heads of over 76,000 churches, representing virtually every major Christian denomination and communion in the land—are now prepared and have prepared their congregations to participate in one simultaneous offering which will be taken in churches from coast to coast on Sunday, March 27, for the cause of world relief. Urging all churches of all faiths to prepare themselves immediately to receive this offering on Sunday, March 27, if they have not yet done so; and urging every American to attend the church of his faith on Sunday, March 27, to participate in this great corporate demonstration of brotherly love and Christianity, Bishop John S. Stamm, President of Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America; Mrs. Harper Sibley, President, United Council of Church Women; Mr. Fred W. Ramsey, Exec. Vice-President, Church World Service and Dr. Wynn Fairfield, Chairman of the Secretariat Council, Foreign Missions Conference of America commented jointly:

"Never before in the history of the world have the churches of Europe and Asia been faced with greater problems and responsibilities. The fate of our civilization may lie in the ability of the churches and especially the churches overseas to meet their responsibilities in carrying forth the Christian ministry. This great joint program will not only strengthen the vitally important relief and rehabilitation work of the churches overseas but will also prove to all the world just how great is the power generated when Christians unite in such a great common cause."

Archbishop John T. McNicholas of Cincinnati, chairman of the board of trustees of War Relief Services of the National Catholic Welfare Conference said, "Never before in the history of the world has there been such compelling need for Christian charity." Bishop Stephen J. Donahue, of New York stressed the importance of the campaign "in this year of suffering and misery for so many."

On the eve of the great united church offering—Saturday, March 26 from 10 to 11 P. M., EST (PLEASE NOTE THE HOUR) will be carried for the churches of America by the contribution of the full networks of the American Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting System and Mutual Broadcasting System as well as hundreds of independent stations.

LETTER FROM LT. CDR. HESSON

March 3, 1949.

My Dear Mother:

We have another mail pickup tomorrow so time, so I will get a letter together for you tonight. There will be a destroyer come along side while we are moving along at around 30 mile per hour and a line will be shot over to our ship and the mail bags passed over to them to be carried back to the states and mailed.

We haven't anchored since we left Norfolk on the 20th and have only seen land two days, which was Porto Rico and one of the Virgin Islands and that was about 6 miles off. You see we are on special maneuvers as if we were at war. In fact it is too much like war, for people do get hurt and killed. Our ship has had three men killed two pilots and a plane handler in the past week and the other carriers have been about the same as us; so of the 5 carriers there have been over 15 men killed and around 25 planes destroyed. A lot of the men are able to get out and parachute down when the plane goes bad and are picked up by the helicopters within about 2 minutes after they hit the water and returned to the ship to fly another day.

Some time within the next three days we will go into the Navy yard at Trinidad for a few days shore leave, and then we go to Guadpanama, Cuba for a few days. We then head back to Norfolk and I should be home by the 20th of March. I will surely have seen enough water to last me a long while, but am very thankful to say that I have not been sea-sick so far. I feel sure I will have trouble walking a straight line when I first get on land again.

So far the cruise has been very interesting and I have learned a lot on the cruise. There is always something happening and something new to see and learn. I think 30 days a year of the Navy is enough for me.

I miss getting the local papers and the Carroll Record. The only news we get here is a three sheet (the size of this letter) daily paper printed here on the ship called Press News which gives us world and current events, but nothing from your own home town or city.

This will be the last regular mail to go out I believe, but will send you a card when I hit Trinidad and Cuba if I get a chance to do so. Hope you folks are all OK and will see you as soon as I can get back on the job.

Lovingly, your son,

CHARLES.

AROUND THE TOWN

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!

I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Brothers! How wonderful those men of The Brotherhood of The Grace Reformed Church were in serving and cooking that delicious turkey dinner! They really cooked every bit of it, too!

Did you know that the author, John Luther Long who wrote Madam Butterfly was born in Hanover, Pennsylvania? It was the year of 1861.

Now, that telephone man will have a big smile as many others who read this (almost as that famous Daniel Webster)! A lady told Your Observer that it would just be awful when the dial system is installed as she learned then the bell would not ring only for her own calls and she would not be able to know what as going on at all. Can you imagine how very difficult it was for Your Observer to suppress a smile not alone a laugh.

At last, Your Observer met the fine young Priest who was born and reared "Around The Town" and resides in the big city. Now I dare my readers to keep this column and then compare notes in years to come for Your Observer predicts that he will some day become a Bishop.

That nice chubby boy who enlisted in the Service was home on furlough and looking fit as a fiddle.

There is a young boy who works in the chain grocery store on Saturdays who is quite talented in writing. He attends the Taneytown High School. Very proper sort of a young fellow and I think you know what I mean.

A few months ago Your Observer attended the Carroll County Minister's Association at New Windsor. There was a Mr. John D. Roop who had recently returned from a ten week's trip to Europe who was the speaker. It was most interesting and it was enjoyed very much by those present. Then it was wonderful to sit in with those good people opening their baskets filled with lunch, in the basement of the Service Center. A lunch was also served for the price of 40 cents which pleased the ministers and the few wives as to a delicious one plus the small charge.

Frankie returned to Camp the last week in Feb. Here's hoping there won't be any more bad news.

Often think if it was not for that nice banker in Detour, Your Observer would not be Carroll County. That shows what confidence can do.

That PP "Around The Town" which stands for "Perfect Plumber" is just that and he surely knows how to do things up brown. His competent help is beyond describing as they do not talk or waste a minute. Very rarely take time to smoke a cigarette and are strictly business.

That wonderful place which is operated by Brother Service Committee at New Windsor for the needy in foreign places is a sight to see with all the wonderful workers sewing and preparing the clothing that is to be sent across the sea. They even wash the cloths if they need it and make the things look almost new. Be sure to send clothing there that you discard or want to donate. A sentence "I was naked and ye clothed me" is most impressive under the picture of a lady dressing two little foreign born children and means much for that wonderful service, to those abroad. I pray that there be no distinction as to any religious beliefs as to their destination in clothing anyone, as to distributing them. A number of times Your Observer overheard that the Jews in those places were left out. How awful if that be true. Have you ever noticed, folks, when any country massacres Jews that that country falls? Just check back and see to convince yourself.

There is a lady "around the town" who had four sons in the Service. That reminds me of a very close friend who had six sons in the Service and all at different places. Her last child was a tiny daughter who arrived late in life. She was a blessing sent from Above at such a critical time. God works in mysterious ways, His wonders to perform.

In another month, spring will be here and hats will be discarded and all the ladies will be heading for the nice beauty salons "around the town" to make a lovelier you.

The answer for the Mystery Tune on The "Ston the Music" is still "Paramount on Parade."

Next week my column will be about the trip to New York and how Taneytown girls and women "top" the women in that big city which may surprise them.

So long until next week. Have a grand week end and always remember that even a fish can get in trouble by opening his mouth.

Your—OBSERVER.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

We celebrated St. Patrick's Day on March 17. There is a legend, I know not whether true or false, that the future Saint was born near midnight March 8th-9th. One set of followers clung to the 8th, the other to the 9th. As they could not agree it was finally determined that they would add the two dates, and thus the 17th was settled upon. Irish historians may be able to unravel the mystery. The celebration has had a lasting impression on all sons of Ireland, north and south. My grandmother was born and bred in Tanderagee, county of Timaugh, the protestant section of Ireland. She was as Irish as St. Patrick, and as protestant as the Bishop of London.

She held peculiar superstitious beliefs, she always, regardless of the weather sowed her cabbage seed on March 17th in the belief that the cabbage would be greener. She planted her cucumber seed on June 20th in the belief that the cucumbers would grow longer, she had her hogs butchered in the increase of the moon that the meat when cooked would not shrink.

She was a faithful and regular attendant at the preaching services of her church and generous contributor to its support. When she died she was buried from the Methodist Church and her rector—Episcopalian—attended and preached the funeral sermon—a thing unheard of in that day.

She was broad-minded and a believer in education, and saw to it that I always attended the Sabbath school. I owe more to her precepts and example than to any other.

BAKERY GOODS BEST BUY

Bakery products are the best buy in today's market basket, having increased less in price since 1940 than any other major category of food.

A recent report of the National Industrial Conference Board reveals that bakery products have risen only 68.8 per cent, compared with the average for all foods of 113.5 per cent.

Best buy, next to baked goods, is canned and dried foods, which have risen 92.4 per cent. In third place are fresh fruits, which have risen 98.4 per cent.

The report, based on information from the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, compared the period September 1947—August 1948 with September—August 1940.

The American Bakers Association explains that, penny for penny, enriched bread gives you more of the things your body needs, more generously, than any other food you eat at every meal.

Pointing, as an example, to the dietary allowance recommended by the National Research Council for a growing girl 13 to 15 years of age, the bakers report that six slices of enriched bread per day provide 19 per cent of her required proteins, 9 per cent of her calcium, 20 per cent of her iron, 32 per cent of her thiamine, 13 per cent of her riboflavin, 29 per cent of her niacin, and 17 per cent of her calories.—J. E. Jones.

THE PEN AND SWORD AGAIN

We doubt that the Kremlin is in any panic over the specter of air-refueled B-50's sowing atom bombs across Russia. But now and then a bit of news filters out behind the Iron Curtain which points to a vulnerability about which Moscow is concerned, the fear of which gives more than half the explanation of why there is an Iron Curtain. It is the vulnerability of the Soviet-dominated peoples to comparisons—odorous to the Kremlin—between their levels of living and those of the western world.

Not long ago news got around in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, that a marvelous book could be seen for the asking at the United States Information Library. It was the latest Sears Roebuck catalogue. A line three blocks long formed to look at it, and the library recruited interpreters to translate the prices into Yugoslav currency.

The impact of the pictorial evidence alone of this hitherto unbelievable plenty must have been terrific. Even the money prices, given without perspective, must have been startling. Consider the effect had there been American workers present to tell them what those articles would cost in terms of labor.

That snappy man's suit, for instance. A factory hand east of the Iron Curtain would have to work around 600 hours to earn the purchase price; an American could buy it with about 40 hours of labor. A nice cotton dress for his wife: The Serb or Croat would have to put in over three ten-hour days before he could have it wrapped up; an American could earn that same little number in an afternoon. That pair of rugged work shoes: To the Belgrade mechanic it represents more than 100 hours of toil; his American counterpart could raise the money between 11 in the morning and quitting time.

Communism isn't altogether responsible for Yugoslavia's poverty—nor Bulgaria's, nor Russia's either. But whenever a system is held up to a people as the provider of all the good things of life, and other systems as fumbling and decadent, and that people begin to suspect "it just ain't so," then trouble is afoot. YOU WILL LIKE an Electric Range because it's SAFE

YOU will like the sense of security an electric range brings—the realization that there is nothing to leak, spill, drip, burn or explode—the fact that the worst damage careless little fingers can cause is the waste of some electricity—the knowledge that you can leave the house with your oven operating, secure in the assurance it can do no harm.

And the safety feature is really a "plus" value, for when it comes to cooking an electric range is far and away the best of them all. Anyone can be a good cook with an electric range and good cooks can become truly superlative cooks. That's because exact time and temperature controls completely eliminate the need of any guesswork.

Of course you will also like its greater CLEANLINESS, increased CONVENIENCE, TIME-SAVING FEATURES, gleaming BEAUTY and LOW COST OF OPERATION.

Why continue to do your cooking by "horse and buggy" methods. Join the rapidly growing army of housewives who are enjoying the pleasure of modern methods. Nearly 30,000 women right in this area cook electrically today—almost twice as many as cooked electrically only two short years ago. You too will do it "eventually—why not now?"

MY HOPE

The sense of void when a companion goes
Out of life, one truly knows
When happily wedded for many years
Feels the loneliness, heartaches, and tears.
My supernal hope is the reunion above
And bask forever in the Savior's love
With her who's beckoning from the Celestial shore
Where there'll be no more parting—no never more.

I miss her so, and her tales to relate
Of her experiences, and her patient's state.
She loved to nurse and human suffering relieve;
In her kindness and ability thousands fondly believe.
But an angel came one night and took her HOME.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

He holds a "bug" that's looking for trouble
This man is a member of the telephone central office maintenance force. The "gadget" he has in his hand is an electronic device which he calls a "bug."

When it's raining, this "bug" is used inside the central office where telephone wires terminate. It can test as many as 6,000 wires an hour. If moisture is causing a leakage of current in any drop wire (the wire that connects your house with the telephone pole), the "bug" locates it. A repairman can then be sent out to fix the "trouble" before you notice it.

The "vet" will be there soon—
thanks to party-line thoughtfulness

A little party-line co-operation can mean a lot in an emergency. That's why it pays to put courtesy and consideration into every call you make. When you allow a little time between calls, or give up the line promptly when it's needed for an urgent call, you'll find that others on the line will be ready to do the same for you.

Out of sight—but never out of touch

Next to seeing your family and friends in person, there's nothing quite so satisfying as talking with them by Long Distance. If you have any youngsters away from home, why not set aside a special night each week for those pleasant Long Distance chats that keep them close to the family circle?

The cost is small and most calls go through while you hold the line. Some typical low Long Distance rates are quoted on the inside front cover of your telephone directory. The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City.

FEESBURG

Miss Katherine Rosenmerkel, beloved aunt of the Roelke children died Friday evening of a heart ailment after an illness of several weeks. She was born and raised in Cumberland, Md., a daughter of the late Henry V. and Margaret Englebrecht Rosenmerkel. The deceased was 79 years old and the last surviving member of her family. She leaves four nephews and one niece with whom she has lived most of her life. They are A. Millard and Paul E., of Mt. Union, Lawrence W., of Detroit, Michigan; George and Margaret, Union Bridge. Private funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home of her nephew George Roelke, near Union Bridge. The Rev. Samuel Harvey conducted the burial services and interment was made at Mt. Olivet cemetery, Frederick. The casket bearers were Millard, Paul and George Roelke, Russell Bohn, Jesse Krantz and Paul Fuss. "Aunt Kate" as she was affectionately known throughout the community led a full and useful life. A fine example of unselfish devotion to those she loved and cherished.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lambert will make sale March 31st. The ladies of Mt. Union Church plan to have a lunch stand at the sale.

There is a joker in every jack pot and while every one likes to get something for nothing it rarely works out that way. To the thousands of women who neglect their family and home to listen to the radio in hopes of having a chance to be called on the telephone to answer a prize-winning radio question, they may be interested to know that their chance is one in 20 million. Suppose you should be lucky enough to win, your troubles would then really start. The prizes are worth a great deal in somebody's estimation but what they are really worth to the winner is another question. First, a tax must be paid on all the prizes. This is quite a sum, so part of the stuff must be sold to satisfy "Uncle Sam." Under forced sale most of the prizes lose half their estimated value. For instance a diamond ring worth $3,000 would probably bring $1,000. One recent winner said that she wished she had never heard of a radio prize for she had been besieged by so many crack pots and dead beats that she only escaped a nervous breakdown by leaving town. But human nature being what it is, as long as the radio is giving away prizes, there will be thousands listening and dreaming of what they would do if they happen to be the lucky winner.

Book worms will be interested to know that Betty Smith has just written a new novel called "Tomorrow Will Be Better." To the many readers who enjoyed "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" this will be good news for this book strikes straight to the heart of daily living. It is amazing how many people have no more encouragement for living than the fact that things have become so bad with them that any change will have to be a change for the better. They feel that life has dealt so desperately with them that working for the future is often all they have left. This is the theme that Betty Smith uses in her realistic book now just off the press. You will enjoy it for it contains a vital message that hope is all that keeps man going in his darkest moments. Man hopes that tomorrow will be better, for himself most of all but also for the entire world. Take hope away and you have removed the last crutch that man has to lean upon.

"I hope," said the fond mother to the nurse, "my little darling has been as good as gold all day." "No, Ma'am," replied the nurse "he went off the gold standard about lunch time."

It is with deep regret that we read of the death of Dr. Victor F. Cullen, leader in Maryland's fight against tuberculosis for almost 40 years. He was well known here in Carroll County both for his work at Sabillasville Sanatorium and the clinics he conducted monthly at Westminster. He took a deep personal interest in each patient under his care and devoted all his time and skill to the one disease he was determined to help eradicate. The public has lost a great servant and his profession has lost one of its finest.

ville School, at the quotation of $96,800.00 Decision on the other improvements at Sykesville was deferred pending future action of the Board when more adequate information regarding financial support may be in hand.

The Board was advised that a great deal of future development of buildings in Carroll County apparently depended upon increased support from the State legislature to relieve the local units from tax burden in connection with the support of the school building program. Efforts are being made in the present session of the Legislature to increase the State Incentive Fund making it possible for counties to plan for improvements of their school facilities with assistance from the State.

The Board received and accepted the resignations of a number of teachers who plan to discontinue teaching at the close of the school year 1948-49.

The Board was advised that architects' drawings and specifications were ready for distribution to contractors in connection with the improvement of cafeteria facilities at the Westminster High School and for the addition of an entrance to the existing gymnasium as included in the original drawings for this building.

A further report was made regarding the probability of architects' drawings and specifications for improvements to the buildings at Mt. Airy, Union Bridge, Taneytown, Manchester, Charles Carroll, Sandymount Westminster Elementary and Westminster High and Winfield.

It was reported at this meeting that future planning of improved facilities at any location in the county would have to take into consideration much increased cost in construction. The superintendent was advised to consult with architects relating to modifications in present planning to provide first of all adequate classroom space in the schools of the county, postponing the consideration of improvements to auditoriums and cafeteria until more adequate information is in hand and more provision is made for taking care of the financial burden in connection with such improved facilities.

The Board gave consideration to several other administrative matters relating to the schools of the county and adjourned at 12:00.

The second annual concert of the Carroll County School Combined Orchestra and Band will be held in the Westminster High School on Friday, March 25th. At this concert the representatives of schools throughout the county will participate in a concert along the same line as was carried out in the Spring of 1948. The public is invited to attend this concert.

The Superintendent of Schools, S. M. Jenness will be in attendance at some of the sessions of the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators to be held in Philadelphia on March 28, 29 and 30.

NOTICE TO MARYLAND FARMERS

Whether you own your farm or rent, whether the farm you operate is large or small, you still need FARM LIABILITY PROTECTION. You cannot afford to lose, through a heavy damage suit, what you have worked so hard to gain. Make sure you have sound protection against such accidents as results from animals straying onto a public road—injury to anyone coming on your farm—from tractors being operated on highways or in town—damage to neighbors crops and property from animals that broke out—accidents to farm employees and many other accidents that may bring drastic results.

In addition to this protection this also includes damages from your own personal acts or those of your children on or away from the farm and also pays you for your cow or other animal that may be killed on a public road. Be sure you have this vital protection before the busy season of spring rolls around. INFORMATION on this sound protection is FREE to you by dropping a card, stopping in or phoning—

Leadership School

Lesson for March 20, 1949

IT TAKES more than a call of God to be a Christian leader. It takes study, it takes work. The call is necessary, of course, but it is not all. Jesus set the church an example here as always. He called his Twelve; but he was not so foolish as to think that just because he had called them they were all ready to go out and take the lead. Jesus put them through what may be called the first Leadership Training School in the history of the Christian church.

Dr. Foreman

Who Was Enrolled?

THE TWELVE Apostles were the training class. Not all Jesus' disciples were equal to it; perhaps some of them actually did not have the time. But these Twelve had already been set off from the others, not because they were better men, but in order to do more direct service in Christ's name. There was nothing formal about Jesus' training school.

It met wherever he was at the time—in a house, or by the roadside, or on a hill-top. There were no set hours, no textbooks, credits or diplomas.

Jesus kept it going to the very end, for even after the Resurrection, as Luke tells us (in Acts 1) he was still teaching his Twelve.

What Did They Study?

THERE WAS no printed circular, no bulletin, no prospectus or catalogue. All the "courses" amounted to just one thing: learning to do what Jesus was doing. To this day, that is the aim of all Christian training. Mark and Luke mention at least four things Jesus' training-school students learned from him: preaching, healing the sick, feeding the hungry, and praying. It would not be quite true to say that part of what they learned was spiritual and part practical, for there is nothing more practical than praying as Jesus taught it, and Jesus never ministered to people's physical needs without touching their spirits too.

Many a person now in some hospital for the insane need not have gone there if he had had the help that a well-trained minister can give.

Ministers today are not taught how to perform miracles like the feeding of the 5,000; but knowing that people's physical well-being has a great deal to do with their spiritual welfare, the alert young Christian minister of today will be keenly interested in Christian social action.

How Did They Learn?

THE TWELVE learned by doing. It is the only way you learn anything of a practical nature. Memorizing a textbook, memorizing rules, is not learning. You have learned how to do a thing only when you can do it. Of course you have to see it done, first. A boy on the farm learns to be a farmer by watching his father and helping him, more than from school courses in agriculture, useful as they are. There is nothing to take the place of apprenticeship under one who knows. So Jesus' Twelve watched him, listened to him, helped him, before they were trusted on their own.

Will It Still Work?

THE METHODS Jesus taught are just as effective today as they ever were. Not all churches nowadays follow his line to the letter; in fact, most churches do not. But the basic principles which Jesus drilled into his first traveling representatives are still good. One is faith.

Missionaries in the 20th Century are required to take a great deal more equipment with them to their fields than one pair of shoes, one cane and an empty purse. Yet who can deny that any missionary of any church in China or in Korea today, must live by faith from day to day?

Another of Jesus' principles was direct contact. People are not won to Christ chiefly by sermons from pulpits, but by in-the-home contacts. Ministers know this, missionaries know it; Sunday school teachers ought to know it too. Getting acquainted with your boys and girls at their homes, and being a friend to them there, is what will give your Sunday teaching its greatest force and success.

New Plymouth on Display.

Plymouth's new special deluxe four-door sedan (above). Throughout the new Plymouth line beautifully streamlined bodies are lower and narrower, seats are wider and headroom greater. At the same time overall exterior dimensions are reduced, but wheelbase has been lengthened to 118 inches and glass area is increased. Horsepower is raised to 97. Although fenders flow gracefully into the body they are detachable for ease in repair.

New Plymouth Features Beauty, Performance, Safety and Comfort

Brilliant new styling is combined with outstanding riding comfort, increased roominess, and sweeping mechanical improvements in the new line of Plymouth automobiles.

Completely redesigned, the new Plymouth has a longer wheelbase for a better ride and more road stability, but less front and rear overhang for easier parking and garaging. While the silhouette has been lowered and the width decreased, there is more head and leg room and seats are wider. Typical of Plymouth's many refinements is the ignition-starter combination, with which a turn of the key starts the engine.

The new Plymouths are sleek in appearance. New rear-end styling provides a graceful balance with the horizontal grille lines which emphasize the broadness of the front. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal panels so costly to repair or replace.

The new Plymouth line includes nine distinct automobiles. Special deluxe and deluxe types are on a 118-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. Special deluxe models are: four-door sedan, club coupe, convertible club coupe and station wagon. In the deluxe group are the four-door sedan and the club coupe. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase, a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban.

The 97-horsepower engine has improved performance and efficiency with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster throttle response.

Body styling which produces greater passenger room without excessive bulk also increases visibility. V-type windshields have 37 percent more area and provide excellent vision without distortion. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area and the rear window is 35.4 percent larger.
